will be necessary for them to put up a $5,000 bond in escrow to protect the village of Niles of any damages.

The Rosemary Subdivision, owned by trustee Marszalek, was approved (plans for sewer and water). Marszalek passed on the vote. The property, located in the rear of an area in the 6900 block on Milwaukee Avenue will have an entrance extending into Ebinger Drive. The street will go into the subdivision and will go around a cul-de-sac.

Unanimously dissolved an agreement with Park Ridge that Greenwood Avenue would be the border of both towns' expansion plans. Stanley said Park Ridge has not expanded past Dempster and there are many residents west of Greenwood at Golf who desire to come into Niles.

Would investigate Vapor Heating's re-doing of a manhole without seeking permission of the village. Unanimously approved a franchise ordinance for a 16 inch water main to serve the newly annexed area.

Approved a water survey in the north end of the new Niles as to the need of a larger water reservoir and an additional study of the water tank at Greenleaf to determine why it does not fill to the top.

The preliminary plans for the Dempster-Harlem shopping plans were referred to committee.

Approved the connections of the 7th Niles Terrace Subdivision into the metropolitan sewer.

Engineer Cadigan will ask Fidelity Builders about action regarding the backyard drainage in the area. Approved Zoning Board decisions regarding the Lone Tree Inn parking lot and the Bank of Niles.

$1337 was approved to permit the police chief to purchase a one-man-operated portable radar unit. It will be necessary to take bids on purchases up to $1500 after the state senate approved an impending bill. The law had stated a $500 or more purchase had previously required bids.

Referred to the village attorney Wells the problem concerning the race track which is on both park and village property at the Touhy park. The Board unanimously had approved a fence be built in the area where part of the race track is located. Mayor Stankowicz was concerned as to the village's liability regarding the track's actions. Stanley thought it "would be kind of stupid to take away the recreation of the people" in the eliminating of the track. Bud Royster, representing the track association said his group would give the village the necessary insurance policies they desire to protect the village against any such liability. The matter was referred to Wells. The meeting was then adjourned until Tuesday, June 3.

By David Besser Editor and Publisher

This past year has been the greatest year of accomplishment in Niles in her long sixty year history. The annexation, with its shopping center bonanza, the approving of the library at the formation of the library district, the fire department's high rating, are all examples that Niles put her most progressive foot forward during the 59 year. The Niles of today is no longer the Niles of yesterday and it will result in still greater changes for the Niles of tomorrow. Most important Nilesites are thinking big and are backing their thinking by putting their collective shoulders together in successful efforts.

It is sometimes difficult to assess a town's accomplishments but, if we look at our neighbors we can see we're making great strides forward, in many cases leaving them behind in our tracks.

The annexation was a fine example of how we outdistanced our neighbors. Park Ridge, which had an agreement with Niles that Western Avenue would be her most easterly border north of Oakton Street, suddenly decided she would increase her sphere to Greenwood Avenue. Since Greenwood bordered the Golf Mill area she was well situated to move in on the center. Both Morton Grove and Glenview had also coveted the golden land of sales tax money which would result from the shopping center area. Yet, despite the invasion calls from the various city halls and their councils, Niles wound up holding the first place prize.

Our fire department received a 4 rating during the past year which is shared by only two other towns in Cook County, Elmwood Park and Winnetka. Only Chicago, Evanston and Oak Park have better ratings (3). The high classification results in lower insurance rates, both to villagers as well as to industry. Our fire department, as well as our police and public works' services, are good reasons for attracting new residents as well as industry. Old established cities like Park Ridge and Des Plaines both have lower fire ratings than Niles and neighboring Morton Grove and Skokie have even lower ratings than the aforementioned two cities. Lincolnwood, which had several serious fires, is lacking a fire department, and are paying atrocious prices for service from outside sources.

The scandals which rocked the Morton Grove police department plus the politicking which resulted in the removing of the Skokie police chief also lends favorable comparison to our force. I've never heard of one abuse by our department in my six years in Niles and I'll bet you have not either (that goes for you ticket-receivers who were

Riggio's Request Liquor For 5th Time

Tony Riggio, owner of Riggio's Restaurant, 7580 Oakton St., personally requested, June 3, the village board consider granting his request to serve liquor in his restaurant. Riggio, who has been unsuccessful in four or five previous requests to procure a liquor license, said that he must compete with Italian restaurants in Des Plaines, in order to stay in business. He said these restaurants all serve liquor and he felt his business was being hindered by his not being able to offer this similar service to his customers.

John Duffy, attorney representing Riggio, very humbly requested the Board grant a license which would enable the restaurant to serve drinks with their meals. He said they were not interested in having a bar but were only interested in serving wine and liquor during the meal. He based his request on the Des Plaines competition, which Riggio must compete with.

Mayor and liquor commissioner Stankowicz said he does not determine the number of licenses to be issued. He said this is the Board's job. When he wondered out loud whether the Board would like to express themselves on the matter trustee Stanley said he believed Riggio must compete with.

7 Candidates Seek 6 Seats

The people of Niles have overwhelmingly supported the establishment of a library district by their votes on April 18th. The law clearly states that within 60 days they will have the privilege of selecting a six member board of trustees to administer the funds which will be forthcoming by August of 1960 and to make the important decisions between now and then. The most important consideration of the new board will be to interview applicants for the position of librarian. The recommended qualifications are seven years' experience and a masters degree in library science. There is a severe shortage of really qualified persons for such a position and may be one of the most difficult duties of the new board. The current board has a eighteen members and the library is serviced at present by a team of fifteen to twenty volunteers. Seven members of the now functioning board have filed petitions of candidacy for the six seats on the new board to be chosen by the people of Niles in a special election to be held on Saturday, June 13th. There will be two polling places. Those voters residing north of Oakton Street will cast their ballots at the Oak Public School, 7640 Main Street and those south of Oakton Street will vote at Niles Public School, 6935 Touhy Avenue.

To acquaint the voters with the qualification of the candidates, a resume of past civic participation is offered here for consideration: They are presented in alphabetical order.

Maine Township Tax Rates Increased

New tax rates have been announced for Maine Township school districts 63 and 64, which serve Morton Grove and Niles west of Harlem.

The rates were announced by County Clerk Edward J. Barrett, applying to each $100 assessed valuation. The increase, for the most part, is the result of a continuing rise in the costs of operating schools and building additional classrooms, Barrett said.

O. K. Zoning For St. Juliana

The Chicago zoning board of appeals last week granted a request by St. Juliana's Catholic parish for a zoning variation to build a $330,000 convent at 7438 Touhy ave.

The variation was sought because the building's yard and floor area will not comply with zoning requirements for an R-2 (single family residence) district.

The property is at the northwest corner of Touhy and Occochee avenues, across the street from the school and church. The Rev. M. J. Kilbride, pastor, said the convent is needed because the sisters are living in an old home three blocks from the school.

Bank Of Niles Officially Organized; Elect Officers

At a Subscribers' meeting already been subscribed, several major subscribers have agreed to release a portion of their shares at the original issue price of $50 per share to Niles residents wishing to become charter subscribers. We want Bank of Niles to have the broadest possible community ownership and will be glad to have additional stockholders from this area. Persons wishing to subscribe to this stock should, of course, act promptly since no stock will be available after the bank's final charter is issued.

A site at 7100 Oakton Street has been obtained by the Directors, and construction of a modern bank building is expected to begin there soon. Smigiel said, "We hope to complete the bank building and open for business later this year. Our large lot will provide spacious parking accommodations and a flexible and convenient drive-up banking arrangement."

Bank of Niles will have a total capitalization of $500,000 divided into $250,000 capital stock, $175,000 surplus, and $75,000 reserve. The 10,000 shares are being sold at $50 each.

Following the Subscribers' meeting, the Directors met and named officers. Anton A. Smigiel was elected President, Edward T. Bauml, Vice President, and Ronald J. Pankau, Acting Cashier. According to Smigiel, the names of professional bankers to serve as Executive Vice President and Cashier will be announced later. The Directors have authorized the Cashier to call for payment of stock subscriptions, and an official notification will be mailed to Subscribers this week. Smigiel said, "While all stock has for

As far as the formation of a library district, as well as the approval of the 0-5 Recreation Tax, Niles had fell far behind her neighbors in these two fields. We were the only town without recreation money for our parks, and the only one without a tax-supported library. But we've corrected these shortcomings this past year. So what area of progress can we look forward to during the next year?

One accomplishment which is likely to be fulfilled is a second fire-house, likely to be built in the Dempster-Milwaukee area. During pre-election campaigning the pursuit of the new firehouse was one of the pledges echoed over and over again. Last year the new appropriation included a "future" firehouse. While it is anticipated that it will be included again, it is likely it will come to pass during the coming year.

Soaring land prices along Milwaukee Avenue will likely continue to mount and it is unlikely they will ever be any cheaper than they are now.

The second accomplishment which will inevitably happen concerns a community center for the village. The Chamber of Commerce has formed a committee to exploit the possibilities of creating just such a center. They anticipate working closely with the Woman's Club in pursuit of this project. Cynics may say that many previous efforts for such a center never got off the ground and there is no reason to think that this effort will be any different. This may be true but after this past year's successes we have an indication that the New Niles is clearly emerging.

Carl Gardner, the nationally-recognized village planner, mentioned a center in his preliminary report some months ago. Residents, less recognized but equally desirous, have been verbally seeking such a center for some time. We've heard many Nilesites cite the great need for a center, both for our children, as well as the adults. We've heard the desires for a swimming pool and even a public golf course, all which they believed could be combined into a one center-area. We know the library will soon take steps to get larger facilities and again such a center might fill their needs. The Park District certainly could use such a center for their activities. There is no doubt of the need nor of the desire. Meeting rooms for the multitude of women's groups and scouting groups are all needs by Nilesites.

Can Niles move forward in fulfilling these needs? All indications seem to say we not only can but now is the time to begin.

Three weeks ago we attended a dinner in Morton Grove given by the Library Board. Assembled in the room were the board members and the volunteers who successfully gave Niles a library. It was a wonderful tribute to a small band of people who tirelessly devoted themselves to a dream which eventually became a reality. Both intelligent planning and dogged hard-work were manifested in the small group of people whose efforts have resulted in a library for 17,000 persons. The group is proof that any worthwhile effort can be accomplished if the meeting of the minds can combine with a great deal of sheer labor. The idea is worthless without the labor, just as endless work accomplishes little without a well-conceived plan. And just as the library people proved their dream can become a reality a well-organized plan for a center can likewise be achieved.

At the library dinner Eleanor Gillardon, Woman's Club vice veep, explained the community achievement award which the Niles Woman's Club are shooting for, along with Woman's Clubs from other towns. The top award is worth $10,000 which will be contributed to the town which has shown the greatest community accomplishments during a designated period. We thought the award was specifically for the Woman's Club in recognition for their accomplishments but were pleased to find out the award is based on the entire town's achievements. Eleanor said the money comes from the Sears philanthropic fund and would be awarded to a town to further a worthwhile project. Thus, if Niles could begin a project such as the creation of a civic center she might well fall in the front line in the competition for this award.

Illinois Bell Telephone Co. plans next year to start direct long distance dialing service in Skokie, Morton Grove and Lincolnwood.

When this is done, said L. V. Porter, Bell manager, all one and two-party line customers will be able to dial calls from their phones to some 52 million telephones in 40 states and Canada.

The same service, he said, will be available to Niles customers in three to four years

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Gentlemen;
I have a great deal of respect for your newspaper as a source of information with regards to our village. The position you have taken in matters involving the Village and the hills in the administration of our government has met with my approval, therefore I am taking the liberty of writing you so that you can if you will make some mention of this in your publication.

I recall that about 1 1/2 years ago a representative of your newspaper attended one of the meetings at the Village Hall wherein the matter of flooding and backing up of sewers was taken up at said meeting. Your paper took a firm stand against the Village Engineers who apparently were poor in their appraisal with respect to sewer requirements.

I am enclosing herewith a photostatic copy of a Petition executed by residents in Cleveland Ave., the original of which was forwarded to the Mayors office this date.

The gist of the complaint of the residents in Cleveland Ave. is that the firm of Callero and Cotino who are building several residences adjoining Cleveland Ave., and the trucks hauling heavy equipment, cement and dirt are causing damage and spilling of dirt in Cleveland Ave., further this tremendous weight will no doubt cause damage to the sewers in Cleveland Ave. The residents of Cleveland Ave. have signed the enclosed Petition to have the firm of Callero and Cotino stop using Cleveland Ave. to get their equipment and supplies to their buildings. They have their own streets that they can use and direct their suppliers accordingly. Further we understand that Callero and Cotino were going to tap into the sewer in Cleveland Ave., to service the new buildings. We know (as past experience of flooding of basements will indicate) that this sewer is inadequate as it is and the added burden will no doubt cause additional flooding.

We therefore would appreciate if you would make mention of this matter in your paper which carries weight in the community so that the Village governing body would exercise some control over the practices aggrieved of.

Trusting you will give this your consideration, I remain,
E. A. Kosteck
7111 Cleveland

Editor's Note: Included in this letter was a photostatic copy of a petition signed by residents in the 7100 block on Cleveland. When this problem was brought before the village board it was pointed out that the north half of Cleveland was built by this same builder and became the property of St. John Brebeuf. This half of the street has never been dedicated to the village. The south half of Cleveland is a village street which fronts on these homeowners' property. It was agreed at the trustee meeting that because the builder built half of the street at his own expense and then gave it to the church the village officials did not believe they should take any action nor that they had any right nor authority to act against the builder.
