Library Board members sworn in

by Eileen Hirschfeld
Four trustees, including three incumbents, were sworn in at a meeting of the Niles Library Board Tuesday, May 6. In subsequent actions, it became apparent two factions divide board members.

Sworn-in were Harry Pestine and Lois Grant, six year terms; Judith Czyzewicz, four-year term, and Irene Costello, two-year term. Other board members are Martin Hodes, Margaret Rajski and Rita Breitbart. After secret balloting, Pestineled forces made a clean sweep of all three executive positions with Pestine president of the board, Costello, secretary, and Breitbart, treasurer. Influential committee chairmanships were awarded to

Planners seek to re-classify restaurants according to services

Study new zoning for eateries

by Diane Miller

Niles Zoning Commissioner Angelo Troiani proposed to the Plan Commission Monday evening that permission be sought from the Village Board to review the present parking requirements for new restaurants in Niles. Troiani's suggestion came on the heels of the recent petition of McDonalds to construct a restaurant on the corner of Dempster and Grace. McDonald's petition was for a sit down restaurant with a drive thru window, but in their testimony before the board, they reported 38% of their business was carry out and the board felt they encouraged eating in vehicles since their proposed plans provided for several waste receptacles in the parking lot. According to the present village ordinances governing parking spaces for new restaurants, the spaces required are based on the square footage of the building to be erected plus an allowance for employee parking. The zoning does not have specific requirements for restaurants classified as sit down only, sit down with drive thru facilities and as in the case of the

by David (Bud) Besser

It was a typical Niles Day Saturday. A beautiful sunshine day, 80 degrees warm with just a trace of wind which would blithely lift balloons upward toward the sky.

It was the annual Niles Baseball League parade and there was joy in the air, band music from Notre Dame's band, crisp marching from Park Ridge's Cavaliers, hundreds upon hundreds of baseball players wending their way up Overhill, across Bugle Boulevard, down Ottawa and finally down Oketo, south to Grennan Heights field.

Mike Provenzano and his grandson, Mike, the second or the third, sat in the gunslinger's seat of The Bugle truck as we held up the rear end of the parade.

Despite this auspicious parade, not everyone was excited as the Little Leaguers showed off their spanking brand new uniforms as they marched down the streets. At 8315 Overhill, a car washer was hosing down a yellow Mercedes and didn't even stop to view the Little Leaguers passing his house. The few viewers looked sort of indifferently at all the paraders. At 8453 Ottawa, a lady with a white dog waved as we went by. A very indifferent black dachshund at 8435 turned his back on the paraders and lazily walked into his backyard.

ED HANSON

Ladies' Man...

He's a guy with an eye for good looking gals. He's fiftyish, distinguishedly personable, loaded with savoir faire.

He frequents the more fashionable restaurants and resorts; often attends dog shows, garden parties, woman's club luncheons—even churches. You'll find him almost everywhere, in fact, where clusters of smart, stylish women congregate.

Last week, by chance, I ran into him in a fashionable area restaurant. As usual, he was accompanied by an extremely attractive woman of indeterminate age. After she left to keep a beauty parlor appointment he told me about her.

"Ed," he said, "would you believe that beautiful creature has 14 children and 8 grandchildren?"

"You're kidding," I said.

"Not at all, Ed," he replied. "You see a great transformation has taken place with American women."

"In what way—I still see a lot of 'em that look like frumps?" I asked.

"Simply that today," he said, as he tossed a debonair wave at a well-groomed Waukegan rd. businesswoman, "older women are much more attractive than younger women."

"Your age is showing."

"No, Ed," he said. "As you know, I've considerable experience in these matters."

After getting my nod, he continued: "Women—and that includes Maine and Niles Township women," he explained, "fall into three age groups. First, there's the unmarried girls, mostly in the teenage segment, from ages 15 to 24. Roughly, there's about 14 million females in this age group in this country. Most of 'em are unmarried, their bloom is still on the rose, so to speak. But mostly they lack the savvy and money to acquire the proper cosmetology, coiffures and expensive clothes to enhance whatever their natural endowments be. Most of them are sloppy dressers, over weight, lack social graces and have a cheap sort of 'wall paper' conformity. However, this group has one thing in common—they're gunning for a steady guy and ultimate meal ticket and MATE."

"How well I know," I said.

"The next group," my acquaintance continued, "is the married women between 25 and 45 years of age. There's more than 15 million of them. In this group we see a subtle change begin to manifest itself. Their bloom has vanished—so they bring out the vanishing cream, hoping thru their own efforts, to recapture it. This group has one thing in common. They wish to appear attractive to their husbands and female friends within their own social circle."

"You are, indeed, a knowledgeable ladies man," I said admiringly.

After sipping his Courvoisier, he continued. "The third and final segment of our female population is the 45 to 70 age group. This is by far the most important classification, commercially and culturally speaking. They comprise the largest segment of the female population—about 28 million." He paused...

"Pray tell me more," I urged.

"They're the richest, controlling about 73% of the wealth, they've 'wised up.' They have the means to get help from the professionals—the Bonwit Tellers, and the best hair stylists, beauticians and clothing salons.

"Why not," I agreed, "they've got the dough!"

"True," he said. "But three or four decades ago these women of 45 to 70 were sort of the 'mink draped dragons' of their time because the technology of cosmetology had not advanced to its present stage. Jane Byrne, for example, is a splendid example of turning a former frump, into an attractive looking woman."

"I agree. I also like Barbara Walters and the charming Mrs. Peel."

"How true, Ed," he said. "Oh, I used to concentrate almost exclusively on the young ones," he said somewhat wistfully, "but times have changed. I now confine my efforts to the mature woman." Suddenly, he grabbed my arm.

"Say," he explained. "See that woman over there—the blonde?"

I looked and nodded. "Nice."

He snapped his fingers. "I've got it! I knew her years ago when she was a member of the Park Ridge Country Club. She was a mess then. Her hair was drab, money-looking, her makeup never matched her facial contours and her clothes..."

I took a closer look at the striking blonde. Her flawless complexion. The smart styling of her habit. But most of all, her detached cool air of confidence added to the overall effect.

MONNACEP travel series

MONNACEP's Travel and Adventure Series will present "Swedish Scrapbook" on Wednesday, May 14, at 8 p.m. in the Maine East High School Auditorium, 2601 Dempster, Park Ridge.

Niles West's pie contest winners

Winners of the annual Niles West High School Cherry Pie Contest were junior Dawn Strissel and freshman Janice Kreher. The two worked together to create a pie which was judged to be most appealing in appearance, had the flakiest crust and was best tasting of the six entries.

The Cherry Pie Contest was begun five years ago by the Practical Arts Instructional Area to conclude the pie unit in the department's six foods classes. "We also decided to hold the contest each year to arouse our students' interest during a relatively quiet time of the school year," said John Winterhalter, director of Practical Arts at Niles West.

A bake-off, conducted in each of the foods classes by teachers Barbara Chausov and Elizabeth Oldham advanced the six entries to the final judging. The final round of judging is conducted in the school's student lounge. Entries were judged this year by a panel of six, including District 219 Superintendent Wesley Gibbs and Board of Education members Mrs. Mary Helen Archibald and Dr. Eric Moch, Niles West High School principal Nicholas Mannos, dean Larry Erickson and librarian Eleanor Parker.

His high adventure experience includes the Philmont Campout in 1979, and his many special recognitions include the mile swim, the 50 miler, and World Conservation involvement. In addition to being the boy representative to the Catholic Commission on Scouting, he has been awarded the Ad Altare Dei and the outstanding Plus XII awards, and he has been entrusted with the planning of next year's camping retreat. Piontek is a 15 year old sophomore and honor roll student at Maine East High School, and is also a member of the SJB Youth Club. Ronald Drexler became a Bobcat in 1970, achieved his Arrow of Light in 1973, along with eight activity badges, and became a scout in 1974. He earned Life Scout in 1977, and from then on, continued to work toward the Eagle rank. His scouting duties began in 1974 as a Webelos' den chief, a Patrol Leader in 1976, a member of the Leadership Corps. In 1977, a Junior Assistant Scoutmaster in 1980, and Crew Leader at Philmont last year. His religious awards include the Parvul Dei and the Ad Altare Dei recognition. He has also received his 50 miler award. Ron is a honor student at Niles West High School and is also a member of the SJB Youth Club. Among the distinguished guests attending the impressive ceremony were Father J. Edward Duggan, Pastor of St. John Brebeuf Church, and Father John Conley of Notre Dame H.S. who prides himself with the fact that he was also honored by becoming an Eagle Scout.

Heart Disease Education Program at Lutheran General

Can heart disease be prevented? How can I recognize the symptoms of a heart attack? Where can I go to seek more information on heart disease? These and other questions about cardiovascular disease will be answered at a Heart Health Education program - Heart Alert - on Wednesday, May 14 at Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge. Open to the public, free of charge, Heart Alert will be held from 8 to 10 p.m. in the hospital's Walter E. Olson auditorium. Heart Alert is being held in conjunction with National Hospital Week, May 11-17.

Co-sponsored by the Heart Association of North Cook County, the program will feature panelists: William Blazek, M.D., director of cardiology at Lutheran General; Louise Nora, R.N., clinical specialist in cardiology at the hospital, and Carol Siegel, a Lutheran General nutritionist. "It is very important that persons understand what factors contribute to the development of coronary heart disease. Through the program, we hope to alert the public to these lifestyle risks," Dr. Blazek explains. Some of the heart-disease factors that the panel will discuss include diet, smoking, high blood pressure, stress and daily activity.

It is hoped that Heart Alert will provide persons who attend with a better understanding of heart disease and greater information concerning its prevention.

DOOR COUNTY WISCONSIN

Ralph Lietz introduced Joe Foltz who sang "God Bless America" and he had all of us join in a second chorus. Then a barrage of balloons went skyward, Nick Blase threw a wicked curve to officially start the season, the Cavaliers played a couple of numbers, a very smart cheerleading group displayed their considerable charms, the Baseball League officers were introduced, Fred and Marge Beyer, who put the parade together were recognized and then the cry of all baseball fans was heard thruout the park, "Hot dogs and hamburgers are now being served." Those expecting to hear, "Play Ball," would have to wait until after the digestive juices of the players had been mollified. But it was a lovely morning. It was the start of another baseball season in Niles.

Our report last week that things haven't changed much down at the Niles police station prompted several responses. Village president Nick Blase's cronies, the guys who rely on his staying in office to insure their jobs, were a bit upset by our report. Two policemen commented to us. One said the report that there was no advancement in the department for guys not being a part of the "in group," said he was studying the article. A second policeman came by and said it was the best thing we'd written. A lady telephoned and said there is nowhere to go in the department unless you are "in" with the clique. She noted two very fine young policemen, Gary Sheehan and John Morgan, Jr. have submitted their resignations. She left little doubt they were quitting because there is no chance for advancement in the department. She thought it was indeed pathetic two of the top brass in the department, Bill Mehring and Ed Dennis, have been put out to pasture because they were outsiders in the department.

Eileen Hirschfeld's report the top candidate for District 63 superintendent's job turned it down because of the turmoil in the district was excellent. Board members were a bit miffed we got an inside story. Board president Dick Smith thought such personal conversations with the superintendent candidate should not have gotten outside the province of the board.

The alleged comment the district needed an "enema" implied the harassment and vituperativeness in the district is now bouncing back to haunt the district. The people who sued the district when they first closed schools, and the militant union which was only interested in enhancing its older members at a steep cost to the entire district, means the district is not likely to receive the person deemed best qualified to serve here.

It's quite interesting what happened in the school district. Each segment or group rationalizes its efforts have been worthy. But the irresponsible people who threw the entire district up for grabs when they first closed schools have little conception of the havoc they caused; and the union, which is obviously pleased at its "victories," are also major culprits which has resulted in a superintendent candidate turning down a job worth more than $40,000 yearly.

Three board members have not sought re-election to the board because of the hassling in the district. Thus, non-competing candidates moved onto the board. And while they may well be good board members, it's obvious a competitive election would have been preferable.

The new people who caused all the ruckus had never been previously involved in public meetings. Perhaps they are the first wave of the "now" generation which demands they get what they want now.

Their demands are now coming home to roost.

There were a few popsicle lickers, some lawnchair viewers and a very bright young fellow, Steve Brens, who yelled at us, "What team are you?" The yellow-shirted lad then yelled somewhat derisively, "You just bought the hat," referring to the smart Sox cap I was wearing. And he was right. I stopped off at SportsMart the night before to buy a cap befitting a guy joining a baseball parade.

Ralph Lietz introduced Joe Foltz who sang "God Bless America" and he had all of us join in a second chorus. Then a barrage of balloons went skyward, Nick Blase threw a wicked curve to officially start the season, the Cavaliers played a couple of numbers, a very smart cheerleading group displayed their considerable charms, the Baseball League officers were introduced, Fred and Marge Beyer, who put the parade together were recognized and then the cry of all baseball fans was heard thruout the park, "Hot dogs and hamburgers are now being served." Those expecting to hear, "Play Ball," would have to wait until after the digestive juices of the players had been mollified. But it was a lovely morning. It was the start of another baseball season in Niles.

Business Directory

Our report last week that things haven't changed much down at the Niles police station prompted several responses. Village president Nick Blase's cronies, the guys who rely on his staying in office to insure their jobs, were a bit upset by our report. Two policemen commented to us. One said the report that there was no advancement in the department for guys not being a part of the "in group," said he was studying the article. A second policeman came by and said it was the best thing we'd written. A lady telephoned and said there is nowhere to go in the department unless you are "in" with the clique. She noted two very fine young policemen, Gary Sheehan and John Morgan, Jr. have submitted their resignations. She left little doubt they were quitting because there is no chance for advancement in the department. She thought it was indeed pathetic two of the top brass in the department, Bill Mehring and Ed Dennis, have been put out to pasture because they were outsiders in the department.

Eileen Hirschfeld's report the top candidate for District 63 superintendent's job turned it down because of the turmoil in the district was excellent. Board members were a bit miffed we got an inside story. Board president Dick Smith thought such personal conversations with the superintendent candidate should not have gotten outside the province of the board.

The alleged comment the district needed an "enema" implied the harassment and vituperativeness in the district is now bouncing back to haunt the district. The people who sued the district when they first closed schools, and the militant union which was only interested in enhancing its older members at a steep cost to the entire district, means the district is not likely to receive the person deemed best qualified to serve here.

It's quite interesting what happened in the school district. Each segment or group rationalizes its efforts have been worthy. But the irresponsible people who threw the entire district up for grabs when they first closed schools have little conception of the havoc they caused; and the union, which is obviously pleased at its "victories," are also major culprits which has resulted in a superintendent candidate turning down a job worth more than $40,000 yearly.

Three board members have not sought re-election to the board because of the hassling in the district. Thus, non-competing candidates moved onto the board. And while they may well be good board members, it's obvious a competitive election would have been preferable.

The new people who caused all the ruckus had never been previously involved in public meetings. Perhaps they are the first wave of the "now" generation which demands they get what they want now.

Their demands are now coming home to roost.

proposed McDonalds, a sit down restaurant with drive thru facilities and carry out facilities. Troiani told the board, "We need a percentage factor to work with since we don't know how many spaces to allow for each requirement."

Niles Director of Building and Zoning Joe Salerno told the board, "We need some direction! We may have to make a study of several different restaurants in the Niles area to determine what type of parking requirements would be needed."

Salerno noted there are other restaurants in Niles which are sit down restaurants with drive thru windows for customer convenience, but they do not encourage eating in vehicles by providing waste receptacles in the parking lot. "Since their drive thru windows lead directly out onto the roadway instead of the parking lot, we have not had any problems with these eateries."

Salerno was referring specifically to the Wendy's and Brown's Chicken restaurants in Niles.

Troiani suggested possible traffic studies be made at each location where a petition is presented to the board which would probably be costly, but not as costly as continuing hearings from month to month or calling special zoning board meetings.

Zoning Board president John Frick stated he felt they should wait for the eateries to make their initial presentation to the board and depending on the circumstances and requests involved, the decision on traffic surveys should be considered on an individual basis. The Board then passed a motion to seek permission to proceed with the study.

In other actions the board continued, for a second time, a request from Roy Ebert, 6637 Touhy ave. for a zoning change from B-2 to B-3 special use for the construction of an addition to his existing body and fender shop at that location. At the April meeting, Ebert told the commissioners he had an easement agreement with Lum's restaurant which is adjacent to his shop to use their property to exit vehicles from his shop. The exit is to the rear of the body and fender shop. His petition was continued so a copy of this agreement could be obtained and presented to the board for their review.

At Monday night's meeting, Ebert presented the agreement which the board determined was not valid since present zoning ordinances in Niles do not permit the use of another business' property as an exit for use by a neighboring business. The zoning laws in 1970 when the easement agreement was made between Lum's and Ebert is not valid under today's laws. Evert, therefore, was given a continuance to the June 2 Plan Commission meeting to see if he can come up with another solution for exiting autos from his property using his own driveway facilities and still have the required parking spaces needed for his existing facility and the proposed addition.

Run/walk to benefit Olypmic athletes

The Niles Township Olympic Committee and the Bank of Lincolnwood are sponsoring a 5,000 km. run/walk and a 10,000 km. (6.2 miles) run on Sunday, June 15. The race will begin at the Niles West High School, Edens Expressway at Oakton, at 8:30 a.m.

The purpose of the event is to provide funds for unreimbursed expenses for local Olympic potential athletes. The U.S. Olympic Committee has announced that during May and June it will qualify an Olympic team for every sport in the 1980 Summer Games. Whether the U.S. Olympic team participates in the Moscow Olympics or not, the athletes will incur expenses while participating in these qualifying events.

One of the athletes that will benefit from the run/walk is fencer Howard LaBow of Skokie. He is a graduate of Niles West High School and the University of Maryland. Howard is two time All American fencer, and he traveled to Israel in 1979 to tour Europe with the Israeli national team. His accomplishments include defeating several 1976 Olympic medal winners.

Other athletes sponsored by the Niles Township Olympic Committee are speed skaters Denise and Celeste Chlapaty of Skokie, gymnast Bart Connor of Morton Grove, basketball player Connie Erickson of Morton Grove, gymnast Ben Fox of Morton Grove, fencer Tim Glass of Niles, cyclist Peter Kron of Morton Grove and gymnast Neal Sher of Skokie.

Registration forms can be obtained by contacting the co-sponsor of the race, the Bank of Lincolnwood (675-2800). Information can also be obtained from race directors Ron Campbell and Pat Savage at Niles West High School (966-3800). Registration forms will also be accepted on the day of the race in the high school gymnasium, beginning at 7:30 a.m. T-shirts will be given to the first 1,000 entries.

Parent-Tot Story Time resumes at 10:30 a.m. on Wednesday, May 21 at the Lincolnwood Library, 4100 W. Pratt.

This is a special time for two-year olds and their moms to share stories, fingerplays, games, and films and to be introduced to the library and the library's activities for children. The sessions will run for four Wednesdays, May 21-June 11. There is a limit of 10 children, so plan to register now. Call the library at 677-5277 to save a place!

Larry Westerberg is Chairman of the Board of Aparacor, a large apparel corporation which began in Westerberg's Skokie basement many years ago.

Skokie Ace Hardware owner Al Lies said that he contributed to the stadium lights fund because it is a very worthwhile project which should have been done long ago. "Ace wants to be a part of such a project," he said.

The Niles West Booster Club, Redlin, Inc., the Chicago Futubakai Japanese School and Niles North's student activities fund are other contributors to the stadium light fund. Altogether, the project treasury currently contains a grand total of almost $18,000.

office, is designed to help local groups and organizations of all kinds get their message across to Skokie residents and to people outside the village.

There is no charge to attend the fair, and spots can be reserved simply by calling the Public Information Office, 673-0500, extension 257.

The fair will begin at 9:15 a.m. with coffee and rolls, and the program begins at 9:30 a.m. A one-hour program describing ways to utilize newspapers, radio and television will be delivered by representatives of the media.

Following the program, those who attend will be able to walk around and chat personally with the representatives from the media that will be on hand. A number of newspapers and radio and television stations have signed up to man a table or display booth at the fair. PR representatives from Skokie groups will have access to these media representatives and any promotional material they bring with them.

Each person attending the fair will receive a packet of information that will include key media names and addresses, information on Skokie institutions, and a mock PR campaign prepared by the Public Information Office.

This fair is open to anyone in Skokie who is a member or officer of a group that needs to refine and improve its methods of providing information to the public.

Memorial Day has grown from its Civil War origin to an occasion in which many decorate the graves of deceased relatives and friends. The holiday is also known as Decoration Day.

Also marching will be the Jr. Aux., Sons of the American Legion, Sr. Aux. and Post Rifle Squad as well as other affiliated Legion groups.

In other financial matters, Breitbart questioned why the general ledgers could not remain in the main library. Irving Graf, treasurer's assistant, said it was "physically impossible" for him to maintain the books unless they remained at his home. The matter was referred to committee.

Liason has been established with Glenview to discuss expansion of the Glenview library which would "substantially" affect tax rolls here according to a board member.

In other action, board members approved opening a special non-interest bearing account for receipt of the federal grant under the National Energy Conservation Act.

Board members also approved a motion to apply for the second cycle of the grant. Money from the energy grant, $1300, will be applied toward a $2,500 fee to be charged for an energy audit of the library by A-E-C Group Inc., Springfield, Ill.

Board members approved a motion that any resident of the Young Men's Christian Assn. (YMCA) or a motel in the area who has proof of six months residency may receive a library card for one year.

Ruth Machowski, acting administrator, said the library now receives about two requests a week from persons in such facilities. Until board action, they would be required to pay $10 for a library card.

Board members unanimously approved a motion by Grant to honor Lloyd Gillet for the time and service he contributed to the library.

Board members also approved a motion that the Niles Library be a temporary depository for books from the Copernicus Cultural Civic Center.

What are the North American Martyrs #4338 Knights of Columbus doing besides raising funds for the mentally retarded program? The answer is simple: Driving these special children to religious education classes at St. John Brebeuf School on Saturday mornings. For the last two years a dozen knights and several friends drive from Niles to Misericordia Northside Home to pick up Marc, Maggie, Lucy, Joannie, Val, Paul, Chris and Carol.

The Northside Home, opened in 1976, caters to the special needs of 79 ambulatory children over four years of age. Each week volunteers in teams of two pick up four or five of the children for the scheduled class. The children are enthusiastic and look for the scheduled class. The children are enthusiastic and look forward to the ride of St. John Brebeuf. The Developmentally Disabled Religious Program includes the trainable retarded, educably retarded, learning disability, blind, deaf, emotionally disturbed and physically handicapped.

The program was started nearly a dozen years ago. It was felt that there was a definite need for religious training for the Developmentally Disabled. With one class of children between the ages of 6-10 years, the program has grown to two classes of 6-10 years and one class of 11-16 years.

The future plans call for an adult class. Religious training does not stop with the basic sacraments of Communion and Confirmation. The Developmentally Disabled Religious Program is an ongoing commitment to the children to provide the best religious education possible.

Anyone interested in this program can contact Grand Knight Dan Cincinelli, 647-8164, for additional information. He will put you in contact with one of the leaders of the program. Nothing but good comes from this type of Charity and the North American Martyrs Council will continue to support this program in the future.

K.C.'s aid retarded children

What are the North American Martyrs #4338 Knights of Columbus doing besides raising funds for the mentally retarded program? The answer is simple: Driving these special children to religious education classes at St. John Brebeuf School on Saturday mornings. For the last two years a dozen knights and several friends drive from Niles to Misericordia Northside Home to pick up Marc, Maggie, Lucy, Joannie, Val, Paul, Chris and Carol.

The Northside Home, opened in 1976, caters to the special needs of 79 ambulatory children over four years of age. Each week volunteers in teams of two pick up four or five of the children for the scheduled class. The children are enthusiastic and look for the scheduled class. The children are enthusiastic and look forward to the ride of St. John Brebeuf. The Developmentally Disabled Religious Program includes the trainable retarded, educably retarded, learning disability, blind, deaf, emotionally disturbed and physically handicapped.

The program was started nearly a dozen years ago. It was felt that there was a definite need for religious training for the Developmentally Disabled. With one class of children between the ages of 6-10 years, the program has grown to two classes of 6-10 years and one class of 11-16 years.

The future plans call for an adult class. Religious training does not stop with the basic sacraments of Communion and Confirmation. The Developmentally Disabled Religious Program is an ongoing commitment to the children to provide the best religious education possible.

Anyone interested in this program can contact Grand Knight Dan Cincinelli, 647-8164, for additional information. He will put you in contact with one of the leaders of the program. Nothing but good comes from this type of Charity and the North American Martyrs Council will continue to support this program in the future.
