District 63 special ed teachers seek bargaining recognition

by Eileen Hirschfeld

An organization of about 60 special education teachers from Maine Township Special Education Program, MTSEP, are asking recognition as a bargaining unit from MTSEP's member districts, Districts 62, 63, 64 and High School District

207. A plea for recognition was brought before the East Maine District 63 board by Esther Kusy-Levitt at a regularly scheduled meeting Jan. 22 in Apollo Junior High School, 10100 Dee rd., Des Plaines.

2,946 children are enrolled in special education from the four districts. These include high incidence children such as those with learning disabilities, low incidence such as the visually and hearing impaired and children in private institutions.

Kusy-Levitt asked the board to discuss the matter in executive session and provide the organization of Maine Township Special Education Teachers (tentatively named MTSEA) with an answer in seven days.

MTSEA formerly asked for recognition from MTSEP at a Jan. 9 meeting. According to Donald Stetina, acting superintendent of District 63, such an agreement may only be entered into by the districts on an individual basis. Dr. Richard Short, Superintendent of 207 which is MTSEP's administrative unit, has said in a previous interview that he was not in favor of another bargaining

From the LEFT HAND

by David (Bud) Besser

"I watch them come and go," is the way Eddie Bacher sums up 40 years of service to the Village of Niles.

Ed told us at lunch Monday how he came out to Niles after his parents died when he was 13 years old. He and his brother Charley lived across the street from the framed firehouse, next to today's court building, just south of Touhy on Milwaukee ave.

When there was a fire the brothers would run across the street, get aboard the 1925 Reo pumper, and head for a farm area where there was a fire.

When they returned to the fire barn, all the volunteers went home leaving Eddie the job of rolling up all the hoses. For each firebell answered Ed said he received $1 per fire call, though he admits $1 then could be compared with $10 today.

The next piece of fire equipment was a Chevy truck which held 100 gallons of foam. He emphasized there was no water for fires in those days, and most of Niles consisted of farms.

Ed's first major job as a young man was at Niles garage working for a John Lenzen. He said in those days Niles' first

Weinberger announces intent to run again in March primary

Porter wins 10th District election

by Diane Miller

With the official vote tally barely registered in the 10th District, the losing Democratic candidate Robert Weinberger has announced his intent to seek the congressional seat in the March 18 primary from Republican John Porter who won Tuesday's election by a 55% vote margin.

Porter, who had been a heavy favorite to win the seat vacated by Democrat Representative Abner J. Mikva, held a steady lead Tuesday night after a surprisingly low voter turnout.

The 10th Congressional District, which had become accustomed to 80% voter turnouts in the past two elections, recorded only 25% show in Tuesday's election. In 1976 when Democrat Mikva won by only a 200 vote margin over Republican Sam Young, 200,000 votes were cast at the polls. In 1978 Mikva retained his congressional seat by 1,200 votes over GOP candidate John Porter in another close election where 162,934 ballots were cast.

Safety Hints

by Alan J. Dixon

Secretary of State

Freezing and sub-zero temperatures return to Illinois at this time of year. The cold weather will affect the performance of your car, and one of the first indications is that it takes awhile to warm up your vehicle's engine.

Attempting to accelerate quickly when the engine is cold will only result in having it sputter and stop.

Caution is particularly important when the streets and roads are wet, icy or snow packed. If you do stall, it is difficult for moving vehicles to stop as quickly as in normal circumstances.

Be sure to use caution when you are backing out of your driveway into traffic - stop, look and listen. Once you have backed into the street, it may take a few extra seconds to start moving forward if you are on slick pavement.

A copy of the Rules of the Road booklet will be sent to you upon request. Write to Alan J. Dixon, Secretary of State, Springfield, IL 62756.

Porter ...

Porter had maintained a continuous campaign since the 1978 election and successfully beat opponent John Nimrod in the December primary.

Democrat Robert Weinberger campaigned vigorously for Tuesday's election and his aides noted his strength was in Niles Township. His surprisingly good show was attributed to his vigorous campaign and low voter turnout. Porter aides had hoped for a large turnout, but felt the cold and windy weather played a part in the low response. His supporters at the Holiday Inn victory headquarters in Evanston Tuesday night did much nervous pacing while watching the election returns as they were recorded on the blackboard.

With 536 of the district's 548 precincts reported as of press time, Porter had 36,529 votes and Weinberger had 29,737. In Maine Township Porter tallied 8,452 votes to Weinberger's 4,396.

Porter, 44, a 3-term state senator (1972-78) from the 1st District and an Evanston attorney, will now give the Illinois congressional delegation a 13-11 Republican edge in Washington.

a family oriented all day affair," according to Dave Huber, Director of Parks and Recreation.

The American Legion has already contacted the Park District regarding their desire to sponsor the rides. Huber and Superintendent of Recreation Richard Grodsky will now present their plans to the Chamber of Commerce. The hope is that a committee will be formed from the Chamber, Park District, and other interested groups.

Although Park Board members expressed their strong support for the event at last Monday's board meeting, they were concerned that insurance coverage be closely investigated and liabilities determined.

In other Park District business, Board Member Ron Piper noted that of the 52 programs offered this session, only 16 had to be cancelled. He was pleased with this 69% success rate, and gave credit to Grodsky and his "excellent" winter brochure.

Bids were disclosed for the printing of four brochures for the coming year. Franklin Press was awarded the contract with a bid of $7948.

Expenditures that the Park District feels it must meet will approach $8000 to replace 17 year old pool filters at Harrer Park and to repair work at Oriole. A stainless steel heat exchanger is needed at the community center, where the whirlpool's chlorinated water is ruining the boiler.

Park Board Members expressed great concern over possible funding cuts from Springfield, as a reaction to the Chicago school crisis. Huber urged those interested to contact state legislators concerning upcoming bills.

Salaries of MTSEP teachers are based on a composite of salaries in the three grade school districts and benefits are based on those of 207 teachers.

According to Mary Jane Soller, MTSEA president, MTSEP teachers follow 207 policy in regard to evaluation, leaves, insurance coverage, voluntary early retirement and a Reduction-In-Force procedure.

Areas which are ambiguous or not resolved concern publication of teaching vacancies, right to representation, personnel file procedure, notice of changed assignments and a grievance procedure.

According to the salary schedule, teachers with a bachelor's degree at the base salary earn $11,540. Those with a master's degree and 30 hours may earn up to $22,970.

Mrs. Sharon Stone, National Council of Jewish Women, explained the Safety-Town program at Nelson school. She said the cooperative program with the district was begun about five years ago. Since that time, about 1800 children have learned safety regarding such matters as traffic, poison, drugs, and fire. Children ages four to seven are included in the program.

Stone asked the board renew its agreement with the Council for the coming summer. A resolution was approved to provide facilities at Nelson school.

A lengthy discussion concerning the feasibility of providing a comparison of this year's budget with the former fiscal year was begun by Norman Padnos, board member. Other board members questioned high costs for printing, heating and vandalism.

program is available, without cost, to any and all Niles residents and no appointment is required. There are no readings taken during the months of July and August.

The program is the Village's way of making residents aware of the effects of hypertension. There are no symptoms for this disease, the only way it can be determined is to have your blood pressure checked several times a year. The staff that conducts the readings are from the Village Health Department and volunteer workers, who are specially trained by the North Cook County Heart Association.

Heart disease, stroke, and related disorders will cause half of all deaths this year, according to the American Heart Association.

Niles safety ...

The Department can test any furnace boiler or central heating system for carbon monoxide emission. Instrument readings are taken of the ambient air in each room of the house or business to determine if the heating unit is releasing carbon monoxide into the building. The Department is especially concerned with furnaces that are 15 years or older and units that have not been inspected for the last ten years.

Carbon monoxide is very poisonous. If fumes are present in a building, it can cause headaches, dizziness, red skin, and light-headedness.

If you wish to have your heating unit checked, the Housing Department suggests you come to the Village Administration Building, 7601 N. Milwaukee ave., and make the necessary arrangements. You should know the make and the year your furnace was installed and when it was last tested. An appointment will be made for this carbon monoxide test.

For additional information, call the Housing Department at 967-6100, ext. 36.

District 207 Board reports on planning progress

At the Jan. 7 meeting of the Board of Education of Maine Township High School District 207 it was reported that the long-range planning report, in its entirety, will be ready for distribution by Feb. 1.

The Board also established a special credentials meeting, on Thursday, Jan. 31, at the Ralph Frost Administration Center, 1131 S. Dee, Park Ridge, to review those nominees wishing to become members of the 140-person Citizens' Advisory Committee to the Board on long-range planning for the District. The Board will be seeking broad-based representation on the citizens' committee.

Last week approximately 200 letters containing nearly 800 application forms were mailed to community leaders representing schools, churches and synagogues, civic and business groups throughout Maine Township inviting them to nominate candidates to the citizens' committee.

Applications were also mailed to many persons who have already expressed interest in participating in the advisory committee as a result of newspaper stories on the formation of the committee, called Project SEE (Secondary Education for the Eighties).

All completed application forms must be in the hands of the school district by Jan. 25. Application forms may still be obtained by calling the District office at 696-3860, ext. 16.

In other business, the Board:

- Learned that District 207 will receive approximately $1,480,000 through the replacement tax for corporate personal property.
- Allocated $2,500 for curriculum work for the summer of 1980. The sum of $15,000 was allocated for summer curriculum proposals last year. Budgetary restraints forced another reduction from the $20,000 that previously was allocated for this purpose.

• Requested a report from the administration on the impact of the newly enacted state law on Reduction in Force (RIF) for 1980-81.

A recent amendment to state law requires that the tenured teacher or teachers with the shorter length of continuing service with the school district be dismissed first unless an alternative method of determining the sequence of dismissal is established in a collective bargaining agreement.

A revision in the RIF procedure for District 207 was part of the negotiations package voted down by the Maine Teachers Association last month.

The Superintendent called the Board's attention to the problems on planning and staffing for 1980-81 as a result of the revised state law but indicated that reduction in numbers of staff continues to be necessary because of the expectation of significant decline in student enrollment for 1980-81.

police chief was Pete Osuluzki, and Pete's brother, Mike, who was into politics, was the first owner of the restaurant which is now the White Eagle.

Ed's mind roamed the past. In those halcyon days of the early 30's, the picnic groves behind the Marvel Inn and other restaurant-taverns on the east side of Milwaukee ave. were always loaded with people during the summer weekends. Ed said he and his buddies used to "horn in" on the games and drinks and food, mingling with the crowds which came from Chicago. The picnic grove fun ended when the forest preserve areas took over the activities formerly allotted to the private picnic groves.

In those early Niles days residents used to burn their garbage every day behind their homes. In the spring the farmers would pick up the cinders and carry them to the dumps which were located at Cherry and Franks and where the present Capri Motel now stands.

The initial truck which hauled away garbage for the village was a one-ton dump truck. Ed said a George Mrovok(?), who sold coal in town, was the first hauler-away of Niles refuse, hauling garbage away on Friday morning and rubbish on Friday afternoon.

Niles acquired a '46 Ford garbage truck-packer as its first legitimate garbage truck and it went to Glenview where the Cowhey brothers ran two dumps. The local Lutter Brick Company helped with this project. Subsequently, Niles acquired 2 Diamond two-ton truck packers. Former trustee John Poeschl later led the way for disposal to be picked up by a private scavenger, Glen Golf Disposal, which Eddie said turned out to be a good deal for the village.

Ed continuously mentioned the dedication and devotion the old timers gave to Niles. He said in 1954 Public Works volunteers, as well as others, built with donations the fire station on Milwaukee ave. Ed said the lumber, trusses and joists were all donated. Denis Nielsen, a former trustee who worked in the building trades, was able to get much of this material, including heaters for the fire stations, which were also donated.

Back in the Worlds Fair Days of 1933-34, the village built plaster board and window sashes which were being dismantled, and they were used to build the village hall, which is now the courtroom. He said the cemetery people donated radiators for the hall, and a contractor, Alex Ranieri, donated the furniture and actually built the hall without charge. In exchange the village gave Ranieri the sewer and water contract for the entire village. Ed said every weekend dedicated people volunteered their help to build these projects for Niles without compensation.

Ed noted the village didn't grow much until after World War II. The Waukegan-Cleveland area was the first residential project which was built for veterans. In the Keeney-Monroe area Osceola was the first street completed at the north end of town.

Random thoughts culled during the 90 minutes with Ed included his remembrance of Niles' first real estate office at Oakton and Milwaukee owned by people named Krewn and Dato. He said there was some connection with the Insull-McCormick interests, which put in 10 foot sidewalks on Oakton st. but they went broke during the depression ending any hopes for Niles' growth during those years.

Ed said in 1933 Bob Romey became police chief making $125 a month. Policemen in the 3-man department included Eddie Krezak, Charley Zaleski and Joe Cartinzarro. The first police car was an orange color, a Ford which had no heater. Eddie Krezak, Charley Zaleski and Joe Cartinzarro. Eddie Bacher was a reserve policeman in those days. Two men manned the police radio, a man Bacher called "Smitty" and Floyd Chartrain, each of whom were paid $30 a month.

Niles' water connection with Chicago in those early years was at Albion ave. where 2 and 3 inch meters were connected. A Mr. Santucci built the first water reservoir at Harlem and Touhy. Ed said Niles always had water pressure problems noting the increased reservoirs built cross-connecting the system throughout the village.

Ed said a new Public Works Department building was promised behind the present police station. He said the construction behind the police department has a 15 inch thick floor which was planned for use for the Public Works new building. An underground garage was also promised. Somewhat bitterly, Ed said Niles' priorities first favored the police department, next the fire department and last, the public works department.

Other miscellaneous thoughts Ed mentioned included Niles fire department's number 3 rating. He said, "We worked our butts off" to acquire that high rating, second only to Chicago in the Chicagoland area.

He noted the bureau which rates the departments actually influenced the building of the new fire station in the industrial area. He said the bureau had no interest whatsoever in the fire department's other services which included medical help for the community.

Ed remembered early Niles Days. He said they used to sell chances for 10¢ and the grand prize was a Georgian house which was then worth about $5,000. He said they just barely made the money to cover the cost.

Ed noted volunteer help built tennis courts, swings and a skating rink at Jozwiak Park. Both the park and equipment were paid for with Niles Days funds. Grennan Heights and Oakton Manor parks were also purchased with Niles Days funds and again this same volunteer help built improvements at both parks. The first fieldhouse at Grennan Heights was built entirely with free materials and volunteer workers.

Ed looked back on the years. "I never turned anyone down ... I went to work every day, often feeling sick as a dog ... and the guys who made this town made little money, but never squawked about the work they were asked to do."

This Friday night we'll all be at the White Eagle, saluting Eddie for all he's done for the community.

With Ed's retirement it really seals the end of an era in Niles. Eddie's work heading the Public Works Department can never be measured by any paychecks. He gave and gave and gave of himself, because that's what the guy is all about. He was an assistant fire chief in past days, fighting 5 a.m. fires in bitter coldness. He'd go home, change his stiff, frozen clothes and shift over to the Public Works Department, helping to clear the streets for endless hours. And on weekends he was giving of his time, without pay, because he truly loved his Niles, in the way few of us could ever understand.

This town was built by Ed Bacher, and many like him, though frankly there never were many like him. More precisely, there has only been one Eddie Bacher.

Tree Donations ...

A second donation was received on Jan. 11 from the Old Orchard AZA B'nai B'rith Youth Group. The $50 donation was made according to Ron Spitz, Youth Camp Advisor, "to thank Skokie Park District for all of the cooperation the Park District has given to the group over the past few years."

The Old Orchard AZA, which is comprised of Skokie high school age men most of whom attend Niles North High School, raised the money at a "loot box" sale held last October (1979).

Martin Brand, president of the youth group, reported that the fall fund raiser resulted in a collection of $300 of which $250 was donated to B'nai B'rith and the remainder being given to Skokie Park District.

In spring AZA Youth Group members, including officers Jordan Fritkin and Howard Dandinger, vice presidents and treasurer, Rick Strauss will attend the planting in Devonshire Park, 4400 Grove st.

In addition to the trees being planted for both the Ladies

Tax deductible contributions of $50 or more enable Skokie Park District to plant a tree in the park of the donor's choice. For further information, call 674-1500.
