Husband and son indicted in woman's murder

Homer Hanrahan, 44, and his 19-year-old son Michael were indicted by a Cook County grand jury last Monday for the murder of Mrs. Marian Hanrahan of Niles.

Kidnap and robbery charges had also been sought, but not upheld, against the pair in the preliminary, Dec. 3. Niles Hearing before Third District Judge George J. Zimmerman, who set a $250,000 bond on each Hanrahan.

The husband and son were charged with the murder of Mrs. Hanrahan, 41, of 8633 Normal, after she was found in the trunk of her husband's car in Palatine on Nov. 22. She had been beaten, wrapped in blankets, and placed in the car.

Niles police stated that Mrs. Hanrahan and her husband had quarreled frequently over the terms of a pending divorce. According to the son, Michael's statement, his father beat the victim in the basement of her home until she was unconscious and then injected drugs into her. He and his father then carried the mother, still unconscious, and put her into the trunk of the elder Hanrahan's car and the father drove away.

Niles police found the car and body at the home of the father's girl friend, after one of the other Hanrahan children, a 16-year-old daughter, called the police, stating that she had heard a fierce argument between her mother and father and had not seen her mother since.

An overdose of drugs was listed by the coroner's office as being the cause of Mrs. Hanrahan's death.

By David "Bud" Besser

A guy named Plato, who lived many, many years ago, used to write about the citizen-statesman who is the key to a democratic society. In order for such a system to work, representatives from the republic must act on behalf of the citizens. And he defined a statesman as one who selflessly represented the people without seeking private gain for himself.

Last Tuesday Niles Trustee Keith Peck ended more than 10 years of public life on Niles' Village Board, after serving another 2 years on Niles' Park Board. And while the ancient Greek, Plato, was writing some 3,000 years ago, I'm sure he had Keith in mind when he wrote his Republic.

We've known Keith ever since we began The Bugle. In those early days Keith was a part of a motley band of trouble-makers who were forever down at the Village Hall seeking relief from flood conditions in the Howard Street area. And he was a member of the brigade of Kirk Lane residents who were constantly urging the Park Board to provide his area with a park... a tot park, or a few grains of sand for lagging pennies... just any kind of land Kirk Laners could call their own.

Almost 15 years ago Keith was banging on doors asking residents to support a referendum for a park where the Lawrencewood Center now stands. It was likely the only time Keith and The Bugle were on opposite sides of the fence.

This very gentle man was quite remarkable during those early days. Besides banging on neighbors' doors he was raising four kids, driving to work south to Garfield Boulevard daily, and then heading for night school where he pursued an engineering degree after his working hours. Well, such an effort has been done by many men. But we doubt many men travelled from Niles to Garfield Boulevard, and then commuted north all the way to Milwaukee to Marquette University in seeking this additional education.

When Keith moved onto Niles' Park Board it had a history of much stop and go sputtering. The old park board was forever at odds with the village board, often working in diametric directions. Such silly pettiness hurt the community. Referendums which should have been won were lost, and the land which was relatively cheap in those days became astronomically expensive in recent years. The whole Interested candidates must file their petitions with a minimum of 85 signatures of qualified voters. Continued on Page 27

St. John Brebeuf Festival VI

On two consecutive weekends, Friday, Jan. 31 and Sat., Feb. 1 and Feb. 7 and 8 the entire school will come alive when St. John Brebeuf presents their sixth FESTIVAL—Seven fantastic Cabaret shows, which will include song, dance and comedy will take place in the school gym and parish hall at 8301 N. Harlem in Niles.

"We've been in preparation for months," commented Andy Beierwaltes, who with Ray Bacci are the FESTIVAL chairmen. "Our double classrooms, school hall and gym are undergoing a fantastic transition and all the shows look great; all rooms combined have a seating capacity of more than one thousand," he added.

"Everything is being done to make this our best FESTIVAL yet," said Ray. "The shows will speak for themselves, but behind the scenes for the convenience of those attending, we have hundreds of people involved to keep things running smoothly." "Each show room will have holding rooms—with entertainment, food and drink," he continued.

The 1st National Bank of Niles at Oakton & Waukegan will again accommodate any overflow parking and there will be free shuttle bus service from there right to the main entrance. Cooks, waitresses, bartenders, hall monitors and many more go into the presentation of FESTIVAL VI.

On Friday nights only between the hours of 6 and 8 p.m. the school hall will feature a chicken dinner with sandwiches and drinks at reduced prices for both workers and early-comers.

The show titles this year include—"THAT'S ENTERTAINMENT"—"DAS BRAUHAUS"—"LA CINDERELLA"—"MUSTARD ON YOUR FRENCH FRIES?"—"HAPPINESS IS?"—"SNAKE GULCH"—"SALMAGUNDI". Show time is at 8 p.m. on all four evenings.

Tickets are five dollars per person and can be obtained by calling Bill Doyce at 967-5332.

Senior Citizens' NEWS AND VIEWS

by Diane Miller

NILES ALL-AMERICAN SENIORS

Did you know? ... Joseph Dumais received a card from our President, Gerald Ford, on his 80th birthday and is he ever proud of it! It's very impressive.

Today was the last day at the Park District for our meetings, and it is with mixed feelings that we move. It's so wonderful to meet at the new building (The Trident Center) but that gang at the Park District are "something else". Always willing to do little favors for us. I don't know what we would have done without them at the beginning. They will be doing our bulletins for us and we appreciate that. We are having home made cookies and cake for our opening date of the new center for our members. We are also going to welcome our new members at that time. Can't you see how fat "Mary Kay" is going to get with all these goodies around once a week.

We hear all kinds of talk about vacations already. A cruise for some of our members - Florida, California - they sure do get around. Must be that spring isn't far away!

The course consists of an unofficial vision test, review of signs and practice written test.

He will not be filling out the forms, but will be available for general assistance. Stop by the Niles Senior Center on Thursday mornings if you have any questions.

Registration for ceramics, photography and exercise courses to be held at Niles Senior Center will be open until Jan. 24. As enrollment is limited, try to sign up as soon as possible. N.D. foilsmen defeat Pleasant Plains

Pleasant Plains (Springfield, Ill.) fenced 5 suburban schools on Saturday. Notre Dame defeated Plaines 11-7. N.D. was behind 2-1 bouts at first then it went 2-2, 2-3 and 3-3, finally it went to 5-5 before N.D. broke away with 3 quick wins to make it 8-5, and finally 10-5. The final two bouts were split. Kevin Cawley had the only honors of going undefeated as a starter 3-0. The team is now 8-0 for the season and 46 dual meet wins in a row, with 10 tournament wins.

Alumni in the news. Tim Glass returned from San Francisco attending the Olympic Trials. He improved his standing from 17th to 12th in the U.S. on the adult level. With at least one more trial to go, making the top 5 will be tough but not impossible.

NDHS alumni attending Notre Dame University began a 13 day tour of the Eastern states on the N.D.U. fencing team. Members of that team are Sam DeFoglio (72) sabre; Terry McConville (73) foil; Tim Glass (73) epee; Bill Kica (74) foil; John Strass (74) epee; Pat Gerard (74) foil. N.D.H.S. fencers which number 6 are out of a total of 20 on the trip and 6 out of 9 starters.

Ken Lavelle (74) is at Illinois Urbana and Mark Sobczak (73) is at the U.S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, in sabre.

For this coming season, the Team 7 basketballers look like they will be a bunch of hustlers and scrappers. The team consists of the following boys: Keith DeMatteis, Steve Klein, David Kaye, Scott Ury, Larry Green-spon, Bill Fawcett, Mark Lerner, Craig Stone, Brad Fishman, Clemens Spengler, Jeff Schwartz, Brad Schawel, Jim Sundblom, Joseph Kaufman, Eric Toriumi, Mike Singer, Dennis Callahan, and the managers are Steve Buck and Mike Biskis.

Interview with Maine East coach

(By John Basse)
Recently I talked with one of Maine East's newer coaches, Mr. Dan Rotzoll, who has been a coach at the school for two years now. His pre-Maine East experience shows that he has been a leader in sport activities throughout his life.

When Mr. Rotzoll was in high school, he participated in football, basketball, and baseball. He played as a tight-end in football (his favorite sport) and then went to the University of Illinois on a four year scholarship, earned by his high school athletic achievement.

At the university Mr. Rotzoll played as a defensive tackle, at an amazing 6'5", 245 pounds. By his second year, he had almost lettered, and his junior year saw him as a team starter.

Coaching here now, Mr. Rotzoll feels that our football team is becoming more powerful mentally and physically. The team, he claims, is now throwing off a lot of negative attitudes, which has plagued Demon teams in past seasons. With the confidence and desire of this year's winning season, next year the blue and white should be a definite conference contender.

Saturday, Jan. 4, the Maine East sophomore gymnasts were the guests of District 214's Buffalo Grove High School, which won 62.66 to Maine East's 46.54.

Girls' Interscholastic Bowling

(By Carl Edelman)
Many people at Maine East may not know about the girls' interscholastic bowling team, but it's in its third year of competition. Miss Carole Jaacks is the team's rookie coach.

Alumni bowlers make their strikes

(By Carl Edelman)

We've all heard of professional football, basketball, baseball, tennis, and golf. Is there such a thing as professional bowling? The answer is yes.

We all know that Dick Allen had a three year contract for about $700,000. Jack Nicklaus made over $300,000 in 1973, and that Joe Namath brings in an annual salary of about $300,000. Who is pro bowling's leading money winner of all time and how much has he made? Dick Weber is the leading money winner of all time with earnings close to $450,000 in his career.

Although bowling isn't as big as the rest of the pro sports in cash prizes, it's young and growing. The pro tour started about 15 years ago, and this year the top 30 pros will make in excess of $20,000.

The question everyone wants to ask is—what does pro bowling have to do with Maine East? There are three former students who are either excellent bowlers or harbour ambitions of becoming a pro.

Ralph Spencer is the oldest of the bowling alumni. He graduated in 1963. When Ralph went to Maine East, he was averaging upwards to 195. Among Ralph's bowling achievements is the first sanctioned 300 game at the Golf Mill Lanes. Ralph does not harbour any ambitions of becoming a pro because he is married, has children, and a good job.

Bob Bass is another former Maine East student who excels at bowling. Bob is presently averaging 198 on Monday nights at Norridge Lanes. Bob plans on joining the pro tour sometime this year.

The last person on the list of bowling alumni is Scott Friedman, who graduated last year. Scott's highest current league average is 205. Scott could potentially be the best of Maine East's bowlers.

What are the possibilities of seeing one or more of these people on television some Sat. afternoon? Nobody has the answer to that question, but if they do make it, Maine East will be behind them all the way.

For Wednesday, Jan. 8, the high individual game for Maine East's Girls' Bowling Club was by Mary Plain. She had a 168.

Debbie McCormack had the high two game individual series, a 323.

The Strikers, captain Mary Plain, Cindy Algino, and Donna Meyers, had the team high two game series -- 1,473.

The team record so far this year is varsity 6-9 and junior varsity 7-8. Although the records are respectable, it's a vast improvement over last year's records of 1-29 for the varsity and 12-5-17.5 for the junior varsity.

Maine North soph tops in pantomime

Maine North sophomore Chuck Elstner earned first place honors in pantomime and Ed Henzel placed third in Original Comedy at the North Chicago Individual Speech Events Tournament held last week.

Chuck's interest in pantomime developed after he saw mime T. Daniel perform at Maine North's Rites of Spring, a fine arts festival last May. During the summer Chuck enrolled in a pantomime course taught by T. Daniel at Maine South. T. Daniel was trained by Marcel Marceau.

"Chuck was one of the few students competing who had had professional training. We were very pleased to have so talented a competitor, and it is interesting that we are still finding good results from Rites of Spring," explained Mrs. Judith McGuing, speech team coach.

The North Chicago Tournament was the first competition which offered pantomime.

Village administrative employee Myrtle Norris retires

(By Alice M. Bobina)
The senior employee at the Niles Administration Building, Mrs. Myrtle Norris, supervisor of the Accounting Department, will retire on Jan. 31.

After 20 years of faithful, untiring service to the residents of the Village of Niles, the quiet-spoken, petite employee will leave the Administration Building force. Her actual retirement date of March 1 includes 4 weeks of accrued vacation time.

"There have been many changes since I came to work for the village in September of 1955 as general everything, but mostly bookkeeper," reminisced Mrs. Norris. As the lone employee in the Village Clerk's (Jim Kozak) office, "a small room across from the courtroom on the second floor of the Old Village Hall," then located at Milwaukee and Touhy, she has witnessed progressive growth in every village department.

She has seen the village population multiply from 3,000 to the present, 32,000 in population.

Fire fighters oppose appointment

(M.G.F.F. news release)
Local #2178 of the Morton Grove Fire Fighters Union opposes the recent appointment of Lt. Albert Pitts as Fire Dept. training officer. The Local bases this opposition on several points.

Contrary to a recent article placed in local newspapers by Lt. Pitts expounding on his experience and qualifications for the position, Local 2178 feels that Lt. Pitts, as the junior officer on the department, lacks experience in many vital areas necessary for a competent training officer. The Local knows that Pitts has had very little actual fire experience and would be ill-qualified to teach, suggest, or administer any training program, which would to a large degree dictate the methods employed at actual emergencies.

In the short time Lt. Pitts has headed the training program, Local 2178 finds nothing, other than a massive increase in unnecessary paperwork, has resulted. Processing this paperwork has resulted in an actual decrease in needed training time.

The Local also knows that the large majority of Fire Dept. personnel have no confidence in Lt. Pitts' programs or policies, and further, that the appointment showed poor judgment by the present fire chief of the Morton Grove Fire Department.

Myrtle Norris, supervisor of the Accounting Department, will retire on Jan. 31.

watching the village experience growing pains as its boundaries expanded north and westward. "We had no machines and no electric adding machines," she reflected, comparing office conditions at that time with the present, spacious air conditioned village quarters holding a staff of 40 administrative employees.

Following a village administrative move from its old location to the present, at 7601 Milwaukee ave., Myrtle, as she is known to everyone, became the head of the accounting department.

"It's been a big challenge, from then to now," she reflected, with a far-away look.

"We have been very busy, what with increases in services, personnel, etc. ... there's so much detail work involved with 300 village employees. There are monthly reports, federal reports, social security forms, withholding and pension, municipal retirement, hospitalization ...

"Yes," she said, drawing a long breath, "I certainly will miss all of my co-workers and my work here."

However, she added quickly, "I'm anxious to stay home and do things I've wanted to do for years, but didn't have the time." A trip to Florida is uppermost of her plans ... then attention to a few hobbies, gardening later, and keeping up with her club work.

A retirement party in her honor will be held at the Millionaire's Club Friday evening, Jan. 31. "It will be difficult to imagine, the accounting department without Myrtle," said her co-workers. "She's always so congenial, altho quiet and composed. She's a very pleasant person."

County vehicle stickers

Maine Township Clerk Phil Raffe has issued a reminder to auto owners living in the township's unincorporated area that they are required to purchase and display a Cook County vehicle sticker by Feb. 15.

Raffe said that although his office is unable to sell the stickers, it does have a supply of application forms. Applicants may mail the completed forms to the county offices, thereby saving themselves a trip to downtown Chicago.

Celebrates 6 years of community service

Approximately seven years ago, our village officials created a committee to explore the need for a mental health-family service type agency in Niles. After an extensive, one-year study, the committee learned that there was a need for the establishment of such an agency in our community. Their study revealed that there was no professional agency within Niles to serve residents with crises involving marital problems, parent-child conflicts and individual maladjustments.

The Village Board responded favorably to the committee's report and established an ordinance creating a Department of Mental Health-Family Service (MH-FS) within Niles. A board of seven citizens of Niles was formed to help get the new department off the ground. The Board was made up of Norton Goodman, Chairman, Rev. Douglas Seleen, Mrs. Therese Costa, Stanley Frank, Sheldon Mantelman, Jerome G. Santowski and Edward F. Vodvarka. The first task of the Board was to find a director to put the new department together. The person selected was Larry F. Renetzky ACSW who has a masters degree in Social Work and over fifteen years experience working with people in crisis.

It was decided the new department would be called Niles Family Service which was to be only the second such MH-FS agency or department, in a village, in the State of Illinois. The office was officially opened on Jan. 9, 1969 in the old fire house adjacent to the old Village Hall on Touhy and Milwaukee; by June 1969 Niles Family Service moved into the Lawrencewood Shopping Center. The demand for counseling services continued to grow, so Niles Family Service expanded once again. Now, after five and a half years, the Department of Niles Family Service has moved into the new Community Center of Niles at 8060 Oakton st., telephone 692-3396.

It is significant to note the philosophy that guided and directed this new department, that no agency should grow faster than the determined need, gave birth to "An Agency With a Heart" philosophy. Gradually, as the needs of the community were discovered, additional services were added. To help make this possible, qualified professionally trained counselors, with a masters degree of above in Social Work were hired.

The staff of Niles Family Service has now served approximately two thousand families in Niles. The staff has made live another prevailing philosophy of the agency... "Put yourself into people, for it is people that really count!" Together with counselors, psychologists and psychiatrists, Niles Family Service has endeavored to meet the needs of those in family, marital or individual crisis. It has always maintained, "the most important person in the agency is the client." Every way possible, Niles Family Service has sought out ways to serve the people of Niles with the best staff possible.

Niles Family Service has sought to serve, not only those in crisis, but also to provide an educational-preventive function, through community workshops on marriage family and pre-retirement, as well as groups for parents with children who have special problems. A special note of thanks to the Niles Lions and Rotarians, who helped in the first community-wide workshops. In addition to this, Niles Family Service has endeavored to reach the youth of Niles before they get into trouble, through their Street Outreach and School Outreach programs. The department has also worked closely with the Niles Police to help realize the new division of Social Work within the Niles Police Department; with the Senior Citizens Commission, to help formulate a Department for the Senior Citizens; and with the Niles Teen Center. A series of newspaper articles have also appeared locally dealing with family enrichment and the Niles Family Service thought for the week.

At the present time, the Niles Family Service Board is made up of Niles citizens who have worked hard to help create an agency of which you can be proud; one that "SERVES" the citizens of Niles. The present Niles Family Service Board members are: Sylvia McNair, Chairman, Rev. D. Douglas Seleen, Mr. Sheldon Mantelman, Mr. Edward Vodvarka, Mrs. Virginia Haave, Mr. William Sanz, Mrs. Lorraine Zielinski, Mrs. Marie Kurtzer, Dr. Walter J. Zinn, Mr. Jack Cantor, and Father John Finnegan.

Niles Family Service has been able to provide "professional" and "confidential" service for the residents of Niles at a cost that is minimal, compared to the cost of a private professional therapist.

Q. When there is a "Right Signal" or "Obey Your Signal Only" sign posted under a traffic light, such as at the northeast corner of Waukegan and Oakton, is it legal for a motorist to turn right on a red light?

Lynne K.H.
Yes, said Police Chief Emrikson. You are obeying the red light signal. Once you have completed your maneuver and stop totally for the light, you have obeyed your signal. In the absence of car and pedestrian traffic, the motorist may make a right turn. The only time a right turn is prohibited is when the light is posted as "No Turn on Red".

Q. When are the curbs and sidewalks going to be improved along Milwaukee ave., especially from Harlem ave. north to Golf Mill?

J.S.
According to Village Manager Scheel, Milwaukee ave. from Touhy to one block north of Howard st. is included in the state improvement program set for Touhy and Waukegan and at Harlem-Howard-Milwaukee. Curbs from Mulford to Oakton on the west side will be improved and are improved on the east side. Scheel stated that there is a "tremendous amount of sidewalk" on both sides of Milwaukee north to Golf Mill, but admittedly "we will have to re-evaluate the whole of Milwaukee ave. as far as sidewalks and curbs very shortly."

Q. If I am solicited by a door-to-door salesman and I make a purchase, can I later cancel the contract?

C.F.
Yes, said Director of Consumer Fraud Frank Wagner. If the service or item involves more than $25, you have the right to cancel within three business days. To do this, send a certified letter to the company, advising them of your cancellation.

Q. As a Plan Commission why do you permit so many shopping centers? We are overloaded with small, medium and large centers which are having difficulty in renting out space, leaving empty stores.

Carl S.
In 1961, replied Plan Commission Chairman Jack Frick, the village adopted a revised Comprehensive Plan and Zoning Ordinances which were conceived by professional planners. The difficulty is that, once the property has been zoned, it is virtually impossible to downgrade the zoning. Consequently, if an area has the proper zoning to permit certain types of commercial establishments, a businessman does not have to appear before the Zoning Board to operate what is permitted under a zoning classification. If a developer wishes to invest his capital, said Frick, further - he is free to do so.

What we have done to improve developments has been to consistently upgrade the ordinances relating to the number of required parking spaces and the size of the parking spaces as well as the access aisles and have been concerned with maintenance and upkeep of the parking lots. We now require properties to be landscaped and large parking areas to provide a green landscaping around the periphery, including trees. We have also instituted height limitations.

Q. In accordance with the information in your Dec. 19 column, I took bottles and cans to the Forest Preserve Headquarters at 6633 Harts rd. and the man there told me that bottles and cans were no longer being taken. Since my ecology-minded neighbors save these for me, would you please straighten out the situation?

A Niles resident
Many thanks for advising us of the situation. Division Supervisor John Mark (SP 5-4060) regrets you would not leave your name, because he would like to find out who would not accept your donations. Said Mr. Mark: "We welcome all the glass and tin - no newspapers - that anyone can bring, to the Glass and Can Reclamation Center (at the Harts rd. address) from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. Just bring in all you have, separating the glass from the cans, and drop them off next to the barrel containers - and thank you!"

Q. What is the situation concerning the small building at 7309 Dempster about which I inquired last December? It is strewn with debris and very rundown. Supposedly something was to be done around the first of the year.

A.M.
According to Niles Building Commissioner Ben Mankowsky, action has been delayed because of illness in the owner's family. However, said Mr. Mankowsky, the area should be leveled and cleared up Saturday or Monday morning by the Trumbull Excavating Co. Only the concrete slab will be left.

Niles Family Service Thought For The Week "Happy Anniversary"

By Larry F. Renetzky, ACSW

Niles Family Service is always trying to reach out to provide a "thought" of encouragement, enlightenment, growth and guidance as well as to provide counseling services for those with personal maladjustment problems, marital conflict or parent-child conflict. The Bugle is pleased to provide monthly articles by Niles Family Service on Marital-Enrichment in '73 and Niles Family Service "Thought for the Week" in '74 as a public service. Hopefully more articles will be forthcoming in '75. Do you enjoy these articles and find them helpful? Let the Bugle or Niles Family Service hear from you!

The Bugle has learned that this month of January is the 6th anniversary of Niles Family Service. It doesn't seem possible that it has been six years since Larry Renetzky, executive director of Niles Family Service, opened the door for service in the old Fire House at Touhy and Milwaukee. We understand that Mr. Renetzky has likened the Family Service to the Fire Department in as much as it helps people to "put out fires of a personal conflict or crisis". Certainly, their new quarters in the Niles Trident Community Center are very warm and homey and they invite you to come in and to see their new facilities.

We believe in the job that Niles Family Service is doing. We think that the Village of Niles has shown some far-sightedness in providing this therapeutic human service for Niles residents.

We just want to say to Niles Family Service - Happy Anniversary. We invite you to also write Niles Family Service, 8060 Oakton st., Niles, or call 692-3396 and to say Happy Anniversary. Certainly Niles Family Service urges you to call or come in if you have any need for counseling or as they put it, "If you want an opportunity to reflect on your concerns, your anxieties, and your problems, or just want another opportunity to grow and to better understand yourself, your marriage and your family."

Business students take field trip

The sounds of the gavel banging filled the courtrooms when Mr. James Rheberg's business students took a field trip recently to the Federal Courts.

The courts visited were the United States District Courts for the Northern District of Illinois. One of the cases involved a drug offender. Students heard the testimony of an undercover policeman who purchased heroin from a pusher. There was also an extortion case where the students saw a jury being selected. One thing the students noticed was that many of the crimes had happened quite some time ago. The trial dates are usually pushed back because there are so many cases to be heard or a defendant's lawyer doesn't appear on the specified date.

Rotary, Lions plan vision screening test

The Rotary and Lions Clubs of Morton Grove will join forces to bring to the residents of Morton Grove a comprehensive vision screening program at no charge to the residents. The date set for the screening is Sunday, Feb. 23 from 10 a.m. till 3 p.m. at the Julia Malloy Educational Center located at 8701 Menard, just south of Dempster st. The screening is under the direction of the Vision Conservation Institute.

The free screening is offered to persons of all ages, from 3 and up and will include checks for near and far acuity, muscle balance or eye teaming, hyperopia, stereopsis, near accommodation, color perception, field of vision and glaucoma eye pressure. "Persons having unsatisfactory checks in the screening will be referred to a professional of their choice," according to Jerry Agrest, local optometrist and Rotarian.

Dr. Paul Cosgrove and Dr. Jerry Agrest are chairing the screening with many of the stations manned by members of the Lions and Rotary Clubs. Roger Peterson is current president of the Lions and Frank McTier is president of the Rotary Club.

"The importance of these tests can be realized when you consider that more than 29% of school children and 41% of adults have undetected functional vision problems which impair their ability to see", stated Dr. Cosgrove.

All Morton Grove residents are urged to mark their calendars for Feb. 23.

Jewelry course for the creative

[By Sue Simon]

With the price of gold recently costing $193.25 an ounce, you might think that Mr. Ken Orstead's jewelry class at Maine East would be an expensive venture, but it's not. Students can get through the year course on an average amount of $12.

Mr. Orstead, a member of the art department, has developed his design and materials I and II classes strictly into jewelry making. The new class enables the students to fully use his imagination and creativity.

Students have a choice of making any type of jewelry they want. The projects range from rings, bracelets, pendants, earrings, cuff links, necklaces, and much more.

A few of the stones used are agates, tiger eyes, jaspers, and jade. Silver is mainly used due to the high cost of gold. Mr. Orstead is looking forward to using m-gold, which looks and polishes like real gold, but it's only $2.50 an ounce.

Two of the major methods used in jewelry making are soldering and casting. Casting is the more popular method because it requires less time. The steps for casting are as follows: 1. an idea is designed and approved; 2. The design is made out of wax first—no assure no mistakes; 3. The piece is then casted in silver or m-gold; and 4. The end product is filed, polished, and ready to wear.

Mr. Orstead wants the students to make their jewelry very creative and original.

Girls' volleyball

[By Laurie Chrobak]
The Maine East girls' varsity volleyball team was thwarted in its last three attempts at a win as it faced some stiff competition.

In the varsity game on Dec. 10, Glenbrook North hosted Maine East and having the home court advantage proceeded to beat Maine East two straight.

It was closer, however, on Dec. 12 when Maine East hosted New Trier West. In the first game Maine East lost 15-12, came back and won 15-6, but lost in the third and deciding game with a score of 15-4.

On Dec. 19 Highland Park also beat the Demon team. The season record for the varsity team is 2-4. The Demon junior varsity fared better than the varsity as far as wins. Dec. 10 found Maine East overcoming Glenbrook North in two straight games. In a closely contested game, on Dec. 12, Maine East was just barely beaten by New Trier West, and in the Dec. 19 game, the Maine East junior varsity overpowered Highland Park. The current season record for the Maine East junior varsity is 4-2.

M-NARH winter programs begin

Many handicapped individuals are enjoying a winter filled with opportunities to make new friends and learn new skills. Participants in programs offered by the Maine-Niles Association of Recreation for the Handicapped find their social calendar packed with exciting activities. For some fortunate individuals, a typical week may include: Bowling, Tuesday; Modern Dance, Thursday; and a Social Club, Friday evening.

As a public, non-profit agency, M-NARH offers handicapped individuals in the North and Northwest suburban areas a great variety of recreational activities. M-NARH winter programs include such diversified programs as Horseback Riding, Ice Skating, Woodcraft, Table Games, Tumbling, and Activity Clubs.

While many programs are located at park district facilities throughout the area, other programs make use of facilities in the community. Local bowling alleys, theatres, restaurants, stores in and income cases, businesses, afford M-NARH participants an opportunity to learn new skills and become more well-rounded individuals. A photography program offered in cooperation with a studio in the community and supervised by M-NARH staff will open new doors to many participants. A program such as this will enable each new photographer to learn how his camera works, how to take pictures and later how to develop the pictures.

M-NARH programs are specially designed to meet the individual needs of each participant. For example, M-NARH

Bowling for the Orthopedically Handicapped allows many individuals to enjoy the sport of bowling for the first time. Through the use of special adaptive equipment, many of the bowlers have scored as high as 136 points a game. Another way M-NARH works to meet each participant's individual needs is through integrated programs. Integrated programs enable M-NARH participants to take part in activities offered by member park districts. This winter some handicapped individuals will learn to ski or learn to play guitar along with fellow members of their community.

Don't let this winter drag-fill up your social calendar with exciting activities. Learn new skills, make new friends--register now! For more information do not hesitate to call the M-NARH office, 674-5512.

Larger quarters for Public Assistance Office

The Maine Township Public Assistance Office has moved to larger quarters as the result of an increased number of applicants for aid, according to Township Supervisor James J. Dowd.

Dowd said the public assistance office has moved to suite 104, 2510 W. Dempster, Des Plaines in order to provide the office space needed for two full-time social workers. Dowd pointed out that only one year ago the township needed one social worker to process all its requests for public aid.

Dowd said the increase in the number of persons seeking public assistance is due to several prolonged strikes this summer, plus a dramatic downturn in the economy resulting in numerous layoffs, many for extended periods.

The increased workload of the public assistance office has also resulted in the assignment of an exclusive telephone line, Dowd added. The new number is 297-2433.

New procedure adopted in shoplifting cases

At a meeting of the Police Departments of District 3 of the Circuit Court of Cook County a revision in procedure was adopted which will benefit retailers who have been subjects of shoplifting crimes.

Under the new procedure, said presiding Judge, Anton A. Smigiel, the allegedly stolen merchandise will be photographed. The photo, together with a Police Dept. court order listing all of the stolen property will then be presented to the Court at the first hearing. The court order grants 30 days to the defendant or his counsel to examine the property.

At the end of the 30 days, the store would be free to stock or sell the merchandise in question. Up to this time the merchandise has, at times, become totally unsalable because of frequent handling to and from court appearances. Also, some police departments store the merchandise as evidence and in some municipalities this creates needless loss of time needed for the storage, identification and withdrawal from storage for use in court appearances.

The new method of handling was unanimously adopted by the police chiefs present at the meeting. The procedure has already been introduced in Chicago and has been successful. The new procedure will be limited to shoplifting cases, said Judge Smigiel, and until further notice, will be limited to misdemeanor shoplifting cases of merchandise stolen up to $150.

Openings available in Mikva's college intern program

Openings are available in Congressman Abner J. Mikva's college intern program. Unlike most Congressional intern programs, Mikva's is open to college undergraduates and involves work in the 10th District.

"Although there is no financial compensation, many colleges offer academic credit for this kind of field study and a student is able to get valuable experience and insight into how our government works," Mikva explained.

College students interested in applying for the intern program should contact Mikva's office at 4016 Church, Skokie, 676-1350.

Currently, two students are participating in the program—Howard W. Sinker, 18, of Skokie, who is majoring in political science and journalism at Macalester College in St. Paul, Minn.; and Barby Rest, 18, of 1070 Meadow rd., Glencoe, who is majoring in American Studies at Smith College in Northampton, Mass.

Sinker has been researching 10th District economic and demographic data and assisting Mikva's staff with various case-work. He is getting academic credit for his internship.

"I applied for this internship because I am interested in a career in government and this will give me a first hand experience with dealing with the problems and methods of public service," Sinker explained.

Ms. Rest has helped set up Mikva's new offices and helped organize his High School Advisory Council and High School Intern Program.

"I wanted to learn what it is like to be a public servant because I am thinking of a career in government. I am not getting academic credit for the internship because I am working during Smith's semester break, but it will be a practical supplement to my classroom work," Ms. Rest said.

Mikva announces staff

Congressman-elect Abner J. Mikva has announced the appointment of 12 persons to his 10th District and Washington staffs.

"Every resident in the 10th District should feel free to contact any member of my staff whenever information, advice or assistance is needed concerning the federal government," said Mikva, who served two previous terms in Congress, 1969-72.

Jack Marco, a former director of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, will be Mikva's administrative assistant in the 10th District.

Offices will be at 4716 Church st., Skokie; Room 2302 D, Federal Building, 219 S. Dearborn, Chicago; and a site still to be determined in Des Plaines. Miriam Lyons, an Evanston resident who has been active in community affairs, will manage the offices.

Other members of Mikva's District staff, all of whom will work on various constituent problems, will be:

--Sarah Wolff, a graduate with highest distinction from Northwestern University's speech school and a former staff member of the Illinois Board of Ethics.

--Greg Kinczewski, a cum laude graduate of Northwestern University's journalism school who has reported from Washington for the Lerner, Paddock and Pioneer Papers.

--Wally Nathan, a cum laude graduate of Colgate University and a former project monitor for the National League of Cities.

--Jerry Esrig, a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Northwestern University's political science department and a former staff assistant to the Illinois Board of Ethics.

--Gail Nebgen, who has been involved in numerous community and educational projects in Des Plaines.

Genie Ermoyan, who has directed the Northern Illinois office of Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson and is a graduate of John Marshall Law School, will be Mikva's administrative assistant in Washington.

The Washington offices will be located in Room 432, Cannon Office Building. Other members of Mikva's Washington staff will be:

--Jacques DePuy, legislative assistant. He is a former legislative assistant to Rep. Brock Adams (D-Wash.) and a graduate of Georgetown University's Law School.

--Sanford D. Horwitz, research director, he is a former assistant professor of speech at the University of Illinois, Circle Campus, and received a B.S. and Ph.D. in speech from Northwestern University.

--Scott Baskin, legislative correspondent. Baskin is a cum laude graduate of Northwestern University's Law School and was on the staff of the U.S. Attorney for the Northern District of Illinois.

--Zoe Gratsias, executive assistant. She was an assistant to Hubert Humphrey when he was vice president and was Mikva's executive assistant during his previous two terms in the House of Representatives.

Faltering economy no barrier to health services

Despite increasing inflation and the threat of recession, mental health services are available from the Orchard Center for Mental Health or Turning Point at no cost or at a reduced fee consistent with a family's income. The Orchard Center for Mental Health is a not-for-profit community mental health center supported primarily by grants from the Illinois Department of Mental Health, the Niles Township Administration, the Skokie Valley United Crusade, the National Council of Jewish Women, and gifts from other organizations and individuals. As a result of this broadbased community support, fees for service are generally well below the cost of providing them and are based upon an amount the family can afford. In no case is a fee established which would be burdensome to the family and discourage prospective clients from seeking help at the Center. Neither does Orchard Center require documentation of income.

Anyone interested in mental health services at the Orchard Center for Mental Health can telephone 976-7300. Teenagers or their families seeking help for youth may call Turning Point at 673-0996.

Niles Police thwart attempted burglary

[By Alice M. Bobula]

Four Chicago men were arrested early Tuesday morning, Jan. 14, apprehended by Niles police in the act of burglarizing Maine Medical Center, 8118 Milwaukee ave., in Niles.

Police said the men, naturalized citizens from Yugoslavia, are known to be drug addicts and have extensive police records. They are reportedly wanted for questioning by Chicago and Glenview police.

Charged with attempted burglary and possession of burglary tools were William Carter, Jr., 19 of 4526 Sheridan rd., Bernard Ewig, 23, of 5041 Northwest Highway, George Vojinovic, 22, of 3927 Spaulding, and Rade Zec, 21, a resident at the Lincoln-Belmont YMCA.

Niles Police Lt. Frank J. Stankowicz commended the entire midnight police shift for "doing a fine piece of police work." Police officers had been alerted, at roll call, he said, that the 3 degree above zero weather was not conducive to much activity on Niles streets. Therefore, any suspicious activity was to be watched closely.

Two gas stations approximately a mile south of the Center had been burglarized the previous night.

Officer Donald Leavitt first observed the car carrying the men in the area of a gas station at Milwaukee and Howard around 3 a.m. Tuesday. He followed the brown convertible Ford for some distance, he said, finally observing it to turn into the Maine Medical Center lot.

At this time he notified Police Headquarters by radio that he had a suspicious vehicle under observation.

Officers James Olbrisch, William Ortlund and Daniel Halley, summoned to the scene, went to the rear of the Center. As one of the suspects was observed to break a window, preparatory to entering, Sgt. Stanley Sosnowski came upon the scene and police officers moved in to apprehend the four men.

Three of the suspects were taken into custody immediately. The fourth, Bernard Ewig, escaped over the hood of a car, apparently taking refuge nearby.

As Sgt. Sosnowski toured the neighborhood in search of the escapee, he noted a man in the 8100 block of Milwaukee who fit the description of the escapee and took him, shivering with the cold, into custody.

All four men, said Niles police, signed a waiver of rights, admitting they were in the process of burglary.

A rented room in a 2-story brick building in the 5900 block of Lincoln ave. in Morton Grove was entered on Jan. 14, resulting in a loss of a 16 inch Zenith color television and $1,000 in currency.

According to a boarder at the house, two men, 24 to 26 years of age, came into the building Tuesday afternoon, engaging in conversation with the boarder. The men claimed to be relatives of the owner of the house. The boarder left to walk his dog and upon his return found the lock to his room had been broken by a pry-type of tool. The two men were gone and so were the television and money.

Home burglarized for jewelry, cash
Thieves entered a 2 story, bi-level home on Enfield ave. in Morton Grove Jan. 10, taking jewelry and cash and passing up appliances, liquors, cameras and power tools.

Morton Grove police said that the home was forcibly entered during daytime hours by means of a pipewrench-type tool used on the front door.

Attempted entry to the home was also observed by tool-marks on the basement door, which is equipped with two security devices.

Both husband and wife were away at work at the time of the burglary.

After gaining entry, said police, the offenders conducted a limited search of the house, ransacking drawers and closets in the master bedroom. Latent fingerprints were taken from an electric time control.

Neighbors reported nothing unusual or suspicious in the area at the time.

An estimate of loss was not available pending inventory by the owner.

Tax News

Military pay not taxed on Illinois return

This is the fourth in a series of articles on ways you can save money on your Illinois State Income Tax return this year. The articles are written by H & R Block, America's Largest Tax Service.

Military pay and allowances, earned while a resident of Illinois for active duty or annual training are not subject to Illinois income tax. Servicemen who were residents of Illinois at the time they entered the service do not cease to be residents of Illinois solely because of their assignment elsewhere under military orders.

A man domiciled (a resident of) Illinois enters active duty in the Armed Forces and is sent to Texas for duty. Money paid to him by the military while in Texas is not taxed in Illinois. However, any other income is still subject to Illinois Income Tax as long as he remains an Illinois resident. Should he work an off duty job in Texas, his income from that job would be taxable to Illinois.

Although military pay is reported with other income, it is subtracted from the total income reported on the IL-1040.

Active duty or annual training includes duty in U.S. Armed Forces, U.S. Armed Forces Reserves or National Guard, service by U.S. Army Reserves and National Guard during national emergency, and time spent in Reserve Units or Illinois National Guard Annual Training.

Time spent at weekly or monthly Reserve or National Guard Unit Training meetings is not considered active duty.

Military pay earned while a non-resident is not subject to Illinois income tax. A non-resident serviceman claims the adjustment on Schedule NR of IL-1040. If a resident of another state is stationed in Illinois and his or her income is Military Pay and allowances then it is probably not necessary to bother filing an Illinois return. A part-year resident serviceman subtracts on line 4d of IL-1040 the amount of Military pay earned while a resident.

NEXT: Computing Illinois Income Tax.

Achieving high academic averages were: Rhonda Sue Talent, 7300 Lowell, Lincolnwood; and Richard Jay Beckman, 8544 Lillibet terr., Morton Grove. Both are straight-A students.

District 207's tuition-free summer school program

District 207's 1974 Summer School Program, operating on an experimental basis as a tuition-free program, was highly successful, according to a report given by the summer school directors of the Maine Township High Schools to the Board of Education at its Jan. 13 meeting. Enrollment increased 73%, with 5,701 students attending the 1974 summer school against 3,293 the previous year.

"The fact that students could, for the first time, attend summer school without paying tuition was a significant factor, we believe, in this sizable enrollment jump," Robert Simonson, Maine South summer school director, told Board members. While the Maine High Schools traditionally have had a strong summer program with high enrollments, the past few years had seen a marked drop in the number of students signing up for summer courses. The 1974 enrollment raised that number to the previous level.

Funding for the 1974 summer school operation came largely from the State of Illinois which now provides financial support for such programs based on the hours of student attendance. In general, such programs are eligible for state reimbursement on the basis of aggregate clock hours of student attendance if the classes meet a minimum of 60 clock hours, and are the same course that are offered during the regular school year.

A study made last spring indicated that District 207 met state requirements for reimbursement and that a summer session could be offered at no cost to resident students. At its March 25, 1974, meeting the Board unanimously approved operating the 1974 summer school program, tuition-free, for one year as an experimental program, and agreed to subsidize the program up to $10,000, if funds were needed.

The question of attendance had been important since the state reimbursement was based on clock hours of student attendance. There had been some concern that students, having little or no financial commitment under a non-tuition program, would be somewhat irregular in attendance, resulting in less reimbursement. However, it was found that such concern was unnecessary, and that attendance was 95%, the approximate attendance rate in summer school over the past several years.

The 1974 summer program increased the number of course offerings to 124 from 96 offered in 1973. The number of faculty members employed for summer school was increased from 122 in 1973 to 164 in 1974.

Mr. Simonson pointed out that the broad curriculum is needed to meet the varied needs of students. While some attend summer school for make-up credits, many others enroll in an attempt to accelerate or take courses they are unable to fit into their regular school-year schedule. Still others, he said, take course for personal enrichment, such as courses in music, art, crafts, personal typing, photography; special interest courses, such as industrial arts courses, drama workshop, Driver's Education, and sports programs.

Eldon Burk, Maine West's summer school director, reported on 1974 summer school finances. Although the program had been underwritten by the Board up to $10,000, the money had not been needed, he said. State reimbursements, along with registration fee of $2, fees for field trips, plus tuition paid by out-of-district students brought in $242,618.04, while expenses for the program—including salaries for teachers, and cost of equipment, utilities, supplies, and secretarial, custodial and administrative services, and field trip expenses—amounted to $240,645.26, leaving a balance of $1,972.78.

At the close of the report by the summer school directors, the Board voted to continue the non-tuition summer program for the summer of 1975.

Dr. Pinto to speak at Dist. #207 January 27

OCC holds first Leadership Workshop

Dr. Edward C. Pino, founder and president of the International Graduate School of Education, Denver, Colorado, will be the main speaker at the opening session of the Cook County Teachers' Institute to be held on Jan. 27 for the professional staff of the Maine Township High Schools. Dr. Pino will speak to the district faculty at 8:30 a.m. in the Maine East auditorium and has chosen as his topic, "Humanizing Education in the Classroom".

An educator of national renown Dr. Pino has pioneered and fostered such concepts as team teaching, nongrading, multi-age grouping, variable scheduling, and open space arrangement. He is an acknowledged authority and innovator in such areas as school facilities, personnel, curriculum, instruction, program evaluation and management designs. He now is turning his energies toward the improvement of teacher competency.

Twelve Oakton Community College students and three community members attended a Leadership Methods Workshop on the Oakton campus recently.

The purpose of the workshop was to aid participants in identifying characteristics of effective leadership functions, according to Thelma Parker, assistant professor of student development, who led the session.

Ms. Parker said she introduced the five basic leadership styles--team, one-man rule, country club, seesaw and burned out--and then evaluated how each type meets the two functions of leadership: accomplishing a task and meeting the needs of individuals in a group.

The Institute Day Planning Committee included Helen Dobbin, John J. Clouser, and Gerald Hug of Maine East; Dr. Clyde K. Watson, Lucille Wright and Thomas Beard of Maine South; Robert A. Wells, Judith Jones and Thomas Oliver of Maine North; James L. Coburn, Karen Pfleiderer and John Wood of St. Ann's; and Dr. Michael J. Myers, Assistant Superintendent of Schools. The Teachers' Institute is held under the auspices of Richard J. Marwick, Superintendent of Schools, Office of Educational Service Region of Cook County, Illinois.

Team leadership, she said, is ideal because it fulfills both functions while the other leadership forms fulfill only one or often none of the functions.

Two-thirds of those who attended the workshop were women who planned to apply their new skills to their jobs, schoolwork and volunteer activities, Ms. Parker said. About half the participants intended to gain skills to aid in their responsibilities in student activities, the other half for personal reasons, she added.

The Teachers' Institute, in which Dr. Pino will participate, will be a day-long in-service

Speech therapist on M E staff

Yes, Virginia, there is a speech, language, and hearing therapist at Maine East. Mrs. Barbara Hahn is her name, and she also teaches at Maine North.

Mrs. Hahn described the problems that students have as falling into four categories: (1) articulation - mispronouncing specific sounds, (2) voice - raspy, harsh, too soft, etc., (3) fluency - speech doesn't flow smoothly and (4) language - difficulty expressing ideas.

According to Mrs. Hahn, there are three types of students. One student may realize he has a speech problem but feels embarrassed in speaking situations, so he avoids all speaking situations -- even speech therapy. Another student may be aware of his problem but does not let it interfere with his participation in speaking situations. The third type of student is aware of his problem and seeks help.

Mrs. Hahn received training in speech and language therapy and teaching physically and educationally handicapped children at Indiana State Teachers college. She received her Master's Degree in audiology from the University of Illinois. After graduating from college, Mrs. Hahn taught multiply-handicapped children for three years in Cincinnati, Ohio. Then for 8 and 1/2 years she taught speech and language therapy in elementary schools in Illinois. For the past five years Mrs. Hahn has been helping students at Maine East and Maine North who have speech, language, and hearing problems.

Mrs. Hahn is at Maine East on Mondays and Wednesdays all day and on Fridays from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Students who feel that they could benefit from her help may make an appointment.

OK $2,500 study for new #63 Administration Building

At School District 63's board meeting Tuesday night a $2,500 feasibility study was approved for the construction of a building and the renovation of the Ballard School building.

Superintendent Gogo explained there were four areas which the study would include:

- It would study the costs and problems for a new building for an educational service center on a site now owned by the school district. The euphemistic name really means for a new administration building for the district.
- A second study area is modifying the present Ballard School for increased student use.
- A third study area would be to add on an addition to Ballard School for an "educational wing".
- Lastly, the study would review converting the Ballard School for an administration building plus a warehouse and a vehicle building. An architect will be hired to undertake the study.

thru state agencies, namely the Illinois Dept. of Conservation. Reimbursement to park districts are based on a 50% allowance on estimates or appraisals of the open land sites.

Re-applications must be filed prior to Feb. 7, 1975, to be considered in the fiscal year 1976 by state and federal agencies. The three land sites purchased by the Niles Park District and specified for reimbursement are: Golf Mill Park, $325,000; Tam O'Shanter Golf Course, $420,000; and Triangle Park, $75,000. The remaining two sites, Greenwood Park and Shermer Park, are sought for purchase and are projected for 50% reimbursement under the total federal grant.

As liaison to the Maine-Niles Association of Recreation for the Handicapped, Park Comr. Millie Jones reported a dire need of recreational funds for the handicapped. The park districts who are members of the M-NARH have all considered various methods of raising funds she said. State machinery has been set in motion for consideration of a recreational tax levy without referendum, according to Comr. Jones. In the event that state consideration fails, member park districts will go to referendum April 15 asking for a .02% tax.

Park commissioners balked at what they considered an excessive tax for recreational funds for the handicapped. The tax realized from Niles alone, said Comr. Beusse, was large enough to support a Niles program for the handicapped. The amount of tax requested, according to Beusse, could spell defeat for the tax referendum.

In other action — ... Park commissioners approved a 5-day, $90 per course tuition, plus expenses, to the Revenue Sources Management School in West Virginia for attendance by Park Director Bill Hughes and the Director of Recreation, Comrs. Keener and Leske dissenting.

Commissioners were advised that 4 applications had been received for the position of park business manager, vacated Dec. 24.

Comr. Leske asked that a $30,000 proposal for park equipment, including the new parks, be implemented into a bid, for presentation at the February board meeting.

Philip Yapp was appointed as new Recreation Supervisor at Grennan Heights Rec Center, beginning Jan. 7.

Seven candidates have announced their intention for the two upcoming vacancies on the Park Board: Murray Gordon, Dan Kosiba, Steve Chameriski, Carol Chameriski, Jeff Arnold, August Pucinski and Robert Romano, Jr.

Don Ferguson, past president and board member of the Niles Baseball League, displayed an attractive plaque to the park commissioners Tuesday night, crediting the Niles Days Committee for monies ($14,500) allocated for lighting, including labor and materials, at Jozwiak Park. Park commissioners approved his request to set a plaque, each, at the 1st and 3rd base side of the lighting project.

Lawrencewood area could have been purchased around 1960 for about $400,000. Last year an area one-tenth the size went for $600,000.

Keith's and Jack Leske's ascendancy to the park board turned the district around and led it into the successful sixties when the major improvements in the district took place. Children in the many decades ahead will have first class facilities in the community because men like Jack and Keith devoted hundreds of evenings to the public interest.

When Keith moved up to the village board he was often the lone dissenting voice on the board. If Keith wasn't sure of an issue or an action he would never "go along" and vote in favor.

Peck was a part of a small band of residents who joined with Ken Scheel in turning the village around. He and Len Szymanski and other renegades from Kirk Lane worked for months in 1960-61 to end the 20-year regime of the old administration, again banging on doors and devoting a great many hours away from home in order that Niles might be a better place to live.

In 1963 when Niles was selected an All America City it was really a lot of hokey. Most of Niles sits in front of its TV sets most nights. There's only a handful of Keith Pecks who get out and do the grinding work which turns a community around. When awards are given it's the unassuming, unknowns, such as Peck, who should receive the recognition.

In past years we used to breakfast every morning at Booby's. And while the bull and banter was loud and laughable I jokingly became the smooth house defender of the Pecks and the Leskes. The sharp, smooth politicians were the sophisticates who were getting most of the ink and the plaudits, while the more gentle Keith Pecks were looked upon as somewhat square. While the smooth guys would trade lies at the local bars, the square guys were looked upon as somewhat "out of it".

The car Keith drives isn't flashy. It's a well-worn station wagon, which moves 70 miles a day when Keith takes the family on a whirlwind Alaska "vacation". He doesn't sun at Acapulco, or cruise around the Bahamas. But his kids can tell you a great deal of this country which they've viewed from pup tents, atop mountains, or while fishing in a Colorado stream. And while the "booze and broad" crowd may be having its kicks, Keith can be found doing his thing as a teacher in his church or in the square dance group which he helped to build.

Keith isn't a Seagrams Seven kind of a guy. He's more apple cider and donuts. His suits don't wear $250 tradenames and he wouldn't be impressed if they did.

Nick Blase summed up Keith at last week's meeting. He used the word "integrity" to describe what Keith is all about. He is what the churches and the synagogues have been preaching about all these many years. And he's what the term All America is all about.

Keith's family is lucky to have him. And Niles and the rest of the world are a little better because the Keith Pecks of the world have passed their way.

"undue noise" or "obtrusiveness to impede proceedings," the letter said.

Garland protested "the impropriety of seeking another opinion without advising the board at the time the board decided to seek its own legal opinion."

Glink also cited a New York state Supreme Court opinion saying, "The legislative process shouldn't be turned into a show where portions of tape recorded material can be played on radio or television between the trumpeters of modern merchandising expounding, the virtues of toothpaste, cigars, soap powder, or the mellowness of a new beer. "It is essential that a legislative body have the right to regulate its own halls in the same manner as a judge must control the conduct of his courtroom," the opinion said. Minkus opposed Moch's motion, he said, because "I don't think that it provides sufficient safeguards. Uncontrolled use of tape recorders," he said, might lead to "improper use." Restricting their use, he said, "doesn't infringe on students or the press."

Garland, citing Glink's opinion, said that to prevent tape recordings would constitute "no violation of due process."

Gibbs said there was no previous board policy on the matter of tape recordings by members of the audience or the press.

a badly needed new fire station and my being in the forefront of attempts to obtain low rent senior citizen housing, I wouldn't change any vote I have made," said Ashman.

Ashman was particularly proud of his one year chairmanship of the Village Finance Committee where "we were able to absorb all of the recent inflationary increases in costs, including an 8% pay raise to employees, plus purchase of new police equipment and public service equipment plus pay the bills for the new fire station plus hire a full time code enforcement officer—all without asking the Morton Grove taxpayer to pay any additional real estate taxes."
