LGH Service League pledges $750,000

A $750,000 pledge has been made by the Service League of Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge, to help purchase equipment for the multi-media center of the hospital's new community health education facility, The Walter E. Olson Memorial Auditorium. The pledge will be met over a five-year period by funds raised through the Service League's Gift, Thrift and Snack Shops as well as through the various benefits it sponsors during the year. The pledge is the largest the Service League has made. In 1975 it completed a $675,000 pledge for the hospital's Radiation Therapy Center. The Service League's pledge will be used in the following areas: to help renovate the hospital's existing television distribution system so that it can handle closed-circuit programming; to replace all black-and-white television sets in patient rooms with color sets; to furnish all patient rooms in the new eight floor west wing addition with color sets; and to help equip a color television studio on the ground level of the auditorium with two portable "mini-cam" type color television cameras. The Service League is the volunteer arm of Lutheran General Hospital. It has more than 1,000 members, representing many communities surrounding the hospital. Since last July, these members have given 132,000 hours of their time to the hospital and its patients in more than 100 different areas of service. Since 1959, the Service League has contributed more than $2,250,000 to its various building and expansion projects. In 1969 the Service League equipped each patient room in the hospital with a black and white television set. Continued on Page 27

Local park criticized by resident

by Alice M. Bobala

A Jonquil Terrace resident reproached Park officials during the June 21 Board meeting for littered conditions and the use of obscene language at Kirk Lane Park, located immediately south of the Lawrencewood Shopping Center.

"It's a United Nations there ... the park is littered and filthy," said Mrs. Anna Kadlec. Her property abuts the south boundary of the park. She complains of constant exposure to filthy language from young children in the park in addition to rocks, cans and garbage thrown onto her premises.

Mrs. Kadlec said she finally called village police at 1 a.m. Tuesday morning "because the kids were in the park drinking beer."

Summer Sunday nights have their own special moods.

The hot mid-day sun slowly drains much of the early day's energy from your body. After an early Sunday night supper we load up the car and leisurely start the 1 1/2 hour drive back to the city. Before reaching the expressway we start out on a 4-lane highway, a spur between U.S. 12 and U.S. 20. It's only 5 minutes long. We now measure distance in time rather than miles.

Driving a leisurely 55 MPH on the outside lane, an unexpected "whoosh" unsettles us. A souped up '71 Buick Skylark rushes by us so fast we estimate the driver is going over 100 miles per hour. Passing us he drives in a slight arc, moving out to the mid-stripe, and then in an equally wide arc moves into the outside lane well in front of us. He leaps forward toward the van in front of us, and driving in another wide arc goes over the mid-stripe, crosses over the hill in front of us and is lost from sight. But as we reach the top of the hill a car on the opposite side of the road is turned in the opposite direction, badly mangled by a second car. We pulled over to the side, sort of hesitated for a moment, and then got out of our car and moved across the road. The battered auto has 7 occupants, 4 adults and 3 children. One of the children is already outside the car. The stunned driver, bleeding from the face, is on his knees staring at his wife alongside of him. The engine is on fire and we pulled his wife on to the highway where she curls up in a fetal position. In the backseat a woman sitting erect suddenly stiffens and keels over onto the seat. We pull her out and lay her on the cement behind the car. A second man from the back seat helps us. While we hesitated moving the women, the small fire in the front of the car compelled the removal.

The woman in the back was suffering from shock. We threw sweaters over her. I took her pulse with my thumb, which is the wrong way to do this. My hand waving across her eyes' path indicated she was alive.

Down in a ditch behind the mangled car lay the turned-over Buick which had passed us at more than 100 MPH. The driver, a strapping 200 lb. man of about 21 years old, was lying motionless alongside the car. Gas was dripping from the smashed gas tank, and he layed deathly still, already an ashen white covering his face.

Teen job program is flourishing

Most of the teens registered with the Niles Youth Commission job program, ages 13 thru 19, have secured jobs for the summer. So far the commission has placed teens in everything from moving senior citizens, to clerk typists and interior painting. The 16 and under teens are advised to take all the odds and ends type jobs, for extra pocket money, until they become 16. At that time better jobs come along that are steady.

Through extensive publicity, telephone campaigns to local businesses, advertising the service, the commission's drive to both recruit jobs and interest

Mark Twain faculty, students protest principal exchange

by Alice M. Bobala

Faculty and students of Mark Twain Elementary School walked out of the school building at 9401 Hamlin in Des Plaines on closing day, Friday, June 17 in double protest of the exchange of school principals between the elementary school and Apollo Junior High School, 10100 Dee rd., also in Des Plaines.

While the lay person would refer to the move in terms of promotion or demotion, Donald Stetina, Acting Superintendent of District 63, called the exchange a "unilateral transfer" and more formally stated, "It is the Board of Education's response to the needs of the total District in re-assigning Robert Jablon to Apollo and bringing James Lumb (Apollo principal) to Mark Twain Elementary School."

Parents of Mark Twain students came out in protest June 17 against a proposed Board of Education transfer of principals between the elementary school and Apollo Jr. High School in School District 63 and stood by in a faculty-student walkout Friday morning prior to the 9:30 a.m. closing of the school for summer holiday.

Morton Grove Police advice for children

Children are often crime victims, but a few words of advice may help them to avoid becoming one. Tell your children:

- Not all strangers are bad, but never accept a gift or go for a ride with a stranger.
- Don't enter buildings or rooms with strangers.
- Don't play alone in alleys, buildings, or out-of-the-way places.
- Come directly home from school unless you know exactly where they are going.
- Don't ever go up to a stranger's car, and if a friend rides away with a stranger, write down the license number or something about the car, even if you use a stick to write in the dirt.
- Report strangers around your school or home to your teacher, parents or the police.

Krawczynskis celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Krawczynski of Niles celebrated their 50th Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday, June 19 at a 3 p.m. Mass at St. John Brebeuf Church. Father Edward Duggan officiated at the Mass, assisted by Monsignor Flanagan, and the Krawczynskis' grandson David Geary participated as Lecturn. The St. John Brebeuf Choir sang with a special Solo by Ann Marie. In attendance were Lottie and Walter's three children, Walter, Wayne and Delores, their twelve grandchildren and one great grandson, Jason. Also in attendance were their relatives and friends to honor the Krawczynskis on this auspicious occasion. After the Anniversary services a reception was held at Heck's which was well-attended by the Krawczynskis' many friends and relatives.

Any-day registration

The Senate Elections Committee last week approved a bill sponsored by Senator John J. Nimrod (R-4th) to allow would-be voters in suburban Cook County to register in their local clerk's offices on any day when the County Clerk's office is open for that purpose.

Under current law, the County Clerk's office registers voters up to 30 days before a primary and 35 days before a general election. Township, village, and city clerks may not register voters during the 45 days preceding any election.

"This bill seeks to avoid the confusion caused by the different shut-down periods and to make it more convenient for suburban residents to register to vote," Nimrod said.

The committee approved the measure with only one dissenting vote, and Nimrod said he has "great hope this sensible election reform will pass in this session."

The bill has previously passed the House, where it was introduced by Rep. Penny Pullen (R-4th).

"I was elected," she said, "because I have shown I am as good a precinct captain as any man." She said she has never lost the precinct (No. 97) in an election.

LETTERS to EDITOR

Jeff Nye...super grad

Dear Bugle: I hate to brag but ... there has not been one mention of my son, Jeffrey Scott Nye, in any of the local papers. Jeff has the honor of being the only one (to my knowledge) to be selected by Harvard University in the Maine East High School District and in addition to that honor, was offered a scholarship by them. He was also accepted by Yale, but plans to attend Harvard in the Fall.

He has also won the Avon Scholarship for four years. He has won the Lutheran General Service League Scholarship. He was chosen as Maine East's Debate Student of the Year. He recently received three awards for history at Maine East. He, of course, is in the National Honor Society and National Forensic League. The Mothers' Club of Maine East High School also presented him with an award for being in the upper 5% of his class.

Thank you for letting me tell about my kid. In addition to all of the above, he is really a very nice boy.

Sincerely,

Carole Nye

...and winning run for the A's as they rallied for all 7 runs in the final inning to nip the Giants 7 to 6. Ron Bielski and Dave Riemer lead the hitting attack with 2 hits each while Dan Pierro, and Jim Twarowski added one hit each.

Giants 9, Red Sox 4
 Joe Booker knocked in 4 runs for the victorious Giants with Chris Piazza scoring 3 of the runs. Mike Ziebell made a fine leaping catch in centerfield. The Giants 8 hit offense was helped by 11 bases on balls. Mike Ziebell and Joe Booker each had 2 hits. Dan Jasinski, Dave DeSantis and Don DeSantis each had 1 hit apiece. Chris Piazza walked 4 times and stole 6 bases for the Giants. The winning Giants pitchers were Chris Piazza, Mike Ziebell and Joe Booker.

Giants 5, Braves 2
 The Giants won their 2nd straight game 5 to 2, against the Braves. Mike Ziebell (1) scored 2 runs, Joe Booker, Ken Ugel, Al Wilczewski and Dave DeSantis each had 1 hit apiece. Defensively Chris Piazza played fine centerfield, Dan Jasinski behind the plate, Scott Hoffman at 3rd, Don DeSantis at 2nd base. The Giants made only 1 error. Giants pitchers Ken Ugel gave up only 2 hits in 3 innings. Mike Ziebell, hurried 3 hitless innings and walked 2 and Joe Booker pitched 1 hitless inning.

A's 8, Expos 3
 Dave Riemer cracked a two run home run to lead the A's to an 8 to 3 win over the Expos. Fine pitching by R. Bielski and D. DeLouis plus a balance hitting attack, extended the A's win streak to three. Collecting 2 hits each were Dan Pierro, Scott Chamness and Don DeLouis, with Jim Twarowski and Tom Lober adding 1 hit each.

A baseball game can not be won if the defense cannot catch a ball and offense does not hit the ball. We didn't do either, so we lost. The pitching and the catching and the 2 for 3 for Dennis O'Donovan at the bat were the good points.

Olson Memorial Auditorium commemorates hard working man

The Walter E. Olson Memorial Auditorium for which ground was broken recently at Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge, will commemorate a man who in 1905 organized what became one of the country's foremost rug manufacturing and sales firms, the original Olson Rug Company of Chicago.

The Olson Rug Company began when Walter E. Olson's father, Oliver, started making rugs in a small way in the 1800's. The firm perfected the reversible rug loom and became a multi-million dollar business. Walter Olson, "W.O." as he became known, died in 1975 at the age of 91.

Known for its reversible rugs, the company had extensive retail sales as well as a national mail order business. Its slogan was "Factory to You Prices".

During the Depression Olson also kept his employees working and earning wages by constructing the Olson Park on the grounds of his Chicago factory at Diversey and Pulaski. The park contained a replica of a waterfall located near his summer home in Eagle River, Wisconsin. The waterfall near his factory, with its rock gardens and forest-like landscaping provided a relaxing atmosphere for his employees during their lunch breaks. It soon became an enjoyable landmark for thousands of people in Chicago. Olson was later recognized as a pioneer in the beautification of industrial property.

Each summer Olson made his 22-cabin resort in Wisconsin available to employees and their families at no charge for week-ends or for vacations.

W.O. was known as a hard working and generous man with high regard for progress and high expectations for improving the quality of life of those he knew.

Terpinas. Astros hitting stars were Watson, Prieto, Cieszykowski Mayer and Sobczak. Capek and Pater contributed timely walks. This combined with 21 stolen bases made it a long afternoon for the Sox.

Mets 13, Twins 10

The Mets exploded for 16 hits including 2 each by Weinburk, Aklinski, Gitter and Piento to carry them to their 8th victory. John Watrock pitched a beautiful 3 innings for the losing Twins.

Braves 1, Indians 0

In one of the super games of the season the Braves defeated the Indians. Sensational pitching and defensive plays were very much in evidence. The only run of the game was scored by Aronson after he singled and was brought in by Gazy's double.

Giants 7, Angels 5

A four run fifth inning led the Giants to a 7-5 win over the Angels.

Mets 17, Astros 5

The Astros were beaten by the Mets fine pitching while the Astros gave up 12 walks. Mets hitters were Gawle, Mackowski, and Weinburger and Pater, Prieto and Sobczak hit for the Astros. Terpinas made the fielding play of the year at deep short for the Astros.

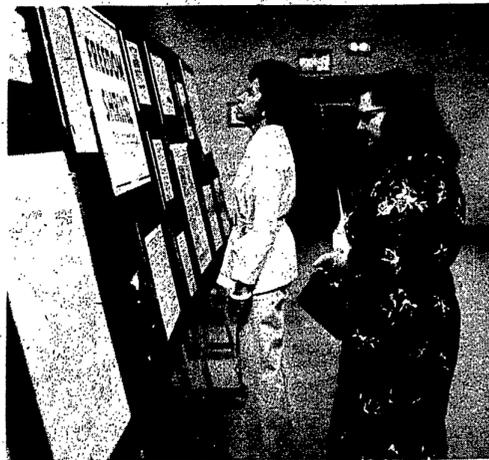

Twins 14, Tigers 6

Mackowski and Tarlow pitched another win for the Twins. The highlight of the game was a grand slam homer by Tarlow in the 1st inning. Watrach and Larson contributed triples and Kamzoi had a nice single for the winners. Every Twin had a hit.

Giants 11, Mets 4

Jerry Howard's catch of a hard hit ball with 2 outs and the bases loaded to stifle a Met rally helped the Giants to this great win. Mike Fritze and Ed Olczyk each hit a home run to lead the hitting.

Dedicate Maine East's Freedom Shrine

Maine-East's new Freedom Shrine was dedicated June 1 at the 48th Annual Awards Program sponsored by the school's Social Science Department and the Maine Historical Society. The Shrine, a collection of exact copies of 28 historical American documents, is a gift to the school from the Exchange Club of Schaumburg in cooperation with the Rotary Club of Park Ridge. It was presented to the school in commemoration of Maine's Diamond Jubilee.

The Shrine display includes exact copies of the Mayflower Company, signed by 41 Pilgrims aboard the Mayflower in 1620; the Declaration of Independence, signed by the members of the Continental Congress; the Treaty of Paris of 1763, in which Great Britain recognized the independence of the United States; the Bill of Rights; The Star Spangled Banner; the Monroe Doctrine; the Emancipation Proclamation; the German Instrument of Surrender, World War II, and many other documents.

The June 1 dedication ceremony was held in the Maine East auditorium, with all members of the Schaumburg Exchange Club present. The club's president, Mr. John Errera, in a brief presentation talk, stated that the Freedom Shrine project is an official endeavor of the National Exchange Club and its member clubs, such as the Exchange Club of Schaumburg. The National organization has been active in service to youth since 1911 and has chapters in hundreds of cities.

"The purpose of the Freedom Shrine is to enhance the awareness of America's historical past in the minds of young people and strengthen citizen appreciation of the nation's heritage," Mr. Errera said. "It is the goal of the National Exchange Club to put a Freedom Shrine in every high school in the country."

Other service organizations, such as Rotary, are helping the National Exchange Club and its member clubs achieve this goal. Mr. Robert Barker, Maine South assistant principal and president-elect of the Rotary Club of Park Ridge, in dedicating the Shrine stated that his organization was instrumental in having the Exchange Club of Schaumburg bring the exhibit to Maine East in celebration of the district's Diamond Jubilee. The Rotary Club will provide a $250 subsidy to partially defray the cost of maintaining the permanent display, he said.

A similar burglary took place 6 months ago when a gas engine was stolen from the same machine according to police.

Theft of Motor Home
Police said a 35-year-old man made off with a $17,000 white and orange 1977 Delta mini-home June 10 from Dave Cory Ford at 2620 Touhy.
According to police the agency gave the keys to the man who listed his name as Robert Carson, an attorney, for a trial run at 8:30 a.m. and he hasn't returned with the motorhome.
Bike Patrol Assalt
Unit 417 of the Niles Bike Patrol assisted a biker needing medical aid in the Forest Preserve the afternoon of June 13.

More Fireworks
A bicyclist threw a lit M-80 firecracker into an auto stopped for traffic, causing extensive damages to the interior of the car June 13. Neither the motorist or his passenger were injured.
Police said the motorist waited for traffic at Cumberland and Church around 8 p.m. when a 17 to 19-year-old biker on a 10-speed came alongside and threw the firecracker in the car.
The motorist chased but was unable to catch the teen, described as 6 ft. tall weighing 165 pounds, with blonde hair and a moustache, wearing a headband, dark pants and gym shoes.
Mental Escapee

Brotherly Concern

Police said the young man was returning home, June 15 around 6 p.m. when he saw a 21-year-old man riding down the driveway on what appeared to be his sister's bike.
Investigation revealed the bike missing from the garage so the young man entered his car and began searching the area, locating bike and thief at Osceola and Oakton. He chased the thief apprehending him near Seward where the offender met an accomplice in a white Mustang. Seeing he was outnumbered the Nilesite released the thief who drove off with his partner, leaving the bike.

Maine Township Seniors 2nd anniversary

The Senior Citizens of Maine Township group will be two years old next month. Since it was formed in July of 1975, membership has climbed to more than 900 busy, active seniors.

When revenue sharing funds became available to townships, Maine Township Supervisor James Dowd and the board of trustees decided to use the money for citizen-oriented programs. "Some taxing bodies used their revenue sharing funds to build buildings or buy equipment," Dowd said. "We invest ours in people." Maine Township sends the money on the senior citizen, youth, mental health and alcoholism programs.

At Dowd's urging in 1975, a volunteer group came forward to head the senior citizen program in the township. It was led by Fred Arndt, who 10 years before had formed the Des Plaines Golden Agers Club. Other in that first volunteer group were Bea and Robert Ballin, Margaret Moebling, Ann Finland, Ida Groehn and Olga Renner.

To join the group was—and is—simple. Interested persons must live within Maine Township and be 62 years old or more. They need only call the township office at 297-2510 and an application blank will be sent. There is no membership fee.

On the first Wednesday of each month the Senior Citizens of Maine Township meet at the Greens recreation center on Golf rd. to play bingo from 1 to 3:15 p.m.

On the second Wednesday, the group meets for luncheon at the Casa Royale on Lee st. in Des Plaines. Here there is usually a speaker and, if time permits, a short bingo game. Speakers are chosen for topics of interest to the members, such as social security, paramedics, home security and con games, growing plants in the home, etc.

On each third Wednesday, the senior citizens tour various areas. This month a tour was planned for the Notre Dame campus in South Bend, Ind. In July the group will go to Lake Lawn in Wisconsin for a day of relaxation and shopping. In August they will visit an Amish village in Indiana. In September they will ride on a paddle boat on Lake Geneva, having lunch aboard, and in October they'll go to Honey Bear Farm in Wisconsin.

Newest project for the group is a refresher course in Rules of the Road for seniors who must go in for driver's license renewal.

Bill Kurtis, WBBM-TV's popular news anchorman, will appear at the Merrill Chase Galleries, Old Orchard, on Saturday, June 25, from 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., to open a one-man exhibition of his color photography. This exhibition will run through August 15 at all Merrill Chase locations, and is free to the public. This marks Kurtis' second major exhibition of his photography at the Merrill Chase Galleries. Several color photographs produced in a limited edition, will be included. Each photograph is hand-signed by Mr. Kurtis.

Featured in this exhibit are many dramatic photographs of Africa and its people taken by Kurtis during his recent visit. The photographs depict a wide range of subject matter and include a sensitive portrait of an African woman holding her baby, a dramatic African sunset, and exotic, colorful animals of Africa captured in their natural habitat. Several nature studies and photographs of Amsterdam's breathtaking scenery and flowers are also included in this exhibition. (Amsterdam was a stopover on Kurtis' African trip.)

Kurtis, who has pursued photography as an art form since 1968, sees his photographs as "studies of the color and motion of everyday life, as well as exotic people and places." Kurtis works only in color and most of his subjects are not news stories. "I enjoy being creative and versatile. Of course, I still enjoy recording events through photo-journalism," he adds.

Actually, Kurtis' fascination with photography began with photo-journalism. "During the Democratic convention in 1968, I realized that I was watching history in the making. I was compelled to record it on film," Kurtis says.

Historically, only black and white photography has been shown as art. Kurtis believes that like the fine arts, color deepens the communicators' message.

Bill Kurtis has many quite different facets to his creative personality. Unknown to most Chicagoans is the fact that Kurtis holds a law degree; is an accomplished amateur actor, a prolific poet, and a skillful dancer.

For additional information about Bill Kurtis' photographic exhibit, call 499-5100.

Kaplan drama series for 77/78 set

The Mayer Kaplan Open Stage Players has announced its Drama Series for 1977-78. Fantasy, melodrama, and mystery mark the plays chosen by this community theatre, for its seventh consecutive season.

Productions and dates will be: Harvey, November 5 through November 20; The Man in the Glass Booth, February 25 through March 12; and Anastasia, May 6 through May 21.

Harvey, by Mary Ellen Chase, first appeared in 1944 and has since become an American comedy classic. The central character of the show is a six foot, one and a half inch white rabbit named Harvey who never appears on the stage. His worshipful companion is Elwood P. Dowd, an amiable man with a thirst for barrooms and people, who met Harvey one day leaning against a lamp-post, and said hello. They became inseparable fiends. According to John Chapman, New York drama critic, "Harvey is a most delightful, droll, endearing, funny and touching piece of stage whimsy."

touching piece of stage whimsy.

The Man in the Glass Booth, a 1968 drama by Robert Shaw, is based in part on some of the events of the Adolph Eichmann trial in Israel. The play was an immediate popular success starring Donald Pleasence on Broadway, and Maximilian Schell in the film version. On the surface it is a suspense drama; difficult, inscrutable, enigmatic and ultimately fascinating. It says something about national guilt, martyrdom and saint-like madness.

In 1917 the Bolsheviks murdered Czar Nicholas, Czarina Alexandra and their children. The possibility that one of the children, a young daughter, could have survived, is the premise of Anastasia, by Marcelle Maurette, and adapted by English playwright Guy Bolton. It is the dramatization of the real life legend of Princess Anastasia, or at least the unhappy woman who appeared out of nowhere during the 1920's whom many people regard as the one surviving royal princess of Old Russia.

Ticket prices for the dramas vary for single plays or series, with group rates available. For more information call the Kaplan Center, 675-2200, ext. 215.

Re-schedules Mill Run appearance

ED HANSON

A Vulture For Culture

One of my favorite poets is Kipling. He once wrote a poem to his son. I'm doing this from memory, so I might be paraphrasing a bit. Anywho, here 'tis:

"If you can keep your head,
When all about you are losing theirs and blaming
it on you,
If you can trust yourself,
when all men doubt you,
But make allowance for their doubting too;
If you can wait and not be tired
by waiting,
or being lied about,
Don't deal in lies,
or being hated, don't give way to hating,
And yet don't look too good,
nor talk too wise,
If you can dream —
and not make dreams your master;
If you can think — and not make thoughts your aim,
If you can meet with triumph and disaster,
and treat those two imposters
just the same;
If you can bear to hear the truth
you've spoken, twisted by knaves to make a trap
for fools, or watch the things you gave your life to broken, and stoop and build 'em up with worn out tools;
If you can make one heap of all your winnings and risk it on one turn of pitch-and-toss, and lose, and start again at your beginnings and never breathe a word about your loss;
If you can force your heart and nerve and sinew to serve your turn long after they are gone,
And so hold on when there is nothing in you except the will which says to them hold on
If you can talk with crowds and keep your virtue,
or walk with kings — nor lose
the common touch,
If neither foes nor loving friends
can hurt you,
If all men count with you, but none too much,
If you can fill the unforgiving minute with sixty seconds' worth of distance run,
yours is the earth and everything
that's in it
And — which is more — You'll be a Man, my son!"

There's a message there for everyone regardless of their endeavor in life. Whether you're a hobo or a horse player (many times there's no distinction) you can profit from these immortal words.

For sometimes the difference between success and failure is holding on just a little bit more.

P.S. The Cubs and Sox will "fold" in the stretch ... (five-eight)

Chicago fire-works show July 3rd

The Illinois Department of Conservation is warning boat owners that many two-year watercraft registrations in the state will expire on June 30, State Rep. Penny Pullen (R-4th) advised this week.

All registrations expiring in 1977 must be renewed by the end of June. The two-year registration fee is $4. Registration renewal can be obtained from currency exchanges or boat dealers.

Operators of unregistered craft will be subject to arrest, the legislator warned.

"As the deadline approaches and the last-minute rush begins," Miss Pullen said, "late applicants may have to drydock their boats until the new decal can be received and applied. In addition, after June 30 a boat owner must change his boat identification number since new numbers will be assigned after that date."

For further information, contact the Illinois Department of Conservation, Rm. 100, 160 N. LaSalle, Chicago, 793-2070.

Soap Opera Festival

"All My Children" star Nick Benedict, who is Phillip Brent in the daytime soap is just one of five famous stars who will appear in the Soap Opera Festival, Sunday, June 26, at the Mill Run Theatre.

What are soap opera stars really like? Will Phoebe Tyler (Ruth Warrick) ever stop being men to Mona in "All My Children"? Will Dr. Matt Powers (Jim Pritchett) stop shutting his wife, Maggie, out of his life on "The Doctors"?

Soap opera fans will be able to ask these questions and more at the Soap Opera Festival on Sunday, June 26th at 1 p.m. at the Mill Run Theatre.

Five famous stars from two top daytime operas will meet fans and answer personal questions.

They are Ruth Warrick (Phoebe Tyler), Susan Lucci (Erica Brent), Nick Benedict (Phillip Brent), and Francesca James (Kitty Tyler) of "All My Children" and Jim Pritchett (Dr. Matt Powers) of "The Doctors".

Soap Opera Festival was formed early this year by Joyce Becker, a columnist for "Soap Opera Digest" and her husband, Allan Sugarman, a photographer for the magazine. The first Festival was held in New Haven, Conn., in February.

Meet the soap stars and learn the answers to the questions you've always wanted to know, but had no one to ask. Tickets are $6.75 and can be purchased at the Mill Run Theatre in the Golf Mill Shopping Center, Niles, or at all Ticketron outlets.

To charge tickets to Bank Americard or Master Charge, call Tix-By-Phone (312) 298-2170 or (312) 298-3730.

Bingo for seniors

Dempster Plaza State Bank presented an afternoon of Cash Bingo for the Senior Citizens of the Trident Center on Tuesday, June 14, Celia Hansen, Assistant Cashier, made it a special afternoon by having four special games in honor of Mothers & Fathers Day. The Seniors played an L-T-M and F games standing for "Love to Mother & Father."

It was a special day for Celia Hansen as well because her daughter, Sherry Kennedy was in from Florida and came along to help hostess the afternoon. Also visiting Celia Hansen was her Mother Eva Lieb who came along to take part in the fun and see what a terrific community service Dempster Plaza State Bank provides.

The bank puzzles which each guest received were a big hit and everyone was anxious to know how to solve it. During intermission the cakes brought in by the bank were enjoyed by all. It was a delightful afternoon both Celia Hansen and Belle Fredman (bank hostesses) were happy to be a part of. We are most gratified with the happy response.

New breakthrough in human potential

Research on participants of the Transcendental Meditation (TM) program indicating that fuller use of human potential includes the ability to levitate, become invisible, etc. will be discussed at Kendall College Auditorium, 8 p.m. on Friday, June 24, by Jonathan Shear, Ph.D., Dean of the Philosophy Dept., Maharishi International University, Fairfield, Iowa. The lecture will discuss these special abilities as a practical technology for the creation of an ideal society through participation in the TM program. Admission is $3 ($2 students). For two years TM program teachers on advanced training courses have conducted research on "consciousness as the field of all possibilities". TM proponents claim that just as knowledge of particular laws of nature has given man some command over his environment, knowledge of the home of all the laws of nature, consciousness itself, naturally allows man much greater command over himself and nature. When the improved mind-body coordination experienced by all TM practitioners is developed to its fullest degree, man is able to fulfill his desires spontaneously by a mere impulse of consciousness, even to the extent of levitating and becoming invisible. New EEG research indicated that the brain-wave coherence associated with the simplest state of awareness, transcendental consciousness, gained during the TM technique, is significantly enhanced during performance of these abilities. This validated ancient texts which describe these performances as a means to develop full potential of individual life.

According to Rosanne Malinowski, local TM program teacher, "The goal of the TM program is to create an ideal society by having even a small proportion of the population developing their full potential and consequently acting more in accord with all the laws of nature. With many individuals in society able to fulfill their desires without meeting resistance from the environment, progress towards an ideal society will smooth and rapid." For more information on the TM program call 864-1810.

been surfacing at Apollo, "with allegations of problems in the area of communication between staff and administration" which became increasingly evident to the school district board last Fall.

Internal recommendation brought about the transfer said Stetina through which administration hopes to resolve some of the problems at the high school. Stetina said he first discussed the transfer with both men on Wednesday but "pressures of school closings prevented indepth discussion of the physical transfer."

According to Stetina he first learned of the Mark Twain walkout shortly after 8 o'clock Friday morning by telephone from Jablon who indicated that the entire faculty, the students and their parents were outside the school building.

"When I arrived the students were all outside around the building in class groups, with the teachers in charge."

He spoke lightly of the incident saying, "There is no law that says classes must be held inside, as long as the children are not exposed to danger."

Students and teachers entered the building at 9:30 to clean out lockers, finalizing the closing of school for summer vacation, he noted.

Stetina gave a "no comment" on whether the Friday morning walkout could change Board decision, but later conceded "it might have some effect on future action."

Teachers and parents at Mark Twain were uniform in the attempt to keep their principal. The children were big-eyed and silent.

"There is no reason to disrupt our school," said Danny Kenis, Physical Education teacher for 8 years at Twain. "The problems which have been going on at Apollo for the past 2 years could be resolved there." Jablon has an "effective way with administration, faculty, children and parents," he noted, in comparison to allegations of harassment of teachers at Apollo.

Other tenured teachers chose to remain silent but younger instructors were vocal in support of the faculty walkout at the same time keeping anonymity. "We feel our voices should be heard... it may effect a change in policy," said one.

Another noted that teachers and parents at the school determined the walkout, "for the good of the children".

During an interview Principal Robert Jablon pointedly stated a preference to remain at Mark Twain, "where I have committed myself to parents and children for the past 6 years," qualifying his statements with "appreciation of the Board's consideration in feeling I am qualified and capable to head Apollo."

PTA President Sharon Polinsky, mother of 2 students said she resented the abruptness of Board action. "We (parents) were appalled... our first reaction to the Wednesday news from the teachers was, 'what could we do?'"

"Bodyworks" Fitness Program

"Bodyworks" is more than your friendly neighborhood car repair shop. It's the Skokie Court House's new concept in exercise and movement, a program that combines fun with fitness. The first 35 scheduled programs begins Monday, June 27.

A unique exercise concept taught by qualified instructors trained and experienced in dance and exercise, "Bodyworks" is a well-planned program combining the best of body movements, dance, calisthenics, yoga, and cardiovascular activities individually designed so participants can pace themselves to gradually work towards a specific goal.

The program is designed for both men and women of all shapes, sizes and ages. A Skokie Court House membership is not required for the "Bodyworks" program. Small classes promise that each "bodyworker" will be given individualized attention. The only attire that is required is something comfortable, perhaps a leotard for women, shorts and a T-shirt for men.

The Skokie Court House's "Bodyworks" program is broken into two series. The first meets once-a-week for six weeks, the second twice-a-week for three weeks. Classes meet Monday, Wednesday and Saturday. There will be 35 classes of 45-minutes each. Nineteen will meet weekly, the remaining 16 twice each week at the Skokie Court House, 3710 Touhy Avenue, Skokie.

For Skokie Court House members the six-lesson program will cost $18.00. The enrollment fee for non-members is $24.00. The enrollment fee includes "bodyworkers" to the free use of the attended nursery, locker room, sauna and exercise room.

Detailed information can be obtained by telephoning 677-4100 or by visiting the Skokie Court House.

filled with sand and huge rocks. "The kids (ages 8 to 15) throw these at each other... the extras are tossed into my yard."

The soft spoken Nilesite said park inhabitants go into the Castle (playground equipment she calls the Monster) to drink beer and use filthy language of four-letter words.

Conditions the past weekend had worsened said the woman. Her company of visiting Californians were appalled at the noise and obscene vulgarities which prompted them to go to a motel rather than stay in her home.

A request to neighbors and neighborhood children to accompany her to the park meeting in support of her complaint was ignored she said because "they're afraid to come, due to expected retaliation by the kids."

Her troubles began when the playground equipment was set into the park 3 years ago... "the kids brag that Kirk Lane is one park where they can do anything they want." Last night marked the beginning of fireworks.

She has already complained to the Illinois Noise Pollution Board, who responded at a time she was not home. "If I can't get help from you," she told officials, "I'm going to get outside help... or you can buy my house for a fieldhouse."

She has looked to live elsewhere, but "homes are too expensive now."

The park director was directed to consult with village juvenile authorities.

In other business Commissioners approved the 1977-78 Combined Budget and Appropriations Ordinance calling for a total budget of $2,120,725 and total appropriation of $2,863,464.

Sent to Administration for recommendation 3 bids on construction of bleachers at the Ballard Sports Complex ranging from $13,241.80 to $11,363.

Declined to accept the sole bid of 6 advertised on a notifier fire alarm and requested a second bidding.

Approved a resolution authorizing the County Clerk to make tax extensions to local governments predicated upon the 1976 tax multiplier.

Gave the green light on installation of security lighting: $550 at Jonquil Terrace Park and $1,300 at Greenwood Park as "requested by residents and for security reasons."

Were advised by the Park attorney that inclusion of the park district was requested in a proposed village annexation agreement of Day Camp property at Washington and Golf rd.

Announced a concert series at Triangle Park Wednesdays at 7 p.m. Reported employment of Kenyon R. Cox as Recreation Supervisor as of June 20.

Carol A. Chaconas, Youth Coordinator, feels that these summer jobs are a very important part of the teens' growth experience. To be able to assume responsibility, relate to an adult employer and having a feeling of a job well done. These are important steps to maturity.

Teens interested in employment should contact Carol A. Chaconas, Coordinator, at 7601 N. Milwaukee ave., 967-7100, ext. 51. Residents and businesses can mail in their request or call to hire a teen.

We were 5 miles from the nearest town, on the Indiana-Michigan border. A CB'er called for help, asking for an ambulance. We told him to call for a second one, and then changed the request to three.

The digital auto clock read about 7:33 when the Buick roared past our car. It wasn't more than 2 or 3 minutes afterwards that the CB call went out. Ten minutes later the police and ambulances arrived. But it seemed an eternity. While I was taking the woman's pulse a passenger from another car arrived and announced she was a nurse. She quickly viewed the people strewn across this highway, and after a superficial check, went down into the ravine and attended the most seriously injured, the man who caused the accident.

When the first paramedic arrived I wanted to tell him the people on the highway needed him the most. "The hell with the guy in the ditch. He caused this misery so let him go." But somehow you manage to squelch this vindictiveness and you tell the medic he's needed in the ravine. He and his partner worked feverishly over the man below while the second pair of paramedics, arriving moments later, attended the people lying on the highway.

We retrieved the sweater we lent to the shock victim and moved across the highway and got back into our car. The clock had only moved to 8:05 and we continued the ride home. There wasn't much to talk about.

As the cars in front of us wend their way in and out of traffic I moved over to the outside lane and talked with my thoughts. "Why are these people in such a hurry?" But as I drove slower than the flow of the plus 60 MPH traffic I knew the in and out drivers were no different than I am on most Sunday nights. I'm usually tired, and relaxed, and weary, and anxious to get home as quickly as possible.

Amidst the silence, broken only by my rambling thoughts, my wife finally asked why I insisted she give up her sweater while I wore mine during the immediate moments after the crash. I told her I wasn't even aware I had on a sweater. She lapsed back into silence and I returned to my random thoughts. After the first round of re-living this crime I realized it could happen to any of us. In our average-size family we've had a much too high auto mortality rate. One uncle was killed on the highway leading to Itasca. He was a drinker and the haze of booze probably contributed to his death. In 1956 an aunt and uncle were killed in Tennessee at 11 a.m. in a head-on collision with a truck. And years before another aunt broke her neck and an uncle had his leg mangled outside Vincennes, Indiana in a car which turned over on them. My memory recalled Nick Blase being broadsided by a car coming off a country road onto U.S. 66 about 4 years ago, sending his convertible into a ditch. It was Nick's last convertible.

There's really no moral to be gained by this rhetorical exercise. We were told the man who caused the accident died several days later. Why he was driving so fast we will wonder about. But the answer doesn't matter.

Many of you will be on the highway this summer. We would hope a few of you may remember what we've written. The fool-hardy driver could have killed us, or the guy in front of us or the 7 people in the car he did ram into.

We hope you'll stay close to the 55 MPH speed limit. It's often boring and monotonous to drive at that speed but it is equally boring and monotonous to drive long distances at 70 MPH. It's a dangerous jungle out on those highways, and every car is a lethal weapon. Protect your family on the highway. No matter how well you drive you have little control over the next guy. Your best chance for survival is to live within the boundaries of the posted speed limits.

Adults returning to college

The second of a summer series of weekly orientation workshops for adults returning to college will be held on Tuesday, June 28, from 1 to 3 p.m. in Room 328 Building 3, Interim Campus, Oakton Community College, Oakton and Nagle, Morton Grove.

The small group session features information about Oakton career programs, courses, requirements, and other relevant material for men and women who have been away from school for some time or who may have no college experience at all.

The workshops also introduce facts about Oakton career programs as well as baccalaureate transfer courses, general studies, and earning college credit for non-traditional learning experiences.

Participants in the workshop who plan to enroll as new students for the 1977 fall term at Oakton will be given an opportunity to register at the end of the workshop.

For further information about the orientation workshops for mature adults, contact the office of non-traditional student programs at Oakton (Room 328, Building 3, or telephone: 967-5120, ext. 350.)
