Mill View residents forced to maneuver wheelchairs in traffic lanes

Wheelchairs buck Golf Road traffic

by Diane Miller
The next time you're driving down Golf rd. and a little irritated by the traffic congestion, take a little solace in the fact that while in traffic, you have the reasonable security of the steel shell of your vehicle around you.

This is far more protection than is afforded the residents of Mill View Nursing Home, 8333 Mill rd., Niles, who are confined to wheelchairs.

Every day several of these residents, who Mill View's administrator Myron Gurell describes as being very mentally alert and active, but physically incapacitated, wend their way over to Four Flaggs Shopping Center to look around and perhaps afford themselves a little enjoyment. Many are young people stricken with crippling diseases which have, in some cases, disabled both their arms and legs and subsequently been the reason for their confinement.

In order for these people to get over to Four Flaggs, they have to maneuver their wheelchairs, without help of any kind, out of the driveway of Mill View directly into a lane of traffic on Golf rd. They then can pull off Golf rd. and cross the driveways of the Standard Car Wash. Then it's back to Golf rd. to get around the cement curbing that leads

Total of 8 candidates vying for 2 park posts

5 women seek two park seats

by Alice M. Bobula

Woman power - a slogan that may pack more charm today than punch - may become more effective in the future of the Niles Park District.

Two women, Mary Marusek and Luella Blaine Preston, are expected to fill vacancies on the Park Board in June. One will be appointed to the seat vacated last April by Millie Jones; the second, a virtual unknown to Niles, may be the replacement for Park Comr. Jack Leske who has indicated he will announce his resignation from the Board at the June 13 meeting.

The expected appointees were the only two of eight remaining candidates to attend the May park board meeting. A third candidate, familiar to monthly park meetings, was also present but had earlier announced his withdrawal from the park contest due to personal reasons.

There are eight candidates seeking the two posts. They include former park board

June is a happy month. Graduations and weddings fill the neighborhoods. The days are warm. Lots of sunshine and everybody feels festive.

This past weekend Maple Street in Morton Grove was filled with joy. Sunday afternoon we were sharing a Maple Street backyard with 30 or 40 other people. A friend who dates back to our Ozanam Avenue days in Niles, Audrey Rothenberg, was being surprised upon, by the backyard gang behind her home. Audrey, mother of five, had just graduated from college, and everyone was very proud of her. Between keeping the nest warm and teaching as an aide in District 63 schools, Audrey was commuting back and forth to Bryn Mawr ave. to complete her teaching courses leading to the much sought-after degree. Sunday was Audrey's day, and the beer and pop drinkers toasted the lady amidst the music of the popping of the cans' tabs.

Down the street Bernie and Gladys Pierce were having an open house for their daughter Karen and son-in-law, both of whom graduated from medical school. It was an incredible accomplishment and the parents were rightfully proud. The very bright young lady entered medical school without taking a pre-med course. When her husband took his tests to enter med school, she decided to take them. She did so well a professor at Illinois, amazed at her success without a science background, insisted she move into the medical school.

Sunday evening we were at the wedding of the Norman Greenberg family. And I do mean the wedding was a family affair. Normally, you refer to a wedding as being between a bride and groom. But when this huge family gets together, it's a family celebration which spills over with endless aunts and cousins and nephews and nieces and uncles. It was joy, sort of a communal love-in. Indeed, it was what joyous moments are all about.

Friday night we were dining with 200 Niles Lions, their spouses and friends at the White Eagle restaurant. It was a different kind of celebration from our Sunday ventures, but equally as much fun. The Niles Lions are a bunch of old-shoe guys. The speakers and MC's get before the microphones and

Niles resident displays home replica at Niles Library

A hand-made doll house, a replica of a local home, is now on display in the main reading room of the Niles Public Library. Victor Lubaszka of 8517 Bruce dr., Niles, is exhibiting at the Library a near-perfect duplicate of his own residence which took him three months to make. He conceived the idea of building the house when laid up with a fractured thumb and in search of something to do to wile away the hours of free time. Some viewers might recall a television spot of WLS-TV about this project which aired three years ago. The house is a study in improvisation, being almost entirely constructed with scratch materials available around the home or obtainable cheaply from an art supply shop. For instance the brick exterior of the house is duplicated by art board, and the stone front is simulated by scrap kitchen tile. The interior lighting fixtures are made from inverted cold cream jars and the wall pictures are simply framed postage stamps. A pool table in the "rec room" is actually functional, the balls being colored ball bearings. (The composition of the table itself is most interesting: thirty different kinds of wood went into its construction.) There is even a miniature doll house lying on the floor of one of the bedrooms in direct reflection of this doll house's location in Lubaszka's house.

Lubaszka has always been interested in model building and is also an electric train enthusiast, but this is the only doll house project that he has undertaken. He had hoped to give the house to a future granddaughter, but so far his plans have been to no avail. All his grandchildren are boys! The house will remain on display until June 30. Visitors may view it during the Library's regular hours: Monday through Friday 9-9; Saturday 1-9.

Scouts deck out Niles Library in flowers

The Niles Public Library is decked out in its summer best these days thanks to the floricultural efforts of some helpful Brownies and Junior Girl Scouts. The girls from Brownie Troop No. 326 and Junior Girl Scout Troop No. 944 sponsored by St. John Brebeuf School and Niles South Elementary, respectively, combined their botanical talents to plant four large pots of red robust geraniums and purple petunias on the Library's Oakton Street veranda. Many of the flowers are now in full bloom, gracefully adorning the courtyard for those who wish to drop over and turn "going to the library" into a pleasant outdoor sport.

The Library is grateful to the following for their time and their flowers: Brownie troop leaders Barbara Beierwaltes, Jeannette

Piton and Mary Miller; Brownies Lana Bondacurri, Cathy Beierwaltes, Amy De Lorenzo, Diane Kiehr, Sandy Lepold, Jo Ann Matlak, Jaclyn Matlak, Alison Duffy, Janet Rypela, Amy Surau, Cathy Romanek, Kristine Miller, Susan Drefler and Cindy Reid; Junior Girl Scout leaders Laurie Hildebrand and Judy Slisz; Girl Scouts Nancy Chmielinski, Linda Disch, Lisa Fallarone, Karen Hildebrand, Barbara Kassel, Lisa Misale, Leslie Power, Laurie Reichert, Nancy Roback, Lisa Salm, Becki Shanz, Debbie Slisz, and Sharon Zeitler. (Hildebrand and Roback attend Niles North Elementary.)

This project was one of many carried out by the girls in their efforts to make the Niles Public Library an attractive place to look at and visit.

Reverse mortgage bill to benefit seniors

A reverse mortgage bill, which would allow senior citizens to use the equity in their homes to pay their real estate taxes, was passed Friday by the State Senate.

The legislation, sponsored by Senate President Thomas C. Hynes (D-Chicago), and Senator Howard W. Carroll (D-15th) would permit state chartered banks, savings and loan associations and credit unions with assets of at least $1 million to make reverse mortgage loans to persons 65 years of age or older "for the purpose of paying real estate taxes".

The reverse mortgage concept has been endorsed by both the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which regulates savings and loan institutions, and by the United States League of Savings Associations.

Under the provisions of this legislation, Carroll said, "the owner of a single family home, condominium or cooperative apartment could obtain a loan based on the value of his home from a financial institution, which then would pay the real estate taxes on the property." Approximately 1,200 state-chartered banks, savings and loans and credit unions in Illinois would be authorized to make reverse mortgage loans.

Interest payments on the loans would be tax deductible, and the reverse mortgage—the amount of real estate taxes paid by the lender—would be repaid when the homeowner sold his property or passed away.

The legislation also would direct the Illinois Commissioner of Savings and Loan Associations, the Commissioner of Banks and Trust Companies and the Director of the Department of Financial Institutions to prescribe joint rules and regulations to govern reverse mortgages.

Hynes, the Democratic candidate for Cook County assessor, noted that the reverse mortgage loan was one of several more flexible approaches to mortgages recommended for further consideration in a report released earlier this year by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. After an 18-month study, the bank board concluded that reverse mortgages "offer the potential of a new financial service of major social significance."

A type of reverse mortgage currently is being offered to senior citizens by Broadview Savings in Independence, Ohio. In addition, a recently enacted law in California authorizes lending institutions there to work with state regulatory agencies to develop reverse mortgage plans.

Berger opposes Nazi march

Samuel S. Berger, Democratic candidate for State Senator in the Fourth District, this week praised the efforts of Skokie officials and State Senator Howard Carroll (D-15th) in seeking to prevent a Nazi march in Skokie.

"I join all decent citizens of Skokie and throughout the world in my shock and outrage at the plans of a small group of misfits and outcasts who want to raise the ugly banner of Nazism here," Berger said.

"The work of Skokie Mayor Albert Smith and village officials in trying to maintain the peace and tranquility of their streets deserves the thanks of civilized people everywhere," said Berger, who is a former Skokie trustee.

Berger also lauded Carroll for his legislative work on behalf of a bill that would make it illegal for groups like the Nazis to promote their defamation of any ethnic group.

"Senator Carroll has shown himself to be responsive to the sensitivities of the people in his district and throughout Illinois in engineering his bill's passage through the Senate. I look forward to joining him as a colleague after the November election," he added.

"If a Nazi march does take place," he said, "I will do whatever I can to show the world that Skokie does not countenance the philosophy of Nazism and that we stand foursquare against their ideology."

He added, "We will not hide in our houses and let them vilify our streets."

CHURCH AND TEMPLE NOTES

St. John Brebeuf Church to celebrate Silver Jubilee

St. John Brebeuf Church in Niles will celebrate its 25th anniversary with a solemn mass at 2 p.m. on Sunday, June 25. Participants will include Rt. Rev. Msgr. John J. Flanagan, who founded the parish in 1953, and Bishop Alfred L. Abramowicz, Auxiliary Bishop of Chicago. A reception in the school gymnasium will follow the ceremony. St. John's is on the southeast corner of Harlem ave. and Main st. The church will conclude its jubilee-year celebration on Oct. 21 with a dinner dance at the Brookwood Country Club in Wood Dale, Ill. Information may be obtained by calling 966-8145.

Rev. Flanagan headed St. John's until 1974, when he retired. He now serves as pastor emeritus of the church. He was succeeded by Rev. J. Edward Duggan, the present pastor. Commenting on his years of service, Rev. Flanagan praised the people of St. John Brebeuf parish. "It was a joy and delight to be in their midst," he said. "If the parish has made any strides forward, it is because of God's special blessings and the encouragement, support, and sacrifices of so many families." The priests of the parish expressed the hope that the jubilee celebrations would attract many early parishioners who have since moved from the parish.

St. John's was founded on June 29, 1953, when Samuel Cardinal Stritch, then Archbishop of Chicago, appointed Rev. Flanagan to establish and head the new parish. The parish's first church, a frame building that could accommodate only 350 worshippers, was completed in October, 1953. It was the first Roman Catholic Church in Niles. Rev. Flanagan offered the first mass in the church on Oct. 18.

The parish school opened in 1955, after its first six classrooms had been built. Subsequent construction brought the number of classrooms to 36 and also included a gymnasium that served as the parish church from 1957 to 1966. The present church, which seats 1,400, was dedicated on Oct. 16, 1966. It was the first church built in the Chicago area to incorporate features reflecting the liturgical renewal brought about by the Roman Catholic Church's Second Vatican Council. St. John's modern, yet inspiring, design attracted much attention among liturgical and architectural groups.

The parish is named for a French Jesuit missionary who worked among the Huron Indians and was martyred in 1649.

National Pest Control month

A termite can enter through a crack as small as 1/64 inch, which is one reason pest control and prevention often requires professional help, according to Norman A. Kapson of Nak Pest Control Service, Inc. a local member of the National Pest Control Association (NPCA) and a Morton Grove resident. "There are 10,000 species of insects in the world which are not only hazardous to health but cause economic loss as well," said Kapson. "Termites, for instance, cause over $500 million worth of damage to American homes every year."

NPCA, the non-profit organization of professional pest control operators, provides general information on pest problems, and helps consumers select the proper pest control methods.

This tag shows you the savings. EER 8.7

When you buy an air conditioner, don't just look at the price. Check out the EER, too. Because the higher the EER, the less the unit costs to run.

Not all air conditioners are created equal. Two similar air conditioners can do the same cooling job, yet one may use less energy to do it. Obviously, you want to find that one, because it's more efficient and costs less to run. That's where EER comes in.

How to find the EER rating. EER stands for Energy Efficiency Ratio. It indicates the relative efficiency of an air conditioner. Sometimes there's an EER tag right on the machine, but even when there's not, you can figure it out yourself. Everything you need to know in order to calculate the EER is contained on a metal plate attached to the unit.

To find the EER, just divide the BTU's by the watts. In our example, the EER divides out to 8.7. 7500 BTU's ÷ 860 Watts = 8.7

What's the recommended EER? We recommend an EER for air conditioners of 8 or higher. Lower rated units waste energy, and the energy wasted costs you money.

It pays to know about EER. An air conditioner with a high EER may cost a little more to buy, but it costs less to run: so it ends up saving you money over the life of the unit.

New Treasury Rate Certificates at First National of Des Plaines

The new Treasury Rate Certificates of Deposit, which offer a short-term, high-yield investment opportunity, are available at the First National Bank of Des Plaines, Lee and Prairie.

The certificates, with a term of six months and a minimum deposit of $10,000, earn the high Treasury Bill interest rate in effect when the certificate is purchased. That rate does not fluctuate, but will prevail for the life of the certificate. Treasury Bill interest rates are announced on Monday and certificates will be available on Thursday. For this week's rate, check the First National Bank of Des Plaines advertisement on page 5 of this issue of the Bugle papers.

The same interest penalties will apply to the new plan that affect other certificates. Money withdrawn before maturity earns the regular passbook interest rate, less 90 days' interest.

The new Treasury Rate Certificate of Deposit plan became available June 1 and was authorized nationally by the Federal Reserve Board, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. and the Federal Home Bank Board.

For additional information about Treasury Rate Certificates of Deposit, call or stop in to talk to one of the investment counselors at the First National Bank of Des Plaines, Lee and Prairie—827-4411.

FNBO V.P. Pedersen lectures MONACEP class

Ronald P. Pedersen, Vice President of the First National Bank of Skokie, holds an informal question and answer session with an interested group of MONACEP students at Maine West High School, regarding the role a bank can play in the financial management of a small business.

Ronald P. Pedersen, Vice President of the quarter billion dollar First National Bank of Skokie, takes time out from his busy schedule in the Commercial Loan Department of the Bank, to address an Adult Education Class (MONACEP) at Maine West High School.

Henry Hentz, the regular instructor of the MONACEP class on small business management being given at the high school, has made the class more relevant to the students by inviting local businessmen who are familiar with the "real business world" to lend their expertise to the classroom.

Ronald P. Pedersen, who has been in the banking business for over 15 years, talked to the class on the financial pitfalls that can beset the small businessman. Mr. Pedersen explained to the class the many facets of help and consultation available from banks such as the First National Bank of Skokie who maintain a comprehensive Commercial Loan Department.

New mortgage terms set by First Federal of Chicago

First Federal of Chicago has announced new home mortgage terms which became effective Tuesday, May 2, 1978.

For mortgage loans of 80 percent (to $80,000) the new rates will be 9 3/4 percent for a maximum term of 25 years, a 3 percent service charge and a $100 closing fee. The rate had been 9 1/2 percent for 25 years with a 1 1/2 percent service charge and a $100 closing fee.

For mortgage loans of 81 to 90 percent (to $80,000) the rate will be 9 3/4 percent with a maximum term of 25 years, 3 percent service charge, private mortgage insurance and $100 closing fee.

Loans over $80,000 will be 10 percent for 25 years with a 3 percent service charge and $100 closing fee. These loans and 81 to 90 percent loans will be limited to established customers.

"Demand for mortgage money has remained strong—with no let up—since the first of the year," said James C. Fitzmaurice, senior vice president of First Federal. "In April, for example, mortgage loan requests at First Federal exceeded $35 million, or more than $1 3/4 million a day.

"We want to remain in the market. In order to do it, we have to adjust our terms to help insure that mortgage money will be available," he said. "Savings inflows have not kept pace with local mortgage demand, and we can expect the short term money market trend to continue to limit the availability of mortgage money."

First Federal is the largest savings and loan in Illinois.

Peerless Federal offers new 8% and Treasury certificates

Savers at Peerless Federal Savings are now able to earn a compounded interest rate of 8.45 percent on long-term deposits, as of June 1, Association President Timothy P. Sheehan announced.

To earn the full rate, savers must be left on deposit for terms of eight, nine or ten years, and interest left to accumulate. The new certificates are being sold in denominations of $5,000 or more. The certificates are federally insured up to $40,000.

A second new type of savings certificate, also federally insured to $40,000, is being offered in denominations of $10,000 or more for terms of six months. This certificate will earn interest at one-quarter per cent above the average auction rate paid on six-month U.S. Government Treasury Bills.

Sheehan said the new savings account interest rates were authorized by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board on May 11, 1978.

The eight to ten year certificates will carry an eight per cent stated interest rate, but with daily compounding the effective annual yield is 8.45 percent, if interest is left in the account.

"Until now, the highest compounded interest rate savers could earn under federal regulations was 8.17 per cent on six-year certificates," said Sheehan. "But with the new authority just granted, we will be able to help our long-term savers accumulate and even better return."

Sheehan added that the longer term certificates will also be helpful to home buyers because they will enable the Association to stretch the terms of some savings capital, matching more closely the long terms of most mortgage loans.

Des Plaines Bank names Smigiel, Gould attorneys

Anthony G. Angelos, President and Chairman of the Board of the Des Plaines Bank, Oakton and Lee sts. in Des Plaines, announced the appointment of the firm of Richard B. Gould and Anton A. Smigiel, as bank attorneys, at the Annual Bank Meeting.

Richard B. Gould and Judge Anton A. Smigiel, conduct a general law practice at 1100 W. Northwest hwy. in Mount Prospect. Mr. Gould is a resident of Des Plaines, and a son-in-law of Anton A. Smigiel.

Judge Anton A. Smigiel, retired in 1976 after twenty years of service on the bench, the last nine of which he served as Chief Judge of the Third District Circuit Court, which is comprised of twenty-three northwest suburban communities, including Des Plaines. Judge Smigiel served as Director of the Des Plaines Bank for the years 1976 and 1977, and he and Richard B. Gould served as bank attorneys during 1977.

Judge Smigiel also served as first President and Chairman of the Bank of Niles, and was one of its organizers.

CitizensBank introduces new savings plans

Citizens Bank & Trust Company of Park Ridge is now offering two new high-interest savings plans—one designed for short-term investment needs, the second for long-range purposes.

The first new plan, called the Citizens Money Market Certificate, is a six-month, FDIC-insured time deposit account available in any amount of $10,000 or more. It pays the same high average interest rate as six-month Treasury Bills sold at the most recent weekly auction.

On May 15, 1978, the six-month Treasury Bill average auction yield was 7.01%. However, since CitizensBank compounds interest daily, the effective annual yield on its Money Market Certificate would have been 7.26%. The new, current weekly rate, available every Thursday, is guaranteed for the full six-month term of the investment. In addition, there are no service charges connected with the issuance of this new certificate.

The second new plan, designed to appeal to the long-term investor, pays 7.75% interest and has an eight-year maturity. CitizensBank has developed two savings bond programs based on this new interest rate, the maximum that may be paid by commercial banks on plans with maturities of eight years or more in amounts from $1,000 up to $100,000.

The 7.75% FDIC-insured Investment Savings Bond is available in amounts of $1,000 or more in $100 multiples. Since interest on this eight-year bond is compounded daily and automatically reinvested, the effective annual yield when the interest is left to compound is 8.06%.

Citizens also has a 7.75% FDIC-insured Income Savings Bond. This eight-year bond can also be purchased for a minimum of $1,000 in $100 multiples. Interest is compounded daily and paid quarterly by interest check or credited automatically to one's checking account at Citizens.

"Both the six-month Citizens Money Market Certificates and the eight-year bonds provide investment flexibility for our customers," notes a bank spokesman. "These new savings programs provide attractive, high-yielding investment opportunities with both short and long-term maturities," he adds. Both new savings plans are fully

Norwood Federal offers new savings certificates

On June 1, Norwood Federal Savings and Loan Association, whose Main Office is at 5813 N. Milwaukee, Chicago, introduced two new certificate accounts designed to assist savers in maximizing returns on their hard-earned dollars.

According to Donald J. Babicz, Executive Vice President, one of the most innovative of the two new instruments is a high-yield, short-term certificate available in a minimum of $10,000, with a six-month maturity.

"The interest paid on these accounts will be tied to the latest weekly average auction yield of six-month Treasury Bills issued by the U.S. Government," Babicz observed. "We will pay 1/4 of 1% above that average, and because recent Treasury Bill rates have been high, the new accounts should be an excellent investment for many people."

"The other certificate carries the highest interest rate we have ever been permitted to pay: 8% per year," Babicz continued. "These are available in minimums of $1,000, and have a maturity of eight years, making them appropriate as long-term investments. These are especially suitable to savers with stated goals such as college expenses for youngsters still in elementary school. With the interest being calculated on a daily basis and compounded, the dollars will grow substantially over the certificate's relatively long life."

"Norwood Federal Savings counselors at all four offices would be pleased to review these new as well as our existing savings programs to help area residents make the best decisions relative to their personal financial status," Babicz concluded.

As with all Norwood Federal certificate accounts, the new certificates require a substantial penalty when funds are withdrawn before maturity.

Besides its Main Office, Norwood Federal operates full-service facilities at 6105 N. Northwest Highway and 5415 W. Devon, Chicago, and 980 Northwest Highway, Park Ridge.

Original oil on display

Giannone, an accomplished musician, enjoys new hobby in painting

Richard L. Giannone, a resident of Niles for the past 16 years and Vice President of the Niles Historical & Art Society, is a music teacher and a Gold Card Member of the Musician's Union with an interesting life.

He is third generation musician. His father was first clarinetist with the New York Philharmonic and his grandfather was a band leader of great renown in Italy. At the tender age of 5, a violin was placed in his hands and thus began his musical career. He gravitated towards the piano which became his first love and eventually formed a group with 9 musicians known as "Dick Lewis and His Society Orchestra". In this capacity he worked at Maxim's in the Bronx, New York, at the Top Hat in New Jersey, at Minsky's 52nd st. in Manhattan and at the Queens Terrace in Long Island where he shared billing with the "Great One", Jackie Gleason.

In 1942 he decided to disband and joined Carl Brisson (Rosalind Russell's father-in-law) as his accompanist, arranger and musical director. This association lasted over a decade. In 1960 he was appointed Dean of the Febbrio School of Music in Mount Vernon, New York and in 1962 gave it up to be near his daughter and two granddaughters who were residing in Niles. For one year he taught at the Art Van Dam Music Studio in Mount Prospect, then he opened his own private studio in Niles where he has been teaching ever since.

This slow pace gave him time to pursue a hobby which he had long cherished - oil painting. He enrolled in the Village Art School in Skokie and studied under Joe Abbrescia, George Sotos and Carlo Benanotti. By now his hobby has mushroomed into a second vocation at which he has become very prolific. When he is not teaching he is at the easel painting. After a number of Art Fairs he has gained a favorable reputation and is now showing by appointment. Presently he is concentrating on Western and Indian art. His patrons like his work and return for a second and a third acquisition. A One Man Show is in the offing. At 75 he is firmly embarked on a second career and the question most often asked is, "Mr. Giannone, you aren't ever going to give up teaching music, are you?"

ED HANSON

"Boggles the mind, doesn't it?"

"Ed," Tommy Ferraro, owner of the Boy Blue, said, read your last week's column. Did you parlay the 576 bucks on Nostalgia's nose or didn't you? We're friends-don't keep me in suspense! Besides, I'm gonna run some more ads with you."

"You have to wait for next week's paper, Tommy, to find out."

"Come on, tell me. I'm gonna give you some more ads."

"Don't try to bribe me, Tommy, or I'll call a cop," I said.

Seriously, a great many people wanted to know what Tommy wanted to know. Did I or didn't I?

I'll tell you before the end of today's column, men, but first I must write this before I forget it. I'm doing it from memory.

STRANGE BUT TRUE
There are 7 letters in each name. Both presidents had legality of elections contested. Both were concerned with the issue of civil rights. Both were slain on Friday, and in the presence of their wives. Lincoln was elected in 1860. Kennedy was elected in 1960. Their successors were named Johnson and were southern Democrats who previously served in the U.S. Senate. Andrew Johnson was born in 1808. Lyndon Johnson was born in 1908. Both Booth and Oswald were murdered before trial could be arranged. Lincoln's secretary, named Kennedy, advised him not to go to the theatre. Kennedy's secretary, named Lincoln, advised him not to go to Dallas. Booth shot Lincoln and hid in a warehouse. Oswald shot Kennedy and hid in a theatre. Andrew Johnson and Lyndon Johnson each contain 13 letters. John Wilkes Booth, Lee Harvey Oswald each contain 15 letters. Lincoln and Kennedy were carried in death on the same caisson.

EVEN STRANGER ...
Lincoln wrote the Gettysburg address on the back of an envelope.

In 1945 I wrote the aforementioned on a napkin, bombed off of my skull in the Crystal Bar at the Brevoort Hotel. I left it on the bar after I passed out. In 1945 it was copyrighted. But not by me.

Sunday I discovered it was reproduced on a plaque, with a Lincoln penny and a Kennedy silver dollar at the top. Who ever did it, made some bucks off it. Who was he?

You can buy it today for $4.50 in a store that sells rare coins on Washington st. just across from the Daley Center.

STRANGER STILL ...
How could it have been copyrighted in 1945? But it was. How could the author of it, me, know Kennedy would be president? Without research, with the mind boggled with alcohol, where did all these historical strange facts, and future happenings, arranged in logical sequence come from?

Alcohol has been the mid-wife in the birth of many great ideas, inventions, and great literature.

Jack London, Hemmingway and many noted authors couldn't write unless they were inebriated - stiff!

Does alcohol, on some minds, endow the gift of clairvoyance? Beats me. But it sure as hell boggles my mind.

Back to Memorial Day at Arlington Park. Yes, I decided to bet it all on Nostalgia's nose and headed for the $50 window. But I still had 10 minutes before post time, so I stopped at the bar and had a double bourbon.

After that, I took out five C-notes (I kept the 76 bucks planning to put in the poor box of some church).

For some unexplainable reason at the $50 window, I switched and called for 10 tickets on the chalk. "That's A Nice". It was. He won!

Here's one you can check out. I had a vision the other night in Go-To-Blases, of the White Sox winning 23 straight games, some time starting in late August. It could win the title for them in their division ...

Attention all Senior Citizens in this area: On Monday, June 12 you can have a free complete spaghetti dinner at Jake's Restaurant, 7740 Milwaukee ave., Niles.

If you are 62 years or older, get on your skate boards or the Niles free bus service and come to Jake's Restaurant between the hours of 1:30 p.m. and 4 p.m. This free dinner includes everything - spaghetti, roll, butter - even dessert and beverage.

It's all because of a man with a heart as big as all outdoors - Jake Joseph. Jake has invited Mayor Nick Blase over because he knows and admires the many wonderful things that Blase, Mayor and Committeeman, has done for our senior citizens. Thanks to Blase, they can ride free buses. There's no parking meters in Niles if they have a car. The Trident Senior Citizen deal, the free bingo games and many other things have caused great admiration on the part of Jake for His Honor, smilin' Nick Blase, the greatest Mayor in the history of Niles.

I say no Mayor, not even Daley of Chicago, has done as much for the senior citizens as Nick Blase.

Anyway, my dear senior citizens, be at Jake's for the free food and get your pictures taken which will be published in The Bugle papers. Who knows, some Hollywood producer might spot your picture, and you might be just the type he's looking for. You could wind up with a home in Beverly Hills, a caravan of Cadillacs and if you do, I'll be around to borrow some dough in case my super system on the horses fails.

So, come as you are, but come to Jakes on Monday, June 12 for your free dinner. Moreover, Jake will be proud to have you and so will I.

I'll be there and having been a former Reverend and Marriage Counselor, I'll be glad to give you some professional advice on love and marriage and how to get the most out of life.

Remember, even if you're 80, you can still go like 60 ... I do!

See you at Jake's Restaurant Monday, June 12. Aloha, be there!

P.S. Terry Collins, who has been a waitress at Jake's Restaurant for 5 years, used to work at Toffenetti's in Chicago's Loop. Toffenetti's Restaurant back in those days was a great restaurant and all sorts of characters, like those who once hung out in Lindy's in New York, came there. Business guys, boosters and crap shooters, gamblers, men of the cloth, all sorts of ladies, some good, some better, used to eat at Toffenetti's, including a lot of newspaper guys (including me).

Anyhow, when Terry left Toffenetti's she received a beautiful gold bracelet which was inscribed, "From the Toffenetti family, for 25 years of faithful service."

Terry is the good lookin' doll with the nice coiffure.

And how was your week, Lenny, ... you top-drawer bartender of Go-To-Blases. I hear you're planning to buy a Rolls with some of the dough you made from reading my column last week. Where's my tip?

"ERA has had its day." See you next week, men ...

M-NASR Summer day camp

This summer marks the sixth that the Maine-Niles Association of Special Recreation is offering day camps for children with special needs. M-NASR is a cooperative effort of the Skokie, Morton Grove, Des Plaines, Golf-Maine, Park Ridge and Niles Park Districts, and the Lincolnwood Recreation Board, providing year-round leisure opportunities for both physically and mentally handicapped children and adults.

270 children are expected to participate in the six-week program running from June 26 until Aug. 4. The camps are located at various park sites in Maine and Niles Townships, with each location serving a different disability. There will be 2 camps for learning disabled children, and one each for behavior disorder, physically handicapped, educable mentally handicapped, hearing impaired and developmentally delayed pre-school children.

A close ratio of 1 counselor for 4 children will be maintained to insure the close attention that is required to work with these disabilities.

Language development, motor skills, and socialization will be some of the things that are given close attention.

Something new this year is an all camp day during the last week. It will be a New Games Tournament, modeled after others that have occurred throughout the country. Game, clowns, bands, dancing and a whole lot of fun are in store for this day in August. For further information concerning day camps or other summer programs, contact M-NASR at 674-5512.

New, higher rates for Skokie Federal savers

Savers at Skokie Federal Savings will be able to earn a compounded interest rate of 8.45% on long term deposits, starting June 1, Association President John R. O'Connell announced today.

To earn the full rate, savers must be left on deposit for terms of eight, nine or ten years, and interest left to accumulate.

The new certificates are being sold in denominations of $1,000 or more. The certificates are federally insured up to $40,000.

A second new type of savings certificate, also federally insured to $40,000, is being offered in denominations of $10,000 or more for terms of six months. This certificate will earn interest at one-quarter per cent above the average auction rate paid on six month U.S. Government Treasury Bills. John R. O'Connell said the new savings account interest rates were authorized by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board on May 11.

The eight to ten year certificates will carry an eight per cent stated interest rate, but with daily compounding the effective annual yield is 8.45%, if interest is left in the account.

"Until now, the highest compounded interest rate savers could earn under federal regulations was 8.17% on six-year certificates," said John R. O'Connell. "But with the new authority just granted, we will be able to help our long term savers accumulate an even better return."

John R. O'Connell added that the longer term certificates will also be helpful to home buyers because they will enable the association to stretch the terms of some savings capital, matching more closely the long terms of most mortgage loans.

He said certificate holders may withdraw earnings without penalty at any time. Deposits can also be withdrawn before maturity, but subject to an interest penalty required by federal regulations. The withdrawn deposits would earn interest at 5 1/2%, less 90 days interest.

Business expansion enjoying an upward trend

The North Shore area, as well as the nation generally, is enjoying a strong upward momentum in business expansion according to Glenview banker, John H. Beaulieu. "Our commercial customers as well as individuals are expressing an optimistic attitude toward the present and future economic situation." Business in general, and retail sales in particular, are beginning to recover from the increase over the previous year. Even with this increase in loan activity, there has been no indication that people are having difficulty meeting their financial obligations. Delinquencies are at an all time low, according to Beaulieu.

Commercial and residential building continues to increase, despite the weather, and this has always been a good barometer of the public's confidence in the economy. The annexation of additional property to the village of Glenview indicates an upsurge in the number of building permits to be issued in the second and third quarters of this year. Building means jobs and jobs are the fuel that keep the economy running smoothly. The only problem we can see in this area is that with a slowing of savings inflow to financial institutions and the resulting higher interest rates on home loans, we could experience a downturn in home building in the second half of 1978.

"We're very satisfied with the current situation, with the exception of continuing high inflation. People are saving and spending, but in the right proportions. The public seems to be more educated in financial matters today; they anticipate their needs, plan accordingly and stay within their limits. We're forecasting an excellent year based on first quarter figures," Mr. Beaulieu concluded.

The first phase of the in-patient program will begin two days after a patient has had a heart attack, with a visit from the cardiac rehabilitation nurse coordinator, who will start the patient on limited activities, such as sitting in a chair, shaving at the sink and walking in the halls. The coordinator also will begin risk-factor counseling with the patient to help him start adjusting his life-style in terms of modifying his diet, quitting smoking and beginning to exercise.

During the remaining two to three weeks of his stay in the hospital, he and his family will attend four one-hour classes on diet, medication, stress and other risk factors to assist with his adjustment after he leaves the hospital. When the patient leaves the hospital, he will begin an individualized home walking program to improve his condition until he enters the out-patient program of supervised exercises.

After six to eight weeks following the patient's heart attack, he will come to the cardiac rehabilitation center for a stress test, which will be done on an "ergometer", a stationary bicycle with resistance and speed controls. As the patient rides the bicycle, his heart rate will be constantly monitored, and he will be allowed to reach from 60 to 65% of his maximum predicted heart rate for his age and weight.

Based on the evaluation after the stress test, the patient will receive his own individual exercise prescription, which will determine how much resistance he will have when he exercises on the bicycle. A report of the exercise evaluation will be sent to the patient's physician to keep him aware of his patient's progress. An orientation will be given to both the patient and his family before he starts his exercise program.

The out-patient exercise program at the hospital will range from six to nine months, depending on the individual patient. During the first two to three months, he will exercise in the cardiac rehabilitation unit three times a week. At the end of this period, he will receive another exercise evaluation and begin the second phase, which will involve exercising twice a week in the unit and once a week on a stationary bicycle at home. During the third two-to-three month period, the patient will exercise once a week in the unit and twice a week at home.

"Regular exercise conditions the body to take the work load off the heart," Arlene Doppelt, R.N., explained. "By getting the body in better condition, the heart won't have to work as hard."

In addition to patients who have had heart attacks, the program will be open to patients who have had open heart surgery, who have stable angina, who have coronary heart disease and who have history of high risk factors.

Library card renewal

All Lincolnwood Library patrons who have not already done so are asked to come into the library at 4100 W. Pratt to renew their library cards. The staff is currently issuing new cards which will carry a 1981 expiration date. Patrons are reminded that while their Lincolnwood Library card entitles them to use any of the libraries within the North Suburban Library System, neighboring libraries will not accept expired cards.

Any resident who does not as yet have a library card is also encouraged to come in and obtain one.

For any further information, please call 677-5277.

SV Hospital's blood bank accredited

Skokie Valley Community Hospital's blood bank has been awarded another two-year accreditation by the American Association of Blood Banks, the highest accreditation a blood bank can receive. This is the seventh consecutive two-year accreditation Skokie Valley has received from the Association since the hospital opened in 1963.

do their thing with an uninhibited elan, an abandon which defies any decorum ever devised for such affairs. The ethnic mixture of the group is star-spangled, and the MC never fails to let loose to enlighten one and all with the background of many of the troops. It's all in good fun and everyone has a great time.

The dinner was a celebration of the 25th anniversary of the local club. Ang Marcheschi, who has given thousands of hours of dedicated service helping Lions endeavors, received plaques and a Lion rug hanging, which was most impressive. Ang was deeply moved as were the many in the audience.

The club also honored Cliff Hewitt, John Poeschl and Carl Rathjke, three 70 year old members who were charter members of the club, and have remained active through the years. Each man gave a speech in accepting the recognition. Cliff and John had come in from out-of-state to be present for the anniversary party and Cliff acknowledged it was one of the most pleasant days of his life to receive the honor.

During the dancing period after dinner, Cliff stopped and told us he had given up most of his beloved boating which had been an important part of his life. He still had a small boat he used in Wisconsin but his days of heading down the Mississippi and out into the Gulf and ocean were behind him. Cliff said, "The tubes have been giving me trouble," referring to his ill health of recent years.

We left the party about midnight and sadly, 15 minutes later, Cliff collapsed and passed away. It was a shocking end to what had been another joyous affair.

Cliff was a very sweet man, held with much affection by his many friends in and out-of-town. Ironically, what he called "one of the most pleasant days of his life" turned out to be his last one.

We wrote about our weekend to let you know June is a happy month. Graduations and weddings and anniversaries certainly lend credence to it. But where there is life, there is death, and it sobers all of us who know joyousness must be shared with sadness. And that includes the month of June.

Sgt. at Arms Elaine Rubin. Directors include the officers and Nola Chezem, Esther DeYoung, Esther Hepburn, Kay Fichera, Harriett Anderson, Evelyn Schaeffe, Jane Nordberg, Rosemary Regans, Jean Coens, Phyllis Young, Joan Haring, Ruth Sanders, Bertha Ross, Lois Reichert, Marsha Sadler, Beverly Bode, Esther Deitch with several additional women who were out of town at meeting time.

The Committeeman also asked Mary McDonald, Trustee Juanita Sako, Angie Smith, Lee Ann Elliott, Lorraine Ross, Jean Cuser, Mickey Bode, Jane George, Mrs. John Nimrod, Mrs. Peter Peters, Mrs. Roger McAuliffe, Penny Pullen, Mrs. William Danmeier and Mrs. John Forde to serve on a special advisor committee to plan

campaign election strategy. President Dominic Fichera and Board Chairman Harvey Schwartz were enthusiastic over the large turnout which they say indicates the local GOP will be able to make a comeback and score some victories in November. The Committeeman praised Deputy Committeeman Lester Brownstein who served as chairman of the open house committee for his work in organizing the program and helping get the big turnout, which most of those present said exceeded their expectations.

Republicans now are looking forward to a trip to Springfield later this month, currently being planned by Committeeman Kearney and Senator Nimrod. The time and arrangements will be announced next week.

FNBS Tee Bills

Six Month MoneyMarket Certificate Account

AVAILABLE NOW!

NEW, from FNBS—a six month Certificate Account that pays the same interest as Treasury Bills... without any of the customary fees and waiting you may have run into when buying the Government Securities. And the money you put into a FNBS Tee Bill Account stays in the community — for loans to businesses — home owner mortgages — automobile loans — home improvement loans — the things that make your community prosper and grow.

Minimum deposit is $10,000 and it matures 6 months from the day you start — interest rate on FNBS Tee Bill Accounts is the same rate as that of 6 month Treasury Bills as determined at the Auction of Government Securities held on the preceding Monday. FNBS Tee Bill Accounts are fully insured, like all the accounts at First National Bank of Skokie, up to $40,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Sorry, Certificates cashed in before maturity earn passbook rate less 90 days interest.

Interested? Come on in and see one of our Customer Service Officers.

Anybody who takes a Red Cross swim course knows how tough it can be. There's a good reason. We believe drowning is a serious business.

Last year alone, we taught 2,589,203 Americans not to drown—in the seven different swim courses we offer all across the country. (Incidentally, most of the teaching—as with almost everything American Red Cross does—is done by dedicated volunteers.)

A good many of the youngsters not only are learning to keep themselves safe. Thousands upon thousands of them are learning to become lifesavers.

And the life they save—it just might be your own.

Wheelchairs...

into the driveway of Four Flagg. Once into Four Flagg, they just take their chances with the parking lot traffic.

The Bugle recently witnessed such an incident when a young man who was unable to use his arms was guiding his wheelchair backwards in front of the car wash. He turned his head to check the oncoming traffic and then pushed his chair with one foot into a lane of traffic attempting to get around the curbing leading into the driveway of Mill View. What he failed to notice was an oncoming truck which had to swerve into the next lane to avoid hitting him. Fortunately there was no traffic in that lane and the maneuvering wheelchair finally reached the safety of the Mill View driveway.

The Bugle questioned Mr. Gurell, Mill View's administrator who said he was aware of this situation but could do nothing about it. He said these people are mentally alert and therefore, he would be violating their civil rights by not letting them leave the home when they wanted. He did state they are required to check in and out. When the Bugle asked if a ramp could be constructed in the rear of the home which incidently leads directly into the parking lot of Four Flagg, Gurell stated the estimated costs would be between $11,000 and $12,000 for such a ramp. He said this fee was too exorbitant for the home to handle and since many of his wheelchair patients are welfare patients, he had sought financial help from the State but had been turned down.

Gurell is of the opinion that since his nursing home is in the Village of Niles, he considers his patients to be residents of Niles and therefore, should be afforded services by the Village.

Village Manager Ken Scheel told the Bugle that sidewalks in front of the nursing home are the responsibility of the home and the village did not require the home to install them due to the impending repaving, widening and sewer work which will be starting shortly on Golf rd from the tollway to Harlem ave. When we informed Mr. Gurell of the impending Golf rd. construction and asked how his wheelchair residents would then be able to get over to Four Flagg, he said, "Then we'll have to work out something else."

We feel if something can be worked out later, why not now? It hardly seems logical for people with two strikes against them already, being confined to a wheelchair and in a home, to have to take the chance of getting their third strike on Golf rd.

four counts were dropped. A representative of the Illinois Department of Revenue said O'Grady, 8036 Oketo, was ordered by Judge Mitchell Edelson to make restitution to the four complaining witnesses and any other persons similarly defrauded. O'Grady said this was not true.

O'Grady was accused of affixing real estate transfer stamps to deeds of a lessor amount than what he charged customers, allegedly for his own profit. The complaints were for less than $150, according to Michael Berry, an investigator for the Illinois Department of Revenue.

Berry said a clerk in the Chicago Title and Trust Co. brought the substitutions to the attention of his department.

The restitution order will apply to any other transfer substitutions filed in the Cook County Recorder's Office and Chicago Title and Trust Co. by O'Grady.

A rate of 50¢ for every $500 evaluation is imposed by the Department of Revenue on the transfer of title.

Niles village president Nick Blase said O'Grady will continue to serve on the Plan Commission. Blase said O'Grady stipulated the charges which is technical plea bargaining. At the end of the one year supervision, O'Grady will be found not guilty. He said the "not guilty" judgment is the determining factor which Blase is using in keeping O'Grady on the Commission.

Attorney Ken Cohen, a Blase law partner, represented O'Grady. He said many people "stipulate to charges" because they prefer not to take a risk by going through a trial. If you're found guilty, you will have a record for the rest of your life. "This way," Cohen said, "you have a chance to have no record."

Cohen said he represented O'Grady more as a friend than as a client. He said he has known him for 20 years, serving in many community activities together. Cohen added, "He is one of the finest men I have known."

Park candidates

While new-to-office park board president Jeff Arnold has steadfastly maintained that commissioners have not "agreed" on a replacement for the unexpired 6 year term left open by the retiring Jones, he has also declined to make public the names of volunteer candidates.

"Arnold" earlier indicated "hopeful" announcement in May of an appointee to fill Jones' vacated board seat. However, the customary annual politicking for Board office drew conflict among park commissioners prior to May elections. Complaint by Comr. Steve Chameriski of a "gentleman's agreement" double-cross by Arnold resulted in Chameriski's absenting his park seat May 16 in protest to watch proceedings from a spectator's viewpoint.

Chameriski's temporary absence from the board caused Leske to delay his resignation to announcement in June. Well known for his long, faithful - and outspoken - service on the park board, Leske, whose 6 year term will expire in April, 1979, said his intended resignation came about from a decision to move into Park Ridge.

Due to a recent consolidated elections law, the new appointments to the park board may extend to November, 1979.

For more information, and a fee schedule, please stop by the park district at 929 Emerson, or call the office at 297-3000.

Chlorotic pin oaks need special care

"Each year we remind homeowners and landscapers that the pin oak chloris problem is still with us in the Chicago area," stated Richard Price, President of Illinois Landscape Contractors' Association and Assistant General Manager of Lake Cook Farm Supply Company, Des Plaines.

He strongly recommends that pin oaks, certain maples and magnolia be fed with iron early in the season while sap is flowing freely to translocate this important trace element in the tree. These trees like an acid soil-forest condition and stress in this area shows up as chlorosis.

This chlorotic condition is identified by yellowing of leaves with veins remaining green; trees suffering from this continued problem eventually die according to Price. "A healthy pin oak tree should be a lush dark green in summer and bright scarlet in fall."

He suggested these remedies: 1. Feed tree with iron chelate or acidizing products as foliar or soil application - watered in very heavily. 2. Use root feeders with iron cartridges or 3. If tree is too ravaged to respond to the above, a product
