

New Illinois Bell Store

Skokie officials and representatives from Illinois Bell cut the ribbon Friday, Aug. 4 to formally open the new Illinois Bell's new PhoneCenter Store at the company's Skokie business office, 8707 Skokie Blvd.

Illinois Bell's Skokie Manager in Tate said area residents can now shop in person and see the wide variety of residence telephone equipment as well as demonstrations of the various telephone service features. Tate added that customers whose homes are already wired for outlets for plug-in phones can get equipment they want, take home and plug it in. This way they avoid having to wait for an installer and also the charge for an installer's visit.

"It's a whole new concept in telephone service," said Tate. "Our PhoneCenter Store will make it easier for our customers to decide what kinds of services and services are best for their homes."

The new PhoneCenter Store will serve residence customers in Lincolnwood, Morton Grove, Niles and Skokie whose telephone numbers begin with 647, 673, 674, 675, 676, 677, 679, 965, 966 or 967.

Customers can continue to pay telephone bills and conduct other routine telephone business at the Skokie location. Hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Can you plan your own financial future?

There's no doubt in anyone's mind that a definite plan is necessary to survive financially today. Goals must be set not only for retirement time but also for all the years between now and the "Golden Days". Even if you are the type of person who prefers not to, or simply can't be governed by a budget, you must set aside a predetermined amount of money each year. This, of course, means some of your income each month must head to the safety of your savings account before it ends up in someone else's pocket. If you miss your goal one month, make it up the next time, don't let it become a habit.

Emergency expenses happen to everyone but they need not be a financial disaster if you have an "Emergency Fund". Keep more than one type of savings account; a regular passbook for the smallest amount. When you have reached your goal there, try transferring half of it to a Golden, or ninety day account, which pays a higher interest rate. Once again, transfer funds from this account to a higher yielding Certificate of Deposit, choosing maturity dates to coincide with anticipated expenses, such as tuition costs, housing or travel. As you transfer from one account to a higher yielding one, be sure to keep up your regular deposits to the passbook account. If money burns a hole, even in your checkbook, have your bank automatically transfer a specified amount each month into savings.

If you have children, open a Trustee Savings account in their name. Minors can earn $750 interest before having to file a return with the Internal Revenue Service. This means a minor can have up to $15,000 in a 5% savings account with no taxes due on the interest. These funds, of course, must be used for the child's well being, education, etc.

Persons not covered by an approved profit sharing or pension plan can benefit by having an Individual Retirement Account (IRA) which allows tax free contributions annual of up to $1750. These accounts earn a high 8% tax free interest and are eligible for withdrawal when the account holder reached the age of 59½. Self-employed persons may have a similar Keogh account with annual contributions up to $7500.

All accounts should be in a financial institution protected by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (F.D.I.C.). Currently, an individual depositor is covered to $40,000 by F.D.I.C., however, a family of four can increase coverage to $560,000 by different account combinations.

When your savings schedule is planned and in effect, it's time to consider a mast "blueprint" or trust agreement to protect your assets. Working with a lawyer and the Trust Department of a bank, a will and a Trust can save a considerable amount of money in estate taxes and also make provisions for managing your finances if you no longer have the time for, or become unable to, handle financial affairs. It is not necessary, or recommended, to wait until one's later years to set up a Trust. However the majority of young people never seem to think they will need such assistance; either they are pessimistic about their earning powers or simply refuse to acknowledge their mortality. These young people, with years of inflated earnings ahead of them should definitely construct the basic framework of a good trust as they begin their careers and/or families. There are many types of trust agreements which can best be described by a Trust Officer.

Saving, and even making sacrifices to do so, is not easy, but with careful planning, most people can set up a program themselves with which they are comfortable and fits their lifestyle.

Niles Library chalks up $27,000 fiscal deficit

by Roseann Dalmaso
The Niles Library District has accumulated a total deficit of $141,471.76 between 1976-1978, chalking up a deficit of $27,455 for the 1978 fiscal year. President Gillet, at the August 9 Niles Public Library District meeting, attributed the loss to the increased cost of heating and utilities, the new roof of the library and the expanded library parking lot. At the end of the fiscal year 1974, the library incurred a record $105,484.79 profit, up from $31,554.88 in 1973. The increased library district and revenue sharing funds contributed to the totals. 1976 was the first year the library started to operate with their figures deeply in the red. In other board action, Mrs. Jackson, Niles Library Administrator, announced the selection of a new children's librarian, Cheryl Flinn. Ms. Flinn is a graduate of the University of Illinois, Champaign-Urbana. Board member Pestine questioned Jackson on her selection process. He insisted Jackson should have interviewed librarians from the closing schools in the district. Ms. Flinn's starting salary will be $9,900. When told this fact, Flinn asked, "Can I live on it in this area?" Board member Rajski commented she thought the salary was fair since the new librarian could not be started at the same rate as the existing employees. Board member Breitbart suggested Flinn begin at $9,900 with a 6 month review and increase if in order.

It was announced by Breitbart that a new account for the purpose of recording all library activity has been set up at Madison

Blase sets 6 month deadline for correcting townhouse violations

Village, Nordica residents join forces

by Diane Miller

Mayor Nicholas Blase made a promise to over 100 Nordica townhouse residents last Wednesday to "take care of everything in your area within 6 months or you can have a Proposition Blase."

Blase's statement came at a meeting called by the Nordica Avenue Residents Committee and Lawrencewood Management. Renters of the townhouses claim months not only to clean up their townhouse area located directly in back of the Lawrencewood Shopping Center, but to correct the flagrant building violations. While 45% of the townhouses are privately owned, the remaining 55% are leased out through Kuschner Management and Lawrencewood Management. Renters of the townhouses claim

Last year in Niles, Michigan, the city manager instituted a program to combat energy waste. He sent all the burghers letters asking them to turn down their thermostats and to curtail the use of electricity. The city itself led a vigorous campaign to cut back its own use of energy. The program was a fantastic success. The amounts of ergs and kilowatts saved were enormous. The dollar savings were significant. The savings in energy were even more impressive.

At the end of the first year, the manager was feeling pretty good about the effort of his town and its people. But, the utility company sent the village a letter. It owed the company an additional $2,500 because it didn't fulfill its minimum usage of gas and electricity.

Every August we hear from a few disgruntled parents about their dissatisfaction with the local organized baseball programs. Usually, the slugger in the house was treated unfairly, or the manager's son was receiving preferential treatment. It's been a yearly topic which is raised at the end of every season.

The world is full of inequities. Why should the Little Leagues escape from life's realities?

In our teen days our high school coach used to knock on parent's doors in an attempt to sell them life insurance. He moonlighted by selling insurance in the evenings.

There were always a few guys on our teams who we suspected made the teams for unathletic reasons. We surmised the nebulous athlete's parents were insurance clients of the coach.

At our high school one of our local jocks needed pieces of hay and straw on each foot so he'd know his left foot from his right. His brother was a Big 10 university quarterback, after previously starring on our high school team. When the younger brother made his appearance on the field in his freshman year, he automatically made the team.

In our younger days you became street smart by learning about life's inequities. Not always did victory go the swiftest, or the strongest, or the bestest.

United Ostomy Association

The North Suburban Chicago Chapter of the United Ostomy Association will hold their next meeting on Wednesday, August 23, at 8 p.m. in the 10th floor cafeteria of Lutheran General Hospital, 1775 Dempster, Park Ridge.

"To Tell the Truth; I've Got a Secret" is the title for this meeting. A panel of three will try to "stump" those attending, as to which one is the ostomate, by answering questions from the audience. It should be a real interesting evening trying to decide which two panel members are the "imposters". The meeting is open to all interested persons.

The association helps with the rehabilitation of people who have had colostomy, ileostomy or urostomy surgery because of disease, birth defects or injury. For further information contact Marilyn Mau, Park Ridge 823-6312, Mary Lantz, Buffalo Grove 537-4852, or Chester Marshall, Mt. Prospect 253-2895.

Volunteers will be assigned to the nearest one of nine different telephone pledge centers in the Chicago area and parts of Indiana. To register, call 427-0551.

Library Discussion on TV Violence

Bang!! Oof!! Crash!! Boom!! Screech!! Sound effects from a Batman comic strip? Yes, but we don't meet them only in print. Stand near a turned-on television set during the prime evening viewing hours, and sooner or later these sonics will burst from the box, raising a tumultuous clamor all about you. Nor are they confined to "adult" programs. Try Saturday mornings during the hours when children lay claim to the TV set. The bombardment is often even more intense then!

One thing these sounds have in common is their origin, that is, the violence-containing programs which produce them. Now few people would contend that there are no violent shows on television. Rather, the controversy begins when we try to assess their effects on society, and the pitch of the debate is rising steadily. Many groups believe that these shows stimulate youths (and some of their elders) to commit anti-social actions by their overly graphic exhibitions of mayhem. In a startling interview printed in a recent TV Guide, several convicted criminals claimed that they obtained some of their best felonious ideas and techniques from television shows. A defense lawyer in Florida once argued that incessant TV watching of crime programs drove his teenage client to commit murder, claiming that the broadcasters were as guilty of the crime as he was. In response to these and other charges, a few corporations have withdrawn their sponsorship of programs they consider objectionable, thereby exposing themselves to accusations of censorship.

Many people maintain that television simply reflects the moral attitudes of the people who watch it. If TV is violent, then the people who view the programs merely want it that way. Television merely responds to the needs of its audience. It does not create them.

The question of television violence and its impact on society is a thorny but interesting one. The Niles Public Library "Storytime" discussion groups are going to tackle it in three sessions entitled TV Violence: Chicken or the Egg? All people and viewpoints are encouraged to attend one of the following groups: Wednesday, August 23 at the Main Library, 6960 Oakton Street; Tuesday and Thursday, August 22 and 24 at the Branch Library, 9091 Milwaukee Avenue. All starting times are 10 a.m.

Acupressure workshop

Acupressure, a health keeping art, is a product of 4,000 years of Oriental medicine, therapy and philosophy. Acupressure is based on the same body points as acupuncture but instead of inserting needles the hands and fingers are used for the stimulation and manipulation.

This workshop is for those who want to learn quick and easy methods to correct body imbalances (like insomnia, headache, constipation, backache).

The workshops will be held at the Leaning Tower YMCA, 6300 Touhy ave., Niles. Marilyn Englund will be the instructor. Pre-registration is necessary as class size is limited.

This 2 1/2 hour workshop will be offered on Monday, August 21, 1 to 3:30 p.m. and Friday, August 25, 7 to 9:30 p.m.

Dr. Korczak anniversary celebrators

The members of Dr. Janusz Korczak B'nai B'rith Lodge will be having an anniversary celebration in honor of the lodge's 10th year since Dr. Janusz Korczak's birth. The cocktail party will be held on September 9, at 8 p.m. at Beth Hillel Congregation, 3220 Big Tree Lane, Wilmette. Unesco designated 1978 as the year that commemorates the birth of Dr. Korczak, a Warsaw martyr. Dr. Korczak was an educator whose primary concern was for youth. He was head of an orphanage until his death. During the war, the Germans gave him the opportunity to be free to live, but he chose to die with the children in the gas chambers. The Korczak B'nai B'rith Lodge, composed of 95% Holocaust survivors, has been instrumental in erecting a memorial along with naming a street in Skokie and a playground in Chicago after Dr. Janusz Korczak. Recently, the German government put out a stamp in memory of Dr. Korczak to commemorate his 100th birthday.

The members of the Korczak B'nai B'rith Lodge are inviting all of their friends to participate in the anniversary celebration. The donation is $7.50 per person. For reservations, call 338-3766.

letters to the editor

A rebuttal to "Mr. Gordon and Name Withheld"

As the baseball season winds down, we have certain people who cry "sour grapes." Their son wasn't chosen for a tournament, so therefore it's "fixed" or "politics." Mr. Gordon complains because there were no tryouts and Mrs. Name Withheld complains because there was a tryout. It goes to show, you can not make everybody happy, doesn't it!

In Mr. Gordon's case, his son may not have been chosen for many reasons. If do know his batting average was not as high as most of those who did make the team. Other consideration for any All Star Tournament Team is overall ability, attitude, reliability, determination and spirit, just to name a few. Maybe these reasons were part of his son's not making the team or maybe not, I do not know. I do know both 11 and 12 year old tournament team managers are men of integrity and stand by their decisions.

Concerning Mrs. Name Withheld I DO know I spent over 5 hours on a ball field on a day of my vacation. I asked about 30 boys but ended up trying out 55 (not 100 as Mrs. Name Withheld said). Boys who we thought would make it didn't and some who we thought wouldn't did. NO boy was chosen or not chosen because his father was a manager, coach or President of the United States for that matter. I could care less. My job was to choose the BEST team possible and I hope that is what I did. We not only rated the boys on the balls they caught, but what they did when they didn't catch it. You insult my intelligence, character and integrity, Mrs. What's Your Name with your letter. If you wanted to know why your son didn't make the team, come out and watch us practice. Even if you have any baseball knowledge, you would see why. This is not to say your son is not a good player. He wouldn't have been asked to tryout if he wasn't. But the caliber of competition we will face from 32 Park Districts and suburbs required the very best team we could muster. No one claims to be perfect and God knows I made my share of mistakes, but I didn't spend all this time with the 9 & 10 year old Thillens Team to be the target of a Disgruntled Parent. And I DO ave the "GUTS" to put my name on this letter.

Dear Mr. Besser: On behalf of the Niles Park District, I would like to express our sincere gratitude to The Eagle for publishing our seasonal activities and events. The news articles help keep Niles residents aware of the District's plans and facilities available to the community.

Again, your efforts as a news media are greatly appreciated by the Board of Commissioners and staff of the Niles Park District. Sincerely,

Niles Library staff not putting in full time

Dear Editor:

It's a shame that the staff of the Niles Public Library District spend more time fighting the Administrator than giving service to the residents.

The staff is supposed to work 40 hours a week, lunch not included, but there is not one of them who is working the required hours. The past administrator never enforced the agreement between staff and board, to increase their work week from 38 hours to 40 hours, a total of 2 hours for 4 hours extra pay. He also never told the board that the staff was not working the extra 2 hours. The board lived up to their agreement to give them the extra pay, but the staff is fighting the new Administrator on the increased hours, that they agreed to.

In reality by working 37 1/2 hours less and getting paid for 40 hours, the staff of the Library are stealing from the taxpayers. In the last three years, this comes to about $40,000 of salary, paid to staff and they have not worked for it. This money could have been used for books or used to lower out-standing debt on warrants.

Like in business, the Administrator is responsible to the board for the operation of the library, but if the staff does not want to co-operate or run to new board members with petty complaints, how can the library run smoothly?

Board members are not supposed to manage the library, they are to set policies and the Administrator carries it out. The library is open 73 hours a week (except in the summer) and the Administrator is responsible to have staff on duty when the public need them, not the staff work when they feel like it. If staff cannot work when needed, they have to be replaced just like in

Nortran to increase rush hour service

Nortran (North Suburban Mass Transit District) will increase rush hour on four of its most traveled routes on Monday, August 28.

The interval between buses will be shortened from 20 to 15 minutes on these four routes: Rt. 215—Old Orchard to Howard st. via Crawford; Rt. 250—Evanston to Des Plaines via Dempster; Rt. 261—Des Plaines, Park Ridge to Jefferson Park; Rt. 270—Jefferson Park to Golf Mill via Milwaukee ave.

Walter B. Flintrup, chairman and trustee from Skokie said that increased service on these routes are made possible after the RTA (Regional Transportation Authority) directed NORTRAN to discontinue service on August 25 of a little patronized route, 262, which duplicated service on several existing NORTRAN routes.

Revised schedules will be available from bus drivers after Wednesday, August 23 covering the changes that begin Monday, August 28.

Travel information on all routes can be obtained by calling the Regional Transportation Authority (RTA) Travel Information Center's 24-hour number: 800-872-7000.

business. The library serves the public, not the public serves the library. When the staff of the Niles Public Library District realize this, then things will run smooth.

Get rid of the most wasteful part of your air conditioner.

The dirt inside.

Save with regular cleaning.

Your air conditioner does more than just cool. It cleans, too, by filtering dust and dirt out of the air. After awhile, the dirt builds up on the filter, and clogs the air flow. This makes the unit work harder. And that costs you money. Take a few minutes to get rid of that dirt and you'll hold down your operating costs.

How to clean window-unit filters.

Check your owner's manual for specific instructions. If you don't have one, do the following. Pull the plug, and remove the front panel. Lift out the filter and vacuum it. If your filter is made of a spongelike material, wash it in warm water and detergent. Then let it dry, and put it back in place.

How to clean central-unit filters.

Your central cooling system has a filter, too, usually in the blower section of the indoor unit. Before opening the access panel, turn off the power. If the filter is reusable, vacuum it. If it's washable, wash it. If you have a throw-away filter, or your filter is too dirty to clean, replace it with a new one of the same size and material (note arrow on side of filter indicating direction of air flow).

If your heating and cooling system has an electronic air filter, be sure to follow the cleaning and maintenance procedures recommended by the manufacturer.

Get professional help when necessary.

Occasionally, your air conditioner's condenser coil, refrigerant charge, or motor may need attention from a qualified serviceman. Maintenance of these parts may be best left to the professional. Remember: the less energy you waste, the more money you save. And a clean air conditioner can save you plenty.

Electronics is perfect field for women

Women are beginning to realize that the electronics field has a lot to offer them, according to Tom Witte, coordinator of the Electronics Technology program at Oakton Community College.

Oakton's program is designed to train students to work in laboratories along-side of engineers designing new products, but students are also prepared for careers in sales and servicing, Witte said.

He noted that electronics is an area requiring no heavy physical work, but a certain amount of precision detail work at which women seem especially adept.

"The program gives a good background for anything a student wants to do in electronics, particularly since this field is merging quickly with programming," Witte said.

He pointed to the emergence of microprocessors—computers on a chip—as one of the most revolutionary advances in our time.

The entire field of electronics is developing around microprocessors, changing things in the world as we know it, but entrance into the field is still open to almost anyone who is interested. "And it doesn't even require much math," Witte added.

For further information, call Tom Witte, 967-5120, ext. 241.

OCC child care center

There are still openings in all sessions of the Child Development Center for the fall semester at Oakton Community College, according to Pat Kovar, center supervisor.

Open registration for the center, which offers a program for children aged three to five, will be held August 21-24.

The three-day sessions will meet Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays from 8:30-11:30 a.m. and from 12:30-3:30 p.m. The two-day sessions will meet Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9:30 a.m.-12:30 p.m. and from 1-3:30 p.m.

Oakton's Child Development Center provides a warm, secure environment offering children the chance to learn, grow, and play on a regular basis.

The fee for the three half-day sessions is $37 per month; for the two half-day sessions, $26 per month. Children must be completely toilet-trained before enrollment in the program. If desired, children may be registered for more than one session.

For further information, call Ms. Kovar, 967-5120, ext. 260.

Berger criticizes OCC veto

Samuel S. Berger, Democratic candidate for State Senator in the Fourth District, this week criticized Governor James Thompson for vetoing the $4.5 million appropriated for the construction of the east wing of Oakton Community College's permanent campus.

Berger notified Oakton officials of his opposition to the Thompson veto and expressed his support for their efforts to have the funding restored.

Berger also praised OCC's program as a "high quality alternative" for students who otherwise would be forced to seek college level courses elsewhere at greater expense and less convenience. "But if OCC cannot complete its building plans because of insufficient financial resources, I fear it will be unable to meet the demands of its ever-growing student population," he added.

Berger called the educational needs of the Fourth District one of his highest priorities and said if he is elected in November, he will work to see that "such callous actions as this veto are not allowed to stand unchallenged."

Safety Hints

Summer months are filled with fun and frolic and most motorists use their vehicles in recreational pursuits. In turn, more motorcycles and motorbikes are on our streets and highways this time of year.

When you are on the same roadway with a motorcycle, there are some added safety rules you should keep in mind. Remember that the motorcyclist has the same right-of-way privileges you do and that he is entitled to the same courtesy and consideration.

Motorcycles and their riders sometimes are hard to see because the car driver is used to looking for something larger. Be sure to watch for them in oncoming traffic before you start to make a turn.

Don't crowd a motorcycle. Allow more following distance than you do for a car. A motorcycle often can stop faster than your car because it is much lighter in weight. Also, getting too close may make the cyclist nervous and cause him to lose balance and fall in front of you.

Allow even more following distance between your vehicle and a motorcycle in bad weather. If wet pavement causes you to slide or the motorcyclist to fall you may not be able to avoid an accident.

(A copy of the rules of the Road will be sent to you upon request. Write to Alan J. Dixon, Secretary of State, Springfield, Ill., 62756.)

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The Federal Insurance Administration gives notice of the proposed determinations of base (100-year) flood elevations for the Village of Niles, Cook County, Illinois, in accordance with section 110 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-234), 87 Stat. 980, which added section 1363 to the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 (Pub. Real Estate facts

by Richard G. Reimann, President
NORTHWEST SUBURBAN BOARD OF REALTORS

Facts regarding escalating prices of homes have been reported to the NORTHWEST SUBURBAN BOARD OF REALTORS and the NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REALTORS from two separate sources recently. Facts that place these higher prices in perspective.

During the NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REALTORS recent Legislative Conference in Washington, D.C., Congressman Les AuCoin (D-Ore.), chairman of the House Task Force on Home Ownership, explained that a considerable portion of the increase is due to governmental over-regulation and to the public's demand for larger homes with more amenities.

Rep. AuCoin noted that a great deal of publicity has been given to the fact that housing costs rose 67 percent between 1970-76, while general prices increases for the rest of the economy was only 38 percent.

If over-regulation and added demands for "more house" are taken into consideration, the actual inflation rate from 1970-76 would be 48 percent - only 10 percent greater than the general increase, and not nearly twice the general price rate as is frequently reported.

Governmental over-regulation takes many forms - from restrictions on the number of homes that can be built in a particular community or area and delays in approving development plans to environmental controls that have little connections with the homes themselves.

The NORTHWEST SUBURBAN BOARD OF REALTORS and the NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF REALTORS support efforts for improving the quality of our environment, but takes issue with efforts that merely serve to boost the cost of homes without protecting the community.

A study recently completed by George Sternlieb, a Rutgers University professor points to just such regulations and controls. Sternlieb cites for example, prohibiting the burning of vegetation to clear land, and instead requiring the developers to use bulldozers to haul away the debris.

Sternlieb's study also showed that the air quality of suburban areas is more affected by the pollution caused by industry in surrounding areas than by burning of vegetation. The additional cost of bulldozing over burning is considerable reports Sternlieb; $50,000 home located on a half acre would have an added cost of $1,105.

Rep. AuCoin called attention to the public's demands for more house, noting that the size has grown appreciably in just the past few years. (The National Association's Department of Economics and Research reports that the average home has increased in size from 1,375 square feet in 1971 to 1,590 square feet in 1976, and increase of more than 15 percent).

Most speakers at the Legislative Conference agreed that the public is indifferent to factors that have caused and increase in home costs. They may be vaguely aware of these things, they indicated, but do not speak out against them.

PROPOSED FLOOD ELEVATION DETERMINATIONS FOR THE VILLAGE OF MORTON GROVE, COOK COUNTY, ILLINOIS

AGENCY: Federal Insurance Administration, HUD.
ACTION: Proposed rule.

SUMMARY:

Technical information or comments are solicited on the proposed base (100-year) flood elevations listed below for selected locations in the Village of Morton Grove, Cook County, Illinois.

These base (100-year) flood elevations are the basis for the flood plain management measures that the community is required to either adopt or show evidence of being already in effect in order to qualify or remain qualified for participation in the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP).

DATES:

The period for comment will be ninety (90) days following the second publication of this proposed rule in a newspaper of local circulation in the above-named community.

ADDRESSES:

Maps and other information showing the detailed outlines of the flood-prone areas and the proposed base (100-year) flood elevations are available for review at the Village Hall, 6300 Lincoln Avenue, Morton Grove, Illinois.

Send comments to:

The Honorable Richard T. Flickinger
Village President, Village of Morton Grove
6300 Lincoln Avenue
Morton Grove, Illinois 60063

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Mr. Richard Krimm, Assistant Administrator
Office of Flood Insurance
(202) 755-5581 or Toll Free Line (800) 424-8872
Room 5270
451 Seventh Street, SW
Washington, D.C. 20410

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

The Federal Insurance Administrator gives notice of the proposed determinations of base (100-year) flood elevations for the Village of Morton Grove, Cook County, Illinois, in accordance with section 110 of the Flood Disaster Protection Act of 1973 (Pub. L. 93-234), 87 Stat. 980, which added section 1383 to the National Flood Insurance Act of 1968 (Title XIII of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 (Pub. L. 90-448)), 42 U.S.C. 4001-4128, and 24 CFR Part 1917.4(a)(1).

These elevations, together with the flood plain management measures required by section 1910.5 of the program regulations, are the minimum that are required. They should not be construed to mean the community must change any existing ordinances that are more stringent in their flood plain management requirements. The community may at any time enact stricter requirements on its own, or pursuant to policies established by other Federal, State or regional entities. These proposed elevations will also be used to calculate the appropriate flood insurance premium rates for new buildings and their contents and for the second layer of insurance on existing buildings and their contents.

The proposed base (100-year) flood elevations for selected locations are:

Source of Flooding	Location	Elevation in Feet (National Geodetic Vertical Datum)
North Branch Chicago River	Just Upstream of Oakton Street	620
	Just Downstream of Dempster Street Railroad	621
West Fork of North Branch Chicago River	Northern Corporate Limits	622

Premium fever continues

Glenview State Bank, a pioneer in the premium field among suburban banks, believes the incentive rage is here to stay! For almost two years the bank has been offering quality gifts to persons purchasing a special seven year Certificate of Deposit. The 7-7 Promotion, also called Interest Plus, pays the customer 7% interest on the certificate in addition to the free gift.

Phase I of the promotion, introduced in January, 1977 and extending six months, resulted in $1.5 million dollars in deposits for the bank. Phase II increased the number of gift items to 14 and added luxury gifts such as furs, grandfather clocks and pool tables. Determining the premiums to be used is quite an involved process, including a great deal of market research. As any shopper knows, there are definite trends or fads in household appliances and furnishings, sporting and entertainment equipment and what individuals consider luxury items. The Marketing Department of the Bank keeps abreast of these trends by studying trade papers, industry figures and reviewing the reports of sales representatives. Knowing the market area and type of customer is no longer sufficient as expanded advertising has increased the market area for such promotions across the United States. The Bank's policy is to distribute only quality name brand items, dealing with reputable manufacturers. Phase III of this incentive program grew to 24 gifts and included the new and popular Moped, which had recently been legalized in Illinois. During Phase III a total of 375 items were given to depositors, bringing in almost two million dollars to the bank.

Now, more than ever, people like the idea of receiving a premium gift when they deposit their money so they can enjoy the item while still earning interest. Definitely the best of both worlds!

Because of continued customer demand, Phase IV of this promotion was recently introduced. This Sensational Savings Adventure offers items for indoor and outdoor entertainment as well as items for home and office use. With over twenty selections available, the bank expects the Minifish Sailboat and Video Entertainment Package to be the big hits. Clock radios, bicycles, televisions and mopeds will be retained due to the overwhelming response to these items.

With over $4.5 million in deposits attributed to the promotion, Bank officials are happy to continue offering this service to their customers. The public is invited to visit the display of premiums at the bank's main office, 800 Waukegan rd., Glenview, Illinois. For more information, call 729-1900 for an illustrative brochure.

Northwest Parishes Credit Union adds more parishes

Northwest Parishes Credit Union—formerly the Norwood Park Catholic Credit Union—has added seven more Catholic parishes to its field of service. This brings to 23 the number of parishes within its bond of association, according to Joseph A. Bosco, the credit union's president.

The new parishes approved by the Illinois Director of Financial Institutions are: St. Mary, St. Stephen and St. Zachary in Des Plaines; St. Martha (Morton Grove); St. Isaac Jogues (Niles); Divine Savior (Norridge), and Our Lady of Victory in the Portage Park area of Chicago.

The decision to extend the field of membership to the seven parishes came at a meeting of the credit union's board of directors on July 11. The Director of Financila Institutions approved the request today.

Northwest Parishes Credit Union was organized in May 1939 under its original name by a handful of parishioners of Immaculate Conception church, 7211 W. Talcott ave. In late 1970 the credit union added several neighboring parishes and employees of Resurrection hospital to its field of membership, but its main office remains on Immaculate Conception premises. Its more than 4,000 shareholders pool their savings so that the credit union's members can borrow from that pool at low rates of interest.

Credit union shareholders receive 5-3/4 per cent per annum, compounded quarterly, on their savings. All accounts are insured up to $40,000 each by an agency of the federal government.

Centel announces third acquisition

Central Telephone & Utilities (CTU), which only last week disclosed its first two acquisitions as part of a plan to expand into other communications related businesses, today announced its third acquisition.

Comm-Quip, Inc., of Des Plaines, Illinois, a business communications equipment distributor in the five-county Chicago Metropolitan area, will join CTU as a subsidiary. CTU is the parent company of Central Telephone Company of Illinois.

Comm-Quip designs, assembles, installs and maintains communications systems and auxiliary equipment used by businesses. The company, which reported $1.1 million in sales for the 12 months ended September 1977, has installed some 200 communications systems and provided auxiliary communications equipment to some 1,800 other area customers.

Comm-Quip also is an authorized distributor for major telecommunications equipment manufacturers.

Financial details of the cash transaction were not released. Comm-Quip's president, Richard D. Baim, will remain the firm's top operating executive. Chicago-based CTU, the nation's fifth largest telephone system, last week announced its first step "to broaden CTU's participation in the total communications field" with agreements to acquire the Acoustic Development Corp. (ADCO) and Consolidated Cable Utilities, Inc.

ADCO, with headquarters in Northbrook, Illinois, is the largest marketer of phone booths and acoustic enclosures for public telephones. Consolidated Cable of Aurora, Illinois, provides cable TV programming to several Fox River Valley communities.

CTU, which has 10,500 employees, serves 1.8 million telephones in Florida, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Minnesota, Missouri, Nevada, North Carolina, Ohio, Texas and Virginia. The company also owns electric generation and distribution facilities in Colorado and Kansas.

In reported revenues of $526.6 million for the 12 months ended June 30 and assets of $1.4 billion. The company reported a second quarter net income increase of 14.1 percent.

Bell execs testify at Washington hearing

The telephone customer would wind up the loser if Western Electric is split off from the Bell System, Illinois Bell President Charles Marshall told the House Communications Subcommittee in Washington.

Marshall was one of two Bell System executives to testify as hearings continued on the proposed Communications Act of 1978. The bill as it is now written would fragment responsibility for the public switched telephone network and possibly force the divestiture of Western Electric.

Describing it as a vital national resource, Marshall said the nationwide switched network "makes possible the kind of telephone service Americans enjoy."

"Pick up your phone and in matter of seconds you can talk to anybody in this country and Canada or to millions of other around the world," he said.

"We all have a great deal to lose if Western Electric is split off from the Bell System. It would have a devastating effect on the integrity of the nationwide telephone network by interrupting the efficient process of research, design, development, manufacture and delivery of service."

"In fact, everyone would lose: our customers, by paying more for their service; research, by fragmenting it from the manufacturing process; the telephone companies, by depriving them of operating flexibility; and the nation, which would lose a leader in technological innovation."

The Illinois Bell President said the present Bell System structure provides services that are reliable at prices most people can afford, makes possible those services when and where customers want them and ensures that technical innovations will keep pace with customers' needs tomorrow.

Marshall said his 25 years with the Bell System "have made it clear to me that every aspect of Western Electric's partnership with the operating companies touches the telephone customer directly."

"If Western Electric is split off, our customers are going to pay a great deal more for telephone service. Surely the new owners of Western Electric would have them charging the highest possible prices, making the greatest possible profits by selling all kinds of products—and not just communications products—to customers all over the world rather than being responsible as they are now for meeting Bell System needs for the best, most economical communications equipment."

The partnership with Western Electric permits Illinois Bell and other operating companies to deal with disasters and to restore disrupted service quickly, according to Marshall.

"Illinois customers have experienced their share of natural disasters, and have seen the benefit of the Bell System's response. In 1972, when a flood disabled telephone service in DuPage County, Western Electric air-freighted a complete Centrex system from Denver and installed it overnight."

"When a tornado smashed through Canton in 1975, and knocked out phone service for more than half the community, Western Electric had cables and supplies on the way within hours."

Marshall testified that Illinois Bell's special relationship with Western Electric has meant, over the years, "not a casual approach to our customer's needs, but a total systems approach."

"Research and development, manufacture and supply, delivery of service—all work harmoniously to serve our customers. This means that we at Illinois Bell and our customers get the best there is to serve their needs."

Realty World's home protection plan

"Realty World real estate offices are now offering a home protection plan for home sellers and buyers," according to Hal London and Bob Rauschenberg of Key Realtors, 8146 Milwaukee, Niles.

The plan, administered by American Home Shield, provides one year protection and optional second year coverage on such major systems as plumbing, central air conditioning, and electrical wiring. No inspection is required. The cost for the first year averages about $250, with a $50 deductible. Continued protection throughout the second year costs an additional $175.

"The Realty World home protection plan purchased by the seller helps protect the buyer from unexpected and devastating repair costs that occasionally arise after the purchase of a resale home. It also gives the seller's house a comparative edge over others on the market at the same time," Hal London said. "And if a buyer is interested in purchasing the plan, we can offer this protection on not only our listings, but on any listing our offices sell," added London.

Golf tournament winners

Thanks to the Ladies Professional Golfers Association, the Variety Club-Irv Kupcinet Invitational LPGA Pro-Am Golf Tournament at Evanston Golf Club was a rousing success, raising over $35,000 for the Variety Club-Karyn Kupcinet Center for Special Children, now nearing completion at Little City, Palatine, Illinois. This facility will provide social, recreation and physical therapy for some 1,000 mentally handicapped children on an out-patient basis each week.

A foursome headed by the Jacobson family, Sidney, Pro Michele Walker, sons Arthur and Harold, combined for a best ball 54, 16 under par, to tie for first place with a fivesome made up of Bud Salk (8954 Keeler, Skokie), Donna Bachand, Pro Mary Dwyer, George Bradley and Dan Kreda (Lincolnwood), not shown (1 to 7). Top finishers among the LPGA Pros include 70's, a tie for first place by Gloria Ehret and Barbara Barrow, each netting $437.50 in prize money.

ED HANSON

Life in a Chinese Cookie Factory

The Niles sewer system study intrigues me. Here's my chance to help them, I told myself, when I read about it. For who knows more about sewers than I.

My specialty, however, is "Upholstered Sewers." Like the "Pump Room", "Playboy Club", and some other 2,000 I've been in both here and abroad. And I've dropped a ton of folded paper with the pictures of dead Presidents on them over the past five decades.

Then it "hit" me. I wasn't the type of "sewer-specialist" they needed for this particular "sewer-study". But a long-time friend of mine was. I immediately phoned him.

"Ed", I said, "is this Ed, Ed Norton?"

"Yeah, yeah...who's this, Ralph?"

"No! It's Ed Hanson—remember "Toots Shores", pal."

"Hey, how are yuh, boy!"

"Fine! How's your wife, Trixie?"

"Great! She's got a Chinese Cookie factory in Hong Kong."

"Still makin' with the jokes." I then told Norton about the up-coming village sewer study.

"I'd like to help yuh, Ed, but I'm a plumber now..."

"Come on, pal—deep down you'll always be a sewer man..."

"Right on—but plumbers make lots more. I'm what you could call a "succinct plumber."

"Some years ago, Norton, when I had an apartment, I called a plumber. Know what he told me, when I asked him if he could fix my toilet that wouldn't flush?"

"Yeah", Ed, "The guy probably said, "I'm busy. Throw 3 aspirins in it and call me in four or five days."

Anyways, Ed Norton, the world's most famous plumber came to Niles. Under the cover of darkness, he slipped in and out of Niles sewer system. And he came up with the answer without using "smoke signals". It seems that newspapers, undelivered bundles of newspapers, caused many of Niles' sewers to become stuffed.

"I say, Ed, and stake my professional reputation on it, that lazy newsboys, over a period of the past 20 years, caused the stuffed sewers."

"No kidding, Norton," I said amazed.

"Yeah, Ed—but you know what?"

"What?"

"Niles may have some stuffed sewers—but they got the smartest and best read sewer rats in this nation."

MORAL TO THE STORY: If your toilet don't flush, the sink is clogged or your basement drain donta work, call a local plumber. Even tho' plumbers today are more omnipotent than doctors, they still make house calls...by appointment.

Next week I'll have a nice, human interest story about Florence (Flo) owner of the "HI-WAY Club" and the posh "BACKROOM..."

Have a breakfast that'll carry you all thru the day for ONLY 99 cents. WHERE? Why at ARVEY'S RESTAURANT, Oakton & Waukegan, Niles. I have it everyday. Where else, at my age, would I get the energy to work 14 hours a day and dance until dawn almost every night in the many posh "upholstered sewers", I know. It's that SKY HIGH Waffle made with country-fresh eggs, creamery butter, and rich maple syrup for only 99 cents. Then drop in for dinner and have that special, Juicy New York cut steak for ONLY $4.95 with a FREE Caesar salad. You, too, then can become a great man with the ladies and dance till dawn every night—well, almost every night, except New Year's Eve...

A salute to Mary Pollice, the hostess—with the mostest, at DOWN-THE-STREET, Niles' brightest place, famed for great food and clean fun. Bumped into Mary Poppins, pardon me, Pollice at Niles' most secluded rendezvous, that's so secret even the C.I.A. don't know about it. Mary does a great job acting as the luncheon time hostess at DOWN-THE-STREET. An orchid to MARGIE TANO, the daytime cook, who really "turns me on" as she "turns out" some of the best tasting food. And that great night time executive chef, also of DOWN-THE-STREET Tommy Furman, who prepares cuisine fit for a "king" and that would delight the "queen."

Bert Matroci, the young talented photographer, is well on his way to becoming a top man in his field. Although only 20, he now has his own studio for every photographic need, weddings, portraits, whatever. And girls, he's very handsome and makes John Revolta look like a comic Valentine—his business phone number is 456-1357.

Yesterday Bert took quite a few "shots" of Sonny of United Transmission, as well as interior photos of the best car repair shop this side of the Bermuda Triangle. We're planning a little surprise for TERRY COLLINS, that nice waitress at JAKE'S FAMOUS RESTAURANT OF NILES...this will really give her something to "talk" about.

OCC weekend program begins September 8

Weekend College offers a choice.

For the first time this fall, students at Oakton Community College will have the opportunity to earn required credits by attending concentrated class sessions meeting on alternating weekends. Students attending Weekend College classes are able to keep their weekday jobs, have several free weekends, and still complete college courses toward their degrees, according to Michael Danko, coordinator of the Weekend College.

Through a 24-hour-a-day, seven-day-a-week telephone service, students will be able to arrange assistance, advice, and conferences by phone whenever needed, Danko said. In addition, Oakton's library and labs will be open to accommodate weekend students.

This fall's program will offer a large number of courses meeting the requirement for both degree and certificate programs in accounting. Many courses can be applied to other programs as well.

Weekend College will begin on September 8. Each of the 20 courses offered will meet during one of the following time patterns: Friday evening from 7-9 p.m. and Saturday and Sunday from 12:30-2:30 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday mornings from 9 a.m. - 12 noon, or Saturday and Sunday afternoons from 3-6 p.m.

For further information, call Oakton's Weekend College office, 967-5120, ext. 311.

We wonder if today's parents, who are so involved with their kid's sports activities might be preventing their youngsters from learning by themselves about life's knocks. If parents are out there fighting their kid's battles, how will young ones learn to adjust to life's pushing and shoving when their parents are no longer leading the charge?

In the army most of us were still privates after our initial basic training. But we had a guy named Nick Castiglione, who was a top professional boxer, who made buck sergeant after 13 weeks in service. Nick sent the C.O. his autographed picture showing the welterweight in the familiar boxing pose. The C.O. was flattered a guy who had fought Champion Henry Armstrong, and was ranked 6th in the country in his division, would send the military school graduate his picture. At the end of basic training, while most of us still remained privates, the big jock was wearing 3 stripes.

Few of us gripped about Nick's stripes. He couldn't lead a group of guys around the corner but he suddenly was a top leader in our company.

Our guys grew up on Taylor Street and Indiana Avenue and were well aware of life's inequities. We learned to live with them...and were probably better prepared to face the future, having personally faced the past without someone else fighting our own small battles.

National Bank. This new account is a false checking account because as Breitbart said: "Transactions go into this account for record purposes only. No withdrawals can be made by check, only by draft."

In still other actions, it was announced the library district will be participating in a treasurer's pool. The interest rate in this pool is 6.75% per day. The library will be investing all left over operating funds after expenses.

Attorney James Orphan reported the winning of the Zenith annexation case with the Village of Glenview. The Zenith property and tax rolls will remain on the Niles Public Library District charts.

Board member Hodes questioned the work day of the library employees. He enforced the fact that an 8 hour day means an 8 hour day. He demanded employees work a full 8 hours, not including lunch and breaks. He added, "$15,000 a year in payroll should not be received." This was tabled for further discussion at the Sept. 13 meeting when the Policy Committee will review this section of the library manual. The entire manual will eventually be reviewed and passed, section by section, by the board.

"Lengthy discussion by board members concerning time limits on discussion and meeting lengths. Previous meetings have lasted as late as 2:30 a.m. Rajski insisted there should be no limit on discussion but an 11 p.m. meeting limit while board member Dospil motioned to limit discussion to no more than 3 minutes on any one topic with the meeting to be concluded by no later than 12 a.m. Pestine vehemently disagreed, insisting the chair set the limits. Dospil's motion was approved 5 yes and 2 no.

"Announced the total levy on the 1978-79 levy ordinance will be $700,000.

"President Gillet appointed Breitbart to chair of the financial committee with Hodes stepping down.

"Unanimously approved room use requests by Oakton Community College and Mr. Stanley Kusper.

"Recommended appointment of Jean Daymont to position of Recorder of Minutes; salary $5 per hour, as Mrs. Maczek will step down as Recorder at board meetings. Motion opposed this use of funds, asking "Why do we have to get what we already have?" He insisted the Administrator, Mrs. Jackson, is technically the recorder.

Nordica...

that Robert Krilich of Lawrencewood Management has ignored their pleas for correction of broken drainpipes, broken gutters, cracked foundations, overflowing toilets, broken sidewalks, etc.

The Resident's Committee under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Mary Ann Begale and Mrs. Marsha Levine has divided the townhouses into 11 court areas, each being supervised by an appointed court captain. The court captains are responsible for reporting uncut grass, broken tree branches, garbage dumping and any other problems which are detrimental to their court. Residents in the courts are given warning tickets which the village enforces with a $25 fine if they are not corrected. New residents moving into the townhouses are informed of the rules and regulations for property maintenance.

In addition, the Village of Niles has financed the hiring of 20 youths from the townhouses for general cleanup in the area. Grass mowing of park areas, painting, tree branch cutting, etc. has been handled by the youths who have also been rewarded with coupons for McDonald's hamburgers and records. Mrs. Levine commended the work done by the teens and said without their help, the residents would not have been able to accomplish as much as they did this summer.

The Niles police were also commended for their extra efforts in curbing vandalism in the area. Numerous arrests have been made and hundreds of curfew violation tickets have been issued. In their subsequent court appearances, the curfew violators have been fined and many placed on 3 months supervision.

It was noted by Niles Police Captain William Terpinas that many of the violators were from Chicago and did not even live in the area. A foot patrol by Niles officers has been set up in the area and several arrests were made by those officers for vandalism. Several speeding drivers have also been ticketed. Mrs. Levine complimented the police for their 100% cooperation and stated "with their continued cooperation, we are sure our area will soon be devoid of its present reputation."

As Mayor Blase told the residents attending the meeting, "our primary problem and target is Robert Krilich. There has to be pride in a neighborhood and your efforts up until now and your attendance here this evening prove you are attempting to better your neighborhood. As long as we know we will have your continued cooperation, we will be able to force Krilich to correct the present violations even if it involves taking him to court."

On Thursday, Aug. 10 Mayor Blase, in the company of Ben Mankowsky, Director of Housing for the Village of Niles, Frank Troiani, Housing Inspector and Mrs. Levine made a walking tour of the Nordica area, going from townhouse to townhouse. Mrs. Levine told the Bugle, "Mayor Blase noted violations which we were not even aware of." He is also checking on twice a week garbage pickup for the area because of the density.

The 6 month target date set by Mayor Blase consists of 3 months for exterior cleanup and "then we'll begin hitting the interior problems."
