the Township Democrats, after making political hay of the need for independent candidates prior to the election, a gal named Edna wrote a letter to

THE BUGLE sounding off at Blase's sudden switch. A week later Blase spoke at a meeting attended by those who placed him in office, and he said he would withdraw from the township politics.

In subsequent years when Niles was awarded its All America rating it was the 1961 New Era campaign, and the Ednas in Niles, who led Niles to the award. Unfortunately, Edna was overlooked during the year of hoopla, in favor of the Johnny-Come-Latelys.

In recent years she became a library board member, wrote a column for THE BUGLE, helped create the Niles Art Guild and just recently started a group for writers.

While lots of words will be spoken tonight, and many will reminisce about Niles and its tremendous upheaval during the past five years, and while the sentiment will flow unabashed, it can best be written simply. When it had to be done, Edna was there.

who heads a committee to "SAVE TAM", asked the village if it would seek a federal grant for Tam in the event the park condemnation suit is lost in court. Blase said the park and village boards are working together but the village can't be committed because the case is now before the Plan Commission for rezoning. Blase said such action could be "prejudicial".

Steverson retorted "If the park board loses it is in your hands". He then named a federal regional office director who he quoted as saying the village could get the necessary federal grant (approximately $2,000,000).

....Attorney John Loftus, representing the Lawrencewood interests, told the Board the Lawrencewood movie theatre will be open Easter Sunday. He was called before the Board to answer questions about the delay in the theatre building and other problems in the center. Mr. Templar, representing the theatre interests, said the problems of the theatre were not due to the builder, Krillich. A pending contract problem was blamed for the delay. Templar said the seats and other interior work is now in the center and Easter Sunday will be the opening.

Trustee Ang Marcheschi reminded Templar the village is included in the lease and they are to see a list of the movies two months ahead of time to be played there. Templar said they only receive their releases four weeks ahead of time.

Blase reminded Loftus the theatre could be a nuisance and the village could wreck it. He said if no action takes place on completing the theatre "we'll take some action".

Marcheschi said "we have had nothing but aggravation from Krillich" (builder of Lawrencewood), after complaints from a Mr. Siple, were aired, Siple complained of hedges, sidewalks and fences, which were to be adjusted in the Lawrencewood area, but which "nothing was done". Blase said $100's of dollars of fines have been paid, but when someone has a lot of money continued abuses may exist. A meeting will be set in an attempt to pacify Siple's complaints against Lawrencewood.

by David Besser
Editor & Publisher

During the sub-zero weather last week three Niles men succumbed to heart attacks. Such weather in our area always seems to victimize the unsuspecting who don't realize the dangers of the bitter cold.

On a more hopeful note a young lady named Sandra Van Puymbrouck, of Overhill Avenue, dropped into the office to relate a pitiful story about one of her neighbors. She said the middle-aged lady, a recent widow, was living in a house without heat. Sandra noted the widow's family had been contacted and they refused to do anything about the problem. She mentioned her church was also contacted and they could not help the woman, who has lived like a recluse for many months. Both mentioned she was most difficult and both implied this relationship, resulted in their not giving aid.

Sandra said she contacted many others and met with a poor reception.

One telephone call to Mayor Blase set the wheels in motion which brought immediate aid and comfort to the woman in need. Police Officers Marty Stankowicz and Frank Wichlac went to her home. They spent much time trying to convince her to let them gain entrance. The widow was wary of the police, suspicious of their aims. After about 30 minutes of speaking thru a closed door she reluctantly opened it. Once inside the police officers turned the heat on. Wichlac reported there was a full tank of oil but the widow said she turned it on only for an hour a day since she wanted to "stretch it". After much cajoling they took the lady to a restaurant in Niles and fed the woman her first meal in 48 hours.

They next contacted Eva Meyer, the local salvation army representative, who put them in contact with Army Headquarters. After interviewing the distressed woman they were convinced she should be placed in the hospital for further study and Wichlac signed her in at County Hospital.

Wichlac told us an old story which most of us have heard many times. He said the effort and sincerity of the Salvation Army people was most heartwarming. Their open-arms policy was above and beyond what normally could be expected of any service agency, which deals with so many problems daily.

Ironically, while the lady was living in seeming poverty, she was carrying $189 on her person when she entered the hospital.

We're sure this story happens every day, perhaps many times in a city as large as Chicago. But a woman who was ignored and rebuffed by those who should have cared was finally rescued, perhaps from herself, by a kindly neighbor, Sandra Van Puymbrouck.

Edna Expresses Appreciation At Thursday's Testimonial

At the Testimonial Dinner for Edna Walger last Thursday, January 27, the following Thank-You Address was given by Edna.

Tonight, January 27th 1966, marks much more than a display of appreciation from a citizenry for a small contribution of effort to a departing resident.

It is the return of a wife to her husband, a mother to her children of a woman from a prolonged love affair with a community. It was a dereliction over which she had no control for destiny had marked her from the first when she was born under the Zodiac sign of Leo.

These parting words may be deemed a thank you for a beautiful tribute, but they also serve to bequeath something to each of you with whom I have been so closely associated for the past 12 years. I dare not begin to name individuals or groups for fear of a serious omission.

To those in high places and in positions of responsibility; in the setting aside of self aggrandization and the wisdom to serve with grace, tact and a small measure of humility.

To everyone; the courage to discard the false philosophy that your views are of no consequence. Speak out and your

Discuss Ban At March 28 Meeting

The Niles Township High School Board of Education voted unanimously Monday night to "rediscuss" a ban on prayers from school graduation ceremonies, according to the Chicago Sun-Times.

The seven-member board took the action after hearing 13 speeches on the controversial December 13 ban. The board voted to discuss the order March 28.

John T. Mau, board president, said the original action was taken after the board received "numerous complaints" about the use of the name of Jesus Christ in the commencement prayers.

One of Monday night's speakers was Mrs. Patience Dressen, of 7436 LeClaire, Skokie. She said, "I was brought up under prayer. Elimination of prayer from all school activities is completely against my belief in America."

A supporter of the ban was Gilbert Gordon of 5145 Conrad, Skokie.

"The rights of the least numerous among us is the measure of the rights of all. If we didn't protect minorities, there would be no living in the community," Gordon said.

Harold E. Rainville, administrative aide to Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.) reminded the audience that Dirksen has introduced a congressional measure intended to reverse a U.S. Supreme Court decision banning compulsory prayer from public school functions.

Mau said the board's December 13 action was taken after Schools Superintendent Clyde Parker met with a group of township clergymen to discuss the complaints.

Parker recommended the ban after the clergymen objected to a suggested deletion of the name of Jesus Christ from the prayers.

Mau said the board is considering a compromise which laymen would be as 1 to offer nondenominational prayers at the commencement exercises.

Board Reviews Position

Dist. 63 School Board Votes To Withdraw "Golf Mill" Objection

Board of education of East Maine School District 63 has voted to withdraw a recent objection filed against the petition for incorporation of the Village of Golf Mill.

The move came as a result of a review, by the board of its position relative to the inclusion of Shelley Nathanson school site in the territory pending incorporation, during the semi-monthly meeting of the board last Tuesday, Jan. 25.

The board stated that it is not opposed to incorporation generally in the East Maine area, and that it feels the board should not take a position either for or against incorporation.

The board's objection was filed originally because of a legal problem involved in the removal of a portion of a territory from an area under petition for incorporation. The board felt that rather than being included in the proposed area for incorporation into the Village of Golf Mill, it would be more desirable for the district if the site could be an-nexed by the City of Des Plaines.

However, such annexation is not legally possible while the site is included in the territory under petition for incorporation. Also, it is not legally possible to remove a portion of a territory from an area under petition for incorporation. The only way to remove such a portion is by voluntary agreement with the agents seeking incorporation, or by defeat of the petition for incorporation; therefore, the board took the action of filing an objection.

In other action, the proposed school calendar for 1966-67 was approved by the board.

The calendar year begins Aug. 31 with new teacher orientation day. The first day of school will be Sept. 6, and the final day June 14. The calendar provides for 183 attendance days, five legal holidays, and two teacher institute days, Sept. 2 and Oct. 21. Holidays will be Labor day, Sept. 5; Veterans' day, Nov. 11; Thanksgiving, Nov. 24; Christmas, Dec. 23 to Jan. 2 and a legal holiday, May 30. Spring vacation will be Mar. 20 to 27.

A new 1966-67 budgetary procedure was introduced to the board by Dr. G. William Bullock, Jr., acting superintendent, and received approval. The procedure calls for compilation of budgets in buildings and departments with staff conferences and review of programs Jan. 19 to Feb. 28; submitting of a list of instructional materials requested under Title III with estimated cost of each item Feb. 15; submitting of budgets to the business manager for review and compilation Mar. 1; review and approval of tentative budget by Board of Education May 11; notice of public hearing May 25, and public hearing and adoption of budget by the board June 28.

Procedure for filing of nominating petitions for membership on the Board of Education was approved by the board. Public notice must be no sooner than Jan. 24 and no later than Feb. 13.

Des Plaines Second To Park Ridge In Amount Of Court Fines In '65

Des Plaines, the municipality with the largest population in the 3d Municipal District of the Circuit court of Cook county received the second largest amount of money returned by the court for fines assessed during 1965.

Park Ridge, with approximately 10,000 less population, placed first in amount of fines received from the court from among the 21 municipalities within the district. Park Ridge is the seat of the presiding justice of the 3d District, Judge Herbert Stoffels, and headquarters for the district. However Des Plaines and other communities have branches of the court.

SUMS ARE turned back to municipalities making arrests by the court. Court costs are retained by the court.

Des Plaines' share of 1965 fines for all kinds of offenses amounted to $54,543.50. First place Park Ridge received $55,926. Third was Niles with $48,817. Most of the fines are for traffic offenses.

Fines totaling $445,617 were collected during 1965 in the entire district.

This represented an increase

McDonough notified Chief Judge Boyle and Stoffels that checks covering the amounts over the $381,815 received in 1964, the first full year of operations for the county's unified, modernized court system, as provided by the Blue Ballot Judicial Amendment.

Grand total for all five suburban districts of the court during 1965 was $2,320,287, an increase over 1964's grand total of $2,036,596.

All the figures, including the amounts collected in the 21 municipalities making up the 3rd Municipal District, were listed by Circuit Court Clerk Joseph J. McDonough in his monthly report to John S. Boyle, chief judge of the Circuit court.

Total collection of $40,836 in the 3d District in the month of December represented a decrease from $42,306 received during the month of November.

Des Plaines ranked first for December with $7,087 in fines. Barrington Hills was last with only $311 collected.

Ranking in order behind Des Plaines in December fines are Park Ridge with $4,573; Schaumburg with $3,666; Elmwood Park with $3,510, and Mount Prospect with $3,509.

Working To Expand Medical Library At LGH

Physicians on the staff of Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge, are working to expand the hospital's medical library. Members voted to increase staff dues by $75 a year with the increase going to expand the library.

Dr. Alexander Ruggie, director of medical education, stated that this would mean about $15,000 this year for additional books and medical journals. Plans call for an addition of 1,000 volumes this year and an additional 150 medical journals.

A new medical library is currently under construction as part of the hospital expansion. The library will be housed on the ground floor of the new west building and will have four times the space presently available.

"A well-equipped library is essential for the continuing education of both staff physicians and members of the hospital's house staff," Dr. Ruggie said.

Philotochos Society Fashion Show

On Saturday, Feb. 12 at the O'Hare Inn, the St. John Philotochos Society will present the 1966 Spring collection of Designer George Stavropoulos at its annual luncheon-fashion show.

In his Spring collection, Stavropoulos uses not a button, bead or sequin. The constant excitement comes from the pristine line with indented or tied waists, the float of lace or chiffon over a stem body, the fluid texture in wool or silk which seems utterly seamless, color playing more with light than with contrast.

Collars, belts and decorative fastenings have been omitted. The suits have boneless, hip length jackets and skirts that wrap and flare a bit. One of the most beguiling dresses is in flowered silk chiffon finely pleated like the costumes seen on a Greek vase.

The short, spare and often bare little chiffon evening gowns cling and float out at the back, held by minute ties. One is a mysterious affair in shell pink organza, all in one piece yet full of circular movement.

The chiffons, which this designer has always loved, are rivalled in his affection this season by a series of exquisite colored laces from Spain, Italy and France with which he has played divinely.

The fashion show is open to the public and for any further information, please call 827-5519.

"The wheels have begun to turn for this year's Reflections Revelries to be presented on February 25 and 26," stated Director Alvin Schwartz of the Niles East student show. "However," he continued, "the bulk of preparation for the show will not be made until the tryouts are held in mid-January."

"Reflections will be based on a television format," explained Mr. Schwartz. "Because the talent has not yet been scouted, we haven't been able to pinpoint an exact title for the show."

Featured in the revue are two chorus lines choreographed by Senior Linda Brown and Junior Trudy Galmek. "Jugglers, musicians, singers, and actors—we'd like anyone and everyone who can organize a finished act to try out," he concluded.

Lutheran General Hospital News

(Your health is your most valuable asset. To help you learn more about health facilities in the area, your newspaper is running this series of columns prepared by Lutheran General Hospital as a public service.)

Around half the families living in this area have put off choosing a family doctor "until he is needed." It represents a serious situation which exists in most metropolitan communities. Lots of people have lived here for less than a year. Americans are the "moving" people in the world, so it's easy to take a chance and put medical care on an emergency basis.

If you don't have a family doctor, now is the time to get busy and select one. The American Medical Association has some good advice on how to go about it.

If an emergency arises before a family physician can be selected you can get help from your telephone operator who will probably refer you to the nearest physicians' exchange. But don't wait for that emergency.

Most people ask their neighbors, make inquiries at their church, or call a local druggist or hospital for advice. This is perfectly all right, according to AMA. The AMA also suggests that you go to the library and ask for a copy of the American Medical Directory which is full of background information on the age, date of licensing, type of practice and membership in reputable organizations. In the Chicago area it is easy to telephone the American Medical Association offices downtown.

The important thing is to select a physician of proper training and good reputation. As with any other profession there are a few bad apples, but these do not often get the recommendation of medical authorities.

The AMA suggests that you visit the doctor in his office even before you need him and tell him about yourself and your family. Ask him about his hospital affiliation. There's no harm in asking him about his fees, or about the costs at the hospital where he takes his patients. If he is a general practitioner, he will tell you about house calls and about the specialists he works with when the need arises.

For your own good - and the health of your family - why wait until illness strikes to choose a doctor? Select him now so he can have advance knowledge of your family's medical problems and give you the kind of protective care you expect from both a good doctor and a family friend.

Another Morn'another Yawn..

Friends Area 966-9669

2 A.M. is the witching hour. All the things you should have said, all the things you should have done, fall neatly into place and you shine the most. The brilliant witticisms, the intellectual repartee, the penetratingly clever interpretation of world events and the stinging reply to that dubious insult never arrive before 2 A.M. The real me emerges then; with the charm of Madam DuBarry, the beauty of Helen of Troy, the sophistication of Rex Harrington, the genius of Albert Einstein and the international aplomb of Jackie Kennedy with horses and government heads (any similarity is purely coincidental) I can and do manipulate the world, which somehow manages to survive my influence.

A recent evening was spent birthdaying with a friend who turned 40 and the cliché-ridden congratulations were thinly veiled condolences. Those already ensconced, welcomed him into the Club, and those who were trailing, however slightly, were grateful for the delay and quoted poetry on the theme of life beginning at forty. And not until 2 A.M., back home in bed, did the churning brain, so quiet all evening, erupt with questions and answers.

Does life really begin at 40? Why? Whose life started at 40 and whose life ended at 40? Offhand I could think of the English poets and writers like Lord Byron, Keats and Shelley, who had succumbed between the ages of 23-37; the American Composer George Gershwin who had written such beautiful music before his death at the age of 39, the dutch painter Jan Gogh at 37, Marilyn Monroe in her thirties.

Forty and up is the age when affluence and prestige starts coming. Are there many new careers, are there many digressions from the set pattern, are there much sowing of wild oats (don't answer that one). Isn't it seldom that the traces of an old way of life are thrown over and a new one taken up, with almost 2/3 of a lifespan gone.

The Bible might have started it with its frequent references to the number 40; the rains came for forty days and forty nights; the children of Israel wandered through the desert for 40 years; Moses spent 40 days and 40 nights on the mountain before God gave him the two tables of stone (the commandments), and Jesus fasted forty days and forty nights. There may be more, but I am no student of the Bible, so that is all I can recall.

Does life begin at forty or does it merely carry on?

Observing in himself a touch of genius that no one else in the family has (I do at 2 A.M.), my youngest has decided to write a book if I will type it. First, he submitted his version of "Another Morn'another Yawn" on the subject of time, a common obsession of us ordinary people.

"If people had time 5 thousand years ago, what would they do with it. They would find their own food, not like woman of today, for example girls buying fancy dresses, in those days they had to make their own cloth. We are glad to have time, it makes life more easier for us. You must understand, life may be short, it is not short, it just seems that way. Time is very valuable to people, for example if you didn't have time you wouldn't know when to go to work or school." Stan Aron

Reach Compromise Agreement In East Maine Park Argument

A formal compromise agreement is expected to be reached Friday in circuit court, Chicago, on the formation of a new park district for the unincorporated community of East Maine immediately east of Potter rd.

The new district, tentatively to be named Golf Maine Park district, is to include the area bounded by the north side of Dempster st. on the south, the east side of Potter rd. on the west, the south of Golf rd. on the north, and roughly the west side of Parkside dr. extended and Parkside dr. on the east.

Documents implementing an agreement reached but not signed last Friday in the chambers of Judge Thaddeus Adeska in Chicago are scheduled to be signed Friday in the same court. The agreement is a compromise reached after weeks of hassling between two groups within the area who filed almost simultaneously two petitions for different park districts, one larger than the other.

THE AGREEMENT could be said to be a victory for proponents of the original East Maine petition less than an hour before the Golf Mill Park district proponents, mostly apartment dwellers, filed theirs.

According to Allen D. Schwartz, attorney for the original East Maine Park district petitioners, he and Louis Ansel, attorney for the original Golf Mill Park district, both sides have agreed to withdraw their pending petitions and jointly filed the new Golf Maine Park district papers. Schwartz said this could conceivably happen in the near future providing all agreement documents are in order and signed in Judge Adeska's court next Friday.

IF THE NEW district is approved later at a public referendum in the area, the unincorporated community of East Maine would have its first form of local government.

Schwartz said Saturday that, if documents are signed Friday, Judge Adeska soon thereafter, probably within 30 to 60 days, will set a date for a public hearing in Chicago on the matter. Conceivably, Schwartz pointed out, the public referendum on whether or not to establish the park district could be held within the next 90 days.

Also on file before Judge Adeska are two petitions for the creation of villages in approximately the same area. They have been submitted by opposing sides in the park district controversy.

Schwartz who has played a role in this matter, too, Saturday reported no new developments on incorporation. Currently, the municipalities of Des Plaines, Park Ridge, Niles, Morton Grove, and Glenview are weighing whether or not to formally object to the Golf Mill Village petition, the first of the two filed. Opponents in the area are against incorporating Golf Mill Village, they say, because they have been left out of its boundaries.

THE SECOND Village incorporation petition—for the village of East Maine—was filed last week by backers of East Maine Park district. It is much larger and takes in all types of residences in the area including apartments, single family, duplex, and townhouse dwelling. Proponents said the purpose of the move is to guarantee some form of local village government in the event the court rules the Golf Mill petitions void. However, supporters of the new petitions say their first choice is annexation to one or more nearby municipalities including Des Plaines.

The following agreements were also made Friday in connection with the park district compromise.

1. Property at the following locations, reportedly controlled by Morris Suson, a builder of apartments in the area, has been left out of the compromise park district for the time being: W.I.J.D. tract at the northwest corner of Dempster st. and Greenwood ave., land at the southwest corner of Golf rd. and Western ave., and Green Lake Gold Course on the north side of Golf rd. However, these properties are to be annexed to the district when construction begins on them.

2. Suson will aid the park district in securing an 8 acre park site at the corner of Emerson st. and Dee rd. in the western end of the district. The property is reported to be owned by Ben Pekin, a builder in the area.

3. Residents of the proposed park district are to agree on a slate of park commissioners that provides for two commissioners to be chosen by residents of apartments, two by residents on non-apartments, and one "neutral" commissioner to be agreed upon by both sides, and

4. The two pending petitions to be withdrawn and the compromise map submitted in its place.

Skokie Valley Hospital Opens Intensive Care Unit

Patients are now being admitted to the new intensive care unit at Skokie Valley Community Hospital, Skokie, according to Ralph G. Hutchins, hospital administrator.

An eight-bed section of the east wing third floor of the 150-bed hospital has been converted to an intensive care unit (ICU) to provide the highest level, most concentrated nursing care for the seriously ill patient.

Specially trained nurses, using equipment of the most progressive design and advancement in the medical field, will provide continuous, comprehensive observation and detailed care.

"It is another step forward," Hutchins said, "in providing the progressive medical services this community needs and demands."

Conditions that may require intensive care, according to a spokesman for the medical staff, ordinarily include such illnesses as shock, reaction to drugs, poisoning, and injuries pre-operative conditions such as diseases of the heart, liver, kidneys, or diabetes, and some post-operative cases.

Head nurse of the unit is Mrs. Helga Bloom, who has been with the hospital since it opened in November, 1963.

A leaflet explaining the purpose of intensive care, and providing other information, has been prepared by the hospital for families of patients undergoing treatment.

Stressed in the leaflet are specific ways the family may cooperate with the medical and nursing team in speeding the patient's recovery. For example, each family is asked to appoint one member to make all calls for reports on the patient's condition or for other information. This person might be the mother or father of a very young patient, or the husband or wife of an adult.

Although visiting is limited to the immediate family, and to ten-minute periods, three times a day, a clergyman may see the patient any time it is requested.

Contributions from the Joan Fried Memorial Fund, Inc., made it possible to construct and furnish the ICU at this time, according to Kenyon Bowes, treasurer of the hospital's board and vice president and treasurer of G. D. Searle & Co., Skokie.

The Fund was established early last year as a memorial to the late Mrs. Joan Fried by her associates, neighbors, and friends. Her husband, Lloyd, lives at 8641 Ewing Ave., Skokie. Fund president is Robert Holeb, vice president is Robert Holeb, 3223 S. Western Ave., Chicago. Fund trustees chairman is Mort E. Oman, of Oman Associates, Inc., 2600 W. Touhy Ave., Chicago.

Other contributors include the Northbrook Auxiliary of the hospital's Volunteer department, which provided a high humidity oxygen tent, also, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gardner, of 844 Bryant Ave., Winnetka, contributed funds for the hypothermia unit.

Mrs. Bishop suggested many ways in which we can help our girls and boys develop "understanding hearts." We should help them to be self-confident, make them feel "special" and don't be too demanding or they

At Golf Mill

Doris Day, Hollywood's number one boxoffice star continues her assault on America's funny-bone in the romantic comedy, "Do Not Disturb," which opens Friday, February 4, at the Golf Mill Theatre.

Rod Taylor, who plays Doris Day's husband in the picture, is transferred to England by his firm to boost its European sales. Doris decides to rent a rambling house in the country, instead of an apartment in the city near her husband's office. From here on, the combination of British customs and business pressures head their marriage straight to Her Majesty's divorce courts. The humorous misunderstandings and romantic maneuvering are plentiful in this delightful comedy.

Filed in CinemaScope and DeLuxe Color, "Do Not Disturb," is set to play at the Golf Mill Theatre for a two-week engagement only.

Leaning Tower YMCA School Of Fine Arts

The Leaning Tower YMCA School of Fine Arts, which is a branch of the YMCA Northwest School of Fine Arts, has engaged nine new faculty members to teach classes, seminars and private lessons in art, ballet, drama, literature and music. The second semester of the school, which begins on Monday January 31st, offers 18 courses geared to the interests of children, teenagers and adults.

"The Fine Arts School is an attempt to expand the corporate image of the YMCA by offering to the public an opportunity to pursue creative expression in the five arts", said Dr. B. G. Gross, the director. "We have obtained 20 academically trained teachers who are nationally known and who have considerable experience in teaching at all levels of interest and accomplishment", he added.

The art department, which offers courses for both children and adults, will be under the direction of Adrienne Powers, a graduate of The State Normal College and The Academy of Fine Arts in Budapest. Her work has been exhibited in a number of art shows throughout the middle west.

Mr. Harry Rogers, who was formerly affiliated with the Milton Berle, Martha Raye, Imogene Coca and the Philco TV productions as choreographer, will head the ballet department. He will conduct classical ballet classes for girls and women who are interested in developing beauty, poise, physical coordination, body control and graceful equilibrium.

The drama workshops and play production courses will be directed by John Cox who will also serve as the director of the Leaning Tower Theatre-in-the-Round. A series of plays and dramas will be offered in conjunction with a restaurant-theatre combination every Saturday evening in the Top-O'-The Tower theatre.

The literature department will offer four seminars in creative writing. The Great Books, a parental clinic and bi-monthly sessions on current book reviews. The creative writing course will be taught by Al Reznik, the editor of the Lerner newspapers. The Great Books Seminar will be moderated by Ralph Wiken who is the editor of Omnibus Magazine. Dr. Gross will conduct the parental seminar which deals with the role that the modern housewife and mother must play in our urban society.

The music department offers a comprehensive program for children and adults to register in private lessons for piano, voice, organ, violin and band instruments along with several courses in the theory and harmony.

The piano division is under the direction of Blanche McGuire who is also affiliated with the Chicago Conservatory College. Her students have been acclaimed by the press and have been engaged by various schools and colleges over the country.

Anne Forayko Haley, the voice instructor, is known to be put to work to help develop the cultural appreciation of the Niles West students.

The Niles West Gallery has a brief explanation of the artist's contribution highlighted in each painting. Among the thirty artists represented are Toulouse Lautrec, Auguste Renoir, Paul Gauguin, Edgar Degas, El Greco, John Singer Sargent, Amedeo Modigliani, Pablo Picasso, Paul Klee, Ernest Albert Land, Frederick Remington, and Andrew Wyeth.

When the West building was constructed, space for a permanent gallery was made in the balcony foyer of the auditorium. Occasionally the area was used for art shows, but the permanent gallery did not become a reality until the class of 1964 left a cash gift to the school which was used to start the collection. Under the leadership of Mr. John R. Kinghorn, assistant principal, Miss Yvonne Carlson, guidance counselor, and Mr. Thomas L. Blackburn, chairman of the Art Department, a faculty committee made selections of fine art reproductions to initiate the gallery.

The prints of the master works now on display were obtained from such sources as the Art Institute of Chicago and the New York Graphic Arts Society. There will be a section for prints on loan from the faculty and people in the community. There is hope that originals of Chicago area artists will gradually be acquired. The North suburban area has been developing as an art center with fine showings at the Art Fairs of Old Orchard, Golf Mill, and Randhurst shopping centers. It is hoped that the interest of the community can

Niles Chamber of Commerce

At this writing, I have the pleasure of announcing the Hawaiian trip, Niles All-America City has been invited by Mayor Blaisdell of Honolulu to visit Hawaii with many special functions in our honor.

The All-America Commission will be represented and we hope that most of the Commissioners and their wives will be able to attend. Special radio programs and receptions will be given during the trip in honor of Niles, and one of the highlights of the trip will be a wreath ceremony to be held at Pearl Harbor by members of the All-America Commission.

Travel Consultants has been named by Mayor Blaisdell of Honolulu to handle all travel plans and they will coordinate all the activities. Steve Tsalkis, All-America Commissioner, is handling the arrangements. Information on this specially priced 14-day trip leaving March 3rd at 1:30 P.M. and returning March 17th, at 1:30 P.M. can be obtained by calling Travel Consultants, at 825-5514. Steve Tsalkis or any one of the girls can answer your inquiries; or calls may be directed to Al Green at YO 7-8188.

Our last meeting was a great success and well attended. The trip through the new Leaning Tower YMCA was a thrilling experience and a dream come true. This is the most beautiful and well equipped YMCA in the world today. If you have not seen it as yet, by all means make it a must to see this fabulous facility. Both Robert Wordel and Stan Harris of the Teletype Corporation were in attendance, and I must commend Mr. Wordel as he has been so enthusiastic about the Chamber and has brought in several industrial plants as new members and contemplates bringing in many more. A salute to you, Bob Wordel, for the tremendous job you are doing. Mr. Maurus T. Goetz, President of Teletype Corporation has given his full support so necessary to the welfare of a chamber. Mr. Goetz is a dedicated man who believes that industrial plants within the village should be active in its community and has so demonstrated through Mr. Wordel and Mr. Harris. We salute you, Mr. Goetz, for your efforts on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce.

The Committee on the tree planting program is scheduled to meet with the village within the next few weeks and I am hopeful of having a plan worked out so that Milwaukee Avenue will look like the avenue of trees. Not only would it be beautiful but would be beneficial to the residents of the Village as it would provide shade for cooling on hot summer days.

I believe we should all keep a keen eye on the coming political campaign as this should be an interesting one to follow.

Our next meeting will be held on Wednesday, February 9th, 12:00 o'clock noon at the Lone Tree Inn. Vice President and Program Chairman, Vince Johnson, will present some interesting films on golf. Soon the golf season will be here and all of us should see this film.

I wish to close with the following thought. "It's nice to be important... but more important to be nice."

NI Gas: 'Coldest Spell Since 1899'

Whew! That was "Cold Spell Chester," in case you wondered what was keeping the mercury below the zero mark for so long. In fact, during "Chester's" stay zero seemed like a heat wave.

He's gone now, but he won't soon be forgotten at Northern Illinois Gas Company. During one 24-hour, noon to noon period (Jan. 29-30), NI-Gas distributed a record-breaking 1.86 billion cubic feet of natural gas. To assure its more than 9 hundred thousand customers of ample supplies of the fuel, the utility withdrew 918 million cubic feet of gas from its underground storage facilities, also a record high.

Setting one chilly record after another, "Cold Spell Chester" turned out to be the coldest wave to settle in northern Illinois since 1899.

Northern Illinois Gas Company reports that its record breaking one-day shipment of 1.86 billion cubic feet was enough gas to heat 1000 homes for 11 years.

"Cold Spell Daniel" is waiting in the wings for his cue, just how jealous he is of "Chester's" bone-chilling performance remains to be seen.

Mayer Stiebel Sets Up Scholarship Fund

A scholarship fund has been established at Michigan State University by a Morton Grove businessman.

Mayer Stiebel, President of the Mayer Stiebel Organization, kosher caterers and food consultants, has set up the fund in the world famous School of Hotel and Restaurant Administration at East Lansing, Michigan.

The scholarship provides annually for one year's full tuition for the student demonstrating, among other things: scholastic ability, financial need, and keen interest in pursuing a catering career in accordance with the Kosher dietary laws.

Dean Henry Ogden Barbour, of the School of Hotel and Restaurant Administration, accepted the grant and named it the Stiebel Kosher Food Management Scholarship.

Stiebel points out that Kosher catering has during recent years come out of the confining regimen of just a few specialized dishes. He said, "It has become a highly practiced art and science, where classic European and American favorites can now be adapted to the dietary laws through applied imagination and expertise. Management personnel, however, has not kept abreast of this expansion. It is for this reason that we hope to encourage the best students in the leading school of its kind to pursue a career in this field."

The Stiebel Organization is official caterer for Northwest Suburban Jewish Synagogue Beth El, 7800 W. Lyons, Morton Grove. The firm continues catering parties in the synagogue in addition to maintaining a thriving business headquartered at the North Shore Hotel, Evanston.

The pretty young lady is Miss Lynn Pamela Bennett daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Bennett of 8047 Gross Point Road, Morton Grove, Illinois. Need More Volunteers As Lutheran General Hospital Expands

Some time this week, a Service League volunteer will go about her duty at Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge. She may be accompanying a new patient to his room. She may be working in the blood Bank. She may be helping a patient select his menu. She may be taking the library cart to patients.

The volunteer may be taking an electrocardiogram. She may be welcoming visitors at the reception desk. She may be working in any one of the 54 areas where Service Leaguers service.

But it will be an unusual day for she will be giving the 500,000th hour of volunteer service to the hospital that the Service League has given since the hospital opened in 1960.

"Since the hospital opened in 1960, Service League volunteers have given a half-million hours of service. All of the members can be proud of this accomplishment," said Mrs. Samuel Anderson, president.

Mrs. Anderson noted that the current membership of the Service League is over 725. On any given day, 125 volunteers will be in the hospital.

"A half-million hours of service is an almost incredible amount of time. When you consider that this was given in just over five years, it becomes almost unbelievable," said Dr. L. Jacobsen, executive director. "To my knowledge, this is the most impressive record ever achieved by a group this young."

The need for additional volunteers was cited by Mrs. Anderson.

"However, this is no time for us to rest on our laurels," Mrs. Anderson stated. "With the $6,200,000 expansion program at Lutheran General now

The Social Committee, whose chairman is Mrs. John A. Campton, 8924 Major Avenue, has planned a "Mixer" so that members may become better acquainted with those other than their own friends. A program has been planned in which all can participate.

The Mid-Winter meeting of the Tenth District of the Ill. Federation of Women's Clubs, with which the Morton Grove Woman's Club is affiliated was held on Tuesday, Jan. 18, at the First Methodist Church, 1630 Hinman, Evanston.

Hong Kong Lecture At Maine

"Hong Kong" - its people, beauty, poverty and progress will be the February 9th presentation of the Maine Community Lecture Series. It will be shown at 8 p.m. in the auditorium of Maine Township High School East, Dempster Street & Potter Road, Park Ridge. Lecturer and producer of the film is Karl Robinson, whose factual and entertaining narration has brought him nationwide acclaim in the travelogue field.

Ten years travel in the Orient provides the foundation for Karl Robinson's insight into this unique community. Three million Chinese are assimilated into the life of the British Crown Colony. A continuous stream of refugees from Communist China augments the dense population. Shortages of housing, land and water present staggering problems. The film shows how government and industry are coping with them.

The teeming markets of Hong Kong, in scenes of exquisite color, offer a fabulous array of jade, ivory, pearls, lacquer work, brocades, gowns, beaded sweaters, artificial flowers and handwoven rugs.

Traditional Hong Kong is also depicted, as Mr. Robinson films the life of the "water people", who pass their entire existence aboard sampans and fishing junks. He presents an amusing sequence on Chinese writing, and brings to the screen the celebration of the Chinese New Year, ceremonies in an ancestral hall, a Chinese theater performance and the preparation of a Chinese banquet.

While including generous portions of the scenic spots of a country, Karl Robinson's films are designed primarily for stimulating adventure in understanding. He is particularly skillful at establishing a pictorial rapport with the people of the country being visited, giving you a feeling you are actually there among them. A lively sense of humor flavors both his narrative and photography. His exciting photographic work reflects the conviction that: when we know the people of the world well enough to think of them as our neighbors, as they most certainly are in this jet age, and when we acquire appreciation and tolerance of their ways of life, we are a lot nearer the kind of world in which we can live and work in peace and mutual understanding.

Information on this armchair visit to Hong Kong and for other coming programs in Maine East's and Maine West's Lecture Series may be received from the office of Alexander Krugel, Director of the Maine Adult Evening School - 825-3435.

12 Week Dancing Course In District 67

Like the English language, social dancing is ever-changing, up-to-the-second, and vernacular.

Currently, dancing is much less close than it used to be. That is, the couples are farther apart when dancing. Individuals may undulate more, they may "quiver" and rock more, but the partners are farther apart more of the time. Maybe this is good, yes?

This was evident in the convolutions of the 12-week dancing course just completed at Golf Junior High School in Morton Grove. It was offered to seventh and eighth graders in School District 67--after school and to volunteers, of course.

Parent-teacher groups in the northwestern suburban school district sponsor the course annually.

This year some 30 youngsters signed up and, fortunately, yes miraculously as many boys as girls took the course. Perhaps the dance is "in" with the low teens now, anyway more "in". The 30 youngsters were seventh graders, not eighth. Eighths are too far for that, apparently.

It was the assignment of pert and purty Mrs. Gerry Livingston, from Giordano Dance Studio in Evanston, to guide
