BOARD GIVES 'NO DECISION' FOR FUTURE BOXING BOUTS

Village board members gave a "no decision" non-vote Tuesday night regarding future boxing bouts in the village.

July 1, 1974 and January 1, 1975 are two very important dates for residents in all our areas.

Options to purchase the 37 1/2 acres of Tam O'Shanter property expire for the Niles Park District on the July date...

It is expected the Niles Park District will run a referendum before the end of 1973 and if it should fail, it would still have 6 more months to consider whether or not it would like to run additional referenda for the area.

The Niles Park District is likely to offer only golfing for its voters. Past reports intimated a swimming pool, tennis courts, and other recreational bonuses would be dangled in front of voters in its attempt to pass a referendum.

If voters negate the golf course the village, or local school districts, could pursue the land purchase. While we have no inside knowledge, we have a strong hunch Niles overflowing village coffers would skim some of its cream and purchase the land.

Since the elementary and high school districts have fine modern facilities in Districts 71 and 219, it would seem the Oakton College District might be the most likely to seek the land, presently owned by attorney Paul Brandel.

Last week an ad hoc committee at the college recommended a $40,000 feasibility study consider the Central Road-Tollway site and the present industrial-area site, for the permanent home for the college.

Mayor Blase involved in auto accident

Niles village president Nick Blase was uninjured in an auto accident Tuesday near Bloomington, Illinois. Blase and fellow-passenger Norman Dachman were driving to Springfield on Illinois Municipal League business when the accident occurred at about 10 a.m.

State clears Park District request

After completion of project review by the "Northwestern Illinois Planning Commission" (NIPC), the Niles Park District had received a "First Priority Open Space" rating for its application for Federal Fund assistance. The Illinois "State Clearing House" notified the Park District with letter of July 27, 1973 that also the State has completed the review of the Open Space acquisition request and found it consistent with goals and regulations of all State agencies concerned. This approval is the last hurdle before final submission to the Federal Grant Agency. As reported last week, the Park District had requested Federal assistance in the amount of $1,080,000.

Director Dressler reported that no definite information could be obtained from the Governor's office regarding a veto to House Bill 967, which would have provided State Conservation Funds for acquisition of open space. House and Senate had approved House Bills 966 and 967 providing $25,000,000 for "Open Space" acquisitions. Later, the amount had been reduced to $5,000,000 in conference of House and Senate. At the present time, it is not known whether the Governor has already vetoed House Bill 967. If Governor Walker vetoes the Bill, the Park District has to depend solely on Federal assistance.

Shown above here are the Niles Park District Swim Teams. The team is divided by and swims in age groups. These groups are 10 and under, 11-12 years old, 13-14 years old, and 15 and over. Picture 1 is the 10 and under team (top row, 1. to r.) - Mary Obermiller, Monica Mucha, Laura Ciccone, and Suzette Eshoo. (Bottom row, 1. to r.) - Sandy Mucha, Robert Scheiman, Christine Chancas, Colleen McKevey, Kevin Arrison, Craig Arrison, and Greg Wieser. Picture 2 is the 11 and 12 year old team. (Bottom row, 1. to r.) - Cathy Johnson, Mary Fagerson, Tom Wieser, Kevin McKevey, and Jim Becher. Picture 3 is the 13 and 14 year old team. They are (top row, 1. to r.) - Mike Brennan, Norm Serlin, Jim Schaeffes. (Row 3, 1. to r.) - Betsy Reilly, Carolyn Shemroske, Marianne Fitzgerald, Colleen Fitzgerald, Mary Brennan. 'The Sound of Music'
The months of preparation climaxed on Aug. 10 at the Niles North Theatre when "The Sound of Music" began the first of 7 performances, sponsored by the Morton Grove Park District. Director Ethel Libkin and choreographers, Bob and Barb Grahn agree that the greater the talent, the greater is the dedication, for this cast has indeed sought perfection since it began working together. "They are the greatest," said Mrs. Libkin. Tickets are still available for more performances. However, the best seats are open for the matinee performance at 2 p.m. on Aug. 18. "It's a perfect time for children and parents can provide their children with the opportunity of seeing the full production of a famous show," Mrs. Libkin commented. "There have been children watching our rehearsals, and their reactions have been very encouraging." Other performances are scheduled for Aug. 17, 18, and 19 at 8:30 p.m. On Aug. 19 there is a 7:30 p.m. curtain in addition to the matinee. Adult tickets are $3.50 and student tickets are $2. For tickets, call 965-1200 or 965-5119, or visit the box office.

Centel conducts service survey

As part of a continuing program to measure its service standards, Central Telephone Company has initiated a new customer service measurement study throughout the Des Plaines Park Ridge District. This study will be administered through short telephone interviews rather than through mailed questionnaires previously used.

A randomly selected sample of customers will be asked questions on one of 5 surveys. All calls will be made during the day and early evening, except for lunch and dinner periods. The surveys, running between 15 and 20 questions, can be completed within a few minutes.

The surveys cover five areas of Centel's service: installation (new and additional services); repair; contracts with the business office other than routine bill payments; operator services; and general service and image. The program is being conducted by a professional marketing research organization, Walker Research, Inc., of Indianapolis, Ind.

Centel hopes the study will not only permit a constant evaluation of its service standards but also help identify any areas where its customers are encountering difficulties.

Social security information available

Advertisements have appeared in the Chicago newspapers to sell a book which implies that there are methods to get additional monies from the Social Security Administration.

"It has always been the policy of the Social Security Administration to pay the highest benefit possible under the law," said Donald B. Schneider, manager of the Des Plaines social security office. "Most of the facts given in the book have been taken from free publicity pamphlets available to you at your social security office. You may obtain a record of wages, on which you paid taxes, by completing a card, which is also available free at your social security office. Questions about benefit amounts, eligibility or any other social security matter may be presented by phone or letter to any social security office. The office is located in your community to serve you."

"Any information in the book is available to you free at your social security office," Schneider concluded.

This study will be administered through short telephone interviews rather than through mailed questionnaires previously used.

A randomly selected sample of customers will be asked questions on one of 5 surveys. All calls will be made during the day and early evening, except for lunch and dinner periods. The surveys, ranging between 18 and 29 questions, can be completed within a few minutes.

The surveys cover five areas of Centel's service: installation (new and additional service); repair; contacts with the business office other than routine bill payments; operator service; and general service and image. The project is being conducted by a professional marketing research organization, Walker Research, Inc. of Indianapolis, Ind.

Centel hopes the study will not only permit a constant evaluation of its service standards but also help identify any areas where its customers are encountering difficulties.

Social security information available

Advertisements have appeared in the Chicago newspapers to sell a book which implies that there are methods to get additional monies from the Social Security Administration.

"It has always been the policy of the Social Security Administration to pay the highest benefit possible under the law," said Donald B. Schmieder, manager of the Des Plaines social security office. "Most of the facts given in the book have been taken from free publicity pamphlets available to you at your social security office. You may obtain a record of wages, on which you paid taxes, by completing a card, which is also available free at your social security office. Questions about benefit amounts, eligibility or any other social security matter may be presented by phone or letter to any social security office. The office is located in your community to serve you."

"Any information in the book is available to you free at your social security office," Schmieder concluded.

Centel recycling old telephone directories

Getting heavier all the time... Some young workers unload one of the several semi-trailer trucks which brought approximately 110,000 new editions of the local telephone directory to the area for distribution. Each year, the job of distribution gets more and more difficult. There are approximately 2,025 new alphabetical listings in this year's books and more than 1,000 additional listings on 29 new classified pages. The directories are compiled for Centel by L. M. Berry and printed by R. R. Donnelley. Bins for the recycling of old directories are provided by the Cleveland Corporation of Evanston.

Twenty tons of recycled telephone directories is the aim of Central Telephone Company this year in the Park Ridge-Des Plaines area. That amounts to the reclamation of 40,000 old directories.

Throughout the month of August, approximately 110,000 local directories will be delivered to Centel customers in the area. If possible, the old directories will be picked up when the delivery is made.

For those who are not at home at the time of delivery, Centel has provided three locations where customers interested in the ecology effort may drop off their old directories: in the parking lot at the rear of the Division Headquarters Building, 2004 Miner st., Des Plaines; the rear of the Park Ridge Building, 36 S. Fairview, Park Ridge; and American Legion Hall, E. River and Golf rds.

Last year approximately 30,000 directories were collected for recycling, or about 15 tons, saving thousands of trees and helping to improve our environment.

The cover of the new issue of the directory is done in harvest gold and canary yellow and depicts antique telephones as well as the modern Trendline and Decorator telephones.

But the color doesn't stop on the outside. Inside, the telephone directory is a veritable

LWV agree with Jaffe record Stone - Henderson

State Representative Aaron Jaffe (D-Skokie) is one of only two members of the Illinois General Assembly whose voting record completely agreed with the positions of the Illinois League of Women Voters in areas of prime concern to the League.

The LWV is one of the most significant political organizations in the 78th General Assembly concerning selected issues that the League either vigorously supported or opposed. The votes of Reps. Jaffe and Glenn Schmieder (D-Naperville) reflected the LWV views on all twelve bills listed by the League.

"It is always nice to be in the political company of the League of Women Voters," stated Jaffe. "They put unbelievable time, energy, and talent into their programs, and I have a great deal of respect for their judgment. We share the same concern for quality government in Illinois," Jaffe further commented, "and I am pleased to learn that the views of the League coincide with mine in all of these varied and vital areas of interest."

Some of the issues in the evaluation involved education, elections, merit selection of judges, environmental protection, penal reform, the Equal Rights Amendment, rights of children, and revenue sharing.

Jaffe pointed out that he felt the creation of an appointed State Board of Education was one of the most important accomplishments of the 78th General Assembly.

"While the Equal Rights Amendment has not yet been adopted, I fully intend to continue, along with the League, to give this issue my full support. I am hopeful that we will be able to achieve passage during the next legislative session."

"Environmental protection legislation in Illinois has not done as well as I had hoped," Jaffe continued. "It is absolutely essential that all concerned citizens join the League in forcefully lobbying their representatives in Springfield for much more restrictive and enforced legislation to deter pollution of our environment."

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon C. Stone, of Morton Grove, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Roseanne, to Charles F. Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Henderson, of Rumson, New Jersey.

Miss Stone attended Maine Township High School East, in Park Ridge. She is a recent graduate of St. Leo College, St. Leo, Fla., where she majored in Elementary Education. She is currently employed by Kraftco Corporation in Glenview.

Her fiancé, is presently employed in New York for the summer. He will be graduating from St. Leo College in December, with a degree in Business Administration.

A February wedding is being planned.

Local troops attend National Scout Jamborees

221 Scouts from 12 Troops are having a great brotherhood-camping experience at the National Scout Jamboree in Moraine State Park north of Pittsburgh, Pa. and Farragut State Park near Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

To the east went: Troop 13 of the Des Plaines VFW #2992 in the Des Plaines area with 3 leaders and 21 Scouts. Troop 33 of the Good Shepherd Community Church in Des Plaines with 2 leaders and 29 Scouts. Troop 79 of Golf School in Morton Grove with 1 leader and 7 Scouts.

Troop 92 of St. Matthew Lutheran Church in Lake Zurich with 1 leader and 7 Scouts.

Troop 175 of St. John Brebeuf Church in Niles with 3 leaders and 23 Scouts.

For the first time in the history of the Boy Scouts of America, the 1973 National Scout Jamboree is being held in two locations to satisfy the popular demand for a jamboree site within reach of major population centers.

To a Scout, this national encampment is unquestionably a unique and unequalled opportunity. It provides experiences in travel, learning, and human understanding that are seldom available to youth in their formative years. Today there are thousands of adults who still consider their jamboree experience a high point in their lives.

Growing together is the theme for the jamboree. The theme was recommended by the national youth advisory panel, 50 boys aged 14 to 16. The theme was selected because it can be taken to mean growing in physical strength and skill, in moral character and maturity, in mental ability and knowledge, in leadership, in brotherhood and understanding, and in concern for the environment.

The jamboree program at each site includes several innovations such as competition by individuals, patrols, and troops. In addition to the traditional Scouting skills, events will include baseball, basketball, swimming, golf, track, log sawing, and target shooting.

Special activities will include a merit badge midway, fine arts program, fishing, swimming, boating and canoeing, spectacular arena shows, and a Jamboree Forum so Scouts may share their concerns and ideas about the problems facing their generation.

Amateur chefs at work

Using their cooking skills at the National Scout Jamboree, Farragut State Park, Idaho, are Scouts Neal West, Greg Pawell, Mike Kaufmann, and John Ciszek of Troop 107, Niles Ill. More than 200 tons of charcoal will be used at more than 3,400 outdoor kitchens such as this during the 7-day camping experience in which 23,000 Scouts are participating.

MG Cadette Troop activities

Cadette Troops 176 and 100 of Morton Grove scheduled 4 additional activities for July and August. Leaders Mrs. W. Koss, Mrs. S. Gersh and Mrs. R. Goldman met 23 Scouts for a Miniature Golf Tournament at Park King on July 27. Winners were Susan Koss, 1st; Rene Horevitz and Janice Gersh taking 2nd and 3rd places.

On Aug. 7, Leaders Mrs. A. Irmen, Mrs. M. Schoenwald, Mrs. S. Gersh and Mrs. W. Koss, along with driving mothers Mrs. Welsberg, Feller, Horevitz, Doninger and Levy, drove 40 Cadettes from the 2 troops for a day of swimming and riding the water toboggans at Holiday Park on Wooster Lake.

Scouts who attended the Northwest Cook Council's Camp Norwesco in Eagle, Wisconsin were Patty Ujlite, Elaine Fields, Kathy Gibbons, Kim Mangi, Cheryl Johnson, Dede Harshfield, Janet Wasmack, Nancy Berglund, Marcia Feller. Attending Ranchero at Happy Hollow Camp and Kettle Moraine Ranch near East Troy, Wis. were horseback riders Kathy Doninger, Kathy Gibbons and Patty Ujlite.

The final summer events will be an evening at the Future of America Show in Arlington Park where the Scouts will see the Osmond Brothers Show and finally a Bowling Tournament at Classic Bowl before those school days begin. Who says the Scouts never do anything? Not in these troops.

Teachers wanted for District 64

With all the talk of teacher surplus-there are still a few subject areas where teachers are in relative short supply. This is the predicament of School District 64. All full time staff positions have been filled in the local Elementary School system, but teachers do get ill from time to time and require a substitute to step in for a day or two. Here is where the problem lies. While there is an abundance of certified teachers willing to substitute in the elementary classrooms there are a few subjects for which it is difficult to obtain substitute teachers. Art, Music, Physical Education, Industrial Arts, Home Economics and French are the areas where substitutes are needed.

Any teacher holding a valid certificate in these areas who would like to be a substitute in School District 64 should write for an application card of the Educational Service Center, 164 S. Prospect Ave. Park Ridge, Ill. 60068.

Brookwood celebrating its 10th anniversary

Ten years old... and looking ahead. These are the bywords for the Brookwood Convalescent and Nursing Center, 2380 Dempster st., Des Plaines.

Although the Center marks its 10th anniversary this month, Brookwood's Board, Administration, department heads and its staff are looking to the future with renewed enthusiasm in providing the optimum in geriatric care.

Brookwood Convalescent Center's rather short history was born and bred by a deep concern for the care of elderly people. One of its founders, the late Michael Relos, was a man who cared enough to help modernize and upgrade nursing home care of the elderly in northwest Chicago and its suburbs.

In 1961, he and his business associates, Thomas Burbulls and James Insollia, outlined plans for the first phase of Brookwood, and in August, 1963, a 111-bed facility was opened in Des Plaines.

Their dreams reached full maturity in 1970 with the opening of a five-story, $2.8 million building addition that made Brookwood one of the largest private nursing homes in Illinois. It is also rated as one of the finest. Brookwood now has 290 beds and a fully professional staff, which represents a rapid growth over the home's ten-year history. Brookwood is designed and equipped to provide comprehensive hospital-like care in a nursing home setting. Each floor contains a combination of private, two-bed and four-bed rooms, completely furnished and linked to the home's nursing station by a nurse-call network. Two high-speed elevators in the newer section of Brookwood whisk patients and staff to various floors.

Built with reinforced steel, concrete and Ohio brick, the structure is completely air-conditioned, with thermostatic control in each room. It possesses a dual electrical system that automatically switches to an auxiliary generator when hit by a power failure. Throughout the new and old sections of the home, a fire alarm system connected directly to the Des Plaines Fire Department offers patient safety unmatched by most nursing homes. The system can be activated by an employee or through special heat and smoke detectors. Other safety features include a sprinkler system to extinguish fires throughout the building, an automatic device that closes all corridor doors in case of a fire, and fire proof drapes and cubicle curtains.

SCHAULS' PONY "A" CHAMPS

The Pony League "A" season was culminated Sunday under perfect game conditions at Harrer Park.

The Cubs were undisputed champs of the first half of competition as were the Braves in the 2nd half.

The stage was set for an outstanding game pitting a strong Braves hitting attack against one of the finest pitchers in the league namely Mike Lauser of the Cubs. Mark Berns was the Braves' choice for the big game.

What perhaps should have been a tight, low scoring ball game because of the excellence of the pitchers turned out different as the Braves jumped out to a 3 run lead in the first inning featuring some daring base running by Steve Di Basilio and some timely hitting by virtually the whole Braves' line-up and an excellent defense along with Berns' tough pitching put the game, the championship, and a very successful season away for the Braves.

To illustrate how strong the Braves were in the 2nd half of the season, they lost only 2 games, 2 to 1 and 1 to 0 scores respectively and outscored their opponents by a score of 87 to 24 total.

It was an outstanding team effort and a most satisfying experience for the boys as well as their manager Bob Berns and coach Charlie Folco.

Annual Picnic and Games Day

The Golf Maine Park District will hold its Second Annual Picnic and Games Day on Sun, Aug. 26, at Dee Park, Emmerson and Dee sts., in Des Plaines.

The day will start with a bicycle parade of decorated bicycles. Boys and girls interested in participating in the parade should meet at Mark Twain School by 11:30 a.m. Bikes will be judged at the park, with ribbons awarded to the first three winners.

At approximately twelve noon, the balloon flying contest will start. Each boy and girl will be given a helium filled balloon, with an identifying card attached. The balloon that flies the farthest will win its "pilot" a television set.

Following this activity, there will be games and contests supervised and conducted by the park staff. Ribbons will be awarded to winners in the various activities.

The circus will be staged "under the Big Top" at noon, 3 p.m. and 6 p.m. daily from Aug. 24 through Sept. 2. Children's tickets will be available at McDonald's restaurants starting Fri, Aug. 17.

And that goes for anyone, male or female in the circulation area of all five (5) BUGLE NEWSPAPERS. Have TWO FREE DANCE LESSONS ON ME AT FRED ASTAIRE DANCE STUDIOS IN NILES. Just present this column or more simple, just drop in and say the magic words: "ED HANSON." Bob Garvey of the Fred Astaire Dance Studios, Niles will see that YOU receive two dance lessons absolutely FREE... no strings - no obligations.

Jake Joseph, Niles' most civic minded guy, tells me that he is keeping his prices DOWN. If you knew as I know what's happening in the restaurant business, this is some feat. Jake, with his huge buying power and foresight has stocked up on just about everything, including meat and chicken. Chickens have doubled in wholesale prices in the past two weeks, but JAKE'S REATAURANT, 7740 Milwaukee ave., Niles will maintain their present low cost price structure, so Jake promises me... each week Jake, in his BUGLE ads, offers specials which in this day and age are the lowest anywhere.

THE CORNERS of Where it's at and What's happening. By Ed Hanson

Last Tuesday I received a phone call at the Bugle office. Because it was a woman's voice that said, "Mr. Hanson?" I didn't hang up.

"Speaking?" "You don't know me," the lady caller said. Her voice had a pleasant sound an intriguing quality.

"Think nothing of it," I said. "Strange ladies call me all the time."

"I'd like to talk to you about a column you recently wrote and other things—could you meet with me?"

Perhaps because she said, "meet with me," I was intrigued by her intelligence so I said, "When and where?"

"At Sawa's Old Warsaw, Des Plaines—in the cocktail lounge—say 1:30 p.m. tomorrow?"

"How will I know you?" "I'll be wearing a ruffled baby blue blouse, blue flare slacks and a red rose in my blonde hair."

"How romantic," I said. "But because I'm shy and to insure that I'll not address some strange lady in the bar could you also do something else?"

"What?" "Upon entering the lounge proceed to the Apex Juke box and play number 5-5."

"Yes," she replied rather slowly and added, "but why?" "Because that song is, 'Red Roses for a Blue Lady'."

"My but you're intuitive," she giggled. "See you tomorrow," I said and hung up.

I arrived early at the OLD WARSAW, because discretion is often the better part of valor. If a lady showed wearing a ruffled baby blue blouse, blue flare slacks with a red rose in her blonde hair and a big German Shepherd on a leash on her arm, I could take off like a bunny.

Not that I'm a coward but because I scare easily. My precautions were unnecessary. But my planning was perfect. The cocktail lounge of the Old Warsaw is ideal for clandestine meetings for it's so dark. My iris had adjusted to the darkness and all she could see when she entered was the lighted Juke Box which she immediately proceeded to and played, "Red Roses for a Blue Lady."

"Hi," I said, what's your name?" "Anelia," she blinked.

It was an unusual name but she was an unusual woman. A tall statuesque honey-blond with large dark eyes, she was a good looking Carol Channing. The male heads that turned at the bar when she entered confirmed this fact.

I signaled to Ted Blau for services—as we sat at a table. Ted is 8 times winner of bartender of the year award and for 12 years was general mgr. of the famous "Four Horsemen" in Rosemont. With Ted, being discreet is a way of life.

After perfumery antenities she told what her problem was. It seems, according to her, she suffers a conflict between her spiritual side and her generously endowed physical side. These two sides have chosen sides and are locked in mortal combat and as in the classic story "The Lady and the Tiger," which will come forth winner, the lady or the tiger? Or should I say tigeress?

"I also write poetry, Ed, which comes from my spiritual side."

She read me several of her poems which according to my opinion were excellent. They were lifting, uplifting, inspirational sort of things that ennobled the spirit and improved the mind.

But, in the next breath the tigeress raised her head. For she said, "Long ago I wrote risque stories for magazines."

"Tell me a few," I urged.

After I finished blushing and she finished her stories, I said, "The solution to your problem is to meet nice people. People who laugh and dance and have fun but in a sort of spiritual way."

"But where can I meet people, particularly men. Certainly not in bars—those guys are all on the make."

"Sad but true," I acknowledged. "But I know just the place, a romantic place that's peopled with people that share your views."

"Where is that?" "It's the FRED ASTAIRE DANCE STUDIO, 7403 MILWAUKEE AVE., NILES."

"You did a column about them recently, didn't you?" "Correct. And since then I've been to several of their 'Single-Mingle' parties at the Sheraton-Chicago, the Studio, Mangam's Chateau, etc. Believe me, they are all very romantic affairs handled in a nice, special sort of way—by the by—are you married, single, divorced or widowed?"

"Divorced, Ed."

"You qualify for the Single-Mingles Club. And even if you were married you'd still qualify to learn how to dance—can you dance correctly?"

"Not really — perhaps I should have some professional lessons, Ed."

"Tell you what I'm gonna do. Go see the owner of Fred Astaire Studios, a nice, young, handsome guy (when the light hits him in a certain way) named Bob Garvey and tell him to give you two FREE dance lessons on me."

"Oh, how nice of you, Ed."

"There's even more. Be my guest at the 'Single-Mingles Club' a week from next Friday, meet the people and see how you like them."

'Brief Lives' at Arlington Park Theatre

David Lom, managing director, takes pride in announcing that Roy Dotrice—distinguished member of England's Royal Shakespeare Company—will bring to the stage of the Arlington Park Theatre his portrayal of John Aubrey in "Brief Lives," opening Tuesday, Sept. 25 at 8 p.m. for a limited engagement.

John Aubrey's "lives" are among the most brilliant of seventeenth century memoirs, but the author himself is not widely known. Born in 1625, Aubrey lived through many changes in government and religion, and spent most of his life collecting scholarly information and scandalous gossip for other people. He produced a number of literary and antiquarian works, but his masterpiece remains his book of "Lives," which he managed to complete during a lifetime spent in other people's houses or lodgings, relying on the generosity of good friends and relatives. John Aubrey died at age 72 in 1697 during the reign of William III, and it was only in this century he has begun to be recognized as England's first serious biographer, and can now take his place alongside Pepys and Evelyn as the greatest chroniclers of their, and indeed any, age.

Roy Dotrice joined the Royal Shakespeare Company in 1958, and appeared at Stratford-on-Avon in many varied roles including Julius Caesar, Hotspur, Caliban, Edward IV and Justice Shallow. His most recent motion picture was "Nicholas and Alexandra," and he received an Emmy in this country for his performance in Harold Pinter's "The Caretaker."

At present, Mr. Dotrice is appearing in "The Hollow Crown," with Michael Redgrave and Penny Ashcroft at the Central City Opera House in Denver, Colorado, to be followed by two weeks at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C., prior to his engagement at the Arlington Park Theatre.

'Mass in D Minor' at Free Theatre

"Mass in D Minor," a choral work composed and directed by Joseph Reiser, opens at the Free Theatre, 3257 N. Sheffield ave. (one block north of Belmont), on Saturday, Aug. 18. It will be performed at 8 p.m. and 10 p.m. Saturdays through September 8; thereafter it will be presented Sunday, September 9 through October 21, on Sundays at 7 p.m. and 9 p.m. There is no admission to the performance; however, donations are welcome.

"Mass in D Minor" features a 14-piece orchestra, soloists and a chorus of twenty. It deals with the institutionalized church as a middle-man between God and man and the way it twists the truth to satisfy its own ends. One soloist, sung by Debbie Gilbert, represents the struggle man has in finding God through the church. The chorus, which sings in Latin, and the orchestra of mixed brass and woodwinds with percussion, are in a traditional setting contrasting with the rock band that reinforces the soloist in a mixed idiomatic piece.

For further details on performances of "Mass in D Minor" and other works at the Free Theatre, phone 929-6920.

Resurrection Hospital area trauma center

Resurrection Hospital has been designated as an Area-wide Trauma Center in the Illinois Statewide Trauma Program. The official announcement was confirmed in a letter from David R. Boyd, M.D.C.M., Chief of the Division of Emergency Medical Services and Highway Safety of the State of Illinois Department of Public Health, to the hospital's Administrator, Sister Bonaventure, C.R.

"Resurrection Hospital's strategic position to O'Hare Airport and to the Kennedy Expressway and Tri-State Interchange make this designation a very important one for the overall Statewide Program," Dr. Boyd stated.

Hospitals designated as Area-wide Trauma Centers by the State are required to have 24-hour staffing by highly competent medical and allied health personnel who are able to provide total resuscitation and other lifesaving measures and are capable of providing definitive care in the operating room or intensive care unit.

Laboratory services, blood banks, complete resuscitative equipment, X-ray facilities and ready accessibility to operating rooms are essential.

In announcing the Area-wide Trauma Center designation, Sister Bonaventure has pledged full cooperation for the Illinois Trauma Network Program, training of emergency medical technicians and aid in the development of the Chicago hospital ambulance radio network.

"Because of our strategic location to O'Hare, Resurrection Hospital will continue to develop its resources and disaster planning program in a coordinated effort with O'Hare International Airport," Sister Bonaventure said.

Dr. Martin R. Sullivan of the hospital medical staff will be the liaison between the State Division of Emergency Medical Services and Highway Safety and the staff.

Resurrection Hospital participates in an Area-wide Coordinated Comprehensive Emergency Services System (ACCESS) developed by 13 member hospitals of the North Suburban Association for Health Resources. The ACCESS system serves the far northwest region of Chicago, the north and northwest suburbs of Metropolitan Chicago.

Park improvements

During recent weeks, the Park District has made good on its plans to install more playground equipment. In the spring of this year, tennis courts at N.L.C.O. and Courtland were resurfaced with a two-color system and at the Jonquill Terrace Park, two backstops were installed. Unfortunately, the installation of a drinking fountain in the center of the playground at the Washington Terrace Park hit into a snag, but Mr. Zipparo of the Lucky Stores, Inc. has assured Director Dressler that the Memo Store will faithfully fulfill its obligations to complete the installation. In Sept., 1970, the then "Gemco Membership Department Stores" had offered, among other items, a "drinking fountain along with its two-inch water line and eight-inch drain." When the drinking fountain was installed by LoVerde, Sewer and Watermain Contractors, it was discovered that a section of the drain connection was missing. Mr. LoVerde and Mr. Zipparo went together to correct the situation. Further, the Park District is preparing installation of a water fountain at Courtland Park.

The new playground equipment at the south side of the swimming pool at the Sports Complex has not only been well received and appreciated by the residents in the neighborhood, but also by the children participating in the Niles Park District's Summer Playground Program and in the Program for the Handicapped. At Greenwood Park, the Park's Maintenance Crew installed a drainage ditch to avoid flooding on the vacant lots south of the park.

At Jonquill Terrace, a playground has been developed with a slide, a merry-go-round, two animals, and four benches.

At Kirk Lane Park - five benches, one teeter-totter, one merry-go-round, and two animals have been added on the east side of the park.

For Courtland Park, a geodesic dome and a wave slide with tower are on order since June 8, but have not been received as yet. Trees planted at the Sports Complex, Recreation Center, and Kirk Lane Park in spring have well taken and are a sign that the playlots are becoming parks.

Within the next month more playground equipment and some fencing at N.L.C.O. and Kirk Lane Parks will be installed. The neighbors at the Sports Complex have expressed their appreciation for the prompt clean-up after completion of the construction work and the new grass on the east side of the rink.

Director Dressler said that Commissioners Keener and Beusse had made strong efforts to include these improvements in the Budget and that the remaining items of this year's program will be completed before winter.

Many citizens have commented favorably on these improvements.

Plans for Zenith Center

Architectural plans for Zenith Radio Corporation's Technical Center in Northfield Township, Ill., were announced today by Eugene M. Kinney, senior vice president.

The new six-story, 490,000 sq. ft. facility to be constructed at an estimated cost of approximately $20 million, will allow the company to consolidate all engineering and research activities in the Chicago area and provide space for the Purchasing and Patent departments in one modern facility.

The Center is designed to provide maximum flexibility and will house Zenith's research, advance developments, and product engineering laboratories.

It will provide for the projected growth of Zenith electronic research and engineering activities in color television, and other current products and for new consumer electronic products such as video recording and playback devices.

The Technical Center will be constructed on a 180 acre tract between the Tri-State Tollway, Milwaukee Ave. and the Chicago Northwestern Railway.

Foundation groundbreaking will take place in mid-September. The company expects to let superstructure contracts in December, with construction to be completed by 1975.

templating the TAM location which would meet the demands of the many who are now in doubt over the present site plans.

We have no more prescience than any one else in the area. But contemplating the future of TAM it seems possible all public bodies could let the property slip back into private hands. And while the private hands are owned by a most philanthropic man, nevertheless it seems from this vantage point the college could make the best use of the property.

The drummed-up opposition to the 2 previous college sites indicates private residents do not want a college in their halliwick. Sad as that reads, that is a fait accompli. It follows the best locations for the college are in non-residential areas and certainly TAM could qualify in this category.

From reports we received the Lincolnwood-Skokke representatives on the college board are not too excited about the college being in the Maine Township area, some distance from their home areas. And while we have not heard overt complaints we're sure many a jaundiced eye would be cast at the Oakton Industrial site as the permanent site for the college. It would indicate another area somewhere between these 2 locations would be more satisfactory, and TAM might best serve this need.

The golf course supporters would have the first opportunity for the land. And while recreational activities should certainly be supported by all of us, we're not convinced local residents would vote in favor of a one-sport golf course. The village is the sleeper in the entire TAM bag. It seems their silence thru these years, is merely a holding action. The moment the park district would relinquish their hold on this option it is likely the village would take action. But in the event the village would pass it by, it would then seem the college board might begin moving toward the Caldwell location.

Since the college and the village would both have the same priority in acquiring the land, some plans should begin to be formulated now for these alternate choices. Buying land in 1974 or 1975 at prices set 7 years previously seems to be a bargain which seldom comes our way. Hopefully, one of the public bodies should insure this land stays in the public domain.

McDonald...

The Supreme Court of Illinois authorizes "rather broad organization when it sanctioned the action of the County board in placing under its jurisdiction the office of the Comptroller, properly taking that office from the authority of the County Clerk."

That opinion, she suggested, "should initiate a review of the entire structure of Cook County government to determine what other functions of government should be rearranged and how county government generally can be restructured."

"The new charter for home rule also gives county government broad authority to find alternatives to the antiquated property tax imposed on both personal and real property in Cook County," Mrs. McDonald said, adding, "I stress alternatives because if I am nominated and elected to serve on the Board of Commissioners, I shall insist that no new tax should be adopted without the elimination of an existing tax."

Mrs. McDonald also drew attention to "the question of adequate representation of suburban Cook County" noting that "at present, suburban Cook County has only five members of the Board although substantially more than one-third of our citizens reside in the suburbs and third of our revenues are derived from the suburbs."

"I believe the courts will remedy this inequity on a 'one-man-one-vote' basis," she declared.

Mrs. McDonald has been chairman of the Women's Division of the Republican Central Committee of Cook County, from 1968 to 1972, and was co-chairman of Finance with Robert D. Stuart, Jr., of the Illinois Committee for the Re-election of the President in 1972.

MG Bank...

The caller arranged for a taxi to take her to the bank to withdraw the cash and then back home, where the money was to be picked up and a receipt issued, he related. The con man told her the cash will be fingerprinted to determine who was responsible for the disappearance of the funds.

"Luckily, she decided to question the story when she got home and called the police," said the police official. "The con man, apparently suspecting something wrong, never showed up to claim the money."

First National Bank of Morton Grove and the police department recommend that you should never trust anyone who meets you on the street or phones you with an attractive offer to make easy money. Some con men make a career of preying on elderly people.

Von Aswege emphasized that under no circumstances will a bonafide bank examiner, FBI agent, auditor or law enforcement official request that anyone must withdraw cash from his bank account.

"If any of our customers have any questions or doubts about someone identifying himself as one of these, they can protect their interests and money by calling our executive vice president, Mr. Charles Langfeld, at 965-4400," he stressed.

Von Aswege also urged other banks and savings institutions in the area to follow this procedure in a combined campaign to protect their customers from fraud.

Glaumer cautioned everyone to beware of strangers who propose schemes or transactions involving cash. He said Morton Grove residents or businessmen who have any questions concerning these swindles can notify the Morton Grove Police Department at 965-2131.

He said the victim was duped by a scheme known as a "pigeon drop." The idea is to convince someone that two "strangers" have just found a large sum of money and are willing to share it with a third party (the victim) if that person will put up some "earnest money."

"The victim was given an envelope with fake bills in return for the $800 she had just withdrawn from a bank," he explained. "She didn't discover the switch until after the con girls had departed."

Von Aswege told of another recent, and "fortunately unsuccessful, attempt to extort $9,000 from a Skokie woman. This time a man posed as a federal agent who was assisting in a secret investigation of a mysterious loss of funds from her bank account.

Niles Library open Sundays

It has just been announced that Niles Public Library, 6960 Oakton st., will start Sunday opening hours on Sept. 2. The hours of opening on Sundays will be from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m., and this schedule will continue through May, 1974.

It is hoped that these additional service hours will prove useful to Library patrons. Complete service in all departments of the library will be available including Reference, Circulation and Children's services.

Many of the residents of the Library District have expressed a desire for Sunday Library service. For many families Sunday is the only opportunity for them to come to the library all together as a family, and it is the hope of the Library Board of Trustees that full family service will be the principal benefit to be derived from this extension of service hours.

Boxing ...

In other actions the Board decided against changing the ordinance regarding solicitations from charitable organizations. At previous meetings it had been discussed limiting the number of groups which could solicit in Niles. The increase in the street solicitation of groups prompted the Board to study the limiting of such actions. However, it was the feeling of Tuesday night's Board such action might discourage worthwhile charities as well as groups which the Board was interested in restricting. As in the past groups desiring to solicit in Niles will be required to receive approval from the village clerk before they can act in the village.

In still other actions the Board decided against insisting on "balley-type" service insurance for businesses in the village. A fire had destroyed clothes at a local cleaning shop and insufficient insurance prevented residents from receiving redemption for their burned goods. While the Board considered insisting on protecting future customers from such action it was felt 99% of business in Niles had sufficient coverage. No further action was taken.

Bids from $14,000 to $19,702 were turned over to the village manager and fire chief for action for the purchase of a van-type ambulance.

Blaise told The Bugle a letter would have to be submitted by the boxing representatives and then a decision would be reached by the Board. He said Niles could not pass an ordinance banning boxing since it would be illegal. While the "no decision" Tuesday night might be considered a draw by boxing supporters Blaise said he thought the tenure of Tuesday night's Board feeling was they would turn down any such request.

In other actions Tuesday night shopping cartmappers would be subject to a fine up to $200 as the result of Tuesday night Board action. The present fine of $5 per shopping cart left abandoned in Niles will still be applied against the store owners. The individual cartmappers, who walk off with the cart and drop it off by their residence can be fined up to $200 for the offense.

At a previous meeting grocery store representatives said they and they would retrieve the up to $200 for the offense.

At a previous meeting grocery store representatives said they would like the village to notify them and they would retrieve the carts within 4 hours. But the store owner's fine will continue thus hopefully resulting in keeping the store owners alert to the removal of the carts. It was reported the carts cost $40 each and at the Golf Mill National store 30 carts are "carted off" each week.

Notification of the new regulations will be posted in each store and possibly be posted on each shopping cart.

The caveat emptor law which implies the "buyer beware" should now emphasize shopping cart absconders beware, or it may cost you 200 big ones.
