By Bud Besser

Because Cub Fever can be heard in the land, and because quite by chance we wandered into Wrigley Field's publicity office Monday, we thought a column dealing with the Cubbies might be of interest. Being a south side boy, and an inveterate White Sox fan, writing this column is an act of bravery, sort of like running thru an Iodine field with open wounds.

On the Clark street side of the ball park, about 75 yards north of Addison, there's a grey unmarked door which leads to the publicity department. Entering the "security room" it was first necessary to identify our reason for being there and then being "signed in" before we were escorted into the offices directly behind the guards' room.

Inside the outer office of the publicity department, a young teenager was opening letters addressed to Leo Durocher. She enclosed a form letter which was returned to the letter-writer. Nasty letters which are addressed to the Cubs' skipper, wind-up in the waste basket though we assumed they do not go answered. The young lady, Mary Hamberg, said Leo does read some of the letters, mostly those which are addressed "personally" to him. As of Monday Mary told us she had filled 6 grocery-cardboard boxes with Durocher letters, noting she was receiving from 50 to 100 letters a day.

Barney Sterling, who is the Cubs' official photographer, was the guy who provided us with the most information. He photographs them the next morning. He said a player who may be in a slump car alongside each other. Thus, a ball player who has been playing badly recently can compare yesterday's bat swing or pitching form with previous games. For instance Holtzman, whose no-hitter Tuesday indicated he was pitching at his best, will likely use Tuesday's game films when comparing other games in which he may have pitched a poor game. Likewise a hitter who was lunging at the ball Tuesday can watch the second screen which might show him when he was hitting well, stopping the film or viewing it in slow-motion to find flaws in his batting style.

Barney said he only takes game pictures since batting practice films are not revealing. He said the films are only for instructional purposes and are not released for public consumption. At the end of the season they're filed away, including films taken during Spring training as well as those taken of the Cubs' minor league players.

Interestingly, Barney noted he has never "found" (seen) a curveball, slider or fast ball, indicating his job of photographer can best be served if he does not get involved in the more technical aspects of the game. He implied, as the photographer, his job was to stand back dispassionately, recording on film what takes place.

Enemies Once --- Now Buddies

Camp Enari, Vietnam (4th Div 1st) - They were enemies, now they're "buddies."

A paradox? Not quite, for that statement is the essence of a new Famous Fighting Fourth Infantry Division program in which former enemy soldiers training to be Kit Carson Scouts are befriended by American soldiers, who in turn become their "big brothers" in the field.

Name the "Scout Buddy Program." American outlanders and Kit Carson Scouts are paired off at the division's Camp Enari training detachment in the last days of the scout's two-week training cycle.

Captain Gary Olsen, of Niles, a PSYOP's officer who was instrumental in bringing the program to the Famous Fighting Fourth Division, explained that the friendship idea was conceived by the Marine and Corps.

"We found that when a scout would go out to a unit prior to the Buddy program," the Captain explained, "his first contact they would have with their American comrades was in the field. He would be all by himself, totally new and totally alone. He wouldn't have a friend and no one else around who could speak his language."

All-Stars Win The Big One

In one of the most exciting games imaginable, Niles and Park Ridge played for the championship of the Niles Little League Tourney Saturday.

This was an extraordinary pitching duel between Dave Patterson of Park Ridge and Mike Walsh of Niles. Through the first 6 innings each pitcher gave up only 2 hits and no runs. Mike Walsh had struck out 12 and Patterson struck out 14. The 2 hits up to this point for Niles had been made by Mike Jerger and Dave Seher. The 2 hits for Park Ridge were made by Chuck Bellergrgen and John Havelor.

By the rules of the tournament no boy could pitch more than 6 innings in one game, so going into the 7th inning both teams had to change pitchers. Dave Seher entered for Niles and after giving a single to Dave Patterson, struck out 2 and retired the sides on a ground ball. With the score still tied going into the bottom of the 7th, John Havelor became Park Ridge's pitcher. Jeff Briers led off with an infield single and Mike Jerger walked. Art Huffman fouled out behind last base and Briers alertly tagged up and advanced to 3rd after the catch. Frank Stroka then came through with another infield hit as Jeff Briers crossed the plate with the only run and the winning run of the game.

This was another game where all the boys on the Niles team played exceptionally well. Pitched exceptionally well.

The Niles Rotary Wheels met last season's champs, the Bank of Niles team managed by Bill Dunlap, in a most exciting game at Greentown Heights. The Rotary team, managed by Ivy Wilava, got their revenge for an earlier loss of 11-0 on July 25 by beating them by a score of 11-4. The Bank of Niles team went out ahead by scoring 4 runs in the 1st inning on 3 singles and a triple by Diane Kaye. The Wheels scored 2 runs in the 2nd inning and tied the score when Carol Wilava hit a home run with Donna Willes on base. Seven more runs came in during the later innings, including a home run by Mary Ann Massary, giving the Rotary

Appropriations Total $316,200

NILES PARK DIST. OKS TAX LEVY

By Naomi Krone News Editor

Members of the Niles Park District board of commissioners Tuesday night passed its annual appropriations and tax levy ordinance which calls for the levying of a total of $316,200 to cover proposed expenses for the current but new fiscal year.

Expenses will include $101,050 for maintenance, $23,000 for improvements, $1,800 for salaries, $27,950 for clerical and administrative, $111,950 for all recreational purposes.

Commissioners Jack Leske and Ray Egan, chairman of the finance committee, along with the park district architect and Attorney Gabriel Barattolo plan to meet tonight, Thursday, in executive session to consider a revised projected budget.

In other business Tuesday night members of the park district board heard park director Barney McGill report sales of pool tokens this year total $15,000 and give the first report on a projected bike path program looking up Niles and the Forest Preserve District. It will run along the Chicago river to Touhy then down Milwaukee ave. over to East Maine Junior High school and then south once more. The $440 cost of setting up such a program would be defrayed by Niles. McGill now has approval of the park district board to meet with Niles village officials and proceed with more detailed work.

The board also heard Harold Hoelt, 7844 Octavia, Niles, representative of the Niles Senior Citizens, report the 5th anniversary of his group will be observed Sept. 18. Newly elected officers will also be installed at that time with Niles Park District board president Gerald Sullivan acting as installing officer. Hoelt proudly announced Tuesday night there are 160 members in his Senior Citizens group.

Oops... Wrong Way

In an unexpected bit of exterior redecorating, Birchway Drugs, 7508 Milwaukee, lost 2 panes of glass Monday morning in an unfortunate series of events. Mrs. John Busch, Park Ridge, who was bringing her husband home from the hospital, stopped at Birchway to have a prescription filled. Returning to her car she put the car in what she thought was reverse gear. Instead it was the drive gear and what happened next can best be seen in the above photo. Birchway's Wally Molyse estimates it will cost about $200 to replace the window.

Sisterhood of Maine Township Jewish congregation invites everyone to its "Membership Social" Wednesday, Sept. 3 at 8:30 p.m. It will be held in the congregation's auditorium, 8800 Ballard rd., Des Plaines.

Entertainment will be a skit written by Mrs. Marshall Saron, featuring Sisterhood members. Refreshments will be served and the dress is casual. For additional information contact Mrs. Hy Capsuto, membership vice-president, 827-7305 or Mrs. Al Goranson, president, 297-2922.

Tax Installment Due Sept. 2

The second installment of the 1968 real estate taxes covering property in Maine Township is now in collection at the office of Milton H. Tuttle, Township Collector. Tuttle's offices in the Citizens Bank Building in Park Ridge and in the Des Plaines National Bank will be open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily to accommodate taxpayers. The penalty date has been extended to Sept. 2 by reason of the fact that Labor Day falls on Sept. 1. Unless payment is made by that date, a penalty is required by law to be added to the amount due.

Tuttle stated that first installment real estate collections during the month of June increased almost 2% over last year's collections, and personal property collections increased over 18%.

To assist local taxing bodies and to save interest on tax anticipation warrants, necessitated by the County's 60-day delay in issuing the tax bills, Tuttle said that he had advanced money collected by his office prior to final distribution to several taxing bodies. Sixty percent of the amount collected for the high school and grammar schools was advanced to them as collected. His official audit was completed, and final distributions made to all taxing bodies, on Aug. 6.

Tuttle added that this was the earliest date following conclusion of tax collections that final distribution has been made.

8 years of Booby's on Milwaukee Ave. - it doesn't seem that long, but it is. 8 years of real good times and what we hope, real good community relations and 8 years of good food.

We were the 1st of our kind. We have had many so-called copycats - we wish them luck and success - but we feel there is nothing like the original. Our quantity and quality are the same today as they were in Aug. 1961.

For the new people in the neighborhood who have not eaten at Booby's, we welcome you to try us. Don't be surprised at the noise and unusual method of operation. Judge us by the taste of our food.

Do not call for pick-up orders as we cannot make up anything in advance. We do accept telephone orders for delivery. But if it's your 1st time, come in, see the operation and meet the Big Boob in person - he's handsome, debonair, and friendly and would like to meet you.

Maine High Schools Tell Fall Opening Plans

School days will soon be at hand for nearly 11,000 high school students scheduled to attend Maine East, Maine West and Maine South during the 1969-70 school year.

The first day of school for all students will be Tuesday, Sept. 2. Each of the three high schools will operate on a special schedule and all students are being notified relative to the time they are expected to report for opening day activities.

Pupils are advised to complete their registrations as soon as possible. Counselors are in their offices from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. Pupils who register late often do not have complete choice of subjects.

The district's three high schools will soon begin selling text books, activity tickets, and school supplies. At Maine South, book sales will begin on Monday, Aug. 18, in the Spector Gymnasium. At Maine West, the sale of books will begin on Tuesday, Aug. 19, in the A-Wing Gym; and at Maine East, on Wednesday, Aug. 20, in the school cafeteria. To avoid congestion and waiting, students purchasing books will follow a schedule based on the first few letters of the last name. This schedule, along with other pertinent material regarding school opening, has been mailed to all students.

Since Illinois law requires all entering freshmen to have a physical examination, school officials are asking parents to make sure these examinations are completed at the earliest possible moment. Transfer students, too, must have a complete physical examination. A physician's certificate will be required prior to the payment and acceptance of school fees.

No class schedules will be issued until all fees are paid, and fee payment will not be accepted nor books sold unless emergency cards mailed to each student: have been completely filled in and signed by a parent or guardian. Dental cards signed by the family dentist are also requested at this time.

Following lunch at East Maine Junior High school, the teachers will meet at their schools for individual building programs.

Cubs Stars Coming Here

Chicago Cub stars Don Kessinger and Glenn Beckert will momentarily get off their pennant express to make a personal appearance at TownHouse TV, 7243 Touhy ave., Chicago from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 27. Beckert, born in Pittsburg, Pa., lives in Park Ridge.

He was a member of the Hearst All-American team in 1958, Graduated Allegheny college in 1962. Awarded eight varsity letters. In 1968, led the Cubs in hitting and led the National League in runs scored with 98; also had the longest hitting streak in the National League (27 games). Was 2nd among the League's 2nd basemen in double plays, assists and put-outs. Led the League in total chances. Originally he signed with the Boston Red Sox and was selected by the Cubs in the first year draft in 1962.

the tragic death of Ken Hubbs five years ago, is one of the most underrated players in the National League. His ability to go to the opposite field doesn't appear in any record books, and for the past two years he has been the toughest man in the league to strike out.

Kessinger's is one of the big success stories in modern baseball. His ability to field major-league fashion was never doubted, but he was brought up before he had learned to hit big-league pitching and it was not until 1966 when he learned to switch-hit that he came into his own at the plate.

Beckert and Kessinger are both around the .300 mark this season and they are acknowledged by most baseball experts as the best double-play combination in either league.

Kessinger, born in Forrest City, Ark., attended the University of Mississippi, Oxford.

He made All-Southeastern Conference baseball and basketball three years and All-American baseball one year. His 474 assists led the National League shortstops in 1966. National League All-Star shortstop and led the League in total chances, assists and double plays.

HEADACHES
 Everybody gets them, some more, some less. What causes them? Pressure build up beyond the individual's ability to cope and head pain occurs. Usually a couple of aspirin tablets, rest and temporary change of environment will remedy the situation.

Recurring headaches are a different story. They may be a symptom of the beginning of serious illness. People who are subject to constant and chronic headaches should consult their physician; for the headache is only a symptom and the underlying cause must be determined before proper treatment can be instigated.

To assure yourself of headache-free pharmaceutical service, bring your prescriptions to BIRCHWAY DRUGS, 7503 Milwaukee Ave. Expert registered pharmacists are always on duty to fill your needs. The Braves of the East Division met the Eagles of the West Division in the annual World Series contest. This was to be a best of three wins and the Peanuters ran true to form by going all three games.

Friday, Aug. 8 was the date of the first game at Jozwiak Field. In this contest the Braves overpowered the Eagles with a 12-hit attack featuring homers by Jeff Johnson, Craig Schween and Jim Pullano. Jim Pullano's big bat led the Braves with 2 round-trippers and two doubles. Gary Vialk and Dave Pettimano each made excellent fielding plays to contain the Eagles. The score of this first game was Braves 11, Eagles 3.

On Sunday, Aug. 10 the complex of the series changed suddenly. The strong pitching of the Eagles came out in its best form. DeLorenzo, Livorsi and Strycula pitched a 4 hit 5-1 victory for the "Big Birds." Hitting stars were Livorsi and DeLorenzo who went 3 for 3.

Niles All-Stars

On Aug. 11 the second round game in the Niles Little League tourney featured Edison Park and Niles. It was an excellent pitching duel between Mike Jerger of Niles and Kooney of Edison Park. Niles was the winner by a score of 2-0. Jerger pitched a no-hit, no-run game and had 10 strike outs. Kooney gave up only 2 hits but one led to the 2 runs when Art Auffmans single was followed by a 3-base error on the part of Edison Park catcher on a topped ball in front of the plate hit by Frank Stroka. Auffman scored on the error and Stroka followed 2 pitches later on a wild pitch.

while the offensive was led by Frank Stroka with 3 for 4, Mike Jerger with a single and double and Scott Peota with a single and 2 walks.

The Niles team is still going strong. With a 9-2 win over McNally Park, Skokie on Thursday they went for the Niles Championship Saturday night.

Dist. 64 News

Pre-school activities for the District 64 teaching staff will begin on Monday, August 25, with a two-day orientation workshop for new teachers. All teachers will report on Wednesday, Aug. 27, for preparation of classrooms and teaching materials and a two-day Teachers' Institute.

At the Monday morning session of the orientation workshop the new teachers will be welcomed to the District by John Nicholas, a member of the Board of Education, and to Park Ridge by Clare Perlin, executive director of the Park Ridge Chamber of Commerce.

Informational talks will be given by Roger Steele, president-elect of the Park Ridge Education Association, and Russell Miller, assistant superintendent for business affairs. Dr. Blair Flimpton, superintendent of schools for District 64, will preside at this general session and deliver his annual message to new teachers. Another highlight of the morning session will be a slide presentation on the schools and community narrated by Paul Bolman, a teacher in District 64.

The new teachers will be guests of the District at a luncheon at the Park Ridge Inn.

Special guests will be Joseph Peacock, mayor of Park Ridge, Nicholas Blase, mayor of Niles, James Galloway, city manager of Park Ridge, Kenneth Scheel, village manager of Niles and Clare Perlin.

The afternoon session will be devoted to the instructional program of the District and presided by Dr. Raymond E. Hendee, assistant superintendent. Tuesday meetings will be devoted to grade-level and special subject programs and building meetings with school principals.

The keynote address for the Teachers' Institute on Friday, Aug. 29, will be given by Dr. Jack Frymier, Director of Instruction at Ohio State university. He will speak on "Authority and the Phenomenon of Rebellion." Dr. Lelon R. Capps, author of the Houghton Mifflin Mathematics program which will be introduced in the District 64 schools this Fall, will speak on "Overview of Mathematics Program" and Jack Baker, safety and loss prevention engineer will discuss teacher safety.

All school fees for children attending District 64 schools must be paid this week, according to school officials. Deadline for paying fees for the 1969-70 school year was Aug. 11, they pointed out.

Fee-registration cards were enclosed with report cards in June for pupils already enrolled in the District 64 schools. These cards should be filled out and mailed with check or money order to the Board of Education, 400 S. Western, Park Ridge, Ill.

Russell Miller, assistant superintendent for business, estimates that 70 percent of the fees have been paid but urges parents who have not yet sent in their money to do so immediately.

Pupils new in the District 64 pay their fees at the time of registration. All school offices will be open after Aug. 19 to register new pupils.

Classes for all children except kindergartners will start on Sept. 2. Elementary school classes begin at 8:45 a.m. and junior high classes begin at 8:30 a.m. Kindergarten pupils and parents will receive letters setting up individual appointments with their teachers for the first week of school and will begin regular classes on Monday, Sept. 8.

Bus service will be provided for the first day of school, Mr. Miller said. Bus tickets or passes will not be required the first morning but will be distributed to eligible pupils on the first day of school.

Interested in working only a couple of hours a day?

District 64 has openings for lunchroom supervisors for the junior high cafeterias. Working hours are from 11:15 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. each school day. Principal duty is supervision of pupils during their lunch hour.

The positions are open to either men or women and there is no age ceiling. Retired persons or mothers whose children are away all day are particularly invited to apply for the jobs.

Pack #45 father and sons at Lakota - left to right, Bruce and Doug Olson, Dick and Joe Helminiak, Larry and Rick Bodzewski, Frank and Jerry Krajewski, John and David Berninger, Tom and Tommy Spino and Lee and Glenn Streubing.

Seven fathers and sons from the Cub Scout Pack 45 of Oak school spent Aug. 2 at Lakota Boy Scout Reservation near Woodstock, Ill., learning scouting skills during "Webelos Days."

After starting with a compass course, rope climbing and archery the boys withdrew to a secluded spot in the woods where an expert in ax handling gave them a 40-minute lesson in the proper way to handle and sharpen axes, knives and saws. This "wizard" with tools ended up the session by letting the boys try to light a wooden match by striking the match head with the edge of a hand ax.

In the final session were games which included learning skills with a rope, coiling and throwing, both of which are useful during rescue operations. After cooking meals of steak, potatoes, carrots and onions in tin foil over hot coals, a huge campfire was lit. The boys sang songs and watched funny skits put on by the Boy Scouts who had acted as training instructors.

While Barney was describing his filming job, Mary continued opening Durocher's mail. She told us Ernie Banks received the most mail among the ballplayers followed by Ron Santo. After these two, Kessinger, Williams and Beckert received about a comparable amount.

We next moved into publicity director Chuck Schriver's office, and caught him deeply involved in the first work for the day. Rather than asking him questions, we told him we would just sit there and watch the bevy of activity in the room. In the small office a man named Dave was handling ticket arrangements and said most box seats were already sold out for the next 2 months. Dave was handling a hot telephone with an efficient coolness. He seemed to have most of the reservations memorized and never failed to answer a question about ticket reservations immediately, without referring to any written data. While Schriver was following up his mail problems, one of the 3 girls in the inner office was opening up a package for Ron Santo. It was a silver pitcher, which he was awarded by the baseball writers for being the outstanding player for the month of June.

While the mid-morning action went on at a fierce pace, we examined the miniature baseball library in the room. Issues of many years of books dating back 30 years included bound editions of the Sporting News, the Baseball Register, the Official Baseball Guide, the Little Red Book, Baseball Blue Book, Official Worlds Series and Baseball's One For the Books. During the short time we were there one of the girls answered three phone calls in which baseball questions were asked. Adroitly, she fielded each question with a technical answer which showed she'd done her baseball homework.

Rather than ask a lot of inane questions during the busy morning hours we enjoyed our very brief stay "on the inside". The impression of great efficiency under a bevy of much excitement, beared well for the Cubs.

While we know the field is where the action is, nevertheless we were aware the end product which produced Tuesday's no-hitter is a team production job. It all begins in these small offices, which handles the mundane jobs which results in the smooth operation by the guys we all cheer on the playing field.

chers Walsh and Scher did an outstanding job on holding the hard-hitting Park Ridge team to only 3 hits and walked only 1. Walsh's performance was all the more amazing when consideration is given to the fact he caught Ron Parker for 6 innings in the Thillens tourney only hours before he pitched this game.

Excellent defensive plays were made by Dave Scher, Walsh, Briars and Jerger. Ron Parker also deserves credit for catching 7 long innings after he had pitched the championship game at Thillens only a few hours earlier.

Now American soldiers are injected into the scout's training four days from the end of the cycle. They attend classes and field training together and spend their spare time touring the base camp, taking in movies, USO shows and going to the EM Club. "It all makes for a strong friendship which pays off when they go to the field," Captain Olsen said, "because the scout feels like a member of the unit."

Foremost among the problems, however, is the question of acceptance by other members of the platoon or company to which the scout is assigned.

"Here's a soldier out in the field," said Captain Olsen, "and you're telling him to accept his former enemy - the guy he may actually have fought only weeks before; naturally there's going to be some build-in resentment."

Carryover effects of the buddy program, according to Captain Olsen, are that Americans return home with a new appreciation of the Vietnamese people.

"Line troopers don't as a rule get to see or meet Vietnamese other than the ones they're fighting," said Captain Olsen. "With this buddy program, they have close contact with a Vietnamese and learn that these Vietnamese are real, down-to-earth people. They get to know the people they're working with and there is never a thought of 'American' or Vietnamese, it is friend helping friend."

"Our Town" At Member Meeting

Des Plaines Theatre Guild members and guests will enjoy a performance of Thornton Wilder's classic American drama, "Our Town," at the August membership meeting.

The program, open to anyone interested in theatre, whether a member of the group or not, will be held at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 27, at Guild Playhouse, 620 Lee St., Des Plaines.

The cast is composed of a group mainly from Theatre of Chicago, which toured Europe for three weeks in July, under the direction of Tom Ventriss, who also directs the play.

Nancy Raus, Des Plaines board member and ticket chairman for Des Plaines Theatre Guild, takes the leading role of the Stage manager, while another DPTG actress, Jackie Martin appears in the character role of Mrs. Soames.

Other leading players in the "Our Town" cast include Tom Ventriss as Dr. Gibbs, Tausca McClintock as Mrs. Gibbs, Dick Schultz as Editor Webb, Joanne Notz as Mrs. Webb, and Bill and Pat Magee as the romantic leads, George Gibbs and Emily Webb.

Bill Magee, Chicago, a singer as well as an accomplished actor, has one of the leading roles in Des Plaines Theatre Guild's opening production of the new season—the musical comedy "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum," which is being presented in association with Music on Stage, Inc. of Arlington Heights.

Tom Ventriss, familiar as a director of numerous plays for DPTG, and as the star of last season's closing comedy, "The Odd Couple," is also directing "A Funny Thing."

Membership in Des Plaines Theatre Guild is open to anyone in the area, and season subscriptions for the five productions of 1969-70 will be available at the meeting Aug. 27. For a cost of $10, members may see, in addition to "A Funny Thing Happened" (the Guild's first musical opening Sept. 12 for four week-ends), "Summer and Smoke," in November, "Barefoot in The Park," in January, "Wait Until Dark," next March and "Tom Jones" in May.

Uses Stone, Wood, Copper For Chancel

Stone, weathered wood and antiqued copper are the materials used in the unusual chancel just completed at the Trinity Lutheran church of Rolling Meadows, by Designer/Craftsman David Laughlin.

Built on three levels and backed by a polygonal sacristy wall which complements the soaring lines of the church's high-peaked ceiling, the chancel combines warm, traditional, components with stark geometric forms to create an effect which is perhaps unique in the contemporary idiom.

The back wall, measuring 14 by 28 feet, is sheathed in random slabs of weathered cypress, pine and oak, stained a muted gray. A colored glass eternal light is set in a cove of antiqued copper rising near the left end of this wall.

At the center of the chancel's highest level is a free-standing altar formed by a 12-foot slab of polished granite which "floats" over a base of white plaster embedded with white marble chips in a linear vertical pattern. A large cross of carved oak beams rises asymmetrically from the base of the altar.

Flanking the altar on the right, the pulpit repeats the altar's frieze of white marble patterns. At the left, a lower pedestal of matching design is fronted by three processional candles combining copper and ceramic. This pedestal holds the baptismal font, sculpted in antique copper. A communion rail of weathered pine and natural oak defines the perimeter of the lowest level, tying the various elements into a harmonious whole.
