Maine East's 'Camelot' production the past week-end was as lavish a one as any we've ever seen, comparable to the Chicago production which played at the Opera House 3 or 4 years ago.

Every year we walk away from high school productions thruout the area a bit mesmerized by what we've seen. The shows are extravagant, the music is far superior to the pit orchestras in more professional shows, and the large casts and the tremendous enthusiasm of everyone from the ushers to the casts makes for a great evening of entertainment.

While we know most residents support their own schools' programs it's really unfortunate more people can't enjoy the many productions which are right at our door-step.

This Friday night Notre Dame Melodons present 'An Exploration of the Sound Media' while East Maine Junior High presents its 2nd variety show at Maine East. Whether or not your children are a part of these shows you'll get a wonder-

Junior Miss Commission

Mayor Nicholas B. Blase has named a 13-member Junior Miss Commission of Niles civic and business leaders.

In manning the Commission, Mayor Blase said it would: "Work with the Illinois Junior Miss Pageant board of directors in planning and administering the Illinois Pageant which again this year will be held in Niles from Dec. 30, 1968 to Jan. 4, 1969.

The Mayor recently designated the village as the "Youth Capital of Illinois and home of the Illinois Junior Miss Pageant."

"This commission," the Mayor said, "is composed of people who are vitally interested in youth, not only in Niles, but everywhere. They will devote long hours of their time and talents to this project. I'm pleased that they have decided to serve on this commission."

The Mayor announced that Stanely Sekulow, manager of the Goldblatt's store in Lawrencewood Shopping Center, has agreed to serve as chairman of the commission. He will be assisted by co-chairmen Margaret B. Lieske, Village Clerk of Niles; Kenneth R. Schell, Village Manager and Steven J. Tsalkis, executive secretary of the Niles Chamber of Commerce.

Other commission members are: Melvin J. Soberg, treasurer of Imperial Eastman Corp.; Paul Christman of Salserno-McGowen Biscuit Co.; Holly Borkowski; Elaine Olson; Benjamin Mankowsky, chairman of the Niles Safety Council; Ralph Bast, of the Niles Youth Commission; Al Green, president of the Niles Chamber of Commerce; Marty Rosenfeld of Mr. Marty's Dress shop; and Robert W. Southard, personnel director of the Vapor Corp.

The Illinois Junior Miss Pageant has been held in Niles for the last two years, both times at the Mill Run Theater. The pageant will be held in the theater again this year.

If everything goes according to the present timetable set up by High School Dist. 207, bids for the construction of Maine Township High school North will be opened in February of 1969, groundbreaking will be slated for March, 1969 and the first phase of the high school will be "open for business" in September, 1970.

Approximately 52 acres of land were purchased by the Board of Education in January, 1963, to serve as a site for the eventual development of Maine Township High school North.

This site is located approximately half-way between Golf rd. and Central rd. Its western boundary coincides with an extension of Lyman ave. (east of the Tri-State Tollway), its eastern boundary is along an extension of Dee rd., its southern boundary is the Commonwealth Edison Co. power line, and its northern boundary is Harrison st.

Approximately 16 acres of the land was excavated as a borrow pit for the construction of the Tri-State Tollway. This excavation was filled with water to an average depth of five to six feet. A five-year contract was negotiated by the Board of Education with the Maine Improvement Company to carry out a land-fill operation at the site. This contract expires Dec. 31, 1969.

Special attention is being given to early completion of fill on the west end of the site. It is anticipated that Maine North will be constructed on the west end as much as possible on land that was not part of the borrow pit. It will be possible to begin construction prior to completion of the land-fill operation.

Access will be afforded to the site via Meadow ln. and Potter rd. from the north, and a yet-to-be-determined route from the south. Access from the east or the west will not be feasible.

Ready For "Battle"

Students at East Maine Junior High school, Dist. 63, practice for their second annual variety show to be held at 8 p.m. May 10 in the auditorium of Maine East High school. Theme for this year's show is "Battle of the Ages: The Generation Gap." No tickets will be sold at the door.

Jazz And Art At Notre Dame

May 9 and 10 will mark the peak of the Festival of the Arts at Notre Dame with the Music for Moderns concert and the student Art Fair.

On Friday, May 10 at 8:15 p.m. the Notre Dame Jazz Lab, featuring the 20-piece Melodons and the 7-piece G.C.O.L. Combo, will present their annual Music For Moderns jazz concert.

Running in conjunction with this concert will be the Student Art Fair. This exhibit, including paintings, sculpture and photography by Notre Dame students and students of the neighboring girls' schools, will open on Thursday evening, May 9 at 7:30 and then be available throughout Friday.

The Melodons have compiled an enviable record for themselves in the local Chicago area competitions over the last nine years and have been the special guests of the Collegiate Jazz Festival at the University of Notre Dame for the past nine years also. This year at that festival they were praised by Willis Conover of the Voice of America and jazz musician-judges Oliver Nelson, Ray Brown and Gerald Wilson.

Highlighted on the program will be music for big band in many different styles ranging from the swing of Count Basie to a touch of Kenton to the modern sounds of Don Ellis. Several arrangements by former members of the band will be included. Featured soloists will include Vic LoVerde on trumpet, Jim Fesi on alto and soprano sax, Jim Feldman on tenor and soprano sax, and Ed Nieminski on trombone and guitar.

One special emphasis of this year's concert, subtitled "An Exploration of the Sound Media," will be the new and experimental not only in arrangements but also in electronic and amplified instruments featuring five Selmer Varitones and free-form improvisation and unusual metric pulses.

Music for Moderns will be held in the school auditorium at 7655 Dempster st., Niles. Tickets will be available at the door.

On Sunday, May 12 at 3 p.m., another jazz concert will be held at Notre Dame. In this program by the Chicago Association for the Advancement of Creative Musicians under the direction of Richard Abrams the emphasis will be strictly on the avant guard in jazz. Tickets for this concert to be held in the school's Little Theatre will be available at the door.

Seeks Change In School Code

Theodore Davis, representing the board of education of Dist. 63, appeared before the Illinois School Problems Commission No. 10 April 26 in DeKalb to recommend a change in the School Code which would permit one hour a week to be used for inservice training of teachers.

The code presently requires that children attend school five hours each day for a district to qualify for state aid or reimbursement.

The Dist. 63 board is recommending that a paragraph be added allowing a session of four or more hours to be counted as a day of attendance when the remainder of the day is used for inservice training sanctioned by the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, but not to exceed one school day a week.

Most states have more flexible regulations which allow for inservice teacher training programs. Mrs. Irene Luck and Mrs. Sylvia McNair, board members, also attended the hearing.

A series of meetings are currently being held among a dozen school districts, including Dist. 63, from five counties to draft a specific proposal seeking state assistance for construction of school buildings. The proposal will be presented to the School Problems Commission when it meets May 16 in Peoria.

Art Seminar

Thoughts On Open Housing

Dear Sir:

Recently the Mayor and the Trustees of Niles stated that they would like to hear from citizens of Niles how we feel about 'Open Housing' legislation.

Since a person's views on this topic are often intermixed with their views on school integration, and ultimately 'intermarriage', my reply will take the form of an essay combining these three controversial topics.

I can't understand why American negroes would want 'equal educational facilities'. These facilities haven't done too much for white Americans—and in many ways I believe that the average American negro has had a much better education than the average American white person.

Let's consider the study of mathematics as an example.

Negroes know here are more white people than negroes in the United States—lots more! To an observer of the American scene in recent weeks, or to one who has been talking to white Americans all her life, it seems not too many of "us" know it. In the United States, about one in 10 persons is Negro—in the Chicago Metropolitan Area, about one in 8 persons is Negro. (From World Book Encyclopedia, 1967, Vol. 3 "Chicago", Vol. 15 "Population".)

If we extend these figures to be used in considering the problems of school integration, open housing, and, yes, even interracial marriage, we can honestly come to only one conclusion, "What's all the fuss about?" Freedom to rent an apartment wherever one wants and can afford to do so—freedom to buy a house) on the same terms could eventually result in five out of forty families on my block being negro. If you don't want your children to play with their children, you will still have 34 families with whom your children can play.

My children attend a suburban parochial school. In one classroom there are 37 children. Now if negro children were bussed here, or if eventually they live here, the probably result would be four or five negro children in that classroom and 32 white children. Right now my children do not visit socially in the homes of all their classmates. Do yours?

Now to consider intermarriage, since that's what really worries all "concerned parents". If we assume that all Negroes can't wait, marry white people, there still wouldn't be enough of them to go around. What I hope and pray for, and am willing to work for, is the kind of a country and village where the question of interracial marriage is as meaningless as whether my son or daughter marries a blonde or brunette!

Back to open housing. There are two other arguments against it which I have heard, and would like to try to dispose of. "Property values will drop." Is very logically and honestly answered in a pamphlet called "Fact or Fantasy?" distributed by the Leadership Council for Metropolitan Open Communities. Briefly, a quotation from that pamphlet: "Property values rarely, if ever, fall off when a Negro family moves into an all-white area separated geographically from Negro neighborhoods. Last year, for example, 179 Negro families moved into all-white neighborhoods in 28 Chicago suburban communities without any effect on real estate values..."

The other argument goes something like this: "Well, I just don't want any laws passed to give other people rights, if it means taking away any of my rights." When questioned further about such a statement, the idea seems to be that a property owner would be losing certain 'property rights' if he just didn't want to sell his house to a negro (or another member of a minority group). "Well, why wouldn't you want to sell your house to a negro if he was able to buy at the stated price? After all, if you don't like negroes, you are going to be moving away. So what's the problem???" "Well, I'm thinking about my good old friends and neighbors. They wouldn't like it, and then they'd be mad at me!" So now we have arrived at the heart of the matter—obviously we can assume that someone with white skin, who is ready, willing, and able to buy, will be a 'good neighbor'. And someone with black skin will not be a 'good neighbor'!

My husband and I have lived in one house in Niles for almost nine years, in that time many houses on our block have been sold and resold. Not once during that nine years has a home owner or realtor representing a home owner brought a prospective purchaser to our door for our approval. (After a sale has been accomplished, we have been introduced to buyers of a neighbor's home. And realtors have sent friendly notes telling us "John Jones just moved to 84 XYZ!" And "by the way, if you want to sell your house, get in touch with us." The point I'm trying to make is that our approval of a prospect has no bearing on the sale.)

And to my knowledge, neither the home owner nor the realtor has gone to the prospective purchaser's old neighborhood to check on his morality or how often he cuts his grass. When a bid on a home was offered and accepted, the buyer's ability to pay was checked out. So through this system, we have had quite a variety of neighbors, some 'good'—some 'bad'—some 'clean', some 'dirty'—some we like, some we don't like. Some neighbor's children I allow mine to play with, others I have not allowed them to play with. But one thing is for sure, we haven't had a single neighbor who was black!

And my 'property rights' have not been violated. My house is mine. I let children in whom I want in My yard is mine. I keep some children out if I want to.

LETTERS to EDITOR

Obviously, it is necessary to have a law to prevent discrimination in selling and renting property. Else by this time, in this All-American city we would have more negroes living here. They are working in this village and in neighboring communities; and if they had freedom to choose, some would live in this community.

It takes a law to make people (and realtors) be honest with themselves and their friends and neighbors. When we are selling anything of value, we are only qualified to make an honest judgment about the purchaser—is he able to pay the price established? If we try to judge his 'character' or his 'neighborliness' we are only fooling ourselves. And if in so doing, we are depriving human beings of the rights we have always taken for granted because our skin is white, then this is definitely racial discrimination. For once, be honest with yourself.

My husband and I implore our mayor and trustees to give Niles a strong open housing law. Let this community be a leader, not just a follower. I sincerely hope that the priests and ministers, the businessmen, the realtors, and other community leaders will let their voices be heard on what is perhaps the most important moral issue today in Niles.

Education Cost Reason For May 18 Vote

The increasing cost of education is the primary reason for Niles' rate referendum on Saturday, May 18, declared Schools Superintendent Charles Szuberla.

Everybody today is feeling the effects of rising costs, he explained, and the schools are no exception. Our high schools, in Niles Township, he said, have to maintain their quality programs if our students are to be educated for what they need in the years ahead.

Niles' May 18 referendum asks residents to approve an increase in the ceiling of the educational fund rate by 21 cents. The education fund is the largest of six funds in the school budget and contains appropriations for the daily operation of the schools. Niles' educational fund ceiling currently is $1,089 per $100 assessed valuation. This rate was approved by the citizens in 1965.

If residents approve of an increase on May 18, the new ceiling in the educational fund rate will be $1,291. The school board, as a result, would be able to spend up to that amount for the district's educational program.

Without the increase, Szuberla explained, it is doubtful that we could maintain our present programs, and it is certain that we could not continue to develop our programs to meet the needs of our changing society. A large part of the education fund in any school district pays for teachers' salaries, he said, but the ceiling increase for which we are asking is not merely to pay higher salaries.

It is needed to maintain the present salary schedule for our teachers, not to say anything competitive with neighboring districts which already have raised their teachers' salaries for next September.

Besides maintaining salaries, Szuberla said, money is needed to increase the staff to handle the 400 more students expected in the schools next fall, to maintain and improve the present teacher-student ratio, and to continue present services to students in guidance and libraries, to cite just two examples.

He explained that Niles Township's current educational rate ceiling is one of the lowest in the north suburban area. Even with a 21-cent increase, Szuberla said, the rate ceiling in Niles Township would be comparatively low at $1.30.

He explained that a 21-cent increase in the ceiling does not mean that all of it will be levied immediately, but that when it was levied it would mean about $21 to the average homeowner whose home is assessed at $10,000.

End 11th Week

Niles negotiators completed the eleventh week of contract talks with the Niles Township Federation of Teachers May 1, according to a report by Superintendent of Schools, Charles Szuberla.

"At this point progress has slowed, since we're talking about the salary schedule, the most substantial part of the total money package," said Szuberla.

Local Merchants' Taxes Improve Our Community

Of course you look for and find bargains in quality merchandise when you shop locally, but did you know you are also really investing in our community too? Your neighbor-merchants' taxes support civic improvements and help finance schools and recreational facilities right where you live. It pays, in many ways, to shop at home!

Time and Transportation Costs are Saved

Instead of wasting time traveling to distant stores, the wise shopper puts that time to use in a more careful selection from the large varieties carried by our local merchants. The money saved on transportation is put to better use too — on the items themselves. Every day it will pay to shop right here at home!

Your Merchants Are Your Own Neighbors

It's mighty nice to know that the merchant you deal with is probably one of your own neighbors. You feel you can trust him and he is eager to maintain that trust. He is anxious to please you in a personal way — to give you quality products at the lowest possible price. "Yes," you'll say, "it really does pay to shop here at home!"

Golf-Mil Hosts Top Entertainers

A group of Chicago's top entertainers have formed a bowling league and are now rolling them in the aisles and alleys at the Golf-Mil Lanes in Niles.

You'll find them there every Sunday afternoon laughing at "gutter balls" and fighting over "top-billing". Their motto—"The Family that bowls together—splits."

The league is called the "Three Sheeters," who make up a social organization of entertainers, based in Chicago, who appear all over the country at various conventions and supper clubs. Some of its more famous people are Jack E. Leonard, George Kirby, Frank Fontaine, Irv Kupcinet, Leo Durocher, The Harmonists. Their serious charity are orphans and Cystic Fibrosis.

However, it's strictly fun on Sunday afternoon, says secretary Rusty Ryan. "We have the only bowling league where bowlers arrive at O'Hare field on Sunday from their various Saturday night engagements and rush to Golf-Mil for the team matches. Those that don't fly, drive all night to be there. I'm sure, too, that it's the only league where the bowlers practice in Toledo, Columbus, Detroit, etc., for their forthcoming matches of Sunday in Niles."

Asked if it didn't present a great absentee problem every week, Rusty added, "Yes, but we've had to make rules to accommodate that problem. We use their golf scores, which, in most cases, is higher than their bowling average."

This is the first year as a league and plans are now being made in conjunction with Golf-Mil for future events such as "Bowl with a Celebrity Tournament" and "Orphans Open," where bowlers will participate in a tournament that will feature fund-raising for orphan children.

M.G. Junior Women's Club Officers

Saturday evening, April 20, the women of the Morton Grove Junior Women's Club met at Ches's Restaurant and Lounge in Skokie to honor their "great men" at the Club's Annual Husbands Night Dinner. Cocktails were enjoyed from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. to the piano music of Gene Donovan. The men were then feasted with their choice of dinner and wine at the table adding that special touch to a delicious meal.

The committee planned several games for the evening including their own special version of Hollywood Squares which proved to be great fun. There were prizes galore for the lucky husbands. It was truly an evening to be remembered.

The highlight of the evening was the installation of officers for the coming year. Mrs. Fred Appel, immediate past president of the Juniors, acted as installing officer and turned the President's gavel over to Mrs. Raymond LeJeune. Other officers installed were Mrs. Stanley Bindus, 2nd Vice President, Mrs. Charles Edwards, Recording Secretary and Mrs. Richard Cook, Treasurer. Mrs. Hans Swanson was appointed 3rd Vice President to serve the second of a two year term vacated by the resignation of Mrs. Emanuel Levin. The Past President's Pin and a lovely cocktail ring were presented to Mrs. Leonard Tornabene as the outgoing president. She praised the other officers and her committee chairmen for their help in a most successful club year. Those retiring with Mrs. Tornabene are Mrs. James Pink, 2nd Vice President, Mrs. Raymond LeJeune, Recording Secretary and Mrs. George Nelson, Treasurer.

Teacher Of Chemistry

A science teacher in the Niles Township High schools last week was named Greater Chicago's Outstanding Teacher of Chemistry.

Ernest Salners, a chemistry teacher at Niles West for 8 years, received the award from the Chemical Industries Council and the Manufacturing Chemists' association. The award consists of a cash prize, a medal and a citation recognizing his imaginative and creative teaching of high school chemistry. Teachers from all Greater Chicago's public, private and parochial schools were eligible for the award.

Salners, who has been chairman of Niles West's science department for the last three years, teaches the school's college level courses to students seeking advanced placement in college. He is also district chairman for the North Suburban Illinois Junior Academy of Science, the sponsor of the state's annual science fair in Champaign.

Before entering education, Salners worked 12 years in industry. He was both district chemist and chief chemist for the Missouri Pacific Railroad in St. Louis and also a laboratory foreman for the Pan American refineries in Arkansas.

A graduate of Harding college in Arkansas and Kansas State Teachers' college, Salners taught in Memphis, Tenn., before coming to the Niles Township High schools.

Testimonial Dinner

Over 500 people dined at the testimonial for State Representative Robert S. Juckett Sr. last Monday night, filling the Grand Ballroom of Henrick's at the O'Hare Inn to capacity.

Speaker of the House Ralph T. Smith gave a brief but significant address in which he emphasized the immediate importance of the General Assembly to the people of the state.

He reported that the 75th General Assembly, meeting in continuous session for six months, passed into law over 3000 bills, while the U. S. Congress, meeting for nearly a year, adopted only some 300 laws.

Speaker Smith also pointed out that the state representatives and senators have more intimate knowledge and concern about local problems than do federal officials and employees. Furthermore, Smith stated, local representatives in the state legislature can be more easily contacted by their constituents with problems and ideas.

Representative Juckett introduced his legislative colleagues; 8 Senators and 31 Representatives, who had come in support of him.

Other dignitaries, including township, county and state officials and candidates, were introduced by Maine Township Committeeman and County Commissioner Floyd Fulle, who conducted the entire program.

Among the candidates present were John F. Altonfer and former governor William Stratton, both candidates for the Republican gubernatorial nomination; Brian Duff, running for the nomination for secretary of state; and State Senators Terrel E. Clarke and William Harris, running for the Republican choice for Auditor of Public Accounts.

The guests at the dinner were treated to a musical preview of Maine East's production of "Camelot." The group of over 20 talented students at Maine East received a standing ovation for their performance.

Carl Klein, Trustee, said the Air Pollution committee was meeting at this time and advised that the Board of Health would hold its regular meeting Monday, May 13 at 8 p.m.

Klein said the Milwaukee Road stated it wished an increase in fare to offset a loss of a great deal of money in operations. Attorney James Orphan recommended the village send a check to the Pure Oil Division of the Union Oil Co. of California for $12,500 (or less) for the property at Callie and Lincoln.

The mayor expressed his sympathy and that of the board to the family of Jack Beere, on his death. Mayor Schreiber said Mr. Beere will always be remembered fondly, especially for his fine and dedicated work in Civil Defense.

The mayor then read the proclamation making Friday, May 24, Official Poppy Day. ful evening of entertainment at a bargain rate.

In past years parents from Niles used to complain to us Niles teens were not getting a fair shake at Maine East contending the Park Ridge students used to dominate most of the major activities. Even today, while PR students are a small part of the student body girls in the pom pon and cheer leading groups are largely from Park Ridge. But the argument of discrimination of our local students is a false argument, since Niles, Morton Grove and unincorporated area students are greatly involved in all activities at the school.

A rundown of the cast of Camelot would show 12 of the 41 appearing were from Niles, 11 from Morton Grove, 11 from Park Ridge and 5 from Glenview and the Des Plaines unincorporated area. Of the 6 students who had leading roles, Morton Grove's very talented Peggy Hanson and Niles' baritone without peer, Jim Glynn, were outstanding. Other Niles-ites with leading roles included Don Kostyal, Nick Bavaro and Jim Boncimino, who gave great performances as the fallen Sir Lionel, Gail Bertoni, Donna Doud, Steve Zeider, Skip Harasy, John Cook, Jeff Croon, Ron Siplora and Kriss Kostyal, Chuck Benjamin, David Glass and Mike Krueger were unincorporated area thespians who also played outstanding roles.

In the controversies surrounding the teachers, both at the grade and high school levels, who were the centers of bitter disputes which involved parents of many of the students, one circumstance becomes clear in both levels of school.

Both Maine High and East Maine boards decided both teachers should not have their contracts renewed based on the recommendations of the superintendent. Parents in both instances made their feelings known to the 2 boards and we received the impression both boards rankled from the parents involvement with the rehiring of the teacher issue. From the 2 incidents two legitimate questions arise from its wake. First, do parents have a right to make a judgment on a teacher's competency and make it known to the school board? Second, do school boards accept the recommendations of the school superintendents without arriving at independent judgments?

While we're generally in sympathy with anyone who has to buck the bureaucratic systems of bigness and government, we are not convinced parents are fair judges of a teacher's ability. Thus, for parents to get involved in teacher-school board problems could create sheer havoc in a school system. As a parent of 4 students, I don't feel any competence to judge my children's teachers. Their personal feelings for their teachers, and many of the kids' half-baked stories do not equip us to form an educated judgment. Thus, when a teacher seeks parents help to protect his job (as happened in district 63) the emotional fracas which follows is not the ideal environment for reaching a sound judgment.

In the case of school boards following the recommendations of the superintendent we must admit the superintendent is the specialist who is well-paid to make judgments in a field which he is the expert. If his judgments prove poor then another superintendent will soon be on the scene. But it seems obvious school boards, untrained in the field of education, are obliged to back-up the school superintendent. If they come to a consistent number of judgments which are not attuned with the superintendent, again the exit of the old and the entrance of the new school superintendent becomes imminent.

In Morton Grove's district 70 we often bemoaned the superintendent's complete dominance over the board. He receives carte blanche support and runs a tight ship according to his own ideas. Certainly, such an arrangement is too extreme, and there is a need for the people to be heard thru their representatives, the board members. But in the final analysis, a strong superintendent is absolutely indispensable to effectively running a school district.

One other area which deserves mention is teachers need an effective instrument for expressing themselves. When there are grievances he should not have to go to parents, but should have teacher support in the form of some type of agency.

The creation of unions in the schools is the natural process resulting from this problem, and all concerned will be the better for them. School Boards and superintendents resist them (as did Niles High) but the coming years will see the unions evolve. Teachers need fearless means of expression and the union will be the answer to the other end of this problem.

school in Maine Township is only one of the reasons voters will go to the polls June 8 in response to a plea by the high school district for a 21-cent increase in the Educational Fund Tax levy ceiling.

An increase of 1,347 students during the past two years has given cause for the Township High School Dist. 207 Board of Education to ask the voting population of Maine Township to approve an increase of 21¢ per $100 of assessed valuation in the Educational Fund tax levy.

The voting date for the requested increase is scheduled for Saturday, June 8. Precinct polls will be open from 9 a.m. until 7 p.m.

According to Dr. Richard R. Short, superintendent of schools, "The Educational Fund provides the money to pay for the operation of the three high schools, 80% of which is required for teachers' salaries."

At the present time the district's high schools are operating in the red. At the end of the 1966-67 school year the Educational Fund was $1,358,535.20 short. By the end of the 1967-68 school year it is anticipated that the fund will be $1,500,000 short.

The June 8 vote, if approved, will increase the Educational Fund tax levy ceiling by 21¢ (from $1.42 to $1.63 per $100 of assessed valuation) to meet the costs of an ever-increasing student population.

The high school board is asking for approval of the increase so that necessary funds will be made available to pay for teachers' salaries and supporting supplies and materials.

Harold Markworth, Dist. 207 business manager and secretary to the Board of Education recently stated: "With the estimated $1,500,000 deficit anticipated by June 30, 1968, and if the requested 21¢ increase is not approved, the deficit will grow to approximately $1,700,000 by June 30 of 1970; $2,150,000 by June 30 of 1971; and $3,200,000 by June 30 of 1972." Markworth further commented that the stated deficit amounts did not include the opening of the fourth Maine high school (Maine North) possibly by 1970.

Dr. Short also stated: "Since the inputs of education (teachers' time, space, equipment, and supporting supplies and materials) must be purchased in a competitive market, it is extremely difficult to see how High School Dist. 207 can continue to provide the traditional quality program of education it has offered over the years for less than median expenditures among the other high school districts in this area."

FRIENDLY MICROBES

No where in nature's immense complexity are the mysteries of life and death, and the struggle for survival more pronounced than among the microbes. Fortunately, most microbes are not harmful to man, but almost all are hostile to one another. Thus, for sometimes, bacterial researchers have followed Pasteur's advice: "Use bacteria to combat a disease caused by other bacteria." Man has learned and is learning every day to borrow from microbes the substances which they secrete to kill other microbes; the result - antibiotics.
