Plan Unit rejects Krilich apartment development

by Alice M. Bobula
The Niles Plan Commission and Zoning Board of Appeals unanimously disfavored a petitioned rezoning for a Planned Unit Development (PUD) for construction of apartments and office buildings on the southwest corner of Ballard rd. and Greenwood ave. following a preapplication conference held Monday, July 2.

In summary said Board Chairman Jack Frick, "the proposed development is not in the best interests of Niles." He did advise Daniel Pappas, attorney for petitioner-owner Robert Krilich, that he could nevertheless file for a formal plan commission hearing. . . "You may proceed at your pleasure," Frick told Pappas.

The new format of pre-application conference for a petitioned PUD permits the developer to present his plans at a minimal $250 fee. If the proposed plans meet village criteria, the developer can apply for a formal hearing and his pre-application fee will be applied toward PUD hearing charges which run from $1,250 to $2,750 dependent on the size of the land. If plans fall short of the necessary requirements, the petitioner loses only the pre-application fee.

Following a lengthy review of proposed plans to construct 4 apartment buildings, two office buildings and a swimming pool on a 9½ acre site at 8954 Greenwood, commissioners indicated concern over traffic safety, high density, lack of open space, undesirability of "cross-parking" and a lack of amenities other than a swimming pool.

District 63 Board spends
4 hours "deliberating"

School Board appoints Reiss

by David 'Bud' Besser

Is that School District 63 school board playing a bit of charades with the people they're supposed to be representing? Monday night they spent 4 hours in closed deliberations before selecting their friend, Larry Reiss, to fill the vacancy existing on the board.

We would have to say they might be playing charades with themselves as well. Get the picture, good buddies! They asked for applications for all interested parties who might be desiring to serve on the school board. They also interviewed 3 of the applicants prior to announcing their choice. And while they kept the troops sitting outside the decision-making room for 4 hours, they returned to announce the obvious Reiss choice.

It all seemed very open and proper. They would give anyone who desired a chance to compete for the job. Six applicants sought the post. They were duly reviewed by board members and then the board was polled as to their choice.

Board president Dick Smith said there was "criteria" which would be used in making the choice. And this is where the charade began. The criteria best fitted their friend, Reiss, who eventually was chosen on the basis of the criteria. Let's try that again. They knew their man Reiss sought the post. So the criteria used in selecting an applicant best suited the man they chose.

The criteria used was very high-minded. It could hardly be faulted. They wanted a candidate who has given the district past service. That's certainly fair. And the person should have experience. No fault there. The appointee should be compatible with present board members. Ah ha, that one's a bit tricky. Does compatibility mean the new member should not make waves? Is he/she supposed to be in agreement with the board? In other words, do they want a patsy who agrees with them? What kind of a board member are they looking for? Perhaps, their kind.

After sliding in that one controversial quality, compatibility, they go back to very non-controversial criteria. The board said it is seeking a member who attends board meetings. Well, that's fair enough except all the candidates fill that bill. And the new board-person should have

Dean's List

Two area students have been named to St. Joseph Dean's List of the second semester of the 1978-79 school year.

Lynn Jean Ceisel, 7335 N. School st., Niles. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest J. Ceisel and currently a sophomore accounting major at St. Joseph's.

Lawrence Thomas O'Connor, 8450 N. Olcott, Niles. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence F. O'Connor and currently a sophomore biology major at St. Joseph's.

East Maine District 63's school board spent 4 hours behind closed doors Monday night and then announced, as expected, former board member Larry Reiss would fill the one-year vacancy on the board caused by the resignation of Penny Larson.

Reiss, who had served as president of the board during the recent past when two schools were closed in the district, flipped several times before deciding not to run again for the school board last April. He had told The Bugle he was not going to run for the Board, and then changed his mind and sought endorsement by the local school caucus. He narrowly missed being approved, and immediately said he would not run for the school board in 1979. After the election he continued to attend school board meetings which prompted speculation he was still interested in being a member of the board.

The Larson resignation had been expected. She is the owner of farm property in northwest suburbia and said many times she intended moving there. Her resignation from the board immediately after an election allowed the school board to select "one of their own," rather than have the electorate choose the candidate during the April election.

Monday night the board immediately adjourned into executive session to deliberate about its selectee. They requested residents interested in

White Sox 7 - Astros 6
A game that played ten innings was suspended after eight complete innings and continued on the following Sunday. The game was tied in the seventh inning when Mike Divito and Nick Compotti both scored. The bases were loaded in the tenth inning when Mike DiVito walked so the winning run was credited to him. Eric Chaston, Joe Dorjah and Bill Valenta all scored for the White Sox in the fourth inning. Zajac, Raffin and Mackowski each pitched three innings for the Astros. Expos 13 - orioles 5

The catch of the year was made by Orioles Urgo in left field on an Overbeck drive that had the earmarks of a Dave Kingman home run. Urgo kept an eye on it and caught up with it to catch it on third base of the Peanut League diamond at Jozwiak Park. The Orioles had a great seventh inning with four hits and three runs. Overbeck and Sieghart each pitched three innings for the Orioles. Expos 12 - Twins 8

Dave Gabel had a home run for the Reds. Steve Dombrowski pitched two scoreless innings and had a two run single. N. Grisanti also hit a two run single. Gitler and Immerlueck each pitched three innings for the Twins.

Orioles 11 - Pirates 10
Mayer hit a home run for the Orioles and Cecchin, Boscapiom and Urgo each had a two base hit. A bunch of singles at the right time equaled nine runs. The Pirates scored eight runs in the sixth inning and took the lead but it was taken away by Gordons single to left with RBI's and a sacrifice fly by Boscapiom.

Reds 10 - Astros 9
The Astros gave the Reds a hard time and made them fight hard to win the game. Reds Tom Gianos hit the scoreboard for a triple plus two singles and Tony Carderone hit a home run to give them the lead and clutch pitching by Dave Gabel in the top of the seventh saved the game for the Reds. REDS 3-A's 0
Pitching was the strength of both teams. A very close low scoring game, with defense being the top of the order for play. The Reds managed only 6 hits with the A's only having 2 hits. Kulawiak and Tellefsen of the Reds played excellent defense to help out their team mates. Pitchers for Reds were Kruger; Parkick and Kassel, Weston, Rendian and Gabel were pitching for the A's.

WHITE SOX 4-ORIOLES 1
A hard fought game for first place in their division between two excellent teams. The White Sox's making no errors, held the Orioles to only 1 run on 3 hits, while the Orioles only allowed 1 hit (6 walks) to advance the White Sox to score 4 runs. Pitching for the Orioles were Serlin, Kwiatkowski and Wagner. Pitching for the White Sox were Giovannelli, Gambro and Hickey.

PIRATES 6-ORIOLES 5
The place--Washington Terrace. The teams, Pirates vs. Orioles. The winner, the Pirates. The stands were packed as the players treated them to a very well played game. The electricity was there and the players performed superbly. Oriole took a very early lead with hits by Serlin and Chandler. Pirate hitters were Ballner, Henreid, Pullen and Beyer to bring their team out to the lead. Game being tied, Gable takes that familiar stand at home plate and smashed a homer to left field scoring the winning run. Wislon played well at center field robbing the Orioles' of several hits. Good defense by Cooper, Allen Bell, Zawislak and Levey for the Pirates. Summing it up, these boys deserve a round of applause.

The old Indians came back to haunt their Chief. Pitching for the Orioles were Wagner, Serlin, Piento and Kwiatkowski. Pitching for the Pirates were Pullen, Steiner and Henreid.

PADRES 13-GIANTS 8
The Padres defeated the Giants behind the hitting of Steven Hammer and David Biede. Good pitching for the Padres by Dombrowski, Markos and Sieghart. Pitching for the Giants were Garritano, Semielak, and Gattuso.

WHITE SOX 7-PIRATES 5
A very close game for both teams! This has a second meeting for both teams and both teams were ready! The base running of the White Sox team proved to be the winning factor of the game. They ran so much that they scored 7 runs on only 3 hits, plus the fact of outstanding defensive plays by DiNapoli that resulted in cutting down the baserunner for the Pirates and preventing further scoring by the Pirates who were Cooper, Steiner, Pullen, Wilson and Beyer. Scoring for the winning team were J. Kostrezewa, and T. Gambro (10 stolen bases between them) M. Hendriksen, G. Semaniak, and Mr. Goldbert all adding six more stolen bases!

Pitching for White Sox were Dinapoli, Gambro, Hickey, and Gionmello. Pitching for Pirates were Steiner, Beyer, and Pullen.

WHITE SOX 23-TWINS 7
The Twins hats were hot the first inning with 4 hits but, could only score 2 runs. White Sox's retaliated with 9 runs in the same inning. Good hitting by White Sox players, Mueller, Goldbert, Gambro, Szymaniak, and Henriksen and Allocco with home run hits by G. Hickey and J. Kostrezewa their first of the year and also homer by S. Glonanelli, and J. Hickey. Hitting for the Twins were, Ziebell, Romanek, Fireman, L. Izbicki, and a walk by Trina Cieszykowski to score several more runs but not enough to win. Pitching for the White Sox were Hickey, Gambro, Szymaniak, and Goldberg while Romanek, Fireman, Izbicki, O'Brien and Purvey.

PIRATES 7-ASTRO 5
Pirates players Cooper and Henreid scored the first two runs. A bug 4th inning with Pullen, Beyer, and Steiner scoring with Gabel and Henreid scoring with the winning runs. For the Astros, Richart hitting and homers by Kuhr and McFaggan lead the team. Pitchers for Pirates were Pullen, Steiner and Henreid. England, LoVerge, and Kuhr pitched for the Astros.

RED SOX 24-TWINS 4
The 16 Red Sox hits and 15 walks were too much for the Twins as the Red Sox pounded out a 24 to 4 victory. Ugel led the Red Sox hit parade with a 4 for 4 nite including 3 doubles, 4 runs scored and a walk. Dudgeon and Ciminnello added 3 hits each to the attack while Bachmeier and Solan each had 2 hits. Kumkoski and Hendrich had a hit apiece, Hedrichs a triple with the bases loaded in the first inning. Randy Dudgeon and Hans Bachmeier pitched shut out ball for the Red Sox while Solan and Kumkoski pitched well also. A good team effort by the whole Red Sox while as they won their 3rd in a row and 4th of his 4 games.

Pinky . . .

We at the Bugle suffered a great loss this past week with the death of our good friend and former co-worker, Ione "Pinky" Pinkert.

Pinky left a great void in our closely knit organization when she moved to California 21 months ago to be with her sons who lived there. She had mixed emotions about leaving here and her "Bugle family" as she lovingly referred to us, but the anticipation of having her family together finalized her decision and she made the move.

Pinky had a very vibrant personality and the first few months after she left, we felt constantly she would come bouncing through the door hollering "Hi" to everyone and bringing in a new ad with the copy written on a paper plate which was her forte. And even though we adjusted to her not being with us in person, Pinky never forgot her "Bugle family." Consistent phone calls, letters and even a visit back here last summer kept us abreast of her activities and her family.

Pinky had a heart as big as all outdoors and she genuinely took an interest in all of us and our families. She knew all our kids by name, their hobbies, their interests and how they were doing in school. She remembered each and everyone of them with little gifts constantly and everyone of them was geared to fit in with something special she knew about the individual. She put so much of herself into everything she did for you that you couldn't help but love her.

And Pinky wasn't that way only with her "Bugle family," but also with the accounts she handled each week in her job. She never went into a man's office or place of business and asked "How's the wife and children?" She knew the spouses names and the children's and had as genuine an interest in each of them as she did in us.

Pinky loved people and had a rapport with them which we will probably never see matched by anyone. No matter what her own problems were, she was always concerned about the other guy and we can't help but feel this world would be a better place if there were more Pinkys in it.

She was an avid Cub fan and from the time her kids were little, she loved to take them to Wrigley Field. Later when her own were grown and gone, she substituted our kids and took them with her, sitting in her favorite box seat above the Cub's dugout and waving to the ball park personnel who had gotten to know her familiar countenance over the years. She'd sit there, yelling and cheering her Cubbies on and sticking with them right to the end no matter how bad things got. She always jokingly told us, "When I die, I want to be buried under home plate at Wrigley Field." Even after she moved to Los Angeles, the only time she went to the ball park was when the Cubs were in town playing the Dodgers. She would sit in the stands cheering for the Cubs and defying the looks of scorn she would get from the Dodger fans. Such loyalty from a fan will never be matched.

Pinky was a child at heart in that her love for Christmas matched that which only a child has. She prepared for Christmas months ahead of time and shopped with a fervor that was unreal. Because her heart was so big, her Christmas list also was and her greatest joy in life was delivering her gifts. While the majority of us find Christmas shopping a drag and our enthusiasm for it dwindles as our age progresses, Pinky was just the opposite. It was her favorite time of the year and gave her the greatest pleasure. While she was still at The Bugle, she would pull up in her little blue Pinto and you could barely see her through the brightly wrapped holiday packages which had the small vehicle bursting at its seams. She would scurry around the office, playing "Santa Claus," kissing everyone and wishing them the best of holidays. Then she'd jump back into the Pinto and head for her customers with holiday remembrances. They too were never forgotten.

The first Christmas after she moved to California and we were putting The Bugle together in the Besser home after our devastating fire, a huge box arrived with Pinky's return address on it. In it were a multitude of packages, something for everyone and a note telling us how bad she felt about the fire and how sorry she was that she couldn't be with us. Even though she was 2,000 miles away, her package and note arrived at a time when we were all momentarily down and needed the boost that only she could give us.

Everyone in their lifetime should be fortunate enough to know a "Pinky." We at The Bugle were so blessed. We know God has a special place for her and we can't help but feel that Christmas in heaven is going to be a very, very special event this year.

When they went to secure his illegally parked car at the front of the store in Oak Mill Mall, 7900 Milwaukee ave., they observed 3 more quarts of Seagram's V.O. lying on the front floor of the car.

Pet Shop cited for sale of endangered species

The assistant manager of the animal World Pet Shop at 7525 Harlem ave. was arrested June 29 by state department officials for alleged sale of spotted turtles, said to be an endangered species.

Richard Bartoszewski, 25, of Chicago was taken to the Niles Police Department where he was formally charged and released pending a July 17 court date at the Daley Center in Chicago.

Numerous spotted turtles (Clemmys Guttata) and sale records were seized said police under a search warrant displayed by representatives of the Illinois Dept. of Conservation authorizing the seizure.

Shortly before 10 p.m. Friday, Niles Police accompanied Asst. Attorney General William J. Barzano, Natural Areas Biologist Francis M. Hart, CPO Don M. Goodwin (a police officer of the Ill. Dept. of Conservation) and Conservation intern Kim Riley to the pet store where Goodwin displayed the search warrant signed by First Circuit Court District Judge Sheridan.

Village officials said they would wait the outcome of court action prior to any contemplated village action.

Proprietor of the shop, John Santoro, reportedly vacationing in Florida, had been charged in May, 1978, for exhibiting "exotic" or non-domestic animals. Charges stemmed from a complaint lodged with the village against the Pet Shop by the Fund for Animals, an animal protection agency.

Report theft of furniture

Officials of the Lake Shore Paper Products reported theft June 24 of approximately $2,000 in furniture from a store at 7954 Waukegan rd. which they told police had been verbally leased to them by an Elk Grove coffee company.

Also they told police the locks on the store had been changed.

According to police the victims went to Elk Grove to report the theft where they reportedly observed their stolen desks, chairs and credenza.

Santoro, at that time, told village officials he exhibits various animals such as the lion-cub, llama, donkey and chimpanzee as a promotional measure to entice customers into his store.

Following review of the case the Niles Board approved an open-end amendment to the village code whereby the store owner could exhibit exotic animals but should Santoro violate the code warned officials, further action would be taken.

Indecent exposure

The cashier of a record store in the Oak Mill Mall at Milwaukee ave. and Oakton st. told police she was chased by a man in the nude after he whistled to get her attention.

When she looked up to see a man in his forties standing nude next to his car she began walking away. She said she looked back to get the license number of the car and noted the man was running after her.

Her flight took her to the front of the mall where she stopped a police officer who searched the area with negative results.

Attempted theft from van

A sleeping resident in the 8200 block of Dempster awakened in time June 28 to prevent theft from his van parked in the rear alley.

The 21-year-old apartment dweller told police he woke up to the sound of his car window being "popped open" around 3 a.m. Thursday.

When he looked out the window and saw someone standing by his van, the owner dashed out to find a man weighing approximately 150 pounds, with blond hair, inside the van looking at the stereo set.

A footchase followed but the car owner lost the would-be thief somewhere around Elizabeth and Root st.

Attempted theft of car

Upon leaving Niles Bowl at 7333 N. Milwaukee ave. close to 10 p.m. Friday, June 29 four women observed several men exit from a 1977 Chevrolet Impala owned by one of the bowlers.

Police said fresh scratches on the left front window frame indicated the method used to break into the car. Also they said the circular lock plate on the ignition had been removed and was found lying on the floor.

One of the men was described as in his early twenties, 5 ft. 11 inches, weighing 180 pounds and wearing a light-colored cowboy hat, dark jacket and blue jeans.

The second man also in his early twenties was 5 ft. 9 inches weighing 170 pounds, and had "messy" red curly hair and was dressed in jeans jacket and jeans.

Maine East grads receive baseball scholarships

Maine East High School graduates Bob Heath and Jim Lloyd have accepted baseball scholarships to attend the College of St. Francis, according to CSF head coach Gordie Gillespie.

The Heath-Lloyd tandem has been a winning prep combination for three successive seasons and Gillespie hopes to continue that pattern at CSF. Heath is a 6-2 1/2, 180 pound right-handed pitcher who won 11 games during his career at East, and Lloyd is a 5-8, 183 pound left-handed hitting catcher with unlimited potential, according to Gillespie.

Heath, who has been clocked at 90 miles per hour, won six of East's 14 victories during 1979 and finished with a 1.82 earned run average through 60.2 innings pitched. He struck out 85 batters and walked only 26.

Lloyd batted .355 as a senior with five home runs and 19 RBI. He hit .385 as a junior with four homers, and finished with a .403 mark as a sophomore. He was selected to play in the Illinois High School Association All-Star baseball game at Peoria.

Both performers also enjoyed outstanding football careers at East. Lloyd was a two-year, two-way starter. He played fullback and middle guard as a senior and helped his club to six victories in nine starts. He was twice selected to the All-Conference football team.

Heath was the All-Conference tight end during 1979. Gillespie takes a special interest in prep football players, especially since his Joliet-Catholic High School teams have captured four successive Illinois High School Association Class 4A IHSA tournament titles.

an excellent game for the Giants. They allowed the A's only 2 runs on 4 hits, while striking out 10. The Giants seem to be putting it together offensively as well as they crunched out 12 hits, including a grand slam homer by Mark Gottlieb. Mark Menich had a big game as well collecting 3 hits including a solo home run and received 2 walks. Vince Clemente also played a terrific game making two great catches in centerfield and chipped in with 2 solid hits. Gregg Searle played his best game thus far, collecting 2 hits in timely situations and did some great baserunning to keep an inning alive for the Giants.

Giants 10 - Red Sox 9

The Giants capitalized on 4 Red Sox errors and got some timely hitting to pull this game out and hand the Red Sox their first loss. Phil Ruffin did an excellent relief job pitching 2 innings and stopped the Red Sox with only 1 hit. Second baseman Mark Gottlieb played a great game defensively making three great plays to stop Red Sox rallies. Rich Gallatz was the hitting star of this game when he hit for the circuit and drove in 5 runs. The Red Sox had a 3-0 lead early in the game on Reeve's RBI single and Ken Sall's 2 run homer but Giants tied up the game 3-3 in the 3rd. The Red Sox fought back with a 6 run 4th inning featuring hits by Gibson, Privatsky and a triple by Schmel. Ken Sall was the big bat for the losing Red Sox with a 3 for 3 day.

Cubs 11 - Padres 10

The Cubs beat the Padres 11-10 with Jim Tovar scoring Scott Larson with the big run. Newlan, Knerr and Bychowski pitched for the Cubs. The Cubs tried hard to give the game to the Padres but it was not to be; but the future will show: the Padres are ready to go!

Braves 8 - A's 5

The Braves won their 1st game. Dan Busiel led the team with a single, double and triple. Joe Calderone had 2 hits. Padres 4 - Giants 1

The Giants received 10 walks from Padres pitching but couldn't get the big hit when it counted. Mark Menich pitched 4 good innings allowing only 1 unearned run. Mark is throwing tough now and will be tough the balance of the season. A sixth inning offensive rally resulted in the 4 runs needed to win this game. Contributors in that inning were Bill Murray, Jim Ketchiff, Brian Grabbe, Mike Adams, Mike Nawrocky, Tim Koczany and Dan Bell. Manager, Bob Murray, was absent for this game but coach George Adams was very kind in explaining to him how to win.

Braves 9 - Red Sox 5

The Braves won their 2nd game in a row by two outstanding pitching performances by Joe Calderone (9) and Dave Kolleson (4). Dan Busiel led the team with 3 hits - 2 homers and a triple and drove in 5 runs. Joe Calderone had 2 hits. Dave Kolleson, Chris Linhart and Mike Krippinger each had hits. John Gibson was the big hitter for the Red Sox as he went 3 for 4 including a 2 run home run.

Cubs 7 - A's 4

With Scott Larson, Dave Shmansky and Lee Newlan pitching, the Cubs beat the A's 7-4. Steve and Rich Twarowski, Bob Devlin and Steve Bychowski had hits for the Cubs. Bryan Peterson went 3 for 4, Jim Berg hit a double with 2 on the spur the A's offensively as Steve Gattorna pitched another good game. Mike Glaumer played a terrific game and pitched one good inning after being hurt in the previous game.

Cubs 13 - Red Sox 12

The Cubs scored 3 in the bottom of the 7th inning to beat the Red Sox and keep their record at 6-0. Steve Twarowski singled home Rob Knerr with the winning run. Scott Larson, Lee Newlan, Earl Fene hit for the Cubs. Bruce Cookman had a home run. Shmansky and Newlan pitched for the winning Cubs. Home runs by Ken Sall and John Gibson were not enough to pull the Red Sox out of their continuing slide.

Social Security lists 5 times for action

There are five times when a person should get in touch with a social security office, Marilyn Robertson, manager of the Des Plaines social security office said recently.

Knowing the 5 times for action is too important to take for granted. It can mean great security for a worker and his or her family, Robertson said.

The 5 times are:
1. Before a person gets his or her first job—to apply for a social security number. A person should allow at least 6 weeks to get a card.

2. After a death in the family—to see if survivors' benefits or a lump sum death payment are payable.

3. When somebody in a family is disabled—to learn if disability benefits are payable.

4. When a person reaches retirement age—65 for full rate cash benefits or as early as 62 for reduced payments. A person should come in 2 or 3 months before 65 to arrange Medicare protection even though he or she is not retiring.

5. Whenever a person has a question about social security.

To obtain any information about social security, call the special teleservice number 823-0815. The Des Plaines social security office is located at 701 Lee St., Suite 420.

N DOLLARS AND SENSE

by Robert Chodil, President

Your money can make a profit for you in one of our savings accounts or long term savings certificates at the FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF NILES. Come in and talk to our trained staff. Let them help you decide which type of savings plan will benefit you most. We encourage minors to open savings accounts with us. It has been wisely said, that one of the finest gifts you can give your children is a good savings habit.

The installment-purchase spiral has reached a level at which almost anything can be bought now and paid for later. When the credit is obtained from the seller, it is called "installment-sale credit." However, a buyer may obtain an "installment cash loan" from a financial institution and then pay cash for the purchase. This usually results in a lesser finance charge. The buyer who arranges for financing with the retailer ends up repaying a lending agency because many retailers either sell their installment-sales contracts to a financial institution or have an open agreement with one. Retailers do this either because they have insufficient lending capital or because their money can be used more profitably elsewhere.

BANK EMPLOYEE PROMOTED TO OFFICER

The Board of Directors of the First National Bank of Niles has appointed Kathleen A. Nellesen to the position of Installment Loan Officer. Kathy, as she likes to be called, began her banking career in 1958. She has been with our Bank since June 1970, exclusively in the consumer/installment lending division.

Please feel free to call upon Kathy to discuss your credit needs and financial budget planning requirements relating to installment purchases.

Possible arson and theft from car

Police theorized June 27 that thieves may have torched a car Wednesday night, June 27 to cover thefts from the auto parked at the northeast corner of Chase and Harlem ave.

Seize 4 on drug and drinking charges

Four out-of-town men were arrested in the Golf Mill Shopping Center Monday evening, June 25 after police observed them in a car reportedly passing a pipe and drinking from bottles. Kevin Hanson, 19, of Michigan; Gary Krug, 20, 6250 Abrojo, Chicago; and Kevin McCarthy, 18 of New York, were charged with possession of alcohol by minors and possession of cannabis (marijuana). The fourth man, Michael Laham, 29, of Brockton, Mass. was charged with possession of cannabis.

All four were released under bond pending a July 13 hearing in Niles Circuit Court. Police on special patrol in the shopping center said they noted the four men seated in a car behind the theatre drinking beer. Inquiry of the occupants' ages revealed three of the four were in violation of the liquor law. Further investigation revealed a large amount of "grass" in possession of one of the car's occupants and said police marijuana in the pipe.

shopping in a nearby store told police he saw a man in his twenties with shoulder length hair and wearing a windbreaker run away from the burning van.

Police summoned to the rear of Vinci Carpets at 7255 Harlem ave. shortly before midnight said flames were erupting up to 15 ft. high thru the sunroof of a blue Chevrolet van nosed up to the building.

The witness told investigators he had stopped at the nearby deli shop for purchases when he noted flames from the van reflecting from windows on a building wall north of a towel factory outlet at 7311 Harlem ave.

Although investigators reported "massive damage" to the van they said it appeared to be stripped. All four tires had been replaced with "junk tires and wheels" they said. Also missing were the car battery and steering wheel.

A glass bottle which may have contained an accelerant was found shattered between the car seats said police.

Klemm, and Mary Ann Spagoletti of Lincolnwood; Francine J. Jezior of Morton Grove; and Teri E. Levin, Silvia L. Palazzolo, and Ruby N. Chis, all of Chicago.

Mallard ducks cause stir at Resurrection

A mallard duck and her ducklings have been causing quite a stir at Resurrection Hospital.

The mallard, who made her home in the hospital's inner courtyard almost two months ago, hatched the ducklings on June 7. Ever since then hundreds of hospital patients, visitors, employees and volunteers have been enjoying the antics of these new additions as they learn to swim in the courtyard pool that surrounds a statue of St. Joseph.

It took a mini-disaster drill, however, on the part of the hospital staff to save the one-day-old ducklings after they fell through a drainage sewer cover in the courtyard.

"One of the patients had noticed that the mother duck was very unsettled and alone," said Sister Bonaventure, C.R., hospital administrator.

The patient informed nursing and within minutes a rescue team of nurses, ancillary personnel and Sisters were running into the courtyard to save the little ones.

"It was a rainy evening, but no one seemed to care," said Sister Bonaventure. "An employee from the Laboratory lowered Woody Knutson of Maintenance head first into the sewer and Wood fished out the ducklings with a little wooden basket, one or two at a time."

The nurses then placed the ducklings at their mother's side.

"We lined the covers with plastic so the ducklings couldn't fall through again," said Sister Bonaventure.

The ducklings resumed growing up in the beautifully landscaped courtyard surrounded by patient rooms and the employee cafeteria.

MG Advisory Committee urges retention of NORTTRAN routes

Mr. Lewis W. Hill, Chairman Regional Transportation Authority 300 N. State St. Chicago

Dear Mr. Hill:

We, the Morton Grove Advisory Commission on Aging urge you to support retaining NORTTRAN bus routes 210 and 211. These routes fulfill the need for those persons who can utilize only one means of transportation without transferring to other bus routes, especially in inclement weather.

Routes 210 and 211 serve not only the elderly residents of Morton Grove, but others in our community who need a direct public transportation route to the downtown areas of Skokie, Lincolnwood, as well as the Chicago Loop. This service is also of assistance to individuals in reaching their places of employment.

As automobile transportation becomes more difficult, removing what few public transportation services our community has available will create an additional hardship.

We cannot stress strongly enough that the Regional Transportation Authority support the continued direct services of NORTTRAN bus routes 210 and 211 to the Chicago Loop.

Sincerely, George T. Iwicki, Chairman

Cites Niles North as Oakton site

Dear Editor: The best eastern location which might become available to Oakton Community College in the next few years is Niles North H.S. It is time to re-examine the reasons, and for friends of Oakton to rouse support for this choice.

Niles North has the advantages of suitability, accessibility, centrality, availability, and financiality.

1. Every gesture of Oakton toward a residential area—Beckwith rd., Bell School, even sharp corners—has roused nearby residents' concern about traffic and student problems. Every elementary or junior high school will pose similar problems. Niles North, situated between Edens Expressway and the Old Orchard Shopping Center, has minimal impact on residential areas.

2. Niles North, just off Edens, is readily accessible from northern and southern extremities of the college district. It lies between two developed highways—Old Orchard and Golf (Simpson) rd. No major highway building, traffic signalling, or even shifting of public transportation—which already serves the shopping center—would be necessary.

3. Niles North would make feasible a two-campus operation, bringing most programs far closer to eastern residents than the Des Plaines location will. It would provide 350,000 square feet space in place of the 85,000 proposed for Phase II. It would provide athletic and they're facilities not yet planned. It could be made partially available long before any building could be built.

4. While demographic studies indicate Niles North will be surplus by 1985, Superintendent Gibbs some months ago pointed out that vacating by 1982 would provide significant tax advantages to the district. Although operating high school and college classes in one building is not a recommended procedure, it might make sense to mollify nearby residents by giving students entering in 1980 or 81 the option to complete four years at a school which there after would not admit freshmen and could phase in college classes over a period of years.

5. Building new school facilities for a shrinking school population just does not make sense. With everyone more and more concerned about high taxes, with building costs out of sight, Governor Jim Thompson's concentration of state funding for community college on renovation and repair indicates he would be far more likely to support recycling Niles North than he will be to the capital expenditure required for Phase II...or even for the extremely high cost of adapting a school like Bell.

The residents of Niles township have much to gain from having this outstanding young college at Niles North. Oakton is a major asset for all residents, and as those not familiar with its manifold virtues will learn, provides a wealth of community services already. Those who live in the Niles North area are understandably concerned that their school is threatened with early closure—but closure will come. Unless action is taken soon to reopen consideration of the transfer of Niles North to Oakton, some alternate, less suitable option will be chosen, and the opportunity to enjoy an excellent Niles North—and New Trier West and Glenbrook North—may become available, Oakton will have developed an eastern location. Once committed to another choice, and having invested in its development, likelihood of a change is not great.

The Niles board made a courageous effort to be community-minded, but backed off in the face of opposition. Oakton's board is not likely to tender its already cramped and bruised hand. It is the responsibility of the community, of the leaders of group opinion and activity, the movers and shakers, to speak out for what seems best for all, and to center thinking on how to accomplish an early transfer with maximum consideration for the local people most immediately and emotionally concerned.

Sincerely, Stanley G. Harris, 6956 N. Kolmar, Lincolnwood

Theatre Guild board elects officers

Marvin Unell of Glenview will head Des Plaines Theatre Guild for a fourth term as president for the 1979-80 season.

The Evanston pharmacist has been on the Board of Directors of the northwest suburban community theatre group for ten years, during which time he has served two terms as treasurer, one year as vice president, and three consecutive terms as president.

In addition he has participated on the production staffs of many of the groups productions, including every show during the season just ended, for which he received a special Guilda award at the group's Annual Award Banquet on June 16.

Other DPTG officers elected by the board for the coming year are Harold LeBoyer of Des Plaines, executive vice president; Jim Beddia of Buffalo Grove, financial vice president; Ann Coplon of Skokie, Treasurer; Candy Kane, Mount Prospect, recording secretary; and Barbara Shyette of Des Plaines, corresponding secretary.

Serving with these officers on the Board of Directors are eight other active members of Des Plaines Theatre Guild elected in May by the general membership. They are Janice Beddia of Buffalo Grove, Joel and Macky Cohen and Marilyn Collignon of Mount Prospect, Don Gloor of Des Plaines, Jackie and R. Wm. Shadinger of Park Ridge, and Joe Thurston of Lombard.

DPTG's summer production "Steamboat" will be presented July 13, 14, 15, 19, 20 and 21 at 8 p.m. at Guild Playhouse, 620 Lee St., Des Plaines, phone 296-1211, for ticket reservations. Tickets are $3.

Theatre Guild presents "Steamboat"

Although it looks like one that can be found in any health club, it is no ordinary steamboat portrayed on the stage of Guild Playhouse in Des Plaines beginning July 13.

It is actually Purgatory—a waiting room between this world and the next.

The clients, suitable attired in not very much, are trying to get out of an embarrassment, death!

They complain—especially a young man named Tandy, played by Marty Goss of Palatine, who had just begun to do meaningful work.

The man in charge is Marty, an imperturbable Puerto Rican steamboat attendant, played by Howard Goldstone of Prospect Heights, who is really God. He wears a black beret and mops floors, as he arbitrarily metes out punishments and rewards to the unsuspecting herds of humanity on earth.

Eventually he gets around to dealing with the folks in the steamboat, producing in them some surprising revelations about the human condition. In Des Plaines Theatre Guild's production of "Steamboat," these characters include George Mattison of Arlington Heights as Bieberman, Judith Cwick of Lake Barrington as Meredith, and Ed Finner of Barrington as the Broker.

Mount Prospect residents George Wajda and Don Collignon play Gattick and Blanders, while Cristina Mitchell is a Young Girl, and Donna Giv of Schaumburg is a Longshoreman.

Thomas Kuchman of Evanston and Harry Schuman of Skokie play the two Young Men, and Jay Wigoda of Chicago, Bill W. Caylor of Chicago, is the Old Man.

Directed by DPTG summer production is Julie Tobias, assisted by Howard Goldstone. Both are Des Plaines residents and winners of awards for technical and acting achievements during the 1978-79 season.

Joe Mattison of Lombard is the producer, with Marvin Unell of Glenview and Paul Cohen of Mount Prospect in charge of set design and construction. Jim Cohen of Des Plaines is handling lighting.

Performances of "Steamboat" are at 8 p.m. on July 13, 14, 15, 19, 20, and 21 at Guild Playhouse at 620 Lee St., Des Plaines. Admission donation is $3. Tickets may be purchased at the box office beginning at 7 p.m. on performance nights or reserved in advance by calling 296-1211 between noon and 6 p.m. daily.

Also available at the box office are season subscriptions for Des Plaines Theatre Guild's upcoming season which includes the musical "Gypsy" in September, a comedy, "Nutmeg, Is That You?" in November, a revival of Tennessee Williams' "Out on a Hot Tin Roof" in January, Neil Simon's hilarious "California Suite" in March, and a second musical "Man of La Mancha" next May. This will be the 34th consecutive season for DPTG.

Season subscriptions at $15 represent a 25 percent savings over the single admission donation price, and may be purchased at performances of "Steamboat" or by writing to DPTG, P.O. Box 84, Des Plaines, 60017. State choice of 1st, 2nd, or 3rd weekend, and whether a Friday, Saturday or Sunday series is preferred.

"Little City" benefit

Niles Mayor Nick Elze, chairman of the Suburban Mayor's Committee of 70 strong, for the 1979 "Illinois Smiles for Little City" drive, joined superintendent Donald Becker, president Alec Gianaras and 35 other mayors at a kick-off dinner at Lancers Restaurant, Schaumburg, to make plans for the fund-raising campaign which will be held on Friday and Saturday, August 10 & 11.

Proceeds from the "Smiles" drive will be used to fund and carry out the programs for non-resident mentally retarded children who now can enjoy facilities of the Variety Club—Maryn Kupciet Social Habilitation Center at Little City, Palatine, Illinois. This is good news for the many hundreds of retarded children, who will benefit from Little City services.

"Once upon a mattress"

The Maine North Summer Theatre is in the rehearsal stage for the uproarious musical comedy, "Once Upon a Mattress."

This Broadway hit is a seasonal version of an old fairy tale that tells the "inside story" of what really happened to the famous princess who was so something that she couldn't sleep on twenty downy mattresses when one pea was placed underneath.

Costing was completed last week and was announced as follows: The delicate Princess Winifred is played by incoming freshman Mary Scatter of Glenview and her Prince Dauntless the Dab is portrayed by graduate Wally Peterson also of Glenview.

Other cast members include Dave Ellett of Des Plaines as the Minister, Ron Cook of Glenview as the wicked Queen Aggravain, Bill Helgen of Glenview as the dancing singing Jester, Chris Carlson of Des Plaines as Lady Larken, Peter Herman of Glenview as Sir Henry and Paul Deckman of Des Plaines as King Scurious the Scent.

The elaborate musical runs July 19, 20, and 21 at Maine North High School Theatre. The curtain rises at 8 p.m. and tickets are $2.25 per person. For group rates or more information, call 293-5510.

Des Plaines Theatre Guild Guilda winners

Active members of Des Plaines Theatre Guild held their version of the Toni Awards on June 16 as they climaxed their 1978-79 season at the Annual Awards Banquet.

Winners of silver goblets, called Guildas, were chosen by vote of DPTG Season Subscribers, some of whom attended the banquet held in the O'Hare Air Force Base Officers Club. Entertainment in the form of taped television show prepared by Joel Cohen, Frank Getz, Marv Unell, and George Wajda, added to the excitement of the occasion as the TV show kept switching "live" to the O.A.F.B. Officers Club for presentation of the Guildas. Jim Beddia of Buffalo Grove was emcee, and Perri Kehe of Des Plaines and Lisa Collignon of Mount Prospect were Guilda Girls, in charge of the goblets.

The nominees in each category were also chosen by votes of the Season Subscribers by ballots available at the close of each production. Final tabulation was handled by former DPTG board member, Mert Staley of Rolling Meadows, so announcement of winners was a surprise to everyone at the banquet.

Theatre 219 offers package for Leos

Being a Leo, celebrating a birthday and seeing Theatre's 219's THE MUSIC MAN do go together. That's the contention of Dorothy Glassberg, director of audience development for Theatre 219. Glassberg, a Leo herself, advocates inviting 50 friends to a performance of THE MUSIC MAN as a super way for any Leo to celebrate an upcoming birthday. Glassberg has designed a birthday celebration package for Leos which includes a performance of the smash hit musical, a backstage visit after the performance and a happy birth serenade by the cast after the show. Extras also include free and ample parking and an air-conditioned theatre. But Glassberg believes that her "piece de resistance" is the low price of this package. "Whereas tickets at the box office will be sold for $4.50, Leos who invite 50 or more friends can get the entire package for only $3 per person, and those with between 30 and 49 friends will pay a low $3.50 per guest," she said.

There's even a choice of five performances for the birthday celebration, July 27, 28, 29 and August 3, 4. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m., except on July 29, when the curtain will go up at 7:30 p.m. Performances will be held on stage at Niles West high school, Oakton and Edens, Skokie. Glassberg can be reached at 836-1729 or 966-3800 for further information.

OCC offers resume workshop

A workshop on developing and writing resumes will be presented on Saturday, July 7, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. in Room 343, Building 3, on Oakton's Interim campus, Oakton and Nagle, Morton Grove.

"The Resume" workshop is sponsored by OCC's Adult Career Resource Center and will instruct men and women in developing a resume that presents their qualifications for the job they want.

Participants will also learn to clarify and transfer their experiences into language that will relate to the skills they want to use.

"The Resume" workshop is the third of five revolving seminars designed to prepare people for a change in career or re-entry into the job market. The two remaining seminars in the current cycle are "Job Search Techniques" on July 14, and "The Interview" on July 21.

Although the seminars are interrelated, participants may choose to attend only those which are of interest.

Cost of each session is $3. Reservations are required. For information or to make reservations, call 967-5120, ext. 350.

Time management discussion

Bernard Kleon, Time Management Trainer, will present "Time-How to Use It Wisely and Well" at 1 p.m. on Tuesday, July 17 in Room 308, Building 3 on Oakton Community College's Interim campus, Oakton and Nagle, Morton Grove.

Kleon's presentation is part of the continuing Passages Through Life series sponsored by the Office of Community Outreach at Oakton. The meeting is free and open to the public.

Kleon will discuss the cure and prevention of a variety of unhealthy time patterns which people create and lock themselves into. Time patterns such as being a perfectionist, a workaholic, or a rushaholic, Kleon's term for those that take on too many unimportant things leave little time for important matters.

Passages Through Life is a weekly series of free films, lectures and discussion dealing with the growth and development of the adult beginning with mid-life. The programs are designed to stimulate and encourage reflection on the meaning of life and the changes which affect each of us.

For more information, contact Oakton's Office of Community Outreach, 967-5120, ext. 350.

Oakton honors leaders at 10th anniversary

Oakton Community College celebrated its 10th birthday on Sunday, June 24. Three college leaders were also honored for their vision and dedication.

The theme of the anniversary celebration was summed up in a message delivered by Tina Anderson, 1979-80 Chairman of Oakton's Board of Trustees, who expressed thanks to founding leaders and to interested citizens who took active roles that led to the founding of the college and to the faculty, staff and students that have made Oakton what it is today.

The 10th anniversary celebration drew a capacity crowd of community residents, representatives of state and local governments, Oakton faculty and staff who wanted to show appreciation to Oakton for the educational services it has provided for the last ten years.

Communities in the college district, including Des Plaines, Glenoco, Glenview, Lincolnwood, Morton Grove, Niles, Northbrook, Park Ridge and Skokie, had recognized June 24 as "Oakton Community College Day" and their proclamations were on display.

Resolutions from the Illinois Senate and House of Representatives were read during the program. The resolutions were introduced by Senator John Nimrod and Representative Penny Pullen.

During the program, Ms. Anderson gave the keynote address, "Oakton's Achievements and Challenges, citing Oakton's accomplishments. She also praised three College leaders for their efforts and dedication.

Ms. Anderson paid tribute to Dr. William Koehnline, Oakton's founding president for his innovations. He has brought accolades to Oakton in the student development model, the cluster concept and in the conceptual thinking which has developed the weekend college and implemented community service programs. Bill's ideas and ideals have been basic in setting the tone of the college," Anderson said.

Ray Hartstein, founding chairman of the Board and chairman during four of the last ten years, was honored by Anderson who said, "Ray was instrumental in establishing Oakton's educational foundation. He is committed to the concept of the community college and known as a statewide leader in the community college movement." Hartstein was recently re-elected to serve his second term as president of Illinois Community College Trustees Association.

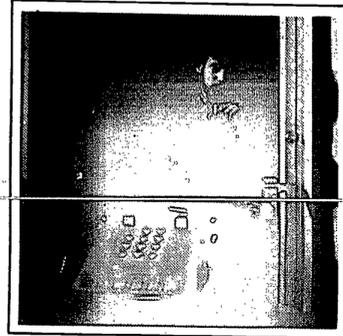

Paul Gilson, twice Board chairman and member for ten years, was also honored by Anderson for his service as chairman of the facilities committee for the planning and construction of the new campus. "Throughout these ten years it has been Paul who led the fight and had the expertise to lead in the planning for Oakton's permanent campus. He insisted on an energy-conserving building and the College received an award for energy conservation," Anderson said.

The celebration program also included comments from President Koehnline, a message from Dr. Gwen Fortune, one of Oakton's founding faculty members, and comments by Joan Blake, chairperson of the classified staff association. Sandra Keafer, representing the board of student affairs, read a proclamation. Musical selections were played by the John Stone Ensemble. A reception followed the program.

Legion elects officers

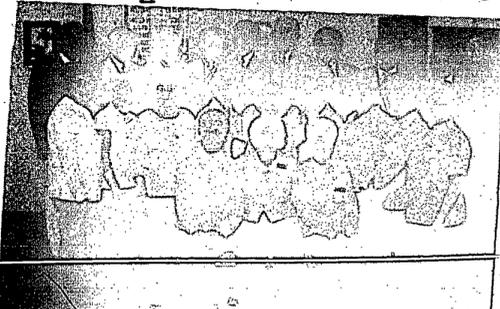

Joe and Elyner Schmidt members of Morton Grove Post 134 and its Auxiliary were recently elected Commander and President of the Seventh District American Legion.

Joe and Elyner served as Post Commander and Auxiliary President of Morton Grove Post 134 in 1976, so the experience is not new to him.

This is the first time in the nearly 60 year history of the Seventh District that a husband-wife team has been elected to lead the two organizations.

Formal installation ceremonies will take place on August 4 beginning at 8 p.m. at Morton Grove Post 134, 6140 Dempster. A pre-installation dinner will be held at the Morton House.

Telephone Pioneers

The Skokie Valley Chapter No. 76, Telephone Pioneers of America, life member club members are very versatile people. They perform in the variety show group and sing beautifully and they also make gifts for those who are less fortunate.

In other activities men make bean bag houses and the ladies make bean bags. One man and eight bean bags occupies a game that is donated to children's hospitals and homes for the handicapped. The man also makes a "clutter board," which is donated to handicapped children's schools, where children who cannot walk lay on the board and propel themselves with their arms. And men, also cut stamps to be sent to the missions. The ladies make beautiful scarves and caps which are given to patients in nursing and convalescent homes when the life member variety group entertains them.

These life member pioneers are very dedicated and versatile people—don't you agree?

Vacation watches

If you're going on vacation this year, tell the police you'll be gone.

You may not know it, but one of the services provided by many local police departments, including Morton Grove, includes checking homes where the residents are on vacation.

A phone call is all that's necessary - the police will ask what lights will be left on, whether or not you use a timer, what cars will be in the driveway or the garage, who has a key, who to notify in case of emergency, and what number you can be reached at.

The police won't put a guard at your door - no police system in the country has the manpower enough to do that for every vacationer.

But they will take runs past your home from time to time, alert for signs of suspicious activity.

Every extra precaution will help. Don't advertise your vacation plans. Spread the word to one person - a trusted neighbor who can keep an eye on things while you're gone.

Discontinue mail, newspaper and other deliveries by phone or in person ahead of time. Do not leave notes that may be picked up by someone else.

Have the lawn tended, put some lights on timers inside and outside the house, and have someone remove advertising circulars and other debris regularly.

Don't have the telephone temporarily disconnected. The disconnect message is growing in popularity as a dead giveaway that you're gone. But do turn the loudness of the ring down so it cannot be used as a cue that no one is at home.

Leaving a radio on is also a good idea. A lot of burglars won't bother a home if there's any sound coming from inside. They don't like to take the chance that they might run across somebody inside.

If you're more worried about burglary than vandalism, a second car can be left in the driveway. But don't leave it parked in the same spot for more than 10 days in a row.

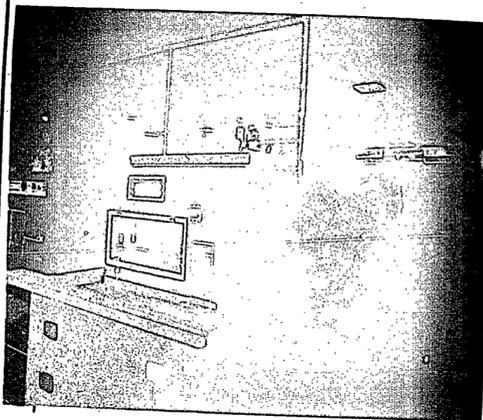

Leave a key with a neighbor and ask him to change the position of the blinds or drapes daily.

Another tip: If you're going away from home for the afternoon, for example, and are expecting someone to visit, don't leave a note telling them when you'll be back.

Very Interesting People

by Barbara Morris

For most adults the age of 65 signals the beginning of retirement from the working ranks. Some join this group willingly, looking forward to a new home in Florida or Arizona and time to do all the things that there just wasn't time for the past 40 years. To others, it is a great adjustment and might be difficult to accept all the idle hours with nothing to do. Then there is always the exception to the rule, someone who takes retirement from an active life and turns it into a work life of activity doing all those things there wasn't time for, in a full time way.

Norman W. Fergus is definitely the exception to the rule and at age 74, he is more active than a man of 25, and he shows no signs of ever slowing down. Upon entering his unpretentious home, you are welcomed warmly by a man of small stature. He greets you with a big smile and you immediately feel you must have met before. After he introduces you to his wife Madeline, he motions to you to follow him down to his workshop. Immediately you are transported into a miniature world as you scan the cases of miniature cars lining the walls of the staircase, and the solid brass HO train collection in one of the many other display cases. But you haven't seen anything yet, for these are all store-bought things, parts of collections of which Norman has many. But his pride and joy are his miniature rooms and dioramas which he builds piece by piece, and his magnificent collection of miniature books (none larger than 2" x 2 1/2") which are published by him under the name of Black Cat Press.

Norman's workshop, which he just recently built in their basement because of the severe winters and the difficulty in getting to the garage, is all in miniature. The tools are the same as you would find in any workshop but all scaled down to work on small pieces of furniture, wall trim, etc. Nothing is ever thrown away in this house because everything can be used to make something else. A restaurant plastic cream container becomes a lampshade, pieces of costume jewelry are used for light fixtures and incense covers become pots for plants or flowers.

The miniatures Norman builds vary from a hallway to a dining room, from a library to a child's bedroom, from a toy shop to a silversmith. In one miniature room, grandma is seated in a rocker reading a miniature version of PLAYBOY and in one bathroom scene, all you can see is an arm reaching around the shower curtain dripping to the floor the last article of clothing before mildly starts the water. There is also the bake shop and the hat shop.

The dioramas are magnificent, all made with metal figures elegantly handpainted by Norman. One scene depicts a 17th century ball with the women all gowned in their finest and another shows Napoleon and his army ready for battle, each piece assembled and specifically placed as if the battle was really taking place.

Needless to say, all this takes a great deal of time and patience, but Norman still has time to spare and this year alone will publish 8 miniature books. Each publication is a limited edition and copies are sent to collectors everywhere. Listening to Norman give you a rundown on his recent guests shows he has at least one friend in each of the forty-eight contiguous states. Ideas for his books and stories come from everywhere, even thin air. The storyline is expanded, plots are typed then typeset and color and engravings are collected and all is sent to the binder. After many months of toil and frustration the finished product is delivered to Norman who must now address envelopes and labels for mailing of these books all over the world.

Along with all this Norman does all his own billing and personally answers all his own correspondence. This alone is a full time job.

After the 2 1/2 hour, Norman invites you to sit in the living room and he begins to reminisce about his life, and there aren't too many things he didn't try at least once. From doing a hitch in the U.S. Navy to actor, to champion sheet shooter, to printer, graphic designer and publisher of both full size and miniature books, to husband and father, he has done them all.

Norman himself sums up his life best, "Everything for me is an adventure and as long as I keep my hands and mind busy, I will never be 75, but will always be 21."

professional and non-district experiences. Ah ha. This one fits their man to a tee. Reiss is an architect, and that makes him a professional. And while most other candidates are school teachers, somehow they're a bit more common, which diminishes their professional standing. It's easy to become classified as a school teacher. Anyone who wants to invest 4 years of their time in college can get a degree in education. Have you ever heard of anyone flunking an education course? And have you ever heard of anyone seeking an education degree, not receiving one? So that professional status may be less professional than the more demanding field of architecture.

The criteria fit the candidate they favored before they even went through the four-hour charade. Reiss was the selectee long before Monday night's meeting. While we were sitting on the outside knew this, we're not sure the board members knew this. In their minds board members were acting out a role of being open and fair as they could be. They sincerely labored through four hours of deliberation. But their instincts and friendships and unconscious desires all were pointing toward Reiss.

In past elections Larry and friends worked on behalf of every sitting board member. He was out there in April working to get the most recent board members elected. And in previous years his efforts led to the election of the other board members.

There's really nothing nefarious about this whole rigamarole. But the seriousness which we take our efforts are sometimes a bit comic.

Larry Reiss was undoubtedly the best qualified candidate to be selected. Going through the whole charade might have thought some inner sense of fairness board members sought had to be satisfied. But it was silly time in District 63, once again. Larry wanted to come onboard again. The board wanted a low-key guy who would be "compatible" and "professional." And the man who helped get most of them elected was ready, able and available.

Larry has served the district well. But why do we need all these silly games which are played in District 63? And who is going to give me back those 4 hours of my life I wasted sitting around with those bunch of roustabouts who were wasting an equal amount of time sitting around with a couple of incompatible, non-professional journalists?

Seniors...

Cont'd from Skokie-LWP.1 person will be sent out from the Office on Aging to the home. Skokie Postmaster Leo Ealy said this program will speed up the process of getting help to people who may need it. "Our carriers are alert to this kind of thing now," he said, "but this program will formalize it, and we won't be guessing so much. With a decal on the box we will know to give quicker action if there is a build-up of mail."

To be eligible for this program a person must be a resident of Skokie, over 60 years of age or handicapped. Applications are being put in 20,000 mail boxes in the village, and registration must be handled through the Skokie Office on Aging, 4435 Oakton. For more information on registration call 673-0500, ext. 208.

Both Morton Grove and Arlington Heights have instituted the carrier watch program, and Ealy said the program has worked well in those communities. "I talked particularly to the postmaster in Arlington Heights, and he is very pleased with it," Ealy said.

The Skokie local of the National Association of Letter Carriers helped create this program in Skokie, and Ealy said, "I have had discussions with Ron Chedeck (union president), and the union really wants to make this program a success."

Festival...

Throughout the two-day event, craft demonstrations, songs, native dancing and other presentations will fill Oakton Park. The Festival is free, however, samples of food and handmade artifacts will be sold.

Some of the highlights of the Chinese delegation will be dancing presented by girls ages 10 to 14 years old. Two specific types of dance will be the traditional festive ribbon dancing and folk dancing representative of the mountain people of Taiwan.

Delicate ink brush painting typical of the master artists will be demonstrated at the festival. Ink brush painting is usually done with black ink expressly to depict the feelings of the artist. The subject of most ink paintings is nature scenery or insects, birds, flowers or animals.

The traditions of the Chinese people living in our community are kept alive at the Chinese Language School which meets on weekends at the Central United Methodist Church. Over fifty northshore children attend language and cultural training classes each weekend.

Don't miss the first Skokie Ethnic Festival next weekend, July 7 and 8 at Oakton Park. For further information, call 674-1500.

Plans called for four apartment buildings of 5 floors and a 6th-penthouse, level with 82 dwelling units to a building and two office buildings (along Greenwood ave.) on stilts over a parking area for 70 covered parking sites plus an additional 230 open parking areas. A total of 654 parking areas were scheduled for the residential section.

Gross density was set at 34.15 units per acre. A $39,000 selling price attached to a two bedroom apartment was termed "incredible" by Zoner Stan Lowe.

Pressured by Zoner Louella Preston for answers on percentage of property covered by buildings or percentage of open space, Architect Gerald Estes said only "there is no open space provided...this is a piece of fallow land with spoiled soil" he noted with "creativity provided in the mixing (residential plus commercial) of land use."

Frick noted the absence of amenities to enhance the property... "All we see (in the planning) are buildings and a big parking lot." His suggestion of R4 (multiple family) zoning of 18 units to an acre were smiled away by Estes who said "it would not be economically feasible."

In other business, zoning commissioners continued to August 6 at request of petitioner Jerry Rieger a zoning change from residential to B1, business special use at 7900 - 7922 N. Oketo for a parking lot.

Reiger, owner of Jerry's Fruit and Garden Center, Inc., 7901 Milwaukee ave., is asking for rezoning of 4 improved lots, two of which he owns and two on which he has an option to buy. He was not present at the July 2 hearing.

Building and Zoning Director Joseph Salerno said the petitioner had a change of attorneys and the new attorney "needed time to prepare for the hearing."

Prior to the meeting, about 15 area residents attending the hearing to oppose the proposed parking lot indicated concern that shoppers in the Fruit Market were asked Monday to sign petitions calling for more parking. "What about patrons from Chicago who are not aware of our problems," asked one area homeowner.

"Unanimously recommended approval of a zoning change at Tasty Pup, 9001 Milwaukee ave. from a drive-in restaurant to full-service to provide for enclosure of the eating area with movable tempered glass doors.

Tom Walters, vice-president of J.A.W. Corp. said he planned to enclose 40 seats of an existing patio for comfort of patrons during the cold season. The doors would be removed during summer and stored in one of 3 storerooms at the rear of the property.

Zoning Commissioner Todd Bavaro drew a laugh when he observed as a hot dog lover he would "prefer to eat in an enclosure rather than spill mustard on a car seat."

Walters said he also plans landscaping of evergreens backed by concrete buffers along Ballard rd. to prevent salt spraying from Ballard rd. during the winter.

"Deferred decision to Aug. 6 on a zoning request that would allow construction of an addition at 6630 Harts rd. to the George J. Goldman Home for the Ages, 6601 Touhy ave.

While commissioners agreed to hear a presentation Monday night, Building and Zoning Director Salerno indicated that a published new notice incorrectly noting the property zoned as R2 residential must by law be republished asking for a zoning change from R3 to R3 Special Use for the nursing home addition. He said the property had been zoned R3 since 1967.

Mike Goldstein, owner-president of the Home which "caters to orthodox Jewish people," said a $50,000 deficit over 6 months ownership has forced him to seek an increase in bedspace.

Goldstein said he spent thousands of dollars to refurbish a kitchen to provide special foods for occupants of the Home who eat nothing but kosher foods.

Occupancy of the not-for-profit Home he said is 98 limited to 99 with a waiting list of 30 to 40 people.

The addition would provide for a 50-person Senior Citizen Day Care Center "for those people who need care and have nothing to do during the day." Transportation would be provided by family members.

Area residents who came to the meeting to oppose the addition objected to garbage and rats at the nearby property and to "whiskey bottles strewn by employees" of the Home.

"We're all opposed to the addition" noted the homeowner at 6650 Harts rd. "and fear our property values will decrease."

the vacancy submit applications by 4 p.m. Monday, and be prepared for an interview Monday evening. Applicants included Jean Even, Howard Lessin, Allana Marks, Kay Painter, Larry Reiss and Ann Sostrin.

Dennis Tugander said he had sent a letter to Board president Dick Smith about the opening but did not consider it an application for candidacy.

After 4 hours of deliberation the board returned to the public meeting where about 20 persons remained to hear the decision.

Board president Dick Smith said the vacancy had to be filled by the board within 30 days after the resignation or the County Superintendent could make the selection after an additional 15 days. He noted the appointment would be until the next election.

Health Dept...

Part two of the program will be on Wednesday, July 18 at 7 p.m., also at the library. John Joyce, Athletic Director of Leaning Tower YMCA will join a nutritionist to discuss Sports Fitness-Exercise and Diet.

A demonstration and information on various exercises for weight reduction will be provided. Diets for specific weight loss and how to balance diet and exercise for total fitness will also be discussed.

The subject of limited diets for diabetics and those concerned with low cholesterol, low salt, etc., will also be explored.

when the vacancy would recur, to be filled by the electorate.

Smith told the audience the board considered each candidate and on the basis of their service to the district, their experience, compatibility in working with the board, attending school board meetings and their professional and non-district experience.

Prior to the announced decision Lessin, Painter and Sostrin were invited into the session for discussion. Reiss was not at the meeting.

After unanimously voting for Reiss, board president Smith told The Bugle the district was fortunate in having so many interested and well-qualified people seeking the vacancy. He said a number of the applicants rated "very high." In answer to a Bugle question he said the group used a point system in making its selection.
