Park adopts $2.2 million budget

by Alice M. Bobula
The Niles Park District Board of Commissioners May 15 approved a total park operating budget for the fiscal year beginning May 1, 1979 and ending April 30, 1980, of $2,286,807, a 4.4% increase over last year's budget of $2,189,599. The increase was attributed to general inflation, of utility rates, salary increases and insurance costs.

Total appropriation for the year was set at $3,312,577, of which $1,953,750 is estimated revenue and $1,358,827 expected revenue by taxation. The appropriation fund gives the Park District the legal right to spend monies, if needed, in excess of the projected budget.

Automatic pay raises this year, according to Park Director William Hughes, "averaged out" to 6.7%. However, when pressed for actual figures, Hughes said salary increases range from an individual 2% to 23%. He noted that 14 of the 24 full-time park employees received more than a 7% increase in wages, with higher increases going to maintenance employees.

Felsty park commissioner Steve Chameriski drew several rounds of applause from the crowded park district meeting room Tuesday night, the first of which came when he voted "no" to the proposed '79-'80 combined maintenance employees.

Motion favoring Hynes School staying open fails

3-3 vote keeps Golf School open

A tie vote at District 67's continued school board meeting Monday night will result in Golf Elementary School remaining open while the Hynes School will be closed as of September, 1980.

Village of Golf resident and board member Kathleen McLaughlin, a school teacher, "abstained" on her vote which resulted in the tie vote. The motion to close the Golf School thus failed, because of the tie vote.

On Feb. 5, while the old school board was still seated, they voted to close the Hynes School. A 1,000-name petition was subsequently submitted to the board requesting the Hynes School remain open.

At Monday night's continued meeting the two new board members traded votes. Ed Dugalow voted to close Golf while newcomer, Judy Kochman, opposed the closing. Board member Sheldon Marcus and board president Ted Lucas joined with Kochman in opposing the Golf School closing.

by David Besser Editor & Publisher
At a budget meeting of the Niles Library board last week we heard the report board members are straining and stressing in their desire to balance the budget. The financially-squeezed district has to count all its pennies in order to keep on an even keel.

One way the costs in the district could lessen the burden would be to cut-out the branch library on Milwaukee ave. We've long felt it is a luxury which the Niles district can't afford.

When the board decided to annex the unincorporated area to the north, they promised a second library building closer to that area. The district had a two-year grant which paid for the facility then. But the two-year period has ended and the district must now pay for the second building.

While we're only guesstimating, we believe the rental of the library is around $27,000 a year. Adding the costs of personnel, fixtures, supplies and duplicate books, etc., the cost for the second building could be close to $100,000 yearly.

Can Cop can canner for canning with illegal can?

Charges of a Niles policeman harassing street solicitors who were seeking funds on street corners in Niles Saturday were lodged by Robert Bernstein, who was in charge of the car solicitation for the Rimland School for Autistic Children.

Niles police captain William Terpinas said there was a misunderstanding regarding the permit which was caused by a village error, but the solicitors were guilty of two state and village violations which resulted in 3 solicitors being arrested.

Bernstein, who said the group has had no trouble during the previous 8 years it has solicited on Niles streets, paid a bail bond of $35 for one of his solicitors who was brought into the station by police officer Don Leavitt. The group was accused of not having a permit. When Bernstein showed the proof of permission granted by Niles, a permit which was

Niles Police warn residents of 'pigeon drop' game

The Niles Police Department advises you to be on guard when a stranger asks for your advice. This person could stop you on the street, in front of a bank, currency exchange, in a large department store or shopping center. It could be a man but generally it will be a well dressed woman.

Listen closely as the person talks to you. She will have a story to tell you, but before she's finished, you might lose a lot of money. Here's how it could happen:

1. She gets your attention. It might be a woman who asks how to get to a certain location or someone who simply starts to talk to you "for just a moment."
2. Another stranger appears. Another person appearing very excited will approach you a very short time after the first woman had started talking to you.
3. She has found a large sum of money. She will show both of you an envelope or a wallet that appears to contain a large sum of money. She will tell you that she has just found it lying next to where the two of you were talking. She will tell you that there is no identification with the money and she might also tell you that it appears to be money from an illegal gambling operation.
4. Her boss the "lawyer". She will tell both of you that she works for a lawyer whose office is very near by. She will ask both of you to be her witnesses and to wait right there while she runs to her boss and finds out what to do with this large sum of money.
5. Splitting the money. In a few minutes she will come running back. She will tell you that her boss has advised her that the money should be split up equally three ways between the three of you because you were all present when the money was found.
6. The "earnest" or "good faith" money. She will then tell you both that the lawyer would like to see some "earnest" or "good faith" money just in case someone may turn up to claim the money. Naturally the first female who approached you will pull what appears to be a "few thousand dollars" out of her purse, stating she has hers.
7. Going to the bank. You tell them you do not have that kind of money with you and they suggest going to your bank with you to get it. Before you realize it, you are inside your bank making a large withdrawal to show your "good faith".
8. Back to the boss. After leaving the bank you will all go back to where you originally met.

Niles Library Board swears in new trustees

During the April 9 meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Niles Public Library District, Irene Costello and Judith J. Czyniewicz were sworn in as Trustees, thus bringing the Board to its full complement of seven members. Irene Costello is no stranger to community involvement. She has done a considerable amount of volunteer work in the area, including a term as chairperson of the Safety Committee of the Des Plaines Valley Geological Society where she wrote a monthly newsletter. She regularly donates her services to her church, and she has worked with preschoolers at the Park Ridge "V". To her, joining the library board is in keeping with this spirit. Moreover, she views her new post as the "logical extension of a lifetime of heavy usage," and the culmination of a long held desire to become "familiar and involved with its management." Costello's immediate priorities for the library include more community involvement, reactivation of the "Friends of the Library" and a kindling of interest among the Niles Women's Club which helped found the library years ago. "I can only speak generally now," she added. "As time goes on and I become more familiar with the management side of things I will develop further ideas. For now I want to contribute to the Library in any way I can. Perhaps even my artistic background will someday prove useful."

The new trustee's long range goals for the library are quite definite. "I would like to see our services expand so that the Library becomes a cultural and educational center for all the people of the District, regardless of their interests and needs. We are all taxpayers; we all have a right to be served."

Ms. Costello has a Bachelor's degree in chemistry from St. Xavier College in Chicago. After graduating she worked as a chemist for six years before marrying her husband, Louis. The Costellos have four children, two at home and two away at college.

Her interests include lapidary and stone carving, and she twice exhibited products of her work at the Niles Library. She is a devotee of archeology and art, and calls herself an "avid" history buff. In the past her artistic outlet centered on painting in oils and water colors.

"You know," she said reflectively toward the end of our interview, "I'd have been lost if the library weren't available all these years to answer my questions and develop my interests. I only wish that others would use it as an information center so that they can continue learning all their lives. Education shouldn't stop with schooling." She paused for a moment, "Maybe that's the reason I applied for Board membership: to help bring about that day when others will have to admit they they too would be lost without the library. I can't think of a better reason."

Judy Czyniewicz is also one of Niles' most active citizens. Besides working to form the Niles Junior Historical Society, she serves on the board of the Niles Art Guild and is president of the Morton Grove Art Guild. She is also active in the Copernicus Cultural and Community Center in Chicago which houses a museum and provides a place for people of Polish ancestry to do research. Her past accomplishments include the presidency of the Niles Historical and Art Society in which capacity she helped found a museum which is located at 8060 Oakton st. As co-chairman of the Niles Bicentennial Commission, she worked successfully to obtain funds which were used to design and build the landmark Dutchman's Point. She was also a founding member of the Oakton Com-

On the OTHER HAND

by Diane Miller

Food for thought: While following a mailman down the street the other day who was making home deliveries in his "Pinto", we finally realized why mail delivery has slowed down so much. They've reverted back to the "Pony Express".

The Carlson family, residents of Niles for over 30 years, enjoyed a combination birthday and farewell party this past weekend.

Carl and his wife Eleanor, together with Carl's sister Hulda Tiven and her husband Bert of Florida and sister Esther Olund and her husband Bert of Morton Grove, were hosts to approximately 130 guests at the American Legion Hall in Wilmette.

The gala party was not only to honor Carl on his 75th birthday, but also his youngest sister Gretrud from Sweden on her 65th birthday which coincidentally falls on the same day.

Gretrud and her husband Herman Anderson, Theodore Karlson and his wife Ruth, Oscar Karlson and Ruth Frederickson arrived in Tampa, Fla., on April 5 and were greeted by their brother and sisters residing in this country. It was truly a rare reunion since it was the first time since 1953 at their parents' Golden-Wedding anniversary in Sweden that the 7 brothers and sisters had been together. Their reunion was an event that had been planned in their minds for years, but they never really believed it would materialize.

Then on April 5 a tearful and joyous family reunion was held. The entire group traveled around Florida taking in the wonders of Disney World, Marineland, and Cypress Gardens. They then drove back to Niles, amazed at the sights of this "beautiful country". Tours to the Museum of Science & Industry, Hancock observation tower, Michigan ave. and several other treks just brought more "ooh's" and "ah's" from the group. On Thursday, May 17 they are returning to Sweden. Their visit to America may have lasted only 6 weeks, but the memories will last forever.

Wouldn't it be great if ... the Niles Park District would run a sidewalk on the south side of Washington Park on Ballard rd. and the village would make the necessary arrangements to extend the sidewalk on the vacant property alongside Eagle Foods up to the Ballard-Milwaukee traffic signal. Pedestrians, mothers pushing strollers and bicyclists have a rough time maneuvering around traffic on that extremely narrow thoroughfare. Also, autos exiting the Eagle Foods lot onto Ballard rd. have to cut into the lane of oncoming traffic when making a right turn to avoid a poorly placed fire plug. It poses a very hazardous traffic problem.

Niles Mayor Nick Blase heads a Suburban Mayors Committee of 50 members for the 1979 "Illinois Smiles for Little City" which is being held on Friday and Saturday, Aug. 10 and 11. Proceeds from the "Smiles" drive will be used for programs for mentally retarded children who now enjoy the facilities of the Variety Club-Karyn Kupciet Social Habilitation Center at Little City, Palatine, Ill. The Center provides many facilities, including a pool, lounge, game and exercise rooms which will help the mentally retarded develop construction social outlets which will aid them in getting along with others in the community.

Nilesite Stanley Thompson, 8628 N. Osceola, recently had quite a "catch". He hooked a 19 lb. 11 oz. Chinook in Lake Michigan and his catch has been entered in the Chicago Park District's Coho '79 Fishing Derby. Stanley now becomes eligible to share in the $73,000 fishing related prizes. Congratulations, Stan!

St. John Brebeuf student Rob O'Connor, 14, 8615 N. Merrill, Niles, together with Dave Fronczek, 14, 8300 N. Octavia, Niles, and Mike Pierski, 14, 8433 Johanna dr., Niles, are sure they are material for the Guinness Book of Records. They constructed what they believe to be the world's largest paper airplane and had it on display in the SJB school gym last Monday. The airplane which took 28 days to construct was 40 ft. long and had a wing span of 26 ft. The material used was 196 sheets of full size newspaper. We'll be looking for your name in the next Guinness' edition, fellows!!!

M-NASR meeting

M-NASR is a cooperative of area Park District and Recreation Boards from the communities of Skokie, Des Plaines, Morton Grove, Park Ridge, Niles, Lincolnwood and Golf-Maine, that was created seven years ago to provide recreation programs for those who can't participate in regular community programs as a result of their disability.

The meeting which will begin at 8 p.m. at the Trident Center, 8060 Oakton st. in Niles will also include a formal signing of the newly revised Articles of Agreement between the Member Districts, a final report by the Future Directions Committee and various presentations relating to the program as it exists today.

Bronco League

TEAM	W-L-T
Orioles	2-0-0
Cubs	1-1-0
Dodgers	1-1-0
White Sox	1-1-0
Pirates	0-1-0
A's	0-1-0
Red Sox	0-2-0

An exciting extra inning game on opening day to begin the Bronco League Season. The A's jumped out to a 4-run lead in the top of the 1st inning before the Dodgers settled down. The Dodgers came back with 1 run in the 2nd, 2 runs in the 3rd, and 1 run in the 4th. The timely hits were provided by Brian Nawrocki, Carmen Fullone, Bill Terpinas, John Kosina, and Victor Pedraza. Meanwhile, Dodger pitchers Brian Early, John Kosina, and Bill Terpinas, held the hard hitting A's scoreless for 5 innings to send the game into the 7th inning. The A's scored 2 runs but the resourceful Dodgers came back with 3 runs despite a great defensive play by the A's shortstop, Mike Fritze, to win a well-deserved hard-fought team victory. Dodger outfielder, Lou Alloco, made a dip-glove catch for their defensive play of the game. There was a stand-up triple by S. Gaza of the A's. Also 2 great fielding plays by G. Patton in left field, also for the A's. Final score was Dodgers 7 and the A's 6.

Cubs vs. White Sox
The Cubs took an early lead by scoring 7 runs in the first inning. The power hitting of Wayne Potrue, Arthur Dospiland and John Watrach helped get this lead. In spite of this the White Sox exploded in the 3rd inning for 13 runs to take the lead over the Cubs. Injured at home plate, John Watrach was replaced by John Plodzien, who caught a terrific game. Relief pitching by Chris Krubert of the Cubs was excellent. Pitchers for the White Sox were Richard Veunheus, Matt Heidrick, Mike Cohen and Paul Leddy. Final score was the White Sox 17 and the Cubs 10.

Orioles vs. Red Sox

White Sox vs. Orioles
A real thriller with the Orioles edging the White Sox 5-3. Hedrich and Klancnik pitched 2 scoreless innings. Busiel 3 base hit, Klancnik's hit and Kiamnitz's walk with bases loaded gave the Orioles a 2-1 lead in the fourth. After walks in the 5th by Perkins and Argyrakis, Cieszykowski's hit and Busiel's hit gave the Orioles a lead which they maintained through the rest of the game. Calarco pitched the top of the sixth and did a good job. The White Sox played a real good game also. Their pitchers were Hedrich, Cohen and Leddy. The Pirates beat the Dodgers in a night game on 5-10-79.

Red Sox vs. Cubs
The Cubs beat the Red Sox 9-2. Despite the score the Red Sox played an excellent game. Back to back double in the first inning by Kurt Callisen and Steve Roggeman gave the Red Sox their only runs. There was also excellent defensive plays by Glen Capek and Marc Goldstein of the Red Sox. Pitchers for the Red Sox were Callisen, Roggeman, and Goldstein. For the Cubs it was the first win of the season. A 4 hitter pitched by John Watrach, John Imber, and Wayne Patruue helped silence the lead of the Red Sox. Defense was well played by Scott Christiansen, John Valendo, Arthur Dospil, Michael Jerfida and Chris Krubert. Cub hitting power was supplied by John Watrach's homer, Wayne Patruue's triple and Scott Ciecko's triple. Scott Ciecko brought up from Little League ignited the third inning for the two-out base-clearing triple. The Cubs pitchers combined for 13 strikeouts. The game ball was given to John Plodzien, the Cubs catcher, who was on the receiving end of 13 strikes. John settled the Cub pitchers down and commanded the Cubs to their first victory.

Police use "noses" to catch auto thief

A Chicago youth was apprehended by a skunk and arrested by Niles police May 4 after he allegedly was observed driving a stolen truck southbound at Harlem ave.

Alfred S. Mayer, 18, of 5000 N. McVicker, was charged with theft, driving without a license and driving under a revoked license. He was released under $5,000 bond for appearance May 25 in Niles Circuit Court.

Police said Mayer was stopped at Harlem and Milwaukee shortly after midnight for driving without headlights. Alho he told police he was returning the 1971 Ford van because of malfunction to Builders Kitchens at 7755 Milwaukee ave., police said

Mayer was headed in the opposite direction. Under further investigation the suspect bolted and ran thru the Animal World parking lot at 7525 N. Harlem into a rear alley.

Police search of the neighborhood revealed a strong skunk odor in the area. Ten minutes later a pedestrian in the 7400 block of Waukegan rd. was identified with the skunk odor and by police as the driver of the truck.

When contacted, the owner of Builders Kitchens told police no one had permission to use the truck.

The suspect denied driving the truck and stated he was returning from a visit to a friend's house on Jarvis st.

Oakton wins state track championship

The Women's Track & Field Team from Oakton Community College won the Illinois State Track & Field Championships last weekend at North Central College in Naperville. Oakton scored an amazing 62 points which was 6 more points than when they won the state title last year.

Just as in 1978, Oakton relied upon the strength of an outstanding sprinter and an outstanding distance runner. Kathy Pannier was voted the female "Outstanding Athlete" of the meet as she won the 100-meters, 200-meters, and the 400-meters. She also placed in the long jump and the discus.

Peggy Noble garnered two second places in the 1500-meters and the 3000-meters. Peggy also placed second in the discus.

Both Pannier and Noble will be competing in the National Junior College Track & Field Championships in Eugene, Oregon. Both first and second place finishers in the state meet qualify for the Nationals. However, both Peggy and Kathy have also qualified on a time basis. Pannier will be competing in the 200 and 400, while Noble will be competing in either the 5000 or 3000 meter runs.

Kathy Pannier

The Oakton men's team placed ninth in the state meet with Jim Joern leading the way in pole vault. He vaulted as high in the pole vault as the winner but had to settle for second place based on more misses.

Coach Savage was very pleased with the effort of both the Women's and Men's team and he hopes that more high school athletes will consider attending OCC in the future. Next year both the Cross Country and Track National Championships will be held on the West Coast.

Camp Fire spreads cheer with May baskets

Mr. Kenneth Johannsen, principal of Oak School, was presented a May basket by 5th grade Camp Fire girls (l-r) Sherise Janus, Michele Depa, Michelle DiDomenico, Katie Argetsinger and Dineen Reardon.

First grade Blue Birds (l-r) Heather Rozhon, Heidi Hansen and Karen Weber picked up plants for May Day baskets.

May 1st dawned early for Camp Fire members in the Maine-Niles District as it is the traditional day that May baskets are hung on the doorknobs of the elderly, shut-ins, and others in the community. This custom has been going on for 53 years in the Maine-Niles District. Originally in 1926, 23 hand-made baskets containing flowers were delivered in the early morning. Since that first May Day, the number of people remembered has risen steadily and this year, over 1000 May baskets were distributed. All the youth spend time in April decorating plastic containers and braiding the handles. Then on May 1st they meet in individual groups and set out at 6 a.m. to hang the plants quietly on doorknobs. Leaders, sponsors, school and city officials add businesses are recognized for their support of Camp Fire in this manner. Some Blue Bird groups distribute their own grown plants to teachers in their schools. After making deliveries, the Camp Fire members meet and have breakfast together before going to school. Area nursing homes that received May baskets this year are Bethany Terrace, Golf View, Golf Mill, Pleasantview, Regency, St. Andrews and St. Benedict's Home for the Aged. The delivery of May baskets is a tradition unique to the Maine-Niles District and is part of Camp Fire's commitment of positive service in the community.

Auto tampering

An 18 year old Des Plaines youth was arrested May 4 in the Golf Mill parking lot for tampering with an auto which according to his history he believed to be for sale.

Michael Orr of 9353 Congress was charged with violation of anti-theft laws. He was released under a $1,000 bond pending a June 8 hearing in Niles Circuit Court.

Police said they called to Golf Mill by a witness who said Orr was sitting on the 1970 Oldsmobile and walking around the car.

The car owner, a mechanic at the Sears Automotive agency, said he came out to observe Orr attempting to open the car hood locks.

Orr, whose story was corroborated by a friend, told police a woman acquaintance told him the car was up for sale.

The owner told police the car was not for sale.

Car thefts
A 1973 Plymouth Fury valued at $1,500 was reportedly stolen from Grace st. during the evening of May 5 but the owner phoned police to say the car was returned at 7 a.m. the next day by his 15 year old son.

...During the evening of May 6 a 1974 blue Ford van valued at $3,000 was stolen from the 8100 block of Milwaukee ave. The owner said he parked the van near Marjen Furniture at 6 p.m. Sunday and returned at midnight May 7 to find it missing.

Pet shot owner assaults Niles officer

A Niles police officer said a wasp in his car opened up a hornet's nest of troubles when he drove into a Niles parking lot in attempt to shoot it out of his car.

Capt. Ed Dennis said he discovered the wasp as a passenger in his unmarked police car around 1 p.m. Monday, May 7 and drove into the nearest parking lot, at 7525 N. Harlem, in an attempt to evict the pesky insect.

He said John Santoro, 52, owner of Animal World at the Harlem ave. address, approached him, demanding he remove his car.

Altho Dennis explained he was trying to evict a wasp, he said the pet shop owner became very hostile, pushing the policeman around and using offensive language.

Dennis identified himself as a police officer but Santoro allegedly demanded the officer remove his glasses in anticipation of a fight.

The policeman radioed for aid and the animal store owner was taken to the Niles police station where he was charged with assault. He was released under bond pending a hearing in Niles Circuit Court.

Suspects seized on marijuana charge

Two 18 year old Niles youths were arrested May 8 and held on charges of possessing marijuana according to police.

Officer John Divita on special patrol Tuesday evening near Nordica st. said he observed two youths acting suspiciously in Kirk Lane Park at Jonquil Terrace and Waukegan rd.

He approached them for identification and noticed bulges in the youths' pockets which upon questioning was revealed to be jars of marijuana.

The two youths were taken to the Niles Police Department where they were charged with possession of cannabis and released under bond pending a June 7 hearing in Niles Circuit Court.

Urges 10th District residents to attend screening sessions

Dear Editor:
On Sunday, April 22, 1979, I attended the first meeting of the screening committee to select a Democratic Party candidate for the 10th Congressional District. The proceeding was an impressive one. Five candidates appeared in public to be questioned by the committee members. After their credentials had presented their credentials, the members of the public were given time to make comments.

This open screening process is the method chosen by the committee members who hope to find an individual to represent the 10th District with qualities of wisdom and compassion similar to those demonstrated by Congressman Abner Mikva during his tenure. Under the leadership of the Niles Township Democratic Committeeman, Calvin R. Sutker, the committee structure has also been liberalized. In ordinary circumstances, Mr. Sutker and one other committeeman could pick the candidate without the advice and consent of their fellow committeemen. Under the new system, each of the five committee members has an equal vote. Chairman Sutker pioneered this policy in the interests of furthering the democratic process.

Baird, announced today initial reports indicating that during the month of April 155 persons died from injuries sustained from traffic accidents in Illinois Highways.

District 207 tops in National Merit Scholarships

With a total of eight winners, Maine Township High School students have received more National Merit Scholarship awards than any other school district in Illinois.

Winners of the prized four-year, college-sponsored scholarships include Jennifer Jones of Maine North; Susan Blessing, Michael Dsida and Douglas Strand of Maine West and Jorand Bratko, David Powers and Kayvon Safavi of Maine South. James Pranger, who graduated last June from Maine South and now attends Loyola University in Chicago, was also named a National Merit Scholar.

One hundred Illinois students were among the 1,900 students nationwide named winners of the 1979 National Merit Scholarships. Winners are eligible for scholarships at any of 600 schools and may receive a maximum of $1,500 per year for four years.

The competition started with the more than one million students who took the qualifying test in October 1977; only 15,000 advanced to the finals. All of the four Maine High Schools were represented among the semi-finalists and finalists for the scholarships.

"The Maine Board of Education is very proud of the eight young people who have received National Merit Scholarships for 1979," commented William Schaeffe, Board President.

He said, "We believe that their great accomplishment is a reflection of the outstanding work done by our professional staff in preparing students for higher education. We would express our congratulations and thanks to both the students and their teachers."

Looking at the interests of Maine's National Merit Scholars, most express a preference for the field of science.

Jennifer Jones, of Des Plaines, isn't exactly sure what her future holds, but is very interested in science. Involved in many activities at Maine North such as the International Club, Student Council, and the school newspaper, she has the ability to do well in many careers. She expects to use her scholarship at either Grinnell College in Iowa or the University of Michigan.

Susan Blessing, of Des Plaines, already knows she will major in physics at the Illinois Institute of Technology in Chicago. She eventually plans to get into research. She was a member of the science club at Maine West and was also involved in the school's concert orchestra.

Michael Dsida, of Des Plaines, valedictorian at Maine West, plans to attend the University of Chicago. He will major in political science, but is thinking about the law eventually.

He has been on the basketball team and has won many school achievement awards in science, math and social studies.

The road for Douglas Strand, of Des Plaines, will lead to Oberlin College in Ohio. He says his ambitions are somewhat vague for the future, but right now he plans to study philosophy.

He has had many interests at Maine West, the debate team, chess club, the school band and the school newspaper.

Jorand Bratko, of Park Ridge, will be heading east toward Northwestern University in Evanston. The big interest for this Maine South student is computer and informational science.

Park Ridge's Kayvon Safavi will be going to Boston University and into that school's six-year medical program. While at Maine South he has been interested in both student government and basketball.

David Powers, of Park Ridge, didn't come to Maine South until he was a sophomore. His next move will be to Lawrence College in Appleton, Wis., where he will major in some scientific field.

At Maine South, Powers was a member of the swim team. James Pranger completed his high school education at Maine South in only three years. He is currently studying humanities and pre-law at Loyola. His family recently moved from Park Ridge to Chicago.

Niles East scholarship winners

Niles East High School senior Alan Karras was the recipient of the Ruth Saltzman Memorial Scholarship and senior Roberta Lewen was awarded the Harriet Kneip Memorial Scholarship in ceremonies that were part of the annual Recognition Program held at Easthi on Wednesday, May 9.

The Saltzman Fund was set up to honor an East student who died of cancer earlier in this academic year and was to be awarded to a student who had plans for continuing his/her education in a specific medical curriculum. The selection of the winner was made by the Local Scholarship Committee.

The Kneip Fund honors a former Easthi secretary who also died during this school year and was to go to a secretarial student who, in the judgement of the faculty of the East Business department, best personified the personal and professional qualities of Mrs. Kneip.

Police investigate possible "pigeon drop" theft

Three Chicago women whom police said were known to be "pigeon drop artists" were apprehended at the Golf Mill Shopping Center May 4 after they were observed talking to several elderly women.

Two of the women were released following investigation. A third, Debra McKnight, 29, of 8137 S. Burnham, Chicago, was charged with having no valid driver's license. She was released under bond pending a June 6 hearing in Niles Circuit Court.

Police said they were summoned to the center around 1:30 p.m. Friday by J.C. Penney security guards who had observed the 3 women in the store talking with older women and suspected a confidence game in progress.

The three suspects vanished in the Mall. Police interrogation of the possible victims revealed the suspects did not attempt to get money this time.

Investigating police radioed a description of the 3 women possibly driving a Cadillac which was picked up by Police Lt. John Christie who observed the car and women exiting Golf Mill near the Mill Run Theatre.

The police officer stopped the trio in the 8100 block of Golf rd. where the driver of the car was not able to produce a license and subsequently was placed under arrest.

Police said purses of each suspect held bundles of play money with a genuine bill on each side.

In a classic pigeon drop, con artists persuade elderly victims to hand over thousands of dollars as an "expression of faith" in exchange for "found" wallets or envelopes appearing to hold huge sums of money.

Centel exec cautions representatives on proposal legislation

The chairman of Centel, the nation's fifth largest telephone system, cautioned a United States House of Representative subcommittee that certain provisions of the proposed Communications Act of 1979 could undermine nationwide telephone service.

In testimony May 1 Robert P. Reuss, chairman of Chicago-based Central Telephone & Utilities Corp., warned that "it would be most unwise to abandon" the existing procedures which have enabled the telephone industry to provide fully integrated service throughout the country.

Reuss prefaced his testimony by noting that Centel endorses many aspects of the bill. "We believe that competition and reliance on the marketplace (instead of regulation) are not necessarily incompatible with ensuring the ongoing availability of nationwide telephone service," Reuss said. But competition should be introduced without undermining that service, he added.

"Nationwide telephone service is an end-to-end service," he said. "It is viewed as a single service by the public even though that service uses the facilities of every telephone company." Reuss was referring to the nationwide telephone network, which interconnects more than a billion miles of circuits and some 22,000 switching centers to allow calls to travel anywhere across the country in a matter of seconds. The network functions under a cooperative arrangement between more than 1,500 independent telephone companies, including Centel, and all Bell System companies. The revenue from long distance calls is pooled and, after appropriate costs are reimbursed, the remainder is divided among local telephone companies to help maintain reasonable local exchange rates. Because the telephone companies have a technical and financial stake in the network, Reuss said, there is an "incentive to work hard to make sure that nationwide telephone service works well and is efficiently provided. We believe that customers who use that service benefit from this incentive mechanism."

Reuss noted that Centel currently has about $525 million invested in facilities for providing nationwide telephone service.

He pointed out that certain provisions of the legislation would disrupt the integrated nationwide telephone service.

For example, telephone companies would be required to interconnect non-regulated companies to the network for a minimum access charge. The result, he said, would be to "split the elements of nationwide telephone service into stand-alone economic entities."

He added that the non-regulated interconnect companies "will be able to selectively serve markets and customers, rather than have an obligation to provide nationwide telephone service to everyone."

Since strong competition will be fostered under these circumstances, he said, it would be unwise to abandon the existing procedures used to maintain nationwide telephone service.

Children's art fair at Oakton

Children at the Oakton Community College Children's Arts and Crafts Fair on May 26 and 27 will have an opportunity to choose from many pieces of art designed for their tastes and priced at $3 and under. Children are welcome to visit their art area unaccompanied by adults.

A Children's Arts and Crafts Fair will be featured from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, May 26, and Sunday, May 27, in Building 2 of Oakton Community College's Interim campus, Oakton and Nagle sts., Morton Grove.

The Children's Fair, part of Oakton's sixth annual Starving Artists Arts and Crafts Fair, will give children an opportunity to view and purchase art works created by the fair's artists and craftspeople in an area specifically set aside for them.

All items on sale in the children's area are designed for kids and priced at $3 and under. The items were made by artists exhibiting in the Starving Artist Fair. Many have reduced priced to make their works affordable for children.

Only children are allowed into the Children's Art Fair, giving them an opportunity to pick whatever they want.

"Children have a highly developed sense of art which they're seldom allowed to express. We want to give them a chance to develop their artistic taste," Fair Coordinator Jay Wollin said, explaining why no parents are allowed in the children's area.

A "Creative Activities Room" also will be featured in the Children's Arts and Crafts Fair. Paints, crayons, clay, chalk and sand will be available for children to experiment and create their own masterpieces.

Great Desserts Party

Cheri Jacobs and Lynn Shuma of N.S. Ayer take a dip into the fudge fondue at WCLR Radio's recent Great Desserts Party. Hundreds of Chicago's advertising and media execs feasted on crepes, sundaes, and pastries of all kinds at the Hyatt Regency Chicago.

On Tuesday, April 24, the calendar was turned upside down.

On that date "Sundae" followed Monday for about 400 of Chicago's advertising and media executives. They found themselves surrounded by mounds of ice cream, kettles of hot fudge, and hundreds upon hundreds of pastries, all part of WCLR (102 FM) Radio's Fourth Annual Great Desserts Party.

"Chicago's media and advertising people work long days," said Mo Gardner, president of the radio station. "So WCLR decided to put 'sundae' after Monday and sweeten the week."

The three hour buffet, which began at noon, was held at the Hyatt Regency Chicago. The only edibles were the fabulous desserts.

The ballroom overflowed with luscious delectables that tempted even the most determined dieter.

A special Make-Your-Own Sundae station featured iced bowls filled with vanilla, coffee, and rum-raisin ice cream; hot fudge, caramel, peach brandy and rum sauce toppings, plus bowls of whipped cream and chopped nuts.

Fresh fruit like strawberries, melon balls and pineapple chunks were plucked from "tropical palm trees" for placement on a sundae or into a mouth. At the crepes station, chefs served Crepes Normandy, Cheese Blintzes, Crepes Parisienne and Crepes A La Reine. Peaches Flambe and Banana Foster provided even further temptation.

And an ice-carving of the WCLR logo centered on a gigantic buffet table covered with mousses, cheesecake, pies, tarts, cakes, and pastries of all kinds.

Singer Ann Mason provided "music to eat by" and when she sang "On the God Ship Lollipop" you almost believed you were.

The Great Desserts Party was truly the most colorful and caloric event in town!

Washington School PTA sponsors International Fair

Washington School PTA sponsored its annual International Folk Fair on Wednesday, May 2. Representatives of the ethnic groups comprising the school body presented a variety of sensory experiences to share heritages with over 1000 in attendance.

As members of the student body arrived with their families, they received passports designed by Mary Tatz (GI), to be stamped at the "countries" visited. A colorful display of over 50 international flags greeted visitors. The flags, made by Girl Scout troops from the community, were on loan from the Morton Grove library where they are on permanent display.

Sights, sounds, smells, and tastes were waiting. To musical selections from around the world, guests saw a parade of huge Chinese dragons made by the third grade when their teacher, Miss Barbara Moy, presented a segment on the Chinese New Year. Saris, caftans, dirndles, dashikis, and tsolliathes were the favored dress as visitors sampled paxemathia from Greece, Italian risotto, Hungarian goulash, Indian Puris, and Middle Eastern tabouleh.

Co-ordinators of the evening, Hanna Shapiro (GI), and Mary Bernauer (N), expanded the event to include an International Bake Shop and International Cook Book. The International Bake Shop, filled with breads, pastries and cookies, was organized by Clara Graham (GI), with the help of Girl Scouts from Troop 883. Monalu Meyers (N) collected recipes for all the bakery items and sampled delicacies and combined them into a delightful cook book.

Hardy Freeman led large groups through a variety of folk dances during the evening. Jack Shaw, Chinese-American citizen, thrilled onlookers with a karate/judo demonstration. He was assisted by George Shown above are Phillipino performers giving a demonstration of the ancient art of "Tinkiling", which involves dexterity and speed and, if not performed properly, pain!

SPECIAL COMMUTER BULLETIN

EDENS

Important hints for Edens drivers.

The RTA has found the following information to be of special interest to those who must drive while the Edens is undergoing its current reconstruction.

• Use alternate routes. The Tri-State Tollway, Green Bay Road, Waukegan/Harlem, Kennedy Expressway and Eisenhower Expressway are among the alternate routes suggested.

• Use carpools. Apart from the economic advantages of carpooling. The reduced traffic will help lessen traffic on the heavily congested Edens as well as the alternate routes.

• Dial 1610 on your AM radio dial. The Illinois Department of Public Transportation is assisting motorists via a radio service with 24-hour information on the status of lane closures, ramp closures and temporary traffic arrangements. For special cautions and warnings of unusual delays, tune in 1610 on the extreme end of your AM radio dial when you are on or close to the Edens Expressway.

RTA adds trains for traffic crisis.

The RTA has added extra cars to their north and northwest suburban commuter trains to accommodate any traffic disruption caused by current Edens repairs. Both Milwaukee Road and Chicago and North Western lines have expanded their morning and evening rush hour service to meet the increased demand.

The rising cost of gas has been cited as a further incentive for use of commuter rail transportation throughout metropolitan Chicago.

Rapid traveling times to Loop.

The RTA has emphasized that its commuter rail service is comfortable, economical and more rapid than the Edens Expressway during its present rehabilitation.

For example, a Milwaukee Road rush hour train takes travelers from Northbrook to the Loop in an average time of 35 minutes. Similarly, a Chicago and North Western rush hour train from Highland Park reaches the Loop in about 40 minutes.

New riders discover commuter shuttle buses.

More and more of the new riders on RTA's commuter rail system are enjoying the advantages of the special shuttle buses, serving many Milwaukee Road and North Western stations during both morning and evening rush hours. Bus schedules have been synchronized to inbound and outbound trains to minimize waiting time. The buses provide convenient and comfortable riding between the stations and points throughout the northern suburbs.

The cost of the RTA shuttle buses is 30 cents. Many commuters pay a small additional charge for an RTA Universal Transfer, which they use on rapid transit or buses in downtown Chicago.

The RTA Hot Line.

For up-to-the-minute information about routes and schedules of trains and buses, call the Regional Transportation Authority Hot Line toll-free at 800-972-7000. For best service, call in the evenings.

annual budget and appropriation ordinance.

"The budget looks good," noted Chameriski, "but salary increases are getting out of line and you people (board members) had better wake up." Chameriski said it was his desire to stay within President Carter's recommended guideline of 7% increases and "not with the 23%, 20%, 17% and 15% increases accorded park employees."

During a changing of the guard Tuesday evening, newly elected commissioners Walt Beusse and Elaine Heinen were sworn into office for the next 4 years to fill park seats vacated by Comms. Mary Marusek and Louella Preston.

Board members bid farewell to the departing commissioners who each received a plaque in recognition of past service on the Park Board. Board president Jeffrey Arnold commended each on excellence of manner in which they handled individual "demanding" responsibilities as park commissioners.

Beusse promptly took possession of his former commissioner's chair on the board and Ms. Heinen accepted a bouquet of roses from her husband. The new commissioners received resounding ovations from a cheering section in the Council Chamber meeting room.

Commr. Dan Kosiba was unanimously elected as president of the Park Board but Jeff Arnold squeaked into the vice presidency, opposed by Walt Beusse and by Steve Chameriski who first hesitantly voted approval then later changed his electoral vote to a "no".

Re-appointed were Tim Sheehan as park treasurer; Mrs. Grace Johnson, board secretary; Gabriel Berrafato as park attorney and Bill Hughes, Park Director.

Committee appointments included Steve Chameriski to Finance chairman; Arnold as Village Liaison and Inter-governmental relations; and Ms. Heinen to Co-ordinator of Citizen Awareness and M-NASR representative. Walt Beusse was appointed to chair two new areas, of Community Affairs dealing with Special Problems and as Liaison between Park Board and the Ballard Ice Rink.

In Board action Tuesday night park commissioners approved the Maine-Niles Association of Special Recreation (M-NASR) Articles of Agreement pursuant to the association meeting May 22 at the Trident Center. Approval was predicated on Niles' share-payments to 50% on May 1, 20% on Aug. 15 and 30% due Oct. 15 instead of previous 50% payments made in May and August. Changes were "to better correspond with tax dollar collections."

Accepted a $1,000 contribution to the Andrew Ciabattari memorial, projected for the Recreation Center at 7877 Milwaukee ave., from the Northwest Italian-American Society. Past Pres. Todd Bavaro expressed Society appreciation of the Memorial to Andy, "a dedicated, aggressive and thoughtful worker who took pride in whatever he did."

Approved a pre-board agreement of cost estimate up to $6,000 for the Ciabattari Garden Memorial to be dedicated Sunday, June 10.

Suspended fee charges at the Grennan Heights gymnasium as of May 31 with automatic re-institution Sept. 1 predicated on review by park commissioners over the summer months.

Previous resident complaints of non-resident use of the gym had instituted a 25¢ fee charge to resident youths and a $25 fee for non-resident use. Resident fee collection of $18.25 was noted together with no payment by non-residents.

Heard an impassioned plea from Niles resident Arlene Sawicki regarding Shermer Park at Hamilton dr. and Shermer rd. and the Jewish Cemetery. Action by the Jewish Defense League (JDL) to clear the area left tons of debris, she said.

"I am pleading for help to clear the area," said Mrs. Sawicki who jocularly offered to attempt the monumental task herself in return for the $150,000 park funds held in escrow for purchase of the cemetery site. Plans to acquire the site were dropped several years ago due to problems of body removal and objection by Jewish families.

Mrs. Sawicki said she has lived 17 years next to "this no-man's land" of abandoned cemetery and "one-slide, one monkey-bar" park. "It's my neighborhood and it's a disgrace," she observed. Appeals to village administration brought no assistance she said. "Now I appeal to the Park District."

Director Hughes admitted little has been done to Shermer Park "because it was not being used." No future plans were in the offing he said other than maintenance.

Chameriski received a second ovation from audience spectators when he requested a monthly meeting by park commissioners and park director to inspect parksites for needed repairs/improvements. The first meeting was set for Sunday, May 20 for particular review of Shermer Park and the Jewish Cemetery accompanied by Mrs. Arlene Sawicki whose problem was referred to Commr. Beusse.

Another round of applause was accorded Chameriski following the commissioner's speech welcoming the approximately 100 spectators. "It's a pleasure to see you ... do come again," he urged.

didn't have to vote unless there was a tie vote but was informed as a board member he was required to vote. The vote during the evening was taken alphabetically, with each subsequent vote moving to the next name in the alphabet (i.e. A began the first vote, D the second vote, etc.).

When the climactic vote took place Kochman, Lucas and Marcus voted to oppose the Golf School closing. Dugalow and Applebaum favored closing the school. McLaughlin abstained on her vote and fellow-Golf resident Douglass Ebstyne "passed" from voting until after he saw the results of the vote. He then voted in favor of closing Golf. Since the vote was already 3 to 2 against the closing his vote tying it at 3 to 3 did not change the outcome.

Two amendments introduced by Ebstyne and supported by McLaughlin were unanimously defeated 5 to 2 by the other board members. One amendment sought to have the parents of the 55 children who could be transferred retroactively for tuition to the new school district if the court appeal over disannexation was not resolved by September, 1980. A previous amendment by Ebstyne sought the closing of Golf and keeping Hynes open on the condition appeals for detachment of the village of Golf and Golf Acres be resolved by June, 1979.

Prior to the school closing vote the public participated in the meeting. Twenty-five year resident Larry Bassuk told the board he was opposed to selling the Golf School property. He thought only Avon could buy it and any purchase would "make the neighborhood into a slum."

Resident Judy Seidel supported keeping Hynes open, said the handicapped would better be served by one-story Hynes. After the meeting she mentioned a possible suit may be forthcoming regarding the closing of Hynes.

A Mr. Axelrod opposed the selling of Golf suggesting the school might be rented.

Another resident said Superintendent Stout said Hynes was more economical to operate. She said Golf School had 13 rooms which she classified as being good classrooms while Hynes had 25 "good" rooms.

Board members dominated the 90-minute meeting's discussion. Rosalie Applebaum favored closing Golf and selling part of that site, noting the financial burdens in the district in the coming years. Ed Dugalow agreed Hynes is a better facility and should remain open.

Supporters of Golf School favored the one-campus facility. Judy Kochman said such a plan would save time, effort and energy. She said fewer children would be bussed and the one old one new school would have no effect on the learning process.

Dugalow favored the 2-campus district. He said Golf would cost more in the long run. He said the physical plants of the two schools were the same. But he noted there would be "more community" if there was a two-school authorized 8 months ago by Clerk Wagner's office, the solicitor was charged with not having identification and the can he was using was not clearly marked, violations of Niles and Illinois code.

According to Bernstein he told Leavitt he would take his people around to each intersection in Niles he claims Leavitt arrested two more "canners" before he was able to reach all his people.

Niles police captain Terpinas told The Bugle the first arrest took place at 11:15. At the time of the other 2 arrests, at 12:30, the arrested solicitors had still not been contacted by Bernstein to leave the street.

Terpinas said Niles has never had trouble with the group before. Only once before has Niles police had a similar incident, about one year ago.

Niles village clerk Frank Wagner told The Bugle Niles asks for a financial statement before any group can receive approval. Niles insists the soliciting group does not spend more than 20% of its funds on administrative costs. He said the group must adhere to all other regulations which include clear identification of the "taggers" as well as adequate Stranger No. 2 will take all of the money into a building to show "her boss". A few minutes later she will return and tell you her boss' name and point to the building that his office is in. She will tell you to go in and get your "good faith" money back plus your share of the found money. She tells you that she and stranger No. 1 will wait there for you to return.

9. Gone! When you go into the building you cannot locate anyone with the name that stranger No. 2 gave you. When you go back to find your new friends they are gone, with your money!

If you have read this carefully, you will not be the victim of a "pigeon drop" artist. However, if they do get your money, promptly call the Niles Police and if possible, try to contact them before they get your money.

campus. He said minor reasons for his choice include the sharing of the PE field at Golf. He thought Hynes was superior because of its acoustical-protecting sound, temperature-control, better lighting and the location of the media-center at Hynes.

Sheldon Marcus said the decision to close Hynes last February was still the better choice for the district as a whole. He said they voted not to sell the property and this plan still has merit. He disagreed with Applebaum, noting the selling of the Golf property was a very easy thing to do. He thought it best not to sell but to maintain the Golf property.

It was also suggested Hynes was a more leasable school.

identification on the cans they use. He said in adhering to state and village regulations the solicitors can't tag in the street, cannot create or be involved in any abnormal dangerous situation such as weaving in and out of traffic when the red and green stoplights are changing.

Bernstein said he has to appear in court June 7 on the charge of a misdemeanor.

Was police officer Leavitt's act harassing? It was reported to The Bugle Leavitt does write "a lot of tickets". It was also admitted Clerk Wagner's office erred in not properly submitting the permit to the police department.

It is also imperative identifying clothing or marking be clearly visible. Over-exuberant solicitors often create a danger in weaving in and out of traffic.

Harassment? Over-exuberance? It's a judgment call which will be decided in court June 7.

"When I went back to college, I really learned what the library can do for a person, and I was struck by the need to have its resources made better known to the public. ## From the LEFT HAND

When voters opposed buying the property on Milwaukee ave., we also were against the purchase. The district didn't have revenue for a two-library facility and the fact had to be faced.

One of the new library board members, Rita Brietbart, is among the leading champions of the second facility. She is a resident of the second-library area and is very supportive of the store facility. She points to the many pre-school children who engage in programs there justifying the reason for its existence.

There is a hard-nose fact that must be recognized. Because public moneys are limited, something has to give. Library board members point to the low tax rate as one reason for its money problems. Because residents rejected the last referendum, they hesitate coming back to them and asking for a tax hike.

Past complaints in the district have been employees at the low-end of the pay scale compared to employees in surrounding districts. If this is true then the district has to reassess its primary needs and act upon them. If salaries are below other districts, it's incumbent they be raised. And if insufficient money is now in the till, the residents are going to be forced to pay more. And if the second facility is the burden it seems to be it will have to be cut-out while other priorities are first met.

Past library boards have run the district without much feedback from the community. Our impressions of the last year are the district has not been run very business-like. Priorities are out of whack and sound judgments have been missing from past actions.

Last year we attended a District 63 school board meeting in the Apollo gym. In seeking a chair to use in the full-house, we wandered into a conference room and saw 12 handsome chairs surrounding a magnificent rectangular table. The irony seemed obvious. We were attending a meeting at the school where they were to announce closing 2 schools because of the money-crunch. Yet, in this fully-carpeted modern, air-conditioned building with most expensive office furniture, we saw how easily public people can spend money. And we realized how different public people spend money. In the private sector carpetless floors and much less expensive furniture would be bought. But the ease with which public money is spent while not looking to future money burdens seemed particularly ironic this night schools were to be closed.

The Niles Library district chose a poor site for its initial building. Our good friend Clarence Culver was then on the board and the choice of the location across from the school he was superintendent at was indeed convenient. But Nilesites west and north of the area were shortchanged by the location. Subsequently, when the district enlarged, board members felt obliged to service the area north and west with a second building. But when the initial funds ran out, the district was burdened with the added cost. Had the first building been further north and west, the second building would not have been necessary.

Today, the district has a money problem facing it. Past public people spent money with too much ease not foreseeing the future. The present library facility, though indeed handsome, does not lend itself to much expansion without costing a great deal of money. Like the Apollo school and its lavish surroundings, the ease of using public money inefficiently is coming back to haunt the people who have to pay the bills.

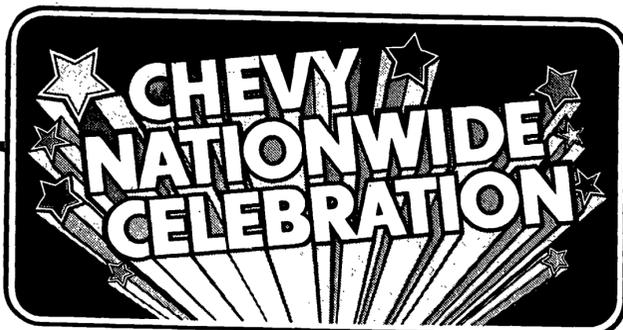

The same argument holds true in Niles Park District. The ice arena is a white elephant which is costing taxpayers much money as it yearly runs into large red figures. One park board member led the charge for the facility and now all district taxpayers are burdened with paying for its deficits.

Looking back is of little value if we can't learn from it. But making errors in judgment is a human faculty we've all experienced. Compounding mistakes by continuing to spend, when the money isn't there, is unconscionable.

Public officials spend much of their valuable time serving all of us, and hitting them over the head with past mistakes is not a very commendable activity. But if we continue to throw away public money, it should be brought to everyone's attention. And a reminder public spending should be guarded as zealously as spending private money is not an unfair recommendation.
