21 year old Chicagoan hangs himself in Niles police cell

Twenty-one year old Gerald Giraldi, 2814 N. Kedzie, Chicago, was found hanging from a pair of levis in a Niles police cell Tuesday morning, May 27 at 1:30 a.m. According to Niles police, he was found during the hourly lock-up check. It was about 20 minutes later than the normal 60 minute check.

Police officials said Giraldi probably tied the levis to the bars of the cell and then jumped off his bed and was strangled. They said his neck was not broken.

Giraldi had been picked up by Niles police after Robert Schuller, 6978 Cleveland, reported Giraldi brandished a gun at him when he drove alongside Giraldi's car at the stoplight at Harts Rd. and Milwaukee Avenue Monday afternoon, May 26. It was reported Giraldi started yelling at Schuller while the cars were alongside each other, and then he brandished the gun which Niles police said was a replica of a 357 colt magnum gun.

After Schuller reported the license number of the car to police, Giraldi's car was noted weaving erratically in and out of traffic in the vicinity of Maryland and Milwaukee.

Giraldi was placed in a cell "to regain his faculties" according to police lieutenant Frank Stankowitz. He said Giraldi was confused and unsure of his speech when he was in the station. Giraldi tried to obtain the drug tablets which were confiscated from him and he was pushed to the floor when he grabbed a policeman's arm in the station.

The prisoner was booked for aggravated assault, driving under the influence of intoxicants and We've written many times about the differences between a local suburban weekly newspaper and the larger metropolitan papers which come into the area from the outside. The large metros can't possibly cover the news in each of the many suburbs which rim the city. They can only skim the top. They do their best work on features which are more compatible with their operations. Reporting the many local happenings which occur weekly is beyond their ken, so they wisely do a different kind of job than local-at-home weekly newspapers.

This week we have a story about a young man who hung himself in the Niles jail. Since no other newspaper has the story, it lends credence to what we mentioned about a local newspaper covering a local story. The reason neither The Trib nor the Field supplement have the story (nor any other suburban weekly newspaper) is because The Bugle has long been a local newspaper. A telephone caller alerted us to the story. He called because he knew The Bugle reports all the news in the community. This never-ending battle to give local residents all the local news is what has long separated The Bugle from the other newspapers in the area. Only through this continuous rapport with its readers can a local newspaper do the job it is expected to do.

Since the name of the game is "reporting", we did a bit of comparative shopping two weeks ago and would like to report the results. Since we constantly read about the "low prices" at the chain grocery stores, we thought it would be a worthwhile service to our readers to check the larger chain stores. Since our aim is not to enhance any one store's image, we will only report those stores whose prices are higher than the lowest prices we observed.

At the Jewel store in the Four Flags center, they were 45 cents higher on 18 items as compared to the prices in the Police nab teen suspect in thefts

Alertness of a Niles resident and a series of early Sunday morning thefts from cars parked overnight on Niles streets and driveways led to the apprehension by Niles police of a teen suspect and to the recovery of $2,000 to $2,500 in stolen property late Monday afternoon, May 26.

A 15-year-old Niles teen allegedly suspected of involvement in the thefts was taken into custody following a two-day police surveillance of his residence.

Police said a neighbor in the area had noted a group of tires left under the trees in his backyard. He left them there and notified the police department.

Upon police investigation the tires were marked with an identifying substance, which led to the apprehension of the teen when he came to move the tires, said police.

A search of the premises revealed apparently stolen property of tools, tires and radios which, the teen maintained, he "was holding" for another 19 year old male. Niles police theorize there may be at least 3 other youths involved.

Other merchandise taken in thefts around Niles has surfaced since the apprehension of the 15-year-old, said police. "People are coming in to claim their property as though we have a swinging door."

Numerous thefts of tires, rims and radios had been reported, early Sunday morning, May 25, alerting Niles police to the possibility of a theft ring. One car, a 1975 Camaro had been jacked up and all four tires and wheels taken. Other property of tape players, radios, etc., was removed from cars by use of a wire on car windows.

The case is still under investigation, said a spokesman for the Niles police department.

Dial for help at home

Dialing UN4-4000 still brings help at home in Evanston. The old Evanston Police Department telephone number is now the number of Help At Home of Evanston, Inc., a new home health service.

The new Evanston home health service has offices at 1604 Chicago ave. The primary purpose of this private organization is to promote home care services for the elderly as an alternative to nursing homes. This new form of home health services is particularly appropriate in the light of the recent shocking news stories about nursing homes.

Home health care is not a new concept, but the president of Help At Home, Lou Gold, of Niles, plans to bring a vigorous pursuit of professionalism and sophistication to the field. Recently, at a conference of home care specialists, Mr. Gold stated: "The only alternative to nursing homes has been family care. With the decline of the well-knit family unit since World War II, there has been no viable alternative to nursing homes. As a result, the nursing home has been overused; and it is frequently no more than a dumping ground for our aged. The home care industry must now offer new alternatives."

In addition to care for the aged, Help At Home provides the whole Chicago area with home health aides, nurses, shut-in shoppers, mother substitutes, companions, and housekeepers. Volunteers are welcome. Call UN4-4000.

Sports Complex Burglary

Burglars netted $50 in cash, a drill and a tool box with assorted tools and sockets valued at $240, last weekend, from the Ballard Sports Complex, 8435 Ballard Rd.

Ken Sipora, manager of the Niles Park District Complex, told police that the building was secured after a garage sale held over the weekend. On the following Tuesday, May 27, he said, he found the rear door to the Complex ajar, although in a locked position. The currency was taken from a top desk drawer in the office.

NILES ALL AMERICAN SENIOR CLUB

May 27 the weatherman really cooperated with us after all that rain. The day was beautiful for our trip to Milwaukee. Many of the new members wanted to see the Mitchell Gardens so we started out there and the flowers were in full bloom - you just can't picture the riot of color unless you have seen the gardens. I think our group of garden lovers would have bought them out, but all the visitors ahead of us took care of that already.

From there to the Millers Brewery for a tour and some sampling in their spanking new Hospitality Room. They really aim to please. Some people sampled all three beers they were serving. (Those of us that don't care for beer really were thirsty watching them drink some of that cool brew.) All too soon we had to leave for our lunch which took us to "Pieces of Eight", a restaurant right on Lake Michigan where we dined overlooking the lake. They have aquariums along the walls and all sorts of sea shells hanging from ceiling to floor and they say when it is lit up at night it is really a sight to see, even from the boats out in the water. Mike Wekony couldn't resist the fisherman along the shore and had to inquire about the fishing. Their food was delicious and they have a terrific dinner menu, so it is worth seeing when you visit up there.

Our last but not least stop was their Washington Park Senior Center, and everybody went in all directions - there was so much to see. We first went to their arts and crafts shop, talking to their instructor Florence Porter and getting some patterns for their crafts! Our tour guide, Mrs. Charlotte Siegel, explained the Center is built where the old Milwaukee Zoo used to be; she showed us the gardens where a family of ducks has been living for three years and it was cute - a mother and 11 babies, not a bit afraid of all the people! They take the retired at 55 and all other seniors 60 and over. The place is immense and holds a work shop with a jig saw, routers, lathes, drills and all kinds of machinery and they are supposed to close at 3 but people still stay on and work. They also have shuffleboard, a bridge room with 16 tables going (I envied that), pinochle and poker room with about 50 people very busy (would have liked to join them too). They also have dancing with a professional teacher, and an auditorium that is huge with a stage for theater, and hundreds of seats. That place is really something to see, but as I was reminded they have 95 parks and serve 3/4 of a million people and we would say they do it well. Another wonderful trip - can't wait for the next one!

I think our group of garden lovers would have bought them out, but all the visitors ahead of us took care of that already.

From there to the Millers Brewery for a tour and some sampling in their spanking new Hospitality Room. They really aim to please. Some people sampled all three beers they were serving. (Those of us that don't care for beer really were thirsty watching them drink some of that cool brew.) All too soon we had to leave for our lunch which took us to "Pieces of Eight", a restaurant right on Lake Michigan where we dined overlooking the lake. They have aquariums along the walls and all sorts of sea shells hanging from ceiling to floor and they say when it is lit up at night it is really a sight to see, even from the boats out in the water. Mike Wekony couldn't resist the fisherman along the shore and had to inquire about the fishing. Their food was delicious and they have a terrific dinner menu, so it is worth seeing when you visit up there.

Our last but not least stop was their Washington Park Senior Center, and everybody went in all directions - there was so much to see. We spent most of the afternoon in their arts and crafts shop, talking to their instructor Florence Porter and getting some patterns for their crafts! Our tour guide, Mrs. Charlotte Siegel, explained the Center is built where the old Milwaukee Zoo used to be; she showed us the gardens where a family of ducks has been living for three years and it was cute - a mother and 11 babies, not a bit afraid of all the people! They take the retired at 55 and all other seniors 60 and over. The place is immense and holds a work shop with a jig saw, routers, lathes, drills and all kinds of machinery and they are supposed to close at 3 but people still stay on and work. They also have shuffleboard, a bridge room with 16 tables going (I envied that), pinochle and poker room with about 50 people very busy (would have liked to join them too). They also have dancing with a professional teacher, an auditorium that is huge with a stage for theater, and hundreds of seats. That place is really something to see, but as I was reminded they have 95 parks and serve 3/4 of a million people and we would say they do it well. Another wonderful trip - can't wait for the next one!

Learn-to-Swim

Want to relax and escape the feelings of tension that have been haunting you lately? Tired of sitting on the shore while the rest of the group go skin diving? Afraid that you may respond like a rock if you should accidentally fall overboard?

The Y is launching a five-day Learn-To-Swim program on June 16, with enrollment open to young and old alike. The goal is to "waterproof" every family in the community.

Using the most modern teaching techniques, the Y course enables most people to swim safely twenty-five feet after 5 days and usually spurs them to go on to more advanced instruction.

With more and more people taking to the water--especially in all kinds of boats--the need for every member of the family to be water-proofed becomes increasingly important. Recent statistics indicate that drowning is now the third leading cause of accidental deaths in the United States and two-thirds of the victims didn't know how to swim.

Even those who never contemplate going near a boat should learn to swim. Drownings occur everywhere--at home, at work, in car accidents, as well as in recreational activities.

Swimming itself can be sheer fun for the whole family; there is a wide range of other enjoyable physical activities open to swimmers. Aside from all kinds of boating, including fishing from a boat, they include skin and SCUBA diving, water skiing and others.

Males, at present, seem more vulnerable to drowning than females. Statistics indicate that 85% of all victims are males.

Both sexes, however, can be healthier if they swim often. Swimming is acknowledged as being one of the best forms of exercise known and is particularly valuable for cardiovascular and respiratory conditioning. There is probably no better way to relax, to literally wash away feelings of stress and tension, than to go swimming. And best of all, there's no age limit on swimming. It is an activity that can be started early in life and continued late in life.

The Y's Learn-To-Swim program is open to all non-swimmers, both young and old. Adult classes: 8:45 and 9:30 a.m.; 8-10 yr. olds, 10:15 a.m.; 11-15 yr. olds, 11 a.m. Registration is open now to Assox members; LTYMCA members may register beginning June 9. Call the Y for additional information, 647-8222.

YMCA Tension Control Class

Beginning the week of June 23, the Leaning Tower YMCA will offer a class in Tension Control during the summer session.

Tension Control is a class for men and women, designed to teach them how to recognize the signs of nervous tension and immediately utilize techniques of relaxation. The techniques used in the class have been developed by Dr. Edmund Jacobson, noted physiologist and M.D. The instructor of the course was trained in Dr. Jacobson's methods of Progressive Neuromuscular Relaxation.

The following are a few of the basic assumptions of tension control:

*Habitual muscle tensions give rise to nerve impulses, which may go unnoticed by an individual.

*People can learn to increase their sensitivity to, or awareness of, these tensions.

*At this point, a person can consciously reduce tension in any or all muscles at will.

Research by Dr. Jacobson and others, has linked the ability to relax muscles with a lowering of blood pressure, energy conservation, improved sleep, and a general relaxing of the digestive organs.

Besides learning to relax all muscles, a person can learn to regulate tensions while active in daily affairs, thus developing a more effective use of muscular energies.

The ability to relax is a skill and can be learned through this

Pre-retirement discussion series continues

Niles citizens and visitors interested in pre-retirement heard Dr. Thomas Jauch, a well-known psychologist, discuss self-actualization last Wednesday evening, May 28, at Trident Community Center. Self-actualization, Dr. Jauch explained, means personal growth and taking personal responsibility. Dr. Jauch is director of the Northwest Human Resources Development Center in Rolling Meadows.

Participants explored the psychological aspects of aging and the growth process—how feelings, relationships and roles change with time.

Sponsored by the Niles Family Service and the Senior Citizens Center, pre-retirement discussions are part of a ten week series. Problems related to social security were discussed on Wednesday, June 4 by Mr. Franklin Jacobs, Field Representative with the Social Security Administration, 770 Lee St., Des Plaines.

Succeeding weekly meetings on Wednesday evenings will feature subjects on physical health, housing, banking, legal and financial problems, and other related subjects.

All Niles and non-Niles residents over age 40 are invited to attend and participate. The series is coordinated by Paul Kliger, ACSW, a social worker experienced in preventive and educational mental health workshops.

2 Niles women injured in crash

Two Niles women were hospitalized Sunday following a four-car accident at Dempster and Grace in Niles.

Injured were Marsha Sebastian, 23, of 9020 Washington St. with lower back and neck injuries and Mary Pate, 22, of 8424 Oak, with rib injuries and facial lacerations. Both women were taken to Lutheran General Hospital by Niles ambulance.

Gail Garrity, 21, of 9346C Noel in Des Plaines was ticketed with failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident.

Police said a 1968 Mercedes driven by Richard Flanagan, 17, of Park Ridge, westbound on Dempster, was stopped at Grace behind another car making a left hand turn.

A Volkswagen driven by Mary Pate was eastbound waiting to make a left turn on north Grace, said police. Behind her was Marsha Sebastian in a 1972 Plymouth.

The Garrity car was eastbound in the center lane of Dempster approaching Grace when the two cars in front of her stopped. She was unable to stop, she said, striking the car in front of her, causing a chain-type collision.

The driver of the car turning left was confused and apparently stepped on the accelerator, striking the Flanagan car headon, according to police reports.

Gibaldi's father, a Park Ridge resident, said he had made plans for admitting his son to a sanitarium the following day. Niles police had booked the younger Gibaldi for being under the influence of intoxicants (narcotics) and reported he had 25mg tablets of ibrim in his possession when arrested.

lowest-priced store. The National store in Golf Mill was 52 cents higher and Kohl's store on Golf road was 98 cents higher. Using the initial of each store, we found J and N 4 cents higher and K 3 cent higher on Del Monte sliced pears. On a 46 ounce can of tomato juice, N was 6 cents lower. A 16 ounce can of Heinz vegetarian beans was 4 cents higher at J and K and 10 cents higher at N. French's mustard was 2 cents higher at K; Heinz 26 ounce bottle of catsup was 3 cents higher at all 3 stores. Campbell's 10 1/2 ounce can of tomato soup was 1 cent higher at the 3 chains. A 12 ounce bottle of Log Cabin syrup was 2 cents higher at J and K and 5 cents higher at N. A 48 ounce bottle of Wesson's oil was 10 cents higher at J and N and 40 cents higher at K. Kellogg's Corn Flakes was 1 cent less at K, but 8 cents higher for frosted flakes and 5 cents higher for mini-wheats. N was 2 cents less for frosted flakes but 5 cents higher for mini-wheats. Nine ounces of Jay's potato chips were up 2 cents at J and N and 1 cent at K.

The 18 items cost $12.85 at the lowest-priced store, 45 cents less than Jewel, 52 cents less than National and 98 cents less than Kohl's. Percentagewise that came to 3.8% more at Jewel, 4% more at National and 8% more at Kohl's. If the whopping 40 cents more for Wesson's oil was deducted at Kohl's, their prices would still be 56 cents higher than the lowest-priced store.

The comparative shopping took place Wednesday evening, May 21.

Another reason why a local newspaper can do a much better job locally is because we live, eat, sleep and bicycle in the community. Can you imagine Clayton Kilpatrick or Marshall Field the 15th or 20th or whatever he is, trying to peddle the news by cycling thru a community? Sunday morning we rode our daily 30 minutes thru Morton Grove and Niles and arrived home almost 3 hours later. Over on Oconto and Oakton, we spent a half-hour with one of our favorite Luxembourgiens, Mike Diebling and his wife, Annie. After admiring Mike's plantings which surround his backyard, Mike showed us his collection of Lionel model trains which are fascinating. He has an extensive collection of train engines which are a joy for boys of all ages.

Winding our way back through Niles we saw an old friend, George Leddy, who gave us a report on his 10 wonderkind, one who is in New Zealand and of his daughter Nancy, who married the boy next door and has made George a proud grandfather. Nancy, who used to work in the Niles Park District, came over and showed us that beautiful smile, and that equally beautiful baby and then told us how disappointed she was about the voters unresponsiveness at the last election. After a few hundred words with George about his having only 3 more years until retirement at Lane Tech and of his desire to travel after he retires, we continued on our Sunday morning report of "our" communities.

Crossing Dempster Street we met in mid-street with Dolores Nathanson, a teacher at Washington School and long associated with school district 63. After a bit of chatter about school happenings, we bicycled around the neighboring streets in pursuit of her honey-colored Cocker Spaniel which had taken a Sunday morning stroll. We had a few brief words with our backyard neighbor, Bobbie Weisman, who comes out of liberation during sunnier days and then we headed for home, sans Cocker Spaniel.

Such tidbits of local news is what local newspapering is all about. And as we asked before, can you imagine Marshall Field, the 23rd, or Lou Lerner, or Clayton Kilpatrick, or Bill Carroll, or Dick Wessell, or Bob Moore or Herman Herzog, climbing on their daughter's two-wheeler on a Sunday morning, and wheeling around the community to keep you abreast of the important happenings in your local town?

Opposes remap of 10th Cong. District

Dear Editor:
The North Suburban Chapter of the Independent Voters of Illinois is unequivocally opposed to Senate Bill 1250 (the Congressional remap) in any form.

We feel it is a blatant attempt to remove our Congressman, Abner J. Mikva, by gerrymandering the Tenth District. It also makes a mockery of the one man one vote principle established by the Supreme Court. The bill virtually disenfranchises many suburban voters by throwing them into Daley machine controlled Congressional districts.

Senate Bill 1250 is now in the House of Representatives of the General Assembly and we urge all of your readers to express their opposition to the bill to their representatives immediately.

Sincerely,
M. Connie Mortell, Chairperson
North Suburban Chapter IVI

District 63 taxpayer speaks up loud and clear

Dear Editor:
This letter is being written in the hope that someone will listen to the taxpayers of School District 63, which takes in the suburbs of Morton Grove, Glenview, Des Plaines and Niles.

Previous stories have appeared in many of the neighborhood papers regarding the "off again-on again" administration building. The board has decided to build a new administration building at the cost of $500 in an effort to relieve the overcrowded conditions at Nathanson School in Des Plaines. Instead of going directly to the problem at Nathanson and looking into mobile classrooms or moving out of their present administration offices at Ballard and renting temporary office space, the board has decided it needs and has money available to build a new building. The area we live in has enrollment at a steady decline with little or no new construction going on and in a few years many of our buildings will be half empty. The taxpayers were not allowed to vote on the release of a half million dollars. The plan was dropped to build a new building due to many, many parents opposing it, but when faced with the threat of shifting boundaries, taking children out of their present schools and busing them to new schools at the parents' expense, the parents gave in to the "blackmail" threat and the board is going ahead with their previous plans. We are told to believe that this new administration building is in the best interest of the students!

The second concern for the parents is the lunch program. Even though the school board has a half million dollars for a new building, they can't provide a lunch program or hire additional supervisors, so children may eat lunch in school. The board tells us parents that they just don't have any money available to hire additional help. The latest board proposal is that fifth and sixth graders cannot eat lunch in school. The board is telling us that in this day and age when newspaper boys are kidnapped in the early morning hours, children kidnapped on their way home from schools, and houses broken into in the middle of the day with occupants being murdered, the school board has deemed 10 and 11 year old children are responsible enough to come home and eat alone. Of course, in reality, what the board is saying is that unless you are the sole support of the household, you have no right to go out to work. With the economy the way it is today, many households need two working parents to make ends meet and our school board is telling us mothers don't have to work. This seems to me to be one giant step backwards for our school district.

Their reasoning for not allowing fifth and sixth graders to eat in school is that in addition to lack of funds for additional supervisors, they just don't have the facilities to allow the children to eat there. Many districts that do not have lunch rooms allow their children to eat in classrooms. Our children cannot eat in their rooms because (1) no funds for more supervisors, (2) the classrooms have just been carpeted and (3) if the children eat in rooms other than their own, they steal things from other children's desks. The board will deny reason (2) but my children have told me about children being yelled at for getting the rugs dirty and many classrooms are not allowed to use glue. (I have been there and have seen the children yelled at for this reason so I know this to be true.) Reason (3) is also not true because our school district employs the method of teaching whereby children go to different classrooms all day long for different subjects, so they have plenty of opportunity to steal at any time during the day. As far as carpeting the rooms, the board tells us to believe this, too, was in the best interest of the children! (The parents also had no voice on the expenditure of funds for carpeting!)

Then, of course, is the third reason for the lunch problem... the teachers don't want any children to be allowed to eat in school. This, too, we are told is in the best interest of the child! They will tell you that the teachers are there to educate the student and lunch is not their concern at all. They have more important problems to contend with. Our district has 1 hour and 5 minutes for lunch and when the teachers were faced with the possibility of having only 35 minutes (which according to law is all that is required) they threatened to sue the district. This is certainly showing a great deal of concern for the students. I am sure 90% of these teachers have children who eat lunch at school, the superintendent has 7 children, none of which attend school in our district, and all eat lunch in school!

The taxpayers of District 63 pay the teachers' salary, the superintendent's salary, etc., and yet we have no voice in what is going on concerning our children. We are being made to feel guilty because we have elected to work, we are terrible mothers whose only reason for working is to escape from our children... and meanwhile the board and administration are using our children as pawns to get what they want passed in the way of new buildings, etc., and telling us that all they are interested in is our children!

Sincerely,
Name withheld by request

Also concerned for rights of unborn

Dear Editor:
How terribly touching to read M. Provenzano's concern for the rights of the unborn... to read his shapody on the glories of parenthood... but, dear Michael Provenzano, how many of those babes born out of wedlock, unwanted, unloved and neglected have you personally seen ready, willing and able to accept the entire responsibility of raising and rearing for? How much of your time and effort (which you're so willing to stir others to a concern for infants with) have you devoted to protecting and restoring to the dignity of life the poor-wretched, aged, ill, troubled and unborn?

It's so darn easy to sit down and write a letter, or form a committee, but that poor woman (who was also assured the rights of legal protection) is faced with a long-term commitment alone - afraid - in need of financial aid too many times to gloss over the problem as a prophetic mission. Most of the time that mission is to the welfare office where her dignity and her child's are violated and abused.

Much better to put your good efforts and loud cry to providing a facility for those "unborn" babes once you've got them on earth which will care, train, feed, nurture and love them into maturity. So far, I've yet to see anything like this on the drawing-boards or in sub-committees. You're always pushing these babes back into the arms of the very woman who has agonized, searched and reached a decision to a problem that is a very personal (not public) one!

When she abdicates her responsibility, who is there to prop her up - you? Nope, sometimes it's the grandparents (hers, not his) and most times it's society. Dear M.P. and those of you (countless of followers) why not tour the juvenile courts and detention homes, why not work in some ghetto community project... and then, just maybe then, you'll understand why abortion laws came into being and exactly what and where they accomplish the inalienable right of the pursuit of life, liberty and happiness the constitution extends to both sexes!

As a human being I speak out to you... and ask you to turn around and help someone else... with a friend like you that unborn child doesn't need any enemies!

Virginia Bobbin

Concern for Catholic Clergy in Vietnam

Dear Editor:

In the course of recent human events, the political genocide of a few thousand innocent people in foreign countries has not been of great concern to most Americans. In our lifetimes we have seen Chinese babies caught on Japanese soldiers bayonets in China, the graves of 40,000 Polish Army Officers machine gunned by Russian soldiers and the atrocity of Lt. William Calley. Perhaps, when Hitler murdered 6 million Jews and 4 million other Europeans we became hardened to political genocide. I hope not. Today, I ask you to show your concern for the 10,000 Roman Catholic Clergy of South Vietnam.

In North Vietnam in 1954 and 1955 the Communists executed over 50,000 Catholics including most Priests, Nuns and Brothers who refused to renounce their religion. Many Priests were publicly beheaded to strike terror into the minds of the people. In all the years of the Vietnam War the Catholic villages were the particular target of the Viet Cong. The Communists know that to truly control Vietnam they must destroy the Catholic and Buddhist religions. They did this in North Vietnam and they will do the same thing in South Vietnam in time. The only thing we can do is to protect the lives of the Catholic and Buddhist Clergy.

I urge you to write Congressman Mikva and President Ford expressing your concern for the lives of South Vietnam's Catholic Clergy. Our political leaders can begin to create world public opinion by speaking out against a bloodpath in South Vietnam. They will speak out if you write them. Please help the Catholic Clergy of South Vietnam.

Thank you,
Thomas W. Flynn

Grateful to Niles Police

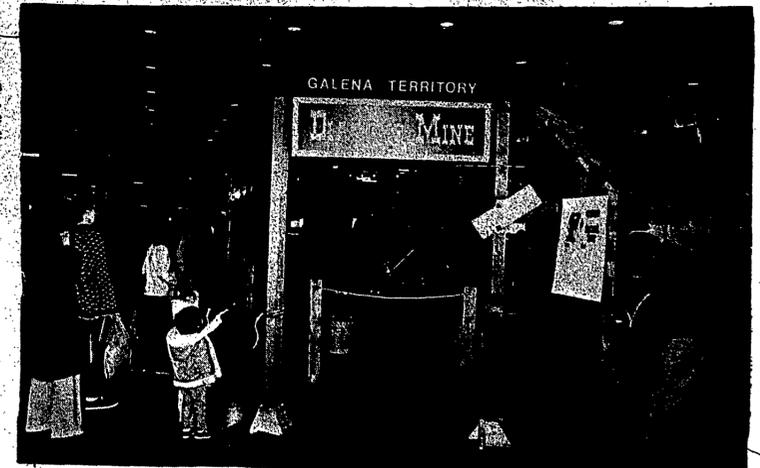

Dear Editor:

As a new resident of Niles, it was very disturbing to awaken one Saturday about a month ago and discover that my car had been burglarized. Missing were four hubcaps and a stereo tape player. While none of the items was expensive and the car was not damaged in any way, I did not relish the thought of heading into summer minus stereo music in my car. Since my insurance company does not cover add-on electronic devices under theft insurance, I had little hope of recovering my loss.

Thanks to the efforts of the Niles Police Department, my tape player was returned to me in good condition today. I would just like to express my personal gratitude to all the officers involved for returning my property and convincing me that I truly have moved into a nice, well-run community.

Yours truly,
Jim Selzer

the floor, carpeting, adding colorful new furniture, expanding the food and beverage services and remodeling the Pro Shop display case. All this has been done to make your golf outing more pleasurable. The Golf Course is now open seven days a week from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

[By Alice M. Bohula]
Tam Golf Course on Howard St. near Caldwell ave. is open and it's tee for two - or more, said Niles Park District's Bill Hughes.

Major improvements, following purchase of the 33 1/2 acres for $1.3 million under a successful 1973 Park referendum, have resulted in a pleasing club house atmosphere, said Hughes. The floor of the house has been raised, for better viewing, with a tiled lower level and carpeted upper section. Round tables and colorful fiberglass stacking chairs have a seating capacity for 36.

The new clubhouse is a little bigger than the Oakton Manor Park building and is located north of Howard and 1 block west of Caldwell. The original clubhouse and pool, in disrepair, stand on 8 1/2 acres of corner land at Howard and Caldwell, owned by Anderson and up for sale.

Cedar-lined walls and high beamed ceilings give the clubhouse a woodsy atmosphere. Glassed enclosures on the south wall, of former golf champions, hint at the former grandeur of the great Tam-O-Shanter Golf Course. There's Sam Snead, who won the 1946 Tournament of Champions for Championship of the World, and a copy of George S. May's check, dated August 14, 1955, for $50,000 to the winner of the World Champion Men's Pro. A food concession area in the northeast section of the clubhouse has been expanded to offer fresh foods (Bratwurst, Italian beef) as well as frozen foods. And popular beer sales will continue, said Hughes.

Future plans include year-round use: a cross country ski program, expanded recreation programs, and adult and senior citizen programs of cards, checks, etc. (The Niles Courtesy Bus stop is at the clubhouse gate.)

The rolling greens outside, as well as the entire course, are excellent in comparison with other courses in the area, observed Golf Course Manager Mike Walger. The reason for this, he said, is due to excellent maintenance by greenskeeper Dan Vargas for the past 10 years and because the course was once part of a privately owned golf course. Other employees include 3 full time maintenance men and 7 to 9 clubhouse employees.

Well-placed sandtraps, as well as a crossing of the course by the North Branch of the Chicago River in 3 places, make the course one of the more challenging 9-hole golf courses.

Future plans, noted Walger, include increased parking improvements and an expanded short concession on the 6th tee for golfers' enjoyment and improved roads and walkways.

Cost of improvements, including clubhouse, external improvements and outside lighting, range around $4,500, monies, according to Park Director Hughes, in an operating budget which contains revenue derived from Golf Course operations.

The golf course, in its 5th season of play, has increased every year from 28,000 rounds of golf played in 1972 to more than 40,000 rounds in 1974.

Revenue has increased from $98,000 in 1972 to $160,000 in 1974. So far, said Walger, the golf course has supported itself, but 50,000 rounds of golf play will put the course in profit range, with an ultimate projected planning for a play of 60,000 rounds.

The 9-hole course can be played in an average 2 hours, an advantage to many businessmen who enjoy golf but don't have more time to play. Only handicaps are used and no one is allowed on the course unless they are golfing.

Fees are reasonable, said Walger, and have not increased. Niles resident fees on weekdays are $2.75 and $3.25 on holidays; non-residents pay $3.50 and $4 respectively. Senior citizens and students (13-18 years) pay $1.50 (before 3 p.m.). Non-resident fee is $2.50.

Tam golfers come from the surrounding area of the industrial

Bicycle mechanics course

Here is a new program which will teach participants assembly, maintenance, adjustments, equipment, tools, and repair of bicycles. Also included will be information on starting a cycle club as well as local bicycle trips that can be taken.

Classes will be held on Monday nights at the Niles Park District Recreation Center, 7877 Milwaukee ave., beginning June 9, from 8 to 9 p.m. for ages 15 years old and over.

The cost for all 4 hours of expert instruction including all literature used in the course is only $2.50 for residents, $5 for non-residents.

Andrews receives MD degree

James L. Andrews received the Doctor of Medicine degree today from Washington University. He was among 127 so honored at the 114 commencement.

Dr. Andrews is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard S. Andrews, Morton Grove. He graduated from Notre Dame High School, Niles, in 1967 and received the B.S. degree from Loyola University, Chicago, in 1971.

On July 1, Dr. Andrews begins a family practice internship at St. Vincent's Hospital, University of Florida, Jacksonville, Florida.

Honor student

Stephen E. Lefebure, a 1974 graduate of Notre Dame H.S. in Niles, is one of 163 freshmen who achieved a straight "A" academic average during his first semester at the University of Illinois at Champaign. There were 6,244 beginning freshmen in the fall semester class, one of the largest freshmen classes to enter the University. The 163 students are 1 in 99 Illinois high schools and five are from out of state. A minimum of 14 hours of class work per week was required of each student.

The University of Illinois Mothers Association Book Award was presented recently to Notre Dame H.S. in recognition of its role in making the outstanding achievement possible of Lefebure. The book chosen to be put in the N.D.H.S. Library with a designed book plot for this award is "The Riverside Shakespeare." The project was established in 1964.

Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lefebure of 7104 N. Merrimac in Chicago.

Divorce Court field trip

A recent field trip to the Divorce Courts in the Civic Center fascinated many of the students in Mrs. Paula Mayfield's Psychology classes at Maine East.

Students were amazed that three out of every five marriages end in divorce, and many students have decided to "take a closer look" at the person they are now dating. Interestingly enough, all those interviewed thought a trip to the Civic Center to watch some divorce proceedings with a date or fiancée would be an excellent idea instead of rushing into marriage.

The students were also surprised to find out that a Conciliation Service is offered to help people try and find out the psychological reasons that make it hard for them to live together. This program is recommended by the divorce court judge for certain couples that he believes might be able to still work out their differences.

Mrs. Mayfield commented about the field trip by saying, "This type of field trip experience helps the student consider the serious nature of marriage before he or she takes the step towards marriage."

Leaning Tower coin show

Sunday, June 8, is the next date for the Chicago Coin Bourse at the Leaning Tower YMCA, 6300 W. Touhy. The bourse will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Seventeen experts will have exhibits on display and will be available to give free identification and appraisals on any coins, medals, tokens or paper money presented. Free admission and ample free parking.

OCC faculty member sings in recital

Gwen Fortune, a resident of Skokie and associate professor of social science at Oakton Community College, will present a recital of contemporary vocal music at Curtiss Hall, 10th floor of the Fine Arts Building, 410 S. Michigan ave., Chicago, on June 8 at 7:30 p.m.

The recital, sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church of Chicago and the Evanshore Presbyterian Church of Skokie, also includes piano music by Beethoven and Rachmaninoff performed by former Skokiean Dean Yoshioka.

Ms. Fortune, a soprano soloist, has studied at Juilliard School of Music and has had private vocal training for about ten years. She is a member of the Skokie Valley Concert Choir.

County Fair

An Old Fashioned Country Fair has been planned around the old Log Cabin at the Central United Methodist Church of Skokie for Saturday, June 14. This delightful day will include a giant flea market with exhibits of arts and crafts, antiques, collectibles and a bake sale. There will be refreshments served throughout the day and a country style roast beef dinner served outdoors in the evening. The events will begin at 8 a.m. at Kenton and Concord In. and continue throughout the day. Admission to the flea market will be 25 cents. Those wishing to enjoy the delicious country style roast beef dinner can purchase tickets at the door for $2.50. Proceeds from the events will be used to defray costs of renovation of the historic log cabin.

Maine East students tour Russia

Peter and Paul are more than just members of a folk group as five Maine East students learned after completing an "enrichment and learning" tour to the Soviet Union.

During the past spring vacation five Maine East students: Ross Bottner, Esther Chatter, Les Goldstein, John Nankervis, and Mark Weiss, along with Mr. Steven Stroud, the Maine East Russian Club sponsor and teacher, and his wife visited the Soviet Union.

First on the schedule was a stop in Helsinki, Finland. Most impressive were sights of the Olympic Stadium and the beautiful architecture of the Lutheran Church.

The next of a long list of events was an electric train ride into Leningrad. The train ride took one night and was anything but restful. "Visions of storm troopers appeared as customs officers banded on the doors at 3 a.m. The officers were really not that bad, but it was hard to wake up after having had no sleep for 36 hours," explained Mr. Stroud.

In Leningrad the students' sightseeing tour included the battleship Aurora, Cathedral of Spilled Blood, the pre-revolution stock exchange building, and the beautiful array of colors of St. Isaac's.

Also seen in Leningrad were the magnificent Peter and Paul Fortress Cathedral; the indescribable beauty of the Winter Palace of the Czars; the Hermitage, which is the art museum of the Winter Palace; the throne of Peter the Great; the Soviet Union mint, which is the only mint in the Soviet Union; and, lastly, the Leningrad City Hall.

Mr. Stroud and his five adventurous students while in Moscow visited such places as the Kremlin, St. Basil's Cathedral, Red Square, Lenin's Tomb, Moscow University, Lenin Stadium, the extremely large government department store GUM (for the Government Universal Store), and the beautiful building of the famous Soviet ballet troupe, the Bolshoi Theatre. However, despite the beautiful buildings, the most impressive sight was the Moscow Subway, which some describe as the most beautiful in the world. Although the subway was impressive, the Russian ice cream, which was enjoyed by all, will be remembered on the tips of all those tongues.

According to food authority Mark Weiss, "It was the only time in my life that I haven't been hungry between meals." Mark's idea of a school lunch is two sandwiches, two cartons of milk, two doughnuts, and one piece of cake.

The weather, however, wasn't quite as good as the food. At the start it was warm in Helsinki and Leningrad. But as the time went on, the weather took a change for the worse, and the warmth turned into rain and snow in Moscow. The trip ended with a snowstorm back in Helsinki, which almost kept the group in Finland.

Dimension 60 Attracts 800 Persons

"Coping Financially - Today and Tomorrow" the third in the CitizensBank Dimension 60 series of seminars for persons over 60 attracted an enthusiastic crowd of nearly 800 people on Tuesday, May 13.

The seminar, held in the Pickwick Theatre in Park Ridge, covered topics including taxes, Social Security, legal considerations for persons over 60, estate planning and the value of trusts. Moderator Gary A. Scott, CitizensBank Vice President of Marketing and Retail Banking, opened the seminar by pointing out that since its inception in Feb. 1974, Dimension 60 has grown to over 3200 members. Dimension 60, he said, has been recognized as a model program for the entire banking industry.

"Saving on Taxes for Persons over 60" was the topic of the first talk, given by David P. Hartman, CPA associated with B.P. McAndrew, Accountants. Hartman pointed out that there were several items every person over 60 must be acquainted with in order to save on taxes. These five are the changes for the 1975 tax laws, including the new low income allowance, filing requirements, and the 5% tax credit on new homes, the new upper earning limit allowed under Social Security laws; and the procedure for computing the tax basis of a home. Hartman's talk also covered the various methods of pension and profit sharing plan payouts, and ways to reduce taxes on these; and the 1975 tax rebates currently being distributed.

"Legal Considerations for Persons over 60" were discussed by Ronald M. Gilford, attorney and partner with Samuel A. Gilford & Company. Gilford stressed the importance of having a valid will, witnessed in proper fashion. If a person dies without a will, he said, the state distributes the assets of the estate. This means that the children will get 1/2 and the spouse 1/2; often, he pointed out, this is not how the deceased wanted the estate distributed; and often it works to the disadvantage of the family.

Condominium ownership was also covered in Gilford's talk. He reminded those at the seminar that a condominium is a unit of ownership, and that its purchase demands the same caution as buying a house. He told his listeners to do five things when entering a real estate contract: 1. Watch what you sign; 2. Retain legal counsel before signing any type of contract; 3. Check out your neighbors; 4. Find out all the hidden charges; 5. If you have any problems remember that the legal profession is becoming increasingly concerned with persons over 60.

The final speaker at the seminar was Stephen M. Totton, Vice President and Trust Officer of CitizensBank. "Financial Planning-Not Only for the Rich" was the theme of his speech, which covered estate planning, and why more and more Americans are finding it necessary to plan for the disposition of their estates.

Totton pointed out that estate taxes fall on the family when it most needs capital, and listed those things which are included in an estate for tax purposes. Among these are real estate, life insurance, jointly owned property, and annuities. Many people, he said, do not realize all these are taxable.

Among the ways to save on estate taxes is the setting up of a Trust, said Totton, who added that each individual can have as much control of a trust as desired. Trusts, Totton explained, can be revocable or irrevocable, funded or unfunded, lifetime or testamentary, simple or complex, temporary or covering generations. Totton then pointed out that "since most of us find we have a taxable estate, planning is necessary."

The seminar program concluded with a raffle of door prizes including food gift certificates, Citizens coin banks, and crystal salad bowls.

Concern about urban noise pollution is not a recent development, according to officials of the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation. They point out that ancient Rome placed restrictions on night-time chariot traffic as a noise abatement step.

children to be added in the fall. The Nathanson School burden, though alleviated, will require a double mobile unit be transferred from the Apollo School to Nathanson to aid the overcrowding. Gogo said the primary problem will be to house the lunch program which he contends will be much greater than at other District 63 schools. The added mobile area will increase the number of mobile units to 5 at Nathanson and will add 1,800 square feet at a cost of about $11,000 for steps, plumbing and general installation of the units.

The numbers game evolved upon whose figures were most accurate. The moving of the administration offices will open up the Ballard School. Gogo said 5 1/2 classrooms will be available and board member Larry Reiss thought 8 additional rooms would be more likely.

The superintendent then suggested 25 or 26 children from Stevenson School be transferred to Ballard and board members Deckowitz and Larson, in particular, objected to the traffic hazards in the area caused by new construction at the Ballard-Greenwood intersection. Administration officials suggested the children walk north to Church st. and east to Cumberland before moving south to the Ballard School. Deckowitz warned of the non-sidewalk area, the detouring cars on Church and the added hazards caused by the drive-in bank at Greenwood and the Sears Service Center which has trucks pulling in and out of the area during the critical school hours. Gogo said there are many non-sidewalk areas in the district, pointing to the Ballard st. area west of Greenwood. After much discussion board member Howard Lessin suggested parents who would desire their children remain in school over the lunch hour front the Stevenson-area be given the opportunity to volunteer for the transfer. Fifth and sixth grade children will be the first children considered to fill the 25 vacancies. In transferring the Stevenson children, Gogo said the space problem there is a minor one but presently the school had no music room. He projected enrollment there at 440.

In projecting future enrollment plans, Gogo said the recent court decision which prohibits public schools providing parochial schools with services may increase enrollment in the district, since it would increase tuition costs at the parochial schools. He noted Our Lady of Ransom School will increase tuition by 60% during the coming school year and there would be no kindergarten there.

In an ancillary action, Gogo said a report on enrollment, space, personnel, special education and finances will be completed July 1 which is aimed at projecting future plans and problems in the district. Howard Lessin has proposed a resolution which will be acted upon at a June 23-24 meeting asking the superintendent to prepare a comprehensive compilation of short and long range priorities, goals and objectives for the district. The expected "numbers" to be released in the July 1 report may answer many of the Lessin questions but the additional study is aimed at understanding where the district is heading.

At Tuesday night's meeting, which lasted from 6 p.m. to 2 a.m., Reiss pointed out the Nathanson School mobiles will be placed where a proposed permanent addition had been rejected because it was a poor location.
