Proposition 13, the symbol for the California tax revolt, was only a more highly publicized negation by taxpayers telling their representatives it's time to hold the line on taxes.

Last week the Niles-Park Ridge school district 64 residents rejected an education tax increase 4,327 to 2,647. While last week's California vote has evoked sympathy from the President, as well as Illinois' governor, the revolt has been taking place throughout the country for the past 3 or 4 years.

Here at home, in school District 63, school board members would have liked to seek a tax increase to retain operation of its 11 schools. But there was no way taxpayers would continue to support the higher taxes, and thus, they were forced to close schools.

While optimists contend a baby boom in the early 80's will turn around the decreasing school enrollment, it is not realistic to expect this to happen.

There seems to be a dilemma suburbia will face in the 80's. With the inflated prices for homes and the continued smaller families, suburbia's schools will be less and the percentage of non-school-using families will increase. The seeds for greater tax revolts are certainly there.

California's tax revolt is merely the first loud call which will be echoed and re-echoed throughout the land. Young people paying $60,000 and more for homes in the 80's will be boxed in, if their taxes are correlated to these high costs. Paying $600 a month and more for housing may put suburbia out of the range of the very people needed to give these communities continuity and to fill the schools.

The tax squeeze in Illinois seems never-ending. When Governor Ogilvie sealed his political doom with the state income tax, he did what had to be done to keep the state financially afloat. Since then the lottery and increased sales tax has added millions to the state treasury. But with local school districts resisting any further tax increases, the state is going to have to come to the rescue of school districts which will soon be operating in the red. Where will the money come from?

The guy caught in the middle of all these burdens is the middle-income who fills these suburban homes. He pays the

In a voice packed with emotion, Niles Village Trustee Richard Harczak Tuesday night, June 13, resigned his trusteeship with the village effective the same evening. Bart Murphy, formerly Niles representative to NORTRAN, was appointed to serve the remainder of Harczak's term to April, 1979. In his address to follow trustee Harczak said "Recent turn of events have created an unusual demand of my time to my position at the Dempster Plaza Bank... After careful consideration I have decided because I can no longer devote the necessary time to the village of Niles business which I feel is required of a trustee... It is with deep regret that I give you notice of my resignation... I have always tried to represent the best interest of the residents of Niles and will continue to support the village in whatever manner possible... My thanks to Mayor Blase and to you my fellow board members...to the Administrative Staff...to all of the various department personnel...and to the people of Niles for the privilege of serving you these past 11 years."

Senior commemorates Memorial Day in poetry

The following poem was composed by Mr. George A. Graham, a member of the Morton Grove Senior Citizens Club.

He read the poem to a background of his own taped organ music at the Memorial Day Meeting of the Senior Citizens Club at the Prairie View Center.

Remember

A long, long time ago
A day was set aside
A day we should remember
And remember with pride

Remember how our army fought
To keep the country free
To make each home a castle
And safe from the enemy

Remember all the hardships
Of the soldiers who fought and died
And all the little white crosses
Standing side by side

Remember to always salute the flag
Whenever it passes by
And if you really think back about it
Maybe a tear will be in your eye

Remember when the war was over
Many a soldier came home
Some are still lying in hospitals
With never a chance to roam
Remember the Legionnaires
Who were soldiers that were brave
Who march in big parades that day
And lay a wreath upon a grave
Remember the twenty-one gun salute
For the soldiers of the war
And bow your heads in prayer
Praying for war no more
So always remember this
Whether at work or at play
The reason why May 30th
Is called Memorial Day

Niles Consumer Fraud succeeds for Niles citizens

Village of Niles Hearing Officer Gerald S. Murphy announced Consumer Fraud charges against Northern Illinois Gas Company have been dropped. The Village of Niles recently filed formal charges against the Gas Company after the Consumer Fraud Division had received numerous complaints from local citizens stating that they were being billed for utility bills they had already paid. These residents had paid their utility bills at Niles Drugs, 8001 Milwaukee ave., Niles, in the belief that the owners were registered agents of the utility companies. However, the money for one billing period was never turned over to the utility company even though a paid receipt had been issued. All the utility companies except Northern Illinois Gas, after having been apprised of the situation, honored all paid receipts.

The original hearing, held on May 19, had been postponed for one week, but on Wednesday, May 24 Mayor Nicholas Blase informed Hearing Officer Murphy that the Gas Company had contacted him, stating that they would now honor all paid receipts for gas bills paid to the Niles Drug Store and that the postponed hearing could be cancelled.

Consumer Fraud Commissioner Frank C. Wagner, Jr., stated that it was Murphy's firm handling of the matter which decided the Northern Illinois Gas Company to reconsider their former position. Wagner further stated, "This is another example of how the Niles Consumer Fraud Ordinance works for the citizens of Niles."

Plan Commission recommends temporary permit for Greek church

by Alice M. Bohla

The Niles Plan Commission and Zoning Board of Appeals June 5 recommended the village grant a special use variation to the St. Taxiarchai-St. Haralambos Greek Orthodox Church for temporary use of two single family homes at 7353 and 7373 Caldwell ave. for Sunday school and religious classes.

Approval was predicated on an 18-month limitation at which time the Special Use would be terminated unless plans for a new church facility were submitted to the Zoning Board.

Church officials indicated an intent to use the existing house on south Caldwell for Sunday school. The second home will be used temporarily for afternoon classes twice a week. Both homes will give way to planned construction of a new church.

Commissioners stipulated no alterations or development of property take place until petitioners reapplied before the Zoners with completed plans for construction, parking and other details pertinent to the proposed church. Village requirement for a parking lot will allow the petitioner to construct a temporary lot to be topped with a stone surface.

Board concern over the septic field in the area also required careful consideration by the petitioner to prevent possible contamination of water.

Previous planning by the Church in August of 1976 to construct a 300-seat church at 6935 Milwaukee ave. was disrupted when the owner of an adjoining restaurant and lounge at 6913 Milwaukee ave. objected, due to a State law prohibiting the sale of liquor within 100 feet of a church. Prior to that time the church, located at 1587 N. Milwaukee ave. in Chicago, was using rented space in St. John's Lutheran Church in Niles.

In other business the Zoning Board voted 4 to 2 to continue a Special Use petition to July 10 for a Day Care Center at 7835 Caldwell ave.

Comms. Ken Cohen and Charles O'Grady vetoed the continuance requested by petitioner's attorney James Orphan pending a parking layout for the area and for clarification of a previous zoning requirement.

Alert policework results in capture of thieves

In a bizarre set of circumstances Tuesday, June 6, police apprehended a 19 year old Skokie man and a 17 year old Skokie waitress after they allegedly tried to steal hubcaps from the car of a Niles resident while the owner was looking on.

Scott Helberg, 8327 Lawndale, was charged with attempted theft and his 17 year old companion was charged with being a party to the crime. Both were released under individual $1,000 bonds pending a July 14 hearing in Niles court.

Police said the Washington st. car owner and his son observed Helberg allegedly trying to remove a right front hubcap around 2:30 a.m. Tuesday from a 1975 Oldsmobile parked in the Eagle Food lot at 8901 Milwaukee ave.

When the owner realized what was happening, he yelled at the offender who fled the scene. According to police the woman accomplice, waiting in a getaway car, left in the opposite direction and the two became separated.

On routine patrol Niles Police Officer Nan Mele said a radioed report of a burglary in progress noted the license number of the getaway car. Enroute to the scene, she observed the car being driven without lights at Ballard and Milwaukee ave. and stopped the driver.

Meanwhile, Niles Police Officer John Gaba tracked down the male suspect walking in the 8800 block of Wisner and took him into custody.

Officer Mele said the alerted victim and police teamwork were responsible for the apprehensions.

Michael Niski named to dean's list

Michael Niski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Niski, 8347 N. Shermer ave., Niles was recently congratulated by the faculty in the College of Business Administration of Bradley University for his excellent scholarship and his inclusion on the Dean's List.

Michael's father, Stan Niski, owner and operator of Artistic Trophies, 7421 N. Milwaukee ave., Niles, is also very proud of his son's achievements.

Greenlakes hold-up nets $130

A hold-up man and his accomplice Thursday, June 1, took $130 in cash from a north Niles resident in the Greenlakes Shopping Center.

The victim said he returned from work to his Greenlakes apartment around 2 a.m. Thursday and watched TV for an hour. When the movie was over, he decided to go to a Greenlakes store for groceries and as he approached an entrance near Sgt. Pepper's at 9126 W. Golf rd., a voice from behind him said, "Don't move and don't turn around. Pull out your wallet and give me all your money."

A second man also in the rear of the victim placed a hard object (possibly a gun) in the victim's back.

The Nilesite pulled out his wallet which was taken by the second robber who then told him to "lay down on the ground .. don't look around and don't follow or I'll kill you!"

After the victim dropped to the ground and his empty wallet was thrown to the pavement next to him, the robbers fled toward Deer rd.

The first suspect was described as a man around 20 to 25 years. The second man also around 20 to 25 had a deep stuttering voice.

No weapon was displayed at any time said police.

What are your children going to learn this summer

...How about getting along better with brothers or sisters?
...How about making friendships and developing social skills?
...How about learning how to relax and not get nervous?

Niles Family Service is running classes this summer to help your children learn how to cope better with life and the problems they face as they grow up. These are the same "Life Education" classes that over 500 students took in their junior high schools this year. Now your 10-15 year old can also take these classes. The classes are not therapy or rap groups, but regular educational classes taught by a certified teacher/counselor who knows kids and their need to learn how to better deal with life. The classes being offered are:

1) Relaxation/Anxiety Management - to learn how to relax and not get so nervous in such situations as tests, speeches or meeting people. The students will learn how to control their feelings better and reduce the stress they may feel. 5 sessions, beginning July 11 at 2 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Workbook included, cost is $5 for Niles residents, $10 for non-Niles residents.

2) Conflict management/Interpersonal problem solving - how kids can solve problems better by themselves. Such things as getting along with brothers and sisters, thinking before acting, and how to solve conflicts with another person are discussed. 10 sessions, beginning July 12 at 2 p.m. on Wednesdays and Fridays. Workbook included, cost is $10 for Niles residents, $20 for non-Niles residents.

3) People: Assertive relationship training - how to get along better with classmates and potential friends. The students will learn how others see their behavior and how to feel more sure of themselves around people. 10 sessions, beginning July 12 at 1 p.m. every Wednesday and Friday. Workbook included, cost is $10 for Niles residents and $20 for non Niles residents.

Sign up quickly because enrollment is limited. If you think your 10-15 year old son or daughter could learn how to cope with life better, then think about what they are going to learn this summer. For further information, or to sign up for the classes, contact Jim Cisek at Niles Family Service, 692-3396.

(If the registration fee would be an obstacle, or if you would like to register two or more children from your family, please feel free to call for special arrangements.)

Children with learning problems offered help

Mary, age 10, wasn't doing well in school. Her teachers described her as a daydreamer. She appeared withdrawn, had lost friends, and did not complete school assignments. Her mother was referred by Mary's pediatrician to the Developmental Abilities Service (DAS) at Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge—a service which evaluates and treats children up to age 18 who show learning, behavioral or developmental problems.

At the Developmental Abilities Service, Mary's mother described how Mary's personality changed since her father died two years earlier. Evaluations showed that Mary was of normal intelligence and that she should do well in school. She was, however, depressed and had not mourned the loss of her father. Both Mary and her mother received family counseling. Mary's depression disappeared and she once again became interested in the world around her.

Billy, age 7, also had learning problems. His teacher described him as a nervous child. He did not complete his school work, had difficulty reading, and didn't have friends. His school diagnosed him as having a learning disability and placed him in a special class. His parents, who requested a second opinion, were referred by the school to DAS. Further tests at DAS confirmed the school findings. Through counseling Billy's parents were helped to understand his problem and to accept his special class placement.

"Children like Mary and Billy may have symptoms which are similar on the surface, yet they may have different causes," says Pieter DeVryer, M.D., director of the Developmental Abilities Service. "In order to recommend proper treatment it's important that a team of experts work with the child, his family, doctor and school."

DAS uses members of a multi-disciplinary team to evaluate a child. These professionals include a learning disability specialist, psychologist, pediatric neurologist, social worker, pediatric occupational therapist, child psychiatrist and audiologist.

Besides children with learning problems, DAS may help children with other symptoms such as a speech or language problem, motor coordination problems, a child who suddenly shows a drastic change in behavior, or a child who complains of stomachaches for no medical reasons. Sometimes problems are indicated by other signs such as chronic bedwetting, unrealistic fears, or difficulty coping with a physical handicap.

The Developmental Abilities Service is located in Lutheran General's Ambulatory Care Center, 1775 Ballard rd., Park Ridge. Further information about the program may be obtained by phoning 696-5880.

LET'S PLAY BALL!

M-N Big League teams wins openers

Both Maine-Northfield Big League teams opened the 1978 season with victories but ran out of gas in the second half of their twin bills last Sunday to take splits for the day.

Opening after a pre-game ceremony at Maine-North High School in which Congressman Abner Mikva presented citations to Irwin and Bill Phar, Joseph and Marie Murdock and Art Sepke for their pioneering efforts with the league, the Maine-Northfield Bees looked good as pitcher Sam Halpin pitched a two-hitter and lead his team mates to a 3-1 victory over the Park Ridge Royals, making their debut in the Northwest Suburban Big League this year. In the second game, the Bees were down to the Royals 7-3 in the final inning when 3 home run blasts by Greg Wilson, Jeff Jacobson and Keith Palmgren almost brought them back. Other Bee hitters couldn't keep the rally going and the final tally was the Royals 7, Bees 6.

At the Des Plaines Chiefs home field, Maine-Northfield's A's found things looking rosy in their opener when a final inning homer by Rory Pink broke a tie and gave the A's a 9-8 victory. Joe Rancich, starting pitcher, was relieved in the second inning by Eric Rudin who held the Chiefs to 4 hits for the game's balance and struck out 9.

It was a different story in the second game when Des Plaines Chiefs pitcher Mike Valenzia gave up only 6 hits to lead his tribe to a 18-4 victory. Alden

Stiefel and Pink shared pitching duties for the A's but were handicapped by some shoddy fielding which cost them 11 unearned runs as their defense ran up a dozen errors.

June 11, Maine-Northfield's A's will host the Chicago Lions at Maine North High School in a double header beginning at 10:30 a.m. and the Maine-Northfield Bees will travel to Norridge to meet the Norridge Nats. The public is invited to all Maine-Northfield Big League games at no charge.

This year's A's squad includes Jeff Deutsch, Rory Pink, Alden Stiefel, Steve Chase, Jay Orlovski, Eric Rudin, Tom Kelly, Chuck Levin, Bob Bader, Oscar Burke, Brett Livengood, Neal Kahalnik, Bruce Abrams, Rick Deutsch, Steve Kaplan, Johnathan Dubin, Joe Rancich, and Neal Cannon. Members of the Bees' squad include Wayne Sokolowski, Mark Malter, Bill Tunic, George Sutphen, Keith Palmgren, James Latal, Tom Godzicki, Greg Wilson, Alan Marcus, Gerald (Sam) Halpin, Keith Martson, Mike Garfield, Jeff Berman, Jeff Jacobson, Ed Szymczak, Rory Lent, John Cline and Scott Cipinko. Manager of the A's is Frank Bressett with coach Stu Sosin and San Krohita. Manager and coach of the Bees, respectively, are Russ Bouxsein and Dan Herrejon.

Sponsors making it possible for Maine-Northfield Big League to play this year are: National Baking, Chicago; Domestic Utility, Glenview; Talisman

| Mets | 1-7 |

Mets 10 - White Sox 5
The Mets broke their losing streak by beating the White Sox. A whole team effort did the job after being behind 5 to 4 in the last inning, the Mets scored 6 big runs to gain the victory. For the White Sox O'Kane contributed some fine defensive plays and Markos hit 2 homers.

Giants 13 - Astros 2
The undefeated Giant express rolled on to its 8th straight win behind the pitching of, who else, Olczyk, Krueger and Fritze. Johnson got his first hit and 2 RBIs. Other Giant hitters were Olczyk with a 3 run homer and Ghinocchio, Goldstein and Village, Glenview; B & A Heating, Des Plaines; Byezek Equipment, Lincolnwood; La Venice Restaurant, Niles; David Berg Hot Dogs, Chicago; and Strasheim Syrup Co., Schiller Park.

Fireman. The Astros gave up 11 walks and got only 2 hits from Cieszykowski and Elenz who played 3 good innings behind the plate. There ought to be a law about playing against this team.

Yankees 5 - Indians 3
A well played game by both teams. The Yankees scored in each of the first 4 innings on hits by Ciecko, Busiel, Marks, Roggeman stealing home and a sacrifice fly by Busiel. Good defense led by S. Christensen at 3rd, Luppino at 2nd, Golbach catching and nice catches by Busiel in center put together a fine performance by the Yankees.

Tigers 7 - Twins 6
Both teams scored early in the game, with hits by Richart and Watrach and good pitching by Kuhr of the Twins. Tiger pitchers were Kosina, Solan, Dudgeon and M. Hedrich.

Senators 10 - Orioles 1
The Senators took advantage of every mistake the Orioles made, which were too many to name, to walk all over the Orioles with ease. The Orioles scored in the 1st on a single by Allen and a double by Randazzo, and that was the only inning the Orioles got more than 1 hit. Senator pitchers were Leddy, DiNapoli and Callison.

Braves 7 - Angels 6
Superlative outfield play, base running and game winning double of Uργο. The Braves rallied in last inning for 2 runs and victory over the hard playing Angels. A triple and 2 singles by Jerfita and singles from Borchev and Parlich led the Braves to victory. Angels pitchers were Gabel, Arent and Imber.

Twins 11 - Athletics 7
Witek was the hitting star for A's with a double and 3 run homer in the 5th that brought the A's back in the game. Panchisin and Murray had hits for the A's along with Giovenco his first. Lemajeur, Klacnik, Witek and Patton allowed only 14 walks. Richart made a beautiful hit and brought in three runs, also good fielding by Nawrocki stopped the Athletics in the 6th. Twins pitchers were Block, Calarco and Kwiatowski.

Indians 14 - Orioles 2
The Indians hitting was too much for the Orioles to contend with as they went on to beat the Orioles. Hitting for the Orioles was Pullen with a homer and a single and Randazzo with a triple and a grand slam homer. Indians pitchers were Block, Calarco and Kwiatowski.

Yankees 18 - White Sox 1
Once again the White Sox defense deserted them. The only bright spot was Schreier's homer and single. Yankee pitchers were Roggeman, Busiel, Ciecko and Yetter.

Tigers 14 - Indians 3

Warren graduated with honor: (cum laude), holding a 4-year cumulative grade point average of 3.55 on a 4.00 system. 1978, he will begin a 4-year doctoral program in industrial and organizational psychology. The program awards a Master of Science degree after 2 years of study and a written thesis, with a Ph.D. being awarded after an additional 2 years of study and an original dissertation. The choice of Purdue was made from among 5 graduate schools accepting Warren for admission, including Michigan State University, the University of Minnesota, North Carolina State University, at Raleigh, and Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in Troy, New York.

AMERICA'S FAVORITE... IN ANYBODY'S BOOK!

Lum's Family Restaurants Serves All American Favorites

When Lum's family restaurants developed their current menu (an eight page, full color "book"), it is not surprising that they devoted two full delicious looking pages to the all-American favorite, the hamburger.

This beautiful batch of burgers includes the Lumberjack Burger which is made of one-third pound ground beef, on a toasted bun and served with lettuce, tomato and a pickle spear.

On the cheeseburger you may have your choice of melted American, Cheddar, Mozzarella or Swiss Cheese...a difficult decision for cheese lovers. The "Gourmet Burger" is Lum's unique blend of sauteed mushrooms, green peppers and onions which are the perfect compliment to the beefburger.

The Texas Burger (also referred to as Lum's he-man hamburger) contains spicy chili, chopped onions and melted Cheddar cheese. And, if you like pizza, you'll love Lum's Italian Burger. It is a hearty beefburger topped with melted Mozzarella, smothered with Italian sauce and sprinkled with Parmesan Cheese.

For variety you may also order the Patty Melt...a plump, juicy burger grilled to order and served on a bun with American or Swiss Cheese. Are you hungry yet? Well, if all these mouth-watering burgers have made you hungrier than usual, Lum's also offers a half-pounder.

The half-pounder is eight ounces of select ground beef, broiled to order and served on dark rye with lettuce, tomato, onion and your choice of french fries or potato salad. A pickle spear rounds out this great meal.

In addition to these favorites, Lum's bills another group of the all-American favorite as Ollie's Greatest Creations. Ollie's Superstar and Ollieburger (Ollie's Biggest Burger) are all beef hamburgers, again, one-third pound, prepared with Ollie's secret blend of twenty-three herbs and spices. And, for the dieter in your group, Lum's offers The Trimmer, lean ground beef, broiled and served with sliced tomatoes, cottage cheese and peach half on a bed of lettuce with Ry-Krisp.

A complete dinner menu is available at Lum's as well. Features on the dinner menu include your entree, garlic bread, a cup of soup, tossed salad or cole slaw and french fries, mashed or baked potato. Some of the entrees which are specialties of the house are Steak and Chicken...a tender filet mignon and grilled breast of marinated chicken, seasoned delicately and prepared to order; Surf and Turf, a delicious, naturally tender filet mignon and your choice of fried ocean clam strips, shrimp, or scallops; Veal Parmigiana, the Italian-American choice is also available along with Steak 'n' Bob, four different imaginative steak cuts, and five sea-food creations.

Lum's specialties also include...

all served on your choice of bread or bun.

Desserts include delicious French Cream Cheesecake, rich and flavorful Viennese Cream Walnut Layer Cake, assorted pies, ice cream, ice cream and cake roll, and chocolate pudding.

A complete array of beverages is served, including beer and wines.

In the true family tradition kids under twelve can dine for only ninety-nine cents. The youngsters have their choice of a hamburger, fish sandwich or hot dog with french fries, all the soft drink they want and chocolate pudding for dessert.

We in the Northwest suburbs are fortunate to have five Lum's family restaurants close by. They are located at 6701 Touhy, Niles; 1225 S. Elmhurst, Des Plaines; 102 S. Milwaukee, Wheeling; 1720 W. Algonquin, Arlington Heights; and 1849 W. Irving Park rd., Schaumburg.

Paul New is a composer, singer, comedian, impressionist and musician...an entertainer's entertainer. In each area he is superb and variety is the keynote for each performance. His phrasing is reminiscent of the master Frank Sinatra. Columnists have referred to him as the Caucasian Sammy Davis, Jr. The one and only Duke Ellington saw him in Reno - his classic comment "Man what a hot cat". Standing ovations have become a regular occurrence.

Paul New

Paul New is a composer of over 150 songs, many inspired by places where he has lived, such as Chicago, Pittsburgh; Balboa, Newport, Huntington Beach and Minnesota. Other songs were written about people who have had a great influence on his life. "Maryville" for Father Smyth and the children of Maryville. "Two Men" for John and Robert Kennedy and "The Ballad of Roberto (Clemente)" which tells it all. This ballad has received national recognition on coast to coast NBC and ABC broadcasts. Paul will do the musical score when the movie is produced. As a singer he imitates no one. His range is the envy of many singers of today. He comes on strong and stays with it. He has the vocal versatility to sing any song as it was intended to be sung. As an instrumentalist his is outstanding and will play up to 15 different instruments during any one show. Paul New leaves the audience weak with laughter. His impressions include: John Wayne, Clint Eastwood, Dean Martin, Jerry Lewis, Paul Lynde, James Cagney, the Godfather, Teen Angel, Chuck Berry, Johnnie Cash, Frank Sinatra, the Kennedys, Nixon, Johnson, and many more too numerous to mention. His impression of Elvis Presley, complete with rhinestone studded jump suits, is a true classic. His tribute to Paul Anka is superb.

New's albums to date include "From Balboa to Minnesota" and "What's New Paul New". His singles include "Chicago," "Do I Love You" and "Here Come Da Fuzz" plus "The Ballad of Roberto". All of the proceeds from the latter are being donated to the Roberto Clemente Foundation.

Paul New did not just happen. He grew up in hotels and night clubs operated by his father, and was working on his BA degree at UCLA, Loyola of Los Angeles and St. Louis University when he realized music as his future. He spent his preteen years in the world famous Coconut Grove watching the best of artists perform. Harry Belafonte was his idol and is still a good friend. Vocal lessons by Nelson Eddy and Jerry Vale, drums by Gene Krupa, brass by many of the renown Dixielanders (Dukes of Dixieland, Roy Liberto and Johnny Scat Davis) while living in the Sheraton Jefferson Hotel in St. Louis.

Each of his progressions from teen towns and college dances to the best supper clubs in the country was the result of an indomitable drive to be the best. For several years he practiced and rehearsed 10 to 15 hours each day and still spends most of his leisure time composing, practicing and rehearsing. His presentations appeal to all age groups.

Paul New is currently appearing at Orrie's in Wheaton.

ED HANSON

White carnations to Affirmed and orchids to Ed Hanson

Affirmed, Triple Crown winner 1978 ...
 Seattle Slew, Triple Crown winner 1977 ...
 Secretariat, Triple Crown winner 1973 ...

An accomplishment unparalleled in the annals of thoroughbred racing.

Two consecutive Triple Crown winners in a row! The odds on that happening in horse racing are astronomical. A computer would "blow" its electronic mind (transistors) attempting to equate it!

Prior to 1973 there was a 25 year gap between Triple Crown winners. The only thing that would exceed such odds is the Chicago Cubs winning the 1978 World Series. Even that meteoric, twice the size of the planet Earth, which I predict will smash into and destroy our planet Earth in the '80s, offers less odds than the Cubs winning the '78 World Series. And this should be a world serious question to all inhabitants on the planet Earth? You, dear readers, are included.

Yes, all of the above listed horses came out smelling like Joe Namath after a Brute commercial. Why not? They won the roses of the Kentucky Derby, the black-eyed Susans of the Preakness and the white carnations of the Belmont.

And I predicted all three! And in The Bugle, the only media on this planet that brings you the news before it happens!

Great! Unprecedented! Incredible, as this may be, there is something much more fantastic for your "mini-brains" to ponder. And what is this?

ME!

I am the only man on this planet Earth, this speck of dust in the cosmos, that's about 25 thousand miles in circumference, spins at a speed of 60 miles per hour in four different directions at the same time, who predicted it.

In Bugle newspapers, May 4th, my column titled, "Post Time For The Derby", I said, and I quote, "So, I'm Affirming now - before the fact - that Affirmed will win the '78 Derby."

In my column of May 22 titled, "It's The Truth", I said, and I quote, "Affirmed will win the Triple Crown." In 1977 I predicted in Bugle newspapers before the Derby that, "Seattle Slew would win the Triple Crown." (That's how, incidentally, Triple Crown Messenger Service got its name. If you go into Triple Crown, Harlem and Milwaukee ave., Chicago, you'll see printed upon the wall the names of all Triple Crown winners. Don and I watched Seattle Slew on TV win it. Don then lettered its name upon the wall with the rest, and the name "Triple Crown Messenger Service" became official.)

In '73, prior to the Kentucky Derby, I predicted in Bugle newspapers the big chestnut horse "Secretariat" would win the Triple Crown.

The morgue of Citizen's newspapers of La Grange (now Suburban Life), The Journal of Des Plaines, the former Chicago Daily News (under publisher Knight) will reveal scores and scads of predictions I made of some of the greatest upsets in sports, politics and other endeavors. Clay's K.O. victory in his first fight with Liston. Clay was 20-to-1. Many pro-football upsets, including some Super Bowl games. I predicted Mark Spitz would win 7 gold medals in the Olympics. And many, many more thru the years.

Way back in 1929, two weeks before, and one week after, Roger Babson, the leading economist of the time, predicted in a leading national magazine that there was 10 more years ahead of continued prosperity. I predicted in a letter to the editor of a major Chicago daily the stock market crash of Oct. 29, 1929. (The letter to the editor was never published but I still have my carbon copy.) Editors are always reluctant to publish any material detrimental to economic growth. Their publisher might fire them because it might affect advertising revenue.

I predicted Truman over Dewey. The related demise of the "Literary Digest" whose publisher claimed to have a contract with God.

I say, unabashed, unafraid, and with all humility that Moses, Nostradamus (all 7 of him), Irene Hughes, Peter Hirkos, or Crosslet of Holland, couldn't collectively shine my shoes.

I am sick and tired of hiding my light under a bushel. I refuse to shine by reflected light. No one, so far, has approached me with reference to erecting a national shrine at my birth place on Grace Street within spitting distance of Carl Schurz High School. No one, save an intelligent, attractive woman of recent acquaintance, has asked to address me as "Mister Magnificence - may I kiss your ring."

Why have various editors at different newspapers I've worked shown an increase in their IQs. Some as high as 20 points. Was it from editing my copy? (Why was Diane Miller promoted to Managing Editor?)

Some years ago, a best-selling author and long-standing acquaintance (I have no friends) attempted to put a book together about me. Finally, after many long taping sessions, and 6 months of writing, he said, "Ed, I just can't do it. Here's my initial draft - read it and you'll see what I mean."

I did. After tearing it up I phoned him. "Let's forget it, Jim. You did a great writing job but I tore it up."

"Why?", he asked.

"Because it's unbelievably good."

To be continued... at a later time.

Science fiction course

A unique literature class devoted entirely to a study of science fiction will be offered this fall by Oakton Community College.

The course, Introduction to Fiction (LIT 115-01), will meet from 9 to 11:50 a.m. Thursdays at the Skokie Fine Arts Center, 7908 Babl.

Beverly Friend, assistant professor of communications and journalism at Oakton will teach the class, focusing on gadget, adventure, and social approaches to the science fiction genre.

A science fiction critic and lecturer, Dr. Friend promises her students "the excitement of fast-paced plot linked to the stimulation of intellectual hypotheses in studying alien perspectives of our contemporary world, prophecies of our future world, and visits to alternate worlds."

The texts for the three-credit course will include "The Science Fiction Hall of Fame," a short story anthology, and the award-winning novel, "The Left Hand of Darkness" by Ursula LeGuin.

For further information, contact Dr. Friend, at 967-5120, ext. 238.

Unique wood exhibition

The Niles Library at Oakton & Waukegan is featuring a unique exhibition this month. The eye opening "Artistry in Wood" is the work of Mr. Bernard Satinover, 73, a resident of Niles for the past eight years. This wood art has been Mr. Satinover's hobby for the last ten years.

The articles on exhibit are wooden decorative vases, bowls, plates, cups, and jewelry boxes. These items can stand on a flat surface or be hung on a wall. The secret of his art lies in joining together different kinds of wood and also branches of trees and shrubs with wood in their natural colors. No painting or staining of any kind is involved.

The present exhibition will continue throughout the month of June. His hobbies include wooden jewelry, decorative furniture, wood carving, photography, and some oil & water color painting. His art has been shown at many Arts & Crafts fairs around Chicagoland.

largest percentage when the sales tax goes up and he is in the front line when the state income tax is paid.

The California revolt is only the beginning. While middle-income suburbia doesn't go around with black beards, with anarchist's bombs between their teeth, they're the likely front-line revolutionists of the 80's.

The other side of the coin must always be looked at. While the burdens may be great, we who were depression babies know these high tax days are vastly superior to the 1930's. Our living the good life in this era is much preferred to the cold fads we came from. And paying ever-higher taxes, while living in nice homes, driving nice cars, having several-week paid vacations far out weighs "the good old days".

High costs and high taxes feed the inflation. And the inflation has helped give the better life to the many. If we remember the low tax days, when few people had new cars, many none at all, most of us would opt for today's burdens.

Most of us are living better than our parents did. We eat better, we have more free time, our kids are getting a higher education, and our opportunities for controlling more of our own hours is vastly superior to those of the last generation.

Few of us would want to turn the clock back.

contracts," said Steiner. "This will be federally funded by FHA and if we lose these contracts and have to re-apply for funds, we will run short of money and may have to abandon this project altogether." Juanita Sako then moved to have Atty. Ashman draft the ordinance making the re-zoning possible. The building will have up to 40% two bedroom units and will have to remain as is for 40 years.

John Tomlin, a member of the Library Board said the library wants approval for a new addition. They don't want any increased taxes for this, but are just seeking approval for their new proposed addition of an auditorium which will have a capacity of 165 persons. Mr. Tomlin said when Neil Cashman voiced his concern about parking spaces, plans call for 10 additional parking spaces. He also said since this organization is a library, they don't need more than 1 parking space per 1000 persons, but if they are considered an institution then it's different. "The ordinance says we are a library," said Tomlin. Martin Ashman said he thought a public hearing should be held at the Plan Commission meeting in order to get the public's feeling on the matter. Mayor Flickinger said this was necessary and the Library Board people agreed. The customary fee will be waived in this case.

Neil Cashman read the list of proposed uses of Revenue Sharing Funds until April, 1979 in the amount of $693,145. Cashman noted each department will receive a portion of these funds and the proposal was approved.

While board members individually commended Harczak highly for his service to the village, it was Tr. Peter Pesole who tagged him as the "most popular trustee in town." Mayor Nicholas Blase praised the retiring trustee with being "responsible for positive changes in the community...you have been a true leader," noted Blase. "People will miss your leadership."

Harczak said he intended to devote full time to the bank and expects to become involved on a state basis with politics. A businessman in Niles, for many years, Harczak recently sold his sausage shop at 8117 Milwaukee ave.

Bill Mottweiler, Village Engineer, recommended accepting the only bid of Monarch Asphalt (accepted by the State of Ill.) for $910,359.61 for street paving on Dempster from Merrill to Osceola. Gregg Youstra said it was inconceivable to him that only one bidder bid for such a lucrative contract and voted no, while the other board members voted yes in favor of this.

Administrator Fred Huber received permission to advertise for bids for cars for the Health Dept. to be opened on June 26, 1978. Don Snider moved to accept the recommendation of Supt. of Public Works Jim Dahm and Engineer Mottweiler and contract with the firm of Melcalf & Eddy of Des Plaines at $138,000 (of which M.G. pays $34,000) for a 19 month study of the Sewer System.

Next Atty. Martin Ashman read an amendment to the Vehicle Sticker ordinance, but when he was through, Neil Cashman suggested a change which was passed by the Board making vehicle stickers due from April 30 to April 30 of the following year. Ashman also read the ordinance granting a Special Use to McDonald's for a parking lot at 8732 Callie ave. and it was approved by the board.

Mayor Flickinger reported on Tuesday there would be a meeting with the architect for Grove School. He also proclaimed the month of June as National Pest Control Month. The mayor then called attention to the fact that Louise Marie O'Brien of Morton Grove who is a member of our Bicycle Safety Patrol was chosen as one of the two Presidential Scholars for the State of Illinois.

In other business trustees upheld a March 6 Zoning Board denial to De-Luxe Auto Radiator Shop at 7142 W. Touhy for expansion of a Special Use to construct an addition.

Petitioners said their intent was to enclose the shop driveway in order to work on cars inside the building but trustees pointed out the original business license covered only repair work on radiators brought into the shop.

A May 11 fire causing estimated loss in excess of $20,000 to the radiator shop and reportedly due to careless handling of inflammable materials was responsible for severe damage to roof and floor.

Trustees noted that reconstruction of the shop under village code would be followed by re-examination of the business to determine compliance with the Special Use.

"Continued tentatively to the next board meeting a petition for expansion of a B2 Special Use to Bellen Co. at 7161 Milwaukee ave. for construction of an Ink and Solvent Room.

Altho a special committee appointed to research the unique petition was ready with a recommendation to the board, Mayor Blase noted the continuance would allow trustees to study "a rather lengthy document" submitted Tuesday evening by the petitioners attorney "as an alternate solution." The petition had been denied Dec. 12 by the Zoning Board.

"Unanimously approved a 3 parcel subdivision at Caldwell ave. and Howard st. owned by J. Emil Anderson & Associates.

Approval followed testimony by park officials that parking problems in the area had been resolved thru sale and donation by Anderson of property to the Niles Park District for parking use at the golf course.

"Noted the 52nd birthday of Trustee Peter Pesole by singing "Happy Birthday."

During the meeting of the Niles Board of Local Improvements trustees awarded the 1978 asphalt repaving contract to Cutler Repaving, Inc. of Merrionette Park, Ill. for $116,137.56 as recommended by Administration.

Village Manager Kenneth Scheel noted the two other bidders J.A. Johnson Paving Co. of Arlington Heights (for $112,898.62) and Monarch Asphalt Co. of Skokie ($114,214.70) did not meet specifications and inspection of "their work does not measure up to our satisfaction."

FNBO'S V.P. lectures on consumer credit practices

David Duff, Vice President in charge of Consumer Credit for the quarter Billion dollar First National Bank of Skokie, spoke to a group of almost 100 bankers from Kane, Kendall and DuPage counties earlier this month, on the duties and obligations of bankers and other lenders under the Truth in Lending and other government regulations.

Mr. Duff, who has researched the history and background of government regulation of lending for the past one hundred years, is considered an expert on consumer lending practices.

In citing the opinions of local elected officials on the most recent legislation regarding "Truth in Lending and non discriminatory lending practices", Mr. Duff gave credit to our local congressmen for making a stand on practices which needed clarification.

However, he also pointed out that the simple, straight forward regulations that were proposed, ended up totally unintelligible by the time they were enacted into law. In one instance a simple six

Financial ad award winner

The First National Bank of Morton Grove and its advertising agency, CP Enterprises, Inc., have won a certificate of excellence in the annual Chicago Financial Advertisers Eagle Awards competition.

The winning entry was a newspaper ad for home improvement loans headlined "Was your home hammered hard by the winter?"

The ad was boldly illustrated with a hammer hovering over a nail and a line reading "Nail down a home improvement loan." The copy explained the advantages of obtaining such a loan at First National of Morton Grove.

The ad, which appeared in regional papers during April and May, was judged best in the category of ads less than full page size for banks and savings and loans under $100 million in assets.

The ad was created by Chuck Pecoraro of the Park Ridge-based CP Enterprises agency, who accepted the honor at the Chicago Financial Advertisers 1978 Eagle Awards Banquet at the Drake Hotel.

Joan Robertson of the bank's marketing department represented the bank at the event. Both the agency and the bank received handsome plaques.

The ad, among the 380 individual entries in the competition, was selected on the basis of appearance, creativity, content, impact and effectiveness.

First National will pay the sales tax and send the gifts anywhere in the Continental U.S.

Customers are invited to view the gifts which are on display at the main bank. For further information on Seven-Plus

Douglas elected Assistant Vice President

Following a meeting of the Board of Directors of O'Hare International Bank, Lyndon D. Comstock announced the election of Michael S. Douglas as Assistant Vice President.

Douglas began his career at O'Hare International Bank in June, 1975, as financial analyst in the Commercial Loan Department. In May, 1977, he was promoted to Commercial Loan Officer of the same department. In his new capacity, he will act as senior financial analyst reviewing loans for the bank.

Douglas, who hails from Manitowoc, Wisconsin, graduated from Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa.

LETTERS to EDITOR

Frank Allen chides Besser for 'Left Hand' library comments

Dear Mr. Besser,
I believe a reply is long overdue to your editorials concerning the Niles Public Library. I have only recently received a copy of your "From the Left Hand" of May 4, 1978, and I think it shows your very considerable ignorance of the purposes and objectives of a public library, as have several other entries in this column in the past.

Perhaps it is partly my fault that you are not better informed, but I recall many times when you were invited to attend meetings of the Board of Trustees, which meetings I think you, as a newsman, should have attended uninvited. These are, as required by law, open meetings except when matters of personnel or real estate purchase are to be considered. However, I do not recall your attendance at a single meeting during the fifteen years in which I was the Library Administrator. Furthermore, I can recall only three or four occasions on which you bothered to come in to the library to ask for information about its activities.

To quote your editorial of May 4: "We've long been a bookie guy. The hell with fancy buildings, and branch buildings, and mobile units - just fill the main building with books, lots of books. College kids in Niles now have to go to neighboring libraries to fill their needs. There's no way Niles Library can satisfy their wants."

It would be very interesting if you could document your statement about "college kids." How many examples of this can you justify? What kinds of materials or information were needed? Did the "kids" you speak of ask for assistance from the reference department of the library? Did they make any effort to follow through their questions by asking the library to use the North Suburban Library System services to obtain their materials?

The Niles Public Library is exactly that, a public library; it is not intended to be a college library furnishing all the specialized materials that should be supplied by a college library. As a public library it is the duty of the library to make available to its population as much as possible of the material and information that will "facilitate informal self-education of all people in the community." For this purpose it is also essential that these materials be made available in surroundings conducive to study, comfort and convenience in order to urge non-readers to become readers and so to learn how to add to their own intellectual development.

This is the purpose of what you call "fancy" buildings, branch buildings and mobile units. Do you suggest that the library should ignore the majority of its people to care only for the relatively small proportion who are "intellectuals"? Branch buildings and mobile units are intended to make the library available to the many people who for one reason or another cannot or do not search out the books that can help them to become more interested in their intellectual growth, in their self-education into happier, better informed citizens, and in the improvement of their personal and business lives.

Ever since I have known you, your attitude has been obstructive of any improvement in library facilities. Isn't it high time you, as a "bookie guy," began to educate yourself on what a public library is all about? After you have done this, if you still feel the same way about the library by all means express your opinion, but until you know whereof you speak don't try to deprive the hundreds of people who need and want it of the facilities of a first class library.

As the editor of a fine local newspaper, you owe it to your readers to obtain the true facts before blasting forth with such statements as "There's no way Niles Library can satisfy their wants." There are lots of ways.

Very truly yours,
Francis S. Allen
Retired Library Administrator

A thank you for Ed Hanson

Dear Mr. Hanson:
Thank you for that nice write-up you put in your column about me. You, of course, know me from the "old days," when you frequently came into Toffenetti's restaurant.

I must tell you the response I received from your column in Bugle newspapers was utterly fantastic! So many of my present friends and customers read it and told me about it. I also received many phone calls about it, even from people I haven't heard from in years.

I must tell you this - I even heard from an old friend of yours. When I first started at Toffenetti's, you and he used to come in together. He told me that he's very old now and in poor health. He just came back here to Niles for the first time in many years. He used to own a tavern here. He happened to see a copy of the Bugle, saw your column and phoned me. He said, "Ed Hanson - I thought they planted that old reprobate years ago." He then said, "Give Ed this phone number and have him call me - I'll be in Niles just two more days."

Again, Mr. Hanson, I want to thank you and Bugle newspapers for bringing back some pleasant memories of the past.

Yours sincerely,
Terry Collins

Watch out for children when driving

Dear Editor,
The most precious life to a parent is his or her child. With our children out of school for summer vacation and their minds thinking of other things, it is our responsibility to be extra careful in driving our automobiles.

Our children are not concerned or familiar with our state law allowing right turns on a red light, after making a complete stop. Respect the life of a human person and drive with extra caution.

Dempster Plaza Bank entertains residents of Pleasantview

Dempster Plaza State Bank held an afternoon of bingo for the residents of Pleasantview Nursing Home on Tuesday, June 6. This program replaced the previously scheduled program with Dean Weiss. Mr. Weiss was unable to attend and has also cancelled his appearance at St. Andrews on the 27th. Dempster Plaza State Bank will play bingo at St. Andrews to replace the scheduled program.

The patients at Pleasantview enjoyed the afternoon of bingo and the winners were delighted. Ann Glassner, head of social activities for Pleasantview, told Celia Hansen, Bank Asst. Cashier and hostess, the patients really look forward to the bank's programs. It is very gratifying to know the bank's efforts with the senior citizen programs are enjoyed.

The large frosted pan cakes, baked for the bank by Oven Fresh Bakeries, were delicious and enjoyed by all.
