If you're a movie buff and enjoy films which may be considered classics you should head for the Playboy theatre, Dearborn and Division, where the King of Hearts is playing. It's a tender, delightful film in which the inmates of a mental hospital momentarily occupy a French town evacuated by the Germans. The subsequent destruction of war and the voluntary return of the inmates to their former quarters is a powerful anti-war film. It's a lovely, gentle movie and it should be on your "must" list.

While Monday night is often "recovery" night for those who've overdone the weekends, there's an unusual evening at the Pickle Barrel on North Wells which deserves mentioning. Comedians, both young and old, amateur and professional, do their thing on the stage from 10 p.m. until 2 a.m. Last week we saw 5 comedy acts which ranged from "well done" to just plain "awful". The MC for the evening explained this stage was being offered for comedians to receive exposure. Noting the difficulty for comedy acts to get into show biz he said the Pickle Barrel stage would be used Mondays and Thursdays for this purpose. The MC was a comedian from the team of Tim and Tom, who we had seen professionally at a theatre in Valparaiso, on a bill with Sarah Vaughan. A second team included a college duo who had been doing the Playboy circuit. Next came a 50 year old black cowboy who was intermittently funny and awful. A fourth act included two young girls just past 20 who were unprepared, unfunny but were operating on sheer chutzpah (nerve).

While most of the acts are amateurs it's fun to see them stand up and be funny, though we concluded doing a comedy act professionally is most difficult.

Our favorite book of the month is John Poyers, The Last Catholic in America. Looking back on his growing up Irish Catholic on Chicago's south side, the author nostalgically returns to his grammar school days in his local parish. The discipline and the alleged fears resulting from it are laughed at 20 years later. But despite the author's somewhat mocking of the old establishment of the church he seems to look back on his earlier years with much affection and love. If you're Catholic you'll certainly relate to much of Poyers' young upbringing. And if you're a transplanted Chicagoan you too should relate to the author's growing up in the city of your youth.

NSMTD seeks budget increase for Dempster, Milwaukee routes

SEEK FUNDS TO OPERATE BUS ROUTES

North Suburban Mass Transit District (Niles) Rep. Bart Murphy appeared before the Niles trustees last Tuesday evening to request an increase of budget funds from $21,288 to $40,253, which would enable the bus route to operate on Dempster st. and on Milwaukee ave. until June 30, 1975. The request was approved except for Trustee Pesole whose disapproval hinged on what he felt was a duplication of services. "The Niles fire bus service is excellent... perhaps this service could be expanded to serve the same area as that of the NSMTD."

Park District acquires Golf Mill Park

The Niles Park District celebrating its 20th year in 1974, is moving steadily forward on completing its promises made in November, 1973 Referendum. Park Board Commissioners and members of the S.O.S. Committee were in attendance for the installation of the sign for the newly acquired Golf Mill Park site.

The Golf Mill Park located at Church and Cumberland just south of the Golf Mill Shopping Center is approximately 4 1/2 acres. The Park District acquired the land for $610,000 from money received through the November 1973 Referendum which voters approved nearly 3 to 1. Along with Golf Mill Park, the Park District has also acquired Jomani Terrace Park and the Tam Golf Course.

The future plans for Golf Mill include a practice football field and softball diamond, two high school tennis courts, playground and leisure time areas. Work has already begun on cutting and cleaning the new park. Topography shots are being made so that proper grading and drainage can begin.

To the residents of Niles:

We have received a number of calls regarding the concentrated use of two O'Hare Airport runways which run over our community. There are at present, seven runways in use at O'Hare Field, and the two most commonly used are from the direction of northwest to southeast. These are the two largest runways, but unfortunately at present they are being resurfaced. This has accounted for the use of other runways replacing them. We have been assured that this resurfacing will be completed sometime in September, and that things should be back to normal toward the end of September.

I am as concerned about this as all of the people in our community, and surrounding communities, and we will keep a close watch on this matter.

MORTON GROVE SENIOR CITIZENS

Grandmother's Club in the Niles Day Parade

It was a beautiful day when the Village of Niles had its 75th Diamond Jubilee Parade last Sunday, Aug. 25.

The six of us who represented the Grandmother's of Niles Club, five of us riding in a beautiful blue convertible Mustang, were--President, Mary Balogh, driving the car, Marge Bronstein, front seat, and Marie Waak, Mildred Miller and Elsie Geyer in the back of the car. Grandmother Winnie Trocker was riding in the Yellow Antique two door coupe with the 1931 license. The beautiful blue convertible Mustang was loaned to us through the courtesy of the Golf Mill Chrysler Plymouth Agency, corner of Milwaukee and Maryland, Niles.

We then went to the Notre Dame High School where there were floats of all kinds, antique cars, the Knights of Columbus, The Shriners, Oakton College and The Village of Niles. Many bands were represented. One of them came in a bus with a Racine, Wis. license. Majorettes were there and The Woman's Club of Niles were on bicycles. The Niles Public Works, Jakes Restaurant and Minelli's had beautiful floats, and also many others. The Police and Fire Departments did a marvelous job of clearing the traffic and keeping things in order.

Our car was #78 in the parade. Our picture was taken by many organizations and people along the route. As we were driving along, we were greeted by all, young and old who were watching the parade with remarks of "You can't be grandmothers, you're too young," which made us feel good. Little did they know some of us were great-grandmothers too.

Tremendous applause was greeted us as our name was sent over the loud speaker by Ed Bransch, Chairman, at the end of the parade.

It was a beautiful day, a great parade and was enjoyed by all.

"Sound Of Music"

The Grandmother's Club of Niles is planning a Dinner Show at the Candle Light Theatre to see "The Sound Of Music". They will leave the Recreation Center at 11 a.m., Sunday, Sept. 15.

The Diamond Jubilee finale - a weekend to remember

by Diane Miller

Everything was perfect. The sun was shining, the crowds were there and the people were laughing and just generally having a good time. And this was really the aim of the whole Jubilee celebration; getting the people out to enjoy themselves, getting to know their town and its officials a little better and to laugh and have a good time. The months of hard work put in by the Jubilee Planning Committee consisting of Ed Bransch, Dorothy Tyse and Abe Selman were justly rewarded this past weekend. We all owe them a debt of gratitude, not only the village officials, but all the residents of Niles. They did their job well.

Friday night, the Beerfest and Bratwurst Feast at Notre Dame was attended by approximately 2,000 people. "At 6:30 the crowd was very small and I really started to worry," said Ed Bransch, "but

Bonnie Khan tells designers to think fat

Ms. Janice Axelrod's fashion design students from the Ray-Vogue School of Design, Chicago, had a "big" day when they visited recently with Bonnie Khan at her unique boutique, "Fat's Where It's At", 3836 W. Dempster, Skokie, specializing in sizes 14 1/2 to 60.

Bonnie fielded the group's questions with honesty and an insight that is based on having been fat all her life. "The problem of clothing for the heavy woman is a very real one," stated Bonnie. "The big woman psychologically uses a number of excuses as to why she can't shop for clothing. She feels that she either won't look attractive in anything she buys or that she's soon going to lose a tremendous amount of weight and, therefore, doesn't want to invest in any new clothing now."

"This philosophy is so wrong," emphasized Bonnie. "I've always wanted to look the best that I can at all times. This is the reason for my boutique--to provide clothing for big women which combines style and comfort in new-looking outfits so that she won't want to hide inside a tent-shaped monotrocity."

at 7 p.m. it seemed like a thousand people came through the gate at one time and then we really had to move."

The Northwest Italian American club members were cooking the bratwurst and Italian sausage and the aroma made you hungry even though you just pushed your self away from the dinner table. The crowds were buying the sandwiches at 50 cents each faster than they were coming off the coals. And even though they had to wait in line, strangers were clowning around, making us laugh and a holiday mood prevailed. The beer truck, we thought, must have had a direct line to Schlitz in Milwaukee because at 10 cents a glass, it really flowed and was bottomless. There were also hot dogs and pizza available and those stands did a sell-out business.

At the rear of the parking lot there were approximately 50 square dancers in full costume swinging their partners and entertaining the hand-clapping crowd. Opposite from the square dancers on the other end of the grounds was a 4 piece polka band blasting out their foot-stomping music and the couples, both young and old, were twirling, yelling and generally having a ball.

After watching the 'swing your partners' and the 'foot-stompers', we decided to join the crowds in the stands in the stadium. They were being entertained by Bill Bailey's Banjo group who played for their enjoyment and then led everyone in a good old-fashioned community sing-a-long. Strains of "Shine On Harvest Moon" and "Daisy, Daisy" rang out over the field. It was a beautiful evening in every respect.

Saturday evening, approximately 400 villagers attended the dinner-dance at Pyzybylo's House of the White Eagle. Many of the bratwurst eaters we saw the evening before at Notre Dame looked quite different in their dinner-dance finery. The Village birthday cake was a blue and white tiered arrangement with an artificial fountain flowing in the center and a huge '75' on the top. The dinner was delicious and comedian Stu Allen, Master of Ceremonies kept the audience laughing for 45 minutes. The Mayor, representatives from the Library, Park Board and the Jubilee committee each offered their birthday congratulations to the Village. Mayor Blase, Dorothy Tyse, Ed Bransch and Abe Selman led the guests in singing 'Happy Birthday' and the band played on. Another successful event and a fun evening for all who attended.

Sunday at noon, over 100 units assembled in the parking lot of Notre Dame High School, then marched east on Dempster st. and south on Harlem ave. to the Village Administration building. There was a reviewing stand in front of St. John Brebeuf church where each unit was officially recognized and applauded.

The crowds lined the parade route and the sun shone brightly. I'm sure if the Jubilee committee could have pre-ordered their weather for this weekend, they couldn't have done a better job than Mother Nature. The units passed by led by Mayor Blase and the Village officials, the Maine East marching band and the Jubilee committee. The floats and cars were decorated beautifully, each representing village businesses, homeowners groups and club groups in the village. There were representatives from the Grandmother's club, the Woman's Club of Niles, the Shriners, and many political candidates. Jake's Restaurant and Minelli Brothers were among the businesses represented with decorated floats and cars. They threw balloons, candy, bubble gum and other goodies to the children along the route and it was a mad scramble everytime a gift-throwing unit went by.

The parade lasted approximately 45 minutes and as the last unit passed by, we were sure Niles' 75th birthday would be remembered by us and many other residents for a long, long time.

Dodgers champions in Pony "A" League

The Dodgers had a record of 11 wins, 5 losses and 1 tie for 23 points one game remaining. This was a game with the Mets who were rained out earlier in the season and rained out a second time for the make-up game and then rescheduled for another date which fell after the playoffs which the Dodgers also won.

In a game that was called after 6 innings of play the Dodgers won 12 to 0 at field #9 Notre Dame.

Ron Bielski and Greg Kapka each gave only 1 hit apiece and shutting out the Mets in a errorless ball game. Greg Kapka led the hitting attack with 3 for 4 a single, double and a triple, Joe Booker with 2 doubles going 2 for 2, Steve Romano 2 for 3, Ron Bielski 2 for 3 including 2 doubles, Bryant Johnson 2 for 3 including a 3 base hit, Bob DeLorenzo 1 for 3, Bob Keener 1 for 2 and Tom Bastian a long 3 base hit.

In this game with no errors Steve Romano, Bob DeLorenzo, Tom Bastian and Rich Salata played a good game in the outfield. Steve Boss did a fine job behind the plate and handling the pitchers while playing with an injury from a foul ball. Bob Keener made a nice play at 3rd base along with Bryant Johnson doing nicely a first base. At 2nd base Joe Booker made some nice plays fielding grounders.

The Dodgers played a total of 21 games winning 15 losing 5 and tying 1 to win the division title and the single elimination tournament. This was a real team effort with a fine group of boys and thanks to a couple of boys from the Pony "A" league Athletics who helped in winning and especially kept the Dodgers from forfeiting games. Congratulations to the Dodgers and a job well done by Manager Bill Keener, Sr. and coaches Joe Booker, Walt Busser and score-keeper Stan Kapka.

Niles student named Most Valuable Player

Dennis H. Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Sullivan, 7328 W. Breen St., Niles, was among the athletes honored last week at the 1974 Athletic Banquet at North Central college in Naperville. Football quarterback Sullivan was voted Most Valuable Player by his teammates this past fall. He completed 40% of his passes for a total of over 500 yards. Two of these passes were for touchdowns. He also carried the ball more than 100 times for over 400 yards for an average of 5.26 yards per carry. Sullivan contributed over 1,100 yards of total offense which helped North Central to a third place finish in the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin (CCIW) in total offense and third in the NCA A Division III in rushing for the 1973 season. He was also voted All-Conference in the CCIW by the conference's head football coaches.

A 1971 graduate of Notre Dame high school, Sullivan is a junior at North Central college and is majoring in physical education.

Former athletic director sets up scholarship fund

A $300 yearly scholarship fund to benefit outstanding Maine East scholar-athletes has been established by Sam C. Marzulo, former athletic director at Maine East High school.

The fund will be administered by Maine Township High School District 207, and will be awarded as a scholarship to the graduating senior selected to receive the Sam C. Marzulo Athlete-Scholar Achievement Award. The money will be paid directly to the university or college the recipient plans to attend to help defray tuition or other college expenses.

This year's recipient of the scholarship is Paul Board, who ranks at the 87th percentile, with a grade average of 3.3. In athletics he wrestled for four years on the varsity, with his cumulative four year record being 69 wins, 25 losses and 2 ties. He was selected as the Most-Valuable-Wrestler as a freshman, and also has had All-Conference as well as Co-Captain Elect honors.

Paul is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry E. Board of 9515 N. Ozark of Morton Grove. It is likely that he will be attending the University of Illinois at Champaign next fall.

Since 1964 the Sam C. Marzulo Athlete-Scholar Achievement Award has been awarded annually to the eligible Maine East athlete who in the judgment of a Selection Committee comprised of lawyer Mr. John G. Smith, the school principal, the athletic director, and the dean of students, has "attained the highest degree of academic and athletic accomplishments in relation to his natural capabilities; displayed seriousness of purpose and high moral character; and earned the sincere respect of his team-mates and fellow students."

Before he retired in 1964, Mr. Marzulo had an impressive 38 year career at Maine East as athletic director, teacher and coach in the physical education department.

In 1969 the Board of Education of Maine Township High School District 207 expressed its appreciation to Mr. Marzulo for his many years of fine service by dedicating Maine East's new swimming facility the Sam C. Marzulo Natatorium.

Niles Girls Take 2nd In Tourney

The Niles Park District girls 12" softball junior team traveled to Great Lakes on August 10-11 to participate in the 12 team double-elimination Chicago-Lake County tourney. Favored Great Lakes won the tourney as expected, however, most of the interest centered around the battle for second and third place. In the opening round, Niles scored the biggest upset of the tourney by defeating Skokie 8-5. Earlier in the year Skokie trounced Niles 23-5 at Grennan Heights. Good defense and timely hitting by Tami Drehobl, Deanne Hoff, and Donna Jorgensen proved to be the difference.

Next Niles played powerful Great Lakes losing 16-4. A seven run first inning featuring two home runs by Great Lakes put the game out of reach. After the loss to Great Lakes, Niles had to defeat Lake Forest for the right to play Great Lakes in the championship. In the first inning Niles scored 4 runs on seven hits and the big hit was Jan Zajdel's triple. Once again Tami Drehobl, Deanne Hoff, Donna Jorgensen, and Jan Zajdel led the hitting with 3 hits apiece. Niles went on to win 6-1.

In the championship game Great Lakes once again scored seven the first inning to win 15-5 for the first year of competition. Niles performed well all year and finished with a 9-4 record for the season. Other members of the team are Kathy Laddy, Nancy Mahoney, Michelle Kapka, and Andy Kay who started all year but could not play because the age eligibility requirements of the tournament.

A special thanks goes to Mr. and Mrs. Hoff, Mrs. Kay, Mrs. Flynn, Mrs. Drehobl, Mrs. Fagerston, Mrs. Gordon, and Donna Gerosier for providing rides and other valuable assistance.

1974 marks 25th year of Kirk Lane Association

Back in 1949, one section of the village of Niles was involved in a million-dollar housing promotion that was written up in the front pages of the Chicago press, and quite a few residents (like Ben Sosnowski of N. Neva ave.) are still around today to tell the story around it.

The site for the housing project was then an expanse of prairie between Waukegan rd. and Harlem ave., south of Oakton. Today this is an attractive residential area known as Kirk Lane.

Plans for the beautiful subdivision were presented in 1946 by a fellow calling himself Robert E. Reed, who constructed an attractive Cape Cod brick home on Waukegan, built to sell for $11,000, a lot of money in those days, even though it may sound like peanuts for real estate in 1974.

Reed declared he would build 72 similar homes adjacent to this model, which were to be provided with water, sewer, paved streets and concrete sidewalks, and sent postcards through the mail to any who might be interested, inviting them to drive out to Niles and see for themselves. For the convenience of the prospect, he set up two offices, one on Belmont ave. in Chicago, the other in the Niles model home.

Many servicemen, recently returned from World War II, were interested in the project. Envisioning a good life for their families in a wholesome environment, they scraped together the money--in many instances, their life savings--gave it to Reed as down payment for house and lot, then signed on the dotted line.

None of them was aware that Reed, under another name, had already perpetrated fraud in another city.

Full of dreams for the future, most of the buyers went out to Niles each weekend to see how the project was coming along. At first, they joked about landscaping work in store for them as they saw mounds of soil pile up next to freshly-dug excavations. However, it seemed strange--and mostly annoying--that outside the model home, no other houses were begun.

Ben Sosnowski, a present officer of the Kirk Lane Homeowners Association who was one of the original subdivision residents, recalls that when they became anxious about the lagging work on the project and pressed Reed for the reason, he hurriedly had a few more basement excavations made. Then nothing further, until they nagged him again.

His hope was revived when three or four layers of brick were added on top of a couple of streets nor sidewalks, but there were rain and snow and floods, plus shortage, lather's stride, and rise in the price of lumber.

But the true story has a happy ending. Although 15 persons dropped the project, 38 families ultimately completed their homes and received 25 per cent of their down payment, which in some instances exceeded $2,000 as a final settlement, a rebate considered large in the annals of such cases.

As for the villain, Reed: he was arrested in California, extradited to Pittsburgh for a similar offense and given a ten-year prison sentence.

Having attained their goal, the homeowners who had called their group the Niles Home Recovery Association, decided to organize under a new name, the Kirk Lane Homeowners' Association.

Ever since that formation 25 years ago, Kirk Laners have been active in civic affairs in Niles. Among these civic-minded members are: Anton "Tony" Smigiel, the guiding light of the recovery program, was one of the first presidents of the Kirk Lane Homeowners. He was elected first judge of the village of Niles, then first judge of the third municipal district of the Cook County Circuit Court and is presently presiding judge of that 3rd district court.

The late Leonard Ramej, a member of the original Home Recovery project steering committee, was a trustee on the village board of Niles.

Leonard Szymanski, a member of the District 71 elementary school board and former trustee of the village board.

Keith Peck, village board trustee.

Joe Mollica and Joe Raymond, Both have served of the Niles zoning board.

Ben Sosnowski, who led book drive which spear-headed creation of the Niles Library by the Woman's Club of Niles.

Present officers of Kirk Lane Homeowners are Norman Kowalski, Joe Raymond, Ben Sosnowski, Ed Franczak, Len Acymanski, Keith Peck and John Mollica.

Many of the names of others in the developmental days of Kirk Lane are still remembered for their activities in betterment of Niles schools, parks and village as a whole. Those who remain in the original homes include: these family names:

Niles Family Service
Thought For The Week
By Larry F. Renetzky, ACSW

One of the phone calls received regarding the above went like this: "Mr. Renetzky, I don't have time to write as I am the mother of four children, but I wanted you to know that I read your articles and I wanted to respond to this one:

I believe strongly in the expression, "Spare the Rod, Spoil the Child." It has been my experience as a mother that children need and actually expect to be spanked as well as disciplined in other ways."

She concluded with the following points: 1. "Children get the idea that you don't care about them if you don't take time to correct them. 2. Your children are important and they know they are important to you if you respond to their negative behavior with the appropriate disciplinary action. 3. Parents should work together in correcting their children. Parents should not disagree in front of their children about the type of disciplinary either is administering at the time.

(Except when such discipline is too severe-like maybe life or death). Parents need to discuss their own thinking and feeling about discipline used and its appropriateness when the two are together by themselves. 4. The family needs to have time upsetting or what may seem to have been unfair. This includes discipline that has been rendered. The whole family can respond to this. If the family originally agreed before they started that the group would decide about some matter discussed, then the group makes such a decision; otherwise mom and dad have the final say so. 5. Parents should not be afraid to say "No" to their children or that they "disapprove" or "disagree" with some of their thinking, values and behavior." This should be thoroughly discussed. Also, if the parents can tolerate it, they should try to be open to questions, concerns etc, that children have about their parents' thinking, values, and behavior. This helps to build a mutual kind of consideration, trust and openness that can keep a family growing together and mutually responsive to one another. It helps to prevent building "walls" between parents and children; it provides a bridge for what might otherwise become a generation or communication gap; also it reduces chance for misunderstandings and hypocritical type behavior. "Don't do as I do-do as I say."

Thank you Mrs. A.N. for your telephone call. I hope I conveyed correctly your thoughts that you expressed on the phone. Hope to hear from other parents and children regarding your ideas about the five points above and your own thought about "Spare the Rod, Spoil the Child." Just call 966-1640, or come in or write to Niles Family Service, 251 Lawrencewood Shopping Center, Niles, Illinois 60048.

In other business: Approximately 15 young businessmen appeared before the village board to receive charter memberships as newly reactivated Niles Jaycees, the 54th Chapter in the north region. Blase commended the group on becoming active again after 9 years, crediting former Jaycees for being "the motivating and moving, vital power behind the Niles All-America City Award in 1964."

Ed Sherman was appointed new chairman of the Niles Youth Commission, following the resignation of Ambrose Panico, for reasons of health.

Continued from MG P, icated work with the Youth Commission. Officer Ingledon said: "It's heartwarming to know that my work the last four years is appreciated, and I feel that I should share this award with Chief Glauner for his faith in me and for letting me have a free hand.

Regarding Wells Mfg. Co. John Hilkin said the Atty. General agreed to let Marvin Benn, come and give his report in person. Mr. Benn said the case at present was in the pre-trial discovery stage. They are learning all the facts from those involved and taking depositions. They hope to have the hearing by mid or end of September. Mr. Benn said that in order to get a temporary restraining order (closing down Wells temporarily) someone has to be overcome by the odor or very seriously affected by it. Specifics are needed to prove this.

Chief Glauner said the Police Dept. will receive $10,990.55 from the state for officer's training. Len Hillinger said the Chamber of Commerce would soon have some ideas on Sidewalk Sales.

Fred Huber said he and Chief Hildebrandt were able to get a

Sept. 8 was designated as National Cancer Day.

The Board of Trustees unanimously approved adoption of a Niles ordinance controlling the sale of cigarettes through vending machines. The ordinance is to provide for control of the machine by a behind-the-counter salesperson by use of a control button after verifying the age of the purchaser.

The action resulted through written complaints from the Northwest Italian-American Society and the Chesterfield Garden Estates Homeowners, who stated that cigarette vending machines in Niles were not controlled to prevent sale of cigarettes to reduced price on the low bid of Montgomery Olds for the Chief's car and recommend accepting this bid at $4,385.00. The board concurred. The board adopted an ordinance making a 2-way stop sign at Long ave. and Cleveland. They also approved an ordinance designating 30 minute parking on the north side of Lincoln ave. between Fernald & Callie.

Clerk Fred McClory said that the County Clerk's office will issue a permanent registration card for people unable to register if they have it signed by a doctor. It was noted that Sept. 15 is the date for the 2nd tax installment. Atty. Berrafato read the Tax Levy Ordinance for the amount of $1,334,075 which was approved by the board. He also suggested the Procedure Control Ordinance be updated and will have more details soon.

Martin Ashman noted the Sales Tax Receipts for May of 1974 were $86,937.86. David Cohen reported the Fire Dept. had 68 alarms from Aug. 12 to Aug. 25. He also said Edward Menke was serving his probationary training period for the Police Dept.

John Hilkin said Thursday, Sept. 5 will be the date of the next Blood Drawing. Mr. Hilkin also showed the board the model of the pin to be given to all donors. The board set Wed., Sept. 4 as the date to review the question of a new site for the Police Dept.

Herb Houndt said a letter was received by the Public Works Dept. from the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency saying that as a result of a July 23 inspection, our village dump was being operated properly. Houndt also announced on Sat., Sept. 28, at 10 a.m., the Public Works Dept. would demonstrate its new Vac-All and Water Jet equipment. Mayor Bode reminded those present that Wed., Sept. 28 the meeting with the Park Board would take place. Bode also announced the selection of a Sign Ordinance Commission.

The 7 tennis courts are being constructed at the following locations: two at Jonquil Terrace Park, two at Kirk Lane Park, two at Washington Terrace Park and one additional court at Courtland Park. Basketball courts will be constructed at Kirk Lane Park, Washington Terrace Park and Courtland Park. Shelters are planned for Nico Park, Jonquil Terrace Park and Kirk Lane Park.

group long has advocated the establishment of supervised smoking rooms in the Niles schools to remove the problem from the washrooms and similar "illegal" areas.

The issue was discussed at the Monday, Aug. 19 Niles board meeting, when a proposal to increase supervision in washrooms at Niles East and West was considered.

Calling vandalism "mainly a manifestation of frustration," Averbach said two causes of student frustration are "the various standards applied to the school population in regard to smoking" and the unwritten policy which permits student smoking only at Niles' off-Campus Learning Center, a

A couple of years back we mentioned you could see Rock operas produced by musician and college teacher Bill Russo on the near northside. What is rather self-consciously referred to as "comedia-song-plays" has been appearing at the Columbia College Center for New Music, 3257 N. Sheffield. Two one-act songplays, "Isabella's Fortune" and "Pedrolino's Revenge" have been playing Wednesdays thru Sundays. A 17th century comedy art form, you'll enjoy a different theatre experience, quite avant garde compared to conservative tastes. It's a free expression, dance, and music program which isn't for everyone, but is worth seeing by the more curious.

For diners who eat out on Saturday nights we might suggest you change your regimen to Sunday brunch. Allgauer's Fireside on Milwaukee ave. in Northbrook has a great brunch which begins serving at 11 a.m. in a serene setting. The food is great and plentiful and the leisurely mood of taking a couple of hours to eat and visit, makes for a lovely Sunday morning.

The most elegant brunch we've had was at the Continental Hotel on north Michigan ave. The upstairs Consort Room, richly chandeliered, has a champagne brunch which is downright regal. The initial shrimp and crabmeat beginnings is merely a prelude to a brunch which should prevent you from thinking about food until the following day. After the eggs and sausages and ham a fabulous dessert table beckons the most over-stuffed eaters. This 3 hour food orgy is a bit overwhelming but the charm of the room and the richness of the cuisine makes you feel a bit like overstuffed Tom Jones, amidst the splendor reserved for the most wealthy.

Friday, August 30 thru Monday, September 2, the LaPorte County Steam Society has its annual bash. Antique cars, farm and industrial equipment, a parade of engines, stunts and a clown, and home-cooked food, are included in the festivities. The 250-member Society maintains an outdoor museum and a narrow gauge railroad at Hesston, Indiana, about a 90 minute ride from Chicago. If you'd like to take a 2 1/2 mile train ride thru farmlands behind a 1929 "shay" then take I-94 to the New Buffalo, Michigan exit, and Highway 39 south to a small train marking which turns you off the main road and back to another era when the steam locomotive was king.

That's Entertainment, at the Mc Clurg Ct. theatre, is a must movie for moviegoers of all ages. MGM's 50th anniversary is celebrated with clips from many of the best musicals of these past years. Seeing Gene Kelly Singing In The Rain, Clark Gable and Joan Crawford dancing and singing in musicals few of us remember, and Judy Garland and Mickey Rooney in so many great movies is a cinematic pleasure which shouldn't be missed. Add Fred Astaire, and Donald O'Connor, who does a dance number in Singing In The Rain, which may be a greater classic than Kelly's dance number, and you have as fine a 2 hours of musical entertainment as you're likely to see on the screen.

Sports fans who are looking for an evening entertainment can still see great 16 inch softball games in the Chicagoland area. We would advise calling the Evanston Park District for information as to which night the major Chicagoland teams play there. They can also be seen at Chicago's Kelly Park.

It's too late for this year, but you might get in your "future" calendar the bike races which are held at Meadowhill Park in Northbrook during the summer months. Both professionals and amateurs race around the 1/4 mile track which is off Waukegan rd. between Willow and Walters.

If you're a true sports aficionado, and are becoming turned off by Chicago's poor professional teams, we hope you'll see several local high school football games in the coming months. Watching Notre Dame, Maine and Niles High Schools under the lights on a warm Friday evening is a fun way to start your fall weekends.

"alternative school." Mrs. Greenberg told the panel student violence in school results from "compulsory confinement in schools."

Mrs. Greenberg also is a member of the Association of Parents, Students, Teachers, and Taxpayers of Niles Township. She is both a teacher at a private school and a Niles parent.

Recommending a four-point plan to "reduce the compulsory aspect of schools," Mrs. Greenberg called for lowering the age of required education to 14 or the eighth grade, whichever occurs first.

Mrs. Gans discussed the need for improved drug education programs in public schools. She is chairman of the Skokie Youth Welfare Commission and a member of the Niles board's drug education curriculum committee.

When later asked if she felt the public hearings were constructive, Mrs. Gans said "no."

"The members of the panel seemed to have come into the hearings with set ideas in their minds. I didn't think they were as receptive as they might have been," she said.

The investigating panel is expected to issue its final report by October, 1974, summarizing the testimony it heard and including its own findings and recommendations.

That report will then be forwarded to the new state Board of Education for consideration.

This fall activities will be held mornings, afternoons, and week-end school, evenings and on week-ends beginning Sept. 16.

M-NARH will also be working closely with its member Park Districts in placing some of its participants into integrated programs within the communities.

In addition, a trip to a children's theater, a Halloween party, a college football game and magic show will highlight the fall activities.

For further program and registration information call 647-1500 ext. 35.

Dachman to walk suburban Cook County

Monday, Sept. 9, Norman Dachman will begin walking throughout suburban Cook County, a path that will take him across 444 square miles of suburban cities and municipalities and 285 square miles of unincorporated Cook; into shopping centers, bowling alleys, schools, churches and residential areas to meet and speak with as many of the 1 1/2 million voters as he can reach during his month-long walk.

Dachman, Democratic candidate to the suburban County Board, wants to know first hand what suburbanites expect from their County Commissioner.

"I'm concerned that the electorate remains unaware of the importance of county government and the fiscal responsibility a Commissioner has to the taxpayer. County Commissioners have, for too long maintained a low profile in order to protect political interests. The idea that a suburban seat on the County Board is no more than a pension post or a reward for faithful service to a political party is no longer acceptable. Taxpayers cannot afford dead weight in government."

Dachman, an outspoken critic of the proposed County income tax, and leader of the NUTS Committee (No Unfair Taxes for the Suburbs) said the job of commissioner is the single most important position on the County Board, with the power to appro-

Centel to transmit Telethon calls

Throughout the Labor Day Weekend, millions of television sets will be tuned to the 1974 Jerry Lewis Muscular Dystrophy Telethon. Viewers of the annual event will see Jerry Lewis and other celebrities answer calls from across the nation to accept donations to the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation.

Helping to make this fund raising event possible will be part of the Centel System, the parent company of Central Telephone Company of Illinois. For the second year in a row, the telethon will originate from Las Vegas, Nev., which is served by Centel's Southern Nevada Division.

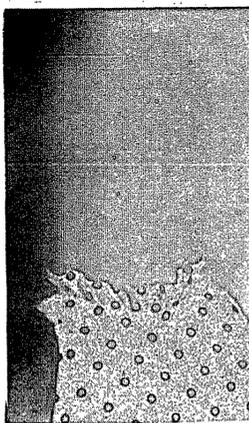

Centel's Nevada operations will furnish the transmission equipment from the Sahara Hotel for the nationwide television hookup plus telephone communications linking the show with the nation.

Preparation for the event, which began in March, has included the installation of 12 celebrity telephones on stage, 101 long distance and business lines, several private line circuits and audio and video cable equipment for the local and national telecasts.

In addition to working on the communications equipment, many Centel employees will again volunteer their time to serve as operators to receive the calls from donors to the Muscular Dystrophy Foundation.

But the man the nation focuses on for the Labor Day Weekend is Jerry Lewis. And when he is on the telephone, he will be communicating via Centel, the same company providing telephone service in the Des Plaines Park Ridge area.

Women's Outreach Centers planned by MONACEP

Six Women's Outreach Resource Centers will be opened in Maine and Niles Townships by Monacep next month, according to Pat Handzel, recently named coordinator of the new MONACEP program.

The centers will provide general counseling and testing, seminars and workshops, current literature, brochures, films, and audio-visual material which will meet the special needs of women, she said.

Final negotiations for the location of the centers will be completed within the next week and exact locations and schedules will be announced by mid-September.

The six centers will be operated on a rotating basis, one week at each of the sites selected, she explained.

Ms. Handzel was named coordinator of the MONACEP Women's Outreach Resource Centers last month. A member of MONACEP's Women Advisory Committee, she has taught women's courses for MONACEP for the past 5 years. She is a former teacher in the Niles Township High Schools. Ms. Handzel will devote full-time to the Women's Outreach program.

The Women's Outreach Resource Centers are funded by a public service grant from the Illinois Community College Board.

PREPARING BICENTENNIAL TEACHER'S GUIDE

Among forty teachers selected from several hundred applicants throughout the state of Illinois, Mr. Ted Bowman of Edison School, Morton Grove is in workshop session this entire week, August 19 to 23, at Sangamon State University preparing a Bicentennial Teacher's Resource Guide which will be distributed free to the 5,835 public and private schools in Illinois. When completed, the Bicentennial Teacher's Resource Guide will assist at all grade levels in the teaching of the American Revolutionary period during the 1776 Bicentennial anniversary year of our nation. The forty participants are supported in their workshops by qualified resource speakers and a panel of social studies editors from Illinois publishing companies.

Student machinist openings at Oakton

Openings in the Machine Technology (Tool & Die) apprenticeship program are still available at Oakton Community college for Fall term, according to Kathleen Arns, assistant vice president for vocational programs.

The student in the Machine Technology program at Oakton is trained in actual working situations. If they are not already employed, the college assists students in finding apprenticeship positions where they can develop skills through on-the-job training.

The degree program in Machine Technology is divided into two crafts: tool and die maker and mold maker. Both programs are available in the Associate degree program, which requires four years of study. A two-year program emphasizes technical courses and meets the needs of the student who wants to be a machinist. The four-year program qualifies the student for an Associate of Applied Science degree, if he completes the required general education requirements. Both two-year and four-year programs meet the standards of the U.S. Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training and are designed to meet the requirements and personnel needs of our area's industrial community.

Oakton also offers a program in Automotive Technology, also with extensive apprenticeship training. Students enrolled in this program receive their training in authorized automotive dealerships. Securing the employment within a dealership is the responsibility of prospective students, but the Coordinator of the Automotive Technology Curriculum can provide referrals to possible employers. A certificate is awarded to students who complete the necessary automotive courses and on-the-job training. An associate of applied science degree is available for those who complete the general education requirements.

Any questions concerning the above programs should be directed to the Office of Admissions, Oakton Community college, 7900 N. Nagle, Morton Grove (telephone: 967-5120).

Law Enforcement program

Matthais E. Casey was recently named coordinator for the new Law Enforcement program at Oakton Community college.

The Law Enforcement program, offered for the first time at Oakton this Fall, will include courses for men and women presently working in law enforcement agencies as well as for young people who wish to prepare for a career in this field.

Casey will have the academic rank of associate professor. He has been a member of the Chicago Police Department for the past 13 years and currently holds the rank of lieutenant.

A graduate of DePaul university, he earned his Master of Criminology at the University of California at Berkeley and a J.D. at the DePaul College of Law.

The Law Enforcement curriculum at Oakton will include courses in police organization, police operation, vice and drug control, criminal law, criminology, and criminal investiga-

OCC solution for charge-back problem

Mr. David E. Hilquist, Vice President for Business and Finance announced that Oakton Community College will seek to provide an answer for north shore residents wondering about the future of the charge-back. He met recently with the finance officers of other nearby community college districts who indicated that they also would take the same kind of action.

North shore residents interested in studying at community colleges for the coming school year are likely to be confused about tuition, Hilquist points out. As a result of the June 21, 1974, action of the Illinois Community College Board to establish a new community college (District #540) in the north shore area, two local high school districts, Evanston and New Trier, have announced that they will no longer authorize charge-back tuition assistance. The Glenbrook and Highland Park/Deerfield districts have indicated that they will continue to authorize charge-backs for the coming school year.

Under state law north shore area students have been able to receive tuition assistance from their local high school districts in order to enroll in community colleges. Hilquist noted that with charge-back assistance north shore students pay the same tuition rate as in-district students ($10 per semester hour at Oakton). Without the charge-back, these students would be required to pay out-of-district tuition (about $40 per semester hour at Oakton).

OCC automotive students in contest

Oakton Community College students Eric Trueblood of Glencoe and Stephen Combs of Evanston placed third in the Regional Plymouth Automotive Trouble Shooting Contest held recently in Springfield.

James Kallas, assistant professor of automotive technology at Oakton, chose the students from his classes to represent Oakton in the contest. Kallas said the students competed with 27 other schools in the Springfield contest, and were two of 165,000 students involved in 105 regional contests held in all 50 states.

Kallas said the contest consisted of a written exam which counted 40% and a mechanical exam which counted 60%. "The students ranked very well across the nation on the written exam," Kallas said.

For the mechanical portion of the contest, the students were required to discover malfunctions in an automobile deliberately set with bad parts such as spark plugs, distributor caps, and fuel filters, and then restore the automobile to perfect running condition. The students worked as a team and completed the job in one and a half hours, only minutes away from first and second places.

The school received a trophy for third place and each student received an individual trophy and a jacket. Only the first place winner, Southern Illinois University, competed in the National Trouble Shooting Finals in Dallas this month, however.

Chrysler Plymouth pays for all expenses. Glenview Chrysler Plymouth sponsored the Oakton students in Springfield and donated an automobile for use in the contest.

Kallas said the students have a "unique ability." "They know how to handle their hands along with their brains," Kallas said. Combs wants to be an auto shop teacher and will finish his degree at Southern Illinois University. Trueblood works at Moell Cadillac in Lincolnwood and is presently attending a General Motors training center in Hinsdale.

Kallas previously coached teams in the high school trouble shooting contest, also sponsored by Chrysler Plymouth. His high schools teams twice won the regional contests.

The automotive technology program at Oakton is an apprenticeship program with students placed in local automobile dealerships for on-the-job training. Students who complete both the apprenticeship instruction and on-the-job training are awarded a certificate.

Eugene Bertog has been named the coordinator of a new program in Hotel-Motel Management to be offered for the first time this fall at Oakton Community college.

The new program in Hotel-Motel Management at Oakton is designed to meet the growing need for trained people to fill positions in all phases of hotel and motel operation.

Courses in hotel - motel management, front office operation, hotel-motel security, hotel-motel accounting, food and beverage management, building management, and on-the-job training will be offered. A degree and a certificate program are available.

Courses to be scheduled this fall are Introduction to Hotel-Motel Management and Front Office Operations. Both are Tuesday and Thursday evening courses. Introduction to Hotel-Motel Management will meet from 6:30 to 7:45 p.m., while Front Office Operations will meet from 8 to 9:15 p.m. Both courses are designed for students who would like to enter the hotel-motel management field and also for those individuals already employed in this field who would like to improve their skills.

Interested students should contact the Admissions Office for admissions information this summer at Oakton Community college, Interim Campus, 7900 Nagle, Morton Grove, telephone 967-5120, ext. 391 or 392.

Mr. Bertog, a Northbrook resident, has been active in the Chicago-area business world for over 20 years, and was president of a large hotel operation in this area. He is a member of the American Society for Training and Development and the American Management Association, and has given many lectures and seminars on modern management techniques.

Mr. Bertog received his bachelor and master degrees from Loyola university.

Learning carpet

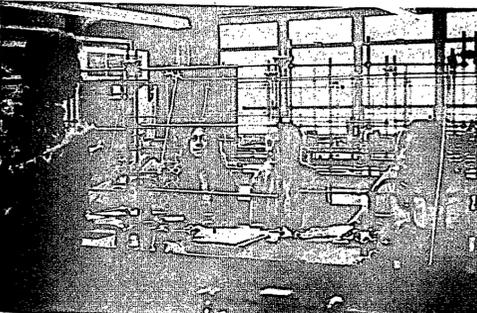

Kindergarteners at St. Isaac Jogues school, Niles learn on the floor of their newly carpeted classroom. They lie down inside a printed circle pattern and tell time with their hands and feet, measure each other's heights on a linear grid, or match concept cards to the letters on the alphabet block. At nap time, they curl up on the warm, cushiony carpet surface for a snooze. These are but a few of the many activities youngsters are discovering with KinderKarpert, a unique new educational carpet system developed by Sears, Roebuck and Allied Chemical.

The system, which incorporates graphic patterns and learning symbols printed on carpet of Allied Chemical's rugged, second generation Anso nylon fiber, carried the fiber producer's five year wear guarantee and is sold nationally through Sears' Contract Sales Division.

The open-plan kindergarten, which accommodates about 40 children in morning and afternoon sessions, is a new addition to the 17-year old, co-ed Catholic school. KinderKarpert, designed in conjunction with leading educators to be utilized in the classroom in a flexible, creative and non-regimented manner, complements the school's IGE (Individually Guided Education) method effectively.

Oakton Prof. plans chemical society meeting

Dr. Philip Jaffe, professor of chemistry at Oakton Community college, has been appointed program chairman for the American Chemical Society's Technicians Symposium which will be held in Chicago in August of 1975.

The purpose of the meeting is to give technicians an opportunity to present results of research as well as other industrial activities, according to Dr. Jaffe.

"Many technicians are involved in research projects either alone or as part of a team," Jaffe explained. "Therefore, they have results that may be of interest to the industrial research community."

Dr. Jaffe also serves as coordinator of the Chemical Technology program at Oakton Community college. Emphasizing the techniques, procedures and skills necessary for the laboratory technician in industry or research, the program is based on the ChemTec program of the American Chemical Society. The OCC program was developed by Dr. Jaffe to train the average science student for jobs now available in local industry.

"There are more job opportunities now for chemical lab technicians than there were a year ago," Dr. Jaffe reports. "There is more industry in the area and there are more job opportunities in established firms. Each of the Chemical Technology graduates this spring had 4 or 5 job offers. In fact, it is easier for technicians to find jobs than Ph.D.'s in chemistry," he adds.

There are still openings for both full or part-time students in the OCC Chemical Technology program this fall. Dr. Jaffe said. Prospective full-time students should apply for admission now.

Students can earn either a certificate or associate of applied science degree in Chemical Technology. For further information about the program, contact Dr. Jaffe at Oakton Community college, 7900 N. Nagle, Morton Grove, 60053 (Telephone: 967-5120) or the OCC Admissions Office.

ED HANSON "The Mayor's Mustache And...?"

The newlyweds of Niles were looking at the memorabilia which adorned the walls of the large banquet hall of Przybylo's White Eagle restaurant with intense interest.

The recent bride said, "That former mayor was cute—reminds me of that ancient movie star Gilbert Roland. What a cute mustache... I wish men wore them now."

"That," replied her husband, "was Nicholas B. Blase, who was mayor of Niles even longer than Stankowicz."

"Was he a good mayor?"

"He really did a lot for Niles... although he was sort of a diamond in the rough."

"Oh! Look at that cute button!" The old campaign button referred to was black and white, about the size of a silver dollar. In bold letters were the words, "Daehman-County Commissioner." "Did he win?"

"No," replied her husband. "Because back in those days only Republicans could become a County Commissioner in the suburbs—but he gave it a hell'va try."

"Look!" replied the recent bride, "at all the people who attended the Niles 75th Diamond Jubilee Dinner Dance at this same White Eagle Restaurant."

"Yes, my dear and those tickets were only $15 a piece in those days."

"My goodness, things were cheap then. We paid a $150 each for our tickets for this 150th Niles anniversary dinner dance."

"Indeed, my dear, all things were a lot cheaper in the good old days of 1974 than they are now in 2049. Why gas was only 60 cents a gallon instead of the 6 dollars a gallon we pay now."

"Things were nicer and much slower in those old days than now," sighed the recent bride.

"True, my dear but they didn't fly to work in those days, and they didn't take weekend excursions to Disneyland on the moon."

"Who was this man?" the bride said pointing to a picture among the memorabilia on the wall.

"That was a man named Pete Pesole, the most famous trustee in the long history of the village of Niles, my dear."

"Did he serve the village long?"

"Yes, my dear. He was a trustee for as long as Nicholas Blase was mayor."

"My, look at that pretty girl, and what a beautiful dress she was wearing!" exclaimed the bride pointing to a color photo on the wall.

"Yes," replied her husband. An old timer told me her name was Kathy. She was a lady bartender who worked at the immortal LONE TREE INN on Milwaukee ave. It's still going strong."

"Milwaukee Ave.?" There's no Milwaukee Avenue in Niles."

"There was in those days, dear. It was changed many years later to Nixon Drive. This was about the same time they changed Touhy to Watergate Avenue."

"My, my, but you're smart—you know history."

"After all, dear, I do teach history at the new college of Niles which has 22 thousand students."

"But that girl, the pretty one, Kathy—you say she was a lady bartender."

"Yes, darling, you see, before the coin-operated, automated, computerized and robot bartenders, we had live people as bartenders and some were women."

"And who was that old man with her in the picture?"

"He was an old scoundrel, named Ed Hanson, who used to work for BUGLE newspapers."

"BUGLE newspapers?"

"The Niles BUGLE, and four other area weekly papers were published in those days. This my dear, was before the electronic newspapers developed."

"I see and...?"

"Later it became the DRUM, and finally the one and only electronic newspaper in the U.S. today, which you know is the HORN."

Again turning her attention to the memorabilia regarding the Niles 75th Diamond Jubilee the young bride said, "All those people looked like very nice people and they seemed to be really enjoying themselves. Who was this young man?"

"That was Ed Brasch, a volunteer worker in community affairs. He worked like a Trojan to make the 75th birthday the success it was."

"And who was this pretty lady?"

"That was Diane Miller. She was editor of the BUGLE papers then."

"My, my, it's so interesting to look back into our past. These color pictures are very clear, even today."

"That's because they were taken with a camera named after a bear."

"A bear?"

"Yes, my dear. A bear. The Kodak camera. They're still in business."

"The young couple made their way thru the huge banquet hall of the White Eagle which now covered several acres, the bride paused and clasped her husband's arm saying, "Who is that white haired old man with the three young, pretty girls."

"You mean that old gaffer at table 69?"

"Yes."

"He works for the electronic newspaper, the HORN. He's either a bit senile or he drinks too much because he tells a strange story."

"And what is that, dear."
"He claims, he's the same Ed Hanson that used to work for the BUGLE 75 years ago. Even tho our mortality rate is now ninety—nobody could live and be active at about 168."
The bride gazed at the man referred to and said, "He just winked at me. Besides, it couldn't be Ed Hanson—he doesn't look a day over 55."

P.S.
Kathy, the day bartender, of the LONE TREE INN has a secret ambition. This is no gag, at least not to her. She wants to be the first woman President of the United States. I hope she makes it, and if I'm still around, maybe she'll give me a job in her cabinet. She's one woman I wouldn't mind working under.

'The Most Happy Fella' draws talent from 16 suburbs

Des Plaines Theatre Guild has a reputation for great community theatre productions that extends far beyond the city limits of Des Plaines.

The opening musical, for example, boasts a cast of 30, plus behind-the-scenes production staff representing sixteen suburbs plus Chicago.

Rehearsals have been going on throughout the summer months, and finishing touches are now being made to prepare "The Most Happy Fella" for its champagne opening night on Friday, September 6, at Guild Playhouse. The Frank Loesser musical will run every week-end in September, with some extra performances on Sundays, and tickets may be reserved by calling the box office, 296-1211 between noon and 8 p.m.

Ten of the cast members are Des Plaines residents, including Michael Kalinyen, 9250 Emerson, who plays the leading role of Tony, and his wife, Susan, who is Tessie. Bert Simmons, 1372 Carol In., is the Postman, and John Maes, 9612 Greenwood, and Robert Dale Leigh, formerly of Des Plaines and now a Wheeling resident, are Clem and Jake, featured in the "Standing On The Corner Watching All The Girls Go By" number.

Chorus members from Des Plaines include Marshall Kievit, 1241 Everett, Arthur Romanelli, 298 S. Mt. Prospect rd., Susan Wille, 1111 Forest ave., Christine Szebel, 9041 Emerson.

Following the opening Friday and Saturday performances, September 6 and 7, Des Plaines theatre Guild will again be attracting thespians from all the surrounding towns to the Sunday and Monday open readings for the second production of the 29th consecutive season, the Neil Simon comedy, "Last of the Red Hot Lovers."

Hank Vandenberg of Wheeling will direct this November production, with Julie Tobias of Des Plaines as producer. Hank will be seeking a 47-year-old "swinger," two attractive middle-aged women and a kookie starlet in her early twenties at these auditions.

Meanwhile, performances of "The Most Happy Fella" will continue every week-end at Guild Playhouse, 620 Lee st., Des Plaines. For single tickets or season subscriptions, call 296-1211, or write Des Plaines Theatre Guild, P.O. Box 84, Des Plaines, Ill. 60017.

Legion wins two awards

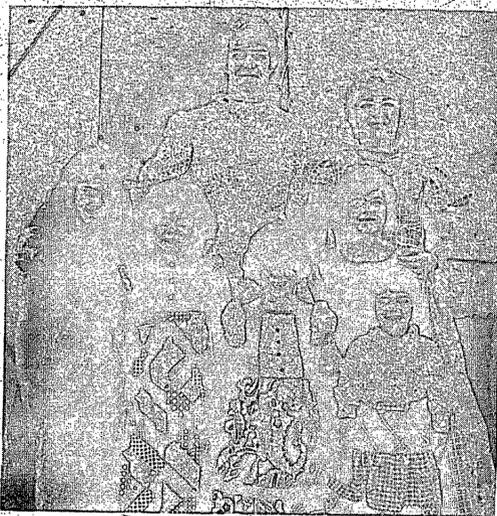

Prior to the recent state American Legion convention, Morton Grove Post #134 was advised they were to win a pair of awards. Best press book and best monthly mimeographed bulletin plaques were awarded to that chairman, past commander Al Nehart by the Department of Illinois.

However, a surprise award at the yearly convention was the 3rd plaque award for historian book. Prepared by William Donnelly of Chicago, he has received other numerous awards in the same field.

Donnelly entered the pictorial segment; and his beautiful color photos represented all the social and other events of the past year in which Post #134 has engaged themselves in on a local, state and national level.

Retiring commander Anthony La Rosa and commander-elect Joseph Schmidt accepted the awards on behalf of Morton Grove Legion Post #134.

LETTERS to EDITOR

There is enough paper for all

Dear Editor:
As the Scoutmaster and Troop Committee Chairman of Boy Scout Troop 175 we would like to see this opportunity to reply to the recent unfavorable and just publicity we received in connection with our paper drive on June 15.

To begin with, this was the first and only such paper drive our troop has ever held. Our campaign took 3 forms. First we asked the scouts in our troop to save papers in their garages. Secondly we were given free advertisements in local newspapers in which we have three phone numbers to call to arrange for a pick-up of newspapers on June 5. Thirdly we put a similar advertisement in our church bulletin again giving three phone numbers to call.

The only paper we picked up was obtained from the families and friends of the troop, and from the many telephone messages we received. In fact we didn't touch any paper on the street since the response we received to our request was frankly more than the three station wagons we had could handle. And we didn't even get around to many of the good people who called us to donate their paper.

The fact is - No one from Troop 175 "Stood Guard" over any pile of paper, as we have been accused.

The fact is - No one in Troop 175 was ever contacted in regards to any other organization conducting a paper drive as was stated. If we were we would be more than happy to cooperate and we would be more than happy to help in any worthwhile community project. Service to the community is but one scout objective.

And lastly, we would like to say that we agree that it is unfortunate a black eye to scouting has been mentioned. The facts in this case just do not justify that kind of statement.

Most sincerely,
Andy Beierwaltes

Feichter cites unsafe school buses

To the Editor:

September is just a week away and soon thousands of our youngsters will be on their way back to school. Unfortunately, they will be riding on the same kind of antiquated, unsafe, buses that have been involved in a mounting number of accidents over the past several years. What we need in Illinois is a comprehensive school bus safety bill. Safety belts, padded hand rails, and higher backed seats should be standard equipment on all school busses. New busses should be more solidly constructed and existing busses should be modified so that they can absorb emergency stresses. In addition, school bus driver applicants should be carefully screened and be given an extensive training program. Finally, I recommend that a uniform set of strong safety rules be applied to all busses in Illinois that carry school children.

A strong school bus safety bill was introduced earlier this year by Rep. Catania but, like other bills of this nature, it failed to pass. As a parent and a teacher, I can only condemn the General Assembly for its consistent failure

Thank you

Dear Editor:
We would like to thank you for all the help you gave for Girls Softball and for the Boys Program. Without your help it would not have been possible. Also thank you for letting us have a column called "Looking in on Lincolnwood".

We wish you great success and hope that anytime we can help you, let us know. We would also like to say that Niles Girls Softball Team were a wonderful group and fun to play against.

Yours Truly,
Fred J. Hossfeld
President of Lincolnwood Girls Softball Inc.

Thank you

Dear Editor:
I would like to take this opportunity to thank you on the wonderful publicity that you have given me on our Pony Single A and Pony Double AA leagues. I wish to express my thanks and gratitude to all of the managers from each division for their comments on the games played by each team.

I hope that your newspaper will continue to support our Niles Baseball league.

Thank you,
Marie Booker
