Niles Board upholds Riverwoods PUD denial

by Alice M. Bobula
The Niles Village Board Tuesday, Nov. 13 rejected appeal of a Plan Commission denial for construction of a Planned Unit Development (PUD) petitioned by the Riverwoods Development Co. at 8954 Greenwood.

and Zoning Board for reasons of high density, lack of parking, parking site sizes, spacing between buildings, traffic hazards and objections voiced by School District 63.
In a fourth round of hearings, Richard Krilich of Riverwoods Development Corp. told trustees Tuesday night that original planning of a 400 unit rental complex had been reduced to 300 units, then to a 240 unit condominium project, all denied by the Plan Commission. An attempt by Krilich to increase density to 300 units was flatly rejected by Board President Nicholas Blase who told Krilich he was before trustees on appeal of denial for 240 condo units.

Current planning offered by planner-architect Gerald Estes was the same as denied by the Plan Commission in October. Altho spacing between building (20 feet narrower than required by village code) could be approved by the village board, Niles trustee Orville Ottow pointed out the 360 parking sites planned for the area remained short of the 480 parking stalls needed for the PUD.

Estes' statement that the parking reduction had been made at the suggestion of Niles police was denied by Director of Building and Zoning Joseph

District 63 seeks answer to vandalism problem

District 63 custodians bargaining

About 33 custodians of East Maine District 63's nine schools are negotiating with the school board, mainly for a raise in salary and better working conditions. A third meeting will be held Thursday, Nov. 15.
A two-year contract, expired July 1 and they are now working without a contract. The East Maine Custodial Maintenance Assoc. is the bargaining organization. James Chiakulas, the UniServe representative, and Henry Mathis, president, are on the Association's bargaining Vandalism has increased over the last three years in East Maine District 63 with about $18,000-$20,000 being spent only on broken glass, according to James Bowen, business manager. Board members initiated the complaint at a regularly scheduled meeting Tuesday, Nov. 14 at Apollo school, 10100 Dee rd., Des Plaines.

Ideas for dealing with the problem included installation of night lights, various types of glass and consultation with the sheriff's police.

Richard Smith, board chairman, said the problem "requires a concerted effort of law enforcement as well as an increased awareness on the part of parents. There could be serious consequences to the District."
Penny Larson, District 63 board member for five years, was honored at a recess in the board meeting. Larson was forced to quit an unexpired term when she moved out of the District at the beginning of the school year.

From the LEFT HAND

by David 'Bud' Besser
John Porter, who is warming up in the bullpen to take over Ab Mikva's Congressional seat in the 10th District, has been sending my family some strange mail.

There's another guy in the district named Besser who is a tournament-winning tennis player. After the champion was crowned for his exploits, the future Congressman's mimeograph machine ground out a letter of congratulations. But 'the letter-sorter in Porter's office sent the letter of congratulations to me. This disturbs me. First it's possible the rightful champion never received his recognition from the Congressman. Or else the Congressman sends out a blanket congratulations to everyone whose name corresponds to the rightful designate.

Since the Congressman is using private money, I rather like receiving such messages. But I'd be a bit dismayed if he should use his free franking privileges in the future to send out blanket letters to all people with the same last name to make sure it reaches the person his letter is intended for.

My youngest daughter also received a letter from the Congressman's office. She was congratulated for pursuing her studies overseas. While he should have congratulated the guy paying the bills for the educational junket, it showed somebody in Porter's office is paying very close attention to every constituent in the district.

Maine East wins Cross-Country Championship

Maine East's Demons boys cross-country runners captured their second state title in ten years Saturday, squeezing past highly-touted York High School, 63 to 65 points. Third place went to Thorndike High School, far behind with 134 points followed by Barrington with 195 points.
Maine's five runners squeezed by York's harriers 73 minutes, 52 seconds to 73 minutes, 53 seconds.

Interestingly, York's Dukers ran 22 seconds faster than last year when they won the state championship with 80 points. In the more recent Peoria Invitational York improved its composite score by 23 seconds. Maine East improved its recent Peoria total by 7 seconds.

Niles Lions hear talk on Doppler System

The Niles Lions, at their Nov. 1 meeting, were proud to have Capt. Walter Blase of the Niles Fire Dept. speak on the "Doppler Radar System". This informative meeting included the Color Video-Tape that was presented to the over 100 Fire Chiefs that were hosted recently by the Village of Niles to promote the installation of this warning system in the Chicagoland Metropolitan area. This new type of radar warning device has been tested and proven to give at least 22 minutes of advance warning of an oncoming tornado. This revolutionary warning device is available now and can be installed in our area if the National Weather Bureau is allocated the proper funds from our federal government. It would take only one Doppler Radar Unit to cover all of the metropolitan Chicagoland and outlying suburban-areas, which of course, includes the Village of Niles and our surrounding suburban communities. The cost of this unit would be less than a million dollars. A small price indeed to pay for the eventual saving of many human lives!

We of the Niles Lions are very impressed with this system and the need for it, and urge everyone to write their Congressmen and impress on them the urgency in making this project a number one priority.

This Radar System has been field tested and proven effective and is presently available. We must all get behind our Village leaders and do everything we can to impress upon our Congress the importance of having this life-saving warning system installed now, before the tornado season roars in this coming spring.

Maine East soccer team loses final game

The M.E. varsity soccer team ended its season Saturday, Oct. 27, at Niles North, where they were defeated 2-1 in sudden death overtime. The defeat scratched out all hope for a state bid.

During the Niles North game, M.E. faced the same problem they had been having all season, which is controlling and out-shooting the opponent at least 2-1, but rarely putting the ball in the net. They did have a 10-3-2 regular season record due to heads up defense led by Mike Nicpon, All-Conference, Russ Roseberg, Mark Pierpiekarz, and also first year goalie Steve McMahon, sophomore.

among the top 88 players in the state and will be presented with awards at the All-State banquet at the Como Inn on Nov. 14.

The team is losing five starters—Greg Angelacos, Mike Nicpon, Mike Andres, Jose Castillo, Mark Pierpiekarz, but five starters are coming back. These are Steve and Jim McMahon, Russ Rosenberg, Jim Rushheinski, and Dave Goodman. Also, the team will be losing the services of sometimes starter Kwong Kim. However, Frank Feiter and Houshyar Khosbin are returning to fill varsity spots.

Junior Varsity Soccer

The showmen of the team were Jim Ruscheinski, freshman; Dave Goodman, Junior; and Mike Andres, senior, whom displayed their fine ball control and dribbling exhibitions throughout the season. These three players also made All-Conference. Also, Mike Nicpon and Mike Andres were named to the All Sectional team. These 2 players are thus recognized as

The Maine East junior varsity soccer team had a disappointing '79 season with only one win, which came when the team beat rival Notre Dame 1-0.

Led by junior Bob Chaiken, Glenn Olson, John Griffin, and M.V.P. Scott Andersohn, the future looks bright for these players next year on the varsity team.

OCC men place third, women show depth in cross-country

The men's cross country team from Oakton Community College ran to a third place finish in the Skyway Conference Cross Country Championships on Friday, Nov. 2 bowing to a first place winner College of Lake County and second place Waubensee.

The Oakton Raiders were led by captain Mark Buciak who placed sixth with a time of 26:49 for the five mile course at Niles West. Buciak earned All-Conference Honors for his sixth place finish.

Oakton's Mike Okazaki ran his best race of the season grabbing 13th place, while Steve Knight also ran a good race finishing 15th.

"We had hoped to beat Waubensee and finish in second place but just couldn't muster the strength," Coach Pat Savage said. During the season it was a seasaw battle between the two schools. Waubensee beat Oakton during the beginning of the season, however Oakton had seemed to gain the upper hand defeating Waubensee at the last conference meet and at the state meet.

The women's cross country team from Oakton continued to show the strength and depth that brought a perfect season record this year. Even with two runners not competing because of illness, Oakton still captured two of the three individual awards presented.

Karen George ran an 18:35 for three miles to easily win the women's race and earn first place All-Conference Honors. She then went on to finish the five-mile with a personal record of 32:08.

The surprise of the day for Oakton was Julie Michalik who ran to a third place finish in a very close and competitive race. Michalik also earned All-Conference Honors.

One of Oakton's top runners, Peggy Noble, was not able to run the conference meet because of a bout with mononucleosis. Her doctor told her that she could run in either the conference meet or the national meet, but not both. Peggy chose to compete in the nationals. Charlene Bartlett also could not run because she had the flu.

In looking to the national meet Coach Pat Savage said "It's going to be a real experience. We've been bit real hard by illness in the last few weeks and that will have an effect. I think the women will do very well and I hope they will get some experience for next year's national meet."

Demon wrestlers start new season

The Maine East varsity wrestling team starts its new season at Maine East Nov. 21 against Hersey.

The goals for this year are to be conference champs for the third year in a row and to repeat as district champs.

"Conference, district, sectional, and tenth in state last year will be hard to match, but we always set our goals high and hope to achieve them," said wrestling coach Jerry Muccianti.

Although seven men were lost to graduation, including Emiliano Hernandez, who placed first in state and was an All-American, the new team has the potential to be a very strong dual meet team.

Returning all-conference lettermen are Mark Gustin and state qualifier Dan Corona.

Other returning lettermen who got honorable mention at all-conference are Glen Olson, Tom Palcheck, Ron Kragstad, and Tony Masiarn.

East Maine Baptist Church Anniversary Sunday

The 32nd anniversary of the East Maine Baptist Church will be celebrated this Nov. 18 at 10:45 a.m.

The church was organized 32 years ago in the home of Mrs. Marie Vosnos and her mother, Mrs. Pauline Block, at 9243 Western ave., Des Plaines. Both remain as the only Charter members yet in the church.

The first pastor was Rev. Roger Maslin, a divinity student at Wheaton College. Soon after Louis Maple came out from Wheaton College to assist with the music and youth work and remained with the church for 30 years, becoming pastor when Rev. Maslin moved on for advanced education. Rev. Maple resides at 8321 Ballard, Niles.

The ministry of the church has been broad and varied with a great emphasis upon such things as:

Children and Youth - Though the church has remained small throughout its life, the children's work was often much larger. The church was the first in the area to initiate an extensive bus ministry, at times bringing in upwards of 400 children to Sunday School and 1,200 in its summer Vacation Bible School.

A representative of Women's American ORT will share the beemah with the rabbis of the above synagogues: Rabbi Neil Brief-Niles Township Jewish Congregation, Rabbi Mark S. Shapiro-Congregation B'Nai Jehoshua, and Rabbi Harold Kudah-Congregation Am Shalom.

Maine Township Jewish Congregation, 8800 Ballard rd., Des Plaines. Rabbi Jay Karzen and Cantor Harry Solowinichik will officiate.

Schools - The church has had its own Christian school with classes from Pre-School up through High School for the last six years, winning "Model Status" awards every year from the national headquarters of the Accelerated Christian Education. The church has supported up to ten different Christian schools both here in America and in Korea, Brazil, Peru and the Philippines.

Printed Ministry - Fifteen million copies of its gospel paper have gone into nearly every state, including Hawaii and Alaska and into foreign countries as well including Canada, Australia, Spain and various islands.

Foreign Missions - With Rev. Maple as the Vice President and Director of Baptist Faith Missions and as Director of the Makiling Philippine Missions, the church has maintained a strong missionary emphasis to spread the Gospel and start Christian schools in distant lands.

The Public is cordially invited to join in the 32nd anniversary service, Nov. 18, at 10:45 a.m. located at 900 Milwaukee ave., just north of Central and south of Glenview rd. 827-7220 or 827-1830.

further improvements.

"We've been working together with community groups interested in service for the northeast area of Northbrook," said Marge LaVine, District Vice Chairman and Des Plaines' trustee, "and the committee will investigate the possibilities for them."

Another task of the committee has been to develop an energy contingency program.

"All sections of our region should be involved in an effort to save energy, and the District is developing a plan to co-ordinate such a project," LaVine announced.

In other business, arrangements were made for the sublease of six, modern, small buses originally provided to Wilmette for their Wilbus system, to be transferred to Highland Park. The reason for this action was the increase in Wilbus ridership that required the RTA to provide larger buses to the system.

A motion was passed to initiate discussion with the RTA regarding the possibility of an additional bus garage to serve the eastern communities of the District.

The public is invited to attend the next meeting of the Board of Trustees of the NSMTD to be held on Nov. 28, 1979, at 8 p.m. at the Park Ridge City Hall.

Some of the details were outlined by James T. Mahoney, Chairman of the bus operations committee and trustee from Niles: "There will be additional service on a number of NORTRAN routes including Rt. 221 (South Park Ridge/Jefferson Park), Rt. 226 (Oakton st.), Rt. 290 (Touhy ave.), and Rt. 690 (Buffalo Grove/Arlington Heights)."

"Just in time for Christmas shoppers, we'll begin evening service on Rt. 209 which operates between Jefferson Park and Woodfield," Mahoney continued, "and a new route, Rt. 225, will serve the industrial area of Niles along Howard st. and the Jefferson Park terminal."

The new service is funded by the RTA (Regional Transportation Authority, and made possible in part by the elimination of unprofitable routes.

"Rt. 261S, Rt. 217 and Rt. 251 will be eliminated as recommended in the RTA's suburban bus productivity report," stated Leonard S. Eisenberg, NSMTD Chairman and trustee from Glencoe.

Chairman Eisenberg added that "all of these changes should provide the public with an even more efficient transit network." The District's planning committee is also looking ahead to

LETTERS to EDITOR

Flynn questions Porter's financial supporters

Dear Editor: John Porter will receive about $155,000 in salary and benefits in the next two years if he is elected Congressman. However, he is now in the process of spending about $400,000 in donations to get elected. Obviously, his supporters are not interested in getting John a good job. The natural gas companies, oil and energy companies, food processors, trucking firms and drug companies through their executives are not wasting their $400,000. They have other interests and I wonder what they are?

John Porter wants to deregulate natural gas prices and see them rise about 60%. He wants to deregulate home heating fuel and gasoline and see them rise to Europe's $2.50 to $4.00 per gallon. He wants to extend drug patents and licenses and reduce generic drug availability. He wants to degrade meat and thus reduce quality while increasing profits. Yes, John Porter wants many things for his financial supporters. Do you want the same things for your family and your future?

Sincerely,
Thomas Flynn

A Place for Kids

Remember the good ol' days when grandmothers and grandfathers and lots of aunts and uncles and cousins were around to create a warm, loving atmosphere for children as they were growing up.

The big family gave children an opportunity to have close relationships with adults other than their parents. And parents, in turn, had the benefit of sharing parenting responsibilities. Today's mobile society has changed all that. The growing number of single parent families, and the sting of inflation has forced many parents to place their children in day care centers.

A Place for Kids is such a center sponsored by St. Anselm's Episcopal church, 1600 N. Greenwood, Park Ridge. A not-for-profit center, it is open to children 2 1/2 to 5 years of age. It is open to children and parents of all religious and ethnic traditions. And is offered as a service to the community to provide a family-like atmosphere for young children while their parents are working.

Nimrod bill to keep polls open additional hour

SPRINGFIELD—Senator John J. Nimrod, R-Glenview, announced today that, thanks to action by the General Assembly, the polls will be open one additional hour for the 10th District special congressional primary election which will be held on Dec. 11. The bill, which was sponsored by Senator Nimrod and which passed today (Thursday) also provides that election officials will receive an additional 10 dollars. "The original bill, which passed earlier this year," said Nimrod, "contained these provisions, but the law did not become effective until next January. I felt that the new law should also apply to the primary election being held next month."

Senator Nimrod pointed out that he had earlier gotten the legislature to approve his bill which would have given the Governor the option to delay the special election until the regular Mar. 18, 1980 primary, but it was vetoed by Gov. Thompson. "My bill would have saved Cook County taxpayers at least $500,000. It's bad enough to have to hold an expensive special primary election in December without paying election officials the money they'll be getting in the January General Election and without implementing the new voting hours and pay for election officials," said Nimrod. The special election is being held to fill a vacancy created by the resignation of Abner Mikva.

Troop 846 girl scouts enjoy campout

On October 12-14, the Abbey in Cary, Ill., was the site of the year's first campout for Junior Girl Scout Troop 846. The scouts (Karen Beefink, Cathy Bratek, Karen Casacchia, Renae Hubick, Nancy Kozanecki, Sandy Lepold, Lisa Michelotti, Tina Sudendorf, Maria Sudendorf, Cathy O'Grady, Colleen O'Grady, Janet Rzepiela, Tricia Smith, and Chris Wolshon) began their campout popping corn in a fireplace. They enjoyed a songfest, as well as, a dancefest. They blazed trails and followed them. They cooked over open fires and did their assigned jobs according to their kaper chart.

A highlight of the campout was a welcome dinner prepared by the older scouts for the new Juniors (Karen, Sandy, Colleen, Maria). The sixth grade scouts presented a new Juniors a little gift, a Girl Scout necklace, at this dinner. Following dinner, a Scout's Own Ceremony on Nutrition was presented with each scout patrol contributing their skit, song, poem, and art work to the ceremony.

Then, the presentation of the flag preceded an award ceremony in which Mrs. Kozanecki presented to the scouts the badges that they had earned during the summer. Many of the girls received badges earned at Girl Scout Day Camp such as Cyclist, Songster, Outdoor Cook, Gypsy, Basketry and Weaving, and Foot Traveler. And some scouts received badges that they worked on by themselves and with their mothers as Cook and Books, Water Fun, and Housekeeper. The presentation of awards was concluded with a Candlelight Ceremony, the scouts lighting thirteen candles, three for the three parts of the Scout Promise and ten for the Scout Laws. Besides the badge work and ceremonies, all the scouts enjoyed working on crafts. They made egg carton Christmas candles, Santa Claus faces, beaded wreath, candy cane, and icicle ornaments.

Lastly, the scouts' campout ended with a visit to River Trails Nature Center's Honeyfest on their way home. Here they enjoyed honey apples and ears of buttered corn.

An enjoyable and exhausting time was had by all the scouts who will remember their campout with fond memories and will be anticipating the excitement of the next.

BUSINESS

Economist addresses First National forum

Mr. Arthur R. Weiss, president, First National Bank of Des Plaines welcomes Dr. A. Gary Shilling (r), noted economist, who addressed a bank economic forum attended by 150 leading Des Plaines business and industrial executives. The forum is one of a series of similar meetings being held under bank auspices. Dr. Shilling's forecast suggested the 1980's will see less government involvement due to smaller programs, a shift of emphasis in the economy, a decade of reasonably good growth, more emphasis on the private sector and less inflation. Before that plateau is reached, Dr. Shilling warned that a major recession, both deep and of long duration is probably necessary to break inflation and inflationary expectation, reduce interest rates, and generally clear the air for the good decade which he anticipates in the 1980's.

Real estate classes

A new series of classes in real estate transactions will begin at the De Moon School of Real Estate, beginning Monday, Nov. 19. Classes will be held on Monday & Wednesday evenings from 6 to 8 p.m. A minimum enrollment of 10 per class is required. The course is $120, including books.

The course will terminate on Jan. 14, 1980. Under the new Illinois testing program, students taking this course may take the January or February exam at any of the nearby testing locations, thus eliminating the former 45 day waiting period.

All classes are taught by Carl F. De Moon, director of the school. Phone and in person registration will be taken at the school's location at 7026 W. North ave., Chicago, IL. By contacting Mary Buscemi, registrar.

"In addition to expanding our facilities, we are extending our business hours and will serve our customers at this location from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Sundays as well as being open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. every other day of the week," Mr. Beaulieu stated. Glenview State Bank is the only financial institution on the North Shore to offer banking services seven days a week.

A week long Grand Opening "Dig for Diamonds" promotion will begin the week of Nov. 17. Customers will have the opportunity to select stones from a "Diamond Mine" containing over $6,000 worth of genuine diamonds. Other free gifts will be available.

Unity Savings license stickers

Showing Unity Savings' Niles branch manager Eugene Ruffing (r) a license plate with the new 1980 sticker attached is Charles Murphy (l) from the Secretary of State, Alan J. Dixon's office.

This is the first year that stickers have been issued instead of new license plates to Illinois residents. "The reason for the change," states Murphy, "is a matter of economics. Stickers are simpler to produce and distribute. We estimate that this five-year program will save Illinois $21 million. Other states who have switched to issuing stickers have found this program to be very successful."

Over-the-counter sale of the 1980 renewal stickers can be purchased at Unity Savings, 8361 W. Golf rd.

VISA credit cards offered by First Federal

VISA credit cards carrying an annual interest rate of 12 percent will be offered beginning Monday, Nov. 5 by First Federal of Chicago, Illinois' largest savings and loan. The new VISA card will be available to the public and to First Federal savers.

Customers may pledge either a new or existing First Federal savings account, or a combination of accounts, except the six month T-Rate Certificate and $100,000 certificates. Savings money will continue to earn the regular high interest.

On First Federal's VISA card, there is no grace period. Interest is charged from the time a purchase is posted to a customer's account or from the date a customer receives a cash advance. Normal interest rates for bank credit cards carrying a grace period amount to 18 percent.

First Federal won't require a credit history from VISA holders, and there is no lengthy wait for approval.

Savers may open a VISA credit card account at any First Federal of Chicago office in Chicago or the suburbs. There are 31 First Federal offices in Chicagoland, with the 32nd office opening Nov. 19 in Chicago at California and Devon.

Continuing inflation, economic slowdown seen for 1980

Respondents to the 9th Annual Greater Northwest Business Survey recently conducted by Citizens Bank & Trust Company, Park Ridge, foresee continuing inflation and an economic slowdown occurring during 1980.

As has been the case the past few years, these business executives, primarily from north and northwest Chicagoland, anticipate that the economy will be faced with a high rate of inflation again next year. Three fourths of the respondents to this year's survey look for the annual rate of inflation to be 9 percent or more by the end of 1980. Over 29 percent of these business executives are projecting the annual rate to be 11 percent or more. By comparison, 38 percent of last year's respondents predicted an annual rate of 9 percent or more for 1979.

When asked what they foresee as the most urgent problem confronting business in general in 1980, executives indicated that inflation is the area of greatest concern to them. Federal deficit spending and government regulations are a distant second and third, as was the case in last year's survey.

When asked "What do you foresee as the most effective way to reduce inflation?" 37 percent of the total number of responses list reducing federal government expenditures. Holding the money supply growth to the annual rate of expansion of total real output, improving employee productivity, and balancing the federal budget each received 17 percent of the total responses given.

Regarding other areas of the U.S. economy, 88 percent of survey respondents look for a dramatic decrease in housing construction in 1980. In last year's survey, only about half of the respondents expected a housing construction downturn. Respondents this year mention this category most frequently as the economic area that will change most significantly during 1980. Reductions ranging as high as 70 percent are forecast.

Nearly all executives who responded feel that energy costs will continue to increase in 1980. The cost of energy is listed second most frequently as the area of the economy that will change most significantly during 1980. Estimates go as high as a 50 percent increase.

Respondents are nearly unanimous in projecting a continued increase in the cost of living in 1980. Among those who feel this category will change most significantly, the average percent increase listed is 11.8 percent.

Among other areas of the U.S. economy, 79 percent of respondents look for unemployment to increase by the end of 1980, 71 percent expect plant and office construction to decline, and 70 percent predict a decrease in domestic auto sales. In addition, 64 percent anticipate a reduction in the outlay for plant and equipment, and 62 percent expect corporate earnings to decline. Nearly one half of the respondents predict retail sales will be down in 1980. Each of these projected declines is considerably higher than was the case for comparable categories in last year's economic forecast.

In forecasting the 1980 outlook for their own companies, 88 percent of the respondents expect wages to increase. This category is mentioned most frequently as the area that will change most significantly for respondents companies in 1980. The estimated average projection among these respondents is about a 12 percent increase.

Nearly all executives responding feel that energy costs will increase for their companies in 1980. After wage rates, energy costs are listed most frequently as the area within respondents' companies that will change most significantly next year. Increases ranging from 5 to 60 percent are predicted.

Maine GOP picks Porter over Nimrod

John Porter hailed his thumping endorsement by the Maine Township Regular Republican Organization as a "milestone victory" in his campaign for Congress.

Some 80 members of the organization - representing the largest of the five townships in the 10th Congressional District - voted by more than 4 to 1 to endorse Porter over John Nimrod, his sole opponent in the special primary Dec. 11.

Porter called the secret-ballot endorsement a "spectacular triumph" because Maine Twp. makes up nearly half of the 4th Legislative District that Nimrod represents in the State Senate.

"To win this dramatic demonstration of support for my candidacy in the home territory of my opponent is especially heartening," Porter said. "It spurs our campaign to a renewed commitment to work for a resounding Republican victory in 1980."

The endorsement was voted the night of Nov. 2 in the organization's headquarters at 1566 Miner, Park Ridge. It was preceded by a vote in which members rejected a motion to endorse both Porter and Nimrod. Nineteen persons voted for the dual endorsement in a show-of-hands vote, while 14 voted for Nimrod in the head-on, secret ballot test against Porter.

Phil Raffee, Maine Twp. GOP committeeman, declined to make the official vote public.

Both Porter and Nimrod spoke at the meeting, but neither was present during discussion and the voting.

Porter recalled that Maine was the first township whose GOP organization voted to endorse him in 1978, when seven candidates sought the party's congressional nomination against the Democratic incumbent, Abner Mikva. In that primary, Porter carried Maine Twp. overwhelmingly against his six opponents. He also carried Maine Twp. by a lopsided margin against Mikva in the general election.

Maine became the second township to endorse in the campaign for the seat recently vacated by Mikva, who resigned to become a federal judge. The Niles Twp. GOP organization, which Nimrod once led as former Niles Twp. Republican committeeman, already has voted to endorse Porter.

OCC media based center offers flexible schedule

The Center for Media Based Instruction at Oakton Community College will offer 11 courses during the spring semester, giving students unable to attend regular classes an opportunity to develop a class schedule that fits their lifestyle.

Media Based Courses are divided into two categories: Open-Air TeleCourses broadcast over television and Closed-Circuit TeleCourses, which allow video-tape viewing at five satellite centers in Park Ridge, Northbrook, Winnetka, Des Plaines, Lincolnwood, and on the Oakton Interim campus in Morton Grove.

During the spring semester two Open-Air TeleCourses will be offered by the Media Based Center. Both courses also may be viewed on video tapes at the OCC Interim campus.

Office Procedures (SEC 115) will include telelessons on getting the job, improving typing and clerical skills, mail handling, telephone and telegraph services, payroll preparation, financial statements, word processing and job advancement. Scheduled discussion sessions will coordinate with the video programs.

From Socrates to Sartre (HUM 107) is a survey of the development of philosophy in Western civilization through the writings of six major philosophers: Plato, Descartes, Hume, Hengel, Marx, and Sartre. Oakton professor Gene Lockwood will lead the discussion sessions.

Nine courses will be offered by Closed-Circuit Television this spring. Included are a class in child psychology, The Growing Years (PSY 211); a class in composition and expository writing, Writing for a Reason (COM 101) a class on marriage and the family, Family Portrait (SOC 104); and a class on modern culture and the arts, In Our Own Image (HUM 101).

Students can choose from two Closed-Circuit Science TeleCourses, an introduction to earth science, Earth, Sea and Sky (NSC 103); or an introduction to physical science, Project Universe (NSC 102). Those who prefer literature can choose an introduction to fiction, American Short Story (LIT 115). A developmental course in advanced reading skills, Efficient Reading (COM 011); and a developmental course in the metric system, Going Metric (MAT 051) are also offered via closed circuit television.

Courses in the Media Based program have the same content as regular on-campus sections, only the delivery system changes. Students have the benefit of learning from national experts while receiving individualized instruction from Oakton faculty. They work independently, maintaining telephone or in-person conferences with their instructors, and can share ideas with other students at several review/discussion sessions during the semester.

Maine East Variety Show

Vaudeville! Vaudeville conjures many images to many people - flappers, Burns and Allen, Al Jolson, bathtub gin, the Palace. The Palace Theater was the climax of a vaudeville career. To play at the Palace was not only a job, but a ticket to stardom.

V-Show '79, "Playing the Palace", centers around the theme of a vaudeville show at the Palace Theater. It takes the audience through the theater - from backstage situations to on-stage acts, singing, dancing and comedy.

The show at Maine East opens with Mike DiGirola's phone call to his family, informing them he's on his way, hopefully, to the top. He then goes into a medley of songs, all taking place in the "wings" of the theater, ten minutes before curtain. In this backstage sequence, stage manager Adriene Breitbart tells the actors "When You're Good Mama" she's good to you, too. Six girls discussing their start in the business tell that "You've Gotta Have A Gimmick" if you want to get ahead.

As the "curtain" goes up, Ed Finnegan and Joe Euscaglia do the classic Abbott and Costello scene "Who's on First?" The gymnastics team then performs "By the Sea" and Paula Fishman's sultry voice sings "Smile/The World Goes Round".

The next act, "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy", is a big number, with musicians, three dancing couples and "The Andrews Sisters". The barbershop quartet of Ed Finnegan, Mike DiGirola, Jim Boudreau and Joe Ochsenreiter next sing "Coney Island Baby" with a surprise ending. The finale to Act I is a medley of Gershwin tunes by the chorus.

As the second act opens, the audience once again is backstage to see some acts practicing. There's the magician, the ventriloquist and his dummy, and, of course, Will Rogers. The audience then gets to watch a backstage fight as Pam Latham and Sue Fine argue and sing "Anything You Can Do, I Can Do Better", leading right into one of the several orches numbers. Right after that, the cheerleaders and Demon Squad do one of their famous kicklines. As the show progresses, one great number is Lisa Connor as Baby June and the Farmboys, which includes a dancing cow (Mary Dorjath and Lisa Laurie). Heather Grabelle and Mike Mickow also do a Burns and Allen impression, and as the show continues, the audience hears the jazz band play and sees a "silent movie". There's a group tap number, choreographed by Annie Engerman, and "Drums and Fruit" by Bill Engerman and Cindy Enmons. "The Fabulous Finnegans" perform their special type of music, and Mike DiGirola performs the classic "Putting on the Ritz". The finale is a tribute to George M. Cohan, with the whole cast participating.

V-Show '79 promises to be a great experience for all who perform and an even better one for the audience. This is due to the great amount of hard work put in by the student directors: Pete Millar, drama; Lisa Pector, choral; Chris Frawley, technical; Lori Durston; choreography; and David Rice, instrumental.

"A Christmas Carol" comes to Skokie

The national road company of the new musical adaptation of Charles Dickens' "A Christmas Carol" comes to Skokie on Tuesday, Dec. 4th. This live musical extravaganza, adapted for the stage by Charles Jones of the Omaha Playhouse, will be performed at 7:15 p.m. at Niles East High School, 7701 Lincoln, Skokie.

The Village of Skokie, through its Fine Arts Commission is providing this show for Skokie residents, along with co-sponsors, the Skokie Park District, First National Bank of Skokie, Skokie Federal Savings and Loan, and Old Orchard Bank.

Tickets for the show have been specially priced to allow Skokie families to enjoy this professional production at reasonable cost. Tickets for adults are $5 per person, with tickets for children (through junior high school age) only $2.50.

Dorothy Litwin, Skokie's fine arts director, said, "It is rare that a professional production as elaborate and powerful as this one is offered to audiences at reduced ticket prices. We have structured the prices so that entire families can attend. For instance, two parents can bring their three children for a total cost of $17.50. That's less than most single main floor tickets cost in a downtown Chicago theatre."

Litwin also pointed out that an early curtain time was set so that youngsters could get home at a reasonable hour. "Since this is a school night, we know parents will want children to be home early. The show runs 1 hour and 50 minutes, so it should be completed around 9 p.m.," Litwin said.

Tickets can be purchased at these locations: Skokie Village Hall, 5127 Oakton; First National Bank of Skokie, 8001 Lincoln; Skokie Federal Savings and Loan, 4747 Dempster; and Old Orchard Bank, 4949 Old Orchard rd. For more ticket information, call 677-5038.

Complete with a full company of 35 actors, singers, and musicians, the show features a full array of traditional Christmas carols as an addition to the story of Scrooge and his Christmas' past, present and future. Charles Jones who adapted the Dickens tale for this production, said of the music, "The songs do not move the story forward. They stand apart from the text. Each carol in the show was chosen for the dramatic atmosphere it contributed to the total evening. The songs are traditional, but the scoring by musical arranger John Bennet is contemporary and exquisitely beautiful."

The production also features historically accurate and beautifully set designs, plus excellent special effects. These were done by noted designer James Othuse, and one of the special effects is a 16-foot human puppet as the Ghost of Christmas future.

Halloween parade & celebration

The Halloween parade and celebration sponsored by the Morton Grove Park District was held on Sunday, Oct. 28. The event experienced great success with 140 children participating in the costume judging and parade and over 250 people on hand to enjoy the Carnival and Spook House which followed immediately after the judging. Eight booths were available for the children to try their luck on. Win or lose, everyone walked away with a prize. The Spook House was again the highlight of this special event. Niles Police welcomes new reserves

Niles Police Chief Clarence Emrikson addresses newly sworn police reserves to discuss their upcoming responsibilities and duties. Recently the Niles Police Department increased the number of active reserves in order to further cope with the problems of vandalism and to give additional security and protection to the residents in the Village of Niles.

Stated Chief Emrikson, "Adding more reserve strength to our police force gives us additional personnel to draw from and it also affords us the opportunity of enjoying greater security programs in deterring crime and vandalism."

The new recruits will now go through a training program, fitted with Niles Police uniforms, and soon will be utilized by the department in further serving the residents of Niles.

Legion commander installed

When to contact social security office

When you walk into a social security office, do you find yourself at the end of a long line?

If so, you may be doing business with social security at the wrong time and in the wrong way, says Marilyn Robertson, manager of the local office.

The social security office is most busy the first week of the month, when benefit checks arrive, and on Mondays. "Unless your social security business is urgent, the best time to contact our office is after the middle of the month and later in the week," said Robertson. She added that the office usually is less busy in the afternoon.

You can avoid a trip to the social security office by calling their Teleservice. Nearly all social security business can be handled by phone, including benefit applications and changes of address. When you call, have your social security claim number handy.

For more information, call the Teleservice number for this area, 823-0815, or contact the Des Plaines social security office at 701 Lee st., suite 420.

Absentee ballots

Voters who will be out of town on Dec. 11, or who are physically handicapped, may contact Senator John J. Nimrod at 692-9444 or 698-3400 to obtain an application for absentee ballot in the Dec. 11 special Republican primary.

Nimrod is a candidate for the congressional seat in the 10th District recently vacated by the appointment of Abner Mikva to a federal judgeship.

The congressional vacancy will be the only office to be nominated at the special primary, and the Republican Party has the only contest.

Nimrod said those calling his office for assistance should specify whether they will be out of town, incapacitated, or serving out-of-precinct as an election judge. Different applications are used for each category.

He added that parents might wish to call and request applications for their out-of-town college student or servicemen children. "Again, they should specify the reason for being out of town, and they should indicate both the home address and the address to which the application and ballot should be mailed. Then we'll complete the application and mail it to the voter for signature."

Nimrod said anyone wishing to visit his office for an application should come to 26 Main st., Park Ridge.

Maine East Riding Club

Maine East's newly organized Riding Club meets every Wednesday after school. Members go to the Northwestern Stables on buses and ride till about 5 p.m.

The cost is $36 for the first six weeks. That comes to $6 a lesson. After the first six weeks, it costs another $36.

It doesn't take an experienced rider to join as there are levels for all riders. There is a beginners' level for people who have never ridden before. Intermediate is for the rider who is a little more experienced. Advanced is for the experienced rider who wants to learn new skills. Members will be riding eastern style. It takes place both indoors or out, depending on the weather.

Officers include: Vicki Barnes, President; Marissa Tondryk, Vice-President; Andi Schultz, secretary; and Susan Rheingruber, Treasurer.

During the year there will be bake sales to raise money for the banquet and breakfast drives.

RTA allocates funds for Niles courtesy bus

The Regional Transportation Authority this year continues to fund the Village of Niles' courtesy bus system by allocating $89,474 for operating the service, according to information released by RTA this week.

The amount budgeted for Niles represents 46.3 per cent of the total operating cost of the free courtesy bus in the village during the Authority's fiscal year, beginning July 1, 1978 and ending June 30, 1979. RTA also during this fiscal year paid Niles some $96,000 for operating expenses incurred by the courtesy bus in 1977 and 1978. These monies are in addition to other RTA funding received by the village for its transportation system during that two-year period.

Niles' courtesy bus, Route 411, operates from 8:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. during the week and from 11:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. on weekends. The route includes service to Niles Community Center and Recreation Center, Golf Mill Shopping Center and the village's library. An average of 1,000 people ride the bus each day, with RTA's funding costing the agency 25.9 cents per ride.

In addition to the courtesy bus, Niles residents have available to them several other suburban bus routes, operated by North Suburban Mass Transit District (NORTRAN), one of RTA's largest funded carriers. The NORTRAN routes offer residents convenient connections to O'Hare Airport, Jefferson Park terminal, a major transportation link between North Suburban Cook County and downtown Chicago, and major business and shopping districts in neighboring municipalities.

NORTRAN routes which offer service in Niles include: Route 270 - providing service between Golf Mill shopping center and Jefferson Park, via Milwaukee Ave. Routes 290-291 - providing service between Howard CTA terminal and Des Plaines C&NW station via Touhy Ave. Routes 240-241 - servicing Golf Mill shopping center and Park Ridge. Route 250 - providing service between Evanston and Des Plaines, via Dempster Ave. Route 208 - providing service between Golf Mill shopping center and Evanston. Route 220 - providing service between Glenview, Des Plaines and O'Hare Airport. This route also serves Golf Mill shopping center.

Trumphil to remain as District 67 principal

by Dely Eisenberg

Dr. Harry Trumphil will remain as principal for the School District 67 elementary grades, it was announced at the Nov. 8 school board meeting. Mr. Edgar Florence, who is currently principal of Golf Elementary which will be closing next year, will be released from his position then, according to board member Mrs. Judith Kochman.

Mr. Florence will be reclassified with the teachers of both Hynes and Golf Elementary. The board's next task will be to decide which teachers can be retained when the schools combine at Hynes. Their decision should be made public in the spring.

In other business, district teachers had been surveyed as to whether they would like to sponsor before or after school or lunchtime activities. The board received 25 positive commitments and 23 negative responses, according to Mrs. Kochman. A survey will now be sent to students at the three schools listing what activities will be offered. The child and parent can indicate their interest in an activity and must sign the form jointly. In regards to work at the school buildings, Rose Exterminators will begin immediately to combat the termite problem at Golf Jr. High. Moderheck Construction has received the commission for work at Hynes and Golf Jr. High to comply with fire safety recommendations. This will include installing rolling shutters between the kitchen and lunchroom areas and replacing ceiling tiles.

It was revealed at the school board meeting that the Niles Township Special Education District is possibly interested in utilizing the Golf Elementary building, which will be vacant after this school year.

The school board announced it is once again in need of a recording secretary for its meetings. Members also expressed interest in improving The Chalkboard, the community bulletin of school events.

Salerno who said police were not involved in requirements set by the village.

Trustee denial of the appeal came following objections by Lorence Slutzky, attorney for School District 63, who cited a projected increase in traffic, pedestrian-student safety and need of environment conducive to education.

In other business trustees continued to a future hearing on a petition by Rose Heinz for rezoning of property from business to residential for construction of a three-apartment building at 8008 Washington st.

Delay in action offered trustees an opportunity to look at the property site and petitioner to present a building-design plan.

Approved for sealed bidding village-owned property at 8229 Waukegan rd. and at 6554 Fargo.

In a pre-board meeting Tuesday evening trustees discussed lowering police and fire personnel retirement age from the present 65 years to 60.

Discussion was based on physical performance required in emergency situations and expected command personnel.

Village Manager Kenneth Scheel said actuary figures were set for employee retirement at 20 years' employment and age 50. With mandatory retirement, noted Police Chief Emrikson, employees will begin to plan five to seven years ahead of time.

Hobs also felt the store prices were no cheaper than at any other food chain. To that comment, many citizens protested emotionally there definitely were great savings at the new store and they would not like to see it closed. The store manager argued, "I could name over 100 items off the top of my head that are considerably cheaper."

Trustee Don Snieder also saw the advantages of the store. Snieder said he spent time in the store, talking to customers, and felt they were happy to be saving quite a bit of money.

Certain residents question why the Board was not aware of how the "No Frills" store would operate before it opened. Trustee Neil Cashman answered, "It's the burden of businesses coming into town to be in compliance with our ordinances." It was explained that Jewel is operating with the same business license it has had for many years, despite its recently changed formats of The House of Fruit and now the No Frills store.

A vote was taken, in which the Board was evenly split and the Mayor had to break the tie, voting favorably to delay the enforcement of the existing ordinance for a period of 2 weeks, during which more public reaction can be evaluated.

Some citizens at Monday night's packed Board meeting were concerned with the Village's Comprehensive Planning and Community Development Program. This report was released last month and trustees were expected to endorse it at the meeting.

Chuck Graff, a local attorney representing interests in the manufacturing block by Lincoln and Ferris, wanted it made clear if the program is adopted, "each owner can still feel confident that present and future use of their property will be okay if they remain in the present zoning guidelines."

The community development program has set other directions, such as multi-family housing for certain areas.

Village Attorney Martin Ashman defended the need for the program. He explained that "the villages that have comprehensive plans fare better in court in defending their zoning actions than ones that do not."

In other village business, residents should be aware that money is available in the form of loans and grants for the rehabilitation of the older homes in Morton Grove. Trustee Gregg Youstra wished people to realize that this is a voluntary program. "The village will not come to you."

Kraft Inc. has been granted a special use permit to reconstruct and landscape the area north of Golf, bounded by Waukegan and Harlem. It will serve as a parking lot for the Kraft complex. Provisions will be made for community parking for the Loehmann's store, which will remain at its location.

A change has been made in the ordinance regarding winter parking. We tried to work it out to the least inconvenience of the people," according to Mayor Flickinger. Therefore, the odd-even parking will go into effect only when the village president calls a snow emergency.

There will also be a change in the wine and beer ordinance, which will allow for up to three more establishments to obtain this license. This will bring added revenue to the village, according to Mayor Flickinger.

Presenting her with an inscribed plaque, Smith said, after having served with her for three years, he knew "there wasn't a more dedicated board member." Larson was active in legislation and special education issues.

Donald Stetina, acting superintendent, in a continued report of District goals, said about 3,759 children are now in the District's nine schools. About 155 more youngsters will be graduating from the two junior high schools than are enrolled in kindergarten. As enrollment declines, schools receive less funding in state aid.

Paul Ba'ies, who ran the 3 mile Peoria Invitational in 14:55 erased 12 seconds from that mark which reduced his Saturday's time to 14:43.

So dominant were the first two teams Saturday that York's 65 points would have won all but two state championships since 1961. Maine East coach Rich Sazanoff won his first state championship in his third year of coaching the Blue Demons. In 1970 Maine East won its first title under Coach John Coughlan.

Percentage projections influencing priorities to be studied will be presented to the board at a future meeting.

Cesare Calderelli, director of staff, reporting on the staff and school population, said the number of teachers hired by the district had declined from 299.5 in the 1977-78 school year to 238.5 in the 1979-80 school year.

Student population was intended to be held at an average of 27-1 for the fourth, fifth and sixth grades. Board members indicated variations between schools was large and guidelines not specific for the hiring of extra teachers. Calderelli said he would update the report.

Bowen reported certain assumptions should be made to update budget provisions for the Education Fund and for the Operation, Building and Maintenance Fund. Factors taken into consideration are enrollment, assessed valuation, inflation, salaries, staff and personal and real property tax. During 1978 assessed evaluation about $214 million in property taxes became school revenue.

Dick Kow, Apollo parent, questioned the board's lack of funding for district children gifted in mathematics. According to Kow, "I understand it is the policy of District 63 to take care of the needs of all children."

Board members conducted a lengthy discussion concerning a funding plan. Stetina was directed to present a plan to the board in January. Also, a temporary resolution will be discussed at the following meeting.

Stetina reported a task force including district "professionals" will be established to develop a plan for daily physical activity in place of gym as required by State law.

In former years, a waiver was obtained to eliminate daily gym classes. According to Calderelli, "We expect to be in compliance by next year."

Two non-profit groups, a drama youth group and Medi-Chek, requested leasing space in Ballard school.

In other action, the board approved a maternity leave of absence, a resignation, appointments of certificated and classified personnel, a change in salary, agreements for extra duty, and the gross payroll. Also, the regular board meeting scheduled for April 22, 1980 was changed to April 15, 1980.

and junior Bobo Divzen combined their efforts for Maine's Blue Demons to once again put Maine at the top of the state's harriers. Maine had been the top team in the state until five weeks ago when York defeated Maine by 29 points at the Peoria Invitational. Saturday, in a superb effort Maine tied it on when they had to, winning the coveted state championship.

Paul Ba'ies, who ran the 3 mile Peoria Invitational in 14:55 erased 12 seconds from that mark which reduced his Saturday's time to 14:43.

So dominant were the first two teams Saturday that York's 65 points would have won all but two state championships since 1961.

Niles resident to present concert

The second program of the "Festival of Autumn Concerts" will be presented by Organist Jerome Butera on Sunday, Nov. 18 at 3:30 p.m., at the Park Ridge Community Church. The recital will feature the "Passacaglia and Fugue in C-minor" of Johann Sebastian Bach, the "Prelude and Fugue in D-minor" of Felix Mendelssohn, the "First Sonata" of Paul Hindemith, and the "Prelude and Fugue on BACH" of Franz Liszt.

Jerome Butera, who has resided with his family in Niles for the past 3 years, has held positions at the Church of St. Richard of Chichester, the First Baptist Church of Ann Arbor, and St. Gertrude Church of Chicago. He is a member of the Music Faculty of DePaul University, teaching courses in Organ and Church Music, and currently serves as Sub-Dean for the Chicago Chapter of the American Guild of Organists. Mr. Butera holds the Master of Music degree from the University of Michigan, and is a doctoral candidate at the American Conservatory of Music.

Close parental supervision was cited by Trustee David Kobyleski of 6714 Harts rd. Also he noted "citizens must get involved and report incidents as seen. With everyone aware of the problem of vandalism and helping together to fight it, it can be kept to a minimum."

Village attorney Thomas Ferraro of 8415 W. Bruce dr. said he personally "would not take part in" and "would discourage vandalism of all kinds", finally stating he would "report vandals and vandalism to proper authorities."

Niles essay winners assume Village duties

by Alice M. Bobula

During a special board meeting held Tuesday evening, Nov. 13, village officials were temporarily displaced by the top 20 winners of the 14th Annual Junior High Essay Contest sponsored by the Niles Youth Service.

Over 275 entries were received in competition by 7th and 8th grade students of St. John Brebeuf, Our Lady of Ransom, Niles North Jr. High and Emerson North Jr. High Schools. Essay theme this year was "How Can You as a Teen Help Reduce and Prevent Vandalism in the Community?"

Top honors and the opportunity of being Mayor of Niles went to Mary Baranowski of 7228 W. Lill, an 8th grade student at St. John Brebeuf School. She also received a trophy and a $50 savings bond.

Trophies and $25 bonds were awarded to each of the 19 runners-up. All of the youths were honored at a luncheon Nov. 8 at Bunker Hill Country Club attended by officials of the village.

Essay contest winners toured Niles as "Officials of the Day" Thursday morning and "worked" with specific departmental heads during the afternoon.

Certificate Awards for Special Services were awarded to Janice Bender, Tom Goodcase and Karen Witkowski for services rendered to the community during the summer.

Prior to presentation of the awards, Youth Service Coordinator Carol Chauconis congratulated parents of the contest winners for encouragement of youth participation.

Village chambers were overflowing with parents and families of the award-winning students Tuesday evening as contest winners read their essay.

Selecting vandalism in schools as her topic of discussion "Mayor" Baranowski observed that "teachers, students and parents must take part (in working out solutions) by making students want to learn and take pride in their buildings, property and education..."

"...children must be taught at an early age," she noted, "that respect for others and others' property is of most importance. It is the family at home that teaches the child how to use their time constructively. A good family learns how to talk out problems rather than take it out everyone's expense..."

Skokie Rotary ...

Cont'd from Skokie-L'wood P.1 the glue that binds this worldwide fellowship together.

The Rotary Club of Skokie has a long history of community service in both programs and contributions. Its roster of members over the years rings with names deeply involved in the growth and development of the Village ... Gallitz, Meyer, King, Young, Cotanche, Smith, Schaak to mention but a few.

At its founding, the Club's regular Tuesday luncheon meetings were held at Niles Twp. High School. Today the Club meets over the lunch hour at Club El Bianco Restaurant at 10667 Skokie Blvd. Its purpose-for-being and objectives remain unchanged... community service!

"And 'vandalism is a crime that must be stopped' flatly observed Director of Building and Zoning Ellen Hanrahan of 7118 W. Main st. She advocated "expensive fines" as well as "volunteer work in the community by the offenders." However, she noted, the best solution to the problem of vandalism "is to get the offender interested in worthwhile activities," citing "sports as a good outlet."

Other essays were raised by Village Manager Connie Anderson of 7147 W. Keeney; Finance Director Lynda Trauner of 8584 N. Clifton; Trustees John Kolski of 7327 N. Waukegan rd.; Barbara Wiltgen of 7050 Madison; Lisa Bielski of 6945 Madison st.; Michelle Kauth of 7539 Kedzie st. and Debbie Piscitello of 7564 N. Waukegan rd.

Ab Mikva was our man during the 8 years he was in this district. While Mr. Mikva was equally as congenial as Mr. Porter, he never once sent my family any letters of congratulations. And while I don't recall the Bessers deserving any special recognition during those years, he still might have sent a mistaken letter of congratulations as Mr. Porter has. During the Mikva years there was a Besser in Niles Township who won swimming honors at one of the high schools. And there's a Doctor Besser at Lutheran General who must have done something noteworthy during the Mikva years. And at Monogram Models there's another Besser who runs a pretty successful company there. Why Mikva did not send any misdirected letters my way regarding some of these people's exploits is beyond my ken. I guess it's one reason why guys like Mikva get kicked upstairs to federal judgeships. They don't make mistakes like us more mortal folks.

OCC trustees tour new campus construction

Trustees and administrators of Oakton Community College visited the permanent campus building under construction in Des Plaines on Saturday, November 3, to get a first-hand look at recent progress and to review some of the problem areas that have been of concern over the past few months.

Janet Juckett, co-chairman of the OCC Board's Facilities Committee, commented on the noticeable progress the past few weeks.

The campus, originally scheduled for completion in March 1979, is almost a year behind schedule. Last March, the contractor and architects promised completion by October 1979 in time for the Spring Semester 1980. In an October 2 meeting of the Trustees and administrators it was decided to cancel plans for scheduling Spring Semester classes on the Des Plaines campus.

Mrs. Juckett expressed concern about completion of construction. "There has been so much slippage in the schedule as well as so many unresolved construction problems that the building cannot be accepted by the College until late spring," she said.

"We must overcome delays in completing the campus but we are also concerned about the quality of construction and the careful use of public funds," she added.

In a meeting on Nov. 1 with Mrs. Juckett, Thomas Madigan, Director of the Operations Division, Capital Development

Board, gave assurances to the effect that CDB will not pay for defective work and that all construction will fully meet acceptable standards.

Major problem areas which the OCC officials viewed on Saturday were:

The basement ceiling and steel frame supporting the first floor have deflected and construction of the east wing of the campus cannot be completed and occupied until it is corrected. Engineers are now working on plans to overcome this problem.

The exterior masonry shows various defects, including off-color brick, joint failures, and cracks in brick panels over lintels.

At least four areas in the foundation have developed serious cracks.

Under state law, the Capital Development Board retains ownership of the campus and control of construction until the building is ready for occupancy. Oakton officials must rely on the CDB, Perkins and Will, the architects for the campus, and Thorlief Larsen, the contractor, for management of construction of the campus.

Paul Gilson, who co-chairs the Facilities Committee of the Board of Trustees, commented, "We look forward to having our own campus with adequate parking and well designed educational facilities. This will be a highly functional, energy efficient structure on a beautiful site, a campus the whole community can be proud of."

Porter calls for Tax Law reform

John Porter this week called for linking income taxes to purchasing power instead of the artificial increase in income brought about by inflation.

Porter said his proposal—known as "indexing"—would keep the government from continuing to penalize Americans whom inflation pushes into progressively higher tax brackets while their take-home pay remains unchanged in real dollars.

Porter, a former state legislator running for the Republican nomination for Congress in the Dec. 11 special primary, denounced the present tax system for "stifling upward mobility for Americans at all economic levels."

He also castigated Congress for enacting small tax cuts every two years, just before election time, instead of writing a tax code that prohibits the automatic hidden tax increases that inflation forces on all income earners.

Porter pointed out that the tax cuts vetoed by Congress every two years do nothing more than restore part of the income that would have remained with the taxpayer if the system of indexing were in effect.

There are many formulas for implementing a system of indexing, Porter said. One would provide for a person's tax rate to go down as his or her salary increased, unless the increase in real dollars exceeded the increase in inflation.

Porter said indexing would have the additional benefit of ending the inflation windfall that government gets. He noted that with less money coming in "through the vicious inflation-tax cycle we now have," the government would have to spend less, and this itself would help curb inflation.

OK Nimrod resolution for Biennial Budget

Senator John J. Nimrod, R-Glenview, announced today the Senate Executive Committee has approved his resolution calling for a Biennial Budget requiring a change in the Illinois Constitution, SJR 12, which now will be considered on the Senate floor, proposes that legislative sessions in odd-numbered years could consider or enact only bills making appropriations or relating to state revenue.

"This is the second time the Senate will be deliberating this resolution," said Senator Nimrod, "and I believe that it now has an excellent chance of being approved by the General Assembly."

Senator Nimrod says his resolution has the support of Secretary of State Alan Dixon, former Senate President Bill Harris, the Chamber of Commerce and a number of other important organizations.

"If the voters approve this constitutional change," said Nimrod, "the public will be better served. The General Assembly will be able to do a much better job in handling its fiscal responsibilities. We can better develop our programs and reduce the influence of special interest groups."

Senator Nimrod said if the change is approved, local governments would know farther in advance what to expect in the way of state funds, so they could plan and budget better. In addition, State agencies would have to spend far less time on budgets.

Future Business Leaders of America

We're all familiar with the abbreviations USA, USSR, NASA, ACT, and SAT, but do you know what FBLA means? It stands for Future Business Leaders of America.

Don't be turned off by the name. There's more to FBLA than just rap sessions about business. For example, there's swim parties, picnics, and tobogganing.

Officers of the Maine East Club are president Barb Boss, Treasurer Marge Madigan and Secretary Vicki Props.

There is also national, regional, area, and local competition between FBLA clubs of different schools. The events are typing, computers, shorthand, business law, speech and job interviews. Two years ago, Gordon Pursel won the nationals in the computer event, and last year, Phil Kornick won second in state, also in the computer event.

Maine East held the area competition here last year. Area competition will be held late February or beginning of March this year. Also, state will be held last week of March and national first week of July.

Club fee is $5, which enables students to enter nationals, state, and local competition as well as receiving a national magazine.
