Middle States Plans Huge Expansion Program For '67

Middle States Telephone Co. officials announced today that $11,784,000 will be spent in service improvements and expansion programs during 1967. This figure, which is $4,250,000 higher than for 1966, is the largest amount ever spent in one year by the Company in the Park Ridge and Des Plaines area for capital improvements.

In October last year, the Company reported plans for a complete replacement of existing central office equipment in the Park Ridge and Des Plaines exchanges. The Company has now acquired properties adjacent to its exchange buildings in Des Plaines and Park Ridge. Construction of a new building, adjoining the Des Plaines exchange building, will begin immediately. Completion is expected before the end of 1967. Installation of a 20,000 line unit of the new type central office equipment, now being manufactured for the Company by Western Electric Company, is expected to begin as soon as the building is ready. This multimillion dollar equipment, identical to that in use by Illinois Bell in the Chicago area, will be in operation by early fall, 1968. This is approximately 18 months ahead of the possible schedule and was made possible only by a substantial reduction in the lead-time ordinarily required for manufacture of a unit of this size. The Company has requested a bid on a similar unit for installation in an addition to be built to its Park Ridge exchange building. The Park Ridge unit is expected to be in operation by 1969.

Mr. C. Eskrich, Park Ridge District Manager, pointed out that the year just passed re-

Praises Fire & Police Department

Dear Mr. Besser:
 I'm writing this "Thank You" letter on behalf of our 14 year old son Nick, who at the present time is nursing a deep cut in the palm of his hand.

This past Thursday, February 23, when our latest snow blizzard took place, our son, attempted to open our storm door to let his Aunt in whose car had stalled and was coming to our house for shelter. Unfortunately the wind caught the door and slammed it into him causing the severe wound. Since there was no way to stop the bleeding, a doctor was definitely a must.

Our driveway was impassable therefore leaving us no alternative but to call the Police Dept.

If ever anyone needed emergency service, you can rely on the greatest Police and Fire Department I've ever known. Before we could get my son's coat on, the Police were out front flashing their lights with the fire department ambulance.

TRUSTEES APPROVE SR. HOUSING ZONING

Rezone Area To B2 Special Service Use

By June Hart
 On Tuesday evening of Feb. 28, in the filled to capacity council chambers, the majority of the Niles citizens present applauded heartily at the decision of the Village Board to rezone the area, 9201 Maryland, and Milwaukee in Niles, to B 2 Special Service Use for Senior Citizen Housing.

The decision was reached after 2-1/2 hours of explanatory answers to questions posed, first by Board Trustees and followed by opponents to the project. In a surprisingly calm atmosphere, Executive Director of Cook County Housing Authority, Mr. Paul S. Freedman, patiently and in detailed manner answered most of the queries. Attending with him were Attorney, Richard Houpt and Architect, Arthur Salk, representing C.C.H.A.

Questioning Mr. Freedman, from the Board, Trustee Peck was concerned with the parking area on the proposed site. Mr. Freedman replied that provision had been made for 31 cars, and there was additional space

Supt. McGuigan Tells Cost Of District 63 Bond Issue

A resident of Dist. 63 owning a home with a market value of $30,000 would pay an additional $2.95 a month in taxes to finance the proposed $4,945,000 bond referendum and 12-1/2 cent increase (25 to 37-1/2 cents) in the building fund rate and 10¢ of the 2 1/4¢ increase ($1.60 to $1.81) in the educational fund rate, according to Supt. Hugh E. McGuigan.

The referendum being presented to voters Saturday, March 11th, will support a five-year construction program expected to solve the district's student population explosion problem for the present and foreseeable future.

Building plans include two elementary schools, a junior high school and major additions to two existing elementary schools (Washington and Nathanson) to be constructed during the next 5 years.

The total cost of the bond referendum and tax increases per $100 assessed valuation will be 29-1/2 cents, according to Supt. McGuigan. Cost per $100 assessed valuation for the bond and interest fund will be 7¢; the educational fund, 10¢; and the building fund, 12-1/2¢. The present levy for $100 assessed valuation is $2,228. The 29-1/2 cent increase would raise that figure to $2,523.

Although a 2 1/4 increase is being requested for the educational fund tax rate, the board of education has stated publicly that it will not levy more than 10 cents when it next establishes the tax rate.

The educational fund increase will provide the money necessary to buy supplies, equipment, teaching services, etc., for the increased and increasing number of students. The building fund increase will pay for maintenance of the new buildings and for the additional care required at some of the older buildings.

The Institute of Urban Life, hired by the board of education to do a 15 year study on population trends and land use in the area, recently reported that the district can expect the greatest increase in students yet to come in the next 4 or 5 years.

The report estimates an increase of 1,941 school children in the district by the school year 1970-71. The report shows some 7,565 children enrolled in elementary schools and the junior high school in Dist. 63 by 1967-68; 8,106 children by 1968-69; 8,500 children by 1969-1970; and 8,736 children by 1970-1971. With 6,795 children enrolled in the district this year, District 63 is already overcrowded by more than 500 children.

Short 21 classrooms this year, schools in the district are using basement rooms, school kitchens, mobile classrooms and special area rooms for classroom space. Two schools, the Wilson and Mark Twain schools, are using air vent closets as libraries.

"While we're interested in presenting the raw data concerning student enrollment increases and finance, we shouldn't lose sight of the basic issue," Supt. McGuigan pointed out. "We now have 6,795 children attending our schools. By 1970 we will have almost 9,000. These children have a right to a good education. Our proposal provides only the basic necessities of housing and instructional services and supplies for these children."

Asked what alternatives are being considered should the bond referendum and tax increases not pass on March 11, Supt. McGuigan replied that the board of education has no alternative other than to submit the same issues to the public again. "Our requests contain no frills and no extras," he said. "We are asking for funds to carry on a very basic classroom construction program and a reasonable, but good educational program for the children. If these issues do not pass it is entirely possible that we will have to consider split sessions as a way of accommodating our pupils."

Additional Tax For All Issues

| Market Value of Home Today | Per Year | Per-Month |
|----------------------------|----------|-----------|
| $15,000 | 17.70 | 1.48 |
| 20,000 | 23.60 | 1.97 |
| 25,000 | 29.50 | 2.46 |
| 30,000 | 35.40 | 2.95 |
| 35,000 | 41.30 | 3.44 |

This chart assumes 40 percent of the market value of a home to be the assessed valuation. As the total assessed valuation of the district increases, these amounts will be reduced. Bonds will be paid in 20 years.

Junior College Hearing Set For March 9

A public hearing regarding the establishment of a proposed North Shore Junior College will be held Thursday, March 9 at 8 p.m., New Trier West High School, 7 Happ Rd., Northfield (Just off Edens Expressway).

The North Shore Junior College Association will present the legal requirements, need for the college, and proof of support and enthusiasm of the communities involved. Questions will be answered and objections will be aired, according to John Speer of Morton Grove, who is the vice-chairman of the North Shore Junior College steering committee.

The proposed Junior College would encompass Lake Forest, Highland Park, Glenbrook, New Trier, Evanston, and Niles Township high school districts. After the hearing March 9, a referendum will be held for final establishment of a proposed junior college district, perhaps in early June.

The North Shore Junior College steering committee has already received approval from the Illinois Junior College Board, and from the State Board of Higher Education for establishment of a junior college in this area. The state will pay up to 75% of the cost of the physical plant, and operating expenses are expected to be obtained from tuitions, state aid, and local taxes. The steering committee estimates that a junior college would add about $15 yearly to a tax bill of $500.

A survey made of the feasibility of a junior college in this area substantiates the great need for such a college. All high school boards, superintendents, and present citizens groups in the area heartily approve of the establishment of such a college.

The purpose of the college would be to provide area students with quality education at a nominal cost with easy commuting distance. John Speer has stated that this college would provide the cheapest possible higher education for district students. It would provide college placement for students of the district, even with the crowding of present higher educational facilities. In the long run, having a Junior College in the district will be less expensive than paying tution costs to other Junior colleges for the North Shore students who now use them. (This stipulation is now required by law, and more and more tax dollars are spent yearly to pay these tuitions. The number of college students will double in ten years, so this figure, too, will rise substantially.)

The proposed Junior College hopes to become established so classes would begin September, 1970. A full curriculum, including technical training opportunities and adult education facilities is hoped for.

Interested citizens of the proposed junior college district are urged to attend the public hearing March 9 to become better informed about the new college referendum which may be presented, hopefully in June, to the voters.

Grennan Heights Troop 45 Campout

Scout week once again saw Troop 45 out camping on Saturday and Sunday, February 11 and 12, but this time right in the neighborhood; the boys had accommodations almost a la Hilton at Grennan Heights Field House, really a far cry from their usual outdoor accommodations.

Seldom do non-scouters get to see what these young boys do on campouts or get first hand views, during this campout, however, quite a few people did visit and talk with the boys and adult leaders.

The Fox Patrol had a winter camp set-up displaying everything needed in the way of shelters and equipment for camping in the woods, snow and cold, including their Klondike sled for carrying their equipment.

The Owl Patrol had a summer camp set-up with what they would need to go camping, also a very good display of trees, shrubs, edible and poison plants.

The Eagle Patrol had a canoe campsite showing everything that could be carried by canoe. They constructed a lean-to shelter from a piece of canvas, extra paddles, life jackets, seats and rope.

The boys also had a good chance to show visitors that scouts do cook and eat well as these examples indicate:

Saturday supper—Spaghetti and meat sauce, cole slaw,

French bread, coffee, milk, syrup drink and chocolate pudding.

Sunday lunch—Baked ham and pineapple slices, baked beans, bread, coffee, sweet and dill pickles, pear and peach halves and syrup drink.

Saturday night after supper and everything was cleaned and stowed away the boys had two movies on Skin and Scuba diving, then a three hour wrestling meet (some of the fathers and leaders even joined in this part of the program, although not too vigorously).

Boys attending campout were:

The state will pay up to 75% of the cost of the physical plant, and operating expenses are expected to be obtained from tuitions, state aid, and local taxes. The steering committee estimates that a junior college would add about $15 yearly to a tax bill of $500.

A survey made of the feasibility of a junior college in this area substantiates the great need for such a college. All high school boards, superintendents, and present citizens groups in the area heartily approve of the establishment of such a college.

The purpose of the college would be to provide area students with quality education at a nominal cost within easy commuting distance. John Speer has stated that this college would provide the cheapest possible higher education for district students. It would provide college placement for students of the district, even with the crowding of present higher educational facilities. In the long run, having a Junior College in the district will be less expensive than paying tution costs to other Junior colleges for the North Shore students who now use them. (This stipulation is now required by law, and more and more tax dollars are spent yearly to pay these tuitions. The number of college students will double in ten years, so this figure, too, will rise substantially.)

The proposed Junior College hopes to become established so classes would begin September, 1970. A full curriculum, including technical training opportunities and adult education facilities is hoped for.

Interested citizens of the proposed junior college district are urged to attend the public hearing March 9 to become better informed about the new college referendum which may be presented, hopefully in June, to the voters.

Grennan Heights Troop 45 Campout

Scout week once again saw Troop 45 out camping on Saturday and Sunday, February 11 and 12, but this time right in the neighborhood; the boys had accommodations almost a la Hilton at Grennan Heights Field House, really a far cry from their usual outdoor accommodations.

Seldom do non-scouters get to see what these young boys do on campouts or get first hand views, during this campout, however, quite a few people did visit and talk with the boys and adult leaders.

The Fox Patrol had a winter camp set-up displaying everything needed in the way of shelters and equipment for camping in the woods, snow and cold, including their Klondike sled for carrying their equipment.

The Owl Patrol had a summer camp set-up with what they would need to go camping, also a very good display of trees, shrubs, edible and poison plants.

The Eagle Patrol had a canoe campsite showing everything that could be carried by canoe. They constructed a lean-to shelter from a piece of canvas, extra paddles, life jackets, seats and rope.

The boys also had a good chance to show visitors that scouts do cook and eat well as these examples indicate:

Saturday supper—Spaghetti and meat sauce, cole slaw,

French bread, coffee, milk, syrup drink and chocolate pudding.

Sunday lunch—Baked ham and pineapple slices, baked beans, bread, coffee, sweet and dill pickles, pear and peach halves and syrup drink.

Saturday night after supper and everything was cleaned and stowed away the boys had two movies on Skin and Scuba diving, then a three hour wrestling meet (some of the fathers and leaders even joined in this part of the program, although not too vigorously).

Boys attending campout were:

NFD Warns Of New Blanket As Fire Hazard

A new potential fire hazard has cropped up in Niles, it was learned recently by the Niles Fire Department.

The new life hazard is a loosely woven thermal-type blanket, which can be ignited within seconds by even a cigarette. The blanket is composed of several different materials, the most common of which is usually rayon, cotton, and acrylic. It is manufactured under several different trade names, but in all cases, the blanket can be identified because of its loose type weave and light weight.

According to Niles Fire Chief Albert L. Hoelbl, the blanket was discovered in one Niles store, and after a test at headquarters, where one-fourth of the blanket was completely involved in fire within seconds, the store voluntarily removed the merchandise from its shelves.

Chief Hoelbl said that anyone who has such a blanket may bring it to either of Niles' two fire stations for disposal.

The discovery of this new hazard was reminiscent of last Xmas' imported doll scare.

49 Maine East Students Score In Art Competition

The Maine East High School Art Department scored heavily in the highly competitive Evanston Regional of the National Scholastics Art Competition. Forty-nine students scored in the winner's column to bring home a total of 115 awards, including one portfolio, 11 blue ribbons, 36 gold keys, and 67 place awards. Both the freshman group and the upperclassman group placed in every category to record an exceptionally well-balanced showing.

The portfolio, submitted by Deborah Farber, Morton Grove, was the only winner in that division and, as such, will be the only portfolio from the Evanston Regional to go on to national competition.

The winning works are currently on exhibition in the 400

Room of Wieboldt's in Evanston through February 25. After the exhibit closes, the blue ribboned pieces and the portfolio go on to New York, where they will be placed in national competition.

Stanley E. Whitley, chairman of the Maine East Art Department, said that he was "tremendously gratified at this showing—the best in the three years I have been at Maine East. Every teacher, every area of our program produced winners. Our students scored in every category on both levels of competition. This was an ideal representation, and I just couldn't be happier."

In achieving this unprecedented 115 awards record, from a total of 500 awards given, the Maine East students had to compete against students from 35 North Shore schools.

Following is a list of Niles and Morton Grove winners, some of which received key awards, place awards, and a blue ribbon:

Nilehi Board OK's Hiring Lay Library Aides

Employment of lay library aides in the Niles Township high schools was approved Monday night by the Board of Education during its adjourned meeting from February 6.

Use of the one library assistant in each of the three high schools is to be experimental during the current semester, with the program to be evaluated at the end of the school year.

The plan to have library aides in the schools was first recommended to the School Board at its January 9 meeting, but the matter was remanded to the administration for further description of the job and personnel qualifications. Under the direction of the chief librarian, the aides will supervise students who are using the school libraries and will also direct the work of student monitors assigned to the libraries.

A student trip to New York City during the spring vacation was also approved by the School Board. About 40 students are expected to make the trip to the East coast where they will visit museums, the Hudson River Valley, the United Nations, and other places of cultural and historical interest. Spearheaded by James Friedman of the Niles West Social Studies staff, the tour is to include observation of the problems of the big city for which the students will be prepared before the trip.

After a brief discussion about the proposed North Shore Junior College, the Board of Education approved a resolution of support for the North Shore Junior College project. The resolution will be presented during the public hearing for the proposed Junior College on Thursday, March 9, at New Trier West.

The Junior College district under consideration is to include the high school districts of Niles Township, Evanston, New Trier, Highland Park, Glenbrook, and Lake Forest.

In other matters, the Board of Education set 12 noon to 9 p.m. as the polling hours for the School Board election Saturday, April 8; asked that discussion of plans for the appointment of a Citizens Committee be placed on the agenda for the March 13 meeting; tabled a review of the insurance program covering health, accident, and life to the April 24 meeting; approved the resolution to issue teacher orders beginning with the February 28 payday and to be continued until the first installment of local taxes is received in the spring by the school district; and approved the appointment of the administrators for the 1967-68 school year.

Faces Political - Feminine view of the candidates, featuring Mr. Jack Leske, incumbent, seeking re-election to the office of Niles Park Board commissioner. "The Park District is a service organization," said Jack Leske, "like the Fire Department, Police Department, and Public Works. I hope that the Park will eventually reach their stature in the Village in terms of service to the people." We were chatting with Park Commissioner Leske and reviewing his six years with the Board, during which, he served as their president in 1964-65.

Prior to and during his years of office he worked prodigiously in the area of baseball teams, needs, and personnel. "An interesting feature," he noted, "was the establishment of a visual program of the Bears games, which are enjoyed at the Recreation Center by father and son and indeed whole families."

"How do you propose to improve the Park image?"

Mr. Leske thought for a while and then delivered six pointers:

"First of all we have not reached maturity in terms of other surrounding area Parks. We are younger than they are, and parcels of land for parks grow harder and more expensive to obtain. Some of our neighboring parks were blessed with gifted parcels of land. We too have some, however, as a community grows so must its parks." We are younger than they are, and parcels of land for parks grow harder and more expensive to obtain. Some of our neighboring parks were blessed with gifted parcels of land. We too have some, however, as a community grows so must its parks."

2. "I advocate and stress good public relations, and good publicity for our programs."

3. The Park Commissioners should and must stick to policy making and leave the recreational functioning in the hands of a capable director and staff.

4. I would like to see the Center rooms filled with classes, recreational and constructive for citizens of all ages.

5. In a long term comprehensive program I would hope to see more recreation centers in park areas, beginning with the North end of Niles.

6. I am against nepotism in regard to filling jobs at the Center, unless of course such a person is qualified specially for the position.

While a Commissioner, Mr. Leske had worked on the 1962 annexation of the Golf M. II Shopping Center into the Park District, resulting in an annual revenue of $10,000. Currently he is working on the annexation of a tract of land, mostly industrialized, on the eastern borders of Niles, which is annexed to the Skokie Park District. Six out of the eight property owners agree to the annexation. The remaining two have property stretching in both communities.

The estimated revenue would be $20,000 annually, and as to cost to the Park. For the first few years some of this would go to the Skokie Park in general obligation bonds.

In regard to the Tam issue, Leske observed, "I believe that future generations will commend the foresight of the Park Board in their resolve to retain the shank portion of the Tam, we could not afford it all. I wanted a separate ballot for it, at the time two issues were defeated."

Jack Leske, his wife Barbara and their three children, Deborah 15, Donald 13, Leslie 10, reside at 8639 Oleander. Raised and educated in Chicago, Jack is a graduate of I.I.T. and holds a degree in chemistry. Employed with the A.B. Dick Co. for the past 16 years, he is presently Section Manager - Research Superintendent. Mrs. Leske shares Jack's enthusiasm for his work in the community, and endorses his concluding statement, "The Park District is still growing and I would like to serve it as we gradually fulfill our growth pattern."

Sincere Expressions Of Sympathy are extended to Nilesite Mrs. Frances Nelson, widow of George E. Nelson who died suddenly on Friday, February 24th. Retired, he was a former manager in the employ of Dunn and Bradstreet, having been with the firm for 43 years. Frances is a member of the Grandmothers' Club of Niles. A daughter Marilyn, Mrs. Leeland Philippsen, and their 6 children reside on Elmore St. and to Mrs. Norma Swanson, wife of Carl, 8020 N. Odell upon the recent loss of her father, Martin Keller, of Morton Grove.

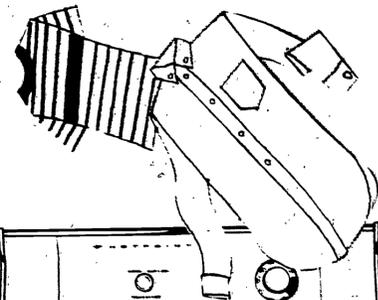

Music Notes "The Emeralds" a teen group who devotes their talents to music for dancing, old style, new style and the latin beat, have recently regrouped. The members are Pat Tuzzo, 16, a sophomore Maine East High School is on the drums. The son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Tuzzo, 7464 Seward, Pat also plays the organ. He and his twin brother Tony (who plays the guitar) are students at the Wilkins School of Music. The swinging, singing, guitar player is Nick Bavaro aged 14, freshman at Maine East High School. The son of Youth Commissioner Todd and Mrs. Bavaro, Nick is a student at the Wilkins School of Music, and was a first place winner at the Springfield Music Festival. Other members include award winning accordion player Karl Schwartz 18, a Niles North senior of Glenview and a young celebrity trumpeter, Eddie Carroll, from Oak Park. Eddie 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Carroll, has held the first chair in the trumpet section of the University of Illinois Symphony Orchestra for two consecutive years. The group known as "The Emeralds" has already played at many local weddings and organization dances.

League Of Women Voters Welcomes New Members

"Getting to know about the League of Women Voters, its many problems and activities takes time," confided Mrs. Joe Barlett, president of the Morton Grove League. To facilitate the adjustment of new members and refresh the memories of members of long standing, New Member Orientation Units have been scheduled to meet monthly prior to unit meetings, February through May.

Feeling very enthusiastic about their warm welcome and excellent preparation at the February meeting were new Leaguers, Sona Gerol, Niles, Louise Coorlas and Shelly Meshulam, both of Morton Grove. They were given a brief resume of the facts about the League of Women Voters, its purpose and its goals. It is a nonpartisan organization open to all women citizens of voting age who believe in representative government. The purpose of LWV is to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation on all levels of government. The facts of the issues are studied, all sides presented, and positions are reached through consensus after discussion. Action is taken through letters and conversations with public officials, publication distribution, public forums, testifying at public hearings and the use of mass media.

As background for the Village Manager discussion units in February, local governing bodies of Morton Grove and Niles were reviewed. The Village Manager studies will enable Leaguers to understand the personnel management of our villages, how goods and supplies are purchased and village finances administered, as well as who has responsibility and/or authority to perform these functions.

We look forward to seeing all the local women interested in better government and how to participate in it at our next New Member Orientation Unit on Voter's Service to be held at the home of Membership Chairman, Mrs. John Adams, 5830 Maine St., Morton Grove, March 16, 1967, at 9:30 A.M. Any questions pertaining to the meeting will be cheerfully answered, call YO 6-7139.

Physical Education At Niles Elementary Schools

Our nation's great requirement of "a sound mind in a sound body" is being fulfilled at the Niles Elementary Schools. The Board of Education, school administration, physical education, and health and safety staff have developed an excellent and very broad physical education program.

At the present time, extensive plans are being researched and studied to further develop and equip outdoor physical education areas, to develop after-school intramural programs, and to improve remedial physical education.

The goals of the program are to develop physical and mental fitness, and good health and safety habits, along with social and emotional development for each individual student. The program is continuous from kindergarten through the eighth grade and is coordinated with the high school physical education and athletic programs. The physical education program is designed according to the progressive development of each individual boy and girl.

Activities at the primary and intermediate levels emphasize: rhythm, dance, balance, coordination, relays, basic manipulative skills developed in gymnastics, games, and sports activities.

Recent Dist. 63 Census To Aid School Planning

"You have helped us gather a set of facts on dwelling units and pre-school and parochial children within District No. 63 which the district has never before had available," Superintendent Hugh E. McGuigan told census takers, coordinators and PTA leaders attending a meeting Wednesday, February 8, at Ballard School.

The information, which will be kept up-to-date, will be of great aid to future school planning, he said.

Several hundred parents who helped in a census survey supervised by the Institute of Urban Life were invited to be among the first to hear the results of their labor in the form of a five-year report on student enrollment increases. The report is the first portion of a 15-year study being prepared by the Institute. Ken Berliant, senior analyst for the Institute, thanked the workers and related some conclusions of the report. Building of residential dwellings can be expected to continue in District No. 63 for about 10 years before the saturation point will be reached, he said, with most building activity and the greatest increase in students in the district taking place within the next five years.

Superintendent McGuigan, in commenting on the report, said it brings up one vital question for the present: Will quality education continue in District No. 63 in face of the expected increase in students? The district is already short 21 classrooms this year. The answer depends on the outcome of the March 11 bond referendum, he added.

YES Group Launches Info Drive To Support Mar. 11 Bond Votes

An intensive effort to inform all citizens of Maine Township regarding the proposed District No. 207 $15 million dollar bond referendum to be presented to the voters, Saturday, Mar. 11, is being made by the voters for Youth Education Schools committee.

Under the leadership of John Means of Des Plaines, school board representative, Andrew Jackson, general chairman of the "YES" group, and area chairmen met Saturday, Feb. 18, with members of the high school administration staff to coordinate committee participation with religious, civic, and school groups requesting speakers to discuss facts relating to the bond referendum.

Dr. Richard Short, superintendent of District No. 207, keynoted the meeting by stating that he had been assured of community support when he became superintendent of schools in July, 1966, and he has been most pleased with the public response. "The total bond referendum was proposed for Mar. 11 as a result of a citizens' group urging such action by the school board. The interest taken by the citizens and the efforts put forth by the "YES" committee has proved that the community is responsive to the needs of its own young people."

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Makela, Maine East chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Goll, Maine South chairmen; and Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Laska, Jr., Maine West

chairmen, emphasized that volunteers are urgently needed. The high school district is a large area to cover, but every effort will be made to account for the 135,000 residents of the needs in the high schools.

The "YES" committee offers to provide any organization in the community with a speaker on the bond referendum. Members of the Des Plaines Toastmasters' club have offered their services. School board members, principals of the three high schools—John Clouser, Maine East, Dr. Clyde Watson, Maine South, and Herrman Rider, Maine West—as well as, Dr. Short, superintendent, and Ralph Frost, assistant superintendent, have made their time available for this purpose.

Any resident who wishes to help as a caller to remind people to vote or needs further information on any phase of the bond referendum is asked to call his area chairmen or one of the area chairmen who are:

General chairman—Andrew Jackson, 835 Northwester Pl., Des Plaines, Tele.: 824-3414. Maine East chairmen—Mr. and Mrs. Roy Makela, 8051 Octavia ave., Niles, Tele.: 967-6551. Maine South chairmen—Mr. and Mrs. Donald Goll, verment to the people. The overwhelming enthusiasm displayed by the residents of Niles indicates that many Nilesites are disgusted with the existing one man rule and puppet government which has persistently sold out the people to the interests of big industrial developers and to the personal interests of some members of The Village Board.

115 Columbia ave., Park Ridge, Tele.: 823-4958. Maine West chairmen—Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Laska, Jr., 1694 Van Buren st., Des Plaines, Tele.: 824-6252.

BJBE Sabbath Services

Joseph Quinn was advanced to the rank of Tenderfoot, and Bob Grady was advanced to the rank of second class scout.

On Feb. 11, this writer Bob Bianchi) along with Scoutmaster Feld, Ass't Bob Wolski, and George Quinn and of course the boy scouts all went on a 2 mile Klondike hike. The woods were so full of snow that we could barely see the trees. We hiked, we puffed, and we pulled three sleds throughout the Miami Forest Preserve Woods in Niles. Along the frozen way, we had three tests, signalling, tracking, and first aid. At the end of the hike, several boys built their first fire and passed their cooking test. The only time the snow was not over our snow boots was when we finished our hike and returned home in our cars. The Apache, Eagle, and Hawk Patrols and their respective members each deserve a special medal and ribbon for their efforts on that day.

Book Muse

by Mr. "M"

One of the good things about reviewing young peoples' books is that young people aren't fooled by best seller lists and that they do not go into hasty demand for them.

I promised myself over a year ago that some day I would review a personal choice of mine - which I would recommend to all ages because No. 1, it will now remain a tribute to now departed poet favorite of mine and No. 2, I hope the young and the young in heart will receive it as I did a gift of a treasure that I hope will become a classic.

In 1965, Randall Jarrell, wrote a masterpiece called "The Animal Family". Maurice Sendak helped him by creating excellent decorations to preface each section and to reinforce the special mood of the story. Though they are realistic and sharply focused drawings of a rustic setting, they will convey the mystical quality of the book.

"The Animal Family" is a fantastic story of amazing beauty, great longing, and warm humor. It has elements that make it similar to some other books ("Robinson Crusoe", for instance) but truly it is in a class apart. It requires the imaginative genius and poetic artistry of a man of the late poet Jarrell's stature to create such a strangely wonderful piece.

It is the story of the hunter. He and his parents were wrecked on an uninhabited coast. Eventually they grew old, and then the hunter was alone. His is an aloneness that will cause the reader to share his aching.

"In the spring", read the words, "the meadow that ran down from the cliff to the beach was all foam-white and sea-blue with flowers; the hunter looked at it and it was beautiful. But when he came home there was no one to tell what he had seen-and if he picked the flowers and brought them home in his hands, there was no one to give them to. And when at evening, past the dark blue shape of a far-off island, the sun sank under the edge of the sea like a red world vanishing, the hunter saw it all, but there was no one to tell what he had seen." That's what the lonely projection of words in the book say.

Finally, the hunter does find companionship. He is blessed with the patience and fortune to encounter one of the most elusive of creatures—a mermaid. Slowly, ever so slowly, she learns his ways and manages to spend more and more time on the land with the strange man creature. Still, though things are better, the man is incomplete and there is a void that must be filled. The home demands a child and since there is no woman, this seems impossible. But the hunter brings home a bear cub and somehow this odd assortment assumes the attributes of a human family. Soon there is another addition in the person of the lithe and beautiful lynx. And much later still, bear and lynx bring home a new-chipped baby boy. And so the impossible happens, and we know that man's unimaginably intense longing for family life will continue the cycle - a strange but beautiful cycle, nonetheless.

If you're a child over ten, read it; if you're an adult living in a world of mod and existentialism and barnyard politics savor it for taste of a never, ever world and if you're a teacher please recommend it.

Violinist Jenny Lind Soloist For Mar. 5 Northwest Concert

Jenny Lind will perform the Symphonie Espagnole by Edouard Lalo at the third concert of the 1966-67 season of the Northwest Symphony orchestra Mar. 5 at 8:30 p.m. at Maine Township High School South, Park Ridge.

This is the first season the Northwest Symphony orchestra is presenting concerts in the new auditorium at Maine South.

Jenny, a senior at Oak Park and River Forest High School, is the daughter of the Paul B.

Linds of Oak Park. For the past nine years she has studied with Edgar Muenzer of the Chicago Symphony orchestra. Miss Lind won the Society of American Musicians' Senior Violin contest and the Society of American Musicians' Young Artist competition. In addition she has won the Tuley and Farwell awards and will appear in her debut recital at DePaul university this spring.

Miss Lind has also made solo appearances with the Civic Orchestra of Chicago, with several Chicago area community orchestras and with her own high school orchestra of which she is concertmistress. She toured Europe with the Oak Park and River Forest High School orchestra as concertmistress and soloist. While she was on this tour, Helmut Gunter Lehmann, a young German composer who heard Miss Lind perform, wrote a violin concerto especially for her.

At the Mar. 5 concert, in addition to the violin composition, Perry Crafton, musical director of the orchestra, will present performances of Chabrier's "Española Rhapsody", Vivaldi's "Concerto Grosso in D Minor for String Orchestra" and Dvorak's "Symphony #7 in D Minor."

Individual and student tickets may be purchased at the box office or by contacting Mrs. A. G. Deak, 2356 Ballard rd., Des Plaines. Children under 12 will be admitted free.

Senior Citizens Zoning

Trustee Berkowsky inquired about the senior citizen reaction to the proposed project, and Mr. Freedman replied simply, "They love it." Trustee Peck informed the Board at this juncture that he had visited such a project and was most impressed with it. "The people there are happy not only with the units but the friendship and recreational facilities. The one I saw was terrific."

Mr. Louis Nowicki, Golf View H.O.A. stated, "I am not against it, I think it is wonderful, but, what about we residents in the area? We have no side-walks, our kids have no parks. Where are the senior citizens going to walk? And what about other locations?" Mr. Freedman, "We examined other parcels of land, but on the basis of the required criteria, near shops, medical building, and all manner of entertainment this is the best area. We have provided sidewalks for the entire length of the property." The statement was endorsed by architect Salk, Mayor Blase assured Nowicki that sidewalks would be put in their area, but that they would have to pay for them.

Mr. Honold, Harts Road, questioned the Open Occupancy Housing Act, which, he claimed would limit occupancy to Niles people. Mayor Blase, "Lets get down to basics. We have one Negro family in our Village. He and his family have the same rights as other Village citizens."

Another citizen claimed that older people became senile, "and what about that in housing project?" Mr. Freedman, "Such a situation had not arisen, I'm getting on in years, but I don't believe I'm senile, (much laughter) This is not a nursing home. If people take ill a family will care for their parents and in terms of low income families there is Welfare Agency care." In answer to a query regarding why the project had to be highrise, Freedman said that this had proven the happiest situation in terms of recreation and friendship for residents. Residents living on one floor, checked each other, easier than in a long stretched out building. Such a building would require ten acres as opposed to two acres.

Highlighting the evening was the touching few words of hope, encouragement and praise, expressed by Mr. Joseph Kozak, 6931 Jonquil, "I've lived here all my life. I'm proud of my All-America City. I'm proud of this administration. They are doing a wonderful job. The young folks of this community should be pleased with this program. It is helping them."

Nort Goodman, Chesterfield H.O.A. spokesman, urged that the rezoning be passed. "We, and I speak for over 600 people in my area see a great need for this project. It will be an asset to the community. "Ghetos" that really get me. We care, we want our senior citizens to be happy and remain part of their community, not pushed away in some corner. We want it and we need it."

Mrs. Lou Mueller, Keeney, "I have a mother-in-law in a senior citizen housing project and she loves it. I believe in Niles, so let's do right by our senior citizens."

Ang Marcheschi is completing his first term as Trustee. His election in 1963 was the collaboration of many years of activity in civic affairs. He has since continued to be involved in these activities.

Ang has a reputation as a go-getter which has earned many times. He joined the Niles Lions Club and rose to be president. He is now a District Governor of the Lions International. When the Leaning Tower YMCA was in its earliest planning stages, Ang became the residential fund raising chairman. He received the "First Citizen" Award and the "Service to Youth" Award for his efforts.

Ang's face broke into a smile when he recalled these awards. "This gave me quite a bit of satisfaction because I enjoy working with young people. Also, many years ago I took several valuable business courses at the Central "Y" which were very helpful to me. Helping the Leaning Tower "Y" to become a reality was my way of saying thanks."

Somehow, he also found time to be the first president of the Niles Safety Council, co-chairman of the 1963 Niles Days and a Director of the Niles Chamber of Commerce.

It is no surprise that Ang Marcheschi was voted Mr. Niles in 1964.

Of himself, Marcheschi says, "Being a Trustee has given me an opportunity to serve our people more directly and more completely. I feel that it is the responsibility of every citizen to be active in building his community."

Ang moved to Niles with his wife, Val, and son Tom in 1952. He and Val married 10 years earlier just before Ang joined the Air Force. During World War II he was stationed in the European Theatre of operations.

I believe I have been more than reasonable in waiting for you to come up with your planned program.

Very truly yours, Nicholas B. Blase

Marcheschi—An Active Candidate

(Press Release)

A friendly smile, an enthusiastic attitude and a desire to serve—these are three outstanding traits of Village Trustee, Angelo Marcheschi, who is running for reelection on April 18.

Marcheschi is running with Ed Berkowsky and Richard Harzak under the banner of the Active Citizens Ticket.

The name "active citizen" could easily be a capsule comment for Marcheschi, or "Ang" as he is known to his many friends.

Ang Marcheschi is completing his first term as Trustee. His election in 1963 was the collaboration of many years of activity in civic affairs. He has since continued to be involved in these activities.

Ang has a reputation as a go-getter which has earned many times. He joined the Niles Lions Club and rose to be president. He is now a District Governor of the Lions International. Phone Service

OPEN LETTER

Dear Mr. McGrew:

I have had a number of telephone conversations with your general counsel Mr. Melvin Hardies and have been waiting patiently for your company to make some type of announcement regarding a positive program in the improvement of your service for the future. You promised this in the latter part of 1966.

Unfortunately, Mr. Hardies indicates you might be bogged down with negotiations regarding property which prevent your making any general announcements.

My responsibility as Mayor, to the people of the general community is such where I feel we have gone past the point wherein you indicated you would come up with some positive program. I have advised Mr. Hardies that unless there is some specific information regarding intended improvements coming within the next thirty days, the Village of Niles will have to proceed with formal hearings before the I.C.C.

I believe I have been more than reasonable in waiting for you to come up with your planned program.

Very truly yours, Nicholas B. Blase

On Dist. 207 Bond Referendum

Dear Editor:

This is an appeal for a "no" vote on District 207's $15 million take-it-or-leave-it building-bond package March 11.

The reasons are many, but here are a few:

1. By presenting the matter of additions at Maine East, West and South and the construction of Maine North in one package the board is denying the taxpayers the opportunity to express themselves on the separate issues. Don't they trust us to make an intelligent choice on each of these issues separately?

2. What happened to the board's own timetable for submission of the Maine North issue about a year from now, since by their own account site preparation

Sincerely, Daniel T. Sullivan

Jr. Miss Pageant

Dear Mr. Green:

I finally found a little time to write you about the beautiful Junior Miss America Pageant held in our All American City.

and need for classroom space are such that this part of the bond issue doesn't bear a "rush" tag?

3. Behind the statistics on increased student capacity at each school is a mighty big camel being crowded under the West tent. The board's "fact sheet" says space for 900 more students at South will cost $1,500 per student; for 1,400 at East $2,035 each and at West for 700 students, $2,642 each. Part of this much greater cost, no doubt, will go to build a vast spectator gym to provide three physical education class areas. This is the same construction that voters had turned down in the past.

4. Nowhere in the glowing prospectuses is there any mention of an administrative center for the school district. Is this because there is none planned? Or is it because this is another camel? If one is planned just to free a few more classrooms at East, is it a more economical solution than building a few more classrooms?

5. The published explanations of how the amount of a Maine North bond issue was determined seem to go this way: Take what we paid for Maine South and add a percentage for increased costs and wind up with $8 million. This assumes that we want to build another educational balance. I submit that many voting taxpayers would rather see economy, not luxury, the theme of any building project undertaken. Why should we go to Texas to hire another architect and try to win another design prize?

6. Since Parkinson's law applies to school building projects (any undertaking will cost all the money available), why do we tempt our board and architects (who work on a percentage) with $8 million. Why not start them out with an economy figure instead of a luxury one?

7. This point is a quarrel with the District 64 elementary school board, which took official action urging approval of the bond issue. This, I submit, is going beyond their statutory authority and I defy any member of that board or anyone else to show where the School Code makes endorsing the bond issues of high school districts one of the duties of an elementary school board.

One might ask, what then do I recommend? The answer: (1) Vote "no" on this take-it-or-leave-it $15 million issue. (2) Let the board resubmit as soon as legally possible a bond issue for expansion of classroom space in the existing high schools, with all the trills and unnecessary building eliminated. (3) Let the board stick to its original schedule for submission late this year or next of a Maine North construction bond issue, with the plans scaled down to an economy building, not a palace.

Sincerely, Daniel T. Sullivan

Leaning Tower Chess Club Meets

A meeting for organizing a Chess Club at the new Leaning Tower YMCA will be held on Wednesday, March 8, at 8:00 P.M. in Oakwood Suite #1. This is open to all chess enthusiasts who are interested in social and competitive play. The meeting will cover the areas of club requirements, tournaments, special events and instruction. Club sessions are scheduled for Sundays from 1:00 to 6:00 in the Ambassador Room. It will be open to men and women, as well as interested youth.

The Leaning tower YMCA is located at 6300 Touhy Avenue in Niles. Additional information for those unable to attend the meeting can be obtained by calling Donald F. Hardesty, Program Director, at 647-8222.

This competitive project of selecting a Junior Miss America certainly offers a challenge to the young maidenhood of our country. Indirectly it calls for youth fitness, and sets a goal for the aspiration of youth. By the same token it proves to us adults that children become what the parents and the child himself strives for.

Certainly the young maidens who participated in the pageant were a wholesome sight from what we see and hear about some youth in our modern times. Our young girls of today are the mothers of tomorrow and they are precious beings. They are the tabernacles that shall house the new generation of Americans, and we have a definite obligation to encourage them to reach out for the beautiful things in life, to up-grade their intellectual development, to develop their personality and to strive for a sterling character. I personally feel that you have contributed to just such encouragement by inviting the Junior Miss America Pageant to our city.

The pageant called for poise, proper choice of formal and informal attire, social graces, creative ability, a good sense of values, and charm. And the participants were the proud possessors of these qualifications. The Sisters present were much impressed by the solemnity and the dignity of the affair.

May I congratulate you on the fine leadership you have displayed to make this pageant such a tremendous success. But more than anything else, I feel your greatest contribution to Niles at this time was to invite these young maidens to our city and bestow upon it the honor of honoring modern youth at its best.

All in all the project offered a wholesome entertainment which only the freshness, modesty, and femininity of youthful maidens can offer.

God bless you, Al, and Yvette, also.

Sincerely, Sister Mary Irene St. Benedict's Home Niles, Illinois
