Hummel display at Talman Federal

Talman Federal Savings and Loan Branch Manager, Henry Sachs, shows Des Plaines resident, Barbara Jacks, some of the 45 Hummel figurines now on display at Talman's Woodfield Branch Office, 1010 N. Meacham rd. in Schaumburg now through July 1.

A display of over 45 different Hummel figurines will be on display at the Talman Federal Savings and Loan Association's Woodfield Branch Office, 1010 N. Meacham rd., Schaumburg, now through July 1. The display can be seen during regular business hours, Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Friday, 9 a.m. to 8 p.m.; and Saturday, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. For over 40 years, Hummel figurines, manufactured by the W. Goebel firm in Rodental, West Germany, have charmed an ever growing group of admirers and collectors. And with over 450 different types of authenticated pieces produced, there's a seemingly endless variety to delight the eye.

Hummel figurines are the creation of Sister Maria Innocentia Hummel, a Franciscan nun who was born in Bavaria in 1909. Even as a child, her artistic talent was much admired—especially by her schoolmates whom she would draw from life just as she saw them. It was from these childhood remembrances of patched clothing, windblown hair, and expressive faces that Berta Hummel first created figures of children for greeting cards.

In 1933, the W. Goebel Company, looking for a new venture to boost it out of financial problems, discovered Berta. With her permission, the company used her sketches as models for figurines—paying her royalties to the Franciscan order.

Even today, the manufacture of each of these colorful children is a painstaking operation involving up to 20 different artists and 30 separate inspections. While it may appear that each figurine is cast from a single mold, some pieces are comprised of over 20 pieces.

Depending on the date of manufacture, various markings have been used to Hummel figurines. In order to be considered authentic, however, a figurine must be indented somewhere with the M.I. Hummel signature.

Firm seeks change of address

by Alice M. Bobula

A request by Temple Steel Co. to change its address from 7400 Lehigh to 6000 Touhy ave. aroused the interest of Niles trustees during the Tuesday, June 27 board meeting. Why, they wondered, did the firm which moved into the former Warwick Electronics building known under the Lehigh number, desire a new street designation. Steel company representative Larry Smith contended the Lehigh number constitutes "side door entrance" rather than a "front door" entrance. "We learned to live with it moving from Elston st. into Niles," he noted. But, he said, Temple Steel is widespread, located in many areas. "With this (Niles) as our main base to be staffed with 200 to 300 employees, we are concerned about future "outside" visitors who will be coming thru a "truck side entrance." Continued on Page 60

Like the passing on of the Olympic torch, Niles public officials have been moving into political history after handing their offices to new runners.

A couple of months ago the very able Millie Jones moved off Niles park board after serving several very productive years. A few weeks back Rich Harczak resigned from the village board after serving 11 very successful years. And now Jack Leske is moving off the park board after serving 17 years, the longest anyone has been at that post.

All three officials were exceptional representatives in the community. They served with dedication and deserve special commendations and thanks for their untiring work on behalf of all of us.

In our more than 20 years of publishing The Bugle, we've often mentioned a trustee in the 50's and early 60's, John Stanley who made most significant contributions to his fellow-residents. John, single-handedly, brought Golf Mill Shopping Center into Niles, which garners about 1.5 million dollars to Niles' coffers annually. Niles literally stole the center away from neighboring towns, which has resulted in the Niles 8-bus free transportation system, its Trident senior citizen-family counseling center building, and has provided the community with the revenue which gives Niles the very best and latest equipment for its public departments, as well as fair salaries for its employees.

Jack Leske probably ranks right behind Stanley in his contributions to Niles. Jack did his own derring-do 11 years ago when he managed to have part of the industrial area on the Skokie-Niles border disannex from Skokie's Park District. The transference of the high-tax-rate industrial area gives Niles Park District an additional $50,000 yearly. Jack's one- Continued on Page 61

Receives B.S. degree

Martha Frances Johnson, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Falk S. Johnson of Morton Grove, and a graduate of Maine East High School, received her Bachelor of Science degree with honors in Anthropology at the University of Alaska in Fairbanks. As an undergraduate, Ms. Johnson was selected her department's outstanding student in 1977.

During that summer she participated in archeological and anthropological studies, sponsored by the university and the U.S. Bureau of Land Management, at Eagle and Point Hope, Alaska. Currently on the staff of the university's museum, she will enter its graduate school in September.

July senior activities

Maine Township will sponsor four senior/citizen activities in July: a tour of the Kellogg plant in Battle Creek, a luncheon meeting, an afternoon of bingo, and a review of the rules of the road for seniors about to renew their driver's license.

Maine Township Senior Citizens Coordinator Ferdinand C. Arndt said the monthly program would begin with an afternoon of bingo at The Greens, 8909 David pl., Des Plaines, at 1 p.m., Wednesday, July 5. Coffee and rolls will be served.

At noon on Wednesday, July 12, the seniors will gather at the Casa Royale, 783 Lee st., Des Plaines, for their regular monthly luncheon meeting. Following lunch, Mr. and Mrs. Gil Horn will present slides of their recent tour of the Holy Land.

Cost of the luncheon is $4 per person and reservations are required.

On Wednesday, July 19, the seniors will travel to Battle Creek, Michigan for a tour of the famous Kellogg cereal factory and lunch at the Rosario Vuarniere restaurant in that city. Buses for the tour will leave the parking lot at 815 Lee st., Des Plaines, at 7 a.m. Reservations are required.

Arndt said his organization will also sponsor a review of the rules of the road on three consecutive Monday mornings at the Des Plaines Senior Center, 1396 Thacker st., Des Plaines. The first session will begin at 9:30 a.m. on July 3. Seniors must attend all three sessions to successfully complete the course.

All reservations to the luncheon and tour must be accompanied by a check made payable to Ferd Arndt and sent to Maine Township Senior Citizens, 2510 W. Dempster, Des Plaines 60016.

The senior citizen activities are sponsored by the Maine Township government and funded in part by township revenue sharing funds.

Police seek rapist

Niles and Cook County Sheriff's police are looking for a young man in his twenties accused of raping a Chicago woman in the Forest Preserves north of Harts rd. early Sunday morning, June 18.

Niles Patrolman John Gaba said he responded to a call from a homeowner on the 6700 block of Harts rd. who complained that a yelling and screaming woman was pounding on the rear door of his house at 5:30 in the morning.

Investigation revealed the woman was a victim of a rape which occurred by the bridge along the upper bank of the North Branch of the Chicago River.

The victim told police she was walking east on Harts rd. from Milwaukee ave. when she noted a man walking behind her. As she approached the bridge, she said he grabbed her arm forcing her into the woods near the river bank.

When she fought him she said the man told her he didn't want to hurt her, that he "just wanted sex. If I was a normal rapist," he said, "you would be dead by now."

He was described as weighing 150 pounds, 5 ft. 9 inches, fair complexioned and having brown hair. He was dressed in a red and white plaid shirt and blue jeans.

Police said the Cook County Sheriff's police were notified of the incident.

NILES ALL AMERICAN SENIORS CLUB
June was a very eventful month for several of our club members as they celebrated June Wedding Anniversaries. We want to take this occasion to congratulate and extend all of our best wishes for health and happiness in the years ahead to Fred and Esther Milwer on their 45th Anniversary; Ross and Carmela Buscemi on their 50th; Walter and Lottie Krawczynski on their 51st and Al and Evelyn Moberg on their 56th. Also our thanks for their thoughtfulness in treating all members to sweet rolls during the month of June.

We welcome back to the fold Bruno Liput after several weeks of illness.

A group of our Niles All American Seniors spent our third annual outing at Arlington Race Tracks and dined in the spacious Classic Club. The 4th Race of the Day was dedicated to our group. Everyone in attendance wagered on their favorites with resultant winners and losers to boot. It was agreed - all had a wonderful day!

At our meeting prior to Father's Day several of our men were the recipients of prizes of beer and wine. The lucky winners were: Messrs. Mollenhauer, Moberg, Green, Leone, Ericson, Matts and Zuccaro. No doubt this and watching the games on TV completed their Father's Day.

What's the law on Mopeds?

Q: What is a Moped?

A: It is a motorized pedalcycle, which is defined by Illinois State Law as follows: A bicycle type vehicle, which has tires with an over-all inflated diameter of 19 inches or more, with fully operative pedals for propulsion by human power, equipped with a power drive system that functions directly or automatically only and not requiring clutching or shifting by the operator after the drive system is engaged, and a helper motor with a cylinder capacity not exceeding 50 cubic centimeter displacement, which produces no more than 2.0 brake horsepower, and is capable of propelling the vehicle at a maximum speed of no more than 30 m.p.h. on level ground.

Q: Where can a Moped be used?
A: Since it requires state license plates, it can be driven only on the street, no on the sidewalk. It can not be driven on the expressway or tollroad.

Q: Who can drive a Moped?
A: Any person above the age of 16 who has any valid driver's license, regardless of license classification.

Q: Must a Moped be equipped with lights?
A: The State law reads as follows: Every motorized pedalcycle, when in use at nighttime, shall be equipped with a lamp on the front which shall emit a white light visible from a distance of at least 500 feet to the front, and with a red reflector on the rear of a type approved by the Department which shall be visible from all distances from 100 feet to 600 feet to the rear when in front of lawful, low-powered beams of head lamps on a motor vehicle. A lamp emitting a red light visible from a distance of 500 feet to the rear may be used in addition to the red reflector.

Q: How many people can ride on a Moped at one time?

A: The State law reads as follows: The operator of a motorized pedalcycle shall ride only astride the permanent and regular seat attached thereto, and shall not permit 2 persons to ride thereon at the same time, unless the motorized pedalcycle is designed to carry 2 persons; any motorized pedalcycle designed for 2 persons must be equipped with a passenger seat and permanent hand grips and footrests for use of a passenger.

Q: Are goggles and helmet required when driving a Moped?
A: Neither the operator nor any passenger on a motorized pedalcycle shall be required to wear any special goggles, shield, helmet or glasses.

The Niles Police wish you safe driving and if you have any more question on Mopeds you may call the Niles Police at 647-2131.

David Gill awarded Merit scholarship

David Gill, of 7143 Niles ave., Niles, has been named the winner of a Washington University Merit Scholarship, it was announced today by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC) of Evanston. He joins a total of more than 4,000 Merit Scholars in the 23rd annual (1978) competition.

College-sponsored four-year Merit Scholarships are generally worth between $1,000 and $6,000 over the four years of college undergraduate study. The amount of the winner's scholarship stipend is not revealed since it is determined in part from confidential family financial information.

A graduating senior at Niles North High School, Skokie, Mr. Gill plans to major in pre-medicine in college. He received a Mathematics Association of America Award and is a Gold Key winner. He is also a member of the National Honor Society.

Mr. Gill's four-year scholarship is sponsored by Washington University, a private, middle-sized, coeducational institution of strong academic nature and stature, offering its students the close, personal contact of a small college community and the faculty and facilities of a much larger university. The University offers undergraduate degree programs in the Humanities, Social Sciences, and Natural Sciences, as well as in Architecture, Business Administration, Engineering and Fine Arts.

OCC offers alternative weekend college

Oakton Community College will introduce a new approach to education this fall with the inception of a "Weekend College" program.

Designed for the serious student who sincerely wants to overcome the problems preventing regular college attendance, Weekend

College offers college-credit courses on an intensive short-term basis for those interested in devoting every other weekend to pursuing a degree.

Weekend college will offer 20 different courses this fall, some meeting on Friday evening from 7-9 p.m. and on Saturday and Sunday from 12:30-2:30 p.m. while others will meet on Saturdays and Sundays from either 9 a.m. - 12 noon or from 2-6 p.m. Students can register for up to nine credit hours each semester. Classes meet eight weekends during the 16-week semester.

Many of the first semester's courses fulfill requirements for Oakton's Accounting, Associate curriculum, but other courses are offered to allow students to acquire specific skills, fulfill requirements, or enhance their intellectual development.

Weekend College. Who is it for? It's for those with no time during the week, for those with changing hours or babysitting problems, or exhausting jobs. It's for anyone interested in an alternative to regular college scheduling.

College services - the library, labs, and tutorial services - are available to weekend students. For information about weekend courses, consult the May 1978 issue of Oakton Report which has been mailed to every household in the OCC district or call 967-5120, ext. 311.

Prevention is the best medicine for any disease. The American Heart Association wants to stop heart disease before it starts. By switching to a heart-healthy lifestyle, you can reduce your own risk. Ask your local Heart Association. And give to the Heart Campaign.

Marillac will become major OCC extension

Oakton Community College this fall will open its second major evening extension center at Marillac High School in Northfield.

Marillac's location on Waukegan rd. south of Willow in Northfield, one of the newly annexed North Shore communities, makes it an ideal center, according to Oakton officials.

Up to 1,000 Oakton students will take classes in 11 classrooms and two labs and will take advantage of 31 college credit courses at Marillac. Ample free parking will also be available.

Offering both college transfer and vocational-technical courses, the Marillac extension will serve the college in a manner similar to the Notre Dame Evening Extension Center which this fall enters its third year. Enrollment at the Notre Dame center in Niles has exceeded 800 each semester and 44 courses will be offered this fall.

Other off-campus offerings are held throughout the OCC district in Des Plaines, Glenview, Morton Grove, Niles, Northbrook, Northfield, Skokie, Wilmette, and Winnetka.

Information on all extension centers and the courses offered at each location can be found in the May 1978 issue of Oakton Report which is mailed to all households in the OCC district.

For information on attending courses at any OCC location this fall, call 967-5391.

Whose Car Is The C.B. In?

One in three citizen's band radios is stolen. Police say the average C.B. unit - if left in a car - will last only 25 days. Several hundred dollars is quite an investment for a few days of use.

C.B. theft has greatly increased in all areas of the country. An Oregon newspaper reports, "Thousands of C.B. owners in the northwest have had their units stolen in a rash of thefts by auto accessory thieves that almost parallels the booming C.B. market itself." In Washington, D.C., police recently arrested a man suspected of stealing 92 C.B. sets valued at a total over $10,000.

Can the C.B. user do anything to prolong the use of his or her "Good Buddy" machine?

The answer to that question is - yes. There are a few prevention measures that are as simple as one, two, three:

1. The best way to prevent a theft of your C.B., although you may not find it convenient, is to take the unit with you when you leave the car or truck. Many people have purchased special slide mounts and carrying bags for just that purpose. If the unit is not in the car, it cannot be stolen.

2. The one feature of your C.B.-equipped car that draws a thief to it is the C.B. antenna. It is virtually a signpost, saying "Here I am." Antennas can be installed with magnetic mounts, hinged mounts that fold in the trunk of the car, and screw mounts where the actual antenna can be removed from its base, all of which remove the tell-tale signal. If the unique signal is removed, chances are that your car will go unnoticed by a potential thief.

3. If the first two techniques are not your style, a more expensive solution is an alarm system for your car. Several are available... some protect the entire car, others protect specific components. In some cases the alarm system may cost as much or more than the C.B. system you want to protect.

These suggestions may help you and your C.B. break the 25-day average life span.

Here are some other facts you should know if you're working on keeping your C.B.:

Many people have the idea that their unit, if not in the dash, will be safe in the trunk. That's wrong. The trunk, although lockable, can be opened in a short time by an experienced thief. If it is obvious your car has a C.B. system, a thief will look for it.

Time is very important to the thief. His job has to be done in as little time as possible. That is why the best place for your C.B. unit is in the dashboard of your car or trunk. It may take longer to install, but it also takes longer to get out. Because of this, several large insurance companies exclude C.B. radios from their standard auto policies if they are not permanently mounted in the dash or a space designed for such use by the manufacturer. If you have a slide mount or your unit is mounted under the dash, insurance coverage can be purchased for an added small premium.

A major insurance company survey shows that most C.B. thefts are from private passenger autos. Most thefts occur between the hours of midnight and 8 a.m.

It is obvious that the C.B. radio is going to be around for awhile. Its use has not even peaked. But it is also very apparent that the theft problem needs attention and action, or the C.B. user will be buying radios as if they were disposable.

The Morton Grove Police Department Crime Prevention Bureau is active in new programs to lessen your vulnerability to crime, including a volunteer C.B. radio patrol unit. If interested in participating in this program, call the Crime Prevention Bureau at 966-7800.

Oakton fall registration workshops

Fall registration at Oakton Community College will begin on June 20 when the Life and Career Planning Workshops for new full-time students are scheduled to begin.

The workshops will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 8:45 a.m. until 4 p.m. during the summer through mid-August. All in-coming, full-time students are asked to participate in the workshops in which students are introduced to Oakton, discuss and plan their academic program, and register for the fall semester.

Students will also have the opportunity to assess their academic skills and see the result of assessment tests in mathematics, reading, and writing. This information is then interpreted to the student by a member of the Student Development faculty with the assistance of a peer advisor.

Students who are planning to take their first composition, math or reading course at Oakton Community College during the 1978 Fall Semester must take assessment tests in these subject areas prior to registration. They may contact the Office of Student Development for specific information regarding times, dates, places and procedures for taking these tests.

At some time following the assessment testing the student will be invited to come in again for the actual Life and Career Planning Workshop. The workshops will begin in the morning with an orientation module which includes a film introducing the students to "images" of Oakton, and general information about the college.

Students will then be divided into small groups led by a member of the Student Development faculty and a peer advisor. These groups will discuss life plans, explore career possibilities through use of the "self-directed search," and develop educational plans using self-assessment of academic skills and results of assessment tests.

Full classes at Oakton will begin during the week of August 28. Tuition is $12 per credit hour for in-district students. Residents over 60 years of age pay $6 per credit hour.

For information about admission and registration, call the OCC Admissions Office at 967-5391.

All carried bouquets of roses, irises, daisies and baby's breath in white and the color of their individual gowns.

Presidential scholar Louise O'Brien honored

Louise O'Brien of Morton Grove has been awarded a number of honors this year for scholastic achievement. Louise, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Brien, graduated this June with the top of her class at Niles North High School.

In May she was named a Presidential Scholar of whom there were only 121 high school seniors nationwide, and only two from Illinois. She was invited by President Carter to Washington for a week of activities culminating with the presentation of the Presidential Medallion on May 24 in the rose garden of the White House. This is the fifteenth year of the Presidential Scholar program which was initiated by Lyndon Johnson to give recognition from the Chief Executive to the country's leading students in classroom and extra-curricular excellence.

Avon Products Inc. has named Louise the winner of their Community Scholarship for 1978. This fine monetary award is granted annually to an outstanding senior in the Morton Grove-Glenview community and is given to the college or university of that person's choice.

Louise is also a National Merit Scholarship finalist. This includes a $1000 grant also to the university of her choice. It is the most cherished of the National Merit Scholarships of which there are several types. One is given by institutions of higher learning to students who are committed to a particular course or program at that institution. Another comes from corporate business entities to children of their employees. Still another is awarded to those with very high marks but not high enough for monetary stipend.

In memory of a very popular and successful teacher who met an accidental death last year, Niles North High has established the Richard Hashagen Memorial Scholarship. It is interesting that Louise O'Brien is the first recipient of this award. She has been tendered scholarships by six of the top universities in the U.S. She has decided to pursue her higher education at Princeton University.

This young lady has been active for four years in the Forensics program, particularly in Oratory and Extemporaneous Speech, and has had considerable success. This year she won the Northern Illinois championship in Extemporaneous Speech and wound up as a quarter-finalist in the National Championship held at Northwestern University by the National Forensic League.

At this writing, Louise is a guest of the American Academy Achievement whose chairman is Lowell Thomas. This is their Golden Plate weekend - "bringing together 40 giants of accomplishment from America's great fields of endeavor and 300 most outstanding high school honor students from across the country." This event is being held at the Executive Inn Rivermont Hotel in Owensboro, Kentucky.

LETTERS to EDITOR

Nilesite clarifies Arnold's statements at park meeting

Dear Voice of the People:
I don't believe Alice Bobula meant to leave the impression she did in the article about the park board (Niles) meeting last week. I attended that meeting and most of the meetings all year. I am not writing this because I am defending (Jeff) Arnold or am I against the Kirk Lane homeowner. I am writing this because the article leaves an unfair impression of what actually happened, and it appears that Arnold was dictatorial and abusive to this women.

Arnold asked for audience comments at that part of the meeting set aside for it. The Kirk Lane resident got up and had her say, and then said, "that was all she had to say for that night," and sat down. Arnold then proceeded to go on with the meeting and had talked a short time when the woman started to talk again. All Arnold did was remind her that she had said herself that that was all she had to say. She realized she had made that statement and she sort of apologized and made the statement, "You'll hear from me at the next meeting." The board had heard from her at this meeting, and others, but Arnold did not cut her off as was insinuated in the Bugle article. She had cut herself off, and Arnold was just reminding her of it!

Jeff Arnold may be many things to many people, and I'm not waving any flags for him yet, but the record must be set straight, especially if one witnessed it.

By the way the two new women commissioners are good for the board. I hope they are of the ilk that are not beholdng to anyone or anything for what has befallen them. They appear to be solid looking thinkers if anyone can be described that way, and I hope they have the convictions of independent thinkers.

I don't know whose idea it was to stack the women on one side of the commissioner's seating arrangement. If the board ever needed a balanced look, it is now with the 3 men and two women look. We don't need the look of men verses women in the seating arrangement of this new board. A balanced look, with balanced thinking is what will produce the kind of board Leske was referring to when he said, "I hope the people coming on the board will be as good as those of the past." I believe I know why it was done this way, but someone is "under rating the power of women" to cope with come what may, and they're equal to all challenges.

Nimrod's minimal competency bill near law

Senator John J. Nimrod, (right) R-Glenview, sponsor of the Senate-passed bill dealing with minimal competency testing, confers with Rep. John E. Porter, (left) R-Evanston, about the measure. The bill is soon to be debated in the House of Representatives and will be handled by Rep. Porter.

Senator John J. Nimrod, R-Glenview, announced today that his bill dealing with minimal competency testing is another step closer to becoming law.

"I'm pleased to report," said Senator Nimrod, "that SB 238, which directs the Illinois Office of Education to develop a minimal competency testing program for the 3R's by the end of this year has now been approved by the House Elementary and Secondary Education Committee."

Senator Nimrod said his bill, which was overwhelmingly approved by the Senate, is now before the full House and is being handled by Rep. John E. Porter, R-Evanston.

"A recent poll of the people in the 4th Legislative District," said Nimrod, "indicates that 90% of them believe that students should pass a minimal competency test before graduating from high school."

SB 238 would also have the Illinois Office of Education assist and encourage local high school districts to adopt testing programs that meet or surpass the minimal statewide program by June 30, 1980.

"We're now spending $2 billion a year for education in Illinois," said Nimrod, "yet even our educators admit that many youngsters are graduating from high school without knowing basic skills in reading, writing and arithmetic. I think this must be corrected so that our young people can become better equipped to enter college or to help them earn a living."

Senator Nimrod said that legislatures in about 25 states have approved or are working on legislation dealing with minimal competency testing.

James S. Sheldon, right, senior vice president and trust officer for the First National Bank of Des Plaines, and Willis Ostrem of Lutheran General Hospital's Development Office, look over blueprints at the site of the park Ridge hospital's new Surgical Wing. The new surgical facility, part of Lutheran General's Dimension '79 expansion program, will house 11 major operating rooms and will be equipped to handle general surgery as well as open-heart, orthopedic and other special surgical procedures. Sheldon presented a check representing the first portion of the Des Plaines bank's pledge to the hospital's campaign.

Peerless Federal offers new 8% and Treasury certificates

Savers at Peerless Federal Savings are now able to earn a compounded interest rate of 8.45 percent on long-term deposits, as of June 1, Association President Timothy P. Sheehan announced.

To earn the full rate, savings must be left on deposit for terms of eight, nine or ten years, and interest left to accumulate.

The new certificates are being sold in denominations of $5,000 or more. The certificates are federally insured up to $40,000.

A second new type of savings certificate, also federally insured to $40,000, is being offered in denominations of $10,000 or more for terms of six months. This certificate will earn interest at one-quarter per cent above the average auction rate paid on six-month U.S. Government Treasury Bills.

Sheehan said the new savings account interest rates were authorized by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board on May 11, 1978.

The eight to ten year certificates will carry an eight per cent stated interest rate, but with daily compounding the effective annual yield is 8.45 percent, if interest is left in the account.

"Until now, the highest compounded interest rate savers could earn under federal regulations was 8.17 per cent on six-year certificates," said Sheehan. "But with the new authority just granted, we will be able to help our long-term savers accumulate and even better return."

Sheehan added that the longer term certificates will also be helpful to home buyers because they will enable the Association to stretch the terms of some savings capital, matching more closely the long terms of most mortgage loans.

He said certificate holders may withdraw earnings without penalty at any time. Deposits can also be withdrawn before maturity, but subject to an interest penalty required by federal regulations. The withdrawn deposits would earn interest at 5 1/4 per cent, less 90 days' interest.

GreatAmerican Federal Savings reports lending rise

Spurred by both a favorable flow of savings and continued expansion, GreatAmerican Federal Savings and Loan Association was able to raise the dollar volume of home mortgage loans issued in 1977 by 28.8 percent while increasing the number of mortgage loans by 14.6 percent.

The association closed 1,781 residential mortgage loans with a value of $74,302,500 in 1977, as compared to 1,554 for $57,516,400 the previous year. In addition, the association purchased 2 single family whole loans and participations in 15 multi family loans in the Chicagoland SMSA totalling $2,314,000. There were also 50 loans totalling $2,195,200 purchased outside the relevant SMSA.

The information is included in the association's 1977 mortgage disclosure report prepared in compliance with the 1976 Home Mortgage Disclosure Act, which must be filed with the federal government no later than March 30 (within 90 days of close of fiscal year).

All but seven of the loans were for single-to-four-family residences.

GreatAmerican Federal Savings had a mortgage approval rate of 94.5 percent in 1977, based on 1,781 loans closed out of 1,884 loan applications.

In 1976 the association had an approval rate of 92.5 percent. Domeier credited the upturn in mortgage lending activity both to favorable economic conditions and the association's continued expansion in 1977.

"Our industry had a record savings flow in 1977 to permit a high level of lending activity that in turn made possible the purchase of 5.5 million new and existing homes across the country. The demand for homebuying credit was high and the response was vigorous and positive," said Domeier.

"In our own case, applications were up over 12 percent, loans closed were up more than 14.6 percent, dollar volume of loans closed increased 28.8 percent, and the approval rate rose 2 percent."

The association's business increase was helped with the opening of new offices in Oak Brook, Elmwood Park, and Elmhurst as well as a merger during the year with Bellwood Savings & Loan Association.

GreatAmerican Federal Savings now operates nine offices in the metropolitan area, opened a new office in the Golf Mill Shopping Center in Niles during March, and will soon be opening new offices in Arlington Heights and in Park Ridge.

The report for 1977 shows that in Oak Park, where the association was founded in 1934 and still has its main office, GreatAmerican Federal Savings association issued 225 residential mortgages for $8,398,800. The Oak Park Community Relations Dept. reports that 627 single-family homes and condominiums were sold in Oak Park in 1977. Therefore, the GreatAmerican Federal Savings activity represents 36 percent of the loan volume in that community. In addition, the association approved 96.6 percent of the 233 mortgage applications received for Oak Park residences.

The association also issued disclosure reports for Great Oaks Mortgage Corporation, a wholly owned subsidiary which functions primarily as a mortgage banker. In 1977 Great Oaks closed 268 loans for $8,923,000.

Copies of the report are available for public inspection in the loan department of the association's main office, 1001 Lake St., Oak Park, and in the association's Deerfield office at 499 Lake-Cook County Line rd. Photostatic copies will be made available at 10 cents per page. Mail requests will be honored. The price of a full copy is $2 including postage. Mail requests should be accompanied by a check or money order.

Requests for additional information about GreatAmerican's mortgage lending activities should be directed to Clement Novak, first vice president, or Paul Nelson, assistant vice president, both at the association's Oak Park office.

Norwood Federal opens gift shoppes

As an inducement to encourage regular saving, Norwood Federal Savings and Loan Association, whose Main Office is at 5813 N. Milwaukee, Chicago, has opened Easy Street Gift Shoppes at all four of its offices, according to Donald J. Babicz, Executive Vice President.

"Rather than offering our customers just one or two free gifts for making stated deposit amounts, we are providing a wide array of merchandise that is either free or priced considerably below retail for qualified new and old Norwood Federal savers," Babicz commented. "As an example of the exceptional values, such items as a Rand McNally Magnificent Continent Book and a Travel Alarm Clock are completely free to anyone depositing at least $300 in a new or existing account."

Other Easy Street Gift Shoppe merchandise includes a Panasonic Clock Radio that can be purchased for just $27 following a qualifying $300 deposit. The price goes down to just $17 when $5,000 or more is placed in an account. A Hamilton Beach

Toaster, Sunbeam Lawn Sprinkler, Water Pik Pulsating Shower Head, and Gillette Hair Dryer are just a few of the other gifts offered free in some instances or at low, low prices when qualifying deposits are made.

"We honestly believe that our Easy Street Gift Shoppes provide a unique opportunity for Norwood customers to obtain desired merchandise at real savings," Babicz continued. "Added to these extraordinary values is the fact that Norwood Federal now pays interest on all savings accounts on a daily basis. This means that the 5 1/4% annual return we quote on passbook savings actually turns out to be 5.39% when the funds are left to compound. It's a 'hard to beat' opportunity for all area residents to get the best possible return on their savings' dollars."

Norwood Federal operates Easy Street Shoppes and full-service branch offices at 5415 W. Devon and 6205 N. Northwest hwy., Chicago, and 980 N. Northwest hwy., Park Ridge, in addition to the Main Office.

Spiotto, who attended Loyola University and the University of Chicago, holds a masters degree in public administration from the Illinois Institute of Technology.

He is past president of the Illinois Academy of Criminology and, until his retirement, was a member of the Cook County Criminal Justice Commission. He is a current member of the International Association of Police Chiefs and Harvard Associates in Police Science.

New mortgage terms set by First Federal of Chicago

First Federal of Chicago has announced new home mortgage terms which became effective Tuesday, May 2, 1978.

For mortgage loans of 80 percent (to $80,000) the new rates will be 9 3/4 percent for a maximum term of 25 years, a 3 percent service charge and a $100 closing fee. The rate had been 9 1/2 percent for 25 years with a 1 1/2 percent service charge and a $100 closing fee.

For mortgage loans of 81 to 90 percent (to $60,000) the rate will be 9 3/4 percent with a maximum term of 25 years, 3 percent service charge, private mortgage insurance and $100 closing fee.

Loans over $80,000 will be 10 percent for 25 years with a 3 percent service charge and $100 closing fee. These loans and 81 to 90 percent loans will be limited to established customers.

"Demand for mortgage money has remained strong—with no let up—since the first of the year," said James C. Fitzmaurice, senior vice president of First Federal. "In April, for example, mortgage loan requests at First Federal exceeded $35 million, or more than $1 3/4 million a day.

"We want to remain in the market. In order to do it, we have to adjust our terms to help insure that mortgage money will be available," he said. "Savings inflows have not kept pace with local mortgage demand, and we can expect the short term money market trend to continue to limit the availability of mortgage money."

First Federal is the largest savings and loan in Illinois.

Financial ad award winner

The First National Bank of Morton Grove and its advertising agency, CP Enterprises, Inc., have won a certificate of excellence in the annual Chicago Financial Advertisers Eagle Awards competition.

The winning entry was a newspaper ad for home improvement loans headlined "Was your home hammered hard by the winter?"

The ad was boldly illustrated with a hammer hovering over a nail and a line reading "Nail down a home improvement loan." The copy explained the advantages of obtaining such a loan at First National of Morton Grove.

The ad, which appeared in regional papers during April and May, was judged best in the category of ads less than full page size for banks and savings and loans under $100 million in assets.

The ad was created by Chuck Pecoraro of the Park Ridge-based CP Enterprises agency, who accepted the honor at the Chicago Financial Advertisers 1978 Eagle Awards Banquet at the Drake Hotel.

Joan Robertson of the bank's marketing department represented the bank at the event. Both the agency and the bank received handsome plaques.

The ad, among the 380 individual entries in the competition, was selected on the basis of appearance, creativity, content, impact and effectiveness.

Local Prudential reps attend conference

The Prudential Insurance Co. recently concluded a regional business conference at the Hyatt Regency New Orleans. Twenty three representatives from the Lakeview district agency, 6600 N. Lincoln, attended.

Representing the district were: Leo J. Santori, district agency manager; John Delahanty, John Gaiser, John Milazzo, Ken Miller, and John Schmitt, sales managers; Stanley Abramowitz, Jerry Brown, Dennis Cronin, Vince

Evert, Tom Gara, Bob Kahler, Ray Kruse, Jack Lyons, Larry Majewski, Jack Martin, Wm. Meder, Jim Moreth, Tony Perrotta, Ron Sempetean, Brano Stevenson, Chuck Swirk, and Mike Yordon, agents.

The conference provided instruction in specialized insurance subjects. Executives from Prudential's Mid-America home office, Chicago, participated in the three-day program.

Start saving for college educations

The cost of a four-year college education in a state institution is expected to rise from about $17,500 to $47,330 in 18 years. Private colleges are almost double that amount.

The message to parents is clear and simple: the sooner you start to save the easier it is going to be to finance the cost of college education for sons and daughters.

"Practically every parent dreams of big things for their children," notes John L. Domeier, chairman and president of GreatAmerican Federal Savings and Loan Association, a leading thrift institution. "But it's also going to take some solid financial planning to achieve those dreams," he adds.

"Another advantage of starting early is that you can compound the interest on your savings to lighten the load. Long-term certificates yield over 8% a year, compounded, compared to 5 1/4% for a passbook account," said Domeier.

For example, each $1,000 invested in long-term certificates paying 7.75% interest would be worth $3,832.75 in 18 years. With that formula, $12,348 invested today and left to compound would be worth $47,330 in 18 years, enough to pay for a four-year state education.

Of course, most families don't have $12,000 readily available for long-term investment. But Domeier counsels that even a modest amount deposited regularly in a passbook account paying 5 1/4% will grow until it can be put into a certificate paying rates of interest up to 7 3/4%. Escalating savings into higher-yielding savings plans would, thereby, reduce the amounts indicated in the chart.

Before parents throw up their hands in despair and urge their tots toward careers where college degrees are unnecessary (what's wrong with being a lumberjack, anyway?), Domeier noted that financial help is available.

The savings executive suggested that parents start saving an amount they can comfortably handle and look to those other sources for the remainder of the funds.

"Most colleges offer scholarships, loans, grants, assistantships, and part-time jobs," Domeier said. Also, the federal government has financial assistance programs; and, as college costs continue to climb, more schools will be offering scholarships, loans, and other forms of aid to middle-class students.

Parents can start planning for their toddlers' college education now by visiting one of GreatAmerican Federal Savings area offices where savings counselors can help you work out a college savings plan. Full service facilities are in Oak Park, Bellwood, Elmhurst, Elmwood Park, Oak Brook, Franklin Park, Deerfield, 300 S. Wacker dr., Chicago, and 230 N. Michigan ave., Chicago. New offices are also planned for Arlington Heights, Park Ridge, and Niles.

Uptown Savings interest rates highest in history

Your personal financial progress in 1978 may depend on making the most of your savings dollars, especially if they are savings dollars earmarked for retirement.

Arlene Duggan, manager of the Niles office of Uptown Federal Savings and Loan Association of Chicago, said that for most people this means taking advantage of the current high interest rates. They can get with insured savings accounts and certificates at savings institutions.

Uptown Federal's Niles office is in the Lawrencewood Shopping Center at Waukegan rd. and Oakton st.

"Most people don't realize it, but moving into 1978, interest rates being paid to savers are the highest in history," Duggan said. "This offers a great opportunity for savers, and especially for people nearing retirement when safety and capital growth are so important, to enjoy comparative rates of return that until recently were available only to large investors willing to take substantial risks."

"Today, savers at institutions like ours can get a very high historical rate of return with the assurance that their savings capital is always safe."

Duggan noted that until now long ago annual returns of more than 5 per cent were considered very high in the financial world even to big investors, and that rates to savers were considerable less than this.

"She said that today, savings rates at institutions like Uptown Federal begin at 5-1/4 per cent per year on regular passbook accounts and go to 7-3/4 per cent per year on the longest-term certificate accounts.

"And with our daily compounding, the actual annual yield if the money is left on deposit all year is even higher," she continued.

Duggan said one big advantage of insured savings, particularly for people nearing retirement who want to preserve their capital, is that you don't risk taking a capital loss.

She noted that during 1977 the Dow-Jones Industrial average dropped 17 per cent, closing at 831.17. She said that even over the long term stocks have been risky, with the Dow-Jones standing at 906 10 years ago compared with below 800 nearing the end of January, 1978.

She added that even with such gilt-edged investments as Treasury bills, notes and bonds, it's possible to suffer a loss if you have to cash them in before maturity.

"But even if you have to redeem a long-term savings certificate before maturity, you won't lose any capital," she went on.

"Federal regulations require that people turning in certificates prematurely receive no interest for the first 90 days they owned the certificate, but in no case can their capital be taken away."

"What's more, if you've held the certificate for more than 90 days, you'll get the regular passbook interest rate on that portion of the time."

Duggan said other advantages of savings accounts and certificates include being able to get your money whenever you want it, not having to pay fees or commissions, and being able to open accounts with as little as a few dollars.

"In short," she concluded, "if maximum return commensurate with safety of principal is your goal, as it must be for people building retirement funds, the only way to go in 1978 is with insured savings as the cornerstone of your investment program."

First National of Des Plaines celebrates 65 years of community service

The continued growth of the northwest suburban area is an ongoing consideration at the First National Bank of Des Plaines, Lee and Prairie, which is celebrating 65 years of financial support to business and residents of Des Plaines and surrounding communities.

First National opened its new and expanded main bank facility in May, 1977 when it became the first major tenant of the new 10-story First National Bank Building occupying three levels. This is the bank's fifth home since its founding in 1913 and is the result of the bank's growth during the past several years. Resources at the First topped $100 million in 1970 and over $200 million this year.

More than 40 services are offered in the various areas of savings, checking, loans, extra services including trusts, retirement accounts, travel arrangements through the First Maine Travel Agency (a bank subsidiary at 728 Lee St.) and business services. The bank's data processing center provides commercial payroll processing services.

First National's latest savings plan, the new Seven-Plus, offers a seven-year Certificate of Deposit, minimum $1,000, which receives seven-percent interest paid quarterly, annually or left on deposit to earn additional savings. The Plus of Seven-Plus stands for a valuable gift of your choice which is given with each seven-year Certificate of Deposit. One of three gifts may be chosen in each of ten CD categories of $1,000 to $10,000.

In addition to the main bank, First National's Convenience Center, 760 Lee St., offers the Walk-In Mini Bank and eight Drive-In Lanes for easy, quick handling of normal banking transactions. The Mini-Bank is open from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday, until 8 p.m. Friday and 2 p.m. Saturday. The Drive-In Lanes open every day at 7 a.m. and close at 7 p.m. Monday through Thursday, 8 p.m. Friday and 2 p.m. Saturday.

For full information on Seven-Plus or any of the bank's other services call 827-4411 or stop in and see its new building and offices at the corner of Lee and Prairie, adjacent to the new Des Plaines Mall in downtown Des Plaines.

The great balloon race at Niles Savings and Loan

By Ed Hanson

"I shot an arrow into the air,
It fell to earth,
I know not where".....

The above are a few opening lines from a classic poem. NILES SAVINGS AND LOAN, 7077 Dempster, Niles and their other convenient locations, 5741 Dempster, Morton Grove took a leaf from this great poem. Instead of an arrow, they shot a balloon filled with helium into the air and where they will fall to earth, they know not where. But whoever recovers these balloons, will find affixed a small card, upon which can be written the name, address, city and state of the finder. There will be two WINNERS. These TWO winners will be those balloons recovered from the farthest distance, in miles, from that famous place, the NILES SAVINGS AND LOAN COMPANY or their Morton Grove Branch.

Balloons can travel a long distance, when the weather is clear and the winds are right. Who knows?

One thing I do know, of my own knowledge is: THE NILES SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION is one of the finest places where your money can earn plenty with no risk.

See their ad in the Bugle's special financial edition along with many, many other fine area- and out of the area - FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS.

NILES SAVINGS AND LOAN, is in good company because they too are "Blue Chip" companies and their service and personnel are "tops" — from the office boy to the President.

Skokie resident joins Crusade organization

Skokie resident Hal Wallis - a former Crusade of Mercy loaned executive - has joined the newly formed Crusade's Loaned Executive Association.

He is an employee of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Chicago and will assist the annual Crusade effort by acting as spokesman for the annual campaigns.

All members of the association are former Crusade of Mercy loaned executives who have served with the Crusade for either three or six month periods since the "loaned" executive program began in 1965. Loaned executives are management-level employees of Chicago area companies whose services are loaned to the Crusade for a specified period. Their salaries and expenses are paid by their employers while they function as Crusade staff in support of campaign leaders and their objectives.

The purpose of the association is to "encourage, promote, and complement the annual Crusade of Mercy campaign by encouraging its members to take an active role in providing a metropolitan network of assistance to support the Metropolitan Crusade of Mercy." This year the Crusade will seek to raise $53 million for the support of human care services in Chicago and 153 suburbs and is the "United Way" campaign in those areas.

At Last! An Easy Way for the Small Investor to Get into the Big Money Market!

CitizensBank Introduces:

Citizens Money Market Certificates...The Short-Term, High-Interest Certificates That can be Better Than Treasury Bills!

If you have $10,000 or more to invest, you can now get a high-yield, 6-month, FDIC insured, Citizens Money Market Certificate that pays you Treasury Bill rates!

How Citizens Money Market Certificates Work.

Because of a recent change in Federal Reserve regulations, our new Money Market Certificates pay you the same high average discount interest rate as six-month Treasury Bills sold at the most recent weekly auction. For example, on June 22 the average discount auction rate for six-month Treasury Bills was 7.228%. But unlike Treasury Bills, Citizens Bank compounds this interest daily. So your effective annual yield would have been 7.495%, subject to the Treasury Bill auction discount rate at renewal. That's quite a return in just six months!

The new, current weekly rate, available every Thursday, is guaranteed for the full six-month term of your investment. And your certificate is fully insured up to $40,000, subject to the limitations of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, an agency of the United States Government!

Citizens Money Market Certificates Have Advantages.

Because the interest is compounded daily and there are no transaction costs on Citizens Money Market Certificates, you are likely to enjoy a higher yield on your total investment than you would with Treasury Bills. Buying a Treasury Bill could mean paying a fee to your bank to cover the cost of recording and safe-keeping. Citizens Money Market Certificates cost you nothing at all in service charges and are available to you right in Park Ridge at CitizensBank.

New Opportunities for Long-Term Investors, Too!

Now you can also purchase 8-year, FDIC-insured, CitizensBank income and investment bonds that pay you a full 7 3/4% interest. These bonds are available in amounts as small as $1000 or more in $100 multiples. All interest on these high-yielding bonds is compounded daily.

How Can You Get Citizens Money Market Certificates?

Citizens Money Market Certificates (also available to businesses) are as easy to get as opening a savings account! Just visit our New Accounts Department on the first floor or complete and return the coupon below with your check. For more information and the current rate on Citizens Money Market Certificates, call James Petersen at 825-7000, Ext. 232.

Federal law and regulations require that money withdrawn before maturity earns the regular passbook savings rate, less three months' interest.

Financing your own "custom built" home

The process of designing and building your own home is a unique and highly satisfying experience. It affords a family the opportunity to develop a home specifically tailored to their life style, a feature not always available from the stock of existing homes or from builders of new homes. It also poses some unique challenges not encountered in the various housing alternatives. One of these is the special financing arrangements required.

Building of a custom home involves the selection and purchase of a building site, selection of an architect and design of the proposed home, and finally, selection of a general contractor. There are a series of financing arrangements which closely follow each of these steps.

There will generally be as many as three separate and distinct loans provided by one or more financial institutions. Because of the complexity of the loan accommodations, the home builder must understand his own needs so that he can pursue them in the proper order and with an appropriate lender.

Initially, the prospective home builder must select and contract to purchase a building site. The cost involved would usually be covered by the equity the individuals have in their present home; funds which would not be available until the sale of that home. An Interim or Swing loan, however, will provide the cash needed. Such a loan would be made for a period of time sufficient to complete the design and construction of the new home and would be repaid from the sale of the present home in the form of a single payment geared to the project completion date. Interest payments will typically be due every three to six months depending on the preference of the lender.

The loan will usually be secured by a Junior mortgage on the present home. This mortgage does not effect the existing first mortgage in any way and the regular monthly payments on it continue as before. One important item to remember is to request an adequate term for the loan at the outset. Don't be too optimistic about the length of time which will be required to design and build your own home. There is much to be done and delays and unforeseen events are almost inevitable. In working with borrowers on such projects, I have generally found that a nine to twelve month loan is appropriate. Such a loan would most easily be secured from a commercial bank, although some savings and loan associations do provide such financing. Under this arrangement, the building site is owned free and clear which sets the stage for the next financing step, the Construction loan.

Having acquired a building site, the home builder must now select an architect, approve the design and cost, and engage a general contractor. Armed with a set of plans and specifications, plat of survey and construction contract, the individuals now set out in search of construction financing. A Construction loan is unique in that it is a loan which starts out small and grows, in dollar amount as the home is built and paid for. It requires a lender who is equipped to deal with the process of construction and to make the multiple disbursements necessary. Many savings and loan associations and some banks are set up to handle such loans, but just as many are not. Often the architect or general contractor can offer some information on which lenders, in a given area, have such capabilities. Some lenders use the services of a Disbursement Agent, typically a Title Insurance Company, to make the individual disbursements. This will usually involve an added expense and the borrower should determine whose expense it will be. On such a loan, the lender will appraise or have an appraisal made of the property to be built from the plans and specifications. Generally, with the building site as the "down payment" it is possible to borrow enough to pay for the cost of the home. Interest will be paid monthly in proportion to the loan amount disbursed from month to month. It will be secured by a mortgage on the building site and is repaid in the form of a single payment, upon completion of the home, and in part, from the proceeds of the next loan, the "Permanent" loan. Again, a realistic term should be set for this loan, generally six to nine months for most projects.

The Permanent loan is the typical mortgage loan we have come to know and love. The only difference is that, in this case, it is being made to repay part of another loan rather than to purchase a piece of property. Often the Permanent loan is for an amount less than the Construction loan with the remaining amount needed to retire the Construction loan coming from the sale of the present home. Application for a Permanent loan should be made at the same time as the Construction loan. The term of the commitment should be long enough to assure that the home can be built and the present home sold before the commitment expires.

The associated financial arrangements each have their own unique expenses in addition to interest and this should be explored as fully as possible and figured in to the cost of the project. In addition to interest expense there are appraisal charges for Title Insurance, credit reports, lender's service charge or "points", and possible disbursing agents services; as mentioned. Some of these costs will be the borrower's expense. In addition, the interest expense on the Construction loan should be estimated. A good rule is to assume that one-half of the full amount of the Construction loan is outstanding for the anticipated duration of the construction.

The ideal situation is one in which all three loans are obtained from one financial institution. It becomes easier and somewhat less expensive to do so. A few commercial banks, such as Glenview State Bank, provide such services. A common alternative is to obtain the Interim loan from one source and a combination Construction/Permanent loan from another. Occasionally, a good Permanent loan can be obtained from a lender who is not equipped to handle the Construction loan. It should not prove difficult to obtain a Construction loan armed with such a "Take Out" loan, as it is called.

In selecting lenders, particularly the construction lender, care should be taken to determine the lender's qualifications and experience. An experienced and knowledgeable construction lender can be a valuable asset to the project. For this reason, cost should not be the only factor considered. As a lending officer, some of my most memorable experiences have come from working with a family on the building of their "Dream Home". It is a once-in-a-lifetime investment that deserves very careful planning and preparation but pays unusually high dividend in satisfaction and enjoyment.

"Toll Services Operator of the Year"

Eileen Lentz (center) was voted "Toll Services Operator of the Year" by her co-workers at Central Telephone Company of Illinois, Des Plaines, during Telephone Operators Week, May 15-22. Charles Lamm, vice president, and Bob Paladino, assistant manager customer services, presented Lentz with a charm bracelet to commemorate the honorary title. Lentz has served the company as an operator since 1964. She is a resident of Niles.

New legislation could alter entire telephone industry

The long-awaited Communications Act of 1978, released at a Washington, D.C. press conference last week, would create sweeping changes in telecommunications laws and alter the nature of the telephone industry, according to an initial review by industry representatives.

The bill was introduced by House Communications Subcommittee Chairman Lionel VanDeerlin (D-Cal.) and the subcommittee's ranking minority member Louis Frey (R-Fla.).

"We have made a preliminary review of the legislation," said C.P. Lamm, vice president of Central Telephone Co. of Illinois. Based on the information, highlights of the bill include:

The seven-member Federal Communications Commission would be abolished and replaced with a five-member Communications Regulatory Commission.

A "Universal service compensation fund" would be established and financed by telephone line charges to be paid by companies providing intercity telecommunications services connecting with local telephone companies. The Communications Regulatory Commission would administer the fund to assure universal, affordable telephone service for home telephone users.

Any telephone company would be allowed to provide any telecommunications service, or any service incidental to telecommunications, through a separate subsidiary.

A National Telecommunications Agency in the Executive Branch would be established as an independent policy-making body, replacing the Commerce Department's National Telecommunications and Information Administration.

Any company providing a non-competitive telecommunications service would be required to divest itself of equipment manufacturing within three years after enactment of the bill.

Federal regulation of cable television would be eliminated. A task force to coordinate international telecommunications facility planning would be created.

The proposed legislation is very lengthy and comprehensive. We will be studying it extensively to determine what impact it could have on Central Telephone Co., Lamm explained.

"Although we are disappointed that the bill does not deal specifically with the Primary Instrument Concept or the intercity services proposals of the telephone industry," he added, "we are pleased that it will provide an additional opportunity to discuss the issues in a Congressional forum."

The legislation, which encompasses broadcasting matters as well as common carrier issues, will be the subject of hearings later this summer.

The new certificates are being sold in denominations of $1,000 or more. The certificates are federally insured up to $40,000.

A second new type of savings certificate, also federally insured to $40,000, is being offered in denominations of $10,000 or more for terms of six months. This certificate will earn interest at one-quarter per cent above the average auction rate paid on six month U.S. Government Treasury Bills. John R. O'Connell said the new savings account interest rates were authorized by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board on May 11.

The eight to ten year certificates will carry an eight per cent stated interest rate, but with daily compounding the effective annual yield is 8.45%, if interest is left in the account.

"Until now, the highest compounded interest rate savers could earn under federal regulations was 8.17% on six-year certificates," said John R. O'Connell. "But with the new authority just granted, we will be able to help our long term savers accumulate an even better return."

John R. O'Connell added that the longer term certificates will also be helpful to home buyers because they will enable the association to stretch the terms of some savings capital, matching more closely the long terms of most mortgage loans.

He said certificate holders may withdraw earnings without penalty at any time. Deposits can also be withdrawn before maturity, but, subject to an interest penalty required by federal regulations. The withdrawn deposits would earn interest at 5 1/4%, less 90 days interest.

New savings plan offered by North West Federal

Two new types of high-interest earning savings certificates are now available at North West Federal Savings.

Savers who deposit a minimum of $1,000 for an 8-year minimum term will earn 8 per cent per year, with an effective annual yield of 8.45 per cent. Interest is compounded daily and posted quarterly at the end of March, June, September and December. Eight per cent certificates are federally insured up to $40,000 as are all accounts at North West Federal.

Another new savings certificate is now being offered to North West Federal savers. This is the six-month "T-Market" Savings Certificate with a fixed rate tied to the average yield on six-month Treasury Bills. The rate on these "T-Market" certificates is determined each week at the U.S. Treasury's Monday auction.

Initially, North West Federal is paying 1/4 of 1 per cent higher than the average weekly Treasury yield with a minimum investment of $10,000. For example, if the weekly auction establishes the yield on Treasury Bills to be 7 per cent, a North West Federal "T-Market" savings certificate will pay 7 1/4 per cent, with an effective yield of 7.63 per cent per year.

North West Federal offers the highest rates possible on savings regulated by the Federal government. Federal regulations require substantial interest penalties on funds withdrawn from savings certificates before maturity.

Savers can call or visit any office of North West Federal to get the current "T-Market" Savings Certificate rate or information about any of North West Federal's certificate or passbook savings plans.

New Treasury Rate Certificates at First National of Des Plaines

The new Treasury Rate Certificates of Deposit, which offer a short-term, high-yield investment opportunity, are available at the First National Bank of Des Plaines, Lee and Prairie.

The certificates, with a term of six months and a minimum deposit of $10,000, earn the high Treasury Bill interest rate in effect when the certificate is purchased. That rate does not fluctuate, but will prevail for the life of the certificate. Treasury Bill interest rates are announced on Monday and certificates will be available on Thursday.

The same interest penalties will apply to the new plan that affect other certificates. Money withdrawn before maturity earns the regular passbook interest rate, less 90 days interest.

The new Treasury Rate Certificate of Deposit plan became available June 1 and was authorized nationally by the Federal Reserve Board, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. and the Federal Home Bank Board.

Talman Federal reports assets reach $2 billion

Talman Federal Savings and Loan Association's assets reached the $2 billion mark as of April 17, 1978, according to an announcement by Talman President Charles O. Jarasek.

"We are proud to have attained this milestone," stated Jarasek, "and would like to express our gratitude to the many Talman customers whose loyalty and confidence made this achievement possible."

It took Talman, which began as a small neighborhood savings and loan institution on the Southwest side of Chicago in 1922, 50 years to reach its first $1 billion in assets. Its second billion was realized in less than seven years.

Talman is currently the 16th largest savings and loan association in the United States with reserves among the highest for a savings association of its size. It provides financial services for almost a quarter million customers within all fifty states and twenty foreign countries. Talman and its subsidiary, the Talman Service Corporation, employ 898 individuals who work in Talman's home office at 5501 South Kedzie ave. in Chicago, and in its nine branches located throughout the metropolitan area.

In commenting further on this achievement, Mr. Jarasek said, "Even though we can be impressed with Talman's growth and success, those of us who work here remain as concerned as our staff did the first day we opened, that each customer and account be given personal and professional attention. In fact, we believe this philosophy of doing business has been one of the most significant contributions to our growth. And now more than ever, it is important to us to maintain that high level of service."

"Equally important to us," he continued, "are our primary goals of the promotion of thrift and homeownership. A successful Talman, with a strong financial base will enable us to enhance our commitment to these goals. Too, because of our size, we can develop and offer new financial services to our customers as we continue to expand our leadership role in city urban lending and neighborhood revitalization. Regardless of other business opportunities, Talman will remain primarily a home lender. We are pledged to the maintenance and improvement of all elements of housing and community as they relate to the people we may be able to serve."

In addition to its 55th and Kedzie home office, Talman has branch offices at One North Wacker in Chicago, Route 53 and Butterfield rd. in Glen Ellyn; 10000 Skokie Boulevard, Skokie; 1010 North Meacham rd., Schaumburg; 6720 West Roosevelt rd., Oak Park; in the Ranch Manor Shopping Center, Oak Lawn; the Fox Valley Shopping Center, Aurora; the Oriand Square Shopping Center, Oak Park; and in the Piper's Alley Shopping Complex at North Avenue and Wells Street in Chicago. During 1978, the Association will open offices in the Garfield Ridge section of Chicago, on North Michigan ave. in the Marriott Hotel Complex and in the Northbrook Shopping Center.

Dempster Plaza State Bank provides 'service to the community'

Business has been great at Dempster Plaza State Bank, a community-minded bank whose motto is service to the community, to our depositors, to our stockholders and to our employees. As a result of our commitment, we have had a substantial growth in deposits since year end, enabling us to fulfill people's needs by lending them funds for worthwhile purposes. Deposits have increased 8% since year end from $25,280,000 to $27,339,000.

Installment loans, that is, loans to consumers for purchases of automobiles, home improvements and educational purposes, increased $2,127,000 from $6,627,000 to $8,754,000, or 32%. We are confident of continued growth to enable us to better provide service and assistance to the community.

With regard to business in general, there is little doubt that it has been good for the first half of 1978. The question being asked by many is will it continue for the remainder of the year. How the rest of the year goes will depend on what the consumer intends to do, to what extent the credit markets can supply funds necessary to continue the growth pattern, to what extent the housing boom will continue and how the Administration in Washington will stem the rising rate of inflation.

Support for spending has come from a number of sources. Consumer credit has expanded at a rapid rate; the housing boom, with increasing values of older homes, has poured money into the market; employment has increased, enabling consumers to put money into the spending stream and incomes have increased because of wage increases. If the consumer continues to spend, business will respond by increasing production and productive capacity. Conversely, if the consumer decides not to spend or has an inclination to slow down spending, business will react accordingly and slow down the productive process.

Can the credit markets continue to supply funds to keep the economy moving forward? Many financial institutions are being strained. Consumer credit has expanded at a rapid rate, business borrowing has surged, the federal government's borrowing will be large in the coming months and home mortgage borrowing has gone unabated. These sectors all require funds and there is some question if they can all be satisfied. Because demand is exceeding supply, interest rates have moved up considerably since year end and will continue to do so for the balance of the year. Higher interest rates should slow the economy somewhat, but the effect will not show until the latter part of the year or possibly into 1979.

What is uppermost in people's minds is inflation. Dollars just do not stretch the way they used to. This is especially important to senior citizens and those people living on fixed incomes. This problem can only be resolved by our government officials in Washington. If they can exhibit restraint, then maybe there can be some relief for all of us.

8% Certificates

8 year maturity
$5,000 minimum

You can now obtain the highest possible interest currently available on certificates of deposit by investing in the Talman 8% certificate. This instrument brings you the security of Talman's 56 years of sound fiscal management, over $2 billion in assets, and insurance by an agency of the federal government.

Funds invested in Talman's new 8% certificate will earn a return of 8.45% when compounded daily, and as a result, will almost double in the 8 year term.* For the person who wishes to set aside money to achieve long-range goals, this certificate is an excellent way to obtain a high return on funds.

Money Market Certificates

26 week maturity
$10,000 minimum

Now Talman's new Money Market Certificates offer a unique investment opportunity. They resemble Treasury bills in their security and short-term flexibility, and have the added advantages of paying 1/4% more interest plus daily compounding. And, they are as easy to open as a regular savings account.*

Available in $10,000 minimum deposits, the money market certificate interest rate is fixed at time of purchase at 1/4% above the weekly average auction rate on 6-month Treasury bills. For instance, since the Treasury bill rate for the week of June 19 was 7.22%, a Talman Money Market Certificate purchase between June 22 and June 28 would have a fixed interest rate of 7.47%, compounded daily, for an annual yield of 7.75%. Current rates can be obtained at any time by calling any Talman office.

Real estate facts

by Richard G. Reimann,
President, Northwest Suburban
Board of Realtors

Names of several new alternative mortgage instruments have been added to the already often-confusing language of lenders. To help home buyers sort through the acronyms and jargon, the Northwest Board of Realtors and the National Association of Realtors offer the following guide to some of these new types of home mortgage loans.

A word of caution, however, before you go shopping for one of the new types of loans: Many are in the experimental stages and not all are available everywhere. Also, not all financial institutions are empowered by law to offer all of these alternatives. To find out about availability of a particular type of mortgage in your area, contact your local Realtor or the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors.

GRADUATED PAYMENT MORTGAGE (GPM):

Designed primarily to help young, first-time home buyers, this alternative operates under the assumption that the borrower's income will increase. Monthly payments start out lower than those for a conventional loan and increase gradually over a five-to ten-year period, depending on which of five payment schedules is selected.

Although borrowers generally can qualify for these loans with less income than required for conventional mortgages, they build up little equity during the first stages of repayment. Also, when monthly payments level off, they usually are higher than required for conventional loans.

VARIABLE RATE MORTGAGE (VRM):

One of the most popular alternatives among lenders, VRMs base interest rate on an economic index, such as the lender's cost of obtaining funds to loan. The interest rate fluctuates when the index moves up or down a prescribed amount. Although few lending experts expect interest rates to fall a great deal in the near future, this alternative is attractive for buyers who move frequently or plan to stay in the home only a few years. The VRMs often have no prepayment penalty clause and allow a new buyer to assume the loan.

FLEXIBLE PAYMENT MORTGAGE (FPM):

Also designed to aid the young, first-time home buyer or someone with good income potential, this alternative requires borrowers to pay only interest during the first five years of the loan. Amortization of the loan does not begin until the sixth year, when payments are increased enough to pay off the loan by the end of the term. Interest rates are fixed. Families can qualify for FPMs with less income than for a conventional loan.

FLEXIBLE LOAN INSURANCE PROGRAM (FLIP):

A portion of the borrower's down payment is deposited in a special savings account and used each month for five years to supplement monthly payments. Monthly payments initially are lower than those required for conventional or government insured loans. Payments increase gradually during the five-year period, leveling off in the sixth year when the savings account is depleted. Because of these lower outlays at the start, some families would be able to purchase a home sooner than they might under financing packages.

Sales and listing volume up at Realty World

Both Bob Rauschenberg and Hal London, brokers at Realty World-Key Realtors, 8146 N. Milwaukee ave., Niles, are happy to report sales and listing volume for the first half of 1978 has more than tripled over the same period a year ago.

Apparently the current high interest rates have not deterred home buyers in this area. As evidenced by their tremendous growth over the corresponding period a year ago, real estate sales in the Niles area, is definitely a "sellers" market and the abundance of buyers seem glad of it.

Realty World-Key Realtors phone number is 692-7000, if you'd like to discuss it with them.

DeMoon Realty names Ryan as manager

DeMoon Realty, Inc. is proud to announce the appointment of Thomas M. Ryan as Manager of their northwest side office at 6156 W. Higgins in Chicago.

With six offices, a school of Real Estate, and over 80 trained professionals, it's no surprise that the company has doubled its volume of business since this time last year. When asked why, Tom Ryan stated, "It's hard work with the right kind of people." And at DeMoon the right kind of people it is. To mention a few, there's Dominic Diomedeo who resides and works in Norridge, James A. Bledsoe who lives and works in Edison Park, George Powell in the Harlem-Irving area, Mike Sobie in the Foster Nagle area, and of course Manager-Broker, Tom Ryan.

People like this along with the backbone of the office and Secretary, Eleanor Brucato, who always greets you with a smile and friendly voice make DeMoon Realty the successful company it is.

Real estate sales training

A residential real estate sales training seminar sponsored by the Decatur chapter of the Women's Council of Realtors will be held Aug. 23, 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., at the Holiday Inn at the Junction of Highway 36 West and Wyckles rd. in Decatur. All interested persons may attend; registration begins at 9 a.m.

But, under FLIP, the loan begins with a larger outstanding principal. This is due to having pledged a portion of the down payment to the savings account for use in supplementing these monthly payments. Payments beginning in the sixth year are higher than they would have been under terms of typical or government-backed loans.

Realtors feel Proposition 13 could turn into 'tidal wave'

The effects from the passage of California's Proposition 13 will be felt across the nation for years to come, and ripples resulting from the vote "could turn into a tidal wave if local political leaders do not respond to the message being sent by property owners."

In a statement issued today, Tom Grant Jr., President of the National Association of REALTORS, said that the California "Taxpayers Revolt" must be considered for its national implications. "The merit or lack of merit in Proposition 13 is not the issue."

Even before the Jarvis-Gann proposition became a household word throughout the nation, legislatures in some 20 or more states had begun consideration of property tax reform measures," he noted.

"This came about partly because of efforts for several years by the National Association's local boards and state associations to signal state governments about the need for reform."

"You can be sure now that taxpayer groups throughout the nation will become far more visible and articulate about demands for property tax reform," Grant added. "And why not, when property taxes in many sections of the nation are becoming confiscatory in nature—reaching 5 percent or more of the home's value?"

"Year-to-year tax increases of 100 percent or more are not unheard of. In fact, just a week before the California vote, tax bills mailed to Los Angeles County showed increases averaging about 120 percent.

"How many homeowners can manage tax bills of $6,000 to $8,000 annually—from $500 to more than $650 monthly—as is the case in sections of Los Angeles County?"

Grant urged the nation's state and local lawmakers to move swiftly to pass measures that would remove much of the burden of financing local government from property owners.

"Equally important, state legislators and local governmental bodies should begin immediately to effect economies, to hold the line on spending. They must eliminate from their thinking the idea that new services should be developed for an expanding supply of tax dollars," he noted.

The National Association of Realtors has for year supported efforts to reform property tax systems, Grant said. Among suggestions for reform are the following:

-Limit usage of property tax revenue to those things that are property related.

-For many services not directly related to property, charges should be based upon the usage.

-Have states pick up a larger share of the cost for elementary and secondary education.

"The tax burden is becoming intolerable. Realtors will continue to press for dramatic changes in the tax system, and greater care by government in the spending of each tax dollar," Grant concluded.

Sue Franno, President of Sigma Alpha Iota, the International Music Fraternity for Women present Charles O. Jarasek, President, Talman Federal Savings and Loan Association and Margaret Hillis, Director, Chicago Symphony Chorus, with a Certificate of Excellence for Talman's "Continuing Sponsorship of Outstanding Music Programs in Chicago." The group awarded special commendation to Talman for the Dame Myra Hess Memorial Concerts. Ms. Hillis is Talman's Artistic Consultant for the Dame Myra Hess series.

Sigma Alpha Iota, the International Music Fraternity for Women, has presented Talman Federal Savings and Loan Association with a Certificate of Excellence for their "Continuing Sponsorship of Outstanding Music Programs in Chicago." Talman was selected for this award on the basis of locally produced programs, use of talented artists in the Chicago area, and for excellence in quality.

The fraternity awarded special commendation to Talman for their sponsorship of the Dame Myra Hess Memorial Concerts. The award was presented by Sigma Alpha Iota President, Sue Franno to Charles O. Jarasek, President, Talman Federal Savings and Loan Association, and Margaret Hillis, director of the Chicago Symphony Chorus and Talman's Artistic Consultant for the Dame Myra Hess series. The presentation ceremonies were held in the Chicago Public Library Cultural Center's Preston Bradley Hall, home of the Hess Concert Series.

Talman has sponsored the weekly, noon-time series since the recently refurbished Cultural Center reopened last October, 1977.

In making the presentation, Ms. Franno stated, "Sigma Alpha Iota has appreciated the many excellent music programs that Talman has supported throughout the years. Without their dedication and sponsorship, the musical and cultural life of our city would not be as advanced as it is today."

Sigma Alpha Iota consists of many chapters around the world. In the Chicago area there are five college chapters and six alumni chapters. The Inter-Chapter Council of Chicago is made up of representatives from each of these chapters. It was their decision to select Talman for this award.

Centel's Thomson, Topeka, Pekin and Mt. Carroll serving areas. By the end of 1979 the division will have approximately 20,000 electronic lines in service.

The completion of several long-range service improvement projects, along with increased demand for telephone service, resulted in somewhat reduced operating costs. Centel subsequently recommended to the Illinois Commerce Commission that these savings be passed along as rate reductions for residence customers. The commission agreed and approved the rate reduction in June, 1977.

The total reduction meant a $2.2 million savings for Centel's residential customers. Approximately 90 percent of the company's customers throughout the state were affected by the reduction.

Over the next five years, Central Telephone Company of Illinois will spend an estimated $93 million on modernization and service improvements.

Centel spends $22 million for improvement

During 1977, Central Telephone Company of Illinois, Des Plaines, spent $22 million to improve and expand telephone service throughout its 26-community serving area.

These service improvements brought greater efficiency, reliability and economy of telephone service to both business and residential customers. Installation of automated equipment in several areas — directory assistance, repair services and record maintenance — was a major advance. Another was installation of electronic switching equipment at several general switching centers.

"Last year was one of moderate growth, stable employment and tremendous technological progress for the company," said C.P. Lamm, vice president. "Centel continues to bring its customers an ever-broadening range of sophisticated telecommunications equipment and services. The increased productivity and efficiency that these planned modernization programs bring will help the company keep pace with the growth of our various communities."

The number of Centel telephones in service statewide increased by 12,162. Central Telephone Company of Illinois by year-end operated 230,448 telephones. In the Des Plaines-Park Ridge serving areas, total number of telephones climbed to 160,690, reflecting an increase of 8,078.

One major modernization project undertaken by Centel last year was installation of a $140,000 computerized line testing system, designed to speed repair activities. Centel's line condition report (LCR) system, located at the Park Ridge plant service center, automatically interprets and reports existing line conditions. This means transmitting difficulties can be located before telephone service is impaired. Centel's LCR system is among the largest of its type in the country. The average time needed to test a telephone line has improved 50 percent since LCR began operation.

Directory assistance response time in Des Plaines-Park Ridge is 25 percent faster now that Centel has installed a special computerized system known as directory assistance system microfiche (DAS/M). This new system, which is composed of viewing terminals, keyboards, and film strips, houses the three million phone numbers listed within the 312 area code. To find any one of these numbers, directory assistance operators simply press the first four letters of a last name plus the regional location on the keyboard. Within one second the listing appears on the viewer.

Assigning telephone numbers to business and residential customers became a more accurate and efficient operation last year when Centel began using a computerized record keeping system known as directory and equipment number system (DENS). Two TV-like cathode ray tubes, linked to a computer in St. Louis, automatically record, update and retrieve information on the 300,000 telephone numbers in Centel's serving area. Centel is the first of the nation's 1,600 independent (non-Bell) phone companies to use DENS.

Installation of a $3 million, 6,000-line electronic switching system (ESS) in Des Plaines, was begun late last year. When the project begins operation in early 1979, Des Plaines-area customers may elect new service options, including call forwarding, call waiting, three-way calling and speed calling.

Similar modernization projects currently are underway in

A new postage stamp that bears the letter "A" instead of a denomination, has been placed on sale at the Morton Grove Post Office...

The new first-class rate was approved Friday, May 19 by the Postal Service Governors. The stamp design features an eagle with the legend "U.S. Postage" beneath it.

The "A" stamps are available in sheets, coils and booklets, Postmaster Principali said. Embossed stamped envelopes, bearing "A" in lieu of denomination also may be purchased.

The "A" stamps and envelopes, along with stamps and postal stationery items already in the Postal Service inventory, are sufficient to meet mailers' needs until deliveries begin of postal items with denominations matching the new rate.

Tips on Theft Prevention

Remember the bicycle you used to have? The bike riding season is here but it is also the season for the police department theft statistics to go up.

More and more bicycles are being taken from open garages, unlocked bikes parked in front of stores or along side of homes.

A registered bicycle has the serial number and proper description recorded at the police department, and if stolen, the numbers are entered into the computer.

Unfortunately, a lock has become a necessary option. The loss of your bicycle could be avoided by taking these simple precautions:

- 1. Bring it indoors when not in use and lock it.
2. Lock your bike to a tall, fixed object.
3. Use a strong chain lock.
4. Register it with your local police department.
5. Never leave garage doors or sheds open or unlocked.

"Ain't that too bad," I added sarcastically.
Still, no comment.
"you don't even look good any more. Not like you did when you were young," I chided.
Kangal remained as inanimate as the statue in Pygmalion.
"Know what YOU cost me yesterday?"
I didn't wait for an answer. I said, "2600 bucks!" I paused, then added, "Oh, go ahead - pout ... just like a woman."
I tried a new technique. I switched the pitch - then, pitched the switch. Magically, I became transformed from a bad guy into a good guy. (Many cops use this M.O.).
"Haven't I always given you everything," I continued. "Taken you to the best places," I cooed, "the best bars, the best booze." I paused. "the Classic Club, even the Post and Paddock at Arlington - what more -" I stopped to cough (cough! cough!) and then stared at Kangal. I couldn't but help, in spite of my concealed rage, to feel sorry for her. She looked so trumpy, so time-worn, so forlorn. I just couldn't suppress the pangs of sympathy which shafted my heart.
I saw her again in the mirror of my memory as she once was. When she possessed that fresh, clean look of youth which is often mistaken for innocence. She reminded me of two other women I had known. Rita Hayworth. Hedy LeMar. Sad, isn't it?
"So, Kangal, how could you? I believed in you, so truly," I said sadly. I shook my head, and finished by saying dispassionately, "Perhaps it's because you're from England. I never had much luck with things from England. Any more than George Bernard Shaw did with English women."
No, I'm not talking thru my hat. I'm talking to it! I live alone. I'm getting old. Old people often talk to themselves about their problems. Who else can they talk to? I, or they, are not whacko. Ask any top psychiatrist. According to them it's a great idea to talk aloud to yourself about your problems in life regardless of age. Many people talk to pets, dogs, cats, fish, parakeets, even a canary. You think that canary knows what you're talking about? How do you know he or she don't?
Anyhow, the dialogue in my today's column took place in my lonely room at the Leaning Tower at midnight last Sunday morning. I'd spent the afternoon at that disaster area, Arlington Park. That white hat or CAP I wear is several years old. It was lost for some time and it was returned to me by a former veteran policeman. I'd left it in his car. This same ex-policeman's name is Mike Fitzgerald. He is one of only TWO policemen in the history of the CHICAGO POLICE FORCE who won both the highest awards, The Lambert Tree and the Carter H. Harrison. He's got 'em, I've seen them. He also used to wash my white cap for me. Last time he returned it to me he said, "Ed, this cap is getting old - it won't take another washing, better buy a new one."
Well, I continued to wear this cap till it got very soiled, dirty, in fact. Then I went to Sportsman Park, this spring when they were running the flats. I won a lot of money. I decided, because most people and ALL gamblers, are superstitious, not to get it washed.
While I lost a ton of money at the Messenger services - I never lost at the track when I wore this dirty white CAP.
That is, until last Saturday when I lost almost as much money as social security permits you to earn in a year.
If you'll NOW re-read today's column, it should make sense. Postscript: Inside my white cap is a label that reads: Kangal design, made in England.
P.S. Concerning HANSON'S HIT LIST - this is also true. There are 100 people on it from various walks of life. Walter Jacobson, and Bill Kurtis, like "A boob en adam," lead all the rest.
What's going to happen to ALL people on my "hit list" is this: At the proper time and place, they will be "HIT" with a whipped cream pie in-the-face. And these pies I'm having a local baker make on order ain't cheap.
It's nice of you to read my column ... I'll even accept your thanks in written form.

Maine East students succeed in Oakton class

In a unique cooperative program between Oakton Community College and Maine East High School, 12 high school students with physical, mental, and emotional disabilities have just completed a college-level course in Introductory Electronics.

Wayne Marek, coordinator of Oakton's Business Machine Repair and Electronics Servicing programs, taught the two-semester class to Maine East juniors and seniors who were selected on the basis of their potential to succeed in such a program.

Some of the young men who completed the program may choose to attend Oakton while others can use some of the skills they have acquired to support themselves, according to Marek. Students taking the course, which at Oakton is a one-semester class, learned in laboratory sessions to repair many small appliances and tools, and to rewire lamps and lighting fixtures.

"The options are numerous and they're basically up to the student," Marek said. He said his students can now repair toasters, coffee makers, electric mixers, hair dryers, curling irons, vacuum cleaners, and such electric hand tools as drills, saws, and hedge trimmers.

"This training will help them either to work in an assembly capacity for an electronics company or as appliance repairmen," Marek said. He said he is "favorably impressed" by the work of his students. "And they seem to like it too—it was an entirely voluntary program," he said.

The students apparently feel as confident about themselves as their instructor does. Their comments ranged from "Now I can fix all the appliances around our house" to "That wasn't as difficult as I thought."

Variety Club Summer film series

The 6th Annual Variety Club-Irv Kupcinet Golf Tournament, under the direction of general chairman Tom Tully, tournament director Robert Dachman, and co-chairman Michael McDermott, president of Evanston Golf Club, has taken on a new dimension of considerable proportions.

The event will raise funds for the Variety Club-Karyn Kupcinet Center for Special Children, now nearing completion at Little City, Palatine, Illinois. This facility will provide social, recreation and physical therapy for some 1000 mentally handicapped children on an out-patient basis each week.

"Small Change," the Truffaut film scheduled for July 5 at Oakton Community College, is the first of four Wednesday evening cinema offerings at Oakton this summer.

Sponsored by the OCC Film Society, films begin at 9:05 p.m. in Building 6 on the OCC Interim Campus, Oakton and Nagle, Morton Grove.

We're about to shatter an image.

If you're one of those people who think that the sun rises and sets on Jeep, you've come to the right ad. It'll tell you that there just might be something better. Like an International Harvester Scout® II.

Big words, no doubt. But then, there are some big facts to back them.

Scout's axle ratings, for instance, are much higher than Jeep CJ-7's. 500 pounds more up front. 450 pounds more in back. Meaning Scout can really take a pounding.

Scout's got a two-foot tighter turning circle. An advantage that hardly needs elaboration.

Scout's got better seating capacity. Five big men can ride in comfort.

Scout's got a 20-inch longer cargo bed than CJ-7.

A 19-gallon gas tank versus 15.5. And a removable steel roof instead of no roof at all (if you want one, Jeep makes you pay extra).

What's more, they're all differences that make a difference. A recent survey of 4-wheel drive vehicle owners showed that, on the measure of "very satisfied," Scout outscored Jeep by 25%.

So there you have it. Hard facts. And the opinion of people just like you.

Just goes to show that some images are more fragile than you think.

Scout® leads the way.

There's only so much an ad can tell you about this much machine. So we're offering you free brochures with full information telling how all Scouts lead the way. Check the one you're interested in and we'll get it to you, pronto.

Danca named new president of Golf-Mill Chrysler/Plymouth

Paul Danca has been appointed President of Golf-Mill Chrysler/Plymouth, located at 9229 Milwaukee ave., in Niles.

Paul Danca, now President of Golf Mill Chrysler/Plymouth, has been serving Chicagoans' automotive needs for the past 12 years. Most recently, Danca was the general manager for the former Stamer Cadillac in Northbrook. As general manager for six years, Danca gained his reputation as an honest, hard-working businessman. He plans to continue his policy of fair pricing and reliable service at Golf-Mill Chrysler/Plymouth.

Danca is no stranger to this area, either. He and his wife, Mary, have been a part of this community for 14 years. Together with their 2 sons, Chris and Jeff, they reside in Niles.

Golf-Mill Chrysler/Plymouth is located right across from the Golf-Mill Shopping Center, at 9229 Milwaukee ave. Paul Danca extends an invitation to all of his Niles neighbors to stop in and get acquainted.

Scout Leads The Way

Once a year, the tranquility of Ensenada, Mexico is shattered by the roar of engines. It is the growl of four-wheel drive vehicles scrambling off on the start of that brutal off-road racing test known as the Baja. Six hundred and sixty miles of rocks, hub-deep sand and holes that destroys more than one axle during the day. During the last race twenty-one vehicles started for the Baja...but only nine finished. And the winner, with a full hour and a quarter lead, was Scout! That's right. Scout SS II beat them all. And...two months earlier...another Scout SS II won the off-road world championship race at Riverside, California. In fact, Scouts took four of the first nine places there! So if you're looking for a four by four that's built to last...look to the one that finished first at Northside International, Inc., 45 E. Palatine Rd., in Wheeling. Scout SS II. As usual...Scout leads the way!
