Village officials eye garage sales

by Alice M. Bobula
Garage sales have come under scrutiny by village officials who are considering an ordinance which will regulate the profit-making ventures. Basement, garage and rummage sales have become increasingly popular over the past few years as a means of earning extra cash for so-called "white elephants".

But the sales are beginning to get out of hand, said Village License Officer William Hlavacek, who appeared at a pre-board meeting last week to ask for guidelines in regulating such events. "Some people are running continual sales which are more than casual." At one such sale Hlavacek said the resident was selling 14 sewing machines and 15 vacuum cleaners.

At another, "18 people got together for a flea market which began very early in the morning, originating complaints from neighbors'.... "people were parking everywhere", causing more problems. More recently, he said, "one woman has been running a garage sale in mid-Niles for 5 months, selling television sets, boats, cars," etc. Signs pointing the way to a sale appear as far as six blocks away, creating eyesores.

Inquiries concerning control have come to the village from as far south as Brookfield, indicating "the problem is everywhere". Collar suburbs are tightening control said the license officer, some thru ordinance, others under Building Dept. supervision of village policing. The Niles ordinance, to be presented at the June 14 board meeting, is expected to require a permit fee of one dollar and will limit sales to one per year. Further limitations will govern time and hours of the sale and the display of merchandise; house signs will come within certain specifications; and sale of new merchandise will be prohibited. Penalty for violation could be set from $10 to $500 for each offense, noted trustees.

Park ok's budget for MNASR

From the LEFT HAND

By David Besser
Editor & Publisher

First O'The Month Meanderings...

In School District 63 outgoing Superintendent Gogo is taking his unexpired leave time during June. For all practical purposes he is no longer in the school district. Assistant Superintendent Stetinna is temporarily filling in until a new superintendent is appointed.

In closing the chapter on the Gogo years in our school district, we recalled comments from inside the school district when he pushed for the building of the new administrative offices which cost taxpayers more than $400,000. With the 2,000 student decrease in the 70's, we could not understand why he was so insistent on building more space when it seemed obvious additional classrooms were becoming available as the result of the downward student population trend. We were told he felt the district needed more modern and updated offices to welcome visitors who come into the district from outside areas. It was suggested he needed a showcase for hosting dignitaries who came to East Maine. We were never sure this was true. But this past spring the County Superintendent came to Apollo School to see District 63 students' production of "The Wiz". When head County Superintendent Martwick appeared Gogo gave him very special attention. Obviously, it was important Gogo put his best foot forward. It was not particularly unusual since the head superintendent is a very important guy among local superintendents. And especially among administrators who are moving from one district to another.

A few days later the Gemini junior high school's state finalist basketball team was welcomed back to school with a rousing gusto. But Gogo wasn't there. All other administrators were present but Gogo couldn't make it. Looking back we recalled the man who wanted to put on a fancy front for dignitaries by spending all that money for unneeded offices. And we recalled the same man who was quite obsequious in greeting his superior at the school theatre production. We received the impression he is a man whose priorities were badly misplaced. Making the good impression among the big shots seemed much more important than greeting his own kids whose accomplishments would never score points in the downtown offices.

LWV Meeting

The League of Women Voters of Morton Grove-Niles will have their Annual Meeting June 7 at Prairie View Community Center in Morton Grove. A dinner will proceed the business meeting.

At 8:00 the members of the Morton Grove and Niles Village, Park and Library Boards have been invited to join League members in a discussion of local League consensus positions and issues which concern the various Boards. The public is invited to join us for an opportunity to "Get Acquainted With The Local Boards". For information concerning the meeting call 966-8533.

by Alice M. Bobula

Niles Park District Commissioners May 26 approved the overall annual budget of the Maine-Niles Association of Special Recreation (MNASR) this year set at a total of $211,432. Niles' share came to $22,999, based on a 1% tax levy of total assessed valuation to Niles Park District residents.

Total contributions by the seven park districts (Des Plaines, Park Ridge, Morton Grove, Golf Maine, Skokie, Niles and Lincoln Recreation Board) of the MNASR was $151,811, proportionately based on suburban levy.

While approved as a line item budget, several commissioners were perturbed over non-answers to inquiries concerning the number of handicapped Niles children involved in programs, cost-value of overnight camping trips and other questions which were left unanswered by a director on the job for only 2 months.

Comr. Jack Leske chided MNASR Director Mike Muldoon at Thursday night's meeting... "We are responsible for taxpayers' money which we are approving for your (MNASR) use," he said. "From now on we want information about the program on a regular basis, not just annually."

"If other park districts are watching your budget as closely as we are, you're going to have 7 problems," Leske said.

Muldoon told park commissioners that other park districts involved in programs, cost-value of overnight camping trips and other questions which were left unanswered by a director on the job for only 2 months.

Niles Park board

Milwaukee Parkway Under Study

In a pre-board meeting May 24 trustees conceded the parkway area along Milwaukee ave. in Niles was in much need of beautification.

Reasons for the unsightly areas were numerous, they said, citing absence of barrier curbs for protection from cars, poor maintenance of public property; irregular "islands" of parkway resulting in neglect; combined salt solution, road film and air pollution which burns out grass within two to three feet of pavement.

Recommended improvements for the 9 mile-long parkway included grass at a cost of $1.60 per square yard for seeding and sod at $2.25 per square yard; artificial grass; gravel or crushed stone at $3 per square yard; epoxied stone or gravel costing $9.60 square yard; brick paving for $27 per square yard.

While the "green look" on Milwaukee ave. would be missed, trustees considered a cemented look as an alternative.

A planning associate of Met-Calf & Eddy, planners for a Milwaukee ave. study, told trustees that no one treatment would suffice for all the areas to be considered. He urged the use of trees in some areas to insure beauty.

A committee chaired by Tr. Richard Hartzak is expected to report back to the board in the next few months, with recommendations "based on some type of consistency".

Village Manager Kenneth Scheel told trustees that 700 replies were returned to a village questionnaire regarding Milwaukee ave. beautification "within 10 days after they were mailed out" to residents, indicating, he said, a widespread interest in the thoroughfare.

Des Plaines Woman Refuses Swindle of Con Game

by Alice M. Bobula
A 66 year old Des Plaines housewife who declined May 20 to take the bait in a classic pigeon drop game at Greenlake Shopping Center was home safe with her money according to Niles police.

The intended victim said she was approached first by a black woman in her early 30's around 11 a.m. as she walked toward the Woolco store. The woman said she had just found a large envelope imprinted with the name of a messenger service. They were then joined by a second white woman who told them to look in the envelope for an address.

The envelope contained a note stating, "Here is the $30,000 you won, your horse came in, I'm sending you the money to avoid the IRS." Also inside was another envelope which appeared to hold thousands dollar bills.

The first woman offered to consult with an attorney allegedly located in the shopping center and left to talk with him. She returned a few minutes later to say he advised them to split the money but had to demonstrate they were financially stable and would not spend their share of the money immediately.

The second woman said she was willing and could put up $7,000 which she had just collected on an insurance settlement. She left to talk to the attorney, returning to say she had been "approved".

At this point the housewife told both women they were acting crazy and walked away from them. She did not see either of the women again.

She described the black woman to be about 120 lbs., 5 ft. 3 in., small to medium build, who spoke well with no accent. She wore a dark blue bandana that covered her hair, a blue blouse and denim skirt and said she lived in Evanston.

The white woman was said to be in her late 20's, 5 ft. 10 in., about 150 lbs., with medium complexion and a "hill-billy" accent. She had dirty brown hair, straggly, which was swept up onto her head. She used the name "Evey" saying she lived in the Key West apartments with her mother and children.

The cost of the workshop, including dessert and refreshments, is $12 for both residents of Maine and Niles Townships; the OCC/MONACEP district.

For either workshop or child care reservations, call the MONACEP office, 967-5821.

Tell of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation in Bible

Our local Fire Chief Albert L. Hoelbl has provided this 13 article series on fire prevention and emergency procedures in the interest of greater safety in the community. The material and statistics have been compiled from information which comes across Chief Hoelbl's desk. He feels, in sharing this with the local citizens, some fire losses may be prevented, and perhaps even unnecessary loss of life.

This is article 11 in our series on fire prevention and handling emergency situations which could involve your calling the fire department for assistance.

Today we are going into detail on mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and I strongly feel this is one of the most important subjects that should be taught to every member of the family, for reasons I will explain.

Putting it very simply, mouth-to-mouth resuscitation is the use of one's own breath to revive someone who is unable to breathe for himself. It is a very old form of life-saving and an example of its use can be found in the Bible in 11 Kings 4:34, when Elisha revives an unconscious child by blowing into its lungs.

Now, I know that everyone in the community has heard of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, but what I do not feel everyone realizes is the importance of time lapse, from discovery of the need for mouth-to-mouth are drowning, electric shock, heart attack when victim has stopped breathing, carbon monoxide poisoning or asphyxiation from any cause.

When a person has stopped breathing, for any reason, his chances for being saved from death reduce over the first five minute period after breathing has stopped. If resuscitation is provided the victim within three minutes, his chances of survival are already down 75 percent.

When four minutes have passed, since breathing stopped, chances of saving the life are down to 50 percent. At five minutes the victim has only a 25 percent chance of revival!

Obviously, when so short a time is so important, there is no time for reading instructions, panicking, or delay for any reason! Therefore, if each and every member of the family has been trained in mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, the delay in its application in case of a family emergency should be minimal.

Whenever the occasion may arise for the need of mouth-to-mouth the very first thing to do is summon help by calling your fire department. If you are the only conscious person present in the home, you can readily see the importance of having the fire department telephone number on or near the phone. In this event, be sure you give your name and street number, along with nearby cross-streets before you hang up the phone. Of course, if there is another person present, other than the victim, have him do the telephoning while you start mouth-to-mouth.

Niles home invasion

Three women invaded the home of an elderly resident on the 7000 block of Keeney st. May 24 but fled the area when the housewife reached for a kitchen knife to defend herself and her home.

Police said the victim was in her sewing room around 11:30 Tuesday morning at the south end of her home when she heard voices from the north end of the house. As she walked into the kitchen she saw one woman standing in the living room and two other women near the front door.

She yelled at the first woman to leave her house, but the woman grabbed her by the wrists and began to struggle with her. The housewife broke free and picked up a knife from a kitchen drawer. When the intruders saw the knife, all three turned and ran out of the house.

The woman's husband told police he had been working in the garage and saw the 3 women walking south on Waukegan rd. The couple could give very little description of the trio other than they wore ragged and faded yellow housedresses and they appeared to be gypsies.

Police said it was the second home invasion in Niles this year, the first by a lone reportedly armed robber March 2 who entered a Birchwood st. residence near midnight robbing a husband and wife of $65 in cash after threatening to shoot the husband.

'Walk with Israel'

Participating in the "Walk with Israel" for the second year, the Chicago branch of Bank Leumi Le-Israel had the single largest group of walkers in the May 15 walkathon. Forty-two members of the bank personnel, their families and friends joined the 29 kilometer walk that raised funds for the Jewish United Fund-Israel Emergency Fund.

Participating in the "Walk with Israel" is a tradition with the Bank Leumi Group. Since their inception, the banking group's offices, branches and affiliates have supported the walks that provide financial support to the state of Israel and promote solidarity among the Jewish people.

This year's walk was of special significance to Bank Leumi because it coincides with the 75th Anniversary of Bank Leumi Le-Israel. Before there was an Israel, there was a Bank Leumi. In 1902 the Anglo-Palestine Bank was formed in London through the efforts of Dr. Theodore Herzl.

In 1948 when the State of Israel was established the scroll of independence was deposited for safe keeping in the bank's vaults in Tel Aviv.

Now 75 years after that first bank opened in London, Bank Leumi is a $9.3 billion institution with 352 branches, subsidiaries and representative offices throughout the world.

Young Daniel Polak, of Skokie, seemed more interested in watching than walking, as his father Yechiel led the way during the recent 29 kilometer "Walk with Israel" to raise funds for the State of Israel. Yechiel Polak, of the Bank of Leumi Le-Israel staff was one of 42 participants representing Bank Leumi Le-Israel. The bank had the largest individual group in the walkathon.

Less than two years old, its Chicago Branch, which opened in June 1975, offers a full range of domestic and international banking services. Aharon Kacherginski who joined the Chicago branch as its manager in 1976 says he is proud of the international standing of Bank Leumi Group, which now ranks 88 in the list of the world's 500 largest banks. But he added, "I am even more proud of our own progress here in Chicago. In just two years we have established Bank Leumi Le-Israel as an important financial link between Midwest U.S. and Israel.

individuals and the business community. The availability of our diverse services contribute greatly to our growth, and at the same time to the development of Israel's foreign trade."

K.C. donations to aid retarded children

Chairman Ed Coudek of Wheeling and Co-Chairman Michael Provenzano of Niles on behalf of North American Martyrs Council Knights of Columbus presented a check for $1,500 to Mrs. Peg Maher of Niles, and Leader Catechist 17 to 21 group of (SPRED) special religious education for retarded children of St. John Brebeuf Parish, sponsored by the Chicago Catholic Archdiocese and a check for $777 to Mrs. Gerri Fitzgerald, Parish Chairman of St. Juliana Parish SPRED in Chicago.

The money was raised through the K. of C. annual Tootsie Roll drive. Ed Coudek was appointed Co-Chairman and Michael Provenzano, Chairman for 1977.

Provenzano said, "Our major hurdle today is society's lack of understanding of retardation, not the inability of retarded to adjust and adapt to society. Through the K. of C. Tootsie Roll campaign, opportunities for the retarded are not only ensured, but more importantly, society is enlightened and can profit from the contributions that each retarded person makes during his or her life here on earth. We hope that science will practically eliminate retardation in the near future. Dramatic advances in training exceptional children to lead happy and productive lives is now being accomplished in many cases."

'Fun with Peonies'

Peony bushes will soon be in full bloom throughout Chicago and suburbs, and gardeners from the area are invited to participate in "Fun With Peonies" Week, June 6 thru 11, at North West Federal Savings.

The peony is an ancient Chinese flower that generations of gardeners have given in friendship. Once planted, peony bushes will produce beautiful flowers for 50 years or more without a great deal of care.

During "Fun With Peonies" Week, each of the five offices of North West Federal Savings will feature a special display of peonies grown by Klehm Nurseries of Arlington Heights, one of the largest growers of peonies in the midwest.

On Wednesday evening, June 8, there will be a "Fun With Peonies" clinic in the North West Community Room, 4901 W. Irving Park Road, Chicago.

Plant expert Ginny Beatty and a representative of the American Peony Society will present a program on the history, planting and care of peonies. The use of peonies in flower arranging will be covered and a colorful slide presentation will be part of the clinic. The program will begin at 7:30 p.m. and conclude at 9 p.m. There is no charge for this clinic, but because of space limitations, reservations are necessary. To reserve a place, call North West Federal's community service center, 777-7200.

Peony growers may bring home-grown peonies to any office of North West Federal Saving on that day and a "Friendship Van" will distribute the blossoms to people in the area who will especially appreciate the beauty of the "friendship flowers" from neighborhood gardens.

Honor Society initiates

More than 100 students were initiated recently into the Northern Illinois University chapter of the Phi Kappa Phi national honor society. Among the initiated was Richard C. Karl of 7116 Monroe Street of Niles, in liberal arts and sciences, and Bruce Jay Markoff, 9115 Ewing Ave., of Skokie, in business.

Phi Kappa Phi, which consists of about 175 chapters and more than one million members, recognizes achievement in every academic discipline, including the liberal arts and sciences, business, education, engineering, performing arts and medical and industrial technology.

Phi Kappa Phi was founded in 1897 at the University of Maine as the Lambda Eta Sigma Society. About a year later the name was changed to the Morrill Society in honor of the sponsor of the Congressional act which provided for land-grant colleges.

In 1900 the society, which has as its motto "May the love of learning rule mankind," became national and was renamed Phi Kappa Phi.

Initiates include no more than five per cent of NIU Juniors and ten percent of seniors. Initiates are eligible to compete for graduate fellowships offered through the national Phi Kappa Phi office in Ann Arbor, Michigan.

Niles Family Service Thought for the Week

I'm pleased to have on our Niles Family Service staff James Cisek, who is director of our School/Community Outreach Program. One of the SCOP classes for students teaches conflict resolution — helping the student accept their role in starting and resolving conflict. Mr. Cisek continues his series of articles on: "Conflict Resolution".

An IDEAL way to solve conflicts is by using the steps involved in problem solving. I - identify the problem, D - determine the solutions, E - evaluate the solutions, A - act upon one solution and L - learn which solution worked the best.

These problem-solving techniques can become significant in helping you to solve the conflicts you face with others. Let's look at an example. You and a friend reach for the same book. A potential conflict. You could start a fight and let the stronger one win, or you could use conflict resolution strategies. Think of at least three to five other things you could do in place of getting in a fight.

1. _____
2. _____
3. _____
4. _____
5. _____

The more solutions you can think of the greater are your chances of finding the right one. Some possible solutions are: give up/let the other person have it, share the book so both could read it, take turns or different weeks, flip a coin, let someone else decide who should get it, find another book, or a second copy of the book, explain and negotiate with the other person, xeroxing the section you want to read, etc. Can you think of any others? Remember at this step of problem solving don't weigh or judge the possible solutions. The second step of problem solving is to "determine all the possible answers to the conflict".

The third step is the "evaluate the answers". Weigh and judge which solutions might work and what might happen if you did any one of them. Some solutions may be easy to discard. For example, it simply isn't convenient for both to read the same book, so that solution can be eliminated. Letting someone else decide isn't practical either. Narrowing down the choice of solutions carefully, let's you plan and estimate one solution that has the greatest chance of success.

The fourth step is "to act". There is a great deal of difference between acting and reacting. Most poor solutions to conflicts are impulsive actions, not deliberate actions. A mother "reacts" when she abuses her child for misbehaving. Another mother "acts" when she decides to understand her child's misbehavior and to reward his good behavior. Problem solving is "planned rather than an impulse". It is a "technique" that can be learned but it takes patience and understanding. It certainly won't eliminate problems but it will resolve them better.

In conclusion, conflict resolution is planned action. It is finding out all that is possible about the conflict before even thinking about what to do (determining possible solutions). I'm sure that you once did something you regretted later simply because you didn't know all the facts; you accused the wrong person; you assumed the wrong reason; or you guessed the wrong situation which resulted in needless conflict. Do you know most or all of the facts? Your chances of successful conflict resolution increases greatly after you do.

Next time, this column will describe how to apply these above techniques of problem solving to your kids.

If you have individual, marital or family problems, or want to enhance your personal, marital or family growth, call Niles Family Service, 692-3396 or come in to 8060 Oakton st., Niles.

Off the NILES POLICE BLOTTER

Solicitor in traffic
Police said they arrested a 45 year old woman Thursday for obstructing traffic but later released her without charges.

According to police the woman was jumping in front of moving cars in the 7100 block of Milwaukee, begging for money from the drivers and almost caused several accidents.

Car stolen
A resident on the 8800 block of Washington told police his 1976 Ford LTD valued at $5,600 was stolen from its parking spot overnight May 22.

Abused woman
A 22 year old Morton Grove woman was struck in the face in a Milwaukee ave. parking lot May 22 by her "live-in" 50 year old boyfriend of 6 months after she told him she didn't love him anymore and was returning to her second husband in California.

Burglary
Thieves broke the panel in a door to Poppin' Fresh Pies at 8584 Dempster st. during the early morning of May 22, taking $2,900 in cash from a safe in a locked room and a $60 watch belonging to the store manager, left in an office desk drawer.

Police said there was no evidence of forcible entry to the safe.

Recovered property
Police recovered May 22 numerous containers marked "explosives" which were still filled and approximately 15 empty cartons which had held .38 calibre shell casings.

Police said routine patrol officers observed the containers around 6:30 a.m. Sunday protruding from a dumpster at the rear of the Suitery at 8355 Golf rd.

Burglary
Thieves used a construction shovel to smash the front display window of the Radio Shack, 7245 Dempster st., at 4 a.m. Tuesday, May 24 taking two turntables valued at $358.95.

Police said a witness saw two men break the window but was too far away to identify them.

Other merchandise damaged in entry was estimated at $300.

According to police intruders in a similar break-in two months ago were frightened away by an audible alarm which attracted police patrolling the area.

Obscene phone calls
A mid-Niles housewife told police she received numerous obscene, sexually-oriented and very abusive phone calls May 23 between 4:30 p.m. and 4:45 p.m. She said the caller sounded 15 to 20 years old.

Tree topper
A mid-Niles florist said someone using a saw cut 3 feet from the top of a 5 year old, 8 ft. evergreen in his front yard May 22.

Store burglary
Thieves with a sweet tooth broke into Berta's Fancy Foods at 7416 Milwaukee ave. May 23 gaining little in cash but enjoyed the candy.

Police said the burglars broke thru the roof and lowered themselves with a rope into the warehouse, ransacking the office area and taking a cash box containing $3 to $4 in cash and numerous checks.

They ate their way thru candy bars and a box of imported candies according to police. It was unknown if anything else was taken at this time.

Police said the cash box was located later on a meter box north of the building containing change which was returned to the owner.

Purse thefts
Police said 2 apparently unrelated thefts from purses were reported at the Time Machine Disco at 9046-Golf rd.

A customer told police someone took numerous credit cards, checkbook and drivers license from her purse May 22 around 2 a.m. while she was on the dance floor.

In another incident around 9 p.m. May 24 a 21 year old Des Plaines woman left her purse returning 3 minutes later to find the purse missing, which contained $55 in cash, credit cards and 20 personal checks. She told police she was in the company of 4 young "flashy-dressed" men who introduced themselves, one of whom asked her to dance.

Sale of liquor to minors
Three Morton Grove youths were arrested May 19 for being intoxicated, one of whom was charged with purchasing alcohol as a minor.

Arrested and charged with public intoxication were David Avness, 19, of 6708 Maple and Thomas Koob, 19, Spencer Kimura, 18, was cited as underage for purchasing alcohol. All three were released on $25 bail pending court appearance June 16.

Police said the manager of Barnaby's was also arrested for selling liquor to a minor. They said he did not ask for identification.

Police on routine inspection of liquor establishments said they became suspicious when one of the men walked out of Barnaby's with what later was allegedly a pitcher of beer and gave it to a youth in the parking lot.

Illegal alien
Police said an employee of the Gold Coin, a restaurant at 8351 Golf rd., was charged with $800 damage to property after he was fired for coming to work drunk and 2 hours late. He was turned over to immigration authorities and the charges dropped after it was revealed he was an illegal alien.

According to police the 20 year old Chicago Spanish speaking employee caused $600 damage to kitchen equipment and another $200 in food disarray after he was fired Thursday.

Bikes stolen
At least 12 bicycles were reported stolen last week from open garages, a school bike rack and from Golf Mill, according to police.

Bond forfeiture
A 28 year old Chicago man charged with possession of 2 stolen cars, having an altered Chicago title and with 5 charges of stolen license plates failed to appear in Niles Third District Court Friday morning, forfeiting a $20,000 bail bond. A warrant was issued for his arrest by Judge George Zimmerman who set him under a new $40,000 bond.

Police said they responded to a call from CMC Electronics at 8024 Milwaukee ave. Tuesday, May 24 on the owner's complaint of a customer who wanted to pay with a check for auto repair work but had a bad credit rating.

He was eager to leave the car for security but police investigation revealed the car was stolen. A second car driven by the Chicagoan to the shop was also stolen police said. Further investigation revealed the altered car title and stolen license plates.

Bad day
A 29 year old garbage collector was arrested May 19 after a Wisner st. resident complained that 3 garbage trucks were blocking the street.

James Arndt of 10386 Michael Todd Tr., Glenview, was charged with obstructing traffic, disobeying a police officer, criminal damage to property and disorderly conduct.

Also arrested was Girard O'Malley, 23, of Hoffman Estates, charged with obstructing police officers and disorderly conduct, and Michael Ferguson, 27 of Bolling Brook, cited for assault, resisting arrest and disorderly conduct.

All three were released under individual $1,000 bonds pending court hearing.

Police said they asked Arndt to move his truck but he refused. Arndt allegedly exited his truck and picked up 5 cans of garbage, one at a time, breaking them with his hands and strewing garbage all over the complainant's property.

Trustees consider license fee change

A stamp machine vending company recently asked the village of Niles to consider a reduction in license fees.

Niles presently charges a $10 annual fee per vending machine in the village according to License Director William Hlavacek.

Conn Vending Corp. first appeared 6 months ago before trustees to request a reduction in licensing which the board declined at that time. The owner has six machines in operation, at Walgreen's, 7-11 stores at 7450 Oakton st., 8208 Oakton st., 8705 Milwaukee ave., Memco and at Osco, 7900 Milwaukee.

According to Hlavacek, 40 to 45 suburbs do not charge for stamp machine licensing. Several collar suburbs set a $5 fee on each machine. Licensing of the machines said the director covers village costs of supervising machines to see that the public has proper service.

"Stamp machine operations are not poor," said Hlavacek, who noted the operators never lose in value. "He can load the machine for 6 months and service it once in the 6 months."

He also noted the 13 cents to 16 cents profit on Conn Vending Machines as compared to a self-owned Woolco stamp machine which profits 2 cents to 9 cents.

There are 30 to 35 other machines in the village, he said, who pay the $10 charge.

Trustee Angelo Marcheschi argues for customer value at machine prices. "For a slot price of 50 cents," he said, "the customer will get two 13 cent stamps, one 6 cent stamp and two 1 cent stamps. Who uses 1 cent stamps and how many must one obtain before they are useable in present day economy?"

A committee of trustees, Abe Seiman, Marcheschi and Peter Pesole, were appointed on the stamp machine fee for recommendations at the June 14 board hearing.

Public Information Booths

Alan J. Dixon, Secretary of State, has announced that new public information booths will be appearing in Cook, Dupage, McHenry, Will, Kane and Lake counties.

"The booths will be scheduled at banks, shopping centers, and special events as part of our on-going program to bring the services of the Secretary of State's office in direct contact with Illinois citizens," said Dixon. Experienced Secretary of State personnel will man the booths to answer questions and distribute Illinois Rules of the Road, Bicycle Rules of the Road, and literature on full services offered by the offices of the Secretary.

The public information booth is scheduled to appear in the lobby of the Golf Mill State Bank, 9101 Greenwood Ave. Niles, Ill. on Friday, June 10th, 1977 from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. and on Saturday, June 11th from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Drop-in Morning at Orchard Center

"Drop-in Morning" is a new program that has started at OMHC. It takes place in a large, bright room at 10-11:30 on Tuesday mornings. It is a time when parents and their young children up to age 3 can come for a morning of talk, play and interaction. Program Coordinator Nina Raskin and staff member John Bozaday lead the sessions and provide an opportunity for relaxed, informal discussion of child development issues. Parents can exchange ideas, and children have an opportunity to be part of a low-keyed play group situation, either remaining with parents or experimenting with other adults and children. This program is a free community activity offered by Orchard Mental Health Center for residents of Niles Township.

Mikva against O'Hare landing for French Concorde

Congressman Abner J. Mikva disagreed sharply today with one of his colleague's suggestion that the mayors of Chicago and St. Louis allow the French supersonic Concorde aircraft to land at their international airports.

In a letter to Congressman Paul Findley, Mikva blasted Findley's proposal that allowing the Concorde to land at O'Hare Airport and Lambert International Airport in St. Louis would be a commendable gesture of good will toward France in appreciation of Charles Lindbergh's landing in Paris 50 years ago.

"May I suggest that if such a proposal is undertaken, the maiden voyage be routed over Litchfield, Pittsfield, Alton, Quincy, Springfield and the other peaceful and quiet towns of your Twentieth District?" Mikva wrote Findley in the letter. "If, after their first encounter with the SST, your constituents agree that your magnanimous proposal is commendable, the appropriate Midwest officials could seriously consider the idea of regular SST flights."

"The noise level of the Concorde is 100 percent higher than the noisiest of our planes. We need more noise at O'Hare like we need another headache," his letter continued.

Mikva noted the volume of mail he receives from the western part of the Tenth District, which borders O'Hare Airport, complaining about the noise levels from the volume of aircraft now using the airport. The communities where the noise impact is especially high are Des Plaines, Glenview, Niles, and Park Ridge.

"Their eardrums have been pummeled and their lifestyles have been altered to compensate for that daily din of aircraft noise," Mikva said.

He concluded that "France's white elephant should not be allowed to land on Americas' eardrums in the Tenth District, in St. Louis or anywhere else."

Although most "battered women" incidents are reported under other categories such as assault or battery in official statistics, one San Francisco psychologist claims there is one wife-beating every 30 seconds in the United States.

Participating in this Oakton program will be Mary Berg, executive director of the Elgin Community Crisis Center, and a panel of professionals who have worked with abused women.

Panel members include Marilyn Grossman, psychologist and representative of the Chicago Abuse Women Coalition; Gabriella Pieper, attorney specializing in domestic relations; Dr. Vera Markovin, head of the emergency department at Illinois Masonic Hospital; Kip MacMillan, Evanston police lieutenant; and a former abused woman.

Small group discussions will focus on the issues of legal problems, dealing with police, psychology and counseling, and personal experience.

Coordinator of this all-day program is Karol Verson of Niles, a member of the Oakton Women's Programs Advisory Committee.

Admission is $2 (Bring own brown bag lunch); with box lunch, $5. Child care is available for children three years old or over, for an additional $3.50.

Clean your air conditioner and save some money.

A dirty air conditioner has to work harder. That wastes money.

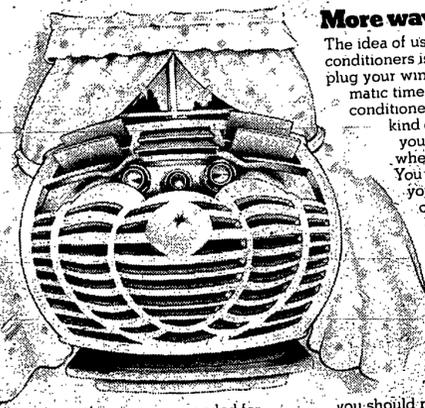

When your air conditioner is dirty, it has to work harder. That takes more energy. And you end up wasting money. A good periodic cleaning will make your air conditioner more efficient, and will help you save on its operating costs. It's possible to clean most window units in only about 10 minutes. You should check your owner's manual for specific cleaning and maintenance instructions, but in most cases the steps to follow in cleaning are very simple. And the more thoroughly you clean, the more money you'll save.

Vacuum the filter and save a little.

First pull the plug. Then take off the front panel, and carefully remove the filter. You can vacuum it while it's still in place, but it's easier to clean the filter well if you remove it first.

Wash the filter and save a little more.

Your owner's manual will tell you whether the filter in your air conditioner is the kind that can be washed and reused. If it is, you can get the filter even cleaner by first vacuuming it, and then hand-washing it in warm water and a gentle detergent. The

More ways to save.

The idea of using timers on air conditioners is catching on. You can plug your window unit into an automatic timer made especially for air conditioners. It works just like the kind of timer you'd use to turn your lights on automatically when you're away from home. You can set the timer so that your air conditioner comes on an hour or so before you get home from work on a hot summer day. That way your house will be comfortable when you arrive, but you'll be using less electricity. And your air conditioner won't be running all day long.

There's one last thing you should remember about air conditioners, especially if you're thinking about buying a new one. Air conditioner efficiency varies from model to model, depending on what we call the Energy Efficiency Ratio, or EER. The higher the EER, the more cooling you get for your electric dollar, year after year. It's easy to figure out the EER. Attached to every air conditioner is a metal plate showing that machine's watts and BTUs. To get the EER, just divide the watts into the BTUs. We recommend an EER of 8 or more.

The more efficiently you use energy, the less energy you waste, and the more money you save. And an efficient air conditioner can save you plenty.

Save on central air.

If you've got central air conditioning in your home, there are several steps you can take to keep your central air system running efficiently. Remember to clean or replace your furnace filters regularly. Clear away any debris from around the outdoor unit. And keep grass and shrubs trimmed back to 12 inches away from any working parts.

A call for help may help you save.

If you've had your air conditioner for several years and have never cleaned it before, it could take a qualified serviceman to perform the kind of maintenance and repairs that may be necessary. In an older unit the condenser coil, refrigerant charge, and motor parts may need expert attention.

3 reach $1 million mark at ERA Callero & Catino

Cash bonuses and trophies are presented by ERA Callero & Catino Realty executive vice president W.C. Walters (left) to $1 million sales achievers Basil Paoulos, William R. Alston and Joseph M. Des Parte. Larry Mandel (right), vice-president of ERA of Northern Ill., adds his congratulations. The three associates reached the $1 million mark for the 1977 year in April.

Three ERA Callero & Catino Realty sales associates - William R. Alston, Joseph M. Des Parte, and Basil Paoulos have reached the $1 million level in real estate sales in April.

It marked the sixth consecutive $1 million or more year for Alston, who joined the Niles firm in 1974. He is a Niles resident.

Des Parte, who lives in Glenview, reached the $1 million plateau for the seventh straight year. He joined the ERA Callero & Catino in 1970.

For Paoulos, the achievement was his fifth consecutive Million Dollar Club year. A Niles resident, he has been with the realtor since 1969.

The accomplishment earned each man a cash bonus and trophy.

Alston attributes his performance to the Buyer Protection Plan offered by Callero & Catino and other ERA member brokers.

Des Parte said his feat was aided by consistent client follow-up and ERA's national-referral system which enables home buyers to shop for property anywhere in the country.

Paoulos gives credit to ERAs computerized listings feature plus Buyer and Seller Protection Plans.

"Reaching the $1 million mark this early in the year by three different salesmen is testimony to the many sales advantages we are able to offer customers since joining the ERA marketing service last fall," said W.C. Walters, the firm's executive vice president.

Landmarks game at Unity Savings ends June 18

A 1977 Olds Omega is the Grand Prize in the Landmarks game which is being run now thru June 18, 1977. Over 1,600 instant winners have already received their prizes, with more than 26,000 yet to be awarded.

Landmarks is the Savers Seals Stamp game. It is played by rubbing the covered panel on a gamecard to reveal one of Chicago's famous landmarks or a car. Some cards with landmarks are instant winners. Some must be matched with other landmarks in order to win even larger prizes, including a match that will win one lucky person 100,000 Savers Stamps. Landmark cards showing a car are eligible to win the Omega. These should be deposited, with name and address on reverse side, in the special boxes at all Unity locations.

Everyone, 18 and over, is invited to play Landmarks. The free gamecards are available at all Unity offices and participating Savers Seals Stamp merchants. Winners may pick up their prizes at Savers Seals Redemption Centers located at all Unity Savings. Drawing for the Oldsmobile will be held at Unity's main location, 4242 N. Harlem, sometime in June.

Teacher-Aids store to open at Four-Flags

The Beckley Cardy Co. will open its third Chicago area retail store this summer to supply educational materials and teaching aids at the Four Flags shopping center, Golf rd. and Milwaukee ave.

The new store encompassing some 6,500 sq. ft. of retail space, is intended to serve teachers from the north and northwest sides of Chicago and all of the city's north and northwest suburban schools.

According to John Slattery, Beckley Cardy's director of retail operations, the Four Flags shopping center retail store is only the company's fifth in the country. Beckley Cardy is the nation's largest distributor of teaching aids and educational equipment, selling most of its 16,000 stocked items from its catalog thru five regional warehouses and sales organizations.

Slattery indicated that purchasing thru normal school channels often is time consuming and doesn't permit teachers the freedom to acquire materials needed immediately as teaching aids.

"Most schools give teachers a specific, though limited, amount of money each school year to use for discretionary spending on items for classroom use," Slattery said. "Our new retail concept is the answer to making materials immediately available."

Evanston Federal sponsors home insulation clinic

Evanston Federal Savings and Loan Association is launching a program to help its mortgage loan customers conserve fuel for home cooling and heating. The program begins with a Home Insulation Clinic scheduled for June 7th from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m. at the association's Evanston office.

All Evanston Federal Savings' mortgage loan customers have been invited to attend the free clinic, which will be conducted by

First National Bank Open House Party

As the grand finale to its Grand Opening Celebration, the First National Bank of Des Plaines is inviting the public to a special open house on Sunday afternoon, June 5, from one to five.

During this open house, the Bank will be offering tours of the new and expanded customer service areas, plus special entertainment for the entire family. Singers, comedians, refreshments and a special sweepstakes drawing will all be part of the four-hour party.

The sweepstakes drawing will offer 15 prizes ranging from $25 to $1,000. No purchase is necessary to take part in this sweepstakes drawing.

The bank is located in the new First National Bank Building at the corner of Lee and Prairie.

Dana Chappenelli, a professional consultant from the insulation industry.

Chappenelli is Residential Sales Manager for Spray Insulation, Skokie. During the clinic, he will provide up-to-date information concerning various types of insulation materials available for use in the Midwest climate, their purchase and installation costs, etc. He will also answer specific questions from the audience relative to the proper upgrading of home insulation, and present a short film.

According to association President Donald G. Martens, "One way we can appreciably conserve on fuel is by efficiently heating and cooling our homes, many of which were built with a minimum amount of insulation."

"Even though insulation is one of the cheaper forms of building material, many homes-both lower and higher priced-were constructed with no insulation in the side walls and only four inches of fiberglass between roof and ceiling," Martens said. "With additional insulation of side walls and ceilings, fuel consumption can be cut substantially, resulting in a reduction in home heating and cooling costs."

Evanston Federal Savings' fuel conservation program for its mortgage loan customers will also include financing of insulation and other home improvements. Customers who have mortgage loans from the association and who are interested in such financing should contact Evanston Federal Savings' Mortgage Department for complete information.

DINING & ENTERTAINMENT

Theatre company to entertain Stevenson students

The Truck, Inc., an educational theatre company of infinite possibilities, is coming to Stevenson School, 9000 Capital Dr., Des Plaines, on Friday, June 3, performing "If I Wore Your Shoes" at 10:30 a.m. and 12:45 p.m.

Using dramatic sketches, improvisation and a short musical comedy, The Truck shows that people's feelings are better understood if you can put yourself into someone else's shoes.

Derek Evans, director of The Truck Inc., founded the company in 1969 to perform educational theatre productions in repertory. This year, The Truck performs eight different plays, running the gamut from Shakespeare to musical comedy for Urban Gateways, giving thousands of school children in the Chicago area the opportunity to sample live theatre.

Urban Gateways programs aim to teach as they entertain. Their artists are highly-skilled professionals dedicated to education through the arts. A broad range of art and cultural heritage programs are available to all schools in the six-county Chicago area. This is possible, in part, through the generosity of the Illinois Arts Council, private contributions, and the National Endowment for the Arts, which has recognized Urban Gateways as the national model for community-based arts education programs.

For further information, please call the Schools Program Department at 641-1103.

Seniors enjoy 'Showboat'

Dempster Plaza State Bank once again brought shouts of joy and shrieks of laughter to our confined patients by presenting Dean Weiss and Betty Bryant in the musical skit Showboat on Tuesday, May 24 at the Regency Center Nursing Home.

The patients commented to Celia Hansen, hostess from the Bank, that they thought it was one of the best and most entertaining shows they had seen.

Jake's putting in a bar

[By Ed Hanson]

"Yep," as the late Gary Cooper used to say to all his western movies, Jake is putting in a bar. But how, you may ask, is this possible when he has no liquor license?

Who said it was that type of bar.

And don't knock the word "Yep," because in his first 15 movies, Cooper made a fortune saying, "Yep." He always played the strong, silent type, in talking pictures.

Jake of Jake's famous restaurant, told me Sunday in an exclusive interview, that he was installing what will be the largest, finest, and greatest "Salad Bar", in the area... nay, the world.

Next Tuesday this New Salad bar of Jake's opens and it is loaded with low priced goodies. There's the making of every type of salad, and there's cucumbers, radishes, celery, corn relish, string bean salad, macaroni, cole slaw and other goodies to numerous to mention.

This is the world's great salad bar - bar none!

This new salad bar at Jake's Restaurant will be open from 11 a.m. until 10 p.m. On Sundays you can help yourself to all the luscious, delectable, delicious, darling, neat, keen garden-fresh goodies at no charge with any Sunday dinner off Jake's extensive, low cost menu.

And if you just prefer to have just selections from his salad bar - you can. I won't mention the low price because I don't want to cause a stampede, and with Cooper gone and John Wayne on the wing, who would restore law and order. Also the Niles Police, who are overworked and underpaid would be faced with the greatest traffic jam in the history of the village of Niles. And Nick Blase would get so many "beefs" from an irate public, next time he'd have to dig up an opponent to run against him. How about Nixon?

Thru the association of ideas, a funny thought occurs to me. Prior to the last election in Niles, Pete Pesole, our esteemed trustee, walked up to Bud Besser and said, "Hey, Bud, would you please support me in the next election - I'm running unopposed."

Meanwhile, back at Jake's ranch. In addition to the new salad bar, Jake opened what I consider the sexiest fruit bar anywhere, (even Division and Clark in Chicago.) This fruit bar is chock-full of ice cold, watermelon, cantaloupe, grapes and other assorted "fruits" which will awaken your jaded taste-buds.

Compulsive gamblers will welcome these low prices at Jake's new Salad bar and Fruit bar. My definition (although I never gamble) of a compulsive gambler is a guy who'll bet on the Indians in a John Wayne movie.

"You take the low road, John and I'll take the high road - and we'll head 'em off at the pass." Afterwards, we'll drop into Jake's Fruit and Salad bar, John... Sometimes, the way you walk, John, causes me to wonder...

CRIME PREVENTION TIPS

Statistics show that most shoplifters are teenagers and housewives. The housewives who steal often regard their act less a crime than an effort to balance their budget, at the expense of the shopowner and other consumers.

ED HANSON

A bat out of Hell

"Why the band-aid on your neck, Ed?", Joe, owner of Go-To-Blases tavern asked.

"Because a bat bit me," I said.

"A bat!" Joe exclaimed with incredulity.

"A vampire bat. Gimme a peppermint schnapps, a small beer."

"Hanson, I think you're bats!", Joe reflected, then said. "You go to a doctor?" His expression registered considerable concern. Many people are concerned about my well-being. Particularly, those to whom I owe money.

"No," I replied, as I sipped the peppermint. "Some species of bats, like some dogs, have rabies. Vampire bats suck to live, sharks must swim."

Joe gave me a stoic Polish stare. "Most species of bats are friendly, furry little creatures," I explained. "Like the socially despised cockroach, they also are very old and very clean. Much cleaner than man's best friend - the dog."

"This one's on the house," Joe said. "Tell me about it..."

What follows is the strange, rather frightening, eerie, but true tale which I related to my good friend and mentor Joe at 10 a.m. Monday morning (Memorial Day) at his empty bar.

Last night I got back to my hotel at 1:30 a.m. Many hours before I'd turned off the air conditioner, like Carter told me, to conserve energy, I decided, being a patriot, to leave it off. A cool night, refreshing spring breeze had blown up from across the sea. I opened the huge (screenless) picture window of my room on the 8th floor of the Leaning Tower "Y". It's a room with a view. On a clear night I can see the landing lights of O'Hare Field. The view, as a French gal I once knew would have said, "is magnifique!"

I slipped into something comfortable, my ancient, mystical Persian shawl, whose magical powers, like Nostradamus possessed, it is said, can foretell the future. I snapped on the bed light and contemplated. I read the Bible.

Suddenly a small, black furry object flew into my lonely room. It made a perfect landing upon the wall.

It was a bat!

Not a dingbat. Not a bat from the nearest belfry. Not Bat Man, who, rumor has it, had a lewd relationship with a young lad named Robin. No, indeed.

This was a real, live pulsating bat. And the most deadly of its species; a female Vampire bat!

I froze with fear. I am a devout coward. I said to myself, with my eyes raised skyward, "How can I save myself, oh, Lord?" I could, suffer a fate worse than death.

The bat just stared at me with its fire-red eyes. But, I knew instinctively it was a female vampire bat. I could tell by the way it batted its eyelashes.

Now, I must confess, it has been a long, long time since I've had a female alone in my room. I lived for 5 years at the Fireside Hotel of Morton Grove. Never once did my phone ever ring and a masculine voice say, "You have a woman in your room - please vacate these premises immediately!"

I glanced apprehensively at the phone. Would it ring? Would the voice of the "Y's" security officer say, "You have a female bat in your room - hit the road, bum!"

Cold chills sped up and down my spine. I could hear Walter Jacobson of Channel 2 say "Tonight's lead story is about a man, a respected member of our society. Once he was even a Reverend, who attempted the most decadent, despicable of all acts. No, he wasn't a white slaver, a child porno procurer, nor did he ever do a centerfold for "Playgirl". This man, and I use the word advisedly, this disgusting, twisted warped piece of male humanity, tried last night "to make it" with a female bat - and in, of all places, the highly-respected, revered and most holy of all places - the YMCA of Niles, Illinois..."

I glanced from the phone to where the bat was. It was gone! I blinked my eyes and did a "double-take". For sitting upon the edge of my single bed, I beheld beauty beyond belief - in the form of a young looking woman. She was wearing a midnight black cape, with bright red lining. She stood up (I noticed she was tall) and removed the cape. Her formal gown was as white as the snow atop Kilimanjaro. Its style would have shamed the talents of Christian Dior. She made Farrah Fawcett-Majors look like a boy. She was outrageously attractive. Her complexion was as white as Italian marble, her eyes as large as Lisa Minelli's, whom she resembled. But she was far, far better looking in a classical sort of way.

"You're not..." I gulped, "one of those..."

"Fear not, little old man," she said with a slight, but intriguing Continental accent. "I have just returned from the blood bank of Lutheran General Hospital."

"Tell me, lady, it was no coincidence that you flew in my hotel room tonight?"

"No, dear heart, my family has a dossier on you."

"Your family? You Italian? Sicilian? (I thought, had the age of women hitters arrived?)

She laughed. "Whatever gave you that idea?"

"Maybe I've read too many Mario Puzo stories."

"My," she said, changing the subject. "You have a charming room. Don't you ever throw anything away?"

"Just my money. Like a drink?"

"Yes."

"I've got Vodka, Scotch, wine. Say, how about a Bloody Mary?"

"How appropos." She was staring at a peculiar part of my anatomy - my jugular.

I mixed up the Bloody Mary and as I handed it to her I couldn't help but notice her fingernails. They were very long, and blood-red.

"My, what lovely nails you have, Grandma."

"They're artificial. Like so many things in life." She paused, sipped her drink, saying, "I have them done at Bonwit Tellers - 40 bucks..."

"To what do I owe the pleasure of your company?", I asked.

"Your blood, dear old man," she chided.

"It's pretty tired. Since I returned from Vegas, I haven't been able to afford even Geritol."

"Your blood type is extremely rare," she replied, seriously. "The odds - and you understand odds - is millions upon millions to one of possession the blood type you have."

She was right. I remembered back 39 years when my first son was born. My 18 year old wife needed a transfusion. Everyone, my own family included, hated me because I refused. I knew, but I never explained to anyone (until now) why I refused. My blood couldn't have helped her. That's why I never explain my actions either. I read somewhere, "Never explain - your friends don't need it, your enemies won't believe it." Maughan, about writing, said, "Never over-explain."

"You're right," I said, no longer afraid. "Can you tell me my blood type?"

"AB Negative," she said, smiling.

"Right on - how can I help you?"

"I need just a few drops - it won't hurt, dear."

I thought for a moment. What the hell, I said to myself. These vampires, like many other demons, devils and many other satanic morons, have super strength and powers beyond the comprehension of mere mortals. As an ancient African leader once said to another African chief, "If you can't beat 'em - eat 'em."

I glanced up at her saying, "Just a tidbit, lady... don't gorge yourself - I leaned forward..."

Author's note: As a student of more than 40 years of the occult, which has embraced ghost-layers, witches, warlocks, satanic demons, werewolves, vampires, spiritualists, seances, slate-writing, ouiji-boards, amulets, sensitives, ESP and many other unexplained phenomena in the realm of para-psycho. And, includes a detailed investigation of 10,000 documented case histories by the London Institute of Psychic phenomena. My personal experience also includes graphology, phrenology, psychology, sexology and hypnosis, etc. (A man by the name of L. York taught me the "so-called" science of graphology - he was the man who analyzed the Lindberg kidnapping notes.)

Hemingway said, "A serious writer is good, but a solemn writer is a 'bloody owl'." And Shakespeare said, "Many a truth is spoken in jest."

If you don't believe strange things can happen, do this: Some dark night when the moon is full and you are all alone, find a dark closet in your home. Place a chair in this closet, close the door. Sit down, do not cross your legs, remain erect, close your eyes and wait, hours if necessary... something will happen...

From the Bible...

... Lord, in your name even evil spirits are under control...

(Luke 10:17-22)

Niles Library Board President Marty Hodes told us last week the defeat of the recent bond proposals meant the residents were satisfied with their present library facilities and they didn't want to spend any more money for buildings.

While Hodes was obviously disappointed, his conclusions may not be too accurate. Increasing the size of the main library building may still have support from voters. The purchase of the Shoppers Walk center plus the poor election date might have significantly contributed to the referendum's defeat. Instead of trying to maneuver a successful vote, the library board might well ask residents why they opposed the recent proposals and then seek their help in improving facilities. By working with the community, by understanding who turns out to vote, and by satisfying the needs of the people who show interest in voting, should give the Board a much more accurate assessment of what is needed in the district.

Unfortunately, unincorporated residents do not lend weight to any vote. And we would guess their use of the library facilities is proportionately far less than Niles residents. Thus, to expect them to be the instrument for the passage of a referendum is foolhearty.

If the library board would concentrate on the main library building, filling it with many more books, Nilesites would likely support a reasonable proposition for expansion there.

But getting a silly endorsement from the village president, running the referendum on a day when voters are less likely to turn out, and concentrating efforts on new district residents was an effort unworthy of any public body. It wasted many thousands of dollars (about $10,000) of taxpayers' money and was a futile effort. Residents of the district deserve better planning. Hopefully, this misguided effort does not manifest the workings of the library board all thru these years.

were more concerned over a 25% budget increase in salaries, at MNASR serving adults and at a cardiac program initiated by the Association.

In other business Thursday Commissioners approved an asphalt installation bid on Niles parks to Puro-Pave Construction of Wheeling as lowest of 4 bidders at $32,163.35.

However, a $12,980.65 cost-proposal to improve Davis st. (south end of Golf Mill Park) brought commissioners to an eyeball confrontation and was continued to a May 31 meeting.

Voting against the proposal Leske argued the cost was "an unnecessary use of our taxpayers money, to pave a street which is village property and village responsibility."

Leske, who has maintained a placid viewpoint on the board, became very vocal Thursday night: "If we're going to start paving village property there's going to be a tiger on this board for the next two years," he warned.

Chamerski concurred with Leske tying the vote. Comr. Kosiba passed on the vote, then asked for the delay to May 31 to inform himself on the situation.

Declined to assume liability insurance for Safety Town, a summer program initiated 3 years ago at Nelson School. The program, sponsored by a Jewish Women's organization, according to Park Director William Hughes, proposes to teach playground, traffic and general safety to pre-schoolers and kindergarten children.

Hughes said the Park District could not subsidize liability for the program this year but "will review it in the fall".

In a reshuffle of park committee responsibilities, Comr. Leske was appointed as Village Liaison; Jeff Arnold to finance chairman; Steve Chamerski as Community Relations chairman and, a novice to the Board, newly elected Park Comr. Dan Kosiba was entrusted with Inter-governmental Relations, "to work closer with school districts."

Approved the lowest bid of four on a Jacobsen Fairway Mower to Ill. Lawn Equipment of Orland Park, Ill. for $2,862.50.

Unanimously approved a lease agreement with Nadler Harley-Davidson Sales, Inc. for leasing of 6 gasoline operated golf carts for use at Tam Golf Course.

Receives Order

E. A. Hinrichs & Co., Lincolnwood, has received a $12,264 purchase order from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

The order is for china to be used by the Illini Union.

support from the village of Lincolnwood. We have an excellent location at a busy intersection, Lincoln and Pratt, and there is good parking available. Inside we have 2,500 square feet, well lighted, carpeted, and very attractive."

The budget has allowed the purchase of between 4,000 and 5,000 volumes, Mrs. Kienitz reported to the Friends, and this basic collection is being augmented by gift books from the 41 public libraries that are members of the System, and by gifts from individual citizens.

About 1,500 of the newly purchased books are for children, Mrs. Kienitz said. Work with children, including story hours and a summer reading program, will be coordinated by a part-time library staff member.

In addition to the book collection, the library will have about 75 current magazines and newspapers regularly, she said. And NSLS has contributed 40 framed art prints which the library users may borrow for their homes.

Library cards will also make patrons eligible for the full range of NSLS services, she explained. These include: Interlibrary loan, through which the Lincolnwood Library can obtain for patrons books from any System library or from special research and reference libraries; Reciprocal borrowing, through which the library card holder may borrow directing from any of the 41 member libraries; Reference service, through which the Lincolnwood staff will seek answers to questions that cannot be readily answered in the Lincolnwood library basic reference collections.

Services also include an Audio visual service, through which Lincolnwood residents may borrow from a collection of more than 1300 16-mm. films, and a periodical service, through which Lincolnwood residents may obtain photocopies of magazine articles not available at Lincolnwood. "Your Lincolnwood Library card is a master card to all the libraries in the System," Mrs. Kienitz said, "giving you access to more than one million volumes."

Volunteers from the community are helping Mrs. Kienitz get the library ready for the June 9 opening. Boy Scouts are sprucing up the planted area around the library entrance. Adults are helping to paint the walls, assemble shelves, and uncrate and shelve the books. Members of the Friends organization are arranging to register school children in fourth grade and above for their library cards and are distributing letters to the younger children inviting families to come to the library for registration. Volunteers from the Friends also will be at the PTA Carnival in Proesel Park on June 5 to take registrations for library cards.

At the business segment of the Friends annual meeting, Madeline Grant was elected president, succeeding Robert E. Hemen. Other new officers are Ruth Kadota, vice-president; Alice Heman, recording secretary; Marian Rosen, corresponding secretary; Howard Greenberg, treasurer, and Heman and Rita Morton, trustees. Flora Morris, the third trustee, will continue her two-year term.

Burglary prevention . . .

you're gone. Discontinue mail, newspaper and other deliveries by phone or in person ahead of time. Do not leave notes that may be picked up by someone else.

Have the lawn tended, put some lights on timers inside and outside the house, and have someone remove advertising circulars and other debris regularly.

Don't have the telephone temporarily disconnected. The disconnect message is growing in popularity as a dead giveaway that you're gone. But do turn the loudness of the ring down so it cannot be used as a cue that no one is home.

Leaving a radio on is also a good idea. A lot of burglars won't bother a home if there's any sound coming from inside. They don't like to take the chance that they might run across somebody inside.

If you're more worried about burglary than vandalism, a second car can be left in the driveway. But don't leave it parked in the same spot for more than 10 days in a row.

Leave a key with a neighbor and ask him to change the position of the blinds or drapes daily.

Another tip: If you're going away from home for the afternoon, for example, and are expecting someone to visit, don't leave a note telling them when you'll be back. What more could a burglar ask for?

The main theme of the Company's performance is implicit in the name the group created for themselves - ACTING UP!: a humorous, sometimes outspoken and always energetic poke at the stereotypes and myths of ageism.

The cast of 14 older Americans believe that drama is a good point of reference for audiences of all ages to share in an understanding that "growing older is something we all do everyday."

Bus pick up is from 8:15 a.m. to 8:55 a.m. and returns are made from 3 p.m. to 3:45 p.m. depending on bus routes. Camper must provide their own lunch while the camp will provide the soft drink.
