Niles December 1966 Sales Tax Returns Amount To $70,304.90

By June Hart
The December 1966 sales tax return of $70,304.90 is the largest ever for Niles, reported Trustee Ken Scheel, (finance) at the Tuesday March 14th Village Board meeting, while adding a cautionary reminder that January and February are both slow months. From his most recent attendance at the annual conference of Illinois Finance Officers, he stated, "It is very apparent that we are in excellent shape in terms of other villages. They regard us with some envy, and are very interested in our procedure and operation relating to finance."

Continuing, Trustee Scheel urged the board to be the impetus for the establishing of a Taxing Boards' Coordinating Council. This should include, Park District, Library District, School District, etc., and the Council to serve in terms of planning, in terms of bond issues, and in terms of general aid to one another.

Mayor Blase applauded Trustee Scheel's proposal and the board voted to study on procedure and format. On inquiry regarding open forums from citizen Mike Wozniak, the board again endorsed Trustee Scheel's suggestion for a three monthly board meeting cum open forum. Trustee Peck announced that on Saturday morning of April 1, Health Board commissioner, S. Metti with other members, and including experts from the Air Pollution Department and Controls, will meet with Village Attorney, T. Snieder, Village board trustees, and Department heads, with a view to drafting an air pollution ordinance. Trustee Ang Marcheschi reported on the amendment Continued on Page 14

We're not sure what the conclusion can be but Saturday's school district 63 vote was most interesting. The voters gave a slightly greater approval to the high school issues than the grammar school issues, 70% of voters favored the high school bonds while 69% okayed the elementary school issues. Perhaps it indicated the district's interest are becoming more high school oriented. It should manifest itself in greater action on the part of both children and their parents in high school activities in the immediate years.

New High School By 1970-71 Over 4,800 Votes In District 63

Dist. 63 voters led Maine Township residents in approving a $15,000,000 bond issue and increasing the high school building fund tax rate from 24 to 30 cents per $100 assessed valuation Saturday. In an overwhelming vote East Maine Dist. 63 voters approved by a 70% margin the high school issues, a 1 1/2% higher percentage than their approval of Saturday's grammar school issue (see Column 4). Des Plaines residents approved the high school issues by a 61% margin in Dist. 62 while Dist. 64 residents, approved the issue by a 56% margin.

With 4,865 persons voting, the election saw one of the largest turnouts in the history of the district. Some 3,333 persons cast their ballot in favor of the bond referendum, 1,493 were opposed. The educational rate increase passed with 3,218 persons voting in favor and 1,599 in opposition. 3,149 ballots were cast in favor of the increase in the building fund tax rate; 1,667 were cast in opposition.

The support from the majority of voters will enable the high school board to add about $7,000,000 of additions to the three present high schools by 1968 and build a fourth high school, Maine North by 1970. The new school will be built continued on page 12

"Class 3" Fire Protection

The rating, which is awarded by the Illinois Inspection and Rating Bureau, takes into account a community's ability to withstand conflagration perils. Its water department and equipment, various village inspection services, including the department's alarm system and many other factors are subject to meticulous examination by IIRB inspectors. Notification of the award was made officially in a letter from A.H. Gent, Superintendent of Public Protection of the IIRB.

Chief Hoelbl said that in 1958, when Niles had only 13,974 residents, it received its Class 4 rating. At that time certain recommendations for a Class 3 rating were made by the IIRB. "We have been working toward that goal ever since," Chief Hoelbl said, "and almost all have been realized. Among those objectives was the construction of a second fire station, the installation of emergency fire alarm boxes, increased pumper capacity, more water storage, and additional manpower to keep pace with the population explosion. Today, with a population of almost 32,000, the fire department boasts a force of 40 professional firefighters and nine reserve firemen.

Chief Hoelbl went on to say, "I would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank our public officials. This proud day would never have been realized without the wholehearted support and encouragement of a progressive mayor and board of trustees who had the foresight to see what a Class 3 would do for our people, both in saving them money and also in knowing they have the best fire protection their tax dollar can purchase."

"I would also like to thank the entire personnel of the department who banded together to dents in each grade. Obviously, in less than 7 years the kindergarten will have to be hurgartener in increased junior high facilities. Recognizing the district's population is still growing, an increased number of parochial children coming into the public schools and the present population of the kindergarten classes the need for another junior high (proposed east of Milwaukee Avenue) is imminent. Also, the junior high problem of the immediate year is good reason for a plan which needs flexibility over the next 5 years.

The $15,000,000 high school bonds provides aid to all areas of the township. The three present high schools will all have much-needed additions and the proposed Maine North school between Golf and Central east of the tollway will likely house most of the district 63 students at the north end of the district.

If the high school issue falls projected figures necessitate increasing Maine East to house 4,500 students with split shifts and increased periods likely. And while Des Plaines and Park Ridge schools would have about 3,500 pupils by the early 70's it is doubtful the school board would allow such a disproportionate number of students between the 3 schools. Equalizing the population would change the school boundaries, which to neighboring Park Ridge is as fearful as "bussing" would be.

Actually, the pushing for the new high school now resulted from district 63's school board members efforts in past months. When the high school board announced the upcoming referendum it was first believed only the additions should presently be sought. But district 63 members believed they might never get their fourth school once other areas received their additions. Thus, they led the way for seeking the fourth high school. Interestingly, the fourth high school was proposed for 1970-71 when the land acquisition was first begun. District 63 board members pointed out to the high school board the target date would be met only if they began preliminary plans at the present date. Thus, the Maine High Board decided to go for the additions and the new school.

If East Maine voters in particular don't overwhelmingly support the high school issue the chance of passage of the new school in the near future is at best clouded. For the rejection this time would mean there would likely be a vote only for the additions the second time, and if they were approved, the chance for passing a referendum for a new high school would be difficult. With Park Ridge and Des Plaines having their additions voters there would be less inclined to okay a new school in the immediate years. And loading up Maine East with 4,500 students or more would cause the residents in our area to seek relief. The likelihood of receiving a sympathetic ear from the rest of the township might be nil.

We've never been so vain as to believe local newspapers have much influence with readers in telling them how to spend their money. But we hope you'll join us in voting in favor of both referendums. The schools in our areas are among the best in the country. And top quality, whether in merchandise or education must be paid for. Since buying top quality is also the best buy in the long run paying now to insure the future is the way to get the most and the best for your money.

The award winning essay... I believe the Most Influential Event in History was:

The Making of the Flag

I think that the making of our flag was most influential because when our flag was made they could see what they stood for. It's like that for me too because when I look up to the flag I feel like it is part of me. It also gives us a great sense of unity to our country. Every day when I come to school I see it either in the front of school or in our classroom. There it is always for me to look upon and be proud because I know that I live in a free country where man can worship as he sees fit and has the freedom to do anything he wants.

But the flag is something else besides the colors of red white and blue cloth. It's something that lays in the pits of man's mind. It is there but he can't put it into words. It is as if the flag has control over mind and will or has you in some sort of trance. But this is just as impossible as it sounds because if we really were under a trance how could we be free?

I wonder how it must feel when immigrants enter our country and look up and see it flying against the sky. There the flag is, proud, magnificent and free to be blown by the wind or warmed by the sun. It must be beautiful to their trip. It must be like they had just died and went to heaven. But every morning when I wake up and walk to school there it will be standing there as a figure of law and justice and here at school I will learn to be a good citizen under its watchful and never sleepful eyes.

Book Muse

by Mr. "M"

Before I get into a review of a new juvenile book this week I would like to taper off to a few remarks concerning a column I wrote last week concerning biographies. It has to do with a few oddities I think the average reader may not know until he plunges into some of these memoirs.

When Rudolph Hess of the Nazi high command flew to Scotland during the war, the report of his landing was immediately conveyed to Winston Churchill. The Prime Minister listened attentively for a few minutes, remarked that "there seems to be a rotten apple in the barrel" and then announced bruskiy: "I'll look into this matter later. First I have to look at the Marx Brothers' film, 'A Day at the Races'."

Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes, the jurist revered both for his intellect and humanity enjoyed the pibian pleasures too,—racy French novels and burlesque shows. An acquaintance, sitting behind him at a burlesque theatre in Boston, noticed him laughing uproariously at the antics onstage. After one particularly funny exchange, the great justice slapped the back of the stranger seated next to him and roared, "Thank God, I am a man of low tastes".

The great diplomat Talleyrand, warned young people that if they do not enjoy playing cards, a lonely old age awaited them.

Richard Strauss, the world's outstanding composer in the late 19th and early 20th centuries, was one who heeded Talleyrand's advice. When his nervously ill tempered wife Pauline, drove him to distraction he would head for the neighborhood tavern where for hours he would drink beer and play skat with the loafers.

Mark Twain and the Polish pianist Ignace Jan Paderewski enjoyed nothing better than a good hot game of billiards.

Christopher Morley, the great writer, listed his recreations in this order, "whiskey and plain water" and "cooking". Alfred Lunt, the eminent actor also has cooked for years.

Giocomo Puccini, the world's foremost opera composer two generations ago, enjoyed hunting, fishing, boating and motor-ing. He almost killed himself a few times by driving too fast.

Well, that's the last of the comments on biography—now, to a new book.

Written in a pugent hard-hitting style, Dorothy Broderick's new novel—for ages 12 and up, "Hank" is an engrossing and dramatic account of a boy with a chip on his shoulder.

Not yet a dropout, but skidding dangerously close to delinquency, Hank Thompson is a bright, handsome high school senior, whose unhappiness stems from his father's desertion of the family. Surly, disliked, barely able to make passing grades, and misunderstood by his mother, Hank seems to care for nothing except his car and being alone. Then one autumn evening—looking for something to do—he drag races with a gang of boys in a neighboring town, and the racing leads to his involvement with a gang of counterfeiters and their plans for a robbery.

Almost despite himself, Hank's instincts are sound. He decides to stop the gang's activities, and with the help of two adults who feel concern for him (his faculty advisor and a policeman), he begins his climb toward a decent future in a society which—he comes to realize—is not against him.

Dorothy Broderick, who is associate professor of library science at Western Reserve University, is the author of two previous books and of many spirited articles on children's books and library affairs.

Berkowsky - A Dedicated Trustee

(Press Release)

"I suppose I have had a love affair with Niles almost from the time I moved here."

The intense young man speaking was Edward Berkowsky, Trustee of Niles, and a candidate for re-election on the Active Citizens Ticket.

Meeting Berkowsky for the first time, one would not suspect he is in politics. Soft spoken and not prone to idle chatter, he might be taken for a Certified Public Accountant—which would be correct. He is the director of Financial Analysis and Budgets of Mercury Records.

The Berkowsky's—wife Marilyn and three children—moved into the Chesterfield Garden Estates of Niles in 1961. As in any new home development area, there were problems to be solved. Ed Berkowsky helped form the Chesterfield Home-owner's Association and served as its President. Street speed limits, zoning changes, and additional parking spaces were some of the accomplishments. In working with these problems, Ed became familiar with the Village government and was impressed with the helpful attitude of Niles officials.

When the opportunity to become a Trustee came up in 1962, Berkowsky campaigned and won.

As a Trustee, Ed chosed to do his work quietly. He is not a headline grabber. He explained it this way: "I see no point in sitting at a Board meeting and talking just to hear my voice. If I have something of interest to say, of course I will speak out, but I don't believe in 'playing to the audience.'"

His four years in office bear him out. Whether working on the Health Committee, or Street Committee, or Planning Committee, Ed has done his work efficiently and quietly. However, on several occasions he has not hesitated to fight when it was necessary. As usually gently as Ed is, he becomes a stubborn adversary when he thinks the best interest of the people of Niles is not being served.

Besides his regular job and his work for the Village which takes an additional 10 to 15 hours a week, Berkowsky has also been Chairman of the Niles United Crusade, co-chairman of the Heart Fund, chairman of the Lion's "Candy Day", and zone chairman for the Leaning Tower Y's Building Fund Drive.

Berkowsky has shown that he is a good Trustee. He is proud of Niles; the people of Niles can be proud of him.

CENTRAL TELEPHONE SYSTEM SERVING A TEN STATE AREA

A NEW NAME... A NEW OUTLOOK...

CENTRAL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF ILLINOIS

will be the new name of MIDDLE STATES TELEPHONE COMPANY OF ILLINOIS
beginning April 1, 1967

And with this new name, CENTRAL TELEPHONE COMPANY of Illinois moves forward with a new outlook to meet the challenges of growth and progress throughout its service areas. The new change coincides with the merger of Dixon Home Telephone Company with headquarters at Dixon, Illinois, into Middle States Telephone Company of Illinois. These two companies have been closely affiliated since 1963.

Long-range plans already underway, call for a multimillion dollar service improvement program for 44,000 customers in Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Rosemont, Niles, and adjacent Chicago areas. This program, requiring expenditures by CENTRAL TELEPHONE COMPANY of Illinois in the 40-million dollar range, includes major additions to and replacement of the switching equipment in the Company's Park Ridge and Des Plaines exchanges during the next six years.

Though no name can adequately convey the expanse and planned growth of its operations, CENTRAL TELEPHONE COMPANY of Illinois reflects more clearly the Company's role as a member of Central Telephone System... one of the nation's major telephone groups. Today, Central Telephone System serves more than 718,000 telephones from 251 exchanges in 10 states. Key communities served, in addition to Park Ridge and Des Plaines, include Tallahassee, Florida... Charlottesville, Virginia... La Crosse, Wisconsin... Las Vegas, Nevada.

NI Gas Seeks To Lower Rates Again

Northern Illinois Gas Company proposes to lower its rates by $2 1/2 million annually, effective May 1, 1967.

The proposed reduction, which was announced today (March 1) by the Illinois Commerce Commission, is a result of the continuing joint studies being made by the Commission and NI-Gas.

The latest reductions would put the amount of NI-Gas' voluntary rate reductions since 1962 — and decreases due to lower rates from pipeline suppliers — over the $30 million-a-year mark.

William J. Crowley, NI-Gas executive vice-president, said the proposed reductions would benefit over 700,000 residential space heating customers, and more than 55,000 commercial and industrial customers.

The utility also will seek to make a new lower rate available to primary and secondary schools. Under the proposal, annual savings to over 1,800 eligible schools throughout NI-Gas' service territory would be over $200,000.

Crowley said the reductions are possible at this time because of a greater volume of business and more efficient operating methods.

The Illinois Commerce Commission, through its chairman, James W. Karber, announced today that, as a result of the continuing joint studies being made by the Commission and Northern Illinois Gas Company, the utility will file rate schedules that will save its customers more than $2 1/2 million a year. The proposed reductions would become effective May 1.

Karber said the cuts would benefit over 700,000 residential space heating customers, and more than 55,000 commercial and industrial customers. The utility also will lower charges to over 1,800 primary and secondary schools.

Northern Illinois Gas Company serves over 944,000 customers in a 16,000 square mile territory in northern and western Illinois.

Awarded Scholarship

by June Hart

Richard Gauthier 17, a senior student at Niles West High School has been awarded an honorary State Scholarship. The eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Gauthier, 6852 W. Keeney, Richard received his elementary school education at Niles Public School where, as an 8th grader he captured an "outstanding" award in a State Science Fair.

At high school he made the honor roll in his sophomore year. In his junior year he was awarded a letter of recommendation, in the National Merit Test. This test, Richard claims, helps the student prepare for scholarship format. Presently he is occupied with four majors, chemistry, English, English literature, and analytical geometry, a new pre-calculus course.

A member on his school's tennis team, his favorite sport, Richard may be described as an "erudite ham". Active in tenor role with the Niles West Choir, he acted and sang in the school's production of "Music Man", and performed with the choir in a variety of songs from opera, and including Negro spirituals, during their festival of song. He is also a member of the Niles Teen Theatre group, and will display his talent with acting and song in their spring production of "High Button Shoes".

Following graduation from high school, Richard plans to attend Western University, Macomb, Illinois, to pursue a future career, leaning, he says towards law, or the political field.

Mr. Gauthier Sr. is well known to Nilesites, he is attorney to the Park Board, and son Richard maintains that during the debating sessions with his dad, "I win one way or another."

Paying tribute to the educators at Niles West, young Richard said, "I have been most fortunate with my teachers at school. Most of them try to help the student. A lot depends on the attitude of the student, like—keep an open mind and you understand what the teacher is trying to get across."

American Legion Post To Feature Sporting Gun Night At Meeting

The members of the Morton Grove American Legion Post #134 will have something different scheduled for the conclusion of their Thursday, March 23rd session. The "special" feature is the Senior Gun Club's sponsoring of a Sporting Night.

Post Gun Club president Harry Minnick, urges all Legionnaires to come out and try their old skills, straight shooting of five shots. Prizes will be awarded to those who win and place. He also adds that all ties will shoot it off.

The club president says he will personally watch a shoot out of friendly competition between Post Commander Jerry De Berthier and past Commander Romar Lach. What will be the outcome?

The last two meetings of the M.G. Post have virtually been "snowed" out, so everyone is hoping this month's meeting will have a large attendance.

The Post's "chief chef" Jack Terrazas is still planning his original menu from January: southern fried chicken and taters for the after-meeting but-fet. He figures "three strikes and he won't be out" this time if ole weatherman cooperates a little.

This Saturday is a big night on the social calendar for Morton Grove American Legion Post #134 members, their families, Auxiliary members and friends. The annual St. Patrick's Night Ball will be held in conjunction with the Legion's Birthday Party. At 9:30 P.M., at the Memorial Hall, 6140 Dempster, festive decorations will herald the beginning of the party to celebrate the American Legion's forty-eighth birthday.

The March 18th event will find the hall gaily decorated with green trimmings sure to tell all that it's St. Patrick's Night!

Post First Jr. Vice Commander Frank Selzer has a truly Irish treat ready at midnight also: a corned beef and cabbage fiesta. The Auxiliary Unit is furnishing two huge especially decorated birthday cakes to be the first to sing "Happy Birthday" to the Legion and add a sweet note to the buffet.

Selzer says tickets are still available but going fast. He has urged advance reservations and reports this annual March affair has become as popular as New Year's Eve; therefore, tickets may not be available at the door if the hall capacity is reached prior to Saturday.

Edwin Mitchell - Niles Caucas Candidate For Trustee

Common sense, a good business head, and a desire to serve his community are three outstanding characteristics of Edwin Mitchell.

Mitchell is running for the office of trustee together with Erich Buck and Mrs. Karl (Mandy) Honold on the Niles Caucus Party slate.

There is a growing realization among the people of the village that there is a need for someone to handle the letting of bids and the purchase of village services and supplies in intelligent and impartial manner. Edwin Mitchell is just the man. Although a newcomer to the political arena, Mitch (as his friends call him) believes that in spite of the fact that he is no political figure, his experience in the field of finance and purchasing can be of benefit to the taxpayers of Niles. Mitchell's qualifications and experience render him extremely capable to see that the job is done and done fairly.

He studied Business Law and Factory Management at Northwestern University. In addition his position as Director of Purchases for the Blakeslee Kitchen Mfg. Co. is one of trust and one in which he is solely responsible for expending millions of dollars per year for purchases which he considers necessary. And finally, there is no conflict of interest involved, for Mitch has nothing to gain personally from such an office. Certainly a man with such responsibility, experience, and motivation will serve as a benefit to the taxpayer who wants to see his money used wisely and to best advantage.

Mitchell is retired from the U.S. Army where he served his country for 21-1/2 years. He was former vice-president of the Chicago Pump Employee's Federal Credit Union, and is a member of the Chicago Purchasing Agents' Assoc., of the House Committee of the Elk's Club, and of the First Methodist Church.

Mitch, his wife Betty, and their son Mark have been residents of Niles for 10 years and reside at 8626 N. Olmstead. The Mitchells were quite active in cub scouts; Betty was a den mother, and Mitch is a former pack chairman. The family also enjoys going on fishing trips together.

Hi... You're On The Hartline

by June Hart YO 6-9036

Focus Political - Feminine view of the candidates. This week we are featuring Mandy Honold, Mrs. W. Karl Honold, 6646 Harts Road, who, in company with Mr. Erich Buck, and Mr. Edwin Mitchell, form the Niles Caucus Party, seeking election to the office of Village Board Trustees.

Mandy, her husband Kark and their son Jimmy aged 9 have resided in Niles for the past six years. A former native of Danville, Illinois, Mandy attended the University of Illinois. Her studies were interrupted by the outbreak of World War 2, when she went to work in war plants, participated in U.S.O. shows, and was a volunteer member of blood donor groups. A devotee of the arts, Mandy had concerned herself with many facets of the performing arts. She also instituted a tiny toy swimming program during her YMCA instructor's stint in her native town. Currently she is a den mother, Pack 62, philanthropy chairman for Niles Women's Club, and secretary to the Niles Days Committee.

We asked her, "Mandy, why do you, a mother and housewife seek office in the field of Village administration?"

"First, I only decided to try for office, when we were unable to find a man, husband, wage earner, willing or able to spare the time for the job - and we inquired of some 50 citizens. Second, being a woman is not the issue, the issue itself is important. I believe that I, a mother of one son, and a housewife, concerned with the problems of women in the community, have the time to give to the issues that arise in the course of administration."

"Why was the Caucus Party formed?"

"We are a group of non-politicians in the true sense of the word. The people are entitled to a choice in their vote, and had we not formed the other candidates, (Niles Active Citizen Party) would have gone unchallenged."

"In what way do you challenge the present administration?"

"I love, and I'm grateful to live in our town. I feel there has never been any real planning in the building of this town. When I first came here I looked for a downtown section, and for parks for children and adults. The loss of the Tam, a Niles landmark famous all over the U.S. was a catastrophe due to lack of strategy. Issues arise and are taken care of without planning in terms of publicity to the public and their cooperation. For instance Caldwell was the original dividing line in terms of industry here, but now industry has invaded across Caldwell. In the past few years, in spite of additional industry our taxes, inclusively, have risen fifty per cent."

"Is it not true that growing suburban communities must have industry to help absorb taxation, relating to schools, etc.?"

"Oh! industry is fine to help keep taxes down, but there is a saturation point. Many industries in Niles carry "Help Wanted" signs. A lot of industry causes traffic congestion, which is dangerous to our youth and the elderly. Homes in the vicinity of factories, have their values depreciated in terms of resale. Air pollution is a major issue, which too can be attributed to industry. Industry or not, I believe that people interested in the betterment of their community, always meet their obligations. We, the Caucus Party," Mandy concluded, "in terms of Village planning, would hope to first acquire land, and then through public forums designate the areas for various needs, like hospital, park, etc., and etc."

Social - Mr. and Mrs. Martin Hedrich, 6910 W. Howard, proudly announce the birth of No. 2 son, Master Mathew John, 5 lbs. 2 ozs, on March 5th at St. Joseph's Hospital in Chicago. No. 1 son is Martin Joseph, 2-1/2, and daughter Jean Marie, 4-1/2. Barbara, Mrs. Hedrich, placed first in the recent National Federation of Women's Clubs 10th District Creative Writing (story division) Contest. In the Juvenile Poetry Class of the same contest, Niles "Bard" Eleanor Gilardon, (Mrs. Max) 9854 Glendale Lane, placed first. In the Creative Writing, (article division) Mrs. Harry Hart placed first. All are members of Niles Women's Club.

Silver Wedding - Silver wedding bells are pealing for Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Larweth, 8360 Octavia, on the occasion of their March 11th, 25th wedding anniversary. Eldest daughter Loretta is a student at the University of Illinois. Son Tim 17, senior student at Notre Dame High School is presently, director, choreographer, etc., for the Niles Teen Theatre production of "High Burton Shoes" opening date slated for April 15th. (Watch for news release) Another son Larry, 16, is a student at Notre Dame High School.

Computer Dance - On Saturday evening of March 11th, some 1500 youths and girls attended Notre Dame High School's first computer dance, a first in the area too. Nilesite Caleb Drake, who was at the dance, admitted, "It was OK. A change of pace, and we should have one about once a year." Prior to the dance students who bought tickets had answered a variety of questions regarding their "ideal date", questions like, tall, short, long or short hair, grade average, slender, plump, enjoy watching sports or, participating in them, favorite film characters, or T.V. personalities and shows. Many of the students had as many as 6 to 16 "ideal dates" to choose from the feminine pulchritude who were there from Resurrection High School, Regina and St. Pat's. Did Caleb find his "ideal date"? He has not decided yet, although he has made a date with her. "How did the other boys feel about the dance?" we asked Caleb. He replied, "Most of the guys were quite pleased, however, some of them were afraid they might get what they deserved."

N.D. Jugglers Present "Funny Girl"

What does it take to bring a smash-hit Broadway musical like "Funny Girl" to the high school stage?

If the experience of Notre Dame High School, Niles, is any indication, it takes a lot of time, talent, dedication and hard work—with a liberal sprinkling of luck for good measure.

The school's dramatic group, the Jugglers, is currently in the throes of getting "Funny Girl" ready for a March 31 opening and is finding that the show presents special problems and special advantages not encountered in the eight previous musicals staged at the school since 1958.

According to Rev. Thomas Markos, C.S.C., the man who directed those shows and who is guiding this year's efforts, the group is the first amateur outfit in the Chicagoland area to get the rights to produce the show.

"This is a mixed blessing," Fr. Markos said, "since it gives us the opportunity to pioneer methods for doing the musical on an amateur scale, but at the same time presents pitfalls as yet undetected that could gobble up the unwary."

"Funny Girl" is based on incidents in the life of Fanny Brice shortly before and after World War I. The action takes place in various theatres, onstage and backstage, on New York's lower East Side, in Baltimore, and on Long Island.

Fr. Markos and his production staff are determined to make this show the best the school has ever done and to top such recent successes as "Oklahoma" and "Guys and Dolls".

The road to the March 31 opening night began three months ago when Fr. Markos and the Rev. George Wiskirchen, C.S.C., head of the music department, surveyed the musicals cleared for amateur production and chose "Funny Girl" because of its freshness, tremendous popularity and artistic challenge for the high school performer.

The male performers were chosen from some 75 Notre Dame students who auditioned. The girls were chosen from about 125 hopefuls who came from a number of neighboring high schools and communities.

"It's difficult to cull the talent for a show from a group of today's high-schoolers," Fr. Markos said. "This is because there are so many trained and talented youngsters around, due to their parents' insisting on music and dancing lessons from an early age."

District 63 Referendum

equipping of school housing and the purchase of teaching services and supplies to meet the needs created by increasing enrollment in the district.

Construction of the first elementary school building on a site at the intersection of Ballard Road and Woodview Ave. will begin as soon as the architect's sketches are complete. The educational specifications from which the architect will work are presently almost completed.

Members of the board of education and Supt. Hugh E. McGuigan have expressed their appreciation on behalf of all the children in the district to the many people who worked in support of the bond referendum and tax increases and to all those persons who voted to support these issues.

"It's really great," Supt. McGuigan said, "to work in a community where people support their schools—where you can tell them what is needed and they will give it to you."

activity concerns the efforts of the Dist. 63 and 207 Superintendents who were in the center of the action. While they're hired to administer the districts it seems an extra effort on their part to have to join with the residents in seeking the passage of the issues. While they're perhaps the most keenly aware of the needs for money this extra burden on them is above and beyond the call of duty. Their efforts deserve the thanks of the many as well.

Since we're meandering about school matters in Dist. 63 in particular, it should be reported there's much rumbling about the Caucus selections in the grammar school race. The rumblings come from those who are displeased with its selections and with the entire method of Caucus selecting.

We've gone to battle with caucuses before and understand the problems confronting the relying on such a means of choosing school board candidates. In the case of Dist. 63, 3 incumbents and 4 newcomers sought the Caucus endorsement recently.

Only one of 1 of the 3 incumbents were selected, bypassing them in favor of 2 relatively unknown people in the area. Naturally, interested persons surrounding the incumbents were less than enchanted by the "selecting."

While we've looked with mixed emotions about Caucus selections perhaps a more equitable way of choosing would merely be to approve all candidates who are qualified, rather than just the number of persons required to fill the upcoming seats. When 7 candidates appear before the group it seems incongruous the third selected candidate and the last candidate to be eliminated has much greater or less qualifications for serving. In the case of the recent selections, there were 5 well-qualified candidates and all 5 should have been endorsed.

The importance of Caucus selecting leaves much doubt in some minds, Caucus representatives who cast their vote often have little or no knowledge of the school district and their selection is based solely on the impressions of the speaker's 5 minute presentation. Thus, those with little awareness of school district happenings cast themselves in a role which they should not be in, since their choices are uneducated ones.

N.D. Dons Defeated By St. Pat's

By John O'Connor

Notre Dame was tagged with its fourth loss of the season by the St. Patrick's Shamrocks, 66-63.

The Dons built up an early lead and watched St. Patricks cut their 13 point margin and eventually defeat Notre Dame.

This year's basketball team was the most successful in the history of the school, 24 wins against 4 losses. It was the first time any Notre Dame team captured the regional title. It broke the "jinx" by defeating the Knights in the regional tourney. The team was at one time ranked 15th in the area by the Sun Times poll.

Notre Dame will say goodbye to the three-year letterman Steve Orser. Steve was elected to the Suburban Catholic Conference All-star team twice and lead the club in rebounds.

Another starter will be leaving, Jim Holmes, Jim was now known for his scoring ability, but rather his tremendous defensive effort. He was always scrapping for the ball.

Junior guards Jim McCauley and John Egart and 6 ft. 8 in. forward Barry Hentz will try to improve the basketball record next year.
