Water rate suit against Chicago filed in Circuit Court

Forty-seven suburban Cook County municipalities, represented by the Chicago law firm of Ancel, Glink, Diamond & Murphy, P.C., have filed suit today in the Circuit Court of Cook County, challenging the legality of the rates that the City of Chicago charges the suburbs in their purchase of water. This suit, which seeks a reduction of some $10 million in their annual water rates, as well as a recovery of over $26 million in overcharges, is being brought as a Class Action on behalf of some 74 suburban communities currently receiving Lake Michigan water from the Chicago Water System. Citing a legal requirement that the City charge them rates that are reasonable and nondiscriminatory, the suburbs claim that Chicago, which has raised the suburban rates over 50% during the last five years, is in effect forcing them to subsidize the unmetered and meter water users in Chicago and to subsidize many aspects of the Chicago Water System which provide little or no benefit to suburban purchasers. The suit notes that while 100% of the water sold to the suburbs is

(reprinted from May 27, 1976)

If you graduated grammar school during the 30's, Memorial Day has to have a special meaning for you.

In the O'Keefe class of '39 there were 15 boys who escaped the terrors of Mrs. Noehring by moving up to Hyde Park High School. It was a talented group of boys who in later years wore the titles of the Dean of The School of Criminology at The University of California, President of the Clinton Watch Company, Managing Editor of Newsweek magazine and a professor at MIT. And the smartest guy in the grammar school class became our high school valedictorian, an ensign at 18 years old, and by now may be a very important man in the fields of science or engineering. In a sense, those were the winners.

There was another youngster in the class. Bobby Feldman, a roly poly little guy, who periodically received a shaking down by Mrs. Noehring because he couldn't master the very elementary bits of algebra Mrs. N. was trying to drum into our heads. She knew Bob was a bright boy and she was more frustrated than he was when he failed to master his lesson. But when it came to history, this fantastic teacher would just sit back and smile as Bobby would dominate the period rattling off the many facts and figures he had. He, too, was destined for bigger things.

I don't believe anyone is really a loser, but still, Bobby would fit the definition if there were such an animal. While we grunted and argued through wonderful hours of football in the autumn, Bobby would be pushing a baby buggy and viewing our histrionics from behind the playground.

16% increase in Village budget

by Alice M. Bobula

The Village Board May 24 approved a budget appropriation ordinance for 1977-78 totaling $8,777,291, an approximate 16% increase over last year's budget. The budget exceeds last year's $7,531,696 appropriation by $1,245,595. Village Manager Kenneth Scheel attributed $734,639 of the hike to a 6% salary raise to employees of $210,000; increased costs of liability and health insurance of $175,000 to $185,000; utilities (gas and electricity) up $30,000; rubbish pickup raised $50,000 and increased costs of the bus

Village of Niles residents overwhelmingly opposed Tuesday's library district $1.5 million dollar referendum while unincorporated residents never came out to support the issue as total voters defeated it by a 506 to 224 margin. In the split district in which library board president Martin Hodes said half the district is outside the village of Niles, "the outsiders" voted 134 to 63 in favor of a $550,000 branch library at Shopper's Walk shopping center and for an estimated $1,000,000 addition to Niles present building. Meanwhile, "the other half", Niles residents, voted 443 to 90 against the issues. In what was an obvious miscalculation library board members were expecting the unincorporated residents to flock to the polls in support of Tuesday's issues. But any vote watchers should know the annual District 63 elections point out unincorporated residents do not vote in

Happy bidder at Niles Police auction

George Boznos (shown above) of 9215 N. Sayre, Morton Grove, was one of many happy youngsters who bid for and received a bicycle at the recent Niles Police Department annual auction. The Niles Police Department held the auction in order to dispose of unclaimed bicycles and miscellaneous merchandise.

Niles Police Captain Russell Beavers, who conducted the auction, estimated over 200 children and adults attended the sale. Stated Captain Beavers, "Many of the youngsters came with their own money and did their own bidding and the smiles on their faces was worth all the work it took to put the auction together". In the event you missed this year's auction, mark your calander for next year. You could make a youngster very happy.

Mikva to poll Tenth District views

Congressman Abner J. Mikva is soliciting the opinions of his Tenth District constituents in a comprehensive questionnaire that will be delivered to each home and apartment in the next ten days to two weeks.

The questions cover topics including national spending priorities, Congressional ethics and reforms, foreign affairs, energy, public financing for federal elections, gun control, and national health insurance.

"Although I receive hundreds of letters each week and meet with a number of people while I am in the district, it is important that I obtain as many views as possible from my 500,000 constituents so that I understand their priorities and needs," Congressman Mikva said. "The questionnaire provides an easy way for people to let me know how they feel about a number of important national issues."

Mikva noted that 13,000 people responded to the general questionnaire he sent to Tenth District residents in November, 1975, and said he hopes for an even higher response from the 1977 poll.

"It will only take a few moments to complete the questionnaire and there is space on the form for two people of each household to reply," Mikva said. "This is one important way to communicate your views about the way the federal government is serving you."

Most Tenth District High Schools are distributing the questionnaires among students so Mikva will also be able to monitor the response of his younger constituents on major national issues.

Refresher course for driver's license renewal

Almost everyone dreads the day he has to be examined to have his driver's license renewed.

Senior citizens of Maine Township are doing something to help reduce the fear. The township's Senior Citizens Council will sponsor a refresher course at three locations each month, for those who are soon due at the examiner's station.

Fred Arndt, township senior citizens coordinator, said the program is open to anyone whose license is up for renewal, and not just the elderly.

The courses will be offered next month at these locations, Arndt said:

June 2, 9 and 16 -- Des Plaines Senior Citizens Center, 1396 Thacker St.

June 6, 13 and 20 -- The Greens, 8909 David Pl., in unincorporated East Maine.

June 6, 13 and 20 -- Park Ridge Adult Center, 90 S. Western.

All classes will run from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., Arndt said. Anyone interested in taking part should call the township office, 297-1510, for a reservation.

Mallinckrodt graduate

Mallinckrodt College graduation was held at 4 p.m. Saturday, May 21. Sister Angelica Hengesch, SCC, president of the Mallinckrodt College Board of Trustees, delivered the keynote address, "What's In A Name?" Local graduates included Angelina Latona of Niles.

The Senior Adult Center of the Leaning Tower YMCA has a "Friendly Visiting" program whose purpose is to provide companionship and friendly conversation to those people who would otherwise be isolated.

Woman foils attempted kidnap and armed robbery

A young woman grabbed her purse and ran toward the safety of the Golf Mill Shopping Center, leaving her car and would-be abductors behind her in the parking lot May 18.

Police said the victim had been sitting in her car reading with the car motor running around 4:30 p.m. Wednesday when suddenly the door on the driver's side opened and a man pointed a blue steel revolver at her saying, "Move over."

The victim asked to get out of the car, pushing past the armed man. The robber demanded and grabbed her purse throwing it on the floor of the car.

When the girl picked up her purse and ran toward the lighted shopping center, the robber entered the car with his companion who had stood silently on the passenger side of the car and drove off toward the Milwaukee ave. exit.

Police said the car was recovered later that afternoon unlocked with the keys in the ignition, in a parking lot at 9102 Milwaukee ave. Employees of the lot said the car was left there between 5 p.m. and 5:30 p.m.

The gunman was described as between 19 and 20 years old, 5 ft. 11 in., weighing 175 lbs., with short black hair. He was wearing a royal blue T-shirt and dark pants.

The victim could furnish no description of the second man.

Armed robbery

An armed robber and his accomplice May 15 took approximately $15 at knife-point from a Des Plaines student walking on Harlem ave. in Niles.

Police said Larry Smith of 1150 N. River rd. was walking south-bound on the 6900 block of Harlem ave. around 9 p.m. Sunday when he was approached by 2 men in their early 20's.

The victim said one of the men pulled a knife from his pocket and placed the blade to the victim's stomach, demanding, "Give me your wallet."

When the victim complied, both men ran south on Harlem.

One of the men was described as weighing 190 lbs. with blond hair, wearing a red corduroy shirt and blue jeans.

The second robber was 6 ft. 3 in., had brown shoulder length hair and wore blue jeans and a blue cowboy shirt.

Fire Extinguishers: Basic types for the home

Our local Fire Chief Albert L. Hoelbl has provided this 13 article series on fire prevention and emergency procedures in the interest of greater safety in the community. The material and statistics have been compiled from information which comes across Chief Hoelbl's desk. He feels, in sharing this with the local citizens, some fire losses may be prevented, and perhaps even unnecessary loss of life.

This is 10 in our series of articles which examine the various methods of fire prevention in the home. Today we will discuss basic types of fire extinguishers which are readily available and moderately priced for home application.

In fighting any fire the most important thing to remember is that fast action is of the utmost importance to keep it from spreading. The simplest and oldest form of fire extinguisher is a bucket of water and it is very effective if used during the first few moments after the fire is discovered. Of course, water should never be used where the fire involves oil, grease, or electrical fires.

For example, if a pan of grease on your stove should suddenly burst into flames, the most effective means of extinguishing the blaze is a metal pan cover that will fit tightly over the pan and shut out the supply of air. Never put a flaming pan of grease in the sink and run water into it! This will only cause it to flame higher and possibly spread. Also, never throw flour or baking powder on a pan fire, thinking it will smother it. It will not, in fact, you may well have an explosion or at least a worse fire than you had before. For fires in the broiler simply shut off the over and shut the door, thereby stopping the flow of oxygen to the fire. It will burn itself out inside the oven.

Underwriter's Laboratories uses a three-part breakdown on basic fires; class "A" type fires are those which occur in wood, paper, trash, etc., where the cooling effects of water or water solutions are effective. Class "B" fires are those that involve liquids, greases, etc., which require a blanketing or smothering effect to extinguish. Class "C" fires are those which start in what would be termed "live" electrical equipment, where a nonconductive extinguishing agent must be used.

The newest type of extinguishers are charged with dry chemicals, and many are rated ABC. In other words, they can be used effectively on the three types of fires previously mentioned. No special training is needed to operate this type of extinguisher, and the manufacturers claim the use of this type is faster than water, and takes less physical effort. When using the dry chemical, there is no danger of re-ignition or flashback. The powder is free flowing, nontoxic, nonconductive and won't freeze. Also, no annual recharge is necessary.

It is my personal opinion that the dry chemical extinguisher will be the best to have in the average home, along with the previously mentioned water tap far enough away from the house to make it easily accessible in the event of a fire. On the other hand, if you have unusual situations in your particular home, such as the need to store large quantities of gasoline or other fuels, large supplies of other flammable materials because of your occupation or hobbies, then I would suggest extinguishers which fill more specific needs. Space does not permit me going into each type of extinguisher available. However, if you will check the yellow pages of your phone book you will find fire extinguisher dealers listed. Any of those shown will be happy to come to your home at no charge for a consultation on your individual needs. Tell the man your story and let him make the recommendations. These men are most always highly qualified in the field and will give good, solid advice you can follow without reservation.

Next week we'll have an emergency subject: mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. You won't want to miss it!

Mikva objects to lawn-treading Postmen

Congressman Abner J. Mikva has criticized a Postal Service directive authorizing and directing mail carriers to walk across private lawns to take the shortest possible route in making deliveries.

In a letter to Postmaster General Benjamin F. Bailar May 13, Mikva noted: "I appreciate the fact that this directive was evidently intended as an attempt to cut costs. However, I find it hard to understand the basis on which such a determination could be made which affects the property of others."

The Congressman added that he had received numerous complaints from his Tenth District constituents regarding this practice.

"The most common objective expressed by my constituents is the violation of the rights of private property that they feel is implicit in this directive. Others are concerned that while there may be some financial savings to the government, the directive ignores the high cost of lawn maintenance to the individual homeowner," Mikva said in the letter.

He added that the Postal Service should not be encouraging mail carriers to damage lawns while local officials are trying to curb vandalism, that carriers cutting across lawns are setting a bad example for children who have been told that they should respect private property, and that mail carriers will bear the brunt of homeowners' anger and displeasure with the new procedure.

Insulate this spring and save.

Spring is off-season for insulation contractors, so you can save now on installation costs. It makes good sense to insulate now, before the hot weather starts. Most people wait for the extremes of weather to remind them that they need to insulate. So springtime, with its milder weather, ends up being the best time to line up an insulation contractor. You'll have a better chance of getting the job done right away, and you'll probably also save on installation costs.

And go right on saving this summer.

Good insulation will lower your cooling costs. Your house needs adequate attic insulation, not only in the winter, but in the summer, too. That's because your air-conditioned house needs a barrier against the summer's heat just as much as it needs protection against the winter's cold. How much money can insulation save you? Estimates of savings from home insulation range from 20 to 30 percent of yearly energy costs. Don't forget—savings will show up on both your heating and air-conditioning bills. Investing in insulation pays off in more ways than one. Not only will you help conserve energy, but you will also increase the value of your home. That's one reason why many Savings and Loans and local banks are willing to help finance the cost of the job.

Commonwealth Edison has an attic insulation finance plan to help you. For details on insulation costs, call a qualified insulation contractor (consult the Yellow Pages or your local newspaper). If you're a single-family residence customer of ours and you install adequate attic insulation (R-19 or more is recommended), we'll finance the installation costs ourselves. (Keep in mind that any reputable contractor will certify that your insulation was installed as specified.) For more information on our attic insulation finance plan, call this toll-free number: 800-972-5782.

Act now, while you still remember the bitter cold of this past winter, and what it cost you.

You pay for what you waste.

Commonwealth Edison Working for you.

Mark Weick receives Rensselaer Medal

Mark C. Weick, a junior at Notre Dame High School, Niles, has been awarded the Rensselaer Medal for excellence in mathematics and science. This medal is given each year to a junior at Notre Dame High School by the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, New York. The medal has been awarded since 1916 to over 55,000 students in about 1300 secondary schools throughout the United States and Canada. The schools are selected for their superior academic standards. In addition to bringing recognition and honor to each recipient, the Rensselaer Medal carries with it the opportunity to enter a competition for a scholarship to be used at RPI. The award was established to motivate students toward higher education and careers in scientifically oriented fields.

Gemini student wins gold medal

Charlotte Dulak, Team VII student at Gemini School, East Maine School District 63, recently won a gold medal in Textile Design in the National High School Art Exhibition conducted by Scholastic Art Awards.

Charlotte submitted an originally designed, hand painted pillow to the regional competition held in Evanston and was awarded a Blue Ribbon. She was then selected a Blue Ribbon finalist and her work was sent to New York. There it was judged and won again—being one of only 40 selected throughout the nation in this category. This is quite an achievement for a junior high student who has competed against top high school students nationally.

Congratulations to Charlotte Dulak, and to her art teacher, Virginia Ryan, and Gemini Principal, Donald Huebner, for their inspiration and encouragement.

First place science fair student

Guy Brilando, 8th grader of Niles Elementary School-North, won a first place for his project at the State Science Fair at Champaign on Saturday, May 7.

Writing Achievement Awards Competition
In recognition of their outstanding writing abilities, four Niles North High School juniors were recently nominated by the North faculty to participate in the 1977 National Council of Teachers of English Writing Achievement Awards Competition. Elisa Aderman, Dena Brief, Helene Silverman and Ellen Weissman, all of Skokie, were selected to participate in the annual contest sponsored by the NCTE, a professional organization of English teachers dedicated to increasing the effectiveness of English instruction in the United States. The contest involves approximately 6500 high school juniors across the nation. North nominees were selected by a panel of North English faculty which judged samples of their work. Each student will next submit a sample of her best work to the NCTE for evaluation and will also be required to write an hour-long impromptu theme. All compositions will be judged by a panel of high school and college English teachers selected by the NCTE. Approximately 800-900 winners will be announced in November. The number of winners in each state is keyed to state population. Illinois was granted 47 last year. Winners will be recommended for college scholarships if they need such assistance and their high schools will receive commendation awards.

ED HANSON

"Losers weepers ..."

The old cliché, "Finders keepers, losers weepers" is so true. No where is it more true than at race tracks. Ever lose a winning ticket at the track? Thousands are lost at race tracks annually. Millions of dollars worth. "Hell hath no fury" like a winner scorned by Lady Luck. The agony of defeat is bad enough—but to lose your winning ticket after you have won causes even death to lose its sting. Many moons ago at Santa Anita there was a guy who had 10 fifty dollar tickets on the winner. He put a rubber band around 'em and shoved 'em in the side pocket of his tweed jacket. I knew him. Later, at his wake as he lay in his casket, I said, "He's the only corpse I've ever seen that isn't smiling." He somehow lost the packet of tickets. The horse paid $95.40. This loser hung himself in the men's wash room at the track with his belt. Recently I did a story and ran an ad in all 5 Bugle papers about the Western Messenger Service, 7116 W. Higgins. My phone rang a few days later. "You - Ed Hanson?" "Yes." "Never mind who I am - I went to that messenger service you recommended to your readers." "And ...," I prompted. "I bet five bucks. I won but I lost my ticket." "So ...," I prompted. "I told the guys there about it." "What happened?" "They spent about 15 minutes going thru the copies of tickets. Finally, a guy looked up - I think his name was Lou, or something like that." "And ...," I prompted. "They found the copy of my 5 dollar winning ticket, checked my signature, and paid me!" "Now, wasn't that nice," I said. "Man, was I happy - they're the greatest!" "That's funny," I said. "I thought Muhammed Ali was." You see, dear readers, when you make a horse bet with Western Messenger Service you must sign the ticket with your name or initials. And this signature is what empowers them to go to the track as your personal agent and buy the tote ticket which registers in the pari mutual pool, so that everything is legal and in full compliance with the laws of the Illinois Racing Board. Next time you're at the track and you lose a ticket of any denomination, say 10 bucks, do this: Go to the 10 dollar cashier and say, "Hey, Mac... I had a sawbuck on the last winner but I lost the friffin' ticket... gimme 40 bucks please ...". Try it and you'll either wind up in handcuffs or in a rubber room. Pat DeCarlo, a very fine and classy gent who knows talent, has a new act at his Nite-Cap Lounge... Bob Frankenger. He sings and plays Country-Western, folk and gentle rock. Johnny Cash is good... I'd say he's the best of the Geritol set, but this Frankenger (I'd change that name) is better, in my expert opinion. And besides, he's younger. The Nite-Cap Lounge in Niles (Milwaukee ave. & Waukegan rd.) is a quiet, orderly-run rather quaint place to relax. Take your best girl or whatever there, have a few drinks, and afterwards, your lady may say to you what a French gal once said to me, "Mon cheri - that was magnifique!" Jake of Jake's Famous Restaurant now has a fruit bar. It's located up front as you come and it's chock-full of the most succulent, juiciest fruit you can eat. La Dee Da ...

Lincolnwood Hyatt House welcomes new dining room manager

The prom starts at 6:30 p.m. Commencement exercises will be held Thursday, June 16, and graduates should report to the auditorium by 6:30 p.m.

Spring Music Festival at Maine East

The Maine East music department will present its final display of talent in a two night Spring Music Festival. The Festival, scheduled June 3 and 4 at 8 p.m. in the Maine East auditorium will feature all the beginning and intermediate groups, the Concert Band, Orchestra, and Choir as well as the Jazz Band. The two night concept, something new, was designed to give all the students an opportunity to participate.

On Friday, June 3, the Freshman Chorus include "Spinning Wheel" by Blood, Sweat and Tears and a piece titled "The Orchestra Song," where voices actually imitate orchestral instruments. Jeanne Fujimoto will be the accompanist. The Mixed Chorus will be singing "Selections from Oliver" and "Charlotte Town," a southern folk song. Kathy Lee is the accompanist.

The Beginning, Intermediate, and Cadet Bands will also be performing that night under the direction of Mr. Ken Gelz. Selections performed by these three bands will include "Jesus Christ Superstar," "Barnum and Bailey's Favorite March," and the "March Heroique."

The Jazz Band will be the performers for the final portion of the concert that evening. The Jazz Band, which rehearses during ninth period, has performed for several other events this year. They performed with Orchestras during the "Tenth Dance Concerto" and have performed several concerts outside of school. Nancy Englund will be featured on the electric flute. Selections will be "Nadia's Theme," featuring Steve Snodgrass on the trumpet; "Look for the Silver Lining" with Tom Porzak on trumpet; "First Class," featuring Phil Barrish on electric piano and synthesizer; "The Theme from SWAT," and a piece titled "The First Time," arranged by Woody Herman.

The Saturday, June 4, evening concert will be made up of performances by the Concert Band, Orchestra, and Choir. The concert Orchestra under Mr. Tom Hageman will be performing three concertos with student soloists. Senior Elizabeth Petray will be performing the "Piano Concerto No. 3." Senior Wendy Kon will be performing the "Telemann Viola Concerto in D for Flute" by Mozart. The Concert Band under the direction of Mr. Jerry Hug will be performing a variety of pieces. Selections included will be "Overture from the Marriage of Figaro" by Mozart; Valdes "Norwegian March" by Luthof, featuring Glenn Silverman on feugal horn; a very rhythmic piece titled "Prelude and Rondo" by David Holsinger; and "Meditation from This," which will feature the flute section of the band.

The concert Choir will also be performing that night. They will perform a variety of pieces from show tunes to folk songs. Something for everyone will be presented at the Spring Music Festival. Again, dates are June 3 and 4 at 8 p.m. Admission is free for students with an I.D.

Darcy named State Champ in low hurdles

Ben Darcy, an eighth grade student at Apollo School achieved his dream last Saturday, May 21 in Morton, Illinois when he took the State Championship in the low hurdles in the elementary school division.

Ben, 14, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Darcy, 9245 Courtland, Niles.

Ben has been participating in track events for several years and prepared for the hurdles championship by building his own hurdles with the aid of his grandfather and practicing his jumps by setting them up in front of his home at 6:30 each morning.

While a student at Washington School, Ben took 2 first places in the 100 and 500 yard dash.

In order to qualify for the State Championships, he took second place in the hurdles on May 7 at the District finals and first place in the sectionals on May 14 at Buffalo Grove High School.

Ben's coach was Wayne Boehelman of Maine North High School.

Last Hurrah Reunion for Nilehi's Jim Phipps

Jim Phipps, Niles West High School teacher and coach, may see his life in review sooner than he expects. At least his professional life, that is. Many faces from his past, attached to the bodies of former students, ball-players and friends have already accepted the invitation to attend the Jim Phipps Last Hurrah Reunion on Saturday, May 28, according to a parent organizing committee.

Phipps will leave this area at the close of the school year, after serving the Niles Township High Schools as a teacher and coach for the past 30 years. To honor him for his service, the parent committee is giving him this day to remember. Events scheduled include an afternoon alumni baseball game and reception and an evening dinner and "roast".

More than 150 former students, athletes and friends have already indicated that they will attend the reunion, said Mrs. LaVerne Galla, one of the organizers. And 25 former Niles Township High School baseball players will be here too, to take part in the alumni game. It's reported that some of the players who will participate are former members of the 1947 and 1948 high school teams, others will be more recent graduates. Jim Hart, the St. Louis Cardinals quarterback, will be on the playing roster for sure, committee members say.

Residents of the area are invited to participate in the Jim Phipps Last Hurrah Reunion too. Interested persons should contact Mrs. Galla at 299-3834 as soon as possible.

After a hard day of work, Steve, Nancy and Cliff prepare to collect the pledges for the Campus Life Work-A-Thon.

On Saturday, May 7 under blue, sunny skies, 50 Maine East and Maine South students gathered to spend the day in hard work. The occasion was the annual Campus Life Work-A-Thon, and these young people were part of hundreds from across the Northwest area who participated.

What would motivate someone to give up a beautiful Saturday to work? There are many answers, but for most it was an opportunity to help others and to raise money for Campus Life. Previous to the 7th, participants solicited "pledges" from friends, family and other interested individuals. If someone paid $1 an hour, they would owe $7 for the day. Workers were offered the additional incentive of applying half of what they raised towards their cost of a Campus Life summer activity.

Richard Harczak wins Award of Merit for excellence in business achievement

BUGLE's Businessman of the Month

by Ed Hanson

Once upon a time, as a young boy, I read a lot. I read every story written by Horatio Alger, Burt L. Standish and Frank L. Baum.

That was a long time ago — 56 years — more than half a century. The Alger stories would be considered "cornball" today. And I must admit they had corny titles, "Work and Win!", "Sink or Swim", "Rags to Riches". Standish's stories (some 2,500) would be considered "square" today, too.

They were about two clean-cut athletes named Frank and Dick Merriwell of Yale.

But, Baum had the magic. His "Oz" books became immortal. In attempting to put Richard Harczak on paper, some invisible force took over. What you will now read is the truth, so help me God.

The innate qualities which the aforementioned, make-believe heroes possessed, it seems, were also invested in the real Richard other accredited fraternal and business organizations to which he belongs.

Rags to riches story begins...

Richard Harczak, monetarily speaking, was born with zero — zip. He cried on a rainy morn, Nov. 20, 1926. The crystal-set radio, a priceless possession then of his poor parents, blared the popular tune of the 20's, "Dinah ... is there anyone finer?" In the excitement of his birth, the radio wasn't turned off. And after Harczak oozed into this planet, it still played on ... "Sweet Georgia Brown". Maybe, after spending nine months where no sound existed, the sound of music had some bearing on the "rhythm" in athletics and dancing which he was later to acquire. Who can say?

Richard Harczak President and Chairman of the Board Dempster Plaza State Bank to the major leagues with a signed contract in his hip pocket. But it was then Harczak learned that many times circumstances (fate, Kismet?) make the man and the man cannot alter the circumstances. Not change the course of his own destiny.

For it was 1944 and the U.S. was at war. Harczak was drafted into the United States Army. Had there been no war, would Harczak have wound up as a baseball star? Or a baseball bum?

Who can say? Wisemen have said the answers to such secrets are written in shifting sands of the Sahara ... the ancient pyramids of Egypt ... or woven in the tapestry of very old Persian rugs. (Many years ago my second wife, whom I affectionately called "Cobra", purchased such a rug in Persia from a withered, wrinkled old fakir. When we returned home she spent three Maughan wrote a short story before you were born about that.")

Harking back to Harczak. After a 2-year hitch in the U.S. Army Harczak came out a Master Sergeant. But this time our "real hero" did get farther than just a few blocks from home. He made it all the way to and back from Dallas, Texas. His basic training was in a suburb of Dallas, known as Paris, Texas today.

"D" Day! Wild cheers. Dancing in the streets. The war to end all wars had come to an end. And after the Japanese surrender there ain't been none since, except a couple of police actions.

Nothing succeeds like success...

Harczak opened his own meat distributing company at the tender age of 21. With typical Harczak astuteness he created an advertising slogan, "You Can't Beat My Meat".

Simultaneously, he also became a night student at Loyola University. He majored in accounting and business administration.

Again, like the fictional heroes of Horatio Alger, he decided to "Earn, Learn and Win". He did. His meat distributing firm prospered. And he won a lovely bride. At 22 he married his high school sweetheart Elaine Check (Swedish), a charming girl of 20. Their union was blessed with 2 boys, Ronald and Douglas.

But from whence did Richard Harczak come? Where were his "roots"? They're in Lwow, Poland.

Harczak. For fiction is distorted fact. And truth is stranger than fiction — sometimes.

What were the qualities? Character. Hard work. Clean living. And, of course, magic.

Anywho, put 'em all together, and like a jack-in-the-box, up pops Richard Harczak.

I hope young people will read and believe this true saga. For young Americans are our custodians of the future. And when they are older and wiser, they, too, shall worry about the younger generation. This paternal worry has been going on since time immemorial.

Richard Harczak did not become president and chairman of the board of the Dempster Plaza State Bank by luck or accident.

He didn't become head of a chain of 11 sausage shops because he had "pull" rather than "push". Nor did he become successful in many other business enterprises because he was born with a "silver spoon".

Nor would he be an outstanding civic leader in his community (Niles) and a member of its Chamber of Commerce. And certainly he would not be a respected member of the many

A street car clanged down Belmont ave., near Central, as if heralding the moment of his birth. He was the first child of John and Marie Harczak. Two years later his brother John arrived and 8 years later his sister Letitia came to be.

After a normal, healthy boyhood and a few "wacks" from the good nuns of Saint Ladilous, Harczak was graduated. And don't knock a good grade school education for that is the foundation, or the "fountain head", if you prefer, which is the springboard to more knowledge. It can generate a "thirst" for more knowledge, in some children. Without it, college becomes just an expensive vacation.

After graduating from Foreman High School, our real hero "Harczak" found that circumstances can change a man's destiny ... like marriage ... for better or worse.

To digress a moment, while at Foreman High young Harczak, the boy, developed into Harczak, the man. Not as big as the fictional Frank Merriwell (6 ft.), his 5 ft. 8 in. frame became well muscled from hard work after school and athletics during school. You could say — and you'd be right — he was and is physically exceptionally well endowed.

It is a matter of record at Foreman High that young Harczak was an exceptional athlete. As the fictional Frank Merriwell did at Yale, so did Harczak at Foreman. Both set records for athletic achievements. Harczak excelled in baseball, football, ice skating and other sports. His record at Foreman High, for 785 consecutive "sit-ups", still stands today. (Boxers and weightlifters use the method mostly.)

At baseball he was super ... so good that he received a contract from the Boston Red Sox. "Kielbasia" (Polish for sausage), as he was affectionately referred to by fellow teammates, was on his way weeks trying to decipher what the seller promised was the secret of life, supposedly woven into the design of the Persian rug. "I just can't make any sense out of this," my second wife exclaimed. Upon a return visit 2 years later we again came across the same old rug peddler. "The pattern in that rug you sold me which you said would divulge the secret of life just didn't make any sense," Cobra said. The old wrinkled Persian looked up at my wife, and with a toothless smile said, "Neither does life, lovely lady." "Later back at our hotel I said, "Look, dear, that old Persian rug salesman is much better read than you are."

"What do you mean?" "I mean, my dear Cobra," I said with a leer, "that Somerset land, which then was about 50 kilometers from Warsaw. John Harczak, his grandfather, was one of 4 children. And he, like Richard's father, was a sausage maker by trade.

Harczak's father, John, worked hard as his father before him in Poland. In 1926 Harczak's father opened his own business, General Sausage Company, 2001 S. Blue Island ave., Chicago. He sold this business in 1948 and retired. But men of this breed have to be active and, bored with retirement, he opened the first Harczak Sausage store at 7035 Higgins, Chicago. (Author's note: it's a small world because my oldest son, Edward C. Hanson, worked for Harczak's daddy when he was 14 or 15 after school. I had just left the coin machine business and went into electronic tubes in 1948.) Richard Harczak's mother-in-law, Lalin Check, managed this store.

No, indeed, Harczak, 50, looks 10 years younger, and is in top physical shape. He's on the wing.

Another step forward...

Although he assumed the duties of chief executive officer of Dempster Plaza State Bank less than a year ago, his accomplishments have written a brilliant new chapter in banking history.

Harczak's seat in the executive chair hadn't been warmed when he made his first major move. And that was to immediately improve the image of Dempster Plaza by solidifying its position at the state and federal levels ... and recapitalizing its corporate stock structure.

Always having been "community-minded", and imbued with a sincere desire to help people of all colors, races and creeds from all walks of life, he immediately put this ideology into action.

Kielbasia works and wins...

In 1956 — the fabulous fifties — Richard Harczak opened his sausage store at 8115 Milwaukee ave., Niles. Subsequently, under a franchise arrangement developed by Harczak, store after store opened throughout the northwest suburbs, and like Agatha Christie's "Ten Little Indians", soon there were 10 Harczak Sausage Stores. (The 11th is due to open soon under the name of the Arlington Packing Co., featuring — what else? — Harczak Sausage.)

He initiated a total re-evaluation of all personnel at all levels. A brand new group of highly qualified officers and directors resulted. "I've got a brand new ball team, and they have the expertise to expertly play their respective positions," said Harczak.

He, after consultation with the most highly qualified advertising and public relations people, embarked upon a new promotional program individualized to the Dempster Plaza Bank's needs.

Now there are 11 stores...

Unlike Alexander the Great, Richard Harczak didn't sit down and cry because there were no more worlds to conquer. He and his brother John opened a commercial sausage company selling to restaurants, catering firms, drive-in theatres, etc. And again that magical Midas touch of Harczak succeeded and proved the old adage that "nothing succeeds like success."

Entering the banking profession...

"Work and Win" — maybe those old Horatio Alger stories I read when I was a kid weren't so "corny" after all. For in 1960, this man Harczak, who worked by day and kept studying by night, proved he could organize something big. He got a group of guys together — Ed Baumler, an insurance executive and a "high roller"; Ron Pankau, Ralph Erickson, Anthony Smigiel and they opened the Bank of Niles. It was a state bank then and it started with 283 local (Niles stock holders and Richard Harczak as organizer and director.

And he stayed on as director until 1976. By now the bank became known as the First National Bank of Niles. It had changed from a state bank to a federal bank.

In 1976 Harczak resigned as director.

Why? Was Harczak quitting? Retiring?

Your convenient community-minded bank

As he did in his sausage business, he created a simple but meaningful advertising slogan, "Your convenient community-minded bank".

Success personified...

To sum up, since Richard Harczak became president and chairman of the board of Dempster Plaza State Bank less than a year ago, this is the bottom line: Assets were increased by 37% New accounts or new money increased by 45%

A large expansion in computer operation has also resulted and more is planned before the end of 1977.

A happier, more harmonious family of workers, from the janitor to the president.

As a writer who has interviewed all sorts of people, the beautiful and the ugly, the good and the bad, the famed and the lowly, and ultra-rich and the peasants who toiled in the soil, I can honestly say of Richard Harczak

First: He's a man! A man of feeling and compassion. Firm but gentle and above all, a man of character. If I were to describe him in a few words, I would paraphrase from Rudyard Kipling's famous poem: "He could walk with kings, but he will never, ever lose the common touch."

Second: He's a man! A man of feeling and compassion. Firm but gentle and above all, a man of character. If I were to describe him in a few words, I would paraphrase from Rudyard Kipling's famous poem: "He could walk with kings, but he will never, ever lose the common touch."

Third: He's a man! A man of feeling and compassion. Firm but gentle and above all, a man of character. If I were to describe him in a few words, I would paraphrase from Rudyard Kipling's famous poem: "He could walk with kings, but he will never, ever lose the common touch."

Fourth: He's a man! A man of feeling and compassion. Firm but gentle and above all, a man of character. If I were to describe him in a few words, I would paraphrase from Rudyard Kipling's famous poem: "He could walk with kings, but he will never, ever lose the common touch."

Fifth: He's a man! A man of feeling and compassion. Firm but gentle and above all, a man of character. If I were to describe him in a few words, I would paraphrase from Rudyard Kipling's famous poem: "He could walk with kings, but he will never, ever lose the common touch."

Sixth: He's a man! A man of feeling and compassion. Firm but gentle and above all, a man of character. If I were to describe him in a few words, I would paraphrase from Rudyard Kipling's famous poem: "He could walk with kings, but he will never, ever lose the common touch."

Seventh: He's a man! A man of feeling and compassion. Firm but gentle and above all, a man of character. If I were to describe him in a few words, I would paraphrase from Rudyard Kipling's famous poem: "He could walk with kings, but he will never, ever lose the common touch."

Entertainment for nursing home residents

Dempster Plaza State Bank took its Nursing Home Program to the Gross Point Nursing Home on Thursday, May 12th and delighted the patients with a Musical Skit called "Showboat." The performers, Dean Weiss and Betty Bryant did an outstanding job in entertaining and making sure that all the patients were smiling and happy.

On Tuesday, May 17, Dempster Plaza presented "Maggie the Clown" for the patients at the Golf Mill Nursing Home. Maggie creates much excitement for the audience by getting them involved in her Magic tricks. The patients requested that Dorothy Schuessler, their adored Social Director, take part in one of the tricks. Screams of joy rang throughout the room.

Celia Hansen, Assist. Cashier of the Bank was hostess for the programs and as always brought in delicious cakes for all to enjoy.

Pediatric orientation for youngsters

In an effort to cope with a child's fears and apprehensions about hospitalization, Holy Family Hospital has begun a new community service program called "Pediatric Orientation".

The program, designed for first grade students, helps the children understand what a hospital is like — to see it as a place of helpful and friendly people, not a frightening place.

Holy Family recently introduced the program to a group of 42 children from Melzer School, Morton Grove, and interested school principals, teachers and nurses in the hospital's auditorium.

Using a setting resembling a hospital room and various medical personnel, Pediatric Orientation utilizes the children in a role playing situation to explain what hospitalization involves. One child acts as the patient, one as the father, one as the mother, another as the nurse and still another as the doctor.

The program lasts an hour and a half and the participants are given souvenir kits of simple and harmless hospital items to take home. In addition, every youngster receives a certificate stating that he has successfully completed the Holy Family Hospital Pediatric Orientation Program.

For further information regarding this program, call the hospital's Public Relations Department, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays, 297-1800, ext. 1174.

Hospital garb is worn by the children and explanations are given by various hospital personnel in a child geared terminology.

The program is conducted as realistically as possible as the children "undergo" routine hospital admission procedures, receive nursing care, pretend laboratory and X-ray tests and are prepared for surgery.

The program lasts an hour and a half and the participants are given souvenir kits of simple and harmless hospital items to take home. In addition, every youngster receives a certificate stating that he has successfully completed the Holy Family Hospital Pediatric Orientation Program.

For further information regarding this program, call the hospital's Public Relations Department, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays, 297-1800, ext. 1174.

System and Family Service. He also noted a major increase of $408,780 in the water fund mainly due to a raise in water rates this year; $95,000 for new and replacement of water mains due to the unseasonably cold winter, and the balance "due to inflation on commodities."

Scheel said the village is in its second year of a five-year period of converting to a management-by-objective program whereby department heads submit goals and costs for the year and attempt to follow their objectives to reach their goals and maintain costs. "In this way the village knows the manhours and funds spent on every program within each department," said Scheel.

As for anticipated revenues the village manager noted sales tax is the main source of income, accounting for $3,110,000 or

Library board president Martin Hodes said the vote seemed to mean people were satisfied with what they had and don't want to spend any more money. He said the south end of the district seemed to say they didn't want to spend any more money and the north end was apathetic. He said there would be no plans for a referendum on the immediate future. He added the budget was not affected by this vote and the board will continue to add books to its present stock. He noted he was disappointed, particularly by the apathy of the north end voters.

39 1/2% of the monies needed to meet the budget.

Water sales add another 22.93% or $1.8 million to village revenue; utility taxes 10.73% and state income tax 5.59%. Other revenue sources include vehicle licenses (which decreased by 250 cars this year said Scheel, "probably due to families not having that second car"), fines, permits and fees.

The village came up with $7,877,300 in anticipated revenue to meet its budget, about $899,881 short. According to Scheel the remaining funds are expected to come from carry-over surplus funds of previous years.

The village budget fund for the year May 1, 1977 thru April 30, 1978 is:

Gen. Corp. Fund	$5,702,859
Village Auto Fund	257,076
Vil. Veh. Tax Fund	210,000
Road & Bridge Fund	32,000
Soc. Security	230,000
Gen. Ob. Bond Fund	77,207

In other business-Tuesday night the Village Board unanimously approved Niles' participation in the Regional Emergency Dispatch (RED) agreement involving combined use of a basic communications system by Niles, Morton Grove and Glenview. Fire Departments, Glenbrook Fire Protection District and North Maine Fire Protection District. A feasibility report of operations, beginning June 1, 1977, will be offered to the Board for recommendation after one year.

MG Board. . .

Continued from MG P.1 voted to direct the Plan Commission to hold Public Hearings relative to amending the ordinance limiting height in an M-2 district.

Another applicant, Mr. John Polk, sought a Special Use for multiple family dwellings at 8814 Oak Park ave. in a B-2 zone. Some residents present at the hearing said they were opposed to this and the Plan Commission recommended denial of the request; but Chairman Goldberg made it clear they did so mostly because there is nothing in our zoning ordinance to cover a request such as this. The attorney for the applicant was present and at his request the board decided that this could be amended and turned the matter back to the Plan Commission for further study.

Robert Hanrahan, Youth Commission Chairman, made a presentation to Pat Mathis who was chosen "Youth Person of the Year" for 1976. He praised Ms. Mathis saying that she devoted much time and effort to helping youths in need and noted that she was elected president of KIN (Kids in Need).

George Holt said there was a second bid opening for curb and gutter repair and recommended accepting the low bid of Schroder and Schroder at $6.33 a lineal ft. in the amount of $13,713. The board concurred. Mr. Holt said that he would like to advertise for bids for the 1977 resurfacing program with bid openings being held approximately within 2 weeks. The board agreed.

It was announced that the Village Hall would be closed on Saturdays during the months of June, July and August.

Mayor Dick Flickinger recognized and introduced former M.G. Mayor Robert Schreiber visiting from Arkansas.

petition by Niles Investment Co. for annexation and Special Use a Planned Unit Development (PUD) under a major revision, of 9500 Washington st. for 220 condominium units of five buildings with 44 units to a building. Trustees had denied a similar request by the petitioner Oct. 26, 1976 of 240 units by reason of hi density.

Approval followed a traffic study, presented by village planner Rolf Campbell indicating "no traffic problems" for the area.

Petitioners must appear before the Zoning Board for approval of final area planning according to trustees.

Approximately 12 area residents attending the Tuesday night meeting were not permitted to air their views but were outwardly disgruntled over board approval of the petition. "It (action) went through so fast we didn't have a chance to say anything," said two area residents afterward.

• Approved a $1,407 subsidy to NORTRAN following an annual report to the board by representative Bart Murphy listing NORTRAN highlights of the year which included addition of 27 buses to the present 74 NORTRAN buses, implementation of an RTA transfer plan increasing ridership and other citations. Murphy told the Board there were 5 bus shelters on order for Niles, but was able to pinpoint locations.

• Unanimously approved a Special Use zoning change to Skokie Automotive Corp. at 7254 Milwaukee ave. for an Auto Service Center and Outdoor Auto Storage predicated on proper landscaping of the parking area.

Water suit. . .

Cont'd from Niles-E.Maine P.1 metered, approximately 347,000 of the City customers are unmetered; and over 50% of the total water supplied from the Chicago System — or about 550 million gallons per day — is unmetered, thus encouraging substantial waste in Chicago's water usage. This waste is reflected by the fact that the per capita consumption in Chicago is almost twice that of the suburbs — 250 gallons per capita per day in the City as compared to 139 gallons per capita per day in the suburbs. Unmetered water also results in a rate per 1,000 gallons of water used within the City that is much lower than the metered rate charged suburban users, despite the fact that the cost of servicing these unmetered Chicago customers is much greater than the costs of suburban service.

The Complaint further charges discrimination in that:

(1) Revenue derived from suburban service has been used to defray the expenses of distributing water through the 4,150 miles of water mains within the City, the bulk of which are utilized to service Chicago retail customers.

(2) Suburban revenue also goes toward the expenses of metering, billing and collecting for the water provided to City customers at an annual cost of about $7 million. In addition, the suburbs have to pay their own distribution, metering and collection costs.

(3) Revenue derived from suburban service has also been used to install and maintain over 46,000 City fire hydrants, and (until January, 1977) over 4,000 miles of Chicago's sewer mains. During the past three years, the City's sewer costs improperly charged to the Water operation have been in excess of $50 iron-barred fence. And in high school, we all joined some foolish, snobbish fraternities and promptly blackballed Bobby when he sought membership. I was bitter about his being excluded, but not bitter enough to quit the cruel system. Or not gutsy enough.

May 20, 1943, Bobby and I stood in line and received our army serial numbers. Somehow, we were separated by 6 or 7 numbers. And when Uncle Sam moved us out of Camp Grant, he drew a number between Bobby's ill-fated number and my lucky number. Bobby went to Texas and I went to Pennsylvania. Eight months later, January, 1944, Bobby's entire regiment was wiped out at the Rapido River, when the Germans let the Americans cross over the river and then systematically destroyed them. The Germans, perched on a higher elevation, rained destruction on an entire regiment which couldn't retreat because of the river and couldn't advance because of the terrain and the formidable firing power in front of them. Bobby Feldman, baby buggy pusher, blackballed non-fraternity member, roly poly historian, who had a hard time mastering his multiplication tables, had the wrong number again in January, 1944.

Phil Kriloff was another grammar school graduate in the 30's, in 1938. Phil played on our high school basketball team from '40 to '42, finally playing first string his last year. Phil was kind of slow, not too good a ballhandler, wasn't much of a shooter and had an awkward gait which gave him an unlikely rhythm to play the game. But he was tough ... he rebounded better than guys 4 inches taller than he. And he played tenacious defense. Phil was all guts on a basketball floor and he was killed in France during his 19th year. His friend, Bill Pass, was so dejected by Phil's death, he volunteered for immediate front line duty, lasted 10 days up front, admitted he just couldn't take it, was brought back to a rest camp, became an officer and was dead at 21.

There was "Mottz" Lozure, who was a fine grammar school athlete, who destroyed us in the two games we played against him in the late 30's. He went on to captain our high school football team, a fine offensive end, who was killed at 18 aboard a ship in the Pacific.

There was big Willy Pratscher, who was the hero of our playground, who starred as center on the '38 Hyde Park team which lost to Von Steuben for the city championship. Willy never came back from the war. And there was George Gay, a veteran of the Coral Sea battles, who went overseas with me and told me the war would last 10 more years. He said he'd had enough war, and was willing to get his leg shot off to get out. His second night in France, George was killed. And there was the Creevey boy, a fine Mount Carmel and Notre Dame football player, who starred in our summer softball league at O'Keefe, and he too never came home.

All the graduates of grammar schools in the 30's were marked with the loss of many of their friends and relatives. And I'm sure Memorial Day to them means more than barbecues and picnics and a day off from school or work.

If you don't have any Bobby Feldmans in your past, you're probably too young, and you should be grateful. Bobby was born at the wrong time and had the wrong serial number. It was as simple as that.

Memorializing the dead is an individual matter. Perhaps befitting their memory would be to volunteer help to the living, spending a small effort on behalf of the guys who are holed up at Hines Veterans Hospital. A telephone call to the hospital to help these men would be most welcome. Money donations presently can be earmarked for the general purpose fund, which is restricted for religious and recreational needs.

Representatives from the suburbs have been meeting with City officials since January, 1974, protesting the excessive rates and in an attempt to negotiate a reasonable reduction.

(4) The City also provides over $5 million worth of water annually free of charge to various institutions in the City.

(5) Over $13 million in 1977 is to be repaid to the City Corporate Fund out of water revenues for alleged policing and pension expenses which principally benefit Chicago users.

The suburbs, while currently purchasing about 18% of the water pumped by Chicago, account for approximately 27% of the City's total water revenue. It is estimated that the suburban rate is approximately 60% in excess of the cost of service to them, and this overcharge amounts to over $10 million for calendar year 1977 alone.

Maine Township High School graduates living in the community are invited to get together with old classmates on Thursday evening, June 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the Faculty Lounge at Maine East to learn about plans now underway to commemorate the school district's Diamond Jubilee. The first Maine Township High School (located on Thacker st. in Des Plaines) opened its doors 75 years ago, in the fall of 1902.

The Maine East Alumni Committee, headed by Dr. Lynn P. Dieter of Maine East's English department, is anxious to meet with as many "old grads" as possible to tell them of the many activities being planned for next fall in celebration of Maine's 75th Anniversary, and to seek their involvement in these activities.

Homecoming reunions are being planned for each of the four Maine high schools, with alumni receptions to be held after the Homecoming games. At other school events next fall, such as Open Houses, plays, concerts and musicals, hospitality rooms will be provided where alumni can meet and visit with their former schoolmates. Also, tours will be offered at the Open Houses to acquaint former Maine students with the additions and changes that have been made since their graduation.

Culminating Diamond Jubilee activities next fall will be a 300-voice Choral Concert, involving the Concert Choirs of all four Maine high schools, to be held on Nov. 9 at Maine East, and to which the community will be invited. The Alumni Committee is attempting to contact as many of Maine's early graduates as possible so that they may be given places of honor at the Concert and invited to an alumni reception to be held after the performance.

Memorabilia and artifacts of Maine's early days are needed for a film now being made of the district's 75 years of educational history. The Alumni Committee is requesting persons having such material to bring it to the June 2 meeting at Maine East.
