District 63 Board approves new principals

The Board of Education of East Maine School District 63 approved the appointment of new principals for three of the District's nine elementary schools at its regularly scheduled meeting July 17. Margery F. Dick was appointed principal of Emma S. Melzer school in Morton Grove. Mrs. Dick has worked in District 63 since 1959. During that time, she taught fourth grade at Washington, Ballard, and Nelson schools, and has served as a District Reading Coordinator since 1967. A native of North Dakota, Mrs. Dick received her Bachelor's degree from Pestalozzi Froebel college in 1962. She has since earned her Master's degree and Administration certificate from National College of Education in Evanston.

During her fourteen years in the District, Mrs. Dick has served on the Maine Township Language Arts Committee, the Maine Township Science Committee, and the District 63 Credit Evaluation, Institute, In-Service and Retrieval Committees. She has also worked with the District Curriculum Council and the Pre-School Educational Screening Committee. Mrs. Dick has also co-authored a teacher's guide and served as consultant for the development of an audio-visual language arts kit for instruction. Mrs. Dick, who lives in Niles, replaces former principal Daniel Cumiff. Cumiff is now Director of Instruction for the public schools in Fairbanks, Alaska. Richard L. Hetke will be the new principal of the Adlai Stevenson school in Des Plaines, replacing Harry Ekman, who resigned to become Director of a private therapeutic school, Anative of Chicago. Hetke lives in Arlington Heights. He and his wife Susan have one son, Dick, a senior at Dartmouth. Hetke received his Bachelor's degree in 1947 from Roosevelt university and his Master's degree in 1955 from the same insti-

Niles OK's 'Mann Act' for shoppers

CARTNAPPERS TO BE FINED

Cart-nappers, local shoppers who are carting their groceries home in shopping carts, may be subject to a substantial fine, if they persist in absconding carts from local stores.

At Tuesday night's village board meeting Niles was studying the passage of an ordinance which would eliminate this "litter" problem, which is prevalent in the community. Before writing the new law they had representatives from Jewel and National Tea Companies offer suggestions which would result in the new ordinance.

Edward Harrington, National Tea's legal representative, and George Trumbull, of Jewel, both stated the carts cost about $40 each, and the abandoned carts can be found in backyards and basements throuout the community.

In other actions the final draft for parking requirements in Niles was presented for final approval. All family dwellings must provide 2 parking spaces would notify them of any stray carts in Niles. They were against a fee charge per cart levied by the village which they said would have to be passed on to the customer.

Ordinances were presented from Bellwood and Waukegan which had fines from $10 to a maximum $500 for violating the cartnapper ordinance by cart-users. Both companies said they would publicly display these new local restrictions in their stores, and perhaps might include them on each cart. Re-identifying carts would cost one of the companies $3,000, in this area alone. It also was reported the Golf Mill National Tea store has 30 carts "carted off" each week, mostly to neighboring apartments.

It was their collective feeling the companies would pick-up the carts within a limited time, perhaps 4 hours, if the village

Reprinted from June 10, 1971 issue. Charlie Brown might define Happiness as, 'stealing away from the office on a Monday and going to a ball game with a 12 year old. But our addition to a Charlie Brown definition would be the word "frustration." Frustration is, 'stealing away from the office on a Monday, escorting 12 year olds to a Cub game, keeping your eye on 10 of these never-stop-eating, always wandering-off-to-the-john wunderkind, and coming out of it with your auditory nerves scrambled, your sense of humor de-sensitized, and your realizing 4 kids later, you really never understood them in the first place.

Monday was a beautiful day for escaping the office. The sun was hot, and even in the shade of the grandstand, the winds blowing toward the outfield didn't require any sweaters to combat them.

Backing up to the beginning, we boarded a bus which read 99,000 miles plus on its odometer. It was likely it was the third or fourth time it had hit this almost 100,000 mile figure.

The kids were very orderly as they marched to their seats. By the time we wound down Harlem Avenue the girls in the front began a rousing chorus of "100 bottles of beer on the wall." Not to be outdone the boys in the back first yelled them down with phrases such as, "Shut Up" and other suburbia colloquialisms which the girls ignored. The boys, whose voices are still in the girls upper ranges, bellowed a lusty "Take Me Out To The Ball Game," but didn't have the tenacity to grind down the girls "Bottles of Beer" which had now been reduced to "50 bottles of beer on the wall."

On the Kennedy Expressway, the guys in the back of the bus devised several spontaneous games, like, "Grab His Hat & Throw It" or "Push Him Off The Seat and Keep Him Off" or the game which received the greatest response, "Hit 'em."

Newcomers to Maine highs should register now

Students who plan to attend one of the Maine Township High Schools this fall and who have not registered previously are urged to do so now. Registration is being conducted daily - Monday through Friday - in the guidance offices at Maine East, Maine North, Maine South and Maine West high schools. Past experience has shown that waiting until the week prior to the opening of school increases the problems of testing, purchasing of books and supplies, and selection of courses.

It is required that one or both parents accompany the student who is registering for the first time. Parents desiring appointments or further information should call Maine East, 825-4484; Maine North, 298-5500; Maine South, 825-7711; or Maine West, 827-6176.

All students who plan to enter the ninth grade this fall are required to take a placement test before registration for courses will be completed. Students who have not taken this test can do so at 7:45 a.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 15, at Maine Township High School West, 1755 S. Wolf rd., Des Plaines. Details may be obtained by calling any of the 4 high schools. This applies mainly to students who have moved into the district within the last few months. Students who have attended the elementary schools within the Maine Township High School District and who graduated this past June have had this test given to them earlier in the year by high school personnel.

Nadine Lo Verde of Niles has been awarded a 4 year State of Illinois Special Education Scholarship. She will attend Illinois State university in the Fall.

Nadine has also been accepted into the University honors program. A graduate of Niles West, she has been selected for admission to the Who's Who of American High School Seniors.

Nadine is the daughter of Dominick and Rose Lo Verde.

He was one of the top money raisers in the event... Artman is swimming coach at Quigley.

District 63 proposed policies

At the July 17 meeting of the Board of Education of East Maine School District 63, Superintendent G. Allan Gogo proposed policies for review and discussion at the Aug. 21 School Board meeting at Apollo school.

Dr. Gogo asked the board to consider these policies for adoption prior to the beginning of the 1973-74 school year. The major policies to be discussed are: Student Discipline, Student Safety, Corporal Punishment, Suspension of Pupils, Promotion, Retention, Acceleration, Damage to School Property, and Equipment and Supplies Sales.

Dr. Gogo also invited parents to stop by the Central Office at 8320 Ballard rd. or either the Apollo or Gemini Junior High schools if they wish to pick up a copy of the proposed policies. After Aug. 1, copies will also be available at the district elementary buildings.

The review and adoption of these policies will be used to either update or complete many of the existing policies under which the school system now operates.

Dr. Gogo further invited all interested members of the community to be in attendance during the discussions at the Aug. 21 meeting.

Essay contest certificate winner

The Morton Grove American Legion Auxiliary Unit #134 has announced a local contestant in their essay contest has been awarded a district prize. The Seventh District is composed of a dozen Auxiliary Units located on the north side of Chicago and the suburban area.

Cheryl Metallo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Metallo, 9248 Mar-mora, Morton Grove, has won a first place certificate in district competition. She is a student at St. Martha's; and originally won a bronze metal as one of that school's 3 winners in the annual Auxiliary-sponsored contest.

Two other local entries were submitted to the district, reports retiring Auxiliary president Mrs. Ernest Jenkins. Those pair of essays were the work of Marcus Koch, 5933 Crain, a Jerusalem Lutheran school first place gold metal winner; and Thomas Swock, 5737 Cleveland, another St. Martha entry.

GOLF MAINE PARK DISTRICT

Golf Maine baseball leagues

In the Golf Maine Park District Baseball leagues, action has been plentiful in all the leagues.

In the Intermediate League the Giants, after dropping their first 3 games in a row have now won 3 in a row. Much of the credit must go to pitcher Randy Moss who has been a solid starter for the Giants in 2 of their 3 victories. Good pitching plus a suddenly potent hitting attack led by Alan Cymbal and Mark McAllister have seen the Giants beat the Braves and Reds by 10 runs and tie the first place Dodgers after 7 innings.

The Dodgers meanwhile have faltered only once thus far in achieving a 6 and 1 record. Much of the credit must be given to their hitting attack. Bob Krull has been the most recent hitting star, with 4 for 4 against the Reds. Mark Turczik, returning after a broken finger has also hit well and pitched two fine ball games — once as a starter and once in relief of Dodger starter Bill Ruth.

In the AAA League, the Mets are far out in front of all competition. In the last week, the Mets have defeated the Pirates on a one hitter by Joe Valenti and defeated the Cardinals with a well balanced hitting attack led by Valenti, Steve Rohrer, and Pat McDermott. The Mets have proven they can win the close games, (3 one-run victories) and they can mount a larger assault (3 ten-run victories).

But while the Mets continue to win, the Expos refuse to die and are keeping pace 2 games behind. The Expos have recently been led by Barry Michaels who has 3 home runs, including a grand slam, in the last 3 games. Barry has also proven to be a true pitcher being involved in all 3 of the Expos last victories. Giving excellent support to the hot bat of Michaels have been Bill Tunick and Reid Stiefel.

The AA league, as always, contains the most thrills. These 8, 9, 10 year olds play with abandon and on any given day any team could be victorious. As for example of this type of play in a game between the Orioles and the Athletics, the Orioles got 7 hits and a walk before an out was registered in the first innings. Athletic pitcher Kevin Nolan was responsible for this onslaught even though he was pitching well. Final score of this contest however was Orioles 13 - Athletics 12. Later that same week with Nolan again on the mound against the Rangers it was the Athletics who jumped to 14 - 0 lead in the first and held on to a 17 to 7 victory. Hitting stars for the Athletics were Nolan, Tony Schiller, and Jim Tunick.

Standings for all 4 leagues:

Team	W-L-T
Orioles	6-1-0
Yankees	6-1-1
Angels	4-2-0
Rangers	3-4-1
Twins	3-5-0

Principal, assistant named for Apollo school

The East Maine School District Board of Education recently named James Lumb as Principal for Apollo School in Des Plaines, Louis Mitchell Beas as Assistant Principal for Apollo School in Des Plaines.

Mr. Lumb and Beas both served as Acting Principal and Acting Assistant Principal during the 1972-73 school year.

After being named Acting Principal at Apollo, Lumb had served as a mathematics teacher at East Maine Junior High and at Apollo, as District Mathematics Consultant, and as Assistant Principal at Apollo. He received his Bachelor's degree in 1967 from Northern Illinois University and his Master's degree in Education in 1969, also from Northern Illinois University.

Lumb, is single and lives in Mount Prospect. Beas, a native of Chicago who now lives in Skokie with his wife Betty, began his career in education in East Georgia, Illinois in 1962. He came to District 63 in 1969, teaching social studies at East Maine Junior High and at Apollo as well as serving as basketball coach.

Mrs. Lenore Page was recently appointed Assistant Superintendent for Instruction by the Board of Education of East Maine School District 63. Mrs. Page replaces Dr. Henry Alexander, who had requested that he be reassigned within the District.

Mrs. Page received her Bachelor of Science degree from the University of Cincinnati in 1957 and her Master's degree from the University of Akron in 1963. She began her teaching career in Cincinnati and Akron, Ohio, in 1957 before coming to District 63 in 1963.

In District 63, Mrs. Page taught at Washington school in Glenview and then served as Reading Coordinator at Winslow Nelson school in Niles. Her most recent position has been that of Principal of Nelson school.

Chemical technology program

Dr. Philip Jaffe, coordinator of the chemical technology program at Oakton Community college, demonstrates the instructional vacuum system which he designed especially for teaching laboratory technicians.

Dr. Philip M. Jaffe, professor of chemistry and coordinator of the chemical technology program at Oakton Community college, has designed and supervised the construction of special instructional equipment for students in the Chem Tech program.

The chemical technology program at Oakton has been developed to train students in the laboratory techniques, skills and procedures which are required of a technician in industry. Twelve new courses have been developed, ranging from chemistry to industrial safety. New equipment as well as specialized equipment are integral parts of the program, he added.

The vacuum system which he has designed will teach students about the five basic areas of vacuum technology, he explains. He lists these as: (1) pumping systems including rough pumps and diffusion pumps; (2) materials of construction and construction geometry including gas flow; (3) methods of measuring vacuum with range from the simple U-tube mercury manometer through the McLeod gauge and thermocouple and discharge tubes; (4) leak detecting in a glass system and outgassing; and (5) miscellaneous components such as vacuum compression fittings, vacuum valves, controlled leaks, the use of micrometering valves, etc.

Students enrolled in the Chem Tech program can earn either a one-year certificate or a two-year associate of applied science degree and the program is open to both full and part-time students. Students interested in enrolling in the program for the fall term should apply for admission now. For further information about the Chem Tech program, call the office of admissions, Oakton Community college, or Dr. Jaffe (telephone 967-5123). Open registration for the fall session at Oakton is scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday, August 22 and 23, and classes begin on Monday, August 27.

Other specialized instructional equipment is now being developed at Oakton for the Chem Tech program, according to Dr. Jaffe.

Federal grants available to students

Thousands of Illinois young people who plan to enter higher education during the 1973-74 school year qualify for a federal Basic Educational Opportunity Grant which this year could provide up to $500 toward the educational expenses of needy students. A federal appropriations bill for the BEOG program was signed into law on April 30, 1973.

Maine Township High Schools. They also may be obtained from community colleges and 4-year colleges and universities.

This federally-funded program is limited to use by U.S. citizens and permanent residents who plan to attend approved colleges, universities, and vocational/technical schools throughout the nation. It provides a non-repayable grant in amounts not to exceed $500 during the 1973-74 school year, minus what the student's family can reasonably afford to contribute toward his education.

Undergoing intensive training

The program is limited to students entering an approved post-secondary institution as beginning freshmen, and who will be pursuing their studies on a full-time basis. There are no age limits or academic eligibility requirements for the program.

Marine Air Reserve Lieutenant Colonel Alexander White, 41, of 7201 Wilson Terrace, Maroon Grove, is now undergoing two weeks of intensive training at this major Marine Corps Air Base at El Toro, Calif., south of Los Angeles with his unit, Headquarters and Headquarters Squadron 48. The squadron is home-based at Glenview Naval Air Station. White, a Marine Reservist since 1954, is the Judge Advocate for the all-reserve 4th Marine Aircraft Wing. He is one of over 4,000 Marine Air Reservists training on the west coast this summer. All are members of the all-reserve 4th Marine Aircraft Wing.

In civilian life, White is with the Illinois State Attorney General's office in Chicago. He is a 1964 graduate of Chicago's Kerr Law School.

Chemical technology program

Dr. Philip Jaffe, coordinator of the chemical technology program at Oakton Community college, demonstrates the instructional vacuum system which he designed especially for teaching laboratory technicians.

Dr. Philip M. Jaffe, professor of chemistry and coordinator of the chemical technology program at Oakton Community college, has designed and supervised the construction of special instructional equipment for students in the Chem Tech program.

The vacuum system which he has designed will teach students about the five basic areas of vacuum technology, he explains.

He lists these as: (1) pumping system including rough pumps and diffusion pumps; (2) materials of construction and construction geometry including gas flow; (3) methods of measuring vacuum with range from the simple U-tube mercury manometer through the McLeod gauge and thermocouple and discharge tubes; (4) leak detecting in a glass system and outgassing; and (5) miscellaneous components such as vacuum compression fittings, vacuum valves, controlled leaks, the use of micrometering valves, etc.

Other specialized instructional equipment is now being developed at Oakton for the Chem Tech program, according to Dr. Jaffe.

The chemical technology program at Oakton has been developed to train students in the laboratory techniques, skills and procedures which are required of a technician in industry. Twelve new courses have been developed, ranging from chemistry to industrial safety. New experiments as well as specialized equipment are integral parts of the program, he added.

Students enrolled in the Chem Tech program can earn either a one-year certificate or a two-year associate of applied science degree and the program is open to both full and part-time students. Students interested in enrolling in the program for the fall term should apply for admission now.

For further information about the Chem Tech program, call the office of admissions, Oakton Community college, or Dr. Jaffe (telephone 967-5120).

Open registration for the fall session at Oakton is scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday, August 22 and 23, and classes begin on Monday, August 27.

Federal grants available to students

Thousands of Illinois young people who plan to enter higher education during the 1973-74 school year qualify for a federal Basic Educational Opportunity Grant which this year could provide up to $500 toward the educational expenses of needy students. A federal appropriations bill for the BEOG program was signed into law on April 30, 1973.

This federally-funded program is limited to use by U.S. citizens and permanent residents who plan to attend approved colleges, universities, and vocational/technical schools throughout the nation. It provides a non-repayable grant in amounts not to exceed $500 during the 1973-74 school year, minus what the student's family can reasonably afford to contribute toward his education.

The program is limited to students entering an approved post-secondary institution as beginning freshmen, and who will be pursuing their studies on a full-time basis. There are no age limits or academic eligibility requirements for the program.

The final application deadline for the program is Feb. 1, 1974. BEOG applications are available at the guidance offices of the 4

Maine Township High Schools. They also may be obtained from community colleges and 4-year colleges and universities.

Centel establishes division marketing department

Mr. W.R. McGrew, Vice President and Division Manager of Central Telephone Company of Illinois, recently announced the establishment of a Division Marketing Department. The expanded Marketing group will be headed by Robert F. Schumm who formerly was Division Commercial Manager, James D. Ogg, Division Commercial Engineer, has been promoted to Division Commercial Manager, filling the vacancy left by Schumm.

INCREASED COMMUNICATIONS CAPABILITY
The inauguration of a Division Marketing Department, says Mr. McGrew, reaffirms Central Telephone Company's strong intent to offer the wide range of communication services which our customers are requiring. The company's new Marketing Department will have the capability to offer area customers a complete range of communications, from the more complex data systems to the basic residential telephones.

ROBERT SCHUMM
Schumm, a resident of Des Plaines, can call upon a wide background of experience as the new Division Marketing Manager. He began with Central Telephone in 1951 as Office Manager in the Pekin District.

Ogg, also a resident of Des Plaines, will take over Schumm's duties as Division Commercial Manager. He has been with Central Telephone since 1958 when he began as Junior Engineer Draftsman.

After that, Ogg served in the outside plant engineering area until his promotion to Commercial Engineer, Division, in May, 1970.

NEW DEPARTMENT
Other changes resulting from the creation of the new department include the reassignment of Earl Finn of Des Plaines to Resident - Coin Manager, Division. Since 1967, he has served as Marketing Supervisor. He has also held positions in the Plant Department and as a Communications Consultant since joining the company in 1947.

Reporting to Finn will be Billie Jean McCabe as Resident-Coin Trainer. Mrs. McCabe, a resident of Chicago, has been with the company since 1963.

In the Park Ridge-Des Plaines area, Richard Blanchfield has been named District Sales Manager, reporting directly to Schumm. A resident of Wheeling, Blanchfield has held positions in the communications consulting and engineering areas since joining the company in 1954. He was named Sales Manager-Marketing in 1971.

Two Sales Managers will report to Blanchfield. Robert Sanders, of Mt. Prospect, will remain as one Sales Manager, a position he has held since 1970. Stanley LaSota, of Des Plaines, will be promoted to fill the other Sales Manager position. Since 1969, LaSota has served as Communications Consultant-Training.

New Bellboy signaling service

Illinois Bell Telephone is installing 19 antenna towers at strategic telephone office locations throughout Chicago and the suburbs. These 118 foot transmitter towers are the forerunners of a brand new service the company will offer in the metropolitan area later this year.

The service, called Bellboy Personal Signaling Service, can alert its user that an important telephone call is waiting for him, even if he's miles from his home or office. The pager is a small, light-weight pocket unit which emits a tone to let the user know his home or his office has a message for him. He then goes to the closest telephone and calls in. The paging unit does not carry voice messages and can be used for one-way signaling only.

To reach a Bellboy user, a caller first dials a central computer number, and then the individual's page number. The computer transmits a signal to transmitter towers serving the area, which activates the proper Bellboy signal. In the event the called party doesn't wish to be disturbed he can switch the unit on memory and the pager will hold the signal until the unit is switched back on.

Illinois Bell Manager Len Hillinger said early trials indicate a market for the Bellboy unit among physicians, salesmen, real estate dealers, truckers, contractors and other who spend a good part of the day away from their offices. "It is especially useful for doctors who must be reached in emergencies," Hillinger said.

Bellboy service will cost users $20 per month, including the page unit. Those who have other compatible receiving units may use them instead of renting the Bellboy receiver and pay a lower rate. In addition, since Touch-Tone signals are the only ones that can be used to activate the system, a Bellboy caller must have a Touch-Tone phone which costs another $1.50 a month. The Bellboy operates on a 9 volt, transistor battery which will last about a month.

Hillinger said the transmitters will not cause any interference with radio or television reception.

MLS sales up 20% first half of '73

Sales figures for the first six months of 1973 reported by Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors Computer Multiple Listing Service show a 20% increase over the January through June total sales volume in 1972.

Although there was a slight drop in the number of listings and sales during June, 1973, as compared with the previous month this year, the price of homes in the Northwest suburbs continued to rise. Sales averaged $43,641 in June, up over 2% from the average sale of $42,721 reported in May.

Sales averaged $39,973 in June a year ago, according to the MLS office in Arlington Heights, so in the last 12 months, home values have appreciated over $3,000—a 9.1% increase, says Doris Kendzie, executive vice president of NWSBR.

Sixty per cent of the sales reported in June were the result of cooperation between MLS firms. Half of all sales during the first six months of 1973 were cooperative, while in the comparable period of 1972, forty per cent of sales by MLS Realtors were coop. This shows a ten per cent increase in the use of the board's multiple listing services throughout the northwest suburban area.

Seventy-four real estate offices are currently on the MLS membership, including Realtors in Arlington Heights, Des Plaines, Elk Grove Village, Hoffman Estates, Niles, Mount Prospect, Palatine, Park Ridge, Prospect Heights, Rolling Meadows, Schaumburg, Streamwood, Wheeling and northwest Chicago.

Senior Girl Scouts visit Chicago

Fifty-seven young girls arrived in Chicago on Thursday, July 12, to be a part of a program that will give them a feeling for the advantages and problems of urban living.

They've come from suburbs and small towns in twenty-six states to learn about Chicago. They won't be just spectators either. They are already registered to spend time with inner city agencies in programs for children, the elderly, in settlement houses and in day care centers.

These girls are Senior Girl Scouts (age 16 to 18) who have been accepted to take part in "Big City Sampler," a program sponsored by the Girl Scout Council of Northwest Cook County. Until Sunday the girls are living in the suburbs with volunteer families from the Northwest Cook County Girl Scout Council. Sunday they will all come to Mundelein college to make it their home for the remainder of their stay.

"This program is in the true tradition of Girl Scouting," says Mrs. Elaine Lethem, Harper college Sociologist, who is on the Girl Scout Board and Director of the "Big City Sampler."

"We have always tried to add dimension and scope through new experiences for our Girl Scouts," she said. "This program will give new insight and understanding of our rapidly changing world. We hope the girls will return to their homes with a clearer knowledge of themselves and maybe a firmer direction for their futures."

At Mundelein college the girls will have an orientation from experts in urban living, they'll hear about the culture and history of the city, talk with women in politics, listen to Jory Graham tell them of the rich ethnic heritage of Chicago, and share some of the insights of Sister Ann Ida Gannon. And they will move out to experience the city itself.

Experiencing the city will mean many, many things. It will include a trip to Ravinia, seeing "Boss," and "Don't Bother Me I Can't Cope," a Grant Park Concert and Buckingham Fountain, a bike hike to Lincoln Park Zoo and a picnic on our beautiful lakefront, a walking tour of the Loop and a trip to Maxwell St. There'll even be a night on the town. Adult couples from the Northwest Council Girl Scouts have offered to take the girls out in two's and three's to show them our city at night.

But the major part of the girls' days will be spent as volunteers in inner city agencies where they will have a chance to go with social workers on calls, plan programs for children in day care centers and be part of a world that they rarely contact in their daily lives. A world that can quickly absorb the help and enthusiasm that they bring to the tasks.

When the Girl Scout Council Board of Northwest Cook County decided to offer this program they called it "Big City Sampler" for a thoughtful reason. They en-

Girl Scout National Event

On July 12, 80 Senior Scouts came to the Chicago area for an event sponsored by the Girl Scout Council of Northwest Cook called "Big City Sampler." Five Scouting families in Morton Grove and Niles offered to be hostesses for 8 Senior Scouts from July 12-15 after which time the Seniors would spend two weeks in the Chicago area, headquartering at Mundelein college and spending many days working in the inner city.

The girls were met at O'Hare Airport by Leaders Barbara Koss, Edie Gustin, Barbara Napravnik and Linda Koss. Their host families were the Golatas, P. Rothenbergs, C. Gustins, M. Horvitz of Morton Grove and M. Schoenwalds of Niles.

Using complimentary passes from the Morton Grove Park District, the girls enjoyed the pool after their arrival and spent the evening getting acquainted and deciding where to go. The Senior Scouts were Denise DeShields, Woodbridge, Va.; Joan Bauer, Van Nuys Calif.; Pat Bevington, Boise, Iowa; Quana Iverson, Kansas City, Mo.; Andrea St. Laurent, Ransomville, N.Y.; Gayle Sorkow, Bergenfield, N. J.; Cindy Collins, Wyoming, Pa.; and Lynn Huttenmaler, San Antonio, Tex. The 2nd day included a trip to the Museum of Science and Industry, another swim and Ice Cream Social given by Cadette Troops 176 and 100 at St. Luke's Church in Morton Grove. Over 65 Scouts & Leaders attended and spent the evening with these girls. Sat, the girls went on a tour of the North Shore area with Mrs. Koss & Mrs. R. Goldman and stopped at Bahai Temple and the Evanston Historical Society. Mrs. Schoenwald and Mrs. Horvitz hosted lunch after which the girls visited the Woodfield Shopping Center and spent the evening at Old Town with their host families. On Sunday the girls were taken to Mundelein college for an exciting two weeks of Council planned events which included a Ravinia Jazz Concert, Bike Hike & Picnic, two plays, lectures, tours of the city and many other events.

These national opportunities are offered to all Cadette and Senior Scouts on both national and international levels every year. Last year Cadette Scout Linda Warmack of Morton Grove attended a national event in Colorado called "Recall the Riches, Restore Mankind."

Cadette Troop 176 Summer Events

Girl Scout Troop 176 under the leadership of Mrs. W. Koss, Mrs. S. Schoenwald, Mrs. S. Gersh, Mrs. J. Baggio, Mrs. B. Ujilje and Mrs. T. Gibbons was newly formed on June 28 and is being sponsored by St. Luke's Church of Morton Grove. The troop presently consists of 61 girls in the Girl Scout Council of Northwest Cook County.

vision the canvass of the sampler as the ground of the city and the variety of stitches used equivalent to the different types of people who live together in the city. The thread unites the sampler. The political, social, and economic institutions unify the city. The tool to make the sampler is a needle. The Girl Scout Board feels the tool to implement the design of the city should be understanding, without it the pattern can be destroyed.

Their first event was a trip to the White Sox/Yankee game at Comiskey park on July 11. A very successful Ice Cream/Get Acquainted Social on July 13 was co-hosted by Cadettes from Troop 100 under the leadership of Mrs. T. Irmen, Mrs. R. McKay and Mrs. R. Goldman, which was attended by visiting Senior Scouts, making a total crowd of 68 for ice cream. The price of admission was one topping for a sundae.

On July 16, twenty campers packed their gear along with leaders Mrs. W. Koss, Mrs. S. Schoenwald, Mrs. S. Horevitz and Senior Scouts Marilyn Koss and Phyllis Affari for a Council-sponsored 4-day primitive camping trip at Happy Hollow Camp in East Troy, Wis. The girls enjoyed four beautiful days sleeping in tents, cooking their meals, doing macrame, tie-dyeing, candlemaking, swimming at Alpine Lodge and Horseback riding at Kettle Moraine Ranch. Evening activities included snipe hunting with the entire camp and Senior Scout leaders and song-fests around the campfire. Everyone completed the Cadette Hiker badge and parts of Horsewoman, Pioneer and Campcraft.

Jeff Hugel to attend St. John's

Jeff Hugel, a 1973 graduate of Notre Dame Boys High school, has been accepted for admission to the Fall freshmen class at St. John's university and got his first taste of college life early by attending the school's freshmen orientation program last weekend.

The orientation was designed to give incoming freshmen at St. John's the opportunity to enroll for classes, select dormitories and visit professors and administrators.

"The main focus is to give these new students some time with a professor in their major field," stated Rev. Brian Millette, OSB, Director of Student Activities. "The professor helps them register and gives them a chance to get the courses they prefer or receive counseling on courses they perhaps should select."

Jeff will be part of the largest freshmen class ever to enroll at St. John's in its 117 year history. More than 470 freshmen are expected to bring the total enrollment to approximately 1,600.

'Cabaret'

The "wunderbar" musical, "Cabaret," which blended a feverish period of history with the vibrancy of a modern song-and-dance show, and won all the available prizes and awards when it began its triumphant three year run in New York in 1966, will be presented at the Niles West auditorium, Oakton at Edens Expressway, Skokie, with performances on July 27 and 28 and Aug. 3 and 4 at 8:15 p.m.

"Cabaret" is set in Berlin, at the beginning of the 1930's, just before the storm and the storm-troopers took over Germany, when a sense of impending doom drove people to a forced and frantic gaiety, and it echoes the frenzied bitter-sweetness expressed in Marlene Dietrich's movie of that era, "The Blue Angel," and Kurt Weill's music.

"Cabaret" begins in a gaudy night-club where a mincing, smirking, clown-faced master-of-ceremonies - to be played by Gene Nessonson - sings an impudent song of welcome to the cabaret's uneasy customers, promising them naughty songs and enticingly half-dressed girls, all of which are indeed delivered.

Andrea Landsman is also starred in "Cabaret" as the rootless Sally Bowles, who thinks the nightclub's tinselly atmosphere is heavenly, but doesn't hesitate, when meeting there a poor, ambitious American writer - to be portrayed by Mitch Letrofsky - to move right into his shabby rented room with him.

Beth Salzman will appear as the weary, defeated proprietor of this rooming-house, who reveals her resignation in a haunting song "So What" with its line of shrugging submission, "You learn to settle for what you get."

Jeff Sanders will be seen as her lonely, aging, Jewish lodger, who woos her with the gift of a pineapple from his grocery store's stock (in one of the show's most appealing songs called "It Couldn't Please Me More"). It is he who also has the famous comic patter song, "Meekite," which he explains is Yiddish for "ugly."

This autumnal romance withers under Nazi pressure, despite the Jewish grocer's scoffing at any possible threat from what he considers a trifling lunatic fringe, despite his plea to the frightened rooming-house keeper to think of all the meals she will have to eat alone. Her acridly poignant song putting him off is a key to how so many "good Germans" put up with the horrors of Nazism. "What Would You Do?" she sings. "Suppose simply keeping still . . . means you manage?"

And so, also, in another way, the romance of the American and the flighty English girl flounders amid the fervors of the era's political unrest. Sally Bowles, at the end goes back to being a singer in the sleazy Kit-Kat-Klub, singing her defiance of her American lover's call to respectability with the show's most notable song-hit, "Life is a Cabaret, old chum, come to the Cabaret."

Robert Johnson is the director who is keeping the tunes and the story spinning. Tom Engle, Rita Stewart, Karen Engle and Wilda DeFur have designed the scenery and costumes with Josie Berns handling the complex choreography. Music directors are Anita Salzman, Max Tash, and Jonathon Reilly.

"The Lively Ones"

"THE LIVELY ONES" appear every Saturday Inn, one of the most historic spots in the world, at the LONE TREE INN, 7710 N. Milwaukee ave. . . . This trio has appeared at many of America's most famous spa's in Las Vegas and New York. . . . Their rhythmic danceable music has captured just to listen to their many unique arrangements many new patrons for the famous old Lone Tree insures an enchanting evening.

'Arsenic & Old Lace'

Being opened next week as a presentation of N.E.W. Players, the comedy hit show, "Arsenic and Old Lace," by Joseph Keselring will play at the Niles West auditorium, Oakton at Edens Expressway, Skokie, on July 26, Aug. 1 and 2 at 8:15 p.m.

"Arsenic and Old Lace" tells the story of the mad Brewster family and their cellar full of corpses, and of how Jonathan, a long-lost nephew, returned to his childhood home for the night, and succeeded in turning Brooklyn upside down before he left in the morning. . . . handcuffed to 2 policemen.

When Jonathan Brewster discovers that his previously unequal record of 12 murders has been tied by his 2 lovable old aunts, his professional pride demands that he find some way to recapture his lead, and the potential victim for the honored position of his thirteenth victim is his brother Mortimer, a drama critic, whom he always hated.

Interlaced with his agonizing situation, which is played for broad comedy, is the case of Mortimer's brother, Teddy, who spends most of his time digging in the cellar, under the impression that he is Teddy Roosevelt and that he is digging the Panama Canal. Not only does this curious activity keep Teddy busy, but it also provides a handy place to bury the lonely old gentlemen who are invited to taste Aunt Abby's poisoned elderberry wine, and promptly expire as a result.

Jonathan also has in two a plastic surgeon, named Dr. Einstein, whose predilection for movies has caused him to give Jonathan a face that unfortunately resembles Boris Karloff.

All of this, plus weird lighting effects, window slats that creak ominously when their covers are lifted and 2 individual corpses which appear and disappear throughout the play, is in store for audiences at "Arsenic and Old Lace."

In the roles of the 2 murdering old ladies, Abby and Martha; Donna Stone and Audrey Hirsch will be seen. The Brewster brothers, Jonathan, Mortimer, and Teddy, will be played by Steve Lewis, Jim Asher, and Joel Drazner, respectively, while Mark Nesselson will act the role of Dr. Einstein. The play was directed by Robert Johnson, and the setting was designed by Mark Tarczynski.

THE CORNERS

of Where it's at and What's happening.

By Ed Hanson

"He who drinks gets drunk; He who gets drunk goes to sleep; He who goes to sleep does not sin; He who does not sin goes to heaven; So let's all drink and go to heaven."

The above poem I once came across in a little town in Mexico. It was scrawled on the wall of a tiny church.

I was thinking about it after leaving Eddie's Place in Niles. As I drove homeward I noticed the hundreds of houses I passed were all dark and silent as tombs.

I couldn't help but feel that the night people and tavern hounds, such as me, were after all just a small segment of the population. And I couldn't help but also wonder if an organized minority didn't control a disorganized majority.

And because Mike, the bartender at Eddie's Place, didn't get me a seat at the bar because the joint was crowded, I was feeling mean and nasty.

And a mean and nasty thought popped into my head. If a referendum were put to the people of Niles, Des Plaines and other suburban towns whether their towns should be dry or wet-what would the outcome be?

I know, for example, it's never been left to the people of Des Plaines.

Anyway when the 19 year olds can be served wine and beer, that may be the first step toward again drying up the whole country; And I have news for the bistro keepers of Niles. No "home-rule" law or city ordinance is legal against this new State law.

At least that's the opinion of Chester J. Wasicki, the professional license investigator for the State of Illinois at 160 N. La Salle st., Chicago.

I visited with Wasicki the other day on another matter when the subject of the 19 year olds came up.

It so happens that Wasicki, before he joined the State was in the liquor business and has vast experience in this regard. "That new law permitting 19 year olds the right to be served beer and wine is a bad one. Most of those kids are bad news and we anticipate plenty of trouble ahead, Ed."

"One tavern guy in Niles, Chester told me he going to put a sign above his bar that reads, 'You must show three I.D.'s to be served here."

"This tavern keeper would be within his legal right to do this, Ed. He would be carrying out the law to the extreme letter. And I have an even better suggestion to add to this."

"What's that?"

"Each tavern owner should have some printed forms that would read something like this: I hereby swear that I have attained the age of 19 years. My name is, I was born on, in the year of. This form would have a place of signature and a place for witness, which the bartender could sign. These forms can be kept on file. It would at least show that the tavern owner went as far as he possibly could in upholding the law."

"Say, Chester, that's a good suggestion. Mind if I quote you?"

"Go right ahead, Ed."

Tonight is your last chance to attend JAKE'S Restaurant, 7740 N. Milwaukee ave., Niles "Wow of a LUAU." And I understand that Jake did a "wow" of a business during his combined Italian-Hawaiian days. And since I'm still feeling mean because Mike didn't get me a seat at the bar of Eddie's Place, I suggested to Jake that for his next promotion, he do a Cub-Sox combination.

Friday, I attended a Luau party at the FRED ASTAIRE Dance Studio, 7403 Milwaukee ave., Niles. I had a ball because everyone received a kiss with every lei. Come join the fun next Friday at Fred Astaire Studios . . . dancing is fun even when I feel mean because Mike didn't get me a seat at the bar at Eddie's Place . . .

In my wanderings I discovered a wonderful new place . . . it's the OLD WARSAW RESTAURANT, 1504 Miner st., Des Plaines. They have another location, too, 4750 N. Harlem, Harwood Heights. They serve, at very reasonable prices an out-of-this-world POLISH STYLE SMORGASBORD . . . it beats the hell out of any Swedish smorgasbords I've ever had.

Steve, the owner said to me, "Ed, once people come to the Old Warsaw Restaurant, they come back again and again." Everything about this place, the decor, lighting and food service is top-drawer . . . and they even serve, in addition to all sorts of cocktails, Polish beer. Polish beer—(when I was a kid we used to call, Polish Pop.)

Would anyone like to have a recording I have . . . it's the Chicago Cub's victory and fight song . . . "Hey, hey the Cub's are on their way to —"

THE CELLER . . . I'd trade the whole team for Leo Durocher.

Say, Hey . . . see you next week.

Oakton student featured in Sound of Music

Tom has played several roles in both community theater and at Niles West High school, including Teyva in Fiddler on the Roof and Bill Sykes in Oliver. Inflation hasn't changed the price of ashes.

But it has changed the price of your home. For example, if you bought a $20,000 home in 1968—today it's worth about $27,000. Don't be left with a costly pile of ashes. See me about a State Farm Homeowners Policy that will cover your home for all its worth and keep it that way with automatic Inflation Coverage.

Help make someone happy

Dear Editor:
On July 14, my nephew, Stephen McCauley lost his right arm in a tragic accident on his family's farm. The boy is only 8 years old and aware of the circumstances and ramifications of his accident. He is presently dependent and his state may affect his will to adjust. His doctors feel that letters and cards of encouragement will be most beneficial to his recovery and adjustment. Unfortunately, his home town of Dakota is a small town of less than 500 persons. There are simply not enough people to write to him.

It would be greatly appreciated if anyone reading this newspaper would take a few minutes time and write him a short letter or send him a card. His name is Stephen McCauley and letters can be sent to him c/o

Gerald O'Connell, 424 W. Garfield, Freeport, Ill. His grandfather will read the cards and letters to him. Thank you for your interest.

Sincerely,
Thomas W. Flynn

Dear Editor:
In last week's Bugle, there was reference to the Park Board passing a resolution quashing the Director involvement in Board discussions. Just for the record - we never took such action and never will.

Morton Grove South Majors

Morton Grove Braves 14 - Pirates 4.
Pitcher Jim Latal won his 5th game of the year Monday as the Braves beat the Pirates 14-4 before a very large crowd at Ausf tin Park. This was the playoff game to determine the winner of the second half of the season in the South Majors.

The Braves played an excellent defensive game, with an especially good performance by Brian Latal in right field, which included a spectacular one-handed game-ending catch. Outfielders Dave Prorok and Gary Kaplan were also outstanding as usual.

The Pirates scored again in the sixth inning and were threatening, but were retired on a strikeout and 2 catches in right field. The Pirates, managed by Bruno Archangeletti, and the Braves, managed by Jerry Schurke, played a final game to determine who will win the championship of the South Majors.

South Minor League

The White Sox nulled down the championship in the M.G. South Minor League July 11 with a 7-4 decision over the Athletics. The Sox had won the first half competition with a 6-1 record and the A's equalled that to win the second half.

After a scoreless first inning the A's grabbed the lead with an unearned tally in the top of the second. But the Sox came storming back with 7 runs in their half and then held on the rest of the way. In the Sox scoring thrust John Tokoph and Ben Tielbaum led off with singles. Two walks and a hit batsman later

Dan Arkus and Darren Hoepfner slammed back-to-back doubles driving in a pair of runs each and providing the Sox with the margin they needed to win.

Hoepfner was the winning pitcher for the Sox with great relief help from Dan Sowinski who fanned 7 and allowed only one run and 3 hits in the last 3 innings. M. Kallinsky had 2 hits to lead the A's attack.

The White Sox now move into the one-game "World Series" playoff against the North Minors champion July 21 at 7 p.m. at Harrer Park.

Inside the ball park we had to scatter for seats. It was Star Spangled Banner time and we rushed into 10 seats between home plate and third base which were just so-so. If you wanted to watch the pitcher and the batter you first moved to 1 side of your seat and wound your eyes around the pillar which obstructed half of the action, but you were able to view the batter. You reversed the action to see the pitcher.

But borrowing a Willie Maysism, 'Say, hey, it was a great game.' Well, it wasn't a great game . . . but you were in the old ball park. Like you were watching this guy Stargell, huge arms, a powerfully built batter, moving his bat around like it was a fly-weight. And when the pitch came you looked away because 6 of your 10 kids were heading for, 1. the peanut man, 2. the John, and 3. miscellaneous, meaning wandering off to find out why the upper deck was empty, and "maybe if we could get up there we could get a few foul balls."

Well, Stargell pumped those huge arms and knocked the ball in the general direction of the lake. We missed that one but we won't miss the next one.

That's pretty much the way the next 2 1/2 hours went. Williams whacked one, but we were looking toward the pitcher by sitting on the left side of our seat so we could see to the left of the post.

By the time we moved to the right side Williams was already centering to first, and we missed the whack of the ball against the bat.

In the 7th inning we were marching back to the bus amidst much moaning and groaning from the fans who spent most of their time in the aisles in pursuit of the peanut, hot dog, coke, scorecard, pennant, pop corn, candy and pizza vendors, who seemed to be there especially for the unholy 10 under my wing.

Back on the bus somehow the seat seemed harder, the ride much longer, and the cacophony within the bus split an eardrum.

One of our guys decried his not receiving any autographs, and the lady next to me signed spurious autographs of right-handers Beckert, Santo and Kessinger. Since I'm left-handed I added Billy Williams, Brock Davis and Ken Holtzman, and gave the scorecard an added flourish by signing Babe Ruth's name.

When we returned to the school grounds we filed from the bus, and sighed we'd done our duty for the day . . . and the year. But back in the playground 2 buddies on the bus suddenly assumed John L. Sullivan stances and all the guys rushed around them and egged them into battle. The principal quickly subdued the warriors, and we all headed for home. But wait a minute, one of the kids driving home with us saw his scorecard fly from his hand and blow across the street with him in hot pursuit. In mid-street brakes screeched, and 2 tons of metal stopped shy of the scorecard-pursuer by a whiff of Godspeed. The little guy looked up at me, smiled a puckish smile, shrugged it off, and jumped into the car alongside of me.

tion. He has completed considerable work toward his Doctorate at Northern Illinois university.

Following two years of teaching experience in California, Hetke taught in Arlington Heights for five years. He became principal of Ridge Elementary school in Arlington Heights in 1956 and continued in that position until 1971. For the past two years, he served as Special Projects Coordinator in the Central Office Administration in Arlington Heights.

During his years in education, Hetke has had the responsibilities for developing a Drug Abuse Program, a Model for Teacher Evaluation and has served as chairman of a District-wide Gifted Child Study Committee. Raymond W. Owens was appointed principal of Viola H. Nelson school in Niles. He replaces Mrs. Lenore Page, who will remain in District 63 as Assistant Superintendent for Instruction.

Owens was born in Evergreen Park, Illinois, and currently lives in Glenwood, Illinois. He and his wife Eileen have three children. Owens received his Bachelor's degree in 1959 and his Master's degree in 1969, both from DePaul university. He has since gained additional graduate credit at Loyola university. His experience in education includes eight years as a classroom teacher and four years as a building principal in Dolton, Blue Island and Lansing, Illinois.

In addition to his responsibilities for staffing, curriculum improvement and instructional services, Owens has worked with educational concepts such as team teaching, open area classrooms, personalized instruction and cross-year and age groupings. He has had the responsibility for developing a District-wide gifted program as well as work on a variety of in-service program for teachers.

The three principals were selected for their new positions from a group of over 60 applicants.

waiting the findings of the five man state senatorial commission which will be based on hearings to be held throughout the State. Some twelve Senate and House bills relating to collective bargaining of public employees have been referred to this special commission. Because of the magnitude and far reaching aspects of this issue, it seems prudent to await the recommendations of the Commission rather than act without benefit of what should prove to be important information. To take formative action without this input could be irresponsible.

Certain security benefits accrue to Policemen and Firemen from the Civil Service status they enjoy. Their recruitment, promotions and discipline is administered by the Board of Fire, Police Commission. No work force reductions are anticipated. Unlike industry, the Village will not go out of business, it will not be relocated nor will it be restructured as in the case of a merger. These significant advantages are unique to municipalities and must be considered when evaluating salaries, benefits and other related matters.

After four years service, our Firefighter's earnings approach $14,000. They are on duty one day (24 hours) and are off two days (48 hours). In addition, fringe benefits, (pension, hospitalization and life insurance), amount to more than $2,786 per man annually. Upon completion of twenty years of service and attainment of age, 50, they can retire at 50% of their salary, i.e. almost $7,000.

The proposed Firefighter salary adjustments amounts to a 54.4% increase over their 1968-69 earning of $8,820. Additional equipment and personnel have eased the work-load and job requirements.

I have no knowledge of alleged "promises" made by individual board members. Such commitments to be valid must be made by the Board as a whole at a public meeting.

In the final analysis the decision of the Board should be based on what is best for Morton Grove overall. To favor one group of Village personnel over another is unfair and could lead to disastrous circumstances.

If you as a resident or business person in the Village and have an opinion on this entire matter, the Village Board will be happy to hear from you. Just drop a card or letter to me in care of the Village Hall, 6300 W. Lincoln ave.

the police chief has brought much honor and glory to the community. He added it was about time the Chief received long-overdue recognition for his fine work.

In still other actions village officials were invited to celebrate Aug. 2, Pure Water Day, by taking a boat trip on the south branch of the Chicago River, to the sewage plant in Stickney where they would inspect the Sanitary District's facilities. When an addendum to the invitation mentioned "lunch would be served" it drew much laughter from the sparse audience.

Received a letter from a Mrs. Ida Sue Goldberg commending the police department for an outstanding job in attending an accident at Pratt and Kostner.

Rejected a request from the Skokle League of Women Voters the collective village board express an opinion supporting a federal trade bill the League supports. Individual members of the Board said they would contact their Congressman regarding the bill but did not believe village board action was proper.

Avon names Gordon Skeoch manager

Avon Products, Inc., has announced the appointment of Gordon D. Skeoch as manager-Branch Operations in the company's Manufacturing Laboratory in Morton Grove.

Mr. Skeoch joined Avon in 1970 as Management Associate-Field Operations and subsequently was named Region Sales Manager, the position he held until his recent promotion. Prior to his association with Avon, Mr. Skeoch was a Distribution Center Manager of Oscar Mayer & Co. He is a 1960 graduate of Purdue University with a B.S. in Animal Science.

Mr. Skeoch and his wife, the former Sue Ackerman, reside in Cincinnati, Ohio, with their four children.

The Avon Manufacturing Laboratory in Morton Grove, opened in 1956 when Avon's branch facilities in Chicago were overburdened, now processes and packages hundreds of different Avon products every year. The facility is housed in a 370,000 square foot building set on almost 20 landscaped acres. Dramatic expansion occurred in 1970, when Avon distribution operations were moved into a new 320,000 square foot building situated on a 19-acre site, across the street from the original Morton Grove facility. The new Glenview Distribution Center provides expanded service for Avon Representatives while paving the way for greater manufacturing capacity in the Morton Grove building.

Avon is the world's largest manufacturer and distributor of a diversified line of cosmetics and grooming aids for all the family. Its products are sold through independent Sales Representatives directly to customers in their homes throughout the United States and 17 other countries.

Capparelli calls for mounted police patrols in Caldwell Woods

State Representative Ralph C. Capparelli (D-16th) has called for the use of mounted police patrols to maintain order in the Caldwell Woods Forest Preserve, near the corner of Milwaukee and Devon aves.

In a letter to Cook County Sheriff Richard Elrod, Capparelli said he was disturbed that mounted police patrols will be in operation in all Cook County forest preserves except Caldwell Woods.

"Caldwell Woods, as forest ranger statistics will document, has had numerous incidents reported - many of which can be considered criminal acts," the letter stated.

Capparelli pointed to the recent disturbance among members of a minority group. During the melee, gunfire erupted and several participants received serious injury.

"This disturbance easily could have resulted in harm to many innocent people who were enjoying a weekend outing with members of their families," said the northwest side legislator. "It is protection for these people which is my greatest concern."

Capparelli explained to Elrod that the northwest side for decades has been an ideal place to live.

"It can only continue to maintain this reputation if problems are recognized at an early stage and appropriate action taken. The nearness of Caldwell Woods to residential areas makes it imperative that action be taken to maintain order and to deal expeditiously and effectively with those individuals who commit criminal acts. For Caldwell Woods, this action warrants the use of mounted police patrols," said Capparelli.

Part-time instructor brings fresh approach to Oakton

The part-time instructor at Oakton Community college has played a vital role in the development of the academic program since the college opened its doors to students three years ago. They bring invaluable experience and a fresh approach to their students and the college.

The part-time instructor who teaches at both a four-year college and at Oakton is also in the unique position of being able to observe their similarities and differences, Frank Wieman, who is teaching a course in the philosophy of religion at Oakton this summer, is typical. He is a full-time instructor in theology and philosophy at Loyola university in Chicago.

Mr. Wieman reports that the students in his class at Oakton compare with the best classes he has had at Loyola. "The students are sharp, interested, and questioning," he explains. He describes his class as a mix of students, freshmen and sophomores who are regular Oakton students and half junior and senior students from other colleges who are picking up extra credits at Oakton this summer. "I have been noticing that students mix faster here. At Loyola, they seem to remain in little cliques all semester, but within a few weeks here, students have made new friends. Maybe it is part of the homey, informal atmosphere at Oakton," he said. "Oakton is, of course, much smaller than Loyola. Perhaps that is why there seems to be a family atmosphere. Everyone knows each other and everyone is friendly. When you ask a question or for help, people seem to be happy to serve you," he explains.

"I also like the idea of the group here at Oakton. I like the idea of meeting the faculty of other disciplines in an informal, daily relationship. I do know almost everyone in my own department at Loyola after two years, but I know few people outside my department," he continued. Mr. Wieman, who earned his master degree at Loyola, also has a MA degree in theology from St. Mary's college in Darjiling, India. In addition he did post graduate work at the University of Chicago.

Large print books at MG Library

Books in easy-to-read large print are available at the Morton Grove Public Library. Novels, mysteries, western, biographies, children's books — in fact almost anything can be enjoyed by readers with slight limitations. Borrow for yourself or for a visually handicapped friend or relative.

Some of the titles now available in large print are: Agatha Christie — At Bertram's Hotel; Tom Tryon — The Other; Sheila Burnford — Incredible Journey; A. B.
