OK bid for Church st. improvements

by Diane Miller
The Board of Local Improvements of the Village of Niles Tuesday evening approved a bid of $249,906.93 from K-Concrete, Island Lake, Ill. for the improvement of Church st. from Courtland dr. to Washington st.; Ashland ave. from Church st. to 859' north and Willow Lane from Church st. to 157' north. The improvements will include storm sewers, repaving of the streets, curbing and installation of sidewalks. The improvements are being funded by motor fuel tax funds and since these funds are being used, the K Concrete bid which has been approved by the Niles Engineering Department will be turned over to the State of Illinois for their approval. According to Niles Village Manager Ken Scheel, as soon as this state approval is received, the company will be required to submit a work schedule denoting the start of the work and the

Figures for Oct. 25 referendum lowered from 45¢ to 39¢ per $100 valuation

District 63 lowers tax rate proposal

by Eileen Hirschfeld
A proposed tax rate referendum to be held October 25 by East Maine School District 63 was lowered from 45 cents to 39 cents per $100 assessed valuation at a regularly scheduled board meeting Tuesday, June 23 in Apollo school, 10100 Dee rd., Des Plaines.
The consensus of the board seemed to be that with an increase of 6 per cent in the multiplier for the state formula, 45 cents may be too costly for the taxpayers.
The tax fund rate, to be fed into the education fund, will be increased from 1.81 per cent to 2.20 per cent if approved by the voters. A 45 cent increase would have increased the tax rate to 2.28 per cent. The referendum was scheduled to head off a deficit in the district finances.
Board members discussed the sale of the district's Harrison street property, the north side of Harrison east of Greenwood. A consensus of the board was that the three acres be appraised. About $300 is paid each year in taxes on the area.
In other discussion, board

by David (Bud) Besser
Every now and then we get those telephone calls. Being in this business, reading the police report week after week, and realizing what goes on behind those closed doors in every town and city, you think you become hardened to life's knocks and inequities. But when the call comes, you stop, wonder what it's all about and that so-called hard veneer peels away.
Monday morning Seymour Primer called: "Bud, I've got some bad news. Sam died yesterday". The calls always start with "I've got some bad news". That's supposed to prepare you. Pause, and then the bad news-bearer eases it out.
Sam was Sam Buble. He was something special to Niles. And he was something special to those of us who knew him. I'd like to call him a friend. But it doesn't quite fit because he was such a private kind of guy.
When we began The Bugle in 1957 we made a weekly tour of all Niles public departments. We seemed to spend more time at the fire department. I'm not sure why. But one of the reasons was Sam. He was full of conversation. A very bright guy, Sam was full of talk, mostly about fires, firemen, and fire departments. It wasn't any small talk-gossip. Sam was absolutely in love with his work. He could quote you word by word from fire manuals.
Sam B. was a very physical guy. He had an Apollo build, not an ounce of fat. Lean and always tan. Downright ruddy.

Niles Bicycle Patrol

Once again summer is here, good weather and good times. Schools are out and many children, both young and old, will be out riding bicycles. The Niles Bicycle Safety Patrol will also be out, however, they will be out doing a specific job, enforcing bicycle rules of the road. This is the fourth year the "Bike Cops" are out. Last year the Village of Niles received a state award and has also been recognized nationally for their accomplishments in bicycle safety. Many suburban communities have copied Niles and have begun similar bicycle enforcement programs. The objective of the program is to reduce bicycle accidents and making biking safer.
Many commercial advertisements show much trick riding on trail bikes and specially built bicycles designed for such stress. However, a large number of young people mimic the riders in these advertisements and take dangerous chances; a number

Stress workshop

Niles Family Service is pleased to announce a new workshop as part of the educational/preventive series to the community. Dr. James Cisek will lead a three session workshop entitled "Stress Management through Problem Solving". This workshop will be held at the Trident Center, 8060 Oakton St., Niles, from 7:30 - 9 p.m. starting on Tuesday, July 1. The other two sessions will be held on July 8, and July 15 from 7:30 - 9 p.m.

Dr. Cisek will discuss how important the process of personal problem solving is to our success in life. He will focus on the use of problem solving in reducing stress from whatever source we encounter. Specific stress and problem solving techniques will be illustrated. For example, Dr. Cisek will show how important our attitudes are in reducing stress and dealing with life's problems. He will also show how each person can use the problem solving process to make better decisions and solve problems. The participants in this workshop will gain practice through several exercises Dr. Cisek has developed. Each step in problem solving will be further developed through these exercises, group discussions and materials. Each participant will have the opportunity to learn specific techniques of stress management through problem solving. There will be ample time for questions and discussions in each session. This is not intended as therapy, but rather as an educational experience which can help a person to better deal with stress and making decisions.

The cost of the workshop will be $10 for the three sessions. If the cost is an obstacle, please call Dr. Cisek. Since this is a special workshop, please enroll early because the enrollment is limited. For further information, please call Dr. Cisek at 692-3396.

On June 29 we will go to the Candlight to see "Oklahoma", a Joyful Classic and "America's Greatest Musical" and on July 9 our BIGGIE the Mystery Trip. Watch for it, it's a secret, no one knows but Mike. It's been put together at this time. It's mysterious, isn't it??? This trip visits places not visited on any of our other programs we've had. Price is $9 and includes transportation, enjoyable and mystery tour and lunch at one of the 12 leading eating places, and mystery package. We can't divulge any more details, but we are sure it will be an outstanding day to remember. So join your fellow sleuths, sign up with Mike and join the fun.

Our June 12 meeting was very well attended with 145 members. All the men received a gold pen and a red lapel rose and were enrolled in the Franciscan Missionary Union in Honor of Father's Day.
Our trip on June 6 to Fishermans Inn in Elburn, Illinois was just beautiful. The Inn was charming, with its breathtaking view and the country charm. Our host Mr. Richard Walt was wonderful, we had hot and cold Hors D'Oeuvres and the red snapper dinner was just delicious and the salad, Yorkshire pudding and dessert really hit the spot. This being an evening trip didn't give us too much time to go browsing through the beautiful grounds, so we are planning a day time trip in the near future. We want to thank Harold Warmann for getting this wonderful trip together and of course we missed both Dorothy and Harold on the trip as they were in Texas visiting their son. We also thank our Program Chairman Mike Provenzano and his wife Jo Ann for their work on the remainder of the trip. Mike is doing a great job in getting our events together along with Jo Ann. He has many interesting things planned...Speedy recovery to Ann Mostek who underwent surgery. She is in Edgewater Hospital, a card or phone call will sure help to cheer her up.

Dear Editor:
That was a low blow from the Left Hand (Bugle, June 19). "Tiresomely we remind taxpayers how simple it would have been had Oakton College bought existing schools rather than building its new campus..."

Mr. Besser's comment wrongly assumes that the College had the option of obtaining existing facilities. Somehow he forgets that Oakton's decision to build its permanent campus in Des Plaines was made in 1974 after a long and difficult series of efforts to find suitable facilities. During the early 1970s, the administration and Board of Trustees of the College made extensive inquiries of school boards, park districts and other public bodies. Oakton was informed repeatedly that there was no currently available land or facilities and that none would become available in the future.

Taxpayers could also be reminded that their tax dollars have provided community college campus construction statewide, but only now in their own district. Furthermore, even with OCC enrollment increasing, Oakton's trustees have been able to reduce the local community college tax rate.

It is a little ironic that the Left Hand's uninformed criticism comes just as Oakton students for the first time gain the use of their own college facilities. After ten full years of operation in leased industrial buildings in Morton Grove, the College has now been able to occupy its new campus.

This summer, enrollment has increased sharply at both Des Plaines and the Morton Grove campuses. With needed space and parking now available, more local students are turning to Oakton. We anticipate increased enrollment in the fall semester (classes begin Aug. 26) when the College moves from its interim campus in Morton Grove to its new location in Skokie.

Bugle readers and staff are warmly invited to visit Oakton and find out more about what the College is able to offer the community.

W.A. Koehnline, President
Oakton Community College

Dr. Koehnline may be dealing with a Monday morning quarterback who knows how to win the game two days after it's been played. On the other hand (no relation to the Left Hand), we reported diminishing enrollments in our elementary school districts back in 1970. Subsequently, we are now seeing the closing of elementary and high schools in our districts in 1980. This experience should teach us we should be more alert to trends when they are first reported and when they are first projected.

In a conversation with Oakton's Dr. Klehm, we noted all of us are guilty of not having formed an overall committee representing all school districts. Rather than studying only the needs of one district, a comprehensive plan of all districts should have been considered.

We're a staunch supporter of the college as well as all other schools. But we're not a supporter of people who have edifice complexes.

Questions privilege tax

Dear Mayor Byrne:
It has recently been suggested that the City of Chicago impose a privilege tax on people who come into the city to work. I would like to recommend at this time that the Mayor and City Council of Chicago withhold any such tax, at least until after the 1980 census is completed, in order to accurately determine the exact number of people who come into the city to work and in the alternative, those who leave the city to work in the suburbs and other counties.

At the present time Chicago should be making a sincere effort to not only hold people who live in the city, but at the same time, try and encourage suburbanites to move back to the city. A privilege tax would obviously not only discourage people from wanting to work in the city of Chicago, but of necessity, this would probably further harden their attitude about moving back into the city.

It is also to be remembered that if the census tells us that many people leave the city to work in the suburbs as come into the city from the suburbs, then there will be additional pressures towards Mayors of suburban communities to also apply a privilege tax on Chicagoans who leave the city to work in suburbia. It seems to me that we might have some communities taxing, not necessarily because they need the money, but in spite, just in order to get back at Chicago.

At best, this kind of a tax seems questionable, and certainly before it should be pursued further, we should have all the statistics available. This will be sometime toward the end of the year after the census work has been completed.

Yours very truly,
(s) Nicholas B. Blase
Mayor, Village of Niles

An open letter to the taxpayers of Morton Grove

In response to a request by a local resident as to my reason for not approving a salary increase for our park director, Mr. Dave Huber, I wish to make the following statement:

Our park director is already well compensated for his work. He receives $26,500 base salary, plus a home and an automobile with expenses paid by the taxpayer. In addition, the cost of housing has been increasing by at least 10% annually which in effect provides Mr. Huber automatic increased benefits.

Mr. Huber's responsibilities include giving the board proper technical advice which would allow the commissioners to reach intelligent decisions on important bids and contracts. In my opinion, Mr. Huber's advise has cost taxpayers unnecessary expense. For example, contracts for pool repairs, storm windows and, more recently, the repairs on the whirlpool which were awarded on a no-bid basis.

Although Mr. Huber wants a raise in salary for himself he is negligent in taking sufficient action to save the taxpayers money. In view of certain bidding and contract problems and other unnecessary expenses borne by the taxpayers, I feel a salary increase for the director is not justified.

Nick Bozmos
Commissioner Morton Grove
Park District

Text of Huber's reply

I believe the information as outlined below is just a small portion of my contribution to the Morton Grove park district.

The district has flourished, grown and gained in stature and recognition in the state in comparison to comparable districts regarding our facilities, staff, programs and improvements in services and recreational facilities even in light of galloping inflation, rising costs, rising taxes and the problems resulting from the state of our economy. I believe that my office has been the major factor in spearheading the progress and preserving the status of this district.

The efforts and contributions of my staff, under my leadership and direction, warrant a cost of living increase equal to, or in excess of 9%. Therefore, I respectfully request that you re-evaluate my position, after reviewing the following information, and at least place my position as park director on a par with my staff and the districts in the area.

Through my cooperation I have been responsible for the following monies being received for the park district:

- Land Acquisition grant — $200,000.
- Prairie View stop light split with village — $38,000.
- Money received from township for removal of house from Prairie View center — $3,500.
- Total — $241,500.

These are only highlights of the monies recently received for the park district. There have been many others which the records would verify.

One major decision that was made based on my efforts and recommendations, and which proved to be a major factor in the financially successful operation of the Morton Grove park district, was the construction of the racquetball courts and the elimination of the ice skating rink in Morton Grove were at their peak. After further study by myself, during the delay of the construction of the community center, and based upon my foresight of the future needs of the community, I reached the conclusion that ice skating rinks were at a station point and the youth population was declining. Therefore, it would be much more feasible for the Morton Grove park district to eliminate the ice rink and construct a racquetball court which would attract not only the youth, but the older population. If not for this recommendation from myself, this facility would be operating at a deficit, as neighboring park districts are, instead of a plus factor.

Not only did my direction in this regard prove to be correct, but through this a mutual agreement was drawn with our neighboring park districts — which has grown into more cooperation between park districts, rather than competition.

Through my administrative ability on budgeting, this park district has an excess of $80,000 cash on hand plus a $90,000 capital improvement fund, at a time when other park districts are going to tax anticipation warrants in order to meet current financial obligations.

Monies received or savings benefiting the park district this year alone, through my efforts are:

1. $5,000 from village — supervision for senior citizens.
2. $5,000 from painting and varnishing of court floors ourselves, instead of contracting out.
3. $2,500 that Oakton Community college paid for and laid sod and public works removal of old grass.
4. $700 for repair of fence — one half from village; one half from 1st National Bank of Morton Grove.
- Total — $19,200.

POPULATION COMPARISON STUDY — 42 PARK DISTRICTS CHICAGO AREA

SALARY COMPARISON STUDY — 1979-80		Morton Grove
Population	Median
27,000	$28,000*	$26,536
Director's salary	4.25 years	9 years
Years in position	11.25 years	14 years
Years in field

*This figure would be increased based on a current study of salary increases. I believe my years of experience and proven value to this park district is worth a minimum of 9% above the $26,536 which is $2,388, or only one-half of the inflation rate this past year, which would only place the salary of the director within the median range.

To have another director come in this park district, with the same assets and accomplishments as myself, would require that they pay the median salary.

50% MORE HOME THAN YOU COULD AFFORD TWO MONTHS AGO.

A short time ago, most everyone's "dream home" seemed forever out of their reach. Interest rates were perhaps 50% higher than they are today. That means that the payments on a $40,000 home a few weeks ago can probably buy a $60,000 home today.

What does the future hold? Very likely higher housing costs. Possibly higher interest rates again. Who knows?

Your only protection is to buy now, while the prices and interest rates are right. Once you do, you'll never have to worry about being locked out of your "dream home" again.

Golf Towers: A suburban answer to the city highrise

Despite the clean air, room to move, and all the other obvious advantages of the suburbs, many city dwellers dismiss suburban living simply because it lacks the glamour and prestige of a big city lifestyle. This is especially true of those accustomed to the unique luxuries of highrise living...and it's understandable, as even the most affluent suburbs have never offered anything quite as prestigious as the lakefront highrise.

Until now that is. At Golf Towers in Des Plaines, Gold Coast is living alive and well, even though the lake is some ten miles away. Features usually associated only with the finest Chicago highrises -- private balconies with spectacular city skyline views, spacious, climate-controlled condominium suites, luxurious amenities like a private, heated pool and beautifully decorated clubhouse -- are all part of the Golf Towers lifestyle, as well. And, because of its location in the wide open spaces of the suburbs, Golf Towers can offer many things its city counterparts cannot, including acres of rich, green landscaping and immediate access to the popular Golf Mill Shopping Center and Mill Run Theater.

It's a highrise where the city doesn't surround you; it's merely a nearby neighbor. And quick access to RTA buses, commuter trains, and major expressways bring the entire Chicago area within easy reach. Best of all, Golf Towers is a condominium, permitting residents to take advantage of the spaciousness, tax benefits, and equity build-up of suburban home ownership -- at a fraction of what it might cost for a single-family home or comparable highrise home in the city.

One bedroom condominium homes are available from the mid-50's, while two bedrooms start in the high-60's. Visitors are welcome to take a look around Golf Towers, at 9009 W. Golf rd. in Des Plaines. Models are open daily from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. For more information, phone 296-2290.

Evanston, First Federal merger approved

First Federal of Chicago and Evanston Federal Savings and Loan Association have received approval from the Federal Home Loan Bank Board to merge.

Evanston Federal, 30 years old this month, has assets of $141 million and is Evanston's third largest financial institution.

"We are pleased these two strong associations are joining forces," said E. Stanley Entlund, chairman of the board of First Federal, Illinois' largest savings and loan association.

"Evanston is a dynamic community, and Evanston Federal has done an outstanding job over the years in serving it. They have built a fine staff and have developed excellent relationships with their customers."

When the merger is consummated June 30, First Federal will have 40 offices and assets close to $3.5 billion.

"We're looking forward to having a First Federal office right in Fountain Square in downtown Evanston," Entlund said.

In addition to its building at 801 Davis, the site until 1946 of Evanston's old City Hall, Evanston Federal has a branch in Niles near Golf Mill Center.

"Many of us have been with Evanston Federal almost from the beginning," said Robert E. Schrader, Evanston Federal chairman. "We've watched it grow, in dollars and service. This merger is motivated by our desire to provide added convenience and even greater service."

Agreement on the merger was reached late last year, and the application was filed with the Federal Home Loan Bank Board in January.

Four of the founding directors of Evanston Federal are still members of its board - A.J. Alber, E.V. Dunphy, Jr., Newton S. Noble, and Charles F. Southward.

Other founding directors included the late William H. Erickson, longtime Cook County commissioner and president of the County Board from 1946 to 1954. Another was the late William S. Nordburg, long-time Metropolitan Sanitary District trustee.

Schrader, who joined Evanston Federal in 1953, will become a director of First Federal and serve as chairman of the Evanston Division. Evanston Federal president Donald G. Martens will become president of the Evanston Division.

Additional totes may be purchased with every additional $100 deposited during the promotion.

The second offer is First

Federal's Golden Certificate Promotion.

New economic policies needed

New, non-traditional economic policies are urgently needed if the nation is going to effectively, and simultaneously, combat both high unemployment and high inflation, Harris Bank economists contend.

To this end, the economists outline a three-pronged plan of action in the current issue of Barometer of Business, the monthly economic bulletin. The plan employs what they say is the most effective means of dealing with the issues: "A unique combination of major tax cuts, specific reductions in federal spending and moderate monetary expansion."

Setting forth a premise, the economists explain, "As business activity continues its precipitous decline, pressures for counter-cyclical policies are emerging. Traditional policies of economic stimulus involve increases in government spending and a rapid creation of money by the Federal Reserve. However, there is growing recognition that pursuit of these traditional policies in recent years significantly contributed to poor productivity performance, declining living standards and double-digit inflation."

Therefore, the economists see the reduction of tax burdens as the first alternative. Noting that perhaps the one issue all economists agree upon is that taxes should not be raised when business activity is declining sharply, Harris economists argue, "Past legislation already has scheduled $50 billion in new taxes for 1980 and additional $29 billion for 1981. As a result, taxes would have to be reduced by a total of nearly $80 billion by 1981 just to prevent the tax burden from increasing while the economy tumbled downward."

Because of this, traditional thinking, which labels tax cuts as inflationary, does not apply here. "If the Federal Reserve pursues a policy of moderate monetary expansion, the economists say, "tax cuts can actually help to increase productivity by restoring incentives to produce and invest."

The second step is to provide selective federal spending cuts concentrating first on regulatory costs which impact business with a 20-fold dollar expenditure for each dollar government spends.

Next, cut in the rate of growth in transfer payments is recommended to lessen the burden of taxpayers supporting them.

The third recommendation is for controlled monetary stimulus, allowing growth in the 2 to 4 percent range.

The economists conclude, "In light of the continued threat of double-digit inflation, any stimulus must have unique characteristics. It must concentrate on restoring incentives for both production and investment while reinforcing the prospects of lower inflation and stable growth."

North West Federal hits billion dollar mark

North West Federal Savings has reached another important milestone.

David J. Denwood, president, announced that savings deposits of the Association have grown by nearly $100 million since the end of last year and reached the $1 billion mark on May 30, 1990. "We're proud of this achievement and are grateful to the more than 193,000 savers who have placed their trust and confidence in North West Federal," he said.

Total assets, as of May 30, are $1.18 billion with reserves in excess of $43 million. "North West Federal consistently pays the highest savings rates permitted by law," Denwood said, "but we feel that it is service and convenience that really attracts our savers and borrowers. Earlier this year we opened our twelfth branch office, in the Edgebrook area, and we have received approval to open two more offices—in Franklin Park and Rogers Park—which we hope will be ready by the end of 1990. Our goal is still to provide more and better services and programs for savers, homeowners and the communities we serve," Denwood concluded.

REAL HELP

It's about time.
 You've read enough bad news. Now read through this ad which is filled with good news. Good news for your pocketbook, your family, and you.

Because for once you'll read how to improve your financial situation, instead of your banker's.

What? No panda?
 First, ask yourself how you select the bank that's best for you. Proximity? Free checking? A copper-bottom cookware set? 'Tsk tsk. That's okay for a start, but...

How to get more out of your bank than you put in.

There's more involved than your savings account interest. For instance: Along with all the standard conveniences, like savings and checking accounts, notary service, personal money orders, RTA passes, safe deposit boxes, installment loans, travelers' checks and the like, find out whether the bank has the financial strength you need. Whether they can offer true, professional, thorough financial counseling. Be sure to find out whether they're involved in the community or put their priorities elsewhere. Inquire about the savings plans they offer; do their plans make sense in terms of return or liquidity or investment? Is the bank sufficiently large and knowledgeable to handle your personal trust or will you outgrow your bank and have to begin splintering your accounts and your efforts?

Get Specific.
 Ask questions. Get all the information you can, then take this ad to the bank officer and ask him to match CitizensBank's convenience, strength, resources, flexibility, point-of-view and professional staff.

The big city bank that isn't in the city.
 Think you need a big city bank? There's one right down the road in Park Ridge. Where you aren't faced with a big city hassle, like that uneasy feeling you get when the bank acts like it's doing you a favor. Where traffic congestion isn't so bad. And where the tellers smile.

Do all banks offer 16 savings plans?
 Not likely. It takes the biggest bank in the suburbs to provide the wide selection of high-yielding savings plans that allows you to find just the right one or the perfect combination to suit your financial objectives. And our savings depositors are each insured to $100,000 by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Cash Reserve Checking: You have money in the bank without depositing a cent.
 You can bank on Citizen's Cash Reserve Checking—a revolving, personal line of credit of at least $1,000 available to qualified applicants. With Cash Reserve Checking, you can conveniently write a check whenever you need funds. If your check exceeds your account balance, you automatically deposit of $25,000 or more, you pay the price.

Protect Your Castle.
 With area property values escalating at such dramatic rates in recent years, your home may be the most valuable single asset you own. A CitizensBank land trust can help protect you and your heirs from some of the problems and pitfalls of property ownership (while you retain all the rights and benefits). For example, a CitizensBank land trust can help heirs avoid the expense and delay of probate for property disbursement later, while it eliminates the risk of joint ownership, now.

There are many other benefits of a CitizensBank land trust, as well.

Whom do you trust?
 Look at the bottom of this ad and you'll see our full name is Citizens Bank & Trust Company. And one reason we have the big trust department in the suburbs is that people know they don't need downtown banks for thoughtful, professional advice on personal estates, money management, investments and more. They just need CitizensBank in Park Ridge.

The American Express® Gold Card. Don't leave your bank without it.
 This is the card that gives people who do substantial business and personal traveling and entertaining, benefits like worldwide charge privileges, emergency cash availability, nationwide check-cashing, and extended payment of the American Express bill, plus a $2,000 unsecured line of credit computed at a monthly periodic rate of 1 1/2% (Annual Percentage Rate, 18%) available with a CitizensBank personal checking account to qualified applicants. It's just one more way to help meet your growing financial needs.

IRA vs. IRS
 Let Uncle Sam contribute to your retirement security with one of three different CitizensBank Individual Retirement Account plans. You can earn high tax-deferred annual yields by investing small amounts periodically throughout the year or making an annual contribution. A "roll-over" plan is also available if you receive a distribution from an existing pension plan. It's all part of a security-planning program for tomorrow and a tax-planning program for today.

Where's your next $2 million coming from?
 Sure your business needs a big city bank. But does it need dealing with an officer who always seems to move on, just when you start to know him? Or that typical lack of comprehension of your goals and objectives? It should be refreshing to know you have a choice. CitizensBank.

With more lending power (up to $2 million to any one borrower) than most Chicago area banks. With the strength to evaluate your current position and develop commercial lending and corporate trust programs designed to help you achieve your objectives.

Dimension 60: Have your birthday cake and eat it too.
 We offer the nation's number one program for people sixty and over, who save at CitizensBank. Dimension 60 provides many services you need to handle your money and make it grow. There are ways to make your life easier and more pleasant, your future more secure.

There's free personal checking with free checks. Photo identification and membership card, 10% discounts in leading area stores, grocery and restaurant discounts, trust department financial planning consultations, will-counseling service, social security automatic check deposit service, a complete seminar series, speakers' bureau, a travel plan, a skills exchange program and much more.

We're a whole lot bigger than most other banks, and chances are we're a whole lot closer. In more ways than one.
 So far you've read about only a few of our Real Help services. But the help can't really begin until we start working together.

How may we help you? To find out, call our New Accounts Department at 399-4233. Or better yet, stop in and visit us today. We're open six days a week for your banking convenience.

Crest Communications wins advertising award

An Advertising Award was presented to Crest Communications, Incorporated, an ad agency located in Oak Brook, Ill., at the Annual Chicago Financial Advertisers Eagle Awards Banquet. The agency won the award for a Direct Mail entry which was judged a winner based on appearance, creativity, content, and overall impact and effectiveness.

This year marked the twelfth annual awards dinner held by the Chicago Financial Advertisers. The competition strives to provide recognition for the best financial advertising in the Chicago Metropolitan area. All commercial banks, trust companies, savings and loan associations, investment banking firms, stock brokerages, and credit unions located in the metropolitan area of Chicago were eligible to compete.

Robert Vorel, (pictured) President of Crest Communications, Inc. stated, "Each year the Chicago Financial Advertisers presents its coveted Eagle Awards to those financial advertisers producing outstanding, innovative advertising and public relations communications in print, electronic, direct mail, and outdoor media. We feel very fortunate to have been included with some of Chicago's top advertising professionals."

Bankers tour ITT Bell & Gossett

More than 100 bankers and financial executives toured the Morton Grove facilities of ITT Bell & Gossett, 8200 N. Austin ave., recently.

The tour was held in conjunction with the annual meeting of shareholders of International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation in Chicago. Bell & Gossett is an operation of the corporation's Fluid Handling Division, 4711 Golf rd., Skokie.

"The bankers and financial people took the tour to become more familiar with the Bell & Gossett operations, facilities and products," said E.C. Stork, president of ITT Fluid Handling Division. "Bell & Gossett is one of ITT's important manufacturing facilities in Illinois and is the largest operating unit in the division."

ITT has 5,000 employees in Illinois operations with sales and revenues in the state last year of almost $500 million. Bell & Gossett produces and markets a complete line of pumps, heat exchangers and hydronic specialties for heating and cooling systems and for industrial process systems.

Augustana honors board member

John E. Nygard, of Kostner Ave., Skokie, Ill., one of 19 persons who recently completed or is about to complete service on the Board of Directors of Augustana Hospital and Health Care Center, Chicago, was honored last month at a Board Recognition Dinner at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel in Chicago.

Mr. Nygard was awarded a plaque for his years of service (1974-1980) by Board Chairman Stephen L. Schlecht.

Augustana Hospital sponsors a recognition dinner every three years to express appreciation for the voluntary gifts of time and skills rendered by each Board member.

Centel raises rates

Central Telephone Company of Illinois customers began paying higher rates for out-of-state calls June 6, following the Federal Communications Commission's approval of a 5.1 percent rate increase requested by American Telephone and Telegraph (AT & T), parent company of the Bell System.

Even though Centel is a non-Bell company, its customers are connected to the national long distance telephone network, which includes Bell as well as independent telephone operations.

Therefore, any Bell System long distance rate increase affects local telephone customers, who use Bell transmission facilities when placing out-of-state calls. According to Wayne Norris, state vice president for Centel's Illinois operations, the long distance rate increase is AT & T's first in more than four years. The new rates will raise the average residential customer's bill approximately 15 cents per month, while the average business customer's bill will increase approximately $1.25 per month.

Balcor promotes Finley

James E. Finley has been named executive vice president of The Balcor Company and president of Balcor Property Management. The announcement was made by Jerry M. Reinsdorf, chairman of the Chicago-based national real estate investment firm.

Finley, who has relocated to Chicago from Balcor's Boca Raton, Florida office, is responsible for property management, some acquisitions, as well as the firm's day-to-day operations. Formerly a senior vice president with responsibility for acquisitions, Finley joined Balcor in 1973 and became a partner in 1977.

Since Balcor's inception in 1973, the firm has acquired in excess of $500 million of income-producing properties for publicly and privately-held real estate limited partnerships and a pension fund. Investors have included more than 12,000 individuals, pension/profitsharing plans, and various international and institutional investors.

SAVE MONEY!!
SAVE ENERGY!!
You'll do both when you replace your old gas water heater with a new STATES SUPER SAVER WATER HEATER with Foamite Insulation

It delivers more hot water-for less! Hot water is what you are buying, and hot water is what SUPER-SAVER delivers-plenty of it! Our 40 gallon gas SUPER-SAVER QR, for instance, has a recovery rate of 53.7 gallons per hour, and that's a whole lot more than other energy efficient water heaters can offer. Matter of fact, it's 19.6 gallons more per hour than Rheem's 40 gallon Energy Miser Imperial*, and 20.9 gallons more per hour than A.O. Smith's 40 gallon Conservationist.*

SUPER-SAVER fits where others won't. That's because Foamite is a better insulator—175% better, and it takes less space. For example: the SUPER-SAVER 40 gallon under-counter model is only 24" in diameter and 30 1/2" tall.

*Figures based on Edison's published U.S. Department of Energy efficiency data dated December 15, 1979, and A.O. Smith's own published test data obtained in their own laboratories. "Energy Miser Imperial" is a registered trademark of Cals Industries Company and "Conservationist" is a registered trademark of A.O. Smith Company.

United Way/Crusade of Mercy sets 1980 goal

A record goal of $63,725,000 has been set for the 1980 United Way/Crusade of Mercy campaign in Chicago and 159 suburban communities.

The announcement was made today by Charles Marshall, general campaign chairman, at ceremonies in Vail Court adjacent to Illinois Bell headquarters, 225 W. Randolph St.

Noting that the 1980 goal is 9.4 per cent more than the record breaking 158,250,000 raised in last year's campaign, Marshall pointed out that Crusade funds support human care services provided by more than 300 health and social service agencies in metropolitan Chicago.

The United Way/Crusade of Mercy, to kick off officially Sept. 9, raises funds for its two allocating members, the United Way of Metropolitan Chicago and the United Way of Suburban Chicago, and a grant member, the Mid-America Chapter of the American Red Cross. The United Way of Suburban Chicago is a federation of 90 suburban United Ways covering 159 suburbs in a six-county area surrounding Chicago.

Most of the money raised by the United Way/Crusade of Mercy comes from the contributions of individuals who are solicited where they work and the corporate gifts of businesses and industries in the metropolitan area. Participating suburban United Ways solicit selected local companies not included in other campaign divisions; professional people, local school, hospital and municipal employees; and residents of suburbs

Free guide spells out benefits

With health care costs increasing at an average annual rate of 10.8% since 1975, many suburban residents are looking for cost-effective ways to purchase necessary health care for themselves and their families. Pre-paid health care provided through membership in health maintenance organizations, or HMOs, is one very effective way, according to Suburban Health Systems Agency. As the agency responsible for identifying the health care needs of suburban residents in Cook and DuPage counties, Suburban Health Systems Agency believes that well managed HMOs can provide high quality health care at reasonable cost. A California study, for example, has shown that annual per-family health care expenses can be reduced by as much as $124 by joining an HMO. Other studies have compared the cost of coverage between an HMO and conventional group medical insurance; the results indicate consistently lower overall cost for HMOs, ranging from 10 to 40%, when insurance premiums and out of pocket expenses are included. Suburban Health Systems

Agency has compiled information about HMOs and their potential for providing high quality health care at reasonable cost in a new 24-page booklet, "Your Guide to Health Maintenance Organizations in the Metropolitan Chicago Area." For a free copy of the guide, call Suburban HSA, 524-9700, or write: Suburban Health Systems Agency, 1010 Lake St., Oak Park, IL 60301.

Lemonade stand to open

Uptown Federal Savings' annual Lemonade Stand to benefit the Robert R. McCormick Chicago Boys Club will open for its ninth consecutive season in front of Uptown Federal's office at 430 N. Michigan ave. on Monday, June 16. A long-time favorite event on Michigan ave. which always heralds the summer season, the Lemonade Stand will again feature the familiar outdoor sidewalk cafe atmosphere with white tables and yellow chairs, all in the old-fashioned ice cream parlor motif. Cool, refreshing lemonade will be sold this year for 10¢ per cup, an increase over last year's price of 5¢. Josephine Ferrara, Vice President and Manager of the Michigan ave. office, said, "Our price increase has an important motive. Increased support for the Boys Club. Its programs are subject to the same inflationary pressures of any enterprise today, so the higher donation from our lemonade customer will offset many of the increasing costs of providing helpful programs and services for the children."

A summer of entertainment and attractions are scheduled throughout the Lemonade Season. Beginning with the June 20 Grand Opening, "Crosswinds," a jazz group of college students from Evanston, Ill., will provide entertainment in Uptown Federal's Plaza of the Americas at 10 a.m.

In addition to the live entertainment, Uptown will be hosting several art fairs throughout the summer season, beginning June 19-20. Other art fairs will be held July 18, July 31-August 1, August 15, and September 25-26. All art fairs will include a variety of artifacts, many of which are created and demonstrated during the fair.

The Lemonade Stand remains open through August 1. Hours are Monday through Friday, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Job placement seminars

With the present increase in unemployment, the Leaning Tower YMCA has scheduled a series of seminars to prepare job applicants to present adequate vocational credentials to prospective employers. Those who attend these seminars will construct a Vocational Compendium based upon eight standardized, valid and reliable questionnaires which will be converted to a vocational graph on the applicant's aptitudes, skills, basic interests, temperament, preferences, verbal as against performance abilities and personality traits. These data give any employer a comprehensive appreciation of the entire job possibilities of the applicant. The seminar attendees will also be assisted in preparing a Vocational Resume giving a condensed factual record of past experience, education, special training, avocations, personal data and references.

When these application forms are completed, B.G. Gross, the seminar moderator, will write to the firms that the seminar attendee designates and will include the above forms with the letter. This assures the applicant that when he shows up to apply for a job, the employer will have complete data sheets in advance of the appointment, which greatly facilitates any job interview and increases the probability of being hired. These seminars will be held on Mondays at 8 p.m. in the Skyline Room of the Leaning Tower YMCA, 6300 W. Touhy ave., Chicago. The first session will convene on Monday, June 23. For further information call the YMCA - 647-8222.

Associated Research awards employees

In recognition of outstanding service to the company, Michael R. Braverman, President, recently announced the names of employees to be honored in 1980 by Associated Research, Inc., Skokie.

Bestowal of a traditional gold watch will commemorate 25 years of service by Marvin Kaltenbach, Production Manager—a Prospect Heights resident.

Two employees are to be made official members of the Decade Club in recognition of ten years of service to Associated Research. They are Roberto Spindola, 1703 West Henderson ave., Chicago, and Estanislao Carreon, 3546 W. Lyndale st., Chicago. Both work in the company's sub-assembly department.

Walgreens enters convalescent care market

Walgreen Co. officially opened its first store dealing exclusively with convalescent care aids Wednesday, June 18. The 6,000-square-foot store is located at 2626 N. Central ave., Chicago, adjacent to the Walgreen drug store at 2600 N. Central.

As a public service Walgreens Convalescent Care will sponsor a free blood pressure screening in its store Thursday, June 19 through Saturday, June 21 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. The testing will be done by the Chicago Heart Association. Person with elevated readings will be referred to their physicians.

The convalescent care unit is Walgreens' initial venture on such a scale into this branch of diversified health care. To date, Walgreens' efforts in this field involves a cooperative relationship with Sickroom Service, Inc., a Milwaukee-based distributor of convalescent aids.

One reason is the growing market for such products. Americans are getting older. People who are over 65 now represent 11% of the population. That figure is expected to rise to 18% by 1990. It is an important consideration when one realizes that people in this age bracket consume 35% of all health goods and services.

A second reason for optimism about this new market is the trend towards medical self-care.

To cut spiraling health costs, many people are opting for at-home health care—particularly post-surgery—rather than accumulating further hospital bills.

Turner joins RG Dynamics

Jacob C. Turner, 42, formerly Koss Corporation's vice president-corporate development, has joined RG Dynamics, Inc., Skokie, Ill., as executive vice president.

Robert Grodinsky, president and founder of RG Dynamics, said, "Jacob Turner brings us planning and distribution management. We've reached a milestone in terms of new products and new dealers. His expertise will help assure us of continued, steady growth in those areas."

"A personal plus is that Mr. Turner, whom I've known for many years, is an inventor in his own right. He holds two patents in electro-acoustics and understands the creative side of audio equipment production," Grodinsky added.

Before joining RG Dynamics, Turner also had been vice president of research and engineering for Milwaukee-based Koss, as well as general manager of its loudspeaker division.

Earlier, he founded a company that made consumer tape recording equipment and one that designed medical instruments to test hearing. He also launched the Opus/2 audio retailing chain in Memphis, Tenn.

RG Dynamics produces consumer and professional hi-fi audio equipment. Products include dynamic range expanders and stereo preamplifiers sold through dealers in the U.S. and Europe.

Home sales decline

The decline in existing home sales intensified in May, with preliminary estimates indicating that transactions slipped by 7.4 percent from April. Dr. Jack Carlson, executive vice president and chief economist of the National Association of Realtors, said today.

"Existing home sales on a seasonally adjusted annual basis were at 2,240,000 units in May," Carlson said, "dropping for the eighth consecutive month and reaching the lowest level in more than five years."

Based on the May estimates, Carlson said, resale activity in May fell 17.6 percent in the Northeast, 11.9 percent in the South and 7.6 percent in the North Central region. The West, however, recorded a 12.2 percent increase.

"The current resale situation is extremely severe," he said. "The extent can best be gauged by comparing the last two periods of drops in sales transactions. The current drop is twice as severe as either the 1969-70 or the 1973-74 recessions."

He added that resales have dropped 45 percent since their cyclical peak of 4,080,000 units in November, 1978. This compares with a 20 percent decline in the previous two recessions.

The drop-off in resale activity over the past eight months has been widespread, with housing markets in all regions of the nation experiencing the effects of high mortgage interest rates and the tight monetary policies of the administration, he said.

"There are signs of a slight improvement in existing home sales in June," Carlson said, "and the market can be expected to improve further throughout the remainder of 1980 before reaching a new record level in 1982."

He added, however, that mortgage interest rates are expected to remain around 12 or 13 percent during the remainder of the year. These rates can be expected to increase again in 1981 as the economy recovers. Inflation also can be expected to accelerate, as the federal government continues to stimulate the economy with excessive spending and then fights inflation with tight credit policies.

Honored by Prudential

Flanked by officers of the Prudential Insurance Co. at a recent awards dinner were Leo J. Santori, CLU, manager of the Lake View district agency, 6600 N. Lincoln ave., Lincolnwood, and his wife, Midge. Mr. Santori, whose office ranked among the top 10% of Prudential's more than 500 district agencies in the country, received a President's Citation for his 1979 record. Doing the honors at the presentation were James E. Clark, CLU (right), president of Prudential's Mid-America operations, and George A. Fint, vice president, district agencies. Mr. Santori has won the high award every year since becoming manager of the local agency in 1975.

St. Paul Federal wins public service award

St. Paul Federal Savings and Loan Association of Chicago has won a Double Eagle—the highest award presented by the Chicago Financial Advertiser—for its annual Musical Arts Competition. The program, concluding its fourth year, had more than 224 students from Chicago and 72 suburbs, compete for cash prizes.

According to Joseph C. Scully, St. Paul senior vice president, the Musical Arts Competition encourages students to strive for excellence in musical achievement.

"We're extremely proud to be recognized for this program, which provides students with the opportunity to publicly display the fine talents they are developing through school or private lessons," said Scully. Open to students in the primary, junior and senior high school grades, the St. Paul Musical Arts Competition was founded by Sylvia Giura of Oak Park. Chairperson of the Program Committee was LaVerne Rice, St. Paul manager of community relations. Students are judged according to age groups and compete in four categories: piano, violin, cello and flute. Judges for the competition are highly-qualified music teachers.

Vocational boredom

"Those who continue to hold jobs which utilize only a small portion of their abilities and interests are apt to experience a bleak case of boredom", said B.G. Gross, director of the Suburban Mental Health Referral Center. "Vocational boredom can wreak havoc with our mental and emotional state, which, by producing acute long range tension, can eventually impair physical health, and personal relationships", he added.

In an attempt to prevent people from continuing or becoming misplaced in unsuitable jobs, the SMHRC is offering a weekly seminar series of vocational questionnaires to determine basic aptitudes and skills.

These seminars will be held on Mondays at 8 p.m. in the Skyline Room of the Leaning Tower YMCA, 6300 West Touhy ave., Chicago, Illinois. The first session will convene on Monday, June 23. For further information concerning registration, call the YMCA at 647-8222.

Banking for the elderly

by Sam Placich Sr. Vice President Real Estate Glenview State Bank

During the past several years, the process of aging has received considerable attention in some segments of our society. The older generation, primarily people over age 65, has increased significantly in number and has a percentage of our total population. This group numbered some three million, or four percent, of total population at the beginning of this century. Advances in medical science and general population growth have caused this number to increase to a current level estimated at twenty million, constituting about ten percent of total population.

In many communities social and economic changes have occurred which have intensified this trend. Increased housing costs have limited the purchase of homes in established communities to primarily more mature and more affluent families, thereby aging the populations of these communities. The general trend toward urbanization, if continued, as seems likely, will have a similar effect on many rural communities.

A second generation of elderly have developed. Fully 50 percent of the population over 65 is over 75. It is estimated that possibly one third of all people over age 65 is responsible for the care of an aged parent. Within the group other changes in composition are occurring. For example, the ratio of men to women has been decreasing, and it is projected that women will outnumber men three to two by the end of the century.

The elderly have their own special needs and characteristics markedly different from those of the general public. Most of the elderly live on very modest incomes with a significant number living at the poverty level. Recently however, increasing numbers of the elderly live on very modest incomes with a significant number of living at the poverty level.

Successful retail banking has been largely related to the ability of individual banking institutions with the system to accurately recognize the needs and desires of the people within their markets. Having identified these, successful institutions have designed products and services and delivery systems to meet these needs. Banks which have done this on a consistent basis have been rewarded with growth of deposits and increased opportunities to expand services and, through these, improve profitability.

If banks are to continue to hold a dominant position in the market for retail financial services, they must be quick to recognize changes in social structures and identify resulting changes in consumer tastes and needs. Having identified these, they must design services and delivery systems which meet these needs and preferences and market them effectively.

The classic example of the railroad industry's failure to realize that they were in the transportation business is very applicable to banks. As retail bankers, we are primarily in the business of serving people's needs for financial services; however, as changes occur we must be able to adjust the services to meet changing needs. Banks and bankers have been at this business longer than any of their competitors and have a stock of experience and the esteem of the public, which provides a competitive advantage in introducing new services.

The growing and specialized needs of the elderly are being recognized at various levels. As a society, we have been generally youth-oriented for the past several generations. However, during more recent years, increased attention has been paid to the needs of the aged as evidenced by legislation addressed the special needs of the elderly and the development of such programs as Social Security, Medicare, and others. Considerable attention has been, and is continuing to be given to the problems of the elderly by both Federal and State governments. Other elements, such as health care insurance and travel industries, are responding with specialized programs and facilities. Purveyors of consumer products and services are gearing advertising toward the retired and even offering special prices to people over age 65. For example, Arthur Treacher's has a Thrifty Sixty Club, and the Sambo's chain has its Sunshine Club. The arrangements offer either straight across-the-board discounts of cents off on smaller portions and Organizations have been formed, such as the American Association of Retired Persons, to represent the special interests of the elderly. They are quite active and are gaining considerable support among legislators as a result of active lobbies in many legislatures.

In my opinion the majority of banks in this country have not recognized the elderly as a distinct market segment and have done little or nothing to cater to their special needs. Most bank retail services are designed for the younger elements of the population. Few, if any, are designed specifically for the elderly, and many are not readily adaptable to the aged to their unique needs. Loan arrangements may be one area where special packages are needed. The reverse mortgage and the reverse annuity mortgage are perhaps the best examples of loan accommodations with special appeal. Also, the new system of direct deposit of federal payments, such as social security payments, is an excellent service to offer, which not only offers convenience but safety as well. Counseling services should be offered in certain topical areas on a regular basis.

It is important that bankers first educate themselves on the needs and characteristics of the elderly because they represent a group which will continue to grow in size and importance in our society. Having done this, they must then design and promote services to satisfy these needs. If this is done successfully, banks will be more than amply rewarded both by the group itself and by the people at large as it recognizes the leadership role taken to help this very special segment of our society.

members analyzed the hot lunch program in the junior high schools. Ann Sostrin, board member, referring to the projected deficit, said, "I do not think we can go on with the programs." She said, "The way I see it, 25-35 residents are subsidizing this program." Richard Smith board chairman, said, "I don't see any way of eliminating this (lunch program) deficit at all. If costs go up, volume will go down."

About 300 children buy a "class A" lunch. On days when more popular items are served, the number can go over 500 students. Lunch programs are paid for from the education fund. Any cost increase for lunches must be approved by the State. According to the federal register, the program should be bid out every three years.

Board members will evaluate the program again next year when they have more input on the disposition of both junior high schools.

Board members have worked with the attorney to draw up a draft of a new lease more responsive to the district's needs. It will be reviewed by administration and the attorneys. Lutheran General Hospital is interested in leasing all of Nathanson school with elaborate modifications both inside and outside the building. Another party interested in rental is the Niles Public Library which would lease some of Ballard school. Part of the school is now leased by the Associated Talmod Torahs Assn. for use as a Hebrew school. The Maine-Niles Assn. of Special Recreation and another special education project are interested in renting Oak school which closed this year. Several summer programs also occupy space in district schools.

A district parent questioned the board attorney as to the legality of a "Boosters" club asking to pay fees for persons in the instrumental music program. His opinion was that unless the program was relegated to after school activities, it must be considered part of a school activity. As part of a school activity it may violate the concept of "free education."

Sixteen teachers from Maine Township Special Education Program were transferred back into the district. They are: Janelle Fritze, Ruth Ford, Stanley Heddeson, Marlene Jackson, Esther Leavitt, Mary Ann Miller, Linda Peterson, Sharon Sanders, Ruth Suckow, Virginia Tinghino, Susan Archibald, Jane Evans, Karla Rosenzweig, Karen Grass, Allison Nystrom, and Philip Diallo.

Board members also approved an objection to a permit being issued for construction of a garage by a home-owner on W. Terrace pl. Board members consented the proposed building will obstruct children's vision of cars pulling out from a driveway.

The ladies at dances hovered around him. He had that unmistakable animal-type sex appeal.

I think Sam was part-Indian. His dark-chiseled profile was markedly like an Indian's.

When we dropped around at the fire station Sam would both talk to us, and be on his guard. We were publishing a pretty tough newspaper in those days. There was illegal gambling in town and the public officials were engulfed in a building boom which had much profit potential for everyone. We were always probing. In the middle of an inconsequential conversation we'd switch the words to a question about some public official. Many guys would bite, but not Sam. He was so loyal to the fire department and his buddies, he'd never mention a word of criticism. He brushed our queries aside with silence.

During the 60's Sam worked for us on his off-days from the department. Again, he was physical. He'd drive our beat-up station wagon. And he'd build us a light table. He had golden hands. And even though his personality would have made him a great salesman, selling just wasn't his bag.

Sam became a captain in the department many years ago. We've mentioned before when Nick Blase came into office he had only lived in Niles about 18 months. He asked many of us about the heads of departments. We championed Ed Sacher. And we must admit we went to Nick and told him Sam had great leadership ability and would make a great chief. But it was too late. The present fire chief was appointed deputy fire chief just before Blase moved into office, and Hoehli moved into the top job.

Through the years Sam was in charge of instruction at the department. This great physical specimen would carry a hose up endless ladders. This 50-plus year old guy was going up and down ladders showing the kids how it was supposed to be done when he finally noticed he was getting short of breath. The chest pains followed on the handball court a short time later. It was time to retire.

Sam and his Phyllis had a dream. They sold their house in NICO, bought themselves a beautiful fish wheel travel trailer and a pick-up truck to pull it with anticipation of retiring. But he had a heart attack. He tried to buy back his house but the owner, who hadn't yet moved in, wouldn't sell. So with all their problems Sam and Phyllis had to rent an apartment in Wheeling. He then applied for disability-retirement pay, and had a great deal of aggravation before Niles finally agreed to the disability pay. He claimed it was clearly defined when you receive such a disability while still on active duty, you are entitled to such compensation. The village stalled. Sam grew apprehensive but finally received what he said was his due.

Heart condition or not, Sam and Phyllis were determined to fill their dream. They climbed aboard their new truck, hitched their unit behind them and began a slow trek to Florida, then west to Texas and on to California. They had no idea where they'd land. It was a great adventure. They wound up in Hemet, California amidst glorious sunshine, and found their new home.

Yesterday I spoke to Sam's Phyllis and she told me he would be buried in a beautiful little cemetery they used to ride by on their bikes.

He came from Hibbing, Minnesota. His many brothers and sister were very success-oriented but Sam wanted to do his own thing. He was not a 9 to 5 guy, and he wasn't a white collar-rep-strip tie guy.

Like all interesting people he was many-sided. He was so loving about his family. One of my last memories of him was seeing him riding a bike with his granddaughter. He left her on the northeast corner of Oakton and Waukegan one day while he talked to me on an opposite corner. When she began to cry he left me in mid-sentence and dashed across the street as if he was heading for a fire.

Sam and Phyllis loved to dance and Saturday nights you would find him at the Park Ridge VFW.

Sam was personable, outgoing, warm and affectionate. And he was terribly private, sensitive and seemed to always have his antenna up.

Last year when he came to town he had him over at our house when we had three very-well-seasoned travelers for dinner. And even though Sam didn't know about Tokyo and Germany and Spain and Italy, as the others did, he could spin tales about small-town USA which had all of us enthralled.

We've signed off several of these last looks at others who've past on by noting the quote a friend said about the passing of George Gershwin: "Gershwin died yesterday but I don't have to believe that I don't want to." But we'd like to write a little more. When Niles became the All America City we had a parade and Nick and the Trustees and several other public people were at the center of the parade. But they were minor characters in the Niles story. Sam Buble, and guys, estimated time of completion.

In other business the village board approved a pre-annexation agreement for the Johannsen property located at 8347 Knight and 8348 Lincoln, Des Plaines. The request for this annexation was made to the board approximately 2 months ago since the lots located adjacent to these two properties are now in the Village of Niles.

Trustees approved an amendment to the current sign ordinance which will set fixed standards for the price signs for gasoline service stations. Every station will be allowed one station price sign on the main identification pole. The sign will be no more than 4 ft. by 7 ft. and will give information on prices for regular, unleaded, mini-serve and self-serve. Prices posted will be the total price, tax included.

Trustees also approved another amendment to an existing ordinance which will now read that "all" business establishments having front and rear doors shall post numbers on them." This involves all B zoning. The board felt this was necessary for the fire department who are called to fires in the rear of businesses and at times cannot locate them due to the lack of numbers on the rear of these properties. While the board to take under consideration the posting of addresses on the rear of row housing units. He said the fire department had also made this request since the units are difficult to distinguish individually from the rear. The board approved the increase in car towing fees from the current rate of $10 to $35 for passenger cars and from $20 to $45 for trucks and commercial vehicles. Additional charge for winching would be $15 and dollying would require another $15. Larger trucks and commercial vehicles would have a fee dependent on the size and amount of the equipment plus manpower needed to remove the vehicle.

Police Chief Emrickson explained the fees have been discussed with the towing companies presently used by the Police Department and with the surrounding communities whose fees are almost identical to those proposed.

Niles Village Manager Ken Scheel told the board that work had been received Monday from California on the death of retired Niles Fire Captain Sam Buble. Scheel noted flowers and condolences were sent from the village.

replacement. He has a degree in health education and previously taught at Niles North high school.

An ordinance passed at the board meeting expanded the board of health from 7 to 9 people. Village trustees then approved the appointment of three new members, one filling an existing vacancy, to that board.

The new board of health members are Norman Kapon, who is certified in pest control technology and food service sanitation; Betty Norris, a registered nurse; and James Welter, a licensed plumber who has previously served as Mort Grove's plumbing inspector.

When the agenda at the June 23 meeting of the village board of trustees reached citizens' comments, William Blackstone, 9411 Sayre, relayed his complaint against parking violations, truck noise, and other disturbances at the Royal 8 Motel on Waukegan.

The village will pursue stronger action against the owner who violated his special use permit which allowed a swimming pool, and covered that area with a gravel parking lot.

Leonard Bloomfield, this time not speaking in his role as plan commission chairman, noted that police have been responding to 3 to 5 calls per week from the Go-Tane Gas Station, which reports cars leaving without paying. He referred to these complaints as "possibly fictitious violations" for insurance purposes, and felt they were a waste of police time.

Various service station security measures and prepayment ideas were brought up and the owner will be asked to consider some of these steps.

Also at the village board meeting:

Trustees gave approval to the installation of a drive-in window at the McDonald's on Ferris and Dempster. The zoning board of appeals detailed rules on litter and noise control which accompany this special use permit.

Trustees passed the $356,500 federal revenue sharing trust fund appropriation.

At Oakton growing old is for everyone

What is so special about growing older? Oakton Community College's special acting troupe, "Acting Up!", thinks it has some answers.

"Acting Up!" is an improvisational theater troupe made up of community residents all over the age of 60 that brings the message that growing older can be a positive part of life to schools, PTAs, churches, synagogues, charitable and senior centers.

Sponsored by Oakton Community College's Office of Community Outreach, "Acting Up!" provides an opportunity for senior adults to learn the techniques of improvisational acting and playwriting and adapt these skills to their own special comment on life and aging in the contemporary world.

"Acting Up!" will hold a special meeting for senior men interested in joining the group on Thursday, July 10, at 1:30 p.m. The meeting will be held at Oakton Community College, Morton Grove, 7900 N. Nagle, Building 3, Room 300. Members of the troupe and Carol Verson, director, will be at the meeting.

DPTG awards banquet winners

With all the suspense and ceremony connected with the Oscar, Emmy or Tony Awards, Des Plaines Theatre Guild presented silver goblets known as "Guildas" for acting and technical achievement during the 1979-80 season at their Annual Awards Banquet last Saturday night (June 21).

The gala evening included a prime roast beef dinner at the O'Hare Officer's Club, followed by video tape entertainment prepared by George Wadja, Frank Getz, Lee Gouvens and Marv Unell, interspersed with tapes of the five plays of the season, and presentation of the awards by previous winners and board members.

The ballots sent in by season subscribers had been tabulated by DPTG's own "Price Waterhouse" equivalent, Mert Staley, who had the results in sealed envelopes to be revealed only at the appropriate times following those fateful words... "and the winner is..."

Named Best Overall Production of the Season was "Man of LaMancha," the musical presented in May. Receiving Guildas for this honor were Marvin Unell, Producer and Paul Unell, Director, of Glenview; Frank Getz, Stage Manager, Schaumburg; June Rold, Choreographer, of Des Plaines, and John Austin Van Hook, Choral and Orchestra Director, Schaumburg.

"Man of LaMancha" also captured the lion's share of the technical awards, plus one of the six acting awards presented at the banquet.

Cassie Gabor of Chicago, who played Aldonza in "LaMancha," was named Best Actress. R. Wm. Shadinger of Park Ridge won the Guilda for Best Set Design. Raoul Johnson, Master Carpenter, and his wife Suzie of Schaumburg, were also cited for their work on this set-Raoul winning a Guilda, and Suzie the "Best Nail and Broken Screw" award...one of several in the "hammy awards" category

Bugle production manager Arlene Zoellick was winner of two Guildas at Des Plaines Theatre Guild's 1980 Awards Banquet held June 21 at O'Hare Officer's Club. Arlene, shown receiving the silver goblet (known as a Guilda) for Best Props for "Man of LaMancha" from Bill Shadinger of Park Ridge, also won the award for Best Set Furnishings for "California Suite" along with Marvin Unell of Glenview. Arlene is a Des Plaines resident and a newly elected member of the Board of Directors of DPTG. Shadinger also won a Guilda for Best Set Design, for "Man of LaMancha," which was also named the Best Overall Production of the 1979-80 season by vote of the Guild's season subscribers.

presented during the evening. Other Guildas for "Man of LaMancha" went to Jim Beddia of Buffalo Grove and George Wadja of Mount Prospect for Best Sound Effects, to Julie Tobias Wagner of Des Plaines designer and George Wadja, technician, for Best Lighting, and to Arlene Zoellick of Des Plaines for Best Props.

Other technical award Guildas went to Marilyn Collignon, Mount Prospect, as designer of Best Costumes for "Gypsy," and to Tobias Wagner of Des Plaines designer and George Wadja, technician, for Best Lighting, and to Arlene Zoellick of Des Plaines for Best Props.

Named Best Supporting Actor for the second year in a row was John Marquette, Des Plaines, who played Brick in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," the Guild's January production. Marquette received an identical Guilda at the 1979 banquet for his performance as Dr. Martin Dystart in "Equus." He is directing the Guild's July production of "Our Town" which will be presented at the 620 Lee St. Playhouse on July 11, 12, 18 and 19 at 8 p.m.

comedy the Guild presented in March. Cohen was Marvin Michaels in "Visitor from Philadelphia" and Mort Hollender in "Visitors From Chicago."

Jill Brekke, Des Plaines, was named Best Supporting Actress for her role as Hannah Warren in "Visitor from New York," first scene in "California Suite," while Hank Vandenberg of Barrington and Betty Kandlbinder, Palatine, who appeared as Sidney and Diana Nichols in "Visitors from London," the other scene in "California Suite," captured the Best Character Actor and Actress awards.

While all the acting and technical awards are chosen by vote of season subscribers, active members of DPTG may nominate one of their peers for the Joe McDermott Award. This cup, named in memory of a long-time Jack-of-all-Trades member of the Guild, is awarded for unselfish (and often unheralded) service to the organization.

Previous recipients of this award determine the winner, and this year it went to Joel Cohen, Mount Prospect, who in addition to his service on the Board of Directors, acting and/or working behind the scenes on every production, including Cabaret Theatre and Children's Theatre, took on the added duties of printing the Guild's programs, flyers and newsletters.

ED HANSON In this week's big Bugle...

...is the BUGLE newspaper's financial edition. Its theme is "What's ahead for the last half of 1980 - and the economy outlook for the early 80's." It's a big, self-contained section, jam packed with news and ads from the areas banks, saving & loans, real estate other businesses and service organizations. We know you'll find it interesting, informative, and helpful in aiding YOU to reach your financial goals.

In last week's BUGLE (June 19) I did a story about Joe Gambino, president of UNITED TRANSMISSIONS CORP., and opposite the full page story of Joe's life appeared a page advertisement about his transmission services and automotive care.

Edmund Pogorzelski, 7555 N. Nora, Niles, was among the many readers of this story and ad. Edmund took his car over to UNITED TRANSMISSIONS' Niles shop, 7460 N. Milwaukee ave, Joe Gambino, personally checked out his car. He discovered that Edmund Pogorzelski didn't need a transmission rebuilding job which could have cost him as much as $200. There were two minor oil leaks which could have soon ruined his transmission if not corrected. Joe had the seals replaced, plus providing him with his TRANSMISSION TUNE-UP special, and the total cost was only $55.75, thus saving Edmund Pogorzelski about $200. The work was performed in an hour, and Edmund drove out in his '74 Chevy, a happy man and another satisfied customer. This case is typical of thousands of others that UNITED TRANSMISSIONS has been servicing in Niles for more than 20 years.

You see, it's like a lady friend I met some months ago named Angie, knowing I was a skilled psychologist she said to me, "My telephone is driving me crazy."

"Why," I asked, "Because it never rings", she said. So I solved her problem. The very next night I phoned her for a date. One date lead to another, until we became very close friends. But really nothing has changed. For Angie now says, "Now, you're driving me crazy."

And don't forget KRAZY DAZE'S CARNIVAL, that great annual event put on by the American Legion, Post 134. It'll be held Thursday, July 3 thru Sunday, July 6th on the Legion Grounds, 6140 Dempster st., Morton Grove. There'll be 10 rides, 3 kiddie rides and many sorts of games. There'll be continuous BINGO games for cash, and 20 special booths. And you'll have a chance to WIN the Grand Prize Drawing on Sunday, July 6 at 11 p.m. If you're lucky YOU can WIN a 1980 CHEVROLET CITATION. And, of course there are many other great prizes.

The big American Legion Carnival is great FUN for the whole family. Here are the CARNIVAL Times: Thurs. 6 to 11 p.m., Fri., After The Big Parade, 'Til midnight, Sat., 3 to 11 p.m., Sun. 2 to 11:30. DON'T MISS IT!

A guy walked into KENNY ALUMINUM PRODUCTS, 7570 N. Milwaukee ave., and asked Bill, the owner, if he made Scuba doors for submarines. Bill, who is an old navy man from World War II, smiled at the guy saying, "No, but I know when a door isn't a door."

"When's that?" the kook asked. "When it's ajar," Bill said with a sly smile. Seriously, if YOU want to take advantage of up to 40% savings off all his products, i.e., Storm Doors, storm windows, Fascia-Soft, Gutters, Siding and awnings, YOU better hurry. That 40% savings deal will soon be over.

And remember, on storm doors and windows, whatever you pay can be deducted from your income tax under the government's energy program. So hurry, hurry over to Kenney's and save a BIG 40%...

KEN'S PLACE, Dempster and Milwaukee ave. is the best late, late spot in town. But early or late, Ken and Joanne, your hosts, always make you feel welcome and roll out the red carpet. The only thing I'd don't like about 'em is they are CUB FANS, but then nobody's perfect - except me!

Watch the Cub home games on their super color TV and get a free drink every time a Cub player hits a home run...I hope you don't die of thirst waiting for that to happen.

The management of TOWN AND COUNTRY AUTO PARTS (next door to Morton Grove theatre) wants to thank the many, many people from this area who made their GRAND OPENING-OPEN HOUSE, which ran for a full week, a huge success.

See you next week...

Niles Baseball League

Bronco League

Red Sox	W-L	Pirates-3, White Sox-4
A's	8-3	Sixth inning comeback by the Pirates held on to defeat the White Sox 4-3.
Orioles	7-4	Errors in the infield was the undoing of the "Bucs". Their pitching "The Scottsmen" gave up only 2 hits and 3 walks to the White Sox. They were Steiner, Serlin and Ciecko. For the White Sox, Basso pitched two perfect innings including 3 strike outs. The White Sox hitters were McFeggan, Baum, Rinaldi, Basso, and Kim. Super catches by Rinaldi and Kwiatkowski. White pitchers were Giovannelli, Basso and Beyer. Pirate hitters were Parlich (single), Ciecko (double), Serlin (single), and Tom Reid who was called up from Little League helped the Pirates with an RBI single.
Pirates	5-5	A's-5, Red Sox-3
White Sox	4-6	The A's were ready and fired up to play. The first innings scored one run and the Red Sox came back to take the lead. In the fourth, Jim Hickey hits a homer, to make the score 2 to 1. Then DiMicelli smashed a solid triple to tie the game 3 to 3. In the 6th, a walk by Hickey, a clutch hit by David Fireman bringing in 1 run and a triple by Giovenco totaled the runs to 5. The Red Sox were up to bat in the bottom of the 6th with bases loaded with one out and tension mounting on the bench and also in the crowd's when there was a force to home by Fireman of the A's who then made a force to Gattuso at first to win the game 5-3.
Cubs	2-9	A's-8, Red Sox-7

Padres-3, White Sox-1
Seigart went 3 for 3 for the Orioles to lead the team in a losing cause. Oriole pitchers were Kühr, Seigart, and Ugel. White Sox pitchers were Giovannelli, Beyer and Basso.

Pirates-5, Orioles-1
Excellent Pirate pitching for the first 6-innings and 2 errors and lack of hitting resulted in an Oriole loss. The Pirates finally beat the Orioles 5-1, after losing the birds twice by 1 run. The Bucs turned the trick the third time as it was a very tight game. The score was tied 1-1 at the end of six innings. Up to this point it was a pitching and defensive dual. The Bucs pitching trio of Parlich, Serlin and Ciecko (who was brilliant, facing 6 men and striking out 5 in two innings) held the Orioles to just 2 hits for 6 innings, forcing the game into extra innings. In the 7th, the Pirates exploded for 4 runs breaking the game open, aided by 4 walks. The Pirates used a double by Ciecko (the pitching star) and a triple by Kowalewski (who drove in 3 runs) to their advantage. Weston pitched the 7th inning and although seldom used as a pitcher, he held the birds hitless and saved the game for Pirates. Best defensive play was executed by Chandler (called up by the Pirates) who made a running catch in right field to Garritano of an extra base hit, then he threw a strike to 2nd to double off the Orioles Ugel. A real game saver!!!

Orioles-13, Cubs-4
Good pitching by the Orioles and 10 hits gave the Orioles the 13-4 victory. Oriole pitcher were Kühr, Seigart and Ugel.

Red Sox-2, Padres-7
In this game the Padres made all the defensive plays to stop the Red Sox each time they had men on base. Ken Reeve pitched 3 scoreless innings and was backed up by excellent fielding by the Padres defense. Eric Clapton and Jim Berg came through with timely hits to drive in the runs that put the Padres ahead to stay. Then Ken Reeve, playing 3rd base, stopped the Red Sox when they loaded the bases, with a pick up of a ground ball at 3rd. He stepped on the base for a force and then completed the double play, throwing to Scott Larson for the tag at the plate.

Padres-4, A's-2
With this win, the Padres are now in 1st place. The Padres played their best game so far in beating the A's. Ken Reeve and Jim Berg combined to pitch a great game allowing the A's only 5 hits, while striking out 12 of the A's batters. Timely hitting by Nick Valenziano and Jim Berg, each with 2 hits, and Scott Larson's bases loaded singles, drove in the Padres runs. Brad Fine and Ken Reeve made 2 great in-field plays defensively to stop the A's attack.

Red 10 - Orioles 3
The Orioles scored in the first inning and again in the third to take a 3-2 lead. The Reds scored all the runs they needed in the bottom of the 3rd when they sent 8 men to the plate and scored 5 runs. Newlan and Klancnik teamed up and picked 4 Oriole runners off base to end all scoring threats.

Dodger 4 - White Sox 3
Steve Boscopomi had 3 hits while Dave Bacchiere made a leaping catch of a line drive and Jim Raffin pitched 2 shut out innings. The 7th inning rally which began with Art Dospil's bunt fell one run short and the White Sox lost their first game of the season.

Clothing Care ALERT!

LIFE IN THE OLD RAGS YET?

Are you getting the years you deserve from your clothes? With clothing costs rising, how long can you expect to "hold off" before you need to replace items in your wardrobe? How many years of service should you expect before a garment has "had it"?

The International Fabricare Institute (IFI), the global association of laundries and drycleaners, has estimated the life expectancy for clothing, taking into consideration normal fabric wear and tear as well as changes in fashion.

Five years generally is the maximum time a fabric garment can be expected to be fully useful—meaning attractive, colorful, structurally sound and warm. Beyond that, thank quality workmanship and skillful maintenance for any added years of service you receive. A fine wool shirt clocking 10 or 12 years of wear, or a dress coat that sees many seasons without showing signs of stress, can happen. Appreciate the phenomenon. Realize that you own a rarity.

More common are the following life expectancies: a leather jacket or coat—five years; a basic evening gown—five years; a fur scarf—five years.

A man's or woman's cloth jacket can be expected to last four years; men's wool and wool blend slacks—four years (women's are expected to last only two years); a sport coat—four years if it is wool or wool blend, otherwise, two; winter weight suits—four years (two to three years if summer weight); women's suits—three to four years.

Expect two to three years from a shirt; skirts—two years. Children's wear understandably has the shortest life span. Coats, dresses, snowsuits and little boys' suits are listed at a two-year maximum. These wear periods are the time spans within which you can expect an outfit to look its best.
