Greenwood and at Main and Milwaukee.

While irate Nilesites had good cause to sound off there's a below sealevel area in Morton Grove at Overhill and Overhill Court which inundates the lawns there during heavy rains. Both areas have long had these problems...we'll let out as loud a scream as we can in print, "WHEN ARE YOU POLITICIANS GOING TO DO SOMETHING ABOUT THESE FLOODED AREAS?"

Niles park board president Steve Chamerski, hero to the pro-TAM residents, and a villain to others, told us last week a story in the Saturday Evening Post is scheduled to tell the Steve Chamerski story. Bantam Steve said the story centers around the poor boy with a limited education taking on what Steve calls "PHDs" and successfully combatting them and the intended industrial complex planned for TAM. If the SC story gets in print we may be viewing the Steve Chamerski Story on the late late show in year's to come.

Paraphrasing that old bromide, "It could only happen in America," we would have to write "It could only happen in the Niles Park District".

Niles park Secretary Ted Olson was awoken earlier this week by a 6:30 a.m. telephone call. At the other end of the line was Gary Olson, first lieutenant, who was calling from O'Hare Field. Twenty-four hours before the call, Gary was in Saigon, ending a tour of heavy-combat duty there. After an 18-day pause Gary becomes professor of military science at Detroit University. We'd like to join his many friends in welcoming him home.

The recent story about the doctor in Skokie, who injected the blood of a hodgkins disease sufferer into her husband and was later inoculated with his blood, which is believed to have created antibodies which lessened the diseased cells, is Dr. Irving Greenspan, the same doctor who is actively engaged in combating leukemia. During the Niles outbreak several years ago, Greenspan came to Niles to still the fears of the community. His work in researching cancerous cells may well lead to the eventual treatment of the disease. When he came to Niles he told us he thought cancer was definitely a virus, though at that time it was not scientifically recognized as such. Today, due to the work of researchers such as Greenspan, it is recognized leukemia is a virus.

District 63 school board president "Buddy" Kopald gained the reputation Monday of being the fastest "PR" man in the middlewest. At a well-coming get-together for new superintendent Hugh McGuinan fast-moving Kopald followed McGuinan's introductory speech with an "instant" press meeting. Kopald asked his audience, "Does anyone have any questions?"...then a pause...and then, "You're all invited for a little 'repast' in the cafeteria". Later at lunch Kopald brought a stop watch to our table which showed the "press meeting" lasted 18 seconds. Had he timed the question and answer period, including his pause for taking a breath it likely measured closer to 5 seconds.

Vote May 31 In Maine Twp. For Incorporating C-Shaped Area

The outcome of a Maine Twp. land battle will be decided May 31 in a referendum to incorporate a portion of the township as the village of Golf Mill.

At stake in the election is the question of who will control further development of the Golf Mill area, a C-shaped tract east of the Tri-State tollway and north of Dempster.

At issue are high-rise apartments and office buildings and the problem of overcrowding, subjects of concern to municipal officials throughout the suburban area.

Opponents of the proposed village want the area annexed by surrounding municipalities. They contend the incorporation is being pushed by developers who want a free hand in constructing high-rises on a "helter-skelter" basis within the new village.

Allen D. Schwartz, a member of the board of East Maine Twp. Elementary School District 63, and attorney for a group of 200 residents fighting incorporation, said eight high-rises are proposed for a site across from one of the district's junior high schools.

Schwartz and officials of the village of Niles, which is one of five municipalities fighting the incorporation, also complained that the new village would have an inadequate tax base.

Assuming a population of 8,000 the new village would have an assessed valuation of $1,500 per person. Comparable figures for the objecting communities for 1961 show Glenview with $4,114; Des Plaines with $2,994; Park Ridge with $3,708; Morton Grove with $3,951; and Niles with $4,700.

However, Marvin Glink, an attorney for the Committee to Form the Village of Golf Mill, said the new community would have more than enough revenue to sustain itself.

"We have worked out a budget of $85,000 for the first year," he said, "but we expect to have an income of $155,000."

"What's more," Glink said, "completion of projects now under way should increase the village's total assessed valuation to $25,000,000 by the end of 1967."

"In three years, Golf Mill will be the wealthiest village in the northwest suburbs," said Morris Suson, principal developer in the Golf Mill area.

Suson said he owns or controls about $8,000,000 of the proposed community's initial $12,000,000 assessed valuation.

The village would gain an additional tax base, Suson said, if it annexed and rezoned a 50-acre tract on Dempster five blocks west of Greenwood to permit construction of eight 10-story apartment buildings and a shopping center.

Suson said the high rises probably would include about 1,500 units, whereas Schwartz objected that 1,500 units would overpopulate the neighborhood.

Schwartz said a study authorized by the District 63 school board recommended construction of fewer than 1,000 apartments on the site.

Suson, who said there would be few school age children in the apartment, has constructed a total of 2,200 apartment units in the Golf Mill area in the last 10 years. He said he plans to build 2,500 units in the next five years, although some of the projects would require rezoning by the county—or the village of Golf Mill, if it is incorporated.

The five villages opposing incorporation are studying a plan whereby each community would annex a portion of the unincorporated area, which includes Golf Mill.

The area is bounded on the south by Dempster; on the west by Potter; on the north by a Commonwealth Edison Co. right of way that runs north of Golf Rd. from Milwaukee to Potter Rd. extended; and on the east by a line that starts at Milwaukee near Golf, curves westward, then returns southeast to Parkside near Dempster.

Niles attorney James Sneider said the villages would like to split up the territory so that burdens on municipal water, police and fire services could be divided equally.

Sneider said the annexation plan probably would be pressed if the incorporation is defeated.

Glink, however, charged that none of the municipalities "expressed any concern for this area until incorporation was proposed."

Niles is appealing a court order granting permission for the referendum. Niles contends that the proposed village does not contain the 7,500 residents needed under state law to incorporate regardless of outside protests.

Sneider said a survey showed that the area had fewer than 6,500 residents, but proponents of the village produced a survey counting 7,840.

In other actions Tuesday night Fire Chief Hoelbl was given the O.K. to appoint a deputy chief, 1 captain and 2 lieutenants and police chief, Chief Emrikson was authorized to appoint 2 policemen effective July 1.

Mayor Blase reported, after the recent telephone survey, Illinois Bell spent 4 hours at the Fire Department reviewing complaints while Middle States showed no interest, as proven by their remaining mute. He accused Middle States of being "brash," said they "don't care what people think" and received unanimous Board approval to seek ICC formal hearings to iron out Niles difficulties with the Middle States Company.

From The Left Hand

by David Besser Editor & Publisher

The total cost of all the TAM acrobatics by Niles park board is around $25,000 to $35,000 of taxpayers money. And ironically, the 40 acre area the park board is settling for is roughly the proposition the TAM people first offered last year when the park board and the village board met behind closed doors with the TAM people. Thus, while some of the public people were huffing and puffing over their efforts, they wound up getting what was first offered them, less the $25,000 of tax money.

While all the effort was directed toward the TAM acquisition the park board lost itself an experienced park recreation director, and the plans for recreation in other areas received less stress than might have been.

All the sound and the fury was for a golf course...and a golf course only. The propaganda for recreational facilities for all Nilesites was a lot of poppycock. At one time, the pro-TAM people were talking about swimming pools, tennis courts, a clubhouse-center, and hiking area for all Nilesites. Now a 9 hole golf course will benefit less than 10% of the community.

Considering the lack of recreational facilities here we've long ago been convinced the TAM emphasis was tilted far out of proportion to its value for the majority of Nilesites.

Pity the poor park board which devoted hundreds of hours in this effort. It's been a grueling year, knocked to and fro by a denunciation from the courts for its futile effort, a constant harping from the village board, and a haranguing from the pro-TAM crusaders unlike anything we've seen in our years in the village.

Nick Blase reminded us last week he definitely favored the annexation of the unincorporated area into Niles. We thought Nick was being cagey in fencing with the issue, saying he was in favor of annexing when he was campaigning in the unincorporated area, and keeping silent when he sat in Niles. Now, lo and behold, Nick destroys what we thought was a two-sided bit of politicking on the behalf of the committeeman candidate.

At the public forum Wednesday night we also asked Blase if it was true Niles policemen are "working" the unincorporated area in uniforms and with police cars present. It was candidate Wessel's contention Blase was using the police to

Pk. Bd. To Buy 40 TAM Acres

As reported in last week's BUGLE the purchase of Tam O'Shanter of about 40 acres of TAM property by the Niles Park Board hinges on a federal grant for the cost of half the property.

At the Thursday night's zoning board meeting, TAM officials and Niles park board once again received a postponement for the re-zoning of the area.

It is expected the July 28 zoning board meeting will hear the TAM petition for re-zoning of the property.

At Wednesday night's public forum the attorney for the park board said the 40 acre property is at the north end of TAM, and will not include the clubhouse.

Thursday zoning board pre-

SEEKS TWO 14 STORY HI RISES HERE

192 Units In Each Building

Niles zoning board disallowed hearing a petition for two 14 story hi rise buildings at 9100 Milwaukee Avenue Thursday night because the petitioner incorrectly filed his petition. The proposed hi rises would be used for senior citizen apartments with 192 apartments planned for each building.

Plan commission chairman Kal Rowen suggested the petitioner, Joseph Reimer and his brother, seek an amendment to Niles zoning ordinance, rather than seek special use zoning, as the original petition stated.

Builder Joseph Arndt, representing the landowner, Reimer, was a Lutheran Church group "was interested" in the plan though no agreement with the group has been made. Arndt said 127,000 square feet of land (about 3 acres) is included in the parcel.

The petition for an amendment would seek to revise Niles zoning which would allow the taller hi rise. Niles present ordinance allows for multiple dwellings with a maximum of units and stories high.

Reimer, owner of the land, said the property has been owned by his family since 1940.

Arndt, who admitted his interest was in the builder's profit, said a 50 year three percent government loan would be received for the project. He said the low, small interest loan was available because of the non-profit nature of the church-sponsored housing.

Arndt said the property would front on 192 feet of Milwaukee Avenue property and the building.

Niles Pool Opens June 11

As the weather warms, many a thought turns to swimming, and the Niles Park District is making strides toward the opening of the pool on June 11, 1966.

Let's all remember that as a parent, in the best interests of their children, we should direct them to obey the lifeguard, to insist that they follow the (educable mentally handicapped) teacher, a teacher for the perceptually handicapped, a director of a program for gifted, who will also serve as instructional materials coordinator, three librarians making a total of 10 for the district, (thus all schools will have a full-time librarian to develop the essential library program as a resource center), a new science coordinator, math coordinator and social studies coordinator to provide direction in the development of curriculum for the district.

Approximately $82,000 of the budgeted expenditure in the education fund is to underwrite the 1966-1967 In-Service program, to be called "Operation Bootstrap." During the summer, beginning July 5, for six weeks, a summer study committee of teachers, plus a director-consultant, will explore the development of curriculum in four areas; reading, social studies, modern math and science. Each committee will have at least one principal to provide administrative leadership.

Dr. W. Linwood Chase, nationally known expert, lecturer and author in the field of social studies, and professor emeritus of Boston University, Department of Education, has already been selected as social studies coordinator. Richard Salinger, director of the Learning Center for Science of the University of Illinois, Urbana, will be the coordinator-director for science. It is also expected that Dr. Alice Crossley, national consultant in the field of language arts will head the reading committee.

As planned, the coordinator will meet with the committee during the first week to establish direction and during the last week to evaluate and pull together the committee work. Teacher committee members will be drawn from the pilot schools involved in developing a subject area, such as Mark Twain and Nathanson schools in social studies, (Mark Twain has been involved in developing the initial stages of a social studies curriculum this past year.)

Each teacher will be paid $125 a week for the six weeks work.

The results of this summer planning program will set the groundwork for the in-service program to be conducted during the school year, Thursday of each week. The in-service committee for all district teachers will be charged with the responsibility of determining processes of curriculum development, changing and developing the educational attitudes and professional effectiveness of district teachers, to meet the educational needs of students on the most individualized teaching level.

A school calendar to accommodate this in-service program was discussed by the Board. It was decided by the Board to poll teachers expected to attend in-service to determine preference for one of two suggested schedules. The changes in school hours for next year will be announced following this teacher determination, subject to administration and Board review.

Niles Chamber of Commerce

By Al Green
President-Niles Chamber

As this column goes to press, the Chambers involved in final negotiations for the contract to sponsor the Illinois Junior Miss Pageant here in Niles between Christmas and New Years.

This will be an activity of great public interest and a great honor for Niles should we receive the contract, as this organization rewards the nation's ideal and outstanding high school senior girls with national recognition and scholarships for the furtherance of their education. Winners from each state will then participate in America's Junior Miss Pageant held in Georgia in March. Working as co-Chairmen with me on this project will be our new Library Board Member, Mrs. (Bud) Diane Hanson, Mr. Ed Beaulieu of Debeaulieux Realty, and Mrs. Robert Wordel, Public Relations Executive of Telotype Corporation.

Since this is the time for political contemplation, I agree with the views of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce in reference to business and politics. They feel that the average business man practices the adage, "Leave politics to the Politicians". This attitude may be changing these past few years since business and industry have joined forces to have a voice in the legislatures to improve the business climate. Georges Clemenceau, Premier of France during World War I, made a famous statement that war was too important to leave to the generals. Perhaps it is time that business men decided that politics is too important to leave to the politicians.

This year, it is our hope that the 4th of July civic celebrations will be greater and more eventful than ever, under the direction of Vice President Henry Ford and Board Member, Robert Wordel.

Our next meeting will be held on Wednesday, June 8 at 12:15 p.m. in the Mediterranean Room of the New Learning Tower YMCA. Vice-President, Vince Johnson, who also is our Program Chairman, has secured a very interesting speaker. A release on the program appears in this paper. Please make your reservations to attend and bring a friend, by calling the Chamber Offices by Monday, June 6.

Niles Health Board Gives Thanks For Vision Screening Help

The Niles Board of Health held a Pre-School Vision Screening Program on Sat., May 14, 1966, at 6849 Touhy Ave., which was conducted by the Ill. Society for the Prevention of Blindness. Children were screened so as to alert parents to irregularities in vision, so that they could turn to their Optometrists or Ophthalmologists for treatment. Low vision in both eyes and lazy eye blindness are two visual problems which can be detected by the screening program and are generally easy to correct, but after the age of 6 years, treatment is costly and often unproductive. Crossed eyes is a problem that far too many people still mistakenly believe that children will outgrow this condition. They do not recognize that the non-working eye is repressed much as in lazy eye blindness and needs correction at a very early age to prevent loss of sight.

The Board wishes to thank the Niles Women's Club for their faithful cooperation in this and other undertakings where the assistance of their volunteers has been a stalwart pin upon which the smooth movement of various projects has rested. Particularly, it wishes to thank the following for giving of their time: Mrs. Warren Unrath, Mrs. Rob. ## Illinois Bell Files Rate Reduction Proposals

Proposals for rate reductions, changes and new services, which will make possible more than $8,500,000 in annual savings for Illinois telephone users, were filed May 26 with the Commerce Commission by Illinois Bell Telephone Company. Principal items are cuts in intrastate long distance dial station rates,

The announcement was made by James W. Karber, commission chairman, who said the changes have been negotiated with Illinois Bell and result from the commission's program of surveillance of utility operations. "Since 1961," he pointed out, "negotiated reductions in the company's interstate and intrastate rates have made possible annual customer savings totaling more than $30,000,000."

Some changes, including a reduction in the charge for a color phone from $4 to $2 and establishment of a uniform $6 charge for connecting residence telephones, are effective Friday, May 27. Other reductions go into effect July 2.

Rates on many Illinois long distance calls 37 to 100 miles are reduced by five to 20 cents. Other reductions also apply to some overtime charges.

For station collect long distance calls up to 25 miles, some initial talking period and all overtime charges will be reduced by five cents; the initial talking period will be lengthened from three to four minutes and some overtime periods will go from one to two minutes. Savings on such collect calls of relatively long duration will be substantial, it was pointed out.

Business customers will benefit from reductions in rates for the present Wide Area Telephone Service (WATS) and a variety of private line services. WATS customers are assigned outgoing lines over which they place long distance calls on a flat charge basis.

A new business service for all Illinois subscribers is an "inward WATS." The subscriber will be provided with incoming lines over which his customer throughout Illinois can call him at no charge to himself. Rates for the new service will be the same as those for outward WATS.

The monthly rate for the Card-Dialer, an automatic dialing phone will be cut from $3.50 to $2.50 and its installation charge reduced from $15 to $10.

The monthly charge of $1 per instrument for volume control phones (used by those with impaired hearing or weak voices) will be reduced to 50 cents and the lower charge will cover all of the residence customer's volume control phones. The same reduction to 50 cents will apply to business customers, but on a per phone basis. Handicapped persons in Illinois now use about 15,000 of these phones.

Changes effective Friday, May 27:

All one-time charges for standard color phones are reduced to $2 from $4 for regular desk or wall phones, and from $6.50 or $9 for key phones and Speakerphones.

A uniform charge of $6 for connecting, changing or moving the location of a phone on residential premises is established. Present charges range from $5 to $7.

These items are eliminated: the $5 charge for changing residence dial service to Touch-Tone, the $1.50 charge for restoring service denied for non-payment and charges for under construction for telephone service, when conditions for such work permit.

A new "MetroLine" service, to be offered December 1, is proposed for business subscribers in the Chicago Metropolitan Area. The subscriber will have unlimited calling within this area on a special outgoing line for a monthly rate of $37.50 for 10 hours, and $1.35 for each additional half hour.

Boy Scouts In Spring Camporee

Participating in the spring camporee of the Maine Ridge district of the boy scouts were over 315 scouts and 80 scouters from 19 troops from Niles and Park Ridge.

Troop 104 and troop 123, each had 29 boys, and troop 1 had 27 scouts at Marm's Woods near Wilmette and Glenview the week end of May 20, 21, and 22.

The largest groups were from Park Ridge sponsored units.

Winning blue ribbons for proficiency in Saturday competition were 15 patrols from 10 different troops.

Niles patrols were Pioneers of troop 275 and Apache and Hawks of troop 175, sponsored by St. John Brebeuf Catholic Church and Eagles patrol of troop 45, sponsored by the Oak PTA.

21 patrols won the red standard ribbon and 15 patrols won the yellow participation ribbon.

The troop inspection again resulted in a tie for first place, this time between troop 76, sponsored by the Roosevelt PTA of Park Ridge, and troop 45, sponsored by the Oak PTA of Niles. Troop 78 of Park Ridge won third place.

After a light rain Friday afternoon while some of the units were checking in, beautiful weather was enjoyed, making up for the rain and wind of a year ago at Kankakee River State Park.

The camporee was under the general direction of camping chairman Bill Robinson and district scout executive Herb Pletschmann. A group of 50 cubs from Webbs dens visited the camporee Saturday afternoon and saw demonstrations of the camping skills of the scout troops.

These troops set up their own camps for one or more days and nights on the same campsite for fun and good fellowship and the opportunity to learn more about camping from each other. District vice chairman Tom Powers called it a most successful camporee.

ND Band Champs

"The Sons of Satin" were recently the Champion Band of Notre Dame.

In a six-combo band battle sponsored by Notre Dame's Lettermen's Club, held in the school's gym, the Sons were voted tops by the crowd. This combo beat out the Odysseys, the Casinos, the Henchmen, the Impalas, and the Hearts of Darkness.

Sons of Satin is a five man group composed of teenagers from local communities. The lead guitarists are Mike Sidney and Wally "Luke" Tempini. Ed Schaiges plays the rhythm guitar, Denny Conway strums the bass, and Paul Schmitz bangs the drums. Mike Sidney, the leader of the group, won a trip to Europe last summer for his musical skills.

Manager of the band, Tom Vans, said about his victorious quintet: "Whether the break comes now or in the future, it will come, and when it comes, the Sons of Satin will be one of the most sought after bands in the area."

Maine Township Demos Cheated, Says Blase

(News Release)

"It's time to clear the air," these words were spoken by Nick Blase, candidate for Maine Township Democratic Committeeman, at a meeting of his workers last week. Blase was speaking of the charges and claims being made by his opponents, Tom Bradley and Dick Wessell.

Blase put the cards on the table as he said, "I am sick of hearing half-truths being used by the Bradley-Wessell team to cover up their own ineffectiveness."

"I don't mind their attacks on me," said Blase, "these can be answered with a good look at my record, but I can't sit still for their attempts to mislead the people about their accomplishments."

Blase spoke of Dick Wessell first, "Serious charges have been made against my workers and me, Mr. Wessell has said that I have involved the entire village of Niles in a conspiracy against him. I was been virtually this ridiculous attack with an answer, I have enough experience in politics to know that it's stupid to use intimidation in a campaign, but to show my feelings about this situation, I have offered a $200,00 reward for information leading to the conviction of anyone destroying my opponents signs. Wouldn't it be strange if we found that Mr. Wessell's own workers were tearing the signs down in order to accuse me of it."

Speaking of Wessell, Blase questioned his motives in attacking him when the incumbent Mr. Bradley has been virtually forgotten. "Tom Bradley has accomplished almost nothing in almost 16 years. His laxity has caused the Democratic Party to crumble. With this in mind, I don't understand Mr. Wessell's constant attack on me, Wouldn't it be more feasible to concentrate on Bradley, unless these two people are working together to defeat me."

Blase then practiced what he preached by concentrating on Bradley. "I don't think there is any question about how I feel about Mr. Bradley's record in office. He has led the people "down the garden path" for sixteen years, instead of acting with determination to serve the people, he has built a political machine to serve special interests."

Blase was speaking of the fact that Bradley's law firm represented a single land owner when the people came to the County Zoning Board to rezone land for light manufacturing. The people lost their chance for vital tax relief because the Committeeman's law firm worked against them.

"The thing that infuriates me," said Blase, "is what Bradley is saying now that Election Day is near. Now, after 16 years, he says that he is here to help the people, I must say that this is just so much "rot". The number of registered Democrats has steadily dropped through the years. A small group of job holders make up the only active Democrats in Maine Township. The Committeeman's link between the County and State has been broken, and Tom Bradley says he is here to help the people."

"I'll let the people decide if this is true on June 14. I am sure they will see through all the double-talk by disregarding Wessell and by throwing Bradley out." This "Dynamic Duo" who have been together and shared constant defeat for 16 years.

Troop 98 To Visit Colorado

Cadet Troop #98, Niles, Illinois, under the leadership of Mrs. Helen Long and Mrs. Jack Leske will accompany their girls to Aspen Lodge, Estes Park, Colorado the week of June 13th through 17th via the Milwaukee Road. There the troop will enjoy swimming, chuck-wagon dinners, horse-back-riding, and sightseeing in the area. This trip culminates a two-year period during which time various money-making projects have been on the agenda to earn the necessary funds enabling the girls to pay this trip. Mrs. Long, a knitting instructor at the Sears, Golf-Mill Store, taught several of the girls to knit. Knitted headbands, slippers and Barbie clothes were much in demand and sold readily. Foam-lint-removers, lipstick tissue-boxes, pom-poms, and troll doll-clothes were other interesting items worked on.

The Mothers Club of the troop decided to "be good Scouts" also and pitched in to help the girls raise additional funds.

As a result, a troop Cookbook entitled "Sugar 'N Spice 'N Everything Nice", Favorites of Cadette Troop 98 is now a reality and is selling like "hot-cakes".

Most of the girls have been together since Brownies and have enjoyed six years of scouting experience and have established warm friendships. Mrs. Long, herself, has 13 consecutive years of leadership to her credit. Ending the year on a gay note, the Mothers Club held a luncheon at the Encore Restaurant, Thursday, May 27th.

Needless to say, it has taken the excellent cooperation of the leaders, the girls and their parents to establish such a fine scouting record.

The girls in the troop are as follows: Carol Baum, Leslie Byster, Kathleen Emrikson, Hedy Filush, Karen Johnson, Debbie Leske, Roberta Long, Janice Mickow, Geri Miller, Linda Mittlstaedt, Linda Obermaier, Karen Pfaff and Terri Seelos.

Anthony Guarnaccio To Speak At Kirk Lane Meeting

Anthony J. Guarnaccio, Village Sanitarian, will be the featured speaker at the Kirk Lane meeting, Wednesday, June 8. He will discuss the role that the sanitarian plays as watchdog over the public health. All residents of Kirk Lane and Niles are invited.

You might be asking, "What is a sanitarian?" Frankly, so did we, so we checked with Mr. Webster. We learned that a sanitarian is "A person who is interested in an has knowledge of public health and sanitary studies; and advocate of sanitary measures." The facts were few, but enough to make us realize the importance of the work he does.

Unfortunately, the role the sanitarian plays in the community is too often unknown. We feel that this discussion is a great opportunity to learn more about this type of work that concerns all of us.

Tom Oswald Chosen For Costa Rica Semester

Monmouth College biology major, Thomas Oswald, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Oswald, 8506 N. Ozanam, Niles, Illinois, will be in Costa Rica for the first semester of next year participating in the ACM "Field Studies in Central America" program.

"The purpose of the ACM field study program is research. However, the program can contribute to the welfare of the country through the accumulation of knowledge of the tropical environment."

Tom will arrive in San Jose July 5 for a six week orientation period, where he will learn to use computers and other modern research methods. Working with a faculty advisor, Tom will then choose a research topic. He will write a paper covering his research, and will end the semester on December 15, 1966. For this work, Tom will receive 3 seminar and independent study credits.

Tom plans to live in a dormitory at first, but will probably move in with a Costa Rican family later.

Along with his major in biology, Tom has a minor in chemistry. He plans to attend graduate school and teach biology in the future.

Twelve Teachers Leaving Dist. 207 For Other Areas

Twelve teachers resigned from Maine Township high schools May 16.

Indicating the high caliber of Maine's quality teaching, such high schools as Evanston, New Trier and Thornton, clipped into Maine's reservoir of faculty talent and recruited away several key people that will be a loss to the high schools' capabilities.

Many were promoted to department chairman; all received more money.

One resigning teacher, who could not be quoted, made a lateral move for $12,000 a year more, indicated that the failure of public support at Maine to raise teacher salaries at least to competitive levels was a major reason for his leaving. "The negative vote at the last election was the clincher for me in making my decision," he said.

Board president John Wilkins noted that while some of the 12 resignations were to return for additional college work, or geographic spouse transfers, or for personal reasons, the hard fact remains that Warren C. Born accepted a position as chairman of the foreign language department with North Syracuse Central Schools; Ronald Helberg went to Evanston as a teacher and coach; Charles Pendleton accepted a teaching position at Illinois State University; Randolph Pitts goes to New Trier as a career counselor; Ronald D. Townsend accepted a position with Florida State University, and Richard Williams became a department chairman at Thornton Township High School.

"This loss may well be just the beginning," Mr. Wilkins feared, "unless the voters respond affirmatively on June 25, and it is such a needless waste to lose capable teachers in whom we have so much invested. Maine voters have real reason to be shocked out of their apathy. The deeply concerned should not only circle June 25 for their 'Yes' vote, but should recruit neighbors and friends for their 'Yes' vote. The situation is serious."

Two Scholarships Offered By Montessori School

Two $1,500 scholarships are being offered by the San Lorenzo Montessori school of Park Ridge, to college graduates who will take the teacher training program offered at the Midwest Montessori Teacher Training Center, 1010 W. Chicago ave., beginning July 5.

The year-long course consists of an eight-week full-time summer session at the center followed by a 10-month internship at the San Lorenzo Montessori school. During the internship trainees will return to the center periodically for three-day institutes. Those successfully completing the course will receive an American Montessori Society diploma.

The center, now entering its third year of operation, is staffed by a national team of Montessori teacher trainers. In addition, specialists in child development and early learning from a half-dozen universities complete the training center faculty.

Plans are proceeding for the opening of the San Lorenzo Montessori school in September. Processing of initial applications has indicated that there are a few openings remaining for new applicants or transfer students. Children from two to four years of age will be eligible for enrollment.

Persons interested in this scholarship, or in obtaining applications for their children, should phone Mrs. Ronald Shipka, registrar, or Mrs. James Bychowski.

I seriously doubt his motives for running." Nick Blase says... "we must eliminate the negative thinking of Tom Bradley, who has seen so many defeats of the Democratic Party in Maine Township that he considers a 3-to-1 loss a victory." Nick Blase says... "We need decisive leadership in Maine Township, a Committeeman who will fight for his beliefs. Mr. Wessel owns a newspaper, an important voice in the community... and he consistently backs Republicans. ### Niles Goes To ICC For Hearing

On May 24, 1966 the Niles Village Board unanimously endorsed a motion for the Village of Niles to proceed directly to the I.C.C. for a hearing in regard to charges against Middle States Telephone Company in the Maine Township area.

Of interest is the fact that even though Illinois Bell Telephone showed up well in the survey, they have taken the time in the last week to send two of their top men to check all of the questionnaires, for a total of 4 hours, in order to try to better serve the public. On the other hand, Middle States have not inquired into the nature of the questionnaires and are apparently not even interested in correcting their abuses.

Public notice will be given of the date the hearing is set.

Meet Hugh E. McGuigan, New Superintendent For Dist. 63

BY NAOMI KRONE

Alto it has often been said three times and you're out, the adage might not hold true this time for East Maine School Dist. 63.

A new superintendent of schools for the district has been named and formally introduced—Hugh E. McGuigan, presently employed as superintendent of schools in Woodbury, Conn.

At a press luncheon Monday afternoon, Mr. McGuigan formally became a member of the ever-growing family of the school district. A very personable, 37-year-old gentleman, Mr. McGuigan and his wife, Kathryn, have two children, Debbie, 6, and George, 2. Termed a "mainstreamer" and a "team innovator" by Gordon Kopald, president of the Dist. 63 Board of Education, McGuigan takes over the reins of the district from Acting Supt. William Bullock. Dr. Bullock replaced Jim Bagg, superintendent of the district for many years.

Faced with the problems of a rapidly-expanding school district population as well as communication between parents and administration, McGuigan expressed the hope that "public relations would become a very important part of his administration."

With the announced aim of "providing the best possible education for all the children in the district," McGuigan brings to Dist. 63 a basic background in the field of elementary education and the knowledge of how to supervise and administer a regional vocational center serving 14 towns in northwestern Connecticut. A veteran of 15 years in public education, his more recent work has been primarily concerned with reorganizing academic and vocational secondary school programs.

Prior to assuming his post in Woodbury, McGuigan served for six years as principal of the Parkway Oaks elementary school in Farmingdale, L.I., New York, one of the largest elementary schools in that state. In this and in his present capacity, he has had the responsibility of planning and developing new educational programs for elementary school pupils, as well as planning, equipping and staffing new elementary school buildings.

Among other educational innovations which Mr. McGuigan has brought to elementary school children are:

- ...the introduction of the new initial training alphabet program in selected first grades;
- ...the introduction of formal instruction in French and Spanish in grades 4 thru 8;
- ...the development of a formal basic science course for grades 1 thru 8;
- ...experimentation with formal reading instruction in kindergarten;
- ...conducted pilot projects utilizing television instruction in science, foreign language, and social studies.

Among Mr. McGuigan's major contributions to the Woodbury Public School system is the complete development of a formal junior high school program for seventh and eighth grade students. The program includes specialized instruction in mathematics, English, social studies, science, foreign language, introductory vocational training, art, music, physical education, and the introduction of algebra to individual students of grade 8 who demonstrate their ability to succeed in a more advanced program.

Two other innovations for which he is responsible are the development of a 15-session course in library science and book reviewing techniques for all junior high school pupils, and the introduction of a junior high school reading laboratory program, which encourages individual reading at specified levels of achievement.

On the elementary school level, the new East Maine superintendent is responsible for innovations and studies which have received national attention. During the past three years, the Woodbury staff and he have developed a program which is referred to as Reading Emphasis classes. These classes have been specifically designed for the purpose of providing specialized instruction in reading and language skills for those youngsters who show signs of specific language disability.

In 1965 Mr. McGuigan was invited to appear on television in Atlantic City, N. J., at the American Association of School Administrators' convention, for the purpose of describing the development and results of this program.

Also in 1965, McGuigan served as chairman of the panel which delivered the progress report by the commission on mathematics sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics and the American Association of School Administrators. This panel, which he chaired, was charged with the responsibility of disseminating information related to existing case studies in implementing programs of modern mathematics. The major portion of the research was related to programs in the nation's elementary schools.

Thanks again, Carl R. Baczurik, Secretary

In-service training programs for professional staff members have been compiled with these new innovations and curriculum developments. "The teacher in the classroom is the key to the success of any educational program," said Mr. McGuigan. "Each of the improvements and innovations listed were carefully planned with members of the teaching staff before they were instituted."

McGuigan earned his Bachelor of Arts degree in history and American government from Adelphi University, L.I., New York, and a Master of Science degree in educational administration from Hofstra University, L.I., New York. He has completed two additional years of advanced graduate training at New York University, where he is matriculating for the degree of Doctor of Education. Mr. McGuigan is a member of Phi Delta Kappa and Kappa Delta Phi, national honorary education societies.

On the national scene, Mr. McGuigan has been extremely active. In 1963 he was selected as one of 42 men in the United States and Canada for participation in the Superintendent's Invitational Workshop at Columbia University. In 1965 he was one of two delegates from Connecticut invited to a Conference on Labor and Staff Relations in Education, held in Liberty, N. Y. He was also one of the delegates from Connecticut to the National School Boards Association's invitational conference "Challenges Facing Lay Control of Public Education."

McGuigan is also an active member of many national and state professional associations. The American Association of School Administrators has invited him to be a speaker at its conventions for the past six years.

Anne Luzwick In Peace Corps In Ethiopia

by Frieda Aron

"I have been on vacation... Friday evening we went to a reception given by the governor. Sunday we left by bus for Addis Ababa... Tuesday morning we flew from Addis to Asmara."

Peace Corps seemed to have been formed for Anne; she taught school for one year before going into training for the three month period, at the University of Utah, Salt Lake City, where she studied Amharic, the language of Ethiopia. She had asked to be sent to Asia, but when the fabled land of the Queen of Sheba was offered instead, Anne didn't hesitate.

The most vividly alive and fascinating legend of Ethiopia is that the Queen of Sheba had her capital in northeast Ethiopia. The Bible does say that she heard of the fame of King Solomon and went to him with gifts and hard questions (and was enamored enough of him to return bearing his seed, say the Ethiopians). The Queen of Sheba bore a son after her return from Solomon, named him Menelik and gave the throne to him. His Imperial Majesty Haile Selassie, Emperor of Ethiopia claims to be directly descended from the romance of Solomon and Sheba, and his subjects claim the same antecedents.

Ethiopia is the oldest of the independent nations of Tropical Africa and also one of the most backward. Ethiopia has 18 million people in an area four times the size of the state of Wyoming...about 409,266 square miles. The temperature of Ethiopia is warm since it is close to the equator, but it can be very cold and there are rains and rains and rains.

Anne has a class of about 200 children, lives in a village called La Kemptu in the province of Wallega. Her family found Wallega on the map but no sign of La Kemptu. She has one roommate and they share a small white stucco bungalow, eat and cook the food of the community. "A traditional Ethiopian meal is a very spicy dish called watta. There are many types of it and last Sunday we had some very good watta. You eat it with a gray or white sour dough-like bread called injera," writes Anne, leaving her family in the dark...What is watta?

Her costume usually consists of heavy boots, pants and jacket to travel the unpaved roads. She loves the life, the people, and the work. Never a complaint, only delight in her chance to be of service. There are about 10 Peace Corps Volunteers in the province and they try to have some sort of a social life en masse.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Luzwick speak with pride of all their children and indeed they can. A worker of international Harvester for 30 years, Mr. Luzwick has put three of his six children through college and there are two to go. Eugene, 22, is in Officers' Training at Ft. Benning, John is graduating I.I.T. in June, Mary Lou is working at A.B. Dick, Richard is in Maine H.S. and the youngest, Laura, is in first grade at St. John Brebeuf. That takes a great deal of dedication and courage and oldest child Anne Marie has inherited her father's determination and her mother's gentle charm.

then a bus from Asmara to Massawa—an Ethiopian port on the Red Sea. The Red Sea was beautiful...the sea is very warm and clear...when you swim you can see coral reefs and sea life, (I thought you and Dad would enjoy this). Then we came to Asmara for a conference. Asmara is a modern city...it was planned by the Italians and is very clean...we can get milk here in Asmara and it tastes wonderful. I never thought I would love milk so much."

This is an excerpt from a letter written from Ethiopia, by Anne, the 24 year old Peace Corps Volunteer daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Luzwick of 8220 Oketo, Niles. This girl, warm, friendly, and home loving, never very far from home before September, 1965, also writes, "Mom, people are the same all over the world, interested in their family and homes....."

Says Mrs. Luzwick, "I often wonder how she can stand it. She is such an immaculate girl. I never realized how many towels she had until she left home. There was so much bathing going on, the towels were always being used, now there is an extra large stack of them. Anne tells me she has to bathe in the rain water they catch in a container, but she doesn't complain.

When Anne was in Loyola University, from which she graduated not quite two years ago, she joined the riding club and the experience was so disheartening she vowed "never to get on a horse as long as I live". And now.....

"Saturday we rode horses... I am serious about buying a horse. They only cost $40, Ethiopian dollars, less than $20 American...when I buy a horse I shall ride out to a Catholic Mission (the closest one is a 7 mile trip, by horse, to and fro)...I pray at home and feel very close to God here."

Anne is a very religious girl, not interested in missionary work, said her mother, but always wanting to do something for someone. Her courage comes from her father, says Mrs. Luzwick and the unknown never stops Anne. "If they allowed women on the mtm, I'd like to be the first." Searching for something after graduation, the

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Scholarship

would like to take this opportunity to thank you for publishing an article about the Robert Morris Junior College Scholarship Test that was to be given at Maine South High School on Feb. 19.

I took this Secretarial Science Scholarship Test; and, as a result, was awarded a $500 scholarship. It was because of your article announcing the test that I became interested in Robert Morris.

I will attend Robert Morris starting in Oct., and I will be taking a course in Executive Secretarial. I will be graduating from Maine South High School on June 8. I was also awarded a $300 scholarship from the Maine South Business Club.

Thank you again for publishing such worthwhile information to the public.

Sincerely yours,
Diane Drengberg

Committeeman

letter to the Editor

It has been with mixed emotions that I have watched the political scene in Maine Township. Taking note of all the charges and counter-charges, I feel the voter may find himself confused and not recognize the issues of the campaign.

As a business man and President of the Chamber of Commerce, I regret the stories of violence and foul play that were published by a Des Plaines newspaper and delivered to each resident in our village with the annotation that they were instigated by the Mayor of Nile. I have never observed our Mayor using these tactics and hope whenever will. We, in Nile, are proud of our village government, officials, good name and excellent record of accomplishment. Of course, it is not known who was responsible for these acts of violence but it is not impossible for an opponent to accomplish these deeds in order to create sympathy for himself. This is an old but common political device.

As good citizens, I feel you will exercise your inalienable rights to vote on June 14, and when you cast your ballot, vote for the man of your choice but do not be deceived. Choose a candidate for his qualifications, past record of performance and integrity. Base your decision on the issues involved and do not be misled by the political smoke-screen.

Al Green
President, Nile
Chamber of Commerce

Public Works Warns Residents To Check On Sewer Contractors

Due to the heavy rains during the past two weeks, many Nile residents found that their house sewer lines were blocked and needed rodding by a sewer contractor.

The Nile Public Works Department would like to advise homeowners to check with their local village offices to find out if the sewer contractor who they plan to hire is licensed and bonded. The contract should be read thoroughly to see if the contractor is going to guarantee his work. Many residents pay the contractor and six weeks later the sewer is again backing up and the contractor will not return to make the repairs.

Residents should make sure that they are home when the contractor comes out to make the necessary repairs so they can watch the contractor remove the sludge from the blocked sewer line. If the contractor tells the resident that the sewer tiles are broken, the resident should look into the hole to see the broken tiles for himself.

It is a good practice to obtain price estimates from two or three contractors for the sewer repair work before the contract is signed.

Niles Band Parents

Niles Band Parents wish to congratulate the new officers of Band PTA. They are: Mr. Bill Gulnack, President; Mr. Don Lo Verde, Vice President; Mrs. Blanche Horvat, Co. Sec.; Mrs. Florence Mandell, Rec. Sec.; Mrs. Freda Burns, Tres.
