VOL. 16 NO. 20, THE BUGLE, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1972

While voters head for the polls Tuesday to vote for national, state and county candidates Matne and Niles Township voters will have particular interest in watching local elections.

In the 10th Congressional District Democratic Congressman Ab Mikva and Republican Sam Young vie for the seat to represent this district in the House of Representatives. Mikva, who moved to Evanston last year after being gerrymandered from his Congressional seat on Chicago's south side, is involved in a closely contested race in which thousands of volunteer workers are involved for both candidates. While both candidates are optimistic about their chances the size of the Nixon vote and the number of cross-over voters are unknown factors which will decide this race.

In the state Senatorial race in our area Republican John Nimrod, Niles Township committeeman and Democrat Tom Flynn, a Niles resident who is a planner for Cook County, are in a bitter race for this post. Both men lodged personal accusations against each other during the past weeks which left an issue-oriented campaign in shambles. Only during the past two weeks did the candidates agree to refrain from further personal attacks.

Perhaps the most interesting races in local elections is for the three state representatives posts which rightfully could be called the "battle of the buller". Voters can give one vote to three candidates, split their votes among two candidates or "buller" three votes for one candidate.

Republican incumbent Bob Juckett of Park Ridge usually leads the "buller" votes every other year. While there is an implied gentleman's agreement candidates support their running mates Juckett usually is a lopsided winner in these races, obviously due to instructing his followers to vote only for him. Eugene Schlickman, the other Republican candidate, is likely to return to Springfield with Juckett in this race.

The two Democratic candidates, incumbent Aaron Jaffe and former Representative Ed War-

AN EDITORIAL

Mikva's Too Good To Lose

In supporting Congressman Mikva for re-election, we believe his recent opposition to the Highway Trust Act exemplifies the independent quality which best serves both his own constituents, as well as the people at large.

Mayor Daley's representatives in Congress introduced the bill which sought to have the government buy $55,000,000 of Skyway bonds, which would have bailed out private bondholders, who have received no return on their investment since the late 50's. It was introduced by Congressman Kluczynski, and supported by Congressman Pucinski, both staunch Democratic "party regulars." Abner Mikva joined hands with conservative Republican Derwinski in fighting the bill, and were successful in defeating this "private interest" action.

In the mid-1950's Mikva successfully ran an independent campaign against Democratic party regulars which resulted in his election to the state House. He had a consistent record of opposing the race track interests which meant opposing party strongman Paul Powell. He once introduced legislation which would require straight ticket voters to individually mark a check for each candidate, eliminating a straight ticket vote with one check, again manifesting his strong belief in voting independently.

Mikva has the support of The Chicago Sun-Times and The Chicago Daily News, as well as endorsements from Senator Adlai Stevenson, Senator Ted Kennedy and former Senator Paul Douglas.

In October, 1970, the respected New York Times said of Mikva: "Of the 435 members of the House of Representatives about 40 are outstanding because of their generally effective work or their devotion to the public interest... of late, (they have) been joined by an energetic newcomer, Abner Mikva." The Chicago Daily News stated the same month, "The name Abner Mikva has long been synonymous with good government and political independence -- rated an independent champion of good government." The venerable Paul Douglas commented: "Illinois needs more public officials with the strong and irreplaceable record for honesty and integrity that Ab Mikva has."

Mikva organized support for the 18 year old vote, and has supported many reforms in government. He is a leading spokesman in prison reform, forming a Congressional task force to study prison problems. He is the principal advocate in the House for hand gun control and has supported the President's plan to establish uniform welfare standards. He has consistently opposed the way in Southeast Asia and has been in the forefront to protect individual rights and freedoms.

His opponent Sam Young, is also an able candidate. His tying himself to the President in this campaign, though politically astute, raises the obvious question just how independent a representative he would be.

Mikva's independence and his past public record in our judgment are reasons for considering him among the best of public servants in the entire country. We believe his victory would give this district a representative of national acclaim. Once again, we believe he is just too good to lose.

Political Potpourri.....

Thursday morning was Ted Kennedy time. At the ungodly hour of 8:15 we were stopped by Kennedy security people as we tried to gain entrance to an ante room where a press conference was being held at Notre Dame High School. We moved in just before the Senator moved into the narrow room. Ab Mikva introduced Kennedy as the best touch tackle football player in Washington. As "the man" moved into the room and up to the microphone, he sounded almost pre-recorded as he launched into what sounded like a canned endorsement of the Congressman. He was whirling about the country on behalf of many Congressional candidates, and Kennedy's 5 minute speech sounded almost automated as he spoke with immediacy as he hit the mike. He's a big handsome man, 6 feet, almost baby-like skin, which looks like it's loaded down with pancake powder. Conservative, dark, two button, single-breasted suit, blue shirt, Brooks Brothers tie, all put together as only the rich can do. When he finished his speech, he handled 3 or 4 questions about Nixon and you knew you were in on "The Making of the President for 1976." You also knew your wife was impressed when she turned and said I should begin to play touch football.

Walking briskly down the auditorium center aisle, Kennedy received thunderous applause from the student body, clapping which lingered on long after most candidates would have launched into their speech. He had been clued in on the ND band having performed at the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, and he made note of it. He spoke for 10 minutes, answered questions for 10 minutes, heartily endorsed Ab Mikva, and then was whisked away to O'Hare airport where he took to the hustings on behalf of the next candidate.

The emotions caused by the cheers, the quickness of movement of the Senator from car, to press room, to his automated speech, to a second press conference, a brisk walk into the auditorium,

The judges, Rick Romano of The Review, Diane Miller of The Bugle, Sue Bradford of The Spectator and Al Bernstein of The News, met in the Niles Public Works offices and read approximately 45 of the essays submitted. Our many thanks go to these reporters and editors for devoting their time, and we are happy to announce the following winners: the first place essay was written by Laurie Chrobak of 7203 W. Greenleaf. The next 17 winning essays were written by the following Niles students: Debbi Buck, 8049 N. Oconto, Mike Kroll, 8132 Oconto, Suzanne Samorez, 8232 N. In addition, all 18 will spend the day of Nov. 8 in the Village, each taking the part of an official such as Mayor, Village Manager, Village Clerk, Trustee, etc., and will spend part of the day with the person actually in that position. Lunch will be served to all at the Bunker Hill Country Club. Further, the winners will run the Village Board of Trustees meeting scheduled for Nov. 14, at which time they will be presented with their trophies. Each winner will make the report of the person he represents.

The response to the contest was encouraging this year with almost 400 essays originally entered. The topic was, "What the Niles Youth Commission Should do to Benefit Youth is . . ." and needless to say, many interesting ideas were included in the essays. Of course, everyone cannot be a winner, but we thank all who entered for a job well done and hope you will enter again next year and perhaps be one of the winners then.

This year's winning essay, written by Laurie Chrobak, appears below. What I think the Niles Youth Commission should do for the Youth of Niles

Before I can improve upon the Youth Commission with my advice, I would first like to say your organization is quite effective in meeting the demands of the youth of Niles. I have participated in many of the Youth Commissions projects and have been well satisfied. Examples: 13-21 Softball League, 53 hour marathon, talent show etc. . . It is from this close contact with the Niles Youth Commission that I will suggest advise suitable for the Youth Commissions' accomplishment. In the following are 3 main ideas that could benefit the Youth Commission.

I think the youths of Niles should have a recreation center. It would be a kind of youth meeting place. It is a place where friends can come to talk, read books, practice favorite hobbies, or anything they like. It would be a place where all youths could go, not the kind of place where older teenagers go to play pool or smoke. Youths gets pressured in school, and at home parents are more demanding. So instead of taking these frustrations out on little kids, slitting tires, or shoplifting, they could relax, have something to drink, and settle down to talk. And for those who can't find common interests to talk about, billiard tables, ping pong tables, chess, checkers etc., could be supplied, along with a record player for added enjoyment. If this was to happen, all kids should be allowed in no matter what type of dress, or in adult term, inadequate clothing. Furnishings should be simple so kids would feel welcome. If Niles was to supply these recreation centers more kids would be in them having fun than running the streets. Different after school activities courses could be done at these centers. Any type of notused Park District building could be converted, so as to save our parents more tax for construction of a new building. So in all aspects Niles youths and parents would benefit from a youth recreation center.

Next, I believe that the Niles Youth Commission could benefit Niles youths by having a youth polling system. Since the Niles Youth Commission is directly working for the youths of Niles, how do you know what the youths want? You send out a certain program and if youths don't participate in it you figure we aren't interested in it. In fact, youths are interested in things you would never think of. You could save the Commission lots of time and nasty remarks by not deciding what's best for the Niles youths, but letting the youths decide themselves. They are going to be more affected anyway. In the "Niles Life," "Spectator," and "Bugle," you could inform youths 7 to 17 that a new polling system for youths is being formed. There could be a form in the papers to fill out, or forms available at Park District buildings. The requirements would be that you have to be a Niles resident old enough to write your name, and make sure your age is within the age limit. When filling out the form you write your name, age, address, telephone number, and identification. Then fill out what activity you would like the Youth Commission to start. You then would total up the votes. Whichever activities the majority of Niles Youths want, you could offer the program. And if they want it, you'll be sure that they will participate in it.

Finally my last point is, that I think certain appointed youths should be able to enter the Niles Youth Commission. The Commission does say Niles Youths! Who would know what youths of Niles want than youths themselves? As I said earlier the commission is made up of adults, how do you know what we are interested in? The polling system is one way to find out, but where do we go from there? You could have an advertisement in the Niles papers, that the Youth Commission is looking for responsible youths who would like to try to get into the Youth Commission. Or else try to be in a Niles Youth Congress made up entirely of kids. Kids who would try for this would meet you Commissioners who, in turn, would interview them. Whoever you think is responsible enough to make it would be chosen. If you had the polling system, these kids would total up the score and announce what activities won. With the kids in the Commission they would give a youthful point of view. But you adults would stay to give us sensible reasoning. If kids had a Niles Congress, you would choose them, and give them different offices; President, Vice President etc. In turn they would pass certain bills pertaining to Niles Youths which would have to be o.k. with you or other officials. In every way I think a recreation center, polling system, and a Youth Congress would help Niles Youths

Maine East Hunts 'Messiah Alumni'

Twenty-five years ago this December, the Maine East Concert Choir gave its first performance of Handel's Messiah. This world-famous Christmas music is rarely performed by high school choirs, but the enthusiasm of choir members and its reception by the community has continued through to the present — the 25th consecutive Messiah performance on Dec. 3, Sunday, 3:30 p.m. at Maine Township East High School, Park Ridge.

To make this Silver Anniversary more meaningful, the Maine East Music Department is inviting all past choir members who have participated in the performance of the Messiah to return to sing in the 25th Anniversary Celebration.

Letters of invitation have been sent to former choir members — special rehearsal times have been set to make it possible to get ready for the performance.

In addition, the Music Department has invited any student of Maine East interested in joining the choir for the Messiah to do so. Choir members have volunteered to coach these students in their part. The response has been excellent.

If you or your children have been a part of the Messiah, and would like to join in this Anniversary, we need and want you. Please call 825-4484, ext. 439 or 625 (Mr. Hug), or ext. 438 (Mr. Waldrup). Arrangements will be made for past members to attend rehearsals and be fitted for choir robes. Just one rehearsal attendance is required, on Dec. 2, Saturday.

A reunion-get-together is being planned for the choir and the alumni. Why not join the Choir in the Messiah and then get together with your friends?

Help the Choir make this the best Messiah performance ever!

Proceeds from the one dollar donation per ticket will be used toward scholarships for deserving Maine East graduates. In fact, to date the Maine East Mothers' Club has assisted 146 students in their efforts to gain a college education, and since 1955 over $58,000 has been raised to meet this challenge. Tickets may be purchased at the door or by calling ticket co-chairman, Mrs. J.E. Bridges at 823-3660.

24 exhibitors from the Midwest will display a wide variety of unusual antiques. There will be a booth where home-made bake goods will be brought in daily, and a snack bar will be open all the hours of the show.

The children actually influence and even help create the story. The troop itself consists of seven members and "The Problem" deals with a handicapped character. There is a loosely written script which calls for the vocal, and sometimes physical, participation of the audience. The Elf Troop began as a project for Des Moines grammar schools and has now come to the Chicago area.

On Nov. 15, the PTA will sponsor an open meeting at the school at 7:30 p.m. At this time, parents will have the opportunity to meet the new superintendent of District 63, Dr. George Gogo. Dr. Gogo will speak on some of his plans and hopes for our district. A question and answer session will follow. The evening promises to be very interesting and informative. Howard St. Repairs Going On

Dear Sirs:
I am writing your paper in hope that your ability to bring issues to the front can obtain an answer to my question.
After several months aggravation about the slow development on the bridge work at Howard Street and the Tam Golf Club entrance have made me ready to blow my top. This road is a vital link to the commercial area, the college scene and even the local public school on Oakton street. Its long closing is making for long traffic jams on our other thru streets, and when I go down near the work, I can't see more than a couple of worker on the project. Just what is taking so long to build and how long will this last?

What kind of a construction firm is on this project, it surely must be a Mickey Mouse outfit for its taking long enough to build, with no end in sight. Two local tennis clubs have been started and are nearly completed, and the bridge repair or whatever they are doing goes on and on.

What I am after is answers and if a progress report from time to time could be printed in your paper to let the driving public know if there's hope that Howard Street will someday be open again.

Maybe it takes a good paper like yours to build a fire under the contractor or Niles Public Works to get the job done and over with.

Thank you for any help you might be able to give in this matter.

Sincerely yours,
Edward A. Stanko

What A Waste!

Dear Editor:

After a year and a half away from the high school atmosphere it's nice to return to Maine South and observe from the other side of the fence. One thing that didn't make my return to South too pleasant was learning that this year's attendance at the Distributive Educational National Leadership Conference by the Maine South Distributive Education class was in jeopardy. The students are looking forward to participating in this year's conference in Atlantic City, New Jersey but seem to be running into some rather strong opposition from some of the District 207 administrators.

As a senior in the Distributive Ed class of '71, I was one of the fortunate six selected to attend that year's conference in San Antonio, Texas. Those eight days meant more to me than almost my entire four years at South. The spirit and dedication of our class was fantastic, as every student in the class worked overtime earning money so that the six of us could attend. Our participation at that year's convention was the first time in the history of the Maine South District that any one of the four schools were represented at such a meeting; although it was the twenty-fifth convention of this sort. What a waste!

We thought this first in district history had broken the ice, and Distributive Education classes in the years to follow would have no problems. Evidently not, the class of '72 didn't attend and this year's class of '73 is really being hassled. Not allowing these students to attend and take part in this truly rewarding and beneficially educational affair is only defeating the purpose of education itself. What a waste! I cannot find words powerful enough to express what a meaningful and wholesome part this convention played in my life. I shudder when I realize all this education is being discarded. What a waste!

The Distributive Ed students of this year's class have shown me their highly unique sense of enthusiasm and an overwhelming desire in this important matter and I only hope they can overcome their obstacle and meet me in Atlantic City. As for myself, I play on taking time out from the Navy to attend.

Respectfully,
Mike Laden '71

Dr. Koehnline Speaks to DP Rotary

Dr. W. A. Koehnline, president of Oakton Community college, was guest speaker for the Des Plaines Rotary on Friday, Oct. 27.

"Up - Date on Oakton" was the title of Dr. Koehnline's talk. He discussed the progress that the 3-year-old college has made to date, the current program and enrollment and the status of the college's search for a permanent campus site.

Troop 107

Under the leadership of Dick Powell, Scoutmaster and his Troop Committee Boy Scout Troop 107 from Our Lady of Ransom parish in Niles received a District Camping Award. "In recognition of outstanding effort for a superior camp layout and program, which meets all the requirements of a successful experience as determined by judges." The award was earned at the Fall Camporee held at Kankakee State Park. Winning a blue ribbon for first place in the troop was the Tiger Patrol, consisting of Jack Ferrari, Paul Hanlon, Jim Heath-Patrol leader, Mike Kaufmann, and Keith Mierzwa-Assst. Patrol leader.

Of special interest to the Illinois Society for the Prevention of Blindness is the recent legislation which makes it mandatory for any prospective bride in Illinois who applies for a marriage license after Oct. 1, 1972, to have an affidavit from a physician stating that she has been tested for rubella immunity. The affidavit must be presented to the county clerk before he can issue a marriage license.

Because rubella (german measles) often causes serious damage to an unborn child if the mother contracts the disease during pregnancy, this legislation represents an important step toward the elimination of rubella-related birth defects. These tragic birth defects include blindness, deafness and mental retardation.

As the result of several states refusing to host the Midwest Championships, Illinois will be the host state this year. Notre

Halloween Painting Contest

More than 100 boys and girls from sixth grade through eighth grade entered the Morton Grove Park District's Halloween Painting Contest. These paintings which are 4 X 2 1/2 ft. will be placed in the merchant's store windows in the area for the public to observe.

Mrs. Ethel Mills, and Mr. Walter Kaste from the Board of Directors of the Morton Grove Art Guild were the hard working judges. They said deciding on a few winners was very difficult as there were many fine paintings submitted. But after much deliberation they chose the following winners:

6th Grade: 1st place - Laurence Samuelson, Scott Gielow; 2nd place - Paula Christensen, Katherine Bjorn; 3rd place - Teresa Terencio, Karen Neepor; 4th place - Sue Steple, Jane Jung, Terri Virag, Nancy Balmes.

7th Grade: 1st place - Nancy Chikarashi, Elizabeth Cui; 2nd place - Diana Hintz, Claudia Nader; 3rd place - Ellen Bender, Lisa Frank; 4th place - Mark Horevitz, Scott Terry.

8th Grade: 1st place - Jim Sorenson, Linda Sorenson; 2nd place - Ginny O'Brien, Lori O'Brien.

Due to the difficulty in choosing winners in 6th and 7th grade because of the large participation the judges decided to award 4th place winners, however the 8th grade entries amounted to only 8 so it was decided to award only a 1st and 2nd place prize.

Junior Olympic Championships

Fr. Lawrence Calhoun, Nat. Chairman for the Junior Olympic Development Committee attended the annual Board of Governors meeting at Olympic House in New York recently. One of the items from the meeting is the setting of procedures and site and date of the 1973 U.S. Junior Olympic Fencing Championships. This meet will be in Los Angeles on Feb. 17-19. The tournament will decide the U.S. team for the Under 20 World Youth Championships to be held on Easter in Buenos Aires, Argentina.

At this time, Terry McConville (N.D.H.S.) is an automatic qualifier to this meet by virtue of his 6th place finish at the U.S. Nationals in Boston last July. Each division will be entitled to send three competitors in each weapon to the Los Angeles meet. Notre Dame High school hosted this meet last year.

Cal's Issues Senior Citizen Cards

Gene Carelli, Vice President - Cal's Inc., presents first Senior Citizen I.D. card to Elmer Hills, 84-year old retired carpenter.

Cal's Inc., a leading midwest sandwich chain, announces the start of a Senior Citizen program. Gene Carelli, Vice President of Cal's Inc., states that 20 million Americans, 10% of our total population is over 65. Cal's Restaurants are truly family operations catering to all ages. We recognize the need of our Senior Citizens to remain a part of the community - to be among other people. We know that retired people with reduced incomes find it increasingly difficult to eat out. Cal's is making it a little easier.

Since they recently began their offer of a Senior Citizen I.D. card to anyone qualified for Medi-Care, over 5,000 Senior Citizens have registered. This I.D. card entitles the holder to their drink free with any sandwich purchase.

For the past 18 months Cal's has also issued I.D. cards to students. "We have given away over 200,000 drinks since we started," said Mr. Carelli. "This is our small contribution to our kids and Senior Citizens."

Golf Mill State Bank Record High Figures

New record highs in growth were achieved during the first 9 months of 1972 at Golf Mill State Bank announced President Robert A. Sharpe recently in releasing the bank's third quarter figures.

The bank, which broke ground last January for a new $2 million building immediately south of the Golf Mill Shopping Center, reported new record highs in both total loans and total deposits at the end of the nine-month period on Sept. 30, 1972.

Growth in deposits of 14.6% from $22,693,000 a year ago to $26,012,000 as of the third quarter mark, resulted in the new record high.

Capital accounts realized a growth of 12.7% over the same time span, from $1,316,000 last year to $1,484,000 on Sept. 30, 1972.

Reflecting the overall economy's demand for loans, activity in total loans and discounts increased by 29.1% over the past 12 months: $14,643,000 as compared to $11,345,000 a year ago.

"Our expectations for continued growth, in both size and service," Sharpe said, "are high. When our new band building facilities open soon, Golf Mill State Bank will offer customers six lanes for motor banking transactions and many other improved service features."

First National Christmas Club

First National Bank of Des Plaines is now offering 4-1/2% interest on 1973 Christmas Club savings plus free, decorative snowman chimes. The announcement was made by Arthur R. Weiss, bank president.

Weiss explained that the Club provides First customers with 4-1/2% interest plus a convenient, efficient way to save for those end-of-the-year Christmas bills. "We now offer a variety of low, bi-weekly savings plans," Weiss commented, "to suit anyone's budget and with the opening of each Christmas Club, we are giving away colorful snowman chimes to brighten this holiday season." By beginning bi-weekly savings now, First National customers will receive all they've saved plus 4-1/2% interest in November, 1973. Bi-weekly savings plans range from $2 to $40.

For further details on the 1973 Christmas Club, contact the First National Bank of Des Plaines, 739 Lee St., 827-4411.

Jehovah's Witnesses Re-Organize

The local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, along with over 27,000 congregations of Witnesses worldwide, have undergone major organization changes, it was learned recently. According to Dan Strege, Presiding Overseer of the local group, these changes bring them even closer to the first century Christian organizational structure.

Jehovah's Witnesses have experienced tremendous global expansions in recent years," reported Strege, "and we must prepare not only for further expected increases, but also for drastic changes on the world scene foretold in the Bible for the immediate future."

The Witness have seen over 434,000 new members join them in their world wide ministerial activity in the past three years.

Alexander Johnson, Glenview, Congregation Overseer prior to October 1, added that Jehovah's Witnesses do not have the popular clergy-lalty distinctions. "All who become Jehovah's Witnesses, men, women and children, share in the Christian ministry after a period of training," he said.

Along with Strege and Johnson, Don Jespersen, Glenview; David Knoke, 8043 Foster Lane, Niles; Jacob Opperman, 8739 Elmore, Niles; William Narve, 7056 Madison, Niles; and Helmut Poschel, 8718 Oleander, Niles, have been appointed to serve on the congregation's body of elders.

Endorses Warman and Flynn

Enjoying a rare moment of relaxation in the hectic '72 campaign race, Senator Edward Kennedy (D-Massachusetts) took time to renew his acquaintance with 6 year legislative veteran Edward A. Warman of Skokie (r.), Democratic Candidate for reelection as State Representative (4th District). Senator Kennedy also had an opportunity to greet Thomas Flynn of Niles, Democratic Candidate for State Senator (4th District). Kennedy endorsed the candidacies of Warman and Flynn calling for their election on Nov. 7 along with Congressman Abner Mikva with whom they appeared at Notre Dame High School in Niles.

Warman and Flynn both feel Kennedy's appearance in Niles gave the Democratic ticket an added boost as election day draws near. Kennedy stated "The State of Illinois needs good Democrats like Eddie Warman and Tom Flynn to carry out its progressive programs in the legislature. They are the strength we need on the state level."

McAuliffe Cites Drug Abuse Crisis

Roger McAuliffe, Republican candidate for State Representative in the 16th district, today called the problem of drug abuse one of the most dangerous crises faced by our country today.

"Young people today face much group pressure to experiment with drugs," McAuliffe stated. "Republican administrations have begun to solve these problems but much more must be done."

"There is a three-pronged plan of attack that must be followed," McAuliffe went on. "We must educate our young people on the dangers of drug use, provide adequate rehabilitation facilities for those who have already fallen into their grasp and take proper steps to choke off the supply of drugs flowing through the country."

"We must stop this problem before it progresses any further, before more young people are caught in the deadly web of drugs."

Nader Profile on Congressman Mikva

The Ralph Nader Congress project has released a favorable 12-page profile on Congressman Abner J. Mikva (D-Ill.) as part of its study of every Congressman and Senator and Congress itself.

The report cited Congressman Mikva's independence from the Chicago Democratic organization and his battles with it, his work on environmental problems — including noise pollution — and his "above average" attendance record in the U.S. House of Representatives.

The Congressman said that he was pleased with the profile. He hoped that the Nader Congress project encourages people to pay more attention to Congress and the way it works.

"This is the most comprehensive study ever done on Congress," Congressman Mikva said. "It's something we have needed for a long time. With the information and the interest that it should generate, hopefully we can get the public support we need to pass much-needed reforms in Congress."

The report pointed out, "Mikva is strongly opposed to the use of seniority as a basis for assigning House of Representatives Committee and Subcommittee chairmanships."

In its report, the Nader Project quoted journalists and members of House Committee staffs

Warman: GOP Afraid to Discuss Issues

Edward Warman of Skokie, 6 year veteran of the Illinois House of Representatives and Democratic candidate for reelection in the 4th Legislative District recently spoke out against the issue of non issues in the 1972 elections. Warman has had the distinction of having been supported by both Democrats and Republicans in his 3 terms in the General Assembly and as a Candidate for U.S. Congress in the old 13th District.

"As I review the campaign in its final days I find what has really developed in the way of issues is a campaign of non-issues. My Republican opponents seem to rely on several basic facts. They are both incumbents and Republicans; therefore they can issue news releases about the same non-issue week after week. I am delighted Mr. Juckett has applications available for absentee ballots that the Chicago Daily papers seek Mr. Schlickman's opinion over all the other State Legislators on 'secret' deals between Ogilvie, Nixon and Daley. Complacency in their positions has really robbed the public of their right to know where they stand on the important issues of the day. For example, where do they stand on solving the problems of mass transportation, of improving our ecology, on the fight to stop drug traffic among our young, to further improve our educational standards, of replacing the property tax, to seek legislation to eliminate sales taxes on food, drugs, and medicines. What is their position on Vietnam, the state of the economy, the Watergate affair, amnesty, unemployment and the underemployed.

As a former candidate for the U.S. Congress and as a 6 year member of the Illinois House of Representatives my position on each issue is clear and concise. The people know where I stand and they are certainly entitled to know where Mr. Juckett and Mr. Schlickman stand. As we enter into the final days of this campaign we must look forward to the time when candidates are not afraid to speak out on the issues. The public has the right to know."

on the Congressman's work in the House. An attorney on the House Judiciary Committee staff told the Nader study that Congressman Mikva was very effective in Committee meetings.

"He really does his homework," the attorney said, "you can tell it when he comes into committee meetings."

The Nader Report also reviewed Congressman Mikva's voting record in the U.S. House of Representatives:

Against the war in Southeast Asia . . .

Against the space program, the loan to Lockheed, and excessive farm subsidies . . .

For child care centers, a strong consumer protection agency, tax reform, stronger environmental legislation, women's equal rights,

Tribune Endorses Young

Sam Young, if elected to Congress from the 10th District "would oppose the ill-conceived and dangerous welfare, taxing and economic schemes such as Mr. McGovern has proposed," according to the Chicago Tribune in an editorial endorsement of Young's candidacy.

The Tribune, in an editorial on Wednesday, Oct. 11, called Young's opponent, Abner Mikva "a disciple of his blurry-visioned mentor, Sen. McGovern.

"Unlike Mr. Mikva, Mr. Young would support President Nixon's efforts to achieve a just and durable settlement in Southeast Asia and would help assure this country of a strong defense."

The editorial ranked Young with other highly qualified public servants which Chicago's North Shore suburbs have produced, including Gov. Ogilvie, Sen. Percy and Attorney General William Scott.

Mr. Berrigan, one of the leading figures of a group of poets (including Frank O'Hara and Ron Padgett) known as the "New York School," has published extensively in magazines and anthologies. Book of his poems include "The Sonnets" (Grove, 1967) and "Bean Spasms" (Kulcher Press, 1967). Mr. Berrigan now lives in Chicago where he teaches the Workshop in Creative Writing at Northeastern Illinois university.

Miss Dacenko recently received her M.A. in English from the University of Chicago. She teaches creative workshops at Barat and Columbia colleges. Her published writings include work in "Nutsell," "Black Maria," "The Feminist Voice," and "Literary Circle."

Mr. Goldbarth publishes extensively in most of the country's literary journals. He also has poems included in the anthologies, "New Voices in American Poetry" and "The Young American Poets." His first book of poems, "Undercover," will be published this winter by Best Cellar Press.

Miss LeBlanc's published work includes poems in "Black Maria," "Stash," "Albatross" and "The Garland Court Review."

TO THE POLLS

AMERICA!

"By far the most outstanding House member from Illinois, or just about anyplace else . . ."

re-elect Congressman Mikva!

One of the most effective men in Congress.

- 14 years of legislative experience: for the last four years in the U.S. House of Representatives and, before that, 10 years in the Illinois House of Representatives.
- An honors graduate of the University of Chicago Law School. A member of Phi Beta Kappa. Named one of the 10 "outstanding young men in Chicago" by the Junior Association of Commerce and Industry.
- Rated by the League of Conservation Voters and Field & Stream magazine as one of the leading Congressmen in the nation for his work to preserve and protect the environment.
- He gets things done in Congress. Ethics legislation, the Women's Equal Rights Amendment, handgun control and prison reform and crime victims compensation—an anti-crime program that will work, economy in government—these are the things that Congressman Ab Mikva has been working for.

Here's what people have been saying about Ab Mikva:

"We believe the choice for independent voters should be Rep. Abner J. Mikva . . ." —The Chicago Sun-Times, Sept. 25, 1972.

"He has an established record in Congress as a hard-working and effective legislator . . . Usually, when I feel candidates for an office are about equal, I vote for the Republican. That is not the case now . . . Congressman Ab Mikva is far and away the best person for the job." —Dr. Blair Plimpton, former School Superintendent, Park Ridge.

" . . . he's got experience and intelligence . . . he's working on the kinds of problems that affect my family—like inflation and higher food prices—and he's working for tax reform." —Bob Nebgen, Des Plaines.

"I know he's probably the best Constitutional lawyer in Congress. That explains his commitment to individual rights and women's equality—and his revulsion for wiretapping and government surveillance." —Conrad Verges, attorney, Glenview.

*Tom Littlewood, Washington correspondent. The Chicago Sun-Times, Oct. 10, 1972.

"He worked hard for public education during his 10 years in the state legislature, and now he is one of education's strongest spokesmen in Congress." —Dr. Michael Bakalis, State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

"We believe that on the basis of his experience and proven record, he is the better candidate . . ." —The Chicago Daily News, Sept. 20, 1972.

" . . . he's a practical Congressman, who's trying to make sure the public's tax dollar isn't wasted. He'd rather see it spent cleaning up Lake Michigan than fighting a war in Southeast Asia." —Cayn Greiman, Skokie.

"For 14 years now, Ab Mikva has fought for only one special interest, the people's interest." —Lt. Gov. Paul Simon.

"If there were more people like Abner Mikva in the Congress, it would be a better Congress." —Adlai E. Stevenson III, U.S. Senator, Illinois.

Flynn Sums Up Campaign Issues

Tom Flynn, the Democratic Senatorial Candidate in the 4th District, today summed up his whole campaign by speaking on the vital issues of the 4th District Senatorial campaign. He in effect outlined to the people what he believes in and what he will contribute to the State when he is in Springfield the next two years. He asked the voters not to judge their candidates on party labels but rather on the substance of the man and what they themselves believe in. He called for all the citizens to exercise their right to vote and to vote their conscience for what is best for Illinois and the 4th Senatorial District.

Flag Corp

by Ed Hanson

Have you ever been to a Maine East football game, watched the halftime activities, and wondered why the flag bearers were there and what their flags represented?

Well, those flag bearers, all girls by the way, comprise the Maine East flag corp, and their flags represent Maine East and her sister schools in the Central Suburban Conference.

The flag corp was formed four years ago and is sponsored by Mr. Gerald Hug, music department chairman. The ranks consist of seven girls - Vivian Meladonian, Kathy Chase, Caroline Mendrala, Judy Shore, Linda Delner, Pat Powers, and captain of the corp, Sandy Williams.

Sandy depicts the function of the flag corp as "a precision marching group. The marching band was too large to be expected to march with a high degree of precision, so a small group was chosen with mainly that in mind. We write our own routines and try to perform them with the precision possible."

The corp performs at all Maine East halftimes and represents Maine East at all parades.

Sandy maintains that the small corp has a tendency to be "overshadowed" by the many halftime activities going on at the same time. Therefore, on Nov. 3, the date of the Maine East home football game against Glenbrook South, the flag corp will be highlighted. They will perform several special routines under the accompaniment of the band.

Tryouts for the flag corp are held in the spring and are open to all students. No music background is necessary.

Cocktails and Psychology

Dr. Richard Phillip Issel, renowned psychologist, will be guest speaker on the program sponsored by the St. John Brebeuf Catholic Women's club, to be held on Nov. 2, at 8:30 p.m. in the School Hall, 8301 Harlem, Niles. His topic will be "Maturity." Admission will be $2 per person; both men and women are invited to attend. For further information call Mrs. William Scheffler (967-9684) or Mrs. William Borman, (966-6797).

Four northwest area legislators, one Democrat and 3 Republicans, have been endorsed for re-election by the non-partisan Tax Reform League.

State Representatives Ralph C. Capparelli (D-16th), House Majority Leader Henry Hyde (R-18th), Eugene Schlickman (R-3rd), and Jacob John Wolf (R-14th) received the nod following a review of the tax reform voting records of all northwest area candidates for the Illinois House of Representatives.

According to Edwin Olaszanski (suburban area chairman), 9149 Woodview, Des Plaines, "The League carefully screened each candidate's position on tax issues and, in particular, House Bill 4860 which would have prevented an increase in real estate tax bills for 2 years." The public positions of candidates seeking election for the first time were also reviewed.

"The four men we have endorsed deserve re-election for their efforts to 'keep the lid' on real estate taxes," said Olaszanski. "Recent studies show that taxpayers on Chicago's northwest side and in northwest Cook County pay some of the highest real estate taxes in the state. This upward tax spiral must be curbed."

All four legislators voted for the two-year freeze on real estate taxes. Capparelli deserves special mention because he was the only Democrat in the 16th District and only one of two Chicago Democrats to support the tax freeze.

The primary concern of the Tax Reform League is to keep real estate taxes down by bringing pressure on area legislators.

Howlett to Appear at Demo Rally

Michael Howlett, Democratic Candidate for Secretary of State will be featured speaker at a final rally of the Maine Township Regular Democratic Organization, Thursday, Nov. 2, at 8 p.m., at Bunker Hill Country Club, 6635 Milwaukee ave., Niles. The announcement came from Nicholas Blase, Committeeman of the Maine Democratic Organization.

Howlett will appear with Neil Hartigan, Democratic Candidate for Lt. Governor and Congressman Abner Mikva running for re-election in the 10th Congressional District. They will be joined by other Democratic candidates including Edward Warman, Democratic Candidate for re-election as State Representative (4th District) and Thomas Flynn, Democratic Candidate for State Senator (4th District.) The public is invited to attend. For further information call 692-3388.

'The Tenth Man'

Humor, suspense, pathos, love, it's all there in Paddy Chayefsky's "The Tenth Man," to be presented by the Mayer Kaplan JCC's Open Stage Players on Nov. 11, 12, 18, 19, 25 and 26.

Leon Palles, Head of the Drama Department, is director of this touching story of an innocent young girl who is possessed by a shrewish peasant dybbuk. The drama unfolds in an Orthodox Jewish Synagogue in Brooklyn where the rabbi and elder members of the congregation become involved in the girl's problem. Humor enters the situation as the old men argue in Talmudic fashion over the means to rid this girl of the demon. Should they follow the modern methods of psychiatry or should they turn to Jewish mysticism and stage an exorcism? In the midst of the conflict, a love story develops between the girl and a cynical young man.

Curtain times for "The Tenth Man" are 8 p.m. on Saturdays, 7:30 p.m. on Sundays. Performances will be held in the Zolite and Elaine Frank Theater of the Mayer Kaplan Jewish Community Center, 5050 W. Church st., Skokie.

Tickets are now on sale at the Center at a cost of $2 for Kaplan JCC members and $2.75 for non-members.

'Angel Street'

Margaret Phillips, who won a Theatre World Award in her Broadway debut as Agnes in "The Late George Apley," the Critics-Clearance Derwent and Donaldson Awards for her role of Birdie in "Another Part of the Forest," and created the role of Alma in Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke," has been signed by producer David Lonn to star with Joseph Campanella in "Angel Street," opening Nov. 9 at the Arlington Park Theatre.

For the Arlington Park Theatre production of "Angel Street," Miss Phillips will assume the role of Mrs. Manningham in the taut, psychological drama about a wife whose criminal husband is trying to drive her insane.

Veteran Broadway director Shepard Traube, who originally staged and produced the long-running, award-winning "Angel Street" at the John Golden Theatre in New York which starred Vincent Price, Judith Evelyn and Leo G. Carroll, will direct the production.

"Angel Street," written by Patrick Hamilton, opens at the Arlington Park Theatre on Thursday, Nov. 9, and plays through Sunday, Dec. 10.

THE CORNERS of Where it's at and What's happening.

By Ed Hanson

This is the last issue before the Nov. 7 election. So, maybe a few words of wisdom about politicians and politics are in order.

When a politician starts throwing dirt — it's a sure sign he's losing ground.

And Disraeli once said, "A majority is always the best repartee."

Teddy Roosevelt said, "The most successful politician is he who says what everybody is thinking most often and in the loudest voice."

In a democracy you can say what you think without thinking. The different between democracy and communism is — plenty! When a politician opposes change, he probably has his. Remember, it was a third party that spoiled things in the Garden of Eden.

And we have a third party in this country most voters are not aware of. It's the independent voters which today comprise 41% of the total vote.

And speaking of voting, George Jean Nathan said it better than anyone. He said, "Bad officials are elected by good citizens who do not vote."

A master politician has learned the art of obtaining money from the rich and votes from the poor, on the pretext of protecting each from the other.

And all politicians are willing to do anything on earth for the workers except become one.

When a highly successful politician dies, he becomes a statesman.

And what is a statesman? A statesman is a man who can solve grave problems that wouldn't have existed if there were no statesmen.

A guy told me he wasn't going to vote on election day because he doesn't want to have anything to do with crooked politics. This guy has a lot more to do with crooked politics than he thinks.

My personal political prediction: GEORGE MCGOVERN WILL WIN! — maybe one state, if he wins two, he can consider it a landslide.

But whether you're a Democrat, Republican, or independent it's nice to have money. For if you have money you can celebrate the election with joy or sorrow at any of the following fine places:

JAKE'S RESTAURANT, 7740 Milwaukee ave., Niles. Jake has invited all the winning candidates, both national and local to come and celebrate their victory or defeat. And he'll have Democratic specials, Republican specials, and even independent specials. And there will be "Loser's specials and Winner's specials" for the voters, too. And for those who didn't vote, there'll be "I-Didn't-Vote" specials, also. So, regardless of your party, make up a party and election night enjoy yourself at JAKE'S.

Whether your candidate wins or loses, you can't lose if you drop into the BEAM'N BARREL, 7136 Milwaukee ave., Niles. You can either drown your sorrows or celebrate at their long bar and whether you're a Democrat, Republican or Independent you'll cast your vote for the superb steaks, seafood, ribs and sandwiches the BEAM'N BARREL affords. Election night or any night you'll love the rustic and cozy atmosphere, the enchanting foods, the wonderful personalized service and the over-sized cocktails offered at the BEAM'N BARREL. That's one thing all Democrats, Republicans and Independents agree on — THE BEAM'N BARREL is a winner!

And a place a lot of local politicians patronize is the LONE TREE INN, 7710 Milwaukee ave., Niles. For the LONE TREE has great Polish-American Foods, top entertainment and delicious cocktails. The LONE TREE is the place to be — for fun and food and a good time... on election night or any other night for that matter.

And not only election night but every night there's action at the GROUND ROUND, Dempster and Waukegan rd., Morton Grove. Tuesday night is Amateur Night and next Tuesday is election night, too, so if you're hungry for good food and thirsty for a good time... try the GROUND ROUND... that's where the action is 7 nights a week...

You can watch the election results at BIGGY'S RESTAURANT, Ballard and Potter (in Arthur's Court), while you wine and dine on election night. For Biggy's has fine cuisine and a very pleasant atmosphere.

And if you're planning an election night party, don't forget ARVEY'S RESTAURANT, 7141 Oakton, Niles. For ARVEY'S gives great value for the money when it comes to eating out. Their menu features a wide variety of quality foods to choose from at very reasonable prices.

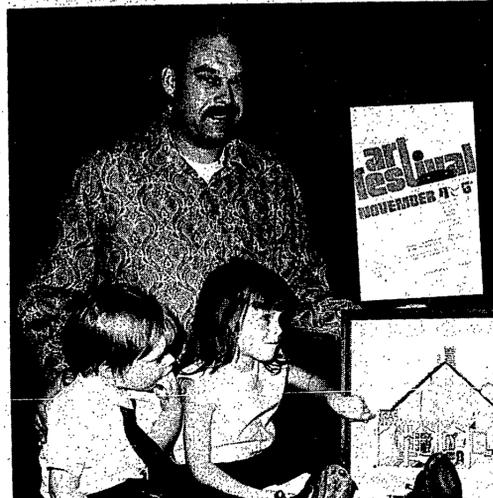

See you next week...

BJBE Art Festival Nov 4 & 5

Jennifer Braun, age 3 1/2, points out a detail in her father's ink drawing while brother Fred, age 2, looks on. Artist Fred Braun of 8219 N. Merrill, Niles, is one of 95 artists from an 8 state area who will display their works at the 2nd annual B'Nal Jehoshua Beth Elohim Art Festival, Nov. 4 and 5. Paintings, sculpture, pottery, graphics, ceramics, photography, and jewelry can be viewed at the temple, 901 Milwaukee ave., Glenview, on Saturday, Nov. 4, 8 p.m. until midnight, and Sunday, Nov. 5, 11 a.m. until 6 p.m. Art films will be shown continuously and free babysitting will be available.

'Odd Couple'

Quite possibly the factor that made "The Odd Couple" one of the most successful Broadway comedy hits of the sixties is that it cut to the bone of contention in most families, the conflict over neatness-versus-disorder in homes. It clearly comes out of a true experience of the play's happy author, Neil Simon.

When this play opens on Nov. 15 at the Niles West auditorium, playgoers will see the battle drawn in one particular household, in which two divorced husbands, are sharing an apartment and are miserable in their domestic arrangements because one of them is happy to be a slob and the other is an obsessive tidier-upper.

Theatre Party

The Womens' Guild of the Skokie Valley Symphony Orchestral Association will hold a Theatre Party on Nov. 11, Saturday evening at Hull House, 4520 N. Beacon st., Chicago. The time is 7:30 p.m. but everyone is urged to come early for a pre-performance Champagne Party get-together before the performance. The play is called "2002, A Space Absurdity" which promises to be an exploratory voyage into (and out of) this Universe!

Tickets at $5 each a donation can be obtained from Mrs. Mike Ellis, 8413 N. Lotus, Skokie - 966-6960.

First National Bank Sponsors Land Trust Seminar

A land trust seminar sponsored by the First National Bank of Des Plaines was held on Wednesday, Oct. 18 at the Casa Royale in Des Plaines. The meeting, hosted by Arthur R. Weiss, bank president, is another in the series of community-involving events planned by the bank to commemorate its 60th year of service to the city.

Principal speakers at the seminar, which was attended by approximately 100 Des Plaines area realtors and attorneys, were First National Officers: James S. Sheldon, vice president and trust officer and Bruce I. McPhee, assistant vice president. Both men, highly experienced in the field of land trusts, spoke alternately on a variety of topics describing many areas related to land trusts. They explained what a land trust is, what it offers, general financing considerations of such a trust and general land trust usage.

Sheldon began his presentation by defining a land trust. He described it as an agreement in which the title of real estate is transferred to a trustee, while the rights and conveniences of ownership are retained by the person or persons establishing the land trust or by those named in the trust as entitled to the rights of ownership, the beneficiaries. He further explained that land trust provides a number of worthwhile benefits. It offers privacy of ownership because all trust records and beneficiaries names are confidential, there is limited exposure to judgments and liens, avoidance of marital interests in title, transferability of beneficial interest and its use in borrowing transactions.

In his discussion of land trust ingredients and sequences, Sheldon covered various areas including beneficial interest, power of direction and necessary signatures to trust documents. Later in the seminar he delved into the many complexities of land trust usage, income, estate and land gift taxes and lessor and lessee roles.

McPhee's informative contribution to the seminar involved an in-depth explanation of general land trust financing considerations such as mortgage loans, loans secured by beneficial interests (documents), UCC filing and right of redemption as well as land-trust financing using as-ignment of beneficial interest, more complex situations often involving homeowner investors, interim loans, developer loans and business loans. He ended his presentation with a discussion of syndications and securities laws involving the sale of fractional interests and limited partnerships.

Closing remarks were made by Frederick F. Webster, Chairman of the Bank's Board of Directors, as he commented on the tremendous progress made by First National's trust department in the eight years of its existence under the direction of Sheldon. He emphasized the value of the service which the trust department can provide in assisting with important, complex involvements of land trusts, adding that First National strongly recommends that its patrons obtain an attorney when considering land trusts and related areas. "A conference between the trust experts at First National and a customer's attorney is the best possible way to approach land trust situations," Webster concluded.

Washington School Involves Parents

As part of the observance of American Education Week, Washington school in Glenview invited parents of its fifth and sixth grade students to attend class with their children. On Wednesday, Oct. 25, parents came to class with their children and then participated in a "rap session" with the teachers after class. Parents of sixth grade students followed the same procedures on Thursday.

Separate evening rap sessions were held with parents of other grades. According to Milo Hellman, principal of Washington school, the sessions were designed to give parents the opportunity to discuss any aspects of the school program that concerned them. This gives the school and the parents the chance to engage in open dialogue and to clarify issues of mutual concern.

Sharing Program

Notre Dame and St. Scholastica High School students have begun their sixth year of sharing their education with students from the center city of Chicago through tutoring.

Organized under the title CALM (Chicago Area Lay Movement), twice each week these students travel to either Brown Elementary school in Garfield Park or Mt. Carmel school to tutor the young people enrolled there.

Under the direction of Brother Rodney Struble, c.s.c., Tim Galvin, c.s.c., and Sister Kathryn Smith, O.S.B. with student co-ordinators Al Stegman, Stas, Maslanka, and Mary Lu Bilek, over 70 students travel to the city on Tuesdays after school or on Saturday mornings.

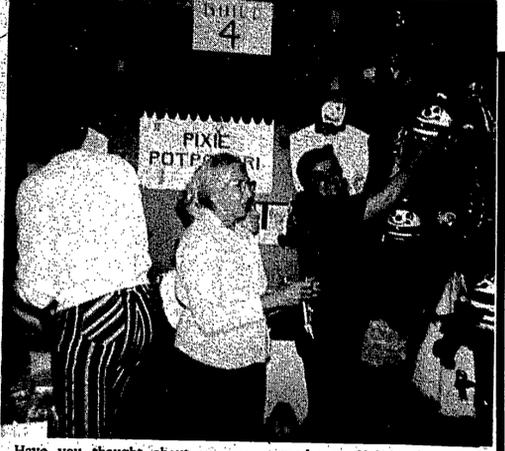

Each student from one of these inner-city schools is assigned a tutor who works with the child on the academic, physical and social areas. Not only do the young people benefit but these high school students can develop realistic insights about center city schools with a view toward future careers in teaching and social work.

A new facet of the Notre Dame-St. Scholastica program this year is the approval by both schools for the program as a religion elective. Besides the actual work of tutoring, students meet twice each month for in-service training sessions dealing with topics from How to Improve Reading. Skills to tutor evaluations.

The Saturday morning program has attracted student participation from Marillac High school, Madine South and Madine East, Notre Dame's student government picks up the $1100 tab for all educational materials, the high school students transportation and the milk and doughnuts served to the young children in the program. The Garfield Park Neighborhood Service Center provides other expenses.

Mrs. Christian and Mrs. Darby co-ordinate the Saturday morning program for the Garfield Park Community.

the way has been the greatest source of falsehood, both intentional and unintentional.

Congressman Mikva discussed the decision by Congress to override the Administration's veto of the clean water bill.

The Congressman cited a recent newspaper poll which showed that 86% of the people under 30 agreed with the statement that "those in power often don't tell the truth."

He told the students, "You have good reason to be suspicious of government when there are so many political scandals and such a long history of deception and illusion in Vietnam."

Teaching Interns at Nathanson School

Mention "intern" to most people and the image that comes to mind is a young and eager doctor in his final stages of professional preparation before he becomes a full-fledged MD.

Dr. Ed Cavanaugh, education professor from Northeastern who is also assigned to the school on a full-time basis for the 16 week block.

Basic differences exist between the intern program and the traditional student teaching experience. The intern program is designed to combine the theory of the university classroom with the realistic, practical experience that can be gained only in the actual classroom setting.

The intern program currently involves 15 students from Northeastern Illinois university, assigned to the school for a 16 week period. Accompanying the interns Program exist. The school benefits from having additional staff capable of working with children in a variety of ways. This enables each teacher and intern to devote more time on an individual and small group basis to the children.

Advantages also exist for the school in having the university professor assigned to the school available. Not only can this person assist the interns, he can also be of assistance to the rest of the professional staff.

Every attempt is made to involve the interns in a variety of experiences. Seminars held 3 times a week focus not only on the classroom, but on other aspects of education as well.

Other sessions are devoted to the role of the administration and of the school board. Intensive work is also devoted to dealing with feelings, emotions, and attitudes, drawing on the resources of district social workers, counselors, and Special Education personnel.

Student teaching has long been an accepted part of a teacher's professional preparation. Intern teaching offers implications and dimensions that are not possible in the traditional student teaching experience for the benefit of the intern, the teaching profession and the children alike.

"I need Aaron Jaffe in the Illinois legislature," said Daniel Walker, Democratic candidate for Governor, at a recent dinner honoring State Rep. Aaron Jaffe (D-4th). Maine East Students Hear Mikva

Congressman Abner J. Mikva (D-Ill.) told an assembly of Maine East High school students in Des Plaines last week that there is a growing sense of mistrust and suspicion for government, especially among young people, and that they had an obligation to "get involved" to change it.

The Congressman cited a recent newspaper poll which showed that 86% of the people under 30 agreed with the statement that "those in power often don't tell the truth."

He told the students, "You have good reason to be suspicious of government when there are so many political scandals and such a long history of deception and illusion in Vietnam."

Kids Need Sidewalks

Dear Editor: As concerned citizens living in an unincorporated area, we are appealing to you for help. The Washington school is located next to a busy shopping center on a heavily traveled county road. The children are forced to walk on this street's shoulders and un-paved curbs as the only route to school.

hazard to both the driver and the pedestrian. Help us save our children! The county claims they cannot afford to make these necessary safety improvements. Sidewalks would correct these dangerous conditions. Where is our tax money that should be available for hazardous situations such as this?

Must there be an accident before our appeal is heard? As the conditions exist now, it is a

Teaching Interns at Nathanson School

Mention "intern" to most people and the image that comes to mind is a young and eager doctor in his final stages of professional preparation before he becomes a full-fledged MD. Mention "intern" to the staff at Nathanson School and the image is similar -- but with an important difference. The interns at Nathanson are also young and eager and also in their last stages of preparation, but their profession is education.

Program exist. The school benefits from having additional staff capable of working with children in a variety of ways. This enables each teacher and intern to devote more time on an individual and small group basis to the children.

Every attempt is made to involve the interns in a variety of experiences. Seminars held 3 times a week focus not only on the classroom, but on other aspects of education as well. Other sessions are devoted to the role of the administration and of the school board. Intensive work is also devoted to dealing with feelings, emotions, and attitudes, drawing on the resources of district social workers, counselors, and Special Education personnel. Student teaching has long been an accepted part of a teacher's professional preparation. Intern teaching offers implications and dimensions that are not possible in the traditional student teaching experience for the benefit of the intern, the teaching profession and the children alike.

Homecoming Football Results

by Mike Hayes

The theme of this year's homecoming at Maine East was "Gateway to the West," and the weekend's activities were certainly varied and hectic.

In Saturday's contest the Maine East Demons lost a tough game, 17 to 12, against the Cowboys of New Trier West.

Although discouraged by the Cowboys running the opening kickoff back all the way for a touchdown and the Cowboys ending a 14-6 advantage at the end of the first quarter, the Demons played a tough game in the rain up to the final gun.

The Demons first score in the game came on a 34 yard run by senior John Wolff. There was no scoring in the second quarter so the score at halftime was 14-6. The Cowboys got a quick field goal at the start of the third quarter, making the score 17-6. The final scoring play in the game came with just minutes remaining. Again it was senior John Wolff this time on a 23 yard run making the final score 17-12. Maine did get the ball back with 48 seconds left, but couldn't move it.

Going into the game, New Trier West was undefeated and ranked seventh in the city.

Niles Falcons

The Niles Falcon Pee Wees fought the High Ridge Chargers to a 0-0 deadlock Saturday at Joswiak Park in Niles. The Chargers known for their powerful offensive teams were unable to score against the mighty defense of the Niles Falcons. Led by the baby bull Russ Donash and Jim and Jeff Silva, the Falcons held the Chargers to only six first downs. The excellent offensive unit of the Falcons quarterbacked by John Sullivan almost succeeded in upsetting the Chargers. In the third quarter the Falcons ran the ball to the Chargers 10 yd line only to fumble on a burst off tackle. The tables turned in the 4th quarter when the Chargers carried the ball to the Falcons 20 yd. line and threatened to score, only to be stifled by the strong Falcon defense.

Midget

The vastly improved Midgets getting stronger every week outplayed a big Evanston Wildkit team Sunday at Joswiak Park.

This was their 2nd win in a row after 4 losses. On the first play of the game, the Falcons threw the bomb and scored on a 60 yd. pass play form QB Mike Babcock to RE Jeff Hill. In the 2nd quarter the Falcon offensive line opened gaping holes in the Wildkit line for FB Tom Kawolski and HB Steve Bacillo. With Bacillo carrying the ball 25 yds. in the 2nd quarter scoring drive, the Falcons moved 40 yds in six plays to score their 2nd TD on a sweep around right end by QB Mike Babcock. The Midgets defensive unit completely dominated the Wildkits for the first three quarters. The fierce play of the linemen and fast rush of the linebackers contained the run the linemen contained the run the running game of the Wildkits. The Wildkits scored their only TD on a surprise pass play that went 50 yds. for the score. The Wildkits threatened again during the last 2 minutes of play but were thwarted by a defiant Falcon defense, who regained control of the ball.

The Notre Dame Dons, who were founding members of the Chicago Metropolitan High School Hockey League last year, will be playing in the north section of the north division of the expanded league this 1972-73 season.

Other teams in the north division are Lane Tech, Maine South, New Trier East, Evanston Township and Prosser Vocational. All League games will be played at the Arlington Ice Spectrum at 1350 East Northwest Highway, Palatine, Ill., on Sunday afternoons beginning Nov. 12, when the Notre Dame Dons will play New Trier East, at 3 p.m.

The Dons will be playing high school teams every Thursday night at the Ballard Sports Complex in Niles at 8 p.m. The arena is located at Ballard rd. and Cumberland ave., Niles. Although these games will not count in the League standings, they will give students and hockey fans an opportunity to see High School Hockey at its best, in prime ice time, in the evening. Season tickets can be purchased for the Ballard games from members of the Dons team.

For further information, contact Business Manager Mayor Al Smith at 5127 Oakton st., Skokie, Ill., 60076. Telephone OR3-0500.

Dons' Defense Beats St. Pat 14-0

By Mike Lemanski

The fighting Dons of Notre Dame upped their conference record to 3-2 last Saturday. They defeated a hard fighting St. Patrick's team 14-0.

Defense was a dominating factor throughout the game. Five fumbles were forced by the two defenses, but only two were lost by the offense.

Notre Dame finally got the first TD with only 31 seconds remaining. They put together a 2:00 minute drive in 10 plays. The touchdown came on a pass from Dick Allegretti to Mark Mandolini, who was standing in the end zone. John Obie was inches short of the goal line on the try for two, so the score remained 6-0.

When Notre Dame got control of the ball for the first time in the second, they scored. A bad St. Pat's punt gave ND the ball on the Shamrocks' 37 yard line. Four plays later, Mark Mandolini took off on a 26 yard jaunt for the touchdown. This time Obie got in and the score was 14-0.

From here, the Dons played a ball control game. St. Pat's never got the ball outside their own 30.

The fired up ND defense held the Shamrocks to but 1 first down in the second half.

The ND defense was led by Mike Huber and Marty DeVolder. Every man on the defense had at least one tackle. The much maligned secondary held St. Pat's to but 3 completions.

On offense, John Obie's running, along with Dick Allegretti's passing added up to quite a balanced attack. Mark Mandolini was also up there with yardage. Allegretti's leading receivers were ends Tony Deleonardis and Jim Jasinski.

man, are in a no-holds-barred campaign against each other in their bid for the third seat in this district. Jaffe, Niles Township Committeeman, remained neutral in last spring's primary race in which Maine Township Committeeman Blase unsuccessfully ran against Milkva for Congress. Because of the heavy Milkva vote in Jaffe's area several Blase supporters questioned whether Jaffe's neutral stance was non-partisan. Since Blase's chairman was Ed Warman, it was hinted when Warman was chosen by Blase and other committeemen to replace elected primary candidate Aaron Brill, Blase was seeking revenge for Jaffe's performance in the spring.

Jaffe and Warman are both Skokie residents. Warman accuses Jaffe of not cooperating in allowing him support from Jaffe's group and Jaffe lodges the same criticism of Blase's Maine Township group. Blase makes no pretense in his support only of Warman. In literature passed out last week Warman asked voters to cast votes for Warman only, and it is assumed Jaffe forces have sought similar action in Niles Township.

Voters can vote at their local polls, which are the same as past years, from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

National Merit Achievers

A total of 27 Niles West students were cited for excellent achievement in the National Merit Scholarship competition for the 1972-73 school year.

The 27 students are added to the list of 9 semi-finalists from Westhi named last week.

Those receiving a letter of commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation were: Michael Beckman, Steven Bolme, Melvin Fetn, Rick Fogel, Margaret Foo, Candice Goldstein, Neal Greenberg, Lisa Hostfield, Paul Igasaki, Judith Iglarski, Michael Kohrman, Nancy Liskar, Janet Marmel, Ron Nutting, Ronald Poticha, Alan Putterman, Steven Rabin, Norman Rubenstein, Fran Saldel, Michael Sallinger, Harvey Scheff, Lynda Schlesinger, Gary Simon, Margaret Strub, Bruce Topol, Robert Warman and Linda Yefsky.

Commended students go no further in National Merit competition but their performance is an excellent indication of exceptional college potential.

OCC Accounting Program

The accounting assistant program at Oakton Community college is designed for the student who wants to assume a position of junior accountant after two years of college study, according to Paul Grosso, coordinator for the new career program.

The accounting assistant program was approved by the OCC Board of Trustees last Spring and is presently in its first semester of operation. Students enrolled in the program can earn either a two-year associate of science degree or a one-year certificate.

In addition, the student has the option of assuming a position in accounting or going on to a four-year college with most, if not all, of his credits accepted for a baccalaureate degree. Mr. Grosso points out. Many students can earn their living at their accounting jobs while attending the senior college, he added.

The accounting assistant student will develop beginning competencies in the following accounting areas:

District 207 Board Meeting

Baccalaureate services will be held on an optional basis in each of the Maine Township High Schools for the 1972-73 school year. That was the decision made by the District 207 Board of Education at its regular monthly meeting Monday evening, Oct. 23.

The administration of each school will determine whether to hold a baccalaureate service, based on the results of a poll that will be taken of all senior class families early next Spring. If at least 30% of all the senior class families of a given school indicate a desire to participate in baccalaureate, then such a service will be scheduled.

For the past several years the Board has annually reviewed its policy in regard to baccalaureate. Participation in these services continues to decline and fluctuates significantly among the 4 Maine high schools. While many parents and students seem to prefer continuing the traditional baccalaureate service, attendance has dropped markedly, even though seniors have been directly involved in planning the program.

The Maine high schools have been somewhat unique in continuing to schedule a baccalaureate service as part of graduation activities, compared to neighboring high schools. Such schools as Niles, Evanston, New Trier, Highland Park, Palatine, Leyden and Glenbrook do not include it as part of their school commencement.

At Monday night's meeting the Board heard a progress report on the new cooperative data processing system, IER-TIES, established recently to provide District 207 and 5 other suburban school districts with a more extensive and more economical data processing information service. The joint report was given by Dr. Theodore Storlie, director of the Institute for Educational Research, the cooperative educational research agency operating the new data processing system, and Dr. Richard R. Short, Superintendent of Schools of Maine Township High School District 207, who is also chairman of the Board of Directors of IER.

The new cooperative data processing system is designed to make instantly accessible to all participating school districts a wealth of educational information to aid them in their instructional programs and to provide extensive business, administrative and research services as well.

The six district, 30,000 student computer complex is housed in District 207's Ralph J. Frost Administration Center, 1131 S. Dee rd., Park Ridge. It is the first school cooperative data processing system of its kind in Illinois.

Harold A. Ahlbeck, Maine Township School Treasurer, attended the Board meeting Monday evening, to review for Board members some of the functions of his office. Appointed by the Township School Trustees of Maine Township, Ahlbeck acts as school treasurer for all of the school districts in the township, namely school districts #62, #64 and #207.

Ahlbeck explained that the Township School Trustees, 3 in number, are the custodians of the monies needed to run the schools, and hold title to real estate for all of the schools. As custodians of all cash for the schools, they appoint their clerk as treasurer for the schools. As treasurer, Ahlbeck receives all monies, placing them in checking accounts, making investments of surplus cash and signing all vouchers as authorized by the Board of Education.

Also in attendance at Monday night's meeting was Dan Grippo, president of the Maine East Student Council, who read a statement from the Council requesting that the Board hold an open hearing on the district's no smoking regulation. The administration was authorized to explore the possibility of arranging for such a hearing, to be held at Maine East High School.

The Board, reaffirming its approval of the use of driver education simulators to be used in combination with behind-the-wheel training in driver education, approved the installation of a simulator at Maine South and Maine West High schools; Maine East is now using a simulator, and one will be considered for Maine North when the size of the student body at that school makes it economically feasible to use a simulator. Funds from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration are expected to defray fifty percent of District 207's cost of installing the simulators.

In other action the Board awarded bids for repair work at the four Maine high schools in the amount of $22,462; awarded a 5-year contract to Sargent Welch Co. for the purchase of diplomas at the rate of $1.42 each; accepted the resignation of two members of the professional staff; approved one maternity leave of absence; made 5 custodial staff appointments, four of them replacements, and two office personnel appointments, both of them replacements.

The date of the regular November Board meeting was changed from Nov. 20 to Nov. 27. The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at Maine North High school in the large group instruction room, A-208.

speech, answer questions and then being whisked away, seemed almost military in its execution. But it's the way we make Presidents in America. It's rather absurd, downright bizarre, but when there's electricity coming from the candidate you know he's pre-destined for running for the top job.

As frenetic as the Kennedy in and out 40 minutes was, sitting at lunch Thursday with Bob Finch, a Nixon aide and former cabinet member, was cool and calm and all sort of Rotary-mid-America-like. The man who may be California's next governor, or Senator, is one of Nixon's surrogates who has been eating chicken and peas in hundreds of towns and hamlets thruout America the past months, Thursday he was lunching with 6 local press people, as well as Congressional candidate Sam Young.

Between eating salad chunks, he answered my question about the President. He said the Dick Nixon of today is a changed man from the Nixon of 10 years ago. Then, he wrote his own speeches, and preferred to do most of the detail work himself. He said when he went to work in New York for the Mitchell law firm, he genuinely did change. Today, he delegates work easily, and has learned to pace himself. Finch said Nixon now takes off every Wednesday. "Just to think." He left the impression the President is quite relaxed in his job and enjoys it immensely.

We sat next to the former Secretary, and he had the feeling despite his low key performance he was wary of us. A handsome man, light brown hair heavily peppered with grey, lines in his face like many Californians, who've spent much time baking in the sun. His suit was expensive, his white on white shirt was conservative and 2 years behind the times, which could be expected from this surrogate of a conservative administration, and you felt he was Wall Street, sober and cool, in contrast to Kennedy, who was Brooks Brothers, Hyannisport and somewhat hypoid.

The third meeting with political guys was an 11 o'clock lunch with State Senatorial candidate

Tom Flynn, which took place Monday at the Lone Tree Inn. We weren't with Hyannisport or Wall Street but just plain old Milwaukee Avenue. Tommy is fighting hard to become State Senator. He's young, he's gutsy (some of us call it chutzpah) and he's terribly frustrated as he heads down the home stretch in this campaign.

Being a Democratic candidate in an area which is likely to go heavily Republican, and being a candidate, who has limited funds, and is dependent on the Party helping him, Tom gives the feeling he's caught in the middle of all the in-fighting which seems to be taking place in Niles and Maine Townships.

Monday, Tom said it was important he talk about the issues, rather than about personalities, which seems to have been the major oratory which had developed in our areas. Tom fed us a lunch which he said a family of 8, which is on relief eats for Sunday dinner. We drank a watered down bowl of potato soup, with a few bits of floating hot dog slices. He had us served 4 day old lettuce, a meat loaf that was highly seasoned, and heavily stuffed with bread. Tom was dramatically portraying the plight of poor families in Cook County, and emphasizing the need to give greater aid to these people.

Tom also showed us pictures of flooded areas, highways that go nowhere and cited these issues as the ones which should be explored in an election, not a battle between personalities. Since Sam Young had a lunch at noon the conference ended in about an hour. Tom's dramatic lunch was interesting, quite in contrast to the normal peas and chicken affairs of other candidates.

Tom leaves us the impression he's a political unknown whose waging a rather lonely battle for the Senator's post. He's kind of angry these days, as most candidates seem to be, as they enter the last week of the campaign, sort of like a punch drunk fighter, who's seen too many rounds, and fought too many battles. But we find Tom extremely bright, and very thoro in his many presentations he's made thru these weeks. We know very little about his opponent, but based on Tom's performance in this campaign, he'll get our vote.
