Hike Zoning Fees in Niles

(By Altee M. Bobala)

Village trustees Tuesday, March 23 unanimously approved a raise in zoning fees and at the same time approved a substantial decrease to the Niles resident petitioning for a variation in zoning.

The Zoning Hearing fees to homeowners was reduced to $35 from the original fee of $75. Fees for business and manufacturing variations, for rezoning and for Special Use permits were upped to $100.

Petitioners fees for Planned Unit Development (PUD) were raised from the original $150 fee, commensurate with total acreage:

- One acre but less than 5 - $750.00
- Five acres but less than 10 - 1000.00
- Ten acres but less than 15 - 1250.00
- Fifteen acres but less than 20 - 1500.00
- Twenty acres or more - 1750.00

Following a comparative fee study several months ago of surrounding villages, Building Zoning Director Joseph Salerno appealed to the Zoning Board of Commissioners for a change in zoning and variation fees. Salerno petitioned for a decrease in fee from $75 to $25 to the Niles homeowner.

In a related interest, Zoning Commr. Charles O'Grady asked that the Zoning Board reconsider all Zoning fees "because Niles has the lowest of surrounding villages." Present Hearing fees from Planned Unit Development, he contended, were not commensurate of village time and expense involved for each petition. Also not considered was the tremendous profits to be gained by developers of PUD.

Zoning Commr. Ken Cohen ultimately recommended homeowner petitioner fees at $50 to discourage possible influx of petitioners.

A review of the zoning and variation fees by the village trustees prompted Trustee Ang. Continued on Page 18

Bicycles and maintenance donated by Raleigh Bicycle Co.

Present bikes to village

(By Altee M. Bobala)

The first of 10 bicycles was presented to Niles Tuesday, March 23, by the Raleigh Bicycle Company of Bensenville for use in village patrol during the summer months.

As their top product, the Raleigh Company offered 10 Mark II bicycles to be used in the Bike Safety Patrol program proposed for Niles by Niles Police Officer James Gerhardt. Details have been finalized for initiation of the patrol in May.

The pilot program received wholehearted village endorsement last September and is proposed to promote bike safety as well as enforce all cyclists to obey traffic laws.

The idea was conceived following numerous complaints by motorists to Niles police of flagrant disregard of personal safety and traffic laws by cyclists. The Bicycle Safety Patrol, a unit of 10 uniformed college Continued on Page 26

Caucus endorsement of school board candidates in Niles Township is a sure-fire ticket to election.

In the Des Plaines and Park Ridge areas similar caucus support is tantamount to candidates being elected. But in East Maine District 63 caucus support is not a true path for election.

Perhaps 15 years ago School District 71 in Niles created a caucus which lasted 2 to 3 years. It was a well-intentioned plan which had representatives from all segments of the population included in the group. But it died of its own inertia and there were few people who mourned its passing.

The group had a rule the same individuals could not represent the same group year after year. The rule was easily overcome when one over-eager Nilesite slid from civic group to civic group each year, representing different organizations annually.

One year the District 71 group interviewed several persons for 2 openings on the school board. Two of the candidates had Ph.D.'s, and one candidate was a plain old-fashioned housewife.

When the 2 'Doctors' made their appearances before the caucus the group became intimidated by the 2 candidates' educational background. They were asked 3 or 4 inane questions. The caucus members were fearful their own questions might reflect poorly on themselves. But when the housewife somewhat nervously appeared before them they interrogated her endlessly. Had the non-degreed lady applied for CIA membership she wouldn't have been more mercilessly grilled.

Campaign cabinet for Orchard Center

Several members of the Campaign Cabinet for Orchard Center for Mental Health, 8600 Gross Point rd., Skokie, met recently at the North Shore Hilton to discuss their plans to raise the additional funds with a goal of $50,000 for the continued development of the comprehensive mental health center.

Orchard Center has provided the people of Niles Township since 1969 a variety of programs to meet their needs. Because of increased demands of the community for more staff and programs, Orchard Center is seeking the support from business and industry to aid financially toward these achievements.

Paul Prikos, Prikos & Becker Tool Co., Skokie.

Senior citizens friendship van

The Friendship Van from the Mayor's Office for Senior Citizens will be stationed in the parking lot at Unity Savings, 4242 N. Harlem on Thursday, April 8, from 11:00 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. A free Hearing Test will be administered by a staff of trained technicians.

Information regarding Golden Diners Card, a program where seniors can eat a well balanced nutritious meal at a low cost, can be obtained from staff members.

All information, referrals and literature on Senior Citizen Programs from the Mayor's Office will be distributed, some on Polish and Spanish.

Holy Family 'Health Fair'

About 1,800 people received free tests at Holy Family Hospital's large exhibit at the annual "Health Fair" held last weekend at the Randhurst Shopping Center.

Hundreds of other visitors observed exhibits illustrating many of the hospital's services and received free information about various health topics during shopping hours at the center on March 19 and 20.

About 1,300 people had their blood pressure checked by hospital personnel. More than 500 people were given lung function tests by Holy Family's Cardio-

Respiratory Department.

The department also demonstrated one of its new procedures, Echoencephalography (ECHO). A recent addition to the Neurophysiology section, ECHO utilizes ultra sound to detect movement in the brain's sinus-line and assists in detecting neurological dysfunction such as brain tumors.

At the Fair, children viewed a movie presented by the Pediatrics Department which illustrated what a child can expect when he needs to undergo surgery. A wide variety of information about child safety and health care pointers were distributed to parents.

Another feature of Holy Family's exhibit was a demonstration on the radio and telemetry equipment, similar to that used in the hospital's Emergency Department. It is part of the Mobile Intensive Care Network utilized by paramedic units in the area.

Informative posters and several laboratory specimens were utilized by the Microbiology section of the hospital's newly expanded Laboratory to illustrate infectious growths which may occur in many parts of the body. In addition, antibiotics were displayed which are used to counteract the various bacteria.

Among Holy Family's other services exhibited at the Fair was new data processing equipment soon to be installed in many of the hospital's patient care areas. Just a few of its functions include improving communications between the nursing stations and other departments and patient admissions.

The X-ray Department illustrated one of the latest procedures used to detect breast cancer called Xeroradiography. A wide assortment of nutritional information was offered visitors about various types of diets including the most healthy foods. Physical Therapy personnel exhibited some of their department's equipment and distributed informational literature.

The Fair was sponsored by the Mount Prospect Junior Woman's Club and the Randhurst Merchants Association.

Behind the scenes at Niles Bicentennial production

America, We Love You, the 14-act musical to be presented in late April, is shaping up nicely at tri-weekly rehearsals. Besides a cast of 60, many hard-working and talented Niles residents (with the help of a few "out-of-towners") are devoting their time and energy to the production. Many members of the Woman's Club of Niles which is co-sponsoring the play along with the Niles Bicentennial, joined by a group of Jefferson Theatrical Society members, make up the behind-the-scenes personnel. The play is directed by Phyllis Peterson and produced by Sid Mitchell, with Bicentennial co-ordinator Alice Bobula, Elmer Stiff as stage manager, and Steve Miller, Phyllis Peterson, Jack Adams, George Becker, and Angie Sciamma doing the writing chores.

One of the major jobs is shared by Pat Zaehler and Marion Stiff (see photograph) who are the costume co-chairmen. Pat works from sketches made by the director and translates them into patterns, and Marion and Pat do all the cutting and oversee a crew of six industrious gals who do the sewing. Well over 200 costumes are being fabricated, but the actors, singers, and dancers aren't required to take a stitch!

Other backstage responsibilities are being shouldered by: choral director, Dolores Howard; co-directors of choreography, Alvin Rycewicz and Barb Zaehler; Stan Rycewicz, in charge of lighting; Andy Ciabattari who is building the large props; and Sandie Friedman who is assembling the other necessities. Patti Jordan will be the make-up manager; Carol Carlson is the artist who is designing posters and program covers; Beverly Gale is publicity director, and Betty Kwast is ticket chairman. And all these people are quietly and efficiently doing their job as volunteers - no one in either the cast or crew is being paid!

So plan to come and see what all these hard-working neighbors are putting together for you to enjoy in celebration of our 200th birthday. Show dates are Thursday thru Sunday, April 22 thru 25 (8 p.m. except 7:30 on Sunday) plus matinees at 2 on Saturday and Sunday. All performances will take place at Jefferson School in Niles. For information about tickets, call 967-6100 or 967-7786.

Troop 175 pancake breakfast

Come and join Boy Scout Troop 175 at their annual pancake breakfast on Sunday, April 11, at the St. John Brebeuf Flanagan Hall, from 7:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. Delicious pancakes, sausage, coffee, juice and milk will be served, for only $1.50 per person or $6 for a family ticket. Children under 6 years free. Help the scouts on their way to summer camp.

Bridge champions

Tillie Ott, 8013 Overhill, Niles and Jean Bartmann, Palatine were among winners at the 1976 Spring North American Bridge Championships of the American Contract Bridge League here March 12-21. They scored among the Master Point winners first in their section and third overall in a one session event in which 120 players competed.

Services held for Erma D. Wiltse

Memorial services were held in the Methodist Church in DeKalb, Ill., Tuesday evening, March 30, for former Park Ridge resident, Mrs. Erma Drago Wiltse, wife of Dr. Earle W. Wiltse, former superintendent of Maine Township High School District 207. Mrs. Wiltse died suddenly on March 25 while she and Dr. Wiltse were visiting their son, Dr. William E. Wiltse, and his family at Cottage Grove, Oregon.

Mrs. Wiltse was active in Methodist Church and community affairs here during the seven years her husband served as superintendent of the school district. Upon his retirement in 1966, the Wiltses moved to DeKalb where Dr. Wiltse became affiliated with Northern Illinois University as an associate professor.

Besides her husband and her son, Dr. William E. Wiltse, Mrs. Wiltse leaves a second son, Gary Wiltse, of Volberg, Montana.

Niles West gymnast all-around champion

Talented... self-directed... fun... beautiful... hardworking... pleasant... terrific! That's Niles West gymnast Sue Kozub in a nutshell, as she's described by her peers, coaches and teachers.

And she's also the 1975-76 Central Suburban League South Division all-around champion, a fact which she says makes her very happy. This is the second time the seventeen-year-old senior from Skokie has won this coveted championship. The first time she won it as a sophomore, with an average score of 7.6 for the four events. This time, it took an 8.05 average to beat last year's champion, Melody Miller from Maine East.

Kozub began gymnastics a short four years ago as a vaulter, because she wanted "to do something active" and because she "looked up to my brother", who was then a gymnast at Niles East. She chose vaulting because it's the easiest and quickest to learn.

By her sophomore year, however, the blond, brown-eyed (like my dad) gymnast had committed herself to being an all-around performer. This time, the model was supplied by Joan Bauer, Niles West's all-around gymnast in 1973.

And Kozub said that she's never regretted either her decision to participate in gymnastics, which she says helps her grades as well, because it keeps her mind from getting too lazy, or choosing to perform all-around. About the latter, she likes the challenge and variety of working on different events. If anything, she likes both better than she even thought she would.

All-around gymnasts usually have a favorite event, and Kozub's is the uneven bars event, where she's improved her score from a 6.3 as a sophomore, to where she now consistently scores between 7.5 and 8.5, with her 1976 League championship score being an 8.55.

Besides being two-time conference all-around champion, Kozub also won the 1973-74 conference vaulting championship, the 1974-75 conference floor exercise and the current year's conference bars championship. State competition in high school girls' gymnastics will not be available until next year, after Kozub graduates.

West gymnastics coach Judi Sloan, an obvious Kozub fan, thinks that Sue's mental attitude, the high standards she sets for herself and the enjoyment she gets from gymnastics are responsible for her success in what the gymnastics circle considers a surprisingly short time. "She uses every second of her practice time and she's most likely to complain if the workout sessions are not hard enough," added Sloan.

During her gymnastics career at West, Kozub has earned the reputation among her teammates and coaches of being a team-minded, humorous person, who is, according to Sloan, "definitely not cocky". Sue countered that during her gymnastics time she's met "lots of nice kids, coaches and judges".

"Does the name 'Kozub' get bonus points? Not according to Sloan, who said that maybe a few years ago neophyte judges might be impressed by one "big trick", but that the scores given by the judges now are representative of the performances. And that's the way Kozub likes it too!

Incidentally, Sue Kozub is also a straight A student at West, with courses in Russian History, typing, shorthand, expository writing and public speaking. This spring, Kozub fans will be able to watch this versatile young athlete in track, where she will, according to track coach Jean Armour, compete in the high jump and the long jump for sure, maybe in the sprint or the relay, and perhaps even in the hurdles, "depending on how she does in those this spring."

In typical Kozub fashion, she forgets to mention some of her achievements or honors unless pressed. She "forgot" to mention, for example, that the Circle Campus (U. of I.) coach has asked her to be one of five team members to compete against a Mexican College team in March. The other four U.S. team members to compete in that meet are all to be college gymnasts.

Maine East Girls' Badminton

Maine East's varsity girls badminton team were winners against East Leyden, 5-2, and most recently, March 5, against Glenbrook North, 5-2, in the contest with Glenbrook North, singles winners for Maine East were Mary Gonnella and Renee Skrzypchak. The doubles winners were Margie Berresheim and Vicki Larson. Sue Gonnella and Lori Rafal and Terri Rafa and Cathy Surman.

The Demon varsity suffered some close losses—on February 27 Highland Park 4, Maine East 3; on March 3 Niles North 5, Maine East 2; and Niles East 5, Maine East 2.

The junior varsity badminton team has three victories—against East Leyden 7-1, Highland Park 6-1, and Glenbrook North 6-1. Singles winners for Maine East against Glenbrook North on Mar. 5 are Mary Kauffman, Judy Liebsch, and Kathy McMahon. Doubles winners were Kathy Berresheim and Kathy Polinski, Jan Perpignani and Cheryl Kier, and Dee Grant and Mandy Gries.

NDHS' Tim Glass repeats All-America

The week of March 11-19 was a busy one for fencers in the Midwest, and particularly for former Notre Dame High School fencers Tim Glass, Pat Gerard and Sam DeFiglio. All fence for the University of Notre Dame and they were part of a six-man team trying to retain their Great Lakes Conference championship. Pat Gerard was 16-1 going into the finals having lost only to nemesis, Jim Herring from Wisconsin Parkside. In the finals, Gerard lost to team-mate Mike McCahey and gold medalist Greg Benko (Wayne State) who retired after winning the event for 4 years. Gerard wound up 3rd with a record of 19-3. Results: 1. Greg Benko (Wayne State), 2. Mike McCahey (N.T.E., UND), 3. Pat Gerard (NDHS-UND), 4. Carl Klutke (Wayne State), 5. Mike Olson (U-Wis. Parkside), 6. Andy Krivchenia, Oberlin College. The surprise was that Jim Herring (Wis. Parkside-Maine South) did not make the finals.

In Epee, Tim Glass went undefeated 21-0 for tournament. The results were: 1. Tim Glass (NDHS-UND), 2. M. Znoy (Wayne State), 3. Kevin Smith (U. of Detroit), 4. G. Misewicz (Wayne State), 5. Ken Sweet (MATIC), and A. Bunker (MATIC). In Sabre, Sam DeFiglio went 17-3 for the tournament. Results: 1. Mike Sullivan (UND), 2. Urei Rabinovich (Wayne), 3. Sam DeFiglio (NDHS-UND), 4. M. Boykins (U. of Detroit), 5. S. Shiva (Wayne) and 6. Andy Vella (UICC).

In total team standings there were 16 schools, the top 5 being: 1. Univ. of Notre Dame 109; 2. Wayne State 101; 3. U. of Detroit 45; 4. Case Western Reserve 39; 5. Illinois Chicago Circle 38.

One of the exciting moments was the fact that freshman Mike Sullivan defeated defending champion Urei Rabinovich (a Russian immigrant 11th in Russia when he left). This tournament finished on Saturday, and the next day it was off to the NCAA championships in Philadelphia at the campus of the University of Pennsylvania.

At the NCAA's there were 56 different schools with 52 fencers in foil, and epee and 47 in sabre. The preliminary rounds on Thursday went from 9 a.m. to 11:30 p.m. At the end of the first day all 3 ND fencers advanced to the quarter-finals, along with 9 other 3 man teams. The second day, ND suffered a loss with Mike McCahey being eliminated in the quarters. At the end of the quarter finals UND was in the lead 59-58 with Wayne State right behind and NYU in 3rd place. In this round, Tim Glass went undefeated 5-0 to keep his string at 15-0 for the tournament and get the top seed in the epee. The epee was a very tough event. In the semi-finals Glass lost his first bout in 36 times to a fencer from the Univ. of Wisconsin. Going into the semi-finals NYU pulled ahead by 1 point of Notre Dame. In the finals, in foil, Greg Benko (Wayne State) won his 3rd NCAA title to join only two other fencers with this consecutive number (Bruce Coriano, Columbia in sabre; and Risto Hermo, NYU in epee). In the Sabre, Mike Sullivan from UND defeated Rabinovich again and in a tie for 2nd place lost out on touches to take third, which gave him 1st team All-American in Sabre. In Epee, Tim Glass had a tough time of it. After defeating the "top seed" Hans Wiselgrin (Switzerland) of NYU, he had to scrape for his other 2 wins and went 3-4 for the day to take a disappointing 6th, fortunately this is still All-American category, so he was able to get his second All-America certificate in two years. Glass' results make him NDHS' 2nd University All-America in 2 years.

The UND team did quite well this season with the 6 NDHS fencers on the team. They went 26-0 for the season with Gerard, Glass and DeFiglio in the mid 40's for wins. They were able to defend their conference title over Wayne State, and they came close to a national title. NYU won it with 79 points. Wayne State edged out UND with 77 and UND had 76.

The team was in New York City for the international meet, the Martini-Rossi championships at the New York Athletic Club. This meet is by invitation only and is the most prestigious meet in the United States. Fencers from all over Europe attend this meet, and in this the pre-olympic year, many of the European Olympians from Italy, France, and Poland will be there.

Notre Dame hockey team 1976 state champions

The impossible dream for the varsity hockey team of Notre Dame High School in Niles began on March 15 at the Skatium in Skokie and ended on March 25 at the Randhurst Ice Arena in Mt. Prospect before a roaring crowd of more than 2,400. They were then thrill packed days down the tournament trail — days of anxiety, exuberance, and finally the unbelievable chant of "We're number one!"

The opening game of the Skokie Sectional on March 15 matched ND with Fenwick, a team the Dons had not beaten in three years. For two and a half periods the score stood 2-1 in favor of the Dons of ND. Then with sudden finality, ND tallied three quick goals in the last five minutes to pull away to a 5-1 victory. Matt Berrafato, goaltender supreme, kicked out 43 of 44 shots. Five different Dons scored as Don Hitzel led the way with three assists.

On March 17 at the Skatium ND met the Niles North Vikings and ND quickly jumped off to a 3-0 lead at the end of the first period. Three more quick scores during the first minute of the third period were enough for ND to coast home with an 8-2 victory. Chris Vana had four and Larry DeSalvo scored three of the ND goals. The sectional finals pit Notre Dame against Loyola Academy on March 18. Once again the Dons scored four goals in the last eleven minutes to break open a 2-2 game enroute to a 6-2 win. Larry DeSalvo scored three and Don Hitzel scored two goals to lead the Don snipers as ND qualified for the state finals.

At Randhurst on March 22, ND met the Homewood-Flossmoor Vikings, a team that ND had failed to defeat in two earlier games this season. Notre Dame jumped out to a 3-0 lead in the first period and with three more goals in the third period rolled to a 7-2 victory. Chris Vana's three goals and Ralph Dynet's two goals led the Dons to this victory.

The Lancers of Lake Park provided the semi-final opposition on March 23 at Randhurst. After ND had taken a 5-1 lead midway thru the game, Lake Park came back to narrow the lead to 5-4 with nine minutes to play. Berrafato held them at bay until Chris Vana could net his second goal of the night for the final margin of 6-4. Craig Belluomini scored a goal and added four assists to pace the ND scorers.

In the playoff for the state championship on March 25, Notre Dame met the Glenbrook North Spartans. Over the course of the season the two teams had met five times, each team winning one and three games ending in ties. Craig Belluomini gave ND a 1-0 lead after only 1:05 of the first period as Mike Van Schaack from GBN was sitting out a tripping penalty. Scott Rushing of GBN tied the score with three minutes left in the period. This time Don Hitzel of ND was in the penalty box for hooking. Less than one minute later, Tony Salemi of ND converted a pass from Tom Ackermann and the Dons led 2-1 at the end of the first period. Midway thru the second period, Don Hitzel scored off a face-off and it was 3-1 for ND. Tony Salemi's goal with Bob Schumacher and Dave Heckler came back with goals for GBN and with four minutes left the score was 4-3 and it was up to ND goaler Matt Berrafato to keep it that way. Two untimely penalties for GBN in the last two minutes helped ease the tension for ND and begin the celebration for Notre Dame's state champions.

LETTERS to EDITOR

Library personnel grateful

Dear Editor:
On Wednesday, March 24, the Morton Grove Public Library sustained severe wind damage to its roof. With the prompt and efficient response to our call, and the fine cooperation between them, the Public Works Department and the Fire Department kept that damage from becoming worse.

The Library is very much in their debt and would like to take this opportunity to thank Chief Fred Kuscher, James Dahm and all of their men for their splendid joint effort on our behalf.
Joan G. Stewart (Sgd.)
Chief Librarian

Pleased with Lutheran General facilities

Dear Editor:
In response to Mr. Hall's letter published 3-18-76, I would be interested in knowing why he returned to Lutheran General after being so vocal in denouncing them after his first visit. When he went to the Emergency Room did he ask about charges or does he obtain services and then complain?

If Marshall Field's is too expensive, shop at Goldblatts. If Jake's is too expensive, eat at McDonalds. If Lutheran General is too expensive, go to St. Luke's. As for a non-profit organization, Lutheran General is no different from any other group. You are not required to go to Lutheran General, any more than to church or a private college. I have used the facilities at Lutheran General many times since it opened and have always been very pleased with the facilities, the services, the personnel, and the charges.

Yours truly,
Richard F. Reeve
Niles, Ill.

Seniors grateful for new piano

Dear Editor:
The Social Activity Committee of the Niles Trident Center would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who contributed their time and donations throughout the past year to help us raise money for a piano, which is now at the Trident Center.

Without the help of the Dempster Plaza State Bank, who not only put up a display of Bazaar items for sale at the bank, but also contributed a piano bench; the Niles All American Senior Citizen Club and the generosity of the many Senior Citizens, the Trident Center would still be without a piano.

Last but not least, our thanks to Janice Sanes, Program Director of the Center who helped us plan our activities, and to Mary Kay Morrissey, Coordinator of the Niles Senior Center, Niles, Ill. Our many thanks to you all, Henrietta Boughey, Chairman Social Activity Committee, Niles Senior Center

Open letter to the residents of School District 67

I have never written a letter through the media before, but feel that I must express my feelings in regards to the disastrous decision that was made by the residents of School District #67 in the referendum vote a week ago. To my friends who voted to allow my children the opportunity to be as well educated as the students in adjoining districts without the need for deficit spending (which creates problems for the parents of the children behind ours), I say "Thank You". To the residents of the district who, for reasons known only to themselves, voted to reduce the quality of my children's education by forcing the elimination of parts of the school curriculum for lack of funds, I sincerely request a moment of your time to read the following.

I have three children in District #67. My wife and I were married for ten years before we were blessed with these wonderful children. During that ten years we paid our share of the taxes necessary to educate some of the children of the older residents who are now voting against my children; we never complained. One of my children is very art oriented. He is a good student in all subjects, but sincerely enjoys art and music. I guess that in the eyes of the voters this makes him a useless individual and his needs are not important since art and music are not subjects that are considered basics. Another of the children was born with a physical defect. We were told when this was finally diagnosed (at considerable cost) that he would never be able to do many of the things that other boys his age could do. Through the abilities of the physical education instructors, the programs which are given in our gym courses and the boy's own perseverance, he has all but overcome his disabilities. A further complication of his problem was being a slow starter. He was given special education classes in his first years by highly qualified and motivated teachers and as a result he is today able to function in a regular classroom and is a very bright child. In the eyes of the voters, I guess he doesn't count either. They say, "Let's go back to the basics and forget all the frills." What do they suggest be done with children like this one who require more than the basics to get a good start? Forget them? Ban them to an institution where the cost to the taxpayers will probably be ten or fifteen times the cost of the programs that can correct the problems in the school district? Give them just the basics and then watch them become serious social problems in a few years when they can't cope with the society that they will be required to function within?

We, my wife and I, are active in every school function we can participate in. We are sorry that we cannot participate in all of them, but we do have other commitments. Many of these are also related to our children. They consist of things such as weekly trips to the doctor so that two of the children can get allergy shots, trips to an orthopaedic surgeon to correct another birth defect in one of the kids, trips to get the music lessons that have allowed one of the kids to already give an organ concert and last, but not least, working two jobs to assure that my children get the quality of education that is expected in an affluent suburban community. Why are we so involved? Because we honestly believe that the quality of our children's education will affect the lives of all of us in the future. The uneducated or frustrated child becomes a threat to the society in which he or she functions. The physically or mentally handicapped child also becomes a threat when he or she tries to compensate and obtain the attention that he is not normally given. Education of a child is much cheaper for the voters than institutionalization of the handicapped adult.

Does going back to the basics mean getting rid of the social workers and allowing the children to cope with their problems themselves or maybe giving the additional task to the teachers? Sure, why not? The teachers have plenty of extra time. With the failure of the referendum the teachers should have only 30 or 40 students in each class. I wonder how many of the voters who said "No to my kids can handle their own children's problems and difficulties much less handle 30 or 40 at a time and attempt to teach them something at the same time!"

How come with a request to 300 parents for help from the school, we only have 12 parents who come out and help? Before the vote, some people said that the district could maintain the level of education it was providing without the extra income if they operated more efficiently. This may or may not be true, but it is a fact that the level could be maintained if all the parents got off their duffs and came out to help in the programs and voted to continue the programs. If you honestly believe that the school board is not doing the job as well or better than you could, why did you elect them? Why don't you run for office yourself and show us all how to do it better?

I personally know several of the people who advocated going back to the basics and campaigned against my children. I usually meet them in the prepared foods section of the supermarket. Sometimes I meet them in the frozen foods section. We should go back to the basics with my children, but it isn't necessary for the basics to be brought into the homes of these nit-wits. Home economics is probably not going to be considered a basic so my daughter will be deprived of the opportunity to learn how to make foods from basic ingredients. This is all right though, she will be able to shop someday in the prepared foods and frozen foods sections of the grocery store along with the people who were responsible for her lack of education.

I hope that the elected members of the school board can come up with a workable solution to the problems that the voters have inflicted upon them. If it is true that the quality of the education in District #67 can be maintained without the extra monies I hope that our board will do so. If there are additional sources of revenue that may be used let's go ahead and try to get them. If we are going to be forced to reduce the quality of my children's education because of the decision of the district's voters please let me know early so I can make arrangements to send my children to a district or a parochial school where the children count instead of the almighty dollar.

I guess that maybe my wife and I should be able to teach our children some of the things they will be deprived of in school since we will have so much more time. We will be able to work much less and put in fewer hours at our tasks now that we will not be charged the additional $30 or $40 or $50 a year that the referendum might have cost us.

In conclusion, I sincerely hope that the people who voted against my children are afflicted with enough conscience to at least stop and think of them when they are spending their hard earned money for the basics like cigarettes, booze, theater and dinner, pizza, Big Macs, frozen foods, quick foods, a second or third color TV, a stereo. I hope that they will go back to the basics and start to ride public transportation instead of buying the second or third car. I hope they will spend their vacations in a tent instead of a $20,000 camper or a Miami Beach Hotel since they voted to indicate they couldn't afford to give our school district and my children the additional monies to continue their high quality education. I sincerely wish them a complete transmission failure in the center lane of Eden's Highway at rush hour and hope from the bottom of my heart that the cost of repairs is equal to at least ten times what our school district needed from them per year. Of course, this won't happen to them if they go back to the basics and ride a bus or train because they can't afford a car.

Thanks voters

Dear Editor:
As one of those rare candidates who was unopposed in last week's Republican Primary Election, I would like to express my thanks to all — Republican and Democrat alike — who exercised their voting right.

Far too many of our fellow citizens do themselves a disservice when, for whatever reason, they fail to participate in our nominating process. A far greater mind than mine is often quoted as saying that, "Bad officials are elected by those who do not vote."

The flurry of interest which reached its crescendo on March 16, will taper off here in Illinois as candidates for the highest office in our land take their cases before voters in other state primaries only to be rekindled once the major parties have officially settled on their respective Presidential candidates.

Meanwhile, a considerable effort must be made by Republicans in Cook County to close ranks and heal the wounds left by hard fought primary battles. This candidate is going to do all he can to bring that about in the shortest period of time possible.

May I also express my appreciation for the space you have devoted in your newspaper to insure that our electorate is the best informed in the world today.

Respectfully yours,
Roland R. Moore, Jr.
Republican Nominée
Clerk of the Circuit Court of Cook County

CHURCH & TEMPLE NOTES...

THE LITTLE COUNTRY CHAPEL

The First Annual Balloon Launch of The Little Country Chapel of Niles (First Baptist Church) was held last Sunday, March 28, after the church services. It marked the close of the successful Sunday School attendance campaign and heralded the beginning of balloon launching to be featured as an annual event of the church. Each Sunday School pupil, including some adults, were given a helium air balloon to launch with an attached gospel message and an invitation to the Dedication Services of the completed new church building, scheduled for May 2, 1976. The church will look forward to hearing from those who find the balloons.

Bible classes and services for Sunday, April 4, will be held in the Niles Recreation Center, located at 7887 Milwaukee ave. Classes for pre-school thru adult ages will begin at 9:45 a.m. Each class will continue the study of God's Law-The Ten Commandments. Pastor Roger L. McManus will deliver the sermon at 11 a.m. and children's church will be conducted at the same hour in a separate classroom.

The evening praise and wor-

Edison Park Lutheran Church

The Spring Convention of the North Chicago Conference of the Illinois District American Lutheran Church Women will be held Thursday, April 8, at the Edison Park Lutheran Church, Avondale and Oliphant ave., Chicago. A Banner Processional will open the morning session of the Convention at 9:30 a.m. with a coffee hour preceding at 9 a.m.

Highlight of the Convention Program will be an address by Mrs. Irene Doermann Sagebiel of Houston, Texas. She has served as National Director of Stewardship for the American Lutheran Church Women from 1968 until her retirement Dec. 1, 1975. She is a native of Blue Island, Ill., where her father was pastor of First Lutheran Church.

Mrs. Robert Spenn (Emden, Ill.), President of the Illinois District of the American Lutheran Church Women, will bring a short message. A luncheon break will be held and the donation is $2.50.

A musical program will be presented at the Afternoon Session by "The Ribs", a group of pastor's wives who are wellknown for their choral selections and for their guitar accompaniment. A special skit will be given by the Retreat Committee.

Lutheran Welfare Services of Illinois is the offering objective. This reaches many areas, such as the aged, day care centers, children, unwed mothers and alcoholics.

Local arrangements, reservations and registrations are being handled by Mrs. Kenneth (Vera) Johnson of Edison Park. She will be assisted by the host auxiliary president, Mrs. Damon (Marguerite) Dwyer of Park Ridge. Sitter service will be provided and mothers are asked to please bring a sack lunch for their children.

Niles Family Service

The Differences and similarities in counselors - A matter of degrees?

Many people who call Niles Family Service for help are concerned about who is going to work with them, and want us to reassure them that they will receive assistance from a person with the "right" background for their problem. I have difficulty responding because people are generally not clear about the differences nor appreciate the similarity between psychiatrists, psychologists and social workers. I hope to make some distinction between these disciplines and reduce the confusion that exists. This is not an easy task because all of the above are therapists; they are people who are available to help you better manage your problems. However, there are a few clear distinctions that I can make.

A psychiatrist is a physician whose specialty is treating people with mental and/or emotional problems. Only a psychiatrist can prescribe medication to reduce the symptoms his patients present. Perhaps you are familiar with some of the names of the more popular drugs: Librium, Valium, Meprobamate (Miltown). Only a psychiatrist can, strictly speaking, hospitalize a patient and be held responsible for his patient's treatment while in a hospital. It is primarily for these two purposes that Niles Family Service utilizes the services of several psychiatrists for individuals that might require these specialized services.

A clinical psychologist specializes in administering a wide variety of psychological tests which indicate levels of intelligence, IQ, dimensions of an individual's personality (called projective tests), as well as aptitude and achievement tests. Their specific expertise is in their ability to administer and interpret the results of these tests. We at Niles Family Service have a psychologist on the staff who is available to do testing.

A social worker's special area is in his or her knowledge of social service agencies in the community and their relatedness to their individual clients. Consequently, social workers are found in a wide variety of social service institutions such as mental health clinics, family service agencies, community centers, hospitals, and schools, as well as the more familiar settings such as public assistance and child welfare agencies. Aside from the special areas of expertise that I have mentioned, the professionals in these three disciplines share in having a broad knowledge of human behavior. They have spent many hours in study and in practical training to become therapists. Some of their different methodologies will be discussed in future columns.

In addition to their specialties, the professional's skills as a therapist are derived as much from their life experiences and sensitivity to other people as their formal training. Because the relationship between client and counselor is the basis upon which change and progress occur, you as client are the ultimate judge of their skill. Just as you are a unique individual, so is the therapist. If your experience is less than acceptable, it may be that you and your therapist's differences were so great that you were unable to establish a therapeutic relationship. However, someone else might meet your needs more. It is not only a matter of their degrees. Therapists at Niles Family Service have differing methodologies and different life experiences. We acknowledge this by encouraging our staff to refer clients to other therapists here if either party is dissatisfied. Through this process, we can continue to provide a professional and helpful service.

If you have individual, marital or family problems, or want to enhance your personal, marital or family growth, call Niles Family Service, 692-3396, or come in to 8060 Oakton St., Niles.

She has been very active in the Nelson School PTA for two years, is Girl Scout Organizer for Nelson, a member of the League of Women Voters and the President of the Association for the Protection of the Adoptive Triangle.

Mrs. Oestreich is very concerned about the mistrust and lack of good faith she feels exists between the board, the staff, the administration, and most importantly, the community. "The next few years are not going to be easy ones for District 63. The budgetary problems we face must be dealt with; but in no way can we dilute the quality of education our children deserve and our parents demand. The community does not feel that their best interests are being served at the present time, they do not have trust in the decisions and policies being set by the board of education."

Oestreich is greatly concerned, also, that the financial concerns of our district do not take attention away from the main job of the school district: the education of children. "District 63 has a fine educational program, but there is much questioning by parents and teachers in the past few years as to whether or not these programs are maintaining their high standards. The board of education must address itself to these questions."

"It is imperative that our school board keep a proper perspective regarding its functions: They must deal with educational as well as administrative responsibilities. But most importantly, they must work together and work with the other groups that make up our district to offer our children the best school district possible."

Roberta J. Morris

Roberta J. Morris has announced her candidacy for one of the three vacant seats on the East Maine District 63 School Board this year. The election will be held Saturday, April 10, from noon to 7:30 p.m. at the local schools.

Mrs. Morris is one of three persons who have been endorsed by the East Maine General Caucus. She has a B.A. from the University of Illinois in Secondary Education in English and French and an M.A. from the University of Chicago in English Language and Literature. She has taught English, Speech, and Journalism on the high school and college levels in Chicago.

"I have three children already attending District 63 schools, a fourth who will enter in 1977. I volunteer in the schools, and I feel I am in touch with what is happening in them. Too many current school board members and administrators just aren't around enough, and they believe everything works as smoothly as it looks on paper; parents know this just isn't so."

Mrs. Morris and her husband, a physician, have lived in the community five years. She has been active as a caucus delegate, PTA room mother, homeowners' association block captain, officer in the National Society for Autistic Children, volunteer for the Crusade of Mercy, and other community activities.

"I would like to see a first-rate educational system for our children without fiscal irresponsibility. Our community needs and deserves the highest quality schools per educational tax dollar, and, to accomplish this, a decisive, independent, hard-working, hard-thinking school board. I think the community will prove in this election that they are determined to keep control of their schools in their own hands."

Ann Sostrin

Mrs. Herman Sostrin, a 12-year resident of Morton Grove and mother of 6, is a caucus-endorsed candidate seeking election to the District 63 School Board. She has been active in PTA since her children started school 8 years ago and currently serves on the PTA Board of Melzer, Apollo, and River Ridge Council.

Mrs. Sostrin established and implemented the Melzer Teacher Aid Program which was the district's pilot program for placing volunteer help in schools in both clerical and classroom levels. She has also been very active on District 63 committees. In the past she served on the Citizens' Committee regarding Referendum and co-chaired the Luncheon Program Committee. At this time she is serving on the Bicentennial Committee and the Community Education Committee. For the past 8 years she has attended the District's School Board meetings.

"There is no doubt in anyone's mind that school districts throughout Illinois are facing a financial crisis and ours is no exception," she said, "however, I strongly oppose deficit spending at this time because it would be thoroughly irresponsible. No experts, from bonding houses to legislators predict more money coming our way and to spend more than we are taking in will only throw us into a real financial disaster."

As a Board Member, Mrs. Sostrin will work hard for improved communication both within the schools and in the community. "It is all too apparent," she said, "that the Board and Administration are out of touch with what is actually going on in our schools. Junior High School teachers are not totally satisfied with the preparation their students have received in grade school, and parents of high school students express growing dissatisfaction with their children's preparedness for high school. It is high time our school board thoroughly evaluated what we are doing educationally for our children. This doesn't mean that creativity and thinking for one's self cannot co-exist comfortably with basic learning skills," she added.

Richard M. Smith

Richard M. Smith, 34, of 8412 Oak, Niles, has announced his candidacy for election to the East Maine District 63 Board of Education in the election to be held Saturday, April 10th.

Smith has appeared before the East Maine General Caucus and has received endorsement for election to the board.

A ten year resident of the district, Smith is the father of two children and has been active in the P.T.A., currently serving as School Education chairman for the Ballard P.T.A. Board, as well as being a member of the District 63 Bicentennial Committee. In his capacity as School Education chairman he has attended almost every Board of Education meeting for the past two years.

Smith has an educational background in business and law, and for ten years has been assistant to the president and a corporate officer of a Chicago based manufacturer and distributor of home furnishings.

"The real issue in this election" says Smith, "is not the Superintendent, but the restructuring of a divided and weakened Board of Education which has been dominated by an ambitious administrator. The community has been severely split by such events as the building of an administration building, a teachers strike precipitated by board and administration inflexibility, and proposed cutbacks in the educational program at the expense of saving administrative and non-educational positions."

Smith sees the "tradition" of renewing the three year contract of the Superintendent every year with a raise in salary as "poor business practice; a dangerous precedent, and unacceptable in light of present economic conditions."

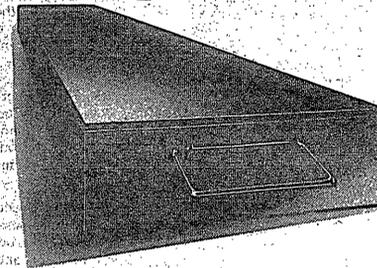

Smith has set as his priorities: The highest quality educational program for all children in the district. Responsiveness of the board to community attitudes, values and desires. The restoration of confidence in the Board of Education. The re-establishment of meaningful dialogue between board, staff, and administration. The continuation of the neighborhood school concept in the district. Economic responsibility WITHOUT educational irresponsibility.

"My main objective" according to Smith, "is to utilize my best efforts to restore an environment of mutual trust and respect between all segments of the educational community. A fair, honest, and open approach is required in order to reverse the downward trend of education in our district, and my future board service will be marked by candor, reason, and above all, integrity."

District 67 candidates state platform

Leonard Fleming, Marvin Weiner and Harold Cohon, all candidates for the school board in District 67, have released their five-point platform. They ask all who agree with the following to vote for them on April 10. It is our purpose to:

1. Put greatest emphasis on the learning process. The children come first.
  2. Oppose tax increase referendums in the foreseeable future.
  3. Give the children the best education possible with the money now available.
  4. Change learning emphasis to good solid education to prepare the children for high school and the world. Give them the basic tools by stressing math, English, spelling, writing, history and civics.
  5. Balance the budget by eliminating low priority subjects and unnecessary personnel.
- Fleming, Weiner and Cohon all have, or have had, children in District 67 Schools.

School Board Candidates' night

Candidates' Night will be held at Gemini School, South Gym, Ballard and Greenwood, Niles, on Monday, April 5, at 8 p.m. Featured will be an informative and interesting presentation by the candidates for the Boards of School District 63, Maine Township High School 207, and Oakton College 535. A question and answer period will be held with Betsy Shore as Moderator.

District 67 caucus endorsed candidates

The Caucus Committee of School District 67, a non-partisan group selected by geographical areas to represent the electorate as closely as possible, has endorsed candidates for three open positions on the School Board. The candidates are Sheldon Marcus of Morton Grove, Joann Mantelman of Niles, and Arthur H. Swanson of Glenview.

The Caucus interviews all applicants and endorses candidates on the basis of their interest in and understanding of school affairs, as well as background and experience. Mr. Sheldon Marcus of Morton Grove, who is running as an at-large candidate, was appointed by the Board to fill a vacancy left by the resignation of Mr. Edward Newland who moved out of the District last year. Mr. Marcus has lived in District 67 since 1968, is married, and has two children in the school system. He is a graduate of Roosevelt University with a B.S. degree in Business Administration. He also attended DePaul Law School. He is head of his own advertising/marketing organization, Original Concepts, Inc. He previously served the Chicago Tribune in various advertising responsibilities, including being involved in the creation and initial marketing of the Suburban Trib. Mr. Marcus has served as a delegate to the Caucus Committees of Districts 67 and 219, has worked actively with the Boy Scouts, and is a member of Save Open Space Committee of the Morton Grove Park District. Mr. Marcus states that by seeking election he hopes to contribute to the creative planning and efficient use of our dollar resources in providing all children with a good basic academic structure, but not at the expense of educational standards. He feels that a good educational system benefits everyone in the community, and believes that he has the professional experience, dedication, and objective judgment to represent the entire community on the important issues that will be facing the Board in the next few years. Arthur H. Swanson, the candidate representing Glenview, is a native of the North Shore, and has resided in Glenview since 1972. He attended Washington and Lee University, the University of Illinois, and has an M.B.A. from Northwestern University. He served as an artillery officer in World War II and Korea, and is married with one daughter. His career has been spent primarily in industry, concentrated in personnel and industrial relations. Mr. Swanson has a long-standing interest in education and feels that an effective school system is important in maintaining the quality of the community it serves. He is aware of the problems currently facing our district and is seriously interested in assisting in arriving at solutions which will be of benefit to all of the citizens of the community. Mrs. Joann Mantelman, the candidate from Niles, has served one term on the Board, and has resided in the District for 13 years. She has a B.A.S. in Education from National College, and a Master's Degree in Guidance and Counseling from Northeastern Illinois University. She is married, with a son in college, one at Niles North High School, and a daughter at Golf Junior High. She has served on the District 219 Caucus as a delegate and as treasurer of the Executive Committee, as delegate to the Special Education Committee of Niles Township, and four years as a Board Member of the District 67 PTO. Mrs. Mantelman feels that children must be prepared by the elementary and junior high schools to compete successfully. She feels that academic disciplines must be maintained, and there should be opportunities for children to use and reinforce these skills, but this must be done in a fiscally effective way. The election will be held on April 10.

District 67 'Meet the Candidates'

The District 67 Parent-Teacher Organization has arranged a "Meet the Candidates" evening on Thursday, April 1, at 8 p.m. at Golf Junior High School. All candidates for election to the School Board will be invited to make a short presentation and to be available to answer questions from the floor.

There are eight candidates for three positions. Caucus supporting candidates are Sheldon Marcus of Morton Grove, Joann Mantelman of Niles, and Arthur H. Swanson of Glenview. Running as independents are Leonard Fleming, Harold Cohon, Marvin Weiner, Judy Kochman, and Ann Kirk, all of Morton Grove. All district residents are invited to attend.

Bicentennial.

will participate should be sent to Edward McMahon, Parade Chairman, Morton Grove Bicentennial Commission, 6223 Dempster, Morton Grove, Ill. 60053.

A project being sponsored by the Morton Grove Bicentennial Commission on June 11, 12 and 13 is something new to this area. The Commission has designated it, "The Encampment Weekend."

It will be held in Linne Woods and will consist of a number of uniformed groups from the Revolutionary, Civil and Indian Wars participating in drills, displays, etc. of the era they represent.

The groups will establish camp sites in Linne Woods, many simulated to be as they once were. During Saturday and Sunday, field drills will be held throughout the day.

During the evening of June 12, a torchlight parade will be held through the streets of Morton Grove.

Throughout both days, a number of arts and crafts of bygone days will be on exhibit.

This year there will once again be fireworks on July 4. After a lapse of one year, the Bicentennial Commission with the help of now disbanded Morton Grove Days Committee will return with this event.

The display will be the final program of Morton Grove's Bicentennial Celebration and will be held as in the past in Harter Park.

During the daylight hours of July 4, the Morton Grove Senior Citizens will hold a Country Fair on the American Legion grounds adjacent to Harter Park.

GIVE YOUR FAIR SHARE IT REALLY HELPS

District 74.

Cont'd from Skokie-L'wood P.1 school officials explained.

The SOS rally, spearheaded by a newly-formed Citizens Committee for Lincolnwood Schools, will focus on organizing volunteers into groups of precinct captains, coffee hostesses, and telephone teams.

Lincolnwood residents Mary Helen Archibald, Dist. 74 Board of Education president, and Marjorie Weinstein, the Lincolnwood PTA president, said the pro-referendum campaign will include direct mailings to all Village residents. A telephone campaign is underway urging residents to attend the SOS meeting.

The campaign will urge residents to maintain Lincolnwood's high educational standards and protect property values by approving the referendum which if passed will lift Lincolnwood's school fund tax ceiling to a par with neighboring districts.

Zoning fees.

Cont'd from Niles-E.Maine P.1 Marcheschi to seek a cut of the suggested homeowner $50 fee to $25, in order not to put a hardship on the Niles homeowner wishing to build an addition.

A Zoning fee committee of Zoning Comrs. Jack Frick, Ken Cohen, Trustee Marcheschi and Salerno appointed by Mayor Nicholas Blase to research the new table of listings resulted in a compromise and approval of the residential Hearing fee at $35. The new rates table will be set into ordinance at the next April 13, village board meeting.

Jewish women.

Continued from Page 1. CPR can mean the difference between life and death. Those in attendance will not only learn but also perform CPR.

The public is welcome. For more information call Maxine Burke, 272-2405.

Tree planting.

Cont'd from Niles-E.Maine P.1 Sugar Maple - largest of all maples, brilliant hues of orange and yellow in fall, very hardy, grows to 60 feet.

White Birch - beautiful tree, snow white bark, fast growing grows to 45 feet.

Tulip Tree - large yellow tulip shaped flowers. Similar to a Magnolia tree, fast growing, grows to 60 feet.

White Dogwood - flowering tree has large white blossoms, foliage attractive all summer with beautiful fall colors, grows to 35 feet.

The trees must be ordered by April 3, 1976, and will be delivered by April 25, 1976. For more information call Women's Club of Niles, Suzanne Miller, 967-5687 or Garden Club of Niles - Joyce Knapp, 965-5351.

NFS plans family worship

On Saturday, April 3, the Niles Family Service will sponsor an unusual, action-oriented workshop entitled, "Your Life, Your Work, Your Family: The Delicate Balance". This interesting and fun workshop will use roleplaying and other forms of participation to help people better balance the often conflicting demands and pressures coming from the outside world. It will look at why and how people make their important life decisions. The focus will be on families and individuals dealing not so much with purely internal problems, but with the external world — the world of work (inside and outside the home), politics, schools, organizations, religion, etc. This innovative workshop will be led by Janice Adleman, a consultant in Family Life Education to Niles Family Service. Janice is also a social science writer and instructor at Oakton Community College and MONA-CEP.

The workshop will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. on April 3 at Niles Trident Center, 8060 Oakton st., Niles. Individuals, couples, or families can come. Men and young people are especially welcome! The cost is $2 for Niles families and $3 for non-Niles residents (regardless of how many family members come). Please phone Niles Family Service at 692-3396 to make a reservation for this exciting session!

D. E. state competition

Competition was keen for students participating in the state-wide Distributive Education contests held in Springfield the first week-end in March.

Participating in Sales Demonstration contests were Randee Soroka of Des Plaines and Karen Kromrei of Niles. In Advertising Layout Judy Lacina of Morton Grove competed as did Patty Vilona of Des Plaines and Chris Bartolucci of Niles in Job Interview. In Public Speaking Mark Unterberger of Morton Grove participated, and Sandy Bartolucci of Niles participated in Display Judging.

Individual results for Maine East were Randee Soroka finished twentieth in Sales Demonstration, Karen Kromrei finished twenty-fourth in Sales Demonstration out of 115 students; Judy Lacina finished nineteenth out of 113 students in Ad Layout; and Sandy Bartolucci finished twenty-fifth out of 115 in Display Judging.

What's the word for the bank that offers you 10 safe ways to save?

"Strong" is the word for CitizensBank. The kind of strength you want in your bank, especially during these uncertain times.

We're strong, not just because we've become the largest bank in Illinois outside Chicago's Loop, but also because our huge deposits are backed by an unusually high percentage of capital reserves. So high, that among the top ten banks in the state, Citizens' capital position, in relation to deposits, is one of the strongest, most secure around. And, of course, your accounts in separate entities are each insured to $40,000 by the F.D.I.C.

And you don't have to go all the way downtown to keep your money safe. You get all the strength and safety you'll ever need at easy-to-get-to CitizensBank in Park Ridge.

More savings plans than most other banks

Second City Actress leads Workshop

Jan Bina, Chicago actress, radio personality, will lead a five-week segment of the "Artists' Workshop" at Oakton Community College from March 30-May 6.

Currently associated with Chicago's Second City company, Ms. Bina will discuss the theory and practice of improvisational theatre. "She will also guide participation in the experience of acting out ideas and situations that lend themselves to dramatic expression," said Richard Storing, associate professor of humanities and coordinator of the "Artists Workshops".

Ms. Bina's extensive background includes a stint on Chicago radio station WSDM, work with several Chicago-area experimental theatre projects, and a year at Oakton where she taught theatre and communications.

The "Artists' Workshop" series gives students and interested community members the opportunity to meet Chicago-based artists, dramatists, musicians and writers in a situation where they can discuss and participate in the techniques of each medium.

Oakton students, staff and community members are welcome to attend the "Artists' Workshop" free of charge. The sessions are held from 11 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

For further information, contact Storing at 967-5120, ext. 244.

"No, No, Nanette" opens at Notre Dame

Notre Dame High School, 7655 Dempster in Niles, will present its annual musical on April 2, 3 and 4 in the gym at 8 p.m. It is No, No, Nanette, a Broadway musical originally staged in 1925 and revived six years ago with Ruby Keeler and Patsy Kelly in the lead roles. Two of the best known hit songs by Vincent Youmans are "Tea for Two" and "I Want to be Happy". The book was written by Otto Harbach and Frank Mandel. The lyrics were by Irving Caesar and Otto Harbach. Tickets may be purchased at the door for $2.50 or ordered and picked up at the door by calling the school at 965-2900 between 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. on a school day.

Male leads are John Cashman of Morton Grove, who plays Jimmy; Matt Sorrentino of Niles, who plays Tom; and Tom Tubilewicz of Chicago, who plays Billy. Four girls from area schools who have important parts are Kim Copa of Northbrook, who plays Nanette; Carol Cinnick of Morton Grove, who plays Lucille; Sheila Flood of Morton Grove, who plays Pauline; and Patty Schleiter of Des Plaines, who plays Sue. More than 120 students are involved in these performances on, off, back, and beneath the stage.

"Huck Finn" at Niles North May 4

The Skokie Fine Arts Commission will sponsor a professional performance of "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn, Part I" which is touring Illinois this spring as part of the Illinois Arts Council's Bicentennial Theatre Tour. Chicago's Organic Theatre Company will perform this sophisticated Mark Twain classic on May 4 at the Niles North High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. "Huck Finn" has just returned from a triumphant six-week tour of Europe and their Director, Stuart Gordon, was given the Joseph Jefferson Award for Best New Play and Best Director.

This production is the first completely faithful stage version of Twain's novel, using only Twain's own words for its dialog. It is not a candy-coated version which would delude non-readers of the book into thinking it a children's story. The show relies very little on sets or props. Instead, its energetic troupe makes the evening all the more vivid by conveying things like the river's motion in their movements. The seven versatile performers play over 300 of Twain's characters during the two parts of the play. Part I will be performed this time around.

The Organic Theatre Company has progressed in its six years to become one of Chicago's major professional theatres. Its reputation is firmly established in New York and Europe, and its members are pleased to have this chance to tour in their home state of Illinois. This Bicentennial Tour is made possible in part by grants from the Illinois Arts Council and the National Endowment for the Arts.

Tickets for the May 4 performance will be on sale beginning April 1 at the Skokie Fine Arts Center, 7908 Babb, at the First National Bank of Skokie, Old Orchard Bank, Oakton Park, Devonshire Park and Laramie Park. All seats are unreserved and general admission is $2. Call 677-5038 for further details.

Niles West features rock group

CREATIVE ARTS SERIES of Niles West High School presents ALIOTTA HAYNES JEREMIAH and Big-Foot Bi-Centennial Rock and Roll Hoogie Band on Saturday, April 3rd at 8:00 p.m. in the School Auditorium at Edens Expressway and Oakton in Skokie. Admission at door $2.00. For information call 966-3800 Ext. 228.

Spaco Film

The Center Cinema of the Mayer Kaplan Jewish Community Center, 5050 W. Church, Skokie, will feature Silent Running in this month's Critic's Choice Film Festival, at 8:30 p.m. on Saturday, April 3. Admission is $1 for members, $1.50 for non-members, $1 for students and $.75 for children.

"Fiorello"

"Fiorello!", the lively musical comedy story of New York's all-time favorite mayor, Fiorello La Guardia, will be presented at Niles East High School on March 31, April 1, 2, and 3. Reserved seats are $2.50, $2.00, and $1.50. For ticket information call 966-3800.

Sorority dance

Theta Phi Alpha Sorority of De Paul University will sponsor their annual dance on Friday, April 2nd. The dance will be held at Nielsen's Restaurant at 7330 West North Avenue starting at 8:30 p.m. Dress is casual. Music by Peech.

ED HANSON

More Truth Than Poetry ...

Sportsman's Park: A disaster area!
 At least it was to me last Saturday. After the last race I came away with a shopping bag full of losing tote tickets. It was a bad day at Black Rock. I went out there to play a "lead pipe cinch" which was given to me by the owner, the trainer, and the jockey's agent of the horse. I expected to "clean-up" but apparently somebody forgot to tell the horse.

The horse ran real good. He lead at every pole but nearing the finish line he stopped like he was pole axed.

Driving home I remembered some little poems I recite to myself on bad days. Here it comes:

Why Worry?
 There really isn't too much to worry about. If you are well, you have nothing to worry about. But if you are sick, you still have only two things to worry about.

Either you will get well or you will die. If you get well, there is nothing to worry about. If you die, there are still only two things to worry about. Either you will go to heaven or you will go to hell. If you go to heaven, you have nothing to worry about. But even if you go to hell, you'll be so damn busy shaking hands with your friends, you won't have the time to worry. So, what the hell!

Personal to everyone, including Bud Besser
 I do my thing and you do your thing. I am not in this world to live up to your expectations. YOU are YOU, and I am I. And if by chance we find each other, It's beautiful. If not, so what the hell!

A short success story
 My girl Friday, from one of the many corporations I control, shouted excitedly, "It's here! It's here!"

"What's here?" I asked.
 "Your copyright of that song," she exclaimed.

I put down the deck of cards I was marking. "Say," I said to this young broad named Friday, "why does marriage remind me of a poker hand?"

"I dunno, why?" she asked.

"Because, dummy, it starts with a pair and ends up with a full house."

I took the envelope from the Library of Congress. Inside, sure enough, was a copyright of the words and music of a song which the original writer had neglected to obtain a copyright from the Library of Congress, thus putting it in the public domain and making it easy prey for a "sharpie" like me. And for a good reason, too, because when Mr. Key wrote it, there wasn't any Library of Congress.

"Get me P.K. Wrigley on the phone, Friday," I said.
 "But today's Thursday," said the dumb broad.

"Just get P.K. Wrigley, Friday, even if it's Thursday," I shouted.

"Hello! P.K. Wrigley ... Listen! I have a legal copyright on the song you play before every Cub game and I want a check for ten grand for playing this song for the season."

"What song?"
 "I said, 'What do you mean 'what song?' The Star Spangled Banner, P.K., what else?"

After I hung up, I said to Friday (who is cute even if she's dumb), "Today the baseball moguls, then the football tycoons, and remember, cutie, this is a Bicentennial year."

"Oh, gee, oh, golly, oh, goody gumdrop, Ed, you'll make millions."

"Yes, my little chickadee, today baseball, football and the Bicentennial, and tomorrow I'll buy you the world!"

April Fool!

This ain't no fish story!

Last Saturday after the races and wearing a black arm band in memoriam of my money, I trudged slowly into the Queen of the Sea.

"Capt. Tex," I said to this big, mod dressed guy with the Fu Manchu moustache, "I lost all my money on some bobtailed nags. I'm tired, old, world-weary, beaten, broke and hungry."

Capt. Tex immediately picked up his guitar and began strumming. "I bet all my money on a bobtailed nag, and ho, ho, I lost all my dough."

After which, I was seated at a table and served the finest prime rib of beef, plus plates bulging with all sorts of goodies from their gigantic salad bar which is almost as long as the stretch at Sportsman's Park.

After this great meal, and what a feast it was, I went into the bar which was filled with some of the best looking chicks I've seen in many-a-day.

Well, I began to feel better and as the evening went on, amid the singing and the strumming, and all the gals humming, I began to feel better and better and suddenly in a loud voice I stood up and shouted: "What the hell am I worried about — tomorrow is another day!"

Seriously, folks, set sail now, tonight for Queen of the Sea, 7710 N. Milwaukee ave., Niles, the new "in" place where the fish and foods will satisfy the most discriminating gourmet. Take the wife, girl friend or your boy friend (if you go that route) and

Niles West rock concert April 3

The popular total entertainment group, Aliotta Haynes Jeremiah and the Big-Foot Bicentennial Rock and Roll Boogie Band, will appear at Niles West on Saturday, April 3.

Originally a folk group, the six-year-old group recently added Jon Stocklin on lead guitar and Rick Mann on drums to evolve into a group which offers "a little bit of everything." The group appears regularly at a downtown Chicago Rathskeller called Rats-o's and plays at many of the Chicago area high schools and colleges.

Their concert at Niles West, which is the eighth program on the continuing Creative Arts Series, begins at 8 p.m. in the West Auditorium. Admission is by Series Pass or by single ticket at $2 each.

"The Rites of Spring"

Art Hodes, the pioneer of Chicago jazz, will "jam" with his combo during Maine North's evening performances of The Rites of Spring on Thursday, April 8, at 8 p.m. Hodes recalls an early experience in Chicago when jazz was beginning to develop in Jane Addams' Hull House. "It was here I had my first jam session; a small lad, clarinet in hand, joined me on the bandstand," explains Hodes. "I was playing for dancers. The kid's name was Bennie Goodman," says Hodes smiling. Hodes, a who's who of jazz, played with the likes of Krupa, Goodman, and Condon. He has made numerous appearances at Town Hall, Carnegie Hall, Lower Basin Street, and the Chez Paree. Community residents can reserve tickets for Hodes' Rites of Spring concert by calling Maine North High School, 298-5500. Also appearing on Thursday evening will be Ed Bloom, a professional magician and clown and ballroom dancers June Adams and Ruby Olar. Tickets are $2.50 adults for the entire evening and $1.50 for students.

Student Council elections

The campaign fever comes to Maine East as Student Council is preparing for officer elections.

While voting is not until May, students wishing to run for one of the four offices should keep in mind that applications and petition forms will be available starting Wednesday, April 7, in either the Student Council office or in guidance. Those running need the signatures of five per cent of the total student enrollment, and these petitions are due by Wednesday, April 14.

To be eligible for Student Council president of vice-president, a student must be a junior this year and maintain a over-all C average.

Students are not required to have previously or currently served on Student Council.

Courtesy bus. . .

Con't from Niles-E.Maine P.1
rider on the Niles Courtesy System. Mayor Blase presented Cathy with a $25.00 gift certificate, courtesy of Sears Department Store, Golf Mill.

On hand to congratulate Cathy, were Mayor Blase; Village Manager Ken Scheel; Allan Serstad, Vice President of Golf Mill
Merchants Association and Manager of the Little Miss and Mister Shop in Golf Mill; and Robert Loesch, Member of the Board of Directors of the Golf Mill Merchants Association and Manager of Sears, Roebuck Department Store, Golf Mill.

Driving the Courtesy Bus was Russ Reinke, who has been driving for the Courtesy Bus System since its beginning.

Counseling for G.E.D. Testing

MONACEP will offer a testing and counseling service this month for individuals planning to take G.E.D. tests.
MONACEP officials said that the test indicates strengths and weakness in the five G.E.D. test areas while the counseling will help students decide which courses to take to prepare for the G.E.D. tests.

Testing and Counseling will be held at Niles West High School, Shokis, on Saturday, April 10, from 9 a.m. until noon. Cost for the session is $5.

A three-evening session is scheduled at Maine East High School, Park Ridge, on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, April 12, 13, and 14, from 7 to 10 p.m.
Fee for these sessions is $10.

FROM THE LEFT HAND. . .

After viewing this caucus experience we became wary of the importance of its endorsement. It indicated the shallowness of the group. And it portrayed very graphically caucus members are really only representatives of themselves. They certainly cannot speak on behalf of an entire community.

In District 63 high school (Dist. 207) candidate Roy Makela and 2 elementary school candidates are running without caucus support. Quite likely Makela will win and it is possible one and maybe both of the elementary non-caucus candidates will also emerge victoriously.

In past years several candidates running for the elementary school board were successful without receiving caucus support.

It would seem in a school district which includes 3 distinct communities caucus candidates would have a tremendous advantage over their opponents. But it doesn't seem to be the case here.

Last month the nominating committee of the District 63 caucus recommended the endorsement of 3 candidates. But when the full caucus met it chose one of the non-endorsed candidates. Every candidate appearing before the group was either endorsed by the nominating committee or the full caucus. It's all somewhat confusing ... and it's all much ado about nothing.

The candidates without the highest vote totals in past years have been the candidates who went out and worked the school precincts. Thus, those candidates who most wanted to be board members did lots of campaigning. Plain hard work resulted in their ascendancy to the school board.

This year's election should have a record vote turnout. The cutting back of school programs and the controversial new administrative offices should bring voters to the polls.
Whether the vote numbers are high or not it is likely voters behind the curtain will have strong feelings in casting their votes. And as in past years few of them will consider whether or not candidates have been chosen by a few caucus members, most of whom have little familiarity with the workings of the school district.

Bikes. . . Con't from Niles-E.Maine P.1

students 18 years and older, will patrol village streets from 11 a.m.
to 8 p.m.

While the junior cops will be authorized to issue citations to cyclists for violation of motor vehicle laws, Officer Gerhardt said he hopes that early traffic enforcement may be resolved on the scene with a courteous warning to the cyclist.

The Raleigh Bicycle Co. will maintain and service the cop bikes for the first year at the Village Bike Shop. Owner-operator Bob Bartlett, as representative of the company, presented the Mark II to Niles at the Tuesday board meeting.

Mayor Nicholas Blase expressed appreciation to the bike company for confidence shown in the pilot bike patrol program.

"The program is terrific," said the Mayor as he hand-tested the weight of the thirty pound bike.
"We're looking forward to its success and continuance next year."

Gerhardt said he looks forward to personally training the junior cop applicants. "They must be top candidates and indicate a sincere desire for law enforcement," he said.

Ten applicants will be screened, interviewed and hired by the village, after which they will undergo a 2-week training prior to going on the streets. They will be uniformed in white, wearing white pith helmets.

Appearance by traffic violators will be mandatory at Saturday morning court, which may result in a penalty for violations, said Gerhardt. Repeated violations could result in suspension of bike use, to be enforced by parents.

Bridge winner

Mike Elfgates, 6219 Octavia Ave., Niles, was among winners at the 1976 Spring North American Bridge Championships of the American Contract Bridge League here March 12-21. He scored among the Master Point winners first in their section in the Open Pairs, a four-session National event in which 796 players competed.
