Kramer, in his initial efforts, has been stymied. He would like some support for his project and it must come from the community. We would be interested in letters from local residents who have opinions on such a project. Generally, opposition to any idea, no matter how small, makes one "holler and a whoop" when sounding off. The vast majority of opinion remains silent. We'd like to stir that vast majority to a small "peep and a whisper" by hearing your opinion, whether pro or con.

Writing about the Oakton-Milwaukee area reminds us of the ever-increasing talk about the future building of a village hall in that area. More and more of village activists are becoming aware it's time to move the village hall to the north toward a more central location. And with

From The Left Hand Niles Board Okays Open Housing Bill

By David Besser
Editor & Publisher

End O' The Month Meanderings.....

Because we've heard this report from so many different people it may as well be published. The East Maine Junior High school has been a veritable jungle this past year. The washrooms in the school have been defaced by the most vile means, mirrors are broken, discipline has long been up for grabs and the freedom the students have to pursue their work has caused much concern.

We've heard parents complaints in most school districts thru the years, often acknowledging them with a wary eye. But the continuous criticism of the East Maine Junior High seems to increase with each passing week.

When we first heard the observations from students, we considered them as being students' sour grapes. But when teachers began to corroborate the mess the school was in, we began to be more aware of the chaos. Monday night we heard similar observations from an outside educator and administrator, and later in the evening, from a very well-qualified resident who had been asked to run for the school board by another school board member.

The sound and fury at the Niles meeting was held under control by the firm but moderate hand of Mayor Blase. He first asked proponents of the proposed ordinance to express themselves and 14 persons, mostly representing religious and school organizations voiced their support for the ordinance. Representatives from Lutheran Church of the Resurrection, St. John Brebeuf, Our Lady of Ransom and Community Church

Statement Of Philosophy . . . Fair Housing

By Naomi Krone
News Editor

It is a strange fact of human nature but it seems that lately anyone has to do, in order to arouse or awaken the depths of man, is to mention the words "fair housing" or "open housing."

So it was at the Tuesday night meeting of the Board of Education of Dist. 63. Although we shall go into greater detail about the board meeting in the next issue of THE BUGLE, suffice it to say that "open housing" does have a bearing on education, not only because school district employees should be read statements or expressed themselves in favor of the law.

Opponents next voiced their objections and 18 persons, speaking for themselves, asked Niles officials to put the ordinance to a vote. After they finished Blase said this was a "hot issue" by the people to represent the community in reaching a decision, and Niles officials would not be allowed "to get this issue off their backs" by submitting this or any other action to a vote. In very firm language Blase said if residents did not approve of the competency of the Board they could express themselves at the polls.

After all Niles persons were heard the vote was taken and only trustee Bob Wente opposed the ordinance.

117 Take Tests

One hundred and seventeen seniors at Maine East High school took advanced placement tests in one or more subjects last week in an effort to win college credits before being graduated from high school.

Keith A. Honn, career counselor at Maine East, coordinated the four-day examination schedule in five subject areas. The schedule included: English, 39 students; mathematics, 13 students; chemistry, 12 students; U. S. history, 28 students; biology, 25 students.

Each examination takes three full hours. Students enrolled in advanced placement courses are permitted to take the tests in addition to students who are specially recommended by a senior teacher. In July the grades for each student are reported to one college of his choice.

Purposes of the tests are to allow students to move ahead in college by taking advanced courses and to give students fore-knowledge of the preliminary subject matter they would otherwise be expected to cover. In class, the examinations are based on subject matter covered by many colleges in their first-year courses.

This year students are taking from one to three A.P. tests, the results of which could be from six to 20 hours of credit toward graduation from college. In past years Maine East students have qualified to enter some of the nation's leading undergraduate schools, including Harvard college, as a sophomore.

"Much At Stake"—Dr. Short
Maine Twsp. Tax Levy Hike Detailed By Dist. 207 Head

"There is much at stake in the pending request for a 2 1/2% increase in the Educational Fund tax levy which will be presented to the voters of Maine Township on Saturday, June 8, 1968, Dr. Richard R. Short, Superintendent of the three Maine high schools, recently stated.

The hike in the Educational Fund tax levy proposed by the Board of Education of the high school district is urgently needed for an increased and competitive salary schedule for teachers, along with supporting supplies and materials. This will permit the board and school administration to continue the tradition of sound, quality education which has been the heritage of the Maine high schools and which prepares the young people who attend East, South and West for tomorrow's challenge in a highly competitive society.

Mr. L. Wesley Hartzell, president of the Board of Education, Niles, commented during a recent board meeting that: "For many years the Dist. 207 board has, as a part of the tradition of the school system, tried to support and encourage the development of the kind of comprehensive high school curriculum needed to assure every student in Dist. 207 stimulating, challenging, and realistically up-to-date course opportunities in his/her major fields of interest and competence. And it needs to be stressed that even though it is not the intent of the board to set records for minimum expenditures, the people of Maine Township can be assured that the board and the administration make every possible effort to hold costs down."

It has been the tradition of the Maine high school system to provide a quality program of education which will prepare the young people participating in this program for today's world, and the even more complex world of the future. A highly qualified and competent staff of teachers has made this possible since the inauguration of the first Maine Township high school in Des Plaines in 1902.

What is now known as the "old" Thacker Junior High school (about to be razed) was the first high school facility available for high-school-age students residing in Park Ridge and Des Plaines other than Schurz high school in Chicago, the closest public secondary school.

Thirty-five students reported for classes on the opening day of school, and the first graduating class of 1904 consisted of 3 members. Ensuing years brought a growing population to both Park Ridge and Des Plaines and with this growth the student body at Maine also grew.

By the year 1924 it became evident that larger educational facilities were needed. At that time 58 acres at the corner of Dempster st. and Potter rd. were purchased and citizens of Maine Township approved a $500,000 bond issue for the erection of a new high school on this "out in the country" site.

The original school building on Thacker st. in Des Plaines was then sold to the Des Plaines Public School system and was used until recently as a junior high school.

The new building, now known as Maine East, with its imposing tower, has become a landmark in Maine Township.

An ever-expanding student enrollment and an augmented curriculum soon proved that the building could no longer accommodate its broad program. Consequently, in 1936, an additional section, called the Potter wing, was completed to house the industrial arts and music departments.

During World War II the space problem again became acute. Material shortages and building restrictions necessitated the postponement of additional space until 1953 when the new addition was completed. This included a field house with a seating capacity of 4,000, an auditorium seating 1,500, a large cafeteria, as well as extra classrooms which nearly doubled the classroom capacity of the school. The campus was also enlarged to a total of 70 acres, providing several athletic fields, one lighted for night football games.

In 1957, due to the continued student population growth, the voters of the township approved the purchase of two additional high school sites. Maine West, located at Oakton and Wolf rd. in Des Plaines, was built in 1958. During the current school year Maine West operated with an enrollment of about 3,125 students. A third high school, Maine South, was in operation in 1964 and presently serves about 3,050 students.

Before this split in the student body, Maine East accommodated over 5,000 students during the academic year of 1958-59, through a double shift program.

The three Maine high schools have received national attention and recognition over the years due to the excellence of curriculum; innovations of an FM radio station established in 1959, with "remote" station outlets put into operation in the two new high schools; and the Maine Adult Evening school, which has been available for participation by all residents of the Maine Township area for the past 33 years. The Adult Evening school has a course offering of over 250 diversified subjects for its present total enrollment of over 13,000 adults, and has added much to the prestige and "quality" tradition and heritage of the school system.

According to a statement recently made by Dr. Short: "The school and community have values and traditions which give it stability, a civic awareness, and a capacity to meet new problems as they arise. The voters of Maine Township can help carry on the 'quality education' tradition of the Maine high schools on Saturday, June 8, 1968, by going to their respective polling place and extending, once again, their vote of confidence in the judgment of the Board of Education and the administration of Township High School Dist. 207 and approve the requested 2 1/2% increase in the Educational Fund tax levy being requested at this time."

Open Letter

Citizens of Niles Township:
On behalf of your high school Board of Education, I wish to express deep appreciation for your decision last Saturday to approve an increase in the ceiling of the educational fund rate.

Your continued interest in supporting quality educational programs is heartening. We on the Board of Education are grateful for your confidence, and we assure you that we will continue to serve the community's interests.

To all the people who assisted the Board of Education in its informational program to the community, I wish publicly to express our gratitude. Through their concerted efforts, our need was brought to the attention of all citizens.

Sincerely,
Meyer Kamin,
President
Board of Education,

All of these are good ideas for a five day Memorial Day week-end... or are they? This year the American Safety Council is predicting the largest traffic fatalities in our nation's history. Sure you say, it's always the other fellow...but will it be this time? You can be sure it's not you by staying home for a good old fashioned Memorial Day week-end.

Golf Jr. High To Graduate 151 At June 12 Ceremonies

Golf Junior High school in Dist. 67 will have its graduation of a class of 151 8th graders on Wednesday, June 12, at 8:15 p.m. in the school gymnasium. Norton Goodman of Niles, school board president, will deliver the talk to 86 girls and 65 boys in the class, second largest in the district's history.

Last year the class totaled 159. In 1966 it totaled 146 and in 1965, 127 were graduated. In 1962, when the school was new, the class had only 102 members.

In totals for each of the villages wholly or partially within the district, Morton Grove has 102 students in the Class of 1968, Niles 25, Glenview 12 and Golf 10. Two Skokie youngsters from the township's class of partially sighted youngsters, which is housed at Golf Junior High, will be among the gowned graduates. Two others from the same township special-education class are among the Golf graduates also, one from Niles and one from Morton Grove in residences outside Dist. 67 borders.

As usual, attendance has to be limited, four tickets per graduates, which will give the gym a capacity crowd.

The following 8th graders, are in the Class of 1968 at Golf Junior High:

Citizens Council Is Studing Nilehi "Day"

How students of the Niles Township High schools spend their time during a regular school day has been assigned for study by the school board to its Citizens Advisory Council.

At the last meeting of the council, Sam Turlet, Bertram Gelder, Carol Goodman, Joseph Gump, and Mrs. Phillip Samuels were appointed to begin preliminary work on the study, according to Dr. Walter Kramer, chairman of the council.

The Citizens Advisory Council recently completed its first assignment - from the board, which was to inform the people about the district's rate referendum May 18. The referendum was approved 3,781 to 2,939.

The Council will meet Monday, June 3, at 8 p.m. in the Niles North High school to critique the referendum campaign and to record reactions and suggestions for use in future informational campaigns for the schools.

According to Schools Superintendent Charles Szuberla, utilization of student time has highest priority among several areas to be studied by the citizens group. All students currently are scheduled for every period during a school day, which consists of nine 40-minute periods. Students are in school from 8 a.m. to 3:25 p.m. Students generally take four major subjects a day. Other class periods are utilized for study halls, physical education, elective subjects, and activities.

Szuberla cited several reasons for asking the board to have the Citizens Advisory Council study student time.

They included: foster greater student responsibility; bridge the transition from high school to college; provide opportunities for students to use unscheduled time to better advantage; for example: meet with teachers, independent study, and engage in special research projects; free study hall rooms for greater flexibility in use.

release teachers to work more with students on individual basis.

Szuberla explained that changes in the traditional school day would have implications for parents specifically and for the entire community generally. "For this reason," he said, "I feel the representatives of the community through the school board's Citizens Advisory Council, as well as the professional staff of the school district, should study this topic before recommendations are presented to the board."

Other areas Szuberla has listed with high priority for study by the Citizens council include development of vocational programs for terminal students and the year-round school.

able to live in the area in which they work." As member Kopald said Tuesday night, "We do have an obligation to our school district, children and the residents."

There were 2 NO votes on the resolution which favored a policy of open housing on the part of the school board. Those were cast by board members Rev. William Allen and Irene Luck.

This does not mean, necessarily, that they oppose open housing but that they do not feel the school board should make any philosophy statement on this subject.

The board also heard Assistant Superintendent Frank Dagne discuss in some detail the plans for instructional organization in the elementary schools in the district for the coming school year of 1968-69. There were about 100 persons from the Meizer-Washington school area who came to hear the board discuss proposed boundary changes in the Beckwith, Washington, Golf and Merrill area.

Leaning Tower YMCA Day Camp Set

The Leaning Tower Y.M.C.A. is proud to announce its 13th consecutive Day Camping season. The Day Camp is open to all boys and girls (kindergarten and above) whether they are Y.M.C.A. members or not. There are five two week camping sessions beginning June 17 and ending August 23. A camper may attend the entire 10 weeks if he so desires.

Supervision of the Day Camp is carried out by qualified trained individuals composed mainly of teachers and college students. All counselors are carefully chosen for their ability to teach and lead certain skills and activities.

The basic unit in camp is a group of ten campers and one counselor. All of the ten campers are in the same grade in school and the counselor is particularly able to work with that specific grade level.

The Day Camp consists of four camps working independently of each other. There is a Junior Camp for boys and girls who have completed Kindergarten through Second grade; an Intermediate Camp for boys and girls in the third and fourth grades; a Senior girls Camp for girls in fifth grade and above; and a Sports and Aquatics Camp for boys in fifth grade and above. The Senior girls camp and the Sports and Aquatics Camp are filling fast so prompt application is advisable.

Much of the activity is held in the wooded atmosphere on the nearby forest preserves. In addition, some activities will be held at the Y.M.C.A. The Intermediate, Senior girls, and Sports camps will receive swim instructions four days a week by certified instructors at an indoor heated pool close to their campsites. Junior campers will receive instructions at the Y.M.C.A. pool three times a week.

Buses pick up the campers within two blocks of their home between 8:50 and 9:45 a.m. Campers are returned between 3:45 and 5 p.m. The pick up and return trips are fully supervised.

That's South Korea

Jill Goldschmidt, 7, points to South Korea on map at Hynes school in Morton Grove. Now she's living in Seoul. She's wearing a red-silk Korean dress, a gift from her father, an Army doctor now stationed in South Korea. The family lived in Niles before moving.

Jill Now Resident In South Korea

How's South Korea, Jill? We're agog to know of your experience in your new school there, Seoul American Dependents' school.

Jill Goldschmidt, whose seventh birthday was Jan. 30, was a pupil at Hynes Elementary school in Morton Grove until she moved recently to South Korea.

Her father, Col. Max Goldschmidt, is a U.S. Army doctor. They lived in Niles, at 8711 National, family packed off to Seoul because of the father's Army transfer.

But the Goldschmidts are no strangers to the upset of moving long distances. Jill's brother, Jeffrey, was born in Paris.

Jill was in the primary department at Hynes, the class of Mrs. Sue Nugent. Now the class would like to have a letter from Jill telling them all about South Korea, the land where Jill's beautiful red-silk birthday-present dress is probably the talk of her schoolmates. The Korean costume was bought for Jill by her father.
