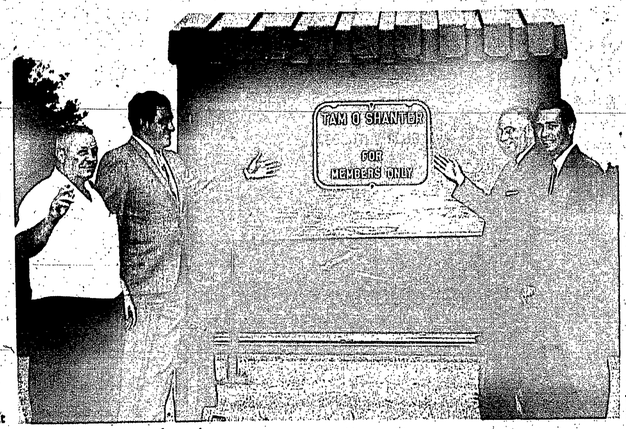
BLASE ERUPTS OVER ANNEXATION PLANS



Browbeats Scheel, Peck Over Queries

At the September 13 regular village board meeting Niles Mayor Nick Blase tried to whip independent trustees Peck and Scheel into line by giving them a verbal tongue-lashing when they questioned him about his efforts at annexing the East Maine unincorporated area.

Blase, whose recent successful campaign for Maine Township Democratic Committeeman was aided by his stand favoring this annexation lashed out at Scheel first. After Scheel reminded Blase annexation plans shoul be thoroughly studied by the entire village board Blase told him no action had been taken at recent meetings with neighboring Mayors. Blase said the trustees would be informed if and when such action took place. He then accused Scheel of making the annexation problem a "popularity contest". He reminded Scheel Niles cannot be an island, unto itself. After the heated discussion the meeting moved to the next subject on the agenda, and when Scheel raised his hand Blase sarcastically referred to Scheel as wing, Ding", a euphemism Blase resorts to when his temper begins to subside after reaching the boiling point. While at the boiling point he verbally "crawled" all over Keith Peck when Peck commented on the annexation. The very mild-mannered Peck was taken aback when Blase accused Peck of only being interested in his area (Kirk Lane) and reminded Peck how Kirk Lane received a park there because of the general efforts of village officials.

In other actions Blase broke a 3 to 3 tie by favoring 50 litter baskets be placed at village intersections at no charge by Panel Ads, Inc, the Public Works Department would maintain the baskets and the company would sell ad space on the containers, Marcheschi, Peck and Scheel objected to the plan.

....Voted unanimously to hire City Planning Associates of Mishawaka. The proposed 85 unit senior citizens home, which will be financed by the federal government, requires the hiring of a planning company.

Residents living near Notre Dame High School have been complaining about the football crowds which take over the area on Friday nights. One telephone caller said a fight took place on a lawn two houses from his last Friday and lawn sod has been taking a beating before and after the game. He bemoaned broken glass from beer bottles which he found in front of his home and said he intended acting as a one-man police force during the subsequent Friday nights.

Niles police department reminded us problems in the area are minor and ten special police are assigned to the area during high schol fotball games. It noted they had received complaints about the noise from the loudspeaker but emphaiszed problems at the school were minor.

Niles Park president Steve Chamerski told us Tuesday if the upcoming park referendums should be defeated it is not likely another referendum would take place for "at least a year". Chamerski, who has been in the forefront in carrying the banner for retaining TAM, said the park board has been holding 3 or 4 meetings a week during the past year, indicating the Park Board would be disinclined to think in turns of another referendum, if the October issues fail.

From our vantage point it has long been obvious the TAM part of the referendum has received the bulk of the interest of the Park Board, while the plans for the parks and pool have sort of been thrown in to entice the voters. And since golfers in Niles comprise about 10% of the entire population, the emphasis on the October issues is disproportionate. Niles, a community lacking in parks and public recreational facilities for children, should be giving much greater thought to this part of the referendum. The percentage of NILES children using the proposed park facilities certainly is of greater importance to the community than a golf facility for one-tenth of the community.

The Anderson owners of the property advertised their industrial park property in a recent Sunday metropolitan newspaper. One of their selling points to industry is the 9 hold golf course which is alongside the very desirable real estate, within walking distance of the future industrial plants. Whether or not Niles runs it the golf course will still be there. Thus, if Niles pays $175,000 for the developing the new course, neighboring industry will still be major users of TAM, along with all Nilesites. However, if Nilesites should vote it down it can be assumed Anderson forces will still develop the course, though its use by the public would be doubtful. Either way it will be a major attraction to drawing industry to this property. If Niles develops it they foot the cost of Maintenance, and designing the course, while industry and perhaps future motel residents will have the attrac-

Art Guild Members Observe Glass Blowing Techniques

Mr. Gilbert Armstrong of 1017 W. Peterson, Park Ridge, a member of the American Scientific Glass Blowing Society, endulged the Niles Art Guild members with the fascinating and dexterous art of Glass Blowing and miniature figurine making at their September general meeting.

A former Britisher, Armstrong learned his classic art in a British Government Training Center. Working in the coal mines as a youth, upon the outbreak of war, he joined the British overseas forces and served in Korea. Remaining in the services for a period of years he traveled widely in the middle east and far east.

Returning to civilian life, Armstrong mastered the intricate techniques of scientific glass blowing and miniature figurine making and soon became well known as an instructor and demonstrator in his native England.

Since taking permanent residence here, he has been employed in research development with the Zenith Corporation in Chicago.

Armstrong has demonstrated his skill here, in many clubs and organizations including the Chicago Public Library. In May of 1966 he appeared on the Jim Conway show. Currently he is the Instructor for the Glass Blowing course now offered at Maine Adult Evening school, Maine South every Thursday evening 7:30 to 9:30.

East Maine School District #63 News

A regular meeting of the East Maine School District No. 63 was held on September 13, 1966 in the East Maine Jr. High School. Following the call to order and the approval of minutes, the Superintendent of Schools, Hugh E. McGuigan, delivered the Superintendent's report. Before presenting the action items to the Board, Mr. McGuigan reported on the opening of school. He pointed out that this year the East Maine Public Schools opened its doors to 6,866 pupils, which is the largest enrollment in its history. He also commented that in the last six years, enrollment encreased more than 100 percent. On his report on the opening of school, the superintendent praised the work which was done by the principals and the teachers prior to the opening of school. He particularly praised the work of Mr. Frank Dagne, principal of Shelley Nathanson, for the readiness of the opening day of Shelley Nathanson.

An extremely important piece of action taken up at this board meeting, was the appointment of a planning committee of the Board of Education, charged by President Kopald, with the responsibility of developing a time table with the Superintendent of Schools for land-use survey, school enrollment projections, and plans for the construction of needed school housing. Mrs. Sylvia McNair was appointed as the chairman of this committee and the vice chairman is Mr. Arnold Kapp. The first meeting between Mrs. McNair, Mr. Kapp, and Mr. McGuigan is Thursday afternoon, September 15, 1966. President Kopald echoed the sentiments of the school board by stating that this is by far, one of the most pressing studies we have to undertake.

During the discussion section of the meeting, Mr. Allen Schwartz, a member of the board, and Mr. Kopald, discussed the meeting which was held on Saturday morning, September 10, with the mayors of the cities served by School District 63, regarding the question of the unincorporated areas. President Kopald stated that "while our major interest is providing the best educational facilities for our children in all areas, incorporated and unincorporated, we have also responded to the need of the people who expressed the interest in some kind of service in order to move this study along."

Ed Berkowsky Heads Niles Crusade Of Mercy

Saturday, October 15 has been picked as the 'march for mercy' day when Niles volunteers will visit local homes for contributions, according to chairman Edward Berkowsky.

Mr. Berkowsky, a Trustee of the Village of Niles, is directing the local Crusade of Mercy campaign for the second consecutive year.

"I would like the people to know," said Ed Berkowsky, "that even though we are a part of the Metropolitan Crusade of Mercy, all the money collected in Niles will remain in our area. This means that your generous contributions will be distributed to such groups as our local Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts troops. The Leaning Tower Y will also share in the money.

We are presently recruiting volunteers to call on their neighbors on October 15. As usual, we have received an excellent response to our call for marchers.

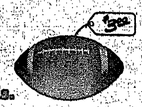
The rules are simple. Stop at any participating Marathon dealer's and pick up your signal and field cards. They're free. No purchase necessary. Match the numbers on your signal card with those on the field card. If they match, you score.
Then try your skill. Answer a couple of football questions on the back of the card, and mail it in. You don't have to be a football expert to win.
The more you play "Quarterback," the more chances you have to win. Play as often as you like. Get a new signal card every time you come in. Winners every week in every participating Marathon station (there are surprise consolation prizes, too).
Check with your Marathon dealer for details. Everybody's playing Quarterback. Play along. It's the game that could win you a "little extra cash." Like a thousand dollars.


Catch this.
Marathon's got a special offer. The handsome Rawlings all-leather football. This rugged football, official size and weight, is just $3.00 plus tax with a gasoline purchase. The Rawlings football was so popular last year that we sold them all. So, if you missed your chance to pick one up, we've got 'em again.
Remember, you don't have to purchase the football or anything else to play Quarterback!

There's A New Look At Classic Bowl

CLASSIC BOWL has completed its extensive remodeling program "We now have a color scheme, completely resurfaced lanes and a thorough going over of all the 38 A.M.F. automatics, and a change-over from oil heat to gas heat for cleaner air will give our Bowlers the finest in equipment and atmosphere, and enable us to maintain the number one position in the Bowling field in the Northwest Suburban Area," he said.

The new bowling season has just begun. The women who have seen the new look were full of praise for the new color motif.

"It is not an easy job," said Aronson. "We had to do all the work slowly because of the free bowling we gave to all the children in our community all summer long; and the children sure took advantage of the free bowling. Our lanes were filled all day long. We are now accepting entries into our famous Saturday Morning and Afternoon children's league which we call our Youth Bowling School. There will be three qualified instructors for the young people. In addition, we are preparing bowling classes for women to be given in the early afternoon. The times will be announced later."

Nilehi Schools Announce Early Dismissal On Friday

The Niles Township High Schools will dismiss students about 2 p.m. Friday, September 23.

The reason for the early dismissal, explained Merton Haynes, assistant superintendent, is the scheduled league football game each of the three high schools has for that afternoon at its home field.

Beginning at 3 p.m., Nilehi East will play Evanston High School, Nilehi West will meet Glenbrook North High School, and Nilehi North will play Deerfield High School.

Games were scheduled for 3 p.m. Friday, September 23, explained Nilehi's Athletic Director James Heiniger, because Saturday, the usual day for scheduled league games, is a religious holyday for many of the game participants.

Early dismissal will permit students to attend the game, said Haynes, but school buses will leave the three high schools about 2 p.m. for students not wishing to watch the game.

No late buses will be operated that day, commented Haynes, indicating students who remain late will have to have other transportation to get home.

Illinois Bell Lists Tips On Nuisance Phone Calls

Last January, the state's attorney's office contacted the security department of Illinois Bell Telephone Company for help in solving one of the most bizzare cases of illegal use of the telephone on record.

Over a period of several weeks, new mothers in at least eight Chicago area hospitals received calls from someone who falsely identified himself as a public health officer. He told them that they and their newborn babies were suffering from incurable cancer.

Detective Maurice McCarthy, with clues obtained from telephone company records, started searching for a young man who had previously been convicted of placing similar malicious and obscene calls.

The criminal was caught.

To telephone company people, policemen, psychologists, lawmakers and others whose job it is to cope with those who use the telephone to threaten, terrorize and generally make a nuisance, such invasions of privacy are a critically important matter.

Here in Skokie, telephone company nuisance calling specialists and local police work as a team to prosecute people who place malicious calls.

Said Jim Rex, local Illinois Bell manager, "Our aim is to prevent the telephone from being an instrument of terror or the agent of instrusive sales pitches. We want our customers to enjoy the telephone. That's why we are doing everything in our power to put a halt to this sort of thing.

"When a customer calls our office with a complaint about nuisance calling, we have him contacted by a specialist who will decide how the problem should be handled. You see, there are a number of things we can do.

In less serious cases, such as sales calls received at inconvenient times of day or night, we can provide a ringer cutoff. This arrangement simply makes it possible for the customer to turn off the telephone bell when he doesn't wish to be disturbed.

Another possibility would be to temporarily or permanently change the subscriber's telephone number. Routing all incoming calls through an intercept operator has also met with success. When a crank caller reaches an operator before his call is completed and realizes that his call is being traced, he is usually discouraged.

"A trace attempt is arranged by our security department working closely with the police. It is important to remember that, for legal reasons, any request for police aid must come from the injured party—the person receiving the calls. Our central office equipment can only tell us the number of the calling phone, so we can only speculate about who might have been using it. And we would know nothing about the nature of the calls he—or she—made.

"If, for example, a call is traced to a residence phone, we don't go out and interview the homeowner, nor do we stake out public phone booths. This is a job for the police.

Manager Rex stated that the customer himself can take some steps even before calling the telephone company or police. The majority of adults who make such calls use public phones. If the called party hangs up immediately upon receiving such a call, these people won't continue feeding dimes into a pay phone just to hear a "click."

What they thrive on is a panicky reaction. Psychologists say that people who find enjoyment in making malicious calls are usually emotionally stunted, highly insecure individuals with few, if any, warm or rewarding personal relationships. Not having to face the person they are calling gives them courage.

The telephone company offers 7 tips to customers who are bothered by nuisance calls:

1. Hang up promptly if a caller won't identify himself to your satisfaction, or if he makes any suggestive or lewd remarks.

2. Before divulging any information, be sure you know to whom you are talking. When in doubt, ask for the callers name and number and tell him you will call him back. Then verify the number in the phone book or with information.

3. When someone asks, "What number is this?", don't tell him. Instead, ask what number he is dialing and tell him whether he is right or wrong.

4. Instruct children and baby sitters not to give out information indiscriminately. Have them take the callers name and number.

5. If the caller remains silent after you have said "Hello" twice, hang up. Don't encourage a "breather"—a person who won't talk but just wants to listen to your frenzied reaction.

6. If a threat against your life or property is made, call the police immediately.

7. If your privacy is being invaded by unwanted phone calls—whether abusive, pushy sales pitches or repeated wrong numbers call your service representative. The telephone company will do everything possible to help you get rid of the annoyance and restore your privacy.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Thanks From Mr. & Mrs. Niles

Letter to the Editor

Just a few words of thanks from the bottom of our hearts. To the wonderful people who nominated us, the judges who saw fit to select us, and the organizations who allowed us to work for them. We would also like to express appreciation to the generous merchants of the Niles area who donated all the fine gifts awarded to us. They indeed are the unsung heros who make this type of award successful. A big thanks too to the Mr. and Mrs. Niles committee along with the Niles Days committee who make it all possible. I am indeed proud of Niles, its people, and its spirit of teamwork. In an award such as this the facts of this teamwork are pointed up even more because no one person can win such an honor alone. It takes teamwork the type that made our Niles the fine All America City it is.

I said I was proud, I only hope we have helped make you, the citizens, just a little more proud of yourselves and Niles for we share this award with you all and in fact, you the team, by supporting your village are winners too!

In closing I want you all to know these days have indeed been Golden Nugget Days for our families and ourselves. Thank you all again.

Sincerely

'A Good Samaritan'

Open Letter

"A Good Samaritan"

On Friday, September 9 toward dusk, my son was returning from the Niles Public Library on his bike. As he approached the corner of Oakton and Milwaukee the bike hit a rut and threw him to the ground, disengeging the front wheel of the bike. Fortunately he was unharmed.

At this point a "good samaritan" stopped to give aid and took my son and bike home.

We would like to take this means of communication to express our thanks and sincere gratitude to you since we did not get a chance to "thank you" personally.

Gratefully,
Mr. & Mrs. Angelo Troiani

Register For Adult Evening School

Looking for a new hobby for the coming winter? You can learn how to trace your family tree, paint on china or porcelain, or arrange flowers in the authentic Japanese style.

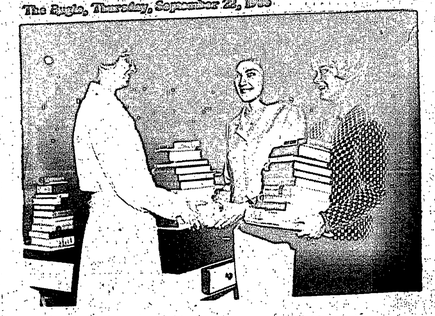
Or exercise those brain cells by studying solid state electronics, developing your ability for critical thinking and problem solving, or learning another language - Japanese, Russian, Swedish, Polish!

These are only a few of the new classes that the Maine Adult Evening School has added to its fall program of over 275 courses, beginning Sept. 29, Oct. 3, 4, and 5. There is still time to register.

Adult Evening School offices are open from 9:00 to 3:00 weekdays at Maine Township High School East, Dempster and Potter, Park Ridge; Maine West, 1755 Wolf Road, Des Plaines; and Maine South, 1111 South Dee Road, Park Ridge. The Maine East office will be open for registrations from 7:00 to 9:00, Thursday evening, Sept. 22.

What promises to be a record enrollment has already filled to capacity some classes. However, where openings in classes are still available, registrations may be made up to the opening night of class.

Information by phone is available at 825-3435, 296-3400, and 825-7500.



Student Nurses

The freshman class of 70 student nurses were given a three-day orientation of the hospital last week before beginning their training.

Miss English, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. English, is a 1966 graduate of Regina Dominican High School.

Miss Bellen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen C. Bellen, is a 1966 graduate of Notre Dame High School, Chicago.

Seaman Dan Chrusciel On Maneuvers

USS LEAHY (DLG- 16) (FHTNC) Sept. 13— Gunner's Mate-Seaman Daniel B. Chrusciel USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Chrusciel of 7639 N. O'Dell, Niles, Ill. is participating in the international operation "UNITAS VII" while serving aboard the USS Leahy.

For seven consecutive years, navies from Columbia, Ecuador, Peru, Chile, Uragusy, Brazil and Venezuela have combined with a United States Navy Task Force and conducted these anti-submarine warfare maneuvers to keep the nations involved with the newest techniques in ASW warfare.

Unitas, meaning "United" in Spanish, is an exercise that is fully understood by all the nations participating. Economic survival in the future may depend largely upon their ability to make free use of the sea. As they learned in World War II, submarines are the deadliest enemy of commercial shipping.

The exercise began in late August, when the U. S. and Columbia naval and air units held exercise in the Caribbean, and will continue as the U.S. Task Force will traverse the Panama Canal and circumnavigate South America.

Mayor Blase Asks Support For TAM & Park Facilities

It is seldom that a community the size of Niles is presented with an issue which is as important as the October 1st vote on the Tam O'Shanter property, new swimming pool with two new park sites and other park equipement.

The issue will be presented to the people on two different ballots, but both Tam O'Shanter and the other park facilities are equally important and require your consideration and support.

The separate issue regarding Tam O'Shanter sith $650,000, revenue bonds should not cause objection purely because of the amount of money involved. It is technically true that revenue bonds be paid for by revenue produced by the golf course, and cannot be paid for at any time from money out of your real estate taxes or any taxes for that matter. The Village of Niles has in fact been presented with a nine hole golf course, which with government support, should end up costing the people nothing.

The other two park sites involved and the new pool are absolutely necessary in order to provide proper recreation for our children throughout the community.

I do hope that you will consider all these park facilities in the general interest of the total community and that because a park site may not be necessarily close to you should be no reason for you to vote against it. After all, if every time we voted we did so strictly as to our own personal interest and not for the interest of the total community, villages such as Niles would be nonexistent.

We need your support and I hope we will get a tremendous positive vote on October 1st for little Tam and the other park facilities.

Niles Township Board Of Education Meet September 29

The Board of Education of the Niles Township High Schools will hold a special meeting Thursday, September 29, to discuss the subject of collective negotiations.

The meeting will be held in the Niles West High School, Edens and Oakton, Skokie, at 7:30 p.m.

Interested individuals and organizations will be notified of the meeting, reported Dr. Clyde Parker, superintendent of schools.

Position papers or statements will be welcomed, he said.

The school board last spring took under advisement a request from the teachers' union to authorize an election among the teachers to determine what organization they want as a sole collective bargaining agent.

The school board, which has heard presentations from teacher organizations on collective bargaining, is familiarizing itself with the nature and scope of negotiations by reading and discussions with its attorney.

Among the areas scheduled for discussion at the special meeting are the advantages, disadvantages, and definitions of collective bargaining; exclusive recognition or otherwise of personnel organizations; and the appropriate unit for collective negotiations.

St. Patrick Offers CRLI Program

Because of the increased stress on scholarship in high schools and colleges, a program for the average, or better than average student in developmental reading has become a necessity.

Therefore, St. Patrick academy has added to its curriculum a program developed by the Cooperative Reading Laboratory Inc., of Philadelphia, Pa.

Sister Mary Celine Hynes, R.S.M., member of the English department of the academy, has received extensive training in the CRLI method, and will conduct the course. The class will meet once a week for 18 weeks, for any student from the freshmen year thruout the senior year.

Some of the goals proposed by the class will be the ability not only to develop speed in reading, but the student will be taught the best way to skim, outline, summarize, analyze material and the best study techniques in preparation for test taking. This ability will be especially valuable on times tests such as the College Board Examinations and Civil Service tests.

Classes are open to after-school or evening membership for those interested. For further information contact St. Patrick academy, 827-2184.
