Lower tax multiplier poses headache for Park budget

Park studies Village Code for Traffic and Vandalism

By Alice M. Bobala
Niles Park Commissioners Tuesday, May 18, were requested to consider a 4-page proposed ordinance amendment which would adopt the Niles Code on traffic and "miscellaneous offenses" and which strengthened the Park Code regarding vandalism to park properties.

Penalty to violators will result in eviction from the Park District and in a fine up to $200 for each offense according to Park Attorney Gabriel Berrafato. Should commissioners approve the Amended Park Ordinance at their June meeting, the ordinance will become law 10 days following public notification.

The proposed code was the result of numerous meetings between village and park officials said Park Board President Millie Jones Tuesday night, in order to "put more teeth" into enforcement of park regulations by village police.

The new amendment also stiffened park laws regarding vandalism, defacing or mutilation of park buildings, fences, greenery and landscaping. Jones referred to the proposed ordinance as "the first step" to proper protection of park facilities, grounds and park property.

In other business Comr. Jones spoke against the proposed reduction in the Cook County real estate tax multiplier for this year. "We (Park Board) should forward a telegram to the Governor giving our objections to this becoming a regular practice," she said.

Jones accused State officials of "constantly chipping away at funds available to park districts

by David Bosser
Editor & Publisher

There's a rhythm, a beat, a metronome-like cadence which carries most of us through each day.

Monday morning Patricia Columbo was carried along in her own cadence, shuffled in and out of doorways, escorted by a matron whose fingers never left the 19 year old's body.

Columbo was in the Niles courtroom when the state's attorney presented 3 charges of murder against the young lady. She was the daughter of the Elk Grove family who was murdered in their home, and while no evidence was presented, she was being charged with the murders of her parents and brother.

She's a long, thin girl, who had a raincoat wrapped around her. Expensive-looking slacks shown beneath the coat, and open, high-heeled sandals peeked out below the slacks. Her brown-blond hair was somewhat disheveled, and her face countenanced the weariness of the strain she was experiencing.

They moved her into the courtroom from a side entrance, avoiding many of the TV and photographers' cameras which were roaming the outside hallways. She stood before the judge while the state's attorney presented her with 3 bills of particulars. She had no attorney. She said her Godmother was supposed to find one. All the time she was standing there, a matron kept her fingers against her back rib cages.

The reporters, who were sitting in the jury box, all moved out of their seats, tightly pressed against each other as they tried to move in closer to hear more clearly the soft-spoken goings-on between the judge, the state's attorney and Columbo.

The judge ordered a recess for 15 minutes, and those matron-fingers guided the chargee into the back room of the courtroom.

Superintendent Gogo, who strongly recommended the re-organization and expansion, said

Village vs. Park in mini-golf exhibit play

Mini golf tournament scores success despite rain

(By Alice M. Bobula) Several hundred mini-golfers braved Saturday downpours to participate in an 18-hole tournament of championship miniature golf sponsored by the Niles Park District at the Sports Complex, Ballard rd. and Cumberland, Niles.

In a Village Officials vs. Park Officials tournament, open the Saturday play, Village Manager Ken Scheel scored as mini-golf champ (there were complaints that he had a magnetic ball) tying the course record of 33 strokes, which included a hole-in-one five times. Park Commissioner Jack Leske was second, with a 40 stroke win. Each was awarded a trophy, altho Niles village officials took the edge of victory with a team of 3 (Scheel, Engineer Keith Peck and Trustee Carol Panek) as against the Niles Park District team of 5 (Comrs. Millie Jones, Jeff Arnold, Jack Leske, Steve Chameriski and Park Director Bill Hughes).

Panek claimed the most, 60, strokes for the 18-hole play, thereby qualifying her for lessons at the Park District.

Leske, scoring his 3rd hole-in-one on the 15th tee (a bumper course) accepted congratulations commenting that he "was always good at pool" when he was a kid. Village Engineer Keith Peck who shot a 48 game credited the score with his age altho there were comments in other directions.

Scheel, who was banned by park commissioners from the course at the end of the tournament for his low scoring, commented that mini-golfing is "all a matter of luck ... it's a fun game and a good indoor sport for kids," he stressed.

Park Comr. Jones, who termed herself "no golfer" shot in the 50's and enjoyed the tournament immensely.

A veteran golfer, Park District Director Bill Hughes shot a low 40 game.

Jeff Arnold finalized with a score of 49, achieving a hole-in-one three times. Chameriski scored a 54 game.

Trophies for 1st, 2nd and 3rd place in four age categories were awarded by the Park District in the public tournament which began at 1 p.m.; Saturday afternoon.

The first 50 participants to sign up for tournament play (and they began coming at noon) received McDonald's certificates for a hamburger, french fries and a coke. First place open tournament winners received Big Maas.

Foremost in the tournament were a vibrant young husband and wife team, Gary and Linda Kelly of 9651 Dec rd. Gary, who particularly enjoys playing indoor mini-golf with his wife, said he first became aware of the complex after his wife had an auto accident at Ballard and Cumberland. "Since then," he laughed, "we've spent a lot of time and money here; playing mini-golf. It's very enjoyable and reasonably priced."

Hosting a party of 9 for her 6th birthday was Kim Pearl, 9254 Washington st., accompanied by her father Larry and 2 1/2 year old brother Rickie.

A student of Woodrow Wilson School, 11 year old Caroline

Waltrich was "having loads of fun" playing thru with friends Fred and Jeri Goldman and Larry Pharthier.

"I read of the tournament in The Eagle," said Mrs. Adeline Gallatz of 8126 W. Lake st. She was a foursome with 8 year old Danny Lewand, Phil Partipillo, 11, and 13 year old Gene Banback, while her two youngsters Rick and Deanna waited to play the course.

Larry Aschacher, 16, of Niles, labeled the mini-course as being "pretty sharp". In a foursome with Maine East student Ray Ziebell, 11 year old Steve Le Boyer and Steve Brenner, Larry said he plays a 38 or 40 stroke game at Tam Golf Course "when ever possible".

Part of a foursome, Amy Jo Schiel, 15, and 15 year old Chuck Panek who termed himself "no golfer" both finalized with a 52 stroke game.

The Lomma Championship portable mini-golf course opened April 15 at the Sports Complex and was purchased by the Niles Park District at a cost of $12,700. Park Director Hughes expects to recover the investment in one season or in "two seasons, maximum".

The course is open weekdays from 3:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. and weekends 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Following school closings in June added Hughes, the course would be open 7 days a week from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Admission is 75 cents per game.

The mini-golf course has enjoyed good attendance despite an early lack of publicity. The park district's main concern was whether the course will be successful as an indoor sport.

Comr. Arnold put a favorable stamp on indoor installation ... "no mosquitoes," he said, "no rain, no wind and no sunburn."

Complex Manager Ken Spiora termed the golf course as "good family recreation ... this course is unique, being one of only 3 indoor courses in the area," he said, listing Chicago and Highland Park as the other two.

"Tickets to the Cubs game on May 30, donated by the Continental Bank of Chicago, were awarded to Tim Enders of Park Ridge and to Steve Tattleman of Des Plaines for a hole-in-one on the 19th tee.

Winners of the 6 to 8 year old category and their scores were Dan Lewand, 46; Peter Kelly of Glenview, 54; and Jim Kelly of Glenview, 56.

In the 9 to 12 year old category, Jim Tate of Niles, 36; Scott Fisher, 37; and John Daddono, 41.

In the 13 to 15 category; tied for 1st place, Ken Kruppner of Park Ridge, 36, and Jerry Ruzkowski of Niles, 36; Mike Ball of Niles, 39.

In the 16 years and over category, Larry Aschacher of Niles, 36; tied for second were Gary Kelly of Des Plaines, 40 and Kevin Kruppner of Park Ridge, 40.

Fight!

A fight involving two brothers was reported Monday at the Excalibur Lounge in Golf Mill. Police said the brothers, ages 39 and 37, of Des Plaines were arguing over a girl friend, resulting in hospitalization of one brother for a dislocated shoulder.

Cops nab 2 youths for burglary

An alert Niles resident Wednesday, May 12, helped stop a burglary in progress in her home according to police reports.

Police arrested two burglary suspects shortly after receiving a call from the resident who was next door at her neighbor's house.

Charged with burglary was a 16 year old Glenview youth. A 15 year old companion from Des Plaines was held pending further investigation.

A resident on the 7200 block of Lee st., the victim told police she earlier had let the 2 teens into her home supposedly to look for a book in her son's absence. Unable to locate the book the teens were told to return later.

The victim said she left to go shopping but feeling uneasy some 15 minutes later returned home to see a car parked on her drive and the basement door kicked open.

The Lee st. resident said she went next door to call police who apprehended the youths, turning them over to juvenile authorities. Taken was a guitar valued at $800.

Indecent exposure

Two 11 year old Niles girls told police Tuesday, May 11, that a man had exposed himself to them while in the Woolworth store in Golf Mill.

The juveniles said they were in the toy section and had been followed by a man. They said he finally came up and exposed himself while standing between the two girls.

He was described as being 30 to 31 years old, 5 ft. 9 in., 170 lbs., having shoulder length blonde hair and wearing an army jacket.

2 injured at Dempster st. underpass

Two people injured in a collision at the Dempster st. underpass Saturday, May 8, were taken to Lutheran General Hospital.

Injured were Greg Kurecinski, 42, of 8292 Elizabeth, Niles, with head injuries; and James Samaras, 28, of 8918 La Crosse, Skokie.

Police said a '75 Continental driven by Paul Chen, 39, of 3811 Lawndale, Chicago, was allegedly struck by a '76 Mercury driven by Samaras.

Samaras southbound on Wisner, according to police, apparently made a U turn at the crest of the Dempster st. underpass to go the wrong way on the one-way overpass.

Police charged Samaras with a turn within 100 ft. of the grade and going the wrong way on a one-way street.

Nursing home thefts

Numerous thefts totaling $250 were reported Saturday from Pleasantview Nursing Home, 6840 Touhy ave., Niles.

Police said an 81 year old woman resident was awakened at 3 a.m. when a tall thin man entered her room and attempted to take her TV set. She screamed, the man told her to be quiet and left the room.

Investigation revealed loss of two other TV sets and a digital clock radio from other rooms.

Grave theft

Police said a Northbrook construction man reported the theft Monday, of scaffolding estimated at $200 from 8445 Milwaukee ave., under construction as a monument sales office.

Please omit pigeons

Niles police enforced a zoning ordinance Tuesday, May 11, which prohibits housing of chickens, geese, etc.

A resident on the 8900 block of Wisner was ticketed for having pigeons on his property.

Three injured in 2 car crash

Three Chicago passengers were taken to Lutheran General Hospital resulting from an auto accident on Waukegan rd. near the Lawrencewood Shopping Center Wednesday, May 12.

Injured were Paul Vedner, 14, of 6670 W. Raven; Bill George, 14, of 6005 Navarre; and Paul Pacholski, 15, of 6477 N. Newark.

According to police a '72 Chevrolet driven by Larry A. Vigor, 26, of 513 Hamrick of Romeoville, and carrying the 3 Chicago passengers, was northbound on Waukegan rd. when it was allegedly struck by a '72 Chevrolet driven by Marie Rosentretter, 7631 Oleander, Niles, as she was exiting the Lawrencewood Shopping Center.

The Vigor car went into a spin, said police, and flipped over on the driver's side in the center of northbound Waukegan traffic.

Rosentretter was charged with failure to yield right of way in exiting the private drive.

Waukegan-Dobson auto accident injures one

A Chicago motorist was injured Thursday, May 14, in a two car collision at Waukegan rd. and Dobson st.

Taken to Lutheran General Hospital with bleeding injuries was Barbara Bell, 28, of 7273 W. Thorndale.

Police said the Bell car was northbound on Milwaukee ave. and struck a car driven by Frederic Kruzinski, 17, of 7026 W. Dobson as he attempted to cross Waukegan rd.

High shrubbery on the northeast corner of Dobson and Waukegan prevent clear view of north and south traffic said police.

Do you know about the home heating system that pulls energy out of thin air?

Introducing the heat pump.

Scientists have known for centuries that the air around us is a storehouse of heat energy. But it's only been in recent years that they were able to develop an efficient way to tap that abundant resource—the heat pump. Today, it is the only commercially available heating system that provides an answer to shrinking supplies of other fuels.

How the heat pump works: Basically, the heat pump moves heat from one place to another. It uses electricity to extract heat from a limitless source—the heat in outdoor air. During winter, enough heat remains in the air—even on the coldest and cloudiest days—to be extracted by the pump and transferred indoors as clean, flameless heat.

And during warm weather, the process automatically reverses, removing excess indoor heat and humidity like an air conditioner.

Better efficiency. In short, the heat pump does the job of both a furnace and an air conditioner. But there's an important difference. In northern Illinois the heat pump can produce more than 1 1/2 units of heat energy for every unit it consumes. That's better efficiency than any other current heating system. That could mean significant long-term savings on heating costs.

To get the full advantages of the heat pump, it's important to get a quality product, properly installed and reliably serviced. For the name of qualified installers in your area, call G. W. Berkeheimer Co. (Westinghouse Distributors), 312-374-4111; General Electric Co., 312-496-6356; Lennox Industries, Inc., 312-593-2820; or Temperature Equipment Corp. (Carrier Distributors), 312-681-6220. If you want additional heat pump information, call your local Commonwealth Edison office and talk to one of our marketing engineers.

Juvenile found on bike path

A 14 year old Niles girl was found Saturday, May 8, in the Forest Preserves in need of medical aid and was taken to Lutheran General Hospital by the Niles Fire Dept. ambulance.

The fire department was alerted by an anonymous call Saturday at 9:30 p.m. which police believe might have come from a passing cyclist who saw the girl lying on the bike path "somewhere between Oakton st. and Touhy ave." in the forest preserves.

Niles police said last week that the Detective Division and Juvenile authorities are still investigating details leading to the event.

They theorized that the girl may have overindulged in liquor or possibly have suffered a fainting spell. There was no indication, at this time, of rape or an attack said police.

Due to circumstances involving the case said Detective Capt. Ed Dennis last Friday, juvenile authorities are experiencing difficulty in sorting out people who may have been in the area or who may have been in the company of the girl.

The bike path gets a great amount of traffic around the Forest Preserve area he added.

The girl is presently home with her parents and remains uncommunicative regarding the incident, he said.

Take advantage of free blood pressure checks

Thursday, May 20, marks the beginning of the third year that the Niles Commission On Community Health has offered free of charge monthly blood pressure reading service. During this past year over 1600 persons have taken good advantage of this service. Gradually we are interesting the 35-55 age group in taking the time to check their blood pressures. This age group can significantly increase the number of years of healthy living by early detection of high blood pressure and application of proper treatment.

The month of May is National Blood Pressure Month, a very good time to stop and take the time to come in and find out if you have a blood pressure problem. Stop at the Niles Administration Building, 7601 Milwaukee ave., today between 4 and 8 p.m. and let us be of service to you.

M-NASR Young Adult Clubs

Socialization and community mobility are the main objectives of the two young adult social clubs offered by the Maine-Niles Association of Special Recreation. Serving mentally and physically handicapped individuals, the programs are designed to familiarize participants with recreational facilities in the community and provide opportunities for socialization within the same age group.

Club members and staff choose a varied schedule of community activities. Shows, plays, and other events sponsored by local high schools, colleges, park districts, and other groups offer cultural opportunities. Social activities may take the members to the beach, an ice cream parlor, restaurant, miniature golf course, or bowling alley.

The variety and excitement of the young adult social clubs make them a popular and enjoyable program for volunteers. Even though they come to assist as needed, they, too, join in the activity. For more information about M-NASR programs, contact the office at 674-5512.

Golf Mill State Bank bicentennial winner

Golf Mill State Bank Vice President James Martin, in association with the Golf Mill Merchant Association, announced Miss Suzanne Suddeth as the final Bicentennial Trip Winner.

Mr. Walter Ramoser, owner of Center Camera, selected Suzanne's entry from hundreds of registrations. Lucky Suzanne registered while shopping at the National Food Store in Golf Mill Plaza.

Mr. William Rand, owner of Rand Jewelers and presenter of the $500 Bicentennial check, laughed as Miss Suddeth stated, "I thought someone was kidding when I received my winner's notification. Boy am I glad it's for real."

Ending the Bicentennial promotion on a humorous note, Vice President Martin, in mock seriousness, assured Miss Suddeth the $500 check certainly was "for real."

The Great North West Territorial Fair continues at North West Federal Savings, 4901 W. Irving Park rd., Chicago, with a stitchery contest to be held May 27, 28 and 29.

Needlecraft hobbyists can enter any of seven stitchery classifications: knitting, crocheting, needlepoint, crewel embroidery, cross stitching, hooking, and quilting. ## Avondale Savings loans $4,000,000 in neighboring area

Nearly $4,000,000 in mortgages in its neighborhood were made last year by Avondale Savings and Loan Association, it was disclosed today at its annual members meeting at its office at 2965 Milwaukee, Chicago.

Such loans are continuing to be made at a rate which, the Association estimates, will result in at least as much money being loaned in its neighborhood as last year. Additional funds for such loans are available to qualified borrowers, the Association said.

About 55 per cent of Avondale's outstanding loans are in Chicago, according to Julius M. Boberski, president of Avondale. About half of these are in the Association's immediate neighborhood — Avondale, Albany Park, Belmont Gardens, Hermosa, Irving Park, Portage Park and Logan Square. This is contrary to an erroneous "study" several weeks ago by Metropolitan Area Housing Alliance (MAHA) which had claimed Avondale has few loans in Chicago and its neighborhood.

Savings by Association members increased approximately 9 per cent in the last year. Its loans to borrowers also increased and remained high in quality, and the Association is experiencing no significant collection problems, Mr. Boberski said.

The Niles office of the Association, which was opened 5 months ago, has contributed very favorably to its operations and is a first step to a larger operation, the members were told.

The directors of the Association were unanimously re-elected by the members. They are: Dr. Irving V. Boberski, Jr., Julius M. Boberski, Chester A. Chesney, Henry C. Pociask, Arthur S. Restarski and Dr. Joseph C. Ullis.

FNBOS Auto Teller ribbon cutting held indoors

Like the best laid plans of mice and men, the ribbon cutting ceremony for the First National Bank of Skokie's new 24 hour drive-in Auto Teller went awry when rain drenched Skokie Thursday, May 6.

Undaunted, because they had a back up plan already worked out, the bank simply moved the ceremony into their spacious lobby where a mock-up Automatic Banking Machine — just like the ones at the Auto Teller on Babb ave. — has been installed to demonstrate the amazing units that allow you to handle 99% of all normal banking anytime of the day or night that suits your convenience.

You can't get your drivers license notarized or buy travelers checks at the machines, but you can make deposits in checking or savings accounts, transfer money from one account to another, make loan payments, get ready cash (the folding green kind) and even make a loan against your FNBO's Line-of-Credit.

Shown above, the ribbon, made of crisp new $2 bills coming out of the First National Bank of Skokie Automatic Banking Machine like the ones at the new Auto Teller on Babb ave., is cut by Willard C. Galitz, Chairman of the Board of the First National Bank of Skokie, to announce the opening of the new banking center.

Bicycle check

On Thursday, May 13, the students at Niles Elementary School-North had the opportunity to have their bicycles checked to make certain that the bicycle complied with Bicycle Rules of the Road. They also demonstrated to the Niles police officers, James Gerhart and James Thompson, that each student knew and practiced the rules for safe cycling.

The importance of knowing the laws which apply to cyclists and of the existing bicycle patrol in the village was stressed. Bicycling is fun and a sport; however, it also implies a responsibility on the part of the cyclist. Regardless of age, obey the laws; help others to know and obey the laws and each will be safer and happier in his/her bicycle riding.

Oakton summer parking permits

Parking permits for the Summer Session 1976 at Oakton Community College will be sold on Thursday, June 10, in Building 6, according to James Coursey, chief of the OCC Department of Public Safety.

Day permits will be sold from 8 until 11 a.m. and evening permits between 7 and 9 p.m. Permits are sold on a first-come, first-serve basis, Chief Coursey noted, adding that the lines usually begin to form early.

Cost for the summer session parking permit is $5. Coursey also pointed out that student parking spaces are limited and suggests that day students use public transportation or park in the St. Paul Woods Forest Preserve. A shuttle bus provides free service during the day and to and from the forest preserve and the Interim Campus.

Evening students who are unable to purchase permits for campus parking should contact the OCC Department of Public Safety (ext. 200) for other evening parking locations near the campus.

College officials report that registration for the summer session, based on current enrollment, will be higher than in 1975. Students are urged to register by mail on or before May 22 rather than wait until open registration when many classes may be closed.

Students who have not registered prior to May 22 will be able to register for the OCC summer term during open registration on June 7 and 8. Classes begin during the week of June 14.

The senior breakfast is Thursday, June 3, beginning at 8:15 a.m. at the Sheraton O'Hare Brass Rail. Senior superlatives follow the breakfast.

Commencement rehearsal is Friday, June 4, beginning at 7:45 a.m. in the auditorium. There will be a distribution of caps and gowns in the fieldhouse following commencement rehearsal as well as distribution of the senior issue of the Pioneer.

Senior prom is also Friday, June 4. The prom begins at 6:30 p.m. in the Grand Ballroom of the Marriott.

Accepted at Bemidji

Local students to visit France

Nine Maine Township High School students will spend July studying in Europe. All have been accepted by the American Institute for Foreign Study for a program in French language and civilization at the University of Strasbourg in France.

Included in the program are Carmella Corrado (Niles), Marc Crescenzo (Park Ridge), Janice Perpignani (Niles), and Elizabeth Peiray (Des Plaines) from Maine East. Also accepted are Julie Collins (Park Ridge), Cynthia Lilleberg (Park Ridge), Kimberly Turk (Park Ridge), and Laura Turk (Park Ridge) from Maine South. Carolyn Hoffstedt (Des Plaines) is participating from Maine West. The group will be accompanied by Margot Steinhart, French teacher at Maine East and North, and her husband, Frank Steinhart.

While in France, the group will study at the University of Strasbourg, one of the oldest schools in Europe. Located on the Rhine River, the city of Strasbourg is a picturesque community, which is partly German and partly French in composition. While the area was once the center of a bitter dispute between France and Germany, it now enjoys the best of both worlds in the new international climate of Europe. The group will have an excellent chance to explore the nature of the new atmosphere of cooperation because the University instructs students from many different nations.

As well as meet other students on campus, the Maine Township group will have a chance to compare notes on tennis courts, on hikes in the Black Forest or on cruises on the Rhine River. Since the students will be in France on July 14, they will be able to observe the French Independence Day, known as "Bastille Day."

Learning in the classroom will be a tasty experience, especially for those taking courses in French cuisine, which are taught by French chefs. Courses in art history and language will be taught by specialists in their fields.

Besides the studying in Strasbourg, the group will tour London, Paris, Heidelberg, and Lucerne. The students will leave Chicago on July 6 and will return on August 1.

The department holds a rigorous screening process for selecting the Boys' State delegate. This year there were ten candidates nominated. Each of the ten appeared before an interview team of two teachers. Then the five best candidates appeared before a panel of four teachers for a second interview.

Fireside Inn entertainers

Bob Simms & Cinammon currently appearing at The Fireside Inn of Morton Grove, 9101 Waukegan Road, Tues. thru Sat. are relatively new to the public, being formed as a Duo not quite a year ago. Bob Simms is not unknown, however, having been the leader of several trios in and around the Chicago area, then of the Bobby Simms Trio which later became The Rotary Connection...known internationally for their albums on the Concept/GRT label. Bob and The Rotary Connection played with many names in the entertainment world including the Rolling Stones, Janice Joplin, Sly and the Family Stone, the 5th Dimension, among others.

Cinammon (a spicy redhead) and Bob were married only days following the last live performance of the Rotary Connection in Chicago in February, 1971. She was born in Canada and was a widely-known copywriter for both radio and television in that country until 1968 when she moved to Chicago. Her musical background began in her early years as a vocalist, performing professionally the first time at the age of 14 and she has an album to her credit entitled "A Letter To My Love" on the Columbia label which was released in the middle sixties in the United States and Canada. Cinammon lends her writing talents to Bob's and together they have stocked up many original tunes to their credit - some of which were recorded by the Rotary Connection prior to their disbandment.

Bob plays both 12 string and 6 string guitar (acoustic and electric) with a fullness of sound that is rarely heard from one musician. He captures all of the melody, bass, and rhythm with his instrument, and Cinammon backs him up for the time being with a tricky Tambourine. She is presently studying the Autoharp and the Moog Synthesizer.

Their sound is Contemporary...its Blues...its Rock...its a touch of Country...its good...and its honest!

ED HANSON

"CLASS..."

What makes our language so difficult for foreigners and about 90% of Americans is the fact our words have so many meanings. And when you get into language or words that have a certain connotation established thru usage, it's no wonder one gets all screwed up.

We say, for example, this person or that horse or car has class. But if you look up the word 'class' in the dictionary you'll find it has many meanings, but none that refer to a person or horse or car having 'class'.

What we should say is, "That person or horse or car has classical 'class'."

A man I know who possesses class in the classical sense is dapper Bene Stein, general manager of the Golf Mill Theaters. White class, they say, is an inborn quality; it shines thru and reflects itself in the 'outer person'.

Now Bene Stein is always dressed like he just stepped out of a men's fashion magazine. His wardrobe is as extensive and expensive as it is elegant. From his manicured fingernails to the shiny tips of his Italian shoes, everything is a classical-class point of sartorial elegance.

And his new car is also 'classical class' personified. For he owns a new Avanti II, one of the world's greatest hand-built automobiles whose total yearly production is limited to only 250 cars.

By his own admission Bene Stein tells me he has two weaknesses — "clothes and cars" — and he demands the best in both categories. And his 41 years in the movie biz, plus an uncanny sense in being able to select, in advance, box office winners, enables him to indulge his elegant and expensive desires in fine apparel and costly cars.

Bene is also an excellent administrator and has two assistant managers, who have been with him more than six years. One is an attractive blond, Diane Mills, and the other is a charming brunette, Karen Sylvener. By their own admission they are extremely well paid, and while Bene looks on benevolently, these two gals "run-the-show". But remember, Bene selects the show-to-be-run, and therein lurks the trick. But Bene is very sincere in his praise of the two young ladies, Diane and Karen, who perform their appointed tasks with class and distinction.

Incidentally, Bene's Avanti II is parked out front in their spacious parking lot, and is drawing more admiring crowds of young folks, it is rumored, than did Jaws.

And every night it is also rumored that this man of class, elegance and distinction says a little prayer before he goes to sleep. Bene Stein says, "Please, please, send me another Jaws so that I can have a second Avanti II... for then I'll have two!"

Another young fellow I know who has class is Tony Lau, owner of two elegant Chinese restaurants, in Lincolnwood and Glenview. His Chinese Kitchen, 214 Greenwood, Glenview, serves what, in my opinion and in the opinion of many who have tried it, is the absolute finest in authentic Chinese foods. They also do a huge carryout business and with the hot, summer days ahead, why bother with slaving over a hot stove? Just phone 965-9070 and your order will be ready when you arrive.

After work if you want to unwind, drop into Chinese Kitchen and have some cocktails at their low prices during the 4 to 6 p.m. "Happy Hour".

Having just returned from Goleta Valley, Calif., I can say this is a community of class. It's not only a nice place to visit but I'd like to live there, and maybe I will.

I can also say that the airlines have class and so do their personnel, especially their gracious flight attendants (they're no longer called Stewardesses).

Another gent I know who possesses class is Richard Hartzak, whose best is his 'wurst', and he exemplified the Horatio Alger adage of 'work and win'. For Hartzak's success, not only in his quality meat store at 8117 Milwaukee ave., Niles, but in many other fields of business endeavor, proves that if 'you've got it, you can make it' under the American system of free enterprise and individual ingenuity.

Soon I'll do an in-depth story on the remarkable Richard Hartzak, a man who is a credit to his community, the all American Village of Niles, and his country... watch for this true and interesting profile.

Another little guy with big class is Bill Kenney, owner of Kenney Aluminum, who recently expanded by opening a new store, in addition to the one he has here, at 110 Burlington, La Grange. When you treat customers right and deliver what you promise, success comes. And I'm sure that Bill Kenney's new store will enjoy the same full measure of success as the one he owns here.

By the time you read these lines some class entertainment, in the form of a piano bar, will be added to the fast growing popularity of the Queen of the Sea, 7710 Milwaukee ave., Niles, and those two distinguished Captains, Tex and Rick, will welcome your patronage. For great food and frivolity, be fussy — get the best — and the best is Queen of the Sea.

Camp Fire girls May Basket project

Oak School Blue Birds Michele Di Domenico, Laura Becker, Dineen Reardon, Katie Argetsinger, Tracy Mettera, Dina Nelson, Jamie Blake, Jennifer Horn, Kelly Ries, Dawn Ries, Cathy Carlson, Sherise Janus, Marcella Ortiz, Michele Depa and their leaders Mrs. Carol Becker and Mrs. Mary DiDomenico presenting Mr. Johannsen, their principal, with a May Basket. The entire Oak School staff received May Baskets.

Only a few years after the first Camp Fire Group was organized in the Maine Niles District, a service project was started and has lasted thru the years. In 1926 a group of Camp Fire Girls in Park Ridge wanted to honor some friends and remember some shut-ins. They felt a plant would be an appropriate gift both in recognition and to brighten the day of a shut-in. They gave a total of 26 plants in May Baskets to those they wanted to remember on May 1, 1926. The tradition has continued every May 1 since that day, and this year marks the 51st year that Maine Niles Camp Fire Girls are distributing May Baskets.

This and all of her other Camp Fire efforts brought Lucille her twenty year award pin last year. Today, in addition to the elderly, shut-in, and friends of Camp Fire, the girls recognize their teachers, principals, and administration. The design of the basket has changed thru the years, from cut-down Dutch Boy Cleanser cans to decorated cottage cheese containers to this year's macramé hanging planter, which the girls and their leaders spent many meetings creating. From the original beginning of that first Camp Fire Group in Park Ridge, the tradition has spread where now all the Camp Fire Girls in Niles, Park Ridge, Des Plaines, Morton Grove, Golf and Glenview participate in delivering May Baskets.

The original 26 baskets were expanded to over 800 by 1969, when the current chairman Lucille Stinton took over the task of purchasing the flowers and distributing them to the many Camp Fire and Blue Bird Groups. This year Lucille purchased 1500 plants for distribution. This Camp Fire project is one that is near and dear to Lucille. She, also, was a Camp Fire Girl and was a part of this great tradition. Lucille worked with both her daughters in the Camp Fire Organization, helped them deliver May Baskets and when her youngest daughter graduated from high school, Lucille volunteered to coordinate the Annual May Basket project.

Summer camp for Scouts

As the sun begins to climb higher and higher and the days begin to get longer and longer, Scouts in the Northwest Suburban Council, Boy Scouts of America, look forward to summer camp adventure at Camp Napowan, Wild Rose, Wis., and Namekagon Scout Reservation, Spooner, Wis. More than 1,000 Scouts are expected to take part in the weeklong training experiences between June 26 and Aug. 14, according to Ralph Clabour, Council Camping Chairman.

"The adventure that a Scout has in summer camp depends on many factors," Clabour said, "but one of the most important is boy involvement in program planning, in competitive events, and in his own growth and development."

Among the exciting activities that Scouts find at Camp Napowan and Namekagon Scout Reservation are swimming, canoeing, fishing, archery, hiking and Scoutcraft.

Clabour said that the members of the camp staff for the seven week season are carefully selected and are skillful in their relationship to boys and in helping leaders be effective in administering the troop program at camp.

Key staff members include John Jaderborg, Camp Director, Namekagon Scout Reservation and James Jones, Camp Director, Camp Napowan. Mr. Jones is the Council Camping Director and Dave Cole, Assistant Camp Director, Camp Napowan.

Senior in competition

In the 1976 Waukegan East Photography Contest, Maine East senior Curt Napravnik of Morton Grove received two honorable mentions.

Over 250 entries were received, and the winners' work was on display at the Lakehurst Shopping Center in Waukegan from April 6 through April 13.

Graphic arts competition

At a recent graphic communication competition held at Triton College in Rosemont, Illinois, several Maine East students were entered in the competition.

Robert Kist of Niles won a first place in the camera area, level three competition with his entry of a three color poster showing a mountain scene in Europe.

Randy Isaacs of Niles won a second place in the camera division of level three with his entry "Starlight Goodbye."

Chris Ferino of Des Plaines won a second place in the layout and design division with his entry of a United Federation placemat.

Other students who competed in the contest were given certificates of Merit for their work. They were Michael Izrael of Park Ridge in the level four area of competition. He entered a four color calendar in the camera division. Michael Kroll of Niles entered the level three competition area with a three color calendar in the area of layout and design. Jim Belczos of Des Plaines entered the level four area of competition with a four color sheet of personal stationery in the press work area. Dan Condon of Niles entered the level three competition area with a Bicentennial program cover design and he entered the area of press work.

Three Niles Elementary School-North students were awarded first-place awards in the state science fair at Champaign/Urbana May 7 and 8.

The winners were: 7th grader Guy Brilando for his project Generators; 8th grader Daniel Fisher for his project Talking With Lights, and William Heinrich for his study of Seismographs-Earthquakes.

Heidi Gabriel of 7151 Lill St., Niles and Sheila Finnegan, 8009 Church terr., Niles, both students at St. Louise de Marillac High School, have received scholarships of $500 each to be used to participate in the Experiment in International Living this summer. ## District 63.

The new program would only cost $1,500 more than the previous 1975-76 program, the addition being for increased travel expenses.

The new proposal recommends expanding performing organizations. The 6th grade instrumental group will meet more frequently. There will be a beginning band program, an intermediate and junior high strings group, a beginning strings group, a separate band for each junior high school, possibly a jazz band and an honors band.

Gogo suggested the emphasis will be on performing contending exchange music programs with other schools would be likely. He added winter and spring programs would also be a possibility. He thought playing together more often and receiving recognition for their works would greatly enhance the program.

Gogo said the program would no longer be an appendage to the school program but become an integrated part of the curriculum. He said it would no longer be treated as an extra-curricular activity. At the junior high school level the instrumental music student will have classes 5 days a week. This student will have to make a choice whether he selects this program or the language program. The new re-organization will be for one year and then it will be reviewed.

Board member Penny Larson joined with members Deckowitz and Kipnis in opposing the expansion. Opponents of the plan to restore the $40,000 to the budget said they felt there were other areas that should be restored into the budget, and did not believe this program merited this consideration above the others. Among the cuts opponents contend the nurse reductions should be considered high on the priority for restoration.

In a second action board member Barbara Kipnis was the sole objector to retiring teachers at age 65. She said she felt age should not be a criteria in such action thinking age was irrelevant in determining the ability of a school teacher. She said the best interests of the children were not being served by such action. While there was little doubt teachers beyond this age would not teach after the '76-'77 year, board members tried to placate Kipnis' concern by noting there was no stipulation which would prevent the superintendent hiring a teacher beyond the retirement age, but President Reiss admitted the 65 retirement age was mandatory, implying the unlikelihood of an older teacher at this age being re-hired.

In other actions teacher Gary Flynn asked the board to reconsider the reduction of social workers. He said the reductions would result in it being difficult to keep the quality up in the program, less time could be devoted to parents and students and less time would be available for emergencies and preventative work. When he mentioned $5,000 came from state funds for each teacher and asked a committee of 3 teachers meet with the school board, President Reiss said the board may re-consider based on the availability of state funds.

The board discussed a recommendation for restoring 3 nurses by having them devote 50% of their time to special education which would qualify them for special education funding. In this year's recommendation only one nurse would be available in the district with nurses' aides taking over the former nurses' jobs. At board member Penny Larson's recommendation, the superintendent will "cost out" the proposal and present at the next meeting.

Business manager Jim Bowen said if the district has the same assessed valuation as it had in '74 (about 192 million dollars) under the reduced tax multiplier, the district will receive $18,100 less for education and $3,750 less for operations, building and maintenance.

School Attorney Allen Schwartz bitterly attacked state officials contending they manipulated the multiplier for political reasons, reducing local income tax money and refusing to make up the loss with state funds.

Workmen's Compensation was rejected by the past insurance company used in the district and the insurance will now go into an insurance pool. Two injuries of major consequences contributed to the action though Workmen's Compensation costs have risen and companies hesitate covering school districts, according to Bowen.

Flag...

Many Village citizens have participated. Others have not had the opportunity. The Village Flag Flying program will give everyone this chance to observe our Country's birthday.

The Morton Grove Bicentennial Commission is asking that between May 30 and July 4 every resident and business in Morton Grove fly their flag everyday. This can set us apart as a community that has participated 100% in the Bicentennial. It can only be successful if everyone participates.

A letter explaining the program has been sent to everyone in the Village. Within the next few days, the local Boy Scouts will deliver a second letter.

All residents are asked to read this material and then participate by flying your Country's flag everyday for five weeks beginning May 30.

Back into court a second time, the judge assigned two public defenders to represent the girl. A thin glass-wearing blond defender, and an older black-moustached attorney were assigned the job of giving this girl her fair due. The attorneys' combined age might have been 48 years old.

In front of me sat an attorney whose age totaled the 2 defenders, and whose legal experience probably exceeded the younger men's by 25 years. When the court recessed for another 15 minutes, while the attorneys consulted their new client, the older man told us "they got 15 minutes" to discuss what action they'd take on behalf of Patricia. His implication was 15 minutes isn't much time to make a decision on behalf of a girl who might soon be fighting for her whole life's freedom.

When the prisoner was shuffled into the courtroom for a 3rd time, replete with the matron's fingers in her back, the young attorneys asked for her admittance to Cermak Hospital where she would undergo psychiatric scrutiny, June 4 was set for the next hearing, though the attorneys would have to appear in the afternoon before the presiding judge of the 3rd District Court where they would submit briefs and where the June 4 date would be substantiated.

This time Patricia was moved out the rear door of the courtroom, moved down the hallway to the Niles police headquarters and inside where she was retained until she was transferred to the hospital.

Off on the side was an Arlington Heights attorney who was representing the family — the aunts, uncles and cousins of Patricia. He was quite open with the press. He told them the will of the deceased left only $5,000 for the defendant, the rest was to go to her brother, a substantial amount which was at least $100,000. It was reported the family was upset when the Columbo girl insisted the deceased be cremated, which allegedly offended their religious beliefs.

While there was little rapport between reporters and other attorneys, this family legal aide was quite open. He escorted reporters out of the courtroom where he discussed further details surrounding the family's interests and the will.

While the metropolitan newspapers told you the big story which created half-inch headlines across their front pages, the non-descript stories generally are not reported. There's not much of a story about the waiting around, the interminable minutes of idleness, the dull routine which slowly inches forward.

Reporters, reading newspapers, cameramen waiting hours to catch a 3-second picture which may or may not make the 6 o'clock news is a part of the non-descript story. Bailiffs move in and out of the courtroom, passing a friendly word, a joke with reporters, while the clock moves forward. And when the featured player comes into court the juices begin to rev, though she's so very ordinary and she seems so incapable of being the central player.

In the afternoon, upstairs in the presiding judge's courtroom, the reporter walks into an empty courtroom. You hail the bailiff, "How's the family?", and you idly talk about anything that comes to mind, about the retired chief judge, about the bailiff's son who had been in an accident 8 years ago, about the old days in Niles when the courtroom was the meeting room for all-village business. Then, in comes the presiding judge, a still young athletic-looking man, sun tanned, who moves into his ante-room and changes into his black gown. "We're waiting for the court reporter," says the bailiff, and the 2 news reporters, and a probation officer sit and stand by waiting. Finally, proceedings begin. The 2 young public defenders, and the state's attorney, are told to file briefs and the judge sanctions the June 4 date, speaks about the 1st amendment, and in 5 minutes moves out of the court.

The prisoner was not obliged to be a part of this routine hearing. Her attorneys told reporters they didn't know where she was but assumed she was in transit.

It all began at 9 o'clock and now it was edging toward 3 p.m. It would be 3 weeks before the next action in the case would be taken.

Cynics have been turning off our system of justice for some time. Seeing Nixon and Agnew get off, Reagan getting around the paying of income tax, having people in high places trying to get a pardon for convicted felon Kerner, Patty Hearst having her family's money buying her the best legal advice in the country, while her fellow SLA members have no such counsel, sours many on the system.

Monday morning in Niles, Illinois, the system was working well. Without anyone representing an obviously distraught girl, the court protected her. Her assigned lawyers had the court admit her for tests which would delay the case 3 weeks. It was important to get the psychiatrists' findings. And it was important the attorneys have time to work for their client. Even after one judge made rulings, a second judge had to confirm the final judgement.

read at the monthly meeting by State Rep. John Carroll (R-4th Park Ridge). In it, Fulle made note of the fact that Maine Township led all 80 Cook County wards and townships in the March 16 primary election.

Fulle said personal and family commitments were the reason he decided to stop down as Maine Township committeeman.

Raffe said he felt there were other candidates for the post of committeeman, but other members of the organization said they expected Raffe to be named as Fulle's successor.

The selection of Fulle's successor by the Maine Township GOP must be forwarded to Harold Tyrrell, chairman of the Cook County Republican Central Committee, who will make the final appointment.
