Candlelight Dinner Playhouse Zoning Approved

By Naomi Krone
News Editor

It's official, almost.

As of the Niles Village Board of Trustees meeting Tuesday night, Niles will have a Candlelight Dinner Theatre North and the Olympic Estates subdivision at Oakton and Milwaukee.

At the meeting the board approved rezoning of the entire parcel of land, presently zoned B1. The front parcel of land, facing Milwaukee ave., where the playhouse will stand has been rezoned to B2. Frontage on Milwaukee will be about 489.62 feet. The rear parcel of land, where the single family dwellings will be constructed, requires an R2 rezoning, also granted. Amount of land available for homes is 570 by 358.87 feet. With a 50-foot dedication, this allows for approximately 22 lots.

The bone of contention between the rezoning was granted, and delight was the necessity of installing a deceleration lane on Milwaukee as the theatre was being built. Tr. Keith Peck wanted the village traffic engineer to make a study of possible traffic hazards at the Milwaukee-Oakton site before board approval. However, the rezoning was finally granted contingent upon the signing of a contract between the village and the theatre owners that all principals would make a traffic check within a year after the theatre is in operation and if a deceleration lane is deemed advisable, such would be installed by the theatre owners.

The B2 rezoning approval hinges upon the signing of that agreement.

At a cost of $700,000, the theatre will provide seating for 720 people, attendant parking, a fireproof building and 8 weekly shows. The theatre will be closed every Monday.

More than $5,000 in college scholarship money will be awarded to the winner. And her

PASS #207 TAX HIKE

A record number of voters went to the polls last Saturday to cast their vote in the case of the Dist. 207 proposed Education Fund tax levy. The proposal to increase that fund's tax levy ceiling by 21¢ (in its 3rd attempt at passage) was approved 6,673 to 4,067. Total vote has been tallied at 11,375.

Here is a breakdown of the precinct totals:

Yes No
(1) Maine West 2071 1724
(2) Maine East 2393 1231
(3) Maine South 2209 1712

The Educational Fund tax rate will be increased from $1.42 to $1.63 for each $100 of assessed valuation and the money will be used to meet the costs of an ever-increasing student population and to provide the Dist. 207 board with funds to pay for teachers salaries, supporting materials and supplies.

Search For Illinois Junior Miss Begins Dec. 30

If you don't have your ticket for the Illinois Junior Miss Pageant yet, you are not only doing a disservice to your community, but you are cheating yourself from seeing three nights of marvelous entertainment.

The search for Illinois Junior Miss of 1969 begins the week of Dec. 30 and concludes the night of Jan. 4. There are three public performances - the nights of Jan. 2, 3 and the finals on the 4th, all held at the Mill Run Playhouse in the Golf Mill Shopping Center, Niles, Illinois.

Thirty of the most outstanding high school girls from Illinois will compete in the pageant hosted by the Junior Miss Commission of Niles and sponsored by Chevrolet Division of General Motors, Kraft Foods Company and Chicago's American.

The American Majority, one of the most exciting singing groups in the country will perform at all three public performances. The group thrilled Niles when it performed here on the Fourth of July.

court of runners-up. The winner will advance to Mobile, Ala. in May to compete for the title of America's Junior Miss.

Now, why should you attend the Pageant? The reason is good. Since last Spring the Village has been known as the Youth Capital of Illinois and Home of the Illinois Junior Miss Pageant. Leading members of the village invested a lot of time and money on this project and all eyes will be on Niles the night of Jan. 4 as the new winner is selected.

And, if that isn't reason enough, let it be said that you'll miss a tremendous three nights of entertainment. For instances:

With the long Holiday Season approaching, let's talk about --- FAT --- With all the goodies coming up for Christmas and New Years (both food and beverage) I won't even presume to suggest diets or dieting. During this season of the year too many of us find we are long on appetite and short on exercise and will-power...

For those who are on a diet at the present time, I might offer this simple solution --- eat and drink (since you will anyway) but only half what you normally would. Have a good Holiday Season, but don't let it take up permanent residence on your tummy or hips...

Breakfast With Santa

Northwest Suburban Chapter #168 and Lake County Chapter #247 of Parents Without Partners, Inc., spent Sunday morning, Dec. 8, 1968 having breakfast with Santa Claus at Honey Bear Farm, Powers Lake, Wisconsin. ### Fit For America

The January end theme of Fit for America was discussed at the Dec. 5 roundtable at the Oakton school. The home-den project is to work on fitness devices, body-building exercises and games. Jerry Anderson, 7449 Waukegan rd., Niles, was in charge while Ed Wades, 1317 Carol, Park Ridge, and pack 107 handled the pre-opening; Ted Plata, 1803 S. Crescent, Park Ridge, and pack 252 had the opening and closing; and Fred Studdfield, 1816 N. Norman, Park Ridge, and pack 52 gave the program.

The webelos scout den project for January, Athletic Activity Badge, was presented by Hugh Macdonald, 1212 S. Talcott, Park Ridge.

Eric Buck, 8155 N. Prospect, Niles, led the scoutmasters roundtable discussion of things scouts talk about. They like to improvise and construct their own tents or learn to cook without utensils and hike in the rain. Leaders encourage boys to go a step beyond rank requirements when passing first class cooking go a step more and pass the cooking merit badge, thereby tying in the January theme of Merit Badge Exploration.

All roundtables discussed the coming Scout Week, Feb. 7 through 13, with Feb. 9 Scout Sunday and suggested activities and displays for that time.

Board Approves Nilehi Adult Evening Courses

Several new courses to the Adult Evening program of the Niles Township High schools were approved last week by the district's board of education.

Of special appeal to women are International Cooking, Yoga for Women, Nursing Today and Women Under the Hood.

The course in nursing, which will focus on the scope, trend, and functions of modern nursing, is intended for the registered nurse who has been inactive in her profession. The classes in nursing, which will meet Tuesdays at Niles West for 12 weeks, are not designed to be prerequisite to returning to work, but are planned to revitalize the nurse's interest. Women Under the Hood is a non-technical course for the ladies wanting to know what to do when their cars stall. Topics to be covered in the Thursday class at Niles West will be tune-up, wheel adjustment and balancing, and lubrication.

Evening school classes conducted in the three Niles Township High schools will start Monday, Jan. 20. Brochures outlining more than 100 courses are expected to be in the mall to every home in Niles Township the last week of December or the first week of January.

Absence Of Key Players Hurting B-Ball Dons Record

By Steve Siles
The B-Ball Dons have shown a disappointing record thus far this season, mainly due to absences of key players.

After routing Quigley North in their first game of the season, the Dons went into the Argo Tournament, easily defeating their first two opponents with the aid of high-scoring forward John Kardzontak. But the Dons lost the deciding game of the Tourney to Argo, partly because Kardzontak was out with a back injury.

The following weekend, N.D. fell victim to arch-rival Holy Cross in their first conference game of the season, by a 71-58 score. It was even worse the next night when the Lions of St. Viator's romped over the Dons in a 74-53 game. But, on both nights, N.D.'s attack up the middle was considerably weak due to the absence of guard Gabriel Eaton, who was busy battling the flu.

The next week, however, Notre Dame had its full squad on hand to wallop the Driscoll Highlanders, a new member of the conference that is still suffering from growing pains. The final score stood at 92-30, enabling the Dons to break a previous record by one point, that of scoring the most points in a single game.

After the St. Francis and Montini games this weekend, the Dons host their annual Christmas Classic next week, which this year includes 8 teams representing 8 conferences. The schedule for the first two nights is as follows: Thursday, Dec. 26: St. Viator's vs. Rich East; followed by Ridgewood vs. Eisenhower. Friday, Dec. 27: Richard's vs. Farragut; followed by Elk Grove vs. Notre Dame. The play-offs for the Tournament will be held on Saturday, Dec. 28, and Monday, Dec. 30.

Heads "March"

Mrs. William S. Reid, 8314 Oriole ave., Niles, has been named area chairman of the annual "53-Minute March" on cerebral palsy according to Arthur Rubloff, chairman of the board of United Cerebral Palsy of Greater Chicago.

The "March", which will take place Sunday, Jan. 12, is so named because a child is born with cerebral palsy every 53 minutes. There are more than 24,000 children and adults with this crippling condition in the Greater Chicago area.

The Morton Grove Postmaster expressed the appreciation and thanks of his entire staff to all residents of Morton Grove who co-operated in the "Shop and Mail Early" campaign, and in their behalf extends "Best Holiday Wishes" to all.

Cook Telescopes Observing Stars

A complex astronomical observatory system designed and built by engineers and technicians of Cook Electric Company in Morton Grove, Ill., is observing selected stars from a satellite orbiting the earth every 100 minutes at an altitude of about 480 miles.

Electric's Tech-Center engineering staff, was project manager for the astronomical equipment and Ward J. Geffers, of Chicago, served as senior engineer for electronics. The satellite itself is 10 feet long and 21 feet wide with its

The satellite, known as the Orbiting Astronomical Observatory, was launched from Cape Kennedy on Dec. 7 and the Cook Electric equipment, which consists of five telescopes and two spectrometers, was turned on Dec. 11.

It immediately began sending back to ground stations in various parts of the world sensitive information about the chemical composition, temperature and density of the stars it was commanded to observe.

John H. Mangie, Cook president, said "we are pleased with the initial performance of our system and are confident it will contribute substantially to man's knowledge of the universe."

Cook Electric's equipment was produced by its Tech-Center Division for the University of Wisconsin as an essential part of a National Aeronautics and Space Administration experiment to provide astronomers with their first clear view of the universe from high above the earth's atmosphere.

An official at NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center, Greenbelt, Md., which is receiving the information from the orbiting satellite, said the OAO-2 "may prove as great a step forward in astronomy as was the invention of the telescope."

Observing the performance of the Cook equipment at the NASA center is Hugh H. Brown, of Cary, Ill., the company's field engineer for the project. He was present for the launch from Cape Kennedy.

Legion Selling Yule Trees

The Morton Grove Post 134 of the American Legion is conducting their annual Christmas tree sale in their Post Memorial Home parking lot, 6140 Dempster.

Scotch pines and spruces have been procured from the northern woods. Prices range from $5-$8. The hand picked trees are being sold for the Post's yearly gifts for the hospitalized yanks. The Legion Auxiliary group donate items hospitalized servicemen may "choose" for their families; the Legion posts give a gift to the serviceman at this holiday time approaching.

Chairman Tom Hettema, Sr., 5938 S. Park, reports his committee is only too happy to assist you in finding the perfect tree for your home or office. Hours on Saturday and Sunday are noon until 10 p.m.; and Mondays through Fridays, 5 p.m. until 10 p.m. You will be assisting a good cause and decorate your home at the same time.

For those who have artificial trees or who do not display this holiday type decoration, containers with the gifts to the hospitalized Yanks banner around it, will be found at many of the local businesses. If you care to make a donation into the container, it will be appreciated, as will be any checks sent to the Legion Home earmarked for this project.

"Finger-Licking" Success

Niles Public Library and the Golf Mill State bank share common interest Dec. 12 when Santa Claus sleighed from bank to the library to visit the boys and girls of the nursing reading group and attend their Christmas party. The party sponsored by the Friends of the Library and was a "finger licking success" - unfortunately, the photographer didn't arrive in time for the picture so that all the many guests could be photographed but the cameraman was able to catch a few of the youngest present. Pictured from l. to r. are: Mrs. R. Koll, Mrs. J. No Teddy Livorsi, Julie Shurson, Santa, Jill Obrachta, Raymond Shurs Jr. (held), Mrs. P. Bergeron, Gail Huebner and Mr. R. Koll designed all Christmas art work for children's room.

Nilehi Board News

Emergency closings of the three Nilehis this winter, when bad weather makes it necessary, will be reported on radio stations WIND, WMAQ, WGN and WEAW.

According to Schools Superintendent Charles Szuberla, emergency announcements concerning the closings of schools are normally made between 6 and 7:30 a.m.

With winter upon us and the possibility of heavy snows, the superintendent advises parents that these four radio stations will broadcast the official word on closings of the Niles Township High schools. He reminds parents that the high school district is not to be confused with elementary school districts in Niles Township. He said the high schools are often referred to as School Dist. 219.

The school switchboard is easily jammed when several hundred parents all try to call in at the same time, but this can be avoided if parents will listen to official announcements made on the four radio stations, he advised.

Information about drug abuse was mailed earlier this week to all parents of students attending the Niles Township High schools.

Distribution of the Handbook for Parents on Drugs and their Abuse, prepared and copyrighted recently by the National Council for Prevention of Drug Abuse, was made jointly by the high schools and the Skokie Youth Welfare Commission.

Superintendent Charles Szuberla said school officials appreciate the youth commission's financing the distribution of the handbook. Cooperation among the agencies serving the community as exemplified in this joint venture is necessary if the needs of communities are to be met, he said.

Superintendent Szuberla and Youth Commission chairman Russell Carr said in a cover letter to the parents that the handbook contained as fine a discussion of the matter as they had ever seen.

They indicated that parents have to have the facts on drug abuse if they are to confront it realistically. It is a problem which today's parents and educators cannot ignore, they said.

The handbook includes sections on "Some Shocking Facts," and "Myths About Dope."

Superintendent Szuberla, who has been in close communication with police officials about a few cases of drug abuse in the community, urged parents to discuss the facts with their families and their friends.

Bringing the subject into open discussion can help a community face the problem head-on, he advised, with the end result being the maintenance of the community's qualities.

Over 1500 dollars was raised by Niles West High school students and teachers in a week long drive from Nov. 4 to Nov. 15 to aid the Biafran people who have suffered so much deprivation and starvation as a result of the tragic civil war which is raging in Nigeria.

Under the co-sponsorship of the school's Art club and Senior Cabinet, a school wide auction and money collection was undertaken. The auction raised over 1100 dollars and the collection approximately 400 dollars.

Funds were donated to the Emergency Committee for Biafran Relief which has channeled the efforts of several philanthropic organizations in sending food, medical supplies, and health personnel to Biafra.

According to Mrs. Joan Macala, Senior Cabinet faculty sponsor, the Biafran drive "was the most successful and worthwhile moneyraising event ever held at Niles West. More students actively participated in it than in any other drive in the school's history."

Pamphlets containing basic information frequently asked by newcomers about the Niles Township High schools were distributed this week to sources having contact with people new to the communities of Skokie, Morton Grove, Niles, Lincolnwood and Golf.

On Dec. 20, WMTH will present its annual Christmas special.

The three Maine schools will each present their own holiday festivities beginning with Maine South's special on Thursday, Dec. 19 from 6 to 10 p.m. Within the four hours of the special interviews with the faculty, poems, Yuletide stories and music will be heard.

On Dec. 20, Maine West and Maine East present their specials, beginning with Maine West Distribution was made to 40 real estate offices in addition to chambers of commerce, libraries and home owner associations in the five villages comprising Niles Township.

The pamphlet outlines for newcomers a brief history of the Niles Township High schools and a short description of the kinds of educational facilities the three high schools have. Newcomers are also advised of school procedures relating to such things as transportation, length of school day, grade reporting and textbooks.

Organizations wanting copies of the pamphlet can obtain them from the school district's office of information services at 966-3800.

"Holiday Reunion, Class of '68" is the theme for this year's Niles West alumni visitation to be held on Thursday, Dec. 19.

At the gathering senior and junior students at West will have the opportunity to reunite with the alumni who graduated last June. Moreso, they will also have an opportunity to discuss and ask questions about their own college prospects next year.

WMTH Yule Special This Week

At 1:30 and continuing until 4:30. The special feature of the program will be a visit from the real live Santa Claus.

At 6 p.m. Maine East will begin its program which will continue until 10 p.m. Special features of the show will be the interviewing of the children of the faculty members of the Maine East, excerpts from this year's Messiah, presented by the Maine East choir and orchestra, holiday writings from the English students, and the Emerson and Lincoln Junior High Christmas music.

Students and faculty will be welcome at 7:30 p.m. in the school's auditorium. Then the participants will adjourn to the cafeteria where they will break up into smaller groups for a more intimate discussion of college life. Later in the evening music and refreshments will be provided in the student lounge area.

maze of information produced both for public consumption and for the countless specialized areas in the world of work," the booklet notes that, "No one will really be able to find his place in the 'new' world without considerable skill and ability in the use of information."

"Students coming from a school which provides only a few shelves of books with a deplorably small number of up-to-date nonfiction books, a few magazines and newspapers, and perhaps a pamphlet file, find it difficult to cope with the vast expanse of materials in the college library which they are expected to use in getting their education."

And it's for this reason that most school libraries across the country, not just the Stevenson Library, are working as quickly as possible to expand their resource offering and their concept of the functions of a school library.

"But there's a catch," Jack Cantor, principal of Stevenson school, says, "If the children don't want to go to the library, if it's not a place they enjoy, then you've already been defeated."

He and Mr. Mack consequently were concerned at the beginning of the year that the children would come to know the library as a place where they enjoyed spending their time.

"We were more concerned about this than simply running a taut library. You can always do that," Mr. Cantor explains. "But now that we know the children find pleasure in coming to the library, we are beginning to overlay a second pattern of behavior." Classroom teachers and Mr. Mack are more demanding about purposeful use of the library. "In other words," he explains, "no child is being allowed to simply sit and look at a filmstrip, he must have a definite purpose for doing so."

Individual children or groups of children come to the library when assigned or given permission by their teachers; the librarian may visit a classroom to tell a story in support of a lesson, etc.; or classroom teachers may bring an entire class to the library for group activities.

Either a teacher or the librarian is always aware, however, of a child's reason for visiting the library, and assists the child in finding proper materials.

The children are welcome in any area of the library. "We have no collections behind glass," Mr. Mack says, "in fact we're quite put out when a child is reluctant to handle equipment." Reason: educators of today know that learning is more meaningful when children are actively involved in gathering and processing data.

And it's not uncommon to see children checking out books. Even the youngest children receive instruction on operation of the checkout desk and later, opportunities to check out books for their fellow students. School librarians have discovered that this is one more way to increase the involvement (and the understanding) of children in library activities.

Perhaps most indicative, however, of the changes taking place in school libraries is the fact that silence is no longer an unquestioned virtue. "Quiet is good not to disturb the dust," Mr. Cantor says, "but not for children who need to learn how to learn. It may be good to go bury yourself in the basement of the Newberry Library, but only if you already know how to learn."

Educational research indicates, in fact, that children don't necessarily require silence to learn, (and sometimes just the opposite) unless to memorize which is the lowest level of learning—requiring no understanding. "But that's not surprising," Mr. Cantor notes. "We live in a world of noise."

Mr. Mack has noticed that the carpet also has a psychological influence upon actions of the children. "I really don't have to keep saying 'silence' because the formality of the carpet says it for me," he says.

Just as the services of the modern school library have expanded, so has the role of the school librarian. He is no longer just a keeper of records, but "an inquiry leader, a tutor, diagnostician and administrator of materials." Some 40 parents, organized by Mrs. Donna Farand, who work as volunteers in the Stevenson Library, give Mr. Mack the time he needs to fulfill these responsibilities.

Mr. Mack, who has both an M.A. as a teacher-librarian and six years teaching experience, assists the classroom teachers (both in the library and classroom) to plan lessons, to locate

Service Pins For Mrs. Tenny, Mrs. Jensen

A pin for 15 years of service at Ravenswood hospital Medical Center was awarded to Mrs. Ruby Tenny, 7625 Maple ave., Morton Grove, at the hospital's annual service awards dinner. A 10-year pin was given to Mrs. Lucille Jensen, 8328 N. Major, Morton Grove.

To accommodate all the employees receiving pins for at least 5 years of service, two awards dinner had to be planned at Ravenswood. A total of 850 years of service to Ravenswood had been accumulated by the employees honored at the awards dinner on Wednesday, Nov. 20. Harry Volkman, WGN radio and television meteorologist, was the guest speaker for the evening.

Henry Kutsch, executive director, distributed the newly designed pins to employees who had worked at Ravenswood for 10, 15, 20, 25, 30 or 35 years. Two employees received 35-year pins, one received a 30-year pin, three received 25-year pins, seven received 20-year pins and 17 earned 15-year pins. For 10 years of service, 37 pins were distributed.

The dinner on Wednesday was only half of the service awards program. A buffet luncheon the following afternoon was held to honor those employees who were to receive pins denoting 5 years of service. Henry Kutsch distributed 79 pins that afternoon following talks by Dr. Hugh H. Worsley, medical staff coordinator and William R. Hutchins, director of personnel.

structured and put into use. The adoption of the "middle school" concept will free rooms in both Golf Elementary and Hynes for some needed uses, for example, the enlargement of the library at Hynes.

Another Dist. 67 school board meeting is set for Thursday evening, Dec. 19, to explain the need and the plan to meet this need. All members of the public are invited to attend the meeting at 7:30 p.m. at Golf Junior High library. Some effort will be made at the meeting to provide cost estimates for the construction and equipping of the addition, said Supt. Stout. He also commented that the entire district will have more space, added program and improvement in existing program under the "middle school" plan.

New Drivers License Requirements

Both the social security number and the ZIP code will be required by law to be shown on all drivers license applications beginning Jan. 1, 1969, Secretary of State Paul Powell has reminded Illinois drivers.

Failure to include this information will make it necessary to return the application, resulting in inconvenience and delay for the applicant and increased postage expense for the state, Mr. Powell pointed out.

The requirements affects teenagers applying for instruction permits as well as adults applying for their first Illinois licenses or renewal of their current license, Secretary Powell said. Persons not currently having a social security number may obtain one from their nearest Social Security office, he said.

"The social security number is rapidly being used across the nation for purposes not directly connected with social security because it is probably the most accurate means of identification available," Mr. Powell said. "With the steadily increasing use of computers in such fields as motor vehicle titles, registration and driver licensing, the social security number provides much greater accuracy in cross reference filing of millions of records, and is of substantial help in preventing such things as revocation or suspension of the wrong person's license and obtaining licenses fraudulently," Secretary Powell said.

The law was amended by the last session of the General Assembly to require the social security number in order to enable Illinois to comply with Federal government requirements dealing with drivers' records, Mr. Powell said.

Use of the zip code makes it possible to deliver license expiration notices, drivers' license and license plates much faster.

By Tom True

Only a few more days to take advantage of my Christmas present for you! Remember, take the coupon listed below to any dealer... Make a deal for the car of your choice (new or used, except used only at Nugents and Norwood)... Then after the deal is made... use the coupon as $25.00, same as cash, toward your payment... If you are in the market for a car and find one you like, get the right deal... and then get $25.00 off... Well, who could ask for a better Christmas than that... of course... only Santa could do better!

In spite of the fact that the holidays are considered a "slow period" for the auto dealer... They do not lose their "spirit"... You will find beautiful Christmas decorations and soft Christmas music at nearly every dealership... As a matter of fact, some dealerships have most outstanding displays... At Nugent's Volkswagen there is one of the most amazing animated displays I have ever seen... Every parent should take the youngsters to see this fabulous display... There are several workers busy (actually animated) on a VW assembly line that moves in rotation, then comes to the end with a completed car with Santa in it, waving to the public.

Ron Sullivan at Golf-View Dodge has a beautiful display along with Norwood Ford, White and Cronen Ford, Jennings Chevrolet, Montgomery Olds, Buick in Park Ridge, and many others...

Congratulations to every one of you for your part in lending a little cheer and beauty to this wonderful time of the year... Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to one and all... I'll see you in 1969...

Chances R Coming To Suburbs

The first Chances R restaurant in the northern suburbs will open for business in late December at 10027 Skokie Blvd., in Skokie across from the Old Orchard shopping center. Chances R Skokie is the first Chicagoland franchise of Chances R Systems, Inc., a company formed to franchise on a national basis the famous name of the five existing Chances R restaurants in Chicago, Chicago, Ill., and Boyne City, Mich.

More than $150,000 will be spent in remodeling to transform the existing building into the new Chances R, modeled after the initial restaurant which enjoyed immediate and lasting success in the Old Town section of Chicago.

Extensive sandblasting and remodeling will create the informal, but elegant Victorian decor and family surroundings. Tiffany chandeliers will hang from the ceilings, and stained glass windows will decorate the interior. A new floor has been installed to withstand the "heavy peanut shell assault" of customers.

There will be a 285-seating capacity, including facilities for parties of up to 60 persons.

Steakburgers and draft beer in steins will be the specialties of the house, although there will also be fried chicken and shrimp on the menu as well as roast beef and corned beef sandwiches.

The restaurant's trademark, its free sautee-in-the-shell peanuts with the shells tossed on the floor, will complement the relaxed atmosphere-filled way of dining.

Chances R Skokie is owned by a stockholder group, although the operation itself is being created and managed by Chances R Systems, Inc. Richard H. Baldwin is the president and founder of the original Chances R and is also president of Chances R Systems. Baldwin indicated that Chances R Skokie is being created as an adult restaurant where children are most welcome.

By June of next year Chances R Systems expects to have additional restaurants under construction and operating in the midwest plus area franchises operating in major markets.

Chances R restaurants already include the Old Town site opened in 1961; south side sites in Harper Court and the River Oaks shopping center; Boyne City, Mich., and the first license site in Champaign, near the University of Illinois campus.

A number of prominent Chicago professional and businessmen are stockholders of Chances R Skokie, including: Ralph Falk, David B. Peck III, George E. Pfisterer, Jr., Dr. David W. Buck, William C. Douglas, Albert S. Lowe III and Henry A. Preston. Also Robert Soudan, Alphonse E. Soudan, Jr. and Frank E. Simpson.
