Support your Niles police — they're YOUR friends

by Ed Hanson

If you've ever been in the Niles Police Department — and sooner or later it might be necessary for a myriad of reasons — you might have observed the sign on the wall that says:

"We welcome a complaint. If we're wrong, we'll make it right.

If we're right, we'll make a friend."

And this is the philosophy of all Niles police. And it is basically true of most all dedicated law enforcement officers, at all levels, everywhere.

I think I know a little more about police procedure than the average person — not only from an academic and journalistic standpoint, but also from a working knowledge at all levels. I say, your Niles police are fine, dedicated people, working together to keep the Village of Niles as safe, clean and pure as is humanly possible. There will be Continued on Page 31

Finalize plans for July Festival

Niles Days ok's money grants

by Alice M. Bobals

Monday night was a study in surprises, the first of which came from the Board of Directors who "recommended" an open vote (on money allocations) by the committee delegates.

More unexpected was the result of the Committee vote, giving top priority, with 11 1/2 votes, to a $2,200 request from the Northwest Italian-American Society funding an out-of-town Christmas party for retarded girls at Mount St. Joseph home.

From the LEFT HAND

By David Besser
 Editor & Publisher

Most of the headlines in local newspapers are dominated by the politicians, the local Rotary Club president and the Garden Club's chief planter. You read about the mundane PTA activities and the Baseball League chairman's hit and run signals. Well, there's a non-headliner moving away from our community, moving down to Mississippi, who you should know about, even though she'd prefer we shied away from mentioning her departure. Her name is Mim Barlett, a very refined and proper lady, who quietly has been doing her thing for the League of Women's Voters.

As a charter member of the Morton Grove LWV chapter, she has served as a president, vice president and has been a chairman of the committees on international relations, finance and membership. She was one of the dominant figures in the very extensive study of Morton Grove's village government and she has been an observer at village board meetings for several years. She was prominent in efforts favoring a village manager referendum in MG which proved unsuccessful.

In bygone years Mim's LWV group submitted a very thorough and extensive report which took two years in preparing. It recommended the MG village board consider hiring a

Bugle notifies Nilesite "You're a Brave!"

by Diane Miller

As is typical of all suburban newspaper offices on a Tuesday, the hustle and bustle of deadline day finds the salespeople, newspeople and pasteup people heading all different directions at the same time.

The phones were ringing off the hooks and the usual yell, "Miller... it's for you!", floated thru the office door.

"May I help you?", I responded as I answered the call.

"My name is Dusty Rhodes, ma'am, and I'm calling from Palm Beach, Florida."

Being an avid baseball fan, I wondered immediately if the name was just a coincidence and could this be the "Dusty Rhodes" I had always read about in the

Stu Snow was born in Canistota, South Dakota, where he also attended high school. He received his A.B. degree from the University of Notre Dame in 1968 and joined the faculty at NDHS in the Communication Arts Dept. that summer. He also took on coaching duties. He spent three years coaching football. Two of these years were as sophomore assistant and one year he was the assistant freshman coach. He has just finished nine years coaching basketball. The announcement of Hinger's resignation was made official at the annual basketball awards banquet on April 21. Rev. Thomas Markos, CSC, Assistant Principal, read a letter from Rev. Milton Adamson, CSC, Principal, which said in part: "In the fourteen seasons Ralph has been basketball coach, he has affected the lives of thousands of young men. That influence has not been limited to the fifteen he worked with on the court. He touched the life of every student. His coaching example has taught other coaches how a quality basketball program also includes building respect, self-confidence, gentlemanliness, and sporting decency." Rev. Thomas King, CSC, Athletic Director, and Ken Maziarz, Dean of Men, also paid personal tributes to Ralph and praised Stu Snow for his courage, vitality, strength, and enthusiasm. Ralph, in turn, thanked Stu for his hard work over the years and for being his longest serving assistant coach. Hinger's record at NDHS is 223-119 and 382-200 overall. # CHURCH AND TEMPLE NOTES

SJB's Rev. Anthony Chen to celebrate Silver Jubilee

Father Anthony K. Chen, associate pastor of St. John Brebeuf Parish in Niles, will observe the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood by offering Mass at 3:00 p.m. on Sunday, June 12 at the parish church, 8307 N. Harlem Ave., Niles. A reception will follow in the church hall.

Father Chen was born in North China near the home of the famed philosopher, Confucius. He entered a local seminary before his tenth birthday under the tutelage of the Divine Word Missionaries. In June 1948, following prolonged bombardment by the advancing Red Communist Army, he was forced to flee southward with his teachers and classmates. The refugee school wended its way many miles to Shanghai, Amoy, Hong Kong and finally across the water to the Philippines where they settled in the Fall of 1949. On June 15, 1952, Father Chen with ten of his Chinese classmates was ordained to the holy priesthood at San Vicente, P.I.

In 1953 he was sent to the United States for advanced study and received his Master of Arts Degree in education from DePaul University in 1956.

During and following his studies, Father Chen was a resident in various parishes in the Chicago Area. They included Maternity B.V.M., St. Maurice, St. Richard's, St. Maria Goretti, Schiller Park, St. Mary of the Lake and Sacred Heart, Winnetka. He also taught at St. Joseph High School in Westchester and at Loyola Academy in Wilmette.

Although he has been a resident of St. John Brebeuf since 1972 through the good offices of Msgr. John Flanagan, he was not officially appointed as associate pastor until 1975 when Cardinal John Cody so designated him.

Father Chen's parents were unable to escape from China and they are now deceased as is his brother. He has a sister, sister-in-law, and thirteen nieces and

Niles Family Service Thought for the Week

'Conflict Resolution'

I'm pleased to have on our Niles Family Service staff, James Cisek who is director of our School/Community Outreach Program. One of the SCOP classes for students teaches conflict resolution - helping the student accept their role in starting and resolving conflict. Mr. Cisek continues his series of articles on: "Conflict Resolution."

The last articles on conflict pointed out that all of us must deal with problems, but some of us solve them better than others. Learning how to do it is a life-coping technique called problem-solving. Problem solving is a skill is something which must be learned. It isn't a talent that we are born with or acquire naturally. The use of problem solving can significantly reduce the frustrations and stress we face whenever we must deal with another person; but first it must be learned and developed. The purpose of this article is to provide ways of teaching your children how to solve conflicts by themselves in effective, acceptable ways.

Our children many times don't know ways of solving problems except by force or aggression. The strongest wins. The one who is quickest with the threats or with the fists solves the conflict their way. I am convinced that helping children to learn better and more acceptable methods of conflict resolution can prevent many more referrals to psychological services, and reduce the number of delinquents in our communities. Many of our children solve their conflicts through force and are labeled "behavior problems" or delinquents. Other children try to solve their conflicts by ineffective methods. These children then become withdrawn, passive, or unmotivated. They give up and turn off.

The most important message for children to learn in conflict situations is to think through it, don't just react. All children should be aware of different strategies they can use to solve a conflict between them and another person. All kids should learn for themselves that the best solution for a conflict is one that doesn't hurt the other person either physically (punching; hitting or threatening) or emotionally (name calling, teasing or insulting) and doesn't interfere with the other person's rights. The more the conflict can be turned into an I win/you win situation (rather than an I win/you lose), the more likely the conflict can be solved without yelling, fist fights, threatening or being sent to the principal's office.

Parents can help their children to learn the basic skills of problem solving. First of all don't reward your child if he or she acts in an aggressive way to solve a conflict. Let them know that hurting another person or interfering with their rights is not acceptable. Remind them that there are better ways of dealing with the conflict. You can point out something they may already know, hurting another person usually means that they in turn will get revenge some way and the conflict will come up again.

A good question to ask them is "How did that help you?" after they chose a poor solution to the conflict. The children must be aware of the consequences of their actions (and parents shouldn't protect their children from the natural or logical consequences of their behavior). Don't stop at the typical kid's response to "How did that help you?" Ask them "What else could you do?" Asking "Why did you do that?" usually gets the same answer, "because". Asking "How did that help you?" focuses on the consequences of their behavior, and then the alternatives they might not be aware of. Try this little test with your children. Tell them this situation: "You and your friend go to the school library and see a book that you both want. You reach for the same book at the same time. You want to read it, and so does your friend. What are five ways of solving this conflict?" Any child 10 or older should have at least five acceptable methods of solving this conflict situation. (Some of them are: to flip a coin, take turns, both read it, ask someone else, find another book, discuss who needs it the most, neither takes the book, ect.) If they don't have at least five ways then spend some time with them and teach them the problem solving techniques discussed in this series. More on this in the next article on problem solving in 2 weeks.

Farewell reception held for SJB's Sr. Theresa Jungers

After seven years of service to St. John Brebeuf Parish, Sister Theresa Jungers, OSF has resigned her position as principal of the school. Sr. Theresa is a member of the religious community of St. Francis of the Holy Family, of Dubuque, Iowa. She joined the faculty of St. John Brebeuf School in 1969 as a teacher in the Jr. high division. In 1970 she became principal.

During the coming year, Sr. Theresa will resume advanced studies in the areas of school administration and curriculum development.

St. John Brebeuf School has experienced changes of its own in the short time of Sr. Theresa's term of office, most recently, with the opening of the Kindergarten in 1976. Two learning centers, one for primary and one for the upper grades have become a vital part of the school program, as is the elective program which gives Jr. high students an opportunity to explore careers and vocations. A well-equipped science lab has also become part of the Jr. high program. A band program has been added to the music curriculum.

The entire parish benefits from the Religious Education Center which was established in the school as a religious resource room for adult study groups as well as the students of the school.

Participation in Project START led to a plan of shared-decision making which allowed the entire faculty a voice in matters regarding the school. It also led to an association with the University of Illinois, Chicago Circle Campus, for which St. John's became a

LWV honors Mim Barlett at farewell party

A farewell party was given by the Morton Grove-Niles League of Women Voters in honor of Miriam Barlett, a charter member and past president of the organization, on Saturday, June 4.

Barlett, affectionately known as MIM, (most important member) has served in so many capacities "that I couldn't even remember them all", she said. Leaguers know her as the person who never said "no" to anyone who needed help or information. Morton Grove Village Board members will remember her as the friendly, interested League observer who rarely missed a Village Board meeting and has kept all notes for 10 years.

She describes herself as "interested in lots of things." Her interest in politics may date back to her high school days when her parents lived in the Washington, D.C. area and her mother worked for Senator Henrik Shipstead, (Minn.). Barlett attended Washington High School and commuted back to Virginia with her mother. While waiting for her mother, she watched Congressional debates. She said, "I used the Library of Congress for term papers." She recalled, "Washington, before the war, was like a small southern town-you wore white gloves and hats to go shopping."

Mim graduated from the University of Minnesota with a bachelor of science and nursing degrees after five years of study. She taught nursing education before and after marriage while Joe, her husband, attended Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh.

Joe Barlett was hired by the National Geographic Society and the couple moved to the Washington, D.C. area where Mim first became active in several area Leagues.

"When I was in Maryland, we'd just begun to do water conservation studies", she said. It was argued that the problem was not only regional. Pollution of the Potomac, for example, must be considered as part of river basin conservation, said Mim.

She believes, "The League has been creative in developing new ways to study problems.

Barlett became a charter member of what at the time was the Morton Grove League of Women Voters and served on the first Board as chairman of Foreign Policy. She was president from 1965-67.

The valley. The house had Civil War breastworks across the backyard which were made during the Battle of Shiloh. There is no local League, as yet.

Perhaps Mim will have time for her many other activities which include gardening, reading, bird-watching, collecting fossils and genealogy. She is transcribing a diary of her great-great grandmother begun in England about 1830. And Mim can tell you her ancestors include a Hathaway who came over on the Mayflower.

She said, "I will miss my friends here." And the League members will certainly miss Mim and her family. The children have helped with various League projects including delivering voter information door to door and Joe has used his skill to help prepare the League voters guides and bulletin for many years.

Mim will observe her last Morton Grove Village Board meeting June 13. According to Mary Marusek, League president, "Mim's years of involvement in local government exemplify what good citizenship should be. She has been effective not as an elected official but rather as a concerned, informed citizen. Citizens such as Mim are a necessary element of good government."

Joe's job with National Geographic Society will be taking the family to Corinth, Mississippi. According to Mim, their new home has a lovely view overlooking Teacher Education Center.

Expanded and creative use of the volunteer-aide program has allowed opportunities for teachers to plan a more personalized learning program to meet children's individual needs.

Although she looks forward to her new assignment, Sr. Theresa leaves St. John's with fond and loving memories, and with a sincere gratitude for the wholehearted support she has always enjoyed in her work with the people of the parish.

A parish reception of gratitude and farewell was held in Flanagan Hall on Tuesday, June 7. The students of St. John Brebeuf School celebrated a special Liturgy of Thanksgiving in the church on Wednesday. In the afternoon of the same day, a program was planned by the school children.

Spring Fling weekend

Maine-Niles District Camp Fire Girls organization's original Winter Wonderland scheduled for the height of our winter season was postponed and resurfaced as a Spring Fling Weekend.

Over 200 girls participated and were treated to many interesting activities planned by Herb and Romona Liebsch, Co-chairman for the weekend. The girls traveled to Camp Lake, Wisconsin for their spring experience. Frisbee contest, relay races, water balloon tossing, swimming competition, night hikes, and many other wonderful experiences occurred on the weekend. Unlike the primitive campsites of the fall camporee, Camp Wonderland offers cabins with kitchen facilities, indoor plumbing, recreation rooms, snack shop; all in a wooded rustic setting.

Boy Scout troop No. 275

A recent weekend visit to Chanute Air Force Base was an experience for the Boy Scouts of Troop 275 (St. John Brebeuf).

Some of the highlights of the trip: sleeping on bunk beds in a real military barrack, eating in a modern day mess hall, seeing and touching the various aircraft ranging from the P-51 Mustang of WWII, to the jet-age B-52 Bomber, bowling, pizza and skateboarding.

Pictured is the group in front of a B-29 named "Enola Gay". The original "Enola Gay" dropped the first atomic bomb on Hiroshima, Japan to end WWII.

Dimension 60 senior citizen seminar

Despite temperatures in the nineties, an enthusiastic crowd of 800 persons attended the recent Dimension 60 senior citizen seminar. "You've Gotta Have Heart," sponsored by Citizens Bank & Trust Company, Park Ridge.

Paul T. Pavelaki, Assistant Vice President at Citizens and program moderator, welcomed the crowd. He gave a brief history of the growth of Dimension 60, a program of 26 free services now in its third year, designed to meet the financial, social, purchasing, and informational needs of persons sixty years of age and over.

Charles W. Pfister, M.D., a leading area cardiologist, attending physician at Resurrection Hospital in Chicago, and featured speaker on the program, discussed factors that contribute to heart disease. Citing hereditary tendencies, pressure, occupations, environmental conditions, high blood pressure, smoking, excessive weight, certain diseases such as diabetes, high cholesterol, and blood coagulation as contributing factors to heart disease, Dr. Pfister talked about preventive measures to be taken. Primary prevention of heart disease begins in infancy with moderate diets which are low in fat, salt, and sugar. Exercise, weight control, treatment of high blood pressure and tension, and avoidance of smoking are most important, noted Dr. Pfister.

Secondary prevention, according to Dr. Pfister, includes weight control in later years, supervised exercise plans, and active programs of rehabilitation after an initial coronary. Dr. Pfister urged those in attendance to learn cardiopulmonary resuscitation and call the paramedics if heart attack symptoms are present.

Following Dr. Pfister's remarks, Mrs. Harriet Baker, head dietician at Resurrection, discussed the benefits of a moderate, well-balanced diet as a means of promoting sound heart care. She stressed the importance of reducing one's intake of saturated fats, cholesterol, excessive sugar, and salt.

Messrs. Earl Field and Robert Horak then demonstrated cardiopulmonary resuscitation techniques and discussed the role of paramedics in heart care. A panel discussion and audience question-and-answer session followed with all speakers and Lt. Terrence Connor of Park Ridge Fire Department participating.

Romola Remus, talented show business performer, entertained the crowd with her music and song while Mr. Ted Day provided organ music throughout the program. Those in attendance also enjoyed free refreshments and a raffle-prize drawing for gifts donated by area merchants.

For more information on the Dimension 60 program of 26 free services for those sixty years of age and over, persons should call Citizens Bank at 825-7000, extension 273.

Courts to review legality of customers' personal phone hookups

The nation's independent telephone companies Friday, May 27 asked the Supreme Court to review the legality of the Federal Communications Commission's (FCC) decision permitting customers to attach their own phones directly to telephone company lines.

The petition, filed by the U.S. Independent Telephone Association (USITA) and Continental Telephone Corporation, charges that the U.S. Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals, in its March 22 decision by a vote of 2-1, erred in upholding FCC jurisdiction over telephones and related "terminal equipment."

It also alleges that even if the FCC has jurisdiction over terminal equipment, the Commission acted improperly by failing to consider the economic impact of its policy. The telephone companies, citing outside research studies, have charged that competition will force them to restructure their rates, resulting in sharply increased charges for residential, rural and small business users.

USITA represents the interests of the 1,600 non-Bell System telephone companies, including Central Telephone Company, which provide service in about half of the nation's geographic territory, primarily in rural areas, suburbs and small towns.

With the filing of this petition a stay order on the direct attachment of customer-owned phones remains in effect until the Supreme Court acts. The stay order holds in abeyance the FCC's registration program with regard to main stations, extensions, PBX's and key systems.

Under prior FCC decisions, customers could provide their own phones and related equipment, provided they use a protective device supplied by the telephone company. The FCC's newer registration program would eliminate the requirement for the telephone company device if the equipment was of the type registered with the FCC.

AT&T, United Telecommunications, Inc. and the Southeastern Association of Regulatory Utility Commissioners are also expected to file similar petitions for review by the U.S. Supreme Court. If the Supreme Court doesn't hear the case before its summer recess begins next month, the stay order could very well be continued until fall.

Citizens Bank introduces new service

Citizens Bank & Trust Company, Park Ridge, has announced the introduction of a new Trust service designed to meet the needs of people with high incomes and others who desire tax-free income. Known as the CitizensBank Tax-Exempt Trust Fund, this new service provides individuals in higher tax brackets with an opportunity to shelter part of their income from Federal income taxes.

Any trust in which Citizens acts as trustee or co-trustee may participate in this trust fund. The fund is intended to be a long-range investment and should not be entered to gain short-term profits, according to a bank official. "Funds will be invested primarily in high-quality, tax-exempt bonds. Purchases will be limited to issues rated AAA to A, with greatest emphasis placed on the higher-rated bonds," adds the bank spokesman.

An annual audited report of operations and results of this fund will be available to participants. Citizens, with one of the largest trust companies in Illinois, charges no fee for its management of the fund. The bank's compensation will be received through the regular fees charged for each participating trust.

A Trust department official from Citizens notes that in many cases trusts invested in tax-free municipal bonds may result in more spendable income than those funds invested in taxable instruments. "For instance, if one is in a 45% tax bracket, a tax-free yield of 5% is equal to a taxable yield of 9.09%," according to the bank officer.

Persons seeking more information on the CitizensBank Tax-Exempt Trust Fund should call Paul Pavelski, Assistant Vice President, Trust Financial Planning Division at 825-7000, ext. 302.

First National Bank Building joins city's skyline

Over 23,600 volts are required to light the new sign atop the First National Bank of Des Plaines. Here, Arthur Weiss (left), president of the bank, and William E. Staat, senior vice president, are seen throwing the switch on this giant sign.

Arthur R. Weiss, president, and William E. Staat, senior vice president of the First National Bank of Des Plaines, are dwarfed by the Bank's new sign, one of the largest in the northwest suburbs.

The newest and one of the largest illuminated signs in the northwest suburbs of Chicago is now part of the Des Plaines skyline.

The sign is atop the new 10 story First National Bank Building in Des Plaines which is a major component of the downtown redevelopment program known as Superblock.

This spectacular 4-sided sign was officially switched on in a recent ceremony by Arthur R. Weiss, president, and William E. Staat, senior vice president of the First National Bank of Des Plaines.

For statistics lovers, the four sided, 16 ton sign is 7 1/2 feet high, 120 feet long on two sides, 60 feet wide on the other two sides, and contains 1,700 feet of white neon tubing powered by 45 high powered factor transformers. The sign can be seen from any direction, day or night.

Des Plaines blood drive

First United Methodist Church of Des Plaines, St. Martin's Episcopal, First Presbyterian, and Evangelical Free Church (all of Des Plaines) are holding a joint SureBlood Drive on Saturday, June 11. The SureBlood Drive will be held at First Methodist, Graceland and Prairie, from 8 a.m. to noon. Area residents are cordially invited to join members of the four churches in donating a pint of blood that day. Donors can call any of the four Church Blood Chairmen to schedule an appointment for donation. Betty Johnson, Blood Chairman for First United Methodist Church, is over-all Coordinator. Her number is 824-5875. Ann Ebans, St. Martin's Episcopal, can be reached at 824-2591; Susan Strand, First Presbyterian Church, at 824-2097; and Dee Carpenter, Evangelical Free Church, at 439-2749.

The supply of blood is traditionally exceedingly low in summer months. The need for blood is great. Your blood donation can help to avert a crisis situation. It will save a life. Make the extra effort by donating a pint on June 11. If you are in good health, weigh at least 110 pounds, and are between 17 and 65, you can be a volunteer blood donor.

To be held in the Skokie Village Hall at 8 p.m., the meeting will "be designed to get input from all of the municipalities the district serves," according to Walter B. Flintrup, NORTRAN chairman and trustee from Skokie.

At NORTRAN's monthly meeting held Wednesday, May 25 at the Northfield Village Hall, Flintrup said that representatives of the Illinois Department of Transportation, RTA (Regional Transportation Authority) and other civic and community groups will participate.

LETTERS to EDITOR

Mr. Young, where are the buses?

Dear Editor: On Oct. 21, 1976, Congressional candidate Samuel H. Young placed full page ads in all the local papers in the Tenth Congressional District. The ads stated that if Congressman Abner J. Mikva was reelected on Nov. 2, 1976, forced school busing into Chicago would begin within six months. These ads aroused the fear and wrath of the voters of the Tenth District.

Now that the emotionalism of the campaign is over, the intelligent voters can see that such erroneous fearmongering is a cheap campaign tactic. Let's hope such methods of campaigning are never again used.

Six months have passed since Congressman Mikva was reelected. Mr. Young, where are the buses?

Yours very truly, Sue Adler, Ted Argiris, Kurt Becker, Margo Boyer, Dave Cohn, Jim Elder, Cheryl Geer, Andi Gordon, Caren Lieberman, Pete Omarzu, Wendy Saunders, Jim Schufreider, Larry Shulruff, Gerri Smith

Compliment for Niles Chamber Directory

Dear Mr. Besser: No recent publication calls for more special recognition and attention than the new issue of the 1976-77 Niles Chamber of Commerce Directory.

Being a past president, I am especially proud of the progress of this organization. The last ten years have been years of rapid growth and excellent rapport with the people of Niles.

My feeling, along with the "feedback" from business associates, is that everyone should be proud to be a member.

Sincerely, Charles L. Barbaglia Vice President

Thank you was due to your allowing us the privilege of announcing it when time and space permitted.

Buying an air conditioner?

There's one number you should know besides the price.

Before you choose an air conditioner, ask the dealer for its energy efficiency ratio. This number tells you the efficiency of a unit. An air conditioner with an EER number of 8 or above will be thrifty for you electrically.

The EER number is computed by dividing the BTUs by the watts. A 12,000-BTU unit that uses 1500 watts will rate an 8. If the EER doesn't appear on the tag or metal nameplate, use this simple formula yourself. It's a worthwhile exercise that can pay off in electric dollar savings over the long run. Don't buy too much capacity. Surprisingly, an air conditioner that's too big usually won't keep you as comfortable as a smaller unit.

So measure the space to be cooled before you go to the dealer. Also note any doors that might let cool air escape, or windows that might let direct sunlight in. The dealer will have charts to translate your notes into the right air conditioner selection.

And remember to keep the filter clean. Check your owner's manual to see if you should vacuum it or wash it. In either case, a good periodic cleaning will make your air conditioner more efficient, and save you money.

Another good way to save on your cooling costs is to get an automatic timer made especially for air conditioners. If you're going to be away from home for the day, you can set the timer to turn on the air conditioner an hour or so before you return in the evening. Your home will be more comfortable, your air conditioner will get most of the day off, and you'll save money on your electric bill.

It makes a lot of sense to buy an air conditioner that starts efficient and stays efficient. And saving energy always makes sense.

Bike-A-Thon to benefit retarded youths

Thirty high school and junior high school students who comprise the Orchard Youth Association for Retarded Citizens will sponsor a Bike-A-Thon Sunday, June 26, in the Morton Grove Forest Preserve.

The organization helps retarded youths by raising money to finance recreational and educational activities for the mentally handicapped in Maine and Niles Townships.

Robert B. Green, president of MGM Realty, Inc., is encouraging members of the O.Y.A.R.C. by offering to equal the largest amount of money raised up to $100 by a single individual participating in the Bike-A-Thon. Green is also contributing T-shirts to promote the Bike-A-Thon and will be at one end of the bike route with the MGM fire engine to serve cokes and pretzels to the bike riders.

Students participating in the Bike-A-Thon will solicit contributions from friends and neighbors of from one-cent to one dollar per mile. They will have five hours from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. to ride forward and back over a two-mile path from Dempster to Golf rd. This is the first major event the O.Y.A.R.C. has sponsored since it was officially formed this year. Last year, in the process of organizing, the students sponsored a Halloween and a Christmas party for mentally handicapped students.

Cynthia Wright music scholarship winners

Five Marillac girls were named recipients of the Cynthia Wright Music Scholarships on May 27. Sister Helen Gilsdorf, D.C., Performing Arts Chairperson for the high school, announced the winners at the Awards Convocation. The girls are freshman Laurie Zygmunt of Niles, sophomore Maureen Janson of Chicago, and juniors Eileen Durkin of Park Ridge, Nancy Konvalinka of Northbrook, and Suzanne Samorez of Morton Grove. The Scholarship Fund, set up by Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wright of Glenview, is in memory of their daughter Cynthia who died in a car accident when she was a junior at Marillac. Since Cynthia loved music, her parents felt the scholarship would be an annual presentation as a memorial to her. Laurie Zygmunt, Maureen Janson and Suzanne Samorez will study voice this year; Eileen Durkin, piano; and Nancy Konvalinka, classical guitar.

ED HANSON

"They're Off And Running..."

Yep, the only class track in the Chicagoland area — spacious, but not too gracious (in my opinion) — Arlington Park is underway with their long meet.

I figured up the other day, estimated would be a better word, what I've spent on the following: entrance fees, parking, taxes, food, beverage, racing forms, scratch sheets, programs, lost tickets, being held up, pick-pocketed, gasoline, oil, car wear and tear, and other sundry expenses. The estimated total, and I'm being very conservative, is $69,000 without making a bet! That is over a period of 40 years. I'm 66 — I started playing horses at Arlington Park at age 26.

Now each year, as with everything, prices of all things, at all race tracks, have risen — which economically speaking they should have.

Had I listened to my 92 year old mother and invested just the money in General Motors stock, as she urged, what a tidy sum I'd have today. Ah, yes, the saddest words of tongue or pen are those "it might have been".

When Arlington opened the Triple Crown Messenger Service the following day June 7, 1977 at the corner of Harlem and Milwaukee ave., very convenient to Niles horse players and just minutes away from many of the bordering suburbs and unincorporated areas.

I have personally investigated the Triple Crown Messenger Service, 7524 N. Harlem ave., and they do for you exactly what you do when you go to a race track, be it flats or harness. They buy your tote tickets at an Illinois race track because you sign or initial a contract which empowers them as your agent to buy the tote tickets, which in turn go thru the pari-mutuel machines. This legally is in full compliance with the rules and regulations of the Illinois Racing Board.

Now here's more big news to all followers of "The Sport of Kings". Triple Crown Messenger Service is having an open house — a gala Grand Opening on Saturday, June 11, 1977. Everyone is invited! They'll have food, fun and refreshments. Whether you play horses or not, you're welcome and the red carpet is out to everyone over the age of 21. Unlike many race tracks, they don't believe that kids belong at race tracks. And I've seen mothers at Illinois tracks with little kids tugging at their ma's skirt while mama fumbles in her purse to purchase a tote ticket (probably the milk money) and holds up the whole damn line.

Some states will not permit kids into their race tracks but Illinois race tracks are so damn hungry to make a buck. Many years ago I alerted Ogilvie when he was sheriff by sending him a column I wrote for a large newspaper. Subsequently, he arrested many ticket sellers for selling tote tickets to minors. (This is a documented truth and appeared in all metropolitan newspapers when it happened.)

A day at a race track with the wife or whatever, and friends, can be pleasurable on pleasant summer days but when you can't get to the track, Triple Crown Messenger Service can, as your agent ... So, you all come now to Triple Crown Messenger Service's Grand Opening ... P.S. I'm feelin' mighty good today (Tuesday, June 7) because I had Western Messenger Service (Higgins, just east of Harlem) buy a $50 tote ticket on a harness horse at Sportsman's called Barney Amigo (7th race) who paid $31.20 to win! I'm too busy to get my dough today but I'm not worried. Western Messenger Service will have my winnings ($780) whenever I want them. "Eat your hearts out, chalk players ..."

Variety club seeks fund-raisers for La Rabida

The Variety Club of Illinois, the show business organization helping children in need, is asking for volunteers to donate time to fund raising for its primary charity, La Rabida Children's Hospital and Research Center. The Chicago-Land drive which is a vital part of furthering the research at La Rabida that benefits the children at the Hospital as well as the children throughout the world starts on Friday, June 17th.

This year's drive has taken on an added significance with the establishment of the first child amputee "electrolimb" bank at La Rabida. Young amputees as well as children born without limbs have found new hope through electrically powered artificial limbs. The children have demonstrated that electrically powered joints and hands afford them much greater flexibility and a closer approximation to the movements of normal limbs.

The Limb Bank Program, and expanding research in cancer and immunology, transplantation, asthma and autoimmune diseases such as rheumatic heart disease and rheumatoid arthritis, insure progress in the fight against diseases that afflict children.

To volunteer for the Variety Club-La Rabida fund-raising drive contact Marie Bazner, 363-6700 or chairman Bernie Mack, 831-2060.

Figuring in the back of my mind that possibly this could be the O'Grady I was looking for, I checked out a few of my "sources" for unlisted numbers and promptly dialed the number I had been given.

The phone rang four times and just about the time I was sure no one was going to answer, I heard a click and a young man's voice on the other end.

"Is this the O'Grady residence?"

"Yes, it is," replied the male voice on the other end. "Is your mother home?"

"No, she's not. Can I give her a message?" he asked.

"Well, maybe you can help me. Do you have a brother named Kevin?"

"I am Kevin," he replied. "Congratulations!"

After a minute of dead silence he asked, "For what?"

"For being drafted by the Atlanta Braves," I answered.

"Wow!" was the answer — and then more silence. "Who ... what ... how did you find out? I knew that drafting was taking place this morning but I haven't heard anything. I've had shoulder surgery and really have been recuperating."

After several minutes of conversation relating the details of my conversation with Dusty Rhodes, who Kevin immediately said was his baseball coach at Palm Beach Jr. College, Kevin asked, "What round was I picked up in?"

"The 7th," I answered. "Gee, thanks a lot for the good news, Mrs. Miller. I hadn't heard anything official yet, but I appreciate hearing it from you and ... thanks again!"

"I'll be in touch with you for more details and a picture, Kevin."

"Fine," he said. "Talk to you later."

"Bye."

Kevin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Grady, 8036 Oketo, and attended St. John Brebeuf grammar school and is a 1974 graduate of Notre Dame High School, where he made all-conference as a member of the baseball team.

professional village manager. It was a monumental effort, painstakingly researched. Mim's committee made an excellent presentation to the village board, and waited for their discussion of the matter. But the most incredible action we've ever seen at a village board meeting took place. Without one word of discussion, the Board dismissed the recommendation, unanimously voting against it. After 2 years of tireless effort, the League girls presented their well-documented presentation, only to be rebuffed without one word of discussion among the Board members. In all our years at public board meetings, this had to be the apex of absurdities we had witnessed. No board member gave counter-arguments. No board member even professed to have read the report. Down the line the Mayor and his six Charley McCarthys limply voted "No" without an utterance of recognition.

Mim, who had worked tirelessly for this effort, assumed an air of stoicism. She said the girls anticipated they would not be favored by the village board. But we were sure she never anticipated such a complete rebuff.

Mim and her Joe will be moving south around June 21. Joe's employer, National Geographic, will be moving to Mississippi.

The Barlett's son, Doug, worked for The Bugle for several years. He is an exceptional young man, who is graduating from college this year. During his Bugle years, his father often used to come down to The Bugle offices and work with his son in our darkroom. We were greatly impressed by the father's "helping" his son. Joe would lead his son in discovering knowledge in photography. He wouldn't "give" his son the answers the father already knew. But rather he insisted his son stretch himself, discovering for himself the wonderful world of knowledge.

The Barletts are indeed exceptional people. This son was at the top of his class at Maine East. He worked from the time he was in 7th grade. And when we once asked him if he was driving the family car, he said, "No", implying it was not very important, since his large family didn't have cars for everyone. The Barlett children's sense of values were so in contrast with many of suburbia's children. The sense of responsibility, of self-discipline and of follow thru is so strong in this son we knew so well, we have much admiration for the parents of this fine boy.

If Plato's Republic is still on the reading lists, you can probably recognize the citizen-statesmen qualities of the Barletts. They contributed quietly to the community. And all of us who know them are better for their having passed our way.

Skokie woman donates talents to community

Pianist, music director, volunteer fund-raiser — Skokie resident Dorothy Klein maintains a busy schedule of community activities despite the fact that she suffers from arthritis and multiple sclerosis.

A 1939 graduate of DePaul University, Mrs. Klein, of 4911 Enfield, received her degree in music education at the age of 19. A singer and concert pianist herself, she is also music director at Niles Township Jewish Congregation and writes her own arrangements for the yearly performances given by their choir.

Mrs. Klein, who developed MS in 1958, now walks with the aid of two canes. Yet, in addition to her music activities, she has also been a member of the Junior Cancer League for the past 20 years and presently is ad book chairman for the fund-raising group.

This year's ad book, through which the Junior Cancer League always be crime just as there will always be war and evil. It is a never-ending fight between the forces of good and evil. For good and evil do not always dwell upon opposite sides of the street. Both are often invested in the same person or persons.

Once again, as I did last year, I took a squad car ride by day and night, so that I could see and hear what goes on, what the 'scene' really is, and what Niles police actually do. If you were in the vicinity of Humboldt Park last Saturday night, and weren't knocked senseless by a brick or torn by a bullet, you might be a bit more appreciative of what the Chicago police do when ignorance, intolerance, and passion goes on a rampage.

I climbed into Niles police patrol car 161 at 1 p.m. "Here, let me move my shot gun over a bit, Mr. Hanson," said Geoff Wilson (star No. 126), a Niles patrolman for 7 years.

"Man," I said, "don't worry about it. Another time, another place, I rode shotgun for Wells-Fargo."

He laughed, as if I were kidding! Maybe I should have said "funning". So, we hit the road. The day (last Friday) was hot, the sun bright and the sky blue, which always precedes a full moon. A documented fact, my dear readers, is that crime always rises when the moon is full. Don't scoff just read the greatest best seller, the book which sells 12 million copies every year, which few read and less understand. Have you ever read every word in the Bible, 10 times over? Then check national crime statistics.

As we rode, I asked Geoff (pronounced Jeff) some questions. He willingly answered 'em all, knowing full well he didn't have to answer any. For a trained police officer today, in general, and those Niles cops in particular, know considerable about law. For it's the very law they must uphold which today binds all of our cops nationwide with invisible handcuffs.

"Hold it — just a moment, Ed," Jeff exclaimed as a call came in for squad 161. When I was born (at home) our family doctor made a mistake. The same mistake Howard Cosell's doc or mid-wife made. We both should have been slapped in the mouth instead of the backside. We talk too much! But, regrettably speaking, without tongues Howard and I would starve. An old boss I had in the coin machine biz once said to me, "Eddie, you'll always make a buck while you have a tongue."

My second wife was a rare woman. She never said anything but two words, "Gimme money!" My first wife talked incessantly but never said anything. I often wished I'd met her another time, another place — say New Mexico, about 1845, and I'd been an Apache Indian. For the Apaches had an effective solution for talkative wives. They cut out their tongues!

The call, which my incessant chatter made it difficult for Geoff (Jeff) to hear, was from a home on Olcott ave. Seems that a pretty little girl, about 8, who could already speak Polish as well as English, got a stone in her nose. We responded and simultaneously, the magnificent Niles Paramedics arrived. In a jiffy the situation was under control and the little girl was happy as a lark and waved goodbye as Geoff and I left.

The reason the police respond when the Paramedics and fire equipment is summoned is not as some folks think, a duplication of effort and a waste of taxpayers' money. No, indeed, the police function is to guard this equipment and also in the event 'crowd control' is necessary.

Then, we drove over to the Coca Cola plant where a strike was in progress. A couple of other Niles cops were there and several times when we drove back, they were still there. However, everything was peaceful and quiet which is the way I like things. In fact, there is nothing finer than a little 'peace' and quiet.

As we drove around a couple of young teenagers (boys) were attempting to "hitchhike" a ride. Officer Wilson stopped and using an amplified bull-horn said, "Boys, there is no hitch-hiking in Niles ... scat!"

"What if they'd been girls instead of boys?"

"Then," said Geoff (Jeff), "I'd have taken 'em home to their parents."

As we drove down Touhy, sharp-eyed Geoff spotted a young guy pulling up at one of the rooms at the Niles Motel. He whipped into the parking lot as the young lad walked towards the motel door. "Your car does not have license plates, sir. May I see your driver's license?"

I sat in the car, while Geoff interrogated the lad. As it turned out, the young fellow's papers, driver's license, etc. were in order. Seems he'd just purchased the used car and had not put on his plates.

"You could have given him a ticket, Geoff, for not having the plates on the car."

"Technically, yes," replied Geoff, "but it's a judgment call."

"What about that ticket quota I read and heard so much about?"

"That's based on a solid statistical average — a cop on the ball should write more than one ticket and a half a day."

I couldn't help but agree. I ride around Niles every day, almost as much as a patrol car does. I see lots of violations each day. That ticket quota set by the Niles police is, in my opinion, very minimal.

Often Niles police officers do not write tickets which technically, and going strictly by the book, they could.

Yes, I understand. And I thought about some great cops I've personally known who made thousands of such decisions (judgment calls) and still do. Like Chicago cops Capt. Frank Pape and Mike Fitzgerald (retired), the latter whom I frequently reminisce with. Neither of these old war horses ever wanted or craved publicity. I had a story I'm sure would have wound up in the Sunday Chicago Trib magazine about Fitzgerald. In fact, I was a little "teed-off" with him because when I was ready he called it off at the last moment. Michael Fitzgerald was one of only two men in Chicago police history to win both highest awards — the Lambert Tree and the Carter H. Harrison "for valor above and beyond the call of duty ..." (he's got the medals to prove it) and there's a hell of a lot more I know about this lovable old guy that someday, God willing, I'll write with or without his permission.

We answered a lot of other calls, mostly routine stuff. One was at A.B. Dick. A young guy reported the theft of an AM FM stereo from his brand new Olds Cutlass. The security 'Dicks' from

A.B. Dick (they, that's a play on words) called the Niles police and car 161 got the call. The "caper" was pulled in broad daylight in the parking lot before God and everyone and the pro or punk ticket quota set by the Niles police is, in my opinion, very minimal.

"Good! Let's eat!" So we went up the road to "Down The Street" and two of the biggest, finest cheeseburgers this side of heaven. (I had a couple of peppermint schnapps. I take 'em for medicinal purposes only because it relieves my emphysema.) Geoff had tea or whatever non-alcoholic beverages 6'4", 200 lb. cops drink when they're on duty. Anyway, the waitress had more curves than Niles patrolmen turn in a day. 20 minutes later we were on our way answering more calls, and I continued asking Geoff more questions about himself in particular and the Niles Police Department in general. He was quite open and frank about both himself and the department.

"You know what my nickname is?" he volunteered. "No, tell me what your moniker is."

"Snake," he said flatly. "I used to call my second wife Cobra," I said.

Just then a call came in for 161 and I shut up ... I was learning. I thought maybe I'll join the force and if they tell me I'm too old, I'll sue 'em for age discrimination (and that's a federal law). The call was about a car parked in the deserted parking lot of a large industrial plant. Geoff got on the "horn" and had it checked out ...

two years in Niles patrol cars. Now, finally, a biggie. Was it a bank? No, it was a large industrial plant not far from where I live at the "Y". We were close by.

I was a little disenchanted with Geoff because I thought we'd speed at 100 miles an hour, with dome lights flashing, and siren wailing. But ... instead we moved fast, but very quietly and without lights we pulled up at the front door. The burglar alarm screamed in the dark night. We had approached as silently as a snake slithers thru tall, soft grass.

Geoff began checking several doors but they were locked. I glanced back, hoping to see several backup squads quietly roll up. Nothing! Suddenly a middle-aged man and woman emerged thru a doorway.

"Hello there," Geoff said quietly. It was the general manager of this plant and his wife. Seems, according to their explanations, the guy had forgotten something at the plant and he and his wife came back to get it. However, on the way out his wife inadvertently tripped the burglar alarm. We got the call almost in an instant. The manager rushed back into the plant, phoned the Niles police and explained the situation. That's why we received no backup.

After we left I grinned at Geoff saying, "Now I understand why they call you the Snake — you sneak up on 'em quietly and strike quickly, if need be." Continued on Page 34

Sko-Fed begins health screening

Demonstrating an interest in preventive medicine, the Sko-Fed Mortgage Corporation has begun a health screening program for its managerial personnel with Chicago's George and Anna Portes Cancer Prevention Center, it was announced recently by Robert J. Garlen, loan officer.

When Sko-Fed about three months ago first became interested in a check-up program for its staff, Garlen said, he came thru the non-profit Center for an examination and reported back that the overall health evaluation offered there was just what his company was looking for.

Sko-Fed is a subsidiary of the Skokie Federal Savings & Loan Association, which itself takes an active interest in preventive medicine - sponsoring health fairs, free health testing and distributing brochures on how to keep well.

Located at 4747 Dempster st. in Skokie, Sko-Fed joins more than 45 businesses and other organizations already participating in check-up plans with the preventive medicine facility. Among these are Alcoa, General Mills, Schwinn Bicycle and the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals.

Roosevelt University graduates

Roosevelt University graduates received diplomas from university president Rolf A. Weil at commencement exercises recently, at the Auditorium Theatre.

Graduates included William Brandenburg of 5107 Jarlath, Skokie, Paula Eisenhammer of 6615 Keating Av., Lincolnwood, Fred Frederiksen of 9339 N. Latrobe, Skokie, Marc Lehrer of 8916 Gross Pt. Rd., Skokie, Marc Miller of 9375 Landings Ln., Des Plaines, William Pierce of 6538 Monticello, Lincolnwood, Randy Steinberg of 10047 Laverne, Skokie, Judith Holberton of 9210 Ozark, Morton Grove, Pankaj Nanavaty of 4840 Mulford St., Skokie, John K. Russell of 6330 Lincoln Ave., Morton Grove, and Neal D. Sax, of 4900 Enfield, Skokie.

Considered one of the largest health screening facilities of its kind in the world, the Cancer Prevention Center, 33 W. Huron st., offers comprehensive physical check-ups to apparently well individuals. The health screening includes an extensive set of laboratory tests and physician examinations taking about 3 hours.

In recent years, an average of 25,000 men and women annually have been examined at the Center, according to Medical Director Dr. Seymour Salberg. Appointments may be made by calling 440-7110.

Support your Niles Police. . . .

My personal opinion about this cop, Geoff Wilson, is that he's a pretty dedicated, police career-oriented guy. He loves his job, and he knows he's good at it. He is ambitious, a little cocky, and wants to 'go places' with the department. He could. The difference between being good and being great is to fit perfectly into your niche. Sinatra, Martin, Muhammed Ali, Barbra Streisand, Dr. Lois Higgins (a great lady cop I knew and worked for years ago), Hemmingway, Jane Addams, President Carter, etc. etc. became great because they knew they were. If you've got it, flaunt it! Don't hide your light under a bushel. But it takes work! Work! And success'll come, sometimes soon; sometimes it takes many years.

Perhaps that is why the divorce rate among famous people of the arts, sciences, business, police work and war is so excessively high. For to achieve greatness in any endeavor you must love what you do to the exclusion of anybody or anything else. And, of course, you have to pay the price

... for there is a price for everything, even mediocrity. A police officer's life is not an easy one. Although they are much better paid than in Mike Fitzgerald's day ($3,500 a year and pay for everything, including your gasoline and oil) they're worth every cent they get and more. I've personally met quite a few of the Niles police officers and I think they are all an excellent breed of man and do their respective jobs exceedingly well. I hear things; unverified reports. And, I've heard things about many other police departments too because nothing in this great big wonderful world is perfect and never will be.

Last year I rode with Nanette Mele, Niles' first lady cop. As I left to ride with Geoff Wilson, she came in after finishing her shift. We exchanged greetings and I understand she is doing very well and I'm sure she too has a great future. And without that police cap, she's a mighty good-looker.

Niles Days. . .

Next in order of handouts was the St. John Brebeuf Golden Age Club's $2,000 request for social programs which netted 7 1/2 votes; the Niles Baseball League ($2,400 for purchase of uniforms), Niles Jaycees ($1,000 to send 2 mentally retarded children to camp) and the Camp Fire Girls ($100 to send flowers to shut-ins), each receiving 6 1/4 delegate votes; a $2,670 request by the Falcons, Jr. Football Assoc. for equipment gained 5 1/4 votes; a $155 request by the Knights of Columbus to purchase a refrigerator for SPRED brought 4 1/4 votes; a $1,500 petition for bus trips by the Senior Citizens Club of Niles garnered 4 1/4 votes; and 2 1/2 votes went to Boy Scout Pack 62 which asked $200 for training and equipment.

Two requests, the Niles Art Guild for $900 and the Girl Scout Council for $515 were rejected when each failed to obtain the minimum ballot-votes.

Twenty-four member delegates of the 28 registered Committee members were present Monday night to vote on the fund-sharing. In addition to the $12,225 approved group requests the '77 Committee must net an additional $7,500 to finance a fireworks display and village parade set for next July 4th.

In the event that Festival Days do not net their $19,725 goal said Niles Days Chairman Tony Gagliano, approved group requests will be allocated proportionately.

Gagliano set Wednesday, July 20 as Family Nite, with a flat $3 per person admission fee to carnival rides from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. "The only requisite," said Gagliano, "is that the rider exit at the end of each ride." Ten major rides and 6 children's rides will be offered.

Approximately 25 concessions will be located on the Festival grounds, including the High Strike ... "Those who feel capable of winning a cigar should come out," said the chairman.

The Fourth of July parade is scheduled to kick off from Notre Dame High School, Dempster and Ozark, at 10 a.m. and will finalize in Lawrencewood. A fireworks display is promised near Tam Golf Course at dusk with "lots of

Maine East girls' varsity softball

The Maine East girls' junior varsity softball team finished the season with a fine 8-2 record while averaging 19 runs per game. As a team the girls exhibited a good eye at the plate by drawing an average of 13 walks, getting 11 hits, and had a team batting average of .365. The pitchers, Richelle Sipiara, Jean Miller, and Sue Koss, had good control as they gave up less than seven walks a game.

The team was led by Janet Hoosline with a .484 batting average and she also had three homeruns. Ita Ramos had a .409 average. Sue Fredrickson had a team high of 27 runs scored. Lori Groenwald was close behind with 26 runs scored and walked a team high of 26 times.

Jean Miller led the team with 10 stolen bases and a strong arm from the outfield; Debbie Hodge improved a lot defensively as the season progressed, and had a grand slam homerun in the last game. Kathy Najarian also improved a lot and had a .545 average with good power.

Debbie Wielgus helped win one game with her timely hitting, and Denise Arnold hit over .300 for most of the season. Donna Rujetto's hitting improved tremendously in the last week of the season and she went 4 for 6 in the last game. Lynne Rubey played a strong third base and helped win a game with her hitting. Jackie Jurica and Linda Szymaniak both improved their fielding and hit over .330. Sue Koss walked almost everytime she batted and had excellent control as a pitcher. Joan Marshall played good defense in the games she played.

Olympics. . .

The events will be supervised by MTSEP teachers and Park Ridge Jaycees. The overall planning for the affair has been under the direction of Ms. Christine Schumacher, MTSEP staff member.

The public is welcome to come out to cheer these young athletes.

Sister Constance Scholarship winner

Marillac High School junior Patti Burke received the Sister Constance Scholarship at the Awards Convocation on Thursday. The scholarship, named after Marillac's first principal, is a full tuition award for senior year. Patti, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Burke of 238 Michael Manor in Glenview, was surprised to hear her name called by Cheryl Metallo, the 1976-77 recipient. Patti was working the lights for the convocation ceremonies and was unaware of the surprise announcement.

For a junior to be eligible for the scholarship, she must maintain a B+ average and give evidence of service to her school and her community. Anyone could write a letter nominating a girl. The girls nominated then filled out a form indicating their degree of service.

The Inter-Class Council sponsors the award by proceeds from the Christmas Dance and Fun Day. The panel of judges were the administrators (Sister Jean, Sister Loretta, and Sister Ann Marie), class counselor Mrs. Sally Tobin, the juniors' moderator Sister JoAnn, class president Suzy LeClair and ICC president Sheila Flood.

Patti is the second Glenview girl to win the award in the last three years. Mary Eileen Revord won the scholarship in 1975. Cheryl Metallo is from Morton Grove. Patti is the eighth scholarship winner since it was first offered in 1970.

Reading Club officers

Maine East's honorary society, Sigma Chi Sigma, will be headed next year by Ann Edahl of Park Ridge. Working with her on club activities are Janet Warmack of Morton Grove, vice-president; Carolyn Glassman of Morton Grove, treasurer; and Barbara Goodman of Des Plaines, secretary.
