Golf Mill State Bank

Harry, the president of the Golf-Mill State Bank, recently announced a new service for checking account customers. According to Harry, the Golf-Mill State Bank has been installing a special area in the bank to introduce the new service. Harry said that the Golf-Mill State Bank is one of the first financial institutions to introduce the new service.

The new service is called "Photo Check." It allows customers to check transactions in the bank using a special equipment. The bank uses a camera to capture an image of the check, which is then stored in a database. Customers can then access the check image using a special computer program.

Harry also announced that the bank is offering a special price for customers who use the new service. The special price is $2250 for a one-year service package. This special price is available for a limited time, and the offer ends on November 1st.

Deans Aid Problem Students

For too many students and parents, this year's Christmas tree is missing. Their financial aid has run out, and they are now faced with the task of finding a way to pay for their education. Many high schools now have a program in place to assist students in need. The program provides financial aid to students who have exhausted their financial resources. The program is open to all students, and it is funded by contributions from the community. The program is designed to help students who are facing financial difficulties, and it is open to all students, regardless of their financial situation. Protest Malawi Persecution

The great wave of persecution against Jehovah's Witnesses in Malawi has ended. The government has lifted the ban on their activities, and the Witnesses are now able to operate freely.
