LGH seeks volunteer drivers

The Home Delivered Meals Program of Lutheran General Hospital needs volunteers to deliver meals to homebound persons. Winter vacations and sickness have caused a shortage of men and women who usually deliver the meals. The drivers are asked to deliver the meals one day of the week to the ill, elderly or handicapped within a five-mile radius of the hospital. Drivers arrive at Lutheran General at 11:15 a.m. and delivery takes about one hour to complete. Community members interested in providing this service may phone 696-6105 between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. for more information. Adding a personal touch to this meal is Arnold Pittelko (right), Des Plaines, who has delivered more than 500 meals since the program's inception in 1973.

Free tax service for Senior Citizens

Tax counseling service, which provides free federal income tax assistance to older taxpayers will again be available for 1977 income tax returns. Technically known as the "VITA" program, it is a community service, sponsored by the National Retired Teachers Assn. and the American Assn. of Retired Persons under the VITA program of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service. The tax aides who assist taxpayers, are trained volunteers and are familiar particularly with the tax problems and tax benefits of older persons. The tax aides are from Skokie, Evanston, Glenview and Northbrook.

Tax counseling will be available Tuesdays, Wednesdays, and Thursdays, beginning Feb. 1 at the Skokie Public Library and on Fridays at the Skokie Senior Center beginning Feb. 17. For best results, taxpayers should bring completed 1977 tax returns for review and counsel by tax aides, although the aides will help with incomplete returns, if possible. Assistance with Illinois State returns will also be given. This free service will be by appointment only. Older persons desiring this service should call 673-0500, ext. 208 at the Skokie Senior Center.

ALL ABOUT EVE: You won't want to miss this favorite great movie. It'll be shown at the Center on Wednesday, Feb. 22. It has an all star cast, including Bette Davis, Ann Baxter, and Marilyn Monroe in a story about a young actress who uses everyone to rise to the top. Remember, showtime is at 1:30 p.m.

BINGO TICKET RULES: At this month's Senior Forum, the rules for distributing bingo tickets will be discussed. We'll review the current procedures and talk about some possible changes that have been suggested. A vote will be taken as to changes to be made, if any. Everyone is welcome to attend this forum which will be held on Monday, Feb. 27 at 1:30 p.m.

STAFF PLANS PANEL DISCUSSION: The staff at the Center has grown in size over time, as the Center expands its programs and services. On Tuesday, Feb. 28 at 1:30 p.m. the staff here will hold a panel discussion to introduce ourselves to everyone and explain something about what each of our responsibilities are. We hope that from this, people will gain a clear understanding of how the Center actually works. We'd like as many people as possible to attend.

Scheel addresses fire codes and standards seminar

Kenneth R. Scheel, Niles Village Manager, made the opening remarks at a recent seminar on fire codes and standards held in the White Eagle Restaurant. In his remarks, Scheel complimented the assembled fire officials for their efforts "to save lives and reduce property losses through better and safer fire and construction codes."

Messrs. Hugh

MacDonald, Brick Institute of America, and Colin Munro, Chicago Masonry Institute, led a discussion of fire resistive walls and recommended areas for inspection of buildings. Other topics covered included Local Code Requirements, Environmental Aspects of Fire Codes and Fundamentals for Multifamily Buildings; also Fire Resistive Floors and Roofs by Carl Carlsson, Edward Gloppen and Jack Guthrie.

This seminar is one of a series sponsored by the Portland Cement Association to increase the awareness of public officials toward the new technology in building construction that increases public safety by firesafe building materials and building methods. Material presented includes actual case histories where fire damage has been controlled to minimal losses rather than total losses because of the firesafety of concrete and masonry construction.

The Niles Seminar is the first of

The victim said the man grabbed her around the neck, throat and face in an attempt to force her into his car but she fought her way free and ran into her home.

Two 17-year-old boys coming down the street may also have been instrumental in frightening away the attacker said police.

A license number supplied by the witnesses turned out to be wrong, said Niles Police Lt. John Christie.

"Our only real clue was the victim's statement that the man had the 'smell of horses' about him."

Local riding stables and police in surrounding villages were alerted but chances for apprehension of the alleged rapist were slim noted the lieutenant until Morton Grove patrolman Daniel Donahue remembered a man answering to the description of the attacker.

Police described him as "very strange" and "far-out in his speech," dressed in work clothes of a stablehand.

MG man charged with attempted rape of Niles woman

by Alice M. Bobula

Bond was set at $100,000 Friday for a 30-year-old stable hand accused of the attempted sexual assault of a 17-year-old Niles girl Feb. 1 as she was shoveling the driveway of her home at night.

Police arrested Lindon Roy Knutson, an escapee from the Wisconsin Mendota Mental Health Institute, on Thursday morning charging him with assault and attempted rape after intensive questioning at the Niles police station.

The victim was able to describe her assailant "very accurately," said police. Niles detectives went to the Morton Grove stable near Harms and Golf Rd. Thursday morning to interrogate the suspect who admitted to the attack on the girl only after intensive questioning at the Niles police station.

Police described him as "very strange" and "far-out in his speech," dressed in work clothes of a stablehand.

Christie noted the "girl was very lucky... there is no doubt in my mind that she would not have escaped with her life."

Inaccurate information given by the witnesses was detrimental to the case noting the inaccuracy of the reported license number and that the description of the attacker's car "wasn't even close."

"Practically every Niles cop on every shift was involved in the police work," he commented, "but our biggest break came from Officer Donahue" in apprehension of the suspect. He said Knutson, a walk-away from the mental hospital, had a past record for kidnapping, rape and burglary and had been confined in the institution for 5 years on charges of rape. He was due for release in 1990.

The decorator touch that people like to touch.

We find a lot of folks order Touch-Call phones simply because of looks. We hear words like "stylish," "looks more modern," and "fits in with my decorating" from customers all the time.

Then there are those who say Touch-Call is faster. And easier on the long fingernails.

And there are those who think Touch-Call is more fun to use. They like the musical tones they hear when they place a call. As one wag put it, "Touch-Call is more in tune with the times."

When you're ready to change over to Touch-Call, just call our Business Office for full details on styles, colors, and the slightly additional rates.

Some things in life are made to be touched. The Touch-Call telephone is clearly one of them.

'Reaching forth'

by Larry F. Renetzky, A.C.S.W.

"Forget the things that are behind you and reach forth unto those things that are before you." Does this sound like a challenge to you? It is to me. It is so easy for us to become preoccupied with our past mistakes, problems and concerns that we just stay in a rut. Then we wonder why we never get anywhere, why our lives aren't happier and more fulfilling. If we don't get out of the rut of the past, then the past will act like quicksand to pull us down, and it will tend to depress us and make us feel hopeless.

Preoccupation with the past is one of the basic problems of an individual that I have in counseling. This person thinks about and talks about all of the hurts, grievances and problems of the past like it was yesterday. Such thinking is defeating and unhealthy, and it can be as devastating as cancer. Rather, a person must try to forget the past and reach forth unto those things that are before him.

There is a lot of truth to the expression, "As you think, so are you." Reflect on your thinking patterns from time to time during the day and week. How much of your thinking is preoccupied with your past mistakes, hurts and grievances? Spot such thinking so that you can begin to change your thought patterns. Changing such thought patterns is necessary before you can begin to overcome your anger, loneliness, fears, apprehensions, disappointments and ambiguities about the future.

Start right now to "reach forth" for those things that will lift you up, as well as help you to be more positive and hopeful. Here are some suggestions for you to reflect on and think about:

1. "Reach forth" to one who has hurt you and forgive them right now. Forgiveness can be one of the greatest healers of sick relationships, as well as of sick individuals suffering from depression, loneliness, hate and anger, etc.

2. "Reach forth" and say, "I'm sorry" if you have offended or hurt your spouse, children, friend, neighbor, fellow worker, and yes - even your enemy.

3. "Reach forth" and say, "Thank you" for those things that you too often take for granted from God and those close to you whether at home, work, school or play.

4. "Reach forth" in whatever you do in an attitude of rejoicing. Sure, there will be times when it is difficult to find something to rejoice about, but you will be pleasantly surprised how often you can find something positive to be happy about and rejoice in, even in difficult situations.

5. "Reach forth" for the good in people and situations you are involved with. If you look for the good, then good will come to you. Look for the bad and bad will come to you. This is not an absolute, but there is a lot of truth to the actuality of the "self-fulfilling prophecy".

6. "Reach forth" to give of yourself in a loving, thoughtful and considerate way. Usually, "the measure that you give is the measure that you receive."

7. "Reach forth" by being patient and understanding. Be slow to anger and to judge another. Put yourself in the other person's shoes -- try to be empathetic. The following Indian proverb makes a lot of sense: "Do not judge another till you have walked at least one mile in their moccasins."

These are seven ways that you can reach forth in this year of 1978. Hopefully, these seven will just trigger other ways that might be most relevant to you.

If you have an individual, marital or family problem, you can call Niles Family Service at 692-3396, or come into the office at 8060 Oakton St. in the Niles Trident Center.

The community orchestra is in its 26th year of bringing live symphonic music to the northwest suburban area. It provides an excellent outlet for non-professional musicians who wish to continue their musical education and develop their skills by playing fine music regularly.

Professional guest artists appear with the orchestra during the season. An opportunity is provided for young musicians to prepare for professional positions later. The members are auditioned before being selected and the orchestra strongly encourages and favors high school students to participate. This year string players are especially needed.

expenditures. Tuesday night at Apollo, and next Monday at Gemini, the public had been invited to air their views.

Washington School area resident Richard Berent wanted to know what would be the "common denominator" in dollar savings by various budget cuts. He felt the district should know the future school population before a definitive answer on cuts could be finalized.

The Board reported about 80% of the budget goes for teacher salaries. Berent mentioned cuts in teacher expenditures are the last items which should be eliminated in trimming budgets. Sue Motch, Stevenson School P.T.A., reported her group faavored the closing of schools but was opposed to the middle school concept, including 6th graders into the junior high school. This was a recommendation by the citizens facilities committee.

Ben Cohen, 8029, Lyons; Niles, a Washington School resident, took the school board to task for a lack of communications in the district.

Cohen noted Supt.

Moe came from a school district in Wisconsin which had the middle school

concept but he has not voiced his opinion on the matter.

Cohen emphasized the district must face the facts - decreasing enrollments and less financial state aid means closing schools. He added fiscal reality foretells the district can't put off for another year what must be done now (i.e. closing of schools).

Wilson school area resident Esther Wilson said she favored the closing of schools. She thought it was better to close 2 schools "all at once" rather than drag the inevitable issue over a longer period. She believed the needs of the child are the criteria which must be the primary goal in this matter. Better services and individualization must take precedent over being concerned about closing a school.

Figures released

and Niles Ave.); Courtland Park (Lyons and Washington); and Kirk Lane Park (Jonquil Terrace and Waukegan Rd.).

Commissioners also contemplate inclusion of the Recreation Center, 7877 Milwaukee Ave.; Point Park at Waukegan and Shermer rds. and Washington Terrace Park, Ballard and Washington. Park Director Bill Hughes was not totally convinced the extra lights were necessary in the Washington Park area altho he noted "several area residents had suggested the idea."

Monies will be set aside in next year's budget said Hughes predicated upon availability of cost figures and types of lighting.

Commissioners have become increasingly sensitive over wide-spread vandalism of park equipment, landscaping and in park facilities. However Comr. Jack Leske pointed out the problem is not unique... "Our situation is no different than that of other park districts who are undergoing similar occurrences."

An innovative anti-vandal ordinance adopted by the Park District June 15, 1976, places responsibility of restitution for destruction of public or private property on the parent or guardians of minors up to 17 years of age.

The park law was tested with positive results, five months later when 4 young teens charged with burning a piece of playground equipment at Oakton Manor Park were required and did pay for replacement costs set at $1,449.

Commissioners agree the park code is a deterrent but they note that the offenders must be apprehended for enforcement.

Park President Millie Jones observed that "other park districts don't wish to discuss vandalism incidents... we feel that more publicity will make Niles residents aware of what is going on, that their tax dollars will go to repairs."

And the repair costs have been staggering, she noted.

Other measures contemplated to protect park property are inter-action with a village Citizens Band (CB) patrol, employment of 3 park security guards and the possibility of starting vandalism-prevention programs in the schools and park district.

A voluntary civilian CB group under the supervising advisorship of Niles Police Sgt. Robert Klein has been patrolling village shopping centers and is considering, at the park district's request, the widening of their patrol to include park areas.

Three park rangers employed Feb. 1 under a $119,000 Comprehensive Employment and Training Act (CETA) grant to the Park District will patrol the parks daily between 4 p.m. and midnight.

We noted in recent years the early press run was necessary to enable the News to be trucked 25 miles from its downtown plant. Thus, news which broke in the early afternoon was too late for the suburban editions.

Much of the day's news was the same as what appeared in the morning papers, which destroyed the need to buy the newspaper.

Most Daily News watchers are pointing a finger at television as the culprit which has knocked the evening newspapers out of the box all over the country. It's really so much easier to turn on Walter Cronkite or David Brinkley and receive a mini-news report, rather than spend time leafing through a 50 or 60 page paper.

Perhaps it's an evolutionary process. Not too many years ago Chicago and New York had 7 to 8 daily newspapers successfully competing for the advertising dollar. But TV has been a tough competitor.

Sport news coverage on the scene is superior on TV, so long as the picture on the tube is the whole story. The recent Humphrey funeral was best told via the cathode tube. And live pictures of the recent snow barrage can best be described on a TV screen. A political convention or a sports event or the Kennedy assassinations were best reported on television. But the interpretation of the new event can best be done by the written word. No matter how many times you watch the replay of your favorite touchdown, the morning after report with its supplementary stories are important to Joe Sports Fans. Likewise, no matter how many times you hear stories from the middle east on TV, an interpretative report in a daily newspaper is essential to understanding the complexities of the story.

Perhaps an around-the-clock newspaper may be the eventual solution to running a profitable operation in the big city. But more likely newspaper buying will primarily take place in the mornings with television news filling the evening void.

Unfortunately, the greater reliance on television is not likely to improve the product. The poor quality of Chicago TV news is incredible. Only this past week Channel 2 was touting a highly advertised feature about kidnapping executives, which was a major feature of their nightly news. It was a dumb story, a sheer waste of effort. But the station pandered to its lowest denominator.

A newspaper is an important part of the fabric in a democracy. Within the past 6 months the Daily News broke the important O'Hare and taxi cab scandals which are important news every citizen should be aware of. The vitality of our city, state and nation is tempered by the work our newspapers do.

I'll feel a great sense of loss when my friend won't be waiting in my driveway beginning in March. He's been waiting for me for 40 years, 6 nites a week. Neither Walter nor David will be able to take his place.

Service station may face license revocation

by Alice M. Bobula

A village license revocation hearing held Friday, Feb. 3 drew testimony from numerous complainants which could lead to revocation or suspension of a business license issued to the Village Service Mobile Station at 7969 Milwaukee ave. Niles' Hearing Officer Gerald Murphy indicated he would review all evidence as presented and would forward his recommendations to mayor Nicholas Blase for a decision. Murphy emphasized the Feb. 3 investigation as "an administrative hearing," not a criminal trial.

According to Niles ordinance, "The mayor shall have the power to suspend or revoke any license other than a retail liquor business issued under the Code for good and sufficient cause or if he determines the licensee shall have violated any of the provisions of this Code ... no license shall be so revoked or suspended except after a public hearing..."

Detailed complaints since April, 1977 had been lodged against Helmut Lapp, administrator of the Service Station. Plaintiffs charged Lapp during the 3 hour hearing with "Exorbitant and unreasonable charges for auto repair services."

A Des Plaines man said his wife left their car at the station for an oil change, oil filter and lubrication. She was told she would be getting a $6.95 special but would have to pay for one extra quart

Now is the time... to get your 1978 license plates.
