Park accepts delivery of new buses

by Alice M. Bobula

The long-awaited delivery of two International school-type buses to the Niles Park District last week was formally welcomed Tuesday evening by park commissioners, termed by Comr. Jeff Arnold as "a fine Valentine's Day gift."

Delivery of the fully air-conditioned motor coaches was delayed from last year to mid-January to February for addition of comfort stations. The specially designed buses which accommodate 42 adult passengers or 63 children were gifted to the park district in February, 1977 thru village revenue-sharing funds of $50,000.

Park Commissioner Steve Charnerski noted the motor coaches will make a maiden trip on a Ladies Choice park program within another week. They are expected for use in summer day camp events, special runs for supervised playground trips and other programs needing mobile transportation.

Director Bill Hughes said the park district has already been "bombarded with requests from other Niles organizations to use the buses which are available at operational costs."

Citizen's Award for honesty

Niles Police Captain William Terpinas, on behalf of Chief Clarence Emrikson, recently presented the Chief's Citizen's Award Certificate to Walter Ebner. Mr. Ebner, who is employed at a local business establishment in the Village of Niles, found a ladies wallet containing $5,400 worth of jewelry, credit cards and other identification and promptly returned the missing articles to their owner.

The owner of the lost property, a Niles resident, reported that she had lost her wallet to the Niles Police Department and subsequently returned to advise that her lost items were returned to her by Mr. Ebner.

In presenting the Chief's Citizen's Award to Mr. Ebner, Captain Terpinas stated, "We are giving recognition to Walter Ebner for his honesty and respect for another person's personal property and we commend him for his actions."

Disaster planning insures Village of Niles

by Alice M. Bobula

Niles last week approved a village ordinance and Emergency Preparedness Plan aimed toward receiving federal and state funding and special equipment when needed in event of natural or man made disaster, with no cost to the village.

Co-ordinator of the Plan, Niles Police Captain Ed Dennis said the Disaster Plan will be submitted to the Emergency Services Disaster Agency (ESDA), a State aid agency headquartered in Springfield for approval. Following further implementation of the Plan by village department heads, Niles will be eligible for disaster aid from State funds and federal subsidy.

Dennis said the Emergency Disaster Preparedness Program (EDPP) is an outgrowth of the Civilian Defense Program of World War II.

He noted the basic, 40-page, Disaster Plan for Niles was initiated through planning last November in co-operation with State officials to provide an understanding of needs necessitated by disaster.

In the event of an internal problem arising from a tornado causing destruction or a major fire where village equipment is destroyed, Niles could get immediate aid in surplus equipment from the armed forces or needed monies from state and federal agencies at no cost to the municipality in order to continue emergency aid.

Creditability thru the Disaster Program also provides coverage under Workmen's Compensation for volunteer workers injured in a disaster.

Under the program Dennis pointed out that Niles is also eligible as a municipality to purchase needed equipment for buildings or for roadwork at low or minimal cost to the village.

Further, he noted, in an emergency waterbreak situation at night where extra lighting is needed, a hot line thru the Niles Fire Department to Springfield will provide a surplus army vehicle equipped with generator and lights to the village. The only cost involved would be to send village personnel to pick up the vehicle.

A village Disaster Plan formulated several years ago but never officially adopted was used very successfully during the March, 1976 tornado. The new plan according to Dennis will be State-approved, provides more co-ordination and will supply needed equipment and financing through state and federal sources.

Dennis said the ESDA is in operation in Springfield 24 hours a day and could provide aircraft if necessary as transportation for volunteer help at no cost to the municipality.

The tab for services rendered to the village in a disaster would be paid by the state agency he said.

Police break up pot party

Three 18-year-old youths were charged Wednesday, Feb. 15 with possession of marijuana after police investigation of a cannabis party in Motel 6 at 6450 Touhy ave.

Arrested were Daniel Stegmeyer of 821 N. Countryside in Mundelein; Anthony Tortrice of 5301 N. Oak Park ave.; and John Belcaster of 5420 Normal in Chicago. All three were released on bail pending a March 3 hearing in Niles Court.

Two other youths, both 17, were released without complaint. According to police several other males bolted from the Motel room escaping arrest.

Investigating police said they went to a room in Motel 6 around 4:30 p.m. Wednesday to check out complaint of a pot party when the door opened to reveal seven youths in a smoke filled room littered with cans and bottles of beer.

Police said one of the teens attempted to hide 18 hand rolled cigarettes under a mattress; another held a package filled with a green leafy substance; and the third dropped a plastic bag containing marijuana on the floor.

All public officials, elected or appointed, of any governmental unit in the township are invited to attend.

Ticket cost to cover dinner, tax and gratuity is $3.50 per person.

Reservations can be made by contacting R. F. Leider, Northern Illinois Gas Co., 724-6700.

Raffe said precinct election judges will delete the names of persons believed moved or deceased during a county-wide canvass on Tuesday, Feb. 21. A notification card should be left at the premises of such persons, he added.

If an error has been made, the voter may correct it by completing an affidavit at the township office on either Monday or Tuesday of next week, Raffe said.

Raffe also said his office will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on both days. Persons challenging the notice must bring the notification card with them, he added. Raffe further said his office would assist any resident of Cook County, not just Maine Township residents.

Niles Family Service Thought for the Week

[By Larry Renetzky]

"Forgiveness is Healing"

Most all of us have had the experience of being forgiven or of giving forgiveness to someone we love. To feel truly forgiven is to feel truly loved!

I recently had the experience of being forgiven by a dear friend, one who I had been separated from because of a deep hurt for both of us for almost a year. But I recently received a letter from my friend asking for my forgiveness of her part in the problem. Because of that letter, I knew that I too had been forgiven and that I am loved. It was a time of great healing for both of us. When I lost my friend I learned what it meant to lose one of the most precious things that I have in life - a relationship with a unique person who can never be replaced.

Through forgiveness, I have a renewed desire and courage to learn to be a better friend. I have learned that without forgiveness my relationships can never endure or grow better. It is certain that all of us at some time desperately need a new beginning, a fresh hope, a second chance.

If there is someone who you love that needs your forgiveness, please make the effort to work through your hurt and bitter feelings towards that person. In giving forgiveness, you can enjoy relationships which otherwise you will lose.

You might ask what is forgiveness or why forgive anyway. The following are some answers:

Forgiveness!

It is the power that one chooses to release for healing - healing between groups of people, friends, and family members.

When I forgive someone I offer renewed trust and care to him/her.

I recognize his unique importance to me, and I realize his infinite worth as a person.

To forgive I know that I too have often needed forgiveness.

To forgive I demonstrate that I too am of infinite worth and unique importance - I have my unique friendship to give to you.

I have the gift of offering you love even when it has not been earned - a very powerful gift because it is unearned.

I love courageously and unselfishly when you need it most and when it is hardest to give.

To forgive you, I must know what it means to forgive myself. And this I can do when I realize God forgives me.

If I choose not to forgive - I choose to hate you, live separated from you in the most real way.

If I choose to forgive, I assert my humanness and I fulfill my destiny of a loving and healing relationship.

Urge support for Calvin Sutker

Dear Editor:
I have been reading and hearing about the disorganized and fragmented suburban Democrats who fail to come up to their potential political power. We have a suburban political leader who exhibits the strength and who can and will organize and harness this potential power for all suburbanites in the person of Calvin Sutker, Niles Township Democratic Committeeman. Here are some of the reasons as the basis for this statement of fact.

Sutker accepted the reigns of leadership of a disorganized group of men and women, who were interested in good government and the election of good public officials, and molded them into a viable, cohesive and well directed organization.

Because of his untiring efforts and knowledgeable guidance and forthright approach to all problems, there is a constant growth in the number of new members and volunteers who continue to join and work for the Niles Township Democratic Organization.

Through his responsive representation as committee man, he began and still continues on with affirmative action programs.

Sutker has the rare quality of a blend of ability, understanding, personal astuteness and personal integrity to become the suburban leader so that the political power of the suburbs can be used at all statemaking sessions where the selection of candidates is made.

He is a candidate for reelection as Niles Township Democratic Committeeman and election as 10th District Congressional State Central Committeeman.

Although he is unopposed, we must all get out on March 21 and cast our votes for him so that it can serve notice upon all other Township Committeemen, the Cook County Central Committee and State Central Committee of exactly how we feel about Calvin Sutker's leadership. In this way, we can utilize our present and continuing upgraded power and become a strong force in proper party politics.

All voters in the 10th Congressional District and Niles Township please note: The larger the number of votes a committee man receives in a primary, the larger the number of votes he can cast at all statemaking sessions and the louder his voice becomes, without shouting, in all policy making decisions and at all platform meetings. He is and will continue to be your representative, for your best interests. Let's all get out and vote for Calvin Sutker on March 21, 1978.

Sincerely yours,
Arthur S. Bluestein
Skokie, Ill.

'Niles is a very special place'

Dear Editor:
On Friday, Jan. 27 at about 8:15 I boarded a Niles Free Bus at Penney's in the Golf Mill Shopping Center.

I became seriously ill shortly after boarding the bus and asked the driver if she could leave her route and drive me directly home. She said yes and on the way to my home, I told her my condition was worsening and asked if she could drive me to Lutheran General instead. As she swung around she spotted a police car near the Oak-Mill shopping area and said, "I'll stop there; they'll help and it will be faster." The officer called the Fire Department and a Paramedic team arrived in 2 or 3 minutes. The care they gave me enroute to the hospital was reassuring.

I would like to extend a special "Thank You" to the driver of the Niles Free Bus; her quick thinking saved me precious minutes. Also a special "Thank You" to the Paramedic team for their care and the service they perform.

Dear Editor:

Keep Valuables Safe At The First

Safety deposit boxes are not a new idea but, according to the First National Bank of Des Plaines, Lee and Prairie, too often people do not take advantage of the protection the boxes provide.

Fire, burglary, flood, vandalism and so forth have been known to completely destroy important papers and valuable personal property which would never have been lost had they been in the bank vault. Treasured baby pictures, photos of past generations and heirloom jewelry can never be replaced for any price. Large, expensive stamp or coin collections, which increase in value annually, become even more costly to replace.

Red-tape procedures make it difficult and almost impossible to duplicate birth certificates, wills, military records, insurance policies and stocks and bonds. Such personal papers should be considered valuable and given as much protection as expensive jewels.

The First National Bank says for as little as $7 per year customers can gain peace of mind while providing a safe, secure place for valuables. The bank provides comfortable, private booths for reviewing the contents of safety deposit boxes which can accommodate small as well as larger items. For complete information come in to the First National Bank of Des Plaines or phone, 827-4411.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND VIEWS

Presented by the area's leading financial business representatives

Marvin Milazo, Vice President
GLENVIEW STATE BANK

Mr. Marvin Milazo, vice president of Glenview State Bank, recently stated that statistics show that, despite predictions of the automotive industry, the American people are reluctant to part with luxury cars. Comfort, performance and prestige are the basic reasons the public will endure the increased costs of operating the larger automobile.

Glenview State Bank, a leader in auto financing among suburban banks, has experienced the same trend with their customers.

Early in 1976 the auto manufacturers took drastic steps to divert production toward mid-size and compact cars. The gasoline shortage caused by the oil embargo created a temporary but heavy demand for more economical vehicles. However, by late spring of that same year, as fuel prices and supply returned to a more normal level, the demand subsided.

Mr. Milazzo commented that it will be interesting to follow the industry's progress on the required improvement of gasoline mileage without sacrificing weight and size. "A marketing campaign directed at conditioning the American auto buyers to not only accept, but want smaller cars, is the only alternative to a large surplus. Such a surplus would allow the imports to maintain their current substantial sales lead over American compacts."

Due to the increased competition, the advertising and promotional efforts will not only be interesting to follow, but could prove to be beneficial from the dollar point of view.

Glenview State Bank offers a wide variety of financing new autos, luxury or compact, and has terms as long as 42 months for new cars. Information on the bank's complete one stop service may be obtained by calling or stopping into the bank located at 800 Waukegan rd., Glenview.

Talman president reports on 1977 as record year

Talman Federal Savings & Loan Association's 1977 operating performance surpassed the excellent records set in 1976, according to a report made by Dimitry Wanda, President, at the Association's Annual Meeting, held Feb. 15 at 5501 S. Kedzie ave.

Total savings deposits rose by $199.6 million during the year to reach $1 billion, 533 million on Dec. 31. This was a 14.9% increase over 1976. Total assets at the end of the year were $1 billion, 939 million, a growth of 18.9%. Interest paid to savers was $93.2 million. This is the largest sum paid out in Talman's history and was taken entirely from operating profits.

At the year's end, Talman's mortgage loan portfolio totaled $1 billion, 580 million, an increase of 19.9% over the previous year. The total lending volume set new records by exceeding a half billion dollars for the first time.

In a statement issued by Wanda, the Talman Chief Executive Officer stated, "We were pleased to attain the new savings growth forecast last year. Talman set new records in lending as well as in the amount we added to reserves for the protection of our savers. In addition, we significantly improved our operations and expanded our customer base.

Much of our growth and profitability can be attributed to our branching efforts. Through careful planning and good site selection, we have brought full-service convenience to present customers and have made many new ones. Our present branches account for a major share of our savings and mortgage business. We continue to see branching as a means of strengthening Talman and of assuring continued flows of savings capital for investment within neighborhoods and communities throughout our metropolitan lending area.

In 1978 we will see a considerable expansion in our branching operations. We have scheduled three branch openings in Chicago for 1978, - one which opened on Feb. 13 on the north side in Piper's Alley, one on Michigan ave. in the Marriott Hotel, and one in the community of Garfield Ridge. An additional office will be opened in the Northbrook Shopping Court to serve the growing northwest suburban area."

Also included on the agenda was an audit of Talman's social responsibility to its customers, the public and the communities Talman serves.

In issuing the audit, Mr. Wanda stated, "We are one of the largest home lending institutions in the United States. During our fifty-six year history, we have helped finance the development and growth of many of our city's neighborhoods and suburbs. We have always placed a special emphasis in our ability to meet the demand made of us for residential mortgage loans. Irrespective of other investment opportunities, residential home lending at Talman remains stronger than ever and there are no indications that this will change. We are a home lender and will continue to be so."

While there will always be a need for new residential construction in the building of new communities, we recognize that there are economic factors which effectively prohibit a growing segment of home buyers from being able to purchase such homes.

"As a consequence, we continue to be aware that our nation's existing housing stock is an asset and a resource which must be preserved.

"The conservation of such housing stock is vital to providing adequate housing for many more individuals and families. Providing financing for such buyers is necessary to the health and welfare of urban areas in which such valuable housing stock is located.

"Because of this, we place a special emphasis on lending within our city neighborhoods. In 1977, Talman disbursed a record $240.7 million to residential home buyers throughout our metropolitan area of which 40% or $95.7 million was within the city of Chicago. Within our five zip code home office area, we disbursed $24.5 million. We believe we can be justly proud of these city neighborhood lending figures."

In his closing remarks, Wanda said "We have the management team and staff to better the operating results of 1977 in the year ahead and a Board of Directors to support and guide us. As President of Talman I am grateful to work with such professional, cooperative and dedicated people. However, we could not achieve anything without the loyal support and encouragement of our customers.

For that, all of us at Talman are grateful."

Talman Federal Savings and Loan Association, the second largest savings and loan in Illinois operates from ten offices in its home office at 55th and Kedzie, two other Chicago locations at One N. Wacker and North Avenue and Wells st., and in the suburbs of Skokie, Glen Ellyn, Schaumburg, Oak Park, Oak Lawn, Aurora and Orland Park.

Salamon Pledges Fight Against Quotas

Gene Salamon, Republican candidate for Congress from the northern suburban 10th district, yesterday pledged that bringing an end to "reverse discrimination, fostered by the federal government," would be a goal of his service in the U.S. House of Representatives.

"Preferential treatment, based on race, stands our democratic concept of equality on its head," Salamon told a group of area college students gathered at his Morton Grove headquarters. "It diminishes the opportunity to compete for those who don't belong to a preferred group. And that is just plain wrong."

Salamon responded to the students concern that in recent years many colleges and universities have adopted preferential admissions policies which discriminate against otherwise qualified students simply because they are not members of a preferred minority group. "I feel strongly that there is need for the federal government to enforce existing laws so that such unfair policies are brought to an end," the Evanston Republican declared, citing the Civil Rights Act of 1965 as, "an area of our law which has seen only selective enforcement."

Fingerprints found on the doors have been sent to the crime lab for comparison with those taken from officers on duty at the time.

The investigation began when the marijuana was found missing between Monday, Jan. 30 and the early morning hours of Tuesday, Jan. 31. The evidence technician went into the locker the next day and observed that it had been disturbed.

The marijuana had been confiscated by police following discovery in a personal search of 2 girls "presumably from Chicago" following their apprehension at Sears for theft. Emrikson noted the case was entered as a shoplifting charge, "that the marijuana was an auxiliary...that one must be in possession of 30 grams (slightly over 1 ounce) in order to institute charges under a class A misdemeanor."

He said the missing marijuana was minimal in amount as compared to other narcotics contained in the evidence locker of heroin, cocaine, large amounts of marijuana, weapons and other evidence needed in presentation of court cases, which had been left untouched.

Emrikson said the lab technician, a retired 25-year Chicago policeman who came to work for Niles police 2 years ago, held sole responsibility for all evidence kept within the cabinet in the ID (identification) room used for photographing suspects... "But I hold no hesitation regarding him..."

"There is no way an outside source could get into the cabinet...it has to be someone on the inside," he noted referring to top security which surrounds the station.

A preliminary theory connecting the missing evidence with the shoplifter's case was ruled out following investigation of case facts said the Chief. Both had been released on bond pending a Dec.-24 hearing continued because of Christmas Eve to Jan. 27 when the case was continued by motion of the state to Feb. 24.

Reconstruction of the incident indicated difficulty in grabbing anything thru the narrow opening said Emrikson. "It appears to be a matter of someone sticking a hand inside the cabinet and taking the first thing available."

He noted improved security of locking bars on the cabinet now make it virtually impossible to gain access to the locker "short of breaking the case."

At this time, said Emrikson, "we have done all the collecting (of fingerprints) and taken statements from duty personnel...now we are waiting for lab (crime laboratory) results. If the lab results are negative, I will have to take other step whatever those might be..."

If it's a matter of misplacing evidence, we can correct that," noted the Chief. "If someone is actually dipping into the evidence, it means I have to get rid of that someone...but we want to exhaust all possibilities."

Police have undergone three previous unrelated internal investigations beginning with October, 1976 when two officers were released from duty following an official probe of the evidence locker in Lincolnwood if the referendum is passed; these services include reciprocal borrowing with 41 neighboring libraries. Mrs. Kienitz reported on the wide range of programs and activities the Lincolnwood Library has presented to the public, along with the collection of 14,000 books and 75 magazine and newspaper subscriptions.

In September of 1977, the Niles Fire and Police Commission reprimanded 2 officers and gave a 2-day suspension without pay to a third policeman following a department-initiated inquiry thru citizen complaint of "improper handling" of an emergency situation in the Greenlakes Shopping Center.

Internal investigation October, 1977 stemmed from a resident charge that a Niles patrolman tore up his driver's license and locked the man out of his car after stopping him on a traffic violation.

The Niles Police Department is presently under a $13,500 comprehensive study with a 6-month completion date set from November, 1977.

Both kinds of libraries must be established by the voters in a referendum and must be governed by independent elected boards. Both kinds of boards determine their tax rates within limits set by the law and cannot increase those rates without an opportunity for voters to vote in another referendum. Most library districts include larger areas than just one village, but the library district proposed for Lincolnwood has the same boundaries as the village. Tax rates of municipal libraries are included with the village rate on tax bills; in library districts, the tax rate is listed separately on tax bills.

The differences are so slight," Mrs. Grant answered, "that I can't imagine why anyone would think a municipal library is preferable. We've been enjoying a free sample, $100,000 worth of library service. Why should we give this up, close the library doors, lose 14,000 books, and then start all over again to try to establish a municipal library?"

Niles Township Reclamation Center

Nearly 70% of average household waste can be reused. Today each American produces 4.5 pounds of consumer waste each day. It used to be that the villages would just collect the garbage and bury it, in what today is called sanitary landfill. But many groups such as the Niles Township Reclamation Center, a sub-program of Niles Township High Schools are offering an alternative to just throwing the garbage away. In 1971 the high school established a Recycling Center at its West campus adjacent to the football stadium. The purpose of this reclamation center is to serve as a collection point where people who are concerned about saving energy, natural resources and tax dollars could bring their odd bottles and jars as well as cans, newspapers, magazines, catalogs and other paper products to be reused. Since the program's conception it has been growing by leaps and bounds as more people become aware and concerned about the environment.

sial material in the report, Blase and his friends could delay the report until after March 21.

While we don't have figures to report, Maine Township is a Republican area which seldom decreases its proportion of victory. Des Plaines and Park Ridge, in particular, are bedrock Republican areas. No matter who leads the League, explained the reasons for the League's support of the library referendum. After an extensive study of Lincolnwood's library needs, she said, the League concluded that library service was a high priority item for residents, that a library should be community-based, and that its most reliable source of support would be a tax rate.

Other speakers at the forum, held in Rutledge Hall, were Robert R. McClaren, director of the North Suburban Library System, which operates the present demonstration library in Lincolnwood, and LaDonna T. Kienitz, Lincolnwood librarian.

McClaren explained the legal basis for the demonstration library and for a district library and outlined the System services available to Lincolnwood if the referendum is passed; these services include reciprocal borrowing with 41 neighboring libraries.

Obviously, the role of committeeman means power. If you have a business in the community, it can readily be transferred to your checkbook. And that's what being a committeeman of a minority party in a township is all about.

Rich Harczak hosted an evening for Lou Kasper last week at the White Eagle restaurant. Rich, a Democrat, explained he owed his Republican friend a favor. The Cook County sheriff candidate was highly pleased with the tremendous turn-out. The crowd filled the main room at the White Eagle restaurant. It was most impressive. Harczak said it was conceivable he might sponsor a similar affair for Kasper's Democratic opponent. He has previously hosted affairs for Mike Howlett and Alan Dixon, both Democrats.

A great public relations gimmick which would enhance the image of public officials, as well as provide a great service for villagers, is the plowing of snow-covered sidewalks. A vehicle the size of a jeep could quickly clear sidewalks in small communities which might be a life-saver to the many overtaxed hearts in our towns. When I first heard of this service which Skokie has, I scoffed at public funds being used for this effort. But after a winter of incredible shoveling, my aching back and 53 year old heart would welcome such a service.

My favorite editor, Diane Miller, has an excellent suggestion which our villages might consider. She suggests fire departments undertake a campaign for installing fire-smoke alarms in all residences. She assures the departments could probably purchase alarms at a substantial savings which could be passed on to residents.

Before retired Niles Captain Sam Bubley left for warmer climates, he gave me my first alarm which has recently been installed. It's easy to do and should be a must for all homes.

After undergoing the ravages of the recent fire to our former offices, we've become increasingly aware of fire hazards. It never dawned on us we could become victimized. We're sure most of you have this same lulled sense of security. Two alarms in your home are a minor investment. But they'll give you major protection.

Niles Township Reclamation Center

The Recycling Center located at 7929 Austin ave. in Skokie now serves over 900 people each year, which last year alone accounted for over 2 million pounds of material recycled and reused instead of just being tossed aside.

Dempster Plaza State Bank held its bi-monthly Bingo Game at the Trident Center on Valentines Day, Tuesday, Feb. 14. As always the players were delighted with the Bingo Games and the delicious cakes brought in by the bank for refreshments. The Special Games played were the H Game, the Pajama Game (Top & Bottom), and the X Game.

Mr. Bud Elman, from the Royal Welcome of Niles stopped by to take pictures of the activities as a part of their presentation of the bank to new residents of Niles.

Celia Hansen, Assistant Cashier, and Gina Garippo of New Accounts were Hostesses from the bank for the afternoon.

They were very gratified with the happy response from the players.

M-NASR Cub Scouts

Every Thursday evening from 7 until 8:30 p.m. a new Cub Scout Pack meets at Oketo Park in Morton Grove. The Pack, sponsored by the Maine-Niles Association of Special Recreation, is open to boys over the age of 8 with physical or mental handicaps, learning disabilities, behavior disorders, or visual or hearing impairments.

Scouting offers boys the opportunity to participate in activities which arouse their interests and broaden the scope of their awareness. This is important for all boys, but it is doubly important for boys with special needs. Their curiosity, imagination and energy levels are at the same peaks as normal boys, but the opportunities they are afforded to quench their interests are limited by their disabilities.

Another asset that Cub Scouts provides is the stress that it places on family involvement. Parent participation aids parents and boys to develop lines of communication and mutual interests.

For further information on this unique opportunity, contact the Maine-Niles Association of Special Recreation at 674-5512.
