77 Unit Subdivision S.W. Of Mil-Oakton

From the Left Hand

By David Besser
Editor & Publisher

"What is best for ALL Niles residents" should be the measuring stick for sizing up whether or not an action or activity should be activated in our community.

If this is a fair gauge the new midget race track in the Touhy Park is an activity which may not fill the above definition.

Bud Royster, a local cement contractor and a great racing enthusiast, was the moving force behind the track and the racing. He believed by giving youngsters a chance to drive vehicles on a supervised track it would lessen teen-accidents on the highways. He received permission from the Park Board to use the southeast corner of the Touhy Park and proceeded to build the track. He convinced the Board that this was a worthwhile youth activity and added that the track could be used for winter ice skating which, I'm sure, was one of the reasons for building the track to be closed for the racers.

However, since it takes money to operate the track advertising space was sold on the fence surrounding the track. Since no admissions could be charged on park property Royster said money would be acquired merely by "passing the hat" around at the races.

Now, a racer (worth $600) will be given away to a lucky ticket-holder here in town. While even this means of raising money may be acceptable, there's a "kicker" here which leaves the track wide-open to criticism. A fellow who handles pinball machines in town was distributing the tickets around town to the local tavern-keepers. Since the track is on park property, the being run independently, nevertheless this tie-in places the Park Board in a bad light.

In addition to this problem, only three boys of the initial 10 drivers at the opening races were Niles residents. Going back to our first paragraph it seems doubtful that the track will be used primarily for Niles boys. The expensive racing cars are more than I could afford, and I'm sure few Niles residents would make this kind of an investment for their boys.

Writing about the track reminds me that residents behind the track just south of it were rumored to have circulated a petition objecting to the track's existence. The mayor's wife was highly critical of the track at a recent Board meeting stating the track would interfere with the softball diamond alongside the Public Works' Building.

The School Census in District 71 held their first meeting recently in preparation for their selection of candidates for next spring's school board election. Last year was the first year for the Census group and they won by a decisive 2:1 margin over the three incumbents who were not selected by the Census.

Review Of October 22nd Board Of Trustees Meeting

At the October 22nd trustees meeting the trustees conducted the Board of Local Improvement meeting prior to the regular trustees meeting.

Bids were opened for the construction of the Harts' Sewer which will include the area in the Days-Terrace-Riverside drive area (the sewer will go down Harts Rd. to Touhy Ave.). The following bids were received: Latrobe Engineering Co., $47,573; W.L. Lewis Construction Co., $32,674.20; Preston Woodall Co., $25,994.50 and the low bid from the Ranieri Contracting Co. of $25,397.75. Bids were referred to the engineers for further study.

Bids for the Ottawa and other streets improvement were next opened. This improvement is for the area within the confines of Oakton to Main and Milwaukee to Osceola.

The bids included Mayer Paving, $262,627.10; Allied Asphalt, $238,652.70; J.A. Ross, $284,227; Rock Road, $234,698 and the low bid from Arcibe-Midwest of $233,411.56. These bids were referred to the engineers for future study.

The Board of Local Improvements then adjourned and the trustee meeting was called to order.

Bids were opened for squad cars. Peter Epstein Pontiac and Mark Gant Ford had bids within $1.50 of each other. Epstein's low bid of $7244.99 was for 4 1959 Catalinas and one Rambler sedan. This figure was for the cash difference on the trade-in of the present cars. It is likely that this bid will be accepted. The Rambler would take the place of the present Pontiac which is now being primarily used for a radar car. Mark Gant's bid of $7,246.56 is for 5 1959 Fairlane V-8 Fords.

One radio bid for five squad car radios was opened from Motorola Inc. The cost of the five 25 watt mobile units is $2,043.50. A trade-in of present radios would deduct $625 from the figure bringing a net cost of $1417.50. The bids were referred to the Police and Fire Committee for further study until the November 5th meeting.

In other actions Judge Smigol requested an addition to the ordinance on misdemeanors be passed.

The long-time coming amendments (and-or) revisions of the complicated taxi-cab ordinance will be forthcoming at the November 5th meeting.

The Board approved an amendment to the Building Code which requires all basement-less homes to have a utility room of not less than 15 square feet. This amendment corrects an error which had previously stated that the requirements for the room would be not less than 1500 square feet.

A second approval of an amendment to the building code now defines that all footing below the ground's surface be reduced for future building to 3 1/2 feet, rather than the old 4 foot ruling. This also was unanimously approved.

A third building code amendment requires that all dwellings shall have a heating plant which provides a minimum heat of 70 degrees when the outside temperature is 10 degrees below zero. The heating contractor will place this agreement in writing with the Village. (This action resulted from heating problems which KIF homeowners mentioned at past meetings).

Street numbers, both north and south, and east and west shall continue from Chicago.

A letter was read from Congressman (woman) Church stating that Niles residents can use either Chicago 48 or Niles 48 in their mail correspondence. (All of Niles can use the new 48 postal zone except Albion Av.). This letter corrects an issuance of a circular from the post-office.

The trustees referred to the Zoning Board a request that the Mattion property with Milwaukee Avenue frontage (The former Niles Nursery property) be all rezoned to Class D Commercial. 150 feet of the frontage is now so classified. However an additional 50 feet is still Class A Residential and the Mattion interests are interested in a D Commercial classification for the remaining 50 feet.

It was announced that 10 men had passed the civil service examination for policemen. Trustee Trocki said that there is a need for 2 policemen even though the original request was for one more. Trustee Marszalek said there was only an appropriation for one more man and brought up the possibility of an emergency 6 month appropriation for the additional man. Trustee Stanley mentioned that the original appropriation had already allowed for one of the men who was being added six months after the appropriation went into force and asked legal counsel if the unused six month moneys could be used for the second policeman. Attorney Wells stated as long as money is available it can be used for the additional policeman. Stanley added that "Some nites it gets pretty rough on Merrill Avenue" inferring that the recent parking-ticket drive necessitates another policeman. The Board then approved the addition of two policemen who will begin duty as of November 1st.

Mayor Stankowicz requested for the record how the trustees stood on the Judicial Amendment. He cited reasons why he believed it was a poor amendment. It was unanimously approved that the Stankowicz resolution renouncing the amendment be so recorded.

A letter from the Park Board was received regarding the Milwaukee Golf annexation. The Park Board requested that when a petition for annexation was forthcoming from this area, that a simultaneous petition be sent to the Park District so they can be included in the future area. The letter was referred to the Village Attorney.

A letter from the Skokie Valley YMCA announced that the new Y facilities on Ilg Park on east Touhy would be dedicated October 26th. The letter mentioned that this dedication breaks a silence of 15 years at this location.

The 7300 - 7316 Main Street block of Fidelity Builder homeowners protested the rear area draining in their lots. They stated the grading approved by the village engineers and the letter from the builder states the drainage is not in accordance to the plat.

Engineer Cadigan said the letter was premature and that the gradings were shot a second time. The shootings the second time showed the corrections and added that the approval letter would not be sent until after a rain.

A traffic control signal was

Aunt Jemima Day At East Maine Saturday

Next Saturday, November 15, will be Aunt Jemima Pancake Day for the East Maine P.T.A. Piping hot pancakes and appropriate foods to go with them are one of the zingiest and swiftest to be served in the cafeteria of the East Maine Junior High School, Ballard and Cumberland Rd., from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Aunt Jemima will be there to greet all comers and every hundredth person is to receive a free gift.

Proceeds from this Pancake Day will be used to finance the projects of the P.T.A. for the current year, including the sponsorship of Boy and Girl Scout troops, and the purchase of needed equipment for the schools making up the P.T.A. Tickets will be on sale at the door for those who have not purchased them in advance. Prices are $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children through 8th grade. Everyone is invited to come and help make this a great success.

Representatives from the unanimously approved for the intersection of Oakton and Prospect. The signal is installed by the state but the Village must maintain the supply of energy for the two lites on the north-east and northwest corners. (Park Ridge maintains the signals on the southside of the street).

Meade Electric Company will adjust the light at Milwaukee Avenue and Harts Road. It will be moved as far back from the street as possible.

The Gail Ann Subdivision, located on the old Niles Nursery property west of Milwaukee and south of Oakton, alongside Jonquil Terrace, was given tentative approval. Builder Ray Adreanni said there are 77 lots in the subdivision. He said the homes will be ranches and bi-levels and will be priced from $22,000. He stated work should begin by the middle of November.

The street which extends from Milwaukee to Harlem alongside the new A&P was granted a permit for paving, subject to other necessary permits. The street is divided between Chicago and Niles.

The Board gave unanimous approval for the drawing up of a resolution for Motor Tax Funds. The request is for state funds for three street assessments.

Representatives from the Orion Improvement Association asked the Board when the basin would be placed in the areas to drain the water behind their homes (Five residences). An answer was delayed until vacation. The basin construction is under the supervision of engineers.

The meeting was then adjourned until November 5.

Molester Story "Made-Up" By Late Arriving 10 Year Old

A 10 year old Niles girl reported a molester had taken her for a walk to Milwaukee and Higgins. He had held her wrist but left her when he saw a policeman on the corner. She described the man as 5'10", dark complexion, dark hat. She said the man had forced her to walk with him from the Niles south border.

The next day Juvenile Officer Becker interviewed the girl and she admitted the story was not true. She said she made up the story in fear of being reprimanded when she came home late.

enough, he was called to appear on the stage to sit and talk to Fran. We gals watched him on TV from the Control Room, and we all agree he makes marvelous material for TV. All in all, it was a delightful experience for all of us.

As in any affair one runs, there is always a "Gal Friday" who works behind the scenes. Our "Gal Friday" was Virginia Iverson. After chasing around town for material to make the costumes, paid for by the gals themselves, Monday, Oct. 20th found Jean Hill's house buzzing with excitement, what with cutting out the patterns for our dress, and knowing we were to appear on TV the following Thursday. The routine of the Charleston was worked out by suggestions from all the gals. It was sewing and practicing the dance steps Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday during the day, and each of those nights too. Virginia's house looked like the day they moved in; furniture in every available space but in the living room where we practiced. Yes — she kept the coffee pot perking to give us that extra-special lift we needed! Estelle, Terri, Connie and Jean opened their houses to our needs, and we got along famously, and had lots of fun. My thanks go out to each one: Jean, Virginia, Connie, Marla, Terri and Estelle. Our many thanks to Regina Foss for the eye-catching publicity she has given the "Roaring 20's" dance, and to Carm Fink, who answered our SOS call when we needed an extra "nimble finger" to finish our costumes! We want to take this opportunity to thank all who purchased tickets to help with this affair. All our hard work would have been in vain if it hadn't been for your loyal support! Thanks! Thanks! Thanks!

The Niles School Caucus is a group of delegates representing civic groups in the community within the school district who join together in selecting candidates for the school board. Any persons interested in becoming school board members may appear before the group. Their selection is based upon their qualifications, experience and their interview they have with the caucus delegates.

Education-conscious persons are quite pleased with the school caucus-system which they believe results in choosing well-qualified candidates. However, I'm not convinced that the system here in Niles is as great as its backers say it is. There are several questions which caucus-defenders will have to answer before I am willing to concede that their system is the best for the community.

Since the group is representative of nearly all civic groups it seems to follow that the candidates chosen are the selectees of all the civic groups. If this is true it eliminates any competitive candidates. An endorsement by the Caucus is tantamount to being elected. This monopoly which eliminates competition, invests the power of the electorate in the hands of the few delegates.

Now, what about the delegates. They are supposedly "chosen" by the groups as representatives of the group. I know of one delegate this year, who was also a member last year, who actively pursued becoming a representative. Since the group assumes the power of the electorate I feel no delegate has a right to seek the job of becoming a "chooser" of the candidates. The very nature of the ambition of the delegate is contrary to the spirit of a movement which encompasses nearly all the electorate.

A second criticism concerns the closed-door session the Caucus has with the hopeful candidates. Since the caucus is the representative of the most of the community they place themselves, at least in spirit, in a position of public trust. And no meeting involving the public should be held behind closed doors. (While the caucus is certainly not included the state of Illinois has a statute forbidding closed-door sessions to publicly-elected groups).

Since this selection of candidates is largely dependent upon the interview-meeting the questions and answers should be in full view of the electorate. I heard many times from many different persons that many of the questions asked at this meeting were unnecessary, unfair and that different questions were asked to different candidates. If this is true the group defeats its very purpose because if the questions are unfair and unequal than the selection of the candidates have not been chosen scientifically but rather by prejudice and emotion.

Lastly, and this is a hair-line criticism which I cannot seem to overlook: "Is a superior-educated person short on experience always the better choice over a less-educated person whose experience has sharpened his judgement?" It seems obvious, since the desired goal is better education, the better educated would provide this end. But I'm not sure this is always true. I've had a prejudice for many years that there is little correlation between sound judgement and a college degree. Doctors, lawyers, and most college-educated people are specialists in one field, not unlike skilled workmen in the laboring fields. Get the specialists away from their fields and their common denominator matches the unskilled and the untrained. There are truly few liberally-educated people. There are truly few people who have acquired sound judgement.

o'clock on Wednesday, November 12th. The study of the by-laws for Niles newest formed homeowners' association will take place at this time.

The New group already has a membership of 75 families. At the moment the area included in the association has a perimeter of Main, Osceola, Dempster and Oriole streets. It is likely that the group may extend these borders in the future to include neighboring residents.

Following the meeting on by-laws a formation of committees will take place.

A representative of the group will be present at the trustees' meeting tonight to discuss the fidelity-flood problem in the area.

KIRK LANE This coming Friday, November 7, will be the next meeting date of the association. Meeting time is 8:15 P.M. at the Village Hall.

Park Board representatives and owners of the property at Waukegan and Jonquill are tentatively scheduled to attend the meeting to discuss future park plans in the area.

GRENNAN HEIGHTS A membership drive in conjunction with the upcoming Xmas party is scheduled for the area. This year's party will be held at the fieldhouse Saturday, December 20th. However, unlike past years, only member-children will be allowed entrance to the party.

The annual Christmas dance will be held at Bunker Hill Saturday, December 13th. The association now has a membership of approximately 200 families.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Most people think of flying saucers as a recent development. I have heard people say, "When people got worried about World War II saucers were created in their minds." But as early as A.D. 58, Gregory of Tours, the first historian of France, had mentioned globes of pursuing a saucer. We had seen that the Latin author Pliny, in fire moving about in the sky. Even going back farther we find his book "Natural History", he mentions "disci" or discs in the sky. These reports shatter the theory that saucers are a recent discovery. The only problem remaining is what are they?

Many people try to explain it by saying they're reflections of some sort. But this doesn't always stand up. For example:

January 7th, 1948 Captain T. F. Mantell met his death while warned that a saucer was headed our way. Capt. Mantell took off in his plane. Two other planes also took off. At 3:08 p.m. the two pilots reported they had seen the saucer, and Mantell was right behind it. A few minutes later he reported that he was about a hundred yards behind the saucer. That was the last report from him. A few hours later the remains of him and his plane were found. "Case unexplained."

Dear Dave: After reading "From the Left Hand" in the October 22nd issue of the BUGLE, I just want to say that there are a few "Non-Club" members, here in Niles, that still like you and the so-called mud slinging paper you put out. What is that old saying, "You can please some of the people some of the time, but you can't please all the people all the time." I guess the editor of a paper knows that better than anyone.

I think practically everyone, in Niles, knows of the many wonderful contributions that the Niles Woman's Club has made and their efforts to help the needy, after all, isn't that the main objective of every club? I don't think too many people gave those so called derogatory remarks a second thought.

I, personally, think you are doing a wonderful job with the BUGLE, and I know quite a few people who agree with me whole-heartedly. I like the way you cover all the meetings at the Village Hall and let us know what transpires there. A lot of us, public spirited citizens, would never know what goes on in our busy little town of Niles, if we didn't read about it in the BUGLE.

Keep up the good work, Dave, we need a good paper, like the BUGLE, to bring to us first-hand news of the activities in our neighborhood.

The Library Board recently sent out 75 letters to industry in the area in pursuit of money for the much-needed expansion of their facilities. The library now has 5000 books bulging from its shelves in the fieldhouse. At the moment 1800 books are now circulating in the village. And amazingly, 99 per cent of "running" the library is done by non-paid volunteers. Other miscellaneous facts... it is now open 13 hours a week... money received for operating is contributed by local organizations... and about 400-500 families are now paying $1 a year... the greatest $1 value anywhere. Board members are now discussing a possible referendum for the future in hopes that the library will be a tax-supported institution.

The Niles Fire Department was featured in last Thursday's northwest section of the Daily News (a newspaper which comes into Niles from one of our suburbs). As I've mentioned many times, we have much to be proud of in our fire department.

I wonder if you noticed the charges of the Skokie fire lieutenant who mentioned their department is "20 years behind the times". It's a remark that is certainly in contrast to our fire department.

The Lions refusal in sending a delegate to the Caucus this year caused a mild stir among interested persons. The Lions were caught in a revolving door last year and contend they don't want to risk similar problems this year. They state they are not allowed to participate in any political matters. According to interested Caucus representatives they are non-political... a very moot point... though that isn't quite true... any ruling body that makes regulations in

The Niles Jaycees are holding a membership meeting at Weller's Wednesday, November 12. The group is open to all men from 21 to 35 years old. Because of limited time I can't squeeze the group into my life. However, if I could I would certainly join these fellows who have probably made the greatest contribution per capita of any group in Niles. As they so aptly mention, "they are small in number but great in heart". I know they've raised a great deal of money, even though their membership is about one-tenth as large as other philanthropic groups. Their prime goal is to get a sound youth program organized in Niles. Their "litter-a-lawn" campaign has been highly successful in the past; their Miss Niles Days is a great success and their sponsorship of Niles Little League is also noteworthy. Do yourself a favor by calling Joe Galik, TA 5-8484 and joining a great bunch of guys who do a great deal of good.
