Tune Is Familiar But Stein Adds New Words For Dist. 63 Bd.

By Naomi Krone
News Editor

Although it wasn't the Yale song whose refrain would bring a hint of a nostalgia to listeners, the song members of the Dist. 63 board of education heard sung Tuesday night by Morton Grove resident Yale Stein did produce varying degrees of emotion.

Attorney-at-law Stein, who has, in his own way, made this a year to be remembered for board members as well as administrators officials and residents of the school district, provided an on-the-agenda refrain to his continuing paean against the legality of Illinois laws regarding transportation and book rental fees and for the "supremacy of we, the people."

Stein's amended law suit against the board of education, concerning the above-mentioned legality of Illinois laws, was recently dismissed by the U.S. District court of the Northern district of Illinois. His original suit was also thrown out of court.

Stein told the board and those attending the Tuesday night meeting he has asked for a grand jury investigation as well as an investigation by the Illinois State Superintendent of Public Instruction of the school district policies and safety of the busses. He discussed the "so called book rental fees charged by Dist. 63" and then queried "why do the people of Dist. 63 put up with it?"

"I'm not about to make it a moot question," he told the board" and you (the board) will continued on page 12

Governor Sam Shaprio stopped at Teletype, East Maine Junior High school and Maine East High school Tuesday morning in his quest for the governorship.

We fell in with the troops at East Maine where the governor gave a short non-political speech (if there is such an animal before election time) inaugurating the use of a special heart defect machine which will be tested on 8th graders at the junior high. Prior to pushing the button which officially installed the machine, he gave a short speech on the continuous needs for improving state services for the mentally retarded, as well as providing more and better services in many health fields.

After the short speech he posed for pictures, grabbed a cookie and, along with his entourage, moved onto his next stop at the high school, which was his 3rd stop of the morning. The clock in the all-purpose room read 10 a.m., which indicates the tremendous pace the candidates maintain. Yet, at each stop the candidate is relaxed, seemingly unhurried and most pleasant...a herculean task which is beyond our ken.

The first peep of local political activity for village elections came out of Morton Grove last week where former lone candidate Dick Hohns is likely to joust with the incumbents in next April's local elections. In Niles neither a peep nor a beep has been forthcoming as yet and none is expected to be heard until after the holiday season, when the new candidates usually crawl out from under the hollyberries.

In Morton Grove a strong, well-organized ticket opposing the incumbents would have much to campaign on since the one-party, never-disagreeing, often non-public officials now in office, are a sad commentary on the democratic process.

Niles Village Board of Trustees Tuesday night took another step forward toward a new administration building for the village.

The board approved 2 ordinances: one, a supplemental appropriation ordinance which will allow for payment, under the new installment contract, for the administration building at 7601 N. Milwaukee. The ordinance includes appropriations for expenditures to remodel the existing A and P building (about $175,000), Trustees Berkowsky and Wentz voted "No."

The second ordinance approved by the board (with Berkowsky and Wentz again voting "no") allows the village president and village clerk to enter into an agreement with the Bank of Niles to purchase the building and site. The bank to lend the village $425,000 over a 10-year amortization period, will receive 4-3/4 per cent interest on the unpaid balance due. This was reported as the lowest interest rate offered the village for this transaction.

In other business Tuesday night, the board heard further discussion on an application for rezoning of a parcel of land in Lawrencewood Shopping center for the purpose of erecting an automatic car wash, Mac Cleen Car Wash, by the petitioner. A B2 special use zoning is sought. The franchise operation would charge 75 cents for a car wash without wax and the building would be approximately 42 x 44. Final decision on the application was postponed until the next board meeting Nov. 12 so shopping center builder, Krilich, could be present to add more specifics.

The board also approved a motion for purchase of a P.W. Chipper truck at a cost of $11,085; approved a motion to adopt the 1968 edition of the National Electrical Code for the village; appointed Mrs. Mary Brablick, 7109 Monroe, Niles, Niles Township High school secretary, to the Niles Youth Commission; announced the Niles Youth Commission will conduct a holiday part-time employment program with registration for young people 16-21 being scheduled for Nov. 9, between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. in Niles Park District recreation building and approved the placing of stop signs, requested by the Safety Council.

The signs and their locations are: Ottawa and Lee, 4-way; Lee and Oriole, one-way; Prospect and Farnsworth, 3-way; Clifton and Bruce, Chester and Bruce, Betty and Clifton, Amelia and Clifton, Johanna and Clifton, Clifton and Roseview and Chester and Roseview, all one-way stop signs; Maryland and Lyons, 3-way stop sign.

Next meeting of the village board will be held Nov. 12.

Heart In His Work

Illinois Governor Samuel Shaprio got a preview of the work the RhonoCardio Scan, a machine to test hearts for congenital or hidden heart defects, or damage, will do when he visited East Maine Junior High school Tuesday morning. While Mrs. Millicent Dachman, Niles, shows the Governor how the machine operates, the procedure is watched by Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase and Ed Hanrahan, Democratic candidate for state attorney. The machine, part of Project Hide'n Seek, is being used for all children in Maine Township Public and parochial schools and the cost for providing the health service is being shared equally by the Chicago Heart Association and Maine Township Regular Democratic organization.

Dist.207 Board Reviews Construction Plans, Hears Supporters

The Building and Grounds committee of Township High school Dist. 207 met Wednesday evening, Oct. 16 at Maine East High school to review "phase 2" of construction plans for Maine East high school and to receive a report from school architect, Donald Stillwaugh, of Erickson, Kristmann, Stillwaugh, Inc., Park Ridge, related to a construction accident at Maine East.

Roy O. Makela, board member, chairman of the Building and Grounds committee, read a letter from Mr. Stillwaugh which gave an account of the construction incident. The letter stated that "On Friday, Oct. 11 at approximately 10:20 a.m., while in the process of erecting the long span steel joists that support the girls new gymnasium, an accident occurred in which one construction worker was killed and four others injured, three requiring hospitalization."

Stillwaugh's letter further stated: "Thirty-four joists will span the gymnasium area. Of this total, 17 joists had been placed on the supporting steel columns and beams and were connected to each other with diagonal cross bracing. It was during the placement of the 18th joist that something happened, causing the joists already in place to slip or be pulled off their bearing, triggering them to fall, pulling down the steel on the east and north elevation after them."

Mr. Makela and other members of the board also reviewed plans for a proposed administrative wing at Maine East which would allow for a centrally located administrative center and provide space, now used by the district's administrative staff, for additional classroom facilities to house an ever-increasing student population.

Paul Carlson, faculty member at Maine East, was present and again registered objections concerning the proposal to erect the administrative wing and a special education and performing arts wing on the Maine East campus.

At this point, L. Wesley Hartzell, board president, Niles, made reference to letters from AL Angsten, head custodian at Maine East, which indicated that repair and maintenance of the plaza and garden area, where it is proposed that the new administrative wing be attached to the west side of the Maine East campus, would approximate up to $50,000. Mr. Stillwaugh verified this cost figure. Stillwaugh indicated that an attempt to relocate the administrative wing would be a very expensive proposition inasmuch as architectural and engineering plans had already been under way for months and that additional plans to re-design the proposed administrative center at another location would cost between $8,000 - $15,000.

O. D. Premo, music instructor at Maine East, presented a petition, signed by 117 Township high school teachers, which supported the construction proposal of the Board of Education and the school administration.

A letter of support for the proposed construction plans was also presented by Louis Bergdolt, president of the Maine Township High School Teachers' Association.

Faerstein, class of 1972, was selected following recent auditions. The choir will be featured throughout the year at a number of performances on campus and for various groups in the Beloit area.

An organ dedication, a dedication recital and hymns of the Reformation will highlight the Festival of the Reformation Sunday, Oct. 27, at the Lutheran Church of the Resurrection, 8450 N. Sherman rd., Niles. The event will be celebrated during the regular hours of worship at 9:30 and 11 a.m.

The congregation recently acquired their first organ since becoming established. The organ, a two-manual Rodgers instrument, valued at $7,000 was made possible by gifts from members of the congregation.

A brief order of dedication will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. Paul A. Tidemann. This will be followed at each service by a brief dedication recital by Resurrection's organist, Carolyn N. Sanderson (Mrs. John C.) of Glenview. She will play "Organ Concerto #3" by George F. Handel, and "Modale Suite" by Flor Peeters.

Mrs. Sanderson is a graduate of Augustana college, Rock Island, Ill., where, as an organ major, she earned her degree as Bachelor of Music Education. She taught elementary school music in Skokie for several years and recently acquired a Master of Music degree from Northwestern university. Mrs. Sanderson has served Resurrection congregation since its organization in 1963.

Following the dedication recital the order of service will include the singing of hymns of the Reformation, an anthem by the congregation's Senior Choir "Give to Our God Immortal Praise," a contemporary hymn, and finally Martin Luther's "An Mighty Fortress is our God."

Resurrection recently welcomed a new Senior Choir director to its staff. She is Mari-anela Jones, Bachelor of Music graduate of Wittenberg university, Springfield, Ohio. Miss Jones teaches instrumental music in Villa Park schools.

Lutheran Church of the Resurrection has an active music program, which in addition to the above, includes choirs for youth, "Rejoicers," a choir for children in grades 3 to 6, is directed by Mrs. Sanderson, as assisted by Mrs. Wayne Mc Namara of Mt. Prospect. "Young Christians" is a junior high girls' ensemble directed by Mrs. Paul Tidemann of Niles, with the assistance of Mrs. Mc Namara.

Symphony Concert Nov.3

The first concert of the Northwest Symphony Orchestra for the 1968-69 season will be held Nov. 3 at 3:30 p.m. at the Maine West High school auditorium, 1755 S. Wolf rd., Des Plaines. This is the second year in a row that the Northwest Symphony is presenting concerts at all three Maine Township High schools.

At the Nov. 3 concert, Perry Crafton, founder and conductor of the orchestra for the past 17 years, will combine his talent with Margaret Okimoto, a brilliant young pianist who has given many solo recitals and has recently appeared on Artist's Showcase television program. Miss Okimoto will perform Rachmaninoff's "Variations on a Theme of Paganini".

In addition to the piano concerto the orchestra will also play the Concerto Grosso #2 by Corelli-Geminiani which will feature three members of the orchestra in solo performances: Robert Johnson, concertmaster; Dr. William Heller, principal second violinist; and Mrs. John R. Schwenke, principal cellist. The Concerto Grosso was arranged by Geminiani for orchestra from a sonata originally written for violin and piano by his friend and teacher, Corelli.

Interestingly, both men were violin virtuosos of their day.

Also on the program will be selections from two of Wagner's operas, the "Prelude and Love Death" from "Tristan and Isolde" and the Introduction to Act III from "Lohengrin".

Season tickets, $6.00 for four concerts, may be purchased at the box office or by contacting Mrs. Richard P. Stover at 823-4438. Individual tickets are $2.00; student admission is $1.00 and children under 12 will be admitted free if accompanied by an adult.

"OH MY ACHING BACK"

This was a familiar saying born in the war years of the 40's, and as you might guess was not necessarily a physical complaint.

On the other hand, an aching back is actually no joking matter. Once the 30-year mark is passed, degeneration of spinal discs and a weakening of the ligaments joining the vertebrae may cause an unstable spine. This adds up to no small amount of pain and discomfort.

Avoid unnecessary back strain by sitting straight and sleeping straight. Instead of bending over completely to pick up something, bend the knees and lean forward from the hips.

It's a fact... you'll experience no strain at all when you bring your prescriptions to BIRCHWAY DRUGS. Seriously, we take pride in filling prescriptions efficiently and excitingly. Use 647-8337 to call in your next prescription, or better yet, drop it off at 7503 Milwaukee Ave.

Aid For Students At Remedial Learning Centers

Diagnostic and Remedial Learning Centers for Maine Township, sponsored by Township High School Dist. 207 and operating under a Title III-ESEA grant, are well into the second year of meeting the needs of youngsters in the Maine Township area having learning problems.

The Centers, under the direction of Dr. Thomas V. Telder, are designed to identify the students working below capacity, diagnose the problems limiting their achievement, and prescribe remedial work to bring them up to their potential. Services ranging from special classroom help to complete multi-disciplinary diagnosis is offered all public and parochial students in the township.

Remedial Learning Centers have been set up at Maine South High school and at certain "pilot" schools in each of the three participating elementary school districts (Districts #62, #63 and #79.) These Remedial Centers are staffed by teacher consultants, reading specialists and learning disabilities teachers.

At the Mark Twain school's Remedial Learning Center in Dist. #63, Mrs. Judith Graham is the teacher consultant. Working with her are Mrs. Jean Rothbaum, language specialist, and Mrs. Shirley Schechtman, learning disabilities teacher. Mrs. Mary K. Newman is the Junior High school teacher consultant at East Maine Junior High school.

The Remedial Learning Center at Maine South High school has three reading specialists working with Don Wixted, teacher consultant. They are: Mrs. Laura Johnson, Mario Campanaro and Richard Dervin.

In addition to the Remedial Learning Centers at the "pilot" schools, there is a Diagnostic Center located at 33 S. Prospect ave., Park Ridge. Directed by Dr. Telder, it is staffed with a social worker, itinerant teacher, psychologist and psychiatrist. Here, the student with a more complex learning disabilities problem can be provided with a comprehensive, multi-disciplinary diagnosis for a more extensive evaluation.

Personnel of the Diagnostic and Remedial Learning Centers provide in-service training to teachers and other educational personnel to make them more able to recognize and work with the child having learning difficulties. The Centers also provide an information and advisory service for parents, to insure their understanding and receive their cooperation in aiding the child with learning disabilities.

Another function of the Centers is to identify and provide remedial work to help reclaim the potential dropout who almost invariably has learning difficulty in communication skills.

N.D. Dons "Cream" Carmel Corsairs 21-7

By Steve Siles

Notre Dame creamed Carmel's Corsairs last Sunday at Mundelein in a 21-7 contest. ND soared past the Corsairs for 13 first downs to Carmel's 7, and also succeeded in racking up 271 yards offensively against 198 of Carmel's.

The battle seesawed back and forth as both teams literally fumbled their way through the first quarter. Finally, Gary Lund climaxed a 52-yard TD drive by scoring for the Dons on a 2-yard plunge with 5:26 left in the half. John Sheehan made the conversion to put the score at 7-0 in favor of the Dons.

St. Norbert Beats Brebeuf Squad Third Debate

St. Norbert of Northbrook won its sixth consecutive game as the team beat a spirited St. John Brebeuf squad, 26-6. General opinion among coaches is the St. Norbert team is the strongest in the northshore football league.

St. John trailed at the half by a score of 7-6. It was a grueling game for the first two periods as the Warriors played with a tremendous amount of desire. Joey Heldcamp scored the Warriors touchdown on a five-yard gallop off tackle. The second half was all St. Norbert as the physically strong team from Northbrook was hard to contain.

This has been a rebuilding year for the St. John football team and things are looking up because the JV team is undefeated. Last year the Warriors

Automated Lawn Care Is His Specialty

Automated lawn care has finally arrived in the north-west suburban area.

According to Eugene R. Amado, who was recently awarded a franchise by the Lawn-A-Mat Chemical & Equipment Corp. of Mineola, New York, he is now fully staffed and equipped to provide the same low-cost, labor and time saving lawn care service that has been a boon to thousands of homeowners throughout the country.

Amado will use the same equipment and methods developed almost 10 years ago by the national company and now employed by approximately 125 local affiliated service centers in some 20 states.

"The secret of Lawn-A-Mat's success is automation," Amado said. "With our Rube Goldberg-like mechanical combine, we can do in a half hour what 10 experienced hand gardeners could not accomplish in half a day. Our equipment aerates, rolls and distributes seeds and the right amount of the right chemicals - at the right time of year, faster and more accurately than is humanly possible. Our claim is that we do all the work at a price that the homeowner would pay if he bought the necessary materials himself."

"Most homeowners, even when they buy the right materials and know when to put on their lawns, simply do not have the equipment and know how to do the job properly," Amado added. "As a result, most of this investment is lost and the homeowner continues the same futile battle year after year without building the attractive lawn he wants."

Eugene Amado

Amado pointed out that Lawn-A-Mat does not grow grass. "Only nature can do that," he said. "We simply do all the things that are recommended by local governmental horticultural authorities for this area that will create the ideal conditions for the lawn to grow in a healthy manner. As a matter of fact, we will guarantee our work if our program is followed."

For information and free literature call Amado at 965-0500 any time, 7 days a week.

Nilehi Board News

A policy statement providing students with the opportunity to do independent study for credit was approved recently by the board of education of the Niles Township High Schools. The purpose is to give the exceptionally motivated student an opportunity to study beyond the normal course offerings of the school district under professional guidance. According to School Superintendent Szuberla, this policy provision provides for a major step forward in the individualization of instruction for Niles Township students.

A means of achieving the school district's objectives of developing each student to his maximum potential, the new policy permits a student to apply two credits earned for independent study projects toward graduation. No more than one credit for independent study can be earned in any given semester.

Other guidelines under which the new policy is to be implemented are:

- the proposed course of independent study must meet all standards for such credit as prescribed by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary schools,

- all independent study for credit shall be under the guidance of a teacher-advisor,

- all plans for independent study for credit shall be subject to the approval of the superintendent, upon recommendation from the divisional principal and the department head concerned,

- approval of independent study programs will be contingent upon the district's ability to support such efforts, in terms of personnel, space and resources for independent research,

- A supervisor for the school district's new computer center was also approved by the school board, William Lanning, who has his bachelor's degree in accounting from Northern Illinois university, will assume his duties Oct. 21. An IBM 1401 computer is expected to be installed by mid-November. Lanning will be directly responsible to Dr. Merton Haynes, assistant superintendent for administrative services.

In other matters, the board of education asked the administration to take a further look at school rental fees; heard that Roland Moore, Sam Turlel, and Mrs. Shirley Paradise were elected chairman, vice-chairman and secretary, respectively, of the board's Citizens Advisory committee after Dr. Walter Kramer, former chairman, resigned; heard the superintendent report the district's continuing efforts to keep up with the latest materials in the teaching of Afro-American history; approved a revised policy on professional travel; and approved the lease of a Link trainer for the district's new course in aeronautics.

Articulation Meeting Today

Over 60 school principals, administrative members and guidance directors from the three Maine High schools, junior high schools and all elementary schools in the area will attend a luncheon conference on Thursday, Oct. 24 at noon, at the Seven Eagles Restaurant in Des Plaines for the purpose of exchanging ideas on Maine procedures for freshmen registration.

According to Merlin W. Schultz, coordinator of Pupil Personnel Services for Dist. 207, over 3,000 freshmen are expected to enter the three Maine high schools in September, 1969. School officials are most anxious to provide for a smooth transition of these students from junior high schools and elementary schools - both public, parochial and private - into the Maine system.

Those attending the luncheon will hear a brief review of present procedures and will be given an opportunity to suggest any changes that might improve matriculation.

Center Dahl, Des Plaines, chairman of the Speakers' Bureau of the proposed Niles-Maine Junior college, will be a special speaker at the luncheon. He will present the challenge for a junior college in the Niles-Maine Township area - a timely topic for both public and parochial elementary and secondary schools because of the effect it may have on the education of all Township students in the future. Citizens of Maine and Niles Township will be asked to vote on the junior college proposal probably early next spring.

Also to be discussed will be the Differential Aptitude Tests which will be given in February to all students who plan to enter one of the Maine High schools next Fall.

Local Merchants' Taxes Improve Our Community

Of course you look for and find bargains in quality merchandise when you shop locally, but did you know you are also really investing in our community too? Your neighbor-merchants' taxes support civic improvements and help finance schools and recreational facilities right where you live. It pays, in many ways, to shop at home!

Time and Transportation Costs are Saved

Instead of wasting time traveling to distant stores, the wise shopper puts that time to use in a more careful selection from the large varieties carried by our local merchants. The money saved on transportation is put to better use too — on the items themselves. Every day it will pay to shop right here at home!

Your Merchants Are Your Own Neighbors

It's mighty nice to know that the merchant you deal with is probably one of your own neighbors. You feel you can trust him and he is eager to maintain that trust. He is anxious to please you in a personal way — to give you quality products at the lowest possible price. "Yes," you'll say, "it really does pay to shop here at home!"

Maine, Niles Junior College Study Groups Merge, Name Officers, Plan Nov. 7 Meeting

The Maine and Niles Junior College Study Committees became one group Tuesday evening Oct. 10 when the Maine group and the Niles study group officially merged. "The two groups will now act and function as one unit," stated Griff MacDonald, co-chairman of the Maine-Niles Junior College Study Committee. "All the committees will now be co-chaired," he went on to say, "thus carrying the individual incentive of junior college out to become the local incentive."

Stephen Loska, Des Plaines, active in the Maine study group since its inception approximately one and one half years ago and presently a member of the speakers' bureau, outlined the backgrounds of the two study groups. He told of how after much study and research by the Maine group, they came to the conclusion that the best course to take would be to join in with Niles to form a junior college district. Niles had just broken ties with the North Shore Junior College Study Committee.

Mr. Loska told the group that we had been given informal approval from the Illinois Junior College Board in Springfield to move forward in our attempt to establish a junior college. The feasibility study has been submitted to the board and petitions with signatures of citizens of the Maine and Niles townships favoring a junior college were presented to the monthly meeting of the board, Friday, Oct. 11. (500 signatures were required, but approximately 2,000 signatures were obtained.)

"Is a Junior College for Maine and Niles townships in the realm of possibility?" asked Ray Nelson, co-chairman of the Maine-Niles Junior College group. "I think it is," he continued. Mr. Nelson went on to tell the group, "our talk is to see that the citizens of the two townships know the facts and hence make a wise decision to vote for a junior college."

Organizing the citizens of the two townships through committees was the next step on the agenda.

The Research and Survey Committee will be chaired by Randall Rayborn, Des Plaines and Dr. George Gillyu, Morton Grove. This committee will act as a fact-finding body and disperse information on junior college to the other committees in the group, such as the speakers' bureau and the brochure committee, etc.

The Speakers' Bureau will be manned by Mrs. Genter Dahl, Des Plaines and Mrs. Marilyn Perkowsky, Skokie. Performing speaking engagements on the junior college to local organizations and civic groups in the area will be the work of this group.

The co-chairman of the Brochure Committee will be Genter Dahl, Des Plaines and Thomas Koerner, Niles. Their job will be a public relations one — getting the message across to the voters in the form of a brochure ten days to two weeks before the referendum ballot. Hopefully, if all is approved by the Illinois Junior College Board, this will be possible in March 1969.

Richard Cronin, Des Plaines, will chair the Industry and Business Committee. He outlined his process of enlisting the aid of business and industry in the two townships...service and finance wise. Industrial concerns and businesses in the area will greatly benefit from a junior college because they will be able to employ people better trained for a job, be it vocational, technical, secretarial, etc.

The Publicity Committee will be headed by Mrs. Arthur R. Weiss, Des Plaines and Mrs. Elizabeth Petroski, Skokie. This group will relate the news and progress the junior college is making through the news media in the two townships.

Mrs. Betty Golder, president of the Skokie Valley PTA council, will, along with her committee, help present the facts about junior college through PTAs, Newsletters, telephoning, brochures, will be helping hands on this committee.

A series of lectures intended to educate the public about the junior college movement in Illinois and more specifically in Maine and Niles townships will be offered. The first meeting will be held on Thursday evening, Nov. 7 at 7:45 p.m. at the Park View school, 6200 W. Lake st., Morton Grove. For further information contact Griff MacDonald, 825-7316 or Ray Nelson, 966-4216.

Down At The Water Works

Martin Salernio, Niles Water Plant supervisor, (center) recently conducted an educational tour of the Niles Water Pumping Station and Reservoir for the 7th grade students from St. Juliana school. The students observed the electric and diesel pumps in operation and they learned about the chlorination and recording instruments. Any school interested in touring the Pump Station can contact the Public Works at 647-8565.

Karen Pierce Winner Of Poster Contest

Karen Pierce, a sophomore from Morton Grove, has been named this year's winner of the Maine East Mothers' club Antique Show poster contest. The art department of Maine East High school judged the contest and there are silk screening copies of the winning poster for display in the Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Morton Grove, Niles and Glenview business districts. "Karen's colorful and attractive design will do much to advertise the Annual Antique Show," commented Mrs. H. L. Glover, general chairman.

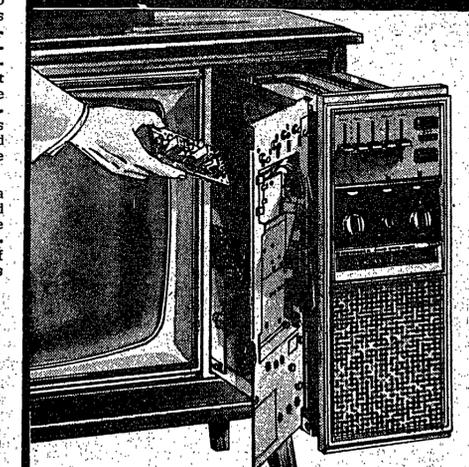

The Fifth Annual Antique Show and Bake Sale will be held Nov. 1, 2 and 3 in the high school cafeteria, Dempster st. and Porter rd. in Park Ridge. Twenty dealers from Illinois and nearby states will display and sell a wide variety of merchandise, ranging from jewelry to furniture. Fresh home-baked goods, donated by the mothers of Maine East students, will be for sale each day. Tickets will be available at the door — $1.00 for adults, $.50 for students — and all profits will be used to help worthy students further their education. The Mothers' club Scholarship Fund, which last year raised $5,700, is supported primarily by this endeavor although club dues and donations from other school and community groups are also included in the fund. Membership in the club for this year is still open.

learn three things: you don't own the school district, people are the electors and you must report to them and account to them for your actions and we, the people, are entitled to be responded to as far as our wishes are concerned. What you do must be for the benefit of the children."

Informing the board he is tired of ad hoc committees for everything that comes up in the district and there will be an organization of parents to watch the school board, he continued, by stating "I charge that when this board finally got around to soliciting bids for school buses for our children, no legitimate bus operator could possibly do anything with the application for a bid. There was nothing in the specifics about complying with state safety laws."

The BUGLE last week carried an article outlining the school board and administration reply to prior Stein charges.

After Stein had concluded his presentation, board president William Gurolnick stated "in due time we'll respond to various points made by Mr. Stein but there are a few items to be answered tonight. We welcome police and state investigation of all buses we have passed state safety inspection; if the school district were to provide bus transportation we would have to institute a transportation tax; "no standing" signs have been installed in the buses; your executive session allegations are pure conjecture and Pecore Bus Co. rents space in the junior high school parking lot from the school district. It is not donated."

It was later brought out Pecore pays about $1,000 a year for this rental.

Board member Gordon Kopald, who has served with the group longer than any other member, told Stein and the audience the following: "Seven

"B" Day Coming Up!

A variety of Christmas gifts, stocking fillings, ornaments and handmade articles will be available, plus a bake sale — cakes, cookies and a host of other goodies will be awaiting you Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 26 and 27, at the Niles Art Gallery, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., at 318 Lawrencewood shopping center, Waukegan and Oakton sts.

Ballard PTA Fun Fair

Ballard PTA all-school Fun Fair will be held tomorrow (Friday) evening from 5 to 8 p.m., and all day Saturday, Oct. 26 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the school, 8320 Ballard rd., Niles.

There will be 8 booths, a continuous cartoon show, handmade paper flowers, Christmas tree ornaments and ceramics, a clown selling balloons and a Pickpocket Lady. Game tickets, to be sold at the door, will be 10 cents each and admission to the fair is free.

Then it was the turn of Henry Emanuel, 9117 Emerson, Des Plaines, who also spoke out against the bus overcrowding but "respectfully urged immediate action by the board."

"Should an accident occur and my child be hurt, there would not be enough money anywhere to repair the damage," Emanuel told the board in his plea. "If the school district is responsible for the safety of the children, portal to portal, then action on the overcrowded buses must be taken at once."

Board member Sylvia McNair suggested "let's investigate the adequacy of the laws" and the meeting was adjourned to executive session to discuss personnel.

Other actions taken at the Tuesday night meeting will be reported in the next issue of the BUGLE.

LWV: Is There A Case Against Con Con?

(Editor's note: This article is the fourth in a series of five developed by the League of Women Voters of Illinois to explain the proposal to hold a constitutional convention in Illinois. A call to the convention will be presented to the voters for their decision on Nov. 5. The issue will be printed on a blue ballot to stress its importance.)

IV. IS THERE A CASE AGAINST CON CON?

There has been remarkably little opposition to the calling of a constitutional convention for Illinois. Part of the reason for this is that so many groups and individuals are supporting CON CON because they are convinced that amendment by the piecemeal method is a dead end road. We are now so far behind in making needed changes that only a constitutional convention really has a chance to do the job to save Illinois from a fate worse than Michigan's. (You will recall that Michigan's CON CON was held in desperation as the state tottered on the verge of bankruptcy.)

The careful voter, before making a decision, tried to look at both sides of an issue and will quite legitimately ask, "Is there a case against CON CON?"

While we are convinced that the case FOR CON CON far outweighs the arguments which might be raised against it, it is proper to look at the few objections which have been raised.

First, let's lay to rest the opinion which says that a constitution is sacred and can't be changed. The federal constitution has earned this reputation by its ability to respond to changes. State constitutions were written with greater detail and more restrictions. They age fast and should have an opportunity to cover the age marks, with some new makeup occasionally. Unfortunately, the Illinois Constitution hasn't been to the beauty shop for a touch-up or even to the doctor for a prescription in some time. Illinois residents of 1870 designed the Constitution; residents of 1968 can see room for improvement.

Some critics express fear of the constitutional convention itself. They say it's dangerous to open the door to changes, to give power to delegates, to do more than consider an occasional amendment once in a while. The constitutional convention is one of two ways provided in the Illinois Constitution for making amendments. In earlier days, a constitutional convention was held quite often; the people thought it was a good idea to get delegates together for some high level work to improve basic government. CON CON is a time-honored American method.

Suppose we voters fall down on the job and elect delegates who don't do a good job? This is unlikely—we generally do pretty well with our choices at the polls. But if it should happen and we do get suggested changes we don't like, then we simply turn them down at the polls. For all recommendations will be submitted to the people when the convention finishes its work. And don't believe the version that says it will be easy to vote in a new constitution. That will be a harder job than calling the CON CON in the first place, for people are cautious about change and are going to be pretty choosy about what they approve.

Some people will say, "Why bother to hold CON CON if the people won't adopt the recommendations?" There are two answers to this. If CON CON produces good ideas, and for some reason these solutions are turned down, we still haven't lost. People will have been exposed to the discussions and will know a lot more about state government. And the best ideas are convertible into amendments which might have a chance to pass individually because the need for them will be better understood.

Defeat of a good constitutional revision would be a blow. However, the convention delegates may decide to profit by experiences in other states and submit controversial issues separately.

There are always critics of cost. We don't want to waste money either, but we see no figures in the estimates of convention expense that comes close to the $6 million which the state spends every day. Viewed only as an investment in education for the people, CON CON would be worth every cent of the $2-$4 million which seems to be a reasonable estimate of the cost of a convention.

Individually, we are all legitimately concerned with the recommendations which will come from CON CON. We don't expect to like every one of them. That's why we hold CON CON—to work out some compromises, find some middle roads, reach agreements. A constitution has to be taken as a whole, not voted down because it permits an income tax which may never be levied, or gives the governor some authority to act like the administrator we expect him to be, or says that Chicago has special problems. It ought to be judged, finally, on how well it provides a framework and guidelines to a legislature which is the group that ought to be making the laws.

There are those who fear the convention will be dominated by special interest groups. This is unlikely unless the voter shirks his responsibility to see that qualified delegates are nominated and to know the candidates before voting.

In a prior article, we expressed confidence that the people will elect good convention delegates. On the other hand, special interest groups will have every opportunity to be heard. They, along with many interested persons, may contribute good ideas for consideration by the convention committee.

This quotation from the report of the 1967 Constitution Study Commission seems to sum it up:

"In arriving at its decision to recommend the calling of a constitutional convention, the Constitution Study Commission discussed and considered fully the possible disadvantages of this method.

"Objectors have suggested that the Constitution does not need total revision and therefore should not be opened to a complete evaluation; that undesirable provisions might occur because of the immaturity of the task of revision; that major changes will lead to masses of implementing legislation; that a convention runs the risk of being controlled by a group with special interests; that a convention is not a cure-all, and that the convention will be costly.

auto motivation

By Tom True

There were really some "Hungry Ones" at Ron Sullivan's Golf-View Dodge formal opening "Shindig"... There were 600 pieces of cake served and over 80 gallons of coffee used... for which Ron is very thankful and greatly pleased... as Golf-View sales manager John Romano expressed it, "We would have been happy to serve twice the number..." Any way you care to look at the dealership... it is a "GOOD ONE"...

Speaking of good food and good company, the Mrs. and I stopped at the Inn Towne last Saturday and had luncheon with Mr. and Mrs. Don Gafke of Niles who were the "Gaper Prize" winners enjoying their weekend... Omer Mathison, the manager of the fabulous resort motel, joined us for a very pleasant hour... The Gafkes were really enjoying every minute of their trip... which, by coincidence, was their 14th wedding anniversary.

I hear the sports car fans are taking up a collection for an alarm clock as a gift to Tom Linkins of Fronteras Motors... It seems Tom was sleeping at the start of his race in Milwaukee last Saturday and awakened in time to start a half lap late... Guess what... Tom ended up in 7th place just a half lap behind the leaders... For all the details... ask the boys at Fronteras!

If you sports car fans like to "drool"... Take a look at the creation from "outer space" on the showroom floor at Montgomery Olds... You'll see the "reddest", "sleekest", "sportiest" 442 convertible you've ever laid eyes on... Which brings to mind the fact there are more and more "mature" people turning to the sports car field, with Ford, Chevy, American Motors all turning out beauties, you cannot expect the desire to own one would not become widespread...

In closing... I am working up another free weekend contest with my dealers. Details will be announced soon. See you next week.

FAST USE THE WANT ADS FAST

NOTICE

Attention Job Applicants—The Bugle, Publishing Co. does not knowingly accept Help-Wanted ads from employers covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act if they offer less than the legal minimum wage or fail to pay at least time and one-half for overtime hours. The minimum wage for employment covered by the FLSA prior to the 1966 Amendments is $1.60 an hour with overtime pay required after 40 hours a week. Jobs covered as a result of the 1966 Amendments require $1.15 an hour minimum with overtime pay required after 42 hours a week. For specific information contact the Wage and Hour Office of the U. S. Department of Labor, Room 732, 219 S. Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill. 60604.

IMPORTANT

After an ad has been ordered and type set it cannot be cancelled before publication without charge. An ad may be cancelled after an insertion has been made but will be billed according to the original order. REPORT ERRORS AT ONCE. We are responsible for only that portion of the advertisement which is incorrect. This newspaper reserves the right to revise, place, edit, reject and classify a classified ad submitted for publication.

The 1964 Civil Rights Law prohibits, with certain exception, discrimination because of sex. Since some "occupations" are considered more attractive to persons of one sex than the other, advertisements are placed under the Male or Female columns for convenience of readers. Such listings are not intended by this newspaper to exclude persons of either sex.

HICCUPS
Practically everyone experiences an attack of hiccups at one time or another. While ordinary hiccups are not considered a medical problem and usually subside of their own accord, you may obtain faster relief with such remedies as sipping water, breathing deeply, holding your breath, or deep exhaling and inhaling into a paper bag. If hiccups persist for protracted periods of time, consult your physician.

SCHOOL SAFETY

Impress upon your child - especially smaller children - the importance of observing all safety precautions during the school year. Parents should instruct their children on the proper crossing of streets and intersections. Crossing guards are stationed there for the child's protection and should be obeyed. Other safety reminders should cover proper deportment on the school bus and the rules of bicycle safety.

In Niles incumbent Nick Blase, who once told us he would not seek a 3rd term, will be tough to defeat, since he has a well-oiled machine which works in township politics and which can deliver a great number of votes for its candidate.

Niles trustees Bavaro, Peck and Wente will end their present terms of office next Spring and all have either run or been selected by Blase.

In the last elections in both towns the great disadvantage the outs had in competing with the incumbents was their lack of knowledge of what is going on at the village halls. In both towns, then as now, the candidates begin to attend village meetings 6 months before election time, having disregarded the action the previous 3-1/2 years. They'll then gather some small bones of contention and spend much energy spinning their wheels in a cause which lacks substance.

In Morton Grove the stranglehold the present officials have on village offices due to their all belonging to the same party makes it unlikely any of the incumbents will compete for office with any other incumbents. The name Leroy Guntner occasionally is bandied about as a possible Mayor candidate but the Buglebird has been told Mayor Schreiber will seek office again which would end Guntner's ambitions.

In Niles the strongest competitor to Blase 3 years ago, Ken Scheel, is now part of the official family, being acting village manager, eliminating much opposition to a 3rd term by the man who said he would never seek a third term.

The one Niles trustee who has all the qualifications for making a fine Mayor is Keith Peck, a very bright guy, who shies away from any headline-making. While it probably has never crossed Keith's mind, he has all the weapons for heading a ticket in April. And a next door neighbor of Keith's former trustee Len Szymanski, and perhaps park commissioner Jack Leske when joined together could give a fresh whiff of independent thinking in Niles which is an ever-ending need.

New ideas, freedom from business conflicts, time for a change, freedom from township politics and a time for the new non-aligned politics are all possible stepping stones which could move new people into the village halls. Two terms is long enough to serve and new people should bring new light to our communities.

This is what we believed 8 years ago and the years in Niles proved this to be true. There's no reason to believe the next 8 years in both towns wouldn't benefit from new faces and leadership.

Reschedule Caucus Meet

The meeting of the East Maine Township General Caucus, originally scheduled for Oct. 23 has been rescheduled for next Wednesday, Oct. 30, at 8 p.m. in room 221 of East Maine Junior High School, Ballard and Greenwood, Niles.

This meeting will be a last ditch attempt to save the caucus. According to chairman Jerry Maller, since no new officers were elected last year, this special meeting has been called to do that job as well as attempt to get the Caucus off the ground again.
