blocks from their homes, to the Melzer School, nine blocks away. Jerry Muller, president of the group, agrees with us that a mobile unit might be considered at the Washington School, rather than move the children from their home area. District 63's continuous growth problems are never-ending, and the job of providing school space for the children in district 63 is as always, at a crisis-point. The school board is always attuned to the problems of the people it represents, difficult as the conflicting problems are.

One of our many-rumor hungry friends told us Niles Park Board Commissioner Jerry Sullivan will be playing center on the Semi-Pro Panther football team which will be making its debut at Notre Dame in a couple of weeks. Even if Jerry only goes in for the kick-off it will lift many spirits of guys who thought they were over the hill. If Sullivan returns to the form of his golden days, we may convince guys like Jules Pandera and George Leddy, among many, who played on Chicago City champion basketball teams, to start a semi-pro basketball team in Niles, sort of Niles answer to the Globe Trotters.

Start Clara Blase Fund For Library Memorial

Niles was shocked and grieved at the passing of its first lady in the prime of her life and at the height of our All America City festivities. Many leaders of community organizations and individuals expressed at that time a desire to contribute to a lasting memorial in her name.

Several suggestions and recommendations were made but discarded because they were sectarian or private in nature. Out of Clara Blase's special affinity for young people, it was deemed that a most fitting permanent memorial to her would be the furnishing of the children's wing of the new public library building.

The executive board of the Niles Citizens Committee was named as the agency for notification of the establishment of The Clara Blase Memorial Library Fund to newspapers

Niles Firefighter - Photographers

The increasing importance of photography in fire department operations was stressed during a three-day fire photography course recently completed by three Niles firefighters-photographers.

They were among 140 firefighters from the United States and Canada to attend the 2nd Annual Fire Photographers Seminar, conducted by the Chicago Fire Department's famed Photography Division.

The Niles firefighters who received their certificates of attendance are Gordon Michalsen, Ronald Petzold and James Foerster.

A panel discussion conducted by Battalion Chief George Schuller, head of the division, and representatives of film and camera companies, emphasized the importance of photography in arson investigation, training and public relations.

According to Fire Chief Albert L. Hoelbl, Niles firemen will attend specialized training schools when possible to gain the benefit of advancements being made in the firefighting profession.

Tickets On Sale For Niles All America City Ball

The sale of tickets for the Niles All America City Ball has gotten under way. The Ball, being held on Saturday evening, October 9th, will be the festive highlight of the year-long celebration of Niles' All America City title.

Blase Bank Of Niles Director

The stockholders elected Nicholas B. Blase, Mayor of Niles and Louis Lerner of the Lerner Newspapers, as directors of the Bank of Niles.

Richard W. Duca, President of the bank said, at the bank's special stockholders' meeting Tuesday, that at the present rate of growth, its assets will be 20,000,000 within five years.

Duca, in a mid-year report said that in the past twelve months, the bank has grown by two million dollars so that total footings are now $11,500,000. The Bank of Niles is now serving two thousand more people than a year ago and earnings have reached an all-time peak. Also setting new highs for the year were real estate mortgage loans and installment loans.

The lavish Ball will be a "first" for Niles and the forecast is for a memorable evening of gaiety and fun.

Dancing music will be provided by the Frankie Masters Orchestra, and some additional entertainment surprises are being planned by the Commission.

Board Chairman, H. M. Cavanaugh, reported that the growth of the bank has been nothing other than a phenomena. He said that the bank has purchased the building it previously rented and also a large parking lot east of the present bank building.

He also said that seven hundred additional safety deposit boxes are being built at the bank.

Howdy

A boy, James Everett, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Allison Housley, on July 22, 1965. The baby and proud parents are living at 8429 Milwaukee, Niles. The baby weighed in at 8 lbs., 10 and 1/2 oz.

Trustee Sam Bruno, including Trustee Robert Wente and Trustee Keith Peck and 4 additional members will "test and evaluate" traffic plans for specific areas in Niles holding hearings and recommending to the entire village board traffic plans adopted. The plans of the Barton, Ashman and Associates traffic survey will be the guide which the committee will use.

Scheel reminded the Board and the public the town meetings scheduled this fall will have specialists from each activity in the village available for problems brought by residents. The police chief and the public works head will be available, as two examples, for residents to air problems directly to the men who are in charge of these village activities.

Twenty of twenty-two police officers passed the test for police sergeant and trustees approved six additional sergeants posts subject to vote and selection of the village board. Thus, there will not be the hiring of six sergeants now, only at the future vote of the Board and the recommendation of the Police Chief.

Country Club which bears consideration. Several public officials have told THE BUGLE the new owners from on liquor being used at the Club, and already the two licenses there are no longer in use. It has been implied that the present licenses may lie fallow, and expire not be re-newed at the end of the October license period. However, while these licenses would be eliminated Liquor Commissioner Blase could still issue two additional licenses, unless the village board ends the present ordinance to decrease the number of licenses in Niles.

Another interesting consideration concerns the value of the property. It has been estimated the property was sold to the Anderson forces for a figure of from $3,000,000 to $5,000,000. If the expected industrial zoning request is approved the value of the property might double. In such an instance the cost of the property to the Niles Park Board might be out of reach. However, because the two boards are jointly discussing the plans, it is possible an agreement might be worked out which would allow the park board to receive some of the property at a price considerably under these various "paper figures" which would result from the new zoning.

A spokesman for the Niles All America City Commission said: "We remember the shortage of tickets for the All America City Dinner in May, and urge everyone to purchase their dance tickets early. Even with the large capacity of the O'Hare Inn Ballroom, we are afraid some people may be disappointed if they wait too long."

The lavish Ball will be a "first" for Niles and the forecast is for a memorable evening of gaiety and fun.

Until after tonight's meeting, all areas of discussion must be considered in the realm of speculation. Whether the park would consider condemnation plans, which is a question the park board may have to solve is also most debatable and cannot be answered until after Thursday's meeting.

by David Beaser Editor & Publisher

In describing Arthur Goldberg's first speech at the United Nations the Chicago Daily News' Peter Lisagor wrote of Goldberg, "the judicious advocate who leaves passion to dwell with uncertain men".

The beautiful turning of Lisagor's words is fitting for public officials as well as citizens who have become aroused by the Tam O'Shanter undertaking.

Monday morning one resident called somewhat excitedly to say he had 150 residents who would fight for the TAM acquisition. At noon time we spent an hour with Park President Steve Chameriski, who showed us the map of TAM, and the proposals set forth at Thursday's meeting. Tuesday we spoke to Mayor Blase and trustee Ken Scheel. Several key points were drawn from these many opinions.

Most important the first need is for the Park Board and Village Board to sit down together and, leaving personal feelings aside, air their opinions on the subject. Leaving passions aside these men, all of good intentions, should bring with them several experts, land evaluators, legal specialists, and bonding experts, who could advise them about the advisability of the TAM acquisition.

The public figure of $3,200,000, which was one price reported to be the purchase price of the course, is a huge undertaking. It is being considered by officials, none of whom have experience in the areas of high finance. This is where the experts come in.

The Anderson forces had attorney Louis Ancel representing them. He is one of the foremost authorities on municipalities in the country, whose respect has a national following. Against his knowledge neither the village board nor park board had any legal counsel at the Thursday meeting, which certainly seemed unreasonable.

In dealing with the $3,000,000 figure (which is likely a minimum price) Chameriski suggested Revenue Bonds might be used in purchasing the property; thus, avoiding a tax burden to park district taxpayers. Village sources said the principal and interest on the bonds might be $75,000 yearly. Could this money be recovered? Again, only experts would know the answer.

What about the park district's bonding power? Does it have the means for acquiring such a burden? And what would happen if the yearly payment of the bonds could not be met? Would the taxpayers have to assume the liability? Is it possible the park district might become bankrupt?

The money question has to be studied. Would $3,000,000 for this one property be preferable to $3,000,000 for additional parks and swimming pools and gymnasiums and park centers which might be created thruout the community?

Most important, how valuable is the golf facility to the community? Since the bulk of the money will be going for the land for the golf course how

NILES PARK BOARD FILES TAM CONDEMNATION SUIT

Turn Down Alternate Plan

Amidst sharp disagreement with village officials (See village news release below) Niles Park District filed suit in Circuit Court Friday, asking condemnation of the 122 acres of Tam O'Shanter land on which the 18-hole golf course is located. The suit requests the court set an equitable sale price to be paid the owners of the property by the park district. Tam O'Shanter was sold in March, 1963, by a corporation owned by the late George S. May to Trust 632 of the Evans-ton Trust and Savings Bank. According to park attorney Jim Orphan the price was $3,200,000.

According to Park President Steve Chameriski the park district intends to turn Tam O'Shanter into a public golf course.

At a Thursday night meeting with representatives of Emil J. Anderson & Co., which is believed to be the owner of the property, Chameriski said 41 acres of the 122 acres was offered to the park district, for a price to be determined in the future. It was also suggested.

Village Bd. On TAM

(Village Board Release)

It has been the purpose of this Board to try and work together with all other boards in the Village of Niles. Occasionally, something occurs which demands that the views of the Village Board be set out so there can be no doubt to the people of Niles as to our position on a particular matter.

On Thursday, August 12th, our Board and the Park Board met with the owners of Tam O'Shanter for the purpose of discussing a plan that had been proposed. The plan would in effect ultimately leave the Village of Niles with a 18-hole golf course with somewhat less than the distance of the present Tam O'Shanter course, but, nevertheless a working 18-hole

Niles Library To Break Ground

On August 29 at 2:00 p.m., the Niles Public Library Board of Trustees will break ground for the new library building on the library property at 6960 Oakton Street, just east of the corner of Oakton Street and Waukegan Road. The public is cordially invited to attend the ceremony which brings to the people of Niles the first visible evidence of progress toward this long awaited public facility.

A little over one year ago the voters of the Library District indicated their desire for improvement in their library service by voting for a bond issue of $575,000 for the purchase of land and the construction of a new library building. The members of the Library Board, the library building consultant, and the architects have worked for many long hours to plan a building worthy of Niles, the All-America City. In order to meet the newly adopted American Library Association standards for public library buildings and equipment additional funds were sought and an application was made by the Board for a Federal Grant under the new Title II of the Library Services and Construction Act, which was enacted in 1964. This Act was approved by Congress and signed by the President in order to enable local libraries throughout the country to improve their services and facilities. Until last April legal problems stood in the way of use of these funds in Illinois, but these problems were finally cleared up just in time for Niles Library to be among the very first in the state to receive an allocation of funds. The Illinois State Library and the Library Services Branch of the federal government have approved a grant of $212,963 to assist in construction of the new library. Although this has caused some delay in starting the building the Library Board feels that the continued patience of the people of Niles will be well repaid by the much better facilities these additional funds will make available.

At its meeting on August 11 the Library Board, basing its judgement on the lowest base bid by responsible contractors, awarded the contracts for general construction to J. S. Harris and Sons of Palatine; for heating installation to James

This game featured a home run by Freeman for the Jets. Fate of the Twins also homered, but it was not enough to overtake the good all-around play of the Jets. The Jets also defeated Courland Park by the score of 15 to 2. This game featured, home run's by Metz and Powers of the Jets, and fine hitting of the Jets.

The Big Boys moved into second place by defeating the Twins 14 to 1, and Courland Park 14 to 13. The Twins were given only 4 hits, and scored their lone run when Kaplan singled home Spalato in the fifth inning. In the second game Ragusa led in hitting with 5 for 5 and Coll snacked a homer to aid in the victory over Courland Park.

Tynan went 2 for 2 for Courland Park and Dickson hit a homerun to tie the game in the seventh inning, but the Big Boys came back with two runs in the last of the seventh to clinch the victory and second place.

Register Early For Maine High Schools

Students who, this fall, plan to attend one of the Maine High Schools and have not yet registered should do so as soon as possible.

Registration for new pupils is being conducted daily at Maine East, Maine South, and Maine West, Prospective Maine students are urged to take care of this important aspect of academic planning without delay. Postponing registration until the week prior to the opening of school in September increases the problems of testing, purchasing of books and supplies, and selection of courses.

Guidance directors of the Maine High Schools state that one or both parents should accompany the student who is registering for the first time. Parents desiring further information should call Maine East, 825-4484; Maine South, 825-7711; or Maine West, 827-6176.

From Atop The Leaning Tower "Y"

by June Hart

From atop the Leaning Tower and from all the surrounding areas, the tall, handsome, gleaming structure of the new Leaning Tower "Y" as it nears completion, is inciting and inviting a constantly growing interest. On 6300 Touhy Avenue in the All-America City Niles, location of the new "Y" plasterers and painters are currently hard at work. On the site, blue-prints in hands, shirt sleeves rolled to the elbows, you will find Roy Ekroth the architect, directing and examining as he has done since the sinking of the first caisson some sixteen months ago. Roy Ekroth is of the firm Ekroth Martorano and Ekroth, 5315 Devon Avenue, Chicago and they are YMCA specialists, architectural and structural, having worked in this field for over 30 years. Roy a delightful gentleman took time out to explain and interpret many of the new and exciting features, of the interior and exterior of the magnificent structure; curtain wall construction, insulating glass, exterior of U.S. masonry, stainless steel and U.S. masonry. Commanding an exciting view from many areas of the interior as well as exterior is the dramatic indoor/outdoor L shaped swimming pool, or natatorium as Roy puts it.

The ground floor; Adult entrance; youth lobby; executive offices; club rooms, lockers, showers, kitchens and the health rooms, sauna steam and all facilities for men and women. There are three hard ball full size courts and squash court. Second floor: whole floor residential rooms for women, including gym and offices. There are 200 residence rooms in the building each with its own shower and water closet, and air-conditioned.

The high-rise portion; third to eight floors residence rooms for men. The 9th floor; meeting rooms, serving kitchen and cafeteria, private dining room and club rooms. Atop the roof are the penthouses devoted to mechanical usages. These are some of the new progressive features of your Leaning Tower "Y" opening date December 1965.

Meanwhile, men and women are at work in the temporary offices of the "Y" devoting long hours to program research, hand in hand with religious leaders, community leaders, educators, private citizens and progressive agencies in an endeavor to meet the needs of child to adult as it relates to each separate community. Heading the research field is metropolitan Chicago YMCA's John S. Schmitzen graduate student of George Williams College and currently pursuing a masters degree in social work and administration at Elmhurst College, Illinois.

Sports flash' the Leaning Tower "Y" soccer teams and other Northwest Suburban "Y" teams will be participating in the North Shore Soccer League games slated for September 11 at Winnetka Stadium located on Foster and Winnetka in Chicago. Soccer fans are invited to call Peter Mier at 825-2319 and for further details regarding teams read the sports section of your local papers.

Special flash' YMCA's Stanford Fremmel, president of the North Shore Soccer League, disclosed that plans are being studied for a proposed soccer scholarship fund to function in terms of a) directing student drop-outs towards technical training in trade schools, b) aiding a deserving youth in pursuance of a college education.

Did you know that all the counselors working with the day campers of the Leaning Tower "Y" are young men and women of the college level? Meet Jim DuVal, Chicago High school instructor in physical education, who works with the children in all areas of sports and the physical fitness special feature of the camp program. Diane Foster senior college student (Elmhurst College) who loves working with children, aiding in the swimming program amongst other duties, stated, "There are about ten or sometimes fourteen children to each counselor, and in this way we get to know them personally and give them individual attention." Diane, a Chicagoan, is studying elementary psychology and physical education and looking forward to her future teaching vocation.

Is Your Family Eating Properly?

The foundation of an individual's state of health is based upon the nutrients derived from his every day diet. Although food is available many people, because of faulty eating habits, walk a path toward malnutrition. A semi-starvation diet can and will result in apathy, depression, incapacity to work properly, and lowered resistance to infectious diseases. Thus it is important that a well-balanced diet containing essential needs such as proteins, carbohydrates, fats and oils, calcium, vitamins and other necessary elements be consumed by an individual to achieve the physical fitness to create the energy one must have to live a fulfilling life. Sometimes conditions, such as allergies, insufficient teeth, mental conditions, or alcoholism deter the individual from eating properly. The obvious effect of calorie deficiency caused by malnutrition is that the body must use its own fat and tissues so that there is a loss of weight. In children this can stunt their growth and they will not develop properly. Where there is serious starvation the result will be weak, slow pulse, reduction in metabolic rate, the blood pressure is lowered, body fat is lost, with wasting of muscle, and drop in muscle tone, loss of skin elasticity. There can also be mental dullness and constant fatigue.

A serious form of malnutrition is obesity. In this instance individual takes in food far in excess of needs to meet energy requirements. Reducing the amount of calories that the body takes in is vital in this case. However, special reducing diets should be embarked upon only under the guidance and direction of a physician. As a person gets older it is important that he not be burdened with excess fatty tissue as vital body processes can be impaired.

The homemaker, particularly, should inform herself so that she can create wholesome menus fortified with food values that will build up and not bog down her family.

Another Morn'another Yawn

Frieda Aron—966-9669

It's time to cut the corn; can it, freeze it, throw it into the barnyard, but get it out of the mention of MOTHER—of celestial being. The unwashed "mum" is that Mothers are Nags, self-made Martyrs and Saviors! *Starting 7-8 hours after the forcible catapulting from that safe, warm, water-logged haven of nine months, comes the first feeding and you're hooked. Eat—she says, sleep—she says, don't cry—she says, continually picking you up out of that comfortable dampness to dry, clean, powder and re-pack you. Walk to Mommy, say Daddy, sit on the tooty, wash your face and hands, don't cross the street, get off that bike, be careful of the skates, go clean your room, do your homework, stay in the house, blah—blah—blah—*You move out of her sphere. Cry with joy at your happiness, suffering the martyr's emergence of silence. "If you ask me, but then you never do, so-and-so wouldn't let his wife (or husband) speak that way or act that way—I can't hear to see you suffer—it hurts a mother when her children are unhappy!" But Ma, who's unhappy? Everything's wonderful. "Don't try to hide the truth, I can tell. Wait until you're a Mother!" *After your children arrive, the lament goes on and the savior evolves. "Let me wash the dishes for you, you have enough to do when I'm not around—go up and rest, you let them exhaust you, no one appreciates you!" Ma, please, I'm not working hard, stop pushing me. "She's not working hard, she says, hmmm, don't try to fool your Mother, wait until you're a mother, you'll find out. Ma, I am. Four times. "That's different 'tis what I meant."????????????

The psychology and philosophy of Motherhood is extravagantly overrated. A nine-month tenure shouldn't give lifetime privileges. Motherhood comes easily, often unsolicited, frequently undesired, why let it develop into an omnipotent fetish? Now, take my Mother—be my guest—be sure to return her—I'm insensitive to her nagging, but rather fond of her. I have a languorous approach to life which found no rapport with her when I was a child at home. I've been away from home 25 years, but each time she comes to visit, it's the same old story, she needs to protect and save me from. *Like last week: I spent a long, lazy day at the pool, came home, sent the boys to eat at Burger King, opened a few frozen containers, a can of two and made dinner for the rest of us. My husband went back for his evening office hours and I wandered out into the backyard, enjoying the slowly gathering dusk and contemplating my enameled fingertips—they needed redoing. When it got too dark to stay out and the mosquitoes began to nibble at my tanned legs and arms, I came indoors. "There was a phone call for you," said my daughter, "but Grandma said n.t. to disturb you, you were finally relaxing after a hard day."

Darling, you've been promising me a trip to Rush Street to see Whiskey A GO GO!

Cara Lee, why do you buy $18 bathing suits if you never go near the water?

Lenny, get down and clean up that room, before you leave this house.

Stampy, get your toys out of the living room, quickly.

Linda Sue, I haven't heard from you lately, have you forgotten your mother, already?

Set Deadline For Requests For Niles Days Funds

"Letters requesting funds from the proceeds of Niles Days 1966 have a September 13, 1965 deadline. On that date, the organization or individual sponsoring a request must have a representative present at the Niles Days Committee meeting held at 7200 Waukegan Road. questions regarding the request for funds. This is in keeping with a new policy voted in by a majority of delegate members at an official meeting on March 1, 1965. Interested individuals may contact Mr. C. V. O'Grady, 8036 N. Oketo, Niles, Illinois for any further information."

High School Credit Courses For Adults At Maine East

High School credit courses for adults will be one of the new program areas in the Maine Adult Evening School this fall. Classes will be offered at Maine Township High School East on Tuesday or Thursday evenings, beginning Thursday, Sept. 23rd, according to Alexander Krugel, director of the program. Educational counseling appointments and registration for the program can be made beginning September 1, 1965.

The program has been organized in response to many adults wishing to complete their high school education. During the past several years, hundreds of mail and telephone requests were received by high school officials.

This is the first time a high school credit program for adults is being offered at Maine, Dr. E.W. Wilcox, Superintendent of Township High District 207, said. "Our program is designed to provide educational opportunities for mature adults to advance themselves. Today's world demands that everyone be educated. A high school education and its diploma or certificate is a necessary passport to most jobs." The adult program has, in its 27 year history, provided many college credit programs.

The high school credit program is open to all persons 18 years of age or older who are not currently enrolled in a day high school. The program is offered in cooperation with the University of Nebraska Extension Service.

A series of courses will be available in Mathematics, English and Social Studies beginning this fall. Supervised home study techniques will be used by all students. Persons will be expected to attend class, one evening per week, for a period of ten weeks. In class, special help will be given by the instructor and students may take examinations after completing assigned work. Progress in class depends upon the time each person has to complete the assigned work and examinations.

School officials have planned an orientation meeting for all persons interested in high school graduation. The meeting will be held in Room 187 on Thursday evening at 8:00 p.m., September 2, 1965, at Maine Township High School East, Dempster Street and Potter Road, Park Ridge, Illinois. Further information about the program can be obtained by calling 825-3435.

Rep. Rumsfeld Hires College Students

There's a little bit of Illinois in Washington, D.C. this summer, and the 13th Congressional District comes to be particularly well represented.

Following a precedent set during his first year in Congress, Donald Rumsfeld (R-13) has selected well qualified and interested college students for six week periods of employment in his Congressional office. This year Rumsfeld is employing three Northshore students on a college intern basis, and is also "fortunate to have found a most willing and capable volunteer worker", Peter Baugher, a student at New Trier High School, who is currently taking courses in modern government and world politics at American University's summer semester.

Rumsfeld's first intern this summer was Mr. Michael Scott, 9435 Drake Avenue, Skokie, who served his six week stint in June and half of July. Mike is entering his senior year at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C., majoring in political science. Mr. Tom Unterman of 1255 Ridge Avenue, Evanston, joined the staff in early July and will stay into August. Tom will be a senator at Princeton University this fall where he is studying in the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs. The two young men will be followed in August by Carole McMahon, 708 Park Drive, Kenilworth, Miss McMahon is entering her senior year at Stanford University, majoring in International Relations and Political Science.

The interns are assigned desks in Rumsfeld's staff office and share in routine office work. They are also assigned special projects by the Congressman, generally dealing with pending legislation or his committee work. In addition to their office duties, the interns are invited to a series of seminars and speeches arranged specifically for all of the intern working on Capitol Hill. They are also encouraged to attend committee hearings and debates in both the House and the Senate.

In discussing the program Rumsfeld stated: "I thought it was a good idea when I first came to Congress, and we found the program to be so successful in our first year's effort that we have continued it—refining it a little each time. I am particularly pleased, however, that the House this year took action to institute a formal, approved Congressional intern program with some type of organization and guidelines, so that these young men and women can get the most out of an experience of this type. Basically, while it provides Members of Congress with some very able assistance during the summer months, its primary purpose is to expose these young people to the operations of the Government and particularly the legislative branch."

Rumsfeld pointed out that in addition to the four 13th District young people under his direction this summer, there "are at least eight other students from our District employed on various committee and congressional staffs in the Capitol." The Congressman indicated that he considers this a fine representation from the 13th District.

Rumsfeld indicated he is now looking toward the summer of 1966 and urges interested college juniors, seniors and graduate students to contact him at 241 House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515, for additional information on the program.

Niles Park District Summer Program Ends

The Niles Park District's summer playground program ended last Friday, August 13 with a playday held at Grennan Heights park. All six playgrounds attended the playday and participated in planned activities such as square dancing, singing, volleyball, kickball, and carnival games. After the children ate lunch, they tried their skills in relay races held on the grassy lawn. The championship softball game for boys nine to thirteen years of age was then played. Grennan Heights defeated Ballard for the championship. Nico park was the winner in the six to eight year old softball league. Over two hundred children participated in the final playday activity.

We are looking forward to next summer when we will be back on the playgrounds with a larger and more varied playground program.

Woman's Club Of Niles Friendship Tea Sept. 12

First Business.....Then Pleasure! If you've ever attended a meeting of the Woman's Club of Niles you'll know how true this statement can be. All meetings are called to order in the usual way. Members are informed of what each committee has been doing, announcements are made, volunteers are called for and future projects are discussed. At the close of the business portion of the evening, Mrs. Wm. Baum, 8233 N. Merrill, Program Chairman, introduces the entertainment for the evening. Sounds like Dorothy has the easiest job on the board, doesn't it? Her introduction of the speaker is the climax of many months of interviewing and attending auditions, and making unlimited phone calls.

There is a once a month series of conferences of Club Presidents and Program Chairmen at Fullerton Hall in the Art Institute and another series of Program Bureau auditions sponsored by the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs in the Fine Arts Building, Chicago. She must keep in mind that her budget must cover the entire club year; will the program not only please the members but will it draw interest from prospective members; will it conform to the clubs object: to stimulate interest along educational, civic and cultural lines; and will the performers be available on the third Wednesday of each month.

On Sunday afternoon, September 12th at Bunker Hill Country Club, 6635 N. Milwaukee Ave., The Woman's Club of Niles, 10th District, Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, will officially open its 1965-66 club year with a membership tea. After much consideration, Mrs. Baum has invited the Gordon Marionettes to entertain. The Gordon sisters, Marie and Mildred, bring life to their puppets in all their characterizations from the moment they enter the stage. Their variety act holds nostalgic appeal for all ages. The famous Mog Brothers, Dust, Dish and Cedar, and Bo Bo, the clown, who has a "beating" heart and magnetic personality win friends wherever they appear.

The entire membership of the club hopes all the Women in Niles will really make it a Ladies Day, and come to their Friendship Tea, Sunday Afternoon, September 12, 1965, 2:30 till 5:00 P.M.

One in a series to help you enjoy better telephone service

How to get a phone fixed after-hours

Suppose your phone goes out of order during the evening, and you're expecting an important call. Or, someone in the family becomes ill over the weekend, and you need a telephone at the bedside.

Can you get service? Where do you call? The answer: Call Repair Service and tell us your problem. We will do everything we can to solve it.

We're guided by this principle: If it's an emergency to you... it's an emergency to us

The centers are staffed by experienced people who have the authority and ability to care for your needs. If necessary, they can dispatch crews immediately to repair or install telephones. If immediate action is not required, they can take the report and see that it is cared for promptly on the next regular work day.

Call Repair Service

You can find the number in the front pages of your telephone book. Or dial "zero," and ask the Operator.

Whenever your phone needs fixing, we'll fix it fast. Anytime, day or night, at no extra charge.

Down By The Old Mill Run

Frieda Aron

Where—The Mill Run Playhouse at Golf Mill, Niles.

What—During the run of the play "Mary, Mary".

Starring—Craig Stevens and Alexs Smith.

And Sooo—The scene called for Craig Stevens to emote near a desk. Under his startled eyes, a woman walked onto the stage, sat into the chair placed near the desk, glanced up at the audience then back to Craig Stevens and said, "Where's the terlet". His automatic reflex was in good working condition and he pointed to one of the aisles, "That way". The woman stood up unsteadily, walked off the stage and out towards the exit. The audience started to titter and then the laughter rose to a giant crescendo. "That was the wildest thing that ever happened" was Stevens' comment after the show.

Commissioned by the Golf-Mill Developing Co., to create a theatre-in-the-round, Bell and Bell, architects, conceived and created the very novel Mill Run Playhouse, a reinforced concrete barrel structure. This is the first time a design of this type has ever been executed. Just as a barrel depends on metal ribs for strength, the theatre has metal cables in the wall construction fitting like a girdle around the barrel type building, for firm support. The permanent walls are western red cedar with fibre glass insulation, the interior has laminated wood trusses with boards of cement and shredded wood between the wood trusses and the beams for color and acoustic value.

The basic concept of course, goes back to the Roman theatre design—which they called Circus Maximus—a circular arena surrounded by tiers of seats rising one above the other, for chariot races, athletic games, battles between gladiators and lions, etc. The gluttonous Romans did not forgo their sumptuous eating habits while the gladiators and lions entertained them. It was a custom to keep small feathers handy and when the noblemen were surfeited with vittles, they vaulted the wide aisles, called vomitory aisles which led into the vomitorium, special rooms set aside for the express purpose of tickling the throat with the feathers and bringing up and out all the undigested food, to make room for second, third, fourth, etc., helpings.

The Mill Run Playhouse has the disc seating, the center stage and the wide aisles cutting into the seats, still called vomitory aisles, easily accessible and versatile exits for the compact convenience of the stars' movements, but no vomitorium. The luxurious surroundings of the theatre complement the intimacy and closeness of the audience to the stage. Almost completed physically, the building is a feat of beauty and distinction.

The Producers, Rach, Vaughn and Mann, make frequent trips to New York to procure the finest vehicles for the theatres' productions. Some of the plays are package deals—actor, cast, director—some are part local talent. The complexities and problems of running a legitimate theatre are many, and fascinating to an outsider. The All-America City of Niles has come to full maturity with the acquisition of a year round legitimate theatre bringing its share of culture to the suburban and urban areas. It is an unprecedented thrill for all of us to watch its growth and be part of its success.

The play this week and next finds our academic "Mr. Novak", James Franciscus, playing a hard hitting criminal defense lawyer in an exciting and fast moving tale of rape, murder and courtroom turmoil—"Anatomy of a Murder".

The Mulqueens, stars of their own show for three years on WGN-TV, take over the Golf Mill Theatre Wednesday, August 25th at 2:00 P.M. Pandora, star of this popular children's television program, will be there, in person, to host two mad hours of pie-throwing, spooks, puppets, games and cartoons.

There will be free puppets for all the boys and girls, also autographed pictures, buttons, free ice cream passes for everyone and prizes galore. Tickets for this children's program are now on sale at the box office.

The feature film attraction at the Golf Mill is the second and final week of "Lord Jim." On Friday, August 27, the theatre opens with "Shenandoah" starring James Stewart.

Auto Is Storm Haven Says Motor Club

Unless the rainfall that accompanies a summer electrical storm is so severe as to limit driver visibility, there is no need for a motorist caught driving in the midst of such a storm to stop his car, according to Gordon Lindquist, director of the Chicago Motor club's safety and traffic engineering department.

"Even if you are forced to pull over and wait the storm out, one of the safest places to be is right in your car," he pointed out.

Lindquist said that since rubber tires insulate a car and keep the current from becoming grounded, there is little danger that lightning can harm the passengers. "Of course, if there is a sturdy building nearby, it is much better to seek shelter there," he added.

If you do decide to pull over and wait out a storm in your car, the motor club offered the following safety tips:

—Don't park under a tree or pole which, if struck by lightning, may fall on top of the car.

—Try, if possible, to avoid parking under overhead power lines strung along the roadside. During severe storms many of these wires are downed.

—Park on high land where water won't accumulate.

A Doctors Day At The Hospital Austin High Dinner Dance November 20

A relatively small portion of the time a doctor spends in his daily visit to the hospital is in the presence of his patients. However, virtually everything he does in the hospital, from the time he notifies the switchboard operator he is in the building, until he advises her he is leaving, concerns the welfare of his patient.

If you were to accompany a doctor on a typical daily visit to the hospital these are some of the things you would see him do. After checking in, he picks up his hospital mail for the day. This would include copies of laboratory and x-ray reports, electrocardiograms and basal metabolism tests of his patients, as well as, information from the hospital administrator and notices regarding medical staff committee meetings.

The doctor might visit the laboratory, x-ray, or cardiology departments for further information on the results of tests made at his request by these departments.

Obviously this is a generalization about a doctor's activities in the hospital, each patient is different. Also, we did not mention study in the hospital's medical library, consultations with other physicians, or with the dietitian, or others who are involved in helping his patient to get well. However, this gives you an idea of how a doctor spends his time at the hospital. Although he may spend a relatively brief time with his patients, he devotes a considerable time in service to each of his patients.

The doctor will carefully evaluate the information recorded by the nurses since he last saw his patient. This would include temperature and blood pressure readings, response to medications, results of therapy prescribed by him, and observations by the nurses regarding the patient's eating, sleeping and general condition.

After discussing the patient with the nurse in charge, the doctor goes into the patient's room to visit with him and examine him. As a result of his activities here he sees his patient's doctor has accumulated a great amount of information which is invaluable to him in the treatment of his patient.

Upon the completion of his call on the patient, the doctor stops again at the nursing station, makes his entries on the patient's chart and writes up his orders for further tests, therapy or any other necessary measures to be taken such as changes in diet. Essentially the same procedure takes place for each patient he sees in the hospital.

Information on the reunion may also be obtained by writing or calling Robert Hawkinson, President, Belden Mfg., Co., 415 S. Kilpatrick Ave., Chicago, ES 8-1000. Mr. Hawkinson is chairman of the alumni contact committee.

General Chairman for the reunion is Robert E. Ohlsen, Marvin E. Tench, Historian, Joseph Murphy, Publicity Chairman, and Dr. Dorothy Martin, principal director.
