Niles Days Committee eyes development of Dutchman's Point

(By Alice M. Bobula)

Excess funds from the 1976 Days meeting, for architectural development of a village-owned 1 1/2 acre area before presentation to the committee for vote. The time point is located at Waukegan rd. and Touhy ave. in south Niles.

Dutchman's Point, so named due to pioneer settlement of Germans ("Dutchmen") at Waukegan rd. and Milwaukee ave. in 1934, is a triangular-shaped area created by recent road widening and reconstruction of a 3-way intersection east of the Village Council Chambers and the Niles Police Dept. located at what was formerly known as 7200 Waukegan rd. The area is nearing completion and presently is not developed.

Niles Days chairman Ed Brasch indicated during the Monday, Nov. 3, monthly meeting of the Days Committee that its Executive Board is considering as a Bicentennially-oriented community project, the landscaping of a new section and of numerous gazebos, lake, monument, benches, etc., under directional planning of an architect and engineers.

Village administration had been contacted within the last few days Brasch told Committee members, indicating official interest in the Niles Days undertaking predicated upon further presentation of specific details. Brasch requested a 30-day extension, to the December Niles Days meeting, for architectural advice and planning design of the area before presentation to the committee for vote. The time point is located at Waukegan rd. and Touhy ave. in south Niles.

The Days Committee, a 30-member group of Niles organizational representatives, annually at this time sets a date to receive letters asking for monies from receipts of the next year's Festival.

Annually in search of a community-wide project for funding, Brasch said the Committee may decide to sponsor development of Dutchman's Point rather than allocate the monies to various organizations.

He noted that proceeds from Nov. 3, monthly meeting of the Days Committee that its Executive Board is considering as a Bicentennially-oriented community project, the landscaping of a new section and of numerous gazebos, lake, monument, benches, etc., under directional planning of an architect and engineers.

Village administration had been contacted within the last few days Brasch told Committee members, indicating official interest in the Niles Days undertaking predicated upon further presentation of specific details. Brasch requested a 30-day not be done by only one non-profit organization such as Niles Days, but by the taxing body of the entire village... the 200th birthday anniversary is a onetime celebration that should be honored by all. Brasch continued in his letter, "not just the 30 organizations that make up Niles Days."

The Mayor noted last week, following receipt of the letter, that Niles would have a good Bicentennial Year. "whatever it takes money-wise to accomplish that purpose."

Whether Niles Days or the Village of Niles funds Bicentennial expenses is immaterial, according to Blasé. Logically, he said, it would be "a perfect one-year cause for Committee funds and a community-wide involvement."

"The theory that Niles Days is not a part of Niles is ridiculous," said the Mayor. "Whether Bicentennial funds come from the village or Niles Days, it's all monies from the people of Niles." Preferably, he noted, sponsorship of the Bicentennial theme should be with recreational, Festival monies rather than taxing, village monies.

The Committee had come under criticism from Trustee Peter Pesole and Mayor Blasé at a former board meeting for becoming too large in size, becoming a carnival and for no longer being a Niles (community-involved) function.

The five-day Festival costs the village $7,000, noted the Mayor, in police, fire and public works services, money which comes from the people of Niles and is allocated to operation of "Niles Days, who turn around and give it back to village organizations thru net proceeds."

Another criticism of the Festival was that there were too many problems with outsiders and numerous increasing incidences of fights during the July event.

"The Festival is no longer a Niles function involving Niles people," said the Mayor. "Niles Days should re-evaluate what they're doing and attempt to involve more Nilesites community wise. If they don't, said the Mayor, at some point the Committee will be questioned as to its purpose."

A Niles Bicentennial Commission last August discussed similar development of Dutchman's Point as a Bicentennial project. Executive Directors of the Commission chaired by Trustee Carol Panek proposed last Thursday to request '76 Festival Days funding from the Niles Days Committee for projected $16,500 expenses of the Bicentennial Year to include a parade, fireworks and Country Fair. Monies netted at the end of '76 were to be used for development of Dutchman's Point.

Niles Days observed its 50th anniversary last Sept. 17. The first Niles Days, in 1925, began with a parade of floats and finalized with an old-fashioned community picnic affair. Proceeds went to the purchase of recreational equipment.

SENIOR CITIZENS CLUB OF NILES CELEBRATES EIGHTH ANNIVERSARY

The Senior Citizens Club of Niles celebrated their 8th anniversary at the Recreation Center in Niles on Thursday, Oct. 23, with a big anniversary luncheon and entertainment by the Mt. Prospect Kitchen Band.

Lunch was served by our lovely hostesses, Anne Dworak (whose birthday was the same day and said it was the biggest birthday she has had), Hazel Eadie, Sonya Lawrence, Frances Nelson, Violet Reed and Lucille Roland.

They served delicious roast beef sandwiches with potato chips and assorted homemade cakes and coffee to 110 members, including our staff of President, Lawrence Wutzen, Vice President, Eugene Koster, Treasurer, Alvie Reed, Program Chairman, Martin Dworak, Secretary, Elsie Geyer and all the members of the Mt. Prospect Kitchen Band.

The cakes - all sorts of flavors - were homemade. They were beautiful to look at, and better to eat, and we could have all we wanted. They were donated by our own members.

After lunch we were ready to relax and watch the entertainment of the Kitchen Band. There were twelve people represented in their colorful costumes of pink, red, green, blue and purple. The women wore long dresses with flowered hats. The men wore colorful suits with colorful vests and aprons and sailor hats. They all had bazookas decorated very funny and interesting. They played all the old time songs we know and love so dearly as Harvest Moon, After the Ball, Carolina in the Mornin', McNamara's Band, and East Side, West Side. Then we all sang How Great Thou Art and finished up the finale by singing God Bless America. Some good jokes were told by a member, and we had a few laughs. A wonderful time was had by all and we are happy to have eight years of good friendship, comradeship and fellowship and we hope to have many more happy years together.

Niles Days Committee eyes development of Dutchman's Point

[By Alice M. Bobula]

Excess funds from the 1976 Festival Days may be used to develop a village-owned 1 1/4 acre of land known as "Dutchman's Point" and located at Waukegan rd., Milwaukee and Touhy ave. in south Niles.

Dutchman's Point, so named due to pioneer settlement of Germans ("Dutchmen") at Waukegan rd. and Milwaukee ave. in 1934, is a triangular-shaped area created by recent road widening and reconstruction of a 3-way intersection east of the Village Council Chambers and the Niles Police Dept. located at what was formerly known as 7200 Waukegan rd. The area is nearing completion and presently is not developed.

Niles Days chairman Ed Brasch indicated during the Monday, Nov. 3, monthly meeting of the Days Committee that its Executive Board is considering as a Bicentennial-oriented community project, the landscaping of the new section and of numerous additions such as a fountain, lake, monument, gazebos, benches, etc., under direction of an architect and engineers.

Village administration had been contacted within the last few days Brasch told Committee members, indicating official interest in the Niles Days undertaking predicated upon further presentation of specific details. Brasch requested a 30-day extension, to the December Niles Days meeting, for architectural advice and planning design of the area before presentation to the Committee for vote. The time extension also delays an opening date for receipt of organizational requests of money from the 1976 Festival.

The Days Committee, a 30-member group of Niles organizational representatives, annually at this time sets a date to receive letters asking for monies from receipts of the next year's Festival Days.

Annually in search of a community-wide project for funding, Brasch said the Committee may decide to sponsor development of Dutchman's Point rather than allocate the monies to various organizations.

He noted that proceeds from previous years sponsored a $14,000 cost of fighting at Jozwiak Park, $12,500 for Diamond Jubilee village expenses, $11,500 for historical and art cabinets, a $5,000 outdoor sign at the Administration Building and "other village projects".

Previous consideration of the entire '76 Festival proceeds to Bicentennial expenses of 1976 has been disregarded, said Brasch, who believes the Bicentennial at a year should be sponsored by village monies. He indicated in a recent letter to Mayor Nicholas Blase that "financing of the Bicentennial celebration should not be done by only one non-profit organization such as Niles Days, but by the taxing body of the entire village" ... the 200th birthday anniversary is a onetime celebration that should be honored by all. Brasch continued in his letter, "not just the 30 organizations that make up Niles Days."

The Mayor noted last week, following receipt of the letter, that Niles would have a good Bicentennial Year, "whatever it takes money-wise to accomplish that purpose."

Whether Niles Days or the Village of Niles funds Bicentennial expenses is immaterial, according to Blase. Logically, he said, it would be "a perfect one-year cause for Committee funds and a community-wide involvement."

"The theory that Niles Days is not a part of Niles is ridiculous," said the Mayor. "Whether Bicentennial funds come from the village or Niles Days, it's all monies from the people of Niles." Preferably, he noted, sponsorship of the Bicentennial theme should be with recreational, Festival monies rather than taxing village monies.

The Committee had come under criticism from Trustee Peter Pesole and Mayor Blase at a former board meeting for becoming too large in size, becoming a carnival and for no longer being a Niles (community-involved) function.

The five-day Festival costs the village $7,000, noted the Mayor, in police, fire and public works services, money which comes from the people of Niles and is allocated to operation of Niles Days, who turn around and give it back to village organizations thru net proceeds.

Another criticism of the Festival was that there were too many problems with outsiders and numerous increasing incidences of fights during the July event.

"The Festival is no longer a Niles function involving Niles people," said the Mayor. "Niles Days should re-evaluate what they're doing and attempt to involve more Nilesites community wide. If they don't, said the Mayor, at some point the Committee will be questioned as to its purpose."

A Niles Bicentennial Commission last August discussed similar development of Dutchman's Point as a Bicentennial project. Executive Directors of the Commission chaired by Trustee Carol Panek proposed last Thursday to request '76 Festival Days funding from the Niles Days Committee for projected $16,500 expenses of the Bicentennial Year to include a parade, fireworks and Country Fair. Monies netted at the end of '76 were to be used for development of Dutchman's Point.

Niles Days observed its 50th anniversary last Sept. 17. The first Niles Days, in 1925, began with a parade of floats and finalized with an old-fashioned community picnic affair. Proceeds went to the purchase of recreational equipment

Rev. Milton Adamson, C.S.C., Principal of Notre Dame High School in Niles, has announced the resignation of Francis C. Willett as head football coach effective on Nov. 1. He will remain at the school in his position as head of the Physical Education Dept. A process for selecting a new head coach will be carried on under the direction of Rev. Thomas King, C.S.C., Athletic Director.

Coach Willett came to NDHS in 1964 to take over the head football duties from Joe Yonto who had left to join Ara Parseghian's new staff at the University of Notre Dame. Willett's record for the last 12 years as head coach is 75-34-4. His teams of 1966, 1967, 1968 and 1969 were Suburban Catholic Conference champions. The team record in 1966 and 1969 was 9-0. In 1967 the record was 7-0-2 and in 1968 it was 8-2.

Father Adamson paid tribute to Coach Willett in a statement to the faculty on Oct. 30. "For the past twelve seasons - more than half the life of the school - Fran has been the mentor and friend of Notre Dame athletes. His devotion to the multiple duties laid upon him cannot be questioned. The affect he has had upon the lives of our students, athletes and spectators cannot be doubted. The contribution he has made to the formation of other coaches and to the enrichment of faculty life cannot be fully appraised. In the name of all who have been at Notre Dame during the past twelve years, I thank Fran, 'The Silver Fox', for all that he has been for us and all that he and his wife have given to us." Father Adamson also announced that Willett had submitted his resignation in early September, asking that its acceptance not be announced until the conclusion of the season.

"Greens" residents ask aid in "mismanagement" of complex

[By Alton M. Ebbels]
Residents of the Greens Golf Mill Complex in the unincorporated area of Des Plaines last week group-organized for a meeting at Gemini Junior High School in Niles to express dissatisfaction over problems in the apartment complex, totaling 60 specific requests for improvement of conditions.

The Oct. 29 meeting was attended by approximately 400 apartment dwellers as well as representatives from the office of Governor Walker and of U.S. Rep. Abner Mikva (D-10th, Evanston). Also present were Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase, State Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman (R-4th, Arlington Heights) and State Sen. John J. Nimrod (R-4th, Skokie).

The Complex covers the area west of Greenwood and east of Potter Road, south of Golf Road and north of Dempster Street in an unincorporated area bordered by Niles, Morton Grove and Des Plaines. Approximately 3,000 people lease-rent apartments in 16-unit buildings consisting of 1 floor apartments and 16 apartments in each unit.

The residents are angry over what they term "mismanagement" by apartment management and owners, listing complaints on existence of impurities in water, no control of dog strays, no security measures and numerous health violations, with improper garbage disposal as a high priority.

The closure of a garbage chute last month, said a tenant, brought resentment by the apartment dwellers to a head. Rent for one and two-bedroom apartments at the Greens ranges from $185 to $285 per month.

The Niles Mayor termed valid last week many of the renters' complaints. "If that area deteriorates," he said, "it will affect Niles as well as Park Ridge." Talk of annexing the area among the three villages said Blase resulted in disinterest by Park Ridge.

The apartment complex reportedly was constructed by builder Morris Sason who sold it to the Walter J. Kassuba Development Corp. of Oak Brook, which filed bankruptcy in 1973. Management responsibilities were reportedly assigned to Financial Services, a California-based limited partnership who hired Littlestone Co. to manage the complex.

She may not be ready now, but Baby Diane is all set to start roaring as the Maine Township Regular Democratic Organization plans its annual Roaring 20's Children's Benefit Dance, Saturday, Nov. 8, at the Bunker Hill Country Club, 6635 Milwaukee ave., Niles. The Roaring 20's Dance is held annually by the Maine Township Democrats to help raise the monies needed to support their annual Children's Christmas Party.

The Members of the Organization who are trying to encourage Diane to roar on behalf of the Roaring 20's Dance are (l-r) President Dr. Thomas Kogus; Board of Directors Norman Dachman and Executive Director of Illinois Young Democrats James Puccio.

Joe Foltz and his Orchestra will once again provide the musical entertainment and in addition, there will be a costume contest and door prizes. Tickets are $3 each and may be purchased either at the door or at Democratic Headquarters, 8070 Milwaukee ave., Niles.

Niles Township GOP dinner dance

Niles Township auditor Edward Kaufman of Niles has been named general chairman of the Niles Township Republican Organization's dinner dance Saturday, Nov. 22, at the new convention center of the Fireside Restaurant on Waukegan, north of Dempster, in Morton Grove.

"We are pleased that Ed has taken on this important task," said Sen. John J. Nimrod (R-4th), Niles Township Republican Committeeman. "He is doing a fine job as always, and we are looking forward to the most successful and enjoyable dinner dance ever."

Kaufman announced that the social hour for the evening would begin at 6:30 p.m. and the dinner at 8. Tickets are selling at $17.50 each and may be reserved by telephoning Republican headquarters at 677-5150.

A fund-raising adbook will be published in conjunction with the dinner dance, and advertisers may telephone the GOP headquarters for information about placing ads, Kaufman said. He cautioned that the advertising deadline is approaching.

Theme for the evening will be a tribute to the late Tony Ross, past president of the Niles Township Regular GOP Organization and former chairman of the Skokie Police and Fire Commission. Mr. Ross died in August. His widow, Lorraine, is Niles' GOP committeewoman.

Testimonial dinner for Kolls of Niles

More than 60 friends of Elsa and Raymond Koll participated in a testimonial farewell dinner Monday, Oct. 27, at LaRay's, 7225 Caldwell in Niles.

Civic members and community leaders in Niles, the Kolls, residents at 6959 Cleveland st. for the past 21 years, are moving to Hawthorne, a retirement community near Leesburn in central Florida after the first of next year.

In what was termed a "living tribute" of gratitude (by coordinator Mrs. Elaine Bergeron) to the 89-year-old couple, co-members of the Friends of the Library, the Niles Library Board, the Niles Art Guild, the Woman's Club of Niles and the Niles Historical and Art Society gathered for the Monday night surprise dinner party.

It was totally unexpected by either of her parents, said daughter Marilyn Kramer, who, with her husband Walter and 19 year old daughter Barbara had persuaded her mother and father to go out for dinner in celebration of Mrs. Koll's birthday. They were informed of the testimonial plans, in deference to their age, just prior to entering the restaurant dining area.

The Kolls opened their home to everyone, said Mrs. Bergeron, and were the first to volunteer in the time of emergency or need. She stressed appreciation of Mr. Koll, the "only male" in an all-female organization, as one who put up with the whims and ways of the women.

Of Mrs. Koll, "she's a fantastic woman," commented Woman's Club of Niles President Mrs. Barbara Hedrich.

Noted for her poetry, Woman's Club member Mrs. Eleanor Gilardon gave an original recitation of a poem composed for the occasion.

The Library Board presented the Kolls with a plaque in gratitude of their faithful service. The Friends of the Library donated a street scene painting to be hung in the Library in the Koll's name, presenting the couple with a similar small-scale painting for their new home, with personal gifts for each.

The Woman's Club gifted the couple with a scrapbook containing all of their activities. Members of the Historical and Art Society sponsored a photographer for presentation to the Kolls at a later date of slides taken of the testimonial and dinner.

The couple were also honored with a tribute from their granddaughter Barbara, who said that someday she hoped to be as proud of her children as she was at that moment of her grandparents.

Dinner guests were surprised by the composure maintained by Mrs. Koll in her testimonial address during which she spontaneously recited a poem on growing old, for which she was given a standing ovation.

Both were accorded a standing ovation "for being a wonderful couple, generous of spirit and of heart."

Raymond, former vice president and chief engineer for Conveyor Systems of Morton Grove, retired in 1962 and served as consultant to the firm for several more years. He is a graduate of Purdue University with a B.S. in electrical engineering. He lists his hobbies as painting; he is well-known for his large collection of rose bushes; carpentry; he has designed many organizational items as well as a bulletin board for the Niles Public Library and was cited in The Tribune in 1968 for handcarving several 24 inch State Seals for presentation to the Niles Public Library and to the Village of Niles.

Elsa is a charter member of the Woman's Club of Niles, serving on various committees, in a sewing group and previous chorus. An excellent knitter, crocheter and baker, she offered her services as teacher and baker for bake sales and meetings.

Both Elsa and Raymond served as officers and members of The Friends of the Public Library, the Niles Art Guild and the Niles Historical and Art Society. Both are in their eighties and recently celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary.

Nimrod bill to aid special education

Sen. John J. Nimrod (R-4th) this week introduced an appropriation bill to provide some $18.5 million to reimburse school districts for special education programs.

"These programs provide the intensive education needed by handicapped children," Nimrod said. "They are mandated by state law, and they are extra costly."

Nimrod recalled that the General Assembly last year raised the level of reimbursement for special educators' salaries by 50%. Gov. Walker, however, reduced state grant appropriations by the amount required to fund the increase.

"When the State mandates a program and then promises a certain level of funding to be paid on a reimbursement basis a year after the funds are spent locally," Nimrod said, "I call that not just a commitment but an actual obligation."

"The governor has said he has reserved $20 million for education so I am moving to use that money for special education programs, to meet our obligation to reimburse the local schools for their 1974-75 costs in teaching handicapped children according to the state mandate."

"Our late friend Bob Juckett sponsored the reimbursement increase in 1973 and 1974 and twice fought to override Governor Walker's vetoes of the measure, the last time successfully."

Nimrod said the override vote in the Senate came in December, after Rep. Juckett was hospitalized for the last time with leukemia, to which he succumbed in February. None of his colleagues know the nature of his illness, according to Nimrod.

"We were proud and pleased with the overwhelming Senate vote, following Bob's 144-to-0 triumph he had personally led in the House," Nimrod said. "Our vote was not only in tribute to a great legislator but was also a sincere and earnest effort to help the handicapped children who need extra education."

"We won that battle, and the school boards went ahead and spent their local funds at the increased level, and now the governor has reduced the special education appropriation by the exact amount needed to implement Bob's bill."

Nimrod reported that he had introduced the new appropriation bill in the General Assembly's special session on school finance. He said he believes a new bill is needed because "the override issues are too inter-related for us to succeed in restoring special education funding without opening the door to all other overrides, and there certainly isn't enough money to restore more than the special education item."

For the same reason, he said, he is co-sponsoring Senate Bill 1 in the special session, which carries provisions of the vetoed SB-1493 in returning to local school districts the right to raise local property tax rates, by referendum without comparable loss in state aid.

Nimrod said there was a possibility the governor would veto his special education bill if passed, but he said, "if it's the only appropriation passed, he would be hard pressed to come up with a reason for a veto when he has said there is more than enough money for this specific purpose."

"If he vetoes education for handicapped children a fourth time, we'll just have to override him again," Nimrod said. "Provided the money he says he has reserved really is there."

Brownie Troop 362 Investiture

A very impressive Brownie Scout Investiture was held by Troop #326 recently at St. John Brebeuf. The program included the "dress-up" ritual of a Brownie Scout during which each girl explained the purpose of all the Brownie clothing items and pins. After several chants, "She looks like a Brownie, but something's still missing", the task was finally completed with the Brownie beanie. The troop then sang the Beanie Song and the Brownie Smile Song. Mrs. Betty Martin, leader, presented the Brownie Scout pins to new members: Karen Guerrieri, Nancy Kozanecki, Theresa Re, Marja Reid, Kristina Swider, and Karen Wirkus. The Brownie emblems were CHURCH & TEMPLE NOTES...

Knights of Columbus pilgrimage to Our Lady of Snows

[By Michael Provenzano]
Pope Paul VI in the year of 1973 said, "We must renew our devotion to the 'Blessed Virgin', if we wish to obtain the Holy Spirit and be sincere followers of Christ Jesus. May Her faith lead us to the reality of the Gospel."
Chairman and Past Grand Knight Augie Pranske of North American Martyrs Council #4338 of the Knights of Columbus in Niles with 16 members and their wives spent a weekend at "Our Lady of the Snows" in Belleville, Ill.

The shrine is open year 'round and is located in a wooded area of Southern Illinois atop a hillside overlooking the historic Mississippi River and world renowned Gateway Arch in St. Louis.

Inspiring is the word for a visit to the Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows. The entire family will revel in a joyous experience. Beauties of nature are majestically displayed in a vast 200-acre garden dotted with architectural gems.

Golf Mill Park "Troublesome" say residents

(by Alice M. Bobala)

An increasing number of oral, written and telephoned complaints to the Niles Park District office about Golf Mill Park resulted in a direct confrontation meeting of area residents, Niles police and park officials Wednesday, Oct. 22, at the Ballard Sports Complex, Ballard and Cumberland rd.

"It was the only way to handle the situation," said Park Director Bill Hughes. Residents south of the Park from Davis st. to Ballard rd. chose to have the confrontation take place at the Complex. Complaints began to filter in, said Hughes, following purchase of the 4 1/4 acre park southwest of Church and Cumberland after its purchase in August of 1974 for $610,000. Improvements had been made he said of clearing the land, installation of tennis courts and playground equipment.

Increasing grievances were brought to a head, commented Hughes, upon receipt of a letter from a Clifton st. resident of 3 years who complained the Park had become a hangout for teens. "The area is a freeway and a dragstrip... it was a quiet residential area" prior to park purchase, continued the letter. "Now we are afraid to go out at night, to leave our children with a babysitter because the teens would know that we (parents) are not home... there is consistent damage to private property, playground equipment and cars... the area is like a ghetto with garbage spread over the lawns and the park area littered with beer cans, wine bottles, etc."

More than a hundred people, over the expected 60 residents, attended the Wednesday night meeting in response to 500 flyers sent out.

Park Board President Millie Jones who "came early at 7:30 p.m." found numerous residents already at the Complex for the 8 o'clock meeting.

Park officials noted a broad representation of the area which included teenagers, young adults, parents of teens and a sprinkling of senior citizens.

Group spokesman and mediator was Alan Bobin, 9056 Clifton, who later observed the Park was not really serving the purpose for which it was designed. "Golf Mill Park was designed as a Kiddie Park," said Bobin, the father of 2 children, ages 3 and 7. Older children were using the park, he said. "Restless teens need a place to re-group and this Park was not created for them."

Other outspoken residents listed grievances as—•vandalism to private homes and cars.
•older children physically abusing the younger ones, citing the serious beating of a 10 year old the previous week.

•asked that newly placed playground equipment be relocated in the park, away from residences.
•requested regular police patrol of the park area, complaining of no cooperation from police, that police did not respond to resident phone calls.
•asked for installation of lights in the park, bumper guards along Davis st. and fencing of the playground equipment.

•replacement of sand in the playground area with cement.
•establishment of a parking area for cars.

•improvement of Davis st. Davis, the south boundary of the Park, is improved on the south half and a gravel road on the north half of the street.

•asked for posting of signs regarding curfew hours, park closing hours and limitations of street use to prevent drag racing.

Commissioner Jack Leske, in commenting that the Wednesday night group was the largest he had seen in his 13 years on the Park Board, told the residents that existing problems at Golf Mill Park were common to all new parks. "Given a little time, all of these problems will work themselves out."

A Cumberland st. resident, half a block distant from the park, said she would not allow her daughter to go to the park because of "the abusive language, smoking and threats from high school kids... the swings at the park are damaged already and the playground equipment marked and scratched up," she said.

The approximately 20 teens present Wednesday night objected to blame laid on them, that there were a "good" group of teens and "bad teens" and the ones present were not to blame for the wrongdoings.

Niles Police Officer James Gerhardt cited parental guidance as well as supervised recreation for all parks, with qualified personnel to handle problems. All of the parks should be adequately lighted, he noted.

Commissioner Jones commented the group left the 2 1/2 hour meeting unhappy but relieved at having made their grievances known.

"The complaints will be investigated," said Hughes, "with an attempt to rectify any problems."

Area residents told park officials they would attend the November park board meeting "to see what had been done" about the complaints.

Sears offers home auto tune-ups

Sears, Roebuck & Company has announced the introduction of home car tune-ups for Chicago area consumers. With the new service motorists will be able to make a telephone appointment for tune-ups to be performed at home, at the office, or most anywhere else that the car can be made accessible according to Sears. Service will be available every day, including Saturday and Sunday. The mechanical services offered consists primarily of two tune-up packages. The basic tune-up includes new spark plugs, points, condenser, rotor, and adjusting timing dwell in carburetor to specification. The complete tune-up includes all the parts and services of the basic tune-up plus new distributor cap, air filter and servicing or replacement, if necessary, of crankcase breather, PCV valve, cannister filter, fuel filter, and ignition wires in coil.

The complete package further includes all labor needed to fine tune to specifications. The mobile mechanics will also be equipped to provide routine air conditioner maintenance service. "The main advantage of the service," a company spokesman said, "is that it saves the time of driving to a garage for service and waiting while the work is being completed." Sears authorized mobile car tune-up service, which is covered by the company's satisfaction guaranteed, is currently being offered only to residents of Chicago and suburbs.

The telephone number to call for a mobile car tune-up appointment is 729-7200.

Nimrod hasn't learned real issues of ERA

Dear Editor:

First I'd like to thank the organizations and citizens in the 4th legislative district for their help in forming the Citizens Committee for ERA. For those out gathering names on the petitions, a special thanks.

The kickoff rally for the committee was a success especially in the view of the appearance of Senator John Nimrod, who will receive the petitions in Springfield Nov. 5.

It was a politically embarrassing afternoon for Senator Nimrod, since he still vows not to know enough about the Equal Rights Amendment to vote for it this fall. A documented letter was read from the 4th district coordinator, Inga Hample, that listed only a portion of the barrage of legal information and briefings Nimrod has been presented with over the last three years. It is unfortunate that the Senator did not recognize some of the faces in the crowd that have lobbied for ERA both in his Skokie offices and in Springfield, supplying him with more information than perhaps any other legislature in the state.

Ruth Bate Ginsberg, law professor at Columbia Univ., talks about the thirty years of research and development of the ERA in an article for the American Bar Association Journal: "Reading debates on the amendment in the law journals of the 1920's is enlightening. The objections still voiced in 1975 were solidly answered then."

But Senator Nimrod says he does not want to rush into things. It was in 1972 that the U.S. Congress passed the ERA with the largest plurality (79% yes) of any constitutional amendment. Thirty-four states have since ratified, with only 4 more needed.

Nimrod does recognize discriminatory laws and practices. He proposes to solve all these problems by writing the governors of each state and convincing them to change and conform their laws. This is not a bad idea; in fact, it is the main purpose of the ERA. Allowing for time to do this, the third section reads: "This amendment shall take effect two years after its date of ratification."

If Congress, with the backing of the entire U.S. Government and a Constitutional law, knows it will take two years for the states to review their laws, I ask then, how does Nimrod propose to achieve this on his own? Also, how does he change federal issues such as social security, which is blatantly discriminatory? All the state laws in the country cannot erase federally imbedded economic inequities.

The ERA, despite all the emotional clamor, is an economic issue. It means money and benefits in the accounts of women and men in this country for their families and future.

Perhaps John Nimrod is right about one thing. He has not learned enough about the real issues of the ERA.

Commends Jaffe for override vote

To whom it may concern:

I would like to commend Representative Aaron Jaffe for his continued support of education in Illinois. He is the only representative in the 4th legislative district who voted for the override of the vetoed full funding bills.

In our suburban communities

there has been a severe loss of funds through lowering enrollment and the veto of these bills straps our districts even more.

Our schools are among the finest in the country and I would like to see them remain as such. Our children are our future.

Niles Family Service sees 1,000th client

According to the Niles Family Service Director, Mr. Larry F. Renetzky, Niles Family Service has just counseled with its 1,000th family. This means that Niles Family Service has served approximately 10% of the total population of Niles.

Mayor Blase of Niles says, "Little did we fully realize when we created Niles Family Service in 1969 that it would serve so many so well in just a few years. We are proud of the work Niles Family Service is doing and the many fine services it renders to the residents of Niles."

Niles Family Service is a comprehensive Mental Health-Family Service Agency providing counseling and educational-preventive services. Mr. Renetzky pointed out that counseling is a means to help the individual, couple, and family to grow and to better cope with their problems. Of course, we all have problems but there are times when we need an objectively trained professional to assist us in resolving the best solution, or in helping persons to grow and to develop more of their strengths so that they can better cope with life. The need for counseling does not indicate weakness but rather strength. In fact, if more people reached out sooner for facilitative help instead of waiting until they are in crisis, we would be able to help that many more before it becomes so critical. Needless to say, when a situation is critical, we are less successful.

Because of the tendency of people to wait until things become critical before reaching out for counseling, Niles Family Service has developed a number of educational-preventive groups. Among these are: Single parent group starting Nov. 6 at 8 p.m. Others include: several lecture series, pre-retirement workshop, self actualization group for women and men, family effectiveness training, marital growth and enrichment workshop and a Group on Death and Widowhood which is now in progress.

In conclusion, Mr. William Sanz of Niles, Chairman of Niles Family Service Board, states, "Niles Family Service is striving to meet the needs of the residents of Niles. We are pleased that Niles Family Service has never had a waiting list. It strives to make live the prevailing philosophy, 'An Agency With A Heart'. Let us hear from you regarding your personal counseling need or any suggestion that you might have about an educational-preventive lecture group or workshop within which you would like to be one of the participants. Niles Family Service was created to serve you so let us hear from you. Just call Niles Family Service, 692-3396, or come into Niles Family Service within the new Niles Trident Center, 8060 Oakton, Niles."

Democratic slate makers plan house races

Morton Grove Library Happenings

The majesty and variety of our American mountains will be the subject of the travelogue at the Morton Grove Library on Tuesday, Nov. 11, at 7:30 p.m.

The awesome mountain ranges of the West will be viewed in all their natural glory, as well as the mysterious Great Smokies and the Friendly Ozarks. Park lands and ski resorts provide Americans with pleasure and activity on these last frontiers of the great American landscape.

Who is responsible for our high food prices and what can we do to lower them? This and other questions concerning food shopping will be discussed by Mr. William Nigut at his lecture on Consumerism on Wednesday, Nov. 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the Meeting Room of Morton Grove Library.

Mr. Nigut is a consumer marketing lecturer, writer, and consultant who lives in Skokie, and he has lectured all over the United States on food shopping trends and consumer problems.

The Book Discussion Group will meet on Friday, Nov. 14, at 10 a.m. and will cover a variety of books read by the members as well as the latest arrivals in fiction and non-fiction.

Open readings for roles in Des Plaines Theatre Guild's January production The Subject Was Roses will be held Nov. 9 and 10 at Guild Playhouse in Des Plaines.

Auditions for three characters, a young soldier returning home from the war, his father and his mother, will begin at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Nov. 9, and at 8 p.m. on Monday, Nov. 10.

The compelling and explosive drama about a soldier's homecoming to find a war going on between his parents was Broadway's triple crown success in the 1965 season, winning the Pulitzer Prize, New York Drama Critics Circle and Antoinette Perry Awards for its talented author, Frank D. Gilroy.

Director of The Subject Was Roses is John Converse, for 26 years Director of Dramatics and Professor of Drama at Lake Forest College. Converse also managed and directed Theatre Under the Stars for 14 years, offering outdoor summer theatre to North Shore audiences.

The drama will be presented Jan. 9, 10, 16, 17, 23 and 24 at Guild Playhouse, 620 Lee St., Des Plaines. For further information about the open readings for roles, call 296-1211 between noon and 8 p.m. daily except Sunday. Current production at the Playhouse is the comedy-drama Twigs, opening Nov. 7 and playing thru Nov. 22.

"Damn Yankees"

Damn Yankees, the major league musical comedy hit about the World Series, is being presented by Music On Stage (MOS) community theatre group with performances on Nov. 7 and 8 at 8:30 p.m. at Elk Grove High School, Arlington Heights Road and Elk Grove Boulevard in Elk Grove.

Damn Yankees, the light-hearted musical about "America's favorite pastime... baseball" depicts a die-hard fan, middle-aged Joe Boyd, who sells his soul to the devil just to see his beloved Washington Senators beat the New York Yankees in the World Series. He makes a pact with the devil so that he can be transformed into a young, superstar ballplayer named Joe Hardy, who will lead the Senators to victory.

The uproarious events during the ensuing battle of wits between Joe and the devil are combined with spirited songs like You Gotta Have Heart, Those Were The Good Old Days, and the provocative Whatever Lola Wants, Lola Gets. Added lively dance routines make this an evening of theatre at its best.

Standard ticket prices for each of the four performances is $3.50; however, a reduced rate of $2.50 is available for students and senior citizens for Friday evening performances only. For advance ticket reservations call 966-4720.

"Who Is Chicago?"

The artists' lecture-performance series is held from 11:30 a.m. to 12:20 p.m. in Building #3, Room 308 on the Oakton campus, Oakton and Nagle, Morton Grove.

Community members, as well as Oakton students, are invited to attend any or all sessions in the "Who Is Chicago?" series.

Imperial Drum and Bugle Corps

You will not read about a drum & bugle corps in Sports Illustrated nor are you likely to hear the results of a drum corps competition on the 10 o'clock news along with the baseball scores. Yet this is a highly competitive sport requiring long hours of practice and dedication by its members.

A drum corps consists basically of two types of instruments: bugles with one valve and a rotor, and percussion instruments. Added to this are flags and rifles for color and interest. Its members become part of a group but receive individual attention to help them become good musicians and to help them grow into adults which are a credit to our country. During their time with a drum corps, they also learn patriotism, good sportsmanship, self-discipline, and have a lot of fun. Many life long friendships are formed during the time they spend with a corps.

The Imperials began in Norwood Park in 1926. They are the oldest continual drum corps in the United States and will celebrate their 50th year in 1976 when our country celebrates its bicentennial. Now sponsored by American Legion Post 320 of Skokie, this does not limit membership to that area. Members come from Waukegan, Oak Park, South Chicago, Edison and Norwood Parks, and all points in between.

Become a member of the Imperials. Membership is open to both young men and women. The Imperials are 14 to 20 years old. The Imperial Cadets are 9 to 13 years old. Uniforms, instruments and instruction by qualified teachers, and marching ability are furnished free. No experience is necessary. The Imperials travel to many parts of the country for competition, march parades and perform at civic functions.

Become a member of the Imperials and help us to celebrate our 50th year. Come march with us and show America that today's youth are to be respected.

"Awake and Sing"

The bitter frustrations and nostalgic conflicts of family life in New York's teeming Bronx is the heart of Clifford Odet's comedy/drama Awake and Sing.

It all comes together on stage at the Meyer Kaplan JCC, 5050 W. Church st., Skokie, Saturdays, Nov. 8, 15, 22, 29 at 8:15 p.m. and Sundays, Nov. 9, 16, 23, 30 at 7:30 p.m.

Benefit V-Show performance

Maine East's Mothers' Club extends an invitation to groups in the Maine East area to attend the dress rehearsal and benefit performance of Maie East's annual V-Show.

The benefit performance, open to all pre-high and junior high school students as well as youth and scouting groups, will be Wednesday, Nov. 19.

Those wishing to attend the Maine East's V-Show through the Mother's Club benefit performance should contact V-Show Mothers' Club-chairman Mrs. L. Peterson at 825-6942.

Tickets will be sold for 50 cents each. There are no reserved seats, but the auditorium opens at 3:30 p.m. on November 19 for the 4 p.m. curtain time. Tickets will be sold at the door, also.

"Twigs" cast members

Virginia Velenchik will be playing four — count 'em — four related women, three sisters and their mother, in Twigs, the comedy drama opening Nov. 7 at Guild Playhouse in Des Plaines.

Mrs. Velenchik will not be side-stepping from one part of the stage to the other in playing four roles, because none of her characters appear on-stage together, but in four related playlets.

The author of Twigs, George Furth, is a playwright born in Chicago who, after coming to New York for postgraduate study at Columbia, wrote a series of 11 short plays while working with the Actors Studio.

The three sisters of Furth's comedy are Emily, an attractive widow; Celia, unhappily married to a former Army top sergeant; and Dorothy, who in an evaluation of her marriage on her 25th anniversary decides that she is dying, but is still vigorous enough to shove thru a long delayed marriage ceremony with the man she's been living with for fifty years.

The four portraits are comic vignettes involving more than a little pathos, combined to constitute a recognizable clan of lower middle-class oddball chatterboxes. The sisters and mother, the only women in the play, are all acted by Virginia Velenchik of Deerfield, a newcomer to Chicago and community theatre, but with extensive acting credits from Bowling Green State University and several New Jersey community theatre organizations.

The seven men with whom the four women are involved in one way or another are being portrayed by Tom Rowland of Rosemont as Frank, Emily's timid suitor and as a confused but tenacious priest; J. Neil Boyle of Chicago as Phil, Celia's loutish husband and as Pa, the father of the three girls.

Virginia's real-life husband, Bernie Velenchik of Deerfield, plays Swede, Phil and Celia's Thanksgiving weekend house guest. Dick Galloway of Park Ridge is Lou, Dorothy's devoted husband, and John T. Klein of Chicago (formerly of Oak Park) plays Ned, their hard-of-hearing friend and neighbor.

Nancy Kole of Harvard is the Twigs director. She has previously directed Forty Carats, The Lion in Winter, Everything in the Garden and Barefoot in the Park for Des Plaines Theatre Guild, and acted with Theatre First of Chicago and the Clayton Playhouse in New York.

Cathy Pasowicz of Chicago is producer and costume coordinator. John Grabowski of Prospect Heights has designed Twigs multiple settings, all kitchens, each distinctively decorated. Marshall Kievit of Des Plaines is the lighting designer.

Tickets for Twigs may be reserved by calling the Guild Playhouse boxoffice, 296-1211, between noon and 8 p.m. daily except Sunday. Special rates for students and senior citizens are in effect on Fridays.

"The Sound of Music"

Cast members of Maine North's production The Sound of Music are the finishing touches on their musical numbers last week. The Rodgers and Hammerstein musical will open in Maine North's new 10 seat theatre on Nov. 7 and will run Nov. 8, 14, 15. Tickets can be reserved by calling 729-4784.

Status Quo Vadis'

The Oakton Community College student production of Donald Meyer's "Status Quo Vadis" will be held at 8:30 p.m. at the North Shore Hilton on Skokie on Thursday, November 6, and Fridays, November 7 and 14.

About 35 members of the Oakton Theater Guild, including acting roles, will present the brilliant social satire, a provocative study of man and morals which has established box office records in Chicago and Washington.

"Thieves Like Us" "Thieves Like Us," a 1973 film directed by Robert Altman, will be the feature of the Oakton Community College Film Society on Friday, November 14.

Art Exhibition

Mark Engel, 16, of Morton Grove, will be an exhibitor in the Nov. 8 and 9 indoor Art Festival to be held at Congregation B'nai Jehoshua Beth Elohim, 901 Milwaukee ave., Glenview. Mark calls his hand-crafted jewelry "Compositions in Silver".

Pearlman, an alumnus of the Andrew Carnegie public speaking course, is a salesman and has been in the club for less than a year, while Yalamanchi, a methods engineer, has been a member for four years.

District 63 East Maine Education Association officers, negotiating committee, and building representative council at a meeting Monday.

A. "that the EMEA terminate the extended 1974-75 collective bargaining agreement and commence a strike on Wed. Nov. 12, 1975."

B. "that an informational picket demonstration be conducted at the Board of Education meeting to be held on Monday Nov. 10, at Apollo Jr. High School."

Efforts to reach a contract settlement between the teachers and the School Board of East Maine Elementary District 63 have failed. After nine hours of mediation Saturday, November 1, negotiations broke off.

Issues still unresolved include: Personal Leaves, Reduction in Force, Involuntary Transfers, Assignments and Responsibilities, In-Service, Salary, Fringe Benefits, and Stipends.

Marilyn Hadden, Chief Union Negotiator, stated, "After eight months of negotiations, all the crucial issues are still unresolved." Hadden characterized negotiations with Fred Lifton, negotiator for the school board, as an "exercise in futility."

Barbara Korb, President of EMEA, stated, "Teachers in this district have been very patient. They agreed to work under terms of the old contract at last year's pay while negotiations continued. We also sought to resolve the differences by requesting that a mediator be brought in." Mrs. Korb further stated that "the negotiation team has rejected the school board's latest offer of a 6% across the board salary increase. This increase would bring the base pay of District 63 from $8734. to $9258, which is far below that of any districts in the surrounding areas."

The EMEA has scheduled a meeting of the total faculty for Wednesday, November 5, at 3:45 p.m. at Gemini Jr. High to decide on further action.

Lincolnwood...

This masterpiece of brilliant comedy by Oscar Wilde is probably the most famous of all the modern artificial comedies. It revolves gaily and wittily around the most ingenious case of "manufactured" mistaken identity ever put into a play. The chief plot element is that of the invention of a mythical character made by a young man who wishes to put off on someone else his own shortcomings.

Set in 1895 complete with the lovely victorian costumes of the era, the cast of talented players are Kathleen Hugo of Glenview, Barbara Gatto of Deerfield, Cathy Abelson, Anita Malina and Bradley Rush, all of Skokie, Terry Kring and Harvey Rubin of Evanston, and Alan Appel of Lincolnwood.

Further information may be obtained by calling 674-0677. Anyone interested in working any aspect of production may call the above number.

Price Scanning...

Women shoppers were asked for their opinion last Friday morning: "I want to know the price of the item before I buy it," declared Mrs. H. Ruby of 8930 Oak Park ave. Indicating that she had made purchases in a Morton Grove supermarket that uses the scanning device, she said, "Sometimes the scanner doesn't pick up the price and the clerk has to ring up the item on the register. How do I know that I'm not being charged twice for the same thing?"

Karen Hilman of 7025 Carol also prefers individually priced items. "I want to see the price before I buy the item!" Lorraine Van Vekoven of 8356 Harlem ave. was more emphatic: "As soon as they remove individual pricing I will no longer shop in that store. You can't compare prices if you don't know what they are. I have to know what I'm paying before I buy it. The (scanning) system may be good for inventory control, but it is not for my budget!"

Senior Citizen Mrs. Frances York of 7234 Lee st. said, "My budget is limited. I don't like the idea of not knowing what I am paying, in fact I have to know the price of the item before I can decide to purchase it."

A new resident in The Huntington, 9201 Maryland, Mrs. Esther Davis stated she "believes in comparison shopping. The prices must be stamped on each item before I buy it. I hate to see people more and more controlled."

A chain store employee is also expected to appear at the Nov. 11 board meeting at 8 p.m. in the Village Council Chambers, 7200 Waukegan rd., one who can fully explain the use of the scanning device. The meeting is open to the public.

We've long condoned the crimes of public men, from Nixon and Agnew down thru the ranks, are among the most dastardly which can be committed. Not only do they take illegally but they tear down the confidence of the public which is essential if our form of government is to continue to exist. They rob the many. They steal the ideal which so many have died for and they desecrate a unique ideal which belongs to all of us. Their crime is a crime against all of us. But having written this, it does not mitigate our compassion for those who must suffer. Hopefully, none of us can feel smug about the demeaning of our friends and neighbors, nor lightly accept the retribution which others must pay.

In the Fulle trial we were astounded by the circumstances surrounding the presentation by the defense. Fulle had 3 attorneys, an across-the-street friend, and a husband and wife team, none of whom were experienced in criminal law at the Federal level. The two are divorce lawyers. During our one time in court we thought their presentation was much weaker than the government's. The defense lawyers seemed like very affable people who were just plain outplayed on the legal field of battle. So many observers were astounded Mrs. Fulle would contend she kept $15,000 in a cookie jar. Whether or not it was true, it was just not believable. There was small chance few of the jurors had $15,000 to their name. And to tell them somebody would stuff the cookie jar with that much money was inconceivable.

Fulle's failure to testify also may have hurt his case. It was reported one of his attorneys threatened to quit the day before the end of the trial if Fulle took the stand. He allegedly pointed to the files the government prosecutors had on their desk, implying Fulle would be trapped if he exposed himself to interrogation. Whether or not he was right, it was a telling blow. It had to raise major doubts in the jurors' minds.

While it is only conjecture many observers thought Fulle might have been faced with a huge legal fee, $50,000 or more, which forced him to choose a friend, whose costs and experience might have been less. The implication was the end result proved more costly.

Niles Zoning Board minutes for the past 5 years have been subpoenaed by the Federal government. While the initial investigation raises questions in residents' minds, public officials believe it is a mere "fishing" expedition on the part of Uncle Sam. Ironically, the past 5 years have been relatively quiet times. Niles major zoning decisions preceded this period. It does not mean violations might not have existed. But the potential for wrongdoing was much greater in previous years before the community completed most of its building. It is believed the government's interest centers around zoning in the former unincorporated area which has since been annexed into Niles.

In a Chicago newspaper story this past week Maine Township high schools had the highest administrative costs of 27 schools listed in the metropolitan Chicago land area. And I believe it was a top administrator who was quoted as saying the costs should be even higher. It wasn't the type of quote a public relations-conscious administration would be proud of. And it certainly demands a response from the school board. School officials contend Niles and New Trier high schools were not included in the study, both of whom have very high administrative costs.

The subpoena for village records was received some time "around the middle of September," he noted. No Zoning Commissioners or village officials have been subpoenaed or questioned in connection with the investigation as yet.

The Niles Mayor termed the federal action as being a part of continuing investigations in and around the suburbs. Records are subpoenaed for investigation for a look into community affairs to find out "whether anybody did anything wrong," he commented.

If a community is in an area where there is investigation said Blase further, there is no question that the community will be drawn into the inquiry. "There's no way we can avoid being at least investigated." There was nothing abnormal in the procedure, he said, terming it as "unfortunate."

"If something is wrong we'll hear about it," said Blase. "If not, we'll hear nothing." A federal investigation of Zoning Board practices in Morton Grove earlier this year which centered around extortion payoffs

New Buses up Nortran ridership

Ridership on bus routes operated by the North Suburban Mass Transit District (NORTRAN) has grown dramatically since the new buses began appearing on the street, according to latest ridership reports.

NORTRAN released figures yesterday that compared the six weeks prior to Labor Day to the six weeks just after Labor Day, the period when the new buses went into service. Ridership over all the NORTRAN routes increased 15.3% during that period. Bart T. Murphy, NORTRAN chairman and trustee from Niles, in commenting on the figures, said: "We expect ridership to increase even more as more people become familiar with the buses and the routes."

In support of this expectation, Murphy pointed to the 24% increase in ridership over the same period on routes 70 and 71 which travel from the Jefferson Park CTA terminal to Golf Mill.
