Left Hand: Police cooperation leads to apprehensions

Police charge murder in traffic death of MG man

A 79-year-old Morton Grove man, Bakus Youkhana, was hit and killed by a car last Oct. 21 in Algonquin as he attempted to cross Hwy. 62 in the northwest suburb. Youkhana, 3722 W. Lyons, had been fishing with his son and grandson in the Fox River under a bridge on Hwy. 62 at the time. Police said he was killed instantly by a vehicle driven by Peggy Maletti, 32, of Crystal Lake. Maletti was charged at the time with striking a pedestrian, failing to reduce speed to avoid an accident, and failing to yield to a pedestrian in an intersection.

Youkhana had been with his son Gilbert Y. Silvio, 36, 8423 N. Hamilton, Chicago, and a grandson, Edmund W. Zia, 22, 6024 N. Claremont, Chicago. Both men were to have appeared in the McHenry Circuit Court two weeks ago, but failed to show up. Consequently the charge of striking a pedestrian was dismissed against Mrs. Maletti according to McHenry County State's Attorney Theodore Floro. Before authorities could take any further action, Youkhana's son called them last week and stated his father's death had not been an accident. He told authorities he and his nephew Zia had deliberately lured the old man into the road when they saw a car coming. He contributed his confession to a matter of conscience since up to that time it was regarded as strictly a traffic fatality.

Niles police apprehend suspect after traffic dispute shooting

Police nab spree shooting coed killer

Niles police arrested the 23-year-old son of a Chicago police officer Sunday night after he was accused of firing shots into the back of a woman's car following a traffic disagreement.

Kurt Bartall, Jr., 7123 N. Octavia, son of Chicago Patrolman Kurt Bartall of the police traffic investigations unit, was apprehended by Niles police after the woman complained to Niles police that she had been fired upon by another motorist in the 6600 block of Milwaukee ave. According to the woman, Bartall apparently honked his car horn at her when she apparently did not drive off quickly enough from a stop light. She reportedly responded to his car honking with an insulting gesture and he opened fire, putting two slugs into her car trunk. According to Niles Police Lt. John Christie, the woman supplied police with Bartall's license number which was immediately transmitted to all Niles patrol cars. Police later spotted his 1977 Ford Thunderbird outside the Niles House of Pizza, 7660 N. Milwaukee ave., and arrested him.

A new year ... a new decade ... and The Bugle feels more cantankerous than ever.

Cops, particularly Niles and Cook County cops, have been doing outstanding work recently which has borne fruit leading to headline successes in Chicagoland newspapers.

Niles policemen picked up Kurt Bartall, Jr., in a Niles pizza restaurant Sunday after being notified by a woman he fired into the rear of her car at a local intersection after a disagreement with a woman driver.

The woman gave Niles police Bartall's 1977 Thunderbird car license number and the police later spotted the car in front of the restaurant in Niles. Niles' finest discovered he was carrying an automatic pistol which turned out to be the same type of weapon used in the fatal shooting of a Chicago college coed, Betty Quinn, in a 3 a.m. shooting on Milwaukee ave. in Chicago the previous night. Niles relayed the information to Chicago homicide investigators and Bartall subsequently confessed he shot the bullets while randomly driving down Milwaukee ave. during the early morning hours.

This was a case of first class police work, alertly observing the license plate, and working together with the Chicago

Niles Park Board honors village

Shown above is the Niles Park District Board of Commissioners presenting a Citation of Merit award to Village of Niles, Mayor Blase and Village Trustees. The Niles Park District nominated the Village of Niles to the Illinois Association of Park Districts for their outstanding contribution to the recreation programs for the residents of Niles. The nomination was based on the fine intergovernmental cooperation the Village has extended to the Park District, specifically the donation of two buses which were purchased with revenue sharing money.

Ex-president & First Lady of Niles recuperating

According to Village Historian, Dorothy Tyse, the Calef's have been flooded with letters, cards, and phone calls from their friends for the past year and a half.

John F. Calef, fourth President of the Village of Niles and his wife Leone are recuperating in Verona, Wisconsin. On June 21, 1978, Leone suffered a severe paralysis of her left side, and was at Lutheran General Hospital.

On October 2, she broke her left thigh and was operated on at a hospital in Madison, Wisconsin. After much physical therapy, she remains partially paralyzed and depends on a wheelchair.

Mr. Calef caught a very severe cold with later turned into pneumonia. After spending 16 days at Lutheran General hospital in Park Ridge, he came home. Shortly thereafter, he broke a vertebra in his back, and went back to the hospital for 14 more days.

On March 30, Mr. Calef's brother-in-law sent down a mobile home to transport Mr. Calef to Viroqua. His fractures failed to heal due to lack of calcium; he went back into the hospital, this time to La Crosse Lutheran Hospital for 16 days.

Mr. Calef still has considerable pain, is in a brace, and walks with a cane. He hopes the calcium additives will improve his condition, so he can drive his car while in Wisconsin.

John and Leone miss their old friends. Anyone wishing to write letters or cards to Mr. and Mrs. John Calef, should write to: Bethel Home, 614 S. Rock ave., Viroqua, Wisc. 54685.

$170 Energy payment to SSI recipients

A special energy allowance payment will be sent to most Supplemental Security Income (SSI) recipients January 7, according to Marilyn Robertson, manager of the local social security office.

The payment is part of the new Energy Crisis Assistance Program, created to help people with low income meet increased energy costs this winter.

In Illinois the amount of this special payment is $170 and will be issued to persons eligible for SSI in December, 1979. The checks will be green in color and contain the notation "energy allowance." Regular SSI checks are gold in color.

The energy allowance will be in addition to the regular monthly SSI checks in January and will not lower the recipient's regular check or cause an overpayment.

Not eligible for the special payment are SSI recipients who live in certain medical treatment facilities where their costs are paid by Medicaid.

For more information, call the social security Teleservice number for this area, 823-0815, or contact the Des Plaines office at 701 Lee St., suite 420.

Vandals fire abandoned Niles house

Malicious vandalism is suspected of a blaze started in an abandoned building in north Niles late Saturday night, Dec. 22.

No injuries were reported. Firemen made a "good stop" to the fire in a frame house located at 8755 Sunset rd. according to a fire department spokesman.

The building at Western ave. and Sunset owned by Mrs. Ann Marion of Niles was destined for demolition said fire officials.

Niles Fire Inspector Ed Sosnowski said no fire loss could be placed on an abandoned building.

Firemen were alerted to the scene shortly before 11 p.m. Saturday by a resident in nearby Des Plaines who said a youth came to her door to report the fire.

Flames and smoke were rolling out the upper story windows on arrival by Niles firefighters.

A fire spokesman said someone apparently entered the locked building and started a fire in a rear room. Since the house was completely stripped of furnishings there was nothing to contain the fire he said. Plaster and drywall had been removed permitting flames to travel upward from the ground floor to the loft area.

Maine Township snow parking signs

Maine Township Highway Commissioner Edward Koehler displays the "No Parking" signs he and his staff have installed along certain roads in the unincorporated area of the township to facilitate snow removal operations this winter. An ordinance restricting parking on some streets in the northeast section of the Township was recently passed by the Maine Township governing board at the suggestion of fire and police authorities whose emergency vehicles had difficulty getting through areas last winter because cars parked on the streets had hampered snow removal operations. The Township board sought input from area residents at public hearings prior to passing the ordinance.

Alumni top OCC varsity team

The Oakton Community College varsity basketball team lost a close 90-87 game against a talented alumni team on Monday, Dec. 17 in the annual J. Dennis Lamping Memorial Basketball Game. Varsity player Mike Dickens (21) drives for two points as Tony Reibel (10) attempts to block the shot.

Marillac Varsity Basketball team

Marillac's Varsity Basketball Team has compiled a 3-0 record for December. The Northstars are averaging over 78 points per game to their competitors' 42 points per game. In their 71-49 opener against Trinity of River Forest, senior Jenny Klauke scored 24 points to pace the Northstar offense. Sophomore Kathlynn Eshoo added 17 points in her first varsity contest. Marillac next defeated Woodlands of Lake Forest 83-36. Klauke's 19 rebounds set a school record. In the 79-41 victory over Carmel of Mundelein, senior Suzette Eshoo led the team with 21 points, all in the second half. Klauke added 20. The two seniors are averaging a little over 15 and 20 points per game respectively.

Junior Mary Lou O'Brien is coming off an injury but still managed to score 10 points in each of her first two games. Coach Pat O'Connell is pleased with the team's overall progress. "I think the big difference this season has been out shooting," he said. "We've been playing good defense since the middle of last season, but the ball wasn't going in. This year we've made about half our shots." Although Klauke leads in all departments, O'Connell feels he has a balanced team. He points out, "At least nine players have scored in all our games so far." The Northstars next hard court encounter will come January 4 at the Glenbrook South Tournament against New Trier East at 6 p.m.

Family Life

Communication gap is not confined to parents

IS there a generation gap? Not really. Rather, it is a communication gap and you don't have to be a generation apart to experience it.

You can, and possibly do, experience it yourself—maybe with your husband or wife, your children, other relatives, friends, co-workers or other persons you know. The communication gap is one of the most predominant factors causing marital breakdown and parent-child conflict.

This communication gap is ironic considering our amazing technical means of communication through TV, radio, phone, newspaper, magazines, etc. What it really boils down to is the actual dialogue of two people learning to share together and really communicate their thoughts, feelings, needs, etc.

What does it mean to really communicate? I'm not talking just about the ability to converse, as important as that is, but also the ability to communicate feelings, as well as to share socially, spiritually and physically. Of course, this means being willing to take a risk, to really reach out in a caring way and to really involve yourself.

A great man said 2,000 years ago, "Seeing they do not see, hearing they do not hear, they do not understand with their heart."

As true as this might be in our relationship and communication with God, I have found it also true in my work as a marriage and family counselor. Does the husband/wife, parent/child really try to see, to hear, and to understand with their heart?

I find it is quite an awakening experience for a married couple just to sit down and look into each other's eyes and be able to converse; or as one husband commented when he really took a good look at his wife, "Hey, you look pretty good, honey."

So often we become so busy, busy, busy, that we really don't see. Sure, we know the person is there, but it is more like observing or seeing a statue. We know it is there, but really no communication is taking place.

For example, I remember my little 3½ year old daughter would do a number of things to get my attention and always say with it, "Look at me, daddy, look up at me." She was wanting more of my attention. True. Also, I fortunately discovered she wanted more than that—she wanted me to really see her—to really communicate with her at her level, not mine.

Thank God she persevered, and I finally woke up to what she was saying. As soon as I did, she stopped kicking, pinching, and doing a number of other antics to get me to really see her. She wanted to feel that she was important to me, that I loved her enough, cared for her enough to really see her and share with her, to really communicate with her.

Do you find yourself relating to any of these examples? Have you felt as a wife, husband, parent, son or daughter that you really were not being seen or heard or understood?

What did you find yourself doing? What antics did you use, or are you using, to wake up your spouse, your child, your parent or someone else whom you want to be recognized by and be important to—to feel that they care enough to really share?

I have the privilege through this newspaper to share ideas with you. Each week some aspect of marital and family living will be discussed. I recognize that you, your marriage and your family are important! Do you? Don't let the "communication gap" be a casual factor to promote marital conflict or family breakdown in your marriage and family.

If you will take the time to write me about a problem or concern that you might have, I will try to deal with it in a general way as a professionally trained marital and family counselor.

It is my hope that these articles will be helpful to you. If they raise serious questions and doubts within you regarding your marriage, family, etc., you may want to seriously consider reaching out for a family counselor through the family counseling agency that serves your area.

For Niles residents, don't hesitate to call or come in to Niles Family Service, 8060 Oakton st., Niles, in the Niles Trident Center. Phone 692-3396.

(Larry Renetzky has been for 11 years the executive director of Niles Family Services Department, Village of Niles. An accredited professional social worker, he has over 25 years of experience in helping couples and families through crises and problems. GOP Women install new officers

At the club's Christmas Party on Wednesday, Dec. 5 at Jonathan's Restaurant, 8501 Dempster, Niles, members and guests brought homemade Christmas cookies and money for knee socks and mittens, instead of exchanging gifts among themselves. These were donated to The Henry Horner and Edison Park Children's Homes to brighten their Holiday. A special guest at the party was former president, Kay Korfi, visiting in the northwest suburbs from her new home in Cape Coral, Florida.

"Kids Need Culture too!"

Children can once again view the delightful puppetry of The Melkin Puppets as they return to Skokie at 2 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 13 at Devonshire Center, 4400 Grove St. The Melkin Puppets are the third performance in the 1979-80 "Kids Need Culture Too!" series.

This entertaining tribute to a culture of people who were here years before Christopher Columbus is hosted by Chief Whatsit-to-ya, an old Indian storyteller. In story telling tradition the chief sits around the campfire telling his favorite folk tales and showing ceremonial dances.

Making their third appearance at the Skokie Park District, the Melkin Puppets have previously been featured at the First National Showcase of Professional Children's Theater, participants the Artists-in-Residence Program at the Detroit Institute of the Arts, and for seventh year in a row, have performed at the Puppeteers of American National Convention.

Their brightly colored puppets and delightful story telling style make them a unique treat. Tickets are only 50¢ and may be purchased at the door or in advance at all Park District Recreation Centers or all Skokie Federal Savings Skokie offices.

Kids Need Culture Too! is co-sponsored by Skokie Park District, Skokie Federal Savings and the Skokie Fine Arts Commission. Next in the series of six performances is the Piper Puppets performing Aladdin's Magic Lamp on Sunday, Feb. 3.

NI-Gas offers heat loss survey to public buildings

"Infrared cameras were developed 25 years ago in Sweden as a nighttime 'eye' for tanks," said Don Winters, NI-Gas conservation consultant. "Since then," he continued, "the thermography system has been adapted for a variety of uses including detecting heat loss."

NI-Gas has been using thermography to detect heat loss in schools since 1977. The program was first of its kind in the nation. This year municipal buildings are also eligible for surveys.

The infrared camera produces photographic prints or thermograms which are analyzed by specially trained NI-Gas personnel. Administrators receive prints, conventional photographs and a written report pinpointing energy inefficiencies in buildings surveyed.

Results of 400 surveys completed over the last two years indicated a variety of conservation needs, i.e. inadequate insulation, thermally inefficient window and construction materials, clogged vents. Measures taken to improve such inefficiencies could save tax dollars.

During the week of December 3, Winters and NI-Gas Energy Consultant Dick Frake surveyed three Skokie schools. NI-Gas Glenview District Superintendent Dick Leider says the service is available at no cost to public and parochial schools and municipal buildings NI-Gas serves. Survey and scheduling information is available from Leider or Frake in the NI-Gas Glenview office.

Niles CB'ers enjoy 'Good Buddy' dinner

The Village of Niles Citizens Alert Patrol Unit (NICAP) join each other in a dinner meeting at which several members of the CB Patrol were paid special honor by Niles Chief of Police Clarence Emrikson. This group of volunteer men and women, who live in Niles, give of their time to report suspicious subjects or activities to the Niles Police Department communications center. The dedicated volunteers patrol village streets, shopping centers, and parking lots where civic, church, and social gathering are taking place. Their objective and purpose is to report immediately any emergencies or suspicious activities. These volunteers are combating vandalism and have been responsible for the apprehension of offenders that have stemmed from minor vandalism to serious crime.

These patrol units who operate from unmarked vehicles, alert the radio center of the Niles Police Department, who immediately dispatch police patrol units to the suspicious area. The Village of Niles is tremendously proud of having another tool to deter crime—NICAP—the CB reporter!

Presently, the Niles Police Department is looking for more CB members. Information on joining this select group can be obtained from the Niles Police Department coordinator Officer Robert Klein, who can be reached at 647-0400. Join the fight against crime and vandalism—join NICAP and be another arm of the Niles Police Department.

NI-Gas warns: Beware of imposters

Be on the alert for persons posing as employees of Northern Illinois Gas (NI-Gas), the company warns.

Most service calls are made only at the customer's request. In certain areas, however, utility employees may need admittance to obtain a meter reading, exchange a meter or turn service on or off during main construction.

Customers are encouraged to ask for caller's identification card to confirm the person is a NI-Gas employee.

Employees never collect money from customers for service work performed. Any charges are included in regular bills.

If the caller cannot be confirmed as a gas company employee, contact local authorities or the nearest NI-Gas office listed in the telephone directory, the company advises.

Motor fuel tax

Illinois municipalities have been allotted $10,433,843 as their share of motor fuel tax paid into the State Treasury during November, according to the Illinois Department of Transportation.

Motor fuel tax funds are allocated monthly to the various municipalities in Illinois for their streets and highways. The monies allocated are computed on the basis of population.

The allotments to certain of the municipalities follow: Des Plaines, $61,675 and Niles, $34,105.

As a gas company employee, contact local authorities or the nearest NI-Gas office listed in the telephone directory, the company advises.

Larry Gomberg seeks 4th District seat

Larry Gomberg, Democratic party candidate for state representative in the Fourth legislative district of Illinois announced December 21 his intention to conduct a campaign based on a commitment to honesty, a desire to relate to people, and the ability to fully discuss pertinent issues.

As Mr. Gomberg explained, "I believe that today's politically aware voters demand intelligence from their elected officials. Further, an accomplished candidate must be able to relate to his constituents, on a personal basis and not be so pompous as to underestimate the power to concerned citizens."

Mr. Gomberg stressed that the Watergate experience has brought forth the need for elected officials who speak honestly with people about what government can and cannot do. "The era of the politician who promises all and delivers little has ended. Voters are now more than ever demanding truth and responsiveness in government. In an era such as this, honesty is truly the best policy to follow."

Awarded scholarship

One student in each undergraduate college at the three University of Illinois campuses has been awarded a new $1,000 FMC Merit Scholarship.

Gov. Thompson to headline Porter dinner

Gov. James Thompson will be the main speaker at a $100-a-plate dinner for John Porter at 6:15 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 15, at the Chicago Marriott O'Hare, 8535 W. Higgins rd.

Thompson will be joined by a number of Illinois Republican Congressman and legislators honoring Porter, the GOP candidate for Congress in the 10th District special election Jan. 22.

The dinner is being sponsored by the Porter for Congress Committee, headed by Frank W. Conidine, and Donald Rumsfeld, co-chairman, and Emory Williams, finance chairman.

Tickets may be reserved by calling the Porter headquarters at 676-9060.

The fund-raiser will be similar in format to dinners in behalf of Porter in the fall of 1978, when former President Gerald Ford was the main speaker, and last June 13, when Anne Armstrong, former ambassador to the Court of St. James, was the speaker.

Weinberger to open Des Plaines office

Democratic Congressional nominee Robert Weinberger today announced plans to open a Weinberger for Congress office in Des Plaines.

The headquarters will be at 1526 Miner rd. and will be headed by Shirley Sandelands of the Illinois Education Association. Sandelands teaches government at Maine South High School.

"The Weinberger campaign has outgrown the main office in Skokie," said Bob Bedard, Weinberger's campaign manager. "Our Des Plaines office will also make it more convenient for supporters in the western part of the district to help out."

The headquarters will coordinate phoning, literature drops and volunteer recruitment and will be sponsored by Niles Mayor Nicholas Blase, committeeman in Maine Township.

Kurt Becker, Des Plaines Political Action coordinator for former Congressman Abner Mikva has joined the Weinberger campaign and will also work from the Des Plaines office.

The office will be open before Christmas, but the official opening celebration will be January 4. More information will be available later.

WILL BURYING NUCLEAR WASTE BURY US ALL?

It's enough to strike fear in anyone's heart. Nuclear waste, by-product of every reactor in the world, radioactive for tens of thousands of years, lying there like some malevolent genie in a bottle waiting to be let loose.

That's what the future of commercial nuclear power hinges on. What do we do with the waste? Where on earth is it safe? Can burying it really keep it from coming back to kill us?

No matter what you've heard, there are answers. Solutions exist. Now.

One is reprocessing. Dissolving spent fuel rods in a strong acid, then separating out the plutonium and leftover uranium for reuse. It leaves just four percent of the total to bury. And in six hundred years, that four percent won't contain any more radioactivity than all the uranium ore mined to make the fuel in the first place.

Now, if six hundred years still sounds like an eternity, consider the process called vitrification.

In plain English, that means immobilizing the waste. Actually turning it into a piece of solid glass. Inert, chemically stable glass, enclosed in a steel jacket an inch thick and buried.

Really buried. A good two thousand feet down in a bone-dry salt bed or granite formation whose very existence means it hasn't been disturbed by groundwater or an earthquake in at least ten million years. And in all probability, won't be for millions more.

But what if? If there were a quake. If the shifting earth drowned the site in a river of water. If the steel jacket ripped apart. If the glass inside were exposed to the current for ages to come. If somehow, in some inexplicable way, though glass is highly insoluble in water, it still managed to dissolve. And the water, though separated from the surface by two thousand feet of rock and soil, still managed to find a way up.

If all that happened, against all odds, the very volume of water would dilute the dissolved waste even further. And the slow flow (groundwater travels less than a hundred yards a year) would give the radioactivity remaining more than enough time to decay to about the same level as the background radiation we're exposed to all the time.

None of that is a pipedream. It's fact. Documented fact. Spelled out again and again in countless government reports and independent studies. Proven again and again in exhaustive tests and pilot projects (in England, France, Germany, Sweden and Canada, as well as Kansas, Nevada and Washington State). And almost universally accepted by the scientific and technical community world-wide.

What's more, there are literally thousands of square miles of salt beds and granite formations under America, and only a few square miles could easily hold every ounce of high-level waste generated by all our nuclear power plants put together. Not to mention the eighty million gallons stored up in the thirty-five years our country has been making atomic weapons.

The only problem we haven't solved yet is how to get the show on the road.

We can't reprocess because the government won't okay it. Despite the knowledge that every pound of plutonium we salvage not only leaves one less to bury, but also can produce as much energy as seven hundred fifty tons of coal or one hundred thirty thousand gallons of oil.

And we can't bury what we've already got, even though doing it safely doesn't depend on reprocessing, because Congress gave the government a monopoly on permanent storage back in 1970. And despite the weight of affirmative evidence, it hasn't acted yet.

The problem is, if all seventy-two nuclear power plants in the United States vanished tomorrow, nuclear waste wouldn't. There's still a lot sitting around, and less than one percent of it is from power plants. Remember, years of nuclear weapons production have amassed eighty million gallons, and there's more coming.

Isn't it time we laid the problem to rest?

Workshop for prospective school board members

A workshop for prospective board of education members will be held at the Niles Township High School District 219 offices, 7700 Gross Point rd., on January 22 for 7:30-9 p.m. The session, which is intended for anyone interested in serving on the boards of districts 67, 68, 69, 70, 71, 72, 73, 73½, 74, or 219, is being sponsored by the Niles Township Council of School Boards Consortium on Community Relations.

According to Mr. Tom Giles, District 219 Administrative Assistant, who is coordinating the workshop, the program is being held to stimulate interest among areas residents in serving on local school boards. "Now, more than ever," said Mr. Giles,

"community involvement on the board level is crucial to the education of our children. We want anyone who thinks he may be qualified for board service and is interested in our schools to attend this workshop."

Dr. John Beckwith, Superintendent of Kenilworth District 38 and Mrs. Shirley Garland, former District 219 board president are guest speakers. Workshop topics will deal with school board procedures as well as the legal and other responsibilities of board members.

There is no charge for attending the workshop. For more information, please call 966-3800, ext. 1216.

Evaluation team coming to MTSEP

The Illinois State Board of Education will be conducting a supervision and recognition visit of the Maine Township Special Education Program (MTSEP) Monday through Friday, Jan. 7-11. MTSEP serves Maine Township High School District 207 and Des Plaines School District 62, East Maine School District 63, and Park Ridge School District 64.

Because the evaluation team would like the opportunity to meet with parents of special education students, an open parent meeting has been scheduled from 7 to 8:30 p.m., on Monday, Jan. 7 at Maine North High School, 9511 Harrison, Des Plaines. The meeting will be held in the school's Little Theatre.

Parents of any special education student are invited to attend and participate in discussions with the evaluation team members.

Edison launches new ad series

This week, Commonwealth Edison is beginning a series of newspaper ads designed to give the public more information about the major issues affecting electric power in Chicago and northern Illinois, the company announced Thursday, December 20.

The first two ads in the series will address the need for adequate rates as well as Edison's viewpoint on the safe disposal of high level nuclear wastes, according to Richard A. Thorsen, Director of Advertising.

"These ads mark an important shift in the way we communicate with the public," Thorsen declared. "As we enter the 1980s, the nation is at a critical juncture in energy planning. We feel it's vital that all positions on the issue be clearly understood."

Thorsen noted a large number of news stories that directly or indirectly deal with electric energy, observing that the company's position is sometimes neglected or misinterpreted.

"We've found that the best and most cost effective way to get our message to the people is by advertising," he maintains. "This way we're certain our facts are getting through to the majority of our customers."

In a recent Edison survey, Thorsen continued, 75 percent of the customers questioned said they wanted to learn more about the issues affecting nuclear energy.

"Over the coming months, we hope people will gain a better understanding, not only of our nuclear program, but of other facets of our operations, as well," he stated.

Thorsen emphasized that costs of the advertising are being borne entirely by the company and it is not published at customers' expense.

ED HANSON

"Think like a man, act like a lady and work like a dog"

The above titled new book is another one of those on how you can realize the 'American Dream' Books Win Success! Fame! Acclaim!

It sells for $8.95. If you buy next week's Bugle, for 20 cents and read my column, you can save $8.95, and get a better success formula to boot.

AND, you won't have to "work like a dog" either. Remember, if you work hard, it causes you to sweat. This causes you to get the "sour smell of failure" rather than the "sweet smell of success."

Besides the big bucks, the millions of bucks are made by guys and dolls with talent.

My next week's column is too long to publish during these holidays. I worked on it, I've sweated over it. But I guarantee you even if you're a no-talent guy or a no-talent gal, you can make a few measly millions. I'll tell how next week for 20 cents.

Ron Brisk of automotive fame is hanging on the ropes. There's nine hundred and thirty copies of my last week's column about the bucks worth of FREE gas in his station this morning (Mon. Dec. 31). By next week there'll be twice that many. (see how easy I made the $1,000 without working).

The guys manning his pumps have been working like dogs and sweatin' like hogs in a sauna bath. And Ron Brisk has been worrying like a worry wart on a heffer's back about all the dough he's losin'.

Now he's putting on the cry baby act that I didn't play fair. He claims I had a bunch of shills stuff the ballot box, by distributing my column in shopping centers, etc. I didn't tell 'em to. I can't help it if women feel sorry for me because I'm old, and poor and humble. I told Ron if he's got a beef, write a letter to the editor. (More about this next week.)

DON'T MISS '1941' starring John Belushi. I know the critics panned it. I know it's billed as a comedy, which it is not!

It's the greatest World War II movie ever made! It tells the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, so help me, George Burns.

The only way this picture would have been permitted to be shown in the U.S.A. was by disguising it as a comedy.

I was there I know! This is the way it happened!

'1941', greater than 'Patton', 'The Big Parade', 'Battlefield', 'Apocalypse Now' rolled into one...it's a blockbuster. There isn't an ounce of slapstick in it.

Dyed & quilted fabric art display

Dyed and quilted fabric art by Krys Placek Stephenson will be displayed during January in the Spiesberger Gallery of Mayer Kaplan Jewish Community Center, 5650 W. Church, Skokie. The opening of the show is January 6, from 7-9 p.m.

These pieces are meant to be worn or to be hung. They are functional as well as decorative. The artist has displayed at shows of the North Shore League. Stephenson, who teaches Fabric Design at the "J," studied quilting techniques with designers Kay Ludyen and Ed Koziumi of the Contemporary Quilt in Chicago. She studied painting with Antonia Williams of California.

The 20 works on display are painted with dyes on natural fiber fabrics and are further developed by stitching and stuffing, trapunto, and English padding to create surface relief.

The pieces include framed stuffed paintings, quilted and dyed wall hangings, soft boxes for jewelry, scarves, pillows, and a unique full size bedspread.

Themes of the works draw holistically from the spiritual and physical nature of man: "The Desert Shall Bloom," "Burning Bush," "The Seventh Day" reflect spiritual concepts. "Judy's Meadow," "Wings of Eagles" and "Day Spring" reflect nature and its realities. Call 675-2200 for information.

BUSINESS

Niles Savings celebrating 20th year of business

It's a special time of the year and Niles Savings is celebrating its 20th year of business. The officers and staff are extending a hearty welcome to visit any of the associations offices over the coming weeks and take part in the festivities. There are prizes for all who come, gifts for savers and a Special Prize Drawing to be held on Feb. 16, 1980 to determine the lucky winners of over 100 household gifts.

Norman B. Prestine, Vice President, stated, "The S & L industry began with people pooling their funds together to lend to those in the community for their own home. Back then, as well as today, friendship was the key ingredient to a growing relationship with the community."

"Today with all the progress that has taken place in the industry, many institutions unknowingly tend to place less priority on friendship and more to the pressing issues of business. This is not the case at Niles Savings. Being the first savings association to open in Niles, we know that our friendship with customers is where it all started and is the reason for the tremendous progress which has taken place over the past 20 years. Friendship remains one of the most important factors in our continued success and along with all of the new expansion planned in the years ahead, we pledge to continue striving to obtain more friends in all of our market areas."

Niles Savings has grown to near 80 million dollars in assets, expanded to three offices, established a service corporation to expand the services it can offer to customers, added a new computer system, remodeled and expanded its 7077 Dempster st. office, and continually offers the most up to date service list in the area.

"May we simply say 'Thank You' to our customers, our great community, directors, officers, and staff for loyal and unfailing support. We are convinced that we shall continue to grow together, helping each other to achieve our individual plans and objectives. For this reason, we are optimistic about our performance, not only for the new year to come, but in the next 20 years of Niles Savings' history," concluded Prestine.

police which led to the apprehension of Bartall.

In a second case Monday, Skoklan Brad Lieberman has a seven-count indictment handed down by the Cook County grand jury, six of the counts being for rape.

A composite drawing of an assumed rapist of a Niles girl drawn by the Cook County police led to the eventual arrest of Lieberman. Two tactical police officers stopped a car driven by a man - Lieberman - who fit that description. But after questioning him, and noting his license number, they let him go because they were not sure he was the right man. Subsequently, the written license number was inadvertently thrown away. But with the help of a hypnotist, one of the police officers remembered three of the numbers of the license plates, which eventually led to Lieberman's re-apprehension.

This was a second example of two police departments working together which resulted in the apprehension of men suspected of being involved in illegal actions.

In our more abrasive moments during the past decade, we had run-ins with Morton Grove's and Niles' police departments. In MG, Captain Schey, who heads the investigation of the murder of the two girls who were found in the forest preserve, took umbrage with The Bugle because we queried why the Cook County police department was not asked to help with the investigation. The man took offense that we should imply additional help might aid in solving this case. Actually, a Niles policeman told us he was dismayed with the way Morton Grove ignored outside help, and our questioning Schey was an extension of the Niles policeman's thoughts.

The two cases of cooperation between departments we cited in earlier paragraphs seems to substantiate all the expertise policemen can muster should be put to use in solving local crimes.

In Niles we've had a running battle with top brass in the police department for the past 3 years. It all began when several Niles policemen told us morale in the department was at its nadir. The policemen specifically pointed to the police chief's assistant as one of the main reasons for the problems within the department. After many Bugle articles the public officials got off their duffers, paid several thousand dollars to a management firm, which told them among many things the police chief's assistant was one of the problems in the force. Subsequently, he was moved out from his job.

We're now into a new decade and the juices are beginning to flow again after the holiday hiatus. One prediction which will be 100% accurate is The Bugle will be persona non-grata with the many local guys (and gals) in authority in the coming years.

In the late 70's, besides police captains and chiefs who looked down upon us, the union heads of the teachers' union in District 63 put us on their "bad guy" list. A couple of years previously they had sent a letter of recommendation to the Illinois Press Association suggesting we should be a candidate for Editor of The Year award. But when we didn't side with them during their last strike they concluded The Bugle wasn't good enough even to wrap their dirty linen in.

We'll go on writing it as we see it. But actually, the years really don't change people's thinking much. Back in 1961 we were one of Nick Blase's major backers when he upset the incumbent who had been in office in Niles for the previous 20 years. The night Nick won, the then Niles Police Chief Bob Romey stopped talking to us. He was so angry with the outcome of the election (and subsequently his job) he froze us out of any conversation with him. Nineteen years later the present Niles police chief passes us by without a nod.

Who said the new years bring changes?

Sprees shooting . . .

Christie said Chicago police were then notified of the arrest because of Bartall's shooting spree and the fact that a woman was involved in the shooting. Bartall's weapon, a 9mm. automatic in a shoulder holster, was confiscated by police at the time of his arrest.

Detectives said that after extensive questions with his father present, Bartall finally broke down and allegedly admitted to the shooting of Betty Quinn, a college student home for Christmas vacation. Miss Quinn, 3617 W. Armitage, Chicago, a student at Southern Illinois University in Carbondale, was standing with friends in a Jewel Foods parking lot in the 8800 block of north Milwaukee ave. in Chicago about 3 a.m. Sunday when she was killed instantly by a shot fired from a passing auto. Bartall told police he didn't mean to shoot anyone and was just "going down the street firing at walls and things." He was charged with involuntary manslaughter, attempted aggravated battery, armed violence and unlawful use of a weapon. Police said they had no evidence that Bartall, who has no previous arrest record, was under the influence of drugs or alcohol at the time of either shooting.

Traffic murder . . .

Last Sunday Silvio and his nephew Zia were charged with the murder of Youkhana for telling him to cross the road at the time they saw the Maletti car approaching. Both men were held on $500,000 bond each in the McHenry County jail.

State's Attorney Floro said they told police there was no insurance policy on Youkhana, but they had planned to sue whoever hit him.

All traffic charges against Mrs. Maletti have been taken under advisement in light of the murder charges against Silvio and Zia.
