The 1976 St. John Brebeuf girls softball team held up a proud tradition by successfully defending the Girls Softball City Championship.

The championship game was held at Thillens Stadium. The Warrior's opponents were a determined group of athletes from St. Edward School in Chicago.

The game was marked with some excellent defensive plays by both teams with St. John's coming out on top by a 5-1 margin.

The C.Y.O. program is under the direction of Linda Gotkowski.

Bike Cops cite 12 traffic violators

Niles police are pleased with performances by the new bike patrol teen cops. While their primary function is to promote safe bike riding in the village and observance of traffic regulations, Police Officer James Gerhardt noted that the junior cops have issued 13 citations, up to last Friday, for traffic violations.

The citations require appearance in Niles court next Saturday morning by the offenders accompanied by their parents. Each may be fined up to $5 per violation.

Traffic violations are for riding double on a bike, "truck riding" (without use of hands) and for failure to stop at Stop signs.

Two of the citations were issued to Park Ridge cyclists. 3 to Chicagoans and the rest were given to Niles residents. All covered violations in Niles, said Officer Gerhardt, who also noted that the citations were given for repeated violations by the same offenders.

Gerhardt said the college-age bike cops continue an admirable public relations program, stopping 50 to 60 cyclists per week and discussing traffic regulations.

The bike patrol corps of 8 young men and two young women have been responsible for registration of numerous Niles bikes during the past weeks.

Also notable, said Gerhardt, was confiscation of illegal fireworks this past week. Alertness by the corps more recently alerted police to a possible lead in drug trafficking and investigation of a van suspiciously located near a bicycle rack in Golf Mill.

At least 5 minibikes have been impounded thru efforts of the Bike Patrol, pending outcome of court appearances by owners. Minibikes are not licensable vehicles and it is illegal for minibikes to be ridden anywhere except on one's own private property said Gerhardt.

A pilot program concerning bike safety was innovated June 1 with the inception of a Niles Bike Patrol who bike-cycle the village 7 days a week from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. in teams of two. The program will continue to September.

"As an addition to our Community, we have placed an identifying lighted sign on the North and East sides of the Bank building," stated Martin.

On June 7, 1976 the GOLF MILL STATE BANK reached an all time high in assets totaling $51,310,528. Martin commented further, "It is ironic we should reach these footings on the anniversary of fifteen years of service to the community."

GOLF MILL STATE BANK, with a proven record of banking service to its Community, public acceptance and respect, profitability and growth, has every reason to face the changing environment in which it will be operating in the future with confidence and enthusiasm. A will to compete and a determination to serve will assure continued success then, as it has in the past.

Bank of Commerce & Industry President serves community of his childhood

"Our communities are as cooperative and friendly today as they were years ago." That's how Richard P. Larsen feels about the communities of Park Ridge, Edison Park, Norwood Park, and Jefferson Park.

He should know. He spent his childhood there, left to become a recognized authority in banking circles and returned as president of the Bank of Commerce & Industry, 6100 Northwest Highway. The bank opened in Norwood Park in May, 1972.

Larsen's return to the area of his childhood brought back many memories and a renewal of old friendships. "There were empty lots, a few farms, and we walked or rode bicycles in those days," said Larsen, who was born of pioneer merchants in the Village of Jefferson (now Jefferson Park). "My parents operated the Jefferson Park Home Bakery at Milwaukee and Higgins Avenues from 1905 until the early 1930s."

During that time, Larsen attended the Beaubien Elementary School, Lane Technical High School and Columbia College, graduating from each with highest honors.

He also was an avid sports enthusiast. "We didn't have the sophisticated park district sports programs that are available to youngsters today," he said, "but we had our community teams."

Richard P. Larsen
At various times, Larsen played baseball, basketball and tennis on teams representing Park Ridge, Edison Park, Norwood Park, and Edison Park.

His own business career began with the Jefferson Park National Bank at the corner of Lawrence and Milwaukee Avenues, where he advanced to junior executive.

He then became associated with a real estate mortgage and insurance affiliate of three Northwest Side National Banks. In 1932, Larsen joined the U.S. Treasury Department as a liquidator of closed national banks.

During World War II, Larsen was commissioned in the U.S. Army, and, with the rank of captain, served in the Finance Department as a special representative of the Secretary of War.

Discharged in 1947, he joined the South Side Bank and Trust Co. as an assistant to the president. He became second vice president, executive vice president and, in 1956, was named president, a position he still holds although the bank became known as the Bank of Commerce & Industry in 1972, and was moved to its present location in Norwood Park.

"I wanted to understand why banks had failed during this period," he said, "and what steps could have been taken to avoid these failures. The liquidation of any bank has a devastating effect on a community and should be prevented whenever possible." He directed the liquidation of seven closed national banks on the north and northwest sides of Chicago.

During this period, Larsen married the former Evelyn Fleming of Lyons, Illinois, and purchased a home in Edison Park near Lunt and Harlem Avenue. They became members of the Edison Park Lutheran Church and participated in a variety of community organizations.

In 1939, Larsen accepted a commission from the U.S. Comptroller of the Currency to serve as an Examiner of National Bank Receiverships. Here, he examined the liquidation of two large chains of Michigan banks which were closed by gubernatorial proclamation in 1933.

The fact that we've doubled our total assets in the nearly five years we've been in Norwood Park attests to our success and excellent community relationship," added Larsen. "We've provided the far northwest side with one of the strongest banks (in capital structure) within the Seventh Federal Reserve District which covers primarily the midwestern states. That's something that few banks of our size can match."

If approved, the plan would allow bondholders to exchange maturing bonds for an equal principal amount of a new eight-year series of first mortgage bonds, said J. M. Quigley, NI-Gas financial vice president and secretary. Holders also would be able to buy additional new bonds for cash, so long as available. The aggregate principal amount of new bonds would be limited to $35 million.

Quigley said the new bonds are expected to mature August 1, 1984, and will be dated August 1, 1976. On or about July 9, bondholders will be sent letter of transmittal and prospectus with details of offer, including the interest rate on the new bonds. Deadline for participation is expected to be July 30, 1976.

The exchange offer is separate from the $50 million 25-year bond issue which NI-Gas plans to offer through competitive bidding on July 8.

Northern Illinois Gas has been a wholly-owned subsidiary of NICOR, a holding company, since a corporate reorganization April 30.

FEDERAL DEPOSIT INSURANCE CORPORATION

Is there any truth to the E.S.O.P. fable?

By Paul T. Pardillo, Assistant Vice President and Trust Officer
In the past year and a half, there has been a great deal of controversy over the benefits and drawbacks of Employee Security Ownership Plans (E.S.O.P.). This type of employee benefit plan has actually been on the books for over thirty years. In the past, they took the form of stock-bonus, profit sharing, and other money-purchase benefit plans that would invest a major portion of the contributions in employer stock. Some companies using these types of plans are Sears and Procter & Gamble. One of the advantages of setting up an E.S.O.P. is the ability to make tax-free contributions even if a company does not have ready cash. In essence, an E.S.O.P. allows the employees of a corporation to acquire whole or partial ownership of the firm. At the same time, a corporation would be able to acquire capital funds by which plant and equipment investment may be increased. By this method of leveraging, a corporation can make tax-free contributions of corporate stock to an E.S.O.P. by selling company stock to the qualified employee benefit plan. The logical question is "How does the plan get the money needed to purchase the stock?" Generally, it borrows sufficient funds to cover the stock purchase. If a corporation borrows funds with out using an E.S.O.P., it can receive a tax deduction on interest payments but not on principal. If a corporation is in a 50 per cent tax bracket, this means it must earn $2 in pre-tax earnings to repay the principal on each $1 loaned. Borrowing through E.S.O.P., however, can be less expensive. A corporation's contributions to an E.S.O.P., which are used to repay principal and interest, are tax deductible. Therefore, only $1 of revenue is needed to repay each $1 loaned.

Before entering into an E.S.O.P., a corporation should consider:

1. Do the current stockholders wish to give up a portion of their ownership to employees?
2. What problems would be encountered when actions enter the picture?
3. Stock valuation becomes important when stock is contributed to an E.S.O.P. and when the stock is subsequently sold.
4. How will the establishment of an E.S.O.P. improve employee morale?

These and other questions should be discussed with the Central Telephone & Utilities Corporation (CTU) has recently announced the relocation of its corporate headquarters from Lincoln, Neb., to the Chicago area. The move is scheduled to take place in mid-July.

CTU, which operates the nation's fourth largest non-Bell telephone system, is the parent organization of Central Telephone Company of Illinois. The new site of CTU's corporate headquarters is located within Centel of Illinois' serving area.

The company estimated that 40 management personnel would make the move, and an additional 40 to 45 jobs would be filled in Chicago. CTU's telephone operations staff was moved to Chicago two years ago, and currently employs 100 persons. When fully staffed, the corporate headquarters will number about 200 employees.

Robert P. Reuss, president and chief executive officer, said a Chicago location offered several advantages to the diversified utility, which provides telephone and electric service to some 500 communities in 11 states.

"Air transportation is essential to the conduct of our business," Reuss said, "and O'Hare International is unexcelled in the number and frequency of air connections to U.S. cities."

Reuss also noted the Chicago area's importance as the nation's center for telecommunications equipment manufacturing and technology, as another prime factor in the decision to relocate. CTU does not own manufacturing facilities.

The company's ties to Chicago go back many years. Reuss said, Its Central Telephone Company of Illinois subsidiary, second largest in the Centel System, has served a number of northwest Chicago suburbs and the O'Hare area since the 1930s. The Illinois company employs nearly 1,100 persons in the Chicago metropolitan area.

The Irving Park district agency of the Prudential Insurance Co. was recently moved to Niles from Chicago. The new location is in the NCR Building, 7400 N. Caldwell Ave. Formerly, the office was located at 4300 W. Lawrence Ave.

District Manager James G. Dietz said that the need for new quarters was due to increase of Prudential business in the area.

Assisting Mr. Dietz in the transaction of company business are 5 sales managers, 40 agents, and 8 in the administrative unit. The district was established in 1924.

Mr. Dietz, who has represented Prudential since February, 1959, became manager of the Irving Park district in November, 1975.

Deposits Still Accepted At Skokie Federal

Skokie Federal Savings President John R. O'Connell reaffirmed his position Friday that his savings association will not limit the amount of funds an individual could deposit into his savings account.

"I know some savings and loan associations both downtown and here in Skokie are refusing to accept large amounts of money because they're having trouble investing it. But I believe that savings associations have an obligation to serve the customer, not turn them away during periods of heavy inflow."

O'Connell continued, "Despite the fact Skokie Federal is experiencing record inflow of money we are not restricting the size of account holders' deposits."

FCC actions could lead to higher rates for telephone users

The members of the Illinois Telephone Association believe that current policies of the Federal Communications Commission will lead to higher rates and poorer service for most telephone users. The ITA membership is made up of 60 telephone companies that provide service throughout the state.

According to John F. Tharp, ITA executive vice president, the FCC's actions could mean that local rates for home telephone service may have to be increased by as much as 75 percent.

"We believe the FCC's tinkering with the world's finest telephone service has become a public issue that only Congress can resolve," Tharp added. "And that's why the entire telephone industry supports the Consumer Communications Reform Act now pending in Congress."

Tharp said the Consumer Communications Reform Act would reaffirm the national goal of the Communications Act of 1934, which calls for universal telephone service offered with the economic reach of all Americans.

The nation's 1,600 independent phone companies (including the Central Telephone Company of Illinois), the Bell System companies (including Illinois Bell), and many of the industry's unions are united in their support of the bill.

Also officially on record in favor of Congressional action are the National Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners, representing various state utility regulatory bodies, the American Farm Bureau Federation, and the Pennsylvania Association of Older Persons, Inc.

Trueblood joins Citizens

CitizensBank & Trust Company, Park Ridge, recently announced the appointment of Lane F. Trueblood as accounting officer in the Comptroller's division of the bank.

Mr. Trueblood, a certified public accountant, holds a bachelor of arts degree from Illinois Wesleyan University. Prior to joining CitizensBank, he was employed by the firm of Richardson, Karloski, Pinkley and Kupper, Certified Public Accountants in Decatur, Ill.

A member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, the Illinois Society of CPA's, and the Phi Kappa Phi senior honor society, Mr. Trueblood's responsibilities will include a variety of accounting functions for Citizens.

dent said the proposed Consumer Communications Reform Act amends the Communications Act, to reaffirm:

- the national goal of universal service, a goal that assures the widest availability of high-quality communications service at the lowest cost to the entire public;
- the natural monopoly concept of the interstate telecommunications system; and
- the jurisdiction of the states over the regulation of terminal and station equipment connected to the telephone network.

The telephone industry believes the current contradiction between traditional national telecommunications policy—a policy that has produced the best telephone service in the world—and the recent FCC decisions favoring so-called "competition" needs to be resolved. And we believe the resolution can only be achieved through action by Congress," Tharp said.

Buying an air conditioner?

There's one number you should know besides the price.

Before you choose an air conditioner, ask the dealer for its energy efficiency ratio. This number tells you the efficiency of a unit. An air conditioner with an EER number of 8 or above will be thrifty for you electrically.

The EER number is computed by dividing the BTUs by the watts. A 12,000-BTU unit that uses 1500 watts will rate an 8. If the EER doesn't appear on the tag or metal nameplate, use this simple formula yourself. It's a worthwhile exercise that can pay off in electric dollar savings over the long run. Don't buy too much capacity.

Surprisingly, an air conditioner that's too big usually won't keep you as comfortable as a smaller unit.

So measure the space to be cooled before you go to the dealer. Also note any doors that might let cool air escape, or windows that might let direct sunlight in. The dealer will have charts to translate your notes into the right air conditioner selection.

And remember to keep the filter clean. Check your owner's manual to see if you should vacuum it or wash it. In either case, a good periodic cleaning will make your air conditioner more efficient and save you money.

Another good way to save on your cooling costs is to get an automatic timer made especially for air conditioners. If you're going to be away from home for the day, you can set the timer to turn on the air conditioner an hour or so before you return in the evening. Your home will be more comfortable, your air conditioner will get most of the day off, and you'll save money on your electric bill.

It makes a lot of sense to buy an air conditioner that starts efficient and stays efficient. And saving energy always makes sense.

Chamerski asks Park District residency for all employees

[By Alice M. Bohan] Niles Park District Commissioners were requested Tuesday night, June 15, to consider an ordinance requiring all new park employees to be residents of the Niles Park District.

Park Commr. Steve Chamerski mentioned in his new park code to be similar to the recently passed village code which now requires village employees to be the residents of Niles village. The Niles ordinance does not affect present employees living outside of the village. The single exception to the village policy is in areas which require highly technical or specialized skill.

Opposition to the proposal by Park Director William Hughes pointed out the new policy would not affect park employees (Director Hughes lives in Des Plaines).

Concern for future discussion, the committee date was set by Chamerski who was skeptical there were not enough qualified Niles residents in a 32,000 population to fill park positions.

Hughes said he could foresee some major problems (due to the proposal) which need discussion. For example, the noted part-time help is difficult to find. Lifeguards are required to have Water Safety Instruction (WSI)."

In hiring for the position, he said "those who have the needed requirement don't all live in Niles. We may have difficulty finding qualified lifeguards under the new proposal."

Opposition to the proposal by Park Director William Hughes favored the proposed park code pointed out the new policy would not affect park employees (Director Hughes lives in Des Plaines).

"The loophole in the code excepts present employees."

Park Board policy according to park attorney Gabriel Bernardo required park residency which, said Commr. Jack Ueske, had not been enforced since the former Park Director had elected to live outside park and village boundaries.

A

Chamerski and Keener had referred the Hughes' motion to table the new proposal.

In other business the Board tabled discussion on a proposed park ordinance to adopt Niles code on vandalism, traffic and other offenses, subsequent to further research.

Approved purchase of an $846 Monarch Alarm System for the Tom Goff Course Club House which provides for installation and a silent alarm. Commr. Ueske and Chamerski voted the purchase stating a "loud alarm-type system" was "sufficient to keep out burglar."

and would save $271 in alarm purchase.

Renewed a lease agreement for Chesterton Field Park for 2 years at $1 per month.

Heard a report from Commr. Wm. Keener on the Bi-centennial activities scheduled for the July 4th weekend. The Park District will supervise at Children's Olympics on July 3rd morning and family races, games and marathons in the p.m. Finale of the day will be a scheduled softball game between Park and Village Boards.

Niles woman swindled out of $3,000

[By Alice M. Bobala]

A village resident was bilked last week of $3,000 which she had put up as "faith money" to two con artists in a "pigeon drop" scheme at the Four Flaggs

Shopping Center.

The victim told police she had exited Jewel-Osco at 8203 Golf Rd. about 1 o'clock Tuesday, June 15 when she was approached by a female.

The woman said she was a messenger for Turnstyle, another store in the Four Flaggs center, that she had found an envelope in the parking lot and asked whether it belonged to the victim.

The victim said the envelope was not hers and it should be turned in at the Jewel Store to locate the owner.

Another woman approached the pair and was told what had happened. She also disclaimed ownership and the three women opened the envelope which contained cash and negotiable bonds allegedly totaling $30,000. Also enclosed was a card on which was written "This is all I could scrape up. Take it and deposit it in a Swiss bank."

The first woman said she would ask her boss at Turnstyle what to do about the contents of the envelope. The 3 women went to Turnstyle and the "messenger" went inside to see her "employer."

She returned and told the 2 women that her boss said if the money wasn't claimed in 60 days, the money could be kept and split 3 ways.

The victim protested but the suspect told her, "It's crooked money. The owners are going to cheat the government by depositing it in a Swiss bank." Further, she said, her boss, Mr. Goldberg, suggested that each of the 3 put up $5,000 as "good faith" money.

The victim said she did not have that much, but she and one suspect went to a Lincolnwood bank where she withdrew $3,000. The two returned to Four Flaggs where they met the other woman.

The suspects persuaded the victim to go into the store and find "Mr. Goldberg." When she couldn't find him she came back outside, but the two women had fled with her $3,000. The victim did not know whether the women left on foot or by car, said police.

Niles police said the "pigeon drop" is the predominant swindle used to fleece people out of their money.

Flood study . . .

Cont'd from Niles-E>Maine P.I.
Bids received for the engineering study, ranging from low to high, were from Knetich, Remick & Ass., Inc., $4,739; Charles W. Greenard Assoc., Inc., $12,000; M&E Alstot, March & Guillou, Inc., $13,500; Cioba-Spies, Gustafson & Co., $16,000; and Harza Engineering Co., $48,000.

Altogether cost of the study is expected to come out of General Village funds, a portion of the expense may come under two Nov. '75 grant requests of $1,215,000 for a separate sanitary sewer project and $2,737,500 for a combined sewer system project.

Following a needed rainfall to measure the water flow in the sewers, said engineering firm George March, the study could be completed in 6 weeks.

In other action trustees viewed a 14-minute film on a police project communications system of computerized radio transmitters and receivers with the capability of command and control by which police or patrol cars can quickly be dispatched to needed areas.

The film dramatized the shooting of a routine patrol policeman whereby he was able to call for help by pressing the control button on a portable radio-unit on his belt. The relay to headquarters pinpointed the stricken cop's position on a screen alerting nearby police units to arrive on the scene and apprehend the gunman.

NORCOM, the North Regional Telecommunications Network is a pilot program initiated in November, 1975, linking the 13 communities of Niles, Morton Grove, Skokie, Lincolnwood, Wheeling, Winnetka, Wilmette, Northbrook, Glenview, Golf, Glencoe, Kenilworth and Northfield.

The Board discussed grass-cutting for amendment to the ordinance governing garbage, trash and weeds.

*Trustees approved advertisement for a bid on an aluminum modular type mobile intensive Care Unit to replace the NFD 1969 Cadillac ambulance.

Earn pilots certificates

Students in the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign earned 103 aircraft pilot and instructor certificates and flight ratings during the semester just closed. Included were: Harry M. Silverman, 6531 N. Keating Ave., Lincolnwood, and Howard F. Barsky, 7901 Lyons St. in Morton Grove.

Cont'd from Niles-E>Maine P.I.

Niles Police Chief Emrikson is wholly enthused over the program. Phase I, he said, installation of new radios in patrol cars and portable units for wear by police will be completed, hopefully, by October 1.

Phase II, which needs approval by Niles and the other 12 community boards, for NORCOM to seek Federal funding of $2½ million, covers Automatic Vehicle Monitoring.

Phase III will cover a training program broadcast continuously at intervals over police radio.

Emrikson said the system is planned for inter-community police efficiency as well as inter-village proficiency. The combined operation of the 13 suburbs assists in decreasing the cost of the program, he said.

Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase termed the film-viewing as a projection of what the future holds in terms of policing and safety security.

NORCOM is financed under a 90% Federal grant; 5% State grant and 5% in local monies.

Funding by each suburb differs, dependent on the size of the suburb and amount of equipment needed for department personnel.

In other action, Mayor Blase renewed village appointments as presently occupied, with 2 new replacements to Niles Family Service of Don McNair and Dennis Keith.

The Board discussed grass-cutting for amendment to the ordinance governing garbage, trash and weeds.

Skokie Rotary Club honors local students

The Skokie Rotary Club honored high school seniors from Niles North, Niles East and West, and Notre Dame High Schools during the current school year. These senior students came as guests of the Skokie Rotary Club one meeting each month. Each of them who have been outstanding in activities and leadership in their respective schools were introduced by a member of the Rotary Club at each meeting.

On May 25 all of the students returned to the Rotary Club for a special meeting at which time each received a Certificate of Recognition signed by Arnold Svanascini, president of the Skokie Rotary. One student from each school was selected by their principal to receive the "Service Above Self Award". This award is given each year to an outstanding senior who has contributed unselfishly to the activities and programs of his or her school. A plaque in each school gives the name of each of the winners of this annual award. The winners this year were: Paul Lisek, Niles North; Amie Hirsch, Niles West; Gordon Hirsch, Niles East; and Michael Bauer, Notre Dame.

Other students who have been honored as guests by the Skokie Rotary Club this year are as follows:

Niles North - Gregg Edelman, Erin Kleifield, Leslie Leeb, Claudia Lifton, Paul Lisek, Maris Nather, and Neil Sachs.

Niles East - Richard Cope, Brian Davidson, Michael Guerero, Gordon Hirsch, Steven Leon, Pamela Mohr, and Karen Shrifer.

Niles West - Bart Conner, Amie

"Election '76' program on political conventions

"The Hottest Game in Town: The Political Conventions and What's at Stake" will be the first program scheduled for the Oakton Community College "Election '76" project.

This program, co-sponsored by the Skokie Public Library, will be held at the Skokie Library on Wednesday, July 7, at 7:30 p.m. Experts will discuss the procedures involved in each of the major political conventions and provide a guide for watching them on television.

A grant from the Illinois Humanities Council to Oakton Community College is underwriting the Election '76 project. The Council, through its grants, aims to involve humanities personnel in programs which promote the discussion of public policy and governmental responsibility.

The project at Oakton entitled "Election '76-To Participate or Not to Participate: That is the Question," will seek to stimulate discussion and participation in the election process by area residents, according to Dr. Harvey Irlen, dean of Learning Cluster III and director of the project.

Programs will be offered during the summer and fall in communities throughout the area, he said. The programs will consist of candidate and issue forums. Pertinent information about the electoral process will be incorporated in these programs.

Michael Danko, assistant professor of humanities and Dr. J. Dennis Lampert, professor of history, will be participating faculty from Oakton. Ms. Connie Mortell will serve as project coordinator.

All programs will be open to the public free of charge. Infor-

Niles North faculty retirees

Two Niles North High School teachers, and the supervising nurse, who also teaches part-time, will be retiring this year after being at Niles North since the school opened in 1964.

Cecil Sachner, French teacher, Ruth Pompian, reading teacher, and Helen Dimschultz, the supervising nurse, are leaving North with mixed emotions--they're looking forward to retirement, yet they are reluctant to leave the teachers and students they've worked with at Niles North.

Mrs. Pompian has always been a reading teacher at Niles North. She was one of the first teachers to graduate from a masters program at the University of Chicago in secondary reading. Mrs. Pompian also worked as a reading consultant in district 73½ for five years, and has taught in several other states.

Helen Dimschultz plans to "travel and take up golf" during her retirement. Mrs. Dimschultz, who has a masters in nursing in health education and counseling from Loyola University was "constantly teaching every student who came in the office--when a student came in with a problem," says Mrs. Dimschultz, "we try to offer as much guidance and health counseling as we can. We try to do a lot more than simply give out band-aids and aspirin."

Cecil Sachner has been teaching in the Niles Township district for twenty-five years.

Mrs. Sachner served as Chairman of the Foreign Language department at North for seven years. "I do hate to leave Niles North," says Mrs. Sachner. "I've enjoyed so many of my students."
