

'X' Marks

Your Vote

Dear Mr. Besser: The board of judges at our precinct were dismayed to see the high percentage of mis-marked or spoiled ballots. I took the liberty of writing down a few of my thoughts on the subject. Sometimes a little voter education goes a long way.

Barbara Leske 8639 N. Oleander

ATTENTION: ALL NILES REGISTERED VOTERS - X MARKS THE SPOT!

We'll say it again, X MARKS THE SPOT! You can say "Well, I voted." "OK!" - BUT - Did your vote count? What's the sense of going to the polls - casting a ballot - only to have it placed in a sealed envelope marked "Spoiled Ballots". It was my privilege to serve as a Judge at the recent election - and much to my dismay I saw ballot after ballot mis-marked.

Only an "X" in the circle or square counts.

I saw check marks - double crosses (someone wanted to make double-sure) - erasures - and blacked-in areas. Where it said "Vote for two" - we saw as many as eight names marked. In some cases, names of candidates were actually scratched out. All these things make for a "Spoiled Ballot".

Every voting booth has a poster on which is "pictured" the correct and incorrect way to mark a ballot. LOOK AT IT - THEN MARK YOUR BALLOT - it couldn't be easier.

It isn't always the other person who makes the errors - maybe it was your ballot being tossed out. Next time you vote - check the poster on display in the polling place and remember - ONLY THE "X" MARKS THE SPOT!

Cook County History Reviews Niles From 'Way Back In 1832

(Taken from "History of Cook County," published by A. T. Andreas in 1884.)

The village lies on the North Branch of the Chicago River, one mile north of Norwood Park. The first house built within the limits of the village was by John Schodiger and Julius Ferron, on the right bank of the river, just below the mouth of the small creek which enters it from the west. It was built in 1832 or 1833, the exact date not being remembered by even those who saw it and describe it as being a log shanty, 10 x 12 feet in size, with an outside chimney built of strips of wood chinked with clay. The cabin had no windows and but one door, hung on primitive hinges made of two pairs of wooden eyes with a long rod running up and down through them both. John Schodiger soon afterward moved to Wisconsin and Julius Ferron lived in Niles until his death, which occurred about 1873. Some authorities say that Samuel Lytleton lived in this shanty for a time, and that after him the place was called Lytleton's Point; but Lytleton appears to have come later, in 1838, and to have made a bargain to buy the property, real and personal of John and Christian Ebinger and John Plank, but never consummated the purchase. After the Schodiger and Ferron cabin, the next house built there was that of Christian Ebinger, a log one, where now stands the frame house in which his widow resides. This was in the spring of 1834. In the following fall, John Plank built his house a short distance away to the northward, and Frederick and John Ebinger also built the same fall. John Ruland came next and then John Ketchum, John Plank sold his place to a Mr. Phillips, who kept the first store in the place and was the first postmaster, in 1836. Phillips kept the store about a year when he went out of the business, and there appears to have been no store for a number of years. Phillips was succeeded as Postmaster by George Beach; he by George Scully; he by Henry Lester; and he by the present incumbent Peter Thornsten, who took the office in 1891.

Robert Hartt is said to have been the first to peddle popcorn in Chicago, and was known as "Popcorn Hartt." The mill sawed a large quantity of plank for plank roads. It was sold to John Brown, who sold to John Ketchum, who continued to run it until 1874, when it ceased to be operated.

SCHOOLS.—The first school taught here was by a Scotchman named Ballantine in 1838 or 1839. The second was by a Miss Phillips who was paid by subscription at the rate of $2 per scholar per term, a part continued on page 16

Trace Niles First Classroom Back To 1851

*"School days, school days,
Dear old golden rule days.
Readin' and writin' and 'rithmetic,
Taught to the tune of a hickory stick."*

The words of this old song bring back fond memories, which somehow get reborn as our own children grow up and enter school. But those "dear old golden rule days" have changed tremendously in the past two decades.

Of course the old "hickory stick" has been replaced with much more modern teaching methods. But the old concept of teaching only "readin', writin' and 'rithmetic" has been changed too. Our schools now give our children a "complete" education . . . to prepare them much more fully for a well rounded life in the future.

Our story begins in 1851. In that year Niles was still called "Dutchmen's Point" and consisted of a few small shops, a hotel and some crude log homes. In that year a man named William Horner donated some land near Touhy and Harlem Avenues and a small one room schoolhouse was built. This was the formation of the first school district in Niles. One of the first teachers, a Miss Phillips, earned the magnificent sum of $2.00 per pupil per semester.

Miss Phillips must have had many problems trying to supply education to all ages of children in her one room building. But one problem she probably didn't have was overcrowding. By 1854 there were only twenty taxpayers in the entire school district.

In 1860 a new school district was founded with the building of a schoolhouse at Milwaukee Avenue and Church Street. This was the beginning of School District 63.

According to the minutes of the first meeting of the school board the teacher was required to sweep the building, keep the fire and keep order. It failed to mention anything about teaching the children.

The first budget for District 63 was $8.00 for the year. The board questioned the teacher's purchase of a box of chalk. It seems that they had granted funds for the same expenditure only one year before, and couldn't understand why this was necessary a second time.

School District 63 has grown quite a bit since 1860. At the present time it contains seven elementary schools and a junior high school . . . and a total of 5,676 students.

But what of that original Niles school building on Touhy and Harlem? This is now School District 71, with a current enrollment of 730 students in its only building, the Niles Public School.

This building was erected in 1928, with additions being put on in 1938, 1953 and 1955. At the present time a new school is being built at Oakton and Waukegan.

The phenomenal development of school districts 63 and 71 is typical of the growth of all of our school districts.

District 64, for example, contains ten elementary schools and two junior high schools. This district goes back to 1856. Up to the 1940's there were about 1500 students. Right now there are over 6,400 students in this district. Four new schools have been constructed in the district since 1955, plus many building additions.

It's the same story throughout our area: In District 67-two of their three schools have been built since 1958 . . . and they have already had building additions constructed. The Golf School, built in 1928, has also had numerous additions. The total enrollment of their two elementary schools and one junior high has nearly tripled in the last ten years.

Public schools are not the only ones which have felt the population growth of Niles. There are seven parochial elementary schools and one parochial high school which serve our Niles children: St. Isaac Jogues, St. Julianna, St. Mary of the Woods, St. Matthews Lutheran, Our Lady of Ransom and Notre Dame High School for Boys.

These parochial schools have a combined enrollment of about 7,000 students, many from Niles.

OUR HIGH SCHOOL SYSTEM

Our elementary and junior high schools eventually feed students into two high school districts: Maine Township High School District No. 207 and Niles Township High School District No. 219. Each of these districts contain three schools.

Ten years ago each of these high school districts consisted of only one school building each. This year there is a total of six modern campus type schools which receive thousands of students each year coming from our Niles and Maine Township school districts.

It's nice to have spacious modern school buildings for our children, but it's what's taught inside that counts!

Niles children receive the most modern education methods, the finest equipment and the best teaching personnel because of the dedicated superintendents and school boards that maintain our school system for the taxpayers.

Aside from regular educational programs our schools also provide speech training, counselor service, special education for the handicapped and many other services which were unheard of in school systems a few years ago.

Some school districts receive a large portion of tax money from industry and have been able to expand without too much trouble. Others have found that the tax money received has not been adequate to keep up with the influx of children entering their schools. In these cases the tax burden has fallen on the residents of the area.

But even with these problems all of our Niles area school districts have done a miraculous job of supplying quality education to our children.

With your interest and support our schools can continue to provide above average educations. We urge all Niles residents to take an active part in school affairs. Join PTA, attend school board meetings, learn what is going on. In this way you can have a hand in keeping the education available to Niles children up to the high standards that they have reached.

The little red schoolhouse has come a long way since our first Niles school opened in 1851. We can certainly be proud of the way that we, as taxpayers, have provided for the future of our children.

Every town has its All Americans . . . people whose efforts result in creating a better community. If you attempted to list them, and there are many, you would likely omit many names.

In Niles, like in all communities, the All Americans must include those dedicated people who serve on public boards, without remuneration or praise. They are the scout leaders, who give much to make our youngsters better people. And they're volunteers, who trudge thru miserable weather on behalf of the many community charities. They're also to be found during baseball time when they give many hours to the baseball fledglings, who are just beginning to gain the pleasure of sports. And they're the members of many groups, whose deeds result in a better life for those in need. These are the All Americans who can be found in all communities the country over.

In Niles many people can be cited for making the community a little better place to live. But if we had to list them we would be remiss by forgetting many.

In flashing back thru the years one effort stands out which should be recalled. Several gals in the Niles Women's Club decided the community needed a library. They received permission to use the small office room at the Grennan Heights Fieldhouse and set up Niles first library. While many of their kids belonged to the diaper patrol, they carted them to and from the fieldhouse, while they acted as volunteer librarians.

The gals put on a drive to procure books from residents, picking up the editions from homeowners and carting them off to the two by four room. They built shelves, cataloged the books and then served as make-shift librarians during continued on page 8

Niles Tells Ingredients For Making An All America Village

Are there any secret ingredients in the recipe for making a city, town or village good? Not really. Start with conscientious, honest government officials; add good schools which have adequate funds to hire the best teachers and buy the best equipment; make sure the housing is neat and tidy - no slums allowed; sprinkle in parks and recreational facilities at suitable intervals; provide cultural activities for all those who seek them; mix well with good human relations; by all means keep taxes low.

Well, perhaps there is one secret ingredient - people. A government is as good as the people want it to be. The schools are as good as the taxpayer's willingness to pay for them, even if it involves some griping. Housing, Parks, Culture, Human relations - they all depend on people . . . citizens . . . voters.

The Village of Niles in 1950 had a population of about 3,500. Although part of Niles touches Chicago, the people were rural oriented, and pretty much satisfied with things as they were. By 1964 the population had multiplied eight-fold because of the process popularly known as

"moving to the suburbs". In fact, during the last ten years continued on page 12

The Niles Park District's Saturday Morning Program will continue its activities this Saturday, May 1 at Ballard School, Oak School, and The Niles Park Recreation Center. The children who have attended this program since March 27 will participate in two hours of supervised recreational activities from 9:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. On April 24, the children attended "The Clown Who Ran Away" a play presented by the Morton Grove Children's Theatre. The Saturday Morning Program for fourth, fifth, and sixth graders in the Niles Park District will continue until May 29.

It is the desire of the Board of Commissioners of the Niles Park District to provide for the full enjoyment of its residents this summer the best Park and Recreation programs available. Consequently, The Niles Park District will provide for its residents a comprehensive playground program this summer. A variety of recreational programs will be presented for grade school children at six park locations for eight weeks beginning June 21. The playgrounds will offer supervised activities Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The Swimming Pool will open about June 15th. Activities at the pool will include public swimming, a learn to swim program, and teenage splash parties. Complete detailed information about the Niles Park District's Summer Recreation Program will be publicized in the very near future.

225 Maine East Boys In Physical Fitness Experiment

A special group of 225 boys go about their daily routine of classes at Maine East high school this year, unnoticed by the rest of the student body but highly praised by their physical education teacher for the specialized fitness program they are following. They have developed muscular abilities far beyond the norm of high schoolers their age.

How many boys or young men are able to do 85 pushups or 110 situps? Very few. But all the boys out of the special fitness program at Maine who can pass these tests and eight other ones are awarded gold shirts to signify their achievement. All the boys wore white shirts in September when the program started.

In the first competitive level, those who attained superior achievement were advanced to wearing of blue shirts. Out of that group, top performers who could meet the qualifications in any five events out of ten in the program won the coveted gold shirt.

Robert Vormittag, the physical education teacher at East who set up the program, chose the gold shirt as a motive for physical fitness in an effort to determine how far interested boys could progress. In the several months of the program to date, he has had to lift the minimal requirements several times because the boys have been spurred to constantly greater effort.

"The work the boys do is voluntary," said Vormittag. "On their own and entirely without demands from any teacher, they have developed astonishing abilities, considering the fact that they are still developing."

"As a direct result of their work in these events, they will rank higher on the school testing program of physical fitness than students who were not part of this experiment," I feel sure.

Vormittag keeps close watch over the boys and performs all the events in the program with them. He hopes to report on the experiment as part of his graduate work in physical education. He has been a teacher at Maine since 1900 and is also assistant track coach.

The idea for the experiment came from a program successfully conducted for several years at La Sierra, California, high school. Vormittag's adaptation includes the following events:

1. Hand Travel, walking hand over hand the length of a chin-up bar, to develop body flexibility and arm strength.
2. Shoulder Carry, the carrying on the shoulders of a person of equal body weight, over a measured distance, to develop power and leg strength.
3. Parallel Bar Dips, 40 for the gold shirt, to develop shoulder strength.
4. Chinups, 30 for the gold shirt, to develop biceps.
5. Distance Run, four miles at a jog, to develop endurance and leg strength.
6. 50-yard dash, in 6.5 seconds or less for the gold shirt, to develop speed, leg strength, and coordination.
7. Weight Lifting, for the gold shirt a bench press of 15 pounds above the boy's own weight, to

May 1 Final 1st Payment Tax Date

May 1 will be the final day to pay locally the first installment of the 1964 real estate taxes and the full amount of personal property taxes. After that date these bills must be paid at the office of the County Collector in Chicago, with penalty added.

Milton H. Tuttle, Maine Township Collector, pointed out that under state law, it is the duty of the taxpayer to obtain a tax bill if he does not receive one. He stated that names and addresses on tax bills are changed only upon a request filed in the County Collector's or his office, and are not changed automatically upon the recording of a deed at the time property is purchased. He urged any property owners who have not as yet received their 1964 real estate tax bill to apply at his office for a duplicate bill, so that payment can be made prior to the penalty date.

the first days of Niles library, only five short years ago.

The group had a volunteer library board led by a school teacher, Rudy Hazucha, who somehow kept the very library afloat. Meeting after meeting this small band met in one another's homes, without funds, but operating a shoe-string library for a fast-growing community which numbered more than 15,000 people. When they finally decided on seeking a referendum for the creation of a library district, Nilesites overwhelmingly supported it. But these pioneers led the way. These are Niles All Americans, and you can read many of their names which are listed in the present library room.

We mentioned many drives which go on in a community which are usually "manned" (and "womaned") by the same people. Among those which we thought an extra effort was made were the YMCA drive and the Lutheran General Hospital effort, both which contribute to the betterment of the community. In particular, we recall the president and vice president of the Niles Chamber, Al Green and Henry Ford, who spent countless hours on these efforts. They served with little recognition, indeed All American efforts.

Recently, during a bitter zero-early morning hour Niles firemen were fighting a tavern fire at the Milwaukee-Dempster corner. It was 3 A.M. and there were many paid-on-call volunteer firemen who rolled out of a warm bed to battle the ice and fire. These men had their regular job to attend in the later morning, but now their efforts resulted in a better community for all of us. These, too, must be considered Niles All Americans.

Just like the mythical All American sports teams, there are hundreds of well qualified "stars" who deserve similar recognition for that little bit extra they produce, whether they are individuals or entire communities. But like athletes, there are only a few which gain the recognition. Since Niles was so recognized she deserves the plaudits of the many.

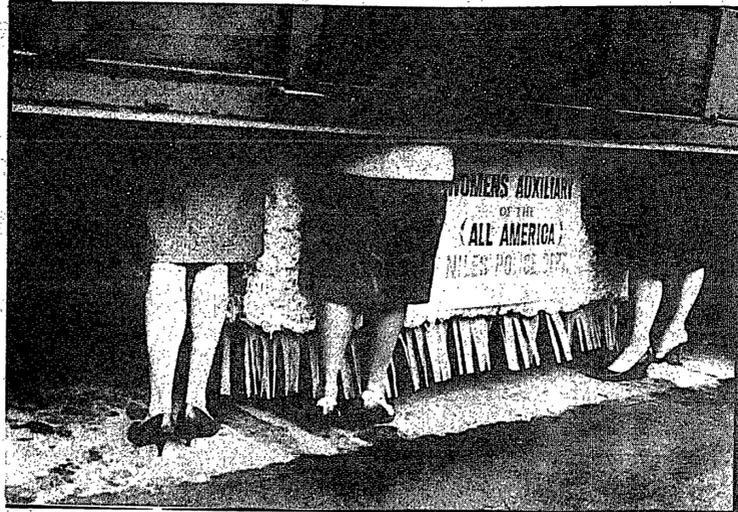

We join with them in saying, "Congratulations Niles, Illinois, All American City, 1965."

Niles Fire Department Cites Spray Can Dangers

Nilesites were warned of the potential dangers concealed in the innocent looking spray cans which are so prevalent in homes today.

The stern warning was issued by Chief Albert L. Hoelbl, of the Niles Fire Department, as more and more cases of needless tragedy caused by the careless use of these containers is brought to light.

The chief dangers involved are from explosions caused by overheating, and by injury resulting from remaining liquids coming in contact with the skin.

Everything from shaving creams to lubricating oils are being packed into these containers today. After a product has been placed in a can, a propellant, usually a liquefied gas, is sealed under pressure with it. When this can is overheated, the buildup in pressure by the gas is so great, an explosion occurs. Cases have been recorded of people killed by the flying metal fragments, of flesh cut into ribbons, of eyes lost. When cans are punctured, some of the remaining pressure can force some liquid onto the skin or the clothing you are wearing. Damage can be done to either.

Since women are the largest users of aerosol sprays, they were warned not to leave the

Meet Nick Blase....Captain Of All America Team

by Frieda Aron

The phones on his desk rang constantly and Mayor Nicholas Blase answered just as constantly, with that almost indolent manner of his, so incongruous to the forceful character he projects.

"Are you always so even-tempered?" I asked him.

"Usually, but once in a while—" his face suggested that blow-ups could and did occur.

Well, we can see our Mayor is only human and those are the best kind to have, aren't they? His politics were thoroughly approved by his overwhelming re-election vote, so let's have a bit of the personality and background of the man.

A bartender at the age of 12 in the restaurant owned by his parents, who came from Greece and settled at 31st and Wentworth, a graduate of De La Salle High School (the high school of Chicago Mayors, Kelly, Kennelly, Daley) and college freshman at the age of 16; a graduate of Notre Dame Law School at 21, Father Blase had one burning desire for his son which was fulfilled when the boy entered the famed Notre Dame University in 1945. In 1951, upon graduation, Nicholas Blase went to work for All-State Insurance Co. where he stayed until 1962 and then into the private practice of Law.

Since no man travels far alone, Nick married Clare, in 1955, his sweetheart of South Bend, Indiana since college days. Today one and one equals four; Nick, Clare, Marcella, age 8 and Mary Jo, age 2.

There was no real thoughts of politics until the family moved from Chicago to a new section in Niles, called Greenwood Estates. There is one thing common with all homeowners; the faults of the builders come directly to bear upon the weary shoulders of the innocent buyers. Nick found himself protesting vigorously and frequently before the Zoning Board of Niles; it resulted in the Homeowners Organization of Greenwood Estates being formed. Then he became President of the Niles Citizens Committee and very active in the varied groups of the municipality. There's something about the suburbs that "inveigels" one into getting involved, however much abstaining is done in the city. The Frankenstein problem of multiple dwellings beset the community even then, as it does now, and once Nicholas Blase started the ball rolling at all angles, there was no stopping him.

Four years ago, he was approached by Kenneth Scheef and Bob Wentz, both members of the Niles Zoning board, to accept the candidacy for Mayor on the New Era Party. With the insistence of Marge Lieske and Len Szymanski, good friends, he agreed and became a candidate.

"Tis said Mayor Blase rid Niles of vice and corruption. Says the Mayor—"Strong government and a strong police force is all that's needed to keep things under control. An honest Police Chief can keep his eye on all his force and know exactly what's going on in town."

What goes at the small town continued on page 13

Today's mother is so many things. A sympathetic ear. A cool hand on a fevered brow. A forgiving nature. A wonderful aroma. A kiss to make it well. A stitch in time. A peanut butter and jelly sandwich and a glass of chocolate milk. A mender of broken dolls and broken hearts. An umpire. A taxi driver. A fashion coordinator. A diplomat. A 24-hour answering service. A walking computer. A national resource!

Tells Ingredients For Making All America Village

The percentage of population increase has been one of the greatest in the entire United States.

We like to call 1960 the Year of Progress in Niles. There are good reasons for this as we shall see. Now, let us take a brief look at what happened during these 14 years which enabled Niles to become a true hometown for the thousands of new residents instead of simply an overcrowded tenement.

In 1950 there was no library, one park, and the cultural facilities consisted of words of wisdom dispensed by the friendly neighborhood tavern keeper. As the surge of newcomers began to sweep into Niles, it became apparent that changes were needed. The new residents were mostly young families, and city-oriented. They were used to libraries, parks and playgrounds, cultural facilities, good roads, streets, and other government services.

It would normally be expected that solutions to community's problems would come from local government officials. In Niles, a mayor and six trustees constitute the local government. Unfortunately, until 1961 when the old-time officials were replaced, very few solutions came from the government. Somehow they did not recognize that urbanization was taking place around them. They were satisfied with the status quo which included permitting gambling devices to operate in the Village. This left a void. Fortunately, various citizen groups stepped in and began working to improve Niles.

The first successful citizen action was setting up an independent Niles Park District

In 1954, Citizen volunteers circulated petitions requesting a referendum for the formation of a tax supported Park District. The referendum was approved and five Park Commissioners serving without pay, were elected to administer the District's business. The district started with two parks. One of these parks, a five acre site in the Grennan Heights area was purchased and equipped by citizen donations. Even the fieldhouse was built by the local residents.

In 1957, the Park Board proposed an ambitious 52 acre park development and community center site. The proposal was narrowly defeated at the polls chiefly because of a lack of cooperation of the old entrenched Village Trustees. In 1962, the Park Board again proposed a referendum and bond issue for a swimming pool and community center. This time the citizens went to work in earnest. Forming an organization called Citizens For Better Parks, they educated the public on the need for these facilities. Also, at this time, the new administration cooperated fully and the voters approved. The beautiful olympic size swimming pool was opened in the summer of 1964. The new community center was opened at the same time and is the hub of a wide range of activities from judo lessons to arts and crafts to knitting lessons.

In 1955, the Women's Club of Niles conducted a survey to determine the needs of the community. The lack of a library was the most obvious need. A committee of women was promptly formed and charged with the task of bringing library service to Niles. It is said that ignorance is bliss, and perhaps if these women had foreseen the long, hard road ahead of them they would not have undertaken the project. Luckily for the rest of us, they plunged ahead. It took two years before any sort of library service could be offered. Funds were collected from anyone who could be persuaded to part with some. Book drives were held. The Park Board made a room available in the Grennan Heights fieldhouse. The shelving was built by Niles firemen on their own time. Volunteers from many groups sorted and classified the donated books as best they could. In April 1957, everything was ready and the library opened its door. The usual phrase is "opened its doors", but it was only a small door to a small room. The Niles Village Library, completely citizen supported, was open for 15 hours a week and staffed by enthusiastic, untrained volunteers.

As the population grew, the space became inadequate. It was time to expand and the citizens went to work. On April 18, 1959 a referendum election was held to establish a tax supported Niles Public Library District. The referendum was passed and six Trustees, a non-paying job, were elected. A double store was rented and the first professional librarian hired. At first the new quarters looked cavernous, but the shelves were filled, more shelves built and also filled. By 1963, over 88,000 books a year were being circulated. Niles had once again outgrown its accommodations.

In 1964 plans were drawn up to acquire land and build a complete library building. The necessary $575,000 bond issue was passed in July, 1964. Much of the credit must go to the Friends of the Library, an interested citizen group, which worked tirelessly to accomplish this goal. When the new building is completed, Niles will have total library service, seating for 100 readers, shelf space for 100,000 books, a large children's room and audiovisual aids.

The toughest job was to unseat the old village administration which had held power since 1941. It was not until 1961 that a reform mayor and three reform trustees were elected in a bitter four-way contest. Hundreds of citizens who believed Niles deserved a better government went door-to-door to effect the election of these political newcomers. The ensuing years saw the greatest improvements in the Village. The citizens no longer had to "fight city hall". Their desires and interests were now matched by those of the new administration.

A short time after taking office, the new administration passed an ordinance against pinball machines, jar games and other gambling devices. The old police chief wisely decided to retire, and under the new chief gambling in Niles was eliminated. However, the Village Board was not satisfied to stop there. Vice and gambling continued to flourish just outside the borders of Niles in a small unincorporated strip between Chicago and the Village. Niles police could not go into the area; Chicago police could not go in; somehow the County Sheriff's police could not find it. In 1962, Niles let it be known that it would annex the area in order to clean it up. There was some question of the legality of annexation by Niles. Rather than go through years of court battles, the Village persuaded Chicago to annex the strip. The once flourishing B-Girl dives and gambling dens are now shuttered.

East Maine Kindergarten Registration

Plans have been completed for registration of children for kindergarten for the 1965-66 school year in East Maine School District No. 63.

Registration will be held on Tuesday, May 4, and Wednesday, May 5, at the Ballard, Oak, Nelson, Melzer, Washington, Mark Twain, and Woodrow Wilson Schools. Registration hours are from 8:30 A.M. to 11:30 A.M. and from 1:00 P.M. to 3:00 P.M.

Children must be five years of age on or before December 1, 1965 to be eligible to attend kindergarten in the district. No registrations will be accepted unless evidence of age in the form of a birth certificate or a photostatic copy of same is presented.

Kindergarten will be in session for the full year and will provide important educational experiences including a pre-reading program for the children enrolled.

level naturally is not the same as a huge Metropolis, but every local governing body can easily run a good, clean town if they care too.

Does he like being "Nick" to the 30,000 inhabitants of Niles? Yes, he feels he should be as close to the people as their phones. He seems to mean it, not merely giving lip service to the community. Beneath that relaxed and unassuming facade is a strong guiding hand, maybe too strong for some, and firm intent. Nicholas Blase exudes a great deal of warmth and interest and the determination that make for a good local governing. As a former city dweller, there is an unbelievable friendliness and folksiness when the head of the government is as easily reachable as your next door neighbor? Hi Nick, awfully glad to have you as Chief!

Another Morn'nother Yawn.

by Frieda Aron—966-9669

Three years or so ago, we thought to indulge ourselves in that attractive whimsy—it was time for a change. Change of what? Well—let's see—maybe a new house, a step into the suburbs, new friends, new car, all the endless possibilities of fanciful thinking. But we loved our house, wouldn't trade any of our friends or neighbors, the car worked well enough—so what then? Maybe that smug unconsciousness was rising into eluciddation and the picture was not unpleasant. Wasn't it perhaps time to pass the Jones'; wasn't it time to pick up a bit of status, time for that second car, a newer and better school for the children? What despicable nonsense! Therefore we sold our lovely house, said farewell to our dear old neighbors, bought that second car, moved into a new suburban house with all new furniture, one thing was certain to stay on that old familiar footing. The bank account with continuous droughts sweeping through it. And only one thing had changed. Garbage collection was twice a week in our suburb, instead of once, as it was in the city. Besides, the second pick-up was only for heavy objects that wouldn't be taken on the usual collection day.

And the years went by, until one day we became suburbanites. Don't know how it happened, but little things became important and big things drew us into the fold. It was Our Town—Our Problems, Our Effort, Our Need, Our Support, Our Pride. The recipient of all this was and is Niles and suddenly we are Nilesites. A little abashed because of former indifference, secretly vain, because we had the foresight to pick Niles for our home, long before public acclaim came to our town in the title of All-American City. Hi, Niles, glad to be around!

of the bachelors subscribing for one or more scholars in order to sustain the school. The third teacher was Miss Cordelia Wheaton, whose salary was $12 per month and board around two days in a place. A school-house was built in 1849 by John Ketchum, for $25, the material being furnished. It stood on a lot donated by John Odell. This school-house was used until 1857, when the present brick school-house was erected. The lot on which this brick school house stands was obtained of William Horner in exchange for the old school-house and lot. The house was built for $1,000. There are about sixty-five scholars in attendance, about one-half the scholars in the district attending the German school.

RELIGIOUS.—The first sermon in this place was preached at James Milne's house, in 1847, by Rev. Mr. Wheaton, a Methodist minister. The churches now in existence are three: Methodist, German Lutheran and one belonging to the German Evangelical Association. The German Lutheran Church was started in 1859, by John Hasseman, Henry Hasseman, Fred Schroeder, Fred Segelken, Fred Henning, Fred Schlander, Fred Hasse, John Hasse, Mr. Luther, Mr. Rose, Mr. Hacker, Mr. Wendt, and others. The church building was erected in 1861 on a lot donated to the society by William Lill, the brewer of Chicago. It is a two story building, brick basement, with frame superstructure, 40 x 65 feet in size, and cost $2,500. A Rev. Mr. Heming was the first preacher. He remained three or four years and was succeeded by the Rev. G.S. Loeber, who has been pastor twenty-three years. Under him the school was started. A separate school building was erected in 1872 on the lot with the church first erected.

same lot with the church. The first teacher was Fred Krieger, who remained four years; the second was August Gruhl, who remained eight years, and the third is H. Jaerke, who has been there two years. The building is a two-story frame, costing about $1,200.

The Church of the Evangelical Association originally stood in Maine Township, about eighty rods west of its present location in Niles, and until 1867 belonged to the Des Plaines circuit. The ministers' names who were with the Church immediately previous to its removal were the Rev. G. Vetter, 1864 and 1865, and Rev. A. Gockley, 1866. The church building was a small frame, which when the present edifice was erected in the summer of 1875, was sold to Phillip Rehnstab to be used for a barn. It originally cost about $400 and would seat about 250 people. The church society was started in 1850, by Christian Ebinger and a few other Germans, among them, Henry Bende, Frederick and John Ebinger, Frederick Blume, Frederick Selger, Jacob and John Wingert, Jacob Garble, Jacob Brecher, and Frederick Mueller, and their wives. One of its first preachers was Jacob Esher, father of the present Bishop, J. J. Esher, and the Rev. George Esher of Chicago. The preachers since the removal to its present location have been the Revs. P. J. Wingert, 1867; C. Augustein, 1868; H. Meier, 1869; G. Vetter, 187; W. Strasburger, 1872; R. Rohrbach 1874; C. Augustein, 1875; W. Schnelker, 1878; C. Danner, 1881 and 1882; Amos Gocklev.

1883 and 1884. The new building was dedicated by Bishop J.J. Esher, and cost $3,300. The present membership of the church is 125.

The Methodist society erected their building in 1880. It is a very neat one-story frame building, and was erected by the combined aid of the members, and with the expenditure of very little money. John Ketchum did most of the carpenter work. The building will seat about 400 people. The pulpit has usually been supplied by students from Evanston, and occasionally by the Methodist minister from Park Ridge. A Sunday-school is in connection with the church, having about seventy-five scholars, and five teachers, Mrs. M. Ketchum is the superintendent.

The Village of Niles now contains two stores, two hotels, one drug store, one harness shop, two blacksmith shops, three churches, two schools, one physician and about 200 inhabitants.

BENJAMIN LUPTON was born in England April 7, 1817, and his father's name was Christopher, and his mother's Ellen (Parker) Lupton. Benjamin Lupton immigrated to America in 1831. He commenced to learn the blacksmith's trade with Matthias Mason, who had a shop on Franklin Street, between Lake and South Water streets, Chicago. Here he worked about six months, when Mr. Mason, renting the building to John S. C. Hogan, moved to a new location on Lake Street, near Dearborn. Mr. Lupton went to this new location to continue his apprenticeship, and worked there about eighteen months, at the end of which time he moved to Half Day, in Lake County, where he remained about a year, when he returned to England. While in England he ironed a turnip drill for his father, and set a horse-shoe for one of his father's neighbors. This is all the blacksmithing he did in England. The story about his making a hoe there, "showing Johnny Bull how to make a hoe," told with so much relish by various speakers at old settlers' meetings and pic-nics, is entirely gratuitous. Mr. Lupton, himself, not knowing then how to make a hoe. While in England he was married to Miss Mary Arrowsmith, whom he brought to America with him. The story that Miss Arrowsmith was the promised bride of William West, who gave Mr. Lupton money with which to pay her passage to America, is emphatically denied by both Mr. and Mrs. Lupton. After returning to America he settled at Dutchman's Point, and opened there the first blacksmith shop, in 1840, in which he carried on the trade for over twenty years, when he retired from active business. He and his wife now reside at the village of Niles.

JOHN PLANK was born at Hesse-Darmstadt, Germany, in 1808. He came to America in 1831, remaining at Detroit one year. In 1832, he came to Chicago with the Ebinger brothers. He was the third to build a house at Dutchman's Point, on a claim just north of Christian Ebinger's. Here he carried on farming to some extent for a few years, and kept whisky, which he sold to Indians and travelers. When he left Dutchman's Point he went to Missouri, and there became a convert to the Methodist Episcopal Church. In Missouri he preached on license for some two years, and then went to Wisconsin, in which State he remained four years. He then returned to Chicago, where he remained four years as presiding elder of the German Methodist Church, and then was sent to Iowa. He remained in Iowa until 1883, when he was sent to Dakota, where he still resides. His sister, Elizabeth, was married to John Ebinger, while he was married to Miss Elizabeth Ebinger.

CHRISTIAN EBINGER was born in Wurtemberg, Germany, in 1812, in which city he had charge for a number of years of the flower garden of King William, of Wurtemberg. He immigrated to America in 1831 and lived one year in Detroit, where he was married to Miss Barbara Rehly. In 1832 he came to Chicago, and in 1834 to Dutchman's Point, where with the exception of the rude log shanty built by Schallger and Perren, he built the first house. This house was a log one, 24 x 14 feet, one story high. Here he carried on his farm and was a local preacher of the German Evangelical Association, preaching however only occasionally, and then mostly for churches temporarily destitute of a pastor. He died in 1879. His widow still lives. They have had seven children—Christian, Henry, Margaret, Sarah, Eliza, Caroline, and William.

Announces Legion Poppy Chairmen

Announcement has been made by Mrs. Charles Poss, President of the Morton Grove Auxiliary Unit #134, American Legion, of her co-Poppy Day Chairmen and the salute to National Music Week to be observed beginning Sunday, May 2nd.

Mrs. John Sepesy, 8513 Fernald and Mrs. Hubert Koob, 6701 Maple, will serve as co-chairmen of this year's Poppy Drive. To be conducted May 20th, the profits are used for rehabilitation work by the Auxiliary.

Hospitalized veterans are paid to fashion these red flowers which are in turn sold for donations to the villagers. Any money earned helps these boys who defended the country for us.

Each month at the regular Auxiliary meetings, Mrs. Sepesy, Music Chairman, leads the members in a few songs. To commemorate National Music Week beginning Sunday, May 2, Mrs. Sepesy will once again pass out her music books and lead the Auxiliary members in several selections at their next meeting.

Industriously working in her spare time, Mrs. Sepesy typed stencils and mimeographed pages of words of dozens of songs. Fashioning covers and stapling together also took much time; but the result are lovely booklets which are circulated each month for the members to use in following the words. Shall we say the ladies are not without something to say?

Most appropriate songs for this coming month's meeting, no doubt, are "Spring is Bustin' Out All Over", "Let's All Sing Like the Birdies Sing" and "When the Red, Red Robin Comes Bob, Bob Bobbin' Along".

Niles Religious Growth Dates Back To 1848

Weaved throughout the history of the Village of Niles is an interesting story of the growth of our religious life. As our village has grown so has its religious facilities. At the present time there is a house of worship located either within our borders or in the immediate area for about every 2,150 of our residents.

This interest in religious life goes back to the pioneering days. As early as 1848 Lutheran settlers were holding services in a private home that stood on the land now occupied by the St. Matthew's Lutheran Cemetery on Sherman Road. This was the nucleus of the St. John Lutheran Church which was formally organized in 1859 and which is still an important part of our community today.

In 1850 a man named Christian Ebinger, along with a few other German settlers, organized a church under the auspices of the German Evangelical Association. Ebinger, his two brothers and his brother-in-law were among the first settlers to build long cabin homes in Niles (then called "Dutchman's Point") during the 1830's.

Methodist services during the 1850's were conducted by ministers who traveled to small communities in the Niles area to lead them in prayer. They were called "Circuit Riders" and their route was called the "Niles Circuit."

In 1860 the St. John Lutheran Church erected their first house of worship on Milwaukee Avenue at a cost of $1,311.63 plus $165.00 for the bell. This was a two-story brick frame building. The upper floor was used for church purposes, the lower floor served as a school and a dwelling for the pastor and his family.

From these meager beginnings St. John's has grown through the years, until today it boasts of a modern church and school building on the original site at 7423 Milwaukee Avenue.

For any information, donations or pick-ups, please call the chairman, Mrs. Arlene Rook, 965-3381 or the Church at 966-9233.

All proceeds from this sale will be used for the purchase of Sunday School equipment.

Brownie Troop 601 News

Mrs. Edward Tabert, leader of Brownie Troop 601 helped the girls recently to complete a thoroughly enjoyable and interesting Service Project. The Brownies made little dolls from Handkerchiefs which they placed in small Easter Baskets which were gaily decorated with colorful ribbons and little chicks. Mrs. Gustafson took the finished project to the Resurrection Hospital for use at the Pediatric Floor. Plans were for delivery on the Easter Day Dinner Trays.

This progress has not come easily. On January 11, 1959 the congregation celebrated its 100th year with a special service. One week later the church building, built in 1902, was struck by fire and severely damaged. But with staunch determination and courage the congregation set about the task of building a new church. This beautiful structure was completed in 1961.

St. John's Lutheran Church

The second oldest existing church in Niles goes back to 1895. At that time nine members of St. John's left their congregation to form St. Matthew's Evangelical Lutheran Church, which is located about two miles north of St. John's on Milwaukee Avenue.

Their original church building (dedicated on June 6, 1897) still stands today. Although a modern new church has been in use just west of it since 1963, this lovely old church stands as a sentimental reminder of the past to members of the congregation and travelers who pass on Milwaukee Avenue.

St. Matthew's Evangelical Lutheran Church

Evidence seems to show that the Lutheran faith was in majority in Niles in its earliest days and that most of these people were of German descent. Both St. John's and St. Matthew's conducted services in German for many years. St.

This was only one phase of revitalizing the Village. The police and fire department were modernized and enlarged. A new fire station was built. A new Village Hall was built to house the council chambers, courthouse, and police department. A professional village manager was hired in 1962. The Clerk's office was modernized and correct business procedures instituted.

With the new climate apparent in Niles, the YMCA was ready to offer its facilities. In 1960, 4-1/2 acres of Hig Park had been donated to the Y for future development. Hig Park is a most unusual site as it contains the world's only replica of the Leaning Tower of Pisa, Italy. This 9 story structure was built by Mr. Hig in his private park in 1932. The Y decided that the time was ripe in 1962 to start fund drives for a completely modern Y. During 1962 and 1963, Niles residents surpassed their goal by almost 35%. The Leaning Tower YMCA is now under construction and will be completed next year.

Obviously in 10 minutes it is impossible to relate more than some of the highlights of the dynamic rebirth of a village. There is no time to tell about the new schools, churches, streets and sewers. There is no time to fully tell about the hours of discussions, the days, weeks, and months of planning, and sometimes the years that the citizens put into various efforts.

There are still some problems. When they are solved, new problems will come to take their place. It matters not. As long as there are people willing to give of themselves, there are no obstacles that cannot be overcome.

We live in Illinois, the Land of Lincoln, and I would like to close with something Abraham Lincoln said: "I believe that a man should be proud of the community in which he lives, and that he should so live that his community will be proud that he lives in it."

First Known Religious Services Held In Niles In 1848

John's still held services in German on a limited scale as late as 1950.

The Catholic population of Niles was rather small up through the 1920's. At that time the only church in the area was St. Juliana at 7400 West Touhy in Chicago. The parish took in the territory of Niles that is now covered by the St. John Brebeuf Church.

Through the 30's and 40's the population of Niles remained fairly constant. But beginning in 1950 the great migration from the city to the suburbs brought thousands of people into our village, and with them came a tremendous need for more religious facilities.

In 1950 a small group of Presbyterian residents began holding services in their homes, and in March of 1952 the Niles Community Church was officially chartered by the Church Federation. This small group (155 adults and 139 Sunday School children) began the task of raising funds for a sanctuary . . . and in 1955 it was finally built. Five years later the school was completed. By 1963 the Niles Community Church had 592 adult members and 150 children in their Sunday School.

The fantastic growth of our village can best be illustrated by describing the growth of our largest Catholic Church, St. John Brebeuf, which is located at 8301 Harlem Avenue.

The church was founded in 1953. A temporary frame church was erected, which was later used as a classroom. They embarked on a building program for a school, convent and rectory which was completed in the fall of 1955. After that it was necessary to add thirteen classrooms, and in 1957 another temporary church was completed along with more classrooms. In 1962 still more classrooms were added, and the church is presently putting in six additional classrooms to make a total of 36. The permanent church building is expected to be completed in 1965.

In 1953 St. John Brebeuf had 600 families in the congregation and 450 children in the school. In 1963 there were 2,800 families and 1,565 children. At the present time this church is among the largest in the Niles area.

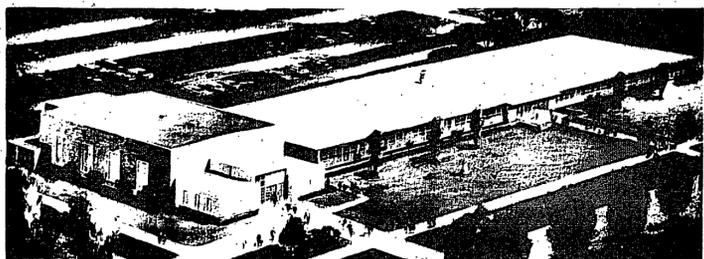

The Niles Community Church and St. John Brebeuf are only two churches which have been established in Niles and its immediate area since 1950.

Others are: St. Mary's of the Woods, 1952; St. Isaac Jogues, 1956; St. Anselm's Episcopal, 1956; The Niles Bible Church; St. Paul's Reformed Episcopal; Northwest Suburban Jewish Congregation, 1958; Our Lady of Ransom, 1960; Maine Township Jewish Congregation, 1962; These religious facilities, some located outside of Niles but serving Niles residents, have played a valuable role in the community life of the people of our village.

The front part of this report had a quotation; "You will do the greatest service to the state if you shall raise, not the roofs of the houses, but the souls of the citizens."

This statement is especially true with regard to our village. The religious spirit of our citizens was carried over into the building of Niles, helping it to grow into one of the most progressive, modern suburban areas in the country. This spirit has made Niles a fine place in which to live, to work and to worship.

Our Lady of Ransom Catholic Church

We would like to thank the religious leaders of all of our Niles and Niles area churches and synagogues for the cooperation they gave during the preparation of this Progress Report. The interesting results of our interviews gave enough material for a report twice the size as the one you have just read. We regret that space did not allow us to print all of the information which we received. We would also like to thank the following agencies for their assistance: The Church Federation of Greater Chicago, The Board of American Missions, The Lutheran Council of Greater Chicago and the North American Methodist Conference.

In the cast were: The Herald - Debbie Schreier; The Jester - Pat Vito; Proud Lady who Carries the Cake - Florence Dodd; and the Page who Carries the Train of the Lady who Carries the Cake - Carol Griesto. Karen Emrikson expressed the gratitude and appreciation of the girls of Troop 970 for the time Mrs. Anderson volunteers to Girl Scouting and presented her with the Girl Scout Rose. Each of the girls made an artificial rose which was affixed to the plant to show what it would look like in full bloom. Melodie Baffess and Judy Mickey presented her also with a Gift Certificate from the Troop. After cake and punch, the girls got down to serious business to prepare for their two night overnight at Camp Pine by demonstrating ways to use the triangular bandage and also completing a requirement for the Health Aid Badge.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Proud Of All American Award

Dear Mr. Besser:

I feel very proud to be a resident of the Village of Niles now referred to as the All America City. Now that elections are over and everyone is getting back to a normal state of mind, I would like to remind the people of Niles of the persons who helped make this possible.

Some of these are the police officers in the squad cars who patrol our streets day and night to protect us, sometimes at the risk of their own lives, and our firemen whose time and efforts teach us safety tips and in the event of any emergencies are always at hand.

It is always easy for someone, myself included, to sit back and think this is what we pay our Village employees for. But here again when we compare our insurance rates, Fire Departments and Police Departments we are always rated among the finest. Its so easy to forget that they are always there just by picking up your phone and dialing no matter what emergency arises.

Another service which is often forgotten is our Public Works whose men during these last winter months were working almost 24 hours a day, so that we could drive to work, stores, and schools knowing our streets were passable.

These men and others like them are really the ones that have made Niles the All America City. For their unselfish devotion to their duties we should all give them a tremendous vote of thanks. Lets all remember it takes the small men, working together, to make a great community.

Sincerely yours,
John L. Ellis
8253 Oconto Ave.
Niles, Illinois

Thanks Niles Police

Dear Sir:

On March 15th I had occasion to call upon the Niles Police Department for assistance in a very unfortunate and delicate matter. I wish to take this opportunity to personally and publicly commend Captain Cameron, Sgt. Warrus and Officer Reid for their efforts. Captain Cameron was most understanding and cooperative and the patience and professional conduct and ethics of Sgt. Warrus and Officer Reid was most commendable. These fine men at the very least are deserving of a commendation.

From my experience I wish to emphatically state that the village of Niles should be proud of their Police Department. Again allow me to state that I personally and publicly wish to commend and thank these fine officers.

Very truly yours,
Joseph J. DyJack
8416 N. Oleander Avenue
Niles, Illinois

M.G. Post 134 Hawaiian Luau May 16

The Spring Fling Hawaiian Luau tickets are going like hot cakes, and Morton Grove American Legion Post #134 First Junior Vice Commander Jerry De Berthler says that after Saturday, May 1st, they will be put on sale to the general public. Prior to that date, only Legionnaires and Auxiliary members were allowed to purchase the $7 a couple tickets.

To be held on Sunday, May 16, the affair will begin with cocktails at 5 P.M., promptly at 6:00 the Hawaiian dinner featuring sweet sour ribs, chicken and all the other polynesian dishes to complete the full course meal.

The Royal Polynesians will play for dancing pleasure after the dining hour; and fabulous Pacific-type entertainment will take place throughout the evening. It will be presented by groups who have appeared at the Club Walkiki, the Polynesian Room of the Edgewater Beach Hotel and other hotels and nightclubs throughout the country. Some of the continuous entertainment will be the Mai Kai dancers, the Pearls of the Pacific and other fire walking and dance demonstrations.

De Berthler, who may be reached at VA 3-0903 for ticket reservations, says the party will be limited to only 100. He also urges everyone to dress comfortably in the true South Sea Island style.

Members of his committee who also may be contacted regarding ticket information are Ed Martin, Roman Lach, Al Nehart, Paul Schalk, Berpie Williams, Tony LaRosa and Hal Unger.
