Free blood pressure readings

Blood pressure readings will be taken on Thursday, Feb. 7, between 4 and 8 p.m. by the Niles Community Health Department at the Niles Administration Building, 7601 Milwaukee ave. This program, started in May 1974, has served over 10,000 participants. During these five and a half years many persons were found to have hypertension and have sought treatment. The readings take only a few minutes of your time, so stop in on Feb. 7 and see how your blood pressure is doing.

by David (Bud) Besser

I hope all of us suburbanites are paying close attention to the Chicago school fiasco. There's a message being sent to all of us from the big city which we'd all better understand. Since 70% of our local real estate tax bills are comprised of local school district costs, it's incumbent upon all of us to watch closely the people who are spending our school dollars.

Like the most popular girl on the block, Mayor Daley should have been saying "No" a lot more often than he said "Yes". His mythological success at running the "city that works" was a lot of political hokey. By caving in to demands for more services and higher salaries, he had the highest paid CTA drivers and school teachers and other public employees in the entire country rooting for him, and putting votes in Daley's political bank. Two years after he's gone, the guys who are paying the bills are finding there wasn't money to cover them. Daley got the votes, Chicagoans bragged their's was the city that wouldn't break down like other big cities, and now their kids are sitting at home while their schools remain closed.

Here in Maine and Niles Townships we aren't much smarter than the brethren in Chi town. We're talking about closing high schools in both townships. We're closing elementary schools in both townships. And the relatively new college in

Dr. Short named in top 100 school execs

Dr. Richard R. Short, Superintendent of Maine Township High School District 207 since 1966, has been named one of the top 100 school executives in North America by The Executive Educator, a publication of the National School Boards Association (NSBA).

Dr. Short, 52, a resident of Park Ridge, was cited by the magazine for the practice of participatory decision making within the four high school district and for his leadership in groups concerned with the broader interests of education.

Commenting on the decision of the NSBA publication to include him as a "top school executive", Dr. Short said: "It is an honor when persons in one's profession make a determination that the work an educator has been doing is deserving of recognition."

"It must be added," he said, "while the accolade may come

"It was the end of an era" was the comment said by many, as more than 500 people attended the retirement dinner for former Niles Public Works head Eddie Bacher Friday night.

The dinner-dance, held at the White Eagle Restaurant in Niles, was really a love-in between Bacher and the huge throng which turned out to honor Bacher, who served the village for more than 40 years.

While Bacher closed out the after-dinner speeches by jokingly telling the audience what a nice guy he is, a parade of 15 representatives from groups throughout the village gave presentations to Bacher during the festivities.

Niles village president Nick Blase gave the welcoming speech and cited Bacher's great dedication to Niles. He spoke of Eddie being "one of a kind" and noted this evening in Niles was the passing of an era.

The first presentation of the evening was made by Bill Hlavacek, who presented Bacher with a scanner-CB set from the administration employees of Niles.

Chamber of Commerce president Stan Niski presented Bacher with a plaque and Fire

and student Barbara Sullivan. The pictures were part of the contents of a time capsule which had been planted in the school wall in 1970 and was removed on Friday, Jan. 25. (Story on Page 2.)

Oak students open 10 year old time capsule

by Eileen Hirschfeld
Ten years ago, Richard Nixon was serving his second year in the White House, a total solar eclipse took place over Mexico and scientists predicted persons may be wearing gas masks to ward off pollution as early as 1980.

And ten years ago, fifth grade students from Oak school, 7640 Main st., Niles, decided to preserve these facts in a "time capsule" located in the building. At 10 a.m. Friday, Jan. 25, this capsule was taken from the wall over which was placed a small plaque reading: "Time Capsule - Presented by classes 5-A and 5-B, April, 1970, to be opened April, 1980 (by authority of the principal)".

Present at the opening were Kenneth C. Johansen, principal, Frank Weiler, custodian, Scott Giovannelli, student council president, and Barbara Sullivan, student council vice president, both sixth graders.

Although scheduled to be opened in April, Johansen decided the event should take place two months earlier so these students could be invited to a celebration of the school's 25th anniversary.

According to Johansen the fifth graders of 1970 had learned about time capsules and asked if they could place one in the school "for 50 or 100 years".

Johansen asked the youngsters to consider a more reasonable time frame so many of the students still may be living in the area. Evidently, the students have not forgotten their capsule. Johansen said he received a few calls regarding the opening.

Teachers of the two classes were Sylvia Little, now of California, and Sharon Romanos, Des Plaines.

Excitement increased as Weiler pulled out the capsule. Entering a nearby room, the group watched as Weiler cut the tape from the paper covering a plastic shoebox.

Removed from the "capsule" was a 1969 license plate, Illinois' first reflective plates and about nine large yellow envelopes containing information on current events such as the Viet Nam war and the first Earth Day, literature on Barbie dolls, a Flair pen and pencil, Oak school memos and District 83 newsletters as well as a list of fifth grade students with their class pictures.

Also enclosed was a letter addressed "Dear Students and Faculty of Oak School, 1980".

It read in part, "In 1969 man took his first step on the moon - where will he be by 1980? What new products will have been developed as a result of the space program? There is much concern these days about pollution - what will our land be like in 1980? Will Chicago's air be safe to breathe? What kind of engines will run our automobiles? And what about the war in Viet Nam - will it be over long before 1980? Will it have expanded?"

"These are some of the many questions we have about the future; questions which in many ways shape U.S. culture in 1970. We wonder how they will shape the culture of 1980?"

Scott said, "It was a big thrill to see something from 10 years ago." He was one year of age when the capsule was inserted into Oak school's wall.

He and Barbara agreed it would be fun to place another ten year capsule there.

As the group dispersed, Johansen said, "I'm going to pore over these things by myself."

Following is a list of the students who placed the capsule. David Berninger, Patricia Betailos, Brian Briars, Elizabeth Bruns, Floyd Dillman, Mark Dittman, Michael Eterno, Theresa Ferraro, Margaret Friedman, Cindy Henreid, Michael Janis, Dean Jones, Deanne Lammersfeld, Steven Leibfritz, Jamie Laundius, Joyce Porzak, Ronna Schendel, Rita Schneider, Linda Schroeder, Michael Sloan, Thomas Spine, Dena Walder, Michael Woeftel and Michael Grady.

Also, Gayle Benson, Robert Brownlow, Patricia Chazem, Andrew Ciabattari, Kenneth Dudzinski, Nancy Forty, Jean Gontarek, Marie Greco, Scott Ignatius, Jean Jarosz, Jill Jorgensen, Joseph Kozmer, Brian Klein, Judith Kriss, LuAnn Moratti, Denise Panek, Edward Sawchuk, Michael Schutten, Mark Stoyes, Thomas Thompson, Joseph Vito and Brenda Fuller.

Niles Public Library

People interested in listening to recorded music should begin to make regular visits to the Niles Public Library, 6960 Oakton st. During the next few months, the Library will be dramatically enlarging its collection of records. To make things simple, new records will be housed in a separate bin in front of the main record shelving.

1980 will find the Library entering the audio-visual field in a big way. Keep an eye on this paper for announcements and visit the Library regularly to see what is going on. Our staff will be glad to answer your questions.

One thing is for certain: the Niles Public Library will soon be books plus!

MEN'S CLUB
The Trident Men's Club is issuing an especially cordial invitation to all "senior" men of Niles to come and enjoy an afternoon of sociability, business, cards, pool, and refreshments on Friday, Feb. 15 at 1 p.m.

On Friday, Jan. 18, the Men's Club at the Trident Center, 8060 Oakton, to elect officers and set the program for the coming year. The new officers are: President Eugene Mowinski, Vice President Mike Salerno, Secretary Clarence Nelson, and Treasurer Don Ericson.

SIJ 55 Plus Club
We had a good time and big turnout at our Jan. 20 Crazy Auction & Bingo. 116 members attended and our auctioneer Ross Gowne certainly kept us on our toes bidding, and no one dared to scratch his or her head, move a finger, or look cross-eyed or you bought something! The hall rang out with laughter and merriment as the bids were made. A day of fun for all.

Our next meeting will be Feb. 14 which is Valentine's Day. As you all know we love fun and parties, so after the meeting we will have a Valentine party. Bingo, of course, and a game or two, a couple surprises, coffee cake, goodies. The only request we have is that you wear something red. It could be a sock, tie, shirt or even shorts, we don't care. Just as long as you have something red.

Just a reminder... "Dues are due". Please pay Louie Bassi, our membership chairman, as soon as possible. Your dues do not entirely fulfill your obligation of being a member. Participation in the club's activities and meetings is most desirable.

Ferdinand Schneider and Tess Land are both home from the hospital and doing well. In your prayers remember young Tony Anetew, grandson of Augie and Jeanette Franske, who underwent brain surgery and is in Children's Memorial Hospital. Betty Pape, our Sunshine Lady, asks that you let her know of anyone who is ill or in the hospital. Our sympathy to Art Rediger on the death of his mother.

"Thank You, Eddie"

On Friday, 1-25-80, Niles paid tribute to a man. What a night! It was really grand! Mr. Bacher is his name. Though he answers to Eddie just the same.

No pomp and circumstance does he demand, But 600 strong came from Niles and across the land; To say "Thank You" to this giant of a man, A friend and servant to all was his stand.

He served the Niles community as best he could, As a policeman, a fireman and an engineer should. But he'll long be remembered as "Mr. Public Works" For the name of "Eddie Bacher" is forever in the books.

Those who have come to know him best, Know that he did more than meet the test. His example of dedication and commitment was true, To those in Niles he was really true blue.

"Thank You, Eddie" for all you have done, We'll not forget you for our hearts you have won. Niles is a better place because you were here, You and your family we'll always hold dear.

St. John Brebeuf hosts Festival XI

The 1980 edition of Festival at St. John Brebeuf will be unveiled on the weekends of Feb. 8-9 and 15-16. The site for Festival is the school building at 8301 N. Harlem in Niles.

In the previous 10 years, nearly 60,000 patrons have enjoyed the finest in cabaret entertainment, a variety of dining experiences, and dancing to the best in popular music. Just as important to the community of St. John Brebeuf, nearly half a million dollars has been raised by Festival during those same 10 years—dollars which have been essential in maintaining parish and school services.

The seven cabaret shows of the 1980 Festival are Makin' It, Movin' Right Along, 20th Century Presents Applause, Applause, Young Americans' Neon Rainbow, Saturday Night Dead or Alive, They're Playing Our Song, and Pier Eleven Lounge. Curtain time each of the four evenings of Festival is 8 p.m. and performances are continuous.

Admission to all the activities of Festival is priced at $7. For additional information, contact Ted or Millie Kroll (967-5493) or the St. John Brebeuf rectory (966-8145).

Voter registration

Suburban Cook County residents can register to vote at North West Federal Savings, 9215 Skokie Blvd., just north of Church st., Skokie. Registration, which takes place now through Feb. 14, makes a person eligible to vote in the March primary election, and in subsequent elections.

Naturalized American Citizens are requested to bring their naturalization papers with them when they register. The North West Federal Skokie office is open 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Monday, Thursday, and Friday, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday, and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday.

NW Italians install new officers

On Saturday, Jan. 19, the Northwest Italian American Society celebrated their 11th installation by having a dinner dance at the Casa Royale in Des Plaines.

Newly installed officers were sworn in by the most honorable judge, Frank Barbaro.

Elected as follows are: President Anthony Durso, First Vice-President Michael Christie, Second Vice-President James Polise, Secretary/Treasurer Frank Baffa and Sgt.-At-Arms Joseph Salvaggio.

Elected to serve as members of the Board are: Anthony Scarlatti, Todd Bavaro, John Trippi, Thomas Imburgia, Perry Tacka, James Vanacora, and Nick Gargano.

President elect Anthony Durso pledged to move the society forward and continue to serve those less fortunate than we especially for the betterment of all mankind.

Outgoing first lady, Mary Tarica and incoming first lady Jennie Durso, were presented with bouquets of roses. Dancing followed into the early morning hours and a great time was had by all, thanks to Nick Gargano, Chairman.

Most notable dignitaries attending were Mayor Nicholas B. Blase, Senator Richard Daley, Judge Frank Barbaro and former Trustee Richard Harczak.

RTA improves service in North Suburban Cook County

In an effort to improve transportation in North Suburban Cook County, service will be increased on Routes 270 (Golf Mill-Jefferson Park) and 290 (Touhy ave.-Des Plaines-Park Ridge-Rogers Park) Monday, Jan. 28. Regional Transportation Authority officials announced today.

Two buses will be added to the routes so the frequency of service can be increased from 12 minutes to eight minutes. Both routes are operated by North Suburban Mass Transit District (NORTSUB), and RTA funded carrier.

"RTA is pleased once again to be able to meet the growing transit needs of North Suburban Cook County," said RTA Chairman Lewis W. Hill. "The increase in service was made possible with the cooperation of NORTSUB, and is an example of the public service RTA provides for residents in its six-county area." Route 270 operates daily from Golf Mill shopping center and the Jefferson Park CTA terminal via Milwaukee rd. Convenient connections can be made from the route to O'Hare airport, north-west Chicago, the Loop and other suburban services in Des Plaines, Woodfield, Park Ridge, and Elk Grove Village.

Route 290 is also a major transportation link in North Suburban Cook County, serving Des Plaines, Park Ridge and Rogers Park. The route operates between the Park Ridge Chicago and North Western train station and the Howard CTA terminal via Touhy ave.

For complete rail and bus information call RTA's Travel Information Center toll-free number, 800-927-7000.

Oakton plans first energy forum

Oakton Community College will present the first of four forums on energy issues on the 80s on Thursday, Feb. 21, at the Niles Public Library from 7 until 9 p.m.

Five authorities on energy will participate in a panel discussion, "Batten Down the Hatches—Energy Efficiency at Home."

Members of the panel are Jerry Hawk, energy consultant for Northern Illinois Gas, Ken Pientka, marketing engineer for Commonwealth Edison, Dr. Beth Hagens, professor of anthropology, Urban and Environmental Planning program, Governors State University, and Tim Philip, industrial art instructor, Evanston, Township High School, and representative of the Evanston Environmental Association.

Organizing and moderating the panel discussions for all four forums is: John Mikulski, associate professor of natural sciences at Oakton. Mikulski holds a master's degree in biology from Northeastern Illinois University, Chicago, and served as acting dean of Oakton's Learning Cluster II during the fall semester, 1979. He is a frequent instructor of the Colleges' Environmental Science course.

"Our basic goal for this forum is to inform and educate homeowners in the ways they can conserve energy at home," Mikulski said.

"We won't be emphasizing the usual means of conservation that you hear about, such as weatherstripping and insulation; rather, we will concentrate on less familiar ways that are available at reasonable costs to the

Parent Effectiveness Training

MaineStay Youth Services will offer the nationally recognized Parent Effectiveness Training course to parents residing in Maine Township.

The course is designed to teach parents how to improve communication with their children and how to listen so that children will share problems. Other sessions will include ways of getting kids to respect parents' needs; avoiding parent and child power struggles and preventing or changing unacceptable behavior.

The seven session course will be conducted by Roger Parrham, family counselor at MaineStay and certified PET instructor. Classes will meet Tuesday mornings from 9:15 to 11:30 a.m. beginning Feb. 5 at MaineStay's office, 2510 Dempster, Suite 114, Des Plaines.

Tuition for PET usually averages $65 per participant. MaineStay is offering the course for $25 to cover material costs. Spouses taking the course are admitted free. To register, phone MaineStay at 296-6644 before Feb. 1. Class size is limited.

This course is being offered in cooperation with Elementary School District 63. MaineStay is the program of Maine Township Committee on Youth, offering counseling and other helping services to young people and their families.

Health education series

Skokie Valley Community Hospital will offer a three-week health education series for the public on "Stress and Muscle Tension Reduction" from 7 to 8:15 p.m. Thursdays, Feb. 14, 21, and 28, in the hospital's south meeting room. Registration fee will be $20.

Speakers will be Linda Korolewski, M.A., M.P.H., stress consultant with the hospital's Good Health Program. Included in the series will be information on what stress is, where it comes from and how it affects the body. Muscle relaxation techniques to reduce stress and tension will also be practiced. Participants should wear comfortable, loose clothing and bring a blanket.

"Stress is believed to be a major factor in the development of a number of chronic diseases," Korolewski explained.

For further information and to register for the program, people should call the hospital's Good Health Program, 677-9600, ext. 376.

"Golden Day Care"

Goldman Home Administrator Ruth Cohen (center) discusses activities and health care services of new Golden Day Care, a supervised daytime program for the elderly, recently introduced at the Home. Her aides are (l to r) Director of Nursing Karen Carter, Asst. Director of Nursing June Comerford and Activities Director Debbie Green. A free brochure on the new program may be obtained by calling Day Care Coordinator Diane Goff at 647-9875 or visiting the Home at 6601 W. Touhy ave., Niles.

ETC. ETC. ETC.

No, the grass isn't always greener everywhere else. Higher than it is here. Big ones, like New York City, where it's nearly twice as much.

And some not-so-big ones, not so far away, where they pay more tax. In Lafayette and Des Moines and Terre Haute, for example. Even though it costs more here for land, taxes, wages and almost everything else we have to contend with, like laying 138,000-volt cables under downtown Chicago.

Now, if you're tempted to ask how come we're cheaper in spite of all that, there are really several answers. The fuel we use. About forty percent of it is uranium. And from a cost standpoint, that's as good as you can get. The innovative technology we've developed.

Like refrigerating those cables we mentioned so they can carry bigger loads. In other words, move more electricity for less money.

And something else just as important, called "economies of scale." Lower costs due to larger size. It saves us a bundle, which helps keep our rates down.

What it all means is that even with the rate increase we need when all's said and done, your electricity should still be cheaper. Because nobody's rates are going to stay where they are until America finally licks the problem of inflation. So the next time you think we're asking for too much, take a minute to think about the people in New York and Los Angeles and little Lafayette.

A lot of them would probably like to be in your shoes.

OCC starts indoor track season

The Oakton Community College indoor track team has begun practice in preparation for the coming season, according to coach Patrick Savage. The first real test of team strength will come on Feb. 2 in Champaign where the Raiders will be running in the Illini Open Track & Field Invitational. The team will be led by returning middle distance runner Mike Okazaki who hails from Niles West High School. Okazaki will be running the 800 in the Illini Invitational. Also running is All-Conference Cross Country runner Mark Buciak and Ed Santacruz, a graduate of Niles East who just transferred from Northern Illinois University. Returning letterman Mark Skarming, of Maine West, also will be running for the Raiders this year. Leading the women runners from OCC will be Peggy Noble who has been an All-State runner for 2 years in Cross Country. Noble also helped OCC win the state title last May in Track & Field with her second place finishes in the 3000 and 1500 meter races. Karen George and Charlene Bartlett, who also ran on OCC's winning Cross Country State Championship Team, will be running the distance races at Champaign. Julie Michalik who is ill will miss the first few meets but Coach Savage is expecting strong races from her when she returns to the team. Newcomer Lisa Gutziat, of Niles North should add depth to the OCC team. The Raiders are looking forward to a very successful track and field season, according to Savage. "We won't have a very large team but we will be strong in the events we enter," stated Savage.

Jewish H.S. football stars feted

The Chicago Jewish community will honor its top high school football players at a ceremony hosted by the Sentinel, Chicago's Jewish newsweekly, on Tuesday, Jan. 29, 8 p.m. at the North Shore Hilton Hotel. Prominent Chicagoans attending will include Sun-Times columnist Irv Kupcinet, who began his professional writing career as the Sentinel's sports editor, WGN sportscaster Jack Brickhouse, Federal Judge Abraham Lincoln Marovitz, former National Football League star Marshall Goldberg and baseball's Moose Skowron, who made all Big 10 at Purdue before he found fame with the Yankees and White Sox.

The feted athletes were nominated by their coaches for membership on the Sentinel's All Chicago Area High School Jewish Football Team. Chairman/organizer of the awards is Sentinel sports editor Harry Heller of Northbrook; Erwin "Red" Weiner, Cook County personnel director, is chairman. Local athletes receiving awards are: Mark Braidman, Barry Leb, Ken Andre, Dan Bartfeld, Matt Bender, Ron Braver, Marty Litwin and Alan Moltz, all of Skokie. Bruce Weil of Lincolnwood and Phil Wax and Ron Asher of Morton Grove.

Farewell party for Father Cerniglia

FATHER CERNIGLIA, moderator for the St. Isaac Jogues 55 Plus Club, has left the parish to become the pastor of Queen of the Rosary Parish in Elk Grove Village. We will all miss him.

In addition to a big parish party held for him on Sunday, Jan. 13 in the parish hall (which was, by the way, fantastic), the SJ 55 Plus Club had a party for him on Dec. 27. We know he will miss all his friends and parishioners. We all wish him good health and the Lord's blessings.

The Rt. Rev. James Montgomery, Episcopal bishop of Chicago, will officiate at the rite of confirmation Sunday, Feb. 3, at St. Anselm's Episcopal Church, 1600 N. Greenwood, Park Ridge.

Bishop Montgomery will be the official celebrant at the 10 a.m. service. The 8 a.m. and 1 p.m. services will be combined for the special service, said the Rev. William McCarthy, vicar.

The church's annual meeting will be part of the Bishop's visit. It will be held following the service.

A community dinner in the undercroft will conclude the Bishop's visitation day.

Edison Park Lutheran plans to aid handicapped

Joyce Pelzer, who directs the Program of Ministry with the Handicapped for the American Lutheran Church, recently presented a program at Edison Park Lutheran Church discussing "Barriers, Problems to the Handicapped." Joyce has been on crutches most of her life. She carries in her presence a great intellect, an engaging smile, and a challenge for the Church to look at its ministry to all people. Also present was Mr. Benny Anderson, a young man who has Cerebral Palsy and who heads "Break Through," which builds a new awareness of and sensitivity toward handicapped persons. Benny was at Edison Park Lutheran Church for two days and had a great impact on all who spoke with him.

During her program, Joyce asked for volunteers to be "handicapped" for a short time. Some wore slings to immobilize arms, eye patches for blindness and ear plugs for deafness. The "blind" were told to find their way through the Church rooms and halls; those partially "paralyzed" had to make a phone call using only one hand; the "deaf" tried to keep up with normal conversation by reading lips. The Rev. Paul Pfeiffer, of Faith Lutheran Church, sat in a wheelchair and was told to go upstairs to the Sanctuary. He quickly realized that without help it was impossible but said he didn't want to "impose" on anyone by asking for help.

The volunteers all expressed the fear, helplessness, and frustration they felt while "handicapped." During a panel discussion, it became evident that many handicapped people are excluded from worship and fellowship because of the Church's inaccessibility to them.

Ways of helping the handicapped at Edison Park Lutheran Church, and in the neighborhood, were suggested with a definite purpose of making the Church, located at Avondale and Oliphant aves., Chicago, more accessible to them.

There are many people in the community who find themselves excluded from Church services and it is the hope of Edison Park Lutheran that this situation can be changed in the near future.

St. Isaac Jogues Open House

With the theme of "The Catholic School: One of the Family", the entire staff and the students of St. Isaac Jogues School, 8101 Golf rd., Niles, extend to all parents, parishioners and friends an invitation to visit the school during Catholic Schools Week, Feb. 4 thru Feb. 8, 1980.

St. Isaac Jogues Elementary School opened to the people of Morton Grove, Niles and Glenview in 1957 and its goal has been the educational and moral development of its students. The aim of the school's educators is to present a guided curriculum for their 410 students in grades K-8.

The students of the school have gone on to the finest high schools and universities where they have received many awards.

As any other Catholic School, St. Isaac's is guided by a Christian philosophy of education which recognizes the spiritual, intellectual and physical nature of the child and works toward total development of the personality.

In addition to their daily curriculum classes, the students also participate in the physical education program as well as extra-curricular volleyball, basketball and softball teams for both girls and boys beginning with the 5th grade.

Two well established programs at St. Isaac's are music and science. Beside the twice weekly music classes, the students are offered band lessons and have provided the school with an excellent concert band. The band students have many awards for band contests and for solo instrument contests. The science program produces first place and outstanding winners at the Archdiocesan Science Fair, the Niles Township Science Fair and the Illinois State Science Fair held annually in May at Champaign-Urbana.

Perhaps the best thing about a family is that you can count on it. Families are strong enough to help you grow, to laugh.

We would like to share a celebration with you. Visit us during Catholic Schools Week, Feb. 4 thru Feb. 8. Hours are from 9 a.m. to 12 noon and 12:40 p.m. to 2 p.m. for visiting the school. Wednesday, Feb. 6 only until 12 noon. There will be a special Mass prepared by students and faculty on Friday, Feb. 8 at 8:30 a.m. in the Church. All are welcomed.

Chicago graduate

Kenneth A. Mitsui, son of Mr. and Mrs. Akira Mitsui of Morton Grove, graduated from the College of the University of Chicago in convocation ceremonies June 16. He received the B.A. degree with a major in History. Mr. Mitsui is a graduate from West High School in Skokie, Illinois.

District 67 Caucus seeks candidates

The School Board Caucus from elementary school District 67 is currently involved in the review and endorsement of candidates seeking school board positions. Three of the seven seats will become available at this year's election to be held April 12. Those interested should file an application with the Caucus by Feb. 11, if possible; candidates will be interviewed Feb. 20. Of course, a candidate must also file with the District 67 office some time between Feb. 27 and March 21.

These school board terms will run from April 1980 to November 1983. One must be at least 18 years of age and have been a registered voter residing in District 67 for at least one year as of election day. There shall be no conflicts of interest as provided for by the Illinois School Code.

School Board membership is a unique and gratifying endeavor. It is a nonpartisan public office held in highest esteem by the community. Not only are scholastic policies overseen, but also the entire operation of the school district. The time commitment is considerable, but so also are the rewards.

The Caucus is a group of 28 concerned citizens which convenes yearly to not only assist the community in seeking out candidates, but also to review these candidates and, in a non-partisan spirit, offer specific endorsement. Subsequent voter selection usually parallels these recommendations. It should be noted that the Caucus is an independent, self-perpetuating, and continually turning over entity acting under its own set of bylaws. It strives for a composition representative of the community at large. It attempts to act in the best interest of this community. Though Caucus endorsement is not mandatory by law, it is heartily recommended.

For further information, interested parties may contact the Caucus President, Ron Farkas, at 966-0253, and the District 67 office at 966-8200.

Resolving anger in your communication

by Larry F. Renetzky, ACSW

The author is Director of Niles Family Service, Niles Trident Center, 8060 Oakton st., Niles, 60648—Phone, 692-3396. Feel free to write, call or drop in at the Niles Family Service.

Do you think a person can be loving and still show anger? Can you? Your spouse? Your children? I hope you were at least able to answer this question. "Yes, I can." Too often a person believes he cannot be loving and still show anger. As a consequence, he tries to bury his anger and becomes physically, emotionally, or mentally ill; or, a person gives off distorted expressions of anger.

I can't stress too strongly that it is just as natural to be angry at times as it is to love, eat or sleep. It is not "sinful" or "bad" to be angry once in a while, it is human. On the other hand, we need to be careful not to let all our anger hang out in a relationship. That could destroy a meaningful relationship. There is a happy medium between repressing your anger and letting all of your anger hang out.

It was brought out at a Al Anon meeting that an alcoholic and his spouse usually have difficulty handling and expressing their anger, but so do a lot of other people. "I'm angry," is a misunderstood and misinterpreted expression of our times.

It is not uncommon that a spouse, parent or child will interpret the person's expression of anger as hate. The fact is that nobody can really be sweet, smiling and happy-go-lucky all the time.

I know because I tried. I had come to believe that it was sinful or bad to express anger, so instead, I displaced it or distorted the expression of anger in other ways.

As a consequence, I hurt others, especially some loved ones who were very close to me. Maybe you, too, are hurting someone through a distorted expression of anger without realizing it.

Take a good look at yourself and review some of the following ways that you may be displacing or distorting your expression of anger:

Anxiety, depression, guilt, overeating, starvation, no sleep, sleeping too much, chronic anticipation, obsessive thoughts, obsessive and compulsive phobias...

Denial, self sabotage and subtle sabotage, supersweet talk and easy talk, rambling on, no talk...Let's pretend, bullying, tearing down, overworking, saving up things for an argument, don't worry about me...Taking it out through things, always tired, I'm so sick, changing.

These are a few of the ways we distort, displace and project our anger.

Now ask yourself, "What can I do or how should I express anger?" Here are a few suggestions:

"Recognize that it is best to feel anger, accept it as a natural feeling and try to express it and share it. (Remember, it is not bad or sinful to feel anger or express it, just don't overdo it or store it up.)"

"The day-to-day expression of anger doesn't kill. Distorted anger is explosive and may kill because if it is stored up, anger frequently becomes rage and thereby uncontrollable."

"Timing can be very important. When you are in the heat of an argument or have built up anger all day, it is best to "cool it" unless you and the other person are mature enough to handle it and not make more of it than you should."

"Don't try to make it black or white. It is seldom all the other person's fault. See the part you play also."

"Do this one thing: forgive and forget the anger expressed by your loved one or friend. Otherwise it eats at you like poison or cancer. Work as hard as trying to forgive and forget the reason for your anger as you are in displacing or distorting your anger."

Cancer benefit Weight-A-Thon

Actress Barbara Eden, shown here, invites Chicago and suburban residents to join her Feb. 4-March 31 supporting the Weight-A-Thon to benefit the American Cancer Society. Flanked by Gerald Waldron (left), ACS representative and Bob Kania of the Post Athletic Clubs, Barbara Eden, who will soon be appearing at the Marriott Lincolnshire Resort, is urging participants to make their commitment now to this imaginative way to raise funds for the fight against cancer.

Mr. Waldron, Park Ridge resident and Vice President of First Federal of Chicago, explains that the idea is to trade pounds for dollars. Participants will ask their friends, neighbors, doctor, lawyer, etc., to support their weight loss or gain—for a worthy cause. Sponsors must be obtained in advance. "The pounds you lose or gain will aid the fight against cancer," the brochure states that is now available from the American Cancer Society and Post Athletic Clubs. "With the encouragement of your friends you can look better and feel better, in almost no time."

Weight-A-Thon buttons will be available for the pledged participants. Prizes will be awarded to winners in several categories. However, the best prize is that you be fit and trim by Spring. All funds are invited to participate.

So, start getting your sponsors now. You can do it, with the help of your friends. Official Weight-A-Thon entry forms may be obtained at the American Cancer Society, 113 N. Northwest Hwy., Palatine, and all Post Athletic Clubs. If you need further information contact Jim Androff at the Cancer Society, phone, 358-3965.

Comments "Left Hand" article on Eddie Bacher

Dear Editor:

As you know I have a very Free Hand with the pen or pencil and many an issue of the Bugle contains my comments.

So after reading last week's "Left Hand," I could not resist another answer to it. As usual it was another "Gem." The praises of our Eddie Bacher cannot be fulfilled all the way. But The Bugle really tried. The column on all the things he and all the great people he was involved with made an interesting story. As he said it took many hard working and concerned citizens to get where our village is today.

It should make many people proud to live in the Village of Niles even today, because we still have so many good, hard working and concerned citizens living with the thought of wanting to make and keep our Village one of the best regardless of what it takes.

Starting from our Mayor, Village Manager, and all their departments, you find the most concerned. So many agencies established for our good strive to be the best.

Our Niles Days Committee made up of so many good neighbors add a great plus to the growth and achievements of the village.

Everybody who would like to honor "Eddie" at his testimonial dinner party won't be there. But I sure hope they will try to follow in his good works and spirit. I am also sure their wishes for "Eddie's" award will be a long healthy life.

Respectfully,
George C. Hall
Niles, Ill.

Dear Mr. Besser:

This letter is in response to a recent Progress Report insert regarding a cable TV system in our village. By way of introduction, I have been employed in the TV broadcasting industry (presently as a systems-design engineer) for the past twenty years and in closed circuit educational TV prior to that. I have been a Niles resident for sixteen years, and as such, I have had a high regard for the accomplishments of the village in the past and a sincere hope for our continued progress in the future. The key word here is "progress".

Cable TV can make a very definite improvement in the quality and quantity of television programs distributed to a given community, but the opposite can also be the case, in some instances, if particular care is not observed in selecting the cable company. I have no affiliations with any cable companies, so I would merely like to bring up some of the pitfalls that might be avoided by thoughtful selection of a cable distributor.

Cable TV was first utilized in remote communities where off-the-air reception of commercial and educational TV was poor or impossible due to local geographical conditions. TV signals are basically a line-of-sight medium due to the frequency allocations given TV stations. If the transmitting station is beyond the "radio horizon", or natural ground formations obstruct the home viewers from the station, then the only practical solution to the problem is to join together and erect an antenna in a favorable location and distribute the signals received to the members of the community for a fee to cover the costs of installation and maintenance of the system.

Here in Niles, we are fortunate to be in an area of close proximity to many TV transmitting stations and, are able to pick-off these signals directly from the source. Additionally, we have virtually no reflection or ghosting problems, as our neighbors to the east and northeast are experiencing. Skokie and other suburbs along the North Shore have severe ghosting problems due to reflections off of Sears Tower (my father's location in Skokie is a case in point). In view of the above, we must ask ourselves, what would cable TV offer to most Niles residents? Well, we would be able to receive "all local VHF and UHF television channels" as noted in the Progress Report. We can already do that, and the quality (technically speaking) is excellent. It was mentioned that "no advertising is seen on cable TV," but in order that no confusion arise, it must be brought out that the cable company will not delete all advertising from our local station's transmissions. They cannot! Today with satellite translators a reality, cable companies can import signals from other cities and from national distributors showing first-run movies (commercial free) and other features, for a price. Many times that price is no better than our local movie theatres provide, and before we sell them short, we should take a very close look at what we will get as well as exactly what it will cost. How many really worthwhile new movies will be run, for what length of time, and how often? The competition factor is hard to apply because a cable company is a monopoly, just like the phone company, electric, gas, etc.

Enlightening facts about a cable TV system

The concept of thirty or so channels available is a tempting carrot, but what quality of productions could possibly fill thirty channels, or even half that many? The major commercial networks pay one to two million dollars on up for a one-hour production today. How can a cable company hope to match or better these production costs and fill fifteen, twenty, or thirty channels with something that people are going to want to watch? Simply, they can't. They can fill some of the channels with old movies and popular show reruns, but the amount and quality (productionwise) of new material is very limited. People should be aware of this before they invest in having cable brought into their homes. That, by the way, is another worthwhile point. The cable must be pulled, within the viewer's home, to each TV set on which these programs will be viewed. Most companies charge for installation based upon how long it will take to complete this wiring, and by the month, based upon the number of sets connected to the cable. Additional charges, of course, are set for the number of viewings of their "premium" programs. It can get expensive, and residents should be told before committing themselves that these costs will amount to each month. We are a little spoiled. We have had free TV for so long, that many residents may find it hard to accept having to pay for this service unless the quality of programming makes the choice obvious. By the same token, the technical quality of the delivered signal must be there. We are used to good color, low noise content, and no ghosts or reflections. Unless the cable company is diligent in its installation and maintenance programs, all three attributes of the TV signal can suffer dramatically. I have seen it happen, and to ask people to pay for such, would be very unpopular. The point is that both the technical quality of the system and the production and content quality of the programs can be good, but without any guarantees from the distributor, well...there aren't any guarantees. The viewer should be aware of these facts and the Village Board should know what points to make clear in any contract that it enters into with a cable company. The concept of "public access channels" to distribute sound and pictures of "neighborhood news, public meetings, local high school activities and sports" over the cable system, as stated in the Progress Report sounds great. It can be, and in many cases would be, but the quality has to be more in the home-movie category than in the category of what we are used to seeing on the networks. I am not trying to put these efforts down; they are worthwhile many times, but a realistic picture has to be given so that people can choose intelligently. It takes a large number of professionals to put on a professional-looking TV show. Just count the number of people involved in a football presentation when they roll the credits at the end of the game (and not everyone involved receives air-credits). A Village Board meeting would probably involve one black and white Vidicon camera fixed on a wide shot, slightly out-of-focus, with the image partially burned into the target because the camera is never moved, and one or two microphones generally aimed in the direction of the speakers. This is better than nothing, but people should be told not to expect much more. The point here is not to anticipate the sophistication we are used to and no disappointment will result. The same logic, of course, applies to productions from the local schools, etc.

In the same vein, I am reminded of the time that I was vacationing in Jackson Hole, Wyoming. The motel was being supplied programming from a cable distributor and had one channel devoted to a time, temperature, barometric pressure, and forecast graphic (in color no less). My own watch had stopped so I confidently switched on the TV set to find out the correct time only to be amazed to see everything else on the screen working except the time. So much for modern conveniences!

There are a couple of possibilities in favor of cable that certainly do exist but were not mentioned in the Progress Report. The first has to do with real time (what is happening at the moment) weather information. Weather forecasts are fine, but during a bad storm, most people want to know where they are in relation to the storm center. A digital color radar service exists today that can be sent via normal telephone lines to a decoder at the cable TV office and converted into a radar picture of all of Northern Illinois. Most TV stations subscribe to this service and often use it during their weather shows. It could be sent full-time down one of those thirty channels that we were wondering what to do with earlier, if the cable company were convinced to do so. The same applied to the new Doppler Radar that the federal government plans to install sometime during this decade to help locate and track tornadoes in the area. The satellite photos that you see on TV also come down telephone lines to the TV stations where they are converted into pictures with a Laserfax machine and shot with an ordinary TV camera. They tell a lot about what is happening now, and what to expect in the near future weatherwise. The National Weather Service also has almost continuous forecast and other information sent out (via phone lines) to Teletype printing machines in the TV stations. This information can be converted into printing that will appear on a normal TV screen without even the need for a TV camera. These suggestions should help fill some of the channels with useful information; in fact, I would subscribe to the cable system just for these features alone!

I have saved the best for last, however. If Niles does decide to franchise a cable TV company, make sure that the cable has two-way transmission capabilities. Within the decade, computers will become as necessary in the home as telephones are today. Home computers will be used as "intelligent terminals" which roughly translated means that we will be able to call up Sears on the cable, our computer will be able to "talk" to Sears' computer, find out if an item is in stock, get a detailed description of the item, order it, charge it to our account, set it up on will-call, and/or have it delivered. All of this can happen within only a few seconds of actual cable access time. The same will be true of paying bills, finding out our current bank balance, checking the interest on our savings account, or finding out when a given flight will arrive at O'Hare. This and much, much more is possible if the cable is two-way. Much the same thing is also possible utilizing the phone lines presently in our homes, but transmission of data is much faster over wide-band coaxial cables used by cable TV companies.

My intention in this letter has not been to discourage a cable TV franchise for our village, but rather to help shed some light on its possible pitfalls, to bring down to earth the claims made by some cable companies, and finally, to stimulate thought about some of the practical applications of cable not mentioned in the Progress Report. The opinions expressed are my own and are strictly that...opinions. They are, however, tempered with some experience and a sincere desire to see Niles obtain the best that cable TV has to offer if we do, in fact, decide to go that route. I further apologize for the length of this letter, but I believe that the points brought up had to be said. Thanks for taking the time to read these remarks.

Sincerely,

David F. Miller

Working Together For Progress

Compile evidence to let lenders know you're worth the risk

Although steady income and a bright future are points in a homebuyer's favor when applying for a mortgage, lenders today are seeking even more signs of solvency before granting funds.

"Because the amount of money available for loans has decreased, lenders are fussy about who gets mortgages," said Michael L. Yergin, chairman of Eagle Realty Corp.

"Mortgage applicants who are armed with testimony of their own worth, and the viability of the home they want to purchase, improve their chances for a quick and favorable decision," Yergin said.

Here are pieces of evidence that Yergin suggested homebuyers compile to convince lenders they are worth the risk:

1. Income statements. Last year's tax returns, W2 forms, and other evidence from employers will be needed to let lenders know your income can handle mortgage payments. By law, lenders must consider working wife's wages, too. List part-time salaries, alimony payments, child support, and any other sources of income.

2. Credit record. The bank or savings and loan will want to look at your long-term obligations, such as car payments, as well as bank credit cards and charge accounts. Installment payment books, statements from places where you shop, and other records of how you handle debt are documents you will need.

3. Job history. Lenders will want to know your employee record, contracts, or letters of agreement that attest to your stability and capacity for generating income.

4. Source of downpayment and closing costs. If you're selling one home to buy another, show your lender the listing sheet of your home that confirms your asking price. This will let the lender know where your downpayment dollars will come from. On the other hand, if funds come from wealthy relatives, savings accounts, or other reserves, bring evidence of these resources. (Because many lenders are wary of granting mortgage funds to homebuyers who must borrow the downpayment, your lender may want to know if funds from relatives are a gift or a loan).

5. Descriptions of the property you want to buy. Along with the contract that describes your purchase, bring a property report, listing sheet, sales brochure, newspaper ads, or other publicity that will help convince your lender of the viability of the property.

Lenders would prefer to participate in a sure thing, so if you're buying a condominium in a building that's almost all sold out, or if the neighborhood will soon become a hot area, let your lender know the good news.

"While the supporting evidence can help plead your case, it's the numbers that really count in the final decision," said Yergin.

"A formula that many lenders use to determine if a homebuyer can comfortably handle mortgage payments looks like this:

Divide annual gross income by 12 to get monthly income. Multiply the answer by 274. This figure is what you should be spending on housing. Deduct taxes, and condo assessments from that figure to be sure these obligations are taken care of; the remainder should be equal to, or less than the principal and interest on your new mortgage."

The Chicago-based Eagle Realty Corp. develops and manages condominium properties in the city, and in Marco Island, Fla. Properties here include Waveland Racine Condominiums, 23 restored apartments at 1200 W. Waveland, and 5100 N. Sheridan Condominiums, 40 converted apartments.

Eagle's offices are at 180 N. LaSalle St., Chicago.

"Economics in the 80's"

William J. McDonough, Executive Vice President of the First National Bank of Chicago and head of its Worldwide Banking Department, will explore the problems of "Economics in the 80's-National and International" in his address at the Bernard Horwich Center Feb. 5.

McDonough's lecture is part of a continuing lecture-discussion series being held at the Center, 3003 W. Touhy, Tuesday evenings at 8 p.m.

A native Chicagoan, McDonough has an extensive background in economics and politics. He joined the Department of State in 1961, serving first as special assistant to the United States Ambassador to Uruguay and later as senior economist in the Bureau of Inter-American Affairs.

He joined the First National Bank in 1967 and has been involved in international banking since that time, serving for a period as general manager of the Bank's Paris branch.

For further information on this and upcoming lectures, call Janet Graubart, 761-9100.

Voter registration at North West Federal

Suburban Cook County residents can register to vote at North West Federal Savings, 2454 Dempster St., Des Plaines. Registration, which takes place now through Feb. 14, makes a person eligible to vote in the March primary election, and in subsequent elections.

four children and reside in Des Plaines.

Kordowski has been elected Assistant Vice President in the Data Processing Dept. He joined that department in 1974 and was promoted to Data Processing Officer in 1978. Kordowski completed studies at the Lee Automation Data Processing School and served in the U.S. Navy during the Vietnam War during which he received the Presidential Unit Citation.

Before joining First National, he had five years of data processing experience with an Oak Park, Illinois bank.

Kordowski and his wife, Peggie, have two children and are also Des Plaines residents.

Cragin Federal 1979 figures announced

Year-end figures for 1979 released by Cragin Federal Savings showed a steady growth in savings and a surprisingly strong lending year, according to Cragin Federal President Adam A. Jahns.

While most Chicago-area associations showed irregular savings receipts during 1979, Cragin had strong savings gains for every month of the year for an annual savings growth of $68 million. "The consistently good savings months we had throughout the year plus our savings growth of nearly 18 percent are proof that our customers strongly believe Cragin Federal is a sound place to put their money," said Jahns.

The association also paid out a record $27 million in interest.

New Marketing Director for Golf Mill Shopping Center

Kathleen Vitello has been appointed Marketing Director of the Golf Mill Shopping Center in Niles, Ill.

Ms. Vitello had been assistant promotion director for the center for the past two and a half years. Her duties will include coordinating advertising and events. She will also handle publicity and inter-mail communication.

"This is one of the most excitings centers in Chicago and I look forward to our 20th Anniversary and many new ideas for the center," said Ms. Vitello.

As a member of the International Council of Shopping Centers, Vitello has gained much knowledge of center marketing.

Herbert Adler, former promotion director, will remain as a working consultant to the Merchants Association.

Evanston Federal and First Federal file merger agreement

Evanston Federal Savings and Loan Association and First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Chicago have filed a merger agreement with the Federal Home Loan Bank of Chicago, it was announced today by Evanston Federal Chairman Robert E. Schrader.

When approved the resulting association will be one of the largest and strongest in the United States with assets in excess of $3 billion.

"We at Evanston Federal are very pleased at the prospect of becoming part of Illinois' largest savings and loan," Schrader said. "This consolidation will allow us to provide more conveniences and a greater range of services to the people of Evanston."

E. Stanley Enlund, chairman and chief executive officer of First Federal of Chicago, commented, "We look forward to the completion of this merger. Evanston is a dynamic community, and Evanston Federal has done an outstanding job over the years in serving it. They have displayed strong and innovative leadership; they have built a fine staff and have developed excellent relationships with their customers. Evanston Federal is a credit to our industry, and we look forward to working with them to help serve the community."

Niles Savings hosts energy savings display

As part of their 20 year celebration, Niles Savings is hosting a unique Energy Savings Program designed to help home owners save energy and money during the cold winter months.

Customers visiting the 7077 Dempster st. lobby through Jan. 30 will view an Energy Efficient Model Home sponsored by the local League of Women Voters. The "house" is a doll house and is a teaching device to encourage awareness of potential energy savings. The object is to show how an older home can be retrofitted and made to be more energy efficient. Energy savings measures illustrated in the doll house range from costly (adding insulation) to free (turning down the thermostat and wearing warm clothing). Emphasis is placed on life style changes which will result in lower utility bills.

Concerning the need to lower utility bills, a second part of the Niles program is a special energy saving premium grouping for savers. When savers make a deposit to a new or existing account, they'll choose from an appropriate selection including comforters, electric blankets, Snugg Sacs, and electric timer devices.

Also, a third part of the program has Niles Savings working with Commonwealth Edison and Northern Illinois Gas to help distribute their special pamphlets to increase overall knowledge on energy savings practices.

Mrs. Ila Lane, Customer Relations Representative stated: "As part of our Twenty Year Celebration we invite our customers to join us now and take part in the special program. It's one of the ways we're saying thank you for the continued support and friendship."

NEW

YEAR
T-CERTIFICATE

YOU CAN OPEN AN ACCOUNT FOR AS LITTLE AS $1.00 - AND EARN 1/4% MORE THAN ANY BANK. JANUARY ANNUAL RATE IS 10.40% - ANNUAL YIELD IS 11.151% - NEW RATE IS AVAILABLE FEB. 1st

Cook County Federal Savings offers a new 2 1/2 Year T-Certificate, replacing the 4-Year T-Certificate. It's a shorter term investment, so your money doesn't have to be tied up forever! It's the perfect investment for the saver who is looking for high return on his dollar but does not have $10,000 to invest in the 6-Month T-Certificates. This new Certificate pays off in 2 1/2 years, with a minimum deposit of $1.00. The rate paid is based upon the average of the 2 1/2 year Treasury Index (less 1/4%), and is determined three (3) business days prior to the beginning of each month. And, of course, this is 1/4% higher than any bank is permitted to pay! The rate is compounded daily, resulting in a much higher yield for you. As a result of this daily compounding, you can actually earn more than the rate paid on 2 1/2 Year Treasury Funds. The rate will change each month, but once issued holds for the 2 1/2 year term of your Certificate. Now is the time to "lock-up" these record high yields!!! As with all Certificates, there is a substantial penalty for early withdrawal.

Call: 761-2700

6-MONTH
T-CERTIFICATE

For the saver with larger investments in mind! The minimum deposit for this certificate is $10,000.00, and the interest rate is established by the current T-Bill Auction, which is announced Monday of each week. As with all of our certificates of deposit, the interest rate is guaranteed for the full term of your investment, and your savings are insured to the fullest extent allowed by law.

Simplify your finances... secure your future... come to Cook County Federal Savings where satisfaction makes sense!

Earn "Your Best Interest" at Norwood Federal

With a 6 Month Money Market Certificate and a 5 1/2% Norwood Passbook Account (with daily compounded interest)

12.40%* Annual Yield 11.84% Annual Rate

*Rates change weekly. Call us for the latest rate. These rates are effective between Jan. 31 and Feb. 6.

That's right. Norwood offers you interest on your interest on your interest! How? Well, you know that federal regulations prohibit compounding of interest on the 6 Month Money Market Certificates you can open with $10,000 minimum deposit. Still, Norwood can automatically transfer that monthly interest into a 5 1/2% Passbook Account and make it conveniently available to you. You see, federal regulations require that these special certificates lose all interest if withdrawn before maturity. What's more, you'll earn interest on that Passbook interest because Norwood compounds daily. That means every day versus once every quarter, you earn interest on your interest.

Easy? Definitely. When you see or call one of our savings counselors at any of our 5 offices, they'll explain how you can earn "Your Best Interest" at Norwood.

With the New 2 1/2 Year Money Market Certificate (with daily compounded interest)

11.15% Annual Yield 10.40% Annual Rate

Based on a 366 day, 1980 leap year.

Effective January 1, 1980, Norwood Federal was given one more way to help you earn "Your Best Interest" here. This new certificate is based on the current return on 30 month Treasury securities and lets you invest without tying up your precious dollars for long.

Rates change monthly, so check with us for up-to-date information. Also, we can compound interest on this certificate; and, once again, its compounded daily in "Your Best Interest."

Don't forget, each account is insured up to $40,000 by the FSLIC. But, federal regulations do require loss of 6 month's interest if withdrawn before maturity.

The Gould Inc., Valve and Fittings Division has announced the promotion of James Evenson to the newly created position of Manager of OEM (original equipment manufacturer) Sales.

The announcement of his position was made by Charles Mitchell, National Sales Manager for the division.

In his new position, Evenson will be responsible for Valve and Fittings Industrial Product Sales to OEM customers in the United States and Canada.

Most recently, he served the division as Regional Sales Manager, and prior to that in a variety of sales engineering functions.

Evenson attended Northwestern University and served with the United States Air Force. He and his wife Anita have three youngsters and reside on North Ionia st. in Chicago.

The Gould Inc., Valve and Fittings Division manufactures and markets a broad range of hydraulic and pneumatic components, including process instrumentation, automotive, refrigeration, mobile equipment, machine tools, construction, and truck fleet products.

Premier Banks Directors view economic trends on banking

Robert Wallace, President of Golf Mill State Bank in Niles, addressed the Premier Banks annual Board of Directors planning meeting at the Union League Club in Chicago recently. Wallace outlined a challenging economic environment for banking in the 1980's and charged the directors to adopt a long term commitment to support anti-inflationary policies. Wallace cited inflation as a peace time issue of the magnitude of the Great Depression of the 1930's, saying that no other issue since World War II has exceeded inflation in the breadth of concerns it has aroused among Americans.

Shown above: Robert R. Wallace, Director of the Premier Banks of Northern Illinois and President of Golf Mill State Bank. (The Premier Banks include Libertyville National Bank, Hawthorn Center State Bank, First National Bank of Mundelein, Grayslake National Bank and Golf Mill State Bank.)

Among the contributory causes of inflation Wallace identified were excessive monetary growth coupled with deficit Federal spending, rapidly escalating petroleum prices, world crop failures, and industrial commodity shortages. Along with greater control by the Fed on the growth of the money supply, Wallace said, "What is needed is a longer term commitment by our special interest groups and political leaders to reduce or eliminate unneeded entitlement programs. The resulting reduction in government spending would ease the pressure of inflationary demand, pulling prices up."

According to Wallace, although a short-run reduction in our standard of living would be felt through somewhat higher unemployment and painful adjustments in the price/wage ratios, the corresponding shift to needed investments with longer run payoffs will increase productivity, provide new jobs, and thereafter bring our standard of living back into line again.

In Wallace's view, the short run impact of economic problems on banking will be downward pressure on profits as interest spreads (the difference between interest received on loans and securities, and interest paid on all types of deposits) suffer from disparate component rates of change: faster growth in the level of liabilities receiving market rates of interest than the rate at which current assets can be converted. To counteract this problem, banks will have to rely more heavily on other revenue sources in the 1980's, such as service charges.

As the industry gradually becomes more automated, it will also move toward a convergence from multiple accounts for the same individual to a single multi-transaction account per customer. Market determined rates of interest will be earned on deposits and paid on loans, and service charges will be more specifically related to transaction processing costs.

The Premier Banks plan to meet the changes and challenges of the 1980's with innovation and a continued firm commitment to sound investment policy.

"Our retirement account can earn at high 'money market' rates.... That's why we selected

First Federal Savings of Des Plaines."

If you are eligible to open either an IRA retirement account or Keogh plan account you can earn the current high interest rate being paid on our Six Month Money Market Certificate of Deposit (minimum of $10,000) or from other high earning certificates of deposit.

Not only can you take a tax deduction for the amount contributed to your retirement account but also the interest earned on these certificates of deposit are tax deferred within limits set by the IRS regulations.

So now would be a good time to open your IRA or Keogh retirement account. While you can earn the current high "Money Market" rates.

A substantial interest penalty is required for an early withdrawal from a savings certificate with certain exceptions for IRA or Keogh withdrawals.

James P. Francis, an agent in Prudential's Northwest Suburban district agency in Park Ridge, 1580 N. Northwest Hwy, recently marked his 20th anniversary with the company.

District Manager Ronald J. Dietz said that Mr. Francis has sold more than $1 million of Prudential insurance protection during each of nine years in the past 11 years. His sales during 1978 totalled over $2 million.

A 1952 graduate of Austin High School, Chicago, he received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Illinois in 1956.

He is a two-year veteran of the U.S. Army.

Mr. Francis, a resident of Mount Prospect, is married and the father of two sons.

Norwood Federal insurance seminar

An insurance seminar will be held at Norwood Federal Savings and Loan Association, 5813 N. Milwaukee ave., on Thursday, Feb. 14, at 6:30 p.m., in the Community Room which is located on the second floor.

Jerome N. Darow, President of Norwood Insurance Services Inc., will discuss basic kinds of insurance as they affect the consumer.

Interested individuals should call 775-8900 for reservations, as space is limited.

First National customers help support Olympics

Customers at the First National Bank of Des Plaines are helping support the 1980 USA Olympic Team by taking advantage of the bank's current savings premium offer.

When opening a new savings account or Certificate of Deposit or making a deposit into an existing savings account, customers may purchase the USA Olympics Sports Bag, a 22" x 12" roll-type duffel at considerable savings.

Then, a portion of the cost of each sports bag is contributed to the US Olympic Team participating in the Lake Placid Winter and Moscow Summer Olympic Games.

The USA Olympic Sports Bag is discounted to $4.95 with a deposit of $1000 and is priced at $9.95 with a deposit of $100. With an additional $50 deposit, a second bag is available for $11.95. The bag is free with a deposit of $5000.

The Sports Bags are similar to those the U.S. athletes will use and bear the USA Olympics logo. Made of top quality, all weather nylon, blue with red trim or red with blue trim, they are suitable for travel or leisure use and are strongly constructed to carry sports equipment.

First National Bank of Des Plaines makes this premium offer as long as supply lasts. There is a limit of one free bag per account; tax is extra.

GreatAmerican Federal breaks ground in Naperville

GreatAmerican's donation

Little Friends, Inc. of Naperville, which operates four facilities offering a wide range of educational and therapeutic services to disabled children, is the recipient of GreatAmerican Federal Savings' 1979 Christmas contribution to children.

A $2,000 contribution was presented by James D. O'Malley, vice president of GreatAmerican Federal Savings to Dottee Krejci, director of the Little Friends School at 619 E. Franklin ave., Naperville.

Each year for the past seventeen years, GreatAmerican Federal Savings has made an annual contribution to a leading Chicago-area children's center on behalf of all the individuals and organizations with whom the association does business.

Little Friends School was started in 1965 by parents seeking a school experience for their mentally handicapped children and is one of the four programs offered by Little Friends, Inc. The Little Friends School serves over 150 children who are physically handicapped, emotionally disturbed, developmentally disabled, or who have language and behavioral disorders.

Other programs operated by Little Friends, Inc. include the Mansion Program in Naperville, an alternative educational experience for behaviorally and emotionally disturbed adolescents; Spectrum Vocational Services in Downers Grove, an adult vocational rehabilitation workshop; and the Community Living Facility in Naperville, a residential program for developmentally disabled adults.

Naperville Mayor Chester J. Rybicki recently led a delegation of village officials and officers of GreatAmerican Federal Savings and Loan Association as the thrift institution broke ground for its fourth full-service facility in DuPage County (its 14th location in the metropolitan area) at the site of the GreatAmerican Plaza in Naperville.

The ceremonial groundbreaking at Ogden ave. and Columbia st. cleared the way for the construction of the free-standing, 6,000 square-foot building.

The new office, designed by Mays/Williams & Partners Glen Ellyn architects, is a contemporary, one-story structure of reinforced concrete which will be finished in an Arctic white quartz applied aggregate material.

Energy-saving bronze thermopan insulated glass will provide an attractive contrast. The office, which will offer a full range of savings and lending services, will have three drive-up teller stations as well. It is expected to open around July 1, 1980.

In addition to DuPage offices in Elmhurst, Oak Brook, Downers Grove (to open in 1980), the association, one of the Chicago area's leading thrift institutions with assets in excess of $425 million, also has offices in Arlington Heights, Bellwood, Deerfield, Elmwood Park, Franklin Park, Niles, Oak Park, Park Ridge, and in Chicago at 230 N. Michigan ave. and 300 S. Wacker dr.

Norwood Federal Savings and Loan Association has opened a fifth office in the suburb of Glenview at 3220 Glenview rd. which is just east of Greenwood.

Newly appointed Branch Manager, William C. Fisher (pictured here), possesses a good deal of experience in the area of savings and loan operations.

He is a graduate of Marquette University where he earned his B.A. degree cum laude in 1975. In January of the following year, he joined Norwood Federal and has held the positions of teller, teller supervisor, management trainee, loan closer and branch manager prior to his recent appointment.

A TRADITION OF PROGRESS

Talman assets up to $158 million

The consolidated assets of Talman Federal Savings and Loan of Chicago and Subsidiaries rose to $2,394 billion during the year ended December 31, 1979, and increase of $158 million during the year. The increase represented a growth of 7.1% for the twelve-month period. Consolidated net income for the year ended December 31, 1979, was $11.1 million representing a 12.0% increase in total net worth.

Despite a troubled economy, 1979 was a good year for Talman in several financial areas. Total net worth reached and exceeded $100 million. Mortgage loans outstanding at Dec. 31, 1979, totaled $2.137 billion, a net increase of $240 million, or 12.7% for the year. Total savings at year-end reached $1.824 billion, a net increase of $139 million, or 8.2% over the previous year. Additionally, interest paid or due savers during the past year totaled over $129 million compared to over $107 million in 1978.

In making the announcement, Charles Jarasek, President and Chairman of Talman's Board of Directors, stated, "1979 was a record year for Talman in loan originations: The Association originated over 9,400 loans totaling over $417 million within the Chicago metropolitan area. Talman has been able to meet, at competitive rates, all the mortgage demands made of us in the past year. Our continued strong growth in 1979 is testimony to the confidence that the public places in us and in the savings and loan industry in general. People continue to save in institutions like Talman, investing their funds in accounts offering both a high rate of return and a high degree of security."

"With new savings instruments available to Talman such as Talman's 26-week Money Market Certificate, Talman's 4-year Money Market Certificate and, effective January 1, 1980, the new 3 1/2-year Money Market Certificate, Talman can offer to savings investors higher yield certificate accounts with fixed rates of return for a fixed period. "With these savings instruments and other savings lending services planned for 1980, Talman hopes to continue to fill the future savings and mortgage needs of customers and community in the traditional Talman manner," Mr. Jarasek concluded.

Werner named Secretary at Landau and Heyman

Eugene Werner, 38, has been named Corporate Secretary for Landau and Heyman, Inc., a major Midwest shopping center developer with headquarters at 120 S. LaSalle st., Chicago. He continues as company attorney, succeeding Martin Levy as secretary.

Werner joined Landau & Heyman in 1974 after spending several years in real estate and commercial property legal work. He earned his law degree at DePaul University.

He is on the real estate committee of the Chicago Bar Association and also is a member of the Illinois and American Bar associations. Werner lives in Skokie with his wife, Renee, and their daughters, Wendie, 12, and Sheri, 9.

CTL Director of Technical Services

David C. Sikes has been named director of the Technical Services Department at the Construction Technology Laboratories of the Portland Cement Association, Skokie, Ill.

Sikes will be responsible for providing trouble-shooting services to the cement and concrete materials industries. These services include evaluation of mix designs, aggregate sources, quality of aggregates, etc., by chemical, petrographic, and other methods.

Sikes also will provide consultation services to construction professionals on problems relating to concrete strength and deterioration and recommend remedial methods. Where necessary, expert witness testimony will be provided.

Sales contest winner

Willoughby Realty, Inc. is pleased to announce that Sheila Kula won first place in their fall sales contest. Sheila worked as a secretary in the Skokie office. Helen Fisher and Florence Bubes, brokers of Willoughby, recognized a natural talent in this dynamic young woman and urged her to go into sales. In a six-month period, she listed and sold over one million dollars in residential and investment property.

Nicor 1979 earnings

Nicor Inc. said today that the company's 1979 earnings are expected to be in the area of $4.75 per share. This compares to the $4.55 per share earned in 1978.

Nicor has budgeted about $290 million for its construction activities in 1980-$350 million for nonutility operations. Its total capital additions for the five years through 1984 are now forecasted to be $1.4 billion.

the district is spending millions for new buildings atop a garbage dump in Des Plaines.

Each school district has its own little fiefdom. Each one does its own thing, quite independent of the others.

In all our years attending school board meetings, I don't recall anyone suggesting an umbrella committee be formed which would consider the overall problems of all the districts. When the grammar schools undertake a local census of their areas to determine the number of students for future years, why haven't these figures been sent on to the high schools, which can further project these figures?

In Maine Township the high school district is just getting around to forming a public relations citizens committee which will study the district's needs for the coming years. After the wheel-spinning, there's little doubt they'll be closing either Maine North or Maine East. There's no way our high class friends in Park Ridge are going to allow their very fancy school being closed. And our more plebian Des Plaines friends are also going to hang on to their school. So the Johnny-come-latelies in the high school district, the horses from elementary district 63, are going to have to close one of the schools their kids are now attending.

In all fairness, Maine East or North should be the more likely candidates for closing.

Meanwhile School District 63 will soon be closing another school in its district. And one of the more likely candidates is the Apollo Junior High School, just a couple of blocks east of Maine North, and no more than a mile from the New Oakton College campus.

Since enrollments have been going down since 1970, we've had plenty of opportunity to foresee these eventual closings of schools. But like Chicagoans, many of us have avoided taking action to consolidate and cut-down on costs.

While we've always been in the front line in supporting school programs, we've rather hesitatingly supported more bricks in our districts. We opposed the first Maine South plans when they included heated sidewalks which would melt the snow. And we wallowed in apoplexy when District 63 spent $400,000 for the Gogo addition to the Apollo School which is a likely candidate to be closed in the coming months.

There's not much point in hitting ourselves over our collective heads for the past. No one could foresee the abrupt turnaround in enrollments.

Back in the early 60's we recall the late Walker Craigie telling us how pleased he was the Maine school board he was a part of had the foresight to purchase the Maine North property. When the school was being planned, the Maine superintendent and board projected there would be 3,500 students in each of the four schools there. Monday we were told there is expected to be 7,400 students in the high school district in 1984 and 6,000 in 1987.

As we move into the 80's, we're finishing building a college only blocks away from where one high school, Maine North, is likely to be closed, as well as Apollo Junior High School, just a couple of blocks from the new high school.

Defenders of the college will say most of the money came from funds outside our local district. But it was still some taxpayers' money which is being spent. And local taxpayers are still going to have to pay for the closed schools, both new ones, and will have paid for past years which may never have been necessary. But more important, had we had a committee overseeing all school districts, elementary, high school and college, we may have lessened our financial burden.

It's very easy to have an Olympian seat, looking down upon the brethren in Chicago. But before we get too smug we should take stock of how casually we've spent our own money for too many bricks.

There's no point in swatting school board members, who earnestly try to reflect the moods of these suburban areas. The mortar and bricks we're now paying for are for the most part a result of our saying, "Yes". And while we weren't saying, "Yes", as often as Chicago's Mayor, nor for the same political reasons as he did, nevertheless, the building of the new college, while we're closing schools next door to it, reflects a similar foggy thinking which existed in Chicago.

When you realize the Arthur Anderson Company, one of the foremost accounting firms in the country, handled the Chicago schools' books, and some of the most astute financial bankers in the country were watching their money being used in the schools, it boggles your thinking the city's schools could have gotten so deep in the red financial hole.

In suburbia we are closer to our schools. And because of this we should have a much better grasp and control over them. But our failure to create a master plan for all our districts which complement one another shows we were not watching the store any better than Chicagoans.

I hope we'll be luckier than those city folk.

MG Library happenings

The fair city of Dublin and the romantic beauty of Ireland will be the subject of the travelogue at the Morton Grove Public Library on Tuesday, Feb. 12 at 7:30 p.m. Selected films will show Ireland's historic castles and houses and the breathtaking scenery which makes this island so unique and picturesque.

Illustrated brochures on travel in Ireland will be available and the public is invited.

New books at the Morton Grove Library will be on display at the monthly meeting of the Book Discussion Group on Friday, Feb. 8 at 10 a.m.

The group will discuss their latest readings and anyone who is interested is welcome to join - we'd love to have you!

Auxiliary aids vets in shopping

At their recent meeting, the Morton Grove Legion Auxiliary Unit #134 heard Rehabilitation Chairman Mrs. Josephine Lange tell the group that the Christmas season was made merrier for 11 paraplegics whom her Auxiliary Committee of volunteers took on a shopping expedition to the Woodfield Shopping Center. The hospitalized veterans would otherwise now have had the opportunity of leaving their facility if it had not been for these ladies.

So appreciative of this service were the vets that they insisted on buying Mrs. Lange an outfit of wearing apparel as a gift from all of them for her role in being so instrumental in performing the rehabilitation work she has unceasingly been doing at the Chicago-land VA Hospitals for many years.

In addition, Auxiliary President Mrs. Phyllis Rieck reported several members of the Unit went down to the Army prior to the Christmas holiday to wrap packages.

Lives were saved in another instance when both families in a two-unit building were at home, but the occupants of one were sleeping in the rear of the building, while the other unit's family was awake in the front of the building. The operation of smoke detectors on both levels alerted residents that a fire had started in the rear portion of the building. In this case, frame construction of the rear porch area resulted in a rapidly developing fire, which could have easily resulted in injury or death of the sleeping occupants. While there was structural damage to the building, evacuation of the people in the building was handled safely.

A New Year's Eve party almost became disaster when a fire started in the kitchen from discarded smoking material. A functioning smoke detector allowed guests and other asleep in the building at the time to evacuate without injury.

Fire Chief Burke joins the building department in urging all Skokie residents to maintain their smoke detectors or to purchase them for their residence if they do not have them now.

Ice Capades

The Niles Park District is offering two trips to the spectacular Ice Capades! The first trip will be Tuesday evening, March 4. This is an adult trip for both men and women. All adults are welcome (although non-resident fees are doubled). We have obtained main floor seating for this performance - box seats and seats on the edge of the ice! The cost per person is $7.50, which includes your ticket and transportation.

Buses leave the Rec. Center, 7877 Milwaukee ave., at 6:15 p.m. We should be back by 11 p.m. Seating is limited, so register now at the Rec. Center.

Our second trip (for all ages - adults, too!) is on Saturday, March 8. We will have mezzanine seating. (This is mid-range; above the box seats and lower than balcony). For this performance the cost is $6.50 for adults; $6 for children. The buses leave the Rec. Center at 10:45 a.m. We should return at approximately 3:30 p.m. Register at the Rec. Center soon, as seating is limited for this performance also. Come marvel at this spectacular show once!

Ladies (and Gentlemen's) Choice! How long has it been since you have been to dinner and a live show? Well, on Sunday, Feb. 17 the Niles Park District will venture to Drury Lane South to view the award-winning play "Five Women" ("The Oscar Ladies") at the lovely Martiniere (at Drury Lane). For dinner, you may choose one of the following entrees: Braised Short Ribs, Boston Scrod, or 1/2 Fried Steak (with onion and mushroom) is your choice, you'll also enjoy a baked potato and buttered corn with your entree. Both meals also include French Onion Soup, Chef's Salad, coffee, tea or milk and Danish Chocolate Cake for dessert. Mixed drinks can be ordered on a cash basis.

The price for this Valentine's Day treat is $13 for the duck and $15 for the steak (however, non-resident fees are doubled). This price includes your delicious meal, gratuity and transportation. Register at the Rec. Center, 7877 Milwaukee ave. before Feb. 2. Buses leave the Rec. Center at 6:30 p.m. and we should return at about 10 p.m. Don't miss this Valentine's Day specialty!

Skating at Playboy
Come ski with the Niles Park District at the Playboy Club, Lake Geneva. This is a special Park District trip, open to anyone. (Non-resident fees are doubled, though.)

We're going on Tuesday evening, Feb. 26. The bus will leave the Rec. Center, 7877 Milwaukee ave. at 4:30 p.m. We should return by 11:15.

The Playboy Club has some of the finest slopes in the area. Don't be afraid if you're a beginner - a lesson is included in your cost! The cost per person is $12, $9 if you have your own equipment. Price includes ski rental, lift ticket, lesson and transportation! Register now at the Rec. Center. Registration deadline is Feb. 19 and seating is limited.

Planning Commission's proposed redefinitions and amendments of the zoning codes. At public hearings conducted in October, November, and December, citizen responses in audiences of over 200 people were so adamant in their opposition to the proposal that this negative vote was actually recommended by Plan Commission Chairman Leonard Bloomfield and his board.

Citizen spokespersons claimed that the code changes would not protect the residential nature of the community. Trustee Snider revealed that a new committee, which includes those interested citizen leaders, has been formed to rewrite zoning laws.

In another matter before the Plan Commission, developers were denied a special permit to construct a 10 unit condominium at 848 Waukegan. The land in question is an inactive Jewish cemetery, where there is still a question of remaining gravesites.

The Village Board meeting also witnessed a debate over the necessity of employing an outside planner to evaluate and redirect the Dempster st. commercial corridor. Bloomfield felt that utilizing the $75,000 federal grant given for this purpose was a waste of money, as a citizens' committee was looking into solutions.

Village Planner Chuck Sheck argued that professional solutions were desperately needed to support the commercial establishments while preserving the adjoining residential neighborhoods. "We do need the expertise for generating recommendations and implementing steps."

Mayor Richard T. Flickinger was concerned that no more of Dempster become like the area between Ferris and Austin where commercial establishments were stretching into residential areas for parking facilities.

The Mayor felt that using a professional planner could strengthen the village in court, when protesting any more such moves. "Let's not take a defeatist attitude like with the problems of the past. And we know that if we don't take the grants other cities will."

Snider announced at the village meeting that the U.S. Census Bureau was looking for people in Morton Grove to start work immediately. Workers must be 18 years old or over; the positions are for both office work and canvassing. The pay is $3.50/$4.50 per hour and the jobs should continue through June 15. Those interested should contact Jane Riordan at 961-6870.

Chicken. Each entree includes soup, salad, potato, vegetable and beverage.

Next, it's over to the theatre where we will witness the very versatile Ms. Nanette Fabray, portraying five women, all competing for the coveted "Best Supporting Actress" Award. This comedy promises to be as enlightening as it is entertaining.

Dinner is at 1 p.m. and the show begins at 3:30 p.m. so there will be ample time to roam the gracious and elegant Drury Lane or stop by a lounge and have a drink. Join us for an exciting Sunday afternoon and don't forget to bring the husband!

The cost of $14 per person includes dinner, gratuity, theatre ticket and transportation. The buses will leave the Rec. Center, 7877 Milwaukee ave. at 11:45 a.m. Sunday morning and return at about 6:30 p.m. Register at the Rec. Center before Feb. 6.

Valentine's Day taste-treat!
Take your Valentine's Day sweetheart or treat yourself royally on Valentine's Day, Feb. 14. Come along with the Niles Park District to Neilsen's Restaurant in Elmwood Park. Chicago magazine commends Neilsen's, stating that "...diners are rewarded with excellently prepared meals."

You may select Neilsen's Danish Duck Specialty, stuffed with apples and prunes and served with red cabbage and brown potatoes.

Or, if the tender and juicy Strip Steak (with onion and mushroom) is your choice, you'll also enjoy a baked potato and buttered corn with your entree. Both meals also include French Onion Soup, Chef's Salad, coffee, tea or milk and Danish Chocolate Cake for dessert. Mixed drinks can be ordered on a cash basis.

Niles Sign Board meetings

The recently appointed Village of Niles Sign Board of Appeals regularly scheduled meetings have been changed to the first Wednesday of each month. Meetings will be held at the Niles Administration Building, 7601 N. Milwaukee ave., at 3:30 p.m. Meetings are open to the public.

Speech competition

The Maine East speech season comes to a close soon, with Maine East hosting the district competition Feb. 2 and Libertyville hosting the sectionals Feb. 9.

At the recent Deerfield High School Invitational individual winners for Maine East were Mike DiGiola, Paula Fishman, Joe Ochsenreiter, Debbie Kozak, Ken Rice, and Keith Medansky.

It coincidentally matched the red, white and blue colors painted around Ed's home. He then received the "real" color TV set as a gift from the village.

A musical tribute was presented by the Niles Nifties, a lissome group of ladies who wore orange Niles Public Works jackets while serenading. The Nifties were ladies who worked in the village offices.

After dinner the guests danced to the music of the Harmony Kings.

Five couples will reserve a complete table. Residents are urged to get a group together and celebrate at this festive occasion. Many surprises await those attending.

Tickets and reservations and further information are available from Junior past president Kris Karsten, 671-1481; Julie or Howie Karsten, 966-4744; or Post Commander Robert Perschon, 775-6907.

"Gemini" at La Margarita in Schaumburg

"Gemini", the group appearing at La Margarita in Schaumburg for the month of February, is one of Chicagoland's most popular entertainment trios. They specialize in the sounds of today from current rock to disco and add just the right amount of standards and 50's nostalgia to insure everyone of an extremely pleasurable evening.

Bob, Marty and Tim, on multi-keyboards, bass and drums respectively, are always happy to attempt just about any request and their use of comedy and lightheartedness in their presentation keeps their audiences coming back for more.

Once you've seen them your favorite "sign" will become... Gemini!

La Margarita in Schaumburg is located on Algonquin rd., just west of Route 53. Call 397-7200 for reservations.

Artists featured at LGH

Two area artists, Dorothy Kruse and Nancy Fortunato, will be featured during the month of February in the lobby of Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge.

Kruse is best known for her oil paintings and portrait drawings. She has exhibited in Colorado, Wisconsin and Michigan in addition to numerous Chicago-area art fairs.

Fortunato is best known for her watercolor and pen-and-ink drawings. She also designed a Christmas card for a special education school.

The lobby exhibit, open to the public free of charge, is part of the continuing Art Originale Program of Lutheran General. Artwork may be purchased through the Art Originale Office of the hospital's Service League between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. weekdays.

Pre-school storytime

Preschoolers are gathering for the winter session of story-hours being held at the Lincolnwood Library, 4100 West Pratt.

The story hours, designed to introduce the three-to-five year old to storytelling, books and the library, are held on Tuesday mornings at 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. and on Wednesday afternoons at 1 p.m. and 2 p.m.

There are openings available in each of the groups. For more information on the current session, schedules to run through March 26, or to register a child, please call the library at 677-5277.

The Big Band Sound

The Big Band Sound with all its nostalgic magic and musicianship comes to Morton Grove at October 5's new and charming restaurant.

Every Monday evening, starting at 9 p.m., a full sixteen-piece band will entertain you with the best of jazz and the Big Bands.

October 5 is located at 8900 Waukegan rd. in Morton Grove. Why not have dinner before dancing and meet George, a gracious host. George says, "Hope to see all of you at the Big Band Sound."

Who needs Chicago winter?

How about a sun-drenched week in the Caribbean... luxuriating at a highly unusual... and surprisingly affordable... deluxe resort?

You could be unpacking your bags right now, at a resort that offers a unique Caribbean experience: with all the luxury and comfort you expect in a deluxe hotel—and with variety and excitement you won't find at any ordinary vacation spot.

A new adventure every day. Imagine—you'll spend every day exploring different beaches, different sights, different cultures. Enjoy tennis, golf, sunning, shopping, sight-seeing, swimming, snorkeling—sample the best the Caribbean has to offer.

Exciting night life. Then at night, your resort itself comes to life, with cocktails at the piano bar—gourmet dining—dancing, cabaret, movies, casino, disco—lavish midnight buffets—what a life!

All night, where do you find a resort hotel with all that—at any price?

Not on any island. We're talking about Cunard Princess and Cunard Countess—the newest cruise ships in the world, and floating luxury hotels in every sense of the word. The best of the Caribbean. They'll be your home for a week of glorious island-hopping. You sail at night, and spend the entire next day at a different island—with no packing or unpacking, no connections, no hassle.

On Cunard Princess, you visit San Juan, St. Maarten, Antigua, Martinique, Guadeloupe, St. Thomas, and Tortola. Cunard Countess takes you to San Juan, Caracas (La Guaira), Grenada, Barbados, St. Lucia, and St. Thomas. All in one week.

The price—a little-known bargain. If you're thinking about the cost, you've got a pleasant surprise coming!

One-week fly/cruise rates from Chicago start at $1,045—and go to just $1,490 (per person, double occupancy. Convenient Saturday departures.) And your rate covers virtually everything. You're not digging into your pocket all the time. When you think about the cost of a week at a hotel (just staying in one spot!), plus all the extras—meals, entertainment, etc.—plus airfare both ways—you may find Cunard Princess and Cunard Countess are not only reasonable, they're truly a bargain.

So what are you doing here? Call your Travel Agent now, or call Cunard at (212) 661-7777. Or mail this coupon, and you'll qualify for a special bonus offer that could make your Caribbean week even more attractive. British Registry

The corps dresses in the Roaring 20's style uniforms as shown in the picture. The main sponsors are Weber Grills of Arlington Hts., the Wheeling Bank & Trust, Arlington Post 208, and the Des Plaines V.F.W. 2982 where the corps practices every Friday night from 8 to 11. It's the only program like it in Illinois and you can be a part of it. It's for males and females of all ages.

For more information, you can call Tom Day at 824-8969 or Bob Bryson at 537-0728. There are still a few openings for this year's show.

DINING & ENTERTAINMENT

Des Plaines Yesteryears

One of the major entertainment areas at St. Mary's Fun/Fund Raising event, Des Plaines Yesteryears to be held Feb. 15-16, is a faithful reproduction of St. Mary's first church building.

It was in the early 1880's that the original St. Mary's parishioners bought a frame church from a Protestant congregation in Arlington Heights and transported it by rail to a site on Thacker and Cora sts. The replica of the first church building is but one of fifteen classrooms at St. Mary's School, constructed to provide the setting for Des Plaines Yesteryears. There is also LaCucina Italiano, O'Flynn's, Bee Hive, Olde Towne Square, Boom Town Barn, Haas' Country Kitchen, Sullivan's Storage Co., The Gaslight, and many more.

Tickets are $5 per person, limited to those 16 years and older. Admission also includes a chance on $1,000 in cash, a 19" color TV set, and a $200 chest of beef. For information, call 824-8144.

PR Players hold auditions

Auditions for the Park Ridge Players' next production, "The Subject Was Roses", will be held Feb. 4 at 7:30 at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, 306 S. Prospect in Park Ridge. Performance dates are planned for April 25 and 26 and May 2 and 3. Eddie Kerros, who has recently directed several shows in the area, will be the director of this Pulitzer prize winning drama about a son returned from the war and his parents' inability to cope with reality.

Northwest Choral Society

The Northwest Choral Society is beginning to rehearse for their spring concert, with rehearsals on Mondays at 8 p.m., at the First Congregational Church, 766 Graceland, Des Plaines. Featured in this concert will be Vivaldi's "Gloria," as well as music by Mendelssohn and an unusual piece by Powell.

The Northwest Choral Society is comprised of members from Chicago and the northwest suburbs, and is a non-profit community group singing light classics and popular music under the direction of John Melcher. Anyone who enjoys singing may attend a rehearsal or call 459-0168 or 693-8068 for more information.

"Pot O' Gold" Ball

Over the Rainbow's 5th annual "Pot O' Gold" Ball will be held Saturday, Feb. 23, at the Chateau Ritz, 9100 N. Milwaukee, Niles. Cocktails begin at 6:30 p.m. A prime rib of beef dinner will be served at 7:30 p.m. Music for dancing enjoyment and an open bar will continue throughout the evening. Many prizes and surprises are planned. Donation is $22.50 per person. Advance reservations are necessary. For further information, call 394-0627 or write Over the Rainbow, PO Box 752, Arlington Heights, Ill. 60006.

All proceeds benefit Over the Rainbow Association, a non-profit organization concerned with the problems of the physically handicapped. The ultimate goal of the group is to provide a self-supporting facility and workshop for the non-ambulatory adults, where they will be able to live a productive and meaningful life as respected members of the community.

OCC 'Passages' series

"The Anatomy of Anger" will be discussed in the Oakton Community College Passages Through Life series on Tuesday, Feb. 5 at 1 p.m. in Room 306, Building 3, on the OCC Interim campus, Oakton and Nagle, Morton Grove. Admission is free.

Mitch Messer, marriage and family counselor and consultant with AT&T and Illinois Bell Telephone, will help participants explore the different facets of anger, so they can learn to express anger in appropriate, responsible ways and understand the legitimate anger of others.

"Anger is a legitimate human emotion, but some of us are vulnerable to an excess of 'super-anger' that poisons our systems and destroys our relationships with fellow human beings," Messer said.

Passages Through Life is a weekly series of free films, lectures and discussions sponsored by the Office of Community Outreach at Oakton Community College. The series is designed to stimulate and encourage reflection on the meaning of life and the changes which affect adults in mid-life.

For further information, contact Oakton's Office of Community Outreach, 967-5120, ext. 350.

Valentine Dance

On Saturday, Feb. 9, go to the Fifth Wheelers Valentine Dance at the Holiday Inn, 3405 Algonquin rd., Rolling Meadows (Algonquin rd. near Rt. 53). Music will be by the Mike Sanders Trio-Disco, Jivy or Smooth or your preference. Look for the Woodfield Room or #142.

We would like to get "Social" from 8 to 9 p.m. (Munchies-before the music starts). Cash bar. Members, $4; Non-members, $5.

MILWAUKEE & OAKTON NILES

Imperial Drum and Bugle hosts fund raiser

In their annual effort to encourage an early Spring, the Imperial Drum and Bugle Corps is sponsoring the "Cherry Tree Social" February 10 at American Legion Post 320, 8212 Lincoln, Skokie.

All funds raised will go directly to help with Corps instruction, instruments, uniforms and transportation expenses. The Imperials, sponsored in Skokie by Post 320, and dubbed the Village's "official marching ambassadors," are also the current State of Illinois American Legion champions. All donations for this non profit youth organization are tax deductible.

The 1980 edition of "Cherry Tree" will add many carnival type games and events to the usual and popular "string cherries." There will be activities on two floors, with kids' levels located mainly on the lower level.

Among new activities upstairs will be a giant auction of all new items donated by Chicago area organizations. These range from exciting deluxe Chicago hotel weekend packages to Chicago

Sting VIP soccer tickets to sporting goods to stuffed animals, auto accessory items, small appliances, etc.

Hours are 12:30-5 p.m., with the auction starting at 4 p.m. All auction items will be on display throughout the afternoon. A buffet will be available until auction time.

Printed information and organization officials also will be on hand throughout the afternoon to discuss the Corps with prospective members. The Imperials practice year round, and field two units each summer—the "Cadets" (ages 9-13) and the major unit (13-21). Both young men and women are eligible for the Corps, with or without previous musical experience.

This will be the last opportunity for local young people to join the Imperials this season, and be certain of taking part in full activity this summer. There are openings in the horn and drum sections, as well as color guard.

Questions regarding either the Cherry Tree social or Corps membership should be addressed to Judy Gillan, 677-0313.

Skokie VFW Hospital Benefit Dance

On Saturday, Feb. 16, Skokie Valley VFW Post #3854 and its Ladies Auxiliary will hold their Annual Veterans Hospital Benefit Dinner Dance and Voice of Democracy Awards Presentation at the Post Memorial Home located at 7401 N. Lincoln ave. (at Jarvis), in Skokie.

Highlighting the evenings program will be the awarding of Savings Bonds to William A. Lederer of Winnetka, and Eileen Cowhey of Lake Forest, Skokie's winners in the annual Voice of Democracy essay contest sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Both winners will give their winning essays in person on this year's theme "My Role in America's Future."

Bill Lederer, a senior at New Trier High School East has also won the VFW 4th District judging and has now advanced to the State Competition being held in Springfield.

Featured speaker of the evening will be Mr. Ray Soden, a Past National Commander-in-Chief of the V.F.W. Mr. Soden has held several other important offices in this National organization including Commander, Dept. of Illinois, Commander of the 5th District, and Commander of the VFW Post in Bensenville.

Russ Nelson, Commander of Skokie Post #3854 and Hospital Chairman Ray Miller stated, "the proceeds realized from this annual event are used each year to purchase special equipment or personal care items needed by veterans hospitalized at Hines V.A. hospital." They both agree that the hospital work and Voice of Democracy program for high school students are the most rewarding of the many community activities sponsored by their organization.

The evening will begin with a cocktail hour at 6:30, followed by dinner at 7:30. Dancing will commence at 9:30 to the music of Fred Markus immediately following the program. For additional information call Hospital Chairman Miller at 866-3777.

"It's time to think spring"

Ron Miller, Show Director of the Midwest Home and Flower Show announces two new additions to the ever-popular Flower Show which will open at the O'Hare Exposition Center in Rosemont, Ill. on March 15 and continue through March 23.

The Home and Energy Hall will become one of the highlights of the show with a fully landscaped and decorated walk-through home. To complete this theme area a swimming pool, patio, spa, greenhouse, and sundeck have been added.

Another welcome addition is the Arts and Crafts Hall featuring the Frank's Nursery & Crafts demonstration theater where you will learn to become creative in a matter of minutes.

All this added to the ever-popular floral gardens and displays make the Show complete. So come to the Show...Bring the whole family...Enjoy a day of evening of fun...You'll find something for every age and every interest...

ED HANSON

How YOU can make millions ...

In our present marvelous economy, money was never so plentiful or easier to obtain. With strikes, rising prices, labor disputes, gold and silver prices soaring and highest yield dividends, we should all thank the Lord for his bountiful blessings.

The aforementioned are the best indicators of Super Prosperity in the land of the free and the home of the opportunity.

For there is more money today on this planet earth than there is water. And, you can have your share of this abundant wealth until your pails runneth over, provided...

YOU have the brains to acquire it. Unfortunately... 85% of the people on earth are functionally illiterate. In the Village of Niles, the rate is slightly higher.

Among the young (16 to 25) it is today considerably higher than the world average of 85% functional illiterates. We have that vast group known as teachers, that good group who are under worked and vastly overpaid, to thank for the appalling lack of knowledge on the part of our young.

The foundation for a good education begins, first, in the home, and then in the elementary school system. My mother who passed away at age 94 recently, left school in the 8th grade, and went to work in a factory at age 12 in order to help a widowed mother with four children scratch out food and shelter. (There were no child labor laws then.) My mother's father was a Cornell University graduate - a rarity in those long-ago days. According to what my mother told me, he left home for work one beautiful spring morning, and like Judge Crater, he was never heard from or seen again.

Anywho, my mother educated herself at the public library. Half of knowledge is knowing where to find it! In her late thirties, she could complete the crossword puzzle in the Chicago Tribune in a few moments. And the word did not exist that she could not define or spell (at least, I never found one). (Want to have some fun? Do this: when people use a word, any word, ask them to define it. Example: A high school teacher recently said to me, "I heard a rumor you might be interested in, Ed." I said, "I'm a little dumb, would you please tell first what the word 'rumor' means - can you define it for me?" She couldn't. I said, "I'm not interested in hearing the rumor, because a rumor's an unverified report. Therefore, it's hearsay. Besides, you don't know what you're talking about.")

Anyway, that's enough of that jazz ... I know you're just panting about how you can make a few million bucks easily.

So, here's a few ways: Get a nice white piece of cardboard. Get a marking pencil. Make a capital "A" as best you can. Then, make a lower case "a", thusly. Do this until you have neatly lettered the 26 letters of the alphabet on the white cardboard. Next, write a letter to the U.S. Patent, Copyright and Trademark Office, Washington, D.C. stating: "I desire a copyright on the 26 letters of the English language. Enclose the cardboard, your letter, and send registered mail with return receipt requested to the above."

Then wait...

If you receive the copyright, you will make millions. For nobody can speak, write, wire or say anything without paying you a royalty. Just from TV commentators and talk show guests alone you'll make a fortune with a royalty of, say, a hundred dollars for a cent. And, what all of this strange breed says isn't worth a cent anyway.

This column shall continue next week. It will contain at least six sure-fire ways YOU, even if YOU are a dummy, can make millions. (I am very tired having spent the entire day and evening counting my money.)

Read me next week and you, too, can indulge in this enjoyable and most pleasurable fatigue.

P.S. I haven't forgotten Betty (Quinn) Coed or her family. Soon I'll have a most interesting and true tale to relate about this terrible tragedy.

And now, you know it's so, because I, Ed Hanson, told you so!

The Niles Park District will be hosting its First Annual Sweetheart Open Figure Skating Competition. This competition will be held at the Niles Sports Complex, 8435 Ballard, Niles, on Feb. 16 and 17. Invitations have been sent to over eighty rinks across the Midwest. The public is encouraged to attend and view all levels of skating ability, from beginning to advanced freestyle levels. This competition is ISIA (Ice Skating Institute of America) endorsed. For more information call the Sports Complex at 297-8011.

Wrestling

The Second Annual Cary Schumann Memorial Wrestling Tournament will be held on Saturday, Feb. 2 at Jack London Jr. High, 1001 W. Dundee, Wheeling. It will start at 10 a.m. The tournament is held in honor of Cary Schumann, a former Jack London wrestler who was tragically killed on the last day of school in June of 1978.

Teams participating include Gemini Jr. High of Niles.

Admission fees: High School students and adults $1, 8th grade and younger is 50¢. The tournament will run continuously until 6:30.

Jazz Percussionists perform at OCC Fair

The Oakton Community College Jazz Percussion Ensemble will perform at Oakton's Annual Career and College Fair, held on Tuesday, Feb. 19, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. on the OCC Interim campus, Oakton and Nagle, Morton Grove.

The OCC Jazz Ensemble includes 12 percussionists directed by Jake Jerger, lecturer in music. The group plays only percussion instruments to create an interesting and entertaining form of music.

The ensemble will begin its performance at 7 p.m. More than 2,000 are expected to attend the fair to view the exhibits of Oakton's vocational-technical and college-transfer programs and talk with representatives from 35 Illinois four-year institutions.

According to Jerger, the ensemble is bigger and better than last year's group, and includes a jazz combo that will also perform during the evening. James Kaucich, of Park Ridge, is student director and section leader.

The Jazz Percussion Ensemble has been in demand during the last year and will be performing at several locations this spring. The group will play at the Woodfield Mall on the evening of April 23, as part of a jazz week festival being held April 21-23.

The group also will be touring high schools in the OCC district this spring, and has already set dates at Maine East and North, Niles West and New Trier East.

Percuss-O-Rama, the group's annual concert highlighting the season, will be held on May 2 at Maine North High School.

Members of the OCC Percussion group are: Jim Kaucich, Jim Eriksen, Mike Hurley and

FRUIT 'N CHEESE DANISH

1 tablespoon sugar
3-oz. pkg. cream cheese, softened
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
10-oz. can Hungry Jack refrigerated big flaky biscuits
1/4 cup margarine or butter, melted
Any flavor fruit preserves

Heat oven to 375°F. Blend the 1 tablespoon sugar and the cream cheese until smooth; set aside. Combine the 1/2 cup sugar and the cinnamon. Separate dough into 10 biscuits. Dip both sides of biscuits in melted margarine, then in sugar-cinnamon mixture. Place on ungreased cookie sheet. With thumb, make a 1 1/2-inch indentation in each roll; fill with rounded teaspoonful cream cheese mixture. Bake at 375°F. for 15 to 20 minutes or until golden brown. Top each roll with preserves. Serve warm or cool. 10 rolls.

TIP: Coarse grain (crystal) sugar can be substituted for sugar-cinnamon mixture.

LWV birthday party and unit on initiative progress

The League of Women Voters of Morton Grove-Niles will celebrate the 60th anniversary of the founding of the national League and discuss the initiative process of direct legislation at a public meeting Saturday, Feb. 9 at Niles Recreation Center, 7877 Milwaukee.

Mayors of both villages, village trustees, park and library board members, and Niles Family Services board members have received special invitations to the one o'clock birthday party at which the Feb. 14, 1920 organization of LWVUS will be observed.

Barbara Fowler of Elmhurst, state League board member whose specialty is constitutional implementation, will present the unit on initiative, assisted by local Leaguers Ellen Van Laningham and Carol Leas. For more information call President Joan Goldberg, 823-6682, or Mrs. Van Laningham, 967-8465.

In 1979 the state League adopted as a new study item the entire process of direct legislation on the state level, including initiative, referendum, and recall. It soon became evident that only the first of these electoral devices could be dealt with adequately in one year, leaving referendum and recall to be examined during the 1980-81 season.

Initiative is the means whereby the electorate may by petition propose a law or an amendment to a constitution. Referendum is an issue submitted to popular vote. Recall is the term applied to an election for removing a public official from office before the end of his term.

Initiative has various forms: direct, indirect, statutory, and constitutional. The 1970 Illinois Constitution provides for only a very limited exercise of constitutional initiative. The question for study and consensus by March 15 this year is: Do we wish to extend the initiative process in Illinois?

Direct initiative is the procedure whereby through valid petitions a proposed law or amendment is placed on the ballot to be passed or rejected by the voters. Fifteen states have some form of this method, which bypasses the legislature.

Indirect initiative entails petitioning for a law or amendment to be submitted to the legislature, which then must act on the proposed measure or one substantially similar. If the legislature fails to respond to the will of the petitioners, the question is placed on the ballot in five states.

Statutory initiative, now in use in 21 states, is any initiative procedure, direct or indirect, which affects the written law or acts passed by the legislature. Constitutional initiative provides for citizen initiative to amend the constitution in 16 states.

Before 1970 the Illinois Constitution did not provide for any form of initiative on the state level, although it was available on the local level to any unit of government having home rule. The 1970 Illinois Constitution permits the electorate to submit changes in the structural or procedural subjects containing in Article IV (the legislative article) to the voters in a general election, and that is all.

In accordance with this provision petitions are now being passed to place on the November, 1980 ballot a proposed amendment to change to single member districts and abolish the current system of cumulative voting from multi-member districts in electing members of the Illinois House.

Notre Dame students react to the draft

Students at Notre Dame High School in Niles are split on the issue of a registration leading to a draft. A sample poll conducted among Seniors showed that while many are willing to "fight for their country", some are opposed.

One student in favor said, "We need a draft. We should show the U.S. has backbone. We won't be pushed around."

Mike Pater, 17, Niles explained his support. "If it gets to a point to where Russia pushes us around, we have to fight. I wouldn't want a world under communism."

Bob Dickman, 17, Morton Grove, added, "I believe in our government, and I don't like the way people are living in communist countries. No one wants war but if we threaten them, they will back off."

John Loftus, 18, Chicago, said, "I feel strongly that we should have the draft. If we're headed for war, we'll get crushed - we're totally unprepared."

Mike Whelan of Rosemont echoed this feeling. "A volunteer army doesn't work. You get the worst recruits that way, and that lowers the standards."

Among those opposed to the draft were students who felt that the draft would interrupt their lives.

"I've got college plans," Ed Herdrich, 17, Des Plaines said.

Loyola Academy Illinois State Scholars

The following local members of the class of 1980 at Loyola Academy in Wilmette have been named Illinois State Scholars. These seniors have been awarded Certificates of Merit by the Illinois State Scholarship Commission in recognition of their outstanding performance in the 1980-81 State Scholar Program competition: Patrick I. Endo, John M. Maraganore, David J. Vandenbranden, and Arthur F. Wang, all from Skokie; and James P. Smith of Des Plaines.
