Re-petition Milwaukee Ave. condos

by Alice M. Bobula

The Niles Zoning Board at the Jan. 8 meeting continued a hearing on a re-filed petition for zoning change from business and single-family Special Use to R4, multiple family, Special Use, at 6935 Milwaukee ave. Construction is planned for a 3-story condominium building.

The commissioners set a Feb. 5 hearing when Mark Sherwood, attorney for petitioner Comet Construction Co. of 1846 N. Milwaukee ave., failed to present revised planning and detailed specifications of the re-filed petition to the Zoning Board.

In a presentation Monday night to the Plan Commission, Sherwood stated, "Planning was identical the same as submitted initially last July 10 and Aug. 7 except we are taking off the top (fourth) floor and reducing the density from 32 units under Planned Unit Development (PUD) to a 24-unit condominium building."

Previous petition for a 4-story, 32-unit building had been unanimously denied by the Plan Commission in a second hearing Aug. 7, 1978, as a PUD. Zoners contended the petition did not qualify as a PUD and recommended the petitioner re-file or amend the request to R4, multiple family, Special Use.

When Zoners requested new plans be presented Monday evening, Atty. Sherwood asked they recall to mind the specifications and planning presented to them 6 months ago. "That petition was denied," Continued on Page 18

Green Lakes condo plan under study

by Alice M. Bobula

At the Village Board meeting Tuesday, Jan. 9, Niles trustees continued to Jan. 23 their decision on a petition by North American Mortgage Investors (NAMI) for conversion of the Green Lakes Apartments to condominiums. Also under consideration is the completion of the 28.8 acre complex site located on Golf and Deerds. under a Planned Unit Development (PUD) Special Use.

Board action was delayed to allow the petitioner to obtain a commitment on a Commonwealth Edison Co. right-of-way lease for parking; provide a total amenities completion listing; clarify fire requirements by the Niles Fire Dept.; and stipulation of the discount to be offered tenants in condo purchase.

Trustees plan to review the complex site according to Niles Continued on Page 18

Ten years of helping - Niles Family Service

Niles Family Service is one of the most unique departments in the village. Due to the vision of Mayor Blase, and a group of dedicated Niles residents, the department of Niles Family Service was born in January 1969. The guiding philosophies over the last 10 years are: "An Agency with a Heart," "The Most Important Person in the Agency is the Client," and "Put yourself into people for people really count." These are living philosophies within every facet of service provided due to a well trained and professional staff of dedicated men and women. We are fortunate that of the staff hired, around 90% of them have remained with Niles Family Service. This has provided depth and stability to the department that has made for an even greater degree of competency and efficiency.

In all of the following divisions of Niles Family Service "SERVICE" is stress first. The fee is secondary. There is usually a fee assessed of $1 to $20 a week on a sliding scale but no one is turned away due to their inability to pay. A fee is charged since a person is usually willing to make more of a personal commitment to counseling, which is necessary if positive change and growth is going to occur.

Of course, all of the counseling done is confidential. No one has access to the records but the staff. No one will know a person is coming unless the client informs others. This is but another way of Niles Family Service respecting the worth and dignity of the individual.

Out of the philosophy, "An Agency with a Heart" Niles Family Service has steadily grown as we have reached out to discover the needs of people within Niles. The following graph indicates the growth of the number of cases seen and the number of people involved in individual, marital, family and group counseling. Phil Addante, ACSW, Association Director, heads up the direct counseling division of Niles Family Service and will explain later what makes for this growth.

"Putting yourself into people for people really count" has been the guiding philosophy not only in the development of the Direct Counseling program but also in the Street Outreach, Educational/Preventative Groups, School Community Outreach and Business/Industry programs. Each of these programs has performed an invaluable service to the residents, schools and business/industry of Niles.

Through our Educational/Preventative groups, youth and adults have been involved in groups relating to family, marital and individual growth and development such as Systematic Training for more Effective Parenting, Single Parents, Parent/Adolescent, Marital and Sexual Enrichment, Divorce and Remarriage, Women and Men Self Actualization, Finances and Pre-Retirement. Street Work is reaching out during the summer to the youth on the street corners, parks, forest preserves, restaurants and recreational facilities, before they get into crisis. School Community Outreach, directed by Dr. Cisek, is a concerted educational/preventative effort Continued on Page 4 on the part of Niles Family Service to reach out to students, parents and faculty within the Jr. High Schools of Niles. Business/Industry, directed by Dr. Martin, is Niles Family Service's newest outreach program which provides an opportunity for the businesses and industries of Niles to retain their valuable employees who have a declining work performance.

Niles Family Service - 10 years

Business/Industry

Ronald W. Martin, Ph.D., Director

The focus of the Business/Industry outreach is to develop Employee Assistance Programs (EAP) for the businesses and industries of Niles. The new Employee Assistance Program is geared to help business and industry cut down on expenses as well as to provide a significant benefit for employees.

Within any organization, about 10% of the employees are "troubled in one form or another by personal problems which adversely affect their work performance. These personal problems may include such things as marital and family discord, alcohol and drug abuse, as well as emotional, legal, financial or medical problems." The "troubled employee's" off-the-job problems often cause on-the-job problems such as absenteeism, reduced production, faulty decision making, accidents, excessive sick leave, and impaired inter-personal relationships with fellow employees. When this situation occurs and goes on unchecked, there is not only a personal loss to the employee, but also hidden dollars cost to the employer.

If a person's work performance continues to decline over a period of time, often the only solution for an employer is to terminate the employee. This is quite unfortunate for all concerned, and need not happen! The Employee Assistance Program intervenes before such drastic measures have to be taken.

How does an Employee Assistance Program work? Niles Family Service works in cooperation with the management personnel and union representatives of a company. Together, we develop a policy statement describing the Employee Assistance Program as a method of helping an employee resolve his personal problems and bring his work performance back up to standard.

The counseling of employees is done within the confidential setting of Niles Family Service. The employer gives assurance that the worker's job is not in jeopardy because he is seeking help. Rather, the worker's improved job performance remains the ultimate criterion for keeping his job. Supervisors are trained to document a worker's decline in job performance and on this basis alone, refer the employee to a trained therapist at Niles Family Service who, in confidence, can diagnose and treat the employee. The goal is to help the person resolve his personal problems so that he can again become a productive employee rather than being fired.

In conclusion, the Employee Assistance Program saves Business/Industry money. It also provides a significant benefit to the employee who otherwise might lose his job.

(The next seminar for management personnel on the Employee Assistance Program is scheduled for Tuesday, January 30 from 1-3 p.m. For further information, call Dr. Martin at 692-3396).

Direct counseling

Phil Addante, ASCW Associate Director

In the ten years that Niles Family Service has existed we have continued to expand our counseling and direct service program to meet the changing needs of our community. Counseling has been the foundation on which Niles Family Service has been built. Our services have always been maintained with respect, dignity and confidentiality toward our clients.

Niles Family Service is available to those who might be faced with a crisis, such as marital and family conflicts, divorce or death. In recent years, we have seen an increase in the number of single parent families. This is a family system with unique problems and concerns. The single parent is often struggling with his or her own feelings of transition from being married to becoming single once again. Through supportive counseling, single parents are encouraged to seek out and develop new alternatives and sources that will enable them to adjust to their new way of life. The focus of this type of counseling does not necessarily end with the single parent. The effects on children. They too need opportunities to express their feelings in order to help them adjust and adapt to the changes also going on in their lives.

We offer a wide range of counseling services including individual, marital, family and groups. People are becoming more aware of their need to expand their personal growth and awareness. Personal and family problems are often affected by lack of communication, low self esteem, unresolved issues from the past, or loss of a significant person in their lives. People often look to enhance their life situation by living their lives more constructively and effectively.

We at Niles Family Service feel that we have been able to offer our clients opportunities to explore and enhance their mode of living and enrich their interactions with others. The staff of Niles Family Service has now served over two thousand families in Niles. Our staff has increased in size over the years in order to continue to provide the optimum in counseling and direct services. The staff of Niles Family Service is composed of clinically certified social workers and psychologists. We also utilize the expertise of psychiatric evaluation and medical assessment. Although most of our staff are part time, we have continually been able to meet the client's needs with ever having a waiting list. It has always been maintained "the most important person in the agency is the client!"

School/Community Outreach program

James Cisek, Ed. D., Director
Another major function of the agency is the School/Community Outreach Program (SCOP). The School/Community Outreach Program is a major effort by Niles Family Service to work with the community and the schools for common goals. This program fulfills a dream, long held by the executive director to develop a preventive mental health program which uses the resources of the families, the community, the schools and Niles Family Service. The common goal is to assist the youth in learning how to better deal with life's problems, dilemmas, and frustrations before they are overwhelmed and likely to turn to drugs or experience a crisis. The School/Community Outreach Program consists of three basic parts: life education courses for the students, consultation and program development for the teachers, and parent education courses for the families.

The life education courses are regular courses taught in the schools in the Niles area by staff personnel of Niles Family Service. The students are taught in these classes the skills needed to deal with common problems. Each course is a separate lesson in living skills, complete with program materials, lesson plans and assignments. The life education courses are offered to sixth, seventh and eighth grade students in three junior high schools within the Niles area. There are four different life education courses which the student can select: Social/Friendship Skill Development, Conflict and Problem Solving Skills, Relaxation/Anxiety Management and Values Education. To date, over 950 students have taken one or more of these courses.

The goal of the program is simple—to help prepare the students with the skills necessary to lead an effective and well adjusted life. The life education courses are one way Niles Family Service is involved with the youth—not only to treat them or identify the students who are experiencing personal problems—but to help every child grow from experiencing emotional crisis, not just help them after they do.

Also, in-service workshops are provided for the teachers so that they can use these concepts and materials as part of their classroom guidance program.

Larry Renetzky, Executive Director of Niles Family Service, is extending a warm welcome on behalf of the Niles Family Service Board to all of the residents of Niles reminding them his door is always open.

Members of the Niles Family Service Board are: Rev. Dr. Douglas Seelen, Marga Levy, Virginia Haave, Marie Kurtzer, David Baren, Dennis Keith (chairman), Lloyd Gillet, Sandie Friedman, Joe Ferraro, Lillian Pickup, Sue Kravis and Larry Burg (member at large).

Niles Family Service is within the Niles Trident Center located at 8060 Oakton st. in Niles, phone 692-3396.

Dennis Keith, Chairman of the Niles Family Service Board cordially invites all of the residents of Niles to come in and see the warm and familiar offices of Niles Family Service and to meet some of the staff and board members. "This open house is a good opportunity for residents to become better acquainted with the many services of Niles Family Service which will be further highlighted by the staff and special films explaining the various programs offered. Open House will take place on January 17-19 (Wednesday-Friday) noon to 2 p.m. and 4 p.m.-7 p.m.

Marillac cagers begin 1979 with new coach and new name

Marillac High School's Varsity Team began the 1979 basketball season with a new coach and a new name. The North Stars, the name chosen after an all-school vote, promises to be an exciting team according to Coach Pat O'Connell.

The new coach likes the team name, "I think it's a good name. It's easy to remember." A 1978 graduate of Notre Dame University, O'Connell lives in Northbrook. He attended St. Francis Grade School and Loyola Academy. With a theology degree from Notre Dame, O'Connell joined the Marillac faculty to teach five religion classes and to coach basketball. Later in the year, he will coach track.

O'Connell speaks highly of his 12-member team of six seniors, four juniors and two sophomores. "The seniors are scholarship material and junior Jenny Klauke and sophomore Mary Lou O'Brien (both of Glenview) are the high scorers so far." In two non-conference games, Marillac defeated Trinity High School 59-41 and edged out Glenbrook South in a tense 50-49 game. Marillac played the first conference game on Jan. 9 against Regina and faced East Leyden on Jan. 4 in the Glenbrook South Holiday Tournament.

O'Connell believes in playing all the girls in every game. "They are all varsity players," he says. "They're strong defense, well-conditioned and very well disciplined." The five starters are Jenny Kaluke who averaged 12 points in the first two games, Mary Lou O'Brien with 10 points, and senior Beth Maher (Niles) with 9½; senior Ann Zebold (Glenview) leads in rebounds with 6½ per game; and senior Trish Lane (Northbrook) leads the team in assists.

Completing the dozen are seniors Mary Waga (Glenview), Michelle Quinn (Park Ridge), Amy Jo Scheel (Niles); juniors Maggie O'Donnell (Park Ridge) and Linda Pullano and Suzette Eshoo (both of Niles); and sophomore Kathy Murphy (Niles). Sophomore Pan Freund (Lincolnshire) is the team manager.

The team practices an hour and a half six days a week to get ready to meet their challengers. Their next three games are at home with Woodlands (Jan. 23), Carmel (Jan. 30), and Sacred Heart, Rolling Meadows (Feb. 1).

Drivers are advised to leave for their destinations earlier on cold and snowy days since traffic moves much slower under adverse conditions. Leaving earlier also permits adequate time to clean off all windows for full vision. Drivers should always carry ice scrapers and snow brushes.

SJB cagers

St. John Brebeuf's Varsity boys basketball team captured a six feet plus trophy at the Annual Notre Dame Holiday Basketball Tournament. In the semifinal game St. John bested St. Francis of Chicago 55 to 38. In that game, Tony O'Brien was the leading scorer with 24 points. Paul Marusek was the leading rebounder with 19.

In the championship game against St. Emly's of Arlington Hts., Tony O'Brien scored 20 points, Paul Marusek tallied 12, Mike Parker scored 10 and Dan Park tallied 6 to give St. John's a 48 to 35 triumph. Paul grabbed 13 rebounds and Tony obtained 12. Mike Parker stole the ball six times.

Most basketball teams have an attack oriented towards the right side of the basket. Paul Marusek's forte is to shut off the right side. He allowed only one shot from that side during the entire championship game. Tony O'Brien was spectacular under the basket, bulldozing his way through two or three players time and time again. Whenever the defense would gang up on Tony and Paul, Mike Parker would sink a 20 footer from the top of the key. For their achievements, Paul, Tony and Mike were awarded All Star medallions.

St. John's offense is fast break oriented. Bob Barrett, John Sherwood and Dan Parker made the fast break work effectively. Other members of this championship team include Tim Wlezyzn, Henry Zajak, Tom Sytke, Bob Burke, John Schefler, Ted Pietrewski, Mike Drehobl and Tim Sparkewski.

ND basketball evening

Area basketball fans will have the opportunity to spend a very enjoyable evening Saturday night, Jan. 13 at Notre Dame High School, 7655 Dempster st., Niles. The Dons will be taking on powerful St. Joseph's of Westchester. The Chargers finished second in the State a year ago, and they give indications of possibly being as strong again this season. Fans will have the chance to see Isiah Thomas, who is regarded by almost every major college scout as the finest high school guard in the nation.

At halftime there will be induction ceremonies for Notre Dame's Wall of Fame, whose members include Philadelphia Phillie baseball star Greg Luzinski. So come on out and see some outstanding basketball along with the honoring of some great athletes on Saturday night, Jan. 13, beginning with the sophomore game followed by the Varsity at 8 o'clock.

Always check your car

Always check your car and the area around it before opening a car door.

Be sure that you carry your car keys in your hand for quick entry and be sure that you lock your car. If you see someone hiding inside your car or around it, run and call the police.

Report all suspicious loiterers to the police at once. The person you see may be a mugger waiting for his next victim.

Don Cagers prove to be formidable opponents

For the second year in a row, the Notre Dame Don basketballers are proving to be much stronger than even their most optimistic fans probably expected. They recently put together a couple of outstanding defensive efforts to upset tourney favorite Palatine and come from behind against Steinmetz and win the Luther North Holiday Tournament. The Dons, now 8-3 on the season, got great performances from all-tourney picks Ed PUISIS and guard Jack Walsh. What proved to be just as important, however, was the board work of Jim Chrystal and Rich Glass and the game by game improvement of junior guard Dan Rago. PUISIS was referred to by the Chicago Sun Times as "one of the best high school players you've never heard about" and they also called him the tourney's most valuable player. What the Dons are getting now is balance, both in scoring and on defense. This increased contribution will keep future opponents from keying on just one or two men and help keep everyone involved in the action.

Notre Dame now gets into the heavy part of their rugged East Suburban Catholic Conference schedule. The present leader, St. Patrick's, was very impressive in winning the Carbondale Tournament, and St. Joseph's, who last year finished second in the State, has shown signs recently of being more than just superb guard Isiah Thomas. St. Joseph's visits Notre Dame on Saturday night Jan. 13, and it will be an important chance for Coach Stu Snow and his Dons to see how good they really are.

Educators conference on computers at Hebrew Theological College

The Institute for Computers in Jewish Life recently hosted its winter Educators Conference at its computer center on the campus of the Hebrew Theological College in Skokie, IL. Participating in the conference were educators and administrators from major Jewish centers, including New York City, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit and Washington as well as representatives from smaller towns such as Kansas City, Des Moines and Indianapolis.

The main themes of the conference were the use of the computer as a tool of instruction in general studies and in Judaic studies. This was supplemented by "hands on" experience with the computer for all participants. The session was led by Dr. Samuel Spero, Director of the IC-

JL and Associate Professor of Computer Science at Cleveland State University, who spoke about the many ongoing programs of the Institute. Rabbi Gerald Porath, Coordinator of Educational Projects, led the session on "The Use of the Computer in Jewish Studies". In that session presentations were made by members of the ICJL educational network on the programs which are already being used in day schools and congregational schools across the country. Among the presenters were Rabbi Irwin Schwartz of the South Bend Hebrew Day School who demonstrated his programs for the instruction of Hebrew grammar. Cantor Martin Leubitz of the Beth Am Congregation of Cleveland displayed a highly innovative program on the instruction of the cantillation notes for the Torah reading. Rabbi Jerod Isenberg, Operations Director of the ICJL, discussed the programs available for the generation, scoring and evaluation of tests.

Rabbi Binyamin Greenberger of Cleveland led a session on "The Administrative Uses of the Computer". In his talk Rabbi Greenberger advised the participants of the considerations which must be examined in computerizing different aspects of a school's operation. An entire session was devoted to the applications of computer technology in general studies, and sample programs for use in biology, chemistry, physics and English were presented by Dr. Spero.

The presenters, all members of the ICJL educational network, have been using computer-based instruction with successful results. The programs which they have developed are especially valuable in that they represent those main points which the student is expected to master in order to truly comprehend the material. Many of the programs have accompanying teachers manuals developed by ICJL staff.

One outcome of the conference has been the formation of committees to further develop national computer-based curricula on both elementary and advanced levels, as well as to publicize and exchange software systems (computer programs). The ICJL will also coordinate workshops in Jewish schools throughout the country. Participants left with some feeling for the computer's extremely powerful potential as a pedagogic tool in instruction, review and retention. More information can be obtained by contacting Rabbi Gerald Porath at the ICJL, 7135 N. Carpenter rd., Skokie IL 60077, 312-267-9800.

Baha'i Near North

In Shiraz, 140 houses of Baha'is were burned down or looted. In Nayriz, 25 Baha'i homes were burned down. In Sarvistan, Baha'is were driven to the mosques in an attempt to force them to recant their belief. In various other places, similar incidents occurred. The lives of Baha'is and the destruction of Baha'i holy places in Teheran and Shiraz were also threatened. These are typical of the persecution being inflicted on members of the Baha'i Faith in the wake of the disturbances in Iran. As a result, 700 Baha'is are known to be homeless.

Baha'u'llah, the founder of the religion, was exiled from His native Iran, where the Baha'i teachings were violently opposed, and finally imprisoned in the Holy Land.

The Baha'i Faith is widely known for its fundamental belief in one God, in the essential unity of all divinely-revealed religion, and in the unity of mankind. Its worldwide membership comprises people of every known religious and ethnic background. The affairs of the Faith are administered by elected Assemblies. There is no clergy. Recently, the Baha'i House of Worship in Wilmette, Illinois was entered in the National Register of Historic Places.

Books on personal care and grooming

There are few people, if any, who are satisfied with their appearance. Most of us spend our time before the mirror bemoaning large noses, big feet, fat midriffs, heavy hips, frizzy hair, freckles, and other such banes of human existence.

The Niles Public Library does not have plastic surgeons, cosmetologists or hair stylists on staff. However, we do have information that can help you to make the most of what nature has allotted you. The library houses a large collection of books on personal care and grooming written by doctors, beauty experts, and "just plain folks" who have taken the dumpy - to - dazzling trip and want to share the secrets of their success.

In Great Beautiful Doll, Stella

Jolles Reichman admonishes women of larger dimensions to stand tall and be proud of their girth. After all, the measurements of the Venus de Milo are 37 - 27 - 38, and other artworks show that the well-rounded woman has been admired throughout the ages. Francesco Scavullo, world renowned photographer of rich, famous and beautiful people, explains (with the aid of stunning photographic portraits) that there is a beautiful person just waiting to be born within all of us in his book Scavullo on Beauty.

Besides these "beauty pep-talk" books, the library has others of a more practical, instructional nature. Some examples are Super Hair by Dr. Jonathan Zizmor, The Modern

An angered man broke a house door window the afternoon of Dec. 31 after his lady friend was asked to move her car to make way for the snowplow.

The Eblinger dr. homeowner said he requested the lady move her car from the front of his home to allow for snowplowing. A short time later a man came to the victim's front door and made verbal threats. When the homeowner closed the door, the visitor put his fist thru the window. Damages were estimated at $200.

Police investigation revealed the injured man receiving treatment at Resurrection Hospital stated he raised his hand to protect himself from the closing door.

He was taken to Lutheran General Hospital where he was found to have a plastic bag containing marijuana in his pocket together with a pipe and 4 white pills presumably Quaaludes.

The youth was charged with possession of a controlled substance and complaint of cannabis and released under a $1,000 bond pending a court hearing.

Criminal damage to cars
While assisting a friend with his stalled car on Oak street during the evening of Jan. 3, the owner of a 1977 Plymouth heard a loud noise and noted the passenger side window broken with a BB pellet.

The victim told police he noted an open upstairs window in a nearby house but the officer who investigated was told the homeowner did not own a gun. The resident's son also denied knowledge of the incident.

LETTERS to EDITOR

Snowed-in resident frightened

Dear Editor:

Over the New Year's weekend there was a horrifying, tremendous snow storm... the winds blew drifts so high, almost five feet! These five feet drifts locked against some doors keeping many residents prisoners within their own homes. How horrible, especially for those alone and helpless to later clean their driveways and sidewalks.

I live alone... and for a lady with a serious health problem, it became imperative that I find help. I proceeded to call all the companies listed in the yellow pages under "snow removal service"... but to no avail! Finally, 48 hours later two teenage boys shoveled me out (it took them five hours to do so). Free, at last, I thought!

It was only one day later that the Niles Public Works came around to clean the streets and quite unfortunately shoved large mounds of ice-packed snow back into my driveway, making me, once again, a prisoner in my home. How frightened I felt!

After making several telephone calls I decided to call the "Bugle Newspaper", and tell them of my plight. Diane Miller spoke to me and offered to do what she could by calling Public Works.

It took merely five short minutes for the same truck that had plowed me into the driveway so inconsiderately to reappear and remove these horrible chunks of ice-d snow. This removal took their machine only 2 minutes to clear my driveway and free me.

Tell me, aren't there other residents of Niles who might be ill or elderly and therefore helpless to repeatedly clear their driveways after the Niles Public Works trucks? How much nicer it would be if this same truck did not push huge mounds into people's driveways. How difficult would it have been for them to merely smooth the way, as they did after my telephone cry for help?

Please, Niles, be good to your people. All your people!
A Niles Resident

EDITOR'S NOTE:

The recent heavy snowstorms have been a hardship on everyone. The Public Works snow removal crews have put in long hours trying to clear the streets and have done an excellent job. Their job could be made much easier if residents would cooperate by keeping their cars off snow removal routes and if the cars do get plowed in, make an effort to get them out before the spring thaw.

This past week Niles snow removal equipment made a supreme effort to push back the snow to the curbing, constantly working around snowed-in cars whose owners have made little or no effort to move them.

If residents with health problems such as the lady who wrote the above letter would make arrangements in the fall with snow plowing services to clean out their driveways, their minds could rest easy when the snow does start to fly.

Combat obscene literature

Dear Editor:

One of the obligations of a Knights of Columbus member is to combat the distributing of obscene literature in their area. This type of literature is one of the real sources that develops juvenile delinquency.

Delinquents are made, not born. They come from a poor home in the slums, a tenement, a middle class home, a good residential neighborhood, a very rich home or an upper middle class home, so it can breed from any home. We, also as parents, have a parent responsibility. The child who is educated to values that are morally good and ethically right chooses and acts to the end for which God has destined him or her. The child who has been deprived of such values is his own enemy, society's cancer and the devil's victory. Much is said about juvenile delinquency but not much work is contributed to combat it.

The solution lies with the parents and a strict enforcement of laws pertaining to obscenity which already exist on our Statute Books in Niles. Be alert! Always object to those sources publishing or selling obscene advertising and literature. Television is the most available medium of entertainment and parents should see that their children do not watch provocative exhibitions. It is more important to see that your children's religious training is not neglected. Parents of all boys and girls who are attending public schools have a serious obligation to see to it that they receive instruction in their faith. Quoting His Eminence Francis Cardinal Spellman in one of his speeches on juvenile delinquency years ago, "Parents and educators should realize that the only effective prescription for prevention and cure is spiritual strength derived from religious training."

A thoughtful act

Dear Sir:

We would like to thank the person who found our car keys at the Jewel Tea Company parking area on Saturday afternoon, Dec. 30 and turned them in at the business office. This thoughtful act made it possible for us to return to our home after spending a week in your city, due to a death in the family.

Thank you.

Mayor Nicholas Blase who indicated the Board will determine at the Jan. 23 meeting whether "conversion to condominiums in this area is proper."

During a precise presentation to village trustees Tuesday evening, NAMI attorney Frank Friedman indicated the petition was closely predicated upon the Oct. 9 recommended approval by the Zoning Board:

- Conversion of four 6-story buildings to condominiums with a total 328 units;
- Construction of four 6-story buildings containing 236 units;
- Construction of a two-story recreation and administration building, an outdoor swimming pool, other recreational facilities and a one-story maintenance building;
- To complete two 18-story buildings containing 800 units and a parking structure;
- Construction of recreation facilities and enclosed outdoor pool;
- Commercial condo unit construction for use by residents and their guests;
- Parking sites on Sections 1 and 2 to be 1.45 spaces per unit; Commonwealth right-of-way leasing for Sec. 3 and 4 to be 2.0 cars per unit;
- Provisions for sprinklers, heat detectors, alarms and emergency lights, etc. under fire regulations.

The petition further requested that the development be subject to a 5-year time period of completion with the right to return for extension of time.

Prices of the condos range from the low $30,000's to mid $50,000's and from the mid $30,000's to low $70,000's for 3 bedroom units. Friedman said that "even without sales promotion, people have come into our office inquiring about purchase of the condominium units."

St. John Brebeuf's Festival '79

TEN YEARS and still going strong...this is the phenomenal record of St. John Brebeuf's annual FESTIVAL. Started at a small parish meeting in 1969, the show has continued to grow until today it is one of the outstanding entertainment events in the Village of Niles.

At the start the show ran two night to an audience of about 2,500 people; today the shows run four nights and the attendance figures have climbed to about 7,000 persons. This success is not an accident; it has come about because of the dedication year in and year out of the parishoners of St. John Brebeuf, and of the outstanding caliber of the entertainment presented.

This year's show is no exception as the parishoners prepare to present FESTIVAL '79, the 10th anniversary production in a long line of smash hits.

The dates are February 16 and 17, 23 and 24. Tickets are $7 each and can be procured from Ticket Chairpeople Cy and Peg Maher, 965-4959, or the rectory and school.

replied Comr. Kenneth Cohen, who indicated that "board members could not be expected to remember" 6-month old plans. "Further," noted Cohen, "we have a new member on the Board and all of the commissioners would like to view new planning for a new petition."

In other action Zoners unanimously denied a petitioned variation by Panos T. Panopoulos, 7434 Harlem ave., of property at 8319 Church st. from the required 7,500 sq. ft. to 7,101 sq. ft. with recommendation that the petitioner purchase the additional square footage needed for his property from adjoining property owner Jack Abbatte, who was in agreement.

The petition had been continued from Dec. 4 to determine legal ramifications of tearing down an existing building on the property at Church and Cumberland.

Mrs. Shirley Nocolay of 9091 Cumberland said at the Dec. 4 meeting she feared damage to the foundation of her home by use of bulldozers on the adjacent property.

Investigation by Building and Zoning Director Joseph Salerno indicated an engineer's opinion that a $750 projected cost to determine condition of the soil would "be a waste of time." At that distance he said (of 65 ft. to 70 ft. to Mrs. Nocolay's house) foundation removal would have "no adverse effect to her home."

Zoning Commissioners welcomed Todd Bavaro to the Zoning Board as replacement for Orville Ottow.

Resists arrest

Zero weather failed to cool the temper of a Des Plaines youth Jan. 3 when security guards asked him to leave a department store in Golf Mill after creating a disturbance.

Timothy Emskamp, 18, of 873 S. Warrington was charged with disorderly conduct and resisting arrest. He was released under $1,000 bond pending a Feb. 9 court hearing in Niles.

Police called to the scene Wednesday evening by security officers who wanted the youth out of the store said they noted an odor of alcohol.

Officer R. Grudzien advised the young man to leave the store but he refused. Emskamp was then asked to leave by his brother but again refused and tried to walk further into the store.

When other officers got to the scene, they attempted to subdue the youth who became combative and tried to strike the police officers, kicking one in the leg.

Emskamp was taken to the police station and charged.

900% increase in 10 years. Also, in the same age group, there were 179,585 arrested for drunkenness, and 230,505 arrested for liquor law violations.

Commissioner McDonald also pointed out that since most arrested teen-agers are only charged with more serious offenses, a larger percentage of the crimes of disorderly conduct, vagrancy, and vandalism are related to over-consumption of alcohol, but not so reported.

Violation of any part of the ordinance will be punished by a fine of up to $500.

Join us for a tour and luncheon at the Hotel Florence - both a ticket to the past. En route home, we will be making a musical stop at the popular Svoboda's Nickleodeon. Cost is $7.50 per lady which includes tour, lunch and transportation. Register at the Park District office, 7877 Milwaukee ave., Niles before Feb. 5.

She cited a recent report of the Federal Bureau of Investigation stating that alcohol-related crimes committed by young people have risen sharply. The Wednesday gathering at Guild Playhouse, 620 Lee St., Des Plaines, begins at 8 p.m. and is open to anyone in the area interested in community theatre, and especially those who may want to audition for roles in "Naughty Marietta" later this season.

DPTG will present the musical in May, with tryouts scheduled for March 4 and 5, and because music for this 1910 Victor Herbert operetta is difficult to obtain, being able to hear the better known numbers from the score should be helpful to men and women who plan to try for roles in the production, according to Harold LeBoyer of Des Plaines, newly appointed administrative vice president of the community theatre group.

Also at the Jan. 17 membership meeting will be refreshments and a short report on current activities at Guild Playhouse, which include Acting Workshops for Adults on Monday nights, and Children's Theatre Workshops on Saturday afternoons. AMUSEMENT GUIDE

ED HANSON

The affluent shoplifter

"I'd call her an affluent shoplifter. There's lots like her, not only in this area, but all over the country."

The speaker was a veteran policeman. Like many policemen, to augment his income, he works as a security officer in one of the large department stores in the area. It was when I had lunch with him recently that he told me about the affluent shoplifter.

"She's a good looking gal, comes from a rather wealthy family," he said.

"How old is she?" I asked.

"Fourteen, but she looks 18 or 20."

"What did she do?" I inquired.

"She's a shoplifter. She steals little things like lipsticks, combs, candy and so forth."

"A kleptomaniac, I suppose."

"Nonsense," replied the cop. "This is a common misconception. Actually, kleptomaniacs don't account for one quarter of one per cent of shoplifting crimes. This 'kid' steals for 'kicks'."

"...or, as so many kids of this age do, as an entrance requirement for some social clique they aspire to impress."

"What happened to her?"

"Nothing," the cop said. "The store people told her parents. They were nice folks, plenty of money, social position and besides, they were good customers of the store. The store now bills the parents for anything the kid lifts."

"Have you experienced much of this shoplifting by kids of this age?"

"Plenty," he replied. "There is also quite a bit of it done by nice little old ladies who go to church and nice young ladies who don't. In fact, there is a lot of shoplifting done by men and women you'd never suspect - and I don't mean the 'pros' either. It's a taboo subject - the stores don't like to talk about it. Some of them, particularly during the recent Christmas rush, have really been getting clobbered by it."

Area police files show all types of shoplifters - young, old, even pregnant women.

I decided to do some research on the subject. I talked with many store owners in the area and found the policeman's remarks to be all too true. An article in "Reader's Digest" reveals that out of 7,000 confessed shoplifters last year caught in a single New York department store, 3,700 were teenagers, most of them girls. It also revealed that in the better, higher income communities, 13 to 16 year old females lead all the rest. FBI figures show an increase of 14% in this type of crime over last year. A spokesman for the Illinois Retail Merchants Assoc. estimates that shoplifters take a total of more than $35 million a year from just the department stores in Chicago. A survey revealed that 3,000 shoplifters were nabbed in a period of six months. A man, knowledgeable in these matters, estimates that only 10 per cent of shoplifters are caught.

Plenty of articles have appeared in many national magazines and newspapers that call attention to the mounting rise in shoplifting crimes. Psychologists say self-service stores are in some ways responsible, as many persons are unable to resist the 'irresistible impulse' to steal.

What does not show up in the national figures is the 'hidden delinquency' like the young gal the officer told me about. Strangely enough, it is in the more affluent and wealthy suburbs, not the slum areas, where the greatest increases in shoplifting are occurring. It is among children of the junior high school age, those with money in their jeans, who are doing the largest amount of store pilfering. Today, the professional shoplifter accounts for only about 18 per cent of approximately more than $1 billion that is stolen from stores each year.

It is difficult to estimate the cause and extent of the 'affluent shoplifter or delinquent'. According to Lawrence Fine, a research social worker, it is because delinquency among the privileged youngsters doesn't appear in print on police blotters or local newspapers. In most cases where store owners have brought these problems to the attention of parents they have received cooperation. However, there have been many instances reported that when the parents were told of 'stealing' on the part of their little darlings it has been shrugged off as a childish prank. Sometimes the store has received indignant denials, threats of lawsuit and boycott from the customers and their affluent friends.

Like the police officer said, "Shoplifting is a taboo subject - an unpleasant topic to store owners."

On the question of taboo subjects I am always reminded of the words of Ezra Pound who said:

"What there is in all provincial places is an attempt to suppress part of the evidence, to present life out of proportion with itself, squared to fit some local formula of respectability."
