Beckwith Site Dead
JC Board Backs Off

Oakton College Board Tuesday night voted 5 to 1 to rescind its August resolution to present the Beckwith-Narragansett site for a proposed college to the Illinois State Junior College Board.

Before an overflow crowd, which numbered more than 1,000 people at Niles North auditorium, the Board received overwhelming opposition to its preferred site in the Delaine Farm in Morton Grove.

The Board presented Morton Hartman, of Perkins and Willis Architects, "leaders in education construction". They cited the four areas they studied and presented their opinions concerning the areas.

The Tri-State area at the northwest end of the district is 180 acres but is not feasible because it is outside the district.

The Central Road 122 acre area is considered a "beautiful site" but not central to the district and is in a flood plain area. Another road would have to be built from Central to follow the river for access into the area.

The Wolf Road area is also at the northwest extremity of the district which is not centrally located. It has 130 acres, good access and is flat land.

The Beckwith site is the smallest site, only 53 acres but the central location is the significant factor.

Pat Dixon of the Barton-Ashman traffic firm, cited traffic problems and noted none of the areas will work without improvements.

During the presentations by the professional consultants, an attorney and resident, Earl Medansky, twice had to ask the audience to be courteous to the consultants, noting the audience would have a chance to speak.

After these initial presentations Board member Stephen Loska read his minority report which said the site was too small, the population center in the district is likely to change, and the site would not satisfy the future needs of the district.

Loska received a standing ovation from the emotionally-charged audience.

Morton Grove Mayor Jules Bode led off the procession of people who made statements from the audience. Bode said his Board passed a unanimous resolution opposing the site, noting it was unusual to have this unanimity. Bode noted MG has a deficit of recreation land and the site is suited for park and recreation use. Additional services from MG would be necessary and cited the roads as being inadequate. He said the MG village attorney is investigating whether under the "Home Rule" authority of villages school buildings might

OK 4 FLAGS CENTER BY 4-2 VOTE

By a 4 to 2 vote Niles Village Board okayed the B2 zoning for the Four Flags Shopping Center to be built on the Fink's Links and Holiday Kennels area on Golf Road, as well as on land fronting on Milwaukee Avenue between the Goodyear and Ford agencies.

The total construction cost for the 9 story reservoir would be around $180,000 with a 1,000,000 gallon capacity for water storage. The center would have its name on the tank.

Niles will receive a $50,000 contribution from the center as well as a 100 by 100 foot area to construct a stand pipe for additional water for the area. The water pressure problems at the north end of the village resulted in the agreement between the center and the village.

Ron Verson, 8149 Davis, along with his wife led a one man-one woman campaign to oppose the center, gave an eloquent presentation using slides to graphically cite reasons for opposing the center. Verson said the term "traffic flow" on Milwaukee Avenue is a misnomer since there is no flow there, "it just bumps along".

Board Denies

pared to go all the way in court. If we have to, we should go to the Appeals Court and if necessary, further." Dick Hols expressed this view: "We should be responsive to the needs and wishes of the people. I'd also like to remind the public that on Monday, hearings will be held concerning the property at 8700 Waukegan Rd. (The site of the shuttered Ford Service Plant) regarding the construction of a 325 unit apartment building on that site. Trustee Ed Brice had this to say, "We do have areas where apartments may be built so I don't think we have to worry about an unfavorable court decision and I don't believe we have to change zoning."

Joe Skalinsky of the Plan Commission said hearings were held on July 17 and continued until August regarding the request of the Shell Oil Co. to get a Special Use permit for the installation of an automatic car wash at their station located at 9600 Golf Road. The wash will be offered only as a free wash with a gas fill-up. The Plan Commission recommended granting the permit, with several stipulations to be followed. John Hilkin said, "I would like to make sure that any vending machines will be put on the inside of the station." The Shell Oil Co. representative said their plans call for any vending machines to be inside. David Cohen moved to table any further discussion until Sept. 19 and the board agreed.

Administrator Fred Huber said the Elrod case will be on the Sept. 19 agenda. He also said on the question of the Oktoberfest, it was found to be a semi-charitable organization and was being sponsored by two promoters. Fred McClory said the Old Orchard Center for Mental Health requested permission to solicit here Monday and Tuesday, Oct. 2 and 3. Permission was granted.

Bids were opened for Cardiac Monitoring equipment for the Fire Department. The Dunn Corp. of Beachwood, Ohio bid: $2,750 for one unit and $2,850 for the other. The Motorola Co. of Schaumburg, Ill. bid $5,509 complete with installation.

Mikva Reminds Voters to Register

Dear Editor:

Everyone knows that election day is Nov. 7. But there are three other dates in the next two months that are almost as important to the democratic process. They are dates for voter registration:

Sept. 18, the last day to register in your village. Oct. 2, the last day to register in your township. And, finally, Oct. 10, voter registration day (from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.) in every precinct in the district.

If you aren't already registered, there still is plenty of time. The 10th Congressional district has one of the highest voter registration percentages in the country. It's a district that's involved in government. And that's the way it should be.

A list of township and village registration locations follows. Take a few minutes to register to vote, because if you haven't registered you can't vote, and if you can't vote, you don't count.

Sincerely,
Abner J. Mikva
U.S. Congressman

You may register in your village until Sept. 18 or in your township until Oct. 2.

What Kind of Democratic Process?

Dear Editor:

It seems incredible that we have a state law which permits candidates, who have either avoided running in a primary election, or lost a primary election and switched districts shortly afterwards, to still show up on the November ballot.

The law, which lacks safeguards for the protection of citizen participation (also known as democracy), made it possible for State Rep. Henry Hyde to lose a primary and still go on for another chance in the regular election; and for Edward Warman to suddenly replace the candidate which voters had to evaluate in the primary, for reasons known only to the politicians who managed the whole coup.

Where does this leave the voter? What effect does this have on people who bothered to go to the polls for the primary election? How do those people feel, for example, who we know rang doorbells and worked tirelessly to defeat Hyde on the basis of his strong stand against legislation governing women's rights?

In the case of the Warman candidacy, what kind of democratic process is it whereby a closed committee of two picks one candidate to replace another before the first one is even officially withdrawn from the race, leaving voters to read about it in the newspapers after it is all over?

Ed Warman was originally slated to run for the House in the 15th District where he lives. He withdrew, fearful that he would lose when he did not get support from Chicago Democratic leaders. However, had he run and lost, we would still have him on the ballot here in the 4th District, because the law allows politicians to play these little games unchallenged.

I hope that in deciding which candidates to support, voters will consider the moral implications involved, and that they will also insist on legislation for this state which will guarantee that the commitments they make in a primary election, both in terms of energy and the vote, will not prove to be a total waste of time.

Curb Obscene Mail, Movies

Dear Editor:

Our children are bombarded by advertisements for X-rated movies. They are constantly exposed to obscene printed materials on newsstands, and even receive such material in the mail.

Parents are fighting a losing battle as they try to set standards for their youngsters' reading and viewing. They need all the help they can get in discouraging children and teenagers from patronizing movie houses which specialize in X-rated movies, and from receiving obscene printed materials in the mails.

That's why I strongly support the principles of HR 15693, the so-called Obscene Mail Bill, which passed the U.S. House of Representatives by the overwhelming margin of 378 to 8. Only eight members of the House, including my opponent, Abner Mikva, opposed this bill, which would have permitted parents to contact the post office to prohibit the mailing of obscene material to their children under 18.

I strongly approve the recent federal investigation of movie theaters in Chicago which have a policy of showing obscene films. It is not in accord with public policy to allow even a minority of theaters in the area to depart from their original and proper purpose of providing entertainment that is wholesome and not degrading.

I support reasonable and legal means to curb the flood of obscenity to which our children are subjected. The great majority of the people in the 10th District agree with this view and disagree with my opponent's objections to such type of legislation.

Sincerely,
Sam Young, Republican
Candidate for Congress,
10th District

Cut Down O'Hare Noise

Dear Editor:

We were delighted to read about the survey measuring aircraft noise levels surrounding O'Hare Airport, which was made by the U. S. Environmental Protection Agency and Congressman Abner Mikva.

Those of us who are affected by this constant noise pollution will be most grateful if some relief comes as a result of this investigation.

With all the scientific knowledge available in this modern day, it is hard to believe that we cannot do something about the excessive noise from landings and takeoffs at the airport.

When Cong. Mikva, who has introduced several bills in Congress regarding this problem, said, "The people feel the noise is so loud, nobody can hear them complaining," we felt he was talking about the many of us here in Park Ridge who have been protesting for years with no one listening.

We sincerely hope that something will finally be done about the noise, and now that this survey is being conducted, we urge our fellow residents to join us in giving one extra loud yell - maybe this time they'll hear us!

Sincerely,
Mary and Rod Ruth

Thank You

Dear Sir:

Please accept my sincere thanks for the excellent coverage you have given our organization in your weekly editions this past year.

My year as president of the Morton Grove American Legion Auxiliary Unit #134 has now come to its conclusion; and I shall reflect happily in the future over the fine method you handled our various releases telling the residents of the endeavors in which we have involved ourselves.

Through this medium we have told the community, state and national programs which our Unit and the American Legion Auxiliary participate, allowing the citizens to understand the many projects with which we as a group have concerned ourselves with during the past 12 months.

Gratefully,

Niles North Homecoming

"Break the Maine Line" has been selected as the theme of this year's homecoming at Niles North High school. North's homecoming is scheduled for Oct. 21 against Maine South.

"Because homecoming is a tradition in itself, committee members felt that some of the traditional aspects of it should remain unchanged," said junior Nancy Gran, homecoming director. For this reason, a homecoming queen and court will be chosen as in the past. This year, however, the girls will be escorted by the younger brothers of Viking football players instead of members of the varsity team.

Several changes have already been made for Homecoming '72. Instead of a student skit performed during the pep assembly, committee members will ask a well-known personality to speak to the students. The committee also plans to invite the Maine South band to march in the homecoming parade.

Dist. 63 Free Lunch Policy

East Maine School District #63 today announced a free meal policy for Junior High school children unable to pay the designated price.

Local school officials have adopted the following family size and income scale to assist them in determining eligibility.

Family Size	Annual Gross Income	Monthly Gross Income
1	$2,420.00	$201.00
2	3,180.00	265.00
3	3,940.00	328.00
4	4,680.00	390.00
5	5,380.00	448.00
6	6,070.00	505.00
7	6,700.00	558.00
8	7,330.00	610.00
9	7,900.00	658.00
10	8,470.00	705.00
11	9,040.00	753.00
12	9,610.00	800.00
Each additional family member	570.00	47.00

Families falling within these scales or those suffering from unusual circumstances, hardships or families receiving public assistance are urged to apply for free meals for their children. They may do so by filling in the application forms sent home in a letter to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year. The form itself is simple to complete and requests information needed to determine economic need based on the income and number of persons in the family and any unusual circumstances or hardships which affect the family's ability to pay for school meals.

Yearbook Photographs

Underclassmen yearbook pictures at Maine East are scheduled Sept. 25-27.

Yearbook adviser Barbara Witkiewicz said that each student will have an opportunity to order 12 black and white wallet photographs for $1 at the time pictures are taken by Root Photographers.

If a Lens, Maine East's yearbook, was not ordered during the week of registration, students may do so for $5 during lunch periods in the cafeteria from Oct. 30 through Nov. 10.

College Visitations

Although school just began a few weeks ago, Maine East seniors are already thinking ahead to next September and which college or university they should plan on attending.

To assist them in making such a decision, approximately 150 colleges and universities from across the country will conduct question and answer sessions throughout the coming months at Maine East.

Such sessions will be announced in daily bulletin, but if a senior is interested in a particular institution, he should consult with Mr. Keith Honn, Maine East career counselor, in the guidance center.

No limit is placed on the number of students attending the sessions, which generally average about one hour. School representatives, if requested by a student at the session, generally will make arrangements to visit with parents at home in the evening to answer further questions.

The University of Detroit is the first scheduled college visit for the 1972-73 school year. A member of the admissions office will be at Maine East on Sept. 20.

Students should be aware that their only opportunity to visit a representative from the University of Illinois/Urbana will be at District 207's Fall College Night at Maine East on Sept. 27 beginning at 7 p.m.

Mr. Honn suggests that students attending the sessions should question representatives about the composition of the student body, school regulations and policies, and required courses for admittance and graduation. In addition, they should inquire into the comprehensive cost of attending the college or university as well as asking about the availability of financial assistance.

Niles North Open Lunch-Campus Policy

Open lunch-open campus privileges will again be granted to students at Niles North High school.

Students who have parental permission to participate in the open lunch-open campus program will be permitted to leave the school building beginning at 11 a.m. They must exit from the north doors in the east and west cafeterias or from the south auditorium door. Supervisors will check student identification cards at these doors from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Students who are participating in the program have ID cards embossed with "OL" for "Open Lunch."

This year a student's parents must come to the school to sign a permission slip granting him open lunch-open campus privileges. An information sheet explaining the program and outlining the rules students must follow is given to each parent at this time.

Students not on the open lunch-open campus program who leave school without proper permission will be suspended pending a parent conference for the first violation. Further infractions will result in a three-day suspension.

Niles North students who do not have open lunch-open campus privileges must remain in the school building until 2 p.m.

Synthetic fabrics are washable, but not indestructible. Be gentle, with an electric dryer.

Today's miracle fabrics can take a lot. But remember, they're still what the name says. Fabrics. That's when the gentleness of an electric dryer pays off. It's very, very gentle because it dries with a very gentle kind of heat. Radiant heat. That means it dries things the same nice way the sun does. Many models even have an electronic sensor inside the dryer door to make sure things never over-dry. That's really important when it comes to permanent press. An electric dryer is as gentle as a dryer can be on today's miracle fabrics. Matter of fact, it's gentle on non-miracle fabrics, too.

New Bank Appointment for Ernest Coe

Ernest E. Coe has been appointed a senior vice president and cashier of the new Bank of Commerce & Industry, 6100 Northwest Highway, announced Richard P. Larsen, bank president.

Coe will be responsible for overseeing day-to-day administrative functions of the operating staff and all over-the-counter business transactions. "In joining the Bank of Commerce & Industry, Mr. Coe brings to Chicago's northwest side more than 25 years of outstanding banking experience in the areas of administration, investments, loans, operations, personnel, and data processing," said Larsen. "We are privileged to have him as a member of our team of bankers to assist area residents in meeting their financial obligations and savings goals."

Prior to joining the Bank of Commerce & Industry, Coe was vice president and later senior vice president of the Pioneer Trust and Savings Bank. From 1963 to 1967 he was president of Lake Villa Trust and Savings Bank, and for the previous five years occupied the positions of cashier and vice president of the Palatine National Bank. Following his discharge from the Army in 1946, Coe held a variety of administrative and clerical positions with the LaSalle National

Cal's Roast Beef Chain Expanding

Growing chain of Cal's Roast Beef operations uses same architectural design and interior design for each of its 13 restaurants. All outlets are self-contained with their own kitchen preparation area,

Cal's Roast Beef Inc., Chicago area restaurant chain, acquired three additional restaurants bringing the current total of operating facilities to ten. Three freezers and refrigeration facilities. Most western in furnishings and decor. Family self-service operations are open 11 a.m. to 10 p.m., seven days a week.

additional outlets will be under construction by mid-summer (Lansing, Ill.; Alsip, Ill.; Franklin Park, Ill.). Dick Blankenship, President of Cal's Inc., made the announcement after signing final transfer papers recently in Cal's Corporate accounting offices, 1209 Dundee ave., Elgin, Ill. The three newly acquired restaurants (formerly Roy Rogers outlets owned by Ace Foods, Milwaukee, Wis.) are located in Niles, Oaklawn and Westmont, suburban areas of Chicago.

Blankenship explained that structural changes and interior design renovation have been completed at all locations and the extensive modifications should be completed by late summer.

The family style self-service restaurants are wholly owned by the principle officers; Blankenship, President; Gene Carelli, Vice-President and General Manager of operations; and Jim Griggs, Secretary-Treasurer. The firm was established in 1969 by the long-time fast food operations professionals who agreed to tight management control in insure quality food and quality service.

"There are no secrets in this food business," says Carelli. "A successful operation demands good food, fast service and cleanliness. Some don't seem to practice it — we do, 365 days a year."

By the end of this year volume for all outlets will gross over three and one-half million dollars. There is a Cal's located at Elgin, Waukegan, Schaumburg, Des Plaines, Dolton, Worth, Illinois and Racine, Wisconsin.

"The key to any food operations success is quality," says General Manager Gene Carelli. "Before we got into this business, as owners, each of us worked in the restaurant business for someone else. We learned a lot and saw a lot. We have to put your ideas of quality into practice. To say it and then to do it are different things."

Cal's serves a variety of quality sandwiches ranging in price from 39¢ to 89¢. All beef is USDA Choice. All beef is prepared on premise under strictest standards. It is cooked throughout the day by temperature control as opposed to time control.

"We have tossed beef into the garbage in front of a new employee, if the trainee has carelessly allowed the temperature of the beef to go beyond our standard. The juice must be in the meat. You won't get a family returning to your restaurant if you give them dry beef and wet it. We don't serve beef at all — our juice is in the meat."

All three owners agree that advance cooking has got to be a poor way to run a restaurant. "Food should be made to order. French fries are removed from service lines if not served within four minutes. We don't throw many away, though," says Carelli. "Our restaurants seat 80, and we often run more than $600 during one lunch hour period."

Family Enrichment

COUNSELING COMES LATE

A couple came into the agency having problems with one of their children, including drug use.

At first, the focus was on their child, child's friends, supplier of drugs, school and police. They were ready to put the blame on everyone but themselves. Then they began to take an honest look at themselves.

The "X-ray," which I discussed in last week's column, revealed a great deal about them, particularly their roles as husband and wife.

Their X-ray showed they were getting 1 to 10 percent meaning, purpose and fulfillment out of their roles as husband and wife. They disclosed that their marriage had been quite chaotic and turbulent for some time.

In fact, they started a couple of times before to seek out marital counseling but gave up after two or three interviews. This was unfortunate because in the meantime not only did they suffer, but their children did too. Most children are affected quite adversely by their parents' chaotic and stormy marriage.

I frequently find myself asking, "Why does it take quite a traumatic experience for most couples before they will seek out marital counseling and stick with it?"

This couple had been hurting and suffering for some time. Certainly, most of us will seek out medical help if we are suffering physically, and it will not be one, five, ten or twenty years later. The longer a poor marriage goes on before the couple seeks out help, the harder it is to resolve the problems or conflicts.

There are certain symptoms to look for that can tell you how healthy you, your marriage, and your family really are:

First, how much do you communicate verbally, emotionally, physically and spiritually with each other?

Is the present communication sufficient for all, and how positive is it?

Do you all find meaning, purpose and fulfillment in your communication?

Do you really try to consider each other and be sensitive to one another's needs, limitations, strengths and weaknesses? How empathetic (to feel with) are you?

Does an emotional climate exist in your home that encourages and stimulates your marital and family living or stifles it?

How much do you do things together as a couple and/or a family? Do you really try to be close to one another and encourage this closeness?

Is there a basic acceptance, appreciation and understanding of one another? Read "To Understand Each Other" by Dr. Paul Tournier.

Does a basic feeling of love and forgiveness prevail in your marriage, in your family?

Do you have a tendency to make incidents, problems, quarrels or misunderstandings life-or-death matter?

Do you panic when you are in a difficult situation? These are just a few of the questions you should ask yourself. Most of them can't be answered with a clear-cut yes and no. They involve soul searching and involvement.

You have probably heard the expression, "to thine own self be true." This is what I am asking of you — to be honest, to take a good look at yourself and your family.

Don't be afraid of what the X-ray or survival circle shows you or the answers you come up with from the questions proposed. Rather, try to do something about the insight gained so you can "turn on" more to life. Only by doing so can you begin to bring the change necessary in your life, your roles, so you might begin to find more happiness.

In this way, your survival is not just an existence — rather your life is full of meaning, purpose and fulfillment or satisfaction.

Compensation Program Creates Economic Merry-Go-Round

The paradox of paying millions of dollars to unemployed workers while many jobs go unfilled has been criticized by a national leader in the personnel field. Mr. H.C. Goodwin, Jr., CEC, who is President of the National Employment Association, puts the blame for this economic merry-go-round on abuses of the Unemployment Compensation system.

Goodwin pointed out that private employment agencies, which make up the membership of the National Employment Association, are in a "front-line" position to observe the job situation. It is their consensus, as well as that of many employers, that many jobs are available, particularly for clerical and administrative workers, but qualified persons classified as "unemployed" just are not applying for them. Agency executives attribute at least part of this situation to the easy availability of Unemployment Compensation checks in many parts of the country.

The Unemployment Compensation program was instituted during the Depression of the 1930's to tide over jobless breadwinners, but has since been expanded both in the type and numbers of workers covered, amount of benefits and length of time these benefits are paid. Sixty-three million workers are now covered by the program and unemployed workers in some areas can receive benefits for up to a full year. Recent benefit increases have been aimed at permitting at least 80 percent of insured workers to receive full pay when unemployed. The full cost of the basic program is carried by employers, with extended benefits in high-unemployment states paid by the Federal Government.

The program is intended to help the person who is out of work through no fault of his own, and who is actively looking for work but is unable to find even a substitute job. In actual practice, Goodwin says, many claimants have quit their jobs and are not planning to look for another until their full benefits have run out. Reports have been received from employment agency executives that the benefits are so high in some areas that the recipient actually pockets more money by staying home than by working.

The State Employment Service offices, which are responsible for administering the unemployment benefit program, are not devoting enough attention to weeding out the "freeloaders," Goodwin charged, so the costs are soaring. As a result, a manpower paradox: Employers are called upon to pay more and more money into a fund which is subsidizing numerous workers who are unemployed by their own choice; at the same time, the employer finds himself unable to attract the qualified workers he needs.

PARK DISTRICT NEWS

Golf-Maine

Sports

With the dedication of Dee Park Aug. 27, summer came to an official close for Golf Maine Park District. But right behind it is Fall and the Park District's new Fall programs. Fall brochures are now available by contacting the Golf Maine Park District office at 9229 Emerson, Des. Plaines, 297-3000.

Pre-School

For the pre-schooler age 3-5 we offer a variety of sessions and times for our pre-school program. Children participate in music, painting, games, crafts and story telling under the supervision and guidance of experienced staff. Registration is now open for pre-schoolers who were 3 before Sept. 1, 1972.

Football Clinic

Every year one of the most popular programs offered is football clinic and games. Boys in the 1-2nd, and 3-4th grades learn the beginning skills of football, passing, catching, running, and kicking. At each session there is at least one game played to demonstrate the skills being worked on. Fee is $3 and classes begin Sept. 25.

Soccer

The most popular sport in the world is being offered for the first time at Golf Maine Park District. For 4th-6th graders this program will teach basic skills and strategy of kicking, passing, heading, and soccer teamwork. This is a sport for all boys of all sizes to compete equally. Beginning Sept. 25, registration is now being taken. Fee is $3.

Ballet

For development of poise and grace in young girls, no program offers more than ballet. Two classes, one for 5-6 year olds, and one for 7 and over begin Sept. 29, for only $10. Individualized instruction is one of the key points to this program, as each student can progress at her own speed under professional instruction.

Adult Volleyball

What could be better than hitting a white ball over a net 8 feet high and hoping it follows the law of gravity and hits the floor? Add to that the opportunity to make new friends, an evening of exercise, and just a good time and you have Golf Maine's co-recreational adult volleyball. For anyone over 21, this program begins Sept. 27. Fee is $5.

Niles Park District

Spectator Football Course

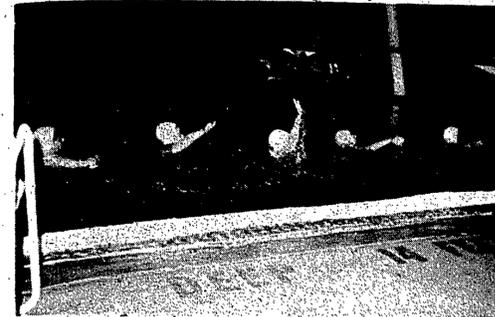

The Niles Park District will be offering a new and unique football spectator course for women this Fall starting Sept. 27. The class will meet on Wednesday evenings from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Recreation Center, 7877 Milwaukee ave., for 5 weeks. The class is aimed to help mothers and wives to better understand the game. The class will cover such things as the dimensions of a football field, explanations of offensive and defensive players, time limits of the different football games (high school, college and professional), the offense and defense formations, officials' signals, eligibility rules, equipment used and worn during a game, plus basic fundamentals and regulations of the game including scoring, first down, and penalties. Rules will be reviewed to show the difference between high school, college and professional games.

Registration will be accepted at the Recreation Center on Sept. 20 from 9:30 - 11:30 a.m. The class is open to women only. A registration fee of $3 will be charged residents.

Recreation Registration

Registration for Recreation programs will be accepted at the Recreation Center, 7877 Milwaukee ave. on Wednesday, Sept. 20 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Most programs that will be offered during Session I are scheduled to start during the week of Oct. 2. Anyone that is unable to register on Sept. 20 may register at the Park District office up until the starting date of the program. No registration will be accepted before Sept. 20. No registration will be accepted at the program. Most programs have a limited enrollment, therefore, registration will be accepted on a first come first serve basis. Registration is open to all Niles Park District residents, non-residents may register, but non-resident fees are doubled.

The Fall, winter and Spring brochure was hand delivered to every resident's door on Sept. 11 and 12. Any resident that did not receive a brochure should contact the Park District office.

Water Ballet

The Orleto Aquarians were well supported by the large audience Saturday, Aug. 19 as they presented their aquatic show entitled "Around the World in 60 Minutes."

Donna Glick took the people to Tahiti, the "Paradise of the Pacific," as she swam to Al Hitt's "Stranger in Paradise," Judy Stern, Sue Fry, Mary Pat Zimmerman and Nancy Panzer were dressed a lion, zebra, leopard and elephant as they swam to Henry Mancini's "Baby Elephant Walk" for their African Safari number.

The finale of the show brought the audience back to the United States. The girls wore red, white and blue and created several floating patterns to "Born Free."

Creative Drama Program

The Niles Park District will be offering a new and imaginative Creative Drama Program for boys and girls in Grades 3, 4, 5 and 6. Participants will explore drama through improvisation (without the use of scripts). Instead of memorizing lines and preparing formal productions, participants will create improvised plays for their own enjoyment. Through group interaction they will have an opportunity to develop self-awareness, understanding of others, communications skills, bodily expression and creative imagination. Music, literature, and art will be included as resource and motivational material.

At the conclusion of each ten week session, participants will share what they have discovered for invited guests. A program for 7th and 8th graders will be started if interest is sufficient. Any 7th and 8th grader interested in a creative drama program should contact the office or inform the staff at registration.

Mrs. Marien Hosmer, who has over 10 years experience working with youth group creative drama programs, will be the instructor.

Registration for Session I will be accepted on Wednesday, Sept. 20, at the Recreation Center, 7877 Milwaukee ave. from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. An $8 registration fee will be charged residents for the 10 week program.

THE CORNERS

of Where it's at and What's happening...

By Ed Hanson

I came across a copy of an old letter I sent to my oldest son when he was in his teens. I thought with young men just returning to school, it might bear repeating to a larger audience. Here goes:

Dear Son:

Be good. Fear God and keep his commandments and walk upright in the sight of all men. There is nothing that pays such dividends in health, happiness and even in worldly success as goodness.

Look about you and you will see that most of the men who are going strong in their 70's and 80's are good men who did not waste their strength in riotous living. You will see that most of the prosperous men are honest, fair-dealing and built their fortunes on the trust that others had in them, and that happy men are those with a clear conscience.

Be a gentleman. Someone has said that a gentleman is a man who considers other people and forgets himself. He never brags. He never boasts. He never whines. He is never puffed up by good fortune nor crushed by bad luck. He does not have to go about proclaiming who he is because the dullest recognize a gentleman at sight and make way for him.

Cultivate good manners, they are a letter of credit that is honored the world over. Get the best possible education you can. Think of getting an education as forging a tool with which to make your way to success.

Study yourself. Try to determine your aptitudes. Then devote your efforts to fitting yourself for work in which you will find scope for your talents. Don't try to be a professional man when nature made you a mechanic.

Acquire the fine art of being a mixer. Learn how to get along with people because all your life you will have to rub shoulders with your fellow creatures. Find out how to give them a pat on the back instead of a dig in the ribs. Friends are our greatest asset, both financially and socially. Be brave. Don't let anything in life down you. The people who win are the stout-hearted who can endure. Have the courage to go after what you want and fight for it until you get it.

It is the cowards who are failures. Above all, don't make the mistake of marrying too young. You will think you are in love many times. These heart-throbs are merely growing pains that will soon pass away.

Wait until your judgment has had time to ripen and you can afford a family before you burden yourself with a wife and children. There is no sight more piteous than that of a fine young man who is swamped in debt, whose ambitions have been blighted and who is tired of the wife he has outgrown, all because he married too young.

Follow these suggestions, son, and trouble will never be knocking at your door.

Another good suggestion is to save our money while we are young. Then, one day we can open an FMIC account like the FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF DES PLAINES offers. FMIC or first monthly income check works like this: Open an FMIC account with a minimum deposit of $5,000 and you'll earn from 5% to 5-3/4% interest per year. The FIRST NATIONAL BANK will mail you an interest check each month, which you can use to supplement your monthly income. Or they'll be happy to deposit your interest check into your check or savings account. If you'd like more information about this unique monthly income plan, drop into the First National Bank of Des Plaines, Lee and Prairie, Des Plaines or phone 827-4411 for complete information.

And here's a good suggestion to those who love great food and gracious living. You'll find it all at the new BEAM'N BARRELL Restaurant & Lounge, 7138 Milwaukee ave., Niles. The other evening I had dinner at this fine new place and cannot praise the quality of food, hospitality and service high enough. I ordered French Fried Shrimp, which were served lightly breaded with a tasty sauce. These were the largest, most delicious shrimp I've ever been served. And although, I've eaten shrimp at the famed places of New Orleans and New York, I must say these were the finest I've ever enjoyed anywhere. Included with this entree was a crisp, garden-fresh lettuce salad with my favorite dressing, a whole loaf of hot sour dough bread and a huge gob of creamy butter, baked potato, beverage and topped off with a refreshing sherbet for dessert.

I understand from the Angelo family their new BEAM'N BARRELL Restaurant is the only one of its kind in the world. In fact, I further learned its motif, menus and entire layout is copyrighted from original designs made by the Angelo family.

Jake, of Jake's Restaurant, 7740 Milwaukee Ave., Niles, told me that during his recent grand opening he served more than 9,000 people. Many of these customers, according to Jake, were new ones. He says that many of the new customers he picked up during his grand opening celebration have been coming back. This attests to the great food and low prices which have been an integral part of Jake's quick success.

See you next week

New members are being sought for the Niles College concert choir, in all sections, soprano, alto, tenor and bass.

Orchestral Auditions

The Metropolitan Youth Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Mary K. Rosen, has vacancies in almost every section for the coming year and will hold auditions on Sunday, Sept. 24.

Rehearsals are held on Sunday afternoons during the season at the YMCA Building, 19 South LaSalle St., Chicago. Members represent more than 30 communities within a 75-mile radius of Chicago.

Membership is open to all musically advanced students of junior high through college age, although orchestral experience is not necessary. For further information, please write or call Mrs. Harry Nielsen, 10900 S. Oakley Ave., Chicago, Ill., 60643, phone: 779-8904.

Old Orchard Art Festival

September 23, 24, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., at the Old Orchard Shopping Center on Skokie Blvd. between Golf and Old Orchard rd. in Skokie. Admission is free, coordinated by the North Shore Art League, phone: 446-2870.

155 distinguished Midwest artists are selected as exhibitors each year by jury. Artists will be displaying their work in the gracious Old Orchard gardens, at the beginning of the magnificent chrysanthemum display. The winding walkways provide a very pleasant stroll past fountains and stream, amid the generous plantings.

Local exhibitors include Sandra Clerke, Niles, and Victor Ing, Morton Grove.

Membership of the choir averages about 100. The sopranos and altos are volunteers from Chicago and nearby suburban areas. The tenor and bass sections comprise mostly students of the college, together with other volunteers from the metropolitan area. The director of the choir is Rev. Stanley R. Rudick, the assistant director is Mr. John Cina, and the secretary is Mrs. Richard Goder. For further information please contact: Fr. Rudick, 631-1017; or Mrs. Goder at 823-1056.

Des Plaines Art Fair Winners

Nine artists were picked for special honors by Judith Schwarz and Richard Westgard, judges at Des Plaines Art Guild's 17th annual outdoor art fair on Sunday, Sept. 10.

Named Best Of Show was the exhibit of Milvi Wheeler, 2705 Sunset Trail, Deerfield. Mrs. Wheeler, a former Des Plaines resident and currently vice president of DPAG, also placed first in a vote taken among the 142 exhibitors for "Artists' Choice." She received two ribbons and a check from the local art guild.

Des Plaines watercolorist Donald Ellwanger, 569 S. Fourth ave., received the first place ribbon and cash award; another watercolorist, Louis Huebner, 1832

Prairie ave., Park Ridge, won second place ribbon and check; and metal sculptor Joseph Romano, 8518 W. Carol, Niles, captured third.

Honorable Mention ribbons awarded by the judges went to Dorothy Kruse, 718 S. Williams st., Palatine, for her portraits in oil and cont; Ralph Furmanski, 8811 N. Dee rd., Des Plaines, watercolors; Don Berkman, 164 Michael Lane, Addison, oils and acrylics; and Suzanne Raibbard, 5432 S. Blackstone ave., Chicago, free-form designs in stoneware.

A new innovation at the fair this year was the Artists Choice and Popular Choice ribbons awarded on the basis of balloting by the exhibitors and the patrons attending the fair. In the latter category, Des Plaines artists Thelma Spain, 885 Prairie, and Karen Lee Schwiesow, 325 Davis ct., received the most votes.

The Irving Shapiro watercolor presented by the guild as an attendance prize went to Jean Bruhn, 301 E. Dennis rd., Wheeling. Mrs. Bruhn is a past president of Des Plaines Art Guild.

Des Plaines Art Guild's next membership meeting will be held on Monday, Sept. 25, at St. Martin's Episcopal Church, 1069 Thacker, Des Plaines at 8 p.m. Those in the community interested in learning more about the group may contact Mrs. Thelma Spain, president, 296-2106.

Verson then alluded to a 1969 Niles Comprehensive Plan, which was supposed to be a policy guide for the village. It cited too much Milwaukee Avenue strip shopping which is "detrimental to the community". He said with the additional shopping from Treasure Island, Memco and now Four Flags creates a "noose around" the area. Verson begged the Board saying, "This commercial shopping must stop someplace". Verson asked the Board, "When is the village going to consider the people"? He then said, "No one says Niles needs more shopping nor do we need more taxes".

The plans for the 25-30 story center include 260,000 square feet of ground level shopping and 40,000 square feet of lower level shopping. There will be 1,100 parking spaces for autos on the 21 acre site which includes 5 acres of the present Holiday Kennel property and the Pink's Links golf area. The major stores will be Turnstyle with 100,000 square feet, Jewel-Osco with 44,000 sq. feet and Republic Home Center with 30,000 square feet. A Jo Jo's Restaurant will front on the Milwaukee Avenue side of the center, which juts out between the Goodyear Store and White and Cronen Ford Agency, on Golf Road, where the main entrances to the center will be the Goldblatt's auto wash is to the west of the center and 200 feet of Commonwealth Edison property is to the east.
While opposition was based on traffic congestion and too many commercial stores in the area, Mayor Blase said under our free enterprise system the market place determines how many stores can be built in an area. Citing the long standing legal statement, "the highest and best use" Blase intimated the village could not prevent the center from being built and was supported by his attorney Dick Troy who cited court decisions supporting the building of shopping centers.
Park president Walt Beusse suggested 2 or 3 acres be considered for a park in the near future but admitted the park district had no money for a park and would have to wait until 1973 when a referendum would decide future park acquisitions.
Mayor Blase said he would be happy to sit down with park officials and try to consider a park where the present boys' camp is on Washington near Golf.
Verson argued "we are talking about something that no one wants". But Blase, sounding more like the attorney for the center interests, said "we must be realistic". He threw the question back to the audience as to what the Board should do, and Verson and his wife both said "they" were the public officials and the people look to them for leadership and guidance. Mrs. Verson used the term "poverty of imagination" in suggesting the Board consider some creative ideas for the area. She cited an amusement park and a motel as

Bode then announced Niles village board had just passed a resolution opposing the Beckwith site, and received thunderous applause from the partisan audience. Bode then said, "Today is my birthday and I think of your applause as a birthday present to me". Citing the 3,400 to 5,000 cars which might daily pass to and from the school he added, "Let's get away from the code word of 'centrality' because I think it's a myth".
George Volk, of Clorba Engineers said the $50,000 cost per acre in MG compared with $15,000 at other sites and added the MG site would cost twice as much as the other sites for half the acreage.
The procession of those opposed to the Beckwith site continued. Two attorneys, one representing the largest landowner at the Beckwith site, said the case would be fought to the Supreme Court, delaying the final decision. He noted "Catholic sites" have been made available to the Board but they have not been made public.
Local attorney Gabe Barrafato, who said his home would be among the 12 homes condemned there, said there would be a split campus since it would be on both sides of Beckwith. Recreation and athletic facilities would have to be cut out and noted the displacement of 18 or 13 families from the area. He said to go 2 or 3 miles farther west would solve these problems.
School superintendents from districts 67 and 70 both opposed the site as did the Mayor of Golf.
The 1,000 person audience began to drift away beginning at 9:30 and by 11 o'clock when the final vote was taken no more than one-fourth of the original audience was present.
Board member Meyer Kamen suggested "we have to have total view of the district" and suggested the air rights over Edens Highway be considered for a site, noting similar building of vertical campuses in New York over roads were a reality.
After the public hearing Board member Griff MacDonald's resolution to rescind the August resolution to present the Beckwith site to the state junior college board was approved 5 to 1 with chairman Wauck being the lone dissenter.
A second MacDonald resolution to broaden the site committee to include residents will be passed at the next meeting after acting site chairman Gilson noted the selection must be well thought out.
