would be unbelievable; you would say it was fictional. In substance his only premise was the ever trite "I don't care what you say about me, but be sure to spell my name right."

While we've never suggested taxpayers should heed our advice in casting their votes outside their local areas, we suggest you tune in this guy on WAAF in the morning. After listening five minutes to his blowing his bugle, I'm sure you'll join Jim Justin Smith, Mike Royko, and myself in voting against him. Smith and Royko dissected Garry in the Daily News columns in past months, and we wholeheartedly subscribe to their ideas to focus voters' attention on him.

If we may use another phrase, "To hear him is to vote against him."

Police Auxiliary Makes Plans

Our regular business meeting this month consisted of last minute plans for the Card & Fashion show, Niles Days new from Mrs. William Terpinas, and discussion of our Xmas party plans which Mrs. J. Esposito will handle this year.

Mrs. R. Hanna brought the gift of the month, a teflon fry pan and Mrs. A. Rek was the lucky winner. Coffee and cake was served.

Best wishes and a speedy recovery to Sgt. E. Bergstrom who has had an extended hospital stay.

Look magazine recently ran an article on the fine teen center run by and for teens in La Grange.

The creation of teen-age centers in local communities is certainly a worthwhile project for village governments to undertake. Both Niles and Morton Grove have had a tremendous increase in their sales tax returns during the past years. Using part of this for our teens is a worthwhile channeling of these dollar bonanzas.

Normally such a project would fall under the park district's jurisdiction. But unfortunately it does not have the revenue-producing means the municipalities have. Thus, it seems most natural a village should actively become involved in providing services for our younger citizens.

Girl Scout Troop 716 Fly Up

Girl Scout Troop held a special Fly Up Ceremony on October 15th for Gail Ekim, Cindy Governale, Diane Peterson and Mary Ann Wisniewski. As a fund-raising project, a roller skating party has been planned for Wednesday November 18th from 7 to 10 P.M.M. This will be at the Playdium at 1766 Glenview Road, Glenview, Illinois. Tickets are 35¢ and may be purchased by any troop member or leader of 716.

Quick nationwide recognition came to the winning cities who find themselves the focal point of congratulations from the White House, the governors of their states, senators, congressmen, and the news media.

The President of the Niles Jaycees, Earle Rappaport, had this comment: "We are delighted with the selection of Niles as one of the finalists. I can't help but be extremely proud of our group which was organized less than a year ago, making this possible. We undertook this project because we felt that the citizens of Niles had much to be proud of in their Village. Our being selected as a finalist certainly bears this out. I wish to make clear that this project took a tremendous amount of hard work by the three members who carried the major load, namely, Walter Zinn, Kenneth Cohen, Russell McAndrew. Far from being able to rest, they must work even harder now to prepare for the finals. We all wish them luck."

Niles PTA Observes N.E. Week

In conjunction with the Administration and Faculty, the Niles Public School PTA will observe National Education Week at its meeting November 10th, at 8:00 p.m. in the all-purpose room of the Niles Public School by having an Open House.

After a brief business meeting, all parents are invited to meet with the teachers of their children in their homerooms.

The Purposes of visiting school at this time, in addition to becoming acquainted with the teachers, are to become acquainted with the various courses of study; see the quality of work the children do; and view exhibits of the students work.

The sixth grade mothers will be hostesses for the evening. Room Mothers are Mrs. Ray Horvat, Mrs. Mitchell Bond, Mrs. Arthur Peterson, Mrs. Ray Nietschmann, Mrs. Joseph Byrne and Mrs. Raymond Benson.

Nationally, there's peace and prosperity, and L.B.J. is an obvious shoe-in.

Locally, our towns are prosperous and the natives seem graceful. The nebulous issues to force a change presently seem vague. The incumbents presently look like an equal shoe-in.

The games will be handled by members of the Lions Club of Niles and refreshments will be served.

From The Left Hand

By David Besser Editor & Publisher

On the national political scene the "out" party, the Republicans, have the almost insurmountable problem of finding an "issue" which will move Americans to vote for their candidate.

The vagaries surrounding Viet Nam, or issues concerning morality, are not motivations which move voters to consider switching horses.

In the 20th century Americans have stayed with the party in office, except for a post-war malaise, which twice has forced a change, a depression, and a splitting of a party, which moved Wilson into the White House.

Since an "issue" must clearly be seen and felt, voters in local political areas are little different than on the national level.

Taking our areas, our present Congressional Representatives will likely be re-elected, because there is little reason voters "feel" there is a need for a change.

Applying this to the lowest rung of the political ladder, what issues would move local voters to change?

In Morton Grove an opposition party is playing wistfully in an attempt to gain a foothold at the village hall. Believe it or not, one of their concerns centers around lids being left off garbage cans.

Because a major sewer discussion concerns west end residents they also are interested in exploiting this issue.

In Niles no opposition has as yet come upon the scene. But, the expectation of trustee Ken Scheel opposing Mayor Blase would raise one issue - an independent candidate vs. a politically-allied candidate.

In the case of the Morton Grove opposition they're striking out, just as Goldwater is doing, because the issues are of limited interest.

In Niles the Trustee, Scheel, and the Mayor, Blase, are both responsible for Niles now and thus the "independent" issue is the only one where Blase might show an Achilles' heel. Whether it is sufficient to move voters to vote for a new Mayor is presently questionable. Be as it may, it is obvious the fleeting "issues" are not easy to create.

Nationally, there's peace and prosperity, and L.B.J. is an obvious shoe-in.

CALDWELL AVE. ZONING BATTLE AIRED TONITE

Complete First Aid Course

Meeting Scheduled For 8:00 P.M.

A request by 6 of 11 homeowners on Caldwell Avenue, to have their high-priced residential area re-zoned for industrial use will be aired at Thursday night's zoning meeting.

Opposing the request will be some of the remaining homeowners, who believe they are being forced from their homes by encroaching industry, which now surrounds the area on the east side of Caldwell, from Gross Point Road to the Harcourt, Brace Company two blocks to the north.

This blue blood section of Niles has homes and property, valued in excess of $50,000 each. Two or three years ago one resident in the area estimated property there would eventually be valued at $2 per square foot, if it became an industrial area. If the estimate is accurate many of the large lot sites might then be valued at as high as $80,000.

In last week's BUGLE Caldwell resident Mrs. S. Johnstone, said she believed industry was encroaching upon the residential area and intimated that the J. Emil Anderson Company has already purchased two of the homes and is now pursuing the re-zoning. Mrs. Johnstone said she is already in court fighting a buffer zoning conflict alongside her property which she contends is presently in violation of village code. She has stated the Harcourt Brace Company property has built a parking lot within five feet of her property line, in violation of the code she said should be forty or more feet.

Mrs. Johnstone, who has been most vocal in opposing the impending zoning, said the homeowners were prepared to fight up to the higher courts to protect their residential zoning.

Mrs. Johnstone mentioned two homes have already been purchased by a Mr. Pearson at the corner of Gross Point Road and Caldwell, is also seeking the re-zoning. The village clerk's office said other petitioners seeking the light industrial zoning include J. M. Nall, 7267 Caldwell, Ray Jacobs, 7333 Caldwell, W. Bochnarchuk, 7315 Caldwell, Pearson.

United Nations Day October 24

Mayor Nicholas Blase, at the last Village meeting issued a proclamation that Saturday, Oct. 24 be observed as United Nations Day in Niles.

Michael Provenzano, Chairman of the United Nations Day in Niles, urges the citizens of Niles to demonstrate their faith in the U.N., by attending the community program at the City Hall, 7200 N. Waukegan, Saturday morning, starting at 9 a.m. Oct. 24.

Michael Provenzano also urges all citizens to observe this day by praying for the success of the United Nations and World Peace.

Prayer for United Nations Day:

Most Merciful and gracious Father, humbly conscious of our limitations but deeply grateful for our achievements, we commemorate the anniversary of the United Nations.

Grant, in this grave hour, as we look to Thee in prayer, a blessed sense of oneness with all our brothers of the United Nations, a oneness not solely of political pact nor of military might. Rather, make us one under Thee in quest for the precious things of the spirit: for Truth and Liberty for human rights, and the dignity of the human person; for the equality of nations, large and small; and above all for the blessing of Thy Peace.

Niles Fire Prevention Week Proves Successful

This year's Fire Prevention Week was acclaimed as one of Niles' most successful, thanks to the "House of Hazards."

The "House of Hazards," the brainchild of the personnel of the Niles Fire Department, featured a 30-foot house trailer, which used life-like mannequins to illustrate the fire hazards commonly found in the home.

According to Fire Chief Albert L. Hoelbl, the trailer was viewed by 5,086 children and adults at 11 different sites throughout the village. The turnout was surprising in view of the adverse weather encountered during most of the week-long event.

Chief Hoelbl said that because of the enthusiasm displayed by the public, he hopes that next year's program can be expanded into a two-week affair. This year the trailer was on display for a total of 54 hours.

In addition to Niles residents who viewed the display, many of the visitors were out-of-town visitors who wanted to know if the trailer could be shown in their communities.

Another Mess... another Yawn.

Have you ever been to a "coffee"? For the first time last week, I was introduced to "coffeeing" and went to two of them, making up for lost time. A novel idea, a new conception of politicking, I thought, but apparently most everyone but myself had been aware of this sort of thing. In case you too, are one of the naive ones, let me explain. These are small gatherings at individual homes, where one is invited to meet and talk with the candidates for office at the local, regional or even higher up, level. The incumbent and the contender will come to these "coffeees" give a short spiel on their record of voting, if they have one, or their intent and then invite you to ask questions. The idea is a great one for after gathering all the answers of both candidates, you may go home, evaluate for your own consumption and then vote as you probably planned to in the first place. I wonder if there really is much swerving from ones' original intentions. I expect a vote or two may be picked up this way!

Went to a Book and Author Luncheon at the Conrad Hilton Hotel and met Leo Rosten, author of "Captain Newman, M.D.", which has been made into a movie, (and other books) now a Special Editorial Advisor of Look Magazine; Willie Snow, Ethridge, a fabulous woman, author of humorous family life adventures, the most recent "I just Happen to Have Some Pictures" story of grandparents, naturally; and Newton N. Minow, whose first effort "Equal Time" is a story of his speeches on the subject of the now celebrated "vast wasteland" controversy. The recent birthday that encompassed me leaves me feeling more overripe than the budding writer I profess to be, but after speaking to Mr. Rosten and being advised to keep on "budding" I feel renewed.

Culture has many faces and the most exciting of all to one who has a little talent as I do, is the field of creative painting. Two extremely versatile young men, Shell Fisher—fashion illustrator and magazine illustrator and Peter Darro—foremost religious illustrator in the country and top Holiday artist for Hallmark cards, have combined their talents (of which they are excessively endowed) and opened the North Shore Academy of Arts at 1234 Waukegan, Glenview. Since its' beginning a few short months ago, students have been increasingly active, both in enrollment and in praise of the work they have been turning out. The school of art offers many innovations—painting in the round—always a live model in the center of the studio so that every angle can be painted or drawn; projection of all countries on a screen so students need not leave the studio for varied scenes and most essential of all, the personalized contact with these instructors, which most art schools do not offer. The wealth of knowledge that Shell and Pete give their students will bring forth the very best in those who seek self-expression in the most satisfactory form of all—the portrait painter, the still-life disciple or whatever will be your outlet. Drop by and see the beautiful work being done by the adults and even the special children classes.

Hi There

Niles Safety Council Lists Halloween Hazards

The spooks, witches, goblins, and other assorted demons that are supposed to be abroad on Halloween are purely imaginary horrors. But the Niles Safety Council warned that the mixture of following, dark, highly flammable costumes; candlelit jack-o-lanterns; bonfires; excited and thoughtless kids; heavy traffic; darkness; and other circumstances associated with the celebration of Halloween can add up to a series of real horrors for some families in Niles.

John Sebastian, Chairman of the Council's Sub-Committee on School Safety, carefully pointed out that the Niles Safety Council is not trying to put a damper on anyone's fun on Halloween. He urged merely that parents be aware of the unique hazards that will be present and take the proper precautions. Some of the tips offered by the Council are:

1. Use makeup instead of masks for the kids. Masks restrict vision in traffic, they can catch fire, and some smaller tots have been known to suffocate in them.
2. Dress the kids in light-colored, snug-fitting costumes. Dark costumes make the trick-or-treaters invisible to motorists. Loose-fitting costumes are an invitation to disaster if drawn over a flame. Also, make sure the costume materials are fire resistant. Making part of the costume of reflective material can also be a help in avoiding traffic hazards.

ets. See that they are accompanied by an adult. It is also a good idea to equip each one with a flashlight for better visibility.

4. Give each kiddie a small shopping bag for his collection of goodies. This leaves one hand free and makes it unnecessary for him to carry packages up close to his face.

5. Keep pet dogs and cats indoors on Halloween night. Even the gentlest pet can become excited and dangerous at the approach of a weirdly-costumed group of strange children.

Agrees With Homeowners

Dear Sir:

I heartily agree with the homeowners of Caldwell Ave. in their fight with the Village Board.

It certainly is a shame that elected officials spend more time protecting building contractors and factory owners than they spend on the people who elect them. I have been a resident of Niles for 14 years and I have had the same experience.

We seem to get the same old run-around: "Without industry, our taxes would be higher." Does it ever occur to these men that we would rather pay higher taxes than have industry in our back yard?

We are proud of Niles because we grew up with it, so we don't like to be shoved out by factories who were afraid to take a chance on Niles when there was room for all of them. You can talk about civil rights, States' rights, Extreme rights, etc., but how about Individual or Homeowners' Rights?

These people aren't asking the factories to move, they are just asking to be left alone in a section they are proud of. I'm sure J. Emil Anderson & Co. won't go broke because they bought two houses, presuming the Village Board would go along on the rezoning.

It think it is just about time the residents were given some thought.

LWV News

Where are the twenty million women who didn't vote in 1960? Do you know a woman who doesn't vote? Is she you? YOUR VOTE DOES MAKE A DIFFERENCE! In the 1960 Presidential election, one vote per voting district in Illinois was equivalent to deciding the vote for President and Vice President. The League of Women Voters of Morton Grove feel that women have a vital role to play in politics and government. What happens in the city council chambers and the hall of congress affects you — your children and your family. Your vote is important. Use it November 3.

League is encouraging you non-working women to vote between 10:00 and 3:00 when the polls are less crowded. This will help the working men and women who have to vote early in the morning or after work in the evening. As it is, the lines will probably be very long this year. This is due to the very long orange ballot dealing with 118 Democrats and 118 Republicans running at-large for the Illinois House of Representatives. (we vote for 177 of them) There will also be a green ballot of non-partisan judges running for re-election; there will be a blue ballot on two proposed amendments to the Illinois constitution, one on annual sessions, the other on emergency powers for the General Assembly; plus, of course, the regular voting on the machine. That's quite a bit of voting!

Each voter will be allotted four minutes for the paper ballots and five minutes for the machine. If you still have questions about candidates or voting procedures for next Tuesday, please call League's Voter's Service Chairman Mrs. Martin Gutenkauf at YO6-8425 who will be happy to give you League's non-partisan information.

Christmas Decorations At Golf Mill

One of the most unusual methods of installing Christmas decorations was carried last Thursday by the Golf-Mill Shopping Center and Helicopter Air Lift, Inc.

A giant 50 foot artificial Christmas tree will be placed atop the nine story Golf-Mill Professional building as a main feature of this year's Holiday Decorations. The main base weighs in excess of 400 lbs. and is eleven feet high. A Helicopter air lift was planned and produced by Decorations Unlimited of Winnetka who designed and are installing Golf-Mills' decorations.

The successful operation of carrying the base of the tree to the top of the building by a helicopter was a most exciting beginning to a most exciting Holiday Season in Golf-Mill.

LWV Explains Orange Ballot

Who may vote the Orange Ballot? Any person qualified to vote in the general election in Illinois.

What is the procedure for voting the Orange Ballot? If your polling place has voting machines, you will mark your orange ballot and it will be placed in a special orange box before you vote on the machine.

If your polling place uses only paper ballots, you will mark all paper ballots at the same time and they will be deposited in the proper ballot boxes.

How to mark your orange ballot:

The orange ballot will have 118 candidates listed under each party. You are permitted to vote for 177 candidates. If you vote for more than 177, your whole ballot will be thrown out. You may vote for as few as you choose. Your vote is not cumulative—an "X" counts for only one vote per candidate.

You have three choices:

- You may vote a straight ticket by placing an X in the circle opposite the party of your choice. You are then casting only 118 votes.
- You may split your ticket by placing an X in the circle opposite the party of your choice (118 votes) and then placing an X in the square opposite not more than 59 candidates of the other party.
- You may split your ticket by placing an X in the square in front of the names of not more than 177 candidates from both parties.

Why is there an at large election instead of the usual kind by districts?

The regular session of the Illinois General Assembly in 1963 passed a reapportionment bill, establishing new boundaries for the election of repre-

Community Church Begins Bible Study

On November 4, many of the members of the Niles Community Church will begin a two year course of study called the "Bethel Bible Series." Developed by Pastor Harley Swiggum of the Bethel Lutheran Church of Madison, Wisconsin, the Bethel Bible Series is a serious study of the theology and history of the Old and New Testaments. The course will be conducted by lay teachers who have received intensive training under the direction of Rev. Robert W. Gish. For the past two years these lay people have spent approximately 15 hours per week in preparing themselves to be Bible teachers. Along with a systematic survey of the Scriptures from Genesis through Revelation, these trainees were drilled in the techniques of teaching and communication.

The Bethel Series is a most unique and effective approach to adult Bible study. Basic Christian concepts are communicated to the student through the use of 40 large paintings used in conjunction with the course. This approach to Biblical study is in the form of themes or concepts. Dividing the Bible into 40 major categories, the paintings serve to symbolize the basic Christian Concepts found within each of those categories. When the two year course is completed, the student has a pictorial overview of the major teachings in both Old and New Testaments. The student uses the Bible as his textbook. The paintings are used only as visual aids to help the student remember and retain the hundreds of different concepts which he has learned in this survey course of the Bible.

The classes beginning this November have been limited to 90 people. There is presently a waiting list of 30 additional people who will begin the course in January of 1965. Further enrollment will be open in the fall of 1965, but will be limited to the members of the Niles Community Presbyterian Church.

Students Hold Mock Election

The old political adage, "As Maine goes, so goes the nation," will get a workout tomorrow when students at Maine East high school cast their ballots in a mock election for president and vice president of the United States and governor of Illinois.

At least, that is what student council officials hope will ensue, with the states taking their lead on November 3 from Maine students who have been lustily campaigning all week.

cil representative, supporters of Goldwater-Miller, and Tom Grismer, of 2316 Oak Tree Ln., Park Ridge, speaker of the lower house of student council, and Ariel Berg, of 8101 Davis, Niles, class representative in the lower house of student council, both of whom haunt Johnson-Humphrey posters.

The Democratic party meeting of students was held Wednesday afternoon after school and the Republican students will hold their convave, this afternoon. Both meetings were for the purpose of discussing the candidates and their views.

Voting tomorrow will be held before school opens, during lunch periods, and after school.

Research Shows Johnny Can Read

In various schools over the nation, thousands of first grade children are learning to read. Some of the methods of instruction are these:

1. A language-experience approach: basically coordinated listening - speaking - writing - reading;
2. A linguistic approach heavy emphasis on the phoneme-grapheme or sound-letter relationships in the English language;
3. The "Initial Training Alphabet" approach: the substitution of new alphabet symbols to provide 44 symbols for the 44 sounds in our spoken language;
4. The eclectic approach: the combination of methods that form the usual basal-reader method.

Parents and teachers are also going to school at the University of Chicago's downtown center, 64 E. Lake, where Samuel Weintraub, assistant professor in the department of education, is conducting a special Institute on Early Reading.

Professor Weintraub is an associate of Professor Helen Robinson, director of the University of Chicago's new Reading Research Center.

The Center was established last January to study such problems as why some children don't learn to read and how reading should be taught.

In one of the lectures, Professor Weintraub stated, "Evidence that some children can learn to read early should not be interpreted as meaning that all should learn to read early. Reading is a highly complex process."

To quote Professor Weintraub further, "Reading happens when printed matter stimulates thinking."

"It is not that phonics is unimportant or that word recognition is the only way," he says.

"To my knowledge, there's no such thing as a pure sight word approach, and I know of no reading approach in the United States that does not include phonics as one way of working out the meaning of a word."

"But phonics is not a way of teaching reading. It is merely one word-attack skill. Yet, periodically, someone proposes a pure phonics approach as the way to teach Johnny to read."

"It offers a single, simple answer to the problem," said Weintraub. "But until we are mature enough to realize that reading is a highly complex process to which there is no single, simple answer, we will always have pure phonics proposed as a panacea."

Hear UN Talk

Maine East high school students who are interested in social studies heard Chester E. Merrow, special adviser to the U. S. state department on community relations, discuss the United Nations in a social studies program Monday in the school auditorium.

Merrow, a graduate of Colby college who has been a radio news commentator and lecturer on world affairs, and who was a congressional representative from New Hampshire from 1943 to 1963, is now a member of UNESCO and is traveling to speak to school and civic groups on the working of the United Nations.

To vote, a student must present his official ID card and his voting card to the election official to receive a ballot. Voting will be done in booths on ballots similar to those used in real elections.

Under rules of the student council, active campaigning has been restricted to hours outside the regular school day. The two party meetings have been designated as the only occasions when campaign literature may be distributed, with no material allowed to be distributed in the halls and hall posters forbidden. Writings on the ballot will destroy the student's vote. Teachers are permitted to help students in discussions but are restricted in every other way with respect to campaigning.

Congressman Rumsfeld Reports

Highlights of the first term, the record, and the beliefs of your Representative in Congress

During the past two years, as your Congressman in Washington, D. C., I have represented you by voting on more than 2,000 bills, amendments, resolutions, and motions that have come before the House.

I have consistently supported a firm foreign policy based on military superiority, strong free-world alliances and determined efforts to reach meaningful international understandings through the United Nations and bilateral diplomacy. I am convinced this is how we can best achieve a genuine world peace.

Domestically, I have consistently supported programs designed to revitalize the principles of individual opportunity and responsibility. Concerned with ever-increasing Federal expenditures, I have opposed measures I felt were not fiscally responsible.

I have served on the House Science and Astronautics Committee and have sponsored bills to stop corruption in Congress and to provide tax deductions for education expenses.

I've made it my job to keep in close touch with our District so that I may know and represent its views. On the record, I believe I have represented the best interests of this District and its people.

The 13th District is acknowledged to be the finest Congressional District in the U. S. I hope my record and experience as your Representative in Congress will convince you to vote for my re-election.

College Night At Maine East

Chester Polad, left, president of the parent-teacher council of Maine East high school, talks over the council's plans for College Night at the school November 2 with Randolph Pitts, Maine's college counselor.

Pitts will address parents of Maine East students who attend the college night observance in the school auditorium, at 8 p.m. He will discuss the advisability of juniors and seniors taking tests that will indicate their strengths and weaknesses in schools so as to help in decisions for the future. Interested students will also attend.

"Not every school is the 'right school' for a given student," Pitts declares. "Each student should know his own abilities and his relative standing in school work among college applicants in general, so as to facilitate his choice of the school that best suits him."

Pitts has been the college counselor at Maine for five years, and was a college admissions counselor before that. He has served actively and in the reserve of the Naval Air Reserve, where he is a Lieutenant commander. He will discuss college admission requirements, college expenses, scholarships, curriculum prerequisites, college entrance tests, and the military obligations of young men.
