Morton Grove has been added to the growing list of suburbs whose zoning records have been subpoenaed by U.S. Atty. James Thompson, according to the Chicago Tribune.

Robert Hajek, Morton Grove building commissioner, said Thursday that Thompson's office subpoenaed in December all building department records on multi-family and industrial zoning transactions since 1968, the year before Mayor Jule Bode took office. Robert Schreiber was mayor from 1961 to 1968.

"They're just looking at the records of all the suburbs," Hajek said. "We've got nothing to worry about here. This village is run cleanly."

Thompson's office is investigating 44 suburban communities. Officials in Wheeling, Hoffman Estates, and Streamwood have been indicted.

Hajek said he expects indictments in "most, if not all" of the other suburbs under investigation.

Bode said he has no idea what Thompson's office is looking for in Morton Grove.

"I just have a theory that they're investigating certain builders and the villages they are operating in," Bode said. "I think they're primarily interested in rezonings, and we haven't had any rezoning in Morton Grove and have no vacant tracts like some of the northwest suburbs."

Criticism by residents in the last several years has focused on the village's unusual apartment code adopted in 1968.

"We inherited that code from previous administration and found that builders were getting up to 59 units per acre for apartment projects," Bode said. "My administration substantially reduced

On the midnite Tomorrow TV show on NBC Monday night, three weekly newspaper publishers were interviewed by the TV host, Tom Wharhsdsname. It was a most interesting program, not only because the subject had a particular interest to us, but because the contrast of the personalities was so evident.

The host, a rather handsome, glib, vacuous kind of guy, that's making it big on TV and radio these days, because of these very qualities, was talking to a dying breed of American who is fast disappearing from our environs. The editors included a Mississippi lady, who received a Pulitzer award for her outspoken views on Civil Rights, while losing advertisers left and mostly right, in her newspapers in Mississippi. The second interviewee was a crusty curmudgeon from Texas, who was a 72 year old individualist, who really cares a great deal about what's going on, while hiding behind the veneer of not seeming to care at all. And the third interviewee was a rather taciturn New Englander, whose comparable blunt comments are seldom read or heard in the metropolitan media.

These three people are direct descendants of Horace Greeley, and the later muckrakers, whose efforts in making their world a better place to live, are in contrast to their waxed images on the larger media, who seldom make waves, and seldom accomplish much.

The reporting on the Watergate scandals is considered by many as being a major accomplishment of the press press in our country. But considering the thousands of newspapermen in Washington, and throughout the country, who never mentioned this scandal, until after the Washington Post broke the story, seems more like a condemnation of the press, rather than an accolade in its favor.

There's really a very limited amount of first rate journalists, just as there is a very limited amount of first rate anything else. On rare occasions we attend the Press Association meetings in Illinois. The primary interest of those attending seems to be, "How can I make a greater buck?" Questioning in favor of better reporting, better writing and editing, never is discussed at these gatherings of the so-called opinion-makers who run these groups.

Here at our home base, the name of the game is pretty much the same. The guys behind the newspapers are out to make a buck. There's nothing wrong with this quest

Consumer Cautions
Roach controls suggested

Oregon State University Agricultural Extension Service says that sanitation is the best prevention of cockroach problems, but insecticides are sometimes necessary. The German cockroach or "waterbug" has developed a resistance to chlordane, diazinon and Lindane, and Diazinon is now recommended for hard to kill roaches. Other insecticides according to label directions are chlordane, chlorpyrifos, Keppone, malathion (premium grade), propoxur, and ronnel.

Extension entomologists say to paint or spray insecticide solution on baseboards, cabinets and other roach hiding places. Treat areas where pipes go through walls or floors as well as roach runways under sinks and in cracks of floors or walls. Use should be limited to the immediate area, not the entire surface.

Niles Family Service Thought For The Week

By Larry F. Renetzky

'Love Your Neighbor As Yourself'

LOVE SELF? Isn't that a sin? It isn't! In fact it is basic to LOVE oneself before you can spontaneously and truly love another person. Not until I was around 20 years old did I gain significant insight of the importance of a healthy self-love. The insight came from Dr. Erick Fromm's book, "The Art of Loving." I had basically come to understand that self-love was a sin or at best selfish and thereby wrong.

Now, if you love only yourself and/or you always love someone expecting something in return - that is a selfish and unhealthy love. Yes, love is a two way street and there usually is a positive return from the love you show. Your motivation for loving someone makes the difference. Is your love a command and conditional or is it spontaneous and freely given?

I have found that a healthy love for another comes only as you have a healthy self-love. It is necessary for you to have a positive self-appreciation and self-respect in order to appreciate and respect others. You also need a healthy self-love to be able to truly love your neighbor. In fact, I have come to believe that you cannot spontaneously and freely love another if you don't really love yourself.

Dr. Robert Schulier, author of "Self Love, the Dynamic Force of Success," puts it like this, "Learn to LOVE Yourself - the secret of happiness in life, in love, in everything you do. LOVE yourself and come alive."

Learn the secret of life - learn to LOVE Yourself.

came to Niles to play the "B's" as both teams started tuning up for the State A tournament to begin soon. Both teams were flying for the whole game, with Niles doing some heavy hitting. Feb. 11 - Having been reorganized for the State Tournament, the "B's" took on the Saints Midget team. The game was a very fast and equally very rough. Some very questionable penalties were again given to Niles and proved to be the deciding factor.

He called for an accounting by Anderson of General Assistance Funds before the primary, saying that as Township Clerk he could not possibly know how public money is being spent, when in fact that is his "watchdog" responsibility. He charged Anderson with refusing repeatedly to give out any detailed accounting of the funds, taxpayers' money.

He challenged Nimrod to produce a treasurer's report before the primary, something called for in the by-laws of the organization, but never released by Nimrod in the 10 years of Nimrod's term.

their recommendations on the terms of the Special Use.

Engineer George Holt said there was only one bidder for the hot mix, and it was from Monarch Asphalt of Skokie at $15 per ton. Mr. Holt accepted this offer and the board agreed. The board voted to re-advertise for cold mix and bid openings will be on Mar. 11. Bids were opened for traffic light maintenance. They were from Plummer Electric of Brookfield, for $17,197.80; Meade Electric of Chicago for $17,738.40; and Commercial Light of Chicago for $20,881.20. Holt recommended accepting the low bid of Plummer Electric. In view of the fact that Meade Electric has served the village so faithfully for many years John Hilkin moved to defer action on awarding the bid till more information can be obtained on the low bidder.

Bode denied that, saying it costs developers about $1,500 more per apartment unit to build in Morton Grove than it does in other suburbs.

"Our ordinances certainly aren't beneficial to the developers in any way," Bode said. "Nobody gets any preferential treatment here. We try to do things right."

The village planning and development committee, chaired by Jerry Brim, is working on a pilot program to change the zoning code.

"We're exploring the possibility of having a variety of density classifications for multifamily housing," Brim said. "That way the village could better control the number of units per acre for each project."

Brim said he was "rather shocked" when Thompson's office subpoenaed village zoning records.

for those big greenies, as long as the newspapers make a semblance of an effort to provide you with what's really going on in your community.

When we started The Bugle we banged away at the gamblers in Niles, and were surprised none of the other newspapers, long established here, would pick up the gauntlet and join in the effort. Four years later, after the old guard was knocked out of office, and the gambling was eliminated, the established Life newspaper from Skokie decided to join the fray and began getting involved in this area. The other guys looked the other way, and that was the journalese reported here in the local newspapers.

We now read in Wheeling public officials are under indictment for allegedly accepting bribes; Morton Grove officials are under investigation concerning the multiple dwelling building and zoning there, and yet there's been little which preceded these investigations which were published in the local press. In the case of the Wheeling actions the Paddock newspapers have done exemplary work in keeping the community abreast of the goings on there. But here in our local area, no newspaper, including The Bugle, dug into the MG zoning story, which shows a great dereliction on the part of all of us.

Because the Morton Grove board is in the hands of the Republicans two of the newspapers there treat the village fathers' actions with formal solicitude. Both newspapers are steeped in Republican politics, and they ally themselves with the Party, never really doing their job of representing the people who live in the communities.

Here in Niles we've mentioned many times about bits of hanky panky surrounding the Mayor. His using the police department in furthering his private practice is well known by everyone, who not only read The Bugle, but who are on the inside of the village. You don't read it in any other newspapers, because its better to treat "The Man" more gingerly.

Over in Lincolnwood, nobody seems to care about the dictatorship which has existed there for many, many years. The Mayor runs the show, lock, stock and barrel, and the names seem oblivious to the village machinations there.

We were told The Life, the only paper there to take an adversary position, has not received a legal notice in the town in 15 years. If it's true then the newspaper must have been doing its job since any one-man rule is subject to much criticism. Since the other paper is alleged to receive all the legal notices, it must indicate the paper is playing patay in a community which needs much light thrown upon it.

They said they would like transportation to shopping areas.

Martin Ashman listed the sales tax for Nov. 1973 at $75,972.10. The state income tax for Jan. 1974 was $25,359.87, and the M.F.T. for Jan. 1974 was $21,906.71. Ashman said there would be a budget meeting on Tuesday, Mar. 12.

Ed Brice told the board three water mains had been repaired. David Cohen said that between Jan. 27 and Feb. 23 the Fire Dept. handled 57 alarms. John Hilkin said our next Blood Drive would be on Thursday, Mar. 7 at the Julia Malloy School.

Dick Hohs said recent progress on the new fire station was slow. He sought the trustees approval for a $21,000 payment on the building subject, however, to certain stipulations that several problems be worked out before payment is made. The trustees agreed and then Trustee Hohs set Jun. 2 as the day for dedication ceremonies of the new station.

Len Hillinger noted that the Chamber of Commerce will host Expo '74 at the Legion Hall on Monday, Apr. 28. John Hilkin said there were 159 replies to our transit survey and most people would be on Thursday, Mar. 7.

A queen and runner up will be selected. Upon appearance in the Seventh District Legion contest, they will receive respectively a $50 and $25 savings bond.

Selection is to be made upon poise, personality, appearance, charm, physical attributes and beauty.

The judging, as in previous years, will be held at the Post's St. Patrick's Day Party. It is combined with the celebration of the American Legion birthday, who is 55 years old this year, on Saturday, March 16.

The district competition is to take place at the North Shore American Legion Post March 20.

In addition, a series of three lectures, by Dr. Eliezer Berkovitz, renowned author, philosopher and member of the faculty of the Hebrew Theological college will follow the 8 p.m. sessions. The subjects of the lectures will be: March 12, "The Jewish View of War and Peace;" March 17, "Face Up to the Holocaust;" March 26, "Crisis and Hope."

The courses are open to all members of the community. The charge for the entire series is $5 a couple for synagogue members and $10 a couple for non-members. Advance registration is suggested. Call the synagogue office OR 6-0491 to register.

During the past several years the Morton Grove Post has been fortunate to have many district queens as winners; also from their ranks, several county winners.

ND Dons, Illinois Team in Florida Jr. Olympics

The AFLA Junior Olympics held at Florida State University, Tallahassee, Florida, was a very strong tournament. There were 30 divisions out of the country's 56, and 24 states represented. There were 252 competitors in 8 events, but the large entries were in the Under 20 men and women's foil and epee.

There were 55 in men's foil, Illinois fencers Mike Scortino, Mike Gerard and Ken Lavelle missed the cut into the quarter-finals. National Champion Mike McCahey and Terry McConville missed the finals. Bill Kica took 4th in the competition.

In senior Epee, there were 45 entries. John Strass, Tom Polanin and Conrad Graca all made it to the quarter-finals before elimination. Terry McConville made it to the semi-finals and defending J.O. Champion and National Champion Tim Glass made it to the finals where he took 6th place.

In U-16 activity, Kevin Cawley and Andy Bonk were eliminated in the first round of the foil; Cawley was eliminated in the first round sabre also and Ray Waldorf was eliminated in the first round of epee.

The U-16 team did not do as well as expected, but the senior fencing was fantastic. The second round foil was harder than the last year's national finals. It was clearly a hard tournament when one realizes that out of the 8 defending champions (J.O. and National), not one champion repeated and only 3 made it to the finals of their respective weapon.

The U.S.A. team chosen as the result of this tournament in conjunction with the June '73 nationals is as follows: Men's foil: Mike McCahey, Ohio; Paul Martino, N.J.; Mike Marx, Ore.; George Nonomura, Cal. (1st alt); Women's foil: Gay Jacobson, Cal.; Vince Hurley, Tex; Stacey Johnson, Tex; Iza Farkas, N.J.; Sabre Miklos Benedek, N.J.; Tim Graham, Fla.; Mike Sullivan, N.E.; Ed Majtenyi, N.J.; Epee: Gregg Massialas, Mich.; Tim Glass, Ill. (NDHS '73); Lee Shelly, N.J.; Terry McConville (2nd alt.) (NDHS '73); The U.S. U-20 Team Officials are: William Goering, Chief of Mission, Rev. Lawrence Calhoun (NDHS), team manager; Dr. Marius Valsamis, team physician, and coaches: Denise O'Connor, Mike Dasaro, and Ronald Sudre. The team will leave here the first week of April for Istanbul, Turkey.

The meet was close all the way and in spite of the ND fencers not fencing up to their ability, all other teams seemed to have the same trouble. This meant that the meet was decided in the last two bouts of the 45 bout competition. ND was first at the end of round 1, tied for 1st at round two, 2nd at round 3 and 4 and tied for 1st at round 5's conclusion.

The standings for the teams in the area are: 1. Notre Dame (10-0), 2. New Trier West (9-2), 3. Maine South (8-3), 4. Niles West, 5. Niles East, 6. New Trier East. The above figures are for conference activity only.

Notre Dame

Bill Brennan qualified for the State Swimming Meet in the 100 yard backstroke for the Notre Dame swimming team at :58.8 sec. Earlier in the District meet held at New Trier East Pool, Brennan placed ninth in the 200 yd. freestyle.

Tim Gilmore set a new school record placing 5th in the 500 yd. freestyle at 5:09.7. Teammate Ed Zonsius placed 10th at 5:23.8 in the same event.

Sophomore breaststroker Jeff Stahl established a new school record placing 8th in the 100 yd. breaststroke at 1:08.3. Tim Gilmore placed 11th in the 200 yd. freestyle at 1:56.8. Divers Jim Brennan and Don Knill placed 7th and 8th place respectively in the 1 meter diving event.

Bill Brennan advances to the State Swimming Meet which will be held at Evanston High school this Friday and Saturday.
