District 63 committee studies school closings

District 63's new Citizens Committee on Facilities and Property Utilization will study the feasibility of closing schools and the disposal of undeveloped land.

At a Monday night meeting the 16-person committee disclosed the two basic topics they will concentrate on.

Chairman of the Citizens Committee, former school board president Bill Gurolnick, told The Bugle Tuesday the Committee will discuss the possibility of closing elementary schools, and/or a junior high school. He said the committee desires residents in the community express their views.

Gurolnick said a second topic the Committee will discuss is the disposing of several parcels of undeveloped property it now owns.

District 63 owns two parcels of land in the northwest end of the district. Three acres of property is located at Harrison st. near Greenwood and a 5-acre parcel at Dee rd. and the power lines north of Golf rd.

Concerning the savings by closing schools, Board President Larry Reiss told The Bugle there would not be cost savings by reducing teachers since they would be transferred to other schools. However, he said maintenance personnel and secretarial

Through the years we've accumulated aphorisms, bits of wisdom and a potpourri of miscellany which we've pasted into an account book which we've titled "The Book". From time to time we'd like to share them with you. Today is one of those times.

- Superior people talk about ideas. Mediocre people talk about things. Little people talk about other people.

- The best way to have a good idea is to have lots of ideas ... Linus Pauling

- The most effective flattery is that directed to a person's weakness or insecurity, not to his strength. A bright man has no need to be told he is intelligent, nor a beautiful woman that she is lovely. But, he may be longing to hear that he is good looking, and she yearning to be told that she is clever ... Sidney Harris

- Veeck's Law of Enforced Humility — When you've run as fast as you can up the highest mountain you will find someone waiting at the top to deflate you. (He recalled his son's remark at the World Series when the team he created reached this pinnacle: "Too bad, Dad, you didn't do something important like becoming an engineer.") ... Veeck, As In Wreck

to Maine Democrats

Thomas Tully, Cook County Assessor, will be the speaker at the Oct. 14 meeting of the Maine Township Democratic Organization.

The meeting is set for 7:30 p.m. at the Bunker Hill Country Club at 6635 Milwaukee ave., Niles. Mr. Tully will speak on assessment procedures and problems and then be available for questions from the audience.

Mr. Tully was a lawyer practicing in real estate law before he was called upon to reform and reorganize the Assessor's Office in 1969. As the Deputy Assessor of Cook County he completely reformed and modernized the Assessment Procedures. His election as Cook County Assessor was the result of a two-year Chicago newspaper campaign to reform the office.

The recent reassessment of property on the North Shore has raised considerable controversy. Taxes have increased significantly in the North Shore area. Maine Township will be reassessed next year and homeowners will be facing increased real estate taxes unless they take action. Mr. Tully assesses the property value but the amount of tax you pay is determined by your local governments such as school districts and municipalities. Your questions can be answered by attending this public meeting on Friday, Oct. 14 at 7:30 p.m. at the Bunker Hill Country Club at 6635 Milwaukee ave., Niles. Additional information: 692-3388.

NILES ALL AMERICAN SENIORS CLUB NEW GLARUS TRIP

On Sept. 20th we set out at 8:30 a.m. to see how the Swiss people lived when they first migrated to this country, and settled in New Glarus. Our first stop was at the Swiss Miss Embroideries to see how they make their lace and embroidery today. It was fascinating to watch machines do the work that used to be done by hand long ago.

Then we stopped at the Swiss Miss store where all the yard goods and laces are sold. They have bolt upon bolt of the most beautiful material. Velvets, wools, laces, bridal shop, and so much to see we had a hard time getting our ladies out of there.

From there we went on our tour through New Glarus Historical Society, where we heard the story of the Swiss, the hardships they suffered coming to our country. We saw their machinery, their homes, the church, and how little they had to work with in those days. It was educational and very interesting.

We had dinner at the New Glarus Hotel, Swiss steak and all the trimmings, and had twenty minutes of entertainment (Concertina and Yodeling) after which we all took a walk up their Main Street and saw some of the town; sampled their ice cream, bought some of their bakery goods, and cheeses.

On the way home we stopped to see their Floral Clock which was very colorful. We had a tired group that arrived home at 7:30 p.m., but it was a wonderful trip.

Nichols, who will conduct North West Federal's Financial Planning Seminars for women on Thursday, November 10 and Saturday, November 12, is a graduate of Oberlin College, Ohio, and is the founder and president of her own financial planning firm, Money Matters, Inc., based in Champaign, Ill.

She has analyzed the financial situation of hundreds of clients and has suggested ways in which adjustments can be made so that important financial goals can be established and attained.

The first lecture, to be held on Oct. 6 at 8 p.m., is entitled "The Adolescent: What Am I Going Through? Where Am I Going?" The speakers for this lecture will be Art Hyams, MSW, Executive Director of Near North Family Guidance; and Joan Heller, MSW, Director of the Crisis Intervention Unit of the Northbrook Police Department.

The lectures will be held at 8 p.m. every Thursday from Oct. 6 thru Oct. 27 at the Niles Trident Center, 8060 Oakton st., Niles (use center door marked Main Entrance). For further information, call Niles Family Service at 692-3396.

Mrs. Nichols is widely known for her interest in educating the public in the intelligent use of financial resources. She has been a member of the Advisory Board of the Women's Program at Parkland College in Champaign where she developed a college course in financial planning. This led to the development of a series of seminars dealing with money matters for women, providing as much useful information as possible in a short, but concentrated, period of time.

WHICH HOME IS MORE ATTRACTIVE?

It depends on what you mean by attractive. If you're talking about appearance and room layout, it's a toss up. Both homes are nearly identical, but the one on the right is covered by ERA's exclusive Buyers Protection Plan (BPP). Which means a faster sale because there's little risk for the buyer.

You see, when prospective home buyers learn that BPP is a one-year warranty covering the expensive working components of the home, the home on the right becomes worth more to the buyer. And, when they also discover the most that repair or replacement of a covered item can cost them is a modest deductible charge (even if the repair bill is $1,000 or more), the ERA home becomes downright beautiful.

Warranted homes from ERA. They look more attractive to a lot more people.

Exposure
Two 17 year old youths told police a man in a green Chevrolet exposed himself to them Sept. 22 as they were in an eatery parking lot at 7947 Milwaukee ave. around 10:30 p.m.

An attempt to follow the sex offender's car when he left the lot was unsuccessful but license plates checked out to an Evanston resident.

The complainants said the same man was seen another time at Golf rd. and Milwaukee ave. under similar circumstances.

3 count looter

A 37 year old Park Ridge man fleeing the scene of an attempted burglary on the 8900 block of Washington at 1 a.m. Sept. 24 was charged with possession of marijuana, driving on a suspended license and disobeying a police order.

Police said the suspect attempted to get away in his car but was blocked by two police units. An empty gun holster at the scene led to a search of the suspect's car which turned up 24 rifle bullets and 2 plastic bags containing a green leafy substance.

Burglary attempt

The doorknobs were twisted off an apartment on the 9700 block of Dee rd. overnight Sept. 24 but the occupant was uncertain whether anyone entered and certain that nothing was missing.

The victim told police he was in the process of moving into the apartment and could account for whatever had been moved into it.

Auto thefts

An increase in auto thefts was noted last week:

A 1974 Ford Mustang valued at $1,500 was stolen from the driveway of an Oak st. resident overnight Sept. 22.

A 20 year old Nilesite told police her 1973 Ford Mustang valued at $2,000 was taken from her Elmwood st. home between midnight and 9 a.m. Sept. 23.

Someone took a 1976 tan Pontiac valued at $5,000 from the west side drive of 6035 Gross Point rd., 4 p.m. to midnight while the Chicago owner was at work.

A 1974 Ford with an estimated value of $4,000 was stolen from the parking lot at 9074 Greenlake overnight Sept. 25 according to its owner.

Public indecency

A 26 year old Mt. Prospect man was charged with public indecency and released under $1,000 bail pending a Nov. 4 court hearing.

Police said they responded to a call of a man sitting nude in a car at Golf Mill Sept. 27 at 10:30 a.m. As they approached the car the man was observed to cover himself with a gold jacket lying on the front seat.

Vandalism

A resident on the 8400 block of Oleander told police eggs and tomatoes were thrown at his home the night of Sept. 24. There was no damage but the victim said the same thing happened several times during the past few weeks.

In another incident an Oriole st. homeowner complained someone drove over his lawn Sept. 23 before midnight, an incident which has occurred several times recently, he said.

School cited

Employees of Niles North Elementary School were charged with splattering paint over a parked car on the Nordica side lot.

The victim complained his car was covered with silver spots including trunk and rear window when painters painted the school chain link fence.

Cost to remove paint was set at $10.

Theft and marijuana

A 19 year old Des Plaines youth apprehended for theft of a $50 jacket at Sears in Golf Mill Sept. 28 was released under a $1,000 bond pending a Nov. 11 court hearing.

James Jozwiak, 23, was charged with violation of the Illinois Credit Card Act in connection with the incident police said.

Hi speed chase

After a high speed chase by police ranging from 51 m.p.h. to 94 m.p.h. a 30 year old Chicago motorcyclist had his driver's license confiscated pending an Oct. 21 court date.

Michael Jo Murray, 2437 Maplewood, Chicago, was charged with 2 counts of speeding, failure to signal, attempting to elude police, reckless driving and 2 counts of disobeying a red light.

Police said he was first observed in the 9000 block of Greenwood at 1 a.m. Sept. 28 traveling 51 m.p.h. in a 40 m.p.h. zone. An attempt to stop the cyclist resulted in a fast travel pace of 94 m.p.h. in a 45 m.p.h. zone to Golf and Wolf rds. where the cyclist dumped his motorcycle. He was taken to Lutheran General Hospital for medical treatment after which he was transported to the police department.

Des Plaines police also filed an accident report and towed the motorcycle away.

Stolen credit cards

Police arrested a Wooddale, Ill. man Sept. 28 who allegedly attempted to fraudulently use Sears credit cards.

Niles veterinarian honored by college

Alumni of the University of Illinois College of Veterinary Medicine honored two Illinois veterinarians during the college's recent annual fall conference.

Dr. T. J. Lafeber of Niles was given the association's Service Award.

Dr. Lafeber, an internationally known avian veterinarian, is a 1949 graduate of Iowa State University College of Veterinary Medicine. He opened a small animal practice in Niles, Illinois after graduation. Although he and his associate treat all types of pet animals in their hospital, his special interest is caged bird medicine.

Dr. Lafeber maintains an aviary of parakeets, canaries and other birds for use in clinical evaluation of drugs and other studies. He is currently conducting projects on organo-phosphate insecticides for treatment of bird parasites, as well as a nutrition study and studies on several new drugs. In the past, his avian research has introduced a micro-liter syringe for use in birds, perfected surgical techniques and x-ray procedures for birds, established blood chemistry values, and established drug dosage schedules and a formula for feeding birds by gavage or stomach tube. All the research work has been done with his own funds, and all honorariums he receives from lectures is put into the research.

Dr. Lafeber received a special award from the American Animal Hospital Association (AAHA) in 1970 in recognition of his contributions to the field of avian medicine and clinical laboratory medicine. In 1975, AAHA recognized Dr. Lafeber as the Outstanding Practitioner of the Year in Region III. Region III encompasses 13 states and two Canadian provinces. He also received the 1976 Stange Award to an outstanding alumnus by Iowa State University College of Veterinary Medicine.

Hearing loss - what does it mean?

The child who has difficulty speaking; the adult whose friends must constantly shout or repeat themselves; the elderly person who withdraws from his family or who no longer enjoys radio or television...these people may share one common problem-hearing impairment.

There's more to the ear than what can be seen and factors which affect hearing or result in its loss will be discussed at a public meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 13, in the chapel-auditorium of Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge. The meeting, for which there is no charge, will feature Claire Hillary and Linda Murrans, clinical audiologists at Lutheran General.

Diagnostic assessment tests in the basic skills of mathematics, reading, and composition will be given at Oakton Community College on Saturday, Oct. 15, to students who plan to register for college credit courses for the spring 1978 semester.

All students who intend to take any mathematics or communications course at Oakton are required to take these placement tests.

Testing is scheduled from 9 a.m. until 12 noon. Students who wish to take the test at this time should sign up with the Student Development Office, Room 405, Building 4, OCC Interim Campus, or call 967-5120, ext. 323.

These tests enable college personnel to make accurate placement recommendations to the students and help ensure that students know which courses are appropriate to their skill levels, it is pointed out.

Diagnostic tests for the spring term will also be held on Saturday, Nov. 19, and on Monday and Tuesday, Jan. 9 and 10, during open registration.

Niles North Merit semi-finalists

Seven Niles North High School students were recently named semi-finalists in the 1978 National Merit Scholarship Program.

The students include seniors Cynthia Anderson, Glenview; Lawrence Appel, Niles; David Gill, Morton Grove; Linda Moy, Skokie; Louise O'Brien, Morton Grove; and Dana Osherman and Amy Salk, Skokie.

National Merit semifinalists are chosen on the basis of their scores on the 1976 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test and represent the top half of one per cent of the nation's most academically talented young people.

Over 1 million students from 17,000 high schools originally entered the competition.

The seven Niles North semi-finalists are among 15,000 students nationwide attempting to gain finalist status and continue in the scholarship competition. Over 90 per cent of these semi-finalists are expected to qualify as finalists. Approximately 1,000 one-year and 2,800 four-year Merit Scholarships, usually sponsored by business and industrial interests, will be awarded to winning finalists in the spring.

OCC enrollment up again

Enrollment for the fall semester at Oakton is up by 8% according to John D. Gagin, director of admissions and records. Oakton's student body has continued to increase each year since the college opened in 1970 when 832 were enrolled. When MONACEP registrations are completed it is expected that more than 19,000 will have enrolled.

In college credit courses Gagin indicated that 6,740 students enrolled this fall. The comparable total at the end of registration last year was 6,252. This year's enrollment includes increases in almost all categories, especially among part-time students.

Some of the increase is a result of the recent annexation of the Glenbrook and New Trier high school districts to Oakton. Because the annexation became

Niles West High School Merit semi-finalists

Rev. Thomas Markos, CSC, Principal of Notre Dame High School, Niles, has announced that three students have been named Semifinalists in the 1978 National Merit Scholarship Program.

These boys are Edward W. Jensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Jensen, 6640 N. Ottawa, Chicago; James E. Nicholas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nicholas, 8615 Frontage Ave., Skokie, and Mark C. Weick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Weick, 7101 Church St., Morton Grove.

Approximately 15,000 students have been named Semifinalists in the 23rd annual National Merit Scholarship Program. These academically talented students will have an opportunity to continue in the competition for about 3,900 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in the spring of 1978.

Semifinalists are named from over 1 million students enrolled in 17,500 high schools who entered the 1978 Merit Program by taking the 1976 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test.

Johnson discusses energy, nuclear war planning

Mark "Markus" Johnson accused his opponents of underestimating the seriousness of America's energy situation and of advocating an unwise approach to nuclear war planning. The four Republicans, who hope to oppose incumbent Democrat Mikva, appeared in a debate Wednesday, Sept. 14 at Marilla High School in Northfield.

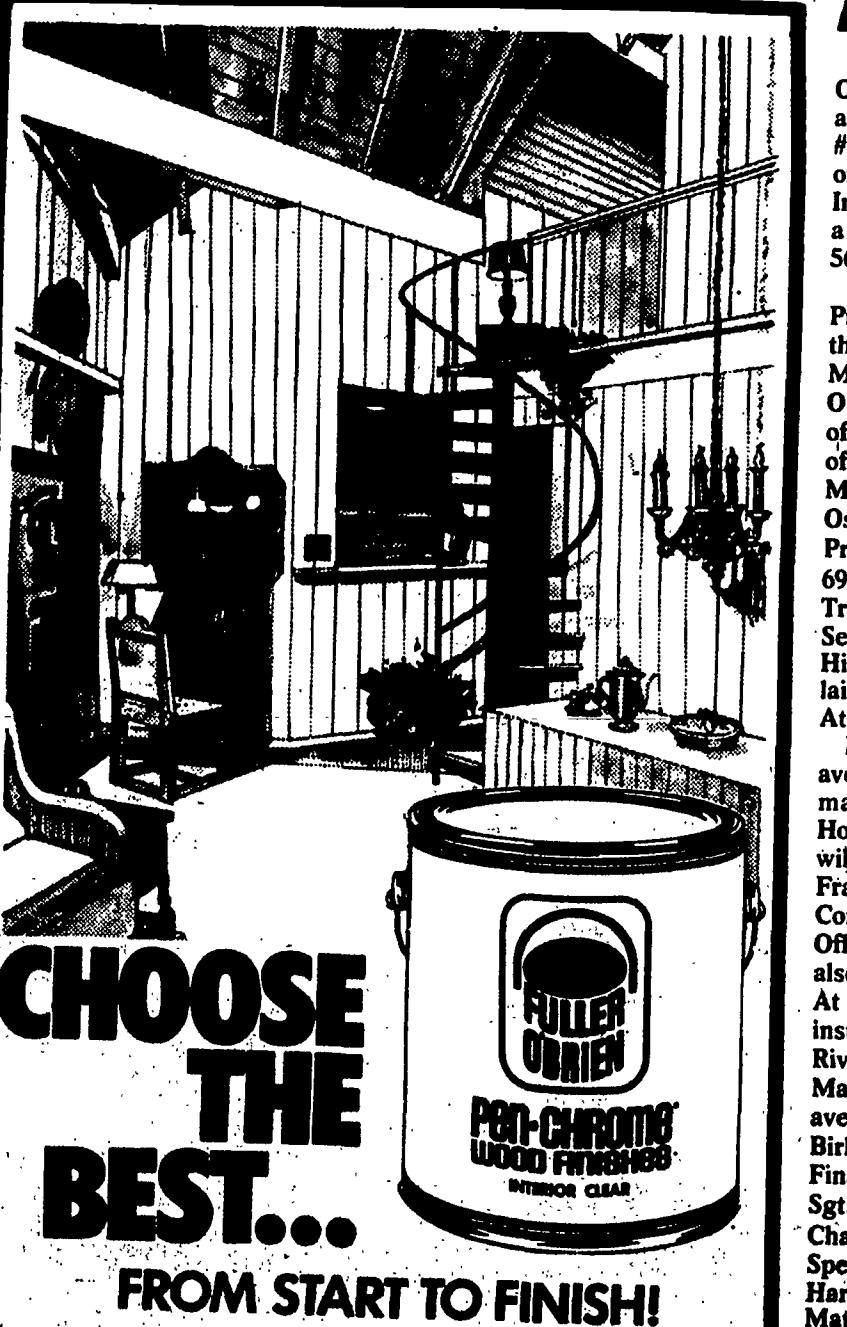

Johnson said, "I differ from my opponents because I believe America has an energy problem. The idea that the free market will automatically take care of everything may be true in the narrow academic sense that prices will always rise to ration limited supplies. But based on my years of commodity futures trading I know that free market adjustments can be very painful and may trigger widespread social unrest -- social unrest that Democrat collectivists like Abner Mikva naturally use as an excuse for more government. Republicans must be concerned about energy to combat and contain Democrat collectivism."

can first-strike capability means that the bad guys on the other side have less than a half hour in which to decide to shoot their nukes at us once they decide, rightly or wrongly, that our first strike has been launched. That half hour is more than enough time for our missiles to fly around the world and obliterate theirs."

Johnson continued, "Because bad guys are much more likely than Americans to make bad decisions, due to stupidity, emotional weakness, or temporary technical communication difficulties, I think American first strike capability will do more harm than good -- therefore I do not support it at this time." Johnson believes the new MX ICBM would be an effective counter-measure if Russia developed first strike capability.

Choke saving methods act becomes law

Landmark legislation, authored by State Rep. Ralph C. Capparelli (D-16th), to require the posting of choke-saving methods in all food service establishments was signed into law recently by Governor James Thompson.

Originally introduced as House Bill 13, the new law provides that the Illinois Department of Public Health select the life saving procedure, and design and distribute placards to food service establishments for posting. Failure to comply will result in a $500 fine.

"I am very pleased that after three years of working to pass this legislation, the Choke Saving Methods Act is now law," said Capparelli. "This bill is one of the best to come out of the Illinois General Assembly this year."

Capparelli noted that while the Illinois Department of Public Health has the responsibility for selecting the life-saving procedure, he is hopeful that the Heimlich Maneuver will be chosen.

"This maneuver is the easiest to administer and very effective," he continued. "It has been documented that as many as 600 lives each year could be saved in Illinois if more people were aware of this method."

Capparelli said that the choke saving method is simple to learn. The Heimlich Maneuver is administered by forcing the diaphragm upward, compressing the air in the lungs and expelling the object blocking the breathing passage.

This pressure, he described, is applied to a standing or sitting person by moving behind the individual who is choking, wrapping one's arms around the choking person's upper abdomen, below the rib cage, and exerting quick upward thrusts.

"Choking can happen to anyone," said Capparelli. "Ronald Reagan's life was saved during last year's political campaign when someone near him knew this procedure, but others like Ric Riccardo, Tommy Dorsey, and the Chicago Art Institute's John Maxon were not so fortunate."

"As a result of the publicity given this bill over the past year, Mayor Blanck, in his wisdom, required several months ago that all Chicago firemen be fully instructed in this life-saving procedure. Now this procedure will be known statewide and, for this, I am grateful to the governor for signing the bill, and to Susan Veach, editorial director of WBBM-Radio for broadcasting numerous editorials urging that the bill become law."

Notre Dame extension bands

Notre Dame High School, Niles, has a unique instrumental music program for grade school musicians. Boys and girls from local grade schools have been meeting weekly at Notre Dame since 1956 for instruction on various band instruments and rehearsing band music.

Rev. George Wiskirchen, CSC, founder of the program and presently the Assistant Director of the University of Notre Dame Band, felt that there was a need to give these grade school musicians a group experience that they could not get with private teachers.

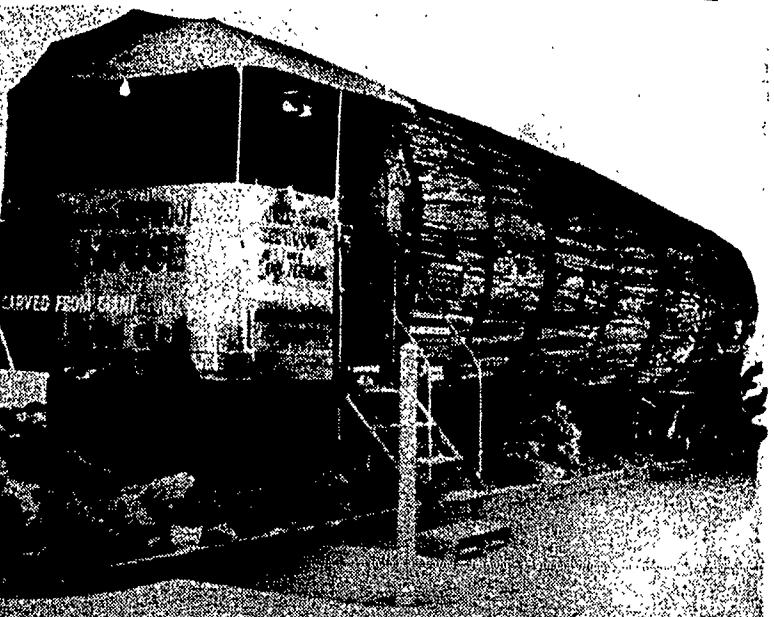

In 1962, the Archdiocesan Music Education Office encouraged Catholic high schools to extend their facilities and faculties to after school activities for grade school musicians. The program at NDHS was then turned over to Donald Tolosko who had been working with some of the new Catholic grade school bands in the area. With the extra time that Tolosko was able to devote to this program and his introduction of class instruction, the Notre Dame Extension Bands have grown into the most successful program of this type in the Chicago area and possibly in the nation. Tolosko became department head in 1972.

Currently there are two levels of performing bands: a stage band or jazz group and multi-level mixed instrument classes. These groups meet on Saturdays and certain evenings. Several private teachers are also available at the school. Some of the bands participate in contests and usually receive a Superior rating.

Beginning band members are recruited every September and October. These boys and girls, most of whom have never had any previous training, meet weekly for instruction in small groups of similar instruments and they also meet weekly in a full band rehearsal. Classes are available through the intermediate level. Students usually study with a

California Redwood Log House at Golf Mill

One of the world's most unusual exhibits -- a three-room house carved from a giant redwood log -- is currently being displayed at the North Mall, thru Oct. 9th, during center hours.

The Redwood Log House, exhibited in all 48 contiguous States and at World's Fairs, took two men nearly a year to carve out of the Liberty Tree, a giant Coast Redwood felled in the late 1940's near Eureka, California. The Log House was formed from the fourth segment cut from the base, yet it is more than 9 feet in diameter at its larger end.

The completely furnished trailer home inside the Redwood log is comfortably outfitted for travel living, with modern living room, kitchen, and bedroom. Cabinets throughout are also of Redwood, but are not from the original tree material.

Art exhibitor

Donna Murawski, East Rogers Park, Chicago, is the artist featured during the month of October in the lobby of Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge.

Ms. Murawski's exhibit will include paintings of buildings as well as sea- and landscapes done in an impressionistic, abstract or semi-abstract style. Ms. Murawski uses oils for all of her paintings and applies them using only a palette knife.

Ms. Murawski studied art at the American Academy of Art, the Cathay Art Studio and most recently with Chicago artist G. Gordon.

Her works have been displayed at Chicago's Gold Coast Art Fair as well as at several private and corporate galleries.

The monthly lobby exhibits, open to the public without charge, are part of the continuing Art Originate Program of Lutheran General's Service League. Art-work is for sale and may be purchased through the Art Originate Office of the Service League Office between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. weekdays.

JO-ANN KARL ORGANIST

Try our food!

You be the Judge!"

ED HANSON

I am a man of letters . . .

Since my recent column asking for entrants into the contest to decide who is "The Most Charming Woman In Niles", I've been overwhelmed with letters and photos. Space permits printing just a few of the thousands received.

Ms. Nellie Nussbaum of Niles wrote me the following:

Dear Mr. Hanson:

Enclosed is my photo, on the back of which are my measurements and a resume regarding my social and business achievements. You may not recall it but I met you some time ago at a Niles civic affair.

You certainly are a most brilliant person. You are even more scintillating in person than you are in print. Your charm is only exceeded by your wit . . . your graciousness by your kindness, and your charming multi-faceted personality by the impeccability of your dress.

You are not merely a verbal and visual major domo but one senses that beneath your sheer of sophisticated elegance there exists the purest and kindest of soul such as a righteous man of the cloth would possess.

I salute you.

(signed) Ms. Nussbaum
Niles, Ill.

The following is my reply:

My dear Ms. Nussbaum:

You truly are a very discerning person. And I concur with your opinion wholeheartedly. Permit me to compliment you on possessing the knack of expressing in writing your opinion thru the medium of excellent rhetoric prose.

However, you failed to mention two of my most valuable attributes — namely, my innate modesty and humility.

You shall have my most serious consideration for the title of Niles' most charming woman — you have scored some telling points, my dear, and I wish you the best of success and may the best woman win.

From Ms. Ruth Rumbuviak of Niles came this letter:

Dear Mr. Hanson:

Enclosed is my entry for your "most charming woman of Niles" contest plus a photo and some facts about myself.

I am a widow of fifty-nine, well endowed with money, and well, you know ...

I love to travel and have made 14 trips around the world. I'm sure from reading your column that you, too, are well traveled and probably like to go around the world, as I do.

Wouldn't it be fun if we could go "around the world" together?

Hopefully, Ms. Rumbuviak

My dear Ms. Rumbuviak:

Thank you for your entry — I assure you it shall have my personal attention.

You are so right. I have, and do love to travel — particularly around the world.

I used to enjoy it especially with my second wife, whom I affectionately and fondly called "Barracuda". She was a great traveling companion and since we parted company many years ago, I miss her in a strange sort of way. As a traveling companion she had no peer because, you see, we both wore the same size underwear.

For years since I've been searching for a mature woman who likes to go around the world. Perhaps we could discuss it, sometime, over tea and crumpets at my place or yours?

And from Ms. R. U. Reddy is this letter:

Ed Hanson:

I waited on you in several places. I've worked in Niles and surrounding area as a waitress. So I thought I'd enter your Ms. Charming contest of Niles. I may not be Miss America, but I ain't too bad to look at and in the charm department I do all right, too.

I once read a column you did about waitresses which I didn't think was very complimentary to these hard working souls.

I think you're sort of an intellectual snob but you ain't a bad tipper so I guess you can't be all bad. Enclosed is my photo and some stuff about me. Maybe you'll remember me?

You better, or next time I wait on you I'll serve your soup with my thumb in it!

My dear Ms. R. U. Reddy:

Of course I remember you. At Jake's, Arvey's, LaVenee ... thank you for your entry. Regarding that threat to serve my soup with your thumb in it, here's the way that plays:

Me: "Say, waitress, you've got your thumb in my soup!"

Waitress: "That's okay — it ain't hot!"

But let me ask you a few questions concerning your, ah, profession. Why is it that all waitresses wait till a guy's mouth is full of food and then ask, "How's everything?" I've almost choked to death many times attempting to answer that stock question all waitresses ask.

And another thing — how come a waitress will give great service, set up, water, napkins, serve the meal efficiently and give you everything except the check? Then, when you want to leave, you can't find her because she's either on her break or in the washroom smoking a cigarette.

Or when the restaurant is very busy and waitresses are racing back and forth like Olympic sprinters, I say to one as she flies by, "Hey! How about some service?" And her stock reply is, "Sorry, sir, that's not my station."

Another stock remark, particularly from young waitresses, after they've set down your plate, they say, "There you go!" Go? Go where?

Anyway, Ms. Reddy, I shall give serious consideration to your entry. I have some more questions concerning waitresses, I'd like to discuss with you. Perhaps, over cocktails at Eddie's Place? (That's where all the waitresses "hang out" to get rid of their "hangups", which usually results in a "hangover", doesn't it?)

Racing note: Due to Besser's claim of foul, the stewards watched the films of the big race for best dressed man and noticed some interference at the start; thus, the official order of finish is: Barbaglia, First; Stein, Second; Harczak, Third; Moore, Fourth.

Besser, who lodged the claim of foul, was disqualified from last place and suspended for 10 days for wearing an eight year old Robert Hall suit.

Due to an error the name of the photographer who took the picture of Matty and Lorrie Pokuta in last week's paper was left out. Photographs were by Schwartz.

Smokey and Miles

firemen to visit
Golf Mill

The Niles Fire Department and Smokey the Bear pay their annual visit to the Golf-Mill Shopping Center, Golf & Milwaukee in Niles, Monday, Oct. 10, 7 p.m. at the North Mall.

"We are happy to inform our citizens of fire safety and let them know more about fire prevention during Fire Prevention Week," stated Fire Chief Albert Hoelbl. Smokey and Miles Firemen will give away children's coloring sheets and other souvenirs related to fire safety.

The appearance is part of Golf Mill's 17th Anniversary Celebration.

And it costs nothing to join Jake's Breakfast Club where you can win a free breakfast.

Jake tells me that he is planning one of his biggest and best parties for Halloween, Oct. 31 — the night when witches and ghosts come out — so plan to celebrate Halloween at Jake's by bringing your best ghoul to Jake's.

McDonald's musicians

Ninety-one outstanding high school musicians from the Chicagoland-Northern Indiana area have been nominated for the 1977 McDonald's All-American High School Band, according to Harry Theodore, president of the Association of Chicagoland McDonald's Restaurants. Included were: David J. Baer of Skokie and Joel G. Brasch from Niles.

A master of his trade

Frank C. Wicha, 74, of Niles, known internationally for his wizardry in creating the finest of organ sound, is now devoting his talents entirely to pipe organs.

He had had 55 years of experience in the pipe organ field. Starting with Walter Coburn, where he worked on tracker organs, he became head of the erecting service around Chicago for M.P. Moller, Inc., along with D.S. Wentz. During the World War II years, he had extensive experience in the rebuilding of organs during the time no new organs were being produced. He rebuilt and adapted some fifty theatre organs for church use in a remarkable successful manner. After the war, he was associated with the Reuter Organ Company as a sales representative, installer and tonal finisher. At the same time, he operated an organ rebuilding and service business of his own. Altogether, about 300 of the finest pipe organ installations bear his personal nameplate.

Dr. William H. Barnes, dean of American organ architects and consultants, and long a close associate of Wicha, stated, "If there was ever a dyed-in-the-wool organ man, with intimate knowledge and vast experience in adapting all sorts of pipes (from numerous builders) to change of wind pressure and location and making them sound well, it is Frank Wicha."

Wicha has recently worked as a consultant to CATOE (Chicago Area Theatre Organ Enthusiasts, Inc.) on the installation of CATOE's Wurlitzer pipe organ at Maine North High School. This organ was removed from the Indiana Theatre in 1975 by CATOE members, completely rebuilt and reinstated in the splendid new auditorium of Maine North High School. Mr. Wicha has also worked with CATOE on several of their other projects in the Chicago area.

Collages on display at OCC

A collection of handmade paper collages by Evanston artist Marilyn Sward is on display at Oakton Community College from October 5 through 14.

The collages, made of handmade paper arranged in geometric designs, are patterned after patchwork quilts, with some also incorporating poetry in an artistic interpretation of the artist's concern for written communication.

The display is located in Oakton's Koehnline Gallery, Building 4 on the OCC campus, Oakton and Nagle, Morton Grove. The gallery is open on Monday through Thursday from 9 a.m. - 9 p.m., Fridays from 9 a.m. - 5 p.m. Admission is free of charge.

Ms. Sward, a graduate of the University of Illinois with a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree in painting, has pursued her craft through classes at the Evanston Art Center and the North Shore Art League.

She is a member of the Evanston Art Center Co-operative Gallery and has exhibited her work in shows at the University of Illinois, the ARC Gallery, the Countryside Gallery, and the Krannert Art Museum in Champaign.

The contrast between a very early Alfred Hitchcock film and one of the most recent offerings will be the focus on October 7 when the first of four evenings of Hitchcock films is presented at Oakton Community College.

"Family Plot" (1976) and an early silent movie, "Easy Virtue" (1928), will be shown at 8:15 p.m. and dinner following at 8 p.m.

Members of the group and their guests will sample some of the restaurant's specialties including five versions of roast duckling prepared on a rotisserie in the center of the English-style room.

A spectacular salad and dessert buffet called the "Food Fare" also will be provided for guests' dining pleasure.

I have never equated education with intelligence. You certainly know a great number of educated monsters and many wise uneducated people. They have as great a stake in the future of this beleaguered planet as the critics, and it is they who would be the ultimate allocators of personnel instead of people, the plotters of graphs, grids and percentages whom I caricature in these works as the sociometrician." ... Niles Chamber program on 'Working Plastic'

The Niles Chamber of Commerce and Industry is presenting a program of importance to the businessmen of Niles and is encouraging as many of them as possible to attend this timely program.

On Thursday, Oct. 13, Sgt. James Gerhardt of the Niles Police Department in conjunction with the Niles Chamber of Commerce and Industry is presenting a film and a program which can aid the Niles businessmen and their employees to spot stolen credit cards and stop losses to the merchants. Many of the local merchants have accepted stolen credit cards, resulting in extensive losses to their businesses. Some have even ceased to accept credit cards

Age Club $859.84; Baseball League $725.92; Knights of Columbus $155.00; Scouts, Cub Pack 62 $200.00; Maine-Niles Camp Fire Girls $100; Falcons Jr. Football Assn. $599.79.

Days Chairman Tony Gagliano said the monies for the Niles Jaycees of $725.92 and the Northwest Italian American Society of $1,304.76 as well as the Village allocation would be held in escrow pursuant to bills (covering events as requested) submitted by the 3 groups "at which time," Gagliano said, "the Committee will honor the requests."

Contrary to a previous report by the Days Board, of ineligibility by the Senior Citizens Club of Niles to receive monies due to inability to provide Festival booth workers, Gagliano Monday night said the group would get $382.50. He said the cash would come from a 2 year old fund held in escrow out of $584.93 excess monies returned to the Niles Days treasury from a $5,000 request by the Niles Chamber of Commerce for a village outdoor bulletin sign. Should the Senior Citizens decline the monies, Gagliano said the bequest would revert to the Niles Days treasury for future allocation.

Days Chairman Gagliano expressed disappointment that the 1977 Festival did not bring more profits. He said "the carnival because of the losses resulting in a forfeit of business from legitimate customers.

This program is designed to aid the businessmen prevent this loss by teaching employees what to look for and how to spot a suspicious credit card.

The meeting will take place at the Jade Garden North, 8990 Milwaukee Ave., Niles, on Thursday, Oct. 13 with 12 noon cocktails and 12:30 p.m. luncheon. Cost is $5 per person. Be sure to attend this important meeting. It could prove to be of great value to you and your business.

For reservations, call the Niles Chamber of Commerce and Industry office at 966-1805.

Flood relief . . .

flooding of the sewer system and the treatment plant.

The computer model, SWMM, will be used to simulate various intensities of rain storms and aid in determining the size and location of any necessary relief sewers in the combined sewer area. Scheel reported that the EPA will reimburse the Village for seventy-five percent of the costs associated with the study.

Metcalf & Eddy, Inc. of Des Plaines, the Village's consulting engineers for the project, will be responsible for applying the computer model and coordinating the field work associated with the project. The Village's Engineering and Public Works Departments are actively involved in the study and are responsible for conducting the field work associated with the project.

Voted in for two year terms as Directors were incumbent Joe Booker, June Haas and Ed Brasch. Don Steinke was appointed to fill an unexpired director's term of one year, vacated by Bill Bers' resignation.

Also on the Niles Days Board of Directors fulfilling another year in office are Ben Mankowsky and Norm Katz.

Fire Prevention . . .
Grease should always be cleaned from the range, and curtains should not be near enough to blow over.

A portable gas or oil heater can be a very pleasant feature of a cold bedroom, but don't neglect to turn it off at bedtime. Also leave a door or window slightly open, so that the oxygen it uses will be replaced.

Have an experienced serviceman go over your central heating system now -- don't wait for cold weather. He should also inspect and clean flue pipes and chimneys and make necessary repairs.

The basement, closets and attic have their uses, but not as accumulation spots for papers, rags and old furniture. All can catch fire and leave a family outdoors looking on helplessly while their home burns.

Using kerosene or other flammable liquids to start a fire in a furnace, fireplace, or stove is a very dangerous practice. So is cleaning clothes with benzine or gasoline. Better to take them to the local cleaner and spare the grief of a home fire.

Seminar . . .

Cont'd from Skokie-L'wood P.1 as much as 15 or 20 years away from retirement, even for those who never intended to retire at all, he said.

Grant has been presenting similar pre-retirement programs in the Chicago area over the past three years. He said the programs stress the social, psychological, and economic aspects of retirement. The programs are designed for couples as well as individuals since the change in one spouse's life style affects the other.

At Loyola, in addition to serving as assistant vice president, Grant is assistant professor of economics specializing in labor economics and is the director of the university's retirement program.
