Trustees delay zoning decision on restaurant addition

by Alice M. Bobula

The Niles Village Board at the June 12 meeting continued to June 26 a request by petitioner Roy Makela for Special Use rezoning to permit construction of an addition to the Chambers Restaurant at 6881 Milwaukee Ave.

President Pro-tem Bart Murphy called for the delay to provide time for the petitioner to present revised planning to conform to village code.

In a presentation to the Board Tuesday evening Makela said he plans to enlarge the restaurant from a present 60 to 80 seats which requires larger dining and kitchen areas and an updating of washroom facilities for the handicapped.

Numerous conditions set under recommended approval by the Zoning Board May 7 were satisfactorily resolved said Makela who presented plans for landscaping and for widening two driveways on Ebinger Drive to village-required 15 ft. widths.

However, previous planning which called for extension of the proposed addition to within 7 ft. of an existing garage on the property did not meet with the village-required 10 ft. distance (or 9 ft.

with a 10% variation granted by the Board). Therefore, said Makela, he would physically connect the buildings with walls.

But now said Director of Building and Zoning Joseph Salerno, "Village code requires a rear yard variation of 20 ft. and you have only 3 ft. left."

Told he would have to return to the Zoning Board for consideration of the revised planning

Makela angrily retorted, "Then I'll do as I told the plan commissioners ... I'll tear down the garage wall and move it 2½ ft. further away to meet the 9 ft. requirement."

"Hold on," said Trustee Peter Pesole, "we can come to an amicable decision without antagonizing our businessmen." He recommended, and Makela con-

Andrew J. Ciabattari Memorial Garden

Dedicate garden at Rec Center

by Alice M. Bobula

During outdoor ceremonies Sunday, June 10 held at the Niles Recreation Center, 7877 Milwaukee Ave., Niles Park District officials formally dedicated a park garden in memory of Andrew J. Ciabattari.

The project was one on which Mr. Ciabattari as Parks Foreman had been working when he died from a heart attack October 31, 1978. He would have been 49 years old on Sunday.

Park Board President Daniel Kosiba welcomed more than 300 guests attending the 2 p.m. ceremonies which were overshadowed with threatening clouds and high winds.

"Andy was not just an employee, but one who was dedicated to his work, a man of multi-talents," said the park president in eulogy.

A bouquet of red roses was presented to the widow, Rosemarie, and a single rose to each of the children, Janet, 22, Andrew, Jr., 21 and 18 year old Joanne.

Ol' Dad is having his day Sunday. He's going to get lots of shaving lotion and ties and socks and belts and other non-essentials and then place them in various drawers, like in safety deposit boxes, not to be seen again until after he's worn previous Dad's Day shaving lotion and ties and socks and belts.

But who really is Ol' Dad? If you watch the funny papers he's Ol' Dad Bumstead, with three hairs sticking up like antennae, while he's knocking down the mailman. Or he's getting the short end of the stick from Boss Dithers, or being outfoxed by that cute little fox, Blondie, who always seems to get the best of Ol' Dad.

If he's not Ol' Dad then he's Ol' Dad Archie Bunker, the blue collar bigot, who is forever being put down by a smart alec son-in-law, or a scatter-brain wife. We've often wondered why the wife isn't the bigot. And we often fantasized Archie should be a white-collared bigot who works in an ad agency and passes out at the country club every other night.

Since so much of life is mythical you might see Ol' Dad as John Wayne or Frank Sinatra. We only know these machos from their on-stage personalities but they're Dads, heroic or swinging, really the kind of wise guys which Americans shout to the world, "These are the real Americans!" Free-swinging, flag-waving patriots they, who both copped out during World War II.

Dad is also Robert Young, he of the calm-your-nerves generation who tells you to drink non-caffein Sanka. As Father-Knows-Best he was the essence of calmness, a real fount of wisdom.

Ol' Dad was Leo Durocher. Remember good old Leo, whose paternal interest in his son caused him to leave the Cubbies in '69, and go to camp to look after his wunderkind. Good ol' Leo, who was famous for shouting racial and religious barbs at Santo and Banks and Holtzman. Good ol' Dad Durocher.

Then there was also a famous Dad of the 30's and 40's, Ol' Dad Stalin. Joe was most benign to his lovely daughter, a sweet lovable Dad. But he sure obliterated a bunch of Army Dads in the late 30's when he didn't approve of the cut of their lib. Dad Stalin did away with a lot of other Dads, several

Older Adult Program series

"Who's Going to Love You When You're Old and Grey?" will be the topic of a program at 7 p.m., Wednesday, June 20 at the Naurice Nessel Health Center of Lutheran General Hospital, 1775 Ballard, Park Ridge.

"We hope that the answer to that question will be, 'I Will,'" says the Rev. Stephen Massie, program coordinator of the Older Adult Services Development Program of Lutheran General who will conduct the program. The program will explore ways elderly persons can take care of themselves.

The aging process goes beyond grey hair and retirement. Older persons often face complicated issues that won't go away by themselves. Having to rebudget for living on a fixed income and gradually becoming less independent are common realities of growing older.

As program coordinator, the Rev. Massie helps the elderly and the middle-aged plan for these years through attitudinal changes. "Attitudes, in general, do not age well," he says. "We try to teach persons to plan for the future, to be flexible and to accept alternatives."

Besides the Issues on Aging Series, staff members of the Older Adults Program, a part of the Older Adult Services Development Program, also conduct in-patient and out-patient counseling to the elderly. For more information, phone the Older Adult Services Development at 696-7265.

RTA seeks increase in local taxes

The average family in the six Chicago metropolitan area counties will pay 4.7 times more in RTA taxes if the present 5% RTA gas tax is replaced by a 1% RTA sales tax.

"During the last year, the RTA gas tax cost motorists almost $73 million. That sounds like a lot, but it's a lot less than the approximately $350 million that a 1% RTA sales tax will cost," Rep. Cal Skinner, Jr. (R-McHenry County) reports.

"When taxpayers give a local government more money, they are, in effect, telling the government that they like what that agency is doing and want more of the same," the McHenry County lawmaker observed.

"Certainly the RTA has failed to deliver on the 1974 promise of its proponents: 'Public transportation, when and where you need it, throughout the region.'

"I contend that RTA will never be able to deliver upon that promise as long as Chicago controls it," Skinner said.

"Under the proposal, suburban Cook County taxpayers will pay $134 million in RTA sales taxes. During the past year, they have paid $29.7 million in RTA gas taxes."

Couple celebrates 60th wedding anniversary

Sixty years is a long time to spend with one person. Reinhart and Bertha Wilkie, residents of St. Matthew Home at 1601 N. Western in Park Ridge, who celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on May 31, 1979, feel that those years together were good.

Marillac summer basketball

The basketball season is bountiful in again at Marillac. This summer, sixteen girls are competing in a seven-game basketball league on Saturday mornings; the opening game was June 2. The league was formed by Regina coach, Mike Small, and Resurrection coach, Carolyn Sloger. Games will be held at these two schools.

The league is only for players returning next season. Summer Northstars include future seniors: Suzette Eshoo (Niles), Katie Jagla (Glenview), Jean Kane (Northfield), Jenny Klaue (Glenview), Maggie O'Donnell (Park Ridge), and Linda Pullano (Niles); Juniors: Mary Christianson (Niles); Kim Drehobl (Niles), Mary Flandro (Highland Park), Jean Happ (Lake Forest), Betsy Lane (Northbrook), Kathy Murphy (Niles), Mary Lou O'Brien (Glenview), Mary Ellen Smith (Niles), and Janet Stuermer (Glenview); and Sophomore Kathryn Eshoo (Niles).

The team scrimmages two or three days a week and Sunday nights. Unfortunately, IHSA rules don't allow any adult coaching during the off season so the team is on its own to make up plays and conduct practice.

Sports camp

Skokie Park District's Laramie Sports Camp offers special guest speakers plus three weeks of fun summer sports and athletics for children entering 3rd through 6th grades in the fall.

Notre Dame completes amazing baseball season

Whatever the sport, a high school coach usually has a pretty good idea how the season is going to go. You know if you have a great deal of talent or not, and one thing you hope for is that the kids play up to their potential. Unexpected successes, therefore, are often a very pleasant surprise. Such was the case for Notre Dame High School and its baseball coach Ken Maziarik in the 1979 season.

It is fair to say that the Dons exceeded what anyone expected from them this year. Their remarkable story began during the regular season when only a 2-1 loss to eventual E.S.C.C. Champion St. Viator kept the Dons from tying for the conference title. Included among their victories was a win over defending State Champion Marist which kept the Redskins from repeating as Conference titlists. All of this was accomplished despite not having a single .300 hitter in the lineup. The Dons turned the phrase "gutsy baseball" into a reality rather than just a cliche.

Notre Dame's story became even more amazing as State Tournament play began. They stunned Maine North by erasing a 3-0 deficit in the final two innings with shortstop John Kleinhubert's triple being the big blow, and emerged with a 4-3 victory. The next game was against Maine West, then ranked third in the area. Notre Dame left the Warriors in a state of shock by turning an infield error into two runs and came out with a 2-1 victory despite not getting a single hit against West's Ron Heyse. This was followed by a 6-2 victory over Maine East behind three hits by Mark Argianis and fine pitching by Chris Piazz. This victory gave the Dons their second consecutive Regional title and the third in the last four seasons.

West was led by Bruce Weil who not only won the shot and discus but also the 100 yd. dash and he placed second in the 220. Other winners for West included Rick Arendt in the 2 Mile, Nestor Evaristo in the High Hurdles, Eric Borin in the Low Hurdles, Victor Wu in the Triple Jump, and Owen Firer in the high jump. This is the second year in a row that West has won this prestigious meet and went home with the 1st place trophy signifying Township Supremacy.

Barry Leb led Niles East with first places in the 440 and the 220 as well as the long jump. He also placed second in the 100 yd. dash. Niles North won the 440 and 880 relays while West won the 2 mile and 1 mile relays.

The meet was run in very cold weather which has been the norm this spring.

Camping, Youth Employment Service, Counseling Big Brother/Sister Volunteer program and Art Classes. Parent Effectiveness Training classes and Family counseling are also available.

LGH helps to break child abuse chain

Child abuse crosses all socioeconomic borders. The rich, poor, educated and uneducated may be guilty of physically or emotionally abusing or neglecting their children. Their abusive actions often reflect their own childhood. Scars from bruises or burns or less visible emotional scars remind them of the way they were brought up, and becomes the way for them to bring up their children.

"Child abuse and neglect is a three-generational problem with the parents being psychologically trapped. The parents were usually abused or neglected themselves and their upbringing was similar to what they are able to provide for their own children," said Henry Gault, M.D., a child psychiatrist at Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge.

"These parents may never have felt positively about themselves, had frustration and anger or were constantly criticized," he added. "As children, they may have felt alone, distrustful or that they had no one to turn to. When they become parents themselves, they may find it hard to meet their child's needs."

If, during a physical assessment, an emergency department doctor or nurse suspects child abuse, a hospital social worker is notified. The social worker gives directions to the emergency staff and at times may meet with the parents in the emergency department. The child may be admitted to the hospital for further assessment and it may be determined necessary to file a report with the Division of Children and Family Services (DCFS).

Vacation safety

Vacation time is coming up — take safety along with you!

If you forget something else, you probably can replace it. Forget safety and it could ruin your entire trip.

If you are driving, make sure your vehicle is in good operating condition. If you haven't prepared your car, truck or recreational vehicle for hot, summer travel, have it checked thoroughly before you leave.

Plan to drive a comfortable number of hours each day, allowing ample time for possible delays. Stop periodically at rest areas to avoid fatigue.

You should avoid quarrels while driving, which could affect your concentration. Be extra careful if you hit expressways around large cities late in the afternoon when traffic is heaviest.

Pay close attention to your speedometer and stay within the posted speed limits. A speeding ticket could be an unwanted expense out of your vacation budget.

GOOD OLD-FASHIONED CHICKEN

Here's why our chicken tastes better.

Better batter.

We fry our chicken in a natural batter of fresh eggs and whole milk. With no heavy herbs or spices to cover the good taste of our good chickens.

Better quality cooking.

We open-fry in pure cottonseed oil instead of vegetable shortening. So our chicken comes out extra tender, crisp and tasty. It even tastes better cold.

A better bird.

One reason our chicken tastes better when you get it is it's better when we get it. We use only fresh USDA Grade A Chicken. Nothing less.

So it better be good. We cook continually so your chicken is always hot and fresh. Never warmed over. And when you come to Brown's you'll see us cooking. Our open kitchens have no walls to block your view.

$1 off to prove it to yourself.

Good for $1 off the price of any Brown's Feast.

LETTERS to EDITOR

Dear Editor:

In an article that headlined the May 31st issue of Bugle, you allowed a park commissioner to make charges to various aspects of the Niles Park District management without substantiating their validity. The prominence of the article in itself should have been reason enough to want to research it out so that a fair hearing would be given to the charges involved.

I am a very close park district business follower as you know, and go to most all monthly meetings, so part of what was written was discussed at some meetings and they didn't come out as stated by Steve (Chamerski).

Steve does have an opportunity to examine the summarized monthly statement given at the board meetings, but he probably does not get the individual statements and bills to look at each month. These are Ok'd and paid by the signature of two duly authorized board members that the board as a whole agreed upon. To pass the day to day bills around to all the board members would be stupid in that just the logistics of such an act would tie up many precious hours of business.

As for the authority of the park director in matters of finance, it is very close if not nil, in power of purchasing. He does not have the power up to $2,500 prior to approval by commissions. The $2,500 is the authority the board has before they must go out for bids on any one purchase. This is a board related duty, and the director is only limited to the $500 power that Steve wants to give him. By the way, even this must be approved by the two check signing board members, so even this small amount comes down to the quality of the parks and other facilities. As a matter of fact, they have been criticized for not being active enough in this respect. To me, the real success of an excellent park district is 90% perspiration (making things useful) and 10% administrative (paper work, hiring, office routine, etc.). If realize that they cannot have an open door on gas use, but to give them more paper work in substantiating a little gas, further erodes their valuable time from important things.

Steve, your manager in the place of business where you work, and you should know how management handles the 7% Carter raises. Any one individual can get any size raise they wish to give as long as the overall figure of all employees fall within 7% for that company. The detail picture of the raises seems out of line on an individual basis, but looked at administratively, there was probably sound reasoning behind it all. The employee with the 2% raise, for instance, was recently upgraded to a higher position with a nice raise, when vacancy opened, due to a leaving.

Steve, even the Park District does not have the power to fight "Mother Nature." Maybe the concession stand should have used "Chiffon Margarine" and shouldn't have gotten "Mother Nature" mad at the golf course. Please tell me what excessive use of gasoline is. How can you sit in judgment on the duties of the administrators of the park district without being involved in the day to day operations of the district. I believe the board wants the administrators in the field as much as needed to oversee the quality of the parks and other facilities. As a matter of fact, they have been criticized for not being active enough in this respect. Jewelry heist at Golf Mill

A daring break-in late Sunday, June 3 of Rand Jewelers in the Golf Mill shopping center netted thieves an estimated $40,000 in theft of rings from several display cases. Damages were estimated at $400.

The security agent said the two women came into the store near closing time Sunday and attempted to make a purchase in the men's section but were told the store was closed.

Near the exit of the store one of the women engaged the guard in conversation asking the cost of cab fare to Maywood. The other woman apparently reached into the register and removed the bag containing the $3,000.

The theft was discovered after the women left the store when the money, and hold a higher position somewhere else with his expertise and drive, but you'll notice the pride and dedication he gave to his district. So much so that he is being recognized with a memorial. This says something about the people who work as a team in the Niles Park District.

I don't say things are perfect but then man is not perfect either, but I believe he does his limited best to make things better. I don't think making things better is synonymous with making negative, seemingly irresponsible statements that tear down moral and can only harm the district. I know the district is paying good money for services of many excellent people, and you and I want the same thing, a better than average Park District. You have yet to perform at your new job as Finance Chairman and I hope your actions are as positive as many of your predecessors. I know your capable of actions that speak louder than words."

Golf Towers -- the best of two worlds

Golf Towers in Des Plaines presents a welcome paradox in contemporary living — the prestigious lifestyle of a big city high-rise in the wide open spaces of the suburbs.

Yet, Golf Towers is ample proof that the best aspects of both sophisticated urban living and the comfortable suburban life can be combined into a single dwelling. Located within easy walking distance of the popular Golf Mill Shopping Center, the Towers are surrounded by lush greenery and clean, open air that is unmistakably suburban. The beautifully decorated clubhouse, private swimming pool, and superb landscaping lend a true country club atmosphere to the buildings and grounds. And easy access to RTA buses, commuter trains, and city expressways make this one of the most ideal locations in all of Chicago's suburbs.

One bedroom condominium homes are available from the mid-40's and two bedrooms from the low-60's. Golf Towers is located at 9009 W. Golf rd. in Des Plaines. Models are open to the public every day of the week from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. For more information, phone 296-2290.

Parents, taxpayers revolt against School District 67

Parents and taxpayers in School District 67 (Morton Grove, Niles, Glenview and Golf) are collecting money for a "defense fund" to fight the closing of Hynes Elementary School, it was announced today.

Residents have contributed $10 to $25 each, but all contributions are being accepted, said the Concerned Citizens for Quality Education in School District 67 formed to "keep open the best and safest educational facility for all the elementary school children of the district."

The Concerned Citizens, knocking on doors throughout the district, said the money may be used for any appropriate legal action against the district that is in the best interests of all the children. The group will also keep the community informed of new developments, such as forcing the district to bring the schools up to village fire codes. Contributions may be mailed to the Concerned Citizens, P.O. Box 4844, Niles, Illinois 60648.

"We are insulted that the board is seriously considering raising taxes to repair a physically inferior school that is unsafe for the children. Hynes School already is physically superior and best to serve all the children," the Concerned Citizen said.

The Concerned Citizens are challenging the board's decision to close Hynes School even though School Supt. William Stott recommends that Hynes remain open because it is the best educational facility.

The group is stepping up plans to challenge the board despite what it calls a "hollow plea for unity."

"Though we had a public forum to present the overwhelming facts in favor of Hynes, from the outset several board members just weren't listening and had their minds made up in advance. Since then, these board members and certain school personnel have urged us to cease and desist."

"We will not go away. We are more solid today, more determined than ever, and plan to go on fighting harder for what is right—keeping Hynes School open. It is not too late for the board to overturn their grievous error."

"Eating for Good Health" will be held from 7 to 8 p.m. on Mondays, beginning June 18 and continuing through July 16. Instructed by Jacqueline Marcus, nutritionist, the class will focus on healthful and economical eating through cooking demonstrations, new recipes and discussions on fats, cholesterol, carbohydrates, protein and food additives.

"Healthful Eating for Men Only" will be held from 7 to 8 p.m. on Thursdays, beginning June 21 and continuing through July 19. This class will stress dietary modifications to help lower blood pressure, control weight and possibly prevent disease. Jacqueline Marcus, nutritionist, will be the instructor.

"Stress Management" will be held from 8 to 9 p.m. on Thursdays, beginning June 21 and continuing through July 19. Under the direction of Linda Korolewski, stress management coordinator, the class will learn ways to handle tension through relaxation techniques.

"Weight Control" will be held from 12 to 12:30 p.m. and from 5 to 6:30 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays, beginning Tuesday, June 19 and continuing through Thursday, August 9. The class will stress ways to lose weight without starvation or fad diets, through a combination of healthful eating, invigorating physical activities, and behavior modification. Instructors will be Carole Goldberg, exercise physiologist, and Jacqueline Marcus, nutritionist.

"Exercise for Good Health" will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. on Wednesday, June 20, and on Wednesday, June 27, and from 7:30 to 8:30 p.m. for five consecutive Wednesdays, beginning July 11 and continuing through August 15, instructed by Carole Goldberg, exercise physiologist. The first two classes will explain the right ways to get started in an exercise program for maximal safety, enjoyment and fitness benefit. All students should enroll for the first two sessions and may continue with the remaining five, which will feature a series of lively exercise routines. Prior to the first class on Wednesday, June 20, students will have their blood pressures checked and will take a "step" test, which measures pulse recovery after exercise.

There is a charge of $20 per class, with the exception of the first two sessions in the "Exercise for Good Health" class, which will be $5, with the remaining sessions $15 for those who continue with the exercise classes.

To register for the classes, people should call the hospital's Good Health Program, 677-9600, ext. 376.

"Mr. Niles" looks back over the years

Eddie Bacher Retires from Public Works

by Alice M. Bobula

Following 40 years of service in numerous and varied village capacities Superintendent of Public Works Eddie Bacher retired from village life on June 1, 1979. He continues however, by request of village officials, to serve the community on a consultant basis.

Duty as a reserve policeman in the early 1940's put him on patrol Sundays at Touhy and Milwaukee aves. during the summer months where he maintained manual control of the traffic lights.

In 1956 the Niles Village Board employed Bacher as Superintendent of Public Works. "The department was small then," recalled Ed. "We had 10 to 11 men, 2 garbage trucks and a couple of dump trucks."

Public Works began to expand in 1958 followed by a building boom in Niles which necessitated hiring of more employees. "I did the hiring at that time," said Bacher, recalling some of the men were still with the department...Larry Schrambeck, Joe Lammersfeld, Louis Hoebel (retired June 1) John Zaba and Pete Cioban (retired January 1, 1979). Public Works grew to the present 44 full-time employees.

Bacher credited "The Niles Waterworks System" as the biggest accomplishment during his service. "From a 600,000 gallon reservoir we increased capacity to a present 10,200,000 gal. reservoirs located at Touhy and Milwaukee ave." Above ground reservoirs near Notre Dame High School and Vapor Heating Co. have 250,000 gal. capacity he noted "with the newest reservoir holding 1 million gallons erected at Four Flags Shopping Center several years ago."

Outstanding memories over the years include Niles Days, "an inspiration" whose proceeds provided funds for parks, village equipment and other village necessities; an ice storm in the fifties which broke all utility poles in half along Waukegan rd.; flooding of the Hawkins Trailer Park (now the site of the Niles Police Station) "when we had to fish the trailers out"; a 1969 storm which struck out utilities in Grennan Heights and Oakton Manor areas.

Memorable also were the two tornados which swept thru Niles, the second and "worst" on Black Friday March 12, 1976, a turning, travelling tornado which hit Niles in early afternoon tearing off roofs and uprooting trees.

The only sad memory said Bacher came several years ago when a Planning Survey of the Village demoted him Director of Public Works to Superintendent of Public Works.

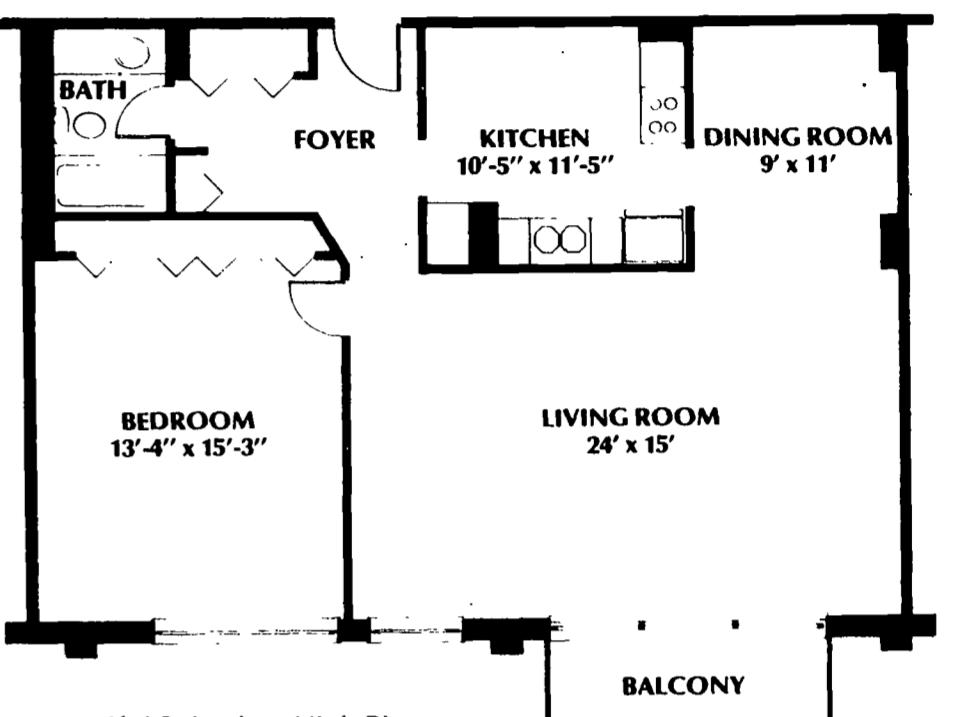

"At the same time," said Bacher, "I took a job as custodian and engineer of Niles Elementary School for the next 17 years... I maintained the parks, with the help of several men, weekly evenings and on weekends."

With few residents everyone had to pitch in and help noted Ed who was to give 34 years as a volunteer, then a paid-on-call firefighter.

His decision to retire came several months ago, said Bacher but, he said proudly, "I've got a record no one can compare with."

The Bachers have one son, three daughters and four grandchildren.
