SEX ABUSE CASE

Espinosa enters not guilty plea

By JENNIFER JOHNSON
jjohnson@pioneerlocal.com

A former Maine East High School teacher formally entered a not-guilty plea to charges that she engaged in sexual activity with a 16-year-old boy.

Jennifer Espinosa, 38, of Park Ridge, appeared July 2 before Cook County Circuit Court Judge Timothy Chambers, where she pleaded not guilty to two counts of aggravated criminal sexual abuse and two counts of criminal sexual assault. Her next court date is scheduled for Aug. 6.

Espinosa is accused of having sex with a 16-year-old alleged gang member who was expelled last year from Maine East High School in Park Ridge. She was taken into custody May 23 by Cook County Sheriff's Police at the Golf Terrace Apartments, 9644 W. Golf Road, reportedly with the boy and a 21-year-old man in her car.

Sheriff's Police said Espinosa admitted to a sexual relationship with the 16-year-old following his expulsion from Maine East.

On June 1, the Maine Township High School District 207 Board of Education voted to terminate Espinosa's employment at Maine East, where she was a teacher and soccer coach since 1994. She most recently taught science and special education.

MAINE TOWNSHIP

Cause of townhouse fire still under investigation

Neighbor kids spotted blaze in upstairs room

By JENNIFER JOHNSON
jjohnson@pioneerlocal.com

A family of three was displaced Friday night from their home in unincorporated Maine Township following a fire that broke out in a second-floor room.

The fire was reported just after 11 p.m. in a townhouse at 8668 Gregory Lane, near Niles. Neighbor children, who were playing outside, saw flames inside an upstairs bedroom, said Arnie Witzke, fire marshal for the North Maine Fire Department.

It is unclear whether the family was inside the home at the time of the fire, but no injuries were reported and the three adults were given temporary housing from the Red Cross, Witzke said.

The cause of the fire remained under investigation this week, he said, and damage was confined to the second-floor room where the fire originated.

For a time, residents of the area were unable to enter the subdivision as police blocked the entrance to Gregory Lane at Greenwood Avenue.

1. 8 months later, still no Blase sentence
The long-awaited sentencing of former Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase on federal corruption charges, slated for June 26, was rescheduled for a fourth time.

2. Alpogianis quits after state's attorney's warning
Embattled Niles Trustee George Alpogianis resigned June 22 from the Village Board amid threats from the Cook County State's Attorney's Office that he must step down or be removed because he is a convicted felon.
During Alpogianis' campaign for trustee, election news coverage revealed that he had been convicted of six felony counts of battery after a group melee in his teen years. Under Illinois law convicted felons may not hold elected municipal office.

3. Parade steps off at 9 a.m. July 4
The Niles Fourth of July parade began at 9 a.m. Saturday at Notre Dame High School near the corner of Dempster Street and Ozark Avenue.

CONSTRUCTION ACCIDENT

Crew ruptures gas line on Milwaukee Ave.

By TONY BERTUCA
tbertuca@pioneerlocal.com

A construction crew ruptured a gas line on June 30 on the 6700 block of North Milwaukee Avenue, Niles, but the leak was quickly repaired and no one was injured, according to police.

A crew from Dipaolo Construction was digging when it accidentally hit the gas line.

Police say the gas line was not properly marked by Nicor, the gas company which services the area.

A Nicor crew eventually arrived and repaired the break in the line.

Police say no one was injured and that charges will not be filed in the incident.

NORTH MAINE FIRE DEPARTMENT

Open house canceled due to construction

By JENNIFER JOHNSON
jjohnson@pioneerlocal.com

Construction projects have forced the North Maine Fire Department to cancel its annual community open house this year.

Fire Marshal Arnie Witzke said the rebuilding of Potter Road, coupled with construction taking place at Chicago Mar Thoma Church, where visitors normally parked, prompted the cancellation of the open house. The event was supposed to be in mid-September at the fire department's headquarters, 9301 N. Potter Road, in unincorporated Maine Township.

"Hopefully next year we'll celebrate it a lot bigger," Witzke said.

In 2010, the North Maine Fire Department will celebrate 40 years of service to unincorporated Maine Township.

SWEEPSTAKES WINNER

Trek with Trebek

For Niles woman, Galapagos trip with 'Jeopardy!' host was natural selection

By TONY BERTUCA
tbertuca@pioneerlocal.com

Barbara Groshon

Answer: One of 25 lucky sweepstakes winners who will embark upon an exclusive cruise to the Galapagos Islands with "Jeopardy!" host Alex Trebek.

Who is Barbara Groshon of Niles?

Correct!

"It's a once in a life time opportunity," Groshon said. "It's going to be a great adventure."

Groshon and other winners will be cruising Oct. 16-25 to the Galapagos Islands with Trebek aboard the National Geographic Endeavor and touring one of the most scientifically important and biologically interesting areas on earth, according to a statement from Sony Pictures Entertainment Company.

"The Galapagos make up one of the world's most precious sanctuaries for wildlife and the environment," Trebek said in a statement. "I'm looking forward to sharing this spectacular exploration of natural history with some of our 'Jeopardy!' fans."

Overall more than 2.2 million "Jeopardy!" viewers entered the sweepstakes between March 30 and May 1 by watching the show and submitting an answer to the Final Jeopardy! category online. Of that number only 350,000 were correct and Groshon was one of them. She and 24 others were then chosen at random as winners.

Groshon, a financial adviser who has lived in Niles most of her life, said she has been a Jeopardy! fan for years and has always dreamed about going to the Galapagos Islands.

"I love nature," she said. "I've seen pictures of the Galapagos and seen it on the Discovery Channel. It's completely uninhabited by humans."

Groshon's husband, Robert, is not a fan of boats, and she said she was planning to take her sister Donna O'Malley as a guest.

Groshon said she was also excited to meet Trebek and perhaps get to know him during the 10-day cruise.

"It's like we're really going to be spending time with Alex Trebek," she said. "I love 'Jeopardy!' I am a die-hard fan. It's great."

Alex Trebek

While Groshon is excited about the educational opportunities the trip presented, she said was looking forward to having one purely indulgent experience.

"You can get a massage there on this glass-bottom table and float around looking at the fish and the sea," she said. "I am very much looking forward to it."

PUBLIC LIBRARY

Noir coming to Niles with month of 'Maltese Falcon'

By TONY BERTUCA
tbertuca@pioneerlocal.com

Financial grants from the National Endowment for the Arts are "the stuff dreams are made of" at Niles Public Library.

And that's why officials there have decided to use money from their recent "Big Read" grant to celebrate classic detective novel "The Maltese Falcon" by Dashiell Hammett.

The library will use the $16,325 grant to purchase copies of the quintessential noir novel and to fund various programs based on the book, like showings of the classic film adaptation starring Humphrey Bogart.

"We chose Dashiell Hammett's 'The Maltese Falcon' because of the popularity of our crime-fiction collection," librarian Barb Kruser said. "The subject, pace, language and readability of the book will appeal to a wide audience.

"The book is a classic noir novel that introduced the hard-boiled detective into mystery fiction."

Kruser said children will not be reading the book, but will have related activities developed by the youth-service librarians.

"Some programs and activities (will be) devoted specifically to 'The Maltese Falcon,' such as movie showings and book discussions," she said. "But, there will also be events using 'The Maltese Falcon' as a point of departure that might include historical, travel or femme fatal."

All programs and events will take place from April 2010 to May 2010. Copies of the book will be distributed next spring.

"The purpose of the project is to encourage reading for pleasure and enlightenment throughout the district," Kruser said. "Teens and adults, especially busy adults and parents who have not read for pleasure for many years and young adults who rarely or never read for enjoyment, are encouraged to read the book.

"To reawaken the joy of reading and excite curiosity in residents who may add picking up a book to their list of leisure activities."

Kruser said the library wants to provide access to the book for as many people as possible and is searching for copies in Polish, Russian, Spanish and Korean.

'Maltese Falcon' facts and trivia

- The 1941 movie starring Humphrey Bogart as Sam Spade is the most famous film version of "The Maltese Falcon," but few people know it is a re-make. The novel was first adapted to the silver screen in 1931 with Ricardo Cortez playing Spade.
- Raymond Chandler's character Phillip Marlowe was strongly influenced by Sam Spade.
- Author Dashiell Hammett also created Nick and Nora Charles, the husband and wife detective team from "The Thin Man" series.
- Hammett worked as an agent for the Pinkerton Detective Agency from 1915 to 1921.
- Hammett was investigated by the House Committee on Un-American Activities and later blacklisted for refusing to cooperate.

MAINE TOWNSHIP

Display sticker or get stuck with fine

Residents of unincorporated Maine Township must display new 2009-10 Cook County vehicle stickers or risk tickets and fines.

The deadline for purchasing the new stickers at the regular cost was July 1. The new fee is $80 for passenger cars, $100 for SUVs, $50 for motorcycles, and $25 for seniors, disabled and handicapped residents.

Failure to display the proper vehicle sticker can result in a $75 fine for each offense. In recent years Cook County Sheriff's Police have cracked down on sticker scofflaws in an effort to get residents to purchase vehicle sticker or remove their unused or inoperable vehicles from Maine Township streets.

Vehicle stickers may be purchased at Maine Township Town Hall, 1700 Ballard Road, Park Ridge. They are valid through June 30, 2010.

WORLD ENVIRONMENT DAY

Solar power warms home, water

By JENNA HASKITT
jhaskitt@pioneerlocal.com

The Schnaufer's solar panel project was completed June 5, on World Environment Day.

Erich and Lyz Schnaufer, who live on Ashland Avenue in Park Ridge, had a solar hot water system installed on their home that consists of five solar panels on the roof's south side.

"It provides hot water and partial heat," Lyz Schnaufer said.

Solar Service Inc., 7312 N. Milwaukee Ave., Niles, installed the panels.

"There's a bypass system," Schnaufer said. "Basically, the main function of (the solar panels) is to heat the water, and we have a new tank that's connected to the solar panels. Once that tank is full and the water level is at the thermostat-controlled temperature that it wants to be at, it will automatically shut off so that it doesn't overheat the water."

The solar-heated water pours from the new tank into the old one. "And so when we pull hot water through our faucets and showers, it automatically pulls the water that was heated by the solar tank instead of turning on that gas in our old tank to heat it up."

The Schnaufers moved into the house in April.

"We knew when we purchased this house it would be our long-term residence," she said. "We've been trying to live green for a while and knowing that this would be our long-term investment and we're not moving anytime soon, this would be the right house to do it on."

The inside work of installing the tanks, the coils, the furnace, tying everything in and installing the pipe running from the attic to the basement was done in three days. The outside work was done in one day.

"With the heating when we need heat in the house, the solar hot water tank also is connected to our existing furnace and that hot water will be blown against these coils and then sent through our vents through our house," Schnaufer said.

"The good news is the state and the federal government are paying more than half the cost. It's not a really big investment relative to what you're getting in return."
Brandon Leavitt, president of Solar Service Inc.

Brandon Leavitt, president of Solar Service Inc., said the company has been installing systems since 1982.

"This system will actually heat the home in partnership with the existing furnace," he said. "It will pre-heat all the hot water to the existing water heater. It's expected to contribute about 70 percent of all their hot water for the next 30 years and probably a third of the heat for the home. They'll always have hot water, heat and comfort; they'll just pay less."

The total cost of the system is $22,000 to $25,000, Schnaufer said.

"It adds real value to the house and lowers operation costs," Leavitt said. "The good news is the state and the federal government are paying more than half the cost. It's not a really big investment relative to what you're getting in return."

The Schnaufer's will pay about $12,000.

Leavitt installed the first solar system in Illinois in 1977.

"You can tie this into the new stimulus bill because originally, when you installed solar, the government allowed you to take 30 percent of the cost off your income taxes. But they capped that at $2,000," he said.

"The Obama stimulus bill lifted the cap. So this homeowner is getting about a $7,000 or $8,000 tax credit, and the state's also paying about $6,000."

Erich and Lyz Schnaufer, who live on Ashland Avenue in Park Ridge, had a solar hot water system installed on their home that consists of five solar panels on the roof's south side. (Contributed photo)

Vet appreciates people's bond with friends furry, feathered

By TONY BERTUCA
tbertuca@pioneerlocal.com

Dr. Peter Sakas has seen some odd things in nearly 30 years of veterinary medicine at Niles Animal Hospital and Bird Medical Center.

Like the time a dog was brought in after it swallowed 20 rocks. Or the time he treated a 108-year-old parrot that had outlived several owners.

"I once came in at 2 a.m. to deliver an egg from a finch," he said. "The bird was having trouble and the egg was stuck."

The hospital, at 7278 N. Milwaukee Ave., has been treating sick pets and injured wildlife since it opened in 1949. Sakas began his career there as an intern and took over the practice in 1985.

Today, the 6,000-square-foot animal hospital employs four doctors and about 25 other staffers. While most of Sakas' patients are dogs and cats, the hospital is nationally recognized for specializing in avian medicine.

"We have a large exotic bird practice," he said. "We once had a vulture that had been shot with a shotgun. We get bald eagles, parrots, everything. We also see a lot of injured wildlife, like a coyote with a broken leg."

Sakas said he would not be able to do his job if he were not an animal lover himself. He and his wife have 11 pets at home: five dogs, three cats and three parrots.

"And two kids," Sakas noted. "Our house is never quiet."

Sakas' practice is also known for working with the canine units of local police departments.

"We also see a lot of police officers who bring their canines in," he said. "Niles police dogs, Chicago police dogs. We love those guys."

The hospital is equipped to do diagnostic work, vaccinations, surgery, dentistry, digital radiography and other complex medical procedures.

Sakas said he never ceases to be moved by the bond between people and their animals, especially when it comes to providing quality — and sometimes expensive — health care.

"People are dedicated to their pets," he said. "I see people all the time who are willing to spend money on the health of their pets and put themselves second. There is a certain bond between people and animals and I think you have to have a sensitivity to that to do this job."

DON'T OVERRUFF!

Bridge Bites

From the American Contract Bridge League

By BRIAN GUNNELL

This week you are South, defending 3♠. You must make three good plays in order to beat this contract. Are you up to the challenge?

North (Dummy): ♠ K6, ♥ AKT98, ♦ J, ♣ KJ985
West (Declarer): ♠ 2, ♥ Q764, ♦ KQ752, ♣ QT4
East: ♠ QJT9743, ♥ 53, ♦ AT3, ♣ A
South: ♠ A86, ♥ J2, ♦ 9864, ♣ 7632

Both Vulnerable

West	North	East	South
		1♠	Pass
1NT	2♥	2♠	Pass
Pass	3♣	3♠	All Pass

Before you take your place in the South seat, let's admire Declarer's robust Spade suit. The ♠T and ♠9 are big cards! After the high enemy Spades have been knocked out, those intermediates can look after the rest of the suit. In fact, even if the trumps split 4-1, that lovely Spade Nine will come to the rescue and make sure that the enemy ♠8 does no damage. Well, "Phooey!" is what N-S have to say to about that. They are about to score their lowly ♠8, even though trumps are 3-2!

Sitting South, you lead the ♥J. That holds the trick, Partner playing the Ten. You lead another Heart, this one being won by Partner's Eight. Declarer ruffs the third round with the ♠9, and it's time for your first good play. Don't overruff. Now Declarer leads the ♠Q, and you make your second good play, you duck your Ace! Well, perhaps that play was not so brilliant, there was no rush to take that risk. And, anyway, you would look extremely foolish if your Ace crashed Partner's singleton King. As it happens, Partner wins the trick with ♠K and, with the Ten and it's time for the third good play. Don't overruff. That's right, your stubborn refusal, on three occasions, to play the ♠A has orchestrated a trump promotion. The defense score two Hearts and three trumps for down one. Who would have thought A86 would produce two natural trump tricks?

Village to offer e-mail updates

By TONY BERTUCA
tbertuca@pioneerlocal.com

Niles Village Hall will offer a new e-mail service to residents who want to be in the know.

The service, called e-Niles, is free to anyone with Internet access and an e-mail address who would like to receive up-to-date information about general village news and events, road construction, public meetings and the village newsletter.

"You decide what types of information you want to receive," according to the village announcement. "Just sign up and announcements regarding the topics you requested will be e-mailed to you. All you need to provide is an e-mail address. There is no cost or commitment required and you may unsubscribe at any time."

Residents can sign up for the service by going to the village Web site, www.vniles.com, and clicking on the e-Niles logo.

GUEST ESSAY

Fight against corruption cannot be spectator sport

Illinois is in the dark ages compared to the majority of states across the nation when it comes to fighting organized "enterprise" crime.

As we continue to endure headlines about convicted or indicted public officials and read Department of Justice statistics citing pervasive public corruption at all levels of Illinois government, a recent study at the University of Illinois at Chicago revealed that we pay about half a billion dollars a year in "costs" due to our state's culture of corruption.

This is only compounded by the plague of gang-related violence, gunrunning, drug dealing and money laundering in which gang leaders insulate themselves from prosecution and replace their underlings upon arrest in an endless cycle of incarceration.

Cook County State's Attorney Anita Alvarez

In short, enterprise criminality is alive and well in Illinois and we all pay the price. So why is Illinois topping the charts in "enterprise" crimes? What is undermining our fight to reclaim our neighborhoods and restore faith in our public institutions? The answer is no mystery.

The General Assembly has left Illinois in the dark ages by refusing time and again to give its prosecutors the same tools used for generations in other states (and the federal system) to fight these types of organized criminal groups. For example, in Illinois, an undercover officer in the state system cannot make a consent-based recording (wear a wire) without first filing a sworn statement explaining the equivalent of probable cause that a certain crime is being committed.

In this way, state investigators are stuck in a classic Catch 22 wherein they cannot use the very device designed to reveal probable cause unless they already have the probable cause.

Federal prosecutors do not have their hands tied in this fashion and the recent indictment of a Chicago alderman who "wore a wire" illustrates their advantage when it comes to tackling public corruption cases.

In an attempt to level the playing field and take the handcuffs off state prosecutors in Illinois, the Cook County State's Attorney's Office proposed a series of time-tested legal reforms that were endorsed by the Chicago Bar Association, the news media and law enforcement groups across the state, as well as adopted by the Illinois Reform Commission in its independent recommendations for cleaning up state government.

Our reforms would have enacted laws that would have allowed the following:

- true consent-based recordings with prior judge approval;
- court-approved wiretaps for more than just drugs and murder;
- an effective state racketeering provision to target criminal groups as a whole, not just their expandable rank and file.

With such reforms, this state could prosecute any diverse criminal group in a single proceeding and impose the right sanctions, like modern forfeiture, to put them out of business for good. Such reforms could have also brought Illinois more in line with the 46 other states that permit one-party consent recordings, or public corruption wiretaps, and they could have done so without threatening civil liberties.

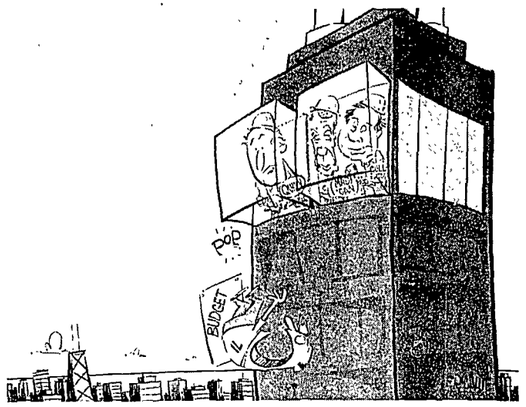
On the Friday before Memorial Day weekend however, a Senate subcommittee in Springfield quietly killed all of these law enforcement reforms. These important reforms will now never see an up or down vote on the floor of the General Assembly this session.

The subcommittee vote was a great disappointment for law enforcement and yet another missed opportunity for the future of our state.

In the end, of course, my office will continue to work in good faith to pass these reforms and we will continue to make our case with legislators and the public. After all, as we watch late night comedians and political pundits across the nation laugh at the tarnished reputation of Illinois, it is time that we all agree that the fight against corruption can no longer be just a spectator sport.

Anita Alvarez
Cook County State's Attorney

1000 WORDS



My LEGO Kingdom

CHERYL O'DONOVAN
VAN MOM STRIKES AGAIN

Until a beloved toy is reunited with my child, there will be no peace in the valley.

Over the years, missing items have included a teddy bear with mange, a frayed blanky, a breach-of-contract puzzle piece from Bob the Builder.

The routine was the same. The precious item went missing, thus launching a desperate quest for it in our toy-swallowing house.

But we got better; kept our children's screams from reaching Boeing engine decibels. My husband and I mastered search-and-recovery.

Until our introduction to the LEGO set.

Detected only under microscope, LEGO pieces are ideal for embedding into flesh, especially mom's or dad's foot when staggering through a darkened house at 2:32 a.m. to aid a sick kid.

At birthday parties, my sons rip open presents. Inevitably the thing we dread most, the LEGO box, emerges. Assembling the kit will take the patience of a monk toiling over parchment and the mathematical genius of a physicist.

"I always get stuck with this," my husband complains.

I cheerily suggest it's an opportunity to bond with the boys. He snarls at me.

We both know.

Until that 975-piece LEGO battle cruiser with 12 scanners is assembled, there will be no peace in the valley.

Months later, my husband applies the last piece with tweezers. His eye twitches. His fingers tremble from sleep deprivation.

My youngest son bounds from the living room, knocking into the stern. Pieces go flying.

Red-faced, my husband chokes back expletives. The spike in blood pressure may rupture his spleen.

His funnel cloud mood soon passes. Grunting, jaw locked, my husband picks up the tweezers. Hours later, the battleship is almost complete.

Except for one missing LEGO.

"Where is this piece that goes to the turret?" My husband jabs a finger at the instruction booklet.

Gazing around the clutter of our house, my heart sinks. My eyes flicker back to my unstable spouse. My younger son's lip quivers. My older son hovers at the door, ready to evacuate. And the dog looks guilty.

I dive under the table, fingers probing carpet fibers, praying. Please. Please, dear God, let that infernal LEGO be there. I will contact several divisions of Scouts, alert volunteer firemen, secure the National Guard, anyone with access to metal detectors.

Because.

You know.

Until that obscure, tiny piece is located, there will be no peace in the valley.

Got some horror stories about your family's LEGO exploits you would like to share? E-mail Cheryl O'Donovan at cherylodonovan@comcast.net.

Historical actress Leslie Goddard portrays Abigail Adams, wife of President John Adams and mother of President John Quincy Adams, at 2 p.m. July 26 at Des Plaines Public Library, 1501 Ellinwood St., in a special performance related to the free exhibition, "John Adams Unbound," at Oakton Community College, 1600 E. Golf Road, Des Plaines.

The library also has joined in partnership with Oakton to present the HBO Series, "John Adams," on seven consecutive Thursday nights at 7 p.m. as of July 2. The Aug. 13 presentation will feature discussions led by Donald Jacobson, instructor of history at Oakton.

A reception at Oakton at 6:30 p.m. July 14 features an original "readers' theater" presentation featuring the words and writings of Adams alongside those of Mary Wollstonecraft and Jean-Jacques Rousseau, two of his philosophical and intellectual "mentors."

"John Adams Unbound" may be visited through Aug. 21; Oakton is one of only 20 libraries nationwide selected to present this exhibition. Through photo reproductions of many of Adams' books, as well as personal objects, graphics, maps and portraits, "John Adams Unbound" demonstrates how one of America's founding fathers wrestled with intellectual and political ideology at every stage of his life. The exhibition also showcases the role of books and libraries in a democracy.

Adams left the large collection to the people of Massachusetts in his will. The volumes have been held by the Boston Public Library since 1894.

For more information contact the Office of College Advancement, (847) 635-1806.

Enjoy the history, culture, and beauty of Japan on a 12-day cruise offered by Oakton. Tours in 2009 depart in July, August, September, October and November.

Destinations include Hagi, Takamatsu, Nagasaki and Hiroshima. Tour the Atomic Bomb Dome and visit ancient Shinto shrines and samurai residential quarters. Throughout the trip, cruise the Inland Sea, a scenic marvel dotted with more than 3,000 islands.

Overwhelmed by piles of old papers?

Box it all up and let MB help you clean house!

Please join us on Saturday, July 11, 2009 9:00 a.m. to 12 noon in the MB Financial Bank parking lot at 6201 Dempster St., Morton Grove, IL

Iron Mountain Information Management, Inc. will have a truck on-site to shred your old materials, right before your eyes. Safe, efficient, secure, and much more practical than doing it yourself with the personal-sized shredder you have at home!

After you have had your old documents shredded stop by our refreshment table, and visit our information tables – we'll have ideas and resources on going "green" and avoiding identity theft.

This event will take place rain or shine. Limit of two banker's boxes of materials per customer please!

Questions? For more information, please call either of MB's Morton Grove banking centers:

All-new Nissan 370Z adds style to big performance

BY IRA SIEGEL
SearchChicago – Autos Writer

Nissan has totally reworked its Z car for 2009 and the result is the best Z yet. The all-new 2009 Nissan 370Z coupe is very likable and extremely fun to drive.

The original Z car, the 1970 Datsun 240Z, was known for its combination of performance, style and value. That trifecta is what Nissan has focused on throughout the Z car's evolution.

I had the pleasure of driving and servicing the early Z cars, including my cousin's inline six-cylinder 1981 Datsun 280Z. Of course, Datsun eventually became Nissan and as the Z car evolved, its number designation increased along with its engine displacement and performance.

With regard to the 2009 Nissan 370Z, your eyes will immediately be drawn to its attention-grabbing design. The new Z sits a bit lower and has a shorter (about 4 inches) wheelbase and wider (2.2 inches) rear track, making for an aggressive stance.

I especially like the new Z car's aerodynamic shape, cantilevered roof, muscular fenders and boomerang-shaped headlights and taillights.

If you want attention, the 370Z will more than meet your needs. My 370Z tester commanded attention wherever I went and all those individuals who stopped me to talk about the car kept telling me how much they liked its looks.

autoREVIEW

Nissan 370Z wins trifecta of performance, style, value

As great as the 370Z's exterior styling is, I was somewhat disappointed with the cabin and tiny cargo compartment. The seats in my tester were not made for a wide body like mine. The blind spots are huge and it's difficult to see when backing up

I also did not like the gauge package. The coolant temperature and fuel level are indicated via hard-to-see tiny LEDs. I would have preferred analog style gauges for those and I miss the digital speedometer indicator that was used in the previous generation 350Z.

The other disappointment was that the cabin let in a bit too much road noise while motoring at highway speeds. Other than that, the cabin benefits from some better-looking materials, giving it a more upscale feel than its predecessor.

I loved the kidney-shaped, leather-wrapped steering wheel with baseball-like stitching. It feels good to grip and makes you want to fire the Z up and take it for a spin.

The 370Z features a keyless push-button starter that brings the 3.7-liter V-6 to life. It's basically the same V-6 used in the Infiniti G37. It's rated at 332 horsepower and performance enthusiasts can get a 350-horsepower version in the high-performance NISMO 370Z.

The 370Z's 3.7-liter V-6 can be mated to a slick-shifting six-speed manual gearbox or a seven-speed automatic with manual shifting capabilities via steering wheel-mounted paddle shifters.

Also, for those who opt for the sport package, Nissan provides the manual gearbox with a unique driver selectable (via a console-mounted switch) SynchroRev Match system. When the system is turned on, and the driver pushes in the clutch to downshift, the system automatically controls and adjusts engine speed to the exact speed of the next gear position, essentially "blipping" the throttle to smooth out any shifts. This avoids jerking the car and it improves vehicle balance and smoothness when shifting.

From a performance standpoint, the 370Z is very likable. The V-6 is very powerful and smooth. Acceleration is great from a dead stop and for passing. My tester's six-speed manual gearbox was also to my liking.

The 370Z remains very taut and is nimble when taking corners. Some may find the suspension a bit stiff, but that's what sports cars are all about.

Those who select the sport package will also benefit from some beefier brakes that include 14-inch front and 13.8-inch rear rotors (versus 12.6-inch front/12.1-inch rear standard rotors) with four-piston front and two-piston rear aluminum calipers.

The 2009 Nissan 370Z features a long list of standard safety features and the lineup for 2009 has been simplified to just two models: 370Z and the 370Z Touring.

The 370Z is well equipped and is priced right at just $30,000. The 370Z Touring adds heated leather seats, Homelink universal transmitter, Bluetooth, eight-speaker Bose audio system, cargo cover and aluminum pedals.

Overall, enthusiasts will enjoy this all-new Z car. It's one of the most attainable, best-looking, fun-to-drive sporty two-seaters out there.

Jaguar, Land Rover get high marks from owners

MAHWAH, N.J. – Jaguar and Land Rover were each recognized for their leading ownership experience in Strategic Vision Inc.'s Total Quality Index.

The Total Quality Index is a complete measure of the total ownership experience. Buyers are asked to rate all aspects of their buying, owning and driving experience. This accounts for a wide variety of areas, including customers' vehicle loyalty.

The Jaguar and Land Rover brands rated first and second place respectively for the $30,000-plus category, with Jaguar also being recognized as the most-improved brand among all competitors. Range Rover scored a first-place finish in the luxury utility segment and many other models across both brands scored well in their segments.

"For Jaguar and Land Rover to rank as leaders in total quality is validation that we offer an exemplary entire ownership experience, from the vehicles' quality and performance to the buying and ownership experience," said Gary Temple, president, Jaguar Land Rover North America LLC. "This recognition highlights the enormous passion and pride our employees, dealers and customers have for Jaguar and Land Rover vehicles."

The Total Quality Index was calculated from buyers who bought 2008 and 2009 models from September through December 2008.

Terry's Lincoln Mercury earns President's Award

Terry's Lincoln Mercury of Orland Park joins the elite group of dealerships awarded Ford's President's Award.

Ford Motor Co.'s President's Award recognizes Ford and Lincoln Mercury dealerships that have led the nation in exceptional service and vehicle ownership experiences for their customers. The President's Award is given annually to dealers who achieve the highest levels of customer satisfaction in both sales and service.

This year only 408 of more than 5,000 Ford and Lincoln Mercury dealerships from around the country were able to reach performance levels required to earn the distinction.

"Earning this award is a reflection of our entire staff's commitment to delivering the best customer experience possible," said Terry Kunes, owner of Terry's Lincoln Mercury. "I couldn't be more proud to receive this recognition, especially since it comes from the people we value most – our customers. They're the reason we were able to achieve this award."

Terry's Lincoln Mercury is located at 9401 W. 143rd St. in Orland Park. Call (708) 349-3400 or visit www.terryslincolnmercury.com.

Lincolnshire Place offers buyers first chance to see Plan C

Weiss Development Corp. has announced the opening of a new floor plan for viewing by potential homebuyers, a 2,328-square-foot Plan C corner unit at Lincolnshire Place on the Village Green, its latest community of condominium residences.

Helen Weiss, vice president of the veteran development company, notes that this is the first showing of a C floor plan at the Lincolnshire Place community, "which has been a popular plan for our pre-construction purchasers. That's why this first-floor version is not being displayed as a model, but as a unit ready for immediate occupancy upon sale."

She added that construction has proceeded to the point where two available Plan C residences on the Penthouse floor are also available for viewing.

In all, seven floor plans are available within the luxury building of 62 residences at the heart of Lincolnshire's growing downtown district. They range in size from 1,784 square feet in the Plan A to 3,272 square feet in the bi-level penthouse version of the Plan D (totals do not include available rooftop terraces and balconies) and feature two or three bedrooms or two bedrooms plus a den; prices range from $399,700 to $899,500.

The immediate-delivery C plan is set on the building's first floor and features two bedrooms, a den, 2½ baths, three walk-in closets and two balconies, "accessible from the breakfast area as well as the den," said Weiss. "That is a feature you will rarely find in a condominium community."

Design finishes include cherry wood floors and a built-in cherry cabinet buffet in the breakfast area.

Depending on the plan and the floor it's on, balconies can add as much as 321 square feet of outdoor space to the home; on the penthouse level, the Plan C features a cathedral ceiling in the living room as well as arched Palladian windows.

"You also have more windows in the corner unit, which allow in significantly more natural light and connect the indoors with the outdoors like nothing

▮▮▮▮ Turn to PLAN C, 2

A new 2,328-square-foot floor plan has been added to the offerings at Lincolnshire Place on the Village Green. The elegant condominium community is built along the Lincolnshire Village Green, with public garden space, biking and walking paths.

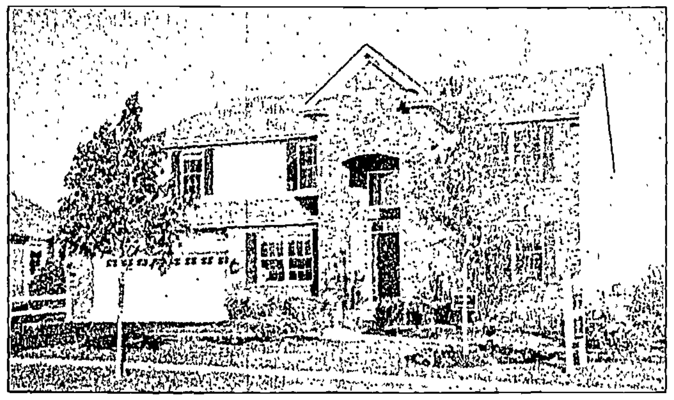
CAMBRIDGE HOMES

Cambridge Lakes Home Showcase Tour is Saturday

Visitors can tour model homes and homes for quick delivery



Cambridge Homes will host The Cambridge Lakes Home Showcase Tour this Saturday, July 11, offering the opportunity to tour both single-family models and homes for quick delivery in northwest suburban Pingree Grove. Pictured is the Edington model from the Signature Series of homes.

Award-winning Cambridge Lakes will be the site of The Cambridge Lakes Home Showcase Tour this Saturday, July 11, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Single-family model homes and an array of homes for quick delivery will be available for touring at the resort-style pool and clubhouse community. In addition, refreshments and prizes will add to the fun, and free gifts will be given while supplies last.

The hub of activities will be the single-family sales center at 1203 Evergreen. Visitors will also be able to explore the homes and amenities that have contributed to Cambridge Lakes being named the Best Suburban Development by the Home Builders Association of Greater Chicago.

"At Cambridge Lakes, home buyers can choose from single-family homes in three series as well as attached single-family homes. The community also includes townhomes and condominiums," said Paul Ivers, president of Cambridge Homes, the largest homebuilder in Illinois and part of D.R.Horton, a major national company. "At the present time, outstanding incentives are offered on homes for quick delivery. Attractive financing programs and low interest rates make purchasing a new home safe and economical."

"DHI Mortgage experts can assist buyers in choosing a mortgage program that is tailored to their needs. In addition, first-time buyers still have time to take advantage of the $8,000 tax credit on homes for quick delivery, and low FHA and VA down payments are available for qualified buyers," he said.

A federal tax credit of up to $8,000 is available to first-time homebuyers who close escrow on or before Nov. 30, 2009. Not all buyers will qualify. Visit federalhousingtaxcredit.com or drhorton.com for complete details.

Cambridge Lakes offers buyers the opportunity to acquire a well-built new home while enjoying a recreational lifestyle and the rare advantage of a charter elementary school for grades K-8 within the community. The charter school is a publicly funded, private school that offers an excellent foundation for students' educational future.

At Cambridge Lakes, a sense of belonging and ongoing family fun is ensured by the 30,000-square-foot recreation/community center. Three pools include a zero-depth pool for young children, a pool for older children and adults, plus a spray playground. In addition, facilities include a gym for indoor soccer, basketball and volleyball, a fitness center and aerobics room and locker rooms for men and women. The center is the social hub for the community and also features meeting rooms for resident groups, an elegant lobby and gathering area complete with a kitchen. Special summertime events plus numerous clubs and special interest groups offer a great way to get acquainted with neighbors.

Other attractions that add to the lifestyle at Cambridge Lakes are seven community parks, five public parks that include baseball diamonds, soccer fields, playgrounds and tot lots, a skating park and miles of inviting walking trails. Natural beauty enhances the resort atmosphere of the 1,164-acre community, with 12 lakes, 360 acres of conservation areas and landscaped open space. A sense of arrival is provided by entry monuments accented with lavish plantings and sparkling waterways and a classic bridge with decorative columns.

Visitors to The Cambridge Lakes Home Showcase Tour have attractive choices in style and pricing on single-family homes.

■ The single-family detached homes in the Horizon Series are priced from the low $200,000s and feature a ranch and eight two-story plans ranging from 1,715 to 3,018 square feet, with two-car attached garages and available basements.

■ The Prairie Series is priced from the $230,000s with a choice of two ranch plans and 10 two-story home designs ranging from 1,660 to 2,781 square feet with two-car attached garages and partial basements included.

■ The Signature Series, executive-style homes are priced from the low $300,000s and feature a ranch and five two-story plans ranging from 2,454 to 3,388 square feet with included basements and two- and three-car garages.

■ Cambridge Lakes also offers attached single-family homes in the Spring Valley Series priced from the $170,000s. Nature Series condominiums priced from the mid-$130,000s; townhomes in the Seaboard Series, priced from the low $160,000s and the Legacy Series, priced from the upper $160,000s.

To visit this community

To visit Cambridge Lakes, take Interstate 90 (Northwest Tollway) to Route 47, exit and turn left (south) to Higgins Road (Route 72), turn left and proceed east on Higgins one mile to the community entrance on the right and follow the signs. Hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily except for Friday when hours are noon to 6 p.m. Call (847) 984-4883 for more information or visit mycambridgehome.com.

else," she said.

Plan C features what is called an "open" floor plan, meaning visual links between all the social areas of the home. In this case, views from the expansive kitchen and the 9-by-½-foot breakfast area into the 17-by-17-foot living room and the adjacent 10-by-16-foot dining room.

"All the plans also capitalize on 'size' with nine-foot ceilings, regardless of what floor they're on," said Weiss. "It is a simple detail that visually expands any room without really drawing attention to itself, but adds quite a lot to the comfort level of any space." On the top floor, residences also may include skylights and special ceiling treatments.

Other details of the Plan C include a tray ceiling in the spacious foyer, a private suite with full bath for the 12-by-13-foot second bedroom, a 19½-by-16-foot den with balcony access, and double doors leading into the master suite, which is located in an entirely separate part of the home from the other bedroom suite.

All master bedroom suites at Lincolnshire Place feature two walk-in closets and a luxury bath with adult-height cabinetry, porcelain tile flooring and separate Kohler soaking tubs and oversized showers, as well as marble vanity tops; mirrored medicine cabinets and vanity mirrors.

Lincolnshire Place features two separate entrances; each with its own elegant lobby, and three elevators as well as a Resident's Club Room with a hospitality kitchen, large-screen television and surround sound. Other building amenities include closed-circuit security access, a fitness room, bicycle room and individual storage lockers.

Lincolnshire Place on the Village Green is off of Olde Half Day Road (Route 45) just east of Milwaukee Avenue, across the street from the Lincolnshire Egg Harbor restaurant. Office hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily. For additional information, call Lincolnshire Place at 847-276-2670 and visit www.LincolnshirePlace.com.

Sun City Huntley hosts senior golf

Del Webb launches Senior Cup Classic to raise funds for children

This Friday the first annual Del Webb Senior Cup Classic will tee off at Del Webb's Sun City Huntley active adult community in northwest suburban Huntley to raise awareness of and funds for special needs children.

Taking place at Sun City Huntley's spectacular Whisper Creek Golf Club, this special tournament will feature 144 participants from six different active adult communities in northern Illinois, including the Del Webb active adult communities of Sun City Huntley, Grand Dominion and Edgewater, along with Carillon, Carillon Lakes and Grand Haven. The theme for the event is "We Built This City" and will also feature golf demonstrations, a hole-in-one competition, prizes plus a dinner and awards banquet.

Celebrating its 10th anniversary and nearing sellout, Sun City Huntley features both ranch-style single-family homes starting in the $215,000s and attached Clubhomes from the $160,000s. The community's model park showcases a selection of 10 beautifully decorated and fully furnished homes that are open for tours every day.

"The Del Webb Senior Cup Classic embodies everything that Sun City stands for, that is an active adult lifestyle with recreation, social interaction and doing good for others while having a lot of fun," said Chris Naatz, vice president of sales and marketing for the Illinois division of Pulte Homes. "This golf tournament has received a tremendous response from golfers at our Del Webb communities in Illinois, and we're positive this event will become a much-anticipated event every year for them."

Pulte Homes has created Sun City Huntley for active adults who are at least 55 years of age. Sun City Huntley is one of four exciting Del Webb active adult communities in Illinois, which include Shorewood Glen in Shorewood, Edgewater in Elgin and Grand Dominion in Mundelein.

The Del Webb Senior Cup Classic tees off at 9:30 a.m. Friday with a shotgun start at the award-winning 18-hole Whisper Creek Golf Club. The event is free and open to the public and fans are encouraged to walk the course with the players. A rain date has been set for July 17.

Sponsors of the tournament include Del Webb, Foster Premier, Hunter Golf and Walgreens. Each active adult community has a field of 24 players, for a total of 144 golfers competing in the tournament.

Hunter Golf will provide golf demonstrations and a hole-in-one competition from 7:30 a.m. to 9:15 a.m. before the tournament, with a chance to win a trip to one of the four Majors tournaments, including a grand prize to the British Open.

Following the Del Webb Senior Cup Classic, an awards ceremony and banquet sponsored by Del Webb will be held at the Drendel Ballroom inside the Prairie Lodge at Sun City Huntley.

The idea for the Del Webb Senior Cup Classic started last fall with Dick Norwood, an avid golfer who lives at the Carillon active adult community. Dick wanted to start a golf tournament that would bring players together from various active adult communities in the area.

"My idea was to recognize seniors for their accomplishments in life and for their contributions to the community through volunteerism. The concept just took off and was enthusiastically embraced by the various active adult communities. Our Del Webb Senior Cup Classic is the first event of its kind ever in the U.S. and we're proud of what the future holds for the tournament," Norwood said.

Another reason Norwood wanted to start the Del Webb Senior Cup Classic was to raise awareness of special needs children. Foster Premier has contributed $2,000 to the event, which combined with other donations, will allow organizers to present a check for more than $2,700 to a special needs child or grandchild of a resident in one of the six communities represented in the tournament.

"We plan on awarding the check to the recipient at the awards banquet and we know it will be a special night for everyone involved. This is more than a golf event, it's an opportunity for social networking and to show the vibrancy of active adults in the suburbs and what they can do for others," said Norwood.

The kind of spirit and involvement the Del Webb Senior Cup Classic represents is a great introduction to the carefree lifestyle that Sun City Huntley provides for active adults.

The event is open to the public and fans are encouraged to walk the course with contestants. Del Webb will be providing exclusive online, real-time coverage of the event on Facebook.com and Twitter.com. Check Del Webb Chicagoland on Twitter.com and follow the live feed.

At Sun City Huntley, residents can choose from 10 easy-living ranch style floor plans at the community, in a wide selection of single-family and attached single-family styles. The homes range in size from about 1,200 to nearly 2,600 square feet and feature two to four bedrooms, two to three baths and attached two-car garages.

In addition to the Whisper Creek Golf Club, other amenities spread throughout the Sun City community include the Eakin Fields sports complex, the Tall Oaks tennis club and the Millgrove woodshop.

The centerpiece of the recreational and social lifestyle at Sun City is the 94,000-square-foot Prairie Lodge, with exercise facilities, restaurant, club and craft rooms and more. The 20,000-square-foot Meadow View Lodge is the companion facility to the Prairie Lodge and includes a 10,000-square-foot state-of-the-art fitness center, outdoor pool, club and meeting rooms and a dance studio.

"The excitement and anticipation surrounding the Del Webb Senior Cup Classic has been tremendous and this event will really showcase the talents and abilities of the residents. We're proud to be hosting this first annual tournament and are looking forward to being a big part of this event in the coming years as well," Naatz said.

Sun City Huntley is one mile north of I-90 on Route 47. To visit, take I-90 west, exit Route 47 north to the community entrance on the left. The sales center is located at 12490 Del Webb Boulevard and is open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m., as are the decorated models in the new model park. Will an Olympic miracle pull Chicago's housing out of recession?

Don DeBat
ON THE HOME FRONT

Windy City pitchmen only had 45 minutes to extol the infinite virtues of Chicago to the nearly 100 International Olympic Committee members attending the recent schmooze-a-thon in Lausanne, Switzerland, but the outcome likely will have an epic effect on the city's future assuming we win the bid for the Games in October.

If Chicago captures the $4.8-billion Olympic Games, it means much more than creating a new neighborhood planned to house some 16,000 athletes and officials by 2016 on the current site of Michael Reese Hospital on the Near South Side.

With Chicago's real estate market in a throttle-down recession, every politician, condominium developer and construction lender in town has their collective fingers and toes crossed, while they pray for a President Obama-inspired Olympic miracle that will somehow launch the city's cash-strapped economy to global nirvana.

Initial plans for the Olympic Village call for the city to raze the shuttered hospital complex and pump millions of dollars of infrastructure improvements into the 37-acre site near 31st Street and Cottage Grove Avenue. A Tax Increment Financing District already is in place for the village.

Plans call for developers to build the $1.1-billion Olympic Village in stages over a six-year period between 2010 and 2016. Some 2,000 to 3,500 housing units are planned across the giant 128-acre Olympic Village neighborhood just south of McCormick Place. The village would become a mixed-income residential community after the Games.

More than a dozen private developers already have responded to the city's requests for qualifications (RFQ) from prospective bidders, and it is likely that each will select their own architects for the high-rises, so there is optimism for great design creativity.

As the economy improves, it is likely that a good percentage of the housing units in this brand new neighborhood could be sold to investors, rented during and after the games, and later converted to condominium ownership, experts say. The Olympic buzz likely would attract thousands of permanent residents to the village and the surrounding Near South Side.

However, preservationists say the city could be squandering an important opportunity for environmental and social sustainability by not preserving some of the noteworthy buildings and courtyards on the hospital campus.

And, architectural critics note that Bauhaus founder Walter Gropius had a hand in designing the best contemporary buildings at Michael Reese, and they should be preserved.

Newport Cove offers lakefront living

What makes someone decide to move, to buy a new home?

The residents of Newport Cove have one answer: Water. Newport Cove, with its lakefront location, planned community and coastal style architecture, makes residents feel they are living the good life 12 months a year.

"We like living in Newport Cove," said Pat Vogler who, with her husband Don, built a waterfront home there, moving in just over a year ago. "It is always enjoyable looking at the water. It changes morning to night and with each season. Newport Cove is a great place to entertain friends and family. We feel we are on a permanent vacation."

The 42-acre community overlooks Bluff Lake, one of the deepest lakes on the Chain O' Lakes. The single-family-home development features custom-built homes and offers its residents a private 130-plus-slip marina complete with water and electricity, a private eight-acre waterfront park, and paths meandering throughout the community and bordering its 1,800 feet of shoreline. Anchoring the waterfront park is a large pavilion with outdoor kitchen and restroom facilities. Forty percent of the community is open space, much of it landscaped with native plants and wildflowers.

"Newport Cove is unique in that we have new beautifully constructed homes in a lakeside community setting," said Joe Rippel. He, his wife Toni and their two college-aged children moved into their new home last year. "After a hard day of work, there is nothing more refreshing than a walk down to the lake, or an evening fishing on the pier and enjoying the beautiful sunsets. It's better than going on vacation since you live where you can enjoy your life every day of the year."

Zoned for 67 single-family residences, the community offers three distinct "neighborhoods," each appealing to a different customer demographic. Award-winning custom builder New American Homes is building residences priced from the $300,000s to more than $1 million.

"Although we have a wide range of prices, we find that all of our customers have the same goal: To live where they play," said Susanne Tauke, president of New American Homes. "Family time is important to most of our buyers. Almost every one of them has told me they want to live in a place their children and extended families can enjoy."

The first neighborhood, the Cottages at Newport Cove, includes a cluster of 31 maintenance-free homes designed for the empty-nester or weekend homebuyer. Ranging in size from 1,500 to more than 2,400 square feet (plus full basements), the Cottages have low-maintenance exteriors of fiber cement siding and stone, first-floor master suites, large open living spaces with designer kitchens, two to four bedrooms and tech centers.

Amenities such as hardwood floors, extra-tall interior doors, extra-tall Pella windows, extra-wide trim, stainless steel appliances and solid-surface countertops are standard. All four Cottage models come with two-car garages: in the larger models, the garage also has room for a golf cart. The Cottages are priced from $335,000.

On the waterfront is a neighborhood of 21 large home sites designed for custom, build-to-suit homes, all accommodating walkout lower levels. Prices for the waterfront lots start at $375,000. Buyers can bring in their own builder, or have New American Homes build the home for them. New American's waterfront home and lot packages start in the high $700,000s.

Finally, a neighborhood of 15 estate home sites is located just off the water. Again, the buyers can design their custom home and have it built by an approved builder, or use New American Homes. Prices for the estate home sites start at $120,000; New American's house/lot packages start in the $400,000s.

While most of the houses on the Chain depend upon individual septic systems, Newport Cove has its own state-of-the-art community sewer system, ensuring a clean "green" environment for its residents. Water comes from individual wells.

"Newport Cove is planned to ensure a pleasant, attractive environment for years to come," said Tauke. "Strict architectural guidelines govern the building of each home. For example, all trim must be white and all roofs the same color. The developer's architectural review committee must approve all plans. And, strict covenants ensure that residents can enjoy a serene, peaceful lifestyle."

"We are fortunate to have a high site — several feet above flood level — with a rolling topography. Extensive landscaping, much of it featuring native plants and highlighted by white fencing and stone walls, enhances the waterfront look," Tauke added.

New American Homes, through its primary lender Home State Bank of Crystal Lake, is offering below-market 30-year financing or a program where the developer will pay several months of the first year's mortgage.

"We find a pent-up demand for new homes," said Tauke, "but in today's environment customers are afraid to make the purchase until they have sold their existing house. These programs help fill in the gap."

The Fox River's Chain O' Lakes is the second largest inland water-oriented recreational asset in northeast Illinois (number one is Lake Michigan) and ranks second in popularity in the entire United States. It includes more than 7,100 acres of water with 15 lakes, 40 miles of river and 450 miles of shoreline. Boaters can easily travel from lake to lake via a system of canals.

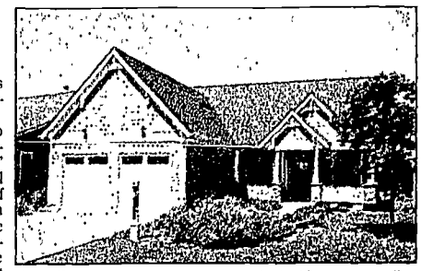
In recent years, land and home values on the Chain have rapidly escalated as the area has attracted boaters and water sports lovers who desired a destination close to Chicago. Numerous rustic cottages on the Chain have been replaced by large, modern homes. Another reason for the increase in property values is the massive strides the federal and state government has made in improving the water quality of the Chain's rivers and lakes.

Newport Cove's sales center is open noon to 4:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday or by appointment.

To visit from Interstate 94 and Lake Cook Road, proceed north on I-94 approximately 23 miles to Route 172, west (left) about eight miles to Route 59, south (left) about two miles to Grass Lake Road, west (right) about one mile to Bluff Lake Road, north (right) to the sales center.

To visit from Rand Road (Route 12) and Lake Cook Road, proceed north on Route 12 approximately 18 miles to Route 59, north (right) about six miles to Grass Lake Road, west (left) about one mile to Bluff Lake Road, north (right) to the sales center.

For more information about Newport Cove, visit www.newport-cove.com or call 847-726-2727.



The Cottages of Newport Cove are sensibly sized homes on smaller lots. In this "neighborhood," the exteriors are maintenance free because the community maintains the landscaping and removes the stone. The homes come standard with many luxury finishes, including hardwood floors, solid surface countertops, 8-foot doors and full basements with 9-foot walls. Prices start in the $300,000s.

existing buildings will greatly reduced the need for costly new construction materials, lessen landfill waste and preserve important structures.

"An interwoven mix of restored vintage hospital buildings and new high-rises would create a much more interesting and affordable weave in the urban tapestry at the Olympic Village," Lavicka said.

"It will take 100 years for Chicago to fill the void created by the razing thousands of vintage apartments over the past two decades on the South Side," Lavicka said. "Why not save a few of these solid old brick and stone hospital buildings, rehab them at half the cost of new construction and provide hundreds of affordable housing units for use decades after the Games?"

Bed switch turns into nightmare

STEPHANIE ZIMMERMANN
THE FIXER - Chicago Sun-Times

Dear Fixer: I purchased a mattress from Bedding Experts along with their "Red Carpet Agreement." This agreement says you will not have to pay extra in the event of an exchange.

I tried to make an exchange and was told I had to pay extra, although the exchange was for the same priced mattress.

Laura Dennis

Dear Laura: This was quite a tangled situation. The mattress you had bought at the end of April was not a cheap one — it was a $1,450 Stearns & Foster "Summer Palace" king-size with box spring. That price included $100 for the Red Carpet Agreement, which, according to Bedding Experts, gives the customer the "privilege of exchanging the mattress for up to 90 days with no comfort exchange charges."

You told us you had hoped this mattress would help with your back problems. But soon after it was delivered on May 2, you realized you needed something firmer. You called the store on May 5; then you went there on May 9 and selected a Sealy Posturepedic. That's when you were told you'd have to pay about $700 to get the other mattress.

Things escalated from there, and you lodged a complaint with the Better Business Bureau. Bedding Experts maintained — and you acknowledged — that the store had knocked several hundred dollars off the price of the Stearns & Foster set you had originally bought. In their response to the BBB, the mattress retailer said discounts or sale prices don't qualify for exchanges, since the store has to take back a used mattress, which, they said, is a "total loss for us."

On the other hand, you maintained that there was nothing in the paperwork you received stating that you would have to pay extra in the event of an exchange. (And we wonder why anyone would purchase a Red Carpet Agreement in such a case.) The company's final offer to you was to get the new mattress for $500.

At this point, you came to The Fixer. We had a little better luck. We reached out to Harriet Zaatar, regional supervisor and operations manager at Bedding Experts' corporate office in Bridgeview. She said she'd arrange to have you talk with a regional manager.

A few days passed, and lo and behold the new mattress was delivered to your home with no mention of any additional charges. We're hoping this model is just right, because now you have run out of exchanges.

Lots of shredding

An estimated 75,840 pounds of documents were ripped into oblivion at the big annual shred-athon at the United Center on June 20. That was up from 65,000 pounds last year, and that's a lot of documents that will be kept out of the hands of identity thieves.

Thanks to Beaver Shredding, Chicago Shred Authority, ACME Document Destruction, Recall Secure Document Services and Cintas, which provided trucks and workers. And thanks to the sponsors: the Better Business Bureau, Federal Trade Commission, U.S. Postal Inspection Service, Chicago Police, FBI, Illinois Attorney General's Office, Chicago Department of Business Affairs and Consumer Protection and Cook County State's Attorney's Office.

Kudos to Fellowes for donating the 21 free personal shredders that were given away in the raffle.

If you missed this event, you'll get another chance Sept. 12, when West Suburban Bank, 2800 S. Finley Rd., Downers Grove, and the Better Business Bureau sponsor another free shred-athon.

Also, Glenview State Bank has scheduled two free shredding events from 9a.m. to noon on Aug. 15 at 1808 S. Arlington Heights Rd., Arlington Heights, and Oct. 3 at 2222 Chestnut Ave., Glenview.

Send us your annoying customers

Thanks to all who have sent in stories so far for The Fixer's "obnoxious consumers" feature planned for later this summer.

This is our yearly feature where we let all the small business owners, clerks, waiters, call center employees, service workers, delivery people and other front-line workers vent about their most memorably annoying customers.

These include such clods as the customer with the nonexistent tip and the nonstop cell phone talker.

Please keep your stories coming to this e-mail address: soundoff@suntimes.com. We'll publish the best ones in August.

Lakefront properties available on North Shore

By JULIE MORSE
Contributor

Yearning for a mansion on Lake Michigan? The economic ebb tide has created a larger pool of lakefront homes than usual on Chicago's North Shore — some at compelling prices for high-end buyers. Most offer private beaches or lake access, and a few have boat launches. Some are historic landmarks, others are new, and a handful are teardowns.

REALTY InSITES

Competing with extensive "inland" inventory, lakefront sellers are capitalizing on their coveted locations and making waves with pro-active marketing of their prime real estate. So far, seven lakefront properties have sold or gone under contract this year in Glencoe, Highland Park, Winnetka and Lake Forest. Luxury buyers with ready cash are making the biggest splash, as jumbo lending remains tight.

Evanston has five waterfront properties listed, from $2.3 million for the recently reduced and renovated 1937 home at 1214 Lake Shore Boulevard, to the brand new mansion at 925 Edgemere Court with riparian rights for $9 million. A unique historic offering is Burnham's Landing at 100 Dempster, offered "as is" at $2.5 million. The raised, walled property has panoramic views, and it sits on land once owned by famed Chicago planner Daniel H. Burnham in the late 1880s.

Wilmette has two lakefront opportunities. The four-bedroom home at 3 Canterbury Court, on an acre with a beach, pool and waterfront launch pad, recently lowered to $5.3 million. A 1927 English-styled home at 1000 Michigan Avenue, with conservatory, patios, cabana and private beach, is newly priced at $4.5 million. Kenilworth offers a grand Georgian at 203 Sheridan with 14 rooms, 5 bedrooms, sweeping views of the lake and its own sandy beach for $6.5 million.

Winnetka boasts seven listings on Lake Michigan, beginning at $5.2 million for 139 Sheridan Road, complete with stone firepit patio on the top deck of its boat house. Topping the list are: 609 Sheridan Road, a 1924 mansion on 2 acres with coach-house, tennis, pool, boathouse and beach, now at $9 million; and the historic 1857 manor home at 1175 Whitebridge Hill, on 2.5 acres with park-like grounds and sandy beach front, at $10.75 million.

Twelve more stunning homes are available along Glencoe and Highland Park shores. Most affordable is a three-bedroom contemporary by Henry Newhouse at $1.5 million offering partial views and lake access on Deere Park in Highland Park — with another's full-view offering nearby at $4.9 million. Most expensive is the fully restored 1895 historic landmark Georgian at 77 Wentworth in Glencoe — with pool, patios, boathouse, and beach — recently listed for $9.95 million.

Lake Forest and Lake Bluff have about a dozen shoreline finds, ranging from $1.5 million to $15 million. There are renovations, "as is" rehabs and, newer construction, too — like 55 Stonegate in Lake Forest, re-priced to $7.87 million, complete with beach, pool and spa. Historic treasures include two by legendary architect David Adler on Lake Road, and the famed Benjamin Marshall's 1911 Lansdowne estate on 3.5 lakefront acres in Lake Bluff — all priced between $8 million and $15 million.

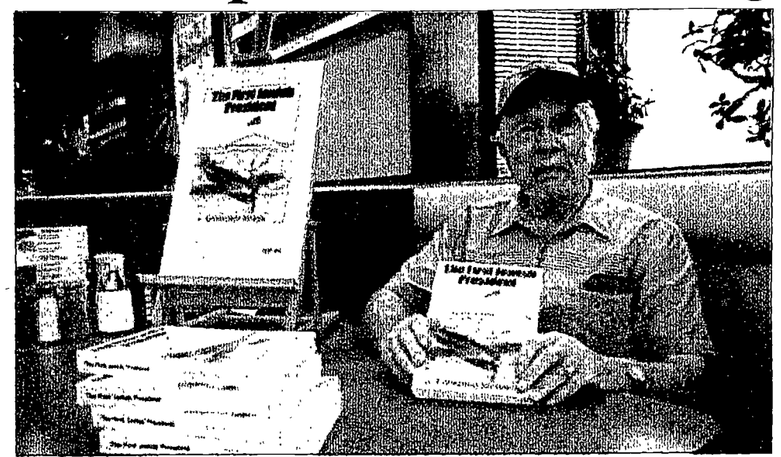
He's the Grandpa Moses of writing

By J.T. MORAND
jtmorand@pioneerlocal.com



Lincolnwood author Raymond Sloan, 89, sold 19 copies and gave away four of his first novel, The First Jewish President, a 400-page piece of historical fiction with some autobiographical flair, at Jack's Restaurant in Skokie on June 19.

Raymond Sloan was about ready to put the manuscript of his third book in the proverbial drawer and close it for good when he received an e-mail from a stranger telling him how much he liked his second book, The First Jewish President.

"Truly I'm disappointed that you didn't start writing before your current age," wrote William Brown. "I would certainly endorse that anyone who likes a good read should read this book!"

Sloan's enthusiasm for writing has returned and the follow-up novel to The First Jewish President is now in the works.

But, no one can blame the Lincolnwood author for being a little tired. He's 89 and only took up writing four years ago. His grammar is lousy and he never had any inclination toward writing, he said. It took him two years to write his autobiography, Ray's Story, which chronicles his youth in Chicago, his days as a bomber pilot in World War II and his forays into business. It took him two more years to write his 400-page novel about Isadore Stone, a former World War II pilot who fought anti-Semitism his entire life and who seeks to hold the highest office in the land in 1956.

In those years Sloan had cataract surgery, lost three chapters of his book and took computer classes at Oakton Community College.

"Landing on the moon would have been easier for me," he said. Referring to his education, he said, "I was a jock. If I got by in English, it was a miracle."

But a few years ago, while regaling his grandsons with stories about the adventures of his youth, the youngsters began urging him to write. They didn't care when he told them grammar and spelling were not his forte. Write anyway, they told him.

Sloan had plenty to write about and began Ray's Story at age 85.

For example, there was the return flight to base after a combat mission during World War II, when he unexpectedly started bleeding profusely from the mouth. He thought maybe he had been hit by shrapnel — after a few blood transfusions, doctors determined Sloan's stomach ulcers had ruptured.

Then, there was the holdup at the scrap metal business he owned in 1960, when he was shot through the right buttock and left eye.

"I'm still walking around with lead in my (behind)," he said.

Both his autobiography and novel, published by Collage Books Inc., address the anti-Semitism he encountered.

The First Jewish President begins with a fistfight between Stone and a 6-foot tall, 200-pound football player named Big Stan, who starts the altercation with a derogatory word for Jew.

"Some of it is true," Sloan said.

"I weighed all of one hundred and fifty pounds without an ounce of fat standing five feet seven with my shoes on," Sloan wrote about the young Issy Stone.

So, Sloan's grammar might not be perfect and his sentences might be missing some punctuation. But, according to at least one fan, William Brown, 80, of Highland Park, Sloan writes a very entertaining novel. Brown was in Jack's Restaurant in Skokie on June 19, at the same time Sloan was selling and signing books. (Sloan sold 19 and gave away four books.) Although both are regulars, they didn't know each other.

Brown, who is Jewish and a history buff, bought The First Jewish President based on the title alone.

"I couldn't put the book down until I finished it," he said. "He (Sloan) has a way of bringing history to life, which I think is remarkable. Anybody who likes excitement and history will be enthralled."

Brown added he's looking forward to reading Ray's Story.

"My friends like it," Sloan said. "I've got a lot of friends."

Comment: pioneerlocal.com

Who's your favorite writer? "I used to enjoy Clancy and Patterson. Now I like Stephen Coonts."

What's your favorite book? "Ray's Story! It's a grammatical disaster, but I think it's the best book I've ever read. It's a true and exciting story."

Who was your favorite U.S. President? "Harry Truman. He was honest and straightforward."

Raymond Sloan, 89, offers a copy of his novel, The First Jewish President, to Andrea Martinez, 11, and Michael Martinez, 8, of Chicago.

OPENING

BRUNO

Sacha Baron Cohen follows "Borat" with the story of an Austrian fashionista attempting to take America by storm. Larry Charles ("Borat," "Religulous") directed the comedy. (83 min.) Rated R for pervasive strong and crude sexual content, graphic nudity and language.

I LOVE YOU, BETH COOPER

A high-school nerd declares his love for the most popular girl in school (Hayden Panettiere). Chris Columbus ("Home Alone") directed the comedy. Rated PG-13 for crude and sexual content, language, some teen drinking and drug references, and brief violence.

STILL PLAYING

ICE AGE: DAWN OF THE DINOSAURS

If memory serves, dinosaurs did not roam the Earth at the same time as woolly mammoths, but woolly mammoths didn't talk, either, so never mind.

The third entry in the increasingly popular "Ice Age" franchise isn't quite as funny or as inventive as the first two, but it's still a virtually guaranteed good time for anyone who enjoyed them, with a better-than-average number of laughs and a reasonably heartwarming story about friendship and family.

The emphasis is on babies in "Dawn of the Dinosaurs," with Manny the mammoth and his sassy, very pregnant mate Ellie and tough-guy saber tooth Diego (Ray Romano, Queen Latifah and Dennis Leary) traveling to a lost world of dinosaurs to rescue Sid the soft-headed sloth (John Leguizamo), who has appropriated the eggs of a very-annoyed mama T-Rex.

There's a lot more action in this installment (and some fairly dazzling 3D effects), which also ups the mania quotient with a new character named Buck (Simon Pegg), a lunatic, one-eyed, adventure weasel who's locked in an Ahab/Moby-Dick-like struggle with a particularly large and nasty thunder-lizard.

There's even a femme fatale romantic interest for Scrat, the acorn-obsessed prehistoric squirrel, who was a lot funnier as an exercise in pure, prolonged, comic frustration. Rated PG for some mild rude humor and peril.

FILM CLIPS

"I Love You, Beth Cooper"

PUBLIC ENEMIES

Writer/director Michael Mann already has a couple of first-rate crime dramas to his credit ("Thief," "Heat" and possibly even "Collateral" if you want to stretch the point) and he adds another to the list with the stripped-down, hard-hitting, tough and engrossing "Public Enemies."

The film goes all out to portray legendary bank robber John Dillinger (played cool, calm and ultra-confident by Johnny Depp) as a bit of a tragic anti-hero, who wants "everything right now" and is only undone by his hubristic belief that he can stay ahead of the law forever – and by a little old-fashioned treachery.

It works, too, partially because Depp makes Dillinger strangely likable, partially because it becomes clear the gangster is being blindsided by changing times, and partially because this film is just so expertly made on every level that you'll go along with just about anything. It's gangbusters. (BI) Rated R for gangster violence and some language.

Michelle Pfeiffer and Rupert Friend embark on a September/June romance in Belle Epoque-era France in this costume drama from the writer and director (Christopher Hampton and Stephen Frears) of "Dangerous Liaisons." (BI) (100 min.) Rated R for some sexual content and brief drug use.

MY SISTER'S KEEPER

Feisty little Anna Fitzgerald (Abigail Breslin of "Little Miss Sunshine"), takes 'tween angst to a new level when she hires Alec Baldwin as an attorney to sue Cameron Diaz and Jason Patric as her parents. Of course, she has a pretty good reason, having been biologically engineered to provide replacement parts for her mortally ill, cancer-afflicted older sister.

"My Sister's Keeper" was skillfully adapted from Jodi Picoult's best-selling novel by writer/director Nick Cassavettes, who first proved he could milk whole fat emotion with "The Notebook." Here he squeezes every bit of heartbreak out of the scenario, which includes children with leukemia, a crumbling family, a grief-stricken judge played by Joan Cusack, and even a case of tragic young love.

If this one doesn't jack a tear somewhere along the line, you've run out. (BI) (109 min.) Rated PG-13 for mature thematic content, some disturbing images, sensuality, language and brief teen drinking.

WHATEVER WORKS

★ ★ ★ 1/2

Woody Allen's funniest film in years (and probably his most scathing film ever) features a vintage script from the '70s, originally written for Zero Mostel. Larry David, co-creator of "Seinfeld" and the star of HBO's "Curb Your Enthusiasm," was the ideal choice to play the misanthropic Boris Yellnikov, a suicidal former Nobel Prize-nominated physicist, who now lives in a crummy apartment and teaches chess to uninterested children – amusing himself by insulting them and their doting mothers.

The self-proclaimed genius has withdrawn from the world except for his hobby of excoriating the human race, when he meets a starving teenage runaway from Mississippi (Evan Rachel Wood), whom he first feeds, then shelters, then marries.

Allen fans are likely to feel that "Whatever Works" works well indeed, if only because it delivers a darker, more hostile take on his usual neurotic preoccupations. Think of Yellnikov as Allen's evil twin. (BI) (92 min.) Rated PG-13 for sexual situations including dialogue, brief nude images and thematic material.

THE PROPOSAL

★ ★ 1/2

When an evil ice-queen publishing exec (Sandra Bullock) faces deportation to Canada because her visa is rejected, the citizenship of her downtrodden, yet marriageable personal assistant (Ryan Reynolds) suddenly becomes a valuable part of his skill set – and the key to a big promotion. There are no surprises, but no major disappointments either, in this bland, predictable, but reasonably pleasant romantic comedy, as they fly off to small-town Alaska to meet his eccentric family, under the watchful eye of a suspicious immigration investigator. And he uses his new position of power to pay her back for all the years of abuse. And true romance sneaks up as the sexual chemistry kicks in. Directed by Anne Fletcher ("27 Dresses"). (BI) (107 min.) Rated PG-13 for sexual content, nudity and language.

YEAR ONE

★ ★ 1/2

Who knew the Old Testament basically took place at the same time as caveman days? Yep, just one valley over. Harold Ramis' antediluvian comedy features the perfectly matched Jack Black and Michael Cera as a couple of hunter/gatherer misfits having comic misadventures in bible land after being expelled from their tribe.

"Year One" is a little slow and episodic, but there are some very funny moments here and there, though it differs from other Ramis comedies by relying a bit too much on gross-out gags. That's no doubt due to the influence of co-producer Judd Apatow ("Knocked Up," "Superbad," "The 40-Year-Old Virgin"). (BI) Rated PG-13 for crude and sexual content throughout, brief strong language and comic violence.

Novelist John Godey's simple and effective pulp novel about a subway hijacker (John Travolta) and the train dispatcher (Denzel Washington) who becomes his reluctant go-between with the city, has now weathered three movie adaptations, and still works remarkably well.

Admirers of solid, well-executed thrillers will find a lot to like here as director Tony Scott ("Top Gun") delivers the action in his signature, crowd-pleasing style: Noisy, flashy and amped to the max. Oscar winner Brian Helgeland ("LA Confidential") wrote the tense and amusing screenplay. (BI) (106 min.) Rated R for violence and pervasive language.

FOOD, INC.

★ ★ ★ 1/2

This well-researched, balanced (considering that reps from the food companies it spotlights declined to be interviewed) and convincing documentary makes the case that the reality of America's mass-market food-production industries is much closer to factory than farm – with alarming by-products.

In addition to the inhumane treatment of livestock and the near-subjugation of farmers, "Food, Inc." emphasizes the dangers arising from a handful of companies monopolizing the majority of the marketplace – and attaining such economic clout that they can influence laws about key issues such as food labeling and genetic engineering. And serious threats to health including E. coli, obesity and diabetes.

Appetizing? No. Important to see? Absolutely. (BI) (94 min.) Rated PG for some thematic material and disturbing images.

IMAGINE THAT

A financial exec (Eddie Murphy) finds solutions to his career problems in his young daughter's imaginary world. Karey Kirkpatrick ("Over the Hedge") directed the comedy. Rated PG for some mild language and brief questionable behavior.

AWAY WE GO

★ ★ ★ 1/2

After stumbling into impending parenthood, a more-or-less directionless couple (John Krasinsky of TV's "The Office" and "Saturday Night Live" alum Maya Rudolph) hit the road to find the perfect place to settle down and raise their child. But their journey quickly turns into nightmarish moms and dads who make the idea of starting a family seem discouraging at best. Directed by Oscar-winner Sam Mendes ("American Beauty"). (BI) (98 min.) Rated R for language and some sexual content.

NORWOOD PARK SUMMER MARKET

The summer season was inaugurated on Saturday, May 30th with the Norwood Park Summer Market at the Signature Bank parking lot at 6400 N. Northwest Highway by Harlem. Over 20 vendors participated in the past two markets, selling everything from recyclable knick-knacks to plants, jewelry, pastries and cookies. The approaching summer months will attract farmer vendors selling fruit and produce.

The dates for the next Markets are: July 25th and August 29th. Tell your friends about it and if you know a farmer/vendor who would still like to sign up please contact Lindsay at: nm.asstadministrator@aldengroup.org

MULTI-CHAMBER SUCCESS!

The June 15th Signature Bank Golf Open fundraiser received excellent reviews from all who participated in the event!

Everything turned out great: from sunny weather to a splendid golf course to tasty food to great company!

It took many efforts from the executive directors: Rita McGovern of the Edison Park Chamber, Jackie Boland of the Sauganash Chamber, Bob Madiar of the Edgebrook Chamber, Ellen Wierzewski of Norwood Park Chamber, and Betsy Lavar of KEBIC.

The Ridgemoor Country Club staff made us feel at home and catered to our guests' every need. Almost 100 golfers enjoyed both golfing as well as networking and socializing, in a great ambience!

The event was attended by our local officials: Ald. Brian Doherty (41st ward), State Rep. Mike McAuliffe (20th District), Ald. Patrick Levar (45th Ward), Ald. Margaret Laurino (39th Ward), Ill. Stete Rep. John D'Amico (8th District) and State Sen. Ira Silverstein (15th District).

Many thanks to All who supported this event through participation! Special thanks go to the naming sponsor, Signature Bank and to Norwood Crossing for the Gold Sponsorship! Thank you to Chicago Sweet Connection for their excellent pastries for the sweet table.

We are already looking forward to next year's Golf Open, an even better one! Meantime, let us cherish the good memories!

NORWOOD PARK FALL FEST

A Fall festival has been a long standing tradition for the Norwood Park Chamber.

It was called the Pumpkin Fest and it was held on the beautiful grounds of Norwood Crossing. Much has changed since then. A brand new wing of Norwood Crossing has been built and our Fest is now held at Centennial Park by the restored Norwood Park Train Station.

This year's fest will take place on Saturday, September 19th, all day, and it will be an early start to the Halloween celebrations. Lots of entertainment both for kids and adults. Music and a D.J., food and fun. Save the date!

Andy Luttrell will perform funny, interactive magic tricks at the Morton Grove Public Library July 11.

FAMILY FRIENDLY

Talking drawing is magician's most loved trick

By MYRNA PETLICKI
Contributor

Andy Luttrell has been fascinated by magic since he was 4 years old. "My aunt got me a magic set for my birthday, and that's what got me going," he said. "Then I went to the library all the time and picked up magic books. I saw magicians at other people's parties and developed a big interest and then I started doing it myself. I've been performing shows for 10 years."

Luttrell will be working his magic at the Morton Grove Public Library's Baxter Room Auditorium, 6140 Lincoln Ave., 2 p.m. Saturday, July 11. "It's a lot of interactive, funny magic tricks that get the kids involved and excited," he said. "It's good for most ages."

Following Luttrell's performance, 15 kids, ages 9-12, picked by lottery, will attend a magic class with him. They will also be given tricks and a magic wand so they can continue practicing magic tricks at home.

Luttrell, who is studying psychology in college, said that one of his most popular tricks is a drawing that comes to life "and starts talking to me and the audience."

For details, call (847) 965-4220.

Cool at the pool

Forget the forecast, it will be Winter in July at the Devonshire Aquatic Center, 4334 Greenwood St., Skokie, noon-4 p.m., Sunday, July 12. Activities will include a snowball toss, ice cream eating and snowman building.

For details, call (847) 674-1500, ext. 3200.

A tropical retreat

... is closer than you think. Your family will enjoy the fun-filled climate at Island in the City Festival, Norridge Community Park, 4631 N. Overhill, July 9-12. There will be a carnival midway, musical entertainment, including performances by more than a dozen bands, and food for sale. There will also be a business expo. Hours are 5-10 p.m. Thursday, 5-11 p.m. Friday, noon-11 p.m. Saturday and noon-10 p.m. Sunday. Admission is free.

HOROSCOPES

For the week of July 13 - July 19

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your Aries leadership qualities can help bring order out of all that confusion, whether it's on the job or in the home. But be careful to guide, not goad, others into following you.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Applying a more personal view to a job-linked issue could help provide better insight into those persistent problems. Use your keen Taurean logic to cut through the double-talk.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Taking some time off could be the best way to get through that seemingly endless round of demands. You'll return refreshed and ready to tackle things from a new perspective.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Restoring a sagging professional relationship takes a lot of effort. By all means, state your position. But also make sure you pay close attention to the other person's point of view.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) A hot prospect intrigues the Big Cat, who is always on the prowl for a promising investment. But be careful that this "promise" has a chance of being kept. Check it out more carefully.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A friend could use some of your compassion and concern. If he or she doesn't ask for help, be sure you step up and make the first move. Also, check out a new career possibility.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) You might have difficulty getting your opinions heard because of all the noise being made by the other side. But hang in there. Others should line up with you once they learn the facts.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Offering to help a colleague is commendable. But before you commit your time and effort, check to see if that person's situation is all that he or she has led you to believe it is.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) You should soon be seeing positive results from your recent efforts on behalf of a family member. On another matter, check that you have all the facts regarding a job assignment.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Your aspects favor closer family relationships this week. Take time for visits, whether in person, by phone, by mail or in cyberspace. Let them know how important they are to you.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A missed opportunity isn't always a negative. Maybe your instincts are telling you not to rush into something you "thought" was worthwhile. Make time for family this weekend.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Your sense of humor helps you get through a tricky situation. But some stick-in-the-muds might not be so willing to make the changes that you and others agree are necessary.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a gift for making everyone you know – or even just met – feel important and welcome in your life.

Are You Ready for a Dog?

While recently surfing the net, I came across a news article relating to pets and college students. The article mentioned that animal shelters and rescue groups see an increase in the number of abandoned dogs around the times when college students graduate and/or are homebound for the summer. Unfortunately, many young people decide to get a dog as a companion during the school year and then when they leave school, the pets are abandoned because either they cant bring the dog home or they are no longer interested in caring for them.

According to Animals & Teens: The Ultimate Teen Guide (Gail Green/Scarecrow Press), "college life definitely changes the amount of time and money students have to devote to an animal. Without the safety net of family, students can find themselves with problems and an animal that ends up neglected or not taken care of properly."

Whether you are a college student or you and your family are considering getting a puppy or an older dog, ask yourself the following questions. They will help you to determine your readiness for a canine companion.

1. Do we understand the financial responsibility? This should include vet care, food, bedding, equipment and possible emergency medical care.
2. Are we willing to devote the necessary time and energy to raise a well behaved dog?
3. Is the entire family in agreement regarding the addition of a dog? Will all family members contribute to the different responsibilities involved?
4. Are we all willing to accept some lifestyle changes? This will include muddy paws, walks, potty breaks, potty accidents, and maybe even dog hair if your dog sheds.
5. Have we done our homework regarding the breed we are considering?
6. Are our children old enough to have a dog? Many children can contribute to dog training.
7. Perhaps the most important question to ask is: Why are we considering getting a dog?

Pet ownership can be an extremely rewarding experience. However, it is not a responsibility that should be taken lightly or on impulse. If we take the necessary time to consider some of the elements involved, perhaps the lives of many dogs can be improved.

Delaney, Margaret M.
Margaret M. Delaney, age 92, Skokie resident and Saint Joan of Arc parishioner since 1975, beloved wife of the late Leo P. Delaney; loving mother of Patrick, Richard (Kathy), James (Anita) Delaney; dear grandmother of Sean(Alicia), Ian (his Fiancé, Sarah), Brendan and Christopher Delaney; great grandmother of Aubrielle and Aidan; fond sister of John (Fran) and the late Vincent (the late Rita) Jennings, C. F. D.; aunt to many nieces and nephews; dear cousin to many in County Mayo, Ireland, loving daughter of the late Martin and Delia Jennings. Margaret was born and raised in Saint Vincent DePaul Parish, graduated with perfect attendance from The Immaculata School for Girls on Lake Shore Drive in 1934. She moved to Maternity BVM Parish after the end of World War II and after thirty years moved to Saint Joan of Arc in Skokie/Evanston. She was an active member of the Saint Joan of Arc Seniors Club and supported the Saint Joan of Arc Bakers for charity. She raised three sons who graduated from Saint Patrick's High School and earned eight college degrees. Her grandson, Captain Sean Delaney, served two tours in Iraq with the 1st Armored Division. Margaret loved gardening, the Chicago Cubs, Happy Foods, the Skokie Review, the Skokie Library, Lake Michigan, the Chicago Skyline, and Chicago politics. Both of her parents were from Westport, Ireland and she was their first born in America. After high school she worked as a general accountant at businesses in downtown Chicago. She always balanced her checkbook to the penny. During World War II Margaret married her husband, Sgt. Leo Delaney, and moved to Fort Bliss in El Paso, Texas. She contracted pneumonia while working at a meat packing plant and was hospitalized. Due to a shortage of penicillin she had to have surgery to remove two ribs for tubes to drain her lungs. This surgery saved her life and surprisingly the life of her first child, Patrick. Her father, Martin, worked in Upton Sinclair's Jungle on the south side of Chicago during his first years in America. Her mother Delia worked for Dr. Percy, a nationally recognized surgeon at Augustana Hospital. A few years after their marriage in 1915, Dr. Percy operated on Martin and saved his life. He went on to live forty more years after he was diagnosed with a terminal illness and given six months to live. Margaret's husband, Leo, served in the CBI Theater- Burma during World War II and retired from Illinois Bell Telephone Company. Margaret served as his primary caretaker for thirteen years after he had a disabling stroke. The family appreciated everyone who helped Margaret from Saint Joan of Arc, Saint Francis Hospital, Dr. David Pike and all the dedicated caretakers Funeral Info please call Donnellan Family Funeral Services (847) 675-1990.

A RESOLUTION ASCERTAINING THE PREVAILING WAGE RATESFOR LABORERS, WORKERS AND MECHANICS EMPLOYED IN PUBLIC WORKS OF EAST PRAIRIE SCHOOL DISTRICT NUMBER 73, COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS
WHEREAS, The State of Illinois has enacted "An ACT regulating wages of laborers, mechanics and other workmen employed in any public works by the State, county, city or any public body or any political subdivision or by any one under contract for public works, "approved June 26, 1941, as amended (Ill. Rev. State. 1987, Ch. 48, par 39s-1 et. seq. as amended by Public Acts 86-799 and 86-693) and
WHEREAS, the aforesaid Act requires that the Board of Education of School District No. 73 investigate and ascertain the prevailing rate of wages as defined in said Act for laborers, mechanics and other workers in the locality of said School District employed in performing construction of public works, for said School District.
NOW THEREFORE, Be It Resolved by the President and Board of Education of East Prairie School District No 73, Cook County, Illinois, as follows:
SECTION 1: To the extent and as required by "an Act regulating wages of laborers, mechanics and other workers employed in any public works by the state, county, city or public body or any political subdivision or by anyone under contract for public works," approved June 26, 1941, as amended, the general prevailing rate of wages in this locality for laborers, mechanics and other workers engaged in the construction of public works coming under the jurisdiction of this District is hereby ascertained to be the same as the prevailing rate of wages for construction work in Cook County areas as determined by the Department of Labor of the State of Illinois as of June, 2009, a copy of that determination being attached hereto and incorporated herein by reference. The definition of any terms appearing in this Resolution which are also used in the aforesaid Act shall be the same as in said Act.
SECTION 2: Nothing herein contained shall be construed to apply said general prevailing rate of wages as herein ascertained to any work or employment except public works construction of this District to the extent required by the aforesaid Act.
SECTION 3: The Secretary of the Board of Education shall publicly post or keep available for inspection by any interested party in the main office of this District this determination or any revisions of such prevailing rate of wage.
SECTION 4: The Secretary of the Board of Education shall mail a copy of this determination to any employer, and to any association of employers and to any person or association of employees who have filed, or file their names and addresses, requesting copies of any determination stating the particular rates and the particular class of workers whose wages will be affected by such rates
SECTION 5: The Secretary of the Board of Education shall promptly file a certified copy of this Resolution with both the Secretary of State Index Division and the Department of Labor of the State of Illinois.
SECTION 6: Within 30 days after the filing of a certified copy of this Resolution with the Secretary of State, the Secretary of the Board of Education shall cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation within the area a copy of this Resolution and such publication shall constitute notice that the determination is effective and that this is the determination of this public body
Section 7: This Resolution shall be in full force and effect upon its passage and approval as required by law.
ADOPTED this 17th day of JUNE 2009.

Kids

Kidwinks.com is a Web site that provides free and easy information about Chicagoland's hottest family-friendly activities, free or budget-friendly events and easy-to-access activities, developed by Nina Taluc and Jean Lemke, two Park Ridge moms. The database includes relevant listings from area museums, park districts, libraries, city and county organizations, businesses and more. Parents can quickly click through the Events calendar to find out what is happening on any given day, plan ahead for a special weekend or when guests come to visit. Kidwinks members, who join for free, can also sign up to receive e-mail reminders of upcoming events they do not want to miss. Cruise Through the Activities Area to find activities that meet specific interests or to get ideas of new places to visit. The Kids Eat Free Calendar is a popular feature, showing for any given day where kids can eat free or at a discount. Free and discounted admission days at area zoos and museums are listed on the Events calendar for easy access and planning. Kidwinks' members can sort any search result list in order of distance from their house, so they can choose those closest to them. Members can also sign up for kidwinks' weekly newsletter sent by e-mail, which highlights some of their favorite picks for the upcoming week, and also announces regular contests for prizes such as gift cards, tickets to area shows and amusement centers and products. JOB SHADOW DAY

Biz community welcomes teens into their world

On June 26, the Niles Chamber of Commerce and Industry and the Niles Teen Center co-hosted the Fifth Annual Job Shadow Day.

Thirteen teenagers were matched with local businesses based on their skills and interests. The Job Shadow Day is designed to provide teenagers with a look into the business world, and show them how their education can translate into a rewarding future.

For the local businesses that participated, Job Shadow Day helped forge personally satisfying connections with young people that could contribute to building a more-prepared workplace of tomorrow.

Michael Krone, an eighth-grader, "shadowed" at C&M Auto Service. He said he liked "to see the car being worked on in the shop and all the tools used."

The Niles Teen Center consists of sixth- through 12th-graders who wish to have a positive effect on their community. The event was an opportunity to show local businesses what great kids live in their own back yard. Just as the teenagers were impressed with the businesses, the businesses were equally as impressed with the youngsters.

Chuck Hartogh, owner of C&M Auto Service, stated he "enjoyed most exposing the youth to the 4day-to-day operations of our business."

Other participating businesses noted the students were "eager and enthusiastic."

The Niles Chamber of Commerce and Industry and the Niles Teen Center indicated that they value partnership and hope to continue to collaborate on future events.

The Niles Chamber reported it was pleased the following local businesses participated: St. Matthew Center for Health, Niles Animal Hospital, Golf-Mil Animal Hospital, Athletico, C&M Auto Service, Golf Mill Shopping Center, Niles Police Department and the Village of Niles.

For more information to participate as workplace host contact the Niles Chamber, (847) 268-8180, or for student information contact Niles Teen Center, (847) 375-8949.

Loyola University

College of Arts and Science's Dean's List

It is with great pleasure that I write to congratulate you on your scholastic performance during the second semester of the 2008-09 academic year. Your achievements have merited your being named to the College of Arts and Sciences' Dean's List.

In tradition of Jesuit higher education, the College of Arts and Sciences of Loyola University of Chicago is dedicated to excellence in undergraduate education. An achievement like yours is a concrete demonstration of that excellence, as well as a most satisfying reward for the efforts that you and your family have undoubtedly put into your education.

Terretta & Williams

Austin and Mary Ann Terretta of Park Ridge, Illinois are pleased to announce the engagement of their daughter Megan Elizabeth Terretta to Philip Michael Williams. Philip is the son of Helen Williams, of Prospect Heights and formerly of Park Ridge, and the late Charles M. Williams.

The future bride is a 1998 graduate of Maine South, a 2002 graduate of the University of Dayton and is currently earning her MA at Northeastern Illinois University. She is a Special Education Teacher at Glenbrook South High School. The future groom is a 1998 graduate of Maine South and a 2004 graduate of Elmhurst College. He is an Estimator for Ragner Benson in Park Ridge.

The happy couple plans to wed August 8, 2009 at St. Paul of the Cross Church.

Emerson Street and Dee Road. In unincorporated Maine Township (rescheduled because of rain). The second summer concert, featuring rock n' roll by the Juke Box Band, will be at 7 p.m. July 24, also at Dee Park. Both concerts are free and open to the public.

The Golf Maine Park District has taken a new and innovative approach in raising much-needed funds for the park and spreading the word on energy efficiency. The district offers a selection of ENERGY STAR qualified compact fluorescent light bulbs for sale to the public from a Lights for Learning kiosk. Proceeds from the sale of every bulb will directly fund the scholarship program sponsored by the district. The scholarship program allows children the opportunity to attend camp when they may not have the resources to do so on their own. The kiosk will also house the Lights for Learning teacher toolkits, designed for educators and organization leaders, to provide informational materials on the overall Lights for Learning Program. ENERGY STAR Activity Books for children, as well as ENERGY STAR home energy-conservation and electronics information, will also be available. A recycling bin for used CFLs will also be available. CFLs may be purchased at Feldman Park, 8800 Kathy Lane, Niles, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Call (847) 297-3000.

The Golf Maine Park District offers the community an opportunity to recycle paper products. A recognizable green-and-yellow container supplied by Abitibi Bowater was dropped off in the Feldman Park lot, 8800 Kathy Lane, near the corner of Western Avenue and Kathy Lane. Products that can be recycled in this container include: newspapers, magazines, office paper (fax and copy), shopping catalogs, mail and envelopes, catalogs, folders, colored paper and shredded paper (bagged); no cardboard or phone books. All money raised will fund the scholarship program, allowing children to attend summer camp and other programs. Call (847) 297-3000 or go towww.paperretriever.com/.

Golf Maine Park District is taking registration for:

Youth Basketball – Summer basketball for fourth-sixth graders runs from June-August. Games are on Fridays and Sundays at Feldman Recreation Center.

Concerts in the Park - Bring a chair and enjoy the music of Maddrum from 6-8:30 p.m. July 17 in Dee Park. Free.

Adult Bingo: 10 a.m.-2 p.m., first Wednesday of the month, split-the-pot bingo at the Feldman Recreation Center.

Hot Shots Sports: Hot Shots Sports and the Golf Maine Park District have joined to bring various sports classes and clinics. Offered are Baseball, Basketball, Tennis, and Soccer classes. Stop by the Feldman or Dee Park Recreation Centers for details.

Summer Camp for kindergarten through sixth-graders includes sports and games, arts and crafts, playground activities, field trips, spray park, swimming and more. Two-week sessions are offered. Hours are 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Before and after camp child care is also available. Register early.

Preschool: Early registration is important to ensure child a space for the fall 2009 semester. A five-day morning program and a four-day afternoon program are offered for children turning 4 years old by Sept. 1, 2009.

Cricket: Dee Park now has a cricket pitch that will be ready for use this spring. Call the park district for rental fees or availability.

Visit one of the Park District offices, Feldman Recreation Center, 8800 Kathy Lane (one block south of Golf Road on Western Avenue), Niles; or Dee Park, at the corner of Dee and Emerson Roads, Des Plaines; or call (847) 297-3000.

Religion

Ezra-Habonim, the Niles Township Jewish Congregation, 4500 Dempster St., Skokie, offers introduction to Judaism and beginning adult Hebrew classes on Sundays and monthly Yiddish. Members and nonmembers are welcome. Call (847) 675-4141, or go to www.ehnt.org.

Scouts

For the past four years the Girl Scout Movement has been going through a nationwide process of transformation ~ from the uniforms Girl Scouts wear and the programs they take part in to the structure and strategy of the organization to best serve girls. Four area councils working toward becoming Girl Scouts of Northern Illinois have launched a new Web site. This new Web site will be the vehicle for up-to-the minute information on the progress of the realignment of the four councils into one high-capacity council to be known as Girl Scouts of Northern Illinois on Oct. 1. User-friendly and secure links are at www.girlscoutsni.org.

Maine Seniors

The Maine Township MaineStreamers program offers a variety of opportunities for residents 55 and older. Membership includes a free subscription to the MaineStreamers monthly newsletter, which details activities for the upcoming month. Most activities are at Maine Town Hall, 1700 Ballard Road, Park Ridge, unless otherwise noted. Contact the MaineStreamers, (847) 297-2510, or go to www.mainetownship.com.

MaineStreamers' Women's Tea is scheduled from 10:30 a.m. to noon July 23. The cost: $3 (includes refreshments). The day's discussion topic will be Women's Health Issues led by Dr. Josephine Dlugopolski-Gach, assistant professor of Internal Medicine of Loyola University Medical Center. She will discuss prevention techniques and the importance of cardiovascular risk-reduction for women.

Quilts in Bloom ~ Amish Country Trip will be from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. Aug. 18. The cost is $88 members/$93 guests. The day begins with a trunk show featuring Rebecca Haarer, a collector of vintage Indiana quilts. She will discuss the history of Amish quilting. A family-style lunch follows at Das Dutchman Essenhaus consisting of chicken and roast beef complete with sides, beverage and dessert. There will be time allotted for shopping. Then board the bus for a narrated tour of the 12 quilt gardens of Amish country. Cost is $88, members; $93, guests. Trip departs from Golf Mill Shopping Center in Niles.

A trip to Fort Atkinson, Wis., to see "The Witnesses" is offered from 8 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. July 30. "The Witnesses" tells the story of the birth of the church as seen through the eyes of Peter and Paul through music and storytelling. Lunch starts with sea scallops wrapped in a crisp potato crust along with fresh baked breads. The main course will be chicken roulade, a skinless breast of chicken stuffed with morel mushrooms and prosciutto ham, served with rice with sausage and fresh asparagus plus key lime cheesecake for dessert. The cost for members is $86; nonmembers, $91.

Maine Township is asking for assistance in locating good, reliable handymen in the area. If you know of someone and would like to submit a name, contact Therese Tully, (847) 297-2510, Ext. 260, and she will forward a form to complete.

Maine Township, in cooperation with the Cook County Sheriff's Office, is collecting used cell phones to be converted for emergency 911 use for seniors. Donate phones at Maine Town Hall

Seniors

Super Seniors, a Jewish Seniors group for people older than 60, meets 3-4:30 p.m. the first and third Sundays at the North Shore University Health System Skokie Hospital, 9600 Gross Point Road, Skokie. Topics include current events, books, jokes and Israel. Call (847) 583-9328.

Senior Center

The Niles Senior Center needs donations of items or gift certificates from various businesses for prizes for their "Picture This" photo contest. Any business that makes a donation will be mentioned in the newsletter, as well as on a certificate accompanying the photos. The photos will be on display at the Village Hall as well as at the Senior Center. To donate, call Kathlyn Williams, program coordinator, Niles Senior Center, (847) 588-8420 or fax (847) 588-8455.

The Niles Senior Center offers free membership to Niles residents age 62 and older, and their spouses. Only center members may register for classes or trips, or purchase tickets. Drop by the Niles Senior Center, 999 Civic Center Drive, Niles, or call (847) 588-8420, for an application.

Support

La Leche League, a breastfeeding support group, will meet at 7:30 p.m. July 9 at Holy Family Medical Center, 100 N. River Road, Des Plaines, in the Helen Summers Room. Individual questions and concerns will be discussed. Expecting and nursing mothers (and their babies) are encouraged to attend. La Leche League is a nonprofit, non-sectarian organization that helps mothers who want to breastfeed through education, encouragement and mother-to-mother support.

Let them eat crêpes!

Local crêpe chefs delight diners with visual gestures

By SHERYL DEVORE
Contributor

Whether Marie Antoinette truly uttered the words "Let them eat cake" to the downtrodden peasants right before the onset of the French Revolution remains up for debate.

Not up for debate, however, is that the French adore cooking with butter, flour, milk and eggs.

And if the poor beheaded queen were here today she might adjust her dictum to "Let them eat crêpes," because after all, these French delicacies are suffused with the requisite butter, flour, milk and eggs.

For Bastille Day on July 14, it seems appropriate to celebrate with this true French creation — a thin pancake with either simple or elaborate fillings.

Traditional sweet crêpes, those filled with fruit spreads, syrup and other sugar-laden delights, are made with wheat flour.

Savory crêpes, sometimes called galettes, are made with buckwheat flour and are gluten-free. Fillings for galettes include cheese, ham and other meats as well as ratatouille and other vegetable mixtures.

Crêpes were created in the heart of the countryside in Brittany, France.

Imagine sitting in an outdoor cafe down the road from Monet's garden in Giverny sipping a fine chardonnay and eating a mushroom and cheese galette as the summer breezes waft in the trees.

The American twist

Mais bien sûr (but of course), Americans have to put their own twist on European cuisine, and that's precisely what's being done at the Magic Pan Crêpe Stand French Café in Northbrook.

Crêpe chef Gus Cruz (no Frenchman, he), creates three different batters — a sweet, white flour batter for dessert crêpes, a buckwheat flour batter to fill with turkey and ham or served on the side with a salad, and a corn-based batter for pizza, quesadilla and Santa Fe crêpes.

"Lots of people like spicy food," he said. So the Mexican crêpes are popular. Cruz favors the pizza crêpe, made with corn batter, filled with mozzarella cheese and topped with marinara sauce.

His second favorite, however, definitely has European overtones. It's a sweet batter crêpe rolled and filled with Nutella — a chocolate hazelnut spread created in Italy, long found in European grocery stores and now available in the United States. Cruz tops his Nutella crêpe with fresh strawberries. In Paris, locals enjoy their hot crêpes spread with Nutella and nothing else.

Technique

Making a crêpe requires a special, thin batter and a very hot frying pan with a thin film of oil or butter on the bottom. The batter needs to be spread evenly on the pan by either tilting it or using a spatula.

At Melt Gelato and Crêpe Café in Vernon Hills, crêpe chefs learned to spread the batter from company owner Brandon Barwin.

"After pouring the batter onto the grill, you make circular motions with a crêpe spreader until the batter is evenly spread to the edges," said Barwin, based in California with franchisees in Illinois and other states. "It has to be done quickly because thin pancakes cook fast."

Barwin's crêpe recipe includes a type of flour called lupsan, which he says is popular in France.

When entertaining you can make crêpes ahead of time, put them in the refrigerator and reheat when ready, but cooking them right before you serve might be a fun, gastronomical pleasure on Bastille Day.

Here's a recipe Barwin said he likes from www.foodnetwork.com. More crêpe recipes are available at http://allrecipes.com/Recipes/Breakfast-and-Brunch/Crepes/Main.aspx

Basic Crêpes

2 large eggs
3/4 C milk
1/2 C water
1 C flour
3 T melted butter
Butter for coating the pan

In a blender, combine all of the ingredients and pulse for 10 seconds. Place the crêpe batter in the refrigerator for 1 hour. This allows the bubbles to subside so the crêpes will be less likely to tear during cooking. The batter will keep for up to 48 hours.

Heat a small non-stick pan. Add butter to coat. Pour 1 ounce of batter into the center of the pan and swirl to spread evenly.

Cook for 30 seconds and flip. Cook for another 10 seconds and remove to the cutting board. Lay them out flat so they can cool. Continue until all batter is gone.

After they have cooled you can stack them and store in sealable plastic bags in the refrigerator for several days or in the freezer for up to 2 months. When using frozen crêpes, thaw on a rack before gently peeling apart.

■ Savory Variation: Add 1/4 tsp. salt and 1/4 C chopped fresh herbs, spinach or sun-dried tomatoes to the egg mixture.

■ Sweet Variation: Add 2 1/2 T sugar, 1 tsp. vanilla extract and 2 T of your favorite liqueur to the egg mixture. Makes 17 to 22 crêpes.

Teen Center

The Niles Youth Council is a group of teens from sixth through 12th grade who provide support and advice on Teen Center programming, develop leadership skills and work to serve the Niles community. They meet the first and third Thursday of every month at 5:30 p.m. Stop to check them out. Call (847) 375-8949. The Teen Center is located at 373 Golf Mill Center in Niles.

The Teen Center is working with the Niles Senior Center to find teenagers willing to help senior citizens with leaf raking, snow shoveling and general yard work while earning money. Complete the Niles Teen Job Connection form available on the center Web site and return it to Mark at the center. Information will be shared with the director of the center and contacts will be made with residents in need of services.

Register your bike through the Niles Teen Center or Niles Police Department. Every year the Niles Police Department accumulates a number of lost or stolen bikes and is forced to sell them at an auction because their owners cannot be identified. By registering your bike, you are issued a Village of Niles Police Department sticker and your bicycle's information is entered into a national database allowing the Police Department to reconnect you if it is ever lost or stolen.

Volunteers

NorthShore University HealthSystem Hospice Volunteer Program is offering a number of rewarding opportunities for compassionate people who are committed to working with patients and families dealing with terminal illness. Day time hospice volunteers are needed to provide companionship and emotional support to patients and relief for their caregivers. Volunteers are also needed to provide transportation, run errands perform light household tasks and more. An eight-week training course will be offered Wednesdays from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. beginning Sept. 23 at the Skokie office. If you are looking to lend 3 or 4 hours per week, call Nadine Francione, (847) 982-4365.

Junior Achievement of Chicago is a nonprofit organization focused on inspiring and preparing young people to succeed in the global economy. Volunteers from businesses are trained and given materials to go into a classroom and teach students from kindergarten through high school about financial literacy and entrepreneurship-work readiness skills. Partnerships have been formed with some teachers at Niles North, Central and West High Schools for JA programs this school year. Volunteers are needed. Each program consists of five visits to the classroom for about 45-50 minutes each. If interested call Kristin Goodwin, operations manager, Junior Achievement of Chicago, (708) 456-1400, Ext. 245, e-mail kgoodwin@jachicago.org or go to www.jachicago.org.

The Men's Association of Advocate Lutheran General Hospital has recently expanded its role and membership base in the community and adopted a new name to reflect that change: The Men's and Women's Association of Lutheran General Hospital. The change will allow the nonprofit organization to sponsor more events, encourage greater participation in annual activities, such as the golf outing and fund-raising sales, expand opportunities for men and women to take on leadership roles, and increase collaborative efforts with the hospital's development office, Service League and the Advocate Charitable Foundation. The organization's donations have assisted Lutheran General in expanding its programs, purchasing state-of-the-art medical equipment and pursuing research and education efforts. Call (847) 723-6105.

Thellemer impressed with summer turnout

By MATT HARNESS
mharness@pioneerlocal.com

GIRLS CROSS COUNTRY – Most teenagers would rather hang out with friends and relax in the summer than work up a sweat by pounding the pavement.

Mary Thellemer knows that all too well.

But the fifth-year Maine East coach sees a shift in priorities with her athletes this summer break. Thellemer said the 16 girls out for the team are the most in the four summers of her training program. Two girls first showed up for the summer workouts in 2006.

"Very impressive," she said of this year's participation. "The girls are committed."

The Demons started June 15 and run three days a week at 6 a.m., mixing distance and speed training. The girls are running today in a 5K race on Chicago's lakefront that is sponsored by the Chicago Fire Department. A trip to train in Michigan is scheduled for later this summer.

"I'm really happy with them," said Thellemer, who also is back active after giving birth to her daughter 10 weeks ago. "I know how hard it is for the girls to get up in the mornings, never mind what it does to me. I am incredibly impressed by them."

Thellemer has witnessed the program grow from six girls in 2005 season to a quality group that qualified for sectionals last fall.

"I'll be honest," Thellemer said. "When I sat outside at my first cross country meet at Maine West and watched the girls run around these blue cones, I thought this is a stupid sport. How am I going to convince girls to do this? But running can do so much for you, especially these girls.

"I don't care why they come out. I just want them out there."

Thellemer expects seven of the nine girls from last season's regional roster to return. The lone loss to graduation was Marian Lopez.

Back are Zaklina Theil, Zenya Yap, Angela Jones, Karen Ho, Aahuti Patel, Cia Mathew and Britany Trujillo. Last year's top runner Michelle Zdobylak hasn't run this summer.

"The girls are seeing the benefits of running," Thellemer said. "And other girls are seeing that anybody can do it. Even though it's hard, anybody can do it. There are a lot of good surprises that come from running."

Wins — not numbers — proved Cook's worth

By DENNIS MAHONEY
dmahoney@pioneerlocal.com

Bob Cook didn't usually blow hitters away when he took his turn on the mound for New Trier's baseball team this spring.

All he did was beat them.

Cook blossomed as a pitcher — not just a thrower — to lead the Trevians to their second Illinois High School Association state baseball crown in school history this spring and has been selected the Pioneer Press North Stars Player of the Year.

Cook tied a school record with 12 victories, against two losses, mostly by outsmarting opposing hitters. He also batted .402 and was an incredible 16-for-22 at the plate during New Trier's postseason run.

The senior right-hander did strike out 86 in 89 innings pitched, but his earned-run average of 1.58 was mostly achieved with perfect location and the ability to throw strikes almost at will.

"I never like to compare kids, but Bob is right up there in the team picture with the best pitchers we've had," said New Trier head coach Mike Napoleon. "He's such an intelligent kid (35 ACT score) and I think he'll be a great pitching coach some day. When he was out there he knew the holes in every kid's swing, and he knew how to attack those holes. He knew how to use all of his pitches, and he really came on like gangbusters for us this year."

Cook, who will attend Amherst University in the fall, was the only returning pitcher with much experience on the Trevian staff this year after posting a 3-0 mark as a junior.

His real improvement came in the summer, when he was named the top pitcher for Wilmette's American Legion team.

His success carried over to the spring and included a one-hit performance against Maine South when he faced the minimum 21 batters in that seven-inning win.

"I've never been one of the hardest throwers in the program. Pitching is just a matter of throwing strikes and getting ahead of hitters," Cook said. "If you watch any high school game, you see pitchers who have trouble with their command at their fastball. Once you get that command — and if you have command of a second pitch, too — then the hitters don't know what's coming next.

"What really helped me this year is the confidence that the coaches had in me to get the job done. If you think you can beat the best, then you want the ball, and they kept giving me the ball."

FIRST TEAM

P - John Nasshan, Niles West senior: Bradley University recruit did it all for the Wolves, suffering his only loss in a 10-1 season to eventual state champion New Trier. Struck out 60 in 52 innings pitched and posted an ERA of 2.21. Also batted .422 with five home runs.

C - Josh Levy, Niles North senior: Three-year all-conference selection saved his best for last, hitting a robust .451 with 41 hits and 34 RBI as a senior. Also stole 15 bases in 21 attempts.

IF - Tim Duxbury, New Trier senior: Glue in the middle of the infield for the Class 4A state champions. Eighteen of his 39 hits went for extra bases and he tied for the team lead with seven home runs. Batted .355 overall and scored 34 runs.

IF - Tom Endres, Niles West senior: Selected to the Illinois Coaches Association all-star game and called "the best second baseman I've had in 22 years at Niles West" by head coach Garry Gustafson. He'll play at Fullerton Junior College in California after hitting .470 and committing only three errors all season in 89 chances.

IF - Jonathon Hall, New Trier senior: Line drives jumped off his bat all spring, including five doubles, five triples and four home runs. Batted .369 and drove in 28 runs.

IF - Tom Rafferty, Loyola senior: Rafferty provided pop in the bottom half of the Loyola order with an astonishing .770 slugging percentage. Twenty of his 33 hits went for extra bases and he drove in 34 runs, second best on the team.

OF - Luke Lopatka, Loyola senior: Batted .384 with a team-high 16 stolen bases in 19 attempts for the Ramblers.

OF - Charlie Tilson, New Trier sophomore: He could bunt for a hit or belt the ball over the fence. Opposing pitchers needed to pick their poison as Tilson anchored the Trevian defense in center and batted .409 with a team-high 47 hits.

OF - Sean Witt, Evanston senior: Hit at close to a .500 clip for most of the season before finishing at .378 with 11 doubles, three triples and two home runs. And base runners had to respect his gun of an arm in right field.

DH - Jack Havey, Loyola senior: Loyola's lethal weapon at the plate drove in a team-high 43 runs with his 40 hits, including 10 doubles and 10 home runs, with a .422 batting average. Northwestern University recruit also won six of seven decisions with two saves on the mound.

Demons look to regroup after losing 15 seniors

By MATT HARNESS
mharness@pioneerlocal.com

BOYS SOCCER – Vic DiPrizio still marvels about what his Maine East team was able to accomplish last season.

The Demons won a program-record 17 matches, captured a regional championship, upset Loyola in the sectional semifinals and played in a sectional final, where they lost to eventual state champion New Trier.

"The kids did a fantastic job," DiPrizio said. "That's the good news."

Of course, the Demons, who have a little more than a month before preseason practice starts Aug. 12, hope to continue the success. Trouble is, they lost 15 seniors from last fall's club, the first East team to win a regional title since Bob Dallaske's team did it more than two decades ago.

"That's the downside," DiPrizio said of the major losses from the roster. "But I am always excited to start any season. I am also excited about the all the other opportunities for the other kids to step up and do the job."

The two biggest losses to graduation were midfielder James Kelly and goalie Milan Tijanic. Kelly was an all-stater, while Tijanic posted 15 shutouts in his final two seasons at keeper.

DiPrizio has been keeping a watchful eye on the Demons this summer as they play in the CSL's league, which began its second year June 22 and runs through July 16. East practices twice a week and plays Tuesdays and Thursdays. The Demons entered the week 2-1-1.

"We're holding our own," DiPrizio said. "I want the kids to play as many games as possible, especially this year. We really don't know yet who we have."

Rising seniors Damian Lewandowski and Josh Swoboda are two veterans back to the varsity with starting experience.

Lewandowski played in the midfield with Kelly a year ago and the two tied for the team lead in goals with 12.

"We expect Damian to step it up," DiPrizio said. "It's going to be hard, but he does have the potential to do it."

Swoboda will return as the team's stopper on defense. His presence is made more important with the loss of Tijanic in goal.

"He's the heart of our team," DiPrizio said of Swoboda. "He anchors the defense and provides us overall leadership. We expect him to have a great year."

Others DiPrizio expects to contribute are seniors Dino Atic, Tom Pytel, Nikko Andriotis, juniors Ben Vazquez, junior Petar Tijanic and sophomore Luis Ortiz.

Ortiz was the sophomore team goalie last season and is slated to start in goal on varsity.

"We are hoping to develop him to be our goalie for the next two years," DiPrizio said.

In an effort to build up the defense, DiPrizio said he's moving Atic and Vazquez to different positions this fall. Atic, who scored three goals and had five assists as a forward last year, will play defense. Vazquez will go from outside midfielder to outside defender, a position he plays for his club team.

"We need to reinforce what we lost," DiPrizio said.

Loyola University
College of Arts and Science's Dean's List

It is with great pleasure that I write to congratulate you on your scholastic performance during the second semester of the 2008-09 academic year. Your achievements have merited your being named to the College of Arts and Sciences' Dean's List.

In tradition of Jesuit higher education, the College of Arts and Sciences of Loyola University of Chicago is dedicated to excellence in undergraduate education. An achievement like yours is a concrete demonstration of that excellence, as well as a most satisfying reward for the efforts that you and your family have undoubtedly put into your education.

Two different approaches, same result for ND's Angelini

By DAN SHALIN
dshalin@pioneerlocal.com

BOYS TRACK – Recent Notre Dame High School graduate Mike Angelini had a bit of a different demeanor while training for track than he did at football practice.

"In (football) I was the super-serious guy. You would not see me smile or hear me talk. I would just get down to business (at practice) and get home," he said. "But I felt that if you brought that kind of attitude to track, it would be a long boring season.

"Going out in March and training in the cold is more difficult if you don't try and have fun with it, let loose."

Not that having different approaches to practice affected the way Angelini performed when it was game time.

As a senior, he was the starting strong safety for a Dons team that went 5-4, reached the Class 8A playoffs and surrendered fewer than 11 points per game.

In track, the Park Ridge native was one of ND's top middle-distance/distance runners and a team leader. He came in fourth at the ESCC Meet in the 800. His best time in the event was a 2:04.5. He also had a career-best time of 4:53 in the mile.

But Angelini's best statistics were in the classroom, where he had a 4.71 grade-point average (on a 4.0 scale) and was the Class of 2009 valedictorian.

"Angelini got it done on off the field. He had a great work ethic in the classroom and it translated to the football field and the track," ND track coach Mike Jankowski said. "He was a terrific worker, gave it everything he had and always asked what he could do to get better.

"He was the complete package: Incredibly bright, hard working, a good kid and a good friend and teammate. If I worked hard to say a bad thing about him, I couldn't."

Jankowski added, "He is one of my favorite people and has kind of a crazy sense of humor."

That sense of humor was on display at ND's June 5 graduation, where Angelini's valedictory address was infused with a fair amount of comedy, some of it from a Adam Sandler film.

"First of all, I tried to keep it short. I didn't want to be up there forever, and nobody wants to listen to me talk for half an hour," said Angelini, who will attend University of Illinois and study engineering. "I took a few jokes from scene in 'Billy Madison,' where he's in the academic decathlon and makes a speech comparing the industrial revolution to a book he read in first grade."

Angelini said his experience playing in front of ND crowds did not make him any more comfortable speaking in front of one.

"I was terrified," he said. "I'm not a big public speaker and speaking in front of the entire senior class and the parents was kind of overwhelming. You would think that the longer you are up there, the more comfortable you would become. But the longer I was up there, it seemed like the more nervous I got."

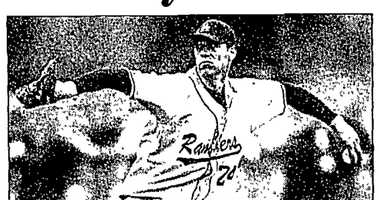
Lakeside's Havey throws no-hitter

By GEORGE M. WILCOX
gwilcox@pioneerlocal.com



Loyola graduate Jack Havey, who is headed to Northwestern on a baseball scholarship, continues to excel on the mound this summer with the Lakeside Cardinals. (Joel Lerner/Staff Photographer)

BASEBALL – It took a while, but recent Loyola graduate Jack Havey finally pitched his first no-hitter of the year.

The Wilmette resident and top pitcher for the Ramblers in the spring tossed a one-hitter during the high school season. Now, as a member of the Lakeside Cardinals travel team, Havey did one better. He did not allow a hit, struck out eight and walked three batters in a 2-1 victory over the Upper Deck Cougars Saturday at the Northwestern Invitational at Northwestern University in Evanston.

Three Maine East players also are on the Cardinals' roster, including recent graduates Chris Ripple and Dan Witkus and rising senior Al Nagode.

Havey signed to play at Northwestern next season and posted the gem on his future home mound. He also drove in the winning run against Upper Deck, which plated its lone score on a sacrifice fly.

"It seems like I can pitch (a no-hitter) in any regular season game," Havey said. "When your defense makes plays behind you, anything could happen."

Palos Park-based Upper Deck ended the game when Havey fielded a line shot.

"It was exciting. That game pushed us to the playoffs, which was the best part about it," Havey said.

The Skokie-based Cardinals tied for third out of 26 teams in the tournament after losing 5-4 to eventual champion Top Tier 18-U of Lake Forest in the semifinals Sunday. Lakeside won its first and final six games in the tournament.

Kevin Sullivan allowed Top Tier four runs, while Dan Kluss, a Niles West senior, entered the game and made a solid appearance in relief.

One of Lakeside's hitting stars was recent Notre Dame graduate Joe Romano, a Norridge resident. Romano homered in one game and went 3-for-3 in Lakeside's second-round win.

The Cardinals played three games Sunday, starting out with a 5-4 win over the Berwyn Bulldogs and an 8-1 victory over the Carmel Corsairs, which included a homer by Havey.

Lakeside opened the tournament with an 8-5 loss to the Crystal Lake Bombers July 2. The Cardinals beat the Academy Elite Americans of Glenview 15-1 in four innings Friday when 12 of Lakeside's first 19 batters collected hits. The Cardinals scored nine runs on nine hits in the first inning off Stuart Haley, a New Trier junior right-hander.

"We had a long dry spell where we did not hit the ball in two weeks," Lakeside manager Bill Palmer said. "We made a lot of progress on that."
